Petitions requesting a special election on a proposal to change Chelsea's village type of government to a home rule city administration were presented to the Village Council at Tuesday's regular meeting.

The petitions, bearing 120 signatures, were filed with the village clerk for checking as to validity of the signatures. A period of 30 days is allowed for this checking before action on the requested special election is taken by the Village Council.

If all signatures are in order and no other delay occurs, election on the proposal could be set for a date in August.

Plans Complete for Saturday's Teen-Age Safe Driver Road-e-o

Plans are being made by Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, for the annual observance of Memorial Day here. Arrangements for the parade to the cemetery are in charge of Richard Kern, Charles Spencer and David Strieter.

Scheduled for Friday morning, May 30, the parade will assemble at the Municipal building at 10 a.m. George Knickerbocker will be officer of the day.

All Boy Scouts and Girl Scout groups and other organizations of the community are being invited to take part in the parade.

School bands will march and an added attraction this year is expected in the form of a girls' drill team, recently organized.

Jaycee-Sponsored Event Will Be Held On Chandler Street

This Saturday, at 1:00 p.m. on Chandler street the Chelsea Jaycees will hold their annual Teen-age Safe Driving Road-e-o. Everyone is invited to attend.

According to co-chairmen Jack Wellnitz and Charles Popovich, everything is arranged to handle any number of entries that may qualify.

The applicants will have taken a written examination by road-e-o time. This is a part of the test to determine their qualifications as a "safe driver."

The Road-e-o itself is comprised of four parts—each an obstacle course in its own right. It includes a serpentine course in which the driver must pass through a series of obstacles in a forward motion and then in reverse.

The real crowd pleaser is the course that requires the driver to drive through two rows of balls placed just wide enough for the car tire to pass through. This phase tests the nerve and concentration of any good driver.

The cars for the Road-e-o will be furnished by Alber Motor Sales, Spaulding Chevrolet Sales and Palmer Motor Sales. All cars will have automatic transmissions.

Official judge for the Road-e-o will be George Peterson, candidate for Washtenaw county sheriff, Sergeant Bliss of the Jackson State Police Post and George Stecher and Jack Weber of the Chrysler Proving Ground engineering staff.

New Athletic League Formed By Six Area High Schools

Following a series of exploratory meetings, a new athletic league involving Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Saline, University High and Ypsilanti Roosevelt was chartered on May 15, following an organizational meeting on April 15.

At that time member schools forwarded letters of withdrawal to the respective leagues of which they are now a part, to be effective at the end of the 1958-59 school year. Schools now affiliated with the League of the Lakes are Dexter and Manchester, while Chelsea, Saline, Roosevelt and U. High are currently members of the Huron League.

The new league plans to function as a planning group during the 1958-59 school year and will hold a competition among member schools with the beginning of the fall football season.

At an unnamed this new group will canvass their individual student bodies for suggested league names. These names will be considered by the board of directors as they continue their organization this fall.

Officers elected to serve until the fall meeting of this league are William Bailey of Saline, president; Art Walker of Ypsilanti Roosevelt, vice-president; and Edward Hill of Saline, secretary.

Initially, the new league will compete at a varsity level in football, basketball, baseball and track. Plans to expand programs to other sports and extracurricular activities are a part of the projected program.

Of the member schools, all of which are currently in the Class C enrollment range, all but two expect to have new and expanded athletic facilities available in the near future. Ypsilanti Roosevelt and U. High, while not possessed of individual athletic plants, have been able to utilize facilities at Eastern Michigan and at the University of Michigan or Ann Arbor High, which have been quite satisfactory.

REN HUTZEL
Ren Hutzel Named Commander of VFW Sixth District

At the Sixth District meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and auxiliaries, held Sunday at Fowlerville, Ren Hutzel of Chelsea, Post 4076 was elected district VFW commander.

At the Auxiliary sessions Miss Alda Juergens was appointed assistant guard for the district and Mrs. Mary Kniss was named flag bearer. Both ladies are members of the Chelsea VFW Auxiliary.

Others who attended the meetings are Mrs. Hutzel, Mrs. Jean Carty, Auxiliary President; Mrs. Ray Franklin, and Auxiliary delegate, Mrs. Fred Klink, Mrs. Wayne Harvey and Mrs. Mac Packard.

The two Chelsea men attended classes in Detroit twice a week during January and February and went to Lansing for the state examinations given in March on the campus at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Ruth Sott and Mr. and Mrs. L. Dean Sott attended the dedication services of the new high school in Milan, Sunday-afternoon.

CD Alert Only About 50% Effective

Civil Defense Director Martin Miller said Chelsea's Civil Defense alert, staged here yesterday, resulted in approximately 50 per cent co-operation on the part of automobile drivers and residents while revealing full co-operation of Civil Defense personnel.

One snag encountered by those responsible for fanning out information to chairmen of various committees and to industries was the "busy" signal on several party lines. Heavily loaded lines also delayed messages from the Sheriff's Department to Civil Defense Director Miller.

Miller said the alert here began at 8:15 a.m. when he received a message from the Jackson State Police giving the "position of enemy aircraft" and the probable time the "attack" could be expected.

At 10:40 a.m. the three-minute series of short blasts on the fire siren was sounded; fire engines were dispatched to the north and west edges of the village and a third engine alerted at the fire station; auxiliary policemen took up their stations at the sewage plant, the village water wells, pumps and storage tank, and at strategic points to protect electrical power installations; all remaining on duty for the 10-minute interval decided upon for the practice alert.

Director Miller, himself, went to the vicinity of South and Congdon streets to study first-hand the effectiveness of the fire siren warning signals.

A mobile radio station also swung into action as soon as the siren was sounded; however, some difficulty was encountered in this phase of communication, Miller said.

The co-operation here was considered fairly good for a first trial alert.

The all-clear signal was given at 11:45 a.m.

J. V. Burg, II, Named To Head Holy Name Society

Officers of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Catholic church, elected at the society's annual breakfast, are J. V. Burg, II, president; Irwin Young, vice-president; John Ford, recording secretary; and Edward Laler, treasurer.

The outgoing president is Harry Likely.

Approximately 120 men were present for the annual breakfast, held Sunday morning, May 11, at St. Mary's school hall.

