Rubinoff Concert Scheduled Monday In New Auditorium

Free Concerts for School Children Monday Morning

Next Monday, April 6, is the date for the popular concert to be presented at the new Chelsea High school auditorium by "Rubinoff and his Violin" under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea. The concert begins at 8:15 p.m.

The famed violinist will be using for the concert a violin said to be one of the most precious in the world—a Stradivarius which is insured for $100,000.

The instrument is known as the Romanoff-Stradivarius, once the property of the reigning Romanoff family of Russia, before the revolution. It was made in 1781 by Antonio Stradivari in Cremona, Italy.

Rubinoff's concert includes a variety of music such as "Tea for Two," "Clair de Lune," "I Could Have Danced All Night," "The Ballad of Davy Crockett," "I Got Rhythm," "Sous le vent," "Chopin's Polonaise (Opus 53)," and catchy square dance "Fiddlin'."

Also to be included, according to present plans, is Rubinoff's composition "Fiddlin' the Fiddle," the first jazz violin solo in America, written and introduced in 1925.

Rubinoff became known throughout the United States and Canada through his appearances on important and popular radio programs after being featured at New York theatres.

Rubinoff will be in Chelsea all day Monday and will give free concerts for school children beginning at the Junior High school at 8:30 a.m.

He will play for school children at South Elementary school at 9:10 a.m.; at St. Mary's school at 9:50 a.m.; North Elementary school at 10:30 a.m.; and at 11:10 a.m. at the new high school.

Monday afternoon he will appear at a one-hour matinee at the (Continued on page 12)

Phil Bareis Wins Over Florida State In Tourney Play

Box scores of games being played at Tallahassee, Fla., this week in the Florida State University Invitational Tourney, list Phil Bareis of Chelsea as the winning pitcher in Tuesday's Florida State-Western Michigan University game.

Bareis went into the game in the fifth inning for his WMU Broncos team, the winning score being 3-2.

A graduate of Chelsea High school, Bareis is a senior at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Bareis of Dancer road.

Official Seal Chosen for Anniversary

Official Seal for Chelsea's 125th anniversary celebration will be the design shown in the accompanying photo, submitted by Thomas Tucci.

Judges selected the design as the first-place winner in the contest which closed last week.

An enlarged sketch of the seal, together with the caption "We invite you to attend," was taken along on the Chelsea High school senior trip to New York this week and is being displayed wherever the group stops.

The winning seal stresses four areas of community interest—city pride, industry, agriculture and recreation—together with the slogan "125 Years of Progress."

M. J. Anderson, chairman of the anniversary seal contest, said many of the designs submitted were attractive and to the point and selection of the winning entry involved thorough evaluation of each part of the seal.

The words "125 Years of Progress" were added to the design, and the caption "125 Years" are incorporated in the design submitted by Tucci, expressing the theme of the anniversary celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hinderson, accompanied by their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. James Linderman and daughter, Nancy, of East Lansing, left by plane Saturday for Medina, N. Y., where they are spending this week with their other daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benson and children.

CHS Baseball Season Opens Next Tuesday

April 7th marks the opening of the baseball season for the Chelsea High school 80-man squad.

Some 80 boys have been working for the past two weeks, battling for positions and getting ready for the opener next Tuesday afternoon at Milan.

Leading the parade, and back from last year's very young team are only three seniors, pitcher George Mayer, and outfielders Charles Mosier and Dick Penhellen.

Juniors returning to the squad are Charles Cameron, George Wilson, Matt Murphy, and Chuck Koenigster.

Sophomores, who lettered as freshmen, are Jerry Ringe, Homer Nixon, Don Blalock, Alton Nixon, Charles Waller, Mike Marsh, Richie Wood, and Larry Kramer.

Other boys out are: transfer students Ed Lauhon, and Reuben Bigger, Charles Koenn, Don Martin, Larry Schrader, and Larry Koch.

Boys who appear to be the strongest candidates at the various positions are as follows: catcher, Alton Nixon; pitchers, George Mayer, Jerry Ringe, Don Blalock, and Homer Nixon.

After the varsity, and reserved have been selected, the remainder of the boys will be organized into a junior varsity team which will play a schedule of their own. This will give the young boys an opportunity to play and develop.

