Fox Hunt Scheduled by Rod-Gun Club

At the regular meeting of Chelsea Rod-Gun Club Tuesday evening plans were announced for the fifth annual fox hunt sponsored by Chelsea Rod and Gun club and four other clubs and staged in this area.

Date for the hunt this year is Sunday, Jan. 18, at 8 a.m. at the corner of US-12 and M-82. The hunt itself will start at 8:30 a.m. at Grass Lake road and M-82.

In addition to Chelsea Rod and Gun club, the sponsoring clubs are Detroit Outdoorsmen's club, Jackson County Outdoor club, Mounth Rod and Gun club, and Crooked River Sportsman's club.

Also announced at Tuesday's meeting was the annual Ladies' Night dinner which will be held Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 7 p.m. in St. Paul's church hall. Members may secure their tickets from Carl Sawyer, 7 W. Market or Thomas Rust. It was pointed out by the club president, Wilbur Werner.

Forty members were present for Tuesday's meeting, held at the Legion Home. Also present was Carl Benjamin as a new member.

Conservation Officer Dorothy Boyer, reporting informally on conservation affairs, said that deer and pheasants are being killed out of season in violation of the law. He said, too, that some deer have been killed by cars and advised caution in driving in areas where deer may possibly be encountered.

Also attending from Chelsea were Mrs. William Marsh, chairman in charge of canisters, Mrs. William Adams, chairman of this year's "peanuts-for-polio" sale, and Mrs. George Ellenwood, publicity chairman.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Dr. Gordon Brown, epidemiologist at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Brown, speaking on the topic, "The Challenge," explained the new fields of research to be undertaken by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in addition to continuing its fight against polio. He mentioned arthritis, birth defects, virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system as new research fields.

Family of Seven Loses Everything in Home Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ball and their family of five children lost all their possessions in a fire which destroyed the interior of their home on Pleasant Lake road, near Saline, Friday afternoon.

No one was at home at the time the fire was discovered by neighbors at 4 o'clock.

Ball had brought his four older children, ranging in age from one to five years, to the home of his mother, Mrs. Joseph Ball of Lima Center road, where he planned to leave them while he visited his wife and their new baby daughter at a Jackson hospital.

The family remained at the mother's home here after the fire and are now divided among other relatives. Mr. Ball has been seeking to rent a home for his family. He said yesterday he was having difficulty locating an apartment or house because of the number of children in his family.

It is believed the fire started from an overheated oil space heater.

The home, located at 8521 Pleasant Lake road, was the former Girbach school which had been converted into a home.

Ball is employed at Chelsea Milling Co.

Enthusiastic Approval Voiced By Everyone

More than 1,200 people, believed the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game here, were present as spectators Tuesday evening in the new gymnasium of Chelsea's new high school, used for the first time that evening.

During the interval between the Junior Varsity and Varsity games with Manchester, the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the Methodist church, at the request of school officials, gave a dedicatory invocation.

Formal dedication of the gymnasium, as well as the entire campus, will take place at a later date.

The new gymnasium floor, approximately 100 feet by 100 feet in size, is so arranged that two basketball games may be played at the same time. A folding door divides the playing space forming two basketball courts.

Main floor bleachers fold back against the wall when the floor space is desired for other use.

Spectator capacity of the new gymnasium is in excess of 2,000 people.

The Chelsea High School basketball team won their first game, played against Manchester, 63-57, in the new building.

People who have commented on the new gymnasium describe it as "magnificent" and "the finest of any in the area."

Brilliantly lighted and ideally arranged and located in relation to other buildings on the high school campus, it is reached from the north side of the cluster of buildings in the northeast corner of the high school campus site.

People of the Chelsea School District will have an opportunity to visit not only the gymnasium but the entire new high school on Sunday, Feb. 1, the day before classes begin there for students in grades 9 through 12.

The pep rally Friday was given by Student Council. Talks were given by Mr. Heyden and Mr. O'Donohy. Two new cheers were given. The rally was closed with the school song.

The FHA has invited the GAA to go to a swimming party they are giving sometime in February (no date has been set).

At their last meeting on Jan. 7, an acting president, Jeanne Larson, took over for president Rita Schramm. Secretary Kathy Coltra was also absent and Sandy Fraser recorded the minutes.

Yesterday's FHA weekly and night meetings were canceled.

Over Christmas vacation, about 10 girls helped to process new sections of books chosen especially for the junior high. Good progress was made and about 700 books were processed. They are being stored under the library tables and against the walls, until adequate space is made for them on the shelves. They are not yet available for circulation and won't be until the high school has moved.

The library is also beginning to pack magazines and books to go to the new high school. The students are good users of the library books; 400 came in after vacation. Librarians have spent time putting these away. Also, 100 books were signed out in just the first two days after Christmas vacation.