Lake Users Urged To Agree On Rules for Water Safety

Lieutenant Vincent Snell, in charge of marine waterways in Washtenaw county, said yesterday that letters have been sent to all township supervisors in the county suggesting that fishermen, year-around lake residents, and skiing and motorboat enthusiasts get together for meetings to decide on rules and regulations governing each of the four areas of lake usage. He lists these four categories as fishing, swimming, casual boating and skiing.

General rules in the state say that skis may be used only during the day, the time set being one hour after sunrise until one hour before sunset.

Lieutenant Snell was commenting on an incident which occurred on Cavanaugh Lake at about 4 p.m. Sunday, involving a youth on skis and a fisherman's boat. Snell said an investigation is being made of the incident since conflicting reports were publicized.

Young people who have had a ski club at Cavanaugh Lake the past three years had set up their own rules and regulations to promote safety for themselves and for others using the lake, spokesmen for the group said. They had set the hours of 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. as the only time they would ski on the lake on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, leaving the morning and evening hours free for fishermen. They had marked out a course by means of buoys.

Sunday, fishermen from out of town ventured into this marked-out area and were requested to leave, according to a report of the incident. It was when the fishing boat was moving out of the area that a motorboat towing a youth on skis again approached. In an effort to avoid colliding with the fishing boat the sking youth threw up the tow rope but could not stop himself in time to avoid hitting the boat with one of his skis. The impact put a dent in the boat and damaged one of the youth's skis. No one was hurt, according to the report. The fishermen's boat had been rented from a nearby boat livery.

Lieutenant Snell pointed out that if an agreement on rules and regulations was reached at a meeting of lake residents, motorboat operators, fishermen, boat livery operators and ski groups, the Sheriff's Department would be in a position to co-operate in enforcing these rules. Areas for skiing, boating and swimming could be officially marked out and greater safety would be assured for everyone concerned.

Pierce Park Work Bee Set Thursday

Next Tuesday, at 6 p.m., Pierce Park will be the scene of a Chamber of Commerce members and anyone else willing to participate in a general clean-up "bee." Lawn mowers and other lawn and garden tools should be brought along by those who plan to help.

Progress at Veterans Memorial Park at the north entrance to the village was reported by Roland Spaulding.

Michigan taxpayers get more for their money with soil-cement, the 20-year-plus pavement!

Genesee County already has 115 miles of soil-cement roads. The total cost was only $11,500 to $13,000 per mile—no more than for ordinary gravel roads!

Soil . . . portland cement . . . water. It's mixed right on the road and rolled solid. That's soil-cement pavement—stronger inch for inch than any other paving material short of concrete. Maintenance costs stay low. No softening, no break up, no

If your garden area is limited, plant a balanced garden of those vegetables that will produce the greatest returns, say Michigan State University horticultural specialists. Measure these returns by nutrients—per pound—production per square foot and hours of labor needed to produce the crop.

Florida Freeze Affects Michigan's Corn Program

Florida's cold weather this past winter slowed down the progress of agriculture in Michigan, as well as in Florida.

The corn breeding of Michigan State University's Agricultural Experiment Station was the victim of the freeze, reports Elmer C. Rossman, plant breeder in the farm crops department.

By maintaining a winter nursery in Florida, corn breeders can move twice as fast in developing a new hybrid because two generations can be grown in one year. The Michigan nursery is located near Homestead, Fla., and is 1 1/2 acres in size.

Rossman says the freeze delayed the release of three pollen restorer inbred lines for a year later than planned, or about 1950. With these lines, seed producers will be able to eliminate all detasseling in the production of certified seed corn of Michigan 250 and Michigan 430. These pollen restorer lines along with previously released male-sterile lines will greatly increase the efficiency of hybrid seed corn production and improve the quality of seed.

Other projects that received a setback were inbred lines for hard starch kernel type in a project aimed to develop improved corn hybrids for the dry mill industry (cereal) industry and inbred crosses for improving short stalked corn hybrids for the state.

The winter nursery program is a cooperative project between the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and the Michigan-Certified Hybrid Seed Corn Producers association.

Fungus Disease Growth May Be Increased By Antibiotic Use

East Lansing. Use of antibiotics apparently has increased the incidence of fungus diseases, reports a Michigan State University specialist in botany and plant pathology.

"Antibiotics kill or inhibit bacteria and may thereby leave the body more susceptible to fungus diseases," said Dr. Everett S. Beneke.

"Although some fungi are helpful—molds produce antibiotics such as penicillin and yeasts are invaluable in fermentation processes—they also can be harmful."

"Familiar to most people," Dr. Beneke said, "are fungus growths such as athlete's foot and ringworm, which are the same type of infection. More serious, but less well known, are internal fungus infections, which usually are more difficult to cure."

Hamburg Factory Still Operating, Seeking Buyer

It has been announced that the Brown-Maxson Manufacturing Co. at Hamburg will continue in operation there "as long as there is business." The decision was reached by the board of directors who voted to abandon plans to close the plant, as publicly announced March 6.

At that time the company's president, B. Morris Bond, stated the decision to close down the plant resulted because of "the unfavorable political, tax and labor climate in Michigan."

Indications are that the company will continue to seek a buyer for the eight-acre plant which normally employs 125 persons.

Other officers elected at Wednesday's meeting are Albert Weinburger, an Oakland county supervisor, as vice-chairman; Mrs. Lillian Smith of the Livingston county Board of Supervisors, as secretary; and Guy C. Larson, Jr., Ann Arbor city administrator, treasurer.

Itinerant Septic Tank Cleaners Bilk Customers with Exorbitant Charges

Itinerant septic tank cleaners, who charge exorbitant prices after giving reasonable estimates before starting the job, were recently reported to be operating in this area.

Lyndon township residents have been approached by outfits believed to be the same men who operated in the Jackson area, where they bilked an elderly lady by charging her $288 for draining a tank which legitimate operators claim should have cost no more than $80.

When the woman learned she had been swindled, she tried to stop payment on the check she gave in payment and learned the check had been cashed within 30 minutes.

Another person living in the Onsted area, was given an estimate of $85 but was billed for $155.

Anyone in this area, approached by strangers who do not set a definite total cost for a septic tank cleaning job before it is started, should call the Sheriff's Department at once.

Legitimate septic tank cleaning concerns are required by law to have their name, address and telephone number printed on the side of the cleaning truck and must also produce a health department

Prospects for Labor Legislation

There will be a labor bill of some kind introduced in the Senate in this session of Congress. At present, odds are heavily against the House taking comparable action.

