Kiwanis Club Party Marks 35th Birthday

P. Niehaus Earns Award for 35 Years Perfect Attendance

The Kiwanis club of Chelsea observed its 35th birthday at the dinner meeting held in the social center of the Methodist church Sunday evening. A total of 85 Kiwanians, wives and other guests attended.

A. S. Penhalligon was program chairman and introduced Daniel S. Lironis, a Saline Kiwanian, as the evening's speaker.

Lironis, who is affiliated with the University of Michigan Audio-Visual Department and is studying for a Ph. D. degree, showed two color films. One was an explanation of sound-track preparation and operation and the other was a nature film entitled "Olympic Elk." The latter showed the Puget Sound area in Washington where the herds of elk are located.

M. J. Anderson, a past Michigan district governor, presented the attendance awards which are a customary feature of the annual birthday parties of the club.

Announcement was made of the Kiwanis-sponsored Easter flower sale to be held at Hilltop Plumbing store Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28; also the Rubinoff concert scheduled for April 6.

Loren Keeser of the Chelsea High School Journalism club, was present at the meeting to announce the school's historical issue of the school paper "The Bulldog Bark." He said the club is promoting the sale of the special issue which covers the period of 1837 to the present.

Twenty-three Chelsea Kiwanians received perfect attendance awards at Monday's birthday party ranging from 100 meetings to 1,820 meetings. The latter went to Paul P. Niehaus whose perfect attendance record dates to the Chelsea club's charter night, March 21, 1918, a full 35 years.

Others who received recognition for perfect attendance are Albert Penhalligon, Chandler Rogers and Paul G. Schaible, Sr., each 100 meetings; William Freeman, Walter

Spring Arrives Officially Early Saturday Morning

Chances are you'll sleep through the first moments of spring this year.

If you're still "in the sack" at 3:55 a.m. Saturday, March 21, you'll miss the start of the new season. At that time the sun will enter the vernal equinox. In other words, the sun will cross the equator on its way north.

The experts say spring will start nearly six hours later than last year. Unofficial observers have suspected this all winter. The delay stems from the uneven number of days in a year—365.2422, to be exact.

Schools Plan Family Night For April 7

Spring vacation for Chelsea schools begins at noon on Good Friday, March 27, and continues through the following week.

Schools reopen Monday morning, April 6.

Morning kindergarten children will be required to wait for the regular bus run for all rural children who will be returning home following the morning session that day.

All elementary school children have been busy preparing displays of samples of their school work in preparation for the annual Family Night scheduled at both elementary schools for 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 7.

Entire families are urged to attend the Family Night and visit all classrooms they wish. There will be ample time to visit both the North and South Elementary schools.

Pupils will be excused at noon on that day in order that teachers may arrange the displays in their rooms.

Legion Post Cited for New Memberships

Members of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, with their wives and other guests bringing the total number to 90 people, attended the 40th birthday party of the American Legion at the Cavanaugh Lake Legion Home Saturday evening. The anniversary banquet was served by members of the Legion Auxiliary.

A special guest at the meeting was Floyd Hiller of Ypsilanti, alternate district committeeman, who presented the Chelsea Post with membership citations in recognition of enrolling more than 25 new members during the year. The presentation was made on behalf of the Legion's Department of Michigan.

Also present was Dean Coy, Washtenaw county Legion commander, and his wife.

George Walworth, who has held continuous membership for the entire 40 years since the Legion was founded, was presented with a citation.

Other charter members recognized at the meeting were Sidney Schenk and Clara Penn, both of whom are among the 10 members of Post No. 31 who have held continuous membership for 25 years or more.

Donald Bacon was honored at the banquet for his support of the Legion Junior Baseball team. He was presented with a plaque in recognition of this support.

The evening's toastmaster, Walter Greig, executive vice-president of Cleary College, gave an impressive talk pertaining to what he termed "the prestige" of being an American.

Entertainment was provided by a quintet from Cassidy Lake Technical school.

Ray Lutovsky, commander of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, introduced the toastmaster.

FFA STATE FARMER AWARDS are being presented to Earl Heller (left) and Douglas Stark at the Future Farmers of America convention at Michigan State University this week. The convention, which began Tuesday, will be concluded today.

In addition to their work in the FFA chapter here, both have been active in 4-H club work. The Holstein cow shown is one that Stark entered in a 4-H project as a heifer. Both youths are actively engaged in operating their parents' home farms.

Two Area Youths Awarded FFA State Farmer Degrees

Earl Heller, a senior at Chelsea High school this year, and Douglas Stark, who graduated in June, 1952, are being given the State Farmer award at the Future Farmers of America annual convention meeting at Michigan State University this week.

He is vice-president of the senior class and is active in youth work at Zion Lutheran church.

Accompanied by their advisor, Stephen Hayden, Chelsea High school agriculture instructor, the two youths attended the conference which began Tuesday and ends today.

Several other Chelsea FFA members were also scheduled to attend as delegates or visitors.

Heller, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heller of Manchester road, has been a member of the Chelsea FFA parliament procedure team during his years in high school and was a member of the team which last year reached state competition in the contests held annually.

This year, working with Paul Frisinger as an FFA demonstration team, he reached regional competition with their demonstration on the topic "Livestock Handling Losses."

This year, also, he is co-chairman of work for the FFA and is vice-president of the Chelsea FFA chapter.

His projects during his four years in high school have included steers, sheep, hogs, corn, oats, wheat and hay.

In addition to his FFA work, Earl has also been active in 4-H clubs. During his sophomore year he was selected to attend 4-H Club Week at East Lansing and last year, as a junior, he was selected as one of two Chelsea representatives at the American Legion Boys' State, also at East Lansing.

He won a position on the State 4-H livestock judging team that finished 14th in the nation at the

Contest Open for 125th Anniversary Official Seal Design

Would-Be Bandit Fails In Hold-Up

A hold-up attempt at the Waterloo store at 11:30 p.m. Monday failed when Mrs. Margaret Lelsinger, disconcerted the youthful would-be bandit by pushing aside the shotgun he held, grabbing a plastic and metal sign and hitting him over the head with it.

The youth turned and ran out the door, stumbling before he reached the car in which an accomplice was waiting, and accidentally discharged the gun, breaking a car window.

Mrs. Lelsinger said yesterday that after thinking over the sequence of events, she realized the dangerous position she had been in, but at the time she had at first believed the youth was someone she knew and that he was joking.

As she came forward to wait

Entries Must Be Received Before Next Wednesday

M. J. Anderson, publicity chairman for the 125th birthday celebration in Chelsea, announced this week that entries in the birthday seal contest should be sent to 125th Anniversary Headquarters, Chelsea. Entries should be submitted on or before Wednesday, March 25.

The art design selected as the official seal to be used for the celebration should preferably be round. It should include the notation "125 Years" as well as the dates 1834 and 1959.

Also suggested was the use of a design showing something of particular interest here—possibly enlarging on the theme of Chelsea's industries, businesses, schools, parks, etc.

At Macungie, Pa., the winning design included the picture of a bear since the town's name, in Indian language, means "Bear Swamp" or "feeding place of bears." The Macungie seal was designed for the 1957 centennial celebration.

The Chelsea birthday seal will be incorporated in a design for decorations on dishes and other souvenir items which will be available during the celebration.

Anderson urges everyone who has ideas for a design to get busy at once and send in an entry.

Musically-inclined residents have been contacted with suggestions for composing an official birthday song for the celebration, Anderson said.

While the celebration, set for July, is still several months away, details, such as the seal contest, must be completed as soon as possible.

Library Board Organizes, Names Officers for Year

At the organizational meeting of the Chelsea Public Library Board Tuesday evening, Miss Martha Fox was re-elected president.

Also elected were William J. Collins, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Bust, secretary; and Mrs. Jean Eaton, treasurer.

Committee chairmen were also named as follows: Mrs. Bust, book committee; Mrs. Katherine Wagner, publicity; William J. Collins, maintenance; Mrs. Eaton, extension chairman and supervisory chairman; and the Rev. Philip Rusten, special projects.

Progress Report Given on 125th Anniversary Festival

A report of progress in the planning of Chelsea's 125th Anniversary celebration was given to a group of 125 people who attended the community meeting at representatives of various local organizations last week.

The main information part of the meeting was conducted by Wallace Lafferty, a representative of the John B. Rogers Co. of Fostoria, O., who have been hired to organize and promote the three-month birthday party. This company is the country's outstanding producer of celebrations and has a reputation of successful celebrations over the last 50 years.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the celebration will get into full swing early in April and lead up to a grand finale in the form of a historical spectacle to be held nightly, July 13-18.

This spectacle will be written by the Rogers company based on historical information com-

M. J. Anderson Named To Head Chamber of Commerce

Nominated and elected as new officers of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce at the March meeting Tuesday evening were M. J. Anderson, president; Robert Anderson, vice-president; Jack Dettling, secretary; and Jack Merkel, treasurer.

Frederick Belser and Thomas McClear were named directors.

George Knickerbocker and J. V. Burg, I, were appointed as a membership committee and it was announced that the dues are $15 per business and $1.75 per meal for members paying in advance for the year. A concerted membership campaign will be started very soon.