The library reports that the books in greatest use are the author books, the atlases and the unabridged dictionaries. They are being used for book reports, history term papers and special English word studies, respectively.

In physical education the girls are just finishing the unit on badminton and are starting one on bowling. They will use the alley downtown and practice bowling skills.

The new uniforms have been issued, but the gym has been too cold to wear them.

In seventh grade history classes, Eurasia is the topic under study. Farming is the subject of discussion. English classes are reviewing adverbs; spelling sentences are being handed in and book reports were due Wednesday, Jan. 2.

Science classes are studying cooperation between plants and animals. Tests will be given Friday, Jan. 9. Math classes are reviewing weights and measures. Everyone is diligently studying for semester exams, which will be given during the week of Jan. 28.

The junior high will have their own journalism club after the high school students move into the new high school. Officers were elected at the meeting of Dec. 8, and are as follows: David Winans, president; and Pam Kuehmal, scribe. David is in the seventh grade, and all "B" student; and he holds only this one office. Pam is also a "B" student in the seventh grade; this being her only office held also. Both are "A" students in journalism.

Other seventh graders holding offices are: Jeff Flintoff, seventh-grade class president; Carolyn Smith, vice-president; Rosemarie Foster, scribe; and Carol Meyer, treasurer.

The sophomore cloak room is working very nicely. The sophomores are making tags of a strong material so they will last longer. The class ring committee has sent invitations to the companies. The companies are to display their rings on Feb. 1.

Plans for the Freshman-Sophomore Dance are being completed. The dance will be held Feb. 13.

Art classes, under the direction of "coach" Miss Julie Hammond, have been working on individual projects, each to determine the six weeks' grade. The work is both interesting, challenging, and enjoyable.

Marcia Bertke is the first seventh grader to become secretary-treasurer of the Camera Club, a job which she enjoys tremendously. Her duties are to take minutes, send for information, collect money for various purposes, and help keep things smooth. It seems that she's taking after her mother, Mr. Lane's secretary.

Student Council opened the new year of 1959 by approving a variety of projects. First, they approved the Hi-Y plans for the post-game dance Jan. 9. The approved plans by the seniors for a dance on Feb. 7, submitted by senior president Fa. Merkel.

After a long discussion on the films shown in Chelsea High School, the Council decided that the seniors may show a film sometime in the near future, providing it is educational and approved by Mr. Lane.

Announcement was made that the Council had almost $5 from the first day of the CARB campaign.

A committee of Jane McLaughlin, Bob Smith, Roger Herman, and Earl Heller was appointed to look into the idea of buying new pins for all Student Council members. Ruth Bertke gave a final report on the pep skit which was presented Friday, Jan. 9 at assembly.

In the first meeting of 1959 the class of that year launched an all-out campaign to raise money. Just three months are left for the fund raising activities before the senior trip.

First, it was stressed that the dues, current and in arrears, MUST be paid by or before Feb. 15. Great hopes lie in the play to be presented March 20 and 21. Sandra Karner reported that the choice will be made soon, and that six out of seven choices have been decided upon. Carole Barry was chosen student director.

Ellen Keusch, chairman of the money-making committee, announced the various possibilities; the class voted on each issue, and now have scheduled a "Mardi-Gras" dance for Feb. 7, the Saturday before Lent. The dance will take place in the cafeteria of the new school, and will be the first important dance in the new building. It will be semi-formal. More information will be available at a later date. Anita Eismann was put in charge of a general planning committee.

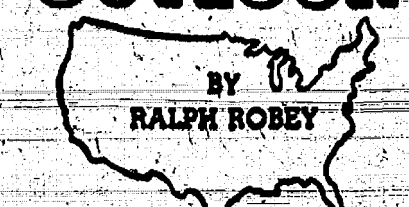

Other projects, such as sponsoring an assembly for the student body, a Valentine bake and candy sale, and a senior baby picture contest were discussed. President Merkel will appoint committees to develop these plans. There is a possibility that the class may serve a banquet for the Cattle Feeders Association in February. Lastly, two teachers were picked for the annual dedication—the selection to be announced on the day the "Barker 59" comes out.

Nine out of 10 persons enrolled in University of Michigan Extension Service courses in real estate completed a full semester work this year.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

★ 1959 Business—III

We have now reviewed the general extent of the recovery to date and have briefly discussed some of the fundamental worries. On the basis of this it is possible to make actual forecasts for the coming year.

Gross national product, which is the total monetary value of all goods and services produced in the nation and which currently is at a new high, will continue to advance. This is assured through a rise of government expenditures, not only federal but state and local as well and by continuation of the recovery. The total should advance each quarter. Estimates for the last three months of the year range between $470 and $480 billion, as compared with about $460 billion at present.