The reason for saying that a bill will be introduced in the Senate is that one was promised by Majority Leader Johnson. He made this promise in connection with his successful fight against amendments offered by Minority Leader Knowland to the Welfare-pension Fund bill which was passed by the Senate and is now in the hands of the House Labor Committee.

Michigan Seed Law Violated by Some Farmers

Some growers are advertising for sale, seeds of their own production without first having a purity and germination test made to determine if they are marketable as required by law.

This is the announcement from the Michigan Department of Agriculture's seed testing laboratory at Lansing, where John E. Garver is chief analyst.

Under these conditions of sale the farmer may be in violation of the Michigan seed law, according to Mr. Garver.

The Michigan seed law permits the farmer to sell his own unadvised farm seed grown by himself to neighboring farmers without complying with tagging requirements of the act.

The purpose of the law, explained Mr. Garver, is to assure persons the seed they are sowing is free of noxious weed seed and also that germination is sufficiently high as to indicate good vitality.

Recently surveys were made by seed laboratories in some of the other mid-western states. It was found, according to Mr. Garver, that many farmers were planting seed of low vitality with a high percentage of weed seed.

Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying.

Permanent Memorial Erected to Ernie Pyle on Lonely Pacific Island

One of the great wartime writers of all time was Ernie Pyle, who had a somewhat mixed-up life until World War II came along, earned fame and immortality by living with the infantrymen in World War II and writing of their trials and tribulations.

Few people who have not been in the infantry, or in some form of possible death-combat, know the sacrifices made by those who fought for their country in the great wars.

Ernie Pyle, as a writer, did not stay away from it—although he could have. He went up into the front lines and lived with "the boys" and shared their hardships, physical discomfort and fears. That is what made him a great writer, in addition to his great talent.

On a lonely island in the Pacific, called Ie Shima, an inscription on a little wooden marker bears this sentence:

"At this spot, the 77th Infantry Division lost a buddy—Ernie Pyle, April 18, 1945."

Ie Shima is only a few miles off the coast of Okinawa where this writer was serving with the Infantry. Like every other infantryman in the area, we had an earnest desire to visit the spot where our "buddy" was killed by a Japanese sniper on a nearly flat, exposed stretch of open beach. The opportunity to visit Ie Shima came a few months after the war ended and we walked along the beach to the spot where this marker was erected, living over in our mind the tragedy which had occurred there a few months before. Everyone who viewed the little wooden slab on a stick was deeply moved, and we were no exception.

It is good to learn that, after 13 years, a permanent marker has been dedicated on the lonely little island. The American Legion purchased the site as an "eternal memorial to a soldier's correspondent." Several hundred Americans, civilian workers, GI's and generals, attended the dedication ceremony which was sponsored by the Okinawa American Legion post and the United States Army.

Thus, Ernie Pyle, the friend of all infantrymen, has finally received a permanent memorial for which millions of ex-servicemen are grateful.

How Much Do You Know?

When human beings get the idea that men and women of today know quite a good bit, it might be a good idea to ask one of them to explain the tremendous explosions in the atmosphere of the sun.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, solar expert of the Harvard Observatory, has said that these explosions make any super-bomb that man can create look like a mild firecracker.

Just what goes on in and about the sun remains a mystery to our most learned scientists. When we consider that there are millions of suns scattered throughout the universe, the importance of this occurrence is recognized.

We have been told that the sunspots and solar disturbances do something about the weather on our earth, but we are not yet positive about what they do. Nor are we able to explain the enormous heat of the sun or the explosive prominences that extend for thousands of miles from its surface.

The heat of the sun is so enormous that it can travel 93,000,000 miles and give life and heat to the earth. This heat, of course, is scientifically known as radiant energy. It does not warm the medium through which it passes, but heats the object it strikes.

About all that man knows is that he receives the life-giving energy of the sun, and while scientists study its massive structure—more than one billion times the volume of our earth—the average person accepts this miracle without giving it a second thought.

There are 40,000,000 fishermen and women in the United States, it is reported. With that many perfectly honest and truthful citizens in our nation it is hard to understand why we can't have a more perfect democracy.

No Shoes

I can't seem to forget this story, which was told me by a young man who had travelled widely on two continents:

As I stepped off the train, I was startled to see that the porter who took my luggage was not wearing shoes. I assumed he must be too poor to afford shoes, so I didn't mention my astonishment, but tipped him generously as he placed my luggage in the station cafe.

When I saw that the waiter in the cafe was also shoeless, I looked around and found that, aside from the travelers who had come in on the train, no one was wearing shoes.

My waiter must have noticed my puzzled expression, for he said, "I suppose, sir, you are wondering why our people don't wear shoes?"

"Indeed I am."

"I sometimes wonder myself," he mused. "Why don't we?"

Having registered at a hotel, I started down the street to see the city. A friendly man who was sitting on a park bench said, "I see by your shoes that you are a stranger here. May I have the privilege of showing you our city?"

"Yes, I should appreciate it very much," I replied. "I couldn't refrain from asking—Would you mind telling me whether there is some reason why the people here don't wear shoes?"

"No particular reason that I know of. We just don't. But we are in favor of the idea of wearing shoes. In fact, that large handsome building just ahead of us is known as the Shrine of the Shoe. We gather there every Wednesday. Our finest musicians sing songs in praise of shoes, and one of our citizens gives an oration on some aspect of the history and value of shoes."

"Then why don't you wear shoes?" I persisted.

"That's just it, why don't we?"

"Could it be that no shoes are available in the city?" I queried.

"No, that can't be the reason," answered my guide. "Just around this corner lives a little shoemaker. Would you like to meet him?"

By this time I had become accustomed to seeing people without shoes that I noticed with some surprise as we entered the shop that the cobbler was wearing shoes. He was hammering away at a sole, but rose with a smile when he saw us.

A glance revealed that the room was stacked high with boxes of shoes, and after we had been introduced I asked the cobbler whether anyone ever came in to buy the shoes he made.

"No," he answered sadly, "and I often wonder as I sit here at my bench, 'Why don't they?'"

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

A state income tax is being pushed by economists and government leaders.

The revenue is expected to be the key point of the search for more money during the 1959 legislative session, hard on the heels of a heated election year.

