Two-Day Event Offers Bargains In Everything

"Fall Dollar Days" tomorrow and Saturday are the occasion for major bargains in all Chelsea stores. Groceries, meats, household furnishings and appliances, clothing for men, women and children—anything needed by the family, may be found on sale at bargain prices in stores of the community.

Sponsored by the retail business committee of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, the sales event was planned for early fall when fall and winter buying is at its peak. Seasonable items, bargained at the beginning of the season instead of as end-of-the-season close-outs, are being offered by all merchants in order to make the sales event truly outstanding.

Shoppers are advised to check the advertisements in this issue of The Standard before doing their customary week-end shopping.

Those who have been planning for new household furnishings or appliances will do well to take advantage of the prices specially reduced for the big sales event.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) but will close at the customary 6 p.m. Saturday.

Effective at once, the Chelsea village dump on the Pritchard property on Old Chelsea-Manchester road is closed. The lease has long since expired but dumping had continued while the Village Council investigated possible sites for a new location.

In a letter from Mrs. William Pritchard, read at Tuesday's Village Council meeting, she announced her intention to close the dump at once.

Also presented at Tuesday's meeting was a petition requesting removal of parking meters in the downtown area. The petition was referred to committee.

Mrs. E. J. Bahnmiller fell early Thursday morning at her home on East Middle street and broke her leg near the hip. She is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Bulldogs Lose To Lincoln for First Defeat

Will Battle Milan's Big Reds Friday for Kiwanis Trophy

Last Friday the Chelsea high gridder went down to their first defeat of the season by a score of 27-6.

It was a game which saw Lincoln do everything right while the Bulldogs had one of those evenings when nothing went right.

Five Bulldog fumbles, plus two fine catches of TD passes by Lincoln pass receivers, played a big part in the Bulldog defeat.

Lincoln scored first midway in the first quarter when Halback Richard Valentine threw a 25-yard TD pass to End George Hicks. Lincoln's attempted conversion kick was blocked by the Chelsea line.

Midway in the second quarter Lincoln marched 85 yards as Valentine and the other Lincoln half-back, George Mattingly, alternated punting off-tackle. Mattingly scored from the 2-yard line. Bill Sparrow kicked the extra point and the score at half-time was Lincoln 18, Chelsea 0.

Lincoln took the second-half kickoff and moved for the Bulldog 14 for a first down. But the Chelsea defense stiffened and then on third down, Lincoln's Bill Sparrow passed to Valentine in the Chelsea end zone. Valentine made a remarkable catch as he was covered by two Chelsea defenders. Sparrow's conversion was good.

After taking the kick-off, Chelsea moved out to their own 35 where the Bulldogs fumbled, with Lincoln recovering. Five plays later Valentine scored from the 4. Sparrow again kicked the extra point.

Early in the fourth quarter the Bulldogs finally got their offense rolling and moved to the Lincoln 15 before another fumble stopped them.

A few minutes later, Chelsea finally hit the scoreboard as Captain Loren Keizer intercepted a Lincoln pass on the Lincoln 25 and aided by Gus Steger's key block, returned it all the way for a TD. Keizer's attempted place kick for the extra point was blocked.

A few minutes later the game ended with Lincoln winning, 27-6. This week the Bulldogs take on Milan's Big Reds in a Homecoming game which will feature the annual battle for the Kiwanis trophy.

The Bulldogs have retained possession of the trophy ever since its origination five years ago. Milan's Big Reds are undefeated in three games this fall. Last Friday they polished off Saline, 47-18. Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

READY FOR HOMECOMING—Jon Harris, the group. Harris is drum major of the marching band. Twirling exhibitions have been given at home football games and the group will play a prominent part in the Homecoming activities tomorrow night.

Harvest Festival Held Friday at Methodist Home

The annual Harvest Home Festival open house at the Methodist Home, planned and carried out by the Chelsea Home Friends of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church, was held Friday afternoon. Approximately 300 people attended, coming by chartered bus and by automobile.

A program was given in the Home chapel. This included readings by Mrs. William Mercer of Detroit; talks by Bishop Marshall Reed and the Rev. Douglas Parker, chairman of the Methodist Home Board of Managers and Trustees of the Detroit Conference; and numbers by the Methodist Home choir.

Tea was served in the dining room and those who wished to tour the Home were given an opportunity to do so.

At a booth set up for the occasion, quilts, fancy work and aprons made by Home residents found ready sale.

John J. Wellitz is among the 20 representatives of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's Jackson office, who attended the annual business meeting and luncheon of the company's Veterans Association at the Hotel Statler, Detroit, Wednesday. Membership in the association is made up of persons employed by the company for at least 20 years.

Chelsea State Bank is inviting all Chelsea residents to visit the special train and see such features as: the one-room schoolhouse of the 19th century; Thomas Edison's school built originally by McGuffey Readers; original penmanship of Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Andrew Jackson and other famous persons; Henry Ford's school desk; the pioneer log-cabin schoolroom; split-log benches; birch and whips; the evolution of educational equipment; and tomorrow's classroom.

The exhibit will be open Wednesday from 12 noon until 7 p.m. and Thursday through Sunday hours will be 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. The special cars will be located at the New York Central Depot in Ann Arbor and will be open to the public at all times, free of charge.

In striking contrast, the second car exhibits five schoolrooms of today. The most modern classroom architecture, equipment, and classroom models will be exhibited in the second car.

The classrooms have been designed by special award-winners of the American Institute of Architects in co-operation with the Encyclopedia Americana.

