Train-Auto Crash Kills 2 Dexter Girls

Two Dexter girls were killed and their father was critically injured shortly after 9 a.m. Saturday when their car was involved in a train-car collision at the Four Mile Lake New York Central railroad crossing.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Coroner Edwin C. Ganzhorn were Lucinda Campbell, 2½ years old, and Rachel Campbell, 12 years old. Their father, the driver, identified as Harlan Campbell, was taken to University hospital, Ann Arbor, where he is still listed as "critical," by the Staffan ambulance.

The bodies of the two girls were first taken to the Burghardt Funeral Home and later to the Keeshn Funeral Home, Dexter.

The family home is at 3580 Dover street, Dexter.

The train engineer, Ivan Fletcher of Jackson, told Sheriff's Department officers the train, the westbound Mercury, was traveling about 70 miles an hour. A witness also said the train must have been going at about that speed.

The witness, Mrs. Anne Koselka of 1741 Lima center road, Lima township, told officers she had stopped her car for the light and bell signals at the crossing when Campbell's vehicle pulled up behind hers.

Officers also learned from Mrs. Koselka that Campbell slowed his car, then turned his car out to pass her car and moved onto the tracks. Campbell's car was nearly across the tracks when it was hit by the train.

The deaths were the 12th and 18th traffic fatalities in Washtenaw county so far this year.

MISS FAITH FRANCIS

Missionary Guest To Speak at Area Methodist Churches

Plans for a special missionary service to be held at the North Lake Methodist church and at the Salem Grove Methodist church have been announced by the pastor, the Rev. Louis E. Caister.

The services are to be held on Sunday, March 16, at the regular morning worship services, North Lake at 9:45 a.m., and Salem Grove at 11:15 a.m.

Guest missionary for the services will be Miss Faith Francis who is home on furlough from her missionary work on the Mexican border. Miss Francis will present the work of Christian missions among one million Mexicans in the border area.

A graduate of Arthur Hill high school in Saginaw, Miss Francis studied at Chicago Evangelistic Institute and Greenville College.

As part of her preparation for the mission field she served as pastor's assistant at First Methodist church in Pontiac. In addition she studied the Spanish language at Saltillo, Mexico, before her assignment to the border in 1951.

In the special services, which are open to the public, she will describe various phases of the Mexican missionary program.

Bids Asked for New Manchester Post Office

The U. S. Post Office Department has asked for bids on a planned 1,400 square-foot Post Office building at Manchester.

Bids must be received by May 5.

Cythereans Will Observe 50th Year Friday Night

Cythereans, an organization founded here in 1908 by the late Mrs. Dan McLaren and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, will celebrate its 50th anniversary at a dinner at Schumm's tomorrow evening.

Purely social in purpose, meetings were held every two weeks at members' homes for a number of years. Now meetings are held every three weeks. The group gets together for supper, followed by cards or other diversion.

A picture of charter members of the group, belonging to Mrs. Henry Schneider whose mother was included, shows that entertainment at earlier meetings was sometimes croquet, a summer pastime which was popular for many years. The accompanying picture was taken at such a croquet party held on the lawn between the Holmes and Vogel residences on East Middle street.

Only surviving charter member is Miss Nina Crowell and she is to be the honor guest at tomorrow's anniversary dinner.

In addition to Miss Crowell, charter members were Mrs. E. Chase, wife of Dr. Chase; Mrs. H. Avery, whose husband was dentist here for several years; Miss Nellie Hall; Mrs. Pearl Davis Vogel, mother of Clarence Vogel of Chelsea, Brigadier General Herbert Vogel, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. H. C. Dunstone of Port Wayne, Ind.; Florence Vogel, of the Army Nurse Corps, and Karl Vogel of Huntington, W. Va.

Others on the charter list are Mrs. H. S. Holmes, 1, paternal grandmother of Howard and Dudley Holmes of Chelsea Milling Company; Mrs. Jabez Bacon; whose children included Donald

Kiwanis Club Will Observe 34th Birthday

The 34th birthday of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea will be observed next Monday, March 17, with Kiwanians and their ladies present for the 6:30 p.m. dinner and program in the social center of the Methodist church.

Announcement of the birthday dinner was made at the regular club meeting Monday evening.

Guests at Monday's meeting were Kiwanis Lieutenant-Governor John Alley of South Lyon, and Pat Merkel.

Announcement was also made of the Pinckney Kiwanis club birthday party Tuesday night and nine members of the Chelsea club indicated they would attend with their wives.

The program Tuesday evening was presented by the Rev. and Mrs. J. Weiss who showed colored slides pictures of a 10-week European tour with a party of 60 high school students the summer of 1956.

The Rev. Weiss, now superintendent of the Methodist church, explained that the trip was part of the "Youth for Understanding" program of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Those who participated in the tour lived in German homes as they traveled in that country.

Crocuses in Bloom!

Crocuses are not only up out of the ground, as mentioned in The Standard, Feb. 27, but bright yellow ones have been in bloom since Wednesday, Feb. 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wojcikowski on Pierce street.

The crocuses are next to the foundation at the south side of the house.

And in addition, pansies are in bloom in the garden at the Paul Nicholas home. As proof, Mr. Nicholas' sister, Mrs. Clara Hutzl, pinned a corsage of the blooms to her coat when she went to church Sunday, March 2.

People's Party Sweeps All But One Trustee Post in Village Election

Spring Clean-Up Month Announced

"Clean up and live! Don't give fire a place to start!" Spring Clean-Up month which starts in Chelsea on March 15 will have that important reminder as its basic theme, Fire Chief Ted Balmer announced today.

"More than a half million homes in the nation were struck by fire last year, according to National Fire Protection Association records," said Chief Balmer. "Hardly a single community escaped adding to this toll of fire damage."

"During Spring Clean-Up it is urgent we make a concentrated attack on the spots in and around homes where fires start—accumulations in attics, basements and closets, trash and rubbish."

Spring Clean-Up is sponsored nationally by the National Fire Protection Association and the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

Lixey Is Only Successful Independent Candidate as Alber Wins Second Term

By a vote of almost three to one in Monday's election, Village President Donald Alber was returned to office for another term. Alber, heading the People's party ticket, led all candidates in the number of votes polled, receiving a total of 482. His opponent, Charles Slocum, heading the Independent party ticket, received 178 votes.

Claude Spiegelberg, incumbent trustee, was defeated in his bid for re-election on the People's party ticket, trailing the next highest candidate, Victor Kohsman, by 21 votes. Spiegelberg was the only People's party candidate not elected.

Robert B. Devine, incumbent People's party candidate for clerk had a majority of only 27 votes over the Independent party candidate, George Winans. Devine had 344 votes and Winans, 317.

Another Independent party candidate, Katherine Wagner, was only three votes behind in her bid for election as a library board director for a three-year term. She had 330 votes while Jean L. Eaton had 333 and William J. Collins 378. William Chandler, the other Independent party candidate for library board director, received 254 votes.

Harvey Lixey, incumbent trustee, was the only Independent party candidate elected. He received a total of 380 votes.

Total number of votes cast in the election was 697.

Candidates elected are Donald Alber, president; Robert B. Devine, clerk; Dan Riker, treasurer; William Blaess, Harvey Lixey and Victor Kohsman, trustees for two-year terms; James Gaken, assessor; William J. Collins and Jean L. Eaton, library board directors for three-year terms.

Results of the balloting Monday were as follows: President, Donald Alber, (People's party) 482; Charles Slocum, (Independent) 178.

Clerk—Robert Devine (P), 344; George Winans, (I), 317; treasurer—Dan Riker, (P), 371; William C. Wood, (I), 280; trustees—William Blaess, (P), 368; Harvey Lixey, (I), 380; Victor Kohsman, (P), 341; Leon Shutes, (I), 336; Claude Spiegelberg, (P), 320; Keith Boyan, (I), 213.

Assessor—James Gaken, (P), 333; Frederick Belser, (I), 254; and library board—William J. Collins, (P), 373; Jean L. Eaton, (P), 333; Katherine Wagner, (I), 330; and William Chandler, (I), 254.

Industrial Development Expert To Address Chamber of Commerce

Robert L. Gage, of Detroit, manager of the industrial development division of Michigan Consolidated Gas company, is to be the guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce meeting next Tuesday evening, March 18. He will make helpful suggestions for industrial growth of the community.

A 15-minute film entitled "Michigan Means Business" will serve to illustrate and emphasize his ideas on ways and means of attracting additional industry to a community.

The dinner meeting will be held in the dining room of the Chelsea church.

