Free Spring Concert Scheduled Friday By School Bands

Sousa Memorial Award Will Be Presented for First Time in Chelsea

The Elementary, Junior, and Senior bands will present their annual Spring Concert Friday, at 8 p.m. in the high school gym. Admission will be free, but a free will offering will be taken to purchase needed band equipment.

A number of soloists will be featured during the evening. Nancy Fairbrother and Loretta Wahl will perform an alto saxophone duet on the Junior Band's portion of the program. Byron Pearson will execute a difficult solo in addition to conducting the Sousa's ever-popular march, "A Thunderer," on the Senior Band's portion of the program. Also on the Senior Band's part of the program will be a flute quartet composed of Ruth Prentice, Carolyn Bares, Charlotte Harris, and Lynn Shuster.

Climaxing the program will be the presentation of several awards. For the first time the Sousa Memorial Award will be presented to the Junior or Senior who has contributed most to the Senior Band this year. The winner's name will be engraved on a permanent plaque which will be kept in the band room. Also, the recipient of the award will receive a desk set, gold pin, and certificate.

The five Interlochen scholarship winners will also be announced at the concert. The Kiwanis club of Chelsea is sponsoring one scholarship, while the Band Boosters group is sponsoring four others. They are being selected on the basis of musical talent, vocal, and ensemble festival success, summer band participation, academic success, and school citizenship.

Also, a short recognition ceremony will be given to honor the Senior Band's graduating seniors. Playing their last concert will be James Buck, William Sorensen, Byron Pearson, Donna Walz, Matthew Brown, and Deiores Schmitz.

Gloria Packard, Christine Fisher and Carol Mayer are heading the poster committee in the three bands. The men from the Band Boosters will act as ushers.

CD Mock Air Raid Alert Is Scheduled

Martin Miller, Civil Defense director of Zone VI which includes Chelsea and Lyndon, Lima and Sylvan townships, has announced that a simulated (mock) air raid alert will be staged here Tuesday, May 21. Director Miller said the exercise in this area is in cooperation with a nation-wide program and is being held in Zone VI in accordance with the wishes of the Chelsea Village Council and president, Donald Alber, and Supervisors George Bauer, Jr., Leigh Beach and Maurice Hoffman of Lyndon, Lima and Sylvan townships, respectively.