Polio Shots Available to All Regardless of Ability To Pay

"Polio vaccine made available to the health department by an anonymous donor is available for administration to children under 10 years of age whose parents are unable to pay for the vaccine," according to Dr. Otto K. Engleke, Washtenaw County Health Officer.

"Members of the Washtenaw County Medical Society have agreed that no child shall be denied the three-shot series of vaccine in cases where his parents are unable to pay the cost of administration. All that is necessary is that the parents explain their situation to their family doctor," he continued.

"The severity of the outbreak in Wayne county and in Detroit seems to be decreasing and we do not expect to see any serious outbreak in this county this year," Dr. Engleke said.

"Much of the credit for this is due to the excellent co-operation of the practicing physicians in this county who have, in their own offices, immunized between 80 and 90 per cent of the children under 17 years of age at very low or no cost," he said.

"This safety from a major outbreak will not remain true unless we keep our children completely immunized," he added. The initial series of three injections should be started now to assure optimum protection by 1959.

Attention is being focussed on the initial series or the first three injections since there is no scientific proof of the benefit of additional injections. The vaccine, presently being distributed by the health department as the result of a gift from a private source, is designated for use only in giving the first three injections to children of parents who can not otherwise secure the vaccine.

Christmas Idea Exhibit By Extension Club Scheduled Tuesday

Next Tuesday, Oct. 14, the Co-Operative Extension Service will hold its annual Christmas Idea open house in Room 1 in the Washtenaw County Building at Ann Arbor. Room 1 is in the basement of the building.

All Extension club members are eligible to exhibit their Christmas ideas. The exhibits must be in place by 9 a.m.

Hours for the open house are 9:30-11:30 a.m.; 1:30-3:30 p.m.; and 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The annual "Christmas Idea" exhibit is open to the public. The County Building parking lot will be open for the convenience of those who attend.

Color Expected To Be at Its Best This Week-End

Chelsea Jaycees have completed plans for the chicken barbecue to be held Sunday at Pierce Park. The barbecue is customarily held in October to coincide with the annual Chelsea area color tour, begun here four years ago under sponsorship of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

Conditions this week-end appear to be ideal for touring the area since leaves are rapidly turning to rich colors following recent frosts.

The Jaycees' chicken barbecue has been widely publicized as a place where Chelsea area people may get their Sunday dinner and where visitors may purchase a meal before or after touring the area. Arrangements for rapid serving have been perfected through experience gained at former barbecue projects.

Serving is scheduled to begin at 12 o'clock noon and continue through the afternoon. People may eat their dinner at the park, or, if they wish, may pick up a carry-out dinner at the park and eat it at one of the numerous picnic areas plainly marked along the color tour routes.

Chamber of Commerce committees have put up direction signs along the two color tour routes marked out in the area, both beginning and ending at Main and Middle streets.

Tour No. 1 and No. 2 follow the same route north out of Chelsea. By way of Werker road and Stoffer road, both routes lead to Territorial road where Tour No. 1 heads east to Town Hall road and Silver Hill road to Patterson Lake road; west to Hankerd road; south on Hankerd road to North Lake road and then back to Territorial road.

Tour No. 1 may be concluded at this point by turning east to Stoffer road and then south to the starting point in Chelsea.

However, if both tours are to be taken, the route leads west on Territorial road into the Waterloo area following a plainly marked route along Sugar Loaf Lake road, McClure road, Cavanaugh Lake road and the return to Chelsea from the west.

Theft Reported At Farband Camp

An outboard motor valued at $100 and a combination electric heater and fan were stolen the past week-end from a locked cabin at Farband Camp on Waterloo road, according to sheriff's deputies' reports.

Entry to the cabin was made by breaking the glass in the front

HANDBOOK FOR STUDENT DRIVERS
Robert M. Taylor (left) Chelsea High school driver training instructor, is shown in the above photograph with Alfred D. Mayer, Chelsea insurance agency owner, who presented Taylor with the booklet prepared especially for students in high school driver training classes. The booklet, printed for the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, was purchased by the Mayer Agency for free distribution to the students who will be taking driver training this semester and next. They give valuable pointers on learning how to drive with the highest degree of safety and also give advice on the types of insurance available, the type required by state law and the types which provide maximum coverage. "Understanding Automobile Insurance" is the title given the booklet.

Chelsea State Bank is inviting all Chelsea residents to visit the special train and see such features as: the one-room schoolhouse of the 19th century; Thomas Edison's school built originally by McGuffey Readers; original penmanship of Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Andrew Jackson and other famous persons; Henry Ford's school desk; the pioneer log-cabin schoolroom; split-log benches; birch and whips; the evolution of educational equipment; and tomorrow's classroom.

Soil Bank Deadline Explained

The Oct. 10 deadline as previously announced applies to the application filed by the farmer requesting establishment of soil bank payment rate for his farm. After the farmer receives his maximum payment rate notice, he has until Oct. 24 to file a complete application for a contract for either a part or all of the eligible land on the farm.

Interpretation of non-diversion land has been misunderstood. The first consideration must be is this acre of land eligible? Diversion and non-diversion lands apply only to those acres which are eligible for soil bank.

For an acre of land to be eligible for soil bank it must meet the following requirements:

(1) Any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in a regular crop rotation during the year immediately before the first year of a Conservation Reserve Contract.

(2) Land from which tame hay was harvested for hay or silage in either of the two years immediately before the first year of a contract. Tame hay is defined as a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established for hay by land preparation and seeding.

