At the United Good Friday service at the Methodist church, the Rev. William Kuster will deliver the sermon. His topic is "Power Beyond Weapons." Pastors of participating Protestant churches will take part in the service and the Chelsea High school chorus will sing two anthems.

Detailed schedules of services in all area churches are listed in the church notices on page 9 of this issue of The Standard.

All Builders Must Now Be Licensed

Approximately 200 builders, including those who do alteration and repair work, have been required to be licensed in Washtenaw county in compliance with the Contractors' License Law.

The Board of Supervisors voted Feb. 11 to put the county under this law, known as Act 208 of the Public Acts of 1957, which is administered by the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission and provides that for any person to engage in the business of residential building or residential maintenance and alteration contracting in the county without a license is unlawful and subject to a penalty.

March 31 was the final date for contractors already in business to send in the applications which

Village Tax Rate Set at 11 Mills For Coming Year

At the Village Council meeting Monday evening the village tax rate was set at 11 mills. This is the same rate as last year.

Other business at the meeting included naming of the various committees to serve during the year. These will be announced in the regular publication of the Council proceedings.

Flower Sale Being Held by Kiwanis Club

Chelsea Kiwanians will be selling Easter flowers tomorrow and Saturday at Hilltop Plumbing store, according to an announcement of final details of the annual project at the regular dinner meeting Monday evening in the social center of the Methodist church. The flowers which are supplied by Chelsea Greenhouse, are sold by Kiwanians as an annual event. Proceeds are used for the club's community service projects.

Warden W. H. Bannan of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson was the guest speaker at the meeting Monday evening. He was introduced by Donald Atter, program chairman for the evening.

He told Kiwanians that, in his opinion, prison population would be reduced to a minimum if the old axiom "Spare the rod and spoil the child" was heeded by parents and others who are responsible for the discipline of children in their formative years. Child psychology, as inexorably practiced by parents during the past 25 years, could be the reason for the "spoiled child" attitude which is an underlying cause of much of the delinquency of young people who eventually end up in prison.

The warden cited instances bearing out his theory, including the Jackson prison, Bannan said there are

Easter Seal Sale Lagging Behind 1957

Reports of Easter Seal sales in Chelsea and the entire Washtenaw county area indicate that returns are lagging behind 1957.

Mr. Vladimir Bibloff, president of the Washtenaw County society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Returns from the Chelsea area up to noon Monday amounted to approximately 50 per cent of the returns at this time last year. The total amount of returns from the county was placed at $8,707.31. This is behind the total at the same point in the drive last year, Mrs. Bibloff said.

Those who have not mailed their contributions as yet are urged to do so in order that plans may be formed for the 1958 year, she said.

Easter Seal activity of the Crippled Children's Society is usually devoted to the sale of Easter Seals, the sole means of support for this agency whose aim is to aid crippled children and adults in Washtenaw county.

This activity, according to Mrs. Bibloff, includes a number of jobs ranging all the way from purchasing the seals to the mailing of the seals. Since the local society has no paid executive, the responsibility of the seal sale rests

Spring Painting Calls for Special Safety Precautions

If your spring clean-up plans call for painting, Fire Chief Ted Balmer has these fire safety pointers especially for you:

- 1) Non-flammable solvents for paint removing and brush cleaning are safest. If you must work with flammable ones, better use them outdoors. Indoors be sure windows are open, stoves are off, and no smoking in the room.
- 2) In storing your paint materials, use only well ventilated places away from furnaces and also away from exits or under stairways (so you will not be blocked from escaping should these highly combustible materials catch fire).
- 3) Get rid of old paint containers and those with small left-over amounts. Store paints and solvents only in metal containers—glass jars and bottles break easily, creating a definite fire hazard.
- 4) Safest practice with paint or solvent-soiled rags is to completely dispose of them outside of the house, but if you must store them, use a metal container with a tight cover.

Another fire safety tip for do-it-yourselfers, the chief says, is this: Any time you use mastics or adhesives—to cement, counter-top or floor tiles, for example—use extreme care. Some of the mastics are highly flammable—they may involve you in a serious flash fire.

Mastics safer to use are labeled "Caution—Combustible." If they carry a warning label reading "Danger! Extremely Flammable" or "Warning—Flammable" or "Caution, Inflammable Mixture," avoid them.

And whenever you work with mastics, be sure you (1) shut off all open flame-producing devices in the area; (2) don't smoke; (3) open doors and windows in the area.

At the Village Council meeting Monday evening the village tax rate was set at 11 mills. This is the same rate as last year.

Other business at the meeting included naming of the various committees to serve during the year. These will be announced in the regular publication of the Council proceedings.

Grass Fires Keep Firemen On the Run

Chelsea firemen have put in a busy week principally because of numerous grass fires, but Wednesday afternoon, March 26, they were also called to the Floyd Brand farm, 3145 Sylvan road, where a large barn, 26 cattle, two sheep, and a quantity of farm tools were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin.

No one was at home when the fire was discovered at 3 p.m. by a passing motorist.

