EIGHTY-SEVENTH YEAR—No. 7 16 Pages This Week CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1958 7c Per Copy SUBSCRIPTION $2.50 PER YEAR

Thursday Night Fair Program To Feature Sale of Prize Beef

Auction Held During Afternoon In Previous Years

Thursday, Sept. 4, the second night of the Chelsea Community Fair, the evening's program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with an innovation expected to be of interest to exhibitors as well as spectators. This will be the annual sale of the prize beef which in past years took place during the afternoon when many people found it impossible to be present. Holding the sale in the evening will give buyers, businessmen and spectators the opportunity to be present for one of the highlights of Chelsea Community Fair.

Following the beef sale, the annual amateur contest program will be featured and this will be followed by the annual pig scramble when Future Farmers of America youths are permitted to keep the pig they are successful in catching. Rules of the scramble require only that one of the pig's offspring will be donated for another year's pig scramble.

William Donovan, agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at Dexter, has arranged for 10 pigs to be entered for Dexter FFA youths. These are Chester White and Berkshire breeds.

Stephen A. Hayden, Chelsea's new FFA advisor and agriculture instructor, has 14 pigs lined up for the event. Chelsea FFA boys will have an opportunity to try for eight Durocs and six pigs of the new Landrace breed.

Also on the program Thursday evening is the waterball event between members of two neighboring fire departments.

The full program for the fair, with detailed listings of events will be published in the Aug. 28 issue of The Standard.

In this week's issue, on page 10, the complete revised premium list is published.

Exhibitors are being asked to turn in entry forms as soon as possible. The blanks may be obtained from any of the Fair offices, board members and committee members. They are also available at the Chelsea State Bank, The Chelsea Standard office, the Post Office and at most business places.

Those who plan to enter the amateur contest should also send in their entry blanks as soon as possible. Sponsored jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the Chelsea Community Fair, a total of $100.00 in prizes is offered. An entry blank for the amateur show is printed on page 12 of this issue of The Standard.

FIRE IN A RUBBISH PILE in the alley behind the Sylvan Hotel and Recreation at the rear of the bowling alley, resulted in a call for the Chelsea Fire Department at 11:42 a.m. Monday. Two trucks responded and the fire was quickly extinguished after minor damage to the sliding on a small building used as a workshop and bowling

CARPENTERS ARE BUSY with the finishing touches on the new addition at North Elementary school in preparation for its use when school opens Sept. 4. Doors were being hung when the above photograph was taken this week. The eight-room addition to the school on McKinley road is in two sections of four rooms each at the west of the original building.

Cassidy Lake Blood Bank Starts With 90 Pints

Cassidy Lake Technical School held its first blood bank clinic at the Cassidy Lake school gymnasium Tuesday, Aug. 12. The Detroit Unit of the American Red Cross was in charge with a six-bed unit. A total of 90 pints was secured to start the Cassidy Lake Blood Bank.

Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Chelsea Blood Bank chairman, was asked to recruit volunteer nurses, registrars, nurses aides and assistant workers for the project and those who responded are Mrs. Leigh Palmer, Mrs. Gayle Grove, Mrs. Frances Armstrong, Mrs. Donald Bauer, Mrs. Harold Brooks, Mrs. George Leigh Palmer, Mrs. Robert Trinkle, Mrs. George Turnbull, Mrs. Henry Thierman and Mrs. Warren Daniels. Mrs. Holmes also worked at the clinic.

Canton workers, under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Baxter, were Mrs. Harold Spaulding, Mrs. D. A. Riker and Mrs. Lawrence Winkler.

The school has 230 youths enrolled and of these 174 offered blood donations; however, 84 were rejected because of colds, low blood pressure and other reasons. Those under 18 years of age are not permitted to give blood.

Kenneth Shea, superintendent of Cassidy Lake School, Gilford Johnson, assistant superintendent, and Gerald Carr, building maintenance superintendent, were responsible for organizing the blood donors.

The school provided lunch at noon for 25 workers.

Ordinance Permits Bonds for Parking Lot Improvement

The Village Council at its regular meeting Tuesday evening passed an ordinance, designated as Ordinance No. 57, relative to operation of the municipal parking lot on Park street as well as general parking of automobiles in the village.

Provisions of the ordinance permit the Village of Chelsea to borrow not to exceed $40,000 in revenue bonds to finance improvement of the parking lot. The bonds would be retired by means of the parking meter fund, according to ordinance provisions which also provide for installation of parking meters for approximately 80 cars in the parking lot.

The ordinance is published in its entirety on page 14 in this issue of The Standard.

Effective date of the ordinance is 10 days after its passage and publication; however, a referendum may be held if a petition signed by 10 per cent of the electors of the village is presented within 30 days after its publication.

The ordinance is a necessary requirement for securing revenue bonds for the improvement project.

At Tuesday's meeting, also, the Village Council authorized the Chelsea Police Department to borrow, rent free, from Dexter Village an electrically-operated speed timer to be used here for an undetermined period in attempts to check speed driving.

The device may be operated anywhere in the village at the discretion of police officers.

Citizens Study Re-Locating Lake Road

A Cavanaugh and Spring Lake Road Study Association has been formed for the purpose of studying the possibilities for relocating the road on the east side of the lake which now borders the lake in front of the cottages. Such proposed relocation would bring the road behind the cottages.

At a meeting held Saturday at the home of Max Ormsby a committee of five was appointed, representing the five sections of the area concerned and this committee will meet again Saturday to study the situation.

With increasing traffic around the east side of the lake, a number of property owners, principally at the east entrance to the lake road, have expressed concern for the safety of the children who must cross the road to and from the water and also cite the dust nuisance of the gravelled road bed. Others have contended that the one-lane roadway at the foot of the hill a short distance north, close to the water's edge as it is, creates a traffic hazard that should be eliminated.

DIANE HOLMES

Summer Camp Members Honor Diane Holmes

Diane Holmes returned Tuesday afternoon from Camp Bryn Afon at Lake Snowdon, Rhineland, Wis., where she had spent the summer and where she was highly honored by being chosen as captain of one of two camp teams who compete for a large trophy awarded for highest number of points earned in progress and achievement.

Miss Holmes' team won the trophy which she, as captain, is permitted to retain until next year.

Bryn Afon is one of the oldest girls' camps in the country, this being its 42nd year and Diane's third year there. A total of 300 girls attended from all parts of the United States and from Canada, Holland and England.

Each year the camp is divided into two teams for competition in all of the various sports, activities and crafts taught there and each team elects a captain to lead the girls for the entire summer. Captains are chosen for leadership, citizenship, sportsmanship, spirit, ability to get along with others and to help the girls to obtain maximum benefit from their camp life.

Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Knickerbocker of Enid, Okla., are spending two weeks visiting relatives here and in Detroit. Lt. Knickerbocker is stationed at Vance.

Free parking in the downtown area Friday and Saturday, Aug. 22 and 23, is the contribution of the Village of Chelsea toward the success of the second annual Sidewalk Days sale to be held those two days.

It is expected the sale will be even more successful than it was last year because of the earlier date when back-to-school shopping is in full swing.

Held in early October last fall, the weather was rather chilly and it was decided then that an August date would be better.

Patterned after early pioneer days when much of the merchants' stocks were displayed in front of their stores to catch the eye of shoppers, the present-day Sidewalk Days provide a gala effect much like the Maxwell street area which is a tourist attraction in Chicago.

Sponsored by the retail business committee of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, Sidewalk Days promises to become more popular each year as a bargain event—and bargains are really the order of the day as stocks will be constantly replenished.

Advertisements of merchants in this issue of The Standard list many of the items they will have on sale. The merchandise is not merely season-end items commonly offered at many sales this time of year, but includes seasonable men's, women's and children's clothing, household furnishings of all kinds, exceptional bargains in groceries and meats, hardware, furniture, plumbing fixtures, and anything for which shoppers might be looking.

Scan the advertisements in The Standard and check the items in which you are especially interested. You will find that substantial price reductions have been made on all wanted merchandise.

Reserve Friday and Saturday, Aug. 22 and 23 to attend this big sale event.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m. Friday and until 6 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Armand Meyung and daughter, Roberta, of Redondo Beach, Calif., arrived Sunday for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klingler. Her sister, Phyllis, who had spent two months at the Meyung home, returned here with her. They made the trip to Chicago by airplane and were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Klingler and their daughter, Cynthia. Mr. Meyung will join MYSTERY FARM NO. 18—Familiar to many Chelsea area people (although not from this angle, of course) are the farm home and buildings in the photograph of Mystery Farm No. 18. Only a very little study of the picture should be sufficient to help you identify it. As soon as you recognize the place, call The Standard office, GR 5-3581. It will be interesting to note the number of people who can correctly identify the place.

COMING TO THE STATE FAIR

Tennessee Ernie Ford

Ricky Nelson

The Michigan State Fair has scored another entertainment scoop of the year in obtaining two of the hottest names in show business for its Coliseum shows during the ten-day event, August 29 through Sept. 7.

Tennessee Ernie Ford will headline a show, including Molly Bee and The Four Preps, during the opening week-end, Saturday and Sunday, August 30, 31 and Monday (Labor Day) Sept. 1. There will be a total of seven afternoon and evening performances.

Ricky Nelson, television star and current No. 1 idol of teenagers, will move into the Coliseum Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 5, 6 and 7, for a total of five performances.

During midweek — Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday — the Coliseum again will present a mammoth evening Agricultural Show.

On opening night of the Michigan State Fair, Friday, August 29, a show featuring leading disc jockeys will be presented, according to General Manager, Donald L. Swanson.

3-in-1 Blood Test
Has Been Devised
By Health Dept.

Lansing—A three-in-one blood test that shows a person's blood type, his Rh classification and indicates the possibility of his being a diabetic will be offered to visitors at the Michigan State Fair this year by the Michigan Department of Health in cooperation with the Michigan State Medical Society.

Technicians at the two agencies' booth will take a small amount of blood from each person desiring to have his blood tested. On this one sample all three tests will be run. Results will be reported through the individual's physician, and no charge will be made for the tests.

The tests for blood type and Rh classification will be made at the state health department laboratories in Lansing. Blood will be analyzed for the possibility of diabetes at the booth with a device called the Clintron.

For several years, both the state health department and the state medical society have urged everyone in Michigan to carry a card showing their blood type and Rh classification so the right kind of blood can be administered without delay in case an emergency transfusion is needed.

The state health department estimates about 47,000 persons in Michigan have diabetes without knowing it. Many diabetics can look forward to lives of normal length and near-normal activity if their disease is detected early and if they cooperate with their physician in treating the disease.

Persons whose Clintron tests show possibility of diabetes will be referred to their physicians for more complete tests. On the basis of past results, about half the persons who test positive with the Clintron are found later through more tests by their physicians to have diabetes.

age of Social Service supplies at such time as the room is relinquished by the library.

A request was received from Mr. Charles Cameron for water to be run to his residence near the South city limits on Freer Road. This request was referred to the Water Committee for investigation and to be presented at the next regular session.

Pres. Alber stated that inasmuch as the City Government question was defeated that plans for hiring a Village administrator will now be put back into action.