The non-diversion rate of 50 per cent of the flat rate applies only to those acres already in hay, pasture, etc. that meet the above land eligibility requirements. This does not include permanent pastures, swamp land, woods, etc.

In making the decision as to put the whole farm or just a portion of the farm in soil bank a farmer should consider the following provisions:

The maximum farm payment rate for all eligible land is placed in the reserve for five years, or more will be 10 per cent higher than the diversion (or regular) rate. The higher rate will be applicable for each eligible acre; as a result there will be only one rate for the farm.

If only a portion of the eligible land is put into conservation reserve, those acres of non-diversion land may be equal to or less than acres of diversion land. In the case where all eligible acres are put into conservation reserve, this rule does not apply.

Junior Band Preparing for Grid Show

Junior Band members are busy practicing their marching in preparation for their part in the half-time show for the football game next week, on Friday, Oct. 17. They will present the show jointly with the Senior Band.

The Grade School Bands have had their initial tryouts and are now drilling on marching fundamentals at both the North and South schools. Robert Brooks and Raymond Seitz possess first chairs in the cornet section, while Carol Rodden and Judith Aronson are first chair players in the alto sax sections. Kinyon Gorton and Janet Hafner were first chair winners in the clarinet sections, and Timmy Groves and Mike Kuschmaul in the trombone sections. Flute first chairs are Carolyn Wilkerson and Sandra Johnson. All members are in the process of memorizing a march to be used in their marching.

Last Saturday nine members of the Senior Band travelled to Saline High school to take part in the first rehearsal of the Michigan Youth Band under the direction of Arthur Katterjohn. Those making the trip are Carol Camarero, Sherry Frisinger, Judith Woolley, Judith Groves, Ronald Papadort, Eddie Laubon, Charles Cameron, David Talbot and Ronald Coleman. The band meets every other Saturday and is a project of the University of Michigan Extension Service.

The Youth Band is made up of advanced students from high school bands of southeastern Michigan. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for advanced band students to perform music of unusually difficult and worth-while nature. The group presents several concerts each year in Ann Arbor and Saline.

Arrangements are being made to bring in graduate students from the University of Michigan's School of Music to give private lessons to these members of the state local bands who desire them. Detailed information is being sent home this week with students.

Starlings Frightened Away by Recording Of Wounded Bird

Starlings which have plagued the East Summit street neighborhood by roosting in the trees in large numbers, were frightened away as a result of the ingenuity of one of the residents, and at last reports had not returned.

Having heard that the noise of a wounded bird would turn the birds away, Vern made such a recording and played it over and over on a record player set at high volume.

Thursday night the birds had already gone to roost when he first played the recording. Large numbers of birds left the area immediately.

Friday night the recording was played at the time the birds normally arrived for the night and the starlings left at once. None were seen or heard Saturday night or since.

(Ed. Note: Vern may have a hit record here.)

Leaky Oil Burner Starts Minor Blaze

At 2:10 a.m. Sunday, the Chelsea Fire Department responded to an alarm called in from the James Augustus home at 18345 Garvey road. The property is part of the Mabel Hoppe Estate.

Because the person who called in the alarm said "an oil burner exploded" the fire siren was sounded at once. Customarily, the siren is not used for minor fires at night.

When firemen arrived on the scene they found that oil had leaked on the floor around an oil burner and caught fire, setting fire to a mattress. Minor damage resulted.

Mrs. Elba Gage spent Wednesday afternoon at the Thursday in Flint as the guest of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and daughter, Sharon.

Joann Lindemann,
Eugene Luckhardt
Wed in Dexter

St. Andrew's United Church of Christ was the setting for the double-ring, candlelight ceremony that united Joann M. Lindemann and Eugene M. Luckhardt in marriage on Oct. 4. The Rev. M. Donald Eaton and the Rev. Herbert H. Schow, Latimer, Ia., officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lindemann of Dexter. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Luckhardt of Saline. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of embroidered net featuring a bouffant skirt with a brush train. The gown was styled with a portrait neckline, accented with rose medallions, and had fitted, tapered, long sleeves. Her finger-ring, imported silk illusion veil was held in place by a tarsi of pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Arlene Lesser, cousin of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Her street-length dress was of blue satin with pleated bands across the front and having a deep V-neckline front and back.

Carrying chrysanthemums in her small white basket, and dressed in light blue nylon, Jean Ann Lindemann, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Lawrence Luckhardt of Saline, acted as best man for his brother.

Guests were seated by Norman Luckhardt of Ann Arbor, brother of the bridegroom, and Dale Lindemann of Dexter, brother of the bride.

Saturday Morning

In the presence of their immediate families, Mrs. Kathleen Hatt and Leon Chapman were married at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Lee Laige officiating.

For her wedding the bride wore a street-length dress of green nylon lace over lighter green taffeta. The lighter shade was repeated in a cummerbund and side skirt panel. Her hat and shoes were of matching shades of green and her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

The couple's attendants were Mrs. Ralph Klingler of Washington street, and Edward Honeck of Concord.

Mrs. Klingler's ensemble included a street-length jacket dress of blue lace over light blue taffeta; a blue feathered hat, and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nilsen, friends of the couple, entertained at a breakfast and reception at their home following the ceremony. Centering the table was a bride's cake topped with miniature figures of a bride and bridegroom. The figure representing the bride was decorated to represent a replica of the bride's wedding outfit.

The couple left, following the reception, for a week's stay in northern Michigan. The bride's traveling outfit was a two-piece knit suit in cocoa brown with matching accessories and the corsage she had worn for the wedding.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. George Poter, is a graduate of Cheary College, Ypsilanti, and is employed in the Co-Operative Extension Service office in the County Building at Ann Arbor.