Industrial production, according to the index of the Federal Reserve Board, was 141 in November (1947=100), will continue to increase and before long will be at a new high level. The recovery will be uneven, as it has up to this point, but durable manufacturing should show a good growth. This is important because this segment was hardest hit by the recession.

Total personal income is now at an all-time high and will continue to rise throughout the year. A major factor will be the upward trend of wages. With such personal income, retail trade will show a seasonally adjusted rise month after month, and at the end of the year will be appreciably above 1958. Net farm income is officially estimated to be down. The reason is that we have come to the end of a farm cycle and although crops may be excellent, farm prices will be lower and the goods and services bought by farmers will cost a little more. The estimated drop in net farm income is between 5 and 10 percent.

Because of declining farm and feed prices, the cost of living will remain relatively stable for the next few months, and the wholesale price index likewise will show little variation. Thereafter both indexes probably will start to creep upward again. The increase will not be sharp, but it will reinforce interest in and fear of inflation.

The construction industry will rise above $50 billion for the first time. Private housing starts will increase from the 1958 figure of about 1,150,000 to around 1,175,000. They may even go higher if Congress again takes action to make financing easier.

Business inventories will rise moderately in 1959. In other words the liquidation for all practical purposes, has been completed. Business investment in plant and equipment also will rise slightly in 1959. Actually the turn may have taken place in the fourth quarter of 1958. That cannot be known until actual figures have been collected. The increase will be more than manufacturing, mining and railroads. None of these three divisions is as yet fully utilizing the results of past investments.

Unemployment will decline gradually over the year, but it will be late in 1959 before we again have full employment.

Interest rates will not go down. If there is any change it will be a slight upward trend.

The foreign situation will remain tense. It is safe to assume that there will not be an all-out war, but our foreign policy will continue to be dominated by the wishes and actions of Russia and China. Foreign trade, both imports and exports, will be above 1958.

Finally, business profits will continue to improve. They will not come close to previous peaks, but growth will be of material aid to government revenues with the result that a start can be made on reducing the magnitude of the federal deficit.

To summarize: 1959 will be a terially better than 1958. It will not be a boom year, but recovery will continue in most parts of the economic system at a reasonable and encouraging rate. The year will end with many serious problems unsolved, some of which may be worse than they are today. But, granting the new Congress is doing nothing too drastic, it will be a year of progress. This is a time, on the basis of all the evidence, for what has been termed restrained optimism.

March of Dimes Now Seeking New Human Afflictions To Conquer

The March of Dimes is now conducting its 1959 campaign in Washtenaw county and throughout the nation, with a new program. Polio, now apparently dealt a near fatal blow, the National Foundation seeks other afflictions to conquer.

An attack will now be launched against arthritis and birth defects (congenital malformations), but as long as polio patients need care and rehabilitation the March of Dimes will provide it. In 1958, for example, about 50,000 polio victims received aid from the National Foundation which aid has totaled approximately $18,900,000.

Other funds raised during the 1959 drive will be used for a greatly enlarged research program. This activity is devoted to studies not only of arthritis, birth defects and polio, but of virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system in general.

The need to train more medical specialists also is being met by expansion of the professional education program. Polio, arthritis and birth defects have crippling effects in common, and demand the attention only highly skilled and well trained professionals in health can give.

Patient aid will be extended in 1959 to cover victims of arthritis and certain birth defects through the age of 18.

The degree to which this program can be brought to life depends in large part on public support of the March of Dimes. Please be generous when you remember this great public service organization in its request for contributions.

Rebel Leader Castro Establishes Provisional Government in Cuba

The dictatorship which has plagued Cuba for so many years has now been broken. It remains to be seen just exactly what kind of government will be brought into being under the guiding hand of Fidel Castro, the 32-year-old rebel leader who has been fighting the deposed dictator, Batista, since 1953.

However, one must assume that it will be an improvement, even though there are charges that Castro has a number of Communist fellow-travelers in his entourage. This is denied by others and only time will tell the story of Castro's government.

It is encouraging to note that Castro has named a provisional president, but it remains to be seen whether he will be able to resist the temptation to take the power of government into his own hands. He probably has the power and the military machine to enable him to do so at the present time. We would think that he will probably proceed with his plans to arrange elections, and it is obvious that he will be a popular candidate should he decide to run for the top job in Cuba.

As a rebel leader, Castro persevered for many years and has done Cuba and the democratic world a service, as far as things stand at the moment.