Reports were given on the past year's work by chairmen of committees as follows: Roland Spaulding, parks; M. W. McClure, business and industry; F. W. Merkel, parking; Paul Mann, public relations; and M. J. Anderson, publicity.

Guests at the meeting were Peter Kurzy, village engineer, and Russell McLaughlin.

Roland Spaulding spoke at the meeting on the progress of plans for Chelsea's 125th Anniversary celebration.

Early Discovery Prevents Serious Downtown Fire

Firemen were called to Merkel Brothers store shortly after midnight Saturday after Police Officer Frank Reed spotted smoke seeping out above the construction shed at the front of the store where remodeling is in progress.

Workers had been welding there during the afternoon and it is believed a spark lodged in a bird's nest and smoldered there. Smoke had filled the interior that is being remodeled but had caused no damage and smoke had not penetrated to the rest of the store.

Reed spotted the smoke as he drove by in the police car and turned in the alarm. His timely discovery was credited with preventing what might have developed into a disastrous blaze, since a strong wind was blowing at the time.

CHS Seniors Will Present Class Play

The senior class will "christen" the beautiful new Chelsea High auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 p.m. with their presentation of "Room for the Groom," a comedy in three acts.

It is the first class play in this "cushioned" auditorium and it is hoped that all of the 625 seats will be occupied to help boost the seniors' treasury. It has been prepared by student director, Carole Barr, and faculty advisor, Alfred Smith. Karen Munro and Anita Eismann have the thankless task of prompting.

The entire action of the play takes place in and around the living room of the Allens, in a middle-sized American city, on what started to be an average day in late August.

But that average day suddenly turns into an uproar when Leslie's soon-to-be-wedding is called off.

Mr. Allen's workshop on the adjoining lot is to be torn down by orders of city hall. Hal resigns from Harvard to buy half-interest in a pool hall, and Angela plans her first big dance.

The way things progress to a "bang-up" ending are not only en-

Building Fund for Library Still Growing

The fund for the conversion of the McKune House into the McKune Memorial Library has crossed the $7,800 mark, leaving a little more than $2,600 still to be raised.

Contributors during the past week include Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maroney, Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. Clarence Bahnmiller, David Atkinson, Foor Mobil Service, Hankford Pure Oil Service, Streiter's Men's Wear, Mrs. Cora Foldkamp, Mr. and Mrs. John Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudd, Mr. and Mrs. William Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwieger, Miss Audrey Harris, Roger Hunter, Mrs. Carl Holz, Mrs. Charles Meserve, Mrs. Otto Lulick, Miss Florence Ward, Mrs. Helen Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Rogers, Miss Miladore Liebeck, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Frisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Max R. Frisinger, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, Pauline R. Windell, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels, Mrs. Lela Bahnmiller, Mrs. Marcia Melan, Mrs. Letha Beach, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fenn, and Eunice White.

Members of UAW-CIO No. 487 also sent a generous check.

This makes a total of $7,143.09 turned in at Chelsea, and checks totaling $200 were reported received by Mrs. Daniels, so the present total stands at $7,343.09.

Of the $2,557.28 which has been acquired since the November meeting of the Friends of the Library, $2,300 has been in gifts of $100 or more, making it very obvious that gifts of any size, no matter how small, all help swell the total.

Several intentions of help have been expressed; individuals and organizations have indicated willingness, or plans, or intention to contribute eventually; and in general, the public is giving the project most encouraging support.

However, inasmuch as the five members of the Library Board are limited as to the number of contacts each can make, the general public is urged to bring or send gifts to any member of the Library Board or to the Library itself. Checks should preferably be made out to Chelsea Library Building Fund.

Journalism class offers to the people of Chelsea a brief history of the Chelsea Public Schools in the form of the seventh issue of the school paper, "The Bulldog Barks."

The 16 class members conducted numerous interviews, searched through old magazines, documents, and newspapers, and produced an eight-page resume of the highlights of school history since 1884, when the school district was first organized.

In eight pages, only highlights can be included, yet the first building appropriation, $81, contrasts sharply with modern costs. Two teachers, a lady who taught for 40 the summer session, and a gentleman who earned $35 for the winter session, constituted the first faculty. Early students were required to supply 1 1/2 cords of wood each. Though small, the bulletin is something most people will wish to keep.

Over two dozen illustrations of the current buildings add to the little publication. Copies may be obtained from any member of Journalism Club, from the Public Library, from Chelsea Drug Store, or from Guenther Studio.

The girls' physical education classes are still learning modern dance. In the past week they have learned how to skip and turn, and many exercises. Each class broke up into four groups and are creating dances demonstrating direction, level, dimension, and focus. Each group presented their dance to other members of the class.

Friday and Saturday of this week the senior class is proud to present a sparkling comedy, "Room for the Groom," the first play to be presented in the new auditorium, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Smith, senior advisor, and Carole Barr, student assistant. Don Wood and Earl Heller have been combining the community to find exactly the right properties; and new stage settings have been created under the direction of Dave Minick.

Tickets and programs have been the responsibility of a committee headed by Marie Forner; advertising has been done by Priscilla Neal's committee. Bob Eder and Larry Schramm have been devising sound and lighting effects. The cast is headed by character leads Gus Steger and Elaine Walker, parents of a collection of bewildering offspring. Other character parts are played by Jeanne Larson, Sharon Slane, Dave Schroen, Priscilla Neal, Pat Kramer, and Sue Patrick. Juvenile roles are taken by Bob Smith and Ellen Keesh. The title role is played by Donald Ferguson, and opposite him plays Sandra Karner. Last week the winners of the mock elections held for the annual graphed for the annual. They are "best all around," Sandra Karner and Pat Kramer; best dressed, Anita Eisenman and Don Ferguson; best school spirit, Sharon Slane and Fritz Wagner; friendliest, Elaine Walker and Bob Eder; most athletic, Dolores Scripser and Loren Keeser; most studious, Ellen Keesh and David Schroen; most likely to succeed, Carole Barr and Earl Heller; sleepest, Veretta Greenwood and Chuck Slocum; most courteous, Steve Bristle and Helen Lentz; class sweethearts, Lynne McMannis and Tim Fredericks; most flirtatious, Priscilla Neal and Gus Steger; wittiest, Bob Smith and Sandy Fraser.

The sophomore class is pleased with the success of the Sophomore-Freshman dance held last Saturday. In geometry, sophomores are winding up a unit on circles, angles, and arcs. Language students have completed six-week tests. English classes have turned in their book reviews. During a recent study of ballads, Mr. LaGoe played records of old ballads in class. World history students have also had the privilege of listening to records. These were in co-ordination with the unit on Spain.

Sophomores are happy to welcome Arlene Sears into their class. Future Teachers Association members have been given the subjects which they hope to teach to Mr. Sanborn in preparation for student teaching. The members have hopes of an FTA class next year, which would give them practice in teaching their chosen subject in any grade.

They also saw the movie "A Desk for Billie," the story of a little girl's quest for education. Child of a migrant worker, Billie had family and geographical problems, but attended school as often as possible, and eventually graduated from college. She became a teacher, and helped others become educated. The movie was greatly enjoyed.

Freshmen are planning a return dance for the Sophomores, to take place April 17. Committee appointments include Chairman Nancy Carter, Dot Brown, Carol Dancer on refreshments, together with Richard Haist and Richard Hardy; chairman Andy Fletcher, Ruth Sexton, Janet Forner, David Talbot, and Judy Kaden on decorations; Nancy McMannis (chairman), and Barbara Irwin, Duane Weiss, Donna Snyder, Jackie Hoyer on publicity; and the whole class on clean-up.

Mrs. Lewis Bernath is the latest addition to the Chelsea School Library's volunteer group. The choir is now practicing faithfully for the program which they will do for the Good Friday service. The next big event, and one that is anticipated eagerly by every chorus member, is the trip to Kalamazoo, April 21. This is an unforgettable experience for everyone. Another source of eagerness is the arrival of the long-awaited robes. The order has been sent, and everyone is eager for their return.

The Girls' Athletic Association has been adjusting to meeting in the new school. Girls plan to meet the second Wednesday of every month during activity period and also the fourth Wednesday evening. Committees reported on the planning of Sponge Week and the Sponge dance, which will be held April 24. A lot of hard work is going into the planning of this "important" week, and all hope that it will be a big success.

The French club met at the home of Marilyn Pajot, for a long-planned "fun night." French II class presented a short skit; games were played, and refreshments served. It was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended.

The French club is continuing plans for a dance to be held April 11 from 8 to 11 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Movies shown last week were "The Federal Reserve Bank and You" and "Without Fear," shown by Mr. Marvahl; "Modern Business Machines," by Mrs. Smith; "Mutiny on the Bounty," by Mr. Smith; and "How Big Is An Atom?" by Mr. Cowell. American history classes also saw the first movie named.

Girls' physical education class is doing a unit on basketball. The boys are doing a unit on basketball and kickball. Mrs. Finch and Mr. O'Doherty have these groups.

The Junior High band, directed by Mr. Grove, has been preparing for the midwinter concert. Among the numbers they will play are "Jolly General," "Green Valley," and a wonderful Spanish number. Tryouts have started again. First chairs: drums John Brier; clarinets Susan Schroen; flutes, Beverly Willard; and cornets, Gordon Beeman.