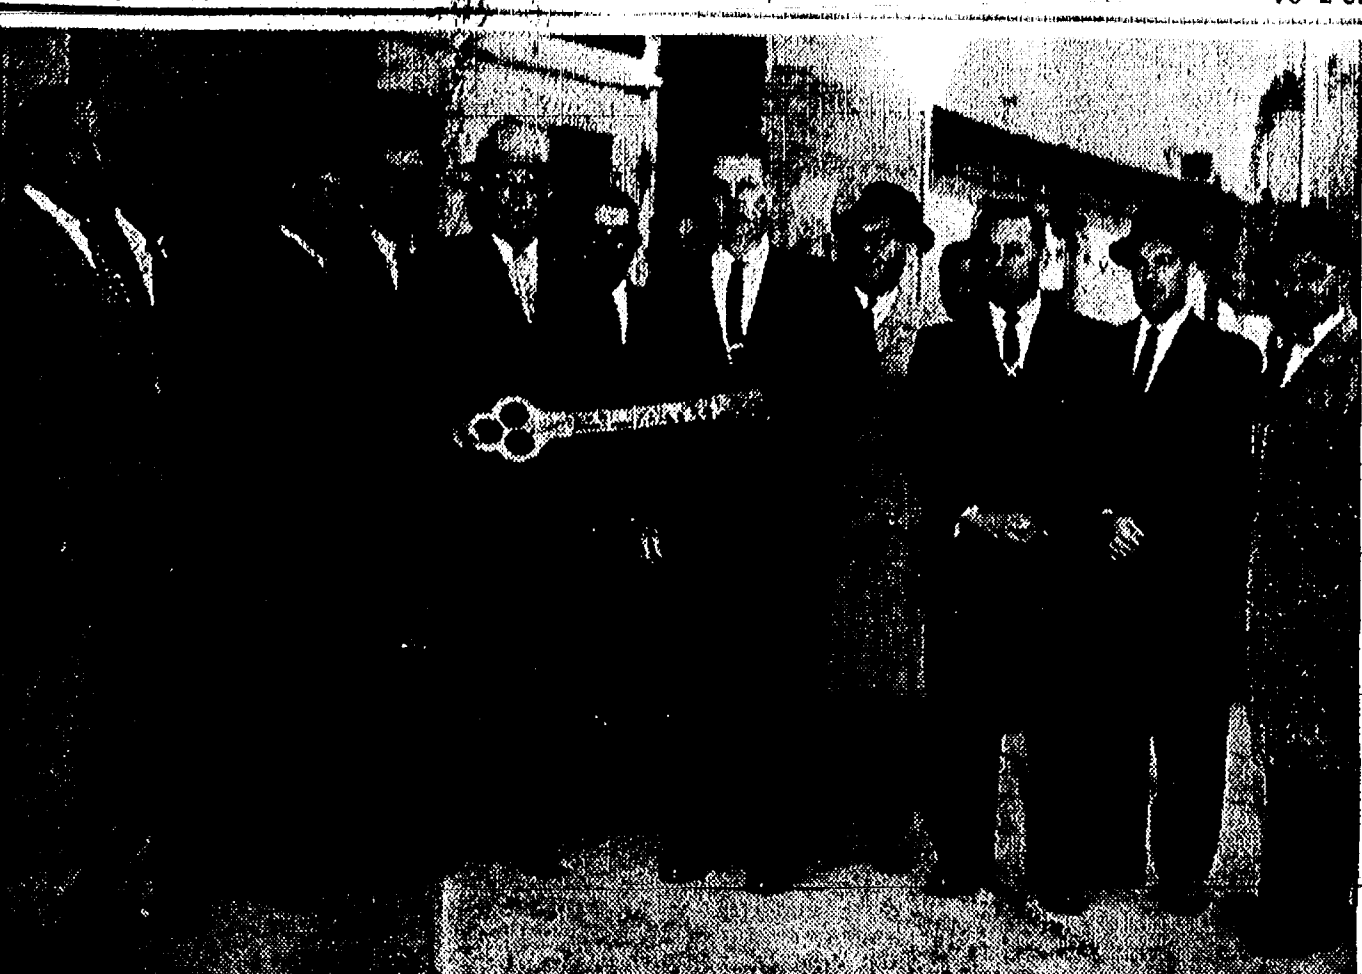

The alert will take place at an unannounced time between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. and will be signalled by sounding a series of short blasts of the fire sirens for a period of three minutes. This is to indicate the imminence of an imagined air raid and people in the community at the time are to regard the alert as a signal to take cover at once and remain quiet until the all-clear signal—a long continuous blast—is sounded.

Auxiliary police and firemen will participate in all phases of the activities planned for protection of the community in case of actual disaster.

The same procedure of warning is also planned in case of tornado alert, Miller stated.

However, he emphasized that the May 21 alert will be a test only but all people of the community should be advised to act in accordance with directions in our that they would know exactly what to do in case of disaster.

Further details of the alert will be announced May 15.

Exchange of Mayors Highlights Activities Of Michigan Week

Chelsea Pictorial Feature Scheduled In Detroit News

Next Thursday, May 15, Chelsea will be featured in The Detroit News. This is one of a series of stories on communities in the Detroit area. Photographers and feature writers were in Chelsea to get pictures and other material for the story two weeks ago.

Adrian City Officials Tour Chelsea Area Schools, Industries

Chelsea's Exchange of Mayors Day schedule was carried out Monday as previously announced, however, the Adrian mayor's wife did not accompany him, and Mayor Pro-Tem Robert Perry was forced to cancel his plan to be here because of business connected with his job as personnel manager at one of Adrian's industrial plants.

Present was Chairman of Adrian Mayor's Exchange Committee Morris Rosenthal who happens to be a former Chelsea resident. The Rosenthal family lived on South Main street at the time the present Adrian commissioner was born.

The Adrian mayor was surprised to meet an old acquaintance here. Mrs. Letha Beach, present Sylvan township treasurer, and Mayor McPhail graduated in the same high school class and went to the same college 30 years ago.

Enroute to Chelsea, Monday morning Mayor McPhail and Commissioner Rosenthal, by pre-arrangement, met Chelsea's village president and president pro-tem and their wives at Clinton and enjoyed a coffee break at the Clinton Hotel. Village President and Mrs. Donald Alber and President Pro-Tem and Mrs. R. R. McManis then proceeded to Adrian and the Adrian men continued their trip to Chelsea.

The Chelsea High School band, in uniform, headed the parade which formed at Pierce Park and proceeded to the Municipal building where Mayor McPhail was presented with "the key to Chelsea" by Councilman Harvey Lixey, Mayor's Exchange Day chairman.

Present was Councilman Victor Kohman, co-chairman of the day's activities, other village officials, Lowell Davison, president of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, and James Daniels, president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

A Chamber of Commerce luncheon was served at the Congregational church and was followed by a tour of Chelsea and vicinity Chrysler Proving Ground, Chelsea Milling Co., Chelsea schools and the Methodist Home. The party also visited the Municipal building and visited the Chelsea Public Library.

At the noon luncheon Mayor McPhail told interesting facts about Adrian which, he said, originated in 1825. Historical facts mentioned included the coming of the Adrian-Kalamazoo railroad (with wooden rails) in 1830, and the first steam locomotive in 1837, the same year Adrian was made the county seat instead of Tecumseh.