Michigan's State Treasurer Discusses Financial Crisis

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening.

Addressing Kiwanians in their customary meeting place in the social center of the Methodist church, he explained that the State of Michigan is not, in fact, bankrupt since it has assets in excess of two billion dollars, offsetting liabilities of approximately 120 million dollars in accrued obligations and deficit in operating costs in fiscal 1958-59.

He further explained that the state's present situation is the result of the effect of inflationary pressures on the costs of operations, greater welfare obligations, increased aid burdens, and unemployment payments incurred over the past three or four years.

The executive branch, in submitting its budget for each fiscal year, Brown said, is charged with implementing sources of income if a deficit is apparent; the state constitution requiring that the budget, as submitted, must in any event be balanced.

In lieu of imposing new taxes or increasing existing taxes, the crisis has been deferred to the present time by the Legislature's action in liquidating the primary aid fund in fiscal 1958-59, and the liquor inventory in fiscal 1957-58. Since these were payments of recurring expenses out of non-recurring funds and these funds have now been depleted, the present crisis demands substantial reductions in state services or increases in tax revenue, Brown stated.

Faced with these alternatives, Treasurer Brown suggested that reduction in expenses of a significant amount would require that a decision be made, for instance, which 10 per cent of the schools should close; which 10 per cent of prisoners should be released; and which 10 per cent of mental patients should be returned to society. While he did not attempt to answer the questions posed he suggested this was not the solution to the crisis.

This crisis has worsened as the legislative and executive branches have been unable to agree upon an acceptable tax program which would supply the necessary additional revenue with which to operate the state government, Brown concluded.

Sophomores completed the ordering of their class rings Thursday, March 20. The rings will arrive some time at the beginning of the first semester of next year.

In Art, students must complete one of seven projects for the marking period.

The projects that can be done are: sculpturing, painting, sketching, mosaics, lettering and printing.

Sketching is the main project and the students choose their own subject.

The Girls' Phys. Ed. classes are still working on a unit of dancing.
For the past week they have been composing dances showing motion such as pendulum movement.

The girls have been doing exercises to help stretch their muscles so they can learn how to do the splits. They have also learned exercises for balance and grace.

French club is advancing the plans for their dance "April in Paris" to be given on April 11.
Considering the amount in their treasury, the French club is postponing second semester dues until after their dance.

Latin club is completing plans for the "Ora Romanorum" to be held April 15 at 6:30. The food will be almost the same as last year, and will consist mainly of ham. Members of the club will wear sheets draped in the old Roman style and sandals. Entertainment will consist, in part, of a play and Latin recitals. All final committee reports will be in by the sixth.

Seniors at last departed for Washington and New York for their long awaited trip. Sunday, March 29, seventy excited seniors boarded the train at Toledo. After an all-night ride, they arrived in Washington at 8:40 a.m. While in Washington the group took sight seeing tours to Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials,
the Capitol, Congressional Library and the Supreme Court. They also enjoyed dinner and dancing at the Lotus supper club.

Tuesday, March 31, they left Washington for New York where they had a free evening. Wednesday they began sight-seeing tours, visiting the United States Military Academy at West Point, a show at Radio City Music Hall, the Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center, Observation Post, Times Square, the Bowery, Chinatown, and many other points of interest.

Tired but happy seniors will arrive home tomorrow afternoon, with many exciting experiences to relate and remember.

The seniors are elated over the results of the play. Director Carole Barr announced that there are profits of over $400! In the future the class will find an appropriate means of spending this sum but meanwhile they are enjoying themselves on a trip slightly extended because of their financial success.

Journalism club dinner recently held at the home of Miss Fox was well attended by both Senior and Junior High Journalism club members. A well-balanced meal was provided by the pot-luck plan, and the event was enjoyed by everyone.

Junior class has chosen its play
"Dear Diary," and has distributed the parts and books. Parts are to be memorized during spring vacation and everyone should be ready to start rehearsing when school resumes. Presentation of the three act comedy will be on May 8 and 9.