Firemen Elect Officers for Year At Annual Meet

Chelsea firemen held their annual meeting and election of officers Monday evening, re-naming Ted Balmer, chief, and James Gaken, assistant chief, subject to approval by the Village Council.

Others re-elected are George Atkinson, captain; Arthur Paul, first lieutenant; Paul Bollinger, second lieutenant; and Bud Haffer, secretary.

David Longworth was elected a trustee for a three-year term.

Trustees remaining in office are Paul Bollinger and Frank Reed.

Cagers Lose In Tourney

Chelsea's basketball team was eliminated from further tournament play in the District Class C contest when they lost to Stockbridge March 6.

After winning the game from Chelsea, Stockbridge went on to win the district championship and is to play in the regional tournament at Ypsilanti tonight.

In the game at Stockbridge, Chelsea was behind all the way. At half-time the score was 42-26 and the final score was 76-65.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and daughter, of Flint, arrived Thursday to spend the weekend with Mrs. Labo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage. Saturday, the Labos and Gages and Miss Lillie Wackon but were dinner guests of Mrs. Adolph Elster and his wife, Marguerite, at their home in Detroit.

Later they visited the Robert Elsens in Birmingham.

Elmer Kiel Earns Jaycee DSA Honor

The second annual Distinguished Service Award sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees, was presented Tuesday night to Elmer Kiel.

Among the attributes that qualified Kiel for this award, was his outstanding work and guidance freely contributed to the Boy Scout troops of Chelsea.

The award was presented to Kiel by Donald Alber, honored in 1957 as the first recipient of the D. S. A. Award here.

Guests at the monthly Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in the Congregational church included Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kiel, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Alber, and the panel of judges whose job it was to pick the DSA award winner from the list of suggestions submitted by organizations and industrial firms. The judges were Carl Chandler, Sylvester Weber, the Rev. Philip Rusten and Lowell Davidson.

Arden Musbach and Roland Eder, handled the award project and dinner as co-chairmen.

Robert Jacobs was welcomed into the Jaycees as a new member, and presented with his pin by President Paul Schaible, Jr.

Two other very important awards were given—that of the "Exhausted Rooster" award, presented to Robert Shears and Walter Schrader, Jr. These awards signify the passing of that "hallowed age of 35 years," when a Jaycee, instead of being "put out to pasture," is kept in the fold and made an associate member.

The guest speaker for the evening was Chelsea's newly-re-elected

125 Attend Father, Son Banquet at St. Paul's Church

Approximately 125 fathers and sons were present for the biennial Father and Son banquet at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church last Thursday.

The program included group singing led by Howard Flintoff who also gave the toast to the sons.

John Meehan responded with a toast to the fathers.

Gayle Grove, instrumental music director in Chelsea public schools, presented a flute quartette by Lynn Slusser, Carolyn Bavis, Ruth Prentice and Charlotte Harris. The latter also played a flute solo and Carol Dancer played a saxophone solo.

A vocal quartette of junior choir members included Peter Flintoff, Melvin Seltz, David Schroen and Danny Mayer. Danny Mayer also played a piano solo.

In a "Truth Consequences" contest, in charge of Charles Lancaster, the following young boys were prize winners: Lee Satterthwaite, Ronald Koch, Jeffrey Flintoff, Garry Guenther and Duane Schroen.

Honored as the father with the youngest son present was Norman Ratcliffe.

Paul G. Schaible, Jr., was given a prize as the son present with the oldest father, and George Seitz and Adolph Steinway tied for the honor of being the oldest father present with a son and grandson.

Three other fathers were present with similar three-generation groups—Norman Schmidt, Ernest Guenther and Oswald Blaess of Ann Arbor.

A surprise award was given for the heaviest father present, the

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where this fellow Gallup conducted a poll and found that one out of over 20 persons would volunteer to go up in one of these earth satellites.

That settles a question that's been going on in this country for years. There's always been a difference of opinion among authorities on the subject as to what percent of Americans was crazy. One out of 20 is five per cent. That's it, final and beyond any act of Congress.

I got a hunch that five per cent is higher than when I was a young man. In those days folks didn't have but three things to worry about, religion, starvation, and the tariff. This generation ain't unduly concerned with religion, know the government won't let 'em starve, and they ain't never heard of the tariff.

But they got a million other things to worry about. A fellow, for instance, can't even step across the road to hunt rabbits without giving his worries. Ed Doolittle and I went hunting Saturday and all he got was $14.20 worth of game warden. Ed gets about $50 worth of game warden ever year on account of him being convinced it's un-American to charge a fellow for hunting and fishing. He vows he'll live and die without buying a hunting or fishing license.

When they come out with them tranquilizer pills it looked like maybe we had licked the worry business and that the per cent of crazy folks would drop. But it was long until they started raising the price of the pills to where a poor man couldn't afford them and he had to start back to worry.

Of course, some people just naturally worry, whether they got anything to worry about or not.

I knowed a feller once that said he drunk liquor to keep from worrying and worried so he could drink liquor.

And we got a few folks in this country that don't worry about nothing. For instance, we got a hard surface farmer out in our neighborhood that's in this category. I call him a hard surface farmer because he stays between his farm and somewhere else all the time. He was up at the county store Saturday night popping off about everything in this country being alright, even in Congress. Can you imagine a feller like that?

Speaking of Congress, I see where a Washington columnist says there ain't as much hair in this Congress as in the last one. I reckon worrying about Sputnik has got some of them bald-headed.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

THIS CAR, driven by Harlan Campbell of Dexter, was demolished when it was struck by a New York Central train at the Four Mile Lake crossing Saturday morning. Campbell is still in critical condition. His daughters, Lucinda, 2½, and Rachel, 12, were killed. Sheriff Robert Little is shown checking on accident details a few minutes after the crash.

Vogel, Mrs. O. J. Walworth, Mrs. H. Schmidt and the only surviving charter member, Miss Nina Crowell. In the second row, from left, are Mrs. J. D. Colton, Mrs. H. S. Holmes, I, Mrs. Jabez Bacon, Mrs. A. D. Prout who was a guest at the gathering, and Mrs. Clarence Maroney. The three ladies in the front row are Mrs. E. K. White, Mrs. D. H. Wurster and Mrs. Dan McLaren. The 16th charter member, Mrs. Ernest Dancer, was not present.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM—Chelsea High school's varsity girls' basketball team had won all games they played this season until they went to Tecumseh Monday and lost. They won their Feb. 7 game with Dexter on the home court; from Dundee, at Dundee, Feb. 13; from Manchester, Feb. 21, on the home court; and from University High at Ann Arbor, Feb. 28. They play their final game of the season Monday night with the

Two Evangelical and Reformed Pastors Of Washtenaw Churches Submit Resignations

Two Evangelical and Reformed church pastors of the county known to Chelsea area residents have announced their resignations in the past week to accept out-of-state calls.

The Rev. Walter S. Press, pastor of Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed church, Ann Arbor, has announced his resignation to accept a call to serve the El Camino Evangelical and Reformed church in Carmichael, Calif.

He has been pastor of Bethlehem church since October, 1951, after serving as associate pastor of the church under the Rev. Theodore R. Schmale for three years. His resignation becomes effective May 1.

The Rev. Alvin Siemsen, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Saline, for the past 13 years, has announced his resignation to accept a pastorate at the First United Church of Christ in Marion, O.

The United Church of Christ was formed last year through union of Evangelical and Reformed and Congregational Christian churches.

The Rev. Siemsen's resignation is to become effective May 14. The University of Michigan was among the first to break with the prescribed classical curriculum by offering instruction in modern languages and introducing laboratory study of the sciences. In 1860, it was the first university in this country to offer organized instruction in political science.

Reduced Traffic Death Toll Continues in 1958

February became the twenty-first of the last 23 months in which there was a reduction in traffic deaths in Michigan.

Provisional figures compiled by the State Police show 85 fatalities, or 11 fewer than the toll of 96 in the same month last year. The record is considered all the more remarkable in that the toll a year ago was 27 under the previous five-year February average of 133.

For the first two months of this year there has been a saving of 37 lives compared with the same two months of 1957. There were 96 deaths in January against 121 in the same month last year, a reduction of 25.

It was the first time since 1948 that deaths in both January and February were below 100. In that year 89 died in January and 64 the following month. March also has started out auspiciously. There were six killed the first week-end—Friday, the last day of February, and Saturday and Sunday. Twenty died in the same period a year ago.

The state's goal this year is a reduction of 10 per cent in the death toll of 1,519 in 1957.

Ag Dictionary Being Published

A new agricultural dictionary developed by more than 50 agricultural authorities at Michigan State University is expected to be off the press Sept. 1.

According to Dr. John Wilbur, senior editor, the book is the first major agricultural dictionary to be published in the United States since before 1900.