The eighth grade has a right to be proud of its sports prowess. It was undefeated until it met with the Dexter team the second time. High scorers for the eighth grade this season are Dud Holmes with 9.6 points a game, and Robert Riemenschneider with 8.4 points per game. Chelsea eighth grade has scored 145 points against 108 points by the opponents. Eighth grade won 5 and lost one game. Coach is Mr. Frinzling.

Seventh grade science classes under the direction of Mr. Rogers, Mr. Conkili, and Mr. Bualter are studying how man has changed the earth's surface.

Mr. Bustler's and Mrs. Papsdorf's seventh grade math classes are studying measures. Miss Reidal's English classes are beginning diagramming which, they think, is fun. History classes, taught by Mr. Prinsing and Mrs. LaGoe, are studying mining. Chorus, directed by Mr. Sanborn, is not working toward any particular goal, but is enjoying singing traditional and Negro spirituals.

Mrs. LaGoe, who used to teach English, is now teaching history; English is being taught by Miss Reidal. Mr. Bustler is the new math and science teacher. Mr. O'Doherty has taken over Mr. Conkili's gym class, and Mr. Conkili is acting director of the Junior High School when Mr. Lane is at the high school.

Carol Mayer, seventh grade treasurer, reported $34 in the treasury, with class dues coming in very slowly.

The Junior High Journalism club met at noon Feb. 16. They discussed increasing their membership, set Wednesdays as the time when journalism assignments are due, urged prompt payment of dues, and discussed the possibility of a dance at the Junior High School as well as the desirability of a club dinner. David Winans acted as chairman.

"Parents yearn for an objective report of their children's abilities in the essential skills of learning," says George R. Bergman, counselor, of Chelsea Public Schools. "And they want evidence that their school tax dollars are being spent wisely."

To meet these goals the Science Research Associates Achievement Series test battery will be administered by home room teachers the week of March 16 to pupils in grades 1 through 6.

This testing program measures pupil mastery of language arts, reading, arithmetic, and work-study skills. The results will indicate how well each pupil has mastered these essential skills of learning and indicate where individualization of instruction can be applied most effectively.

These results will also serve as a basis for curriculum planning to meet educational objectives.

This achievement series is presented in story form based on studies of child interest. This makes the tests much more interesting for youngsters to take. The stories are original and present items in problem situations typical of everyday life.

These tests are scored centrally, leaving our teachers free for more important duties.

Results will be sent to us in multiple copies, making them immediately available for teacher study and use.

The Iowa Tests of Educational Development will be administered by G. R. Bergman and his staff during the week of March 23 to students of the 9th grade.

The testing program covers nine important aspects of fundamental development in four major areas: the ability to understand and use the English language; the ability to do practical everyday arithmetic reasoning; knowledge of both natural and social sciences; and the ability to think straight about common problems in these fields.

Results of this program will show the scope of each student's background knowledge and the extent to which his scholastic abilities have already been developed.

They will enable teachers to individualize instruction to meet personal student needs, and will give guidance directors invaluable information to help them counsel more effectively.

Answer sheets are scored centrally by a staff of Iowa Testing Program specialists to insure objective results.

The art room appears to visitors as a vast menagerie of swaying contraptions of a variety of shapes and sizes called mobiles. Around the room are arrayed paper mache pears, tooth brushes, ovals, and a large number of abstractions.

These are the six weeks' projects nearing completion. The art students have worked hard this marking period on some very ingenious constructions which are on display in the art room.

The University of Michigan's Law School centennial will be held at the U-M Oct. 22-24.

Because of budget restrictions, the total number of courses offered by the University of Michigan Extension Service will be reduced nearly 20 per cent this spring.

University Sets Higher Academic Standards for Entering Freshmen

High school students who want to enroll in the college of their choice should face some new facts.

Colleges and universities are raising their admission standards. They are forced to do so by crowded conditions. There is not enough room for all who apply. Educational standards have also been raised. The reason is that industry and the professions are demanding more of college and university graduates. In this age of mechanical and electronic marvels, there is no room at the top for men and women who are not both dedicated and educated.

Last summer, 7,500 prospective freshmen applied at the University of Michigan. About 4,000 of the 7,500 met University of Michigan admission requirements.

A Michigan resident generally qualifies if he has a "B" average in high school, is in the top quarter of his high school class and has demonstrated a learning potential that may be enhanced by higher education. These are the qualifications for Michigan residents. Out-of-state applicants must have even better high school grades.

Passing grades in high school or averages below a "B" are no longer acceptable for admission at the University of Michigan and most other schools. Universities are seeking students who have demonstrated in high school that they can do and want to do college work.

High school students who are planning to continue their education in college should be aware of the increased standards.—Arenac County Independent.

'Mr. Big' Plans Leave from CBS

Edward R. Murrow, a tiny man who has been a giant around CBS, has finally come to a parting of the ways with the largest television network in the country. Murrow announced recently that he was taking a year's leave, which is provided for in his contract, but there is no denying that Murrow and the network were, taken together, too big to operate under the same tent.

In recent years Murrow, who was an excellent foreign correspondent, has taken it upon himself to speak out as an expert in all kinds of domestic affairs—some of which he knew much about and some of which he knew very little about.

The malady affecting Murrow often attacks reporters. The trouble is that reporters cease to be reporters and suddenly become "profund" thinkers. Instead of reporting the news, they begin to give their opinions and arrange their programs to stand for certain policies, theories and ideals.

Murrow is basically a reporter, and as long as he sticks to reporting the news, without obviously imparting lessons to Washington and the world on how things should be run, he is an excellent one. He is obviously more than that, in his own estimation, and he has probably grown too big for CBS, which is growing pretty big.

In applauding the President's appeal to Congress to relieve the present "intolerable" price support and crop control that "has not worked," "doesn't control" and is "excessively expensive," it should be noted that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson could have told him these things (and doubtless did) six years ago. All of us, and especially farmers, can be glad Mr. Benson has stuck to his guns.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan, like Maine, has had trouble adopting a catchy nickname to advertise its splendors and identify its citizens abroad.

For years, the name of "Michigan" has been used by some and considered an insult by others. Now Robert G. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, proposes "Michiganian," a choice he believes retains identification without any of the overtones of "gander."

Furlong feels that the name could add to the project of luring millions of tourists from other states to the Water Wonderland each year.

In the past several years, the state has been promoting the idea of year-around attractions in Michigan, which now ranks near the top among the tourist volume of the states.

Furlong hopes the "Michiganian" idea catches on better than similar attempts over the years. But Michigan's nickname troubles put when Maine takes over the stage. There have been suggestions like "Mainites" and "Mainers" and "Mainliners."

But what is more puckish than "Mainie?"

A million dollars may be available for Michigan to develop educational television facilities within the state. According to Paul Lutzeler, chairman of the Working Committee on Education Television, there are several bills in Congress which will appropriate money to states willing to work up programs. The money, he emphasizes, is for the purchase of equipment, and there are no strings attached concerning the nature of the programs. "In other words," he says, "there is no issue here of federal control of a state education system."

Present plans, if the money becomes available, call for production of programs which would be used over existing commercial stations. These would mostly involve adult education, and would permit experts in many fields to supply information in many fields to the public at very little cost.

"Unexpectedly large audiences have developed for the few educational programs already presented to the public, even though they are telecast at such weird hours as 7 a.m.," said Lutzeler. "If we can get this program going, the public stands to gain a great deal."

Civil rights is expected to become one of the top non-financial issues of the 1959 legislative session.

The state now has civil rights laws. There is also the Fair Employment Practice Commission with authority as a separate unit to negotiate disputes over discrimination in employment.

Democratic leaders want to merge them under a new Civil Rights Commission and expand the scope of both functions as they now exist.

One idea is to include age in the anti-discrimination system, along with race, creed, national origin and color.

The biggest fight is expected to be over the extension of powers to ban discrimination in schools, housing and other uncovered areas. Public accommodations, such as hotels and restaurants, are now included.

Most recent change came several years ago when a law was enacted making it illegal to discriminate against a tavern patron because of race, creed, color or national origin. If discrimination could be proved, the tavern could lose its license in court.

FEPC reports it has been successful in negotiations between employers and employees who have charged discrimination, despite the lack of powerful punishment to mete out to either.

Eggs for breakfast can help you become an egg head. That's one analysis of Dr. Albert E. Heustis' suggestion that children can learn easier in school adult education, and would permit if they have a substantial breakfast.

The term describing the first meal of the day breaks down into "break fast" which Dr. Heustis, state health commissioner, says is actually the case.

Growing children are more likely likely to react to hunger and concentrate best when perfectly at ease with the world, well fed and comfortable.

Michigan's pioneer "normal college" at Ypsilanti will become Eastern Michigan University on June 1. The institution started as the state normal college years ago and recently had its name changed to Eastern Michigan College.

In three years, the state has developed from one publicly-supported university, the University of Michigan, to five though the institutions were here all the time.

Michigan State College attained university status to become the second one. The state took over Wayne University in Detroit to gain the third. Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti and Central Michigan at Mt. Pleasant will be designated as universities beginning June 1.