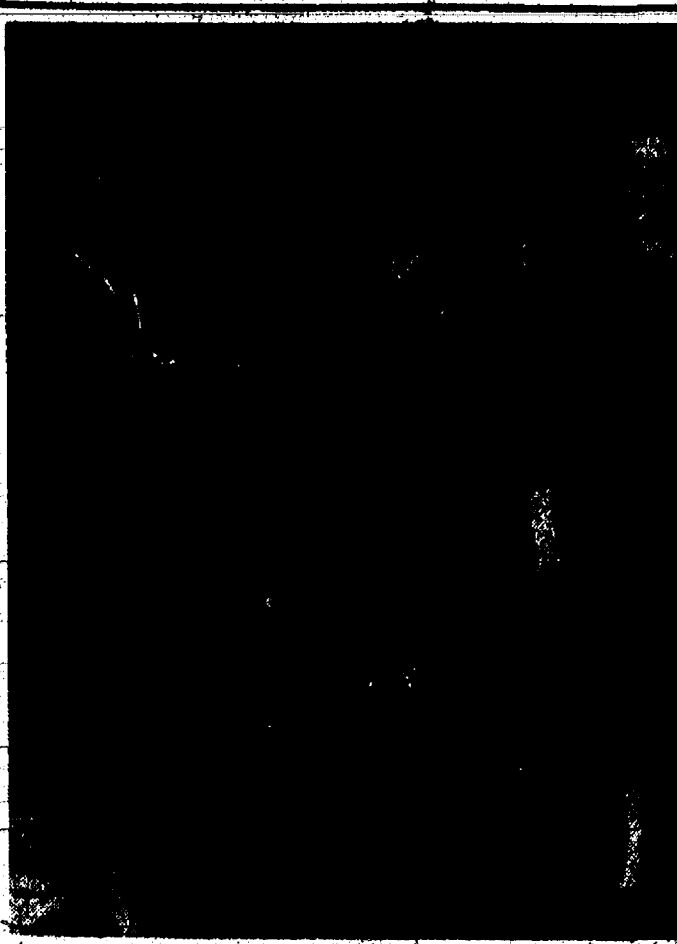

Dr. Wilfred Lane, Chelsea veterinarian, who was making a professional call at a neighboring farm, was one of the first to reach the scene following the alarm, and was credited with saving two cows and 20 sheep. Many of the sheep had the wool on their backs burned by the time they were driven from the barn by Dr. Lane. Because of raging fire in the cattle barn he was unsuccessful in his efforts to rescue the remaining 26 cows.

Firemen were called back to the scene at midnight, remaining until 4 a.m. to control the blaze. Fire Chief Ted Balmer said 120,000 gallons of water pumped from a creek on the Brand farm, was poured on the fire during the afternoon and an additional 4,000 gallons was used on the second call.

Grass fires are listed in Fire Department reports as follows: 3:40 p.m. Wednesday, March 26, at Red Arrow Park on US-12, west of Chelsea; Friday, March 28, at the Harold Powers farm, 1184 Chelsea; Saturday, March 29, 0:45 a.m. at the Richard Fletcher home, 18555 Grass Lake road; 11:40 a.m. at the Anton Nielsen on Garfield and West Summit streets, 1:15 p.m. for the second time at the Harold Powers farm, 1:40 p.m. at the Floyd Proctor, 1750 Sylvan road, and later, a call to Garvey road and to the Engle Quintt home at 3620 Notten road.

At the Proctor farm, sparks had started a shed roof fire which had

James Grau, son of Mrs. Alton Grau, Sr., and the late Mr. Grau, was awarded a State Farmer degree at the Future Farmers of America convention at Michigan State University last week. Only 210 of the awards are given in Michigan, including the upper and lower peninsulas. The number represents only two per cent of the state's FFA membership.

Considered as a qualification for Grau's award was the fact that he is working the family's 120-acre farm on a half interest basis since the death of his father more than a year ago. He raised 58 acres of crops, including corn, oats and hay. He has 178 sheep and 80 hogs.

A senior at Chelsea High school, he is president of the school's FFA Chapter and has served as vice-president. He is chairman of the FFA parliamentary procedure team which won regional and district championships and competed in the state contest, placing fifth. He has been on the team for three years.

Chelsea Products Plant Purchased by Dana Corporation

Flocks of Geese Reported Flying North

Flocks of wild geese heading north, considered by many old-timers as an infallible sign of spring were observed here last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Perkins who live at Sylvan Center, saw the first flock at 5:15 p.m. The geese were flying so low that Mr. and Mrs. Perkins could easily count them. There were approximately 70 circling the area, evidently seeking a place to land.

The second flight, at 7 p.m. was larger, with more than 100 geese counted.

Operations To Continue As Usual Under Same Management

The sale of Chelsea Products, Inc., to the Dana Corporation of Toledo, O., was officially announced Monday.

R. W. Wagner, president of Chelsea Products, Inc., stated that the sale for an undisclosed sum, constitutes an important step forward in Dana's diversification policy and will further broaden and expand their activities.

Chelsea Products, Inc., manufactures a miscellaneous line of gear boxes for the automotive, truck, farm equipment, and construction industries.