The book will contain between 30 and 40 thousand entries covering all areas of agriculture and will run around 1,200 pages. Compiling editors have combined a strict dictionary and an encyclopedic approach. Words and phrases used in agriculture are defined and their implications for agriculture are included. Descriptions average around 30 words.

Michigan State University press is publishing the dictionary.

Deer Change Color of Coats With Season

Ann Arbor—"Variety marks the costume of Michigan's white-tailed deer," says William H. Burt, curator of mammals at the University of Michigan.

"The summer (red) coat is pure reddish fawn, and the winter (blue) coat is a pepper and salt mixture. But costume or no costume, about all many of us ever see of this beautiful animal is the large white flag bounding through the woods," he says.

"This is the smallest and best known member of the deer family in Michigan. Some may be surprised to learn that the largest bucks rarely exceed a height of three and one-half feet at the withers (ridge between the shoulder bones).

"You'll see them mostly in border areas between forests and openings, and usually when the light is subdued. On moonlight nights they may feed all night, but in the dark of the moon they are most active during the twilight of evening and dawn of early morning."

Managing is the order of the day for these creatures. "They rarely remain in one place to feed their fill. Instead, they nibble a leaf here, a twig there, a tender green shoot or fungus somewhere else."

Yearling does breed for their first time in November and give birth to single fawns the following June. Older does usually have two fawns at a time. "The spotted fawn is hidden in a thicket for other protective cover and the mother returns to nurse it."

Maybe there's an old woodland adage, "Don't put all your fawns in one thicket." Anyway, the doe doesn't take any chances. "If two fawns are born to her, she usually hides them in different places, not together," Burt says.

"At about the age of a month, the fawns start following the mother on her feeding route. At about three weeks in the fall, they usually remain with the doe through the winter."

"Old bucks usually spend the summers in two or three segregated from the does and fawns. As the mating season approaches, former companions turn to bitter enemies and much fighting ensues."

Honor Founder Of Red Cross Nursing Service

The founder of the American Red Cross Nursing Services, Jane A. Delano, will be honored by nurses in Washtenaw county and throughout America on the 68th anniversary of her birth, March 19.

In 1909 she was appointed superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps and became volunteer chairman of the first National Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service.

Three years later, she resigned her Army appointment to organize the program for the enrollment of qualified nurses for war and emergency services through which the Red Cross supplied 20,000 nurses who served the military during World War I. During World War II, Red Cross certified the 77,000 nurses who served the military forces all over the world.

In Washtenaw county there are 68 Red Cross nurses enrolled for service, part of the 50,000 enrolled in the nation. One of their greatest contributions to the public welfare is the teaching of the Red Cross Home Nursing Courses and Nurses Aid Courses in schools and to community groups.

Another important service is in the Blood Clinics held during the year. Thirty-five nurses helped last year in this service. Red Cross nurses are also active in disaster preparedness and are ready to give immediate service in an emergency.

Herd of Seven Deer Sighted off Bush Road

Mrs. Fred Patterson was surprised Monday morning to see seven deer grazing in a field approximately 300 feet from the house. When she first noticed the animals there were only two but the others gradually joined them until there were seven. The field is across the road and north of the house on Bush road.

Mrs. Patterson watched the deer from her front window, using binoculars. They seemed unafraid and paid no attention to cars passing along the road.

At the University of Michigan, freshmen classes are often smaller than students had in high school.

ROLLER SKATING

For inexpensive, active recreation, try roller skating. Fun for the family.

Saturday evening Mrs. Hart was surprised by a large decorated birthday cake made by Barbara Ralston of Manchester. The 80 skaters made quick work of it. East Lansing—Young adolescents like to take care of small children—but they feel they need guidance from parents and teachers in doing a good job.

These young "baby-sitters" feel that baby-sitting offers a real opportunity to learn how to understand and get along with children. They also appreciate the money they earn.

Seventh and eighth grade girls and boys in three Michigan communities were asked, "Do you have the responsibility of caring for younger brothers and sisters?" and "Do you baby-sit?"

The majority answered "yes" but listed some of their problems. They said they needed help in selecting suitable stories to read or tell to smaller children, advice on how to get children to play together, ideas for selecting toys and games which would help children learn as they play and how to assume the responsibilities expected of a baby sitter.

Parents and teachers may help these young people understand why small children behave as they do and how to learn to enjoy them. The librarian might be helpful in selecting stories for telling and reading, and the baby sitters might visit a toy store to look at toys which would be safe, educational and entertaining for younger children. Homemade toys are fun to make, and a toy-making project for seventh and eighth graders might be a good idea. They might borrow High School, Ann Arbor.

like to collect and mend broken toys. Suggestions from successful mothers would help in getting children to eat and to go to bed, and if the baby sitter is to be in charge at meal time she might be interested in getting ideas for simple foods to prepare.

The band with their director Mr. Gayle Grove left Chelsea at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, March 15, for a tour of the state. The band, which includes the brasses, the woodwinds, and the strings, is the largest in the state. They are touring for two weeks, visiting various schools and giving performances. The band is led by Mr. Grove, who has been directing them for several years. They are very proud of their school and their director.

The band had one number that was requested of all classes, "The High School," which was played by the band. They were also playing a march and an overture which they chose. The march being "The Band" and the overture being "The Band." The band stayed in the hotel and had a very good time. They were very happy and enjoyed their trip. They will be back in Chelsea on Sunday, March 16, and will have a very successful tour.

The Latin club is busy laying plans for their Roman banquet. At the last meeting committees were chosen. Those on the food committee are Lynn Lipphart, Ruth Ann-Ike, Marjorie Heppburn, Sue Reaick, Marketta Young, Pat O'Neill, and Peter Flintoft. In charge of decorations are Linda Burghardt, Diane Holmes, Kathryn Kinde, and Kay Runciman. Mary Ann Steger and Sharon Smyser are taking care of finding a date for the banquet. Carol Danforth, Kathy Salsburg, Susan Grossman, Carol Huelburg, and Danny Meyer make up the program committee.

A movie was shown to the Future Nurses club recently called "Career Medical Technologist." On March 11 the vaccinations were given to the elementary schools by the club. On March 26 the club, with its director, Mrs. Benedict, will visit Foote hospital. The Journalism club has been trying to decide whether to give Junior-High members certificates of merit or diploma of some sort. They voted to give Journalism members on March 4 to earn money for the club.

The varsity girls basketball team now has a record of 4 wins and 1 loss after defeating U. High Feb. 28 with a score of 36-21. High scorer of Chelsea was Lynn McMannis with 11 points followed by Angie Murphy with 8 points. The home game with Dundee for March 6 was canceled because of tournament games interfering.

Annual staff has been busy trying to meet a deadline on March 17. Members have been typing names to match the pictures of the underclassmen, and writing articles for some of the clubs.

The Future Teachers of America haven't held a meeting for a few weeks. However, they are planning to visit either Adrian or Albion college in April. A date has not been set for the next meeting.

The seventh graders certainly have one fellow classmate to be proud of. His name is Harold DeMint, who won $450 on a recent Bonanza-Bill puzzle contest in the Detroit Free Press. All the seventh graders wish to say, "Congratulations, Harold!"

The seventh hour of the seventh grade's class is taken up by either home economics, reading, or shop. Each section has 12 weeks of each subject. For the last 12 weeks, section A had home economics, section B had shop and section C had reading. For the next 12 weeks section A will have shop, section B will have reading and section C will have home economics.

As a result of their last class meeting, seventh graders are now paying 50-cent dues.

Movies shown during this week were "War Comes to America," part I by Miss Fox, "ABC of Hand Tools," part I and II, by Mr. Musser, "Tree Grow for Christ," by Mr. Phillips-Smith, "Ben Franklin," by Mrs. Baldi, "Safe as You Think," by Mr. Taylor.

The student council, at its meeting on Feb. 27, approved plans of the Parliamentary Procedure team to sponsor an assembly. This assembly would be a demonstration assembly for the student body and then an open forum.

Members of the council were appointed to duties such as taking tickets, at assemblies.

Girls physical education classes are still battling for their bowling tournament.

The squad that wins the tournament will get a trophy with all the members' names inscribed in it. The trophy will be placed in the trophy case in the main hall. Good luck, girls!

Many of the juniors have been busy getting ready for their play, "Ten O'Clock Scholar," to be presented March 28 and 29. The actors are busy learning and acting out their parts, while others are busy working on the scenery, and other necessary jobs to make the play a success.