He said Adrian now has 54 factories and three banks and is served by three railroads.

He also told of the two colleges there—Siena Heights College and Adrian College—and mentioned problems as well as advantages of the city he heads as mayor. Adrian has a city administrator to help the mayor and six commissioners.

From 4:30 p.m. until 6:15 p.m. when the welcoming party and Adrian officials were scheduled to be guests at the Kiwanis club dinner at the Methodist church, the group was entertained at the home of Councilman William Blaess.

Drivers who furnished cars and stayed with the Mayors Exchange party throughout the day included Walter Harper of Harper Sales & Service; Graham Sprague of Daniels Motor Sales; and Lyle Christwell.

Two Seniors Awarded U-M Scholarships

Robert L. Anderson who makes his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, 170 Cedar Lake road, and Dennis T. Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gary of 14001 Riker road, were announced yesterday as Chelsea High school seniors who have been awarded Regents Alumni scholarships at the University of Michigan College of Literature, Science and Arts.

Beatrice M. Alder, a former Chelsea High school student who now attends Manchester High school, also was listed among the 496 graduating seniors of Michigan high schools who were awarded the Regents-Alumni scholarships this year.

The scholarships carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the freshman year and are renewable for the normal length of the degree program in which the student enrolls, provided his academic record justifies renewal.

The award winners were selected from 1332 applicants representing nearly 300 high schools. At least one scholarship is available for every accredited high school in the state, provided a qualified candidate applies.

These awards are made by the Committee on University Scholarships with the assistance and advice of University alumni and alumnae and high school principals and teachers in the communities in which the applicants reside. In evaluating the applications, the committee places special emphasis upon character, citizenship, the high school academic record, financial need, and the scores made on the competitive test written by all applicants.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Buria and son, Larry Joe, of Detroit, visited at the home of Mrs. Buria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Goddes, Sunday. Also callers in the afternoon were Mrs. Matilda Kohler of Dexter, and Mrs. Haskiel Brown and children, of near Ann Arbor.

Recreation Plans Include Boys Midget Baseball

Chelsea Recreation Council held its spring meeting April 29 at the Municipal Building. The program for the coming summer was discussed and it was tentatively decided it would be similar in nature to previous ones. Arts and crafts will make up most of the mornings. In addition, there will be an athletic type program for boys, featuring midget baseball.

The afternoon will feature swimming at Grooms Beach, Whitmore Lake. The evening program will be an athletic program and feature ten-age baseball leagues.

Recreation Director Alex Schumacher has not yet completed the hiring of his staff and persons interested in working in the arts and crafts program are asked to contact him.

Teachers Club Re-Elects Mabel Fox as State President

"This is certainly distinctive!" was the comment of Field Representative Richard Adams of the Michigan Education Association staff, when he examined a copy of the Chelsea Elementary School annual at the Michigan State Teachers Club meeting here Saturday. He went on to say that in his travels around the state, a similar publication had never come to his attention. "I won't say that this is unique," he said, "but I know of none like it."

He was commenting upon the third annual edition of the Chelsea Elementary Annual, published by the high school journalism club. The first two editions carried 16 pages of fine-screen slick-paper pictures taken by professional photographers. The present edition runs to 20 pages, has larger pictures (7 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches) and is entirely the work of the Journalism club. The money earned, if any, will be used to send next year's editors of the "Hi-Light" and "The Bulldog Barks" to a special two-week summer session at Michigan State University.

At the Village Council meeting Tuesday evening the contract for sidewalks and curbing was awarded to Sanford Brothers of Jackson.

Sidewalks included in the contract are to be constructed on Wendley street, Wood street, Book street and the east side of Taylor street from Pierce street south to the end of the street.

Curbing and gutter projects are listed for Railroad street from McKinley street east to the end of present sidewalks; Dale street from Wellington north to the end of the street; and Taylor street, east side from Pierce street south to the end of the street.

The contract calls for completion by July 31.

Other business at Tuesday's meeting included a motion to publish only total amounts of bills in the Council proceedings reports, rather than the individual accounts as has been the procedure in published reports for many years.

The individual accounts will be kept on file with the village clerk.

Benjamin Bower's exhibit of drawings of 30 years of early model Ford cars is on display at the Brighton State Fair as a service of Michigan Week. The exhibit includes authentic pictures of 47 cars drawn with colored indelible pencils.

The exhibit was on display at Palmer Motor Sales here in July, 1956.

VFW Post, Auxiliary Honor Chelsea Teachers in Special Ceremonies

The V.F.W. Post and Ladies Auxiliary presented a carnation to each teacher in the Chelsea Public School system and the Sisters of St. Mary's school in observance of National Teachers Day. The presentations were made Monday in the South Elementary school by Mrs. Ren Hutzler, the North Elementary school by Mrs. Erie Brady, St. Mary's school by Mrs. Wayne Harvey, and Chelsea High school by Mrs. Ren Hutzler.