Dana Corporation is numbered among the 10 leading American manufacturers of parts for the automotive, aircraft, farm implement, construction, and railroad industries.

With more than 10,000 employees, Dana maintains plants in Detroit and Lansing; Fort Wayne, Marion and Auburn, Ind.; Buffalo, N. Y., and Reading and Pottstown, Pa., as well as in Toledo.

Operations of the Chelsea Products, Inc., will continue as usual under the present management, according to Wagner's statement.

Chelsea Products was started in 1946 after Wagner had developed and begun marketing the power take-off which has now become nationally known as the "Chelsea Power Take-Off." Development of the power take-off took place during the war years, 1940-45, with manufacturing processes carried on as a division of Central Fibre Products, Inc. for five years, with Wagner as manager.

The present plant was constructed in 1946 and approximately 25 of the original personnel are still with the firm.

The original plant, with its 15,000 square feet of floor space has been increased to 41,000 square feet with completion last year of its fourth major addition.

The firm was incorporated Dec. 1, 1945, all stockholders being local people who had faith in Wagner's product, designed for use on all makes of trucks and transmissions.

Present officers, in addition to Wagner, are E. W. Eaton, vice-president and treasurer, M. W. McClure, secretary, and Howard Holmes, chairman of the board of directors. Other members of the board are P. G. Schallie, Russell McLaughlin and Ernest King of Jackson.

Three Killed Thursday in Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boughton of 18100 M-92 and Clarence R. Push of 93 North Lima Center road were killed in a two-car head-on collision near Green Lake on M-92, two miles north of Wexner road, at 8:40 p.m. Thursday. The Boughtons' four-year-old daughter, Mary Louise, riding in the back seat of her parents' car, suffered only nose injuries and bruises and was released Friday after treatment at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

The little girl, orphaned by the tragic death of her parents, is making her home with an uncle, the Rev. Alfred Boughton and his family, at Belleville. The Boughtons were on their way home after visiting in Belleville when the accident occurred.

Officers said Push was alone in a car owned by Maxine Bauer of Lima Center and was driving south on M-92 at the time of the crash. Boughton, with his wife and daughter as passengers, was a head-on crash on M-92 and was less than a mile from his home, deputies reported.

The impact of the crash demolished both vehicles.

Boughton's injuries included a skull fracture and a crushed chest while Mrs. Boughton suffered fatal internal injuries. Push died of multiple fractures, including a broken back.

PRIZE-WINNING KITES—Charles "Chip" Winans, Terry Joseph and Gregory Kuhl (left to right) received first, second and third prizes for the best constructed kites entered in the VFW Auxiliary-sponsored kite contest last Saturday on the Downer farm, east of the village limits. They were awarded prizes of $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00, respectively for the kites they are displaying in the above photograph. Honorable mention went to Preston Grossman, David Adams, Tommy Kern and Jimmy Knott. The judges, Leo Tuttle, Donald Houle and Robert Taylor, donated prizes for two extra honorable mention awards of 50 cents each, in addition to the two originally announced. Approximately 50 Cub Scouts participated. Because there was not enough wind for successful kite flying the actual flying part of the contest was postponed until April 12. Shown with the winners in the photograph is Cubmaster William Hitchingham. Cub Scouts who might need additional sticks or paper for their kites before the April 12 contest should call Mac Packard, youth activities chairman for the VFW, Post 4076, who assisted the Auxiliary's youth activities chairman, Mrs. Wayne Harvey, and her assistant, Mrs. Eric Brady, with details of the contest.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
We used to have just three kinds of business. It was good, or it was bad, or we were having a panic. Now we got recessions, depressions, booms, high plateaus, low plateaus, and middle plateaus, just to name a few. It's hard for a country feller to know exactly what kind of fix he's in with all that going on.

Right now, for instance, the panic is saying we're having a recession. I reckon that means things are getting more aint. Unless it gets too aint, the situation might not be as bad as we think.

Back during the war when we was having one of them booms, when things was scarce and money I remember going to town one day with Ed Doolittle to buy a pair of pants. I'll never forget seeing him coming down the street in his underwear. He not only didn't get no pants, but they was so scarce the feller in the store traded him out of the pair he had on.

When things wasn't so good, the one-pants feller could drive up to a pressing place, took his horn and somebody would come out and get his pants pressed 'em and get back in a jiffy. Right after the war, when we was having one of them "high plateau" things, the same pressing place had a bounce, and when you finally did get in, you'd get thrown out if you caused any undue commotion.

And it was a mighty big relief to the farmer needing help in the "high plateau" to the middle one. I'll never forget when we made that change-over. I stopped a feller I knowed and asked him if he'd like to do some work for me. He stood still until I got plum through, and then he walked off. Back in the "high plateau" days he wouldn't even have stopped to listen.

So I ain't too shore, Mister Editor, if this "slight recession" is going to be bad on good for us. I see where a feller from Chicago is so disgusted with the way Congress is running the country that he aims to try to cross Lake Superior over to Canada in a barrel. Somebody ought to give this feller a good talking to, appeal to his patriotism in the first place, we're short in the second place, he ought to stay here and take his medicine with the rest of us.