Whether he is fitted for the top job of administering the government of Cuba remains to be seen. He has probably earned his right to a chance at the task, however, and we expect that he will wind up in the top chair in Cuba's government.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Unparalleled challenges face G. Mennen Williams, this all-Democratic administration and half-Democratic legislature in 1959, the most difficult since Michigan became a state 112 years ago. Michigan is broke and faces a $100,000,000 deficit as the legislature convenes.

During a decade in office, Williams has asked for more money to expand virtually all services. The problem has not been a simple one for Williams or his political opponents.

Williams on one side is pushing for more services to accommodate the state's booming population. Republicans, on the other hand, are trying to perform services within the framework of available funds. Williams, in effect, says it is impossible without revenue. Republicans partially agree, but say some frills of government can be eliminated and the money diverted to the necessities.

Democrats won an even 55-55 split in the House of Representatives last Nov. 4, and there lies the problem for the party.

Everything accomplished or not accomplished by the House will now be half the responsibility of each party. The situation leaves Republicans politicians rejoicing, in a "sour grapes" sort of way.

The proposed income tax program, logically will start in the House, since a House-sponsored study committee is making the proposal after two years of research.

Because that is the case, the Senate must wait until the House before moving ahead on appropriations. The key to the 1959 session, thus, is the House.

There are really critical needs in higher education, public health, mental health and public welfare, where a deficit of up to $15,000,000 will exist next June 30. Prisoners are overcrowded. The new medium-security institution at Ionia is half-complete, with no further appropriation in sight to make it a model of correctional endeavor.

Williams has remained silent on how to pay for the necessary increases in spending.

In the past, he has pushed hard for a corporation profits tax, but without success. Last year he urged a boost in the intangibles levy until it was noted that thousands of private bank accounts would be affected. Williams has refused to go on record for or against the new income tax proposal, though it is obvious that influential Democrats in the legislature are opposed to it.

Another controversy revolves around the state's financial structure.

Williams takes the constitutional view that the legislature must raise enough money to cover the cost of government by some means at its disposal. This, of course, means taxes someone must pay.

The legislature reasons that an administrator Gov. Williams must not only go into detail about the needs of the state, but recommend plausible means to pay for them. Williams advanced the corporation profits tax until Republicans came up with the idea that high taxes in Michigan are driving business out of the state.

His intangibles tax idea was borrowed from a preliminary report of the Republican legislative study committee.

Michigan's financial structure makes it a state subject to crises.

When the state levies a tax, local governments contend that they are eligible for a share of its yield. In too many cases, funds are earmarked for specific uses and the legislature has little control of money spent.

That's why, for instance, the state gets only a small share of the sales tax. The school system gets two of the three per cent, a half per cent goes to the state and the other half per cent goes to cities, townships and villages. Each governmental unit gets its percentage regardless of need.

A similar situation affects most of the tax plans in effect in the state. The whole picture presents the challenges to Williams and his Democratic administration.

Major responsibility has shifted by the vote of the people in the last election, to Democrats. The last remaining hold Republicans have is in the Senate, where they have a 24 to 12 majority. This gives them an important "veto" power. Legislation must now be passed in the House, where there is an even party split; passed in the Senate, which is Republican controlled; not vetoed by the Democratic Governor.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I didn't know it till I read this piece in the paper last night that the Government ever month stores away millions of dollars worth of stuff that would be essential in case of war.

I'm in favor of this system of stockpiling a little all along instead of the way they did it during the last war. We got caught with our stockpiles down in that one, and it was somefun to see them congressmen lopping around like a chicken with its head cut off trying to get things for the war.

I recollect they come up with a War Production Board and some of the things they done was out for them. For instance, they put tombstones on the non-essential list. That didn't upset the home front too much on account of most folks lives with their nose on the grindstone and they ain't for a tombstone when they passes on. But when they made a rule that caskets had to be held to six foot in length it started a second war. I remember that the Michigan General Directors and Embalmers Association filed a writ of habeas corpus or somepun that the average man couldn't be buried in a box six foot long without bending his knees up in such a fashion as would make his relatives mad at the undertaker. And a Michigan feller in Congress got up and asked if it hadn't "come to a hell of a pass when a man couldn't get a decent burial in America." And Congressman Bob Doughton from North Carolina answered that to help the war effort a feller shouldn't mind being put away with a slight bend in his knees.

I don't recollect how it all come out in the end, but I know things was very bad on account of getting caught short. I'm strong in favor of this stockpiling business and I hope they'll include caskets so's a feller can be laid to rest stretched out and comfortable. He gets a crib three foot long when he's born and he ought to get a box eight foot long when he dies. It's a long, hard fight to gain them five foot.