Motion by Kohsman, supported by Blaess, to adjourn. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

The Dump committee reported that if the present contract was changed to provide pickup of all trash and garbage from all places except industry the additional cost would be approximately $2,500.00 additional. If all trash and garbage was picked up from residences only the additional cost would be approximately $1,500.00 additional. The reason for this report being that the present Village dump will soon be closed and all possible solutions are being investigated.

A request was received from the Library Storage room for storage of the Village of Chelsea, incorporated as a home rule city.

Motion by Barr, supported by Blaess, that since the results of the Special Election held August 5, 1958 on the question, "Should the Village of Chelsea incorporate as a Home Rule City?" indicate the proposition did not receive a majority of the votes cast, that the proposition be declared lost. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Mr. Ray Smit of the Engineering firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May presented a report on test wells drilled to date. Inasmuch as only one test well out of five drilled is favorable, Mr. Smit recommended to the Council that a resistivity survey over the available property in the area be made prior to drilling further.

Motion by Lixey, supported by Kohsman, that the resistivity test be made on the existing ground available prior to drilling the next test well as recommended by and presented to the Council by the Layne Northern Co. contract driller and Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May contract engineer. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Larson, supported by McMannis, that the request from Stop & Shop Super Markets, Inc. for a new 20M license, located at 14901 Old US-12, Chelsea, Michigan be approved. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

The Dump committee reported on two available dump sites in Lyndon Township. However, a telephone call during the meeting made to the Lyndon Township Zoning Board revealed that the Board was definitely opposed to any dump site in Lyndon Township. The Dump committee stated that this opposition to dump sites is evident in all townships and that much difficulty will be met in an attempt to provide the Village with a dumping ground.

Motion by Blaess, supported by Kohsman, that the meeting be adjourned.

Approved: August 19, 1958.
Donald C. Alber, President.
Robert B. Devine, Clerk.

Pebbles to Perpetuate

Summertime finds gem stone enthusiasts busy along the shores of the Great Lakes, collecting the numerous specimens available in Michigan. Many of these hobbyists also are "lapidaries"—persons who practice the art of cutting and polishing stones—and turn out attractive pendants, earrings and other jewelry. Quarries and piled mine tailings also are popular gem hunting sites.

Pebble Gathering Is Growing
Hobby for Michigan Collectors

Lansing—An avid group of hobbyists take advantage of Michigan's summer weather and geologic treasure chest to gather gem stones along Great Lakes shorelines and in inland areas.

These collectors find a wide variety of minerals, fluorescence and crystals throughout the state. These semi-precious gem materials often are turned into attractive and valuable jewelry by lapidaries, those who cut and polish stones.

In recent years, another activity called "tumbling" has captured much interest. In "tumbling," rough, irregular materials are placed in a revolving drum with water and abrasives. After hours or days of churning, the stones are smoothed to create "baroque"—well-rounded pieces having a high lustre. These are then made into pendants, earrings, and other jewelry.

Information on specific collecting areas usually is acquired by experience and diligent search, or through contact with veteran "rock hounds." A list of gem hunting grounds in Michigan also can be obtained from the Conservation Department Geological Survey, Lansing 28.

Some of the more popular sites include shores of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan, Isle Royale, once a popular hunting ground, is out-of-bounds to gem collectors, however, under National Parks Service regulations.

Safety Commission Urges Drivers
To 'Slow Down and Live' Longer

Evaluating dangerous speed doesn't have to involve pointless debate like that engendered by the question, "How high is up?" Gerald W. Shipman, Executive Secretary, Michigan State Safety Commission declared today in urging widespread motorist co-operation in the final days of the summer-long "Slow Down and Live" highway safety drive in the United States and Canada.

"The driver's good sense and sense of personal responsibility can give the answer very easily," he said.

He pointed out that speed greater than posted or declared limits can always be assumed to be dangerous because those limits represent the judgment of trained traffic engineers as to maximum safe speed under ideal conditions.

"But beyond that, the personal responsibility to himself and others every driver assumes when he gets behind the wheel requires that he voluntarily set his own speed limit below the permitted maximum—when highway and weather conditions warrant it," he declared.

He acknowledged that the too-slow driver can be dangerous, particularly when he picks the middle of a busy highway to slow down abruptly.

"But in the accidents which develop from the too-slow driver, blame frequently must be shared by the driver behind him, the driver whose pre-occupation with haste kept him from maintaining a safe stopping distance from the car ahead."

Dr. Harmond Webb
Named Delegate to Order of Arrow Meet

Dr. Harmond Webb, who converted the old North Lake school for scouting purposes, is to be a delegate to the National meeting of the Order of Arrow to be held at Lawrence, Kan., Aug. 25 through Aug. 28.

Dr. Webb, a Detroit dentist, lives at North Lake and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb. He is busy arranging discussion group assignments, programs and many other items of preparation as a delegate from the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, M-GI-Si O Paw Gun Lodge No. 168.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout honor campers founded in 1915 at the Philadelphia Scout Camp as a means of glorifying the Scout Promise and the Scout Law in the minds of boys who are Scout campers. It particularly focuses cheerful service as an essential to a happy camping experience and seeks to reveal the true brotherhood that exists among those who exhibit such traits.

Dr. Webb explained that Detroit and its suburban areas are divided into 10 districts. Scouting is growing so rapidly there that the Charles Howell Scout Reservation and Camp Metamora, which serves the Detroit Area Council, are concerned that the present growth may advance faster than the facilities required.

Interested in Scouting all his life, Dr. Webb constantly urges support of Boy Scout work saying "there are no better hands than yours to help mold the course of Scouting."

SIXTY YEARS AGO, the Chelsea Cornet Band, shown in the above photograph, was an important feature of the Memorial Day exercises here. The band performed at all community events which called for band music. Only surviving member of the group is Ed. Chandler, now 94 years old. Mr. Chandler was up town bright and early one day recently and identified the band members. He said he believed the picture was taken in 1898. It was brought to

Regional Chairman Named To Head 'Dollars for Democrats'

Appointment of Mrs. Wendell Fox of Ann Arbor, as a regional chairman of the 1958 "Dollars for Democrats" drive has been announced by Joseph B. Bilitzke, deputy attorney general, who is state chairman of the fund-raising campaign. Mrs. Fox will be in charge of the drive in Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties. Actual solicitation of funds will take place in the three-day period of Sept. 28-30, Bilitzke said. Organizational work, however, including the building of contributor lists, will continue through the summer.

Chairmen also will be appointed to head up the drive in each county. Money collected will be divided equally between the county of origin, the State Central Committee, and the Democratic National Committee.

Goal of the 1958 "Dollars for Democrats" drive is to obtain contributions from 150,000 persons, or ten per cent of the 1,500,000 Michigan citizens who voted Democratic in 1956, Bilitzke said.

Private Citizens Help Conservation Department's Fire Control Section

Lansing—A vast organization involving thousands of persons—plus mechanized equipment and communications systems—protects Michigan forests, property and lives from destruction by fire.

This fire-fighting organization centers around the Conservation Department's fire control section, but also includes many private citizens.

Among the most important persons in the organization are some 1,000 "key men" throughout the state. These key men are private citizens who voluntarily play a significant role in controlling fire losses by spotting, reporting and helping to suppress fires.

Each of the key men is supplied by the Department with a handout for fire-fighting. Alertness of this force, plus the availability of hand tools, often means a small blaze is extinguished before it can spread and become a costly and dangerous forest fire.

Prevention and control measures have helped Michigan to establish an enviable record in reducing fire damage. About 25 years ago, the average forest fire in the state devastated approximately 44 acres.

DOGS

By Farley Manning
National Dog Welfare Guild

After a dog overcomes the complicated obstacle course at the school, it is taken to a nearby city. Here it is introduced to the more important points in town—the post office, railroad station, bakery or bank.

Each has its own identifying smell and noise, and the dog is trained to find any one of them on command.

Even with his guide dog, a blind person must ask directions from passerby—but no more often than the usual stranger in a city.

When the dog is fully trained, it is ready for the final step before going home with its new master.

At this point the blind person comes to the school, where he remains for at least three weeks. For the first two or three days he does not meet his dog, but is schooled by Schmitt in the care of an animal.

Schmitt studies the character of the individual, to select the right dog for him. For dogs, like humans, have temperamental characteristics.

Once this is done, the blind person starts training with his new friend and learns the 30-odd commands the dog understands. This is carried out under the supervision of the trainer who originally schooled the dog.

In the second week, the dog and his master are taken into town, to the pair get about more or less on their own.

The trainer follows close behind. Only when the blind person is thoroughly acquainted with the working ways of the dog is he allowed to take his new companion home.

Guides dogs from Schmitt's school have already been sent to the United States, Israel, Switzerland and points all over Germany. Schmitt has contracts to train animals for Spain, Portugal and Brazil. There is a possibility that Schmitt will be able to provide 300 animals for Argentina, where a complete city is planned for the blind.

Dora, one of the first dogs trained by Schmitt is an example of the thoroughness of the schooling.

In a series of tests, Dora was not worked for a year. At the end of that time, she was run through the obstacle course without making a single mistake. Then she was kept idle for another year, and worked again without error. Dora is now used to demonstrate the capabilities of these amazing and loyal dogs.

MORE AID TO RETIRED

An across-the-board increase in social security benefits is moving rapidly toward election-year action in Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee has reached all but final agreement on a flat 7 per cent raise in old-age and disability payments, with a minimum $3 increase for all persons now receiving retirement checks.

For those workers not yet at retirement age, it would mean deduction of up to $25.50 more a year from their take-home pay because of a 1-4 per cent hike in the social security tax and enlargement of their taxable wage base from $4,200 to $4,800.

If your cattle herd has tested brucellosis-free, keep it that way, urge dairy specialists at Michigan State University. Play it safe; keep your cattle safe; use calfhood vaccination.

FRANK S. SZYMANSKI

Frank Szymanski Seeks Nomination To Succeed Himself as Auditor

Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski announced today that he would seek the nomination as Democratic candidate for his present post at the Democratic Convention to be held in Grand Rapids on Aug. 23.

Frank Szymanski was first appointed Auditor General by Governor Williams in June of 1956 and has since been elected to a two-year term which he is now completing. Prior to being appointed Auditor General he served for five years as an examiner for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Szymanski holds B. S. and M. S. degrees in physics and mathematics, from the University of Notre Dame where he was an All-American football player. He holds a Law Degree from the University of Detroit and is a member of the Wayne County and Michigan State Bar Associations. He is married and the father of five children.

Four New Films Available from Conservation Dept.

Lansing—Four new Conservation Department motion pictures will be available from the Department's film loan service after Sept. 2.

The films, all of which are in sound and color, will be available free for showings to schools, sportsmen's clubs and other groups.

"Michigan Mammals," which presents many of the common species in their biological order, is designed for use in elementary schools as well as by adult groups. This film replaces the black and white film formerly available on this subject. More than 300 requests for the mammals movie already have been received by the film loan service.

Another of the new films should be of particular interest to hunters in Michigan. This film, "Venison," is a frank, how-to presentation showing deer shot, gutted, skinned, butchered and prepared for the table.

Also available for the first time is the film, "Living Beauty," the first in a series of three motion pictures dealing with Michigan's wildflowers.