Mrs. Brady also visited the five rural schools in the Chelsea School District to present each teacher with a carnation.

At both Chelsea elementary schools pupils participated in a short program during the teacher recognition ceremonies.

In making the presentation at the high school, Mrs. Hutzler stated: "I would like to take a few moments to tell you what the VFW Auxiliaries have done and are still doing to help our school children and teachers. I am not speaking for only our own town and our state but about more than 375,000 Auxiliary members at work in 7,000 home communities all over the 48 states as well as Alaska, Hawaii and the Canal Zone.

Here, just briefly, is the five-point program for our nation's young people:

(1) "We sponsor youth groups such as Scout troops, Campfire Girls, school bands, teen-age recreation centers and our own VFW Auxiliary Junior Girls Units.

(2) Our two recorded radio series of American history, known as "The American Trail" and "The Man and the Moment," are given to schools. The latter series is available here in Chelsea and at present

GRAVEL PROCESSING for the Waterloo road highway improvement project is a seven-day-a-week job, according to Delmer Stanley of Mason who was awarded the contract for 11,000 yards of processed gravel needed for the 4.76-mile stretch. Stanley, 29 years old, claims the distinction of being the youngest gravel contractor in the state. He has operated the business the past four years. Stanley's portable crushing plant, cranes, bulldozers and trucks, shown in the above photograph, were set up in the Conservation Department gravel pit on Rush road, south of Waterloo road. B. L. Kitchen of Lennon is the sub-contractor in charge of trucking the processed gravel from the portable plant to the highway improvement project. His trucks move 2,000 yards of gravel a day. The plant was moved in Saturday and Stanley and Kitchen said they expected to have the full amount of 11,000 yards processed and hauled by last night.

The Journalism club held a successful supper Tuesday, April 29, at the home of their advisor, Miss Fox. Entertainment consisted of looking at old annuals.

The grade annuals are now on sale, and the money is helping the club to boost their treasury. They will need plenty to send next year's editors to Michigan State University for two weeks' instruction.

At the next meeting, the editors will be chosen. They must be at least ready to enter the junior year and must be able to attend the special session this summer. Because so many teenagers work, the selection will be difficult.

Correction: Sis Wagner should have been on 10th grade B honor roll last week.

Any object seen flying through space in the vicinity of GHS will not be a satellite or a rocket—it will probably just be evidence that the girls' physical education classes are practicing their pitching for baseball. The girls are learning the correct form and technique for catching and pitching the baseball. When the weather permits, the girls will begin going out to the field to practice and play. Good luck!

The boys in agriculture have been spending the past few weeks in studying the different types of corn. A special project they have been collecting news items on this topic. They also have been planning a program for the FFA. This will include advertising for the club and displaying its activities.

Our art teacher, Mrs. Reinholz, is displaying an inner glow lately since she learned that some of her pottery has been accepted for display and competition in the Wisconsin Art Show. It is an important show, and merely having something accepted is a real triumph.

Home Economics classes during hours two, three, and four are sewing blouses and dresses. They are getting along very well now, and some are finishing the garment. The first-hour class is still studying cooking.

Members of all classes are asked to model at least one garment made as a home or school project in the fashion show, May 28. Future Homemakers will assist with the style show.

School helpers in the North School library during the last week in April were, in Mrs. Good's third grade: Sharon Sutter, Lyndon Benjamin, Gloria Brackney, and Terry Joseph. In Mrs. Beach's third grade, helpers were Sheryl Kipmiller, Sue Brown, Tina Lindner, John Kern, Terry Whitesall, Herb Hepburn, Susan Bauer, and Carolyn Richards. Miss Weidling's fifth grade were helped by Gary White, Donald Hinderer, Jimmy Romine, and Penny Rearch.

Last Saturday morning the Future Teachers club swung into action by putting on a "coffee hour" for a meeting of the Michigan State Teachers Club held at South School. Everyone was busy setting tables, decorating, serving, and cleaning up. Later, Carolyn Hinderer helped with the noon program at the Congregational church by narrating a film strip, "Explosion of a Myth" about the status of teachers.

Members are planning a field trip this month. As yet, the day has not been decided, but a tour of a nearby college campus is indicated.

The Junior class is busy, busy. They have chosen May 10 for a car wash, the general chairman of which is Gus Steger, assisted by Steve Brielle, Jerry Satterthwaite, Sandy Fraser, Jennifer Hibbs, and Sharon Slane. They also set May 9 as the date for a bake sale, of which the chairman is Marie Forner, assisted by Pat Kramer, Jeanne Larson, Helen Leno.