Mr. Chapman is employed at Market Brothers Hardware at 625 North Main street.

The bride was honored and presented with a gift Thursday by fellow employees at the County Building. A gift was also presented to the couple by the Chelsea Community Farm Bureau group and on Sept. 20 Mrs. Evelyn Van Riper and Mrs. Walter Wolfgram entertained at a party at the home of Mrs. Van Riper.

Child Study Club Conference Delegates Hear Plea for 'Better Education for All'

Delegates of four Chelsea area child study clubs who attended the annual Michigan Child Study Association Conference at Michigan State University, heard a plea for "better education for all" by Dr. Ernest O. Melby, MSU College of Education, who presented the theme of the conference.

Dr. Melby, who is director of the Michigan Child Study Association, said that the present educational system is perfect, but it is not being used properly. "Do not throw the baby out with the bath," he said.

Chelsea delegates at the state meeting included Mrs. Billy Robert and Mrs. Robert Elise of Suburban Mothers Club; Mrs. Henry M. and Mrs. Alan Conklin of the Kinder Klub group; Mrs. David Strider, Mrs. Duane Weiss and Mrs. Wilbur Werner of the Modern Mothers Club; and Mrs. Thomas E. and Mrs. Richard Kern of the Chelsea Child Study Club.

Dr. Melby urged the 450 child study club leaders at the 1958 conference to stand up and be counted in favor of education for all, respect of the individual and the present educational method.

The major problem facing education today, he said, "is that we don't think education is important, and until we do it will never reach its greatest potential."

Dr. Melby also challenged the women to encourage teaching as a real profession. "We have a teacher shortage today because people do not believe that the teaching profession is important." He continued, "Youths more than anything want to be respected in their community, and we must act to give teachers the recognition they deserve."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Dad Knows His 'A-Bee-C's'