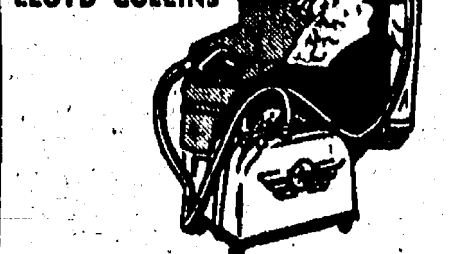

"Welcome Home, Pine Marten" is the story of one of the Conservation Department's many experiments. The new film shows martens trapped in Canada, brought out by dog sled and released in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

These and other Department films available are listed in the September, 1958, film catalog. The catalog, which also includes information on borrowing and using Department films, can be obtained from the Michigan Conservation Department, Film Loan Service, Lansing 26.

Plenty of fresh water available to cows while on pasture this summer will help keep milk production up, say dairy specialists at Michigan State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson and children, Edward Leigh and Lenae, of San Angelo, Tex., left Thursday after spending 10 days visiting Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beach at their home here, and Mr. Johnson's relatives in Flint. They arrived here Aug. 4 and spent from Aug. 6 to 10 in Flint, returning here for the remainder of their stay.

Guests of Mrs. George W. Hart for 10 days are her niece, Miss Gertrude Klecamp of Los Angeles, Calif., and another aunt of Miss Klecamp, Miss Magdalen Klecamp of Ypsilanti. Miss Gertrude Klecamp has been abroad the past two months and Mrs. Hart and Miss Magdalen Klecamp met her on her arrival at Willow Run Airport Monday.

Miss Marguerite Eisele of Detroit, spent Wednesday here as the guest of her aunt, Miss Lillie Wackenhut. In the afternoon, Miss Wackenhut and Mrs. Ola Hilsinger accompanied her to Ann Arbor where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Nana Mae Vogel at St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Mrs. Vogel was a distant relative of the Wackenhut family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure returned Sunday night from a two-week vacation trip during which they visited Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, Vancouver, B. C., and spent some time, also, at San Francisco, Calif. They visited relatives near San Francisco before starting the return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wheeler returned Sunday from a week's vacation trip to northern Wisconsin where they visited at Rhineland, Argonne, Hiles and other points. They returned by way of Iron Mountain in northern Michigan and crossed the new Mackinac Bridge. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Wheeler's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Eck of Dexter.

Restoration Site of Early Fort Full of State History

It is considered poor form to open a story with a negation. But who ever heard of a strip of uninhabited rocky shorelines becoming a tourist attraction? It just doesn't happen.

Yet, at the north end and just to the left of the Mackinac Bridge is a spit of land, soaked in history, which is getting an uncommon amount of attention from the Michigan traveler. This is the site where Fort de Buade will be reconstructed.

For this is the land of Father Marquette, greatest of all the missionaries; of Sieur de LaSalle, most intrepid of French explorers; of Sieur de LaMothe-Cadillac, most colorful of outpost builders.

It is the St. Ignace country—once the last outpost of civilization, a place of terror and opportunity, of wealth and spilled blood.

But history plays an important part in today's recreational travel business, according to Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

"A recent survey of 10,000 Michigan vacationers showed history to be among the top attractions of our state," he said, "and while the reconstruction of this ancient fort still is in the planning stages, already it is attracting attention from the early publicity these plans have been given."

"And nowhere is the romance of the past linked so closely to the present," the tourist chief said. "The site where the reconstructed fort will stand commands a sweep of the Straits of Mackinac and of the two inland seas of Lake Huron and Lake Michigan as far as the eye can see. This channel and the bridge which now spans it are today's corridors of commerce. But the Straits was a highway of the past, and the ghosts of the coureurs de bois penetrate the mists of time."

Here to the St. Ignace country in the 1600's came the remnant of the Huron Indians, fleeing their ferocious enemies the Iroquois. Accompanying them was Father Marquette who stayed to minister to their spiritual needs. He established in 1672 the Mission of St. Ignace at the place called Mississiniquia, the present day St. Ignace region.

This mission soon became a focal point of Hurons, Ottawa and French fur traders and adventurers, some seeking gold—of which there was none, some seeking copper—of which there was plenty, but which was to elude the white man for another century.

And with them came the free traders—the coureurs de bois. In 1685 they brought 100 barrels of brandy and trade goods. This bit of business brought on the building of Fort de Buade.

But there was another reason for establishing Fort de Buade.

English fur traders were reported penetrating to the Great Lakes. A garrison at St. Ignace could block them. De LaDurantaye erected a fort in 1687. Then in 1694 came Cadillac, a proud Gascon, quick temper and equally quick with sword or pen, who left a colorful description of his command. He tells us that the French colony now numbered 60 houses, and that 7,000 Hurons and Ottawas lived in a huge palisaded town enclosed with three concentric walls of palisades. Fort de Buade was puny by comparison, lacking even blockhouses.

"The houses of the French are of wood, one log upon another," he wrote, "but they are roofed with the bark of cedar trees. Only those of the Jesuits were roofed with planks."

The glut of furs on Montreal markets probably sealed the fate of this early fort. King Louis XIV in 1690 decreed that all French forts be closed to all except missionaries so Cadillac moved to a place called Detroit in 1701. Most of the Indians moved with him. The Jesuits gave up the struggle in 1705, burning the mission to prevent its desecration.

The exact location of the original Fort de Buade still is not known. And if, as is supposed by some historians, it was on the waterfront it may be lost forever to archaeologists because of latter day construction.

But a fort near the north approach to the great bridge would be a fitting monument to the great men who opened the way for the forging of a new America to men who even then saw past the wealth of fur. For it was Cadillac himself who wrote, "One is always in good health at Mississiniquia. This fact may be attributed to the good air, or to the excellence it is to see the old men there, whose grandsons are growing gray."

This, at least, has not changed. Hundreds of thousands of travelers each year can testify to the accuracy of Cadillac's observation.

Here Are Tips on Buying A Watch

A watch for the graduating senior! Watches for the bride and groom! These three people are the primary reasons that more watches will be purchased by the American public this spring than at any other time of the year. These watches, bought for loved ones, will also represent a total investment running into millions of dollars by the buying public. These same watches may many times be the sole representative of a family from generation to generation. They will be in every case a highly cherished gift.

With so much tradition behind giving a watch, extreme care should be given in its purchase.

A watch is a delicate, yet hardy, instrument. On a lady's wrist, it may be subjected to, in a short space of time, the deep freeze unit, the baking oven, steam from the boiling kettle, and jars from shaking a dust mop. Dust, dirt, water, shocks, and bumps are just a few of the elements that a man's watch will face. Through all these rigors, you expect your watch to always keep you on time. Therefore, select your watch carefully, and remind yourself of the following before you buy:

1. Most important of all is the fact that you are making a "blind purchase." You must depend solely on the word of the person who is selling you the watch for its quality. The most important part of the watch—its 150 vital inner pieces—are not visible to you. This is where many discount houses and catalogs make their killings; they sell the watch by making it look extremely attractive in the display case or catalog, but the inner works are second-rate. Also, some of these outlets upgrade the selling price so that even after the "discount" is given, the same value watch will cost more than it would at a reputable jewelry store.

2. A watch that is self-winding will no doubt keep more accurate than one wound manually.

3. Waterproof, shockproof watches are made with solid gold, gold filled, rolled gold plate, stainless steel, and chrome top with stainless back cases. The chrome top is not apt to wear as well as the others.

4. A 17-jewel watch is said to be fully jeweled, with the exception of an automatic wind watch, which has extra jewels in the winding mechanism. Any watch advertised with a greater number of jewels may be used for better selling points, but at the same time these extra jewels are actually functional. They do add to the accuracy and longevity of the watch.

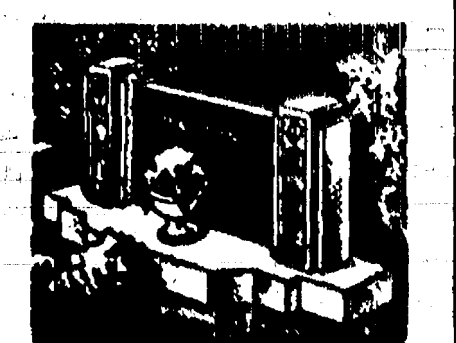

5. All jeweled lever watches are guaranteed against mechanical defects for at least one year. A guarantee, however, is only as good as those who stand behind it.

6. Most watches sold today have a new unbreakable mainspring. This mainspring will not lose its flexibility for the life of the watch, and corrosion will not enter. This is not always true for off-brand watches.

7. Where is the best place to buy a watch? Your reliable well established jeweler will suggest the best watch, not necessarily the most expensive, which will give the wearer the greatest satisfaction. If a jeweler bought from a responsible jeweler should develop a defect, he has a qualified watchmaker ready to give it the prompt attention that it needs under the guarantee. On the other hand, a buyer of a watch from a catalog or discount house may experience a great deal of difficulty in having a "discount" watch repaired.

After careful consideration of the above points, you will reach a decision. Then look for a style watch that is pleasing to your particular taste in design. Remember, you must rely on the seller of the watch to tell you what is inside. The person best qualified to do this is your local jeweler. You know him and he knows you. Your complete satisfaction is his responsibility.

If you stack items in your cupboard, stack only like articles together.

Sgt. William Schrader Serving in Lebanon With Army Task Force

Task Force 201, Lebanon—Army Major Sergeant William D. Schrader, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Schrader, 1250 Wilkinson st., Chelsea, Mich., is serving with Task Force 201 in Lebanon. Task Force 201, made up of airborne elements of the 24th Infantry Division in Augsburg, Germany, landed in Beirut, Lebanon, on July 19.

Involved in the first phase of the operation were combat troops of the 1st Airborne Battle Group, 187th Infantry, and staff personnel of the 24th Infantry Division. This group was flown from Augsburg via Adana, Turkey, to Beirut in cargo-type aircraft.

Sergeant Schrader, who entered the Army in 1948, is the first sergeant of the 187th Infantry's Company D. His decorations include the Silver Star, the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster and the Combat Infantryman Badge. His wife, Leona, is now living in Augsburg.