The returns from the various money-making activities which the seniors conducted during the past few weeks have been good. The movie, "The Harlem Globetrotters," which was shown on March 8, and the bake sale held Freshmen are very busy making plans for the freshman-sophomore return party. The dance will be held April 26. The general chairman of the dance is Diane Holmes. The decoration committee is Linda Burghardt, Kathy Salsburg, Marketta Young, Homer Nixon, Atton Nixon, and Daryl Keizer. The freshmen hope to make the dance a big success.

The English classes saw two movies, "Mutiny on the Bounty," and "The House of Seven Gables." They then wrote reviews on them. Also they have to hand in book reports for the next six weeks.

Secretary Benson Facing Severe Test

Only a few days ago a group of Republican congressmen threatened to force a vote on a resolution to force the resignation of the Republican party. It is the most serious threat to Benson's survival yet to confront the controversial cabinet member.

Recession now in progress, it is said it did not bring it on. Benson has refused to change his policies, and as a result, several Republican congressmen demanded that he resign. Among them are Representatives Jensen (R-Iowa), Miller (R-Mich.) and many others. Miller said that Benson was the "best weapon the Democrats have." Representative Jensen said Benson should resign.

Other Republicans predicted if Benson is retained in his post the Republicans will lose 20 seats in the House of Representatives in the mid-west in November.

Whether Benson's theories are morally right or wrong, it is quite obvious that they are working hardships on many small farmers. And they are working hardships on many small farmers. It may well be that the loss in purchasing power suffered by this large group of small farmers has had something to do with the general slow-down of the business cycle we are now experiencing.

Why Do 'Best Known' Advertisers?

Every once in a while we run across the argument that "we don't need to advertise in the local newspaper because everybody knows about my business."

This is an idea that no argument can erase from the mind of a businessman who has convinced himself that he is too well known to need advertising to remind people of what he has to sell.

Such persons we call attention to the fact that the Coe-Coleman company has for many years expended an average of $2,000,000 a year on advertising. There are a few things in the nation better known than this popular drink. If it is worth millions of dollars to advertise it, there must be something in advertising to produce sales and to maintain sales leadership.

As another example, let that person look through the advertising pages of his favorite magazine. What he will see is a constant repetition of advertising appeals by firms selling products that are known in almost every household. The non-advertising merchant might ask himself why these people "throw their money away" on advertising.

A statistician is a man who draws a straight line from an unfounded assumption to a foregone conclusion. Marriage: A committee of two on ways and means. One has her way, the other provides the means.

Billion Forest Trees Planted In 1957 for New U. S. Record

For the first time in history, the United States planted a billion forest trees in a single year. The achievement was recognized with the planting of the billionth tree Dec. 1 at Macon, Ga.

The 1957 record exceeds by approximately 200 million trees the previous high set in 1956, according to a Forest Service compilation of reports from nurseries, State Foresters, and Federal agencies responsible for tree planting.

The total includes all forest, soil bank conservation reserve, and windbreak tree planting by private landowners, industries and public agencies.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson praised the forest land owners responsible for establishing this record. "It shows tree planting has come a long way since given its first big impetus by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930's," he said. "Last year's planting alone almost equals one half the total number of trees planted by the CCC boys between 1933 and 1942."

Greatest progress in planting is occurring on private lands. In 1957, 66 per cent of the tree planting was on private land and 14 per cent on public lands. Twenty years ago only 28 per cent was on private lands while 72 per cent was on public land.

While encouraged by the new record, Secretary Benson said that even at the rate of a billion trees a year, it will take more than 60 years to restore to tree growth land which must be planted to make it productive again. Over the years a very large acreage of such land has accumulated.

The greatest part of this planting will be on private lands since three-fourths of all the commercial forest land in this country is in private ownership.

Stimulate More Planting
It is expected that the interest created in tree planting by the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank Program will stimulate even more tree planting in the future and that the coming years will see new tree planting records achieved. The Conservation Reserve program has increased the productive capacity of the country's forest nurseries by several hundred million of trees. The increase has been especially acute in the South where the opportunities for tree planting are attractive.

Falconry Legalized

A goshawk perches on its trainer's hand while not hunting and the leather hood over the bird's eyes acts as a "quietener." Falconry, the training of hawks to hunt game, recently was legalized by the State Conservation Commission, but native Michigan hawks may not be used. Large hawks can be trained to hunt rabbits, crows and other game.

State Conservation Commission Again Legalizes Ancient Sport of Falconry

Lansing—The ancient sport of falconry—the training of hawks to hunt game—has been legalized once again in Michigan.

Regulations governing the sport, however, prohibit the use of native Michigan hawks, meaning prospective falconers must obtain the birds from out-of-state sources.

The state Conservation Commission recently relaxed regulations to permit falconers to tether hawks and owls for use in hunting, but kept the ban on capturing and caging these birds.

Falconry, which dates back some 3,000 years in history, originally was a method of taking game for food. Later it became a sport, largely enjoyed by the upper classes in Europe. In recent years it has experienced a revival both in the United States and abroad.

The usual procedure in falconry is to carry a hawk into the field on the hunter's gloved hand. The bird is confined by leather straps attached to each leg and held in the hunter's hand. When game is sighted, the hunter releases the hawk which is supposed to pursue and strike down its prey. If the hawk misses, it returns to the hunter's hand or to a lure thrown on the ground.

Goshawks, peregrines or duck hawks and pigeon hawks are popular species with falconers because these birds are extremely fast fliers. Rabbits, crows and other game can be hunted with large hawks.

Trained hawks take a relatively small amount of game in areas where falconry is legal, and the sport is practiced primarily for the enjoyment of training and watching the birds in action.

Michigan game animals and birds may be taken by falconers only during the regular hunting seasons on these species.

East Lansing—Real gains are being obtained from the current International Geophysical Year, the heart of the IGY office reported at Michigan State University.

Dr. J. W. Joyce, in a speech at the IGY reported some atmospheric and weather observations. A rocket firing last July, he stated, revealed that a factor in radio blackouts apparently is an additional layer of ionized or electrically charged air extending some 12 miles below the lowest normal layer of the ionosphere.

Contrary to earlier beliefs, experiments indicate this may have been caused by a major flare on the sun, Dr. Joyce said.

Another tentative finding, Dr. Joyce added, is evidence that the earth's atmosphere may extend much beyond the level where it previously was thought to end, and that the sun's corona may fill the space between earth and sun.

Meteorological observations from Antarctica, the IGY official said, already have improved southern hemisphere weather forecasts.

Dr. Joyce said he suspects Russia has not turned over data from its satellites, according to international agreement, because it has not yet had time to properly analyze it.

IGY, termed "the greatest cooperative scientific undertaking in history," began July 1, 1957, and ends Dec. 31, 1958, involving 67 countries. It is a period of worldwide, intensive studies of the sun, the earth and the physical environment.

The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

THE DREAM of a St. Lawrence Seaway has stirred the imagination of men for centuries. Today the dream nears reality, but the Seaway—mostly for reasons of money and power—continues to keep men stirred up. Newest episode is a $448,000 difference of opinion between two federal agencies jockeying for control of the project. But let's start at the beginning.

ACT I: The Seaway Development Corporation was set up by law to build and operate the waterway under the supervision of the Army. Last winter the Corporation's request for an extra $85 million of borrowing authority scraped the raw economy nerves of the nation. Seaway Administrator Lewis Castle hurried over to the Capitol to assure me that the Seaway investment would still be repaid in fifty years, as required by law, and that tolls would remain low.

ACT II: The dust settled. Congress adjourned. As the September sun cooked Washington, word reached me of a backstage maneuver to shift the Seaway Corporation out of the Army's bailiwick and into the Commerce Department. Madder than a hornet, I contacted the White House. Such a power play, I pointed out, would expose pending toll negotiations to all sorts of pressure from rival transportation media. I was backed up by Senators from other Seaway states and the shift—for the time being at least—is blocked.

ACT III: March 1958. A ladies' barbershop quartet practices up on a new song called "The St. Lawrence Seaway—See It On Its Way" and construction work proceeds on schedule. By July 1 of this year the power pool will be flooded and 14-foot-draft traffic will move through the channel. By the spring of 1959 the waterway will open for full 27-foot-draft navigation.

The U. S. portion of the project consists of two locks, ten miles of Long Sault Canal and a section of the St. Lawrence River. Operation and maintenance of the facilities, which begin next July, is assigned by law to the Seaway Corporation.

As summer approaches, the Army Engineers are eyeing those locks and canals like a mother watching her favorite son marching off to the altar.

As one who has never taken sides in the tug-of-war, but who views it from the taxpayer's angle, I set out to learn which agency could operate and maintain the facilities at less cost. The figures I obtained as a member of the Appropriations Committee reveal that the Army Engineers could do so at a saving of at least $448,000 in fiscal 1959.