Other Juniors have been busy working on the prom scheduled for May 24. The theme has been decided upon, but is not announced to others than the Juniors. Committee chairmen for the prom are decoration—Sandy Kramer, and Sharon Slane; banquet—Sue Patrick and Lynne McMannis; table decorations, Carole Barr; refreshment, Ellen Keusch; advertising, Jennifer Hibbs; invitations, Don Wood (who has already sent out the invitations); clean-up, Lois Stark; entertainment, Anita Elsemann.

In preparation for senior activities next fall, a committee of Bob Smith, Loren Keezer, Bob Eder, Ellen Keusch, Jean Larson, and Sharon Slane met with magazine company representatives May 1. Another committee was chosen to look into the matter of senior pictures next year. Members are Ellen Keusch, Sharon Slane, Anita Elsemann, Loren Keezer, and Jon Harris.

The Junior High band has been working hard for the coming concert, May 9. In one song there is a saxophone duet played by Loretta Wahl and Nancy Fairbrother. The first chairs for the band are occupied by Sandy Sharrard, flute; Pat Meyers, drum; Loretta Wahl, sax; Eric Knisley, cornet; and Kathy White, clarinet.

High School band members spent an enjoyable afternoon in Grass Lake High school, Tuesday, May 6. They wore their uniforms and presented a concert which included several members, a flute quartet by Ruth Prentice, Carolyn Bareis, Charlotte Harris and Lynn Slusser, and a solo with band accompaniment played by Byron Pearson. They reached Chelsea in time for the bus, the band also started marching practice May 1.

Art classes are now starting to do copper tooling after several unsuccessful attempts to work with balloons, string, and starch. The new project is most interesting because most of the students have never done it before. Various colors and designs will be used on the earrings, necklaces, and bracelets. Hope they turn out nicely!

The High School chorus is really busy this time of the year. On May 23, the choir will sing for P.T.A. and on May 27 it will present its spring concert. At graduation time, the choir will sing at Baccalaureate service, class day and commencement. There is also a possibility that they will sing at Mercywood Sanitarium in the near future. Dues have to be paid to treasurer Marilyn Pajot before members can receive their quarter of a credit.

Seventh graders had their eyes tested on April 28. Many found that they needed glasses. Mr. Prinsing's seventh grade history classes have been getting current events out of the daily papers for reports.

The Senior class is busy earning the last few (?) dollars for their

New York trip of May 14. The returns from the car wash, April 19, the bake sale April 28, and the dance May 2, were all very good.

On May 2, a representative from the Seniors Tours in Ann Arbor spoke to the seniors, explaining some of the details of the trip.

At Student Council on May 10, the Junior class projects, car wash and bake sale, were approved. It was voted to reimburse the Sophomore class for the adapters for the gym. A list of articles, including a handbook, and various kinds of kits, were ordered to assist the Council in its work. In closing, the Council rejected a request for exchanging students with other schools and will continue membership in association of Huron League.

At the Future Nurses meeting in the audio visual room, May 1, the program consisted of a discussion by Mrs. Cookereli, a graduate of the Edward Sparrow School of Nursing in Lansing. She gave an interesting talk on a typical day in a nursing school, and outlined the training course. After the formal talk, a question and answer period followed, that included a discussion of the difference between a practical and a registered nurse, and the differences between a three-, four-, and five-year nursing program.

School ended at one o'clock on Wednesday, April 30, for the projectionists of Chelsea High. A field trip to Argus Cameras in Ann Arbor was scheduled. Under the leadership of Mr. Prinsing, they observed the making of the C-3 cameras from beginning to end. The most interesting part of the tour was the polishing of the lens of the camera. An assembly line was in full swing as each part of the production of cameras was fully explained. The trip was very educational as well as enjoyable.

Seventh grade of Chelsea High is happy to welcome Dianna Edwards. She is 13 years old, and comes to us from Lincoln High school, Ypsilanti.

Michigan Endowed with One of God's Richest Blessings - Adequate Water

Pure water unlimited!
 In these three words is the essence of what many of us believe to be Michigan's greatest attraction, her finest natural resource and her best guarantee of a prosperous future.

Michigan's water resources are being stressed as one of two themes of Michigan Week May 4 to 10. The other twin theme is education in Michigan.

Water, as gathered and used in the course of living and working, in agriculture and in industry, always has been and always will be a most impelling factor in the progress of mankind. And, Michigan is unique in being very nearly surrounded by the world's greatest concentration of pure, fresh water—the Great Lakes.

This is, of course, in addition to her hundreds of rivers, brooks and ponds, her more than 11,000 inland lakes and her network of rich subterranean veins, forever replenished from above ground.

There is hardly a spot in our state where fresh water, either impounded or flowing free, is not readily and plentifully available.

In contrast, let us look at California's situation, in San Francisco, for example. There, water must be brought in through aqueducts from sources like the Hetch-Hetchy reservoir, which is 176 miles from the coast. And as another example, water supplied in Los Angeles must come in major part from the Parker Dam on the Colorado River, nearly 250 miles away. Incidentally, it is predicted that by 1975, throughout California, water demand will considerably exceed the total primary supply. As for the national picture, within the next twenty years, if not sooner, the fresh water supply in most parts of the United States will have reached a state of emergency.