Income tax, long thought to be the fairest levy possible, remained as a threat for Michigan until the legislative tax study committee came up with a tentative report a week ago.

"Even as a flat rate tax, it is the most equitable and progressive levy," said the report.

Experts working with the committee said that the heaviest tax burden now falls on low-income groups, while the income tax is spread with equal impact over all income groups.

Other sections of the report, however, said that low-income groups, which now pay a disproportionate share of the state's revenue, benefit most from the services the state offers.

The report pointed to welfare and other items aimed directly for the benefit of the indigent.

In Michigan, the constitution requires uniform taxation rather than showing a graduated tax schedule similar to that used in computing the brackets of the federal income tax.

The way around that, lawmakers of the committee said, is to levy a uniform tax by rate and provide exemption, either $600 a year like the federal government or $1,000 a year like some states.

Republicans, cognizant of the state's financial crisis, appropriated extra money for the legislative budget because they anticipate a longer session in 1959 to handle tax problems.

The income tax has drawn theoretical—but not necessarily political—support from key figures in both the Democratic and Republican parties.

The timing of the legislative study took them off the hook in an election year.

Several years ago, an income tax proposal came before the legislature with a $100 exemption and reductions of the sales tax on food, but failed to get out of committee.

The only outspoken advocate of the income tax in recent years has been Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman), who said he considered it "the fairest and most equitable tax available."

Whether it becomes law in Michigan and the details of exemptions and the rate will be the questions posed to the lawmakers next winter.

No mass layoffs in state government because of the economy budget are expected to materialize.

Most state agencies plan to allow vacancies to exist when workers retire or resign, and threats of discharges of up to 1,000 public employees have practically evaporated.

The lump sum of flexibility of the 1958-59 budget.

In past years, money was earmarked for half a dozen different functions of each department—so much for salaries and wages, contractual services and supplies and special projects.

The new budget allows agencies to transfer funds from the contractual services and supplies account to the salary account, for instance.

In past years, agencies ran short in some accounts and would end up with surpluses in others. But they were not allowed to balance out the money to spread over their entire operation.

Now they can. It will mean less money turned back unspent to the treasury, but it will also mean a lower deficiency bill—deficit spending and surpluses within a single department.

Consumers Power Co. is seeking a $15,300,000 electric service rate increase for the first time since 1950 for more than 800,000 customers in 61 out-state counties.

The company said that living costs have jumped 18 per cent since its last rate increase.

Wage adjustments and expansion of service during that period, plus the need for further development to meet "the growing demands of the economy" were cited as major reasons.

The University of Michigan is fast becoming one of North America's busiest centers of Near Eastern Studies and teaching, showing growth both in doubled enrollment and in size and stature of the faculty.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Looks like they're having a heap of trouble with them teenage mobs and school kids in Brooklyn. I come along in a day and see a fellow who's got his own baby and I reckon I ain't fit to comment on the matter. But in my time a stout switch from the nearest tree cured most of the teenage diseases. From all the publicity they give it, I reckon that tree that grew in Brooklyn was the only one they had around the place. Their teenage mob trouble is probably on account of the shortage of trees they got there.

It was a sad day for American youth when they invented the safety razor and quit selling straws.

I see by the papers where Dulles is getting a little worried about all that money Russia owes us and ain't paying. He says he's "considering bringing up the subject with Khrushchev in an effort to hasten the start of talks about repaying."

Now that's a system for collecting debts that would suit our ole Ed Doolittle. Next to our system of giving money away to them foreign countries, our debt collecting system with Russia is the best thing we got.

I shore would help relations, fer instance, if the fellow that owns the hardware store, instead of sending me a bill and hinting about getting himself a lawyer, would invite me out to dinner and mention off-hand something about getting together one of these days and talking about the bill.

And them fellers at the courthouse that sets the tax rate could stay in office from now on with that system. Instead of sending me a tax notice they could introduce me to the fellow who's got a series of talks concerning the matter.

I'm in favor of putting our debt collecting system here at home on an international level. What's good enough for them Russians ought to be good enough for me and you.

I was reading in News Week magazine where some feller was predicting a heap of strikes and labor trouble this spring and summer. He allowed as how it could "upset the nation's economy." Now that's something I ain't worrying about. Most farmers operates all the time with their economy broke down. Mine has been broke down fer years.

This feller goes on to say that we might be "facing a crisis." I can't remember no time in 30 years I ain't been facing a crisis. If I get a good price for my stuff it don't do me no good. Some farmers is tickled pink to get fifty dollars for a ten dollar calf, but the fourth time I did it and didn't get no money, I seen through it. When you sit high you pay high. What I'm looking for is the feller that started this dad-burned merry-go-round.

Another thing that's tending to upset the nation's economy is that we got a few folks scattered around the country that is trying to live within their income. The way the Government has got things geared today, all them folks is doing is just trying to mess up prosperity.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

REP. GEORGE MEADER

Rep. G. Meader Seeks Re-Election To Fifth Term

George Meader, Republican United States representative from the Second District, has announced that he will seek re-election to his fifth term in Congress.

To date, no other Republican has been announced for the primary election, Aug. 5.

Democrats who have announced that they will seek nomination as the candidate for the fall election include Arnold W. Tammen, an Ann Arbor attorney, and Robert G. Hall, superintendent of schools at Cement City.

Another Democrat, William A. Kent, Ann Arbor, has announced that he will seek re-election to his second term in Congress.

In announcing his decision to run again, Meader stated, "I propose to continue to present principles, the facts, the logic and the issues to promote a system of law and society where the maximum latitude of discretion remains with the individual."

He recently said he is willing to stake his political future on his stand against high-rigid farm price supports.

His vote this year against a bill that would have blocked reduction of agricultural price supports brought questions from Washington dairy farmers. The bill was vetoed by President Eisenhower.

Meader said his position was that he favored a dairy price support freeze, but felt he could not vote for a general agricultural price support freeze.

Democratic candidates had been named for the fall election. Meader is a high school principal for three years and a school superintendent for the past seven years. He is at present district president of the Michigan Education Association and is a veteran of four years' army service in World War II.

County Democrats Hear Address by Mrs. H. Price

"The swelling grass roots interest in the Democratic Party program in Michigan is exciting," Mrs. Hickman Price told the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee, Wednesday evening in the Ann Arbor City Council chambers.