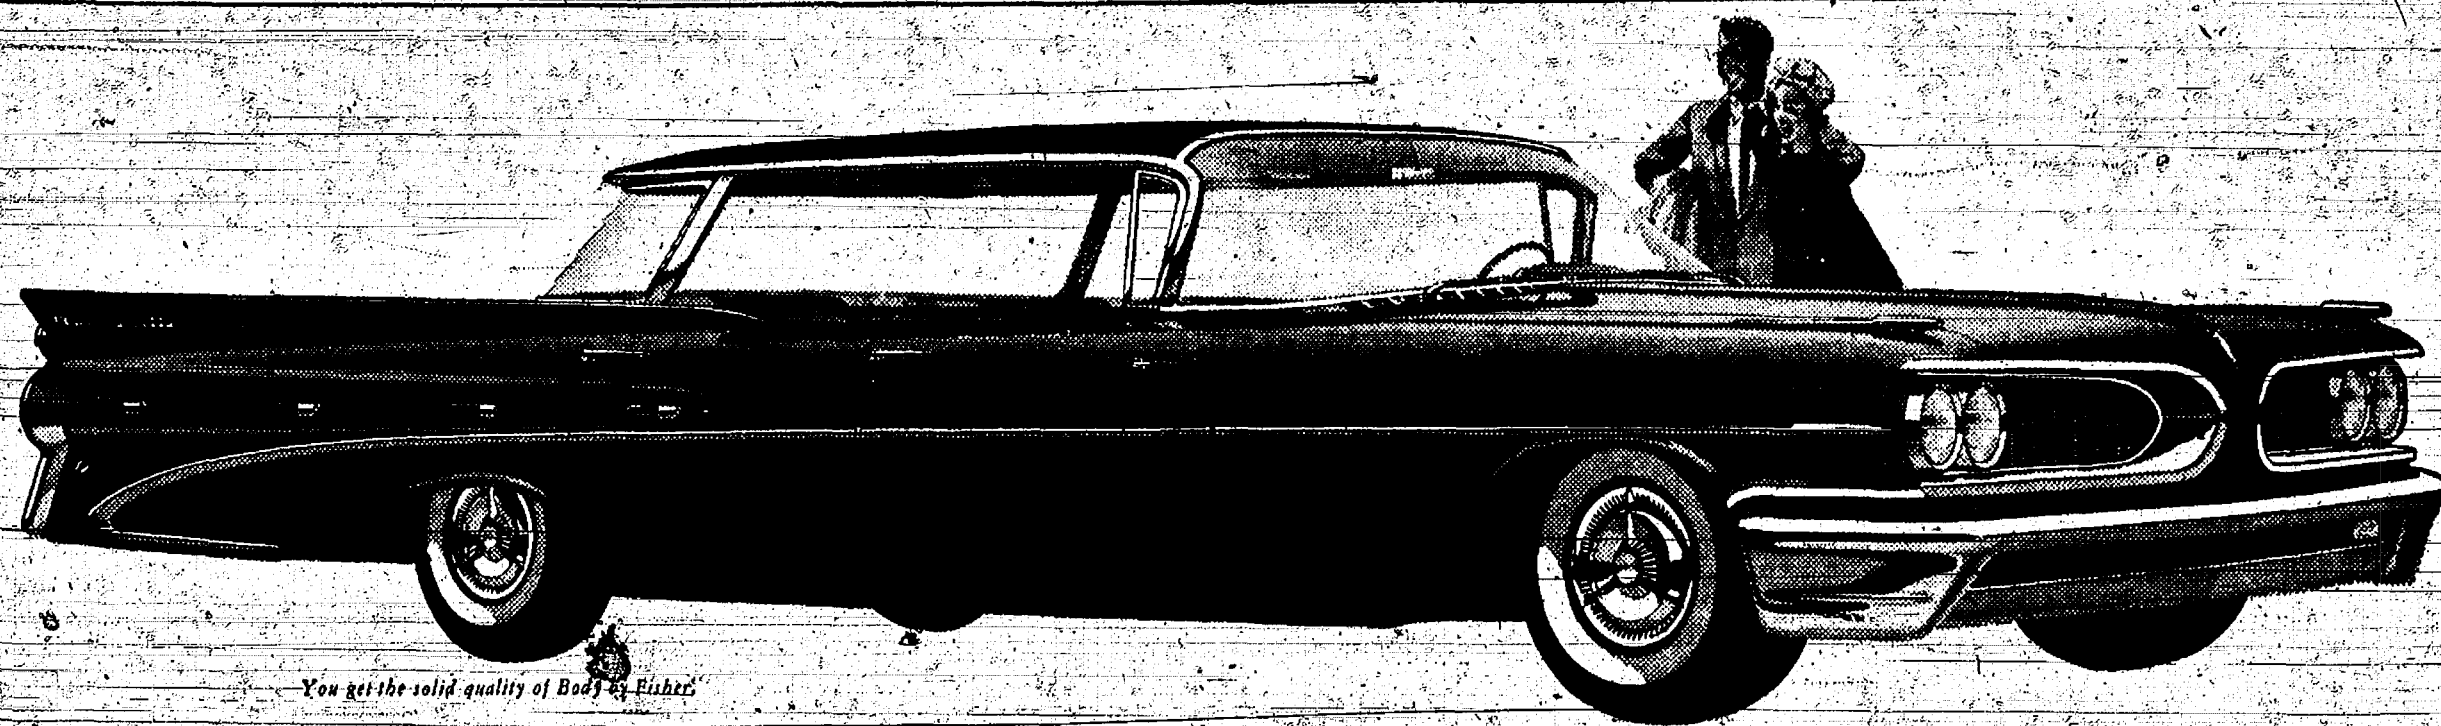

Quite a "to do" on Main Street yesterday—lucky that Dad Blake was on the scene. Seems a swarm of bees appeared from some place and hovered low over the sidewalk between the bank and Post Office. Everybody got sort of panicky. Then Dad appeared... He borrowed a woman's purse-mirror and flashed a beam of sunlight into the swarm. Then he swung the beam slowly across the street into the caves of Allen's warehouse. Right! The bees followed.

the light and roosted there. From where I sit, every problem needs just one good solution. And it occurs to me that in living with our neighbors, our Founding Fathers gave us the right idea. It's called "tolerance." In practice it means that your choice of tea or buttermilk should be as honored as my preference for a glass of beer. Makes for a "hive" of good neighbors.

FOUR ENORMOUS SPRINGS, weighing a total of approximately one ton were shipped from the Chelsea spring company here on Thursday of last week. The springs were manufactured at the local plant as a routine production order for the City of Detroit. Carl Schwieger, production superintendent, said he had no idea of the eventual purpose of these particular springs but they were similar to those manufactured here for the huge hangar doors at Willow Run Airport some years ago. Schwieger said he believed the Chelsea plant is the only one in the country equipped to handle such a production order on springs. The spring wire on the four big springs is approximately one-half inch thick. After coiling, the huge springs went through the plant's heat treat ovens under the direction of Edward Blacklaw (left), heat treat supervisor. When the above photograph was taken on the loading platform at the plant, one of the springs was already loaded on a truck for transportation to Detroit. Handling the loading operation was Hugh Gaddis, right, shipping room supervisor. The Chelsea plant is the Spring Division of the Rockwell-Standard Corp. Lowell Daylison is general plant manager.

Throughout the Archdiocese of Detroit, including all of Washtenaw county, a census of all Catholics is being taken.

This census has been proclaimed by Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, the purpose being to secure the exact number of Catholics living in this area and also to obtain the number of children for which a proposed school building program may be planned.

Locally, in St. Mary's parish of Chelsea, more than 200 men are involved in the actual census. It is the wish of the Cardinal that the men of the local parishes do the work.

The census is being conducted from Oct. 5 thru Oct. 19. The St. Mary's census committee is under the co-chairmanship of Harvey Lixey, Ray Lutovsky and Vincent Burg, II.

The parish area has been divided into 18 zones with a zone captain in charge of his respective area, plus a team of 10 men who will do the census work. They will be calling at every dwelling in the area to secure the needed information.

Up until a few months ago most parents had left the education of their youngsters to the board and teachers; however, since the advent of Sputniks there are few parents who have not had at least uncomfortable twinges of conscience as they survey the role of parents in education.

On PTA night, Wednesday, Oct. 15, all parents will have an opportunity to become informed as to what one village, Chelsea, is doing to solve the present problems in education.

What are the duties of school board members? What do you consider the aims of an efficient educational program to meet today's needs? These and other questions will be discussed at the PTA meeting next Wednesday.

Farmer's Week is Feb. 2 to Feb. 6, 1959, on the campus at Michigan State University.

When the PTA meets on Oct. 15 at the South School at 8:00 p.m., each Chelsea citizen is invited to meet members of the school board.

A panel discussion will be conducted with thoughtful questions from the audience encouraged.

Up until a few months ago most parents had left the education of their youngsters to the board and teachers; however, since the advent of Sputniks there are few parents who have not had at least uncomfortable twinges of conscience as they survey the role of parents in education.

