Fluoride Treatments Scheduled

John Thomson, in charge of arrangements for the annual fluoride dental decay preventive clinic here, announced this week that the clinic is scheduled for July 3 through July 15.

Children who are already signed up for the treatment will be mailed appointment cards, Thomson said.

A few openings are still available and anyone interested in registering their children may obtain information by calling Mrs. Arthur Lindauer or John Thomson.

Thomson is acting as a representative of the Chelsea PTA in making the arrangements for the clinic. He pointed out that the state Health Department claims that the fluoride treatment results in 40 per cent reduction in tooth decay.

Thomson explained that in this program each child's teeth will be cleaned, if needed, and four applications of sodium fluoride will be applied.

The clinic will be held at Chelsea High school.

WATER WORKS FILTER TANKS—When the Village Council has its open house next Thursday, June 19, people of the community will have the opportunity to see the filtering equipment shown in the above photograph. Located in the North Street pump house of the Chelsea Electric & Water Department, the huge filter tanks remove excessive iron from the village water supply. Filled with five different grades of gravel through which the water passes after being pumped into the first tank at the left, the water goes through the entire aeration system before reaching the collection tank on the other side of the building and then is pumped to the storage tower. To keep the filtering operation at maximum efficiency, the pumps must be reversed every three days to wash out the accumulated iron. Because of tests being made on the new city wells this week-end or early next week, the water will bypass the filters for two or three days. Homer Nixon, Chelsea Electric & Water Department superintendent, said yesterday. This will permit the natural iron to remain in the water supply but will cause no great inconvenience and will in no way affect its fitness for regular use, Nixon said. The Village Council open house will include conducted tours of all village facilities and projects from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m., with a band concert at 9 p.m., being the concluding feature.

Dr. Walter Koelz of Waterloo Awarded Honorary Degree

Dr. Walter Koelz of Waterloo was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Human Letters at commencement exercises at Olivet College, June 1, according to an announcement by Gorton Rietmiller, president of the college.

The citation read by Dr. James Newcomer, dean of the college, when the honorary degree was presented reads as follows:

"By your energetic pursuit of knowledge and by your service to the world in disseminating that knowledge you have won distinction in your profession."

Dr. Koelz graduated from Olivet College in 1915. He received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Michigan in 1920. His entire life has been devoted to scholarly research and to travel.

Dr. Koelz is an eminent botanist and ornithologist. For some 25 years he has traveled in Iran, Afghanistan and India as a plant explorer for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He is credited with some 100 important botanical discoveries. These have resulted in helping to save the California melon-growing industry valued at $5,000,000 a year in breeding insect-resistant alfalfa; in producing a disease-resistant cucumber and in developing a strawberry which will be immune to present diseases. He has also been responsible for some of the most important bird collections in the world and has made major contributions to the understanding of Tibetan and Indian art.

Dr. Koelz was honored in 1956 at the University of Michigan, when he received the Frank M. Meyer medal of the American Genetic Association. ## Red Cross Chapter Feeds 284 Persons As 'Disaster Victims' at Annual Meet

At the annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross 284 persons were fed as "disaster victims" in 45 minutes at the Presbyterian church in Ann Arbor. Centeen workers fed the guests the same food which would be given to victims of a natural disaster.

At the business session the present chapter officers were re-elected: E. C. Laetz, chairman; Jack L. Schumann, second vice-chairman; Arthur P. Gallagher, third vice-chairman; Mrs. Fred Ulrich, Jr., secretary; and Douglas E. Williams, treasurer.

Laetz, business manager of the University of Michigan hospital, is a native of Michigan and was born in Bay City. He has been active in civic affairs and in both the Michigan and National hospital associations.

As the guests arrived at the Presbyterian church they found Red Cross flags and a sign stating "Disaster Victims." Upon entering the building they were registered by Social Welfare before proceeding rapidly through the food line. Uniformed volunteers and nurses were grouped together according to different Red Cross community services. Exhibit panels lined both walls showing Red Cross in action.