The best writers in the country, Mister Editor, ain't working on newspapers. They is working as press agents for resort towns in Florida. I saw a picture of a bathing beauty in the paper Sunday, and these words: "Brown, Bare, and Beautiful." Now that's what I call sharp-shooting with a typewriter.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Girls in Physical Education classes have been practicing for the past two weeks. Soon they will be having skilled tests on tumbling.

The next event in girls phys. ed. will be softball and track. When the weather permits, the girls will be going out to the football field to practice track. This event is enjoyed by all the girls.

The eighth graders were very pleased with the nice dance sponsored by the seventh grade for them on March 21, Friday night.

They are studying diagramming in English, atoms in science, and are finding areas, perimeters and formulas in mathematics. In physical education the girls are having fun tumbling.

In biology the freshmen are studying, dissecting and being tested on the frog and other vertebrates.

Algebra students are struggling through graphs while Math in Life students have been reviewing decimal problems.

In English the freshmen have been reading from their literature books and also working on book reports which were due March 28.

The speech class has begun a new unit on dramatics. The play "The Curious Savage" by John Patrick has been chosen as the play they will present. Parts will be chosen soon.

Student Council heard reports from the various committees on what they had accomplished during the week. They rejected a plan for Student Council members to read the minutes in their home rooms.

These are the films that will be shown the last of this week and the week following spring vacation. "Art and Motion" will be seen by Mrs. Reinhold's class. "Society Takes Dictation" by Mrs. Smith. "Body Flights-Bacteria" story of Dr. Jenner, to Mr. Conklin's. "Tomorrow and Today in Kitchens" to Mr. Musser. "Mark Twain" to Mrs. Bald. "Letter to A Rebel" to Miss O'Neil. "Rise and Fall of Nazi Germany" to Mr.

discussed what college they would like to visit at their last meeting. They plan to study about the school and then to visit the campus.

Last week was F.H.A. week, for which the girls planned something different for every day of the week.

Monday the girls all wore their club pins.

Tuesday was a candy sale, at which they made $5.55.

Wednesday, class colors were worn, and the club colors, red, and white were worn Thursday, Friday, everything backwards, all of their clothes that, is.

In all, they had fun doing it.

At the meeting held on March 28, the Latin Club changed the date of their Roman Banquet to May 6. The food and decoration committees both gave their reports. The decoration committee instructed the people to come with sheets draped about them and to bring pillows and blankets, as they will be eating on the floor. They decided to have the members wear wrist-bands in order to tell them from the masters.

A meeting was held Monday night March 24, after school in the study hall for all prospective track candidates. A sheet of paper was filled out by each boy which included his name, age, and the events which he wished to participate in.

Mr. Conklin, the track coach, spoke to the boys on track and training rules, sportsmanship, and the various kinds of competitions they would meet at later dates.

The first meet is scheduled for April 22.

Public Power Scores Another Victory

Senator Estes Kefauver proudly announced recently that private electric power companies, such as Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison, could no longer classify advertising which told of the private company's tax plight as a "cost of doing business."

According to the Senator the people of the nation were being taken for a financial ride by these companies who were getting tax exemptions on this advertising which "cannot be classed as advertising."

Remember, now, this comes from a Senator who lives in an area where the rest of the nation pays part of the electricity bill through subsidized government power.

The government also pays for the advertising and publicity of the REA . . . pays the entire cost, mind you, not just allowing the cost to be used as a deductible expense. Of course, no cost is deductible for the public power folks because they don't pay any taxes at all.

This is quite a victory for the public power people. They not only keep their cheap power at our expense, but they have prevented people who are paying their own way from telling the nation what is going on down in the TVA area and in our western states.

We have learned not to expect much from so-called statesmen in con-skin-hats. But we had expected a little more from one who was important enough in the minds of the people to have been a presidential and vice-presidential candidate.—Arenac County Independent, Standish.

Danger Lurks in Every Home!

From time to time we have called attention to the danger that lurks in the average American home, pointing out that statistics show that about half of the accidental deaths in the nation are due to mishaps within the home.

Surveys from large cities show that more than half of such deaths are caused by falls. Analysis reveals that nearly half of the falls occurred on the same level, more than one-third on stairs, and about one-sixth from one level to a lower level.

Safety experts suggest that the number of accidents caused by tripping over objects and rugs on floors is of such size to suggest caution in every home. Moreover, the need for well-lighted stairways is important, and everybody should exercise care and patience in using stairs.

We call attention to these things in order that residents of our community may keep them in mind. It will take only a few minutes to look over your home and eliminate some of the accident hazards. Parents who do this may save their children suffering and themselves medical expenses. In addition, they may save their own necks.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Education is at another crossroads in Michigan.

Increased costs are being weighed against the American principle of an education for all who can benefit from it and turn their talents to the betterment of the nation.

Superimposed over the basic problem is the need for keeping America abreast of the rest of the world. The 1958 problem in Michigan can be spelled out in dollar signs.

Students find it more difficult to make ends meet, with increased fees and mounting costs of living. The taxation field to support education is nearing saturation.