Today there are nearly thirty distinct medical specialists which help maintain your all-around good health.

★ Overflow

Some time ago I heard Dr. Paul Mininger say that a good teacher doesn't teach right up to the edge of his knowledge. That is, a person who has read only one book on photography should not try to teach a course on photography, even though the book he read may have been a very good one, and even though he may have a very good memory.

Instead, said Dr. Mininger, a good teacher will teach out of the overflow of his knowledge. He will deal with matters which have been a part of his life for a long time—matters which he has considered from many points of view. Then if the members of his class raise questions, he will have abundant resources from which to draw his answers.

I have heard Dr. E. Stanley Jones tell how, as a Christian missionary in India, it was his custom to hold conferences or ashrams, at which Indian thinkers were free to ask him any question at all about Christ or Christianity. And believe me, they could bring up many that were hard to answer, as for example, "Why are there so many differences between the teachings of Jesus Christ and the actual conduct of so-called Christian people today?"

Somebody asked Dr. Jones on one occasion, "Dr. Jones, are there not many scars on your faith? To which he replied, "Yes, there are many scars, but underneath there is no uncertainty."

You see, he was speaking from the depths of his knowledge, not from the margin of some things that he had heard about.

If I have a broken leg, I want a doctor whose knowledge covers more than fractures. If I want to make a will, I feel more confident if my lawyer understands more than the law of wills. If I have a spiritual problem, I trust the counsel of Jesus, who spoke with authority on matters of faith and life, for on these matters he was speaking out of the overflow of his own experience.

Why Let Deer

Go to the Dogs?

I wish someone would give a good explanation why dogs are picked up and taken to the humane society and get put to death within a week, or you pay a $50.00 fine for a loose dog in town. Yet this winter I have seen deer after deer being chased by a pack of half-starved mongrels in the farming communities.

I have a valuable bird dog, plenty intelligent, but if you ever see him chasing deer, give him both barrels. I don't eat venison anyway, no matter who cooks it.

Blaess Elevator Installs Electronic Hot Spot Detector

Blaess Elevator Co. has just completed an expansion program with its electronic device that measures the temperature of stored grain.

This electronic temperature measuring device virtually serves the grain man like a telephone system. Flexible nylon-covered steel temperature cables are hung in each of the grain bins throughout the entire storage plant. Using a specially designed reading instrument, the grain man can dial temperature—sensing points at various levels from the bottom to the top of each cable.

This knowledge is important to the grain man because a grain kernel, like any living organism, is subject to sickness, deterioration and spoilage, caused by "fever spots," mold, moisture migration, foreign material and insects.

The first sign of any disturbance threatening the quality of grain is a sudden rise in temperature. Without this knowledge, a sudden rise in temperature at any particular point could cause a large amount of spoilage and result in costly damage.

A system of this type is just one more step on the part of the grain man in his constant fight for quality control in grain storage.

Workshop on Science, Mathematics Scheduled For Teachers at U-M

Ann Arbor—About 100 teachers and administrators will attend a workshop on secondary science and mathematics Thursday and Friday, March 12-13 at the University of Michigan.

Included will be educators from Hillsdale, Lenawee, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw counties. Sessions will take place at the Michigan Union.

U-M faculty members and representatives of area schools planned the conference, which is sponsored by the State Science Committee of the Department of Public Instruction. Lawrence A. Conroy, U-M assistant professor of science and University School science teacher, is chairman of the area committee, which has been designated as Region VII.

Objectives of the workshop are to stimulate school district action for science and mathematics improvement and provide an opportunity for exchanging ideas on improving the content of such courses.

Rubinoff and Violin Signed For Concert Here on April 6

Chelsea area residents were assured today of a musical highlight on April 6 when Rubinoff and his violin, internationally famed popular concert artist, will appear at the new Chelsea High School auditorium, under sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

"We feel indeed fortunate in being able to bring such a great artist to Chelsea," Dr. F. E. Sharrard, chairman said today in making the announcement. "and we are all aggressively determined to make this one of the outstanding events of the season."

Pointing out that all Kiwanis club members are selling tickets, chairman Sharrard urged all organization members "and others interested in civic betterment" to join in making the concert a huge financial success for the benefit of the Chelsea Public Library building fund.

Rubinoff and his violin, a long favorite American combination, is well-known to millions both from his current concert appearances on nationwide radio broadcasts with Eddie Cantor-television guests, and his motion picture engagements. This tour is heralded as a concert "in tune with the times."

The famed musician will bring here for his concert the fabulous Stradivarius violin which, insured for $100,000, is reputed to possess the most beautiful tonal qualities in the entire world, and a brand new program of famous favorites loved by people everywhere, such as "Warsaw Concerto," "Chopin's Polonaise," Debussy's "Clair de Lune," and Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." These compositions will have their premier performance as violin solos arranged and played by the maestro.

Tickets are now available from any Kiwanian.

Dr. Conant Is Guest Speaker Friday at MSU Luncheon

How serious is the problem of the small high school?

How much time is spent on academic subjects?

Do the vocational courses meet the needs of the community?

Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University and former U. S. Ambassador to Germany, will discuss these and other questions pertaining to public secondary education at Michigan State University, Friday, March 20.

Dr. Conant will voice his views on "The Challenge Facing our High Schools" at a public luncheon at the MSU Kellogg Center at 12 noon. The noted educator has been making a study of the American high school since 1957, under a grant from the Carnegie Corp.

All Michigan school people and other citizens interested in better education are invited to attend this public luncheon program, announced Louis J. Berman, of Whitehall, past-president of the Michigan Free Association. Berman is general chairman for the Michigan Citizens Council for Better Schools, sponsoring organization for the event.

Many of the questions being posed by Dr. Conant in conjunction with his study of high schools are taken from a booklet published by the National Citizens Council for Better Schools titled "Dr. Conant Looks at American High Schools."

41% of DHIA Cows Are Registered

Slightly less than half of the dairy cows in Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Associations are registered, according to a dairy specialist at Michigan State University.

Larry Johnson reports that 41 per cent of all DHIA cows are registered, with their respective breeds. The remaining cows are grade animals.

A total of 65,403 cows are in DHIA, Johnson says. There are some 820,000 dairy cows in Michigan.

Holsteins take the honor for having the greatest number registered in DHIA, Guernsey, Jersey, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire, Milking Shorthorn, Red Dane and Red Poll follow in number registered in that order.

Michigan Artificial Breeders Repays State Appropriation

A history-making transaction took place in the hallowed halls of Michigan's capital building last week when a check for $25,000 was turned over to the legislature for deposit in Michigan's general fund.

The check represented repayment of an appropriation in 1946 to the Michigan Artificial Breeders Co-operative, an organization devoted to the improvement of Michigan's dairy herd production standards by artificial insemination, and was presented to State Treasurer Sanford A. Borwn.

"Michigan's legislators helped us get started when we badly needed help, so it's only fair that we repay the kindness by repaying the gift now that we are successfully established," said E. A. Wenner, general manager of MABC, in presenting the check.

To the best of anyone's knowledge, this is the first time that any organization ever has returned a legislative gift to the giver. "It definitely is the first time that a co-operative group has repaid the state for funds used initially to get the organization on its feet," one legislator stated.

The appropriation in 1948 was specifically for the building of a barn to house 11 bulls optioned by the newly-chartered group, which started with less than 500 dairy farmer members. Today, MABC owns 77 of the best bulls money can buy, and its 134 technicians have performed more than 1,782,400 "first service inseminations" on dairy cows throughout the state of which 229,000 were done in 1958.

"We've come a long way since we first asked the legislature for $25,000," Wenner said. "MABC now has more than 62,000 members, and about 33 per cent of all cows in Michigan are artificially bred to improve production and type standards in dairy herds. As a matter of fact, our dairymen would be $40 million richer from milk checks if all cows were artificially bred, because that much money is lost every year by breeding to bulls with histories of lower milk production."

"If we can get this message over to all dairymen, perhaps some day we will be able to repay the interest on the $25,000 we're giving back today," said MABC's general manager. "Then we would really make history."

How Valuable Is Local Newspaper Advertising To Local Business People?

Here's What the American Bankers Magazine Has To Say:

"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half, or even a quarter page advertisement in each issue of the paper, but your name and address should be mentioned, if you do not use more than several inches of space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town... it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

Fruit Spray Calendar Ready for Distribution

The 1959 Fruit Spraying Calendar has been received in the county extension office in Ann Arbor. The publication, Extension Bulletin 154, contains the latest information on materials and methods for controlling insects and diseases that attack the state's fruit plantings.

Growers may use the information in the publication to prepare their own pest control program, taking into account the insects and diseases that are most likely to be economically important to their plantings.

A copy of the bulletin is free for the asking.

Mrs. R. Vanderkelen Named To Be President Of Jaycees Auxiliary

Jaycees Auxiliary members elected officers at their March meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Merle Leach. Mrs. Robert Vanderkelen was elected president; Mrs. Elton Guenther, vice-president; Mrs. George Ellenwood, secretary; and Mrs. Daniel Maroney, treasurer. Mrs. Charles Popovich and Mrs. Jack Wellnitz were named board members.