Parts have been given to Diane Gary, Charles Koenigster, Linda Fisher, Susan Steger, Victor Blcharezyk, George Wilson, Polly Willis, Charles Cameron, Sharon Smyser, Rita Schramm, Dave
Rowe, Tessa Matthews, and Bar-

Fiftieth State Soon To Be Reality

Hawaii has been voted acceptable as the 50th state by both the Senate and House and final action is now underway to start the actual admission procedure.

The fact that the old 48 states decided to branch off into territory not contiguous to the land area of the united 48 states is a historical departure. Those who fear its consequences can now only look back upon an accomplished fact.

There is an interesting political sidelight to the recent acceptance of Hawaii as a state in that they will now be able to send representatives to Congress, probably to this present session. They will have voting strength in Congress for the first time in history.

Hawaii and Alaska may also play a more important part in party convention, and we wonder if Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, who whipped the bill through the Senate with surprising ease and a whopping vote, hasn't earned the gratitude of both Hawaii and Alaska to such an extent that he may be able to count on their support at the Democratic convention in 1960.

Until it is proven that Hawaii is not ready for statehood and that a mistake has been made, all Americans should welcome the 50th state with friendship and co-operation. The borders of the United States are rapidly expanding once again, and in this age of space exploration, who can say where this expansion may end? Some day we might even have states on other planets.

Guess Who's Talking Here

Here in Michigan voters have pretty well got their political parties pegged. Let them tune in on a political broadcast and they can tell in a moment which side is talking.

But the paragraphs which follow come from the governor of Minnesota. Let's see how many readers can spot his political faith:

"I am very much interested in his (Gov. Williams') plan to eliminate low income groups from taxation. His plan certainly is better politics than mine.

"But we want the tax (a proposed 1 per cent income tax) to reach everyone, right down to the single person who makes $250 a year, and the couple who make $1,500. We want people to know that state services must be bought and paid for, like everything else.

"I have a theory that everyone who puts a nickel in an envelope with a made-out tax return becomes a citizen interested in government. Argue all you want, it is the low-income families who want and need state services. I want them to get those services. But I want everyone to know services have to be paid for and to have a part in paying for them."

Gov. Orville Freeman is a third-term Democrat and a leader in the Humphrey for President campaign. In Minnesota they call him a liberal. In Michigan, even the Republicans would try to keep him under the rug.—Arenac County Independent.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

An ambitious campaign to sell the unlimited advantages, opportunities and resources of Michigan is underway.

Two hundred outstanding business, industrial and civic leaders, members of Michigan's Industrial Ambassador Corps, are the shock troops. The support of all citizens will be enlisted to help them.

Merritt D. Hill, general manager of the Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division at Birmingham and chairman of the Ambassadors' Executive Committee, is spearheading the drive.

In view of the unfavorable publicity about Michigan which has been appearing throughout the nation, Hill points out that the need for positive action in selling Michigan is urgent and that every effort must be put forth to do the job as quickly as possible.

"As citizens and as Industrial Ambassadors," he declared, "it is most important that we take a positive approach to the unfavorable situation, do all we can to correct it, and get the picture in its true perspective."

Hill set the tempo for the Ambassadors' campaign in a frank talk on the subject of Michigan's reputation before the Pontiac Rotary Club recently.

"Michigan, at this moment, is probably the most maligned state in the nation," Hill said.

The State's problems "have been magnified all out of proportion," he continued, and Michigan has made a "spectacle" of itself before the rest of the country because of "partisan politics."

We have hurt ourselves in the eyes of others "for some very selfish, short-range motives," Hill stated. "In becoming so engrossed with the techniques of 'back-alley' in-fighting, we appear to have almost forgotten how to take a constructive approach to economic problems."

Michigan citizens should keep in mind that the need for a good economic climate will always be with us, the Ford executive emphasized, "whereas the political personalities, the party 'lines' and programs will undergo constant changes."

Hill said it is vital for everyone to vote and "we must preserve and defend the right to speak freely" on all issues.

However, it is also part of our American heritage that "United we stand, divided we fall," Hill said. "Many in Michigan, it seems, have forgotten that saying."

Michigan has so many things to be proud of that its people have more reason to walk with a swagger than any Texan I ever met," Hill reminded.

If a Texan had this kind of ammunition, he would shoot off like a 21-gun salute," he said. "But we Michiganders tend to sit on these facts and wait for them to hatch. We should take a lesson from the rooster and do more crowing and less clucking."