The legislature has become the focal point of the issue. It is required by the constitution to raise by taxation the money necessary to support state government.

The problem for legislators: How to maintain basic governmental services, including higher education, at a time when the tax burden is overpowering and the tax burden on existing levies is dropping.

Start with elementary and high schools.

For years, it was certain that the schools' share of the state sales tax would be more than adequate to cover state payments. That certainty ended two years ago.

At that time, local schools said they wanted state aid at the rate of $100 per pupil. To make the formula work, the state advanced $20,000,000 from money due the next year.

To cover the same shortage in 1957-58, the legislature passed increases in the liquor and cigarette taxes. These are still in effect. The legislature has again promised $100 per pupil for 1958-59 but, to 40 per cent of the cost of existing advanced training.

Some legislators feel that expansion of college programs has not always been in the most important areas. They have criticized some extension programs and night courses. But educators re-emphasize that adult education courses are designed to pay for themselves; that federal money pay, to 40 per cent of the cost of existing advanced training.

College administrators found it hard to believe the legislature would cut back when it is so important to prepare for the "tidal wave" of students at college level which has been passing through lower grades. They are trying to deal with the greatly increased number of high school graduates in the knowledge that a greater percentage than ever will be seeking advanced training.

Our son, Bob, and his pal, Paul, have been working for weeks on exhibits for a science fair at a neighboring high school. As looked at their projects last night, with their flashing lights, bubbling chemicals, and whirling motors, I was reminded of a phrase my mother used to use. When I was a boy myself, if I showed her an elaborate toy I had made, or a new invention designed to take the labor out of some distasteful chore, Mother would say, "My, that's fearfully and wonderfully made!"

Long afterward, I found that her words came from Psalm 139 in the King James Version of the Bible: "For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise thee: for I am fearfully and wonderfully made."

The boy who does the inventing is more fearful and wonderful than any contraption he can concoct. We say that boys at a certain age are "all thumbs," but even when it is awkward, a thumb is a wonderfully adaptable device.

Your thumb's nervous system is so sensitive that it can detect a tiny grain of sand that is lying on a smooth surface. If your thumb touches a hot stove, a message flashes to your brain with the speed of light, and a return message instructs the muscles of the arm to pull the thumb away, in cold-weather, the delicately adjusted thermostat that is built into the thumb can call for an increased flow of blood to keep this important digit from getting too cold.

Fortunately you are a primate, so one of the things that sets you apart from all other animals is the fact that your thumb is opposed to the fingers in such a way that you can grasp objects and use them. Your thumbnail is useful as a shock absorber; it's wonderful for pulling thumb-tacks—and automatically renews itself as it wears out.

Yes, even one thumb of one boy is more remarkable than anything a boy can make.

I notice that the difficult Hebrew original of Psalm 139 is translated a bit differently in the more modern English of the Revised Standard Version. "For thou didst form my inward parts, thou didst knit me together in my mother's womb. I praise thee, for thou art fearful and wonderful." Here it is: God himself who is spoken of as being fearful and wonderful.

If the boy is more wonderful than anything he invents, then the Creator is more wonderful than any boy. And that's saying plenty believe me!

Farmers Have Big Stake in Business Cycle

Commercial farmers have a big stake in maintaining high levels of business activity in the non-farm economy, thinks Dale Hathaway, agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

During periods of business expansion before World War II, prices farmers received generally rose faster than did prices of things they bought, the economist explains.

But in post-war business expansion, prices paid by farmers have risen more rapidly than have prices farmers receive. Now, a period of prosperity accompanied by mild inflation does not seem to work to the advantage of farmers, Hathaway notes.

Why the change? The economist believes there are probably two reasons.

One, mild inflation at full employment levels does not increase the demand for farm products very much. Most of the increases in income are spent on marketing services such as pre-packaging and frozen foods, rather than to buy more food or to buy more meat instead of cereals, Hathaway points out.

Two, a greater share of farmers' production expenses are for items purchased from the non-farm economy. These include steel, petroleum and chemicals. The economist explains that price tags on these items are determined largely by non-farm demand and prices are likely to rise faster than farm prices during periods of moderate business expansion.

Hathaway adds that farmers would be worse off, if a depression hit the economy. It would reduce the demand for farm products without producing compensation reductions in the prices of things farmers buy.

A high level of business activity without general inflation making possible supplemental off-farm employment would be the most helpful to agriculture, Hathaway concludes.

WASTES WATER

The Agriculture Research Service says agriculture is wasteful of water.

Its studies were said to show that not more than a third of all the water diverted from streams for irrigation actually reaches the root zones of crops. They were said to show also that in humid regions where farmers depend on rain, at least a third of the water is lost as run-off.

"We must find ways to save and protect water," a report said.

Washington Report

By Senator Charles E. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

A YEAR'S WORK for one man is made possible by every $9,000 spent on roads.

That's why the Senate has approved a hyped-up highway bill. No public improvement program can put men to work faster or lack up the nation's economy more effectively than highway building.