Capt. Robert Schmunk Now Stationed at Selfridge Field AFB

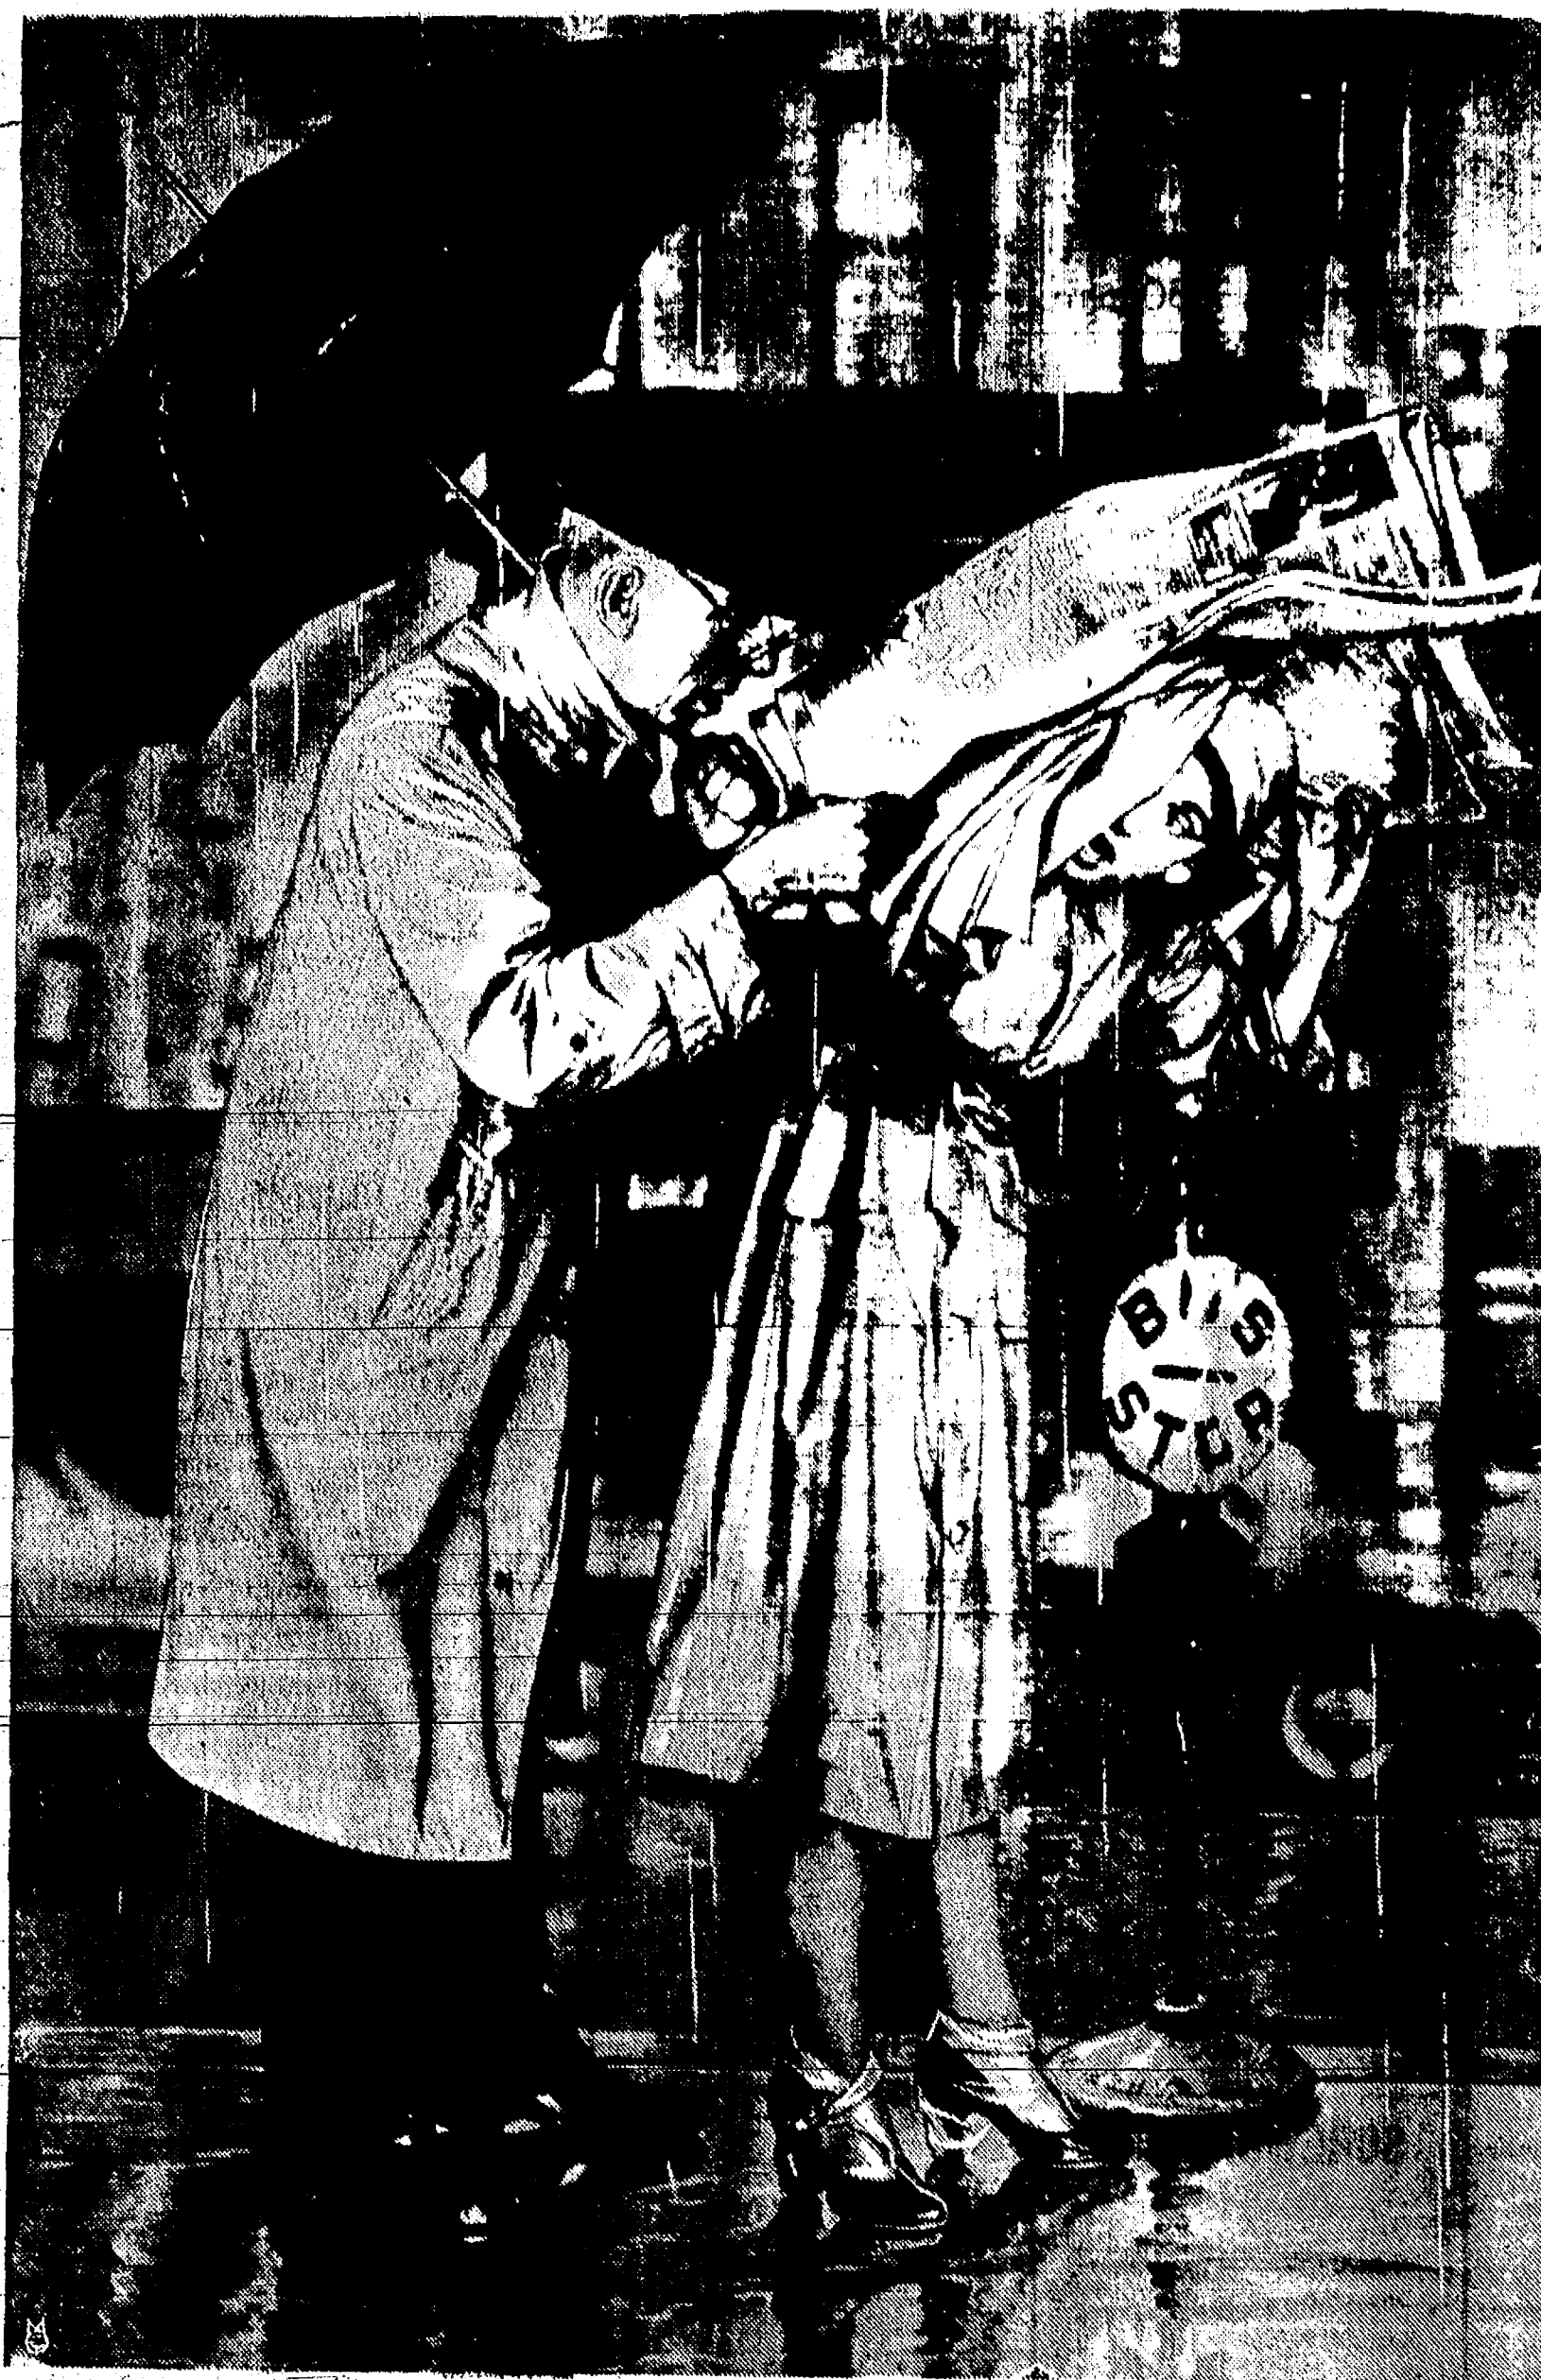

Selfridge AFB—Having completed training at Gunter AFB, Ala., and an assignment at Stewart AFB, N. Y., Captain Robert F. Schmunk, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmunk, 111 Condon street, Chelsea, arrived July 28 to begin duties as staff physician at the 1st USAF Hospital here.

Following graduation from the University of Michigan in 1955, Dr. Schmunk received his appointment to the U. S. Air Force in February, 1957.

He is accompanied here by his wife, the former Miss Elisabeth Southern of Wayne, and their two sons, Dan, 5, and Philip, 3.

I SEE
BY THE PAPER . . .

THIS FELLOW can't wait till he gets home to start reading the newspaper! While still on-the-go, he wants to get in-the-know . . . on what's NEW in his town, his State, his country, his world.

Right now, he "sees by the paper" something so absorbing that he must read more about it forthwith . . . quite oblivious of the young lady who bought the paper in the first place, and who for the moment is principally concerned with keeping out of the rain.