The Muskegon Chronicle praised Hill's address.

"The blast that came from Hill, in regard to the way the state has been maligning itself, was music to our ears," the Chronicle said. "Nobody can accuse him of grinding anybody's political axe, for one side or the other."

"He said a lot of things that were honest and right. His statement was one that certainly needed to be heard."

The Industrial Ambassadors will hold their first general meeting of 1959 at Bay City, April 29, where they will participate in the launching ceremonies at the Defoe Ship Building Yards of the biggest Navy ship ever built inland in this country.

Once their program gets rolling, the Ambassadors will get as a "sales division" of the Michigan Economic Development Department to help promote Michigan inside and outside its borders and correct inaccurate impressions about the state which have been widely publicized recently.

"We must keep politics out of our program and recognize the fact that selling the state is a continuous job," Hill said. "We can't wait for everything to be as we would like to have it before we start out to do a selling job. There will never be a time when everything is 'all right'."

Members of the Industrial Ambassador Corps represent a cross-section of the state's economy. They come from all parts of the

Dream in His Heart

I am always glad to hear from readers of this column, whether they are friends or total strangers. People who write letters to editors and to columnists are usually either fanatics or mighty nice folks. I can readily recognize the fanatics as being those who disagree with me—the ones who approve of my ideas are mighty nice folks.

Speaking of fanatics, Prof. John G. McKendle wrote in a recent issue of "The British Weekly": "The psychologist sees fanaticism as an over-compensation for an unconscious fear that the truth for which they are fighting has weak foundations. For holding the particular opinions are very different from the conscious motives."

I won't comment on that statement, except to say that it ought to bring a flood of mail from fanatics!

One of the mighty nice people with whom I have corresponded is Bryan Buchanan, of Port Huron. The leisure of retirement has given him the opportunity to publish two books of verse: "Grumpy Men" and "The Fiddle of Colin McLean." In earlier years he worked on huge construction projects in the west, including Grand Coulee Dam, the Salt Lake Aqueduct, Hungry Horse Dam, and the Polson Powerhouse.

Many have tried to find what it is that distinguishes men from brutes. Is it the sense of humor, intelligence, conscience, the soul? Mark Twain said, "Man is the only animal that blushes—or needs to." Bryan Buchanan gives us one clue in this original poem he sent me.

DETERMINED MEDIOCRITY
by Bryan Buchanan

Why does he paint that picture?
We know it is just old hat.
That stuff has been painted for centuries.
A great deal better than that

wanted to fly
To do what he cannot do?
We know that the mouse who

wanted to fly
Was alone—all alone—when he flew.

He is just like the many others.
The fighters who cannot fight,
The would-be actors and actresses,
And the poets who cannot write.

There is something within impels him
To keep on playing the part.
He may die obscure, but you may be sure
He will die with a dream in his heart.

Henry Merkel Specializes in Beef Cattle Feeding on 397-Acre Dexter Road Farm

The Henry Merkel farm home at 14200 Chelsea-Dexter road is the one shown in the above photograph, originally published as "Mystery Farm No. 49" in the March 26 issue of The Standard. Mr. Merkel has lived on the farm since his father, the late Martin Merkel, purchased it in 1914. He was married to Rose Lucht, Oct. 13, 1930 and they lived for some time in another home on the farm property, located on Taylor Lane. Their family includes another son, Martin, who, with his wife, now lives on the former Alvin Baldwin farm, farther east on Chelsea-Dexter road; and a daughter, Mrs. William Hitchingham, the former Grace Merkel of 449 Railroad street. The Hitchinghams have two sons. Angeline, another daughter of the Henry Merkels, lost her life in an automobile accident the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Merkel, parents of Henry, Sr., formerly lived for more than 40 years on a Heim road farm which is now a part of the Chrysler Proving Ground. The elder Merkel came to the United States from Baden, Germany, and after settling on the farm on Heim road, was married to Mary Doerfer, also of Baden. Their three sons, Henry, Ferdinand W., and Norbert L. Merkel, and their daughter, Bertha, now Mrs. William Fredericks of Detroit, moved with them to the Chelsea-Dexter road farm in 1914. Two of the sons left the farm and went into the hardware business, branching out later to include furniture and floor coverings. The brothers are presently in the process of enlarging their store at 209 South Main street. The elder Merkel (Martin) bought the farm from Anna Sears, widow of Thomas Sears, whose father, Dr. Thomas Sears, had studied medicine under Peter Bryant, father of the poet, William Cullen Bryant, before coming to Michigan in the 1880's. According to historians, Dr. Sears died in 1889 "of a fever," and Thomas, Jr., then 12 years old, took over the management of the farm for his mother. Thomas Sears was married to