The group was welcomed by Mayor Samuel J. Eldersveld of Ann Arbor. In the portion of the program devoted to disaster work, W. de St. Aubin, executive director of the chapter, pointed out that assistance to victims of major disasters was a mandatory Red Cross obligation and that the Red Cross was primarily concerned with people. Its task is to provide clothing, shelter and food under emergency conditions and to help rehabilitate families to restore normal living. Jack Hogan, chairman of the committee on disaster preparedness, outlined the task facing the Red Cross today to be ready for any emergencies. He also introduced Civil Defense officials.

Newly-elected were Pat Merkel, vice-president, and Gale Koebbe, secretary.

It was again pointed out that club members will observe the voluntary schedule of confining their skiing to the hours of 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays in the hope that fishermen and other boaters on the lake will co-operate by remaining out of the ski lane during those hours.

Testing of New Village Water Well To Get Underway

New wells being sunk for the village water supply system have reached the stage where testing of the effect of continuous pumping is to be undertaken in order to learn the effect if any, that such pumping will have on both the old wells and the new ones, according to Electric and Water Department Superintendent Homer Nixon.

In order to make these tests the pumps must be operated on a steady, 24-hour-a-day schedule as opposed to the present automatic pumping which turns on and off as the water supply is used.

Because of this necessity to operate the pumps continuously during the testing period, the water supply will be diverted to bypass the filtering equipment in the pump house on North street.

This will cause the natural iron deposits to remain in the water for the two or three days the testing is in progress.

LOCATED ON US-12 just west of M-92, Mystery Farm No. 7, published in last week's Standard is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKernan. The house was moved in 1938 when US-12 was re-located and it now seems probable it will be moved again when the presently planned expressway is constructed.

Last Week's 'Mystery Farm' Identified as Home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKernan

Mystery Farm No. 7, seen in the above photograph, is the Mark McKernan home, 20079 US-12 just west of M-92. Mrs. McKernan, the former Virginia Liebeck, was born on the farm and has lived there all her life.

The McKernans, who were married in 1948, have three-year old twins, Tommy and Anne, who are fourth generation members of the family to reside on the farm.

Mrs. McKernan's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller, bought the farm in 1878.

The farm originally was owned by a Samuel Cooper who obtained a deed from the United States government. Cooper sold the farm in 1883 to Daniel Penn who owned it for 45 years before it was purchased by Mrs. McKernan's grandparents, the Jacob Millers. Jacob Miller was a carpenter and built many of the barns in the area.

He and his wife, the former Sarah Jane Stapish, were married in the Catholic church at Dexter at a double wedding service; the other couple being Philip Keusch and Adella Stettin, grandparents of John Keusch, a Chelsea attorney.

The Miller family included two sons and six daughters, five of the latter taking up the teaching profession. All except the two oldest children were born on the farm. Two daughters of the Miller family survive—Mrs. William Brenner of Homer, and Miss Helen Miller, in supervisory teaching in the schools of Detroit.

Mrs. McKernan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Liebeck, took over the farm after the elder Miller retired from farming and he and the family moved to the home he purchased at the southwest corner of Taylor and Piegar streets. Mrs. Liebeck was the former Alice Miller.

The Liebeck family, in addition to Mrs. McKernan, included another daughter, Ruth, who lives with the McKernans, and a son Raymond Liebeck, who built a home just west of the farm home following his marriage.

McKernan is rural mail carrier on Chelsea Route 2 and does general farming on the 69 acres of land, raising hay and grain. He customarily has a number of feeder cattle and also has a flock of 28 sheep.

The McKernan family belongs to St. Mary's Catholic church. Mr. McKernan is a member of the Holy Name Society of the church, the Chelsea Knights of Columbus, the Manchester Disabled Veterans, the Farmers' Guild, American Legion and the Washtenaw County Rural Letter Carriers Association.

Mrs. McKernan is a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the association.

The McKernan house and farm buildings were moved to the present location in 1938 when the new US-12 construction program called for a right-of-way directly through the spot where the buildings were formerly located on Chelsea-Manchester road. With construction of the new super highway scheduled on the state program for next year, the house will have to be moved again, the McKernans have been told.

First call on identification of the farm was received from Miladore Liebeck, a cousin of Mrs. McKernan. A moment later Mrs. McKernan herself, called The Standard office.