Reading the newspaper most anywhere, and most anytime is a habit that's as American as the Fourth of July. Indeed, the newspaper's steadfast devotion to presenting the news clearly and factually, without fear or favor, is basic to our free American way of life.

Proctor Reunion Held at Manchester

Sunday, Aug. 17, at Carr Park, Manchester, 49 members of the Proctor family and nine guests met for their annual reunion. Host and hostess for the 1958 gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. The youngest child present, who is the 100th member of the Proctor family, was eight-year-old Daniel Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer.

The oldest member of the family who attended is Mrs. Harvey Proctor of Manchester, who is 76 years old.

Games were the afternoon's entertainment following election of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stark of Rogers Corners as officers and hosts for the 1959 reunion.

Present for the gathering were members and guests of the family from South Lyon, Trenton, Chelsea, Ann Arbor, Livonia, Grass Lake, Clinton, Ypsilanti, Wayne and Howell.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Barnsdale, of Tampa, Fla. Guests at the 40th wedding anniversary dinner Sunday, Aug. 10, of the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Beal of Saline, honoring the late's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kalmbach, included Mr. and Mrs. John Kinker and Mrs. William Kalmbach of South Lyon.

Their names were not included on the original list of guests submitted for publication.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gage entertained at a pot-luck dinner at their home Sunday in honor of their son, Paul, who is 11 years old. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carr and daughter, Barbara, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fletcher of Ashville, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and daughter Sharon, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage and Miss Lillie Wackenhut.

Sunday evening Miss Wackenhut entertained at her home in celebration of the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Labo, guests including the Labos and their daughter Sharon. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage.

The Fletchers are house guests at the home of Mr. Fletcher's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage.

Shirley H. Woodus, Ensign David Bertke United at U. S. Naval Academy Chapel

Ensign David Edward Bertke, U. S. Navy, and Shirley Heather Woodus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. William Woodus of Edgewater, Md., were married in the chapel at the United States Naval Academy on ceremony Saturday.

St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church (United Church of Christ), who had officiated at the baptism and confirmation of the bridegroom, was the officiating clergyman for the double-ring wedding service which took place at 2:30 p.m.

Vocalist for the ceremony was Robert Jaehans of Annapolis, Md., director of the Academy choir. He sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Lowly We Kneel to Thee."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was groomed in white tulle, with a bodice of imported tulle, and a long train with an open neckline and long sleeves embroidered with tiny seed pearls. The straight front skirt extended into a full train. Her fingertip-length veil of imported silk illusion was held in place with cent sequins and her bouquet was an arrangement of phenopsis and delphinium flowers.

Mrs. Francis Edward Burts of Annapolis, Md., was matron of honor, wearing for the occasion a ballerina-length dress of forget-me-not blue tulle with a puffed skirt, having pressed pleats at the front and a flat bow at the back of the waist. Her headpiece was a crown of crushed tulle and seed pearls with a circular veil. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of rubrum lilies and blue delphinium.

The bridegroom's sisters, Barbara and Marcia, served as bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in ballerina-length gowns of white nylon over deep blue tulle. The gowns were styled with large puffed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Their outfits were completed with white picture hats. Each carried a basket of rubrum lilies and blue delphinium.

The bride's mother wore a blue silk organza sheath with a scoop neckline. The dress was designed with appliques of lace and pearls on the bodice and on a side skirt panel. She used matching accessories and had a corsage of blue delphinium.

The bridegroom's mother chose white accessories and a blue satin hat to wear with her blue lace dress, which was styled with a slightly flared skirt and a blue satin cummerbund. Her corsage was of rubrum lilies.

Ensign Carl Eugene Ingle, whose home is at Bedford, Ind., assisted Ensign Bertke as best man. Ushers were Ensigns G. B. Chafee, Jr., of Alexandria, Va., and F. Kuhmann of Chicago, Ill. R. F. Pritengeter of Tacoma, Wash., G. R. Ruwwe of St. Joseph, Mo., F. R. Wiedemann of Dallas, Texas, and C. R. Larson of Omaha, Neb.

Approximately 120 guests attended the reception which followed at the Naval Academy Officers' club.

After a five-day stay at Rehoboth Beach, Md., the couple will be at home at Arnold, Md., where their address will be care of Professor W. Berry. When the couple left the bride was wearing a pink lawn dress, matching pink hat and gloves and black linen shoes. Her corsage was of phenopsis taken from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Brookhurst County High School, Brookhurst, England; Bournemouth High School, Bournemouth, England; and Mount St. Agnes College, Baltimore, Md.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Chelsea High School, attended the University of Michigan until his appointment to the United States Naval Academy. He was commissioned as Ensign in the Navy in June and is to report to his ship, the USS Vermillion, the end of September.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner held Friday evening at the Treadway Maryland Inn.

Children May Be Messy in Process of Learning To Eat

The messiness that goes along with small children learning to eat by themselves is common. But there are some things you can do to make their "messiness" less a problem, points out Lennah Backus, extension specialist in parent education and child development at Michigan State University.

During the "learning-to-eat" period it is well to eat where the mess is less likely to be a problem. It's also wise to serve small children on dishes that can withstand damage, advises Mrs. Backus.

Less milk will be spilled if you serve Johnny in a fairly small cup—one which he can easily grasp. Fill the cup only about half full. Mrs. Backus says. There's less to spill and he can have the fun of asking for more. He may like to "pour his own seconds"—with help if needed.

Don't judge a child's capacity by your own. Keep his servings small—a big plate full may look pretty discouraging to a little child and is likely to be more than he can eat.

You might include "finger foods" in the menu. Such things as carrot sticks, celery, crisp cauliflower, prunes or other dried fruits are easy for children to eat without a mess.

Pegboard Can Add Useful Storage Space to Closet

If you have a "handyman" around your home, he can easily add storage space to your closets. Just use heavy-duty pegboard for a divider in your storage closet by placing it parallel to the two side walls, suggests Coral Morris, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State University.

Metal hooks and holders can be used on both sides of the pegboard for hanging supplies. The kitchen designed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a closet like this provides extra—neat and organized—storage for cleaning and ironing supplies.

On one side the vacuum cleaner sits on the floor toward the outer wall. Attachments and other cleaning supplies are stored on brackets mounted on the pegboard. On the other side the ironing board sits on the floor by the outside wall and ironing supplies hang from the pegboard.

Pegboard would also be handy for the end walls of the hall closet. Brackets and hooks mounted on the pegboard could hold umbrellas, hats, even overcoats. Or it might be used for storing a few cleaning supplies used in that part of the house.

Pegboard is handy for divisions in any kind of closet. You can put on as many hooks and holders as you want in the places you want them. You might try it for storing some toys.

Another place where you'll find it handy is for a "hanging-utensil board" in the kitchen. If you like some of your often-used, small equipment out where you can get it, just have a piece of pegboard mounted on a convenient kitchen wall. Then arrange the hangers and holders to make equipment look attractive and at the same time convenient.

FAILS MIDEAST TEST

Wichita, Kan. — Psychology teacher Robert O'Rourke sprang a quickie geography test on his summer school class at Wichita East High School.

Handing out an outline map of the Middle East, and a list of the capitals of Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Israel, Iran, Jordan and Saudi Arabia, he offered extra credit to those who could fill in the names of the eight nations.

Only two of his 81 students succeeded.

SIDELIGHT ON EDUCATION

Richmond — School Superintendent H. I. Willet, aware of soft courses taught in some schools, tells this:

Two third graders on the playground watched two jet fighters streaking across the sky.

"If that pilot would get in his after-burner, he could make Mach 2," said one.

"Well," said the other as the schoolbell rang, "it's time to go back in and count those darned beads some more."

Most of us think that summer is the moth season. This is not true, however. Moths are active at temperatures as low as fifty-five degrees. For this reason, it is important to keep moth crystals that kill by gas asphyxiation in closets, chests and garment bags the year around.

Household items such as mattresses, wall-to-wall carpeting and upholstered furniture should be sprayed several times a year with a reliable insect spray.

Moths and silverfish, the rayon and paper-eating insect, are not killed by unpleasant odors. They are killed by direct contact with upholstered furniture should be evaporated in airtight places.

Silverfish breed around bathroom tile and cement. Ordinary bathroom cleaners have no effect on them; so a spray should be used here, too.

The proper amount of nuggets or crystals is about one pound for every one hundred cubic feet of space. The gases do not rise, so the crystals should be placed at the top of the garment bag and folded in with each fold of blankets or draperies.

Most modern vacuum cleaners have spray attachments which can be filled with crystals and an excellent spraying job.

The best way to go about storing clothes and household articles is to first make sure the garments are perfectly clean. Then—sun them for a couple of hours, if possible. Next spray them and place in airtight storage bags with a generous supply of crystals or nuggets at both the top and bottom of the bag.

Homemaking Hints

If you're buying an outdoor grill, be sure to get the right size for your family. Many of today's small portable units may prove inadequate if your family is large or if you like to invite friends to come along on your picnic, suggest foods specialists.

Avoid horizontal cuts in color like sharp contrast between blouse and skirt. If you want to look taller and slimmer. One-color dresses in fairly dark shades are usually more flattering, says Lola Belle Green, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

Food takes 25 to 30 cents of every dollar you spend on living and food costs are still rising. The extra food cost is not going to the farmer, however, but goes into the cost of preparing, transporting and distributing. You're buying a lot of "maid service" with your food, point out home management experts.

Folding Doors Make Your Cabinet More Convenient

Often kitchens have wide cabinet doors. These not only take up valuable space when they swing open, but also the homemaker is likely to bump into them if they're left open.

Kitchen cabinet doors don't need to be so wide, points out Coral Morris, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State University.

When you're remodeling or planning a kitchen for a new home, plan upper cabinets with doors that do not swing beyond the edge of the lower work surface.

If a cabinet door must be wide, it can fold back rather than swing out. To make cabinet doors fold back, they are cut in two, lengthwise down the center. Flat hinges are installed on the inside of the door to hold the two sections together. This permits the door to fold as it opens. By folding, the door swings out over only half the space it would take as a solid piece.

Cabinet doors that are already in use—and are too wide—can still be made to fold. The cut down the center must be neat and smooth—a power saw seems to work best. Doors of plywood, fiber board, solid wood or any material that can be sawed neatly into two sections may be hinged.

The hinges on the inside make the door fold, center out, as it is opened. It'll close flat with no problem in making it latch or lock just as it did before being cut.

Centennial Farms To Be Featured at Community Fair

Michigan's centennial farms are being saluted in an exhibit which will be shown at the Chelsea Community Fair, Sept. 8-9.

The centennial farm exhibit was prepared by State Mutual Insurance Co. in co-operation with the Michigan Historical Commission. It is being sponsored at the fair by Wallace Wood, 104 South Main street, State Mutual's agent in Chelsea.

It features photographs of several centennial farms, the credo of centennial farmers, a centennial farm sign, and information on how these farms qualified for designation as centennial farms.

There are now more than 1,000 centennial farms in Michigan and additions are constantly being made to the list. The Michigan Historical Commission is charged with the responsibility for determining the authenticity of centennial farms.

Practical Experience Helps Prepare Child For School Opening

Now is the time to start preparing your child for school. Your child needs more than a new pair of shoes and a well scrubbed face when he begins his school adventure, says Lennah K. Backus, extension child development specialist at Michigan State University.