Mrs. Leach gave a report of the winter-board meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary held Feb. 20-21 at Saginaw, and Mrs. J. V. Burg, II, reported on a district meeting held March 11 at the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor.

Plans were completed for the Auxiliary's Easter party for members' children to be held Saturday, March 21, from 10 a.m. until noon at the home of Mrs. Robert Jacobs.

Installation of the newly-elected officers will take place at the April meeting.

Jackson Man Honored as Truck Driver of Year

Lansing—An unobtrusive Jackson truck driver who has driven more than 1,185,000 miles without an accident of any kind is today Michigan's Driver of the Year.

Chester E. Searing, 526 Hallett street, Jackson, was honored last week by the Michigan Trucking Association at a driver-awards banquet in the Hotel Olds, Lansing.

More than 350 state legislators, officials, and community and business leaders were on hand to see Gov. G. Mennen Williams, keynote speaker, present the Driver of the Year trophy to Searing.

Searing, 53, has been employed by Inter-City Trucking Service, Inc., Detroit, for the past 28 years. Presently, he is operating a tractor-trailer combination, hauling general commodities in the Jackson area.

The award came as a surprise to Searing, who had been named December, 1958, Driver of the Month by the MTA two weeks ago. He and 11 other monthly winners had been honored singularly before announcement of Searing's honor.

Young People from Congregational Church Visit Detroit Groups

Seventeen young people of the Congregational church, accompanied by the Rev. Philip Rusten, George Frisinger and Fred Harris, left for Detroit immediately following the service at the Congregational church Sunday morning for a visit to two Congregational churches in the city to observe the types of programs carried out by their Youth Fellowship groups.

The Chelsea young people and adult advisors were noon dinner guests at the First Congregational church in downtown Detroit and then heard a lecture by the pastor of the church, Dr. Walton Cole, on the topic, "Science, Religion and You."

This was followed by a visit to Central Congregational church of which the Rev. Albert Cleaga is pastor. The church has three youth groups of 125 members each.

A visit to the Detroit Historical Museum, followed by evening dinner at a Detroit hotel concluded the day's program.

Young people in the group included David Winans, Jr., David Runelman, Victor Parks, Wilson Morley, David Talbot, Malcolm Reinhardt, Charlotte Harris, Carol Reddeman, Velma Wiseman, Sherry Frisinger, Sandra Sharrard, Rayma Smith, Paul Frisinger, Quentin Smith, Norman Hiltz, Daryl Keezer and Dick Penhalligon.

Baptist Church Group Needs Worn Sheets For Cancer Dressings

Willing Workers of the Chelsea Baptist church, meet at the church each Thursday evening to make cancer dressings and to sew on bed jackets, draw sheets and other items for the comfort of cancer patients. The dressings and other articles are prepared for the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross and are designated principally for Chelsea area use.

To date, the group of six women has made 769 bandages, three draw sheets and one bed jacket. The bed jackets are made from men's white shirts. Shirts with worn or frayed collars and cuffs are ideal for the purpose, since the collars and lower portion of the sleeves are cut away in converting the garments.

The group's supplies of used sheets and shirts have been exhausted and anyone wishing to contribute some may contact Mrs. John Myers of Wilkinson street, who is chairman of the group, or Mrs. Mable K. Foster of West Middle street.

K. of C. Credit Union Names New Officers

Chelsea Knights of Columbus Credit Union officers, elected at the group's March meeting are Donald Doli, president; Emmett Ranker, Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Francis McGowan, treasurer; Harry Orbring, clerk; Donald Hafner, assistant treasurer.

The supervisory committee, as named, is headed by Willard Guest, Sr., as chairman, Charles Popovich is secretary and Walter Bury the third member.

Credit committee members are Mark McKernan, chairman; Ed. Laier, secretary; and Vincent Hafner, member; while Bruce Hoffman and Don Houle are on the education committee.

Mrs. McGowan will maintain her office at her home, 227 Jefferson street.

Mrs. Christina Nicolai and son, Paul, and Miss Flora Schieferstein were Sunday dinner guests of the former's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nicolai of Grass Lake.

DAVID WOLFGANG

Graduates from Farmer Short Course at MSU

East Lansing—David Wolfgang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolfgang, is one of 54 winter term graduates of the Young Farmer short course in agriculture at Michigan State University.

The young farmers received diplomas at exercises on Friday, March 6. The commencement was followed by a banquet in the Union Memorial building on campus.

Featured speaker was Stanley M. Powell, legislative counsel of the Michigan Farm Bureau, who spoke to the graduates on "Your Future in a Changing Agriculture."

Wolfgang's short course included 10 weeks of study each of the past two years.

He has returned to his work on the home farm here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Yoxall and daughters, of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steele and family, and Herman Weber, of Ann Arbor, were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Bertilla Forner and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boylan. Mr. Weber, accompanied by his brother, Theodore Weber of Ypsilanti, had just returned from Miami, Fla., where they had visited their sister, Sister Genevieve, at Barry College.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING PHILATHEA CIRCLE

Afternoon Philathea Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church entertained Evening Philathea Circle members at a supper at the Methodist Home Tuesday evening. Afternoon Circle members who live at the Home acted as a committee to serve the supper in the recreation hall at the home. There were 41 members of the two circles present.

Mrs. Alice Vahne presented the devotional service at the meeting which followed. She included several hymns to supplement her readings on the devotional theme, "Tension."

The Rev. S. D. Kinde showed a colored film, "The Resurrection" during the program period.

Robert Balmer Pledges Acacia Fraternity at U-M

Ann Arbor—The University of Michigan Interfraternity Council has announced that 323 students became affiliated with 41 undergraduate social fraternities during the recently completed spring rushing period.

Included is Robert T. Balmer of Chelsea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Balmer, who became a member of Acacia fraternity.

Men from Michigan, 22 other states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Panama, Puerto Rico, Canada, The Netherlands and England were among this semester's pledges.

Louis Dreyer Honored As Top Producer For Insurance Agency

Louis E. Dreyer, who is with the M. J. Beckers Agency of Flint for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was honored as the top man in a group of 80 honored at a banquet at Flint last week.

Dreyer's record for February showed he had written a quarter of a million dollars worth of life insurance for the company during the month. He was honored as the leading agent of the Flint agency because of his outstanding work in achieving the record.

Dreyer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dreyer of Chelsea. His wife is the former Jana Lou Weinberg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Weinberg. He and his family live at 2424 Pinecrest in Ann Arbor where the Flint agency has a branch office.

NEWS

When George Marshall directs Eva Gabor, Debbie Reynolds, and Glenn Ford in "It Started With A Kiss" in Spain for Metro, it will be his four hundred and ninth film.

While Dorothy Dandridge, was cast she talked to producers about "Queen of Sheba," but nothing was settled. It won't go into rehearsal until the end of summer.

Gloria Grahame, who copped an Oscar for "The Bad and the Beautiful" and who had not acted for two years, joins Harry Belafonte and Bob Ryan for "Odds Against Tomorrow."

Cliff Robertson co-stars with Gia Scala in "Battle of Coral Sea," Columbia's submarine story.

Walt Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson" will be his big motion picture for this year. It will be done in color, wide screen, and shot on location throughout the world with an all-star cast.

Today's picture review: "THE SILENT ENEMY" is a British film that shows a different side of warfare.

Dedicated to troops who lost their lives in World War II, it deals with certain exploits of the almost legendary Commander Lionel Crabb.

Crabb, it may be remembered, was drowned under mysterious circumstances a mid-st. Soviet charges of espionage in 1956 while on an underwater mission near a Russian cruiser at Portsmouth, England.

This film, however, does not concern this episode, but is set in Gibraltar in 1941 at a time when a group of daring Italians, who were based across the harbor in neutral Spain, were swimming over to attach underwater mines which were equipped with a time mechanism device, to allied ships.

Crabb organized a team of frogmen to combat this menace by diving down to remove the mines—an obviously hazardous feat. To protect the allied North African invasion fleet at Gibraltar, Crabb and another daredevil companion went right over to the Spanish harbor and blew up the Italian ship that housed the enemy's explosives.

The underwater photography is fine, and suspense runs through this definitely different war picture. Don't miss it!

IT HAPPENED TO JANE

In the words of the song—there's nothing like a dame. And when that dame happens to be the sparkling Doris Day, the audience is in for a treat.

Jane (Doris Day) an attractive young widow, is trying to earn a living shipping, of all things, live lobsters from her Maine home to customers all over the country. She loses her first big sale because the railroad didn't deliver the order before the lobsters died. Eccentric railroad owner Harry Malone (Ernie Kovacs) agrees to reimburse Jane for her loss and her lawyer and ardent admirer, George (Jack Lemmon), advises her to accept the settlement.

But Jane is angry because she feels her reputation has been damaged, so she wants more than just the cost of the lobsters, and she persists in her fight. Finally she attaches a train belonging to the railroad, and the whole country is fascinated by the saga of the young widow fighting big business. Covering the story of Jane's vendetta, a reporter (Steve Forrest) falls in love with her.

All's well that ends well, of course, but for an evening of light-hearted entertainment, don't miss this one.

GI Insurance Premiums May Be Deducted from Vets' Pension Checks

Veterans holding GI insurance who are also recipients of pension or compensation can save money and time by having their GI insurance premiums deducted from their monthly pension or compensation checks.