Last week we amended the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 to speed building of the 41,000 mile interstate system and accelerate primary, secondary, and urban road building. After four days of debate, including one marathon session which lasted until almost midnight, the Senate approved $5.5 billion for road building in fiscal 1959. That's an increase of $1.8 billion over previously scheduled spending.

It is my hope that the House of Representatives, which now has the highway bill before it, will act fast on this vital anti-recession measure. In the meantime, I have requested figures on Michigan's share of the new money.

ONE TEST of a man's convictions is how much sleep he is willing to forego to fight for them. Last Thursday I was put to the test when I appeared on the television show to urge passage of an expanded unemployment compensation bill. The studio lies across the Potomac River on the opposite side of Washington from my residence. Getting there at 7:30 in the morning required a certain dedication, particularly since the state had been in session until 11 the previous night. I wondered how many of my early morning viewers across the nation were victims of the serious unemployment situation. The Administration's bill to extend jobless benefits, which I described to them in a simple and fast way, would extend payment periods in all states by 50 per cent. It is a quick, emergency remedy which will not alter existing state standards or procedures and serves the urgent purpose of putting food in hungry mouths fast.

A WINDFALL in truck orders is going to Japan while Michigan auto workers pound the pavements looking for jobs. I was shocked recently to learn that $21 million of Defense Department money will be spent at the Mitsubishi, Nissan, Isuzu, and Toyota factories in Japan for military vehicles. I told the Senate that this is unthinkable at a time when our own automotive industry is depressed. I intend to pursue the matter vigorously when fund requests for the military assistance program come before the Appropriations Committee, and you may be sure that I shall be interested in our workers will be protected.

MANISTIQUE, whose industrial life dates back to the lumbering days of 1860, became one of the Upper Peninsula's largest lumber centers, a city with mills and docks extending several miles upstream. Before 1900, however, the supply of pine was exhausted and the mills closed down.

MSU Economist Favors Tax Cut

East Lansing—A Michigan State University economist favors a tax cut to give the country an immediate boost in spending power.

Dr. Richard Lindholm suggested a 10-a-month cut for all individual income tax payors and a two percentage point drop in corporate income taxes.

He feels the reduction would help serve two major aims: (1) increase spending power immediately without too great a loss in government revenues and (2) stimulate investments and optimism of investors by increasing corporate profits.

Conservation Reserve Signing Is Still Open

Washtenaw county farmers who did not have a chance to sign up for the Average Reserve will do well to examine some of the features of the Conservation Reserve program.

Only about one-half million of the more than $6 million allocated to Michigan for the 1958 Conservation Reserve program has been signed for.

Max Kalmbach, chairman of the Washtenaw County ASC Committee, said farmers may sign contracts under this program until April 15. He said farmers should come into the county office to talk over conservation practices which will earn them payments under the Soil Bank program, and to learn how the "regular" rate of $12.00 per acre and the "non-diversified" rate of $8.60 established for Washtenaw county may also be earned.

He called attention to some of the changes in the 1958 Conservation Reserve program that may make a more desirable contract for farmers than was available last year.

For example, beginning in 1958, farmers may sign 5- or 10-year contracts for land to be put into shrub plantings for shelterbelts, windbreak, or wildlife habitat purposes. Before this, all trees and shrub plantings were under 10-year contracts only. The 10-year contract will still apply to tree plantings for forestry purposes.

He said another important point is that the Conservation Reserve program is open to all farmers, whether or not they have an acreage allotment for "basic" crops.

Full Moon Determines Easter Date

Ann Arbor—The full moon of April 4 is of special interest because it determines the date of Easter this year, a University of Michigan astronomer explains.

Easter is designated for the Sunday following the first full moon that comes after the vernal equinox (March 20), explains Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the U-M. This year Easter is April 6.

"Probably a good reason for using the full moon for reckoning Easter was to enable pilgrims to the Holy City to have the advantage of moonlight for safe travel by night as well as by day," she declares.

Easter may occur any time from just after the equinox to as late as April 25, but this year the date turns out to be a sort of average one, she says.

In 1951, Professor Losh recalls, Easter came as early as March 25, but last year, in 1957, it came much later, on April 21. The extreme early and late dates are rare, she says, the earliest possible not occurring again until 2285 A. D. and the latest not until 2038 A. D.

Alfalfa Seeded In August Gives Better Stand

Better alfalfa stands can be made on wheat ground by planting the alfalfa after the wheat is harvested instead of in the spring, believes Mils Tessa, farm crops scientist at Michigan State University.

In 1951, top wheat producers in Michigan are using 40 pounds or more of nitrogen per acre and getting 40 to 60 bushels per acre yield. But it's hard to get a good alfalfa seeding with the heavy straw and growth of the wheat stands. The alfalfa can't take the shade and competition of the earlier growing wheat.

Tessa says to plant immediately after harvesting and seed in August. Band seeded alfalfa planted before Aug. 31 will usually be better than a seeding made in the spring.

The heavy wheat stands don't hold back red clover as much and farmers can get good stands with red clover under conditions which make alfalfa a failure or nearly so.

Red clover seedlings can be improved, however, by drilling the seed early in April. Set the disks to cut about an inch deep (this won't hurt the wheat) and put on 100 pounds of 0-20-0 or 6-20-10 tight down into the disk furrow, Tessa advises.