He needs experiences during his pre-school years to help him take starting school "in his stride." You can help him have these experiences.

For example, a child needs some feeling of independence when he starts school. This cannot be instilled in him overnight; it comes as you gradually let him do things for himself.

The words, "I can do it—let me" may have familiar ring. Your child has perhaps reached the stage where he wants to dress himself, brush his own teeth, tie his shoes, help with small tasks around the house—let him. He'll pay hard to do going to school when he's interested in learning. He may not do everything perfectly; but he becomes more skilled as you give him a chance to practice.

4-H Members Prepare for State Show

Livestock are being carefully groomed, demonstrations rehearsed and judging eyes sharp as the 4-H Club boys and girls get ready for the State 4-H Show, Aug. 26-28.

Nearly 2,000 boys and girls are expected for the event held each year on the Michigan State University campus at East Lansing.

The 4-H is the climax of the 4-H year for these youngsters as they compete for premiums and awards totaling more than $15,000. They'll stay in Shaw Hall dormitory during the four-day event, where they'll catch their breath between sters, dairy cows, hogs or sheep, or after testing their skill in judging vegetables or livestock or before displaying their ability to conduct an educational demonstration.

Ticknor started his Busy Dozen Handicraft Club in 1955-56. It was the first 4-H Club to be started in his rapidly urbanizing area. He had about a dozen youngsters in the first club. The club has mushroomed to 46 different club members in 1957-58 and he has three assistant leaders helping him and advisory parents group.

His club was the Winter Club Trophy (given by the State Savings Bank & Trust) twice.

Last year an anonymous donor gave $600 worth of power tools to this 4-H club.

Ray was instrumental in getting a 4-H Home Economics club started in his neighborhood last winter.

His club has also been active in such community service as building tables for 4-H and a bulletin board for the Rural Activities Building.

Bowling Group Picnic Scheduled At German Park

The second annual picnic of the Ann Arbor Bowling Association will be held Sunday, rain or shine, at German Park, Pontiac Trail, six miles north of Ann Arbor.

The picnic is open to all sanctioned bowlers, men and women, and their families and sponsors. Those who attend may bring their own picnic lunch or may purchase hot dogs, coffee and other refreshments at the park.

The entertainment committee has planned games for the entire family, with pony rides for the smaller children.

The annual horseshoe pitching contest will be held and at 1:30 p.m. Howell and Ann Arbor bowlers will play a softball game. Other entertainment will begin at 3 p.m.

A number of Chelsea bowlers and their families are expected to attend the picnic.

Marsha Knickerbocker Has Heart Surgery

Marsha Knickerbocker, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Knickerbocker, underwent heart surgery Tuesday at University Hospital, Ann Arbor. Reports yesterday stated that she survived the operation and it appeared she would make a good recovery.

This was the little girl's second heart operation, the first one having been performed as an emergency measure when she was a baby.

Tuesday's operation originally had been scheduled for a week ago but was postponed because of unfavorable reactions after the operation had been started.

The Harvey Knickerbockers formerly lived in Chelsea. Mr. Knickerbocker being a son of Mrs. Maynard Knickerbocker. He is a field engineer for the Philco Corporation and is being transferred to Alaska where he is to work on the company's government contract. He had to be in Palo Alto, Calif., this week to begin four weeks of special study before going to Alaska and because of the postponement of the operation, he was unable to be present Tuesday.

DEATHS

Mrs. John Thompson Was Widow of Former Dexter Leader Publisher

Mrs. Mary Louise Thompson of Dexter, widow of the late John O. Thompson, publisher of the Dexter Leader, died Friday morning at the age of 87. She and her husband, John O. Thompson, published the Dexter Leader for 40 years prior to his death.

Born March 24, 1871, in Chelsea, she was a daughter of Sidney and Cornelia Blinn Harrington and was married to Mr. Thompson Jan. 30, 1892.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. James (Louise) Day of Ann Arbor, two sons, Sidney of Lake Orion and John of Dexter; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. A son, Duane, died on May 12, 1930.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Keene Funeral Home in Dexter. The Rev. Robert MacDonald officiated. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Dexter.

Mrs. Nina Lighthall Former Chelsea Resident Dies at Ann Arbor Hospital

Mrs. Nina L. Lighthall of 1015 Vaughn street, Ann Arbor, died Tuesday, Aug. 12, at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following a brief illness. She was 73 years old.

Mrs. Lighthall was a life member of Olive Chapter No. 108, Order of Eastern Star, in Chelsea. She had resided in Ann Arbor the past 40 years.

Survivors are two brothers, Herman and George Giesel, both of Ann Arbor.

Funeral services took place at the Staff-Hindinger Funeral Home, Ann Arbor, at 2 p.m. Thursday and were followed in Oakwood cemetery, Saline.

Jamie W. Cameron Had Been Employed At Farband Camp

Jamie W. Cameron of 138 West Middle street died Friday at University hospital, Ann Arbor, following a long illness. He was 65 years old and had been employed as a caretaker at Farband Camp.

Born in Arkansas, Jan. 15, 1902, he was a son of Jason and Minnie East Cameron. He came to Michigan in 1936 and had lived at Detroit and Orionville before coming to Chelsea three years ago. He was married in Detroit, Nov. 10, 1948, to Arlene Robinson, who survives.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Higgenbotham Funeral home at Ridge, Ark., with burial following at New Hope cemetery, Denton, Ark. Arrangements here were made by the Burghardt Funeral Home.

Survivors in addition to his wife include three sons, Jason and Larry, both of Garden City, and Ernest, stationed with the Army in California; a daughter, Mrs. Wilma Lopp of Belleville; two step-children, Ralph Edwards of Garden City and Maxine Edwards at home; nine grandchildren; four brothers, Lynn, Paul, Velmer and Clare, and four sisters, Mrs. Vera Stonick, Mrs. Edna, Mrs. Clara Louella Johnston and Mrs. Clara Connoughton, all of Arkansas.

P. Albert Gerard Dies Saturday in Texas

Paul Albert Gerard, known to friends here as Bert Gerard, died Saturday following a heart attack at Corpus Christi, Texas, where he had made his home since 1956. He was a brother of Mrs. D. R. Hoppe and survivors include many cousins in the Chelsea area, other points in Michigan and in England and Paris, France.

He spent his boyhood in Chelsea, coming to the United States in 1881 from England where he was born at Leicester, June 2, 1876. He attended Chelsea schools and Cleary College, Ypsilanti, and became a bookkeeper at the former H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co. here.

He was a salesman for the Cluett, Peabody Co., in New Orleans, La.

In 1907 he was married to Minnie Watt Evans of Nacogdoches, Texas, and they made their home in Dallas, Texas, until 1931.

They moved to New York City, where they lived until October, 1956, when they went to Corpus Christi.

Survivors are his widow, Watt; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth May; a grandson, Robert David May; his sister here, Mrs. Hoppe; and the cousins.

Funeral services were held at Corpus Christi on Tuesday.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jones of Dearborn, were guests recently, of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darby.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benter of Detroit, spent Sunday here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Darby and Irene of Van Wert, Ohio, visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darby one day recently.

Floyd Rowe is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he underwent a hernia operation Tuesday.

Mrs. Bessie Mitchell and Mrs. Veri Stove of Munnich spent Tuesday evening here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elton K. Mushbach.

Easter Seal Camp Opens To 33 Area Crippled Children

"Plans are now complete for the second annual Easter Seal Camp being held August 18-19, at Patterson Lake, site of the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp," said Mrs. Vladimir Bibicoff, President of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

A total of 33 campers were selected to go to the camp Monday, Aug. 18. The campers are from Ann Arbor, 10; Willow Run, 6; Chelsea, 5; Ypsilanti, 4; Milan, 2; Dexter, 2; Manchester, 1; Saline, 1; and there are 2 campers from out of the county.

Children affected with a wide variety of disabling conditions such as muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, paralysis due to polio, burn contractures, gunshot wounds, scoliosis, deafness and birth injuries, are present at the camp.

Counselors have been selected from the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp and from Ransom School in Ypsilanti. The children are participating in water front activities, overnight camps, crafts, nature study and athletic events. In addition a "parents' day" will be held Sunday, Aug. 24, when parents will be invited to visit camp and see some of the activities their children have been participating in.

Expenses for the camp are being underwritten by the Washtenaw County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., the organization which annually conducts the "Easter Seal Sale" during the Easter season.

The organization also gives direct aid, in the form of prosthetic devices, wheel chairs, medical examinations and tuition for rehabilitative education.

It is governed by a board of directors composed of at least one member from every community in the county. Its sole means of support is the contributions received from individuals. Last year alone $8,000 was spent for purchase of equipment for handicapped persons and for medical care.

Small grains seeded in wider rows with heavy doses of fertilizer placed below and to the side looks like the best bet for top yields.

J. R. Guttay, soil scientist at Michigan State University, expressed that opinion before the American Society of Agronomy meeting at Lafayette, Ind., recently.

Guttay reported that his work showed that the same type and amount of fertilizer used in special placement studies will result in fertilizer injury to seedling when put in contact with the seed.

Row spacing tests showed little yield difference between rows 7, 9 and 11 inches apart. The 7-inch spacing is common. At 14 inches, yields were reduced. Also, seeding studies at 2, 4- and 6-pecks per acre showed that yields went up as seeding rate increased.

The 11-inch spacing looks good, according to Guttay, because it will allow room for seeding equipment designed to place plant food to the side and below the seed.

Guttay called for the development of an all-crop drill. He visualized one that will put fertilizer in the soil apart from the seed and that will allow different row spacing to fit the needs of different crops.

Visitors to the Michigan State Crops-Soils Field Day will see demonstrations on the effect of fertilizer placement on stands of wheat. The Field Day is Sept. 5 on the campus at East Lansing.

Frederick Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hoffman, arrived Thursday for a month's furlough after serving the past 18 months with the U. S. Army in Korea. He is to report at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Sept. 22.

Carl Benjamin is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was taken after suffering a heart attack at his home here early Saturday.

Intensive Patrol Planned for Labor Day Week-End

Motorists will face a real challenge on Michigan highways over the Labor Day holiday to reduce the death toll under the record law of 18 fatalities last year.

The death tolls are computed from 8 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, a period of 78 hours. Last year the average was one death every six hours. During the five years previous to then, a death average was one every three hours, the lowest being 14 in 1951 and the highest in 1952 and 1953 with 22.

The goal of the Michigan State Police is to have the lowest toll ever recorded.

Again an intensified patrol will be in effect from noon Friday, Aug. 29, to midnight Monday, Sept. 1. All pass days will be cancelled with more than 1,000 state police on duty. Traffic patrols will work 10 hour shifts, assisted by 129 National Guardsmen. Sheriffs will have 98 Guardsmen.

State Police will use marked, semi-marked and unmarked cars. Detectives will be on duty to relieve uniform men for patrols.

"We will do everything we can to cut the toll," said Commissioner Joseph Chiles, "but there will also be a test to just how great the improvement in driving has been. We can continue to show improvement if drivers remember to drive safely and courteously. Let's do just as well as we can."