Others who identified the farm are Mrs. Bill Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darby, David Pastor, Larry Quigley, Evelyn Rothfuss, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hinderer, 'Gus' Steger, Mrs. Lawrence Koch, Katherine Eder, Joe Merke, Mr. Mrs. William Quigley, Mrs. Donald Robbins, Armin Kuhl, Bill Zinke, Mrs. Frank Visel and Mrs. Walter Bauer.

Information Given On State's Boat Registration Law

(Due to the large number of inquiries received concerning Michigan's new Boat Registration Law, The Chelsea Standard, with the cooperation of the Michigan Sporting Goods & Marine Dealers Association and the Michigan Boat Dealers Association, is publishing some of the most frequently asked questions, and the answers.)

Q. When did the new law become effective?

A. The new law was passed by the 1957 Michigan Legislature and went into effect March 1, 1958. All boats covered under the law must now be registered prior to use on Michigan waters.

Q. Does the new law apply to the Great Lakes?

A. No. Boats operating only on the Great Lakes or connecting waters (St. Clair, St. Mary's, and Detroit Rivers), and waters of bays, harbors and parts thereon are not covered and do not have to be registered under the amended Michigan Law. Any boat registered with U. S. Coast Guard does not require State of Michigan registration.

Q. What types of boats have to be registered?

A. All craft over 16 feet in length if not propelled solely by muscular power. (all sailboats over 16 feet must be registered), and all motor propelled craft, inboard or outboard, regardless of length.

Q. Where are application for registration forms available, and where should they be sent?

A. Application for registration forms are available from Branch Offices—of the Secretary of State, local Sheriff's Departments, and most sporting goods and marine dealers. The application should be sent, along with the $2.00 registration fee, to the Secretary of State, Lansing 18. The registration of a boat is the direct and personal responsibility of the boat's owner.

Q. What are the registration fees?

A. 1. For each watercraft registered—$2.00; 2. For the sale or transfer of craft—$2.00; 3. For a change of address—$.50; 4. For duplicate certificate—$.50; 5. For manufacturers and dealers—$.50.

Q. Does the boat registration application have to be notarized?

A. No. The Michigan Secretary of State's office is accepting applications with or without notarization.

Q. Are non-residents of Michigan required to register their boats for use on Michigan waters?

A. Yes. The new boat law applies to all out-of-state people and Michigan residents alike. For those residents who have not previously registered their boats with the Michigan Secretary of State's office, prior to their use on Michigan waters, and so that they will be able to use their boats immediately after arriving in Michigan, they will be given a certificate of registration and assigned a registration number directly upon proper application and payment of the $2.00 fee to any Sheriff's office, a branch office of the Michigan Secretary of State, or other designated agent.

Q. How do boat dealers and manufacturers register craft for demonstration or testing purposes?

A. They will obtain from the Secretary of State's office in Lansing, or a special registration which they will keep for temporary placement on any boat to be demonstrated or tested. The registration number will contain 4 digits and will be preceded by a D or M (dealer or manufacturer). Each registration will cost $.50; and a dealer or manufacturer may obtain as many of these registrations as he may need to properly carry on his normal business.

Q. What must a boat owner do if his boat is destroyed, abandoned, sold, or transferred?

A. Within 10 days of the occurrence, the reverse side of his certificate must be filled out and mailed, with the required fees, to the Secretary of State, Lansing 18.

MICHIGAN'S PASTY PREVIEW—Michigan's own irrepressible Betty Hutton gives an assist to the Mackinac Bridge Dedication Festival (June 26-27-28) by sampling the prize-winning pasty flown to New York from Houghton, for a Michigan Pasty party for food, travel, science and feature editors. Using the prize-winning recipe, the Sheraton East Hotel in New York is developing a new cocktail-type pasty to feature in honor of Michigan's big celebration at the bridge. The pasty competition conducted by the Daily Mining Gazette at Houghton, won by a man, James K. Allen, principal of the John A. Doelle School at Tapola. Allen's grandparents brought the knack of pasty making from their native Cornwall—where pasties were originated in 1488—24 years before Columbus discovered America!