On PTA night, Wednesday, Oct. 15, all parents will have an opportunity to become informed as to what one village, Chelsea, is doing to solve the present problems in education.

What are the duties of school board members? What do you consider the aims of an efficient educational program to meet today's needs? These and other questions will be discussed at the PTA meeting next Wednesday.

Farmer's Week is Feb. 2 to Feb. 6, 1959, on the campus at Michigan State University.

These exclusive Johns-Manville SEAL-O-MATIC ASPHALT SHINGLES

defy wind and water

In an actual test J-M Seal-O-Matic Shingles withstood the terrific blasts of an aircraft engine. Wind and water were driven at 100 m.p.h. against a panel of these shingles for an hour, with frequent gusts up to 140 miles per hour... not a tab lifted... not a drop leaked through.

Here's the secret of this amazing shingle. A stripe of special petroleum resin is factory-applied on the underside of each shingle. The sun's heat seals it to the underlying shingle, defying even high winds to pry it loose. Drop in and let us give you a personal demonstration of these patented Seal-O-Matic Shingles.

THERE'S STILL TIME to have that new roof installed before winter closes in.

As Hunting Season Gets Underway Remember Nobody's Puncture-Proof

As the hunting season gets underway, landowners are posting "no hunting" signs and the nation's druggists are preparing for an event of their own, known as "Emergencies Don't Wait" week.

That these two activities have more than a little in common is suggested by the 1958 report of the National Safety Council, which shows the same number of deaths from firearms in 1957 as in 1956—a shocking 2,200! Hunters who are so careless or inept as to shoot themselves or each other will also leave the farm gates open and mistake cows and other domestic livestock for game. And since, as history proves, there will be emergencies, the druggists are doing their best to get people to prepare for them—to check and restock both first aid kits and home medicine cabinets.

With similar ideas of life-saving in mind, Dr. John Henderson, author of "The Complete Book of First Aid," offers some capsule advice, which, whether it is taken or not, will be needed.

"There is no general first aid for gunshot wounds," says Dr. Henderson, "since they range from lacerations to serious abdominal, chest and head injuries—with varying degrees of bleeding and possible broken bones. What to do depends, therefore, on the particular injury."

"First, place the victim in the 'shock position'—reclining, with his feet higher than his head. Next, check copious bleeding by binding or holding a clean compress against the wound. Pressure and compresses are recommended over tourniquets. Then place a blanket under the patient as well as over him. Keep him warm and as comfortable as possible. If the wound is in the chest or abdomen, give nothing by mouth."

"Do not attempt local treatment, washing or examination of the wound—these are jobs for the doctor or hospital. A clean pad plus a mild antiseptic such as first aid cream are the only things that should go on the wound. If there is a 'sucking' chest puncture, make the bandage as air-proof as possible. Do not change bandages. If more are necessary on the way to the doctor, place a new one on top of the first."

We suggest you cut out Dr. Henderson's instructions and paste them in your first aid kit—and pick hunting companions who can recognize game and who know how to handle firearms and have proper respect for them.

An ounce of prevention is still better than a pound of cure—especially when there is no cure out in the woods and fields.

Wouldn't it be fun if a husband could do all the things his wife suspects he does?

For fixing things around the house, nothing beats a man who's handy with a checkbook.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan education can be $4,000,000 richer by June 30, 1959 if the state qualifies under all provisions of the new Federal Defense Education Act. The law was enacted with this session of Congress.

And those who fought to keep federal control from local school systems can leave a victorious sigh of relief too. A guarantee against "control follows dollar" tradition was written into the law. This lack of restriction was referred to by a leading educator as the "most significant happening in many years."

It brought cheers too from Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, and most Michigan educators. Their simultaneous campaign to safeguard local control was successful.

The key clause reads: "Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize any department, agency, officer or employee of the United States to exercise any direction, supervision, or control over curriculum, program of instruction, administration, or personnel of any educational institution or school system."

No professional educator missed its significance. In Michigan, where two-thirds of the state sales tax and other money raised by the state goes to the schools, lawmakers and others feel free to make demands upon the school system.

Virtually every session of the legislature brings struggles over whether the schools shall teach certain forms of American history, civics or religion. One of the toughest battles of the 1958 session centered on the compulsory reading of the Holy Bible.

The "control follows dollar" practice is a modern form of the ancient "dollar diplomacy" prevalent especially during the early 1900's when American foreign aid usually carried instructions how it was used.

Michigan will get slightly over $4,000,000 in federal aid this year if all goes well. Here are some factors to be considered:

First, Bartlett said he believes the legislature must give its approval before any federal aid can be accepted.

At least one part of the grant must be matched 50-50 by the state or local governments.

One section of the Federal act, designed to strengthen science, mathematics and foreign language courses in the elementary and high schools, can be worth $2,476,417 to Michigan.

The money is earmarked for laboratories, equipment, and as extra dollars to improve all phases of specialized education in these three major fields.

The state could get $515,477 more for the development and improvement of vocational education programs. Bartlett said this money must be matched or the state gets nothing.

Still another plan converts the improvement of statistical services of state educational agencies.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

I doubt if you city folks have noticed it, but you don't see many scarecrows in the fields this year. The price of clothes is so high that a farmer can't afford to dress up a scarecrow anymore. If he's got clothes good enough to scare crows, he's probably wearing 'em to church on Sunday.

When you get right down to brass tacks they ain't much difference between depression and inflation. Back during the big depression money was so tight that there wasn't none to speak of, and now it's so cheap that a farmer can't afford to dress up a scarecrow.