Mr. and Mrs. Elton K. Mushbach attended the dedication of a new electric organ at the Fitchburg Methodist church Sunday and also attended a dinner given by the church's Women's Society of Christian Service after the service. The organ is a memorial gift in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Meers, presented by their daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harr of Munnich and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rank of Fitchburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Avery were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas the past week as they were enroute to spend the winter in Georgia.

Fair Program...

An added feature of Thursday's program is a square dance session with Conrad Elchorn as caller.

Every day of the fair offers special program features, beginning with Children's Day scheduled for Wednesday. The evening program will include a pet show and contests of all kinds. Prizes are being provided by business and professional men of the community.

Judging of all entries takes place Thursday, Sept. 4, with state judging scheduled in the morning and horse judging in the afternoon.

Friday afternoon, Sept. 5, there will be tractor operating contests with prizes in both junior and senior groups furnished by local oil distributors, and in the evening tractor pulling contests will be featured.

Saturday, all children may patronize rides on the midway at half price until 5 o'clock when a bicycle is to be given away by the Fair Board and the company who has the midway concession (Down River Amusement Co.).

Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the annual street parade takes place and at 3 p.m. there will be a special, enlarged horse show under the direction of Carroll Onaway, of the Up and Down Saddle club.

The Saturday night program will again feature the awarding of free door prizes given by the merchants of Chelsea and the awarding of a steer to be divided this year between two winners. The steer is a donation from Era Leaser of Dexter.

The Community Fair restaurant in the "Little Red School House" on the grounds will be operated throughout the fair under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Chaplin and Mrs. Walter Schrader, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Avery were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas the past week as they were enroute to spend the winter in Georgia.

Regulation Relating To The Public Exhibition of Poultry

By virtue of the authority provided by Act 181, Public Acts of 1919, as amended, the following rules and regulations are hereby established:

1. Feed and water containers provided for exhibition coops shall be new and properly cleaned.

2. Feed or water containers from which birds have eaten or drunk must be refilled so as not to contaminate the common supply of feed or water. Feed or water containers may not be removed from exhibition coops except for the purpose of cleaning.

3. Exhibition coops must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, both prior to and following each exhibition.

4. Exhibition coops must be so constructed and placed as to provide adequate light for proper inspection of poultry or evidence of transmissible diseases.

5. Litter for exhibition coops must be of clean material and renewed daily or oftener as needed.

6. Shipping crates used in shipment of birds by common carrier may not be used as exhibition coops. Shipping crates shall be cleaned and disinfected after birds have been removed for exhibition and before being used again.

March of Dimes Undertakes Task Of Conquering Many Other Diseases

The "March of Dimes" has gone out of business. However, the big organization which has been known for all these years as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is not disbanding.

As one might have suspected, once such a giant organization gets under way, with all its volunteers, publicity, salaries, and the good it does, it is not likely ever to be disbanded.

Along that line, President Basil O'Connor announced recently that the organization would go after several other diseases. O'Connor and the National Foundation people picked enough diseases so that if they kill one or two of them they will still have a reason for existence.

The National Foundation is now going out to lick all kinds of virus diseases, arthritis, diseases of the central nervous system, and the congenital diseases, commonly called "birth defects."

However, as also would be suspected, when the National Foundation begins to "take over" in these fields, they are running into some other well-planted health organizations which have been functioning over the years. For example, the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, which for years has been working against these diseases, charges that O'Connor should have joined his forces with that organization in order to utilize all they have done, and their medical and scientific resources, to carry on the advances already achieved.

This may be correct, too, but it should not prevent us or anyone else from wishing the National Foundation all the luck in the world in their new undertaking. They have an unequalled record behind them in conquering polio, and we have a hunch they may come up with some remarkable discoveries in these other fields which will be equally important to humanity.

Threat of Possible Drowning Is Real Danger During Summer Months

During the summer drowning is a greater threat to children than polio, pneumonia, heart disease, tuberculosis, and influenza combined. Approximately 7,000 people in the United States die each year by drowning.

Of those who die by drowning, it has been estimated by government officials that 90 per cent of them die needlessly. A great many of these are children who have not been taught to swim, or who have not been taught to respect water.

Among the men entering service in World War II, it was discovered that only one out of ten was a skillful swimmer. Five of the ten possessed only elementary skill, and four out of the ten couldn't swim a stroke. Among the general public the number of competent swimmers is, of course, even smaller than the ratio among servicemen.

Parents cannot emphasize too often to their children the need for safety while swimming. Here are some rules that may save a life: avoid deep water, never swim alone, never swim in unfamiliar water, don't be a show-off, stay on land when overheated or chilled, and try to keep calm when in trouble.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Experts in half a dozen different fields are preparing state government for its biggest reorganization challenge in years. Just how far Gov. Williams wants to exert his new and historic power—or, indeed, whether he can at all, is still in doubt.

The history of the executive reorganization plan is riddled with paradoxes and contradictions; its future with restrictions and perils. It works this way: Under the law passed last winter by the legislature, surprising everybody, the governor can propose reorganization plans for administrative agencies.

He must present them to the legislature within 30 days after the start of its next session. If the legislature or either house fails to veto them within another 60 days, they become law.

Williams promised at the outset, observers noted, that he would ask for help in planning his proposals from Republicans, Democrats, educators and anyone else with power or skill.

He appointed a special committee headed by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams of Pontiac. Other members are from Williams' present or former staff, educators friendly to his administration or steadfastly non-partisan.

The uncertainty whether to start with a major change or go slowly has already been eliminated.

The Adams group first recommended that proposals be studied to place all tax collections in one agency; merge or consolidate health functions; create an overall retirement board; consolidate agricultural activities.

Let the department of administration write checks to pay state bills rather than the auditor general.

All of these, in one form or another, have been before the legislature at least once, and all have been defeated.

Republicans feel it is a trifle presumptuous to bring them up again as Williams' ideas after members of their own party failed to support them in previous legislative sessions.

The commission said it would have the recommendations ready for Williams to offer to the legislature when it convenes for the 1959 session in January.

This, of course, is based on the certainty in Democratic minds that Williams will still be governor.

If he is defeated in his campaign for a sixth consecutive term, the planning job will have to be done all over again because it is rare for a Republican to take Democratic advice or research—regardless of the facts on which it is based.

Pressure for major changes in administrative functions is being generated by the Senate Committee on Waste.

The committee, headed by Sen.

tor L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains), is not part of the general scheme of reorganization, but already has started the ball rolling for changes.

He started with the State Police, demanding to know the cost per mile for patrols and other financial records upon which appropriations are, and might be, based.

Whether or not any changes are made on the surface, the setting is that the State Police will clamp an iron hand over any and all spending.

The committee's next project was the mental health department, which already was the subject of another investigation by a House committee.

All these checkups gave new impetus to the ages-old proposal to merge all health agencies.

The use of state cars is the committee's latest point of inquiry.

W. Miller, to provide the committee information of the number of state cars, their operating costs, gas and oil prices, and lists of drivers.

For years, there have arisen controversies over the use of state cars on week-ends, during the evenings from citizens seeing them parked at theaters, restaurants and other places of amusement. Investigations have come and gone, but there have been few changes in the system.

Lodge plans a meeting for a public hearing in late August or early September. In the meantime, he asked citizens to send him the license numbers of state-owned cars they believed being improperly used. His address is "Senate, Capitol Building, Lansing."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

My sermon this week is on buttermilk. I took this text on account of what happened to me in town last Saturday. I had me a meal at one of them public eating places and when they brung the buttermilk, it tasted like it was made of brown powder and churned.

I asked the lady about it and she said it was agin the law in most states now to serve the old fashioned buttermilk like we made in the churn. "It ain't healthy," she said. "It's got to be pasteurized."

Now I ask you, Mister Editor, ain't that a fine howdy-doe! It's legal in some places to sell beer but it ain't legal to sell churned buttermilk because it ain't healthy.

I reckon hat's why these old farmers around here die off when they get to be 85 or 90, they're drinking too much of that churned buttermilk. I knowed a preacher out this way once that used to drink a quart of the stuff at a meal, then get up and say he guessed he'd be stepping over to see brother Smith and the way he walk ten mile to brother Smith's house. But that churned buttermilk finally got him in the prime of his youth, about 86 he was when it happened.

When I was knee-high to a puddle duck we used to keep the buttermilk in the spring house and it wasn't fitten to drink unless you had to spoon off a frog or two from the top.

Of course, I reckon a feller could get some bootleg buttermilk in them big cities. He could give the waiter a wink and get some churned buttermilk if he'd take it off the premises to drink.

And this brings up the question of what they would do with a feller if they caught him driving under the influence of churned buttermilk. I can hear him now telling the Judge, "Listen, Your Honor, I just had a couple glasses, and so I me, it was pasteurized, and I drunk it on the premises."

And the Judge would give out the customary sentence: "Another one of them just two glasses fellers, huh? Lock him up, officer, and I hereby and herewith, under the authority granted me by this great sovereign state, order the churn confiscated and destroyed."

In another ten year, Mister Editor, it'll be illegal and unhealthy for a farmer to drink water from his own well out of a gourd. When you stop to take note of the things it's say to see why them tranquilizer pills is selling so good.

Well, Mister Editor, I got to knock off now and go hide my old lady's churn. I see a couple suspicious looking strangers coming down the road.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Dominant Desire

One day while I was in college, we had as a guest speaker in chapel a motherly sort of woman who talked to us about life and love and how to get along in the world.

The part of her message that I am thinking about today was her formula for obtaining anything you really want.

First of all you need to decide exactly which object you most desire, or what event you would like to have happen within the next 30 days. Form a clear picture of it in your mind.

Then you must lie awake in bed from 11:15 to midnight for three consecutive nights. This 45-minute period is to be divided into three equal parts. During the first 15 minutes, you are to wish for the thing you have in mind. During the second 15 minutes, you are to assure yourself that you can have it. During the final 15 minutes, you are to imagine that you have already received it and are enjoying the possession of it.

Then, she said, within thirty days you will receive it.

There were a couple of provisos connected with her formula. The first was that you should do your midnight wishing during the time of the month when the moon was full. I recall that she spoke to us during the week of the full moon, and I thought to myself at the time that she probably said this so we'd get busy and do it before we forgot about it.

Her second proviso was in the nature of a warning: "Don't wish for anything unless you are sure you really want it, because you might get it."

That is to say, before you ask for a sports car, be sure that a sports car is what you want. Perhaps what you really want is to make a good impression on your girl friend. If that is the case, you'd be wise to wish for a deeper friendship instead of a flashier automobile.

If you can't think of any one thing in your life which you could reasonably hope to have changed within 30 days, you may become more contented with things as they are.

You're wondering whether I tried the plan. Yes, I wished for three things, and within the month I received two of them. Others who have tried the plan have reported it to be more than 50 per cent "successful." At least, there's no harm in trying it.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Aug. 21, 1924—

At an auction sale of the household goods of the late Kathryn Hooker, a clock of pioneer days was bought by Mrs. Guy Hales, a descendant of Elisha Congdon, one of the founders of Chelsea who originally donated the clock to the railroad station built here in 1850.

Ferment 80 feet wide, from the DTR to M-17, with such gutter and boulevard lights the entire distance was assured when the Village Council at its meeting Monday, passed a resolution to that effect.

Purchased of Imperial Bearing Co. of Detroit, by Hoover Ball & Bearing Co. of Ann Arbor, provisions to be a boost for Chelsea as well since it will result in reopening of the Chelsea Ball plant.