Mrs. Price said before a sparsely attended audience, "The greatly increased attendance at Democratic public meetings; the active participation in plans for legislative liaison; the earnest and widespread desire to assist Democratic candidates; all promise a strong surge in Democratic support."

But, warning against over-confidence, Mrs. Price said "The Republicans will try desperately to hang on to their few remaining State offices. Men and women who believe in Democratic principles must press urgently to elect Democratic candidates."

Mrs. Howard Blackenbush announced at the regular monthly business meeting of the County Democratic Committee that 237 delegates had been allocated to the cities and townships of Washtenaw county for the Democratic County Convention to be held in the County Building in Ann Arbor on Aug. 14.

Mrs. Blackenbush, Democratic County Chairman, explained that any person wishing to be a delegate must file a petition containing at least 15 signatures of registered Democratic citizens by 4 p.m. of May 27. Petitions are available at the office of the County Clerk in the County Building, Ann Arbor.

Cheaper Houses Needed for Mass Of U.S. Population

East Lansing—Cost cutting can help supply the good, low-cost housing the United States really needs, according to a Michigan State University specialist.

The selling price of the average house constructed is too high for the average income, contends Byron M. Radcliffe, director of the state's residential building curriculum at MSU.

"The average income is about $5,000, limiting to $12,500 the price of a home a prospective buyer with this average income can purchase," Radcliffe declared.

He pointed out that only 27 per cent of U. S. houses built up to mid-1957 were at or below this price.

He said 44 per cent of new houses cost $15,000 or more, taking an income of at least $6,000 before an FHA-insured mortgage could be obtained. Yet only one third of American families have this income.

Because builders cannot control labor and materials prices, Radcliffe feels cost cuts in construction methods and techniques are the best answers in providing additional housing.

Some of his suggestions: eliminate the basement and save $1,500; centralize plumbing to save extra materials; use "lift-up" walls, built flat on the slab and then put up in position as nearly complete as possible; use dry wall, ready-built windows and other such components whenever possible; cut material and time waste.

"It has been demonstrated by the more progressive builder that a very substantial sum of money can be eliminated from the selling price of the house," Radcliffe asserted.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 4, published last Thursday, was identified early in the day by Mark McKernan and Allen Broesamle who said they recognized it at once as the E. E. Williams farm on Lingane road. The farm is familiarly known to older residents as the Lingane homestead.

Mystery Farm Is Known as Lingane Homestead, Now Owned by Ypsi Resident

Identified early Thursday soon after The Standard was published, Mystery Farm No. 4 located on Lingane road is now owned by Mrs. E. E. Williams of Ypsilanti, but has been familiarly known for many years as the Lingane homestead.

Mrs. Williams has owned the place the past 15 years, she and her late husband having purchased it from Ed. Foster who had owned it after the Lingane family sold in 1941.

Among those who identified the farm is Mrs. Patrick Lingane who now lives in Jackson. A regular subscriber to The Standard, she had seen the picture before her copy arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe had taken their own paper with them when they visited Mrs. Lingane at her home Thursday. She said she recognized the place at once.

In a letter to The Standard Mrs. Lingane said the farm had been in the Lingane family 100 years when it was sold in 1941. She and her husband had lived there for more than 25 years after purchasing the farm (which at that time contained 240 acres) from the other Lingane brothers. There had been five brothers in the family—James, Vincent, Will, Jerry and Mrs. Lingane's husband. All are now deceased. The latter died

June 16, 1957, leaving his widow and a son, Leo. Mrs. Lingane is confined to her home because of crippling arthritis.

John Lingane, father of Patrick Lingane, went down on the Titanic April 14, 1912, while returning from a visit to his native Ireland.

Family tradition has it that the wall of the present house on the farm was being laid up on the day President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated and the masons refused to work that day out of respect to the president.

The Patrick "Pat" Linganes built the big barn in 1916. Mrs. Lingane stated in her letter. She also said they sold 20 acres of woods while they were on the farm so that present acreage is 220.

Mrs. Harold Curtis, daughter of the present owner of the farm, with her husband and Mrs. Williams, now live in Ypsilanti. They are making extensive improvements in anticipation of some day making their home on the farm here.

In their work about the place they discovered that the timbers in one of the barns are all hand-hewn. Behind the barn foundations, Mrs. Curtis said, are wide stone steps made of native rock and extending down an incline

Her father, Earnest E. Williams was an excavating and road building contractor. He died in 1951 and a son Victor, carries on the business under the name of E. E. Williams Excavating. Because of their familiarity with construction work, the stone steps were of special interest to them.

Mrs. Curtis said the family is debating on a name for the farm and favors the name "Hilly Acres."

A nephew of Mrs. Williams, Alfred Williams and his family, lived on the Lingane road farm for several years before moving to Cedar Lake.

Among those who correctly identified Mystery Farm No. 4 are Mark McKernan, Allen Broesamle, Mrs. Oscar Bollinger, George Knickerbocker, Julia Bloss, Keith Bradbury, Mrs. Walter Beutler, Mrs. Woodrow Gullett, Mrs. Ray Franklin, Dr. Wilfred Lane, Walter Bauer, John Klink, Floyd Rowe and Walter Eschelbach.

Most Adolescents Found To Be Good Helpers at Home

This is the last in a series of articles written especially for Michigan weekly newspapers on the problems of young people between childhood and adolescence. The author is associate professor of the department of teacher education at Michigan State University.

By Dr. Mary Lee Hurt

East Lansing—Most seventh and eighth graders not only help with the housework but with buying the groceries and dishwashing. A recent survey of these young adolescents in three Michigan communities showed the girls give more help with the housework than boys, although boys are efficient help.

Appetites may be sporadic at the "between" age level and parents and teachers can be of great help in planning meals and snacks that will taste good and be appetizing to the whole family.

With families up and off to work or school in a hurry and at different times, breakfast may be passed by—resulting in tired feelings and malnutrition. A little thoughtful planning and preparation the night before may assure each family member of having an adequate breakfast every morning.

Young people may be shown how to fix "quick" breakfasts that are nourishing.

Dishwashing can be less of a chore if the dishes are washed right after the meal and are scraped, rinsed and stacked before washing. Games, riddles and singing may help to make the dishwashing job a pleasant one, and many an adolescent problem has been solved when mother or dad shared in the dishwashing.