The new budget requests—among other items for the Seaway Corporation—$801,000 for operation and maintenance. Of this $641,000 covers locks and canal operation and the balance of $160,000 would go for maintenance of plant and equipment.

The Chief of Army Engineers, however, claims he can do it whole-sale—that is, for $563,000. Of this $403,000 would pay salaries of a BOOSTING MICHIGAN—Co-operation in promoting Michigan Week, May 4 to 10, is exemplified in this photo taken at the recent drawing for the annual Mayors' Exchange Day, May 5. Shown are Governor G. Mennen Williams, left, Edward J. Heikman, president of Hekman Biscuit Company, Grand Rapids, general chairman for Michigan Week, and George M. Van Puersem, right, speaker of the state House of Representatives, working on plans to boost Michigan as a better place to live, work and play.

55-man staff and $150,000 would buy material, supplies, plant rental, administration, etc. These estimates are based on the Corps' years of experience at the Sault Ste. Marie locks, 240 other locks, and thousands of miles of navigable U. S. waterways. A hefty saving could also be made in administrative costs by using the currently-functioning Buffalo Engineers headquarters to handle fiscal, legal, real estate, personnel and safety matters.

Earlier, the Chief of Engineers, in a memo to the Secretary of the Army, claimed that his Corps, by smart operating, and saved $18 million in Seaway dredging costs.

ACT IV will unfold when the Senate Appropriations Committee analyzes the claims of both sides. I represent the State which has long anticipated the Seaway as a giant economic vitamin. Therefore, I intend to see it operated efficiently and at minimum cost. If this means entrusting the task to the Army Engineers and closing down the Seaway Corporation when construction is completed, then we should study that possibility and the legislation it would entail. I, for one, would welcome an opportunity to disprove the fable that a federal agency, once set up, perpetuates itself through empire-building or its own mistakes—forever. Surely such an agency, having completed its assignment with honor and distinction, could fold its tents like the Arabs and silently steal away.

Faster Safety Test Devised To Check Water Supply

Faster and easier methods are on the way for testing rural and urban water supplies for possible disease-producing bacteria.

Michigan State University scientists are working on a technique that may cut the testing time in half.

To test for bacteria, health officials collect samples of water and then "grow" any bacteria—that may be present. With standardly used methods, it takes at least 24 hours to "grow" enough of the bacteria to make a preliminary identification.

Health officials check water for intestinal-type bacteria which can cause illnesses. The most likely source of these bacteria in water is sewage that hasn't been adequately treated.

Michigan State research workers have developed a growing medium in which the bacteria grow very rapidly—in less than 12 hours. Identification of undesirable bacteria is also speeded up because the organisms under test produce a characteristic color.

W. L. Mallman, microbiology and public health department scientist, is developing the technique. But before it can be used generally, more testing is necessary.

County sanitary inspectors test water in rural areas for undesirable bacteria. In the event some are found in the water supply, these officials can make recommendations for making it safe.

Air Force Recruiting Office Has Moved

The United States Air Force recruiting station for Washtenaw county has moved from its former location on East Washington street, Ann Arbor, to its new office located at 201 East Catherine street, Ann Arbor.

Proper ventilation in the poultry house this winter can save poultrymen money in three ways. In addition to promoting better flock health, ventilation may also be the key to maintaining winter production and efficient feed conversion, say Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

HUNCH PAYS OFF

South Bend, Ind.—Ten year-old Jill Land lost her purse while on a recent trip through the Eastern States. Acting on a hunch that the purse had been left in a Woodville (N. H.) restaurant, Mrs. G. D. Land, Jill's mother, addressed a letter: "To a restaurant on Highway 112 that sells ice cream and which is across the street from a motel that has a painting of the Great Stone Face on the side of the building, Woodville, N. H."

It paid off—the purse arrived recently at the Land home.

Brown-McLaren Hamburg
Plant Will Be Liquidated

Announcement by the Brown-McLaren Manufacturing Co. that their plant at Hamburg will close down March 31 "because of unfavorable political, tax and labor climate," has stirred neighboring chambers of commerce to action seeking a remedy for the situation in the hope the company can be induced to continue operation.

The Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce has sent a letter to the company president, Morris Bond of Grosse Ile, inviting him to meet with interested businessmen in the area to work out a solution to the problem.

The Howell Chamber of Commerce had a representative visit the Hamburg plant to investigate the possibility of an Illinois firm buying it for a stamping company.

The plant, with its 44 automatic tool machines, operates from two modern buildings and covers eight acres.

In announcing that the company had decided to close the Hamburg plant, the company president, reportedly stated that high wage rates, taxes, and other operating expenses in Michigan were responsible for the discouraging industry in the state.

"Anybody who brings an industry into Michigan, who doesn't have to, has holes in his head," the official statement continued.

"Efforts to keep the plant operating are unsuccessful, the physical assets will be liquidated in mid-April, the company announcement stated."

American Legion
Will Observe
39th Anniversary

Chelsea Legionnaires are planning a gay celebration of the 39th anniversary of the birth of The American Legion, which occurs March 15 to 17.

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, has planned a family party at the Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake Saturday evening, according to Post Commander Keith Boylan. Members and their families will have a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m.

The local event will be part of a coast-to-coast chain of post celebrations. The American Legion has 17,000 posts, most of which are making plans for celebrating the organization's 39th birthday.

A quiet rendezvous on The American Legion for background information is in order. It was founded in Paris, France, on March 15-17, 1919 at a caucus of delegates from the first AEF.

The organization was completed at the St. Louis, Mo. caucus March 29, 1919. The first national convention was held in Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 10-12, 1919. The 40th state convention will be held in Detroit, July 24-27, and the 40th national convention will be in Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1-4.

Today The American Legion is a three-way organization composed of veterans of World Wars I and II and of the Korean Conflict. It has 58 departments and 17,000 posts and an Auxiliary of a million women organized in 14,000 units.

In its 1955 enrollment of veterans, The American Legion is signing them up at a rate that averages about one member every eight seconds, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year!

THANK YOU

We wish in this way to express our thanks to all who helped make the observance of our 40th wedding anniversary a truly happy occasion. The thoughtfulness of our family who arranged the reception for our pleasure and the remembrances and good wishes of friends and relatives are deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Steinaway.

CARD OF THANKS

Our thanks are extended to friends, relatives and neighbors for the sympathy expressed in so many thoughtful ways during our recent bereavement. The cards, flowers, and many acts of kindness will always be gratefully remembered.

Mrs. Harry E. Foster and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown our mother and sister during her long illness. Words can not express her appreciation.

At this time we also want to thank everyone for the sincere sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement. This thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Miss Beverly Smith,
Mr. and Mrs.

National Outlook . . .

net pointed out that since the committee hearings have been completed the Treasury found it necessary to draw $100 million out of its free gold, and that because of the seasonal pattern of income tax payments "the time of crisis is now."

When the vote to recommit was taken, the motion lost 12 to 74.

Next an effort was made to limit the increase to $3 billion. The motion to accomplish this was made by Senator Lausche of Ohio and he spoke at some length in support of such limitation. Senator Byrd supported this motion, as he had in the committee, and emphasized that statistical estimates do not indicate a need for more than a $3 billion increase. He said these estimates had not been refuted by the Treasury and in the interest of keeping a tight debt limit he felt the increase should be restricted to $3 billion.

The vote on this motion to limit the increase to $3 billion was lost 27 to 56. Shortly thereafter the bill as introduced was passed without a recorded vote, and before the end of the week it was signed by the President.

What does this increase of the debt limit mean?

First, it means that the present program for government economy will be less and modest anti-recession programs, including tax reduction or reform, can be adopted if it is decided that they are desirable.

Second, it means that reasonable errors in Administration estimates for receipts and expenditures in fiscal 1959 can be absorbed without running into difficulty of the debt limit.

Third, it means that the Treasury will have enough leeway to handle the debt in a more efficient, and perhaps more economical, manner.

In other words, although it would have been better if through more government economy in past years this increase had not become necessary, under present circumstances there was no real alternative.

DU PONT AND G. M.

The Federal Government, acting under a Supreme Court ruling, has submitted a plan for the release by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. of its 68,000,000 shares of General Motors Corporation. The plan calls for turning the shares over to trustees, who would then be empowered to distribute the stock to du Pont stockholders.

Legal Notices

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
Please take Notice that on the 10th day of March, 1958, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Judge of Probate at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw, Michigan, I will make application to the Honorable Judge of Probate in and for said County, to change my name from PATRICIA ANN JAQUINTO (now PATRICIA ANN BIRKHOOD by marriage) to PATRICIA ANN BLAND (BIRKHOOD).