I see by the papers where a big New York bank is serving tea from four till six on Monday and Friday. I ain't surprised, with drug stores handling lawn mowers and hardware stores selling patent medicine. If I owned a care close to that bank, I'd start lending money on Tuesday and Saturday. Yours truly, Uncle Lew

* The Wife You Save

Harold Ballard and I have decided to start a Safety First campaign.

The occasion for this is that both our wives fell on the ice recently. "When I say 'both our wives' I don't mean that either of us has two wives; I just mean that one of Harold's wives fell down and one of mine did."

Now it didn't hurt my Helen very much; she just bounced up and went on about her business. But Harold's Grace was bruised and strained so badly that she had to spend ten days in the hospital, and was miserable for several days after that. So Harold and I and both our wives (here we go again!) are up in arms about people who allow a thin layer of snow to settle on top of a smooth layer of ice.

A single family or an individual businessman hates to spend much time on safety precautions. We tend to be optimistic. "It probably won't happen to me." We all think we are very busy; "I don't have time to chop that ice away."

But large that industry, where everything happens on such a huge scale that it is possible to keep statistical records, have found that it really pays to make an effort to avoid accidents. The larger companies employ people to spend their full time working on the subject of safety: trying to spot hazardous places and unprotected machinery; keeping track of actual accidents and seeking to prevent their recurrence; and everlastingly hammering away at the carelessness of the human beings who cause the accidents. "Safety is no accident."

It is true of industrial accidents, as well as of those that occur in our homes and on our highways, that the great majority are caused by some person's carelessness, rather than by any defect in mechanical equipment. "Accidents are caused; they don't happen."

A man who works at accident prevention more than earns his salary by preventing loss of time, hospital bills and damage to equipment. At home, too, the time he spends in accident prevention is well spent. Shaky cupboards, loose stair treads, and frayed electric cords ought to be put out of the way before they put you out of the way. I wish it would warm up so I could do something about that ice on the back step!

TRIAL SUSPENSION

For the first time since it opened the atomic age thirteen years ago, the United States has begun a trial suspension of nuclear weapons test explosions.

The suspension may continue for a year, with possible indefinite renewal, or it may last only a few days or even hours. That depends on what Russia does.

NO TOWN IS AN ISLAND

No town lives alone. It lives with its neighbors and must work with its neighbors. Its people should take an interest in the things that are good for the area and should take part in programs for development of the area.

The competition among areas for business and industry is hot and growing hotter. How well an area fares in this competition usually depends upon how well the towns of the area work and live together.

It is almost a true fact that as the area goes, so goes the town.

THE CHELSEA STANDARD

MYSTERY FARM NO. 38, published in the Jan. 8 issue of The Standard is the Chapman farm on Jerusalem road. This is another farm that has been in the same family for many years. Present owner is Leon Chapman.

Chapman Farm on Jerusalem Road Has Been in Family Five Generations

Mystery Farm No. 38 appeared to be a difficult one to identify in the current series of farm photographs being published each week in The Standard.

The photograph appeared in the Jan. 8 issue of the paper and proved to be the Chapman farm on Jerusalem road.

The clump of trees dominating the left front of the photograph proved a stumbling block for some who attempted to identify the place.

The farm is one of a number in this area which have been the home of five generations of the same family.

The present owner, Leon Chapman, is a great-grandson of Mrs. Harriet Cook Kanouse Chase who built the present home about 75 years ago. The house is situated on a rise of ground west of the spot where the original house stood. The old house was used as a tool shed and shop for many years before it was torn down in 1944 by the present owner. Part of the house was moved to the Vernon Satterthwaite place a short distance east, where it was incorporated into a barn erected there. Satterthwaite bought three acres of the Chapman farm as a home site.

Leon Chapman's grandfather, Arthur Chapman, represented the second generation of the family, his father, George Chapman, the third generation owner, and his son and daughter, Larry and Mrs. Howard Baker, the fifth generation of the family who lived on the farm.

Earlier, the land was part of the Spaulding family property and the abstract shows that President Andrew Jackson's signature was on the original deed.

The Chapman family has always accepted responsibility for community service, three generations having served as school board members in the former Jewett-Stone rural school district in which it is located. Three generations have also served on the board of the Vermont Cemetery Association of which Leon Chapman is now president.

Those who recognized the farm and telephoned The Standard office are Allen Broesamle, Mrs. Toivo Riihimaki, David Pastor, Mrs. Larry Chapman, Judy Woolley, Mrs. Lloyd Schneider, Pam Kusma and Paul Rothman.

Girl Scouts of Troop 51 held a regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 13.

Mrs. Dean Herburn gave a demonstration on child care and the girls also played games. Refreshments were served by Shirley Grammatico.

Patty Bush, scribe.

BROWNIES
TROOP 148—

On Jan. 7, Brownies of Troop 148 met at South Elementary school. Refreshments were brought by Debbie Gorton.