State Police Training Second Skin Diver Squad

Because of the success of the State Police 16-man skin diving squad organized and trained last summer, a second squad has been trained at East Lansing headquarters.

The second squad is comprised of 19 troopers selected from each of the eight districts of the department.

The squad organized last summer and which also received winter training at Higgins lake, was called back to join the school for a refresher course.

Services of the 35 divers, who are assigned to various posts throughout the state, are available to all police agencies for the recovery of bodies of drowning victims and evidence. When not on diving assignments the troopers are on regular patrol duty.

The first squad was organized as an experiment, but less than a week after the school had been completed the bodies of two drowned persons were found. Since then several bodies have been recovered in addition to safes, cash registers, wallets and other evidence disposed of in rivers and lakes, and the services of the diver are in frequent demand.

Adlai Stevenson Will Address MSU Graduating Class

East Lansing—Adlai E. Stevenson, twice Democratic candidate for the U. S. presidency, will be the speaker at Michigan State University commencement exercises on Sunday, June 8.

Stevenson is among outstanding MSU graduates invited to address the figures invited to address the graduation exercises in recent years.

U.S. President Richard M. Nixon was the speaker last June.

The annual spring term exercises are scheduled for 4 p.m. in Spartan Stadium. Degrees will be conferred by MSU President John A. Hannah.

Evergreen Insects Need To Be Controlled Before Damage Is Done

Once again, the time has come to make preparations for control measures against some of the insects which will be causing damage to many of the evergreens in the area. The timing of the application of insecticides to the conifers is very important, and determines the success or failure of the control measures. Information on these insect pests and recommended control by insecticides are available from the County Agricultural Agent and from the local District Forester of the Conservation Department.

"The European Pine Sawfly has made his appearance during the past week," according to District Forester Victor Horvath of Ann Arbor, and they may be seen working on Red Pine, Scotch Pine and Jack Pine. "These worms are now about one quarter inch in length, green colored with black head, and can easily be controlled with DDT or lead arsenate before they get much bigger and healthier."

The larvae, or worm, will grow to be one inch in length, and they are found in large numbers or clusters, eating up the previous year's needles. If the insects are not controlled, they will eat so many needles, that the trees will be thin crowned, or else completely defoliated. This type of attack can cause serious damage in Christmas tree plantations by affecting the quality of the trees.

Recommended sprays are 3 pounds of DDT, 90 percent wettable powder, or 3 pounds of lead arsenate, in 100 gallons of water. For smaller quantities, use 3 tablespoons of DDT or lead arsenate in 1 gallon of water.

Reunions Planned by CHS Alumni

The 60th anniversary of the class of 1898 will hold a reunion in connection with the Chelsea High school alumni banquet, Saturday, June 14, it was announced this week. Letters have been sent to Mrs. Mary Broome, now of Fenton, Earl Foster of Highland Park, and Myrtle Irwin Torblom of Lansing, listed as members of the class, according to the Alumni Association secretary, Mrs. Claude Arnett.

The 50th anniversary Class of 1908 has already announced plans to meet at the home of Mrs. Howard Holmes, Sr., for a reunion during the afternoon, preceding the banquet. Mrs. Alice Chandler Therman, of Cavanaugh Lake, Carlton Runciman of Lowell, Miss Nina Greening of Clear Lake and Mrs. Holmes are acting as a committee to arrange for the reunion. The 50th anniversary class will be seated at a reserved table at banquet.

Other classes planning a reunion are the Class of 1918 and the 25th anniversary Class of 1933. Mrs. Douglas Hoppe the former Vest Hammond is in charge of arrangements for the 40th anniversary reunion. She is sending letters to members of the Class of 1908.

Contacting members of the Class of 1933 are Mrs. Fredrick Wagner and Bert Hutzel. The class will meet at the home of Mrs. Wagner, preceding the banquet.

It was announced this week that the banquet speaker is to be Dr. Guy H. Hill, director of high school co-operation at Michigan State University.

There is to be no dance in connection with the banquet this year and the meal is planned for 6:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Tickets are on sale at Foster's and Winans' stores, the Chelsea Snack Bar and may also be secured from the association treasurer, Dr. Wilfred Lane.

It was emphasized that dues for 1958 only must be paid when reservations are made.

Officers arranging for the 1958 banquet, in addition to Dr. Lane and Mrs. Arnett, are Donald Bald, win president and Charles Winans, vice-president.

State Police Grid For Memorial Day Week-End Traffic

Following the same holiday schedule as in recent years, pass days of all Michigan State Police officers will be cancelled and patrol shifts lengthened over the Memorial Day week-end.

The department also will have the services of 140 Michigan Guardsmen and 110 will be assigned to sheriffs.

The State Police intensified patrol schedule will be in effect from noon Wednesday, May 29, to midnight, June 1. Normal patrol shifts of eight hours will be lengthened to 10 hours.

National Guardsmen will be used on point control and as the second man on two-man patrols, releasing the regular second man for another patrol.

Patrol shifts will be given to high accident areas, particularly during the hours of the heaviest flows of traffic.

State Police planes will be used for observation of traffic conditions.

With Michigan showing a steady reduction in traffic deaths, State Police are hopeful there will be no setback over the long holiday period.

There were 17 persons killed during the 102-hour Memorial holiday period last year, or one every six hours, which was less than the average of one every 6.7 hours for the entire year.

The worst Memorial holiday period was in 1941 when 58 were killed, and the best in 1950 when only four died. Part of the difference in the death toll each year is accounted for by the length of the holiday period, which varies according to the day of the week the holiday falls on.

The Memorial week-end marks the beginning of the summer driving period when more deaths and more accidents may be expected," said Commissioner Joseph A. Ghilds. "But drivers have been demonstrating that they can do a better job and unusually hoppy and careful in the heavy holiday traffic. It isn't worth taking a chance when it could mean death."

Hog Price Outlook For Fall Told by MSU Economist

Fall hog prices will stay high enough to make the farmer a profit providing consumer buying doesn't drop any more than is currently predicted, thinks John Ferris, an economist at Michigan State University.

Prices will be down a little from last fall's level due to a little larger pig crop. But Ferris believes that the drop will be only slight because the increase in the fall crop is only modest, considering the high hog-corn ratio of last year.

Total December-to-May pig crop is expected to be about 6 per cent larger than a year ago. Most of this increase was farrowed in the December-to-February period. In the more important March-to-May period only 1 per cent more sows are expected to farrow.