Anna Congdon in 1888 and in 1880, added "a large addition" to the farm home, described at the time as one of the finest homes in the area. The original farm had been 160 acres in size but Thomas, Jr., continued accumulation of nearby property until he owned a total of 400 acres. As it stands today, the farm has a total of 397 acres. When Martin Merkel retired 29 years ago, he and his wife, with their daughter, Bertha, moved to a home on West Summit street, where they lived the remainder of their lives. The Henry Merkels moved into the big house when the parents moved to town. The Henry Merkels' sons follow their father's occupation of farming. Chief product of the Henry Merkel farm is beef cattle. Normally, approximately 250 cattle are on the farm at one time. Some hogs are also raised on the farm in addition to general farm crops. Since the above photograph was made, a large silo has been added at the corner of the barn in the foreground. The Merkels are members of St. Mary's Catholic church and Mr. Merkel is also a member of the Holy Name Society. According to records of ownership through the years the present farm includes the original 160 acres and parts of three other farms secured from the U. S. government; however, the original patent dates are not known. Original owners of the four different parcels were Axel Backus, Freeborn O. Fletcher, Sarah Hurd and John Gardiner. Others of the numerous names listed as owners for varying periods before the Sears family became the owners include Parshall Howell, George Howell, Martha Moore, John Moore, Thomas and Almada Hastings, John W. Green, John and Helen Moore, John G. Schmidt and Edwin Schmidt on one of the parcels. Another parcel lists the following owners: Elissa and Elvies Congdon, Axel Backus, John W. Green, Thomas and Almada Hastings, Joshua and Betsey Downer, Darcia Downer (1864), John and Harriet Green, Lorin Babcock, James Case, Hanna Raymond, Thomas and Anna Sears, Jacob Hindelang, John and Mary Alber, Thomas Taylor, Augustus and Samantha Britton, William and Minerva Denmore, Edward V. Moore, John and Harriet Green, Isaac and Charlotte Taylor, Libbie Taylor, Abner Spencer. Listed for a third parcel are Asa Williams, Nelson Wing, Elvian Skidmore and John Green, John Letts. The fourth group of names listed includes John Gardiner, Lambert and Margaret Clement, Thomas Sears, Claudius Sears, Thomas S. Sears, Freeman and Elizabeth Rowley, John W. Green and others duplicating names on the previous lists. Among those who called The Standard office to identify the Merkel farm are Allen Broesamle, Anton Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Haggat, Charles Curtis, Dave Pastor, Mrs. Walter Eschelbach, Mrs. John Giffen, Mrs. Leonard Eder, Mrs. William Quigley, Jim Quigley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merkel, Billy Detling, Tommy Dale Kern, Judy Woolley, Joseph Nyles Bryon Smith and Rodney Beutler of Ypsilanti.

3 STRIKES AND OUT! Albuquerque, N. M.—Five-year-old Jackie Garcia was crossing a street near his home. A car knocked him down. Jackie got up, and another car knocked him down. Again he got up. This time he ran into the side of a parked car and fell. Jackie, at last report was recovering from minor cuts and bruises.

Rubino and his famous Stradivarius Violin.

Kiwanis Club Sponsoring Concert by Rubino

When Rubino appears in Chelsea next Monday evening in a program of popular concert music, he will play on one of the most precious instruments in the world, the famed Ramonoff-Stradivarius violin insured for $100,000. The violin is famous for its silken, lustrous tone, its full range and almost unbelievable depth. Made in 1731 by the master of all violin makers, this particular 'strad' eventually found its way into the hands of the Romanoffs, one-time rulers of Russia, and still bears the jeweled crest of that family. During the revolution it was smuggled out of Russia and eventually was purchased by Rubino.