Dollar Days will be held in Chelsea, Saturday and Monday, Aug. 23 and 25. Typical bargains: one box quality face powder, one box stationery and three cake tins—each for $1.00; 3 cans sardines, 3 large cans tomatoes and 1 can sweet corn, $1.00; 1 lb. coffee, 1 lb. baking powder and four rolls toilet tissue, $1.00.

Specialists Wanted Most in Hiring College Graduates

East Lansing—The past year's "tight" labor market generally was harder on liberal arts graduates than on students who specialized in certain fields, according to John R. Kinney, director of Michigan State University's Placement Bureau.

"Employees who come to the university seeking new employment for their firms seem to be governed by a rule of thumb which might read: 'If you can't get the specialist you want, you take another student whom you can train,'" the placement director said.

"When the labor market tightens as it did last year," he added, "you can look for the companies to turn to the specialists. Among the graduates most sought are those majoring in engineering, science, education and business. The liberal arts graduate has been much more in demand in the years since World War II. Kinney observed, particularly for sales work and management training programs.

The placement director predicts a gradual upswing during the next year "with demand for students heavier at all levels."

Grades are a big factor when it comes time for the student to look for a job, Kinney indicated. "When there is a manpower surplus," he said, "the personnel man can weed out the crop first on the basis of grades—it is the easiest and most convenient method for him."

In seeking sales personnel, the interviewers look for extracurricular activities—evidence of the ability to meet and deal with people. If grades are good, so much the better.

Accident studies show that the highest percentage of farm accidents occur during late morning and mid-afternoon hours. Take a "break" at those times to cut accident chances.

"Charging Moose Case"
Solved by Finding Of Porcupine Quills

Lansing—Some new light was cast recently on Michigan's "Case of the Charging Moose."

A young hunter killed a cow moose last November during deer season in Mackinac county, north of Charlevoix. Moose are protected throughout the year in Michigan, so the hunter reported the kill to authorities, explaining that he had fired in self defense when the animal charged at him.

Examination of the moose skull at the Conservation Department's Cusino wildlife experiment station revealed several porcupine quills lodged in the animal's jaw.

Game workers said the moose, probably when young, apparently had sniffed—at a porcupine and received a face-full of quills. The quills had worked into the jawbone, producing numerous holes.

Pain from the festering quills must have been severe, perhaps extreme enough to cause the irritated moose to charge when encountered by the deer hunter.

Davy Jones is the popular name of sailors for an evil sea spirit or the devil generally.

State Fair To Seek Longest Pony Tail, Biggest Pie Eater

There will be a Pie Eating and Pony Tail contest at the Michigan State Fair on Children's Day, Tuesday, Sept. 2.

This was announced by Donald L. Swanson, general manager, who said that because of the expected interest in these contests the events will be held in front of the grandstand to provide seats for the spectators.

The program, free of charge, will begin at 10:30 a.m. and will be completed in time for the regular afternoon grandstand entertainment.

There will be two age groups in each contest—6 through 9, and 10 through 14. Cash prizes of $5, $4, $3, $2 and $1 in addition to ribbons, will go to the first five places of each contest.

The colorful blueberry pie eating contest will be judged on the amount of pie eaten in three minutes without the use of the hands.

The longest pony tail will be measured from the back of the head. The hair will be drawn through a ring and measured from that point. Officials explain that the winner will be judged by length of hair only, and ask that hair decorations be omitted or limited to the front of the head. Would-be contestants should write to Children's Contest Director, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3. They must state their name, age, address, telephone number and the contest they wish to enter.

The State Fair opens Friday, Aug. 29 and runs through Sunday, Sept. 7.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Traffic Stopper

Every so often I see little things that prove that folks really are pretty wonderful.

Take last Saturday. I was downtown when I saw a middle-aged woman about to cross a busy street. Just as she started, the light changed, and she hurried back to the curb. But the big moving van that was first in the long line of cars had not moved.

"You cross first," the driver of the van yelled. "But you're holding up traffic," the woman said. "Lady," replied the driver with a good-natured wink, "let's just say you're so good looking you're stopping traffic!"

From where I sit, something like that makes the "doer" and the "receiver" both feel mighty good. It's like the friendly feeling you get when your hostess goes out of her way to serve you beer—even though she doesn't drink it herself. That's pretty wonderful, too!

Washington Report

By Senator Charles E. Potter
The latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan.

EXTORTION, murder and theft by certain union bosses, as revealed by the Senate rackets committee for almost two years, have shocked the nation. The sordid tale, culminating recently in the horrible death by burning of a teamster thug, has sparked a number of letters from rank-and-file union members, who have appealed to me for legislative safeguards against the criminal elements in their midst.

There is considerable doubt whether a protective law will be enacted this year. The extremely moderate labor bill, passed almost unanimously by the Senate, has been bottled up in the House. In my view, Congress has a mandate to act. It is failing a solemn duty and flouting public opinion if it leaves Washington without protecting union members from these offenses.

A HIGHLY-PLACED Commerce Department official recently confessed in public that petroleum and steel products are leaking into Soviet bloc countries. I am told that aviation gas has gone into Prague, soft sheet steel into the USSR itself, bunker fuel to Russian ships and lubricating oil for farm implements elsewhere behind the iron curtain. If this is so, it is in direct defiance of the Battle Act. In the best interests of the United States, no such strategic items—even in the smallest quantity—should be permitted to squeak through. Steel and oil, as is well known, have a war potential. I am looking into the matter now and if the facts justify it, will recommend a Congressional investigation. I would want to know first if steel or oil is slipping through our restrictive barriers; second, to what extent these violations are occurring; and third, whether we should stiffen penalties for the lawbreakers.

ANOTHER 11,000 Michigan farm families are receiving rural mail service under an extension ordered by the Post Office early this month. For some time I have been urging the Postmaster General to include additional families. After some study, he ordered an expansion touching 300,000 rural homes throughout the United States. Back in 1953, four families to the square mile were required before extensions were authorized. This was liberalized to three, and the latest action cuts it to two families per mile.

ALAN DUTTON, blonde, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dutton of 590 Galletta Lake road, Jackson, is one of 31 outstanding young people visiting the nation's Capital for the Seventh Annual National Safe Driving Teen Age Road-e-o. Alan represents the State of Michigan in this worthy contest to build good driving habits among young people and incidentally, an outstanding Michigan firm, the Chrysler Corporation, is a principal Road-e-o sponsor.

UNION CITY was so named because the Coldwater and St. Joseph rivers unite at this point. In abolitionist days Union City was a station on the underground railroad.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 17—The Oscar Stierle farm on Fletcher road proved difficult to identify, principally because the front of the house is obscured by trees. The photograph, 17th in the

Oscar Stierles Have Lived On 'Mystery Farm' Since '31

Mystery Farm No. 17 proved to be another of the more difficult ones to identify in the current series of farm photographs being published each week in The Chelsea Standard. Partly responsible for the difficulty is the fact that the front of the house was obscured by trees. It is the Oscar Stierle farm at 876 Fletcher road. First to call in the correct identification was Alvin Pommeroy, a neighbor of the Stierles, who incidentally, was the realtor who sold them the farm in January, 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. Stierle and their son, William, moved from Ann Arbor to the Fletcher road farm in June, 1931, after doing extensive remodeling of the house. They also built the garage on the place.

They bought the farm from Frank McMillan, a member of the McMillan family who had been owners of the farm since 1853. Twenty-five acres of the 100-acre farm is in Section 28 of Lima township on Jerusalem road and the remainder, on which the house and other buildings are located, is in Section 20 on Fletcher road. John Bingham was listed as the first owner of the part in Section 29, while John Hartford is the first owner named for the part of the farm which is in Section 20. Deeds from the U. S. Government were registered for the two sections in 1831 and 1833, respectively. Originally 320 acres in size, parts of the farm were sold during the intervening years when owners' names included Lewis Boyd, Frederick Sheldon, Elijah Kilham, Noah Porter and Miles Boyd. The latter sold the farm to Gardner and Charles McMillan in 1853. Gardner was the father of Frank McMillan from whom the Stierles bought the place.

At Gardner's death, his son and two daughters inherited the farm. The daughters, Mrs. Ruby McMillan Lillibridge and Mrs. Helen McMillan Pyle, sold their share to their brother, Frank. In 1928 McMillan sold 40 acres to Henry Dancer and the 40 acres is now connected with the Alfred Lindauer farm.

McMillan remained on the farm for a short time after the Stierles purchased it and after he moved they worked at remodeling the house while they continued to live in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Stierle is the former Hilda Greve of Ann Arbor. Mr. Stierle and his son operate the farm on Fletcher road and another farm they own on Trinkle road. They have Holstein cattle, approximately 70 sheep, some pigs and chickens and do general farming.

Mrs. Stierle's nephew's son, Clifford Greve of Arlington, Va., has spent summers on the farm with them for several years past. Among those who correctly identified the farm are Armin Kuhl, David Pastor, Mrs. Rita Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eschbach and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Herrst.

National Outlook

ting payments, and what the state welfare payments to individuals shall be.

The new Social Security bill provides for federal grants-in-aid to state welfare programs to be increased by an estimated $288 million next year, and probably more in the years which follow. These latter expenditures, incidentally, are derived from general funds of government and not from social security funds and, therefore, will add to the growing annual federal deficit.

Arthur Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, was the first witness to appear before the Senate Finance Committee. He, naturally, presented the Administration's thinking, which is that the changes in social security—both benefits and taxes—are desirable and should be enacted. He said, however, that on the public assistance issue, the Administration believed the situation to be quite different. Not because present payments to beneficiaries of state welfare are deemed inadequate but because the Administration believes the proportion provided by the Federal Government should be reduced and not increased as provided for in the bill.

It was the Secretary's recommendation that the public assistance part of the bill be deleted, and under questioning he intimated that if this section is permitted to remain the President might conceivably veto the whole bill. The Secretary was followed on the stand by two AFL-CIO representatives, both of whom expressed the opinion the bill is all to the good, except that it does not go far enough in the way of increasing benefits. Several other witnesses took the same position.

What are the real facts? On the basis of about an 8 per cent increase in the cost of living since the last hike in social security benefits, it may even be possible to develop an argument in defense of an increase. On the other hand, it must be remembered the social security system is currently operating at a deficit—its outlay is greater than its revenues.

Existence of this deficit is one of the reasons for increasing OASI taxation. The estimated tax increase would be $1.8 billion more than 1957. This, it is alleged, will not only eliminate the deficit but will take care of the increased benefits, too. There is room for grave doubt it would do so.

The possible effect of such a tax increase on prices. About half of the total would be paid by employers. To them it means an increase in the cost of production. Today's profits are not adequate to absorb such an increase in cost. There would be a strong tendency in many instances, a necessity—to boost prices.

The Federal-state welfare through grants-in-aid program would add to the federal deficit. Granted, $288 million is a small fraction of a currently estimated $12 billion deficit. But, a small fraction will have an effect, and in this instance it is on the side of inflation.

This is not a matter of believing or not believing in social security. To slash such an increase in OASI must insist the system be operated on a sound basis and not simply result in a paying-out of dollars which have a constantly declining purchasing power. For that reason everyone, including beneficiaries, would be better off if we skipped this election-year rise in social security and Federal-state welfare through grants-in-aid increases.