Morris E. Popkins Will Seek Nomination As Prosecuting Attorney

Morris E. Popkins, Ann Arbor attorney, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Washtenaw County Prosecuting Attorney. Popkins will be running for the nomination in the Aug. 5 primary election.
In announcing his candidacy Popkins stated, "From my own observation of the operation of the prosecutor's office, I believe that there are presently more assistant prosecuting attorneys on the staff than are necessary. Through greater concentration on sound law enforcement practices and generally more efficient administration of the office, the present staff could probably be reduced without impairing any of the functions presently performed."

The 49-year-old attorney was born in Ann Arbor, and graduated from Ann Arbor High in 1925. After attending the University of Michigan Literary and Law Schools, he graduated from the Law School of Tulane University in 1933.
Popkins practiced law in the thumb district of this state from 1936 to 1951. Following this, he was employed by the Sperry Corporation for five years. In April, 1956 he returned to Ann Arbor, where he has practiced law for the past two years.

Edward L. Jonas Tells Candidacy for Drain Commissioner

Edward L. Jonas of Ann Arbor, has announced that he will run in the Aug. 5 primary election for the Democratic nomination for the position of County Drain Commissioner. Jonas is currently employed as a road construction estimator by the Ann Arbor Construction Company.
Jonas is 32 years old, and a native of Detroit. He has lived in Ann Arbor for the past two years. He attended Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, and served as a crew member with the Army Air Forces in the China-Burma-India theater from 1944 to 1946.
Jonas is married and the father of a two-year old daughter, Susan. He lives at 3544 Oakwood, Ann Arbor.

George Petersen Files Nominating Petitions For Sheriff's Position

With a promise that the Sheriff's door will always be "open to the people of Washtenaw county," George Petersen today filed petitions for nomination as Sheriff on the Republican primary ballot.
The petitions filed by Petersen carried names from all townships, cities and villages in Washtenaw county.

Petersen, a veteran of 17 years in the Sheriff's Department, became a regular deputy with the department in 1946 after serving as a deputy for two years. In 1951 he was promoted to Sergeant and was advanced to Captain as third in command of the department by the late Sheriff Erwin L. Klager. He has served under three Sheriffs.

Petersen, 50, is married and resides with his wife, one son and two daughters at 8795 Scio Church road in Freedom township. The Petersens attend St. Andrew's church in Dexter. Petersen is a member of the following organizations: Elks Lodge No. 325; Fraternal Order of Eagles, Ypsilanti Lodge; Loyal Order of Moose, Ypsilanti Lodge; National Sheriffs Association; Michigan Sheriffs Association; and the Farm Bureau.

Washington Report

By Senator Charles E. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

SMALL BUSINESSMEN, bucking the complexities of doing business with Uncle Sam, have been known to scratch their heads and just give up. A government contract is a puzzle for a modest enterprise, but too many are stymied at the difficulty of finding simple answers to such queries as: Which branch of government needs my product? What specifications must be met? Exactly how does the government buy?

A fact-filled book of answers is just off the press. Put together by procurement experts of the Small Business Administration, the 100-page green pamphlet uncovers much of the confusion surrounding government purchases of military and other items. Small outfits will find it helpful in locating sales opportunities, getting on bidders lists, and learning how to solicit assistance from the Small Business Administration. Smooth, easy-to-read, well organized, the booklet may be ordered for 55 cents from the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C. Its name: "U. S. Government Purchasing and Specifications Directory."

3,000 WOMEN are a powerhouse in any man's language, especially when they represent millions of other distaff-side dynamos throughout the United States. I had the pleasure recently of welcoming convention delegates of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to Detroit and, in my opinion, it was most fitting that this energetic body meet in a city personifying everything dynamic and progressive about America.

And women have become a real force in the community state and nation—in fact, they are our most potent goodwill ambassadors to the far corners of the world.