Brownies had a "favorite toy" show and then conducted election of new officers which resulted in naming the following: Carey Riemenschneider, president; Elizabeth Bower, vice-president; Sherry Blackwell, secretary; Pamela Kuhl, treasurer; Debbie Gorton, flag bearer; Lynn O'Neill and Kathy Foster, color guards.

Bonnie Erskine, secretary.

Mrs. David Stricker's Brownie troop met at South Elementary school Wednesday, Jan. 7, with Christine Lindauer acting as hostess.

Rebecca Sweet was in charge of the meeting.

Games and a toy show were the entertainment.

Phyllis Winans, secretary.

Test Records Reported For Holstein Owners

Registered cows owned by George Erke & Sons, Leonard Burmeister, Lowell Spike and George Macomber recently completed official production records listed as "outstanding" by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Michigan State University, working in co-operation with the national Holstein organization, supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the Herd Improvement Registry program.

This official testing program, commonly referred to as HIK, provides continuing lactation and lifetime production records on every cow in participating registered Holstein herds.

The Erkes' cow, Ruby Erke Acres Major Wanda 4429322, milked twice daily for 365 days, produced a total of 15,061 lbs. of milk and 496 lbs. of butterfat as a two-year-old.

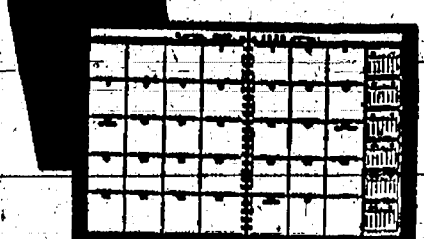

Burmeister's Leo Bur Farmer Rea 4095487, also a two-year-old and milked twice daily for 365 days, produced a total of 16,887 lbs. of milk and 528 lbs. of butterfat.

Lowell Spike's cow, also tested for the 365-day period but as a seven-year-old, is Green Acres Ormsby Elsie 3231410. She produced a total of 15,508 lbs. of milk and 559 lbs. of butterfat.

Whitpoorwill Mutual A Nellie 4399204 is the Macomber cow tested. Milked twice daily for 365 days, she produced a total of 12,395 lbs. of milk and 508 lbs. of butterfat as a two-year-old.

Community Progress Depends on
Cooperation Through Entire Area

No community can live alone
and like it.

Economically, socially and culturally, each community is tied closely with its neighbors. Its school, athletic programs are dependent on friendly relationships
with other towns.

This same area interest extends to economic development. Areas are in keen competition for business and industry. What helps one community, is beneficial to all other towns and cities in the vicinity.

If one town is primarily a commercial center, it has a great interest in the surrounding area
which may be principally agricultural. The local businessmen cannot prosper if the farmers are neglected. The farmers cannot obtain the merchandise they need if
the business center is neglected.

Each has an interest in the other.
If a nearby community has the opportunity of obtaining a new industry, it is to the benefit of

State Fairgrounds

Make way for the great Shrine Circus, the world's biggest indoor show! It opens Friday, Jan. 30, at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit, and continues daily through Feb. 15.

For the first time this year it will hold forth for an extra weekend to accommodate the tremendous demand for seats.

This year's thrills will far exceed those of other years because General Chairman Tunis B. (Eddie) Stinson has combed the world to present the most famous variety of circus stars available. The Thrills before your eyes will include Clyde Beatty, the world renowned and fearless wild animal trainer and circus headliner; "The Guts" jungle comedy; Victor Julian and his Dancing Dogs; The Dorchesters, fastest bareback riders; Les Kimris Duo, Sabre Jet Sensation; Hugo Zochin's Cannon Act and dozens of others.

For laughs there'll be the greatest collection of clowning on earth, including Otto Griebling, Irving Roman (Ricky "The Clown of TV fame), Ernie "Blinko" Burch, Frankie Saluto, Jimmy Armstrong,
Carl Marx, Charles Lewis, Joe
Short, Ed Yrich, Slim Collins, Carl
Hi Ho, Romig, Jeff Murphree,
Dick Lewis, Jimmy Davidson, Kinko and his Squat Car, and Francisco.

All the animals that you would expect to see at a big time circus will be there such as elephants, large and small, lions, tigers, horses, ponies, llamas, bears, dogs, chimpanzees and monkeys.

There will be three complete shows on Saturdays—at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., and 8 p.m. These will be two shows on Sundays—at 2 and 7 p.m. and one show on Mondays at 8 p.m. All other days shows will be presented at 2 and 8 p.m.