Lloyd H. Jameson, manager of the VA regional office in Detroit, pointed out that veterans who arrange to have their monthly insurance premiums deducted in this manner not only save postage, money order costs and sundry expense items but also avoid the possibility of a lapse in their insurance. It is impossible to "forget" to pay an insurance premium if deductions for premiums are authorized beforehand.

Farmers Should Apply Now for Wool Payment

Wool Payment

If you have sold wool or unshorn lambs since April 1, 1958, chances are you have earned a payment under the Federal wool incentive program. To collect it, be sure to file an application at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office not later than April 30, Max M. Kalmbach, county ASC chairman, reminded farmers today.

These applications, Kalmbach said, are to cover wool and shorn lambs marketed not later than March 31, 1959. If there is any detail of a sale which is not completed until after that date, the transaction goes over into 1959 marketing and will be eligible for payment in 1960.

Wool incentive payments are made under the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments on shorn wool are a direct incentive to increase production. Payments on unshorn lambs are made to encourage normal marketing of lambs with the wool on and avoid unusual shearing to get the shorn wool payment.

The goal of the program is to increase U. S. production to 300 million pounds of shorn wool—about a one-third increase over production in recent years.

The program for 1959, recently announced, will be similar to that during the past year, with the incentive price continuing at 62 cents per pound. To encourage the best possible job of marketing by wool growers, the farmer earns a higher incentive payment by getting a higher price for his wool.

Both sheep numbers and shorn wool production appear to be on the increase in this country, according to a March report on the wool situation by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The report also states that imports are on the decline, and that the Government has disposed of the last of its wool holdings acquired under the 1952-54 price-support program.

The larger portion of the increase in personal income, however, was in wage and salary disbursements, and the most notable rise here was in commodity producing industries as contrasted with distributive and service industries.

The only broad category of personal income which did not show an increase in January was transfer payments, which consists primarily of veterans and social insurance benefits. On an annual basis these were $26 billion. Last September was the peak of these payments at just a billion dollars higher. The growth of these transfer payments has been fabulous. As late as 1952 they were only one-half the present volume, and for all of 1958 they amounted to less than $19 billion. Personal contributions of employees and self-employed for social insurance have been advancing at about the same rate. In 1958 such contributions were $3.8 billion, in 1956 they were $5.7 billion, and in January, 1959, they were at an annual rate of $7.6 billion. This was an increase of $800 million over December and reflects higher social security taxes that went into effect Jan. 1. In spite of increased taxation the social security system is still running in the red, but this is supposed to be a temporary situation.

Finally, housing starts show this segment of the economy is still strong. The January figure, on a seasonally adjusted annual basis, was 1,350,000. This was a decline from December, which was 1,360,000. In 1958 the figure was 1,200,000. This year is expected to be just as good, or perhaps a shade better, but no one is predicting we will reach the 1955 total.

Construction as a whole in January was 10 percent above a year earlier. Private outlays showed a smaller percentage increase than smaller expenditures. Construction as a whole this year will come to something above $52 billion.

Of these three items only housing really offers any evidence of a slowdown in the recovery, and this is not too impressive. It was hardly expected that housing starts could continue at the December rate, and it was not desirable that they do so. Such a thing could have led us into a housing boom, which would not be favorable to the long-term growth of the nation.

As a matter of fact some slowdown in the rate of recovery was quite easily in recent months, and while there still is plenty of room on the upside, and it is evident that we continue to advance, too rapid growth is not sustainable, and if we start to move into a boom it will really be time to start to worry.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

BY RALPH ROBEY

★ Business Recovery Rolling Along

Business recovery continues to move forward and upward. The rate may not be as rapid as a few months ago, but there is no question as to the direction. Three broad items make this clear:

First, industrial production, as measured by the Federal Reserve Board Index, advanced in January for the ninth consecutive month. The one-point rise in the index, to 145, is now only two points below the pre-recession peak. Recovery in this field is over 98 percent.

Equally important, the rise was in both durable and non-durable goods. The latter is currently some four per cent above the pre-recession peak; durable goods production still is about five per cent below the peak of August 1957.

The relatively poor showing of durable production is partly accounted for by a glass strike curtailing production by Chrysler, and partly by a reduced level of output in the farm-machinery field.

Mineral production—also covered by this index—was down one point because of declines in coal mining and oil and gas well drilling. Other mineral production was up, but not enough to offset these declines.

Secondly, personal income increased about $2.4 billion in January. In December there had been a slight decline because year-end dividends were off sharply. In January there was more than a full recovery in this item.

The larger portion of the increase in personal income, however, was in wage and salary disbursements, and the most notable rise here was in commodity producing industries as contrasted with distributive and service industries.

The only broad category of personal income which did not show an increase in January was transfer payments, which consists primarily of veterans and social insurance benefits. On an annual basis these were $26 billion. Last September was the peak of these payments at just a billion dollars higher. The growth of these transfer payments has been fabulous. Recession Not Sole Cause of Unemployment

East Lansing—Michigan's 1958 unemployment level—more than twice as high as the United States average—was not caused entirely by the national recession, according to a Michigan State University economist.

Deterioration of the state's employment situation can be attributed, also, to federal defense contract allotment, demand for automobiles and several other factors, writes Dr. Roger L. Bowley in the February issue of Michigan Economic Record, a publication of MSU's Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

The Michigan unemployment rate has been higher than the national average every month since January 1956, Dr. Bowley points out; partly because the state's concentrated durable goods production tends to be more strongly affected by cyclical unemployment.

Michigan's unemployment rate in January 1959 was 10.1 percent, compared with 5.2 percent for the nation as a whole.

You Pay Less

TRUCKS ARE VITAL to every industry in Michigan, and no service or commodity which affects your day-to-day living could reach you without trucks.

That is the basic way in which trucks serve you. But they benefit you in other important ways, too. For example—latest available figures show that Michigan's trucks pay over $65,000,000 annually in State registration fees, and gasoline taxes alone, plus several millions more in mileage taxes and special taxes levied on the larger vehicles. In addition, of course, trucks pay all the other taxes charged against any business enterprise in Michigan—real estate property taxes, personal property taxes, business activities taxes, sales taxes, intangibles taxes, franchise taxes.

All these millions in taxes the trucks pay go to support the general welfare, to help pay for modern roads, hospitals, schools and colleges, parks and playgrounds, police and fire protection.

So, you see, thanks to the trucks, you pay less.

Club and Social Activities

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

Woman's Relief Corps, No. 210, held a meeting Monday evening, with Mrs. Ernest Adam and Mrs. Thomas Moore as hostesses. The meeting, with 18 members present, was held at the home of Mrs. Adam.

Contributions were received from members for an Easter box to be sent to Howell Sanitarium. During a social hour which followed the business session, cards were awarded to Miss Nina Greening, Mrs. Ruth Christwell and Mrs. Addie Flaherty.

The April meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Rowe.

JERUSALEM EXTENSION CLUB

Mrs. Dave Pastor gave the month's lesson on "Entertaining" at the meeting of Jerusalem Extension club Monday evening. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Wolfgang.

Announcement was made that the spring party of District IV will be held in Dexter, Wednesday evening, April 8. This marks the first time the annual party has been scheduled as an evening gathering.

SUBURBAN MOTHERS CHILD STUDY CLUB

Suburban Mothers Child Study club members held a regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Sullivan. Assisting her as co-hostesses were Mrs. Philip Brier and Mrs. Walter Bury.

The program was a panel discussion on the topic "Entertaining," led by Mrs. Jack Gilbert. Panelists included Mrs. Walter French, Jr., Mrs. Norman Hoult, Mrs. Alex Ersten and Mrs. Ruth Catell.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Sullivan and Mrs. Walter French, Jr., as co-hostesses.

Club members plan to hold a bake sale at that meeting; the proceeds to be contributed to the Chelsea school.

PNG CLUB

Tuesday evening, March 10, 18 members and one guest of the Rebekah Past Noble Grands club enjoyed a guided tour of the Chelsea Milling company's plant prior to their regular meeting.

At the business session, which was held at the home of Mrs. Donovan Sweeney, the club went on record with a vote of appreciation for the hospitality extended by the company.

Refreshments were served at the Sweeney home by Mrs. Sweeney and her co-hostesses, Mrs. Gale Gilson. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Norman Perkins who was a guest at the meeting, and Mrs. Ross Munro.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman, the exact date to be announced later by the club president, Mrs. Gilson.

ROGERS CORNERS FARM BUREAU

Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Niehaus and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Niehaus entertained 19 families at their home Friday evening for the March meeting of Rogers Corners Farm Bureau.

Discussion topic for the evening's program pertained to government subsidies and was led by John Miller.

Euchre was the diversion during the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served by the two hostesses.

SOUTH SYLVAN EXTENSION CLUB

South Sylan Extension club, with 10 members present, met for a dessert luncheon at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Everett Van Riper.

The luncheon was followed by a lesson on the subject of entertaining at buffets and teas, given by Mrs. Van Riper and Mrs. Arthur Grau.