Ed Donahoe says it's because he's moved his son-in-law and his rocking chair from the porch to the cherry tree then to rig up a scarecrow to keep the birds away.

One thing inflation has done to the country, inflation has put these taxes that causes a feller to figger his take-home pay, it's taught folks to figger that couldn't count up to 50 before it started.

One feller up at the country store now it's so cheap that a farmer can't afford to dress up a scarecrow. Now he says he dreams what he'd do if he had $2,000,000.21. The extra million, he says, is for taxes and the 21 cent is for them parking meters they got in them parking places. One thing I don't understand about this inflation. They say the banks is so full of money the clerks has to watch where they're walking and that they won't stop over to pick up nothing unless it's a five spot or better. But when I go to the bank I see $200 I set up to the window and get permission to go into the sweat box with the cashier. And I set there a hour twisting my hat into a wad and gitting all nervous while they take my pulse, my mortgage, and my shirt. And even then I ain't shore I got the money until they check the title and investigate around the country to see if I ever had any horse thieves in the family or has been black-balled in the Masons.

Well, I see by the papers where they're factory in Georgia they're making wimmen's girdles out of peanuts. They say the protein that gives a peanut food value makes fine girdles. It makes a feller sorter sad to think about what science is doing to this world.

It used to be a feller could buy a bag of peanuts and set on a stump and enjoy himself without worrying. Now everytime he eats a peanut he'll be wondering if he ain't depriving some pore working girl out of a two-way stretch.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Treasure Hunt

Everybody has birthdays, and while we are young enough to enjoy them we might as well get as much fun as we can out of them. Birthday cakes and parties, and pictures for the album all help to store up happy memories to be enjoyed in later years.

Instead of just handing a present to a child, you can stretch out the anticipation by letting him search for it. A treasure hunt, without costing an extra cent, adds importance to a birthday celebration.

The night before the birthday, the mother and father, perhaps with the help of an older brother or sister, plants a trail of clues around the house. The first clue is laid in the middle of the dining table, or in some other easily found location. It consists of a slip of paper, with a message, which may or may not be in poetry, such as: "Needles and pins, needles and pins, if you find this your trouble."

The child has to guess that he must look for the next clue in the mending basket or under the sewing machine, and there he finds another slip of paper, which might say, "Find the next before you're older; it could scarcely be much colder. This would lead to the refrigerator."

The clues of course have to be graded to the child's reading ability and powers of deduction. A suitable clue for a four-year-old would be: "Look behind a picture of a horse." For an older child, the same message could be made to say: "This lively mode of transportation appeals to your imagination."

Clues should be arranged so the child will have to race to the opposite end of the house to find the next one, and they ought to be difficult enough to require a little time to figure them out, as one of their main functions is to give the parents a few more minutes of rest in the morning, while the treasure hunt is going on. They'll need the extra rest, to make up for the time they spent composing and hiding clues the night before.

Small gifts may be deposited along with some of the early clues, while the main birthday present is to be found at the end of the hunt.

It's good for a child to be the center of a family's loving attention; to know that he is loved for himself alone. And parents are well repaid for their effort, as they learn from experience that the way to be happy is to make someone else happy.

High School band members have been very busy lately. Friday, Sept. 25, they presented a very interesting "half-time" show featuring several dance routines and all of the drum majorettes.

Early the next morning about 7:30 a.m. they were on their way to Ann Arbor to the Michigan Band Day.

Chorus elected officers on Oct. 1. Elected were: Sharon Siane, president; Robin Wright, vice-president; Carol Hoffman, secretary; Alice Webb, historian; Art Haab, sergeant at arms; Robert Weiss, parliamentarian; Grace Penhallegon was chosen treasurer.

Chorus members are working on plans for the third annual Christmas dance. It will probably be semi-formal. The last dance was enjoyed every much by those of the student body who attended. They hope for even a larger crowd this year.

On the last count the chorus had 65 members. They are working hard on music for an exchange assembly, including such numbers as "The Happy Wanderer," "Any, Where I Wander," "Halls of Ivy," "The Syncopated Clock," and many others. Possibly the exchange will be with U. High.

Art students this year have the privilege of selecting two projects to complete in a six-week period. Most of the students are working with oil painting and lettering. Others are constructing tooth-pick structures, pencil sketching and clay sculpture.

Committees have been selected to decorate bulletin boards in the school halls.

The Speech class has finished their study of the speech organs. They have also given three-minute limited speeches and are now working on speech preparation.

The home economics II classes have chosen patterns, and wool or corduroy material, and are beginning the process of making it. Home economics I members are studying foods, and have put the kitchen utensils in order to start cooking.

Home economics III girls are studying marriages.

The first of the traditional Journalism dinners will be held at President Carol Barr's home, though no definite date has been set.

The first Bulldog of the 1958-59 season was published Sept. 30, and seemed to be well received. Let's stick behind it, kids, and make it really go.

The GAA had their second meeting of the year to plan a fun night, so that all the girls might get acquainted with each other.

The club discussed several ideas for their recreation, and it was decided to have a "Scavenger Hunt" following a pot-luck dinner planned by a committee of selected girls. The dinner will be served in the Home Ec. room on Oct. 13, at 6:15 p.m.

So all GAA girls be prepared to eat a hearty meal, because you'll need it to keep going on that scavenger hunt Mrs. Finch is cooking up for you.