Sensitive to heat, humidity, altitude and the risks that beset any treasure of such vast value, the Stradivarius is guarded and handled with deference and extreme care at all times. The ancient instrument still retains the original varnish and is the acme of perfection in musical instruments.

An interesting fact is that during certain passages of "Warsaw Concerto" Rubino exerts as much as 60 pounds of pressure on the violin. It takes tremendous strength of highly developed muscular action to draw certain tones from one of the world's most delicate instruments.

Rubino will appear at Chelsea High School auditorium, Monday, April 6. Tickets are available from any Kiwanis club member, sponsors of the show, or at the door.

Proceeds will be used by the Kiwanis club to help Chelsea Public Library in their remodeling of the McKune House which will serve as their new home.

Blaess Elevator Co. Offers Free Samples Of Grass Killer

Blaess Elevator Co. is offering free samples of Dowpon grass killer to farmers of this area, according to the manager. "We would like to have all growers in this area pick up a sample and try it out on their own land," Bill and Julius Blaess said. "This is the best way we know for them to realize what grass control around the farmstead can mean." "Dowpon offers the one really effective method of bringing problem grasses under control," they said. Cultivation and mowing can hold grasses back although the farmer usually winds up losing a year's production with his fields in fallow trying to bring grasses like quack or Johnson under control, he pointed out. Spraying with Dowpon can control grasses, roots and all, without taking fields out of production.

IT'S SPRING "THAW OUT" MONTH AT YOUR MERCURY DEALERS

After the worst winter weather in our history, we're ready —really ready—to warm you up with the hottest bargains that ever loosened a purse string. Wait till you see how our fantastic trade-in allowances melt your cost!

ECONOMY JUST STARTS WITH THE PRICE

You save when you buy because Mercury prices start just above the lowest. Two out of every three new-car buyers can afford a Mercury. You save as you drive because Mercury is powered by America's newest V-8 engines. They are designed to give you the power you want without sacrificing gas mileage. You save by the month. Mercury has dozens of features—such as aluminum mufflers—that cut upkeep costs. You save when you trade. Mercury's new standards of quality (for example, its special super-enamel finish) keep your car new looking longer—worth more when you sell it.

QUALITY WITHOUT COMPROMISE

The '59 Mercury is unquestionably the best-built Mercury we have ever handled in all our years in the business. The quality is so high that many of our customers don't bother coming back for their free 1,000-mile checkups; there's nothing wrong. Mercury's unique quality-control program is the reason. It is the most careful and complete in the industry today. For example, every—repeat, every—Mercury receives a "shake-down" road test by a certified test driver as a final check on quality and performance. Every Mercury must pass this test before shipment. Most manufacturers rely only on spot-checking.

Look for Good Design Features in Home Furnishings

Look around you. Everything you see—the table, the chair, the house you live in—has a design. And each item may be of good design or poor design, says Jane Graff, home furnishings specialist at Michigan State University.

Design really means plan. Someone had to plan how the parts of that table, chair or house should be put together. When the completed article is pleasing to look at, and serves the purpose for which it was designed in the best possible way, the article is probably of good design.

Taste for good design is something that develops through training and experience. If we see good design around us and in our homes, we begin to develop a feeling for it.

It's also possible to develop a taste for poor design. Our acceptance of what we like is generally based on what we know.

Incidentally, good design does not automatically mean modern design. In furniture, for instance, you can find good design and poor design in both the traditional and the modern.

Take a critical look at your design taste. Start with a lamp. You'll find two kinds of design, points out Miss Graff. One is in the structure of the lamp, and one is in the applied design, added after the lamp was formed.

On the structural side, the lamp base and shade should go together in shape, height and width to form a pleasing outline. A small shade on a large base, for instance, gives the same feeling as a large man wearing a too-small hat. It looks awkward.

If there is an applied design, it should follow the structural lines and blend with them. An applied design that does not fit the shape of the lamp looks like an unplanned afterthought—a design that would be more at home somewhere else.

Extra bumps and frills on the lamp can be distracting. Such added decoration does not improve the job a lamp is meant to do. Ask yourself if the "extra" really improves the lamp's appearance.