Michigan grows more cucumbers for pickles than any other state. The crop is worth about $5 million to the farmers each year.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Niehaus entertained at a birthday dinner at their home Saturday evening honoring the former's sister, Mrs. Clara Hutzel. Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Niehaus of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoult, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hankard and their families; also, Lucille Meyer of Detroit, Theresa and Roseann Hankard, Emmett Hankard and Mrs. Mary Niehaus.

JERUSALEM FARM BUREAU

The month's Farm Bureau discussion topic, "Government Subsidies," was presented by Mrs. Arthur Kuhl at the meeting of Jerusalem Farm Bureau, Thursday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pommerening.

Arthur Kuhl, minuteman for the group, brought members up to date on news from the legislature. Contributions were received as donations for helping to pay for furnishings for the Farm Bureau's new office building.

Announcement was made that proceeds of the Wrigley luncheon at Superior Town Hall yesterday were designated for the same purpose (furnishings for the Farm Bureau office).

ROGERS CORNERS EXTENSION CLUB

Mrs. John Gillie and Mrs. Raymond Manzel were co-hostesses for the March meeting of Rogers Corners Extension club, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Gillie in Ann Arbor.

Two lessons were given at the meeting: "Mending for the Family," by Mrs. Elmer Bristle, and "Entertaining at Buffets and Teas," by Mrs. Ray Niles.

Eleven members were present for the evening's meeting.

During the business session the group decided to adopt as a community service project, a program of assistance to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Rankin and their four young children of Monroe.

Mrs. Rankin is the former Beulah Radle who made her home with Mrs. Amanda Schneider at Rogers Corners until her marriage. Mr. Rankin is now bedridden, a victim of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.

Chairman Calvin Clark presided at the meeting and Allen Brosamle, as minuteman, gave a report on the progress of the proposed sales tax legislation which he had received in a letter from Lansing.

New members introduced at the meeting included Edson Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer. The evening's discussion was on the general topic of schools.

During the business session the question of a donation to the new high school was discussed; however, because most of those present had already contributed, it was decided to make no group contribution.

Euchre was the entertainment following the business meeting and prizes were awarded as follows: Mrs. Roy Miller and Roy Kalmback, high; Mrs. Everett Van Riper and Edson Whitaker, low; and Doris Whitaker, traveling award.

Hosts and hostesses for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lesser, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heller and Mrs. Henry LaRose.

Methodist Home Birthday Party

Honors 10 Residents

Ten residents of the Methodist Home are being honored today in observance of their birthdays which occur during March.

Included in the group are four who have become Home residents in recent weeks, and thus are observing birthdays for the first time as Home members.

The four are Mrs. Margaret Dickerson who came here from Plymouth, Feb. 8; Samuel Youngblood who entered Jan. 1 from St. Matthew Methodist church, Detroit; Mrs. Harriett Richards of Farmington, whose sister was a Korean missionary for 46 years; and Mrs. Anna M. Butler, formerly of Wayne, who arrived here Feb. 17.

Another recent arrival, although not new to the Home, is Mrs. Almida Balmer, 98 years old, who was brought here Wednesday of last week. She will be remembered as the wife of a former superintendent of the Home during the years 1927-1934.

The remaining birthday celebrants are Mrs. Jennie Bleakly, Mrs. Emma Selbert, Mrs. Carrie Blackmore, Miss Susanna Sparling, Mrs. Esther Girling and William Mooney.

Mr. Mooney and his wife both live at the Home. They came here from Olivet Methodist church in Dearborn.

Each of those observing their birthdays will be remembered with a gift, some receiving brochures or sweater holders and others stationery.

A St. Patrick's day theme was carried out in table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Oesterle

Philip Oesterles Will Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Oesterle of Waterloo, will observe their golden wedding anniversary at open house from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The observance is being arranged by their daughters, Clara May, at home, and Amanda of Chelsea. Also assisting with the arrangements is a granddaughter, Fay, who lives at the family home, 8015 Washington street, Waterloo. The Oesterles have lived there since their marriage in 1909.

Mr. Oesterle was born in Wuertemberg, Germany, in 1872 and came to the United States at the age of 13.

Mrs. Oesterle who is 70 years old, is the former Martha Charlotte Grosshans.

Detroit Newspaper Clipping Describes John Fosters' 50th Wedding Anniversary

Found among the effects of the late Mrs. Mary Eder and brought to The Standard office by her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Beal, was a newspaper clipping from a Detroit paper of Oct. 28, 1922, pertaining to the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Foster, described as the first couple whose marriage was solemnized in St. Mary's Catholic church here.

The clipping, which included a photograph of the couple, stated that both Mr. and Mrs. Foster were 22 years old at the time of their marriage, Oct. 29, 1872, and that both had been born in Sylvan township, near Chelsea. At the time they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary they had lived in Ann Arbor since 1908.

The John Foster homestead in Chelsea had been the house still standing on South Main street, directly north of the Federal Screw plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster were members of pioneer Chelsea area families, the Hindelangs and Fosters. Giving the family background of the couple, the newspaper article reads as follows:

Peter Hindelang, great-great-grandfather of Mrs. Foster, a Frenchman, was among those who volunteered with Lafayette to fight with General Washington in the Revolutionary War. He was wounded during the fighting and went back to Alsace-Lorraine, where he died. His son lived there and there his grandson, father of Mrs. Foster, was born. When he reached man's estate, Peter Hindelang, III, came to America to settle and on the same ship which bore him to a new land there was a young chap named Michael Foster (the father of John P. Foster).

These two young men struck up a friendship and both settled in Sylvan township on farms near Chelsea, and there in time, and in the same year, to one was born a daughter, Julia, and to the other a son, John. And, as sometimes happens, the two grew up together, through boyhood, youth and young manhood and womanhood, fell in love and married.

This was the couple, the article concluded, who celebrated their golden wedding together at their Ann Arbor home, Oct. 29, 1922.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foster had a family of 12 children, four of whom still live in this area. Others of the nine surviving members of the family live farther away.

Those in this area are Mrs. Edward Beisel (Cornelia) and Mrs. William Wheeler (Amy) of Chelsea, and R. G. and Bert Foster of Ann Arbor.

The others are Miss Lena Foster and Mrs. Fred Stevens (Edith) of Lakeland, Fla.; Mrs. B. A. Reiter (Josephine) of St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. William Abrahamson (Henrietta) of Grand Fork, N. Dak., and A. J. Foster of Jonesville.

Deceased members of the family include the second oldest child, a daughter, Mary Catherine, who died as an infant; Mrs. Frank McNaney (Celia) whose home was in Jackson; and Herman Foster, who was employed by a Los Angeles newspaper when he died in 1921.

Mrs. John Foster died Dec. 20, 1923 and her husband lived until Jan. 27, 1931.

Both were brought back to Chelsea for burial in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

LIMA CENTER EXTENSION CLUB

Lima Center Extension club held a regular meeting at Lima Center Community hall Wednesday March 11, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Paul Seitz was hostess and 18 members responded to roll call.

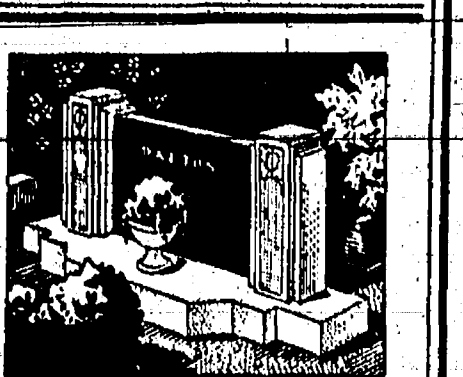

The meeting opened with a lesson on entertaining given by Mrs. LeRoy Feldkamp and Mrs. LaVerne Coy.

Following a noon pot-luck dinner Mrs. Feldkamp and Mrs. Coy gave the second lesson of the day, "Mending by Machine."

A business session was conducted by Mrs. Alfred Elsmann and reservations were made for the Home Economics District party to be held at the Episcopal church in Dexter, Wednesday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting of Lima Center Extension club will be held at the Lima Center Community hall, Wednesday, April 8, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

County Hospital Auxiliary Starts Program of Visiting Older Citizens

Mrs. Carroll Ordway, who is a member of the board of trustees of the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary, is co-operating with the executive board's proposed plan to inaugurate a program of "friendly visitors" to call on older citizens of the community.

Mrs. Ordway has been asked to make a survey of this community in order to compile a list of older people who are ill or shut-in, in boarding homes or living with relatives. Together with lists submitted by other trustees throughout the county, the names secured will be used to compile a census of older people who might enjoy having a new friend.

The "friendly visitation" plan could develop into a most helpful, comforting and realistic approach to providing for the needs of older citizens, the executive board of the hospital auxiliary group believes.

The regular meeting was held March 14 at the home of Janice Walz. Tom Reynolds gave a photography demonstration. Plans were made for the Spring achievement show which will be held March 19-21. Games and a pot-luck lunch were enjoyed by all.

The electrical and leather members met with their leader, Martin Hannewald, March 13.

Sweet corn brings Michigan farmers about $2 million a year from about 15,000 commercially planted acres.

Anyone who knows of an older person in this area who might fit this category is asked to call Mrs. Ordway.

In addition to the listing of these older people, Mrs. Ordway has been asked to list boarding homes in this vicinity.