Reserved seats will go on sale at the Shrine Club on Temple Avenue (Masonic Temple Building) on Monday, Jan. 12. The box office will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Those wishing to make reservations by phone may call TEmple 1-0131. Mail orders will be filled promptly when accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Community Progress Depends on
Cooperation Through Entire Area

No community can live alone
and like it.

Economically, socially and culturally, each community is tied closely with its neighbors. Its school, athletic programs are dependent on friendly relationships
with other towns.

This same area interest extends
to economic development. Areas
are in keen competition for business and industry. What helps one community, is beneficial to all other towns and cities in the vicinity.

If one town is primarily a commercial center, it has a great interest in the surrounding area
which may be principally agricultural. The local businessmen cannot prosper if the farmers are neglected. The farmers cannot obtain the merchandise they need if
the business center is neglected.

Each has an interest in the other.
If a nearby community has the opportunity of obtaining a new industry, it is to the benefit of

News

Nanette Fabray's husband, Randall MacDougal, flew to California for one day to celebrate her birthday.

Rumors are that Steve Cochran and Mamie Van Doren are star-struck about each other.

Peter Lawford will play the role of the navy officer in Frankie Sinatra's "Never So Few," if they can shoot enough "Thin Man" TV episodes ahead so that he can go on the Burma location.

Can you believe it? Hank Fonda is the fastest gun in Hollywood. He can even beat Wyatt Earp, and has signed for a western series in which he will introduce all shows and act in six.

Mary Kaye, of the trio, will work again up to the time of the birth of her third baby.

A new dish, a French import, Christine Carver, has been the newest, doll of the teenage and college crowd. Her two American films have been good box office: "A Certain Smile" and "Mardi-Gras."

James Gunsmoke Arnes is desperately avoiding any discussion on his separation from his wife.

Louis L'Amour thinks it's high time Katie Reppuhn returned to the screen, so he sent her his western "Trail of Gold," which he wrote especially for her.

Today's picture review:

TOM THUMB

Here is a musical version of the familiar fairy tale and it features some truly amazing trick photography by producer-director George Pal, who has very ingeniously combined a 6-inch Tom with regular-sized adults and animated cartoon and puppet characters.

The part of Tom is played by Russ Tamblyn. The way he has been shrunk to thumb size through the use of a camera lens is outstandingly clever camera magic. Tamblyn dances, sings and performs feats of acrobatics with definite skill and bounce. Younger children, particularly, will enjoy the dancing and singing toys that come to life in vivid color.

As the poor woodcutter, Tom, adopted by a poor woodcutter and his wife, gets mixed up with a couple of villains, who steal the gold from their royal treasury. Romantic interest, handled lightly, is provided between the queen of the forest and a local boy.

If you have a youngster at your house, be sure he sees this film. And if you are perennially young at heart, don't miss it yourself!

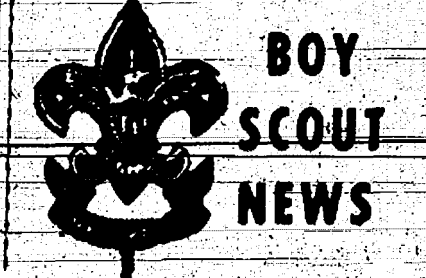

Internal Revenue Service Offers Tax Returns Help

R. L. Nixon, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced today that the Internal Revenue Service will again make every effort possible to aid the taxpayers in preparing their 1958 Income Tax returns.

Again this year, the various Internal Revenue Service offices will designate special assistance days. On these days, extra personnel will be available to taxpayers visiting the offices, will quickly receive answers to their questions. A great number of taxpayers can save a trip to the Internal Revenue Service offices by calling the Income Tax information number.

Nixon urges all taxpayers to compile all necessary records, read the instructions and then call the Telephone Information Service, if they have a question. If more help is needed, go to the local Internal Revenue Service office on the designated special assistance days.

Full Milk Flow to Eliminate "Lost Milk Margins!"

Yes, it's been proven beyond a doubt
... under-feeding holds production down and most cows can give much more milk than they do.

Feeding SureMilk 32 with grain corrects underfeeding ... helps most cows boost production up to 20%.

Shanty Communities Flourish on Lakes as Ice Fishing Gets Underway

Lansing—With winter underway, shanty and tip-up communities are again flourishing on hundreds of inland lakes and some Great Lakes waters.

Catches for the hook and line angler include perch, bluegills, lake trout, walleyes, whitefish, pike and smelt. Pike, sturgeon and a few others offer ample opportunities for sport fishermen.

Spearfishing reaches its peak of activity during the Feb.-28 sturgeon season on non-trout inland waters.

Citizens of these transient shanty villages—fishermen and women—personify the most hardy outdoor sect.