Signed PATRICIA ANN JAQUINTO (now PATRICIA ANN BIRKHOOD), Applicant, Michigan, February 6, 1958. Feb 27-March 18

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
The Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, In Chancery.
PHYLIS MARIE LINDSEY WARD, Plaintiff vs.
CHARLES HENRY WARD, Defendant.

Order for Appearance
Brought pending in the above entitled Court on the 18th day of February, 1958.

Notice is hereby given that the defendant, Charles Henry Ward, is not a resident of the State of Michigan, but resides at 207 Southeast Street, Winston, North Carolina, that being his last known address.

On motion of Leonard H. Young, Attorney for the Plaintiff, it is ordered that the said Defendant Charles Henry Ward cause his appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order and that in default thereof said Bill of Complaint will be taken as confessed.

TELEPHONE lines

WINTER always reminds us of the famous picture called "Spirit of Service," showing a telephone line-man walking on snow-shoes through a blizzard. It may come as a surprise to the folks who mostly see our men riding by in heated cab trucks, but in many Michigan areas our men still must use snow-shoes occasionally to reach lines in open country. And those fellows still get a kick out of it because they know they're making it possible for you to phone anyone, any place, any time.

IF HE COULD LIVE THAT LONG, a fellow could expect to work in Michigan Bell's plant department—building lines, installing and repairing phones, and so on—for about 900 years without an injury that would keep him off his job. That's just another way of saying our company's Safety Report for 1957 shows that only 1 fellow out of 900 didn't show up for work because of an accident. Of course, we'd rather have a record of none out of 900... that's our goal. And that's why our Safety Supervisors keep reminding: "make sure the pole's safe before you climb it"; "lift with your legs, not your backs"; "get out of your car on the sidewalk side—not on the side where you'll step into traffic."

HAVE YOU NOTICED how much steeper those stairs get when you're tired? How many miles do you travel each year up and down stairs—or from one end of the house to the other—to answer the phone? Nowadays this is an unnecessary waste of energy and time. You can have an additional phone anywhere in your home for about one dollar a month. Last year Michigan Bell installed 66,000 telephones in homes which already had at least one phone. Join the families who have discovered how much pleasanter life is with extension phones. # PONTIAC SWEEPS NASCAR SAFETY HIGHWAY PASSING TESTS!

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA.

Pontiac again proves it is AMERICA'S NUMBER ① ROAD CAR in the year's toughest test of SAFETY, HANDLING AND PERFORMANCE!

HOUSEWIFE VICKI WOOD AND HER '58 PONTIAC taught men drivers a lesson in winning the 50 m.p.h. safe passing event. The elated Mrs. Wood reported, "... our new Pontiac handled and performed like a dream... so smooth and easy I couldn't believe it."

Winner of the 30 m.p.h. passing event and high over-all winner of the safety tests with his standard 4-door Pontiac Catalina, magazine auto expert Jim McMichael cracked, "I could have told them before the tests started—this '58 Pontiac is in a class by itself!"

Chances are you'll never be up against the precise and exacting demands that NASCAR puts on test cars and drivers. But you can put Pontiac through your own everyday driving paces and learn why test drivers call Pontiac America's Number 1 Road Car.

You'll discover that the industry's hottest team of engineers has created a car so advanced in basic design that it brings with it a totally new kind of driving. Give the nod to its Tempest 395 V-8 with power trimmed precisely to your wish. Corner it, park it, maneuver it to the point of abuse and you marvel at your absolute command in every type of driving situation.

Come in—drive and safety-test America's Number 1 Road Car. You'll discover it's by far the biggest money's worth on the market!

Altar Society Plans Mother-Daughter Banquet, May 7

Plans for a Mother and Daughter banquet May 7 were the subject of a discussion at the March meeting of St. Mary Altar Society held Wednesday evening, March 5.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale now and tickets will be available through April 30 only. Those who wish to attend must procure their tickets by that date. The number of tickets is limited and there will be no sales after April 30 in order that committees may make their plans for the affair.

In charge of ticket sales are Mrs. Arnold Steger and Mrs. Robert Howe.

General chairman for the banquet are Mrs. Benjamin Stapish and Mrs. Joseph Hafner.

The program at Wednesday's meeting was the showing of colored slides on a religious theme shown by Cynthia Kingler, a student at St. Mary school.

During the business session, Mrs. Kathleen Hart gave a report of the recent Southwestern Deanery meeting at Tecumseh, and announcement was made of the annual day convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, to be held March 27 at the Hotel Statler, in Detroit.

Mrs. Keith Boylan is to be the delegate of the local Altar Society to the Detroit meeting and Miss Gertrude Young was named alternate delegate.

Wesleyan Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will meet at 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening, March 20, at the Methodist Home.

With Home WSCS members they will assemble in the lounge for the program of the evening.

Mrs. Arlene Little of Mount Clemens will be the guest speaker and will tell about WSCS projects she visited on a trip through the western part of the country last summer.

Following the program Wesleyan Circle members will retire to the assembly room downstairs for a business meeting and will join Home WSCS members for refreshments to be served by the Home group.

Remove Spots from Rugs while Fresh To Avoid Stains

The week-end guests may raise havoc with your rugs and carpets, says Lucille Ketchum, home management specialist at Michigan State University.

If your rugs have become spotted during the festivities, there are several remedies you can try at home to remove them, she adds.

Try to absorb as much of the stain as possible before it dries or sets. A clean slightly damp cloth or a piece of white blotting paper or a tissue will do a good job of blotting. You can also use dry corn meal. Work it into the pile to absorb liquids and pick it up with the vacuum cleaner.

Remove any spot that remains with a cloth wrung out of clear water. Wait until the water dries. If the spot remains, a solution of mild detergent followed by a rinse with a cloth dampened in clear water may get rid of it.

Damp spots on rugs are hard to dry so raise the rug edge to expose more air to the air. If you have an electric fan on it will dry faster. After this dries, if a spot remains it's probably best to call on a professional cleaner for help.

Chances are that you'll be able to remove the spot yourself if you work on it while it's fresh, says Miss Ketchum. Once it is gone, brush the pile lightly in its original direction.

Fashion Show Scheduled Tuesday Evening

FASHION SHOW PREVIEW—Mrs. Eldon Gorton, left, Denise Houle and her mother, Mrs. Don Houle, will model the outfits they are wearing in this photograph when they take part in the Child Study club Fashion Show at the Chelsea High school gymnasium Tuesday evening, March 18. Anderson's store provides the costumes. Mrs. Gorton is wearing a modified chemise of navy cupion with soft fullness provided with a panel at the back. Her accessories include a Milan straw pillbox hat and patent leather bag and shoes. Denise, in pink sheer cotton with a matching saucer-type hat, wears white stretch gloves and carries a straw purse while her mother models a "lady-in-waiting" chemise gown in a soft shade of blue with pressed pleats extending from the yoke to the hem. Touches of white are added by the collar and cuffs and repeated in her accessories—a pill box hat with a large rose at the front, gloves and a washable fiber purse. Also to be modeled at the Fashion Show are outfits for boys from three to twelve years old, outfits for girls of all ages and many other ensembles for ladies.

Indoor plants, become more important than ever to us this time of year. It is well to remember that anyone can have an indoor garden. You do not need a large check book nor a solarium.

The choice of plants is important. A combination of shapes, shades or scents makes the most interesting kind of display. A nice group can be bought for as little as $25.00. Philodendron still reigns as the supreme house plant. Climbing to bark or poles, dangling or just hanging gracefully, this foliage plant remains the hardest of interesting kind of display.

A nice group can be bought for as little as $25.00. Philodendron still reigns as the supreme house plant. Climbing to bark or poles, dangling or just hanging gracefully, this foliage plant remains the hardest of interesting kind of display.

Flowering plants are beautiful when they are in full bloom, but do not last as long as foliage ones. If flowers are a must, try begonias or geraniums. If they are placed where no draft reaches them and a warm temperature is maintained, they will probably bloom.

Greenhouse plants cannot stand direct exposure to the sun. If your home has a southern exposure, plants should be placed anywhere but in the window. They thrive on artificial light. Window glass magnifies the heat of the sun and burns holes in the leaves. However, if the plants must be placed near the window, curtains and venetian blinds cut down the rays of the sun. Plants should never be placed over heat or against a cold glass, or in any kind of a draft.

Most plant-lovers tend to over-water plants. A good test is to poke a finger one inch into the soil to test for dryness. If the soil is damp enough for a bit of it to cling under the nail, no water is needed.

The leaves of ornamental foliage plants must be kept clean. Try wiping the leaves with a damp sponge or soft dry cloth every few weeks. This will keep the pores clean to allow breathing. Be very careful about using any substitute to make leaves shine. All dead leaves should be removed periodically to make room for new sprouts.