Ferris continues that the shift to earlier farrowings should help even out the great variation in rate of slaughter from summer to fall. In 1957, about 22 per cent of the pigs farrowed in the December-to-May period came in the first three months of that period. Last year, however, 29 per cent were farrowed between December and February and 32 per cent arrived in the winter months this year.

The farm economist expects the peak in slaughter this fall a little earlier than usual. The peak has been in December. But in 1956, it was in November and last year it was in October.

About 13 per cent more sows and gilts are expected to farrow this summer. There's no immediate threat to the slaughter market price level. But Ferris warns that if this increase continues into the fall and spring farrowing seasons over, the market price could probably be expected to drop.

If farmers would restrain themselves as they did this year, the economist concludes, hogs could make money for them next year, especially if corn prices hold to levels of this last year.

Poppy Sale...

proceeds from the sale of Veterans of Foreign Wars "Buddy" poppies is distributed nationally to further the rehabilitation service work of the VFW, the bulk of the money collected in Chelsea will remain here to help carry on veteran welfare activities in this community.

"Every contribution for a 'Buddy' poppy brings much needed assistance not only to veterans in our own community, but helps those veterans who are confined to hospitals throughout the country.

"This year, the VFW expects to sell 17 million 'Buddy' poppies throughout the country. Thousands of needy veterans will benefit. They will receive help in filing claims with the Veterans Administration, the destitute will get financial assistance, deserving orphans and widows of the deceased will be aided, and some will be given a new life at the unique 'VFW National Home located at Eaton Rapids."

Mrs. Kern, explaining the purpose of the annual American Legion poppy sale pointed out that "poppies worn on Poppy Day in tribute to the war dead bring aid to disabled veterans of three wars. Wearing a poppy to show this tribute has a special, important meaning.

"It not only signifies that a contribution has been made for the benefit of disabled war veterans and needy children of veterans," Mrs. Kern continued, "but is a mark of respect and honor for the service and sacrifice of America's war dead. Wearing a poppy tomorrow will be your personal tribute to those gallant dead."

Volunteers of Herbert J. McCune Post and Auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary will assist with the sale of poppies tomorrow.

Trees Need Lots Of Water for Growth

A mature tree loses a lot of water every day through its leaves, and may need 500 pounds of water to grow a pound of wood.

It's just as necessary to supply water to the tree as it is to fertilize it, points out Harold Schick, extension specialist in park management at Michigan State University.

Water all trees when needed, soaking the ground to depth of six inches. This means running a garden hose for at least one hour around the roots of the tree.

Researcher Finds Power Boats Don't Bother Fish, Biting

Ann Arbor—If you're one of those fishermen (and who isn't) who curses loudly above the roar each time a motor-powered boat passes nearby, Prof. Karl Lagler of the University of Michigan has news for you.

Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries, writes in Popular Mechanics magazine that both his scientific research and personal experiences has convinced him that:

- 1) Motorboats seldom harm fish—large, small, or even eggs.
- 2) Motorboats, seldom, if ever, keep fish from spawning.
- 3) Motor noises do not appear to disturb fish.
- 4) And—most important to fishermen—the noise of nearby motors has not been shown to affect the rate at which fish bite.

An ardent angler in his own right, Lagler bases his conclusions on research in the field spanning 10 years sparked as the start by his own fishing experiences.

"Are fish often injured by power-driven boats? Rarely," says Lagler, mainly because of their unusual ability to avoid collision with other objects. Observation of fish traveling in schools illustrates this point, he says.

If fish are physically affected by motorboats, he has little proof of it, Lagler says. For instance, he has seen channels loaded with boat traffic. If the boats harmed the fish, then the shores would be littered with dead fish most of the time, he theorizes. Such is not the case, however.

"In fact, worm fishermen may be responsible for more deaths of fish than power boats. That few fish survive being hooked on live bait and then released has been proved by scientists."

In addition, Lagler says, many fish which are thought to be killed by motorboats are really victims of other animals.

Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries, writes in Popular Mechanics magazine that both his scientific research and personal experiences has convinced him that:

- 1) Motorboats seldom harm fish—large, small, or even eggs.
- 2) Motorboats, seldom, if ever, keep fish from spawning.
- 3) Motor noises do not appear to disturb fish.
- 4) And—most important to fishermen—the noise of nearby motors has not been shown to affect the rate at which fish bite.

An ardent angler in his own right, Lagler bases his conclusions on research in the field spanning 10 years sparked as the start by his own fishing experiences.

"Are fish often injured by power-driven boats? Rarely," says Lagler, mainly because of their unusual ability to avoid collision with other objects. Observation of fish traveling in schools illustrates this point, he says.

If fish are physically affected by motorboats, he has little proof of it, Lagler says. For instance, he has seen channels loaded with boat traffic. If the boats harmed the fish, then the shores would be littered with dead fish most of the time, he theorizes. Such is not the case, however.

"In fact, worm fishermen may be responsible for more deaths of fish than power boats. That few fish survive being hooked on live bait and then released has been proved by scientists."

In addition, Lagler says, many fish which are thought to be killed by motorboats are really victims of other animals.

Kindergarten Round-Up

ing one of the elementary grades next year.

In former years the school had invited an educational leader from the State Department of Education or from one of the colleges of education to be a guest speaker at the spring kindergarten "round-up." The present plan for having local teachers in charge of the discussion groups was arranged as a means of encouraging a good attendance.

Children who now attend kindergarten in Chelsea schools will not go to school on the "round-up" day, according to Arthur Schunck, elementary school principal.

Principal Schunck presented plans three weeks ago for the kindergarten enrollment to be held this week-Friday, May 23. Last week the erroneous date of May 22 was given in publicity about the annual event. Schunck said that plans are being made for the "round-up" on the original date scheduled, Friday, May 23.

Congregational church was Howard Minier, Washtenaw county Road Commission superintendent.

Minier explained the S-12 re-location project and had on display a large aerial photo map showing the new route, overpasses, interchanges, service roads and other facilities.

In response to a question about improvement of Freer road from the village limits to Old US-12, Minier expressed willingness to work with local groups in planning any such improvement compatible with state and county road policies. He suggested that a solution might be found on a share-the-cost basis with affected townships participating.

Guests at the meeting, in addition to the speaker, were Darrell Larson, Victor Kohsman and Grant Schooley.