Many forego the comforts of shelters to fish in the open. For this group, the most popular contrivance is the familiar tip-up.
Tip-ups vary in design from home-made contraptions that tilt vertically when a fish pulls the line to intricate spring devices which hoist a red flag when a striking fish releases the trigger.

Shanties are standard equipment for those who mix outdoor activity with a few indoor comforts and conveniences. Often referred to as "dark houses" these shelters range from simple temporary types to more permanent and elaborately equipped ones.

But whatever equipment is used, ice fishing is an important recreational outlet in Michigan's scheme of winter outdoor sports.

Lead BB's from an air rifle pack enough wallop to cause severe injury, caution a Michigan State University wildlife specialist.
Some safety training may be needed for that air rifle Christmas present.

TAX FACTS #1

Selecting The Proper Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Michigan Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

If you are one of the millions of American taxpayers who spends the lion's share of his income feeding, clothing, housing and entertaining his family, chances are there is very little you can do to reduce your 1958 federal income tax bill—but you owe it to yourself to try.

First of all, decide which of the two individual tax forms you are going to use to report your income. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from a possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple 1040-A Form. It's a card the size of a check, on which you answer a few simple questions and have the choice of either computing your own tax or letting the Government do it for you.

You are permitted to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $10,000, and if you did not have more than $500 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Facts to Consider
Before deciding to use the card Form 1040-A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10 per cent of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.

2. There is no provision in the form for filing as the "head of household," as a "surviving spouse" or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

3. If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040-A, you might as well use this simple card form.

Whether to Itemize
When you elect to use the regular Form 1040, you still must

BUTTER REPORTS DIP

The high price of United States butter compared to prices offered by other exporting countries is cutting sharply into foreign sales of this dairy product.

The Foreign Agricultural Service said also that discontinuance of a Federal program of donating surplus butter to needy areas abroad also is helping to reduce foreign shipments.

Word Received of Conley-Glaze
Wedding in Ohio

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Henrietta Conley, formerly of Chelsea, and Harold Glaze, of Lucasville, O., which took place in the Manley Methodist church at Rarden, O., Sunday, Nov. 23.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Conley, who now live at Rarden. Mr. Glaze's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Glaze of Lucasville.

Satin and French chanelly lace fashioned the bride's gown which featured a scalloped sash and neckline embroidered with seed pearls.

Lace appliques were used as trimming on the fully-gathered skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a lace shell with a pompadour dip topped with a miniature-pearl crown. Her bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white carnations centered with an orchid.

The bride's attendants were Dixie Adams of Rarden, as maid of honor, and Phyllis Glaze, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid.

Robert Glaze of Dayton, O., assisted his brother as best man, while a brother-in-law, Norman Wadocky of Medway, O., and Robert Nance, of Lucasville, were ushers.

Nancy Blakeman of Columbus, O., a niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

A 1937 graduate of Rarden High school, the new Mrs. Glaze has been affiliated 1th Station WSAZ-TV.

Mr. Glaze, who graduated from Valley High school in 1935, is employed by the Norfolk & Western Railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Glaze are now residing at Rarden.

PACIFIC TIDAL TABLE

Tidal currents of 1959 for the Pacific Coast of North America and Asia are now predicted.

Besides their obvious use as an aid to marine navigation, the tables are indispensable to the engineer engaged in maintenance and improvement of channels and harbors, in marine construction and improvement of beaches, and in the problem of sewage disposal.

Tips Offered on Keeping Kid Gloves
Looking Like New

Are you wondering how to keep that beautiful pair of white kid gloves looking "fresh out of the gift box?" Here are laundering instructions suggested by Michigan State University extension home economists:

Make a thin soap paste in lukewarm water. Put on the gloves and wash them in the soapy water under the thoroughly clean. Remove and rinse in lukewarm water to which a mild water-conditioner or softener has been added. Do not wring, but press gloves in a clean cloth, blowing inside to inflate the fingers. Hang in a cool spot away from the radiator, sunlight or other direct heat.

Before completely dry, put gloves on for a few minutes. This will stretch the kid, avoid shrinkage and preserve pliability. With care, kid gloves should retain their original whiteness through years of attractive wear.

Christmas Seal Sale Totals Drop Below Goal

Possible curtailment of essential services in the campaign to prevent tuberculosis was voiced today by the Washtenaw County TB Association when it released figures for the 1958 Christmas Seal sale. Contributions received totaled $26,512 of the needed $32,000. For funds from residents, organizations, business and industry in Chelsea amount to $845 or 87 per cent of last year's response in this area.

"Each year the TB association receives contributions after Jan. 1," Ralph V. Wright, president of the Washtenaw association, said. "Many people lay aside their letter asking for tuberculosis funds until after the busy holiday season is over. This year we hope everyone who has not made his donation will do so immediately."