Grade eight entertained the seventh grade at a dance, Oct. 4. Lack of experience at dancing made several people complain of sore feet, but otherwise the party was a great success. Chaparrones were Mrs. LaGoe, Mr. O'Doherty, Mr. Hayden, Mr. Prinsing, Mrs. Papadour, Mr. Poulsen, and Mr. Rogers. Both grades wish that opening parties could come more often.

Rita Schramm and Polly Willis are the Junior class nominees for homecoming queen.

The class also discussed the trip club. A paper was passed around so that everyone who wishes to join the trip club could sign up. Mr. Lane told more about the club and some of the possibilities where the class could go. A committee of Judy Woolley, Sharon Smyser and Carol Huelsburg was appointed to write to get information on costs and accommodations of trips to different places such as New York or Washington.

Mr. Musser told the outcome of the meeting of the Christmas card committee.

Last week, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 2 and 3, a photographer from Craine's Studios was here at school taking senior pictures. All the seniors looked strange, but good, in their suit coats and Sunday's best. All will wait longingly for December when their pictures will be here. Credit goes to Anita Elsmann who has been in charge of this senior event.

Seniors are busy, busy, busy!!! Seniors are now planning for one of their big events of the year, the homecoming, Oct. 10. Each class nominates two queens and the queen is chosen by the football players. Senior nominees are Anita Elsmann and Karen Munro. Good Luck, Queens!

The Soviet Union, which recently announced it was suspending nuclear tests, has exploded at least thirty-nine devices in the last nine years.
The United States has set off ninety nuclear explosions over the last thirteen years, and is about to start a new test series at the Pacific proving ground.
Because of the longer, and more sustained test program, Atomic Energy Commission officials feel that the United States has a more advanced and versatile nuclear arsenal than the Soviet Union.

St. Andrew's of Dexter Continues Diamond Jubilee

Sunday, Oct. 12, will be the third of the three Sundays celebrating the 75th anniversary of St. Andrew's United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) in Dexter. Services of worship will be held at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. on that day.

The Rev. Mr. Victor Schoen, son of the church and now pastor of the Highland, Ill. E. & R. church, will speak at the 9:30 service and be the liturgist for the 10:45 service. The Rev. Mr. J. E. Krueger, former pastor of the church from 1901 to 1924, will speak at the 10:45 service and be the liturgist for the 9:30 service. Well over 100 living members of the confirmation classes from 1941 through 1958 are invited to be recognized and honored.

The 10:45 service will include a symbolic ground-breaking ceremony looking forward to the construction of a new Parish Hall for the ever-expanding work of St. Andrew's. A jubilee banquet for all members and invited guests will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Dexter High School All-Purpose room. The Rev. Mr. Victor Schoen will give the address. The program will also feature greetings from the 20 pastors invited, anthems and the jubilee hymn by the combined choirs, presentations of honors and an historical presentation by the Christian Hands Guild.

In its 75 years St. Andrew's has ministered to innumerable numbers of persons. The record of the official acts of the pastors of the church reveal that the Sacrament of Holy Baptism has been administered to 735 individuals, and more than 60,000 servings of Holy Communion have been received. The Class of 1885 was the first to receive the Rite of Confirmation, this beginning a total of 240 couples. In 1884 the first couple was married under the auspices of St. Andrew's, this beginning a total of 240 couples. A great host, 415 in number

St. Andrew's members have died during this period.

Each year more than 12,000 man-hours are spent at worship by members and friends. The active membership stands at 330 persons, but St. Andrew's ministers in one form or another to more than 600 people. Over 200 are enrolled in Sunday church school, with an average attendance of about 150 persons actively engaged in some or many organizational activities.

"When one attempts to summarize the tremendous volume of work that St. Andrew's has effected in the world," says Pastor Eaton, "the task becomes nearly impossible, for who but God can tell the numbers of lives changed, lifted or enriched by the 'leaven' of St. Andrew's services to God and Man. It goes and daughters have gone to the far corners of the earth, impressing their Christian lives upon all about them. Its local community is immeasurably better for its being present, for its members have aided the Dexter area to maintain its high standards of morals, social concerns and community leadership."

But the story of the services of St. Andrew's to God and man does not end here! The people who are the church look forward to ministering to an ever-growing number of persons. Plans for the development and expansion of the physical facilities are underway with the hope that a new parish hall can be erected to enable the church to serve better through its services of worship and its Sunday church school and its fellowship life. A 20-year plan is also underway, with the ultimate goal being entirely new facilities in which to operate. A five-year evolving program expansion plan is being drawn up which will carry the ministries of the church to an ever-widening circle. "With a firm faith in the very-present help of God, this shall come to pass," says Pastor Eaton.

"Oct. 12, on this, the Anniversary Sunday of the dedication of the church building, we shall recognize the work that has been done and by the grace of Almighty God we shall give our thanks for the work that lies ahead," concludes the Rev. Eaton.

KNOW YOUR PTA

Membership month for the PTA is October. Join an organization where you as an individual count and are counted upon. Work with other men and women who care about what happens to young people in their homes, schools and communities. Each membership is 50 cents.

Let's join and support this national organization that makes it possible for us to unite our efforts into an effective force for the good of all children.

With the schools dismissed for Thursday and Friday parents are quite aware by now of the Michigan Education Association meeting in Ann Arbor. All Chelsea teachers are members of this organization which offers better educational opportunities for our children.

The Western Washtenaw County PTA Council conducted a very successful meeting on Oct. 6. An interchange of ideas and projects carried out by the PTA groups of Pleasant Lake, Manchester and Chelsea was very helpful. This planning group meets four times a year and is enthusiastically attended by PTA officers and delegates.