THE BUDGET BUREAU has swung around in favor of stepping up merchant shipping activity in the Great Lakes. Early in May I warned that the 1959 federal budget would freeze out Great Lakes shippers by denying them the same operating-differential subsidies enjoyed by salt water interests. What good is the St. Lawrence Seaway unless our ships can take full advantage of its potential for economic growth? Apparently these words took effect. The Senate Appropriations Committee, with the consent of Budget Director Maurice Stans,

One Minute SPORTS QUIZ

1. What are the varsity colors of Notre Dame's "Fighting Irish?"
2. From 1955 through 1956, with the exception of 1954, the World Horse Shoe Pitching championship switched back and forth between two men. Who were they?
3. The Edward J. Neil Memorial Trophy is awarded annually by the Boxing Writers' Association of New York to the one who has done the most for boxing in the preceding year. Starting with Jack Dempsey in 1935, this trophy has gone each year to one top boxer, with the exception of 1948 and 1949. Who won it in these years?
4. Who is Joseph Barrow?
5. Where is Baseball's Hall of Fame located?

(Answers on page 10)

It's only human nature that a man is more interested in getting his bite than in giving his bit.

A RESERVE SHAKEUP will hit five Michigan cities next month when the Air Force revamps the structure of its non-flying reserve program. On July 8 squadrons will be discontinued in Bay City, Flint, Jackson and Muskegon, with a new unit—the 248th Air Reserve Training Wing Headquarters—to be activated in Detroit. The changes are part of Continental Air Command streamlining. Whenever an Air Reserve unit is discontinued, its members will be reassigned to a nearby unit. This holds true for the 49 reservists at the Bay City Air Reserve Squadron, the 13 at Flint, 66 at Jackson and 49 at Muskegon. The new Detroit headquarters will have an authorized strength of 5 officers, 7 airmen and 3 civilians, and will administer reserve training programs at Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne.

Water Safety

Do You Know Your Swimming Ability?

By Earle F. Ziegler
University of Michigan
(Water Safety Committee of the American Red Cross)

With summer coming on and so many pleasant, cooling swims ahead of us, it may be time for each one of us to assess his or her swimming ability. Do you know your swimming ability? Would you be classified by the Red Cross as a beginner, an intermediate swimmer, or as an expert? Could you save someone else's life if the need arose?

People are often surprised to learn that an excellent swimmer has drowned. On other occasions some non-swimmer manages to cling to a precarious perch and lives through a dangerous water accident. The answer to this is that a knowledge of water safety involves quite a bit more than just knowing how to swim well. Many times a competent swimmer over-estimates his ability and attempts to swim a long distance in rough and cold water. The non-swimmer on the other hand is very cautious, and takes no chances if thrown into the water. He may avoid panic and cling to some floating object.

When you go swimming for the first time this summer, you should ask yourself if you are physically ready for the swim that you have in mind. Start slowly, and build up your endurance day by day. If you swim in front of your cottage, and not at a supervised beach, do not go swimming alone. Stay close to the shore and swim parallel to it, rather than going straight out toward the center. Learn how to swim several strokes, so that one can serve as a resting stroke to the other. Learn how to float almost motionlessly on your back; this little trick can help a great deal. Know your ability and employ safe swimming practices at all times. Enjoy swimming for the great recreation that it is.

Interurbans Commemorated With Marker at Ypsilanti

Lansing—One day in the summer of 1890 a promoter for interurban railways arrived in Ypsilanti, seeking to work up interest in a line between that city and Ann Arbor. At the time there were only a few interurbans in the entire country and none in Michigan. Within a few years a network of interurbans crisscrossed southern Michigan, linking up with similar systems in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

This year, on May 9, as a feature of Ypsilanti's observance of Heritage Day during Michigan Week, one of the Michigan Historical Commission's official state markers devoted to Michigan's interurbans and including a large, full-color map of the main interurban lines, was dedicated in that city. Gilbert Park, on the route of Michigan's first interurban, the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. State and county historical groups, legislators, city officials, and school classes joined in a tribute to a colorful era of our history.

The "Ypsilanti" as it was almost always called, was organized in 1890 after its backers had consulted communities which had established interurbans and satisfied themselves that the chances of commercial success were good. Julius E. Beal, Ann Arbor newspaperman and later regent of the University of Michigan, was president and general manager of the company, and Henry P. Glover of Ypsilanti, was chosen vice-president.