New Tree Farm Operators Offered Free Seedlings

To encourage tree farming, reforestation and soil conservation, McCurdy Bros. Nurseries of Manton, Mich., will give a million trees to new tree farmers.

One thousand two-year-old red or Austrian pine seedlings of highest quality stock will be given to each of the first 1,000 applicants approved by his state tree farm committee, county agricultural agent, soil conservation district or conservation department forestry division, according to Gordon McCurdy, head of the nurseries.

Largest forestry nursery in the Midwest, the 10-year-old McCurdy Bros. Nurseries now has an annual production of more than 40 million evergreen seedlings. Nurseries are located at Wellston and Messick, and Cass Lake, Minnesota.

McCurdy is importing more than three tons of Christmas and timber tree seedlings from France, Germany and Denmark this spring besides buying more than a ton in the lake states area.

During the past 10 years McCurdy has custom planted more than 25 million trees and now has more than 2 million trees of various ages growing for Christmas trees. He recently signed an order with a Detroit group to furnish and plant more than a million trees this spring, in addition to his regular custom planting.

During the past planting season McCurdy gave $1,200 worth of trees to the Wexford County Road Commission for road wind breaks and snow fences. He gave 25 miles of four rows, and he says he will continue to furnish them free until the roadsides of the entire county are planted. He is considering extending the offer to other counties.

CHS Band To Participate In U-M Event

Word was received last week from William D. Revell, director of bands at the University of Michigan, that the Chelsea High School Band has been accepted to participate in the tenth annual Band Day scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 27, when Michigan plays the Trojans of Southern California.

Two hundred bands have been selected to participate in this annual spectacle, making it the world's largest massed band. By May 1 the local band will receive the complete list of compositions that will be performed during halftime. Further information, including charts, the band's location in the stands and on the field, and all other details concerned with the band's appearance, will be forwarded during the first week in September.

As an added attraction, the twirlers and drum major of all participating bands will be featured in the pre-game ceremonies. Musical accompaniment will be provided by the University of Michigan Marching Band. The twirlers are being urged now to prepare for this great spectacle.

Laurie Reddeman, an alto-saxophonist in the fourth grade at South Elementary school, is a new member of the Elementary Band. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reddeman.

The Beginning Band added four new members last week. Judith Woods, Francis Smyser, Timothy Grove, and David Blaess all passed their Beginning Test with flying colors. Judith, a flutist, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Woods, and Francis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smyser, is a trombonist. Timothy, who plays the trombone, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Grove, and David, who also is a trombonist, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blaess. All are fourth graders at South Elementary school.

Grass Fires

been extinguished when firemen arrived. The Proctors had attempted to notify the firemen the call was unnecessary when they succeeded in putting out the blaze, but firemen were already enroute.

At 4:15 p.m. Sunday firemen were called out because of another grass fire on the Robert Opel farm on Cavanaugh Lake road at Cedar Lake.

Wednesday evening, March 27, firemen responded when a call was received that cars involved in the fatal Push-Boughton accident on M-92 appeared to be burning. The call was received at 8:46 p.m.

The Garvey road grass fire Saturday spread to two utility poles. Several of the grass fires were started by sparks from burning rubbish, Chief Balmer said. The grass fires on the Powers farm, he said, were evidently caused by sparks from diesel engines on the New York Central tracks which have an uphill pull at that point.

At 2:15 p.m. Tuesday firemen were called to the Gale Litch home on Buchanan street where grass in the back yard was burning.

Personals

William Yocum of Freelandville, Ind., who spent the past week here as the guest of his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Paul, left Sunday morning to return to his home.

Expected to spend today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore are Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. B. H. Eiden, and sister, Mrs. O. G. Eiden, both of Sylvan, O.; and an aunt, Mrs. Tom Winnett of Englewood, Fla.

Mike Misallades was honored Sunday by friends and relatives at an early observance of his 63rd birthday which occurs tomorrow.

Frederic were Mr. and Mrs. Max Seeds and daughter, Raonell, of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruff of Detroit, his son, Malatvos, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. John Langowski and daughter.

National Outlook . .

(Continued from page four) business and employment is primarily, the weather. Because of this, according to Ewan Clague, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, the prices of various foods increased, and since food makes up about one-third of the index, this lifted the over-all figure. Medical and personal care also increased in cost, but their combined total was less than that for food alone. Whether this is a more or less permanent top for consumer prices is anyone's guess. Mr. Clague, who probably knows as much about the behavior of this index as anyone, refuses to commit himself. His comment is that he does not see much on the down-side in the next few months. In the 1949 and 1953-54 recessions consumer prices declined fairly steadily.

A development of a quite different character on the business front was an editorial a few days ago in the New York Times. It is not unusual for the Times to have editorials on economic events, but it is not customary for them to use such discussions as the lead article on the editorial page. Yet that is what was done in this instance. The immediate reason for the editorial was President Eisenhower's comment some weeks ago that March would "mark the beginning of the end of the recession," and the Times was reviewing the statistics to see how the prediction was working out. In the course of this it was said: "It is difficult to escape the impression that this month is, thus far at least, forming an economic plateau, showing neither drastic improvement nor sharp further decline." The concluding sentence was: "We can hardly blame the President and his advisers if they feel that on economic policy they are walking the thinnest of high wires."