Michigan's 1975 outlook, on the other hand, is for further and more productive use of an exciting, limitless fresh water supply. The reservoirs of our Great Lakes—so far as really large-scale and broadly diversified water use is concerned—have scarcely been touched.

However, there are signs of increased activity in the years to come. Earlier this year, our State Legislature passed a bill expediting a $181,000,000 pipeline project to bring water from Lake Huron to Genesee, Oakland and Macomb counties. Completion of the project would supply Lake Huron water for the taps of Detroit suburban homes by early 1961. Another aqueduct, with an intake at White Stone Point near Au Gres, has been serving the Saginaw and Midland communities for ten years. We believe these are the patterns for future, more extensive, endeavors.

Significance of unlimited water supply to Michigan's future is emphasized by reviewing some of the major functions of this essential resource.

Water, itself a kind of food, is a component in all foods; we cannot live without it, nor can the animals that provide part of our sustenance. Vegetables cannot grow without it. And in our homes, for all purposes, we use 50 gallons of water per person per day.

Water is a most useful industrial implement. For example, 65,000 gallons are required in the processing of a single ton of steel.

Water as a cleanser is used in both product and service industries—70,000 gallons to bleach a ton of cotton, 10,000 gallons to wash a ton of laundry.

In the electric power production industry water takes the heat energy from burning coal and conducts it, as steam, into turbine-generators which transform it into electrical energy.

Which brings us to one more facet of Michigan's water resources which has profound future implications. The realization of the dream of the St. Lawrence Seaway is close at hand. Detroit, and other Great Lakes shore cities of Michigan, may be expected to emerge not too many years from now as full-scale world ports served by vessels plying all the oceans and visited by people speaking all the languages of the earth.

The foregoing does not by any means cover all the aspects of Michigan's finest material resource—water unlimited. But what these water resources mean is plain enough. To people, water means health, well-being, pleasant living; to industries, water means economy, efficiency, productivity. These are things all people, and all industries want.

It is thus a sound conclusion that when an area—in this case, Michigan—has something everybody wants, its future is promising. And we all thank God for His great blessings on Michigan and her people on this annual occasion known as Michigan Week.

Experts are predicting that radioactive atoms used as fertilizer may do the work of a million Luther Burbanks and change the appearance and shape of many vegetables. If we are still around when that time comes, we'll probably still say it's spinach.

If you can learn the rumba by television, then the medium's capacity for evil has been infinitely underestimated. —Detroit Free Press.

Mother's Day, 1958

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Republicans in Michigan will steer their 1958 campaign for Congressional seats on a program supporting the often-criticized policies of President Eisenhower. Backers of the most serious threats of revolt in the ranks against national politics have been quietly quelled, at least for the present.

For months the pressure had been building up beneath the surface to scrap the president's "New Republicanism" and state the party's conservative goals in certain terms.

Party leaders are pushing for support of the president's decisions in the Defense Department shakeup, the veto of the rivers and harbors bill and other red hot issues.

The switch back to conservatism had been growing, starting with a group of Republicans in the legislature.

Most of the sentiment was centered in the Senate. There Senator John P. J. Sweeney (R-Battle Creek), an energetic freshman, challenged the party to develop its own issue.

It existed in speeches last summer by Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Pontiac) along the same line. "The right-to-work bill may never be enacted by the legislature, but it would make a wonderful campaign issue," said another member of the group.

At the summer time Republicans in the legislature were being Eisenhower and following the line their conservative critics call "metoism."

It was no secret that some of the party's top leaders wanted to pass Gov. Williams' $20,000,000 intangibles tax increase but lacked the votes.

The fact that enough Republicans took positions to give Williams his long-sought executive reorganization plan was not lost on those checking the political winds for 1958. The reorganization proposal is considered an efficiency move and worthy of non-partisan support even though it increases the power of the governor.

Another way station in the short trip of the rebels was the 14th Congressional District organization in Wayne County, which formally urged a return to conservatism. It split the group in Detroit, and it left its mark.

Into this cauldron of intra-party dissent came Paul D. Bagwell, the Michigan State University professor, as a party candidate for governor.

While another candidate may be standing in the wings, his party support is questionable. Bagwell has the organization to sweep to a primary victory, barring unforeseen developments.

But, the pre-primary squabbles follow the historic pattern. Republicans have been known for their divisions over the candidate for governor. History tells the story.

Can a Republican beat Williams this year? Time will tell.

Michigan's Dairy Princesses for 1958 was selected last week in East Lansing.