Coffee breaks may wake you up in the morning, but to keep the doctor from your door, take an "apple" break. They're trying it at the New York State Experiment station. Each day a different kind of apple is available. They can keep this up quite a while, too—their fruit specialists have grown more than 700 varieties!

You budget-wise homemakers will be vitamin-wise too when you buy plentiful pork. Pork is rich in thiamine, a B vitamin which is important to growth. It also contributes to the proper functioning of the heart muscles and nerves.

Lynda Mayer Pledges Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority

Lynda M. Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mayer, who is a student in the University of Michigan School of Nursing, became a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at pledging ceremonies, March 2.

Spring semester rushing was held this year for the first time since 1952. The return to spring rushing was approved by the Student Government Council two years ago.

Increased enrollment at the University led this year to larger membership quotas for sororities. Under the new policy, each sorority may have a total of 60 members who will return to campus in the fall. This number does not include graduating seniors, whereas last year seniors were counted in the total of 60 girls per house.

A total of 580 coeds from Michigan, 28 other states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Canada, Honduras, and Italy were pledged by the 21 sororities.

Child's Work Habits Learned From Parents

What better place is there for children to learn good work habits than at home, asks Coral Morris, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State University.

Children learn first from their parents and each other. Your children are good observers of your ways of doing things, so your own good work habits are a help in teaching them.

The method you use to teach them good work habits and family co-operation is important, too. Let your children know they have an important place in your family and can make worthwhile contributions to your family's welfare and happiness. Your children need to know why things should be done or why some ways are better than others.

When teaching children to help be sure they know exactly what is to be done. Explain how to do the job one step at a time so that they understand what you want them to do, adds Miss Morris.

If your children are learning a new task, work with them and give help when they need it. When they have mastered the procedure, watch them work at it alone, making occasional suggestions if necessary, suggests Miss Morris.

After children have learned their work methods thoroughly, let them work without direct supervision. This way they build confidence in their own abilities.

Above all, reminds Miss Morris, remember to encourage and praise your children for work well done.

Spring Will Arrive Next Thursday

Ann Arbor—Spring will occupy everyone's thoughts this month, a University of Michigan astronomer predicts.

Start of the new season is officially scheduled for 10:06 p.m. Thursday, March 20, when the sun reaches the vernal equinox, or in other words, crosses the equator on its journey north, says Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh.

For those who have eagerly awaited this event, she warns that it is coming nearly six hours later than last year. Why? Because the year's length is an uneven number of days (365.2422 days, to be technical).

Professor Losh reminds us that the sun started its long trek northward Dec. 21, and has been steadily climbing at the rate of about a degree a day since then.

To add to our delight, not only will the days be longer, but they will be warmer as the sun shines more directly over the northern hemisphere, Professor Losh adds. But warmer weather in our hemisphere means beginning of the fall season south of the equator.

Co-Operative Nursery Exhibit on Display

A circulating exhibit of the Huron Valley Area Council of Co-Operative Nursery Groups is on display this week in Striet's Men's Wear store window.

The display includes material of the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery for the exhibits showing here. Among the local items are examples of art work done by the youngsters under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Raymond Schairer.

CHRISTMAS CACTUS—Since the week before Christmas this Christmas cactus has been blooming profusely at the Charles Bycraft home on McKinley street. The nine-year-old plant had 100 blossoms on it during the Christmas holidays and is still covered with the showy double rose-colored flowers. Mrs. Bycraft says she has a cactus of this kind every year when it is undisturbed. To date, the plant has had more than 300 blossoms in the three months it has been blooming steadily.

Three Bands To Join in EMC Clinic

The Senior Band will go to Pease Auditorium on Eastern Michigan campus today (Thursday) to participate in a three-band clinic under the famous arranger and composer, Lucien Cailliet. Roosevelt High and the Dexter High bands have also been invited to take part in the clinic. All three bands will play en masse under the baton of Cailliet.

Lucien Cailliet is musical director of the Lablanc Corporation of Kenosha, Wis. He devotes much of his time contributing towards the advancement of the school bands of America. He presents many clinic demonstrations, composes and arranges new school band music, and presents lectures. His professional career includes many years with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy, where he was engaged as bass clarinetist and arranger. He served on the faculty of the University of Southern California as professor of music and conductor with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Dr. Cailliet has more than 100 published compositions for orchestra and band in the catalogs of various publishers. In recent years, he has composed, arranged and conducted many motion picture scores. Most recent was the orchestration for the motion picture, "The Ten Commandments."

The Chelsea band will leave the high school at 12:15 p.m. for Ypsilanti and will return at 3:30 p.m.

Linda Pritchard, David Brand, William Marsh, and Sandra Gebetz have all passed their beginner's band test and now are members of the beginning band. Linda, David and Sandra are students in the fourth grade at South Elementary school, and William is a fourth grader at North Elementary school. All are clarinetists.

Carol Dancer, Lynn Shusser, Ruth Prentice, Carolyn Barais, and Charlotte Harris performed on their instruments for a program at the Father and Son banquet at the St. Paul church last week. Carol and Lynn played alto sax and flute solos, while the other three girls joined Lynn in a flute quartet number. Carolyn played the piano accompaniment for Carol's solo.

DEATHS

Mrs. D. E. Beach

Had Lived Entire Lifetime In Lima-Chelsea Area

Mrs. D. Edward Beach, who had been in failing health for several years, died early Sunday at Colonial Manor Rest Home at the age of 88 years. She had lived in this vicinity her entire lifetime.

Mrs. Beach was a member of the Congregational church and Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, American Legion Auxiliary. She was a life member of Olive Chapter No. 108, OES.

Born in Lima township, Nov. 13, 1869, she was a daughter of John David and Catherine Laubengayer Luick. She was married in Lima township Sept. 4, 1897, to David Edward Beach and they made their home on the Beach farm, 11350 Jackson road (US-12) at Lima Center until March 1, 1922, when they moved to 289 Jefferson street. Mr. Beach died Jan. 13, 1938.

Survivors of Mrs. Beach are two sons, Major General Dwight E. Beach of Washington, D. C., and David A. Beach of Chelsea; and five grandchildren, Mrs. Ann Jackie of Haddonfield, N. J.; Dwight Edward, Jr., of the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.; and Cynthia, Lillian and Florence, of Washington, D. C.

Another son, Capt. Kenneth O. Beach, lost his life in the South Pacific in January, 1945, while in military service.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Congregational church with the Rev. Philip E. Rusten officiating. Burial took place in Lima cemetery, Lima township.

Gifts to the church building fund were contributed by friends as a memorial to Mrs. Beach.

Miss Ida Schmid Had Made Her Home With Albert Schillers

Miss Ida Schmid, 84, formerly of 6680 S. Main road, York township, died Thursday morning at the Colonial Manor Rest Home after three months' illness. Until entering Colonial Manor she had lived for some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schiller on Fletcher road.

Miss Schmid was born May 13, 1873, in Lodi township, the daughter of John C. and Catherine Horn-Schmid. She was a resident of York township for a number of years.

Funeral services were held at 1:15 p.m. Saturday at the Methodist Chapel Ann Arbor, with the Rev. E. C. Stelthorn officiating. Burial was in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Edward N. Moes Former Chelsea Resident Dies at Fostoria, O.

Mrs. Edward N. Moes of Fostoria, O., a former Chelsea resident, died Friday, Feb. 28, at her home, 543 College avenue, following a long illness.

Born July 29, 1883, in Chelsea, she was the former Ellen M. Wade, a daughter of John and Mary Welch Wade, and was married to Mr. Moes April 28, 1913. They moved to the present home in Fostoria in 1914.

Funeral services took place in St. Wendelin's Catholic church at Fostoria at 9:30 a.m. Monday, March 3, and burial followed in the parish cemetery.

Survivors are her husband; two sons, Edward J., of Fostoria, and Ludwig L., of Kansas; two daughters, Mrs. Orville Roberts and Mrs. Carl Myers, both of Fostoria; and 16 grandchildren.

Cythereans

Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Dan McLaren and Mrs. J. D. Colton. Mrs. Dancer was credited with naming the circle the "Cythereans" since the name of the mythical goddess of pleasure seemed appropriate for an organization which had for its aim the entertainment of its members.

Present membership of the Cythereans is listed as follows: Miss Nina Crowell, Mrs. Henry Schneider, Mrs. Walter Pilemeier, Mrs. Alice Kugel, Mrs. D. A. Riker, Mrs. M. J. Baxter, Mrs. Harold Spaulding, Mrs. Otto Luick, Mrs. Chandler Rogers, Mrs. Otto Hinderer, Mrs. William Geddes, Mrs. D. R. Hoppe and Miss Nina Belle Wurster.