Both of the quoted sentences reach as far toward optimism as possible on the basis of current statistics. This does not mean, as we said last week, that we are headed into a depression but there is no convincing evidence as yet that we have reached the bottom of this readjustment. Michigan sheep raisers can look for a continued strong lamb market for the first half of 1958, say Michigan State University farm economists.

MICHIGAN BELL

HERE'S YOUR CALLING CARD, a 5 by 11 inch metal card with holes punched in it. Its job is to automatically pick the speediest route for your Long Distance call. And it does this with the speed of light. For instance, if you call Atlanta, as soon as the Michigan operator dials the Atlanta number the "Atlanta card" automatically pops into place and a light shining through holes in the card automatically connects your line with wires through Cincinnati to Atlanta. If those lines are busy, it connects with wires running through Chicago to Atlanta—or through New York to Atlanta. When an emergency requires an entirely new routing, someone at the switching center just punches a new card with a different set of holes and—bingo—your call takes the new routing. This saves issuing instructions to many different operators when a route has to be changed. Pretty good example of how Bell scientists try to give you the best and fastest service at low cost, don't you think?

EASTER SUNDAY

is one of those days when all of us like to be near our loved ones. But this isn't always possible. The next best thing to being all together is a Long Distance phone call. Your voice over the telephone will be as welcome and cheering as Spring. And it will cost you very little. Places a whole day's drive away can be reached by phone for a dollar or less. The usual low "after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday" rates apply all day Easter. Make a list now of all those you want to phone a "Happy Easter."

LAFAYETTE GRANGE

Arrange Storage Items Near Place They Will Be Used

If the "cleaning bug" gets you started working on storage closets this spring, it may be a good idea to do some rearranging, according to Eunice Pardee, home management specialist at Michigan State University.

When you "houseclean" closets or storage areas, sort and store things according to their use.

Items that are used often—nearly every day—should be stored where they're easy to reach, points out Mrs. Pardee. And be sure to put them near the place where they are first used. For instance, bathroom-cleaning supplies should be stored in or very near the bathroom.

Things that are used only occasionally or just seasonally may be stored in less convenient places. It may even take stretching, stooping or climbing to get them depending on how often you use them.

Take a good look at items—the ones that you seldom or never use. It's a good idea to sort them over—maybe some should be thrown away, suggests Mrs. Pardee. Some of the ones you decide to keep may be moved to an attic or the basement to make room for more necessary things in closets or storage units.

When you rearrange your storage put things that you use often where they are "easy to see, easy to reach, and easy to grasp."

Homemaking Hints

Try Blue cheese garlic bread for a treat the next time you serve spaghetti. To make it, mix equal parts of Blue cheese and butter—about 1/2 cup of each. Add 1/4 to 1/2 garlic clove, minced, or garlic salt to taste. Slice Italian or French bread diagonally, not quite through the bottom crust. Spread one side of each slice with the cheese-butter mixture. Heat the loaf in the hot oven—400 degrees—for about 10 to 15 minutes or until it's hot and crusty.

A good breakfast provides about one third of your food needs for the entire day, according to Michigan State University food specialists. It should include some fruit or juice, especially for vitamin C; some bread or cereal, for energy and vitamin B; some protein, such as eggs or bacon; and milk, as a beverage or on cereal.

One of the bills prohibits dangerous armaments, such as gas and the other provides for 25 season permits for motor vehicles in state parks, the money to be earmarked for park maintenance and upkeep.

The March discussion topic pertaining to artificial research for Michigan, resulted in the group's going on record as follows: "We do not think Michigan should support an increase for agricultural research." No members present indicated they would write to legislators in favor of the proposal.

Entrepreneurs group earned a total of 62 points in the county Farm Bureau contest at the March meeting. It was suggested that all members plan to arrive at the April 1 meeting on time. The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schneider.

'Come Apart' Furniture Is Easy To Move with You

In your husband is on the move, the company he works for is liable to keep him that way for quite some time! When his promotions hinge on a transfer, you have to keep "movability" constantly in mind. This goes for your furniture buying, too, reminds Mary Shipley, assistant professor in related arts at Michigan State University.

Modern furniture designers and manufacturers are meeting your needs for "mobile" furnishings. They have taken a cue from foreign designers and are making "knockdown" tables and chairs which are easy to ship. You simply take them apart, screw by screw. Disassembled, they take up much less space and are less likely to be damaged en route.

Bench furniture is something else you might consider. Unit storage is often placed on benches now instead of on the floor. Look for lightweight units which are easy to move.

Bench seating is available, too. You'll find everything from simple flat cushions to sofas with bench foundations. Of course, all you have to do is remove the flat cushions and ship them. The back and seat of some bench-type sofas just fold up. Instead of a bulky couch, you've only a long, slender pillow and a bench to pack.