A Powhatanville girl, Judith Mas Dammann, was picked from a field of 36 county princesses in competition for the state honor. Alternates were Gwen Oswald of Vicksburg, and Jean Ann Parish of Fairgrove.

Selection of the "reigning monarch" is perhaps the most extensive program of its kind in the state. The contest is sponsored by the American Dairy Association, the Michigan Milk Producers Association and a group of other dairy organizations.

Virtually any girl in the state who is between 17 and 20, single and who can milk a cow has a chance to win. Earlier contests are conducted at county level with winners coming to Lansing for two days of activities and judging.

The winner or her alternate represents the state's dairy interest all year, and the princess has the chance to compete for national honors as dairy queen.

Investigators have broadened their check into charges of alleged brutality to patients in the state's mental hospitals.

Rep. Carroll G. Newton prompted the probe when he took the House floor to make the dramatic charges that his brother-in-law was severely beaten at Coldwater home and training school.

There was a hearing in the last days of the 1958 session at which allowed as how it was "so electrifying it changed the tiger's stripes, so vibrant you can hear the jungle drums." I think the Senate investigating committee ought to look into such stuff just as soon as they get through deciding who stole what with that television yank a string and the flag come open. And if she don't want more sun she yanks the string the other way and the flaps close. And I see where they are discussing a new evening gown that has a top made out of transparent plastic. In short, the gal has got on clothes but she ain't got on any.

It's a great pity, Mister Editor, that folks with such brains ain't working on somepun useful. For instant, if they'd develop a hog that has got four hams instead of two we'd be getting some place. I used to worry about such things a heap, but styles change even in worrying. When a feller has got a problem now, he just takes a pill. I'll knock off now, Mister Editor, and go take a couple.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Accidents

Yesterday as I was following a truck through slow traffic, I noticed a sign on the back that said "COURTESY PREVENTS ACCIDENTS." I was puzzled by the quotation marks around "Courtesy." Sometimes quotation marks direct attention to a word that is used in an unusual or ironical sense. For example, an author might write about a "man of affairs," and use quotation marks as a subtle indication that he didn't consider the affairs to be very important.

But the quotation marks on the truck were around the wrong word, to my way of thinking. There is nothing unusual or ironical about the word "Courtesy." Just plain ordinary garden-variety courtesy would prevent many accidents. Many wrecks are caused by people who are "pushy" or made at the world in general, or in too much of a hurry.

No, it is the word "Accidents" that ought to be placed in quotes, for most "accidents" are not accidental; they are caused. If brakes don't hold or a tire blows out, you might call that an accident, but less than 10 per cent of auto accidents can be traced to mechanical defects. The rest are caused by "the nut that holds the steering wheel."

The sign "Student Driver" on the back of cars used for driver training warns the public that the driver in question might do something unexpected and unexplainable at any moment. It wouldn't be a bad idea to imagine you saw that on the back of every car!

A good rule to follow when driving, I'm told, is to act as if the other driver is a fool. Stay far enough away from him that if he does something idiotic you won't be in his way.

Another good rule that I made up all by myself is this: "Act as if the driver of your own car is a fool." Although most drivers, when queried, will say they are careful drivers, yet accidents do happen. It must be people who cause them to happen. People like you and me.

I can recall several times when I have done "fool" things, which could have turned into a wreck if another car had happened to be in my way at the time. The fact that I've been lucky so far is no excuse for thinking that an "accident" couldn't happen to me.

The main reason for the study is to learn in what latitudes, climates, and geographic areas these victims have lived. The disease is known to be more prevalent in the northern United States and Canada than in the South.

Bible Verse To Study

"We are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

1. Who was the author of the above statement?
2. To whom was he speaking?
3. What does the word "ambassador" mean?

MYSTERY FARM NO. 3 was first correctly identified by Charles Curtis at 8 a.m. Thursday as Erwin, and family.

George, Erwin Haist Known as Breeders of World's Champion Sheep on Home Farm

Mystery Farm No. 3, owned by George Haist and operated by his son, Erwin, was correctly identified by many people of the community after its publication in The Chelsea Standard last Thursday.

Located on Haist road, near Jerusalem, the 100-acre farm has been owned and operated by members of the Haist family for 54 years.

The Haists, father, son, grandsons and granddaughters, have been prominent as breeders of champion Black Top Delaine sheep for many years.

Their sheep have received high awards and championships on local, state, national and international levels—awards so numerous that they do not remember the exact number.

In 1937 and again in 1938 a Black Top Delaine fleece from the Haist farm was judged champion fleece of the world at the International show.

For many years George Haist served as president and then as secretary of the Michigan Black Top Delaine Sheep Breeders' Association.

A member of Zion Lutheran church throughout his life, he has served in various capacities on the church council for 38 years.

Since 1931 his son Erwin and he have operated the farm and he lives on another farm he owns on Fletcher road. He makes his home there with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoffman. He is secretary-treasurer of the German Farmers Mutual Insurance Co., an office he has held the past 25 years.