Tracks were laid from downtown Ypsilanti to the city limits of Ann Arbor. In December, 1890, the line began operating using a Porter steam engine until 1898 when electric power was adopted. Beal later recalled the eventual official opening of service. "Members of the common council and newspapermen of the two cities were invited for a ride," Beal wrote. "They went on the electric car to the Ann Arbor city limits where transfers were made to the steam motor. Fortunately, it did not jump the track on that excursion trip and it only set fire to one barn. But that was soon put out and the party was safely landed in Ypsilanti. Not wishing to run any more risks they all returned home on the Michigan Central night train, declaring the road a success because no one was killed or even maimed for life."

In a short time the Ypsilanti was carrying 600 passengers daily, exceeding even the rosiest dreams of its founders. One reason for the line's popularity was that it ran every 30 minutes, and the fare was only 10 cents one way, in contrast to 25 cents on the Michigan Central. Julius Beal observed that the road was "greatly helped by the simple fact that while Ann Arbor had 8,000 boys and not enough girls, Ypsilanti had 1,000 girls at the Normal and not enough boys." The street railway helped to restore the equilibrium, especially on Friday evenings, Saturdays and Sundays.

Before long the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor line became part of an interurban line that ran from Detroit to Jackson and which carried an average of 5,320 passengers a day in 1902. By the second decade in the twentieth century the lines of the Detroit United Railways, the Michigan United Railways, the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon, the Grand Rapids, Holland & Chicago, the Benton Harbor, St. Joe Railway & Light Company, and other small interurbans brought fast and inexpensive inter-city passenger service within the reach of most persons in southern Michigan. But the automobile, truck and bus spelled the doom of the interurban. In the fall of 1923 the interurban cars between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor stopped running. The other interurbans were forced out of business around the same time. With visible evidences of the historical markers, such as the one being dedicated in Ypsilanti, of keeping alive the memory of an important period in American history.

Altar decorations were white carnations and white, lighted candles. At either side of the altar niche were tall candelabras and wicker floor vases containing white mums, peonies and gladioli interspersed with greens in keeping with the green and white color scheme carried out for the wedding and the reception.

Soloist for the ceremony was LeRoy P. Gray of Ann Arbor. Accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Carl Mayer, he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." By special request of the bride, Mrs. Mayer played an organ arrangement of "Hawaiian Wedding Song" in addition to the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore for her wedding a white, floor-length gown of very finely embroidered thread lace "puffed" by a delicately shirred bodice. The bodice featured an embroidered scoop neckline matching the embroidery design on the scalloped accent at the hemline of the skirt. A matching cap, highlighted with seed pearls, held her fingertip-length veil. Matching a diamond necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom, and a bouquet of ruffled lilies completed her ensemble.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Elaine Fredette, was her matron of honor, wearing for the occasion a ballerina-length gown of mint green taffeta featuring an elongated bodice. Nylon chiffon, flowing from a draped collar neckline, formed a flying panel at the back. Her outfit included a cap fashioned of matching chiffon leaf petals, trimmed with a circular veil of crisp maline. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Mrs. Richard D. Schmidt, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. John Weber of Dexter, were similarly gowned for their role as bridesmaids. Their bouquets, however, were of all white carnations.

Richard Schmidt, the bride's brother, Leon Hice, Edna Boyce and Dean Guenther served as ushers while Earl Guenther assisted the bridegroom as best man. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schmidt wore a violet blue Chantilly lace sheath styled with a side drape, square neckline and short sleeves. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother, in old rose Chantilly lace, with rounded neckline and three-quarter length sleeves, also used white accessories, including a corsage of white roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Kalmbach of McKittrick, Calif., wore a gown of rose-colored boucle with white accessories and a corsage of matching colored roses.

The reception which followed in the church hall, Mrs. Harvey Earl of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Charles Cummings of Bridgeport, Conn., aunts of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Another aunt of the bride, Miss Frieda Schmidt, and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Charles Hall, both of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. Lauryn White poured while Patricia Miller registered the guests in a guest book.

Following a two-week wedding trip to points in Maine and other eastern states, the couple will be at home, after June 21, at 232 Park street.