All are expected to be present at the anniversary dinner tomorrow night. Also to be present is Miss Marian Schmidt of Jackson, whose mother was one of the founders of the organization, known through the years as Cytherean Circle.

St. Paul's Banquet

honor going to Paul F. ("Jerry") Niehaus.

The program committee included Alfred D. Weaver, Charles Lancaster and Paul G. Schable, Jr.

BUSY BEAVERS 4-H CLUB—Busy Beavers club went to Chelsea, Sunday March 9, to see "Old Yeller." One of our girls got so excited that she pulled a tooth during the show.

Afterwards refreshments were enjoyed by all in an ice-cream shop. There will be a 4-H meeting March 15, at the home of Terry Schoonover.

The sewing girls are coming along fine with their dresses. They are grateful for their leaders' help. The boys in leather have nearly completed their project.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK:

History of Public Library Recounted

Next week, March 16 through 22, is National Library Week and in common with the rest of the nation, Chelsea school and public librarians are arranging displays stressing the importance of library facilities in the life of the community.

Chelsea's Public Library has an interesting background related in a history originally written for a Woman's Club anniversary program by Mrs. E. W. Eaton, a library trustee, and compiled for publication at this time by Mrs. John Fischer, trustee and special projects chairman of the Library.

Other board members of the past year in addition to Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Fischer are Philip Smith, president; Mrs. Thomas Burt, vice-president; Miss Mabel Fox, secretary; and Armin Schneider, treasurer.

The history, as compiled by Mrs. Fischer, follows. The Chelsea Public Library was started by the Chelsea Child Study club, now known as the Woman's Club. On Jan. 18, 1932 a committee

Easter Seal Sale Opens Next Week

The Kiwanis Club of Chelsea is again sponsoring the annual Easter Seal Sale in Chelsea for the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Paul E. Niehaus is the Chelsea chairman.

He said letters containing the Easter Seals will be mailed out next week.

Chelsea's Zeta Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has done all the typing, folding and stuffing of the envelopes for this year's drive as a community service project.

Money raised from the sale of Easter Seals is used to provide aids of various kinds to handicapped children. These include such items as wheelchairs, braces, transportation, occupational therapy, examinations and special education.

The Society is also planning a summer camp program at the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp at Patterson Lake, Aug. 18-29 for 40 crippled children of Washtenaw county. This camping experience program was started last year with 21 Washtenaw county children.

The Easter Seal sale will continue through Easter and arrangements have been made to have extra seals available at the Chelsea Post Office, Chelsea State Bank and The Chelsea Standard.

Girl Scouts, Brownies

beiser, Carol Reith, Donna Sherman and Linda Burghardt. Last night, senior Girl Scouts were to attend an area pot-luck supper and program at Ann Arbor High school and the coming week-end eight girls will attend the Senior Girl Scout Regional Conference at the Pantlind hotel in Grand Rapids.

Girls who are expected to go to Grand Rapids are Mary Anne Sorenson, Diane Hayes, Kay Runtiman, Sue Eisenbeiser, Carol Danforth, Carol Cameron, May Ann Stagar and Donna Sherman.

Accompanied by adult leaders, the group will leave Chelsea tomorrow and return home Sunday.

Of the 18 girls in the senior troop, with Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser as troop leader, 15 will be receiving five-year pins this year. Members of this older group of Girl Scouts have engaged in various social service projects during the past year exemplifying the theme "You Can Count On Her."

Jaycee DSA

ed village president for a second term, Donald Alber. He opened his speech by publicly commending the village councilmen who worked with him in the past term of office for their fine spirit of co-operation.

He also mentioned how gratifying the turn-out of electors was but said there should be more in the future, a job that was possibly be taken on by the Jaycees to "Get Out the Vote."

Outlined in his speech were three main problems facing Chelsea today—Inadequate water supply; inadequate sewage disposal; and need for improved streets. It was very enlightening and encouraging to all present to hear Alber outline the proposed budget and the method by which our Council proposes to handle these problems.

They are working with a strong eye to the future when Chelsea will no longer be a small village. The problems that are facing us today have to be developed and solved to handle growth and expansion for 25 years or more.

In closing, Alber emphasized that, at all times, the village council meetings are open to the public and they welcome opinions on any subject under discussion.

During the business session, P. G. Schable, Jr., Jaycees president, and George Palmer, Aderen Mustbach and Roland Eder were appointed to work with a Chamber of Commerce committee on the proposed city government program.

The next regular Jaycees meeting will be a dinner meeting at the Congregational church Tuesday, April 8, at 6:30 p.m. Election of officers is to take place at that meeting.

was appointed by the club to investigate the possibilities of starting a library. The late Mrs. A. A. Palmer was chairman of the committee. Two weeks later the club voted to stand the expense of cleaning the store which was donated for use as a library. This store was owned by the Palmer family and now houses a shoe repair shop on East Middle street.

The original furnishings consisted of two bookcases and two tables. These could not begin to fill the room so sheets were dyed a maroon color and hung, thus dividing the room, the back space used for storage and work room and the front for the public's room. The donated bookcases and tables were also painted maroon and some of these things are still being used in the library.

The library was started with 22 donated books and 100 loaned from the State Library, and it was staffed by volunteer help. Two members of the Child Study club were on duty each library twice a week.

The library was supported by the club from its inception in February, 1932 until it became tax supported in 1938.

As there were depression years there was not much money and ways had to be found to keep things going. These were bake sales, card tournaments with tickets at 15 cents, tag days, puppet shows, a benefit movie, and also "Give a Book" weeks. Fourteen women gave volunteer help faithfully over the years.

In 1938 the library was offered space in the Chelsea State Bank in the upstairs front room. The village gave $50.00 in support and the American Legion $15.00 and helped to move the books and furniture. The library budget in those days was about $200.00 per year as contrasted with this year's $8400. Club members repaired the books and later this was done by W.P.A. workers.

In 1936 the library began to give all duplicate copies of books to the NYA camp. To the present time books have gone to NYA camps, Mill Lake, Cassidy Lake, Percy Jones hospital, the American Legion hospital in Battle Creek, children's books to Chelsea, England, to schools in the South and many other places.

In January, 1938, a petition was made to the Village Council to make the library tax supported. A proposal was put before the people in March asking for a one-half mill tax levy for the library. The proposal passed by one vote. Later the levy was raised to one mill.

In 1940 the library moved from the second floor of the bank to the old Kempf bank building, now occupied by Grove's store. In June, 1947, when the present Municipal building was purchased and remodeled to house municipal offices, the Chelsea Public Library was moved, by vote of the people, to the second floor of this building, and it is still there today.

A donation in 1953 by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard made a welcome addition to the library. At that time they presented the Library with bound copies of The Chelsea Standard and "The Chelsea Tribune from 1890 to date."

Also in the history of the library is an organization called "Friends of the Library." This is an organization of people interested in the library. They have helped in donating new book cases and tables and chairs.

The first paid librarian was hired in 1938. This was Mr. George Walworth who served until his retirement in 1955. She now serves as an assistant librarian.

There is now a full-time librarian, Mrs. Lewis Bernath, and three assistants, Mrs. Walworth, Mrs. Francis Wojcikowski and Mrs. Mabel Collins.

The library now has 10,000 books and 1400 patrons. Circulation last year was 18,025.

PTA To Discuss Guidance Programs for School Pupils

Are you aware of the testing and guidance programs our high school and elementary schools use to help each pupil find his place in the ever-changing world in which we live?

The Parent Teachers Association will have as the speaker for the evening of March 19, James Johnson, a school psychologist employed by the Saline area schools as a consultant and vocational guidance advisor. Johnson received a Masters Degree from Western Michigan College and he is doing graduate work at the University of Michigan. He also is Youth Director of the West Side Methodist church, Ann Arbor.

The discussion of testing will be followed by a question and answer period.

This program is particularly timely as the schools will start their testing program soon. School conferences will follow for each parent in regard to his child.

Those attending the Citizens Conference on Education in Lansing in February heard Dr. Eric Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University and vice-chairman of the President's Committee on Scientists and Engineers, submit a nine-point program. His first proposal was for an improved method for identifying potential scholars through a nationwide system of examinations for high school students. Tests should be given once in the 9th grade and again the 12th grade, Dr. Walker suggested.

Chelsea schools expect to extend their testing program next year for both high school and elementary schools when a larger counseling and guidance program will be followed.

The PTA meeting will be held at the high school, Wednesday March 19 at 8:00 p.m. Refreshments follow the meeting.