His wife, the former Martha Eschelbach, died in 1930.

The Erwin Haists' sons and daughters, Kenneth, Richard, Arlene and Doris, all have been active in 4-H club work and have exhibited champion sheep and beef cattle at the Chelsea Community Fair and at county and state shows. Richard has added registered Corriedale sheep in recent years. The family keeps approximately 200 sheep in the farm flock.

In their 4-H work the younger Haists also received high awards on Hereford and Angus beef cattle and their father, Erwin, customarily has a herd of feeder cattle.

In addition to general crops he raises on the home farm, Erwin operates his father's Fletcher road farm and another neighboring farm.

The two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Haist are now married—one is Mrs. Bruce Bycraft and the other, Mrs. David Crocker.

First telephone caller to correctly identify the Haist farm was Charles Curtis.

A number of incorrect identifications were also called in, several believing it to be a farm several miles west of Chelsea.

Mrs. Erwin Haist was one of the last to call. She had been away all day Thursday and didn't see The Standard until she returned home.

Home Demonstration Week Proclaimed for May 4-10

Mayor Samuel J. Eldersveld has proclaimed May 4-10 National Home Demonstration Week in Ann Arbor. The program is for an educational and cultural week involving home demonstration work in the home, and conducted cooperatively by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Michigan State University and Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors.

Any interested homemakers may participate in the Home Demonstration program.

The home is especially important economically. Expenses for food, shelter, and clothing take a major share of the income for family living. Whatever is left goes for education, recreation, savings, and cultural interests. Since the margin between income and cost of necessities is small for most families, improved living depends upon expert management of resources.

Women, who are primarily responsible for maintaining the home, do most of the family buying and exert a broad influence on the character and personality of family members. In the rapidly changing pattern of modern-day living, homemakers need an up-to-date source of reliable information that will help them in solving problems of the family and community. Home Demonstration work is designed to meet that need.

The Board of Supervisors passed a resolution naming May 4-10 as Home Demonstration Week in Washtenaw county as follows:

"In recognition of the importance of the Home Demonstration Program in promoting a better way of life for the people of the County by authority of the Board of Supervisors, I hereby declare the week of May 4-10, 1958 as Home Demonstration Week, and urge all the people of Washtenaw County to become familiar with and participate in the activities planned in celebration thereof."

Signed
William I. Scheel, Chairman
Board of Supervisors.

Honor Teachers . . .

all over the country could hear the program.

(3) Our Auxiliaries conduct patriotic ceremonies especially for young people, presenting American flags to thousands of school and church groups over the country.

(4) This year we started our Classroom Helpers—a nationwide program of volunteer workers who are performing non-teaching jobs in the schools, giving teachers more time for actual teaching. This project is being welcomed in many cities and towns and it is estimated that by the end of this year's school term we will have 100,000 Classroom Helpers working in the schools.

(5) The program which has been planned to honor our teachers, and the main reason for my being here this morning, is the National Teachers Day. We wanted the teachers of the nation to know they are appreciated—so three years ago we started a movement to establish National Teachers Day.

"National Teachers Day, this year and every year, is on May 5, the birthday of Horace Mann, who established the first public school in the United States. For the third year in a row, we have a bill before Congress to give National Teachers Day official recognition. Thousands of our members are writing to their Congressmen to urge that the bill be reported out of committee so that it can be acted upon.

"We are very happy that our YW-YW Post has joined with us in our observance of National Teachers Day in Chelsea and we are pleased to join with thousands of others throughout the nation in expressing our heartfelt thanks to the teachers of Chelsea, which they so richly deserve. We are presenting just a single flower to each teacher, but with it goes a multitude of sincere thanks and our warmest best wishes."

There is more water than land on the earth's surface.

Beatrice Fowler Becomes Bride of Glenn F. Haeussler

Beatrice Fowler of 418 Madison street, and Glenn F. Haeussler of 445 Linden Court, Saline, were married at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the Methodist church here in the presence of 175 guests. The Rev. S. D. Kinde officiated.

Soloist for the ceremony was Wilbur Beaman of Waterloo road. Accompanied on the organ by Claude Isham, he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Fowler of 1443 University Terrace, Ann Arbor, formerly of Chelsea.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Haeussler of Saline.

White pure silk bombazine fashioned the bride's gown which featured a chapel sweep train. The neckline and first bodice were trimmed with Alencon lace and the long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The train was later arranged as a bustle by means of a large bow at the back. Her French illusion was finger-length and was held in place with a tiny Juliet cap of bombazine and Alencon lace, trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid corsage on a white prayer book.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Bill M. Darnell of Saline, and Mrs. William P. Lamm of Saline, as bridesmaids. Both were gowned alike in princess style walk-length gowns of aqua lace over tulle. Each wore a matching crown and veil and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.