Washington Report

By Senator Charles E. Potter

POLITICS was forgotten last week as an estimated 100,000 glad hands welcomed Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon back from an eight-nation riot-studded South American tour.

It will be a test of our maturity as a nation to take in stride the hostile episodes which demanded and endangered them.

These are countries to which we are traditionally bound by ties of hemispheric solidarity and by the Rio pact, signed eleven years ago, which allies us for the safety and well-being of all.

However, certain important questions must be answered now. No matter what we find, the American people have reason to take pride in the way their vice-president and his wife carried themselves through a frightening ordeal.

STEPS UP—SCIENCE and mathematics training for a special group of high school teachers will be made possible by the 1958-1959 National Science Foundation grants.

When Judy Garland told Oscar Levant she's busy, he hurries over and says, "It's all right. Oscar replied: 'It's all right. Come over. I'll introduce you as Anna Magnani.'"

Hens Eating Up YOUR PROFITS?

Feed Economical NEW Larro SURELAY (FORMERLY LARRO EGG MASH)

You may THINK you're saving money by buying a cheap feed. But you're probably really losing potential PROFITS. A better feed that produces just one extra egg per bird every month is worth $1.12 MORE per bag.

A Leghorn hen eats about 40 lbs. of Larro Surelay a year, so 50 hens will eat about 2 tons. An extra egg each month from 50 hens is 500 eggs. 50 dozen each year. Fifty dozen eggs at 45 cents a dozen is $22.50 EXTRA PROFIT for each ton of Larro Surelay fed.

Just one EXTRA EGG from each bird every month makes LARRO Surelay worth $22.50 more per ton of $1.12 more per bag. And you'll probably get 2, 3 or even more eggs each month when you feed them LARRO Surelay.

Ager Announces His Candidacy for County Prosecutor

William F. Ager, Jr., first assistant prosecutor, in a statement to The Standard this week, announced his intention to seek the Republican nomination as Washtenaw county prosecuting attorney.

Ager's announcement followed Prosecutor Edmond Devine's statement that he would not be a candidate in the Aug. 5 primary election.

In announcing his intention to seek election, Ager made the following statement:

"It has been my honor to serve for the past several years under the able leadership of Edmond F. Devine, our present prosecutor. I feel this background and the experience which I have had while an assistant prosecutor would enable me to carry on the fine work now being accomplished.

"The co-operation between the prosecutor's office and the various law enforcement and social agencies in Washtenaw County has been developed to an excellent level. If elected, I will sincerely endeavor to continue and strengthen this harmonious working relationship. If I am elected, I also pledge myself to energetically, honestly and impartially fulfill all the administration and law enforcement duties of this office.

Ager had been a candidate for nomination in 1952 and lost the nomination to Devine at that time. He was appointed second assistant prosecutor in 1955 and first assistant in 1957.

A life-long resident of Ann Arbor, Ager was graduated from St. Thomas High School in 1939 and received a degree from the University's Literary College in 1943. He served with an Army artillery unit from 1942 to 1946, and saw service in New Guinea and the Philippines. He was graduated from the University's Law School in 1949 and joined the firm of Conlin, Conlin and Parker. In 1961 he opened his own law office.

He is a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association, the Michigan Bar Association, the American Bar Association, the Knights of Columbus, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Breakfast Optimist Club. He is also a member of St. Thomas Catholic Church. Ager is married and has four children.

Milk to grow on... and go on

Children, of course, need milk to build strong bones and bodies. Adults, too, need milk to keep heart muscles and nerves functioning properly, and to rebuild body cells and tissues which are continuously wearing out. Milk also gives the body better tone so you feel more vigorous and alert, more cheerful and relaxed.

Milk is important to the community, too, as well as the individual. Much farm income, for example, depends on milk. Local business, in turn, is largely dependent on farm buying power.

A sound and stable market for milk, therefore, is important to everyone. It assures the producer a fair price and the consumer an adequate supply of America's best food value—milk.

That is the objective of the 15,500 dairy farmers united in the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Kindergarten Pupils To Have Histoplasmin Tests Read Today

Kindergarten children will have readings of their histoplasmin tests today instead of the originally announced date, it was announced by the Washtenaw county Health Department.

Since this reading is important for completion of the tests given at the school Tuesday, all kindergartners should be at the school today.

Approximately 600 children were signed up for the tests.

Track Star Qualifies for State Meet

Last Saturday Chelsea High's track team participated in the class "C" Regional track meet held at Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti.

Providing competition for the local track stars were 28 other class "C" teams from southeastern Michigan.

Out of the eight men Coach Al Conklin entered in the meet, four earned medals for finishing fifth or better in their events.

Sophomore Willie Hellig tied for first place in the high jump with a leap of 5' 6", and third in the broad jump, going 18' 10".

Hellig's efforts permit him to go on to the state finals to be held at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, this Saturday.

This is the first time in recent years that a Chelsea athlete has qualified for the state finals. In fact, it has been many years since Chelsea has even placed anyone in the regional.

In addition to Hellig's individual effort, the Bulldog's Medley Relay team, composed of Larry Schramm, Hellig, Robin Wright and Dan Sexton, placed fifth.

The Bulldogs won their heat but found their time of 2:43.6 good only for fifth place.

The time, however, was a school record and their best effort of the season. Fifth place finishers do not qualify for the state meet.

The following men competed for the Bulldogs but did not place: Gary Dault, high hurdles; Bob Eder, half mile; Fritz Wagner, shot put; and Phil McDaniels, pole vault.

In team competition, the Bulldogs placed seventh in the field of 28 in which 313 athletes competed.

Summer Rec Program To Add Several Features

New features to be added to the Chelsea Recreation Council's summer program this year include the operation of an additional morning playground; instructional swimming in addition to the recreational swimming program; a girls' softball league; and Friday evening dances.

Announcement of the additional recreation features was made following Tuesday's Recreation Council meeting after a report of a recreational survey was given by John Nordlinger, a U. of M. student. His survey included evaluation of questionnaires filled out by school children during the past week, listing preferences of recreational activities.

The new playground program to be added this year will be held at North Elementary school. The two which have been in operation during previous years are at South Elementary school and at the High school.

The Friday night dances are being resumed after a lapse of a year, in response to expressed wishes for this type of recreation.

Alan Conklin is the director of the summer recreation program.