Mothers, Children Renew Friendships Started at Hospital

Four mothers who met at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, while they were at the hospital for the birth of their babies two years ago, held their second annual get-together Tuesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Robert Whitehead and her daughter, Kelly Lee, in Ann Arbor.

Others present included Mrs. Wesley Ellenwood and son, Terry Lee, of Chelsea; Mrs. Robert Newton and daughter, Patricia, of Milan; and Mrs. Basil Mussio and daughter, Karen, of Ann Arbor. The children shared a birthday cake and exchanged gifts.

Township Assessment Up Slightly

Sylvan township's supervisor, Maurice Hoffman, reporting on township assessments for 1959, said yesterday that the assessment totals for both real and personal property taxes is slightly higher than in 1958.

His figures show the current year's totals to be $6,489,220 as compared to $6,421,450 for 1958. Total amount of increase is $77,770.

Hoffman explained that the state Tax Commission's recommended formula applicable to public utilities' personal elementary figures submitted to assessors affects Sylvan township, along with other townships.

Hoffman said the recommended formula results in a total reduction of approximately $57,000 on personal assessments for four townships in Sylvan township.

Hoffman said the reduction for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., in Sylvan township amounts to $29,000 while the Michigan-Ohio Pipeline reduction is $9,200; Michigan Gas Storage, $13,800; and Wolverine Pipeline, $5,015.

Hoffman stated he had contacted the state attorney general's office regarding the matter several months ago. The opinion given him explained that if an appeal to the state Tax Commission by any aggrieved taxpayer were granted, the local assessing unit would absorb the loss.

Hoffman said that in the case of the utilities he was told that appeals would be made wherever assessing units disregarded the recommended formula.

Hoffman said an extensive study will be made of at least one of the Public Utilities which serves the community, to determine if the large companies (utilities) are formulating the policy in question for their personal gain and also whether large businesses are being granted concessions which other businesses in the township do not receive.

Father-Son Banquet Planned Saturday by Assembly of God

The Women's Missionary Council of the Chelsea Assembly of God is planning a father and son banquet for Saturday evening at the Earl Willis residence, 103 East street. The family-style dinner will feature baked ham with all the trimmings and home-made rolls and pies. Table decorations and favors will carry out the Easter theme "He Is Risen."

Special music will be furnished by a male quartet of the Dearborn Gospel Tabernacle, of Dearborn, and a film entitled "A Boy and His Prayer" will provide enlightening entertainment for the boys and their fathers.

Proceeds from the banquet will help the Women's Missionary and Men's Fellowship groups in their various home missionary projects. The Rev. H. J. Meppelink is pastor of the Assembly of God.

DEATHS

Mrs. Nelle Leach Dies Monday Night After Extended Illness

Mrs. Nelle Johns Leach, a Chelsea area resident for the past 30 years, died Monday night at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following an extended illness. She had been a patient at the hospital three weeks.

Mrs. Leach would have observed her 80th birthday next Sunday. She was born March 22, 1879, in Noblesville, Ind.

She was the widow of Robert Leach who died in 1942. They had been married in 1932.

Surviving are a stepdaughter and stepson, Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer and Hazen Leach, and six step-grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held at the Burghardt Funeral Home at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) with the Rev. Philip Rusten officiating. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

J. W. Allen Dies in Jackson at 26

J. W. Allen of Stockbridge, who had been employed at Federal Screw Works, died Sunday at Fife hospital, Jackson, following a six-month illness. He was 26 years old.

Funeral services were held at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Caskey Funeral Home in Stockbridge and burial followed in Oaklawn cemetery there.

Survivors of Mr. Allen are his wife, Bethigne; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen of Stockbridge and five sisters and seven brothers. These include two sisters who live in Chelsea, Mrs. Edith Fletcher and Mrs. Catherine Howard.

Senior Play . . .

teresting but humorous in the most hilarious sense.

The Allen family, around whom the play revolves, consists of Elaine Walker, a charming but harried wife and mother. Gus Steger, her husband, over-enthusiastic and impractical, and Hal, Leslie, and Angela, their three children aged 18, 16, and 14, respectively, played by Bob Smith, Sandie Karner, and Ellen Keusch. Jeanne Larson is Aunt Lottie, 60 and susceptible to drafts, and Don Ferguson is Leslie's ruffled and worried fiancé, Bruce.

Supporting roles are assigned to Steve Beisler, or "Dutch," and Sandy Fraser, or Patsy, friends of the Allen children. Priscilla Neal is niece Kathleen, and David Schroen, a man from city hall, Mr. Johnson. Sue Patrick, Sharon Slane, and Pat Kramer are members of an "impromptu orchestra."

20,963 Fryers Scattered in US-12 Crash

Robert L. Grigsby, 28-year-old truck driver from Decatur, Ala., miraculously escaped injury Thursday night in a spectacular crash which demolished his tractor trailer but left the cab section where he was seated undamaged.

Grigsby was driving his truck east on US-12, a mile west of M-92 when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, sheriff's deputies said.

The truck went off a shoulder into a ditch. It careened 420 feet along the bottom of the ditch, uprooted a tree and smashed into the high Chrysler Proving Ground fence, tearing up an 8-foot section.

The truck was loaded with a cargo of 20,963 dressed frying chickens destined for Detroit from Arab, Ala.

Wreckage of the truck was scattered along the edge of the highway.

The cab of the truck was completely crushed except for a small portion where the driver had been seated.

Girl Scout Troops Entertain Fathers At Annual Banquet

Approximately 200 Girl Scouts and 75 fathers were present for the annual Girl Scouts Father-Daughter program Friday evening in the Junior High school gymnasium.

Theme of the program, in which each of the 11 Girl Scout troops participated was "Scouting on Parade." Kathryn Kinde acted as mistress of ceremonies.

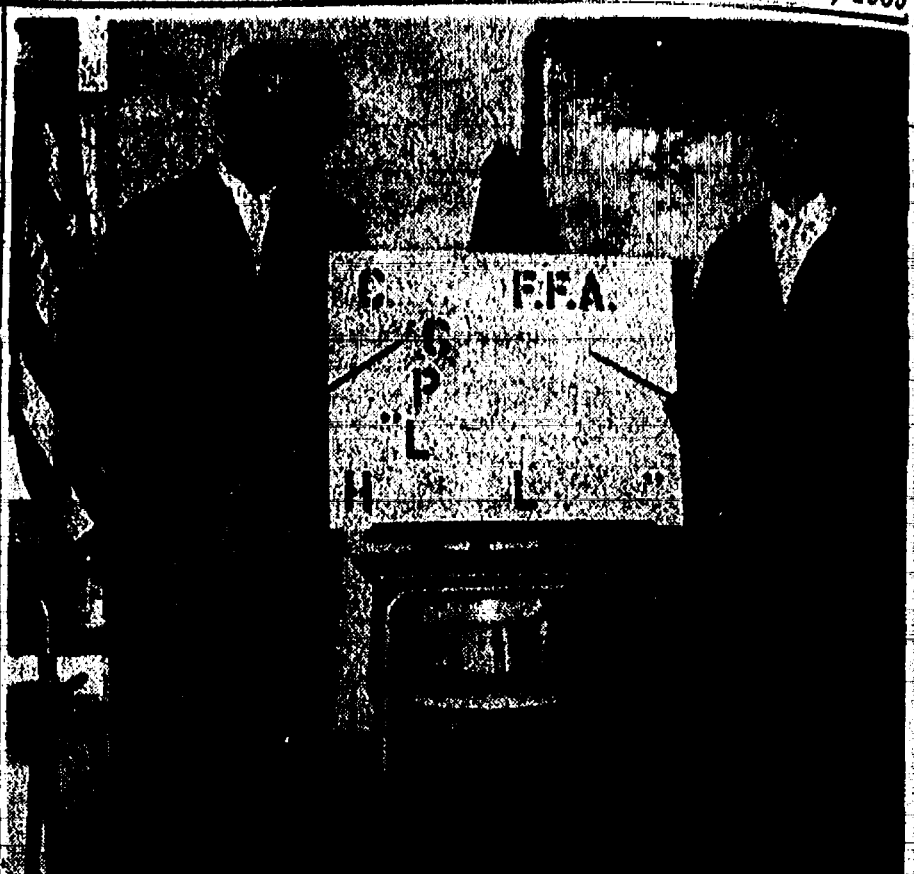

General chairman of the event was Mrs. Lawton Steger. Mrs. Theodore Faust was program chairman and Mrs. Elwin Pritchard was in charge of the decorations which included a Juliette Low collection box that Mrs. Pritchard had made—a replica of the Girl Scout chalet in Switzerland. Girl Scouts customarily contribute a penny for each year of their age in honor of the late Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting. The fund thus obtained is used to promote better understanding among girls of other nationalities of the world.

Favors were made for the program by Brownies of Troop 149, led by Mrs. David Strieter, and Girl Scout Troop 49, led by Mrs. Elmer Lindow.

Mrs. Lawrence Riemenschneider served as pianist during the evening.

Assigned as the clean-up committee following the program were Girl Scouts of Troops 8 and 77, whose leaders are Mrs. Robert Horste and Mrs. Wilber Worlen.