Annual Children's Book Fair Opens Sunday in Ann Arbor

As a prelude to National Library Week, which will be observed April 12-18, the annual Children's Book Fair is being held April 5-9 in the mezzanine floor galleries of the Rackham building, Ann Arbor.

The Children's Book Fair is presented under the auspices of the University of Michigan Library, Department of Library Science and School of Education; Eastern Michigan College; and Ann Arbor public schools and Ann Arbor Public Library, in co-operation with Ann Arbor bookstores.

Featured in the book display is the collection "Growing Up With Science Books," for children aged 3 to 16 and up and "Growing Up With Books," 250 important books from which to choose a home library as the children grow from 2 to 12 and up. Two attractive booklets, listing these books, will be given to adults attending the Fair. The books and the lists are furnished by Ann Arbor bookstores.

Hostesses at the Children's Book Fair will have tickets for two dramatic performances featured during National Library Week, April 12-18, in the meeting room at the Ann Arbor Public Library, for distribution to children accompanied by adults, during the hours 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tickets will also be available at the Ann Arbor Public Library.

The Children's Book Fair opens with the books on exhibit from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday.

From 3:30-4:15, Miss Louise Ritsama, principal of the Halsey school, will speak to the parents on the subject of "The Importance of a Good Home Reading Program" in the assembly room on the third floor. At the same time, the children are invited to attend a special film program in the amphitheatre.

Consider Design When Choosing Your Dinnerware

Dinnerware for your table comes in a wide choice of colors and patterns. If you're considering new dinnerware, and like variety in table setting, consider plain color dishes, preferably white, suggests Jane Graff, home furnishings extension specialist at Michigan State University.

Plain color is easily mixed with other dishes. You can introduce another color or a design in soup bowls, dessert plates or with extra cups and saucers.

When you select your dishes, try to visualize how the plates will look when you add food. That plain dish won't be plain for long. As soon as you put food on it, you have a design—maybe all the design you need.

Food to be served on a plate should guide you in choosing the plate, adds Miss Graff. For instance, a small rosebud design can be lost in the middle of a large dinner plate. It may seem crushed under a husky service of meat and potatoes. That same rosebud design, however, may look good on a plate for salad or sherbet—a more delicate food.

Plate colors should harmonize with the foods to be served on them. Steak, for instance, looks appetizing on dishes of brown, green or yellow color. Save pink and light blue for serving desserts. White seems to go with all foods.

New Uniforms Worn by Sheriffs Department Men

Members of the uniform division of the Sheriff's Department are now outfitted in new light brown uniforms which include Sam Browns belts and new badges.

The change in uniform is the first made in the history of the local Sheriff's Department. Sheriff George A. Petersen announced plans to make the change shortly after he assumed office last Jan. 1.

The sheriff pointed out that the Michigan Sheriff's Association several years ago recommended that all departments in the state adopt this type of uniform.

The new uniforms are complete, although the local department has yet to receive a shipment of wide-brimmed hats which were ordered some time ago from Texas. Those hats, to be worn during spring and summer months, are currently being replaced by brown visor-type caps. For winter the deputies will wear round fur caps.

One of the most outstanding changes in the new uniform over the old navy blue clothing is the badge. Where the old uniforms had an oblong shield-type badge, the new badges are shaped in a star with a silver wreath encircling them. Such badges are used widely by officers in the south and southwest.

ATTEND SISTER'S FUNERAL
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adam were in Ann Arbor yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. Dora Jodela. The services were held at the Muehlberg Chapel and burial followed in Bethlehem cemetery.

William Rademacher is program committee chairman. He reported on progress of plans for the program.

Helen Jarvie, the association secretary, reported at the meeting that she would order post card notices and the banquet tickets.

David Strieter is in charge of selecting a member of each class to address cards for his or her class, the planned meeting date being May 25.

Tickets are to be on sale at Winans' Jewelry store, Strieter's Men's Wear and Foster's Men's Wear stores.

It was pointed out that reservations for the banquet are to be made by June 6.

The reception committee for the banquet will include Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Steger and Mr. and Mrs. John Keusch.

It was announced that senior class members will be invited as guests of the Alumni Association and will not need to pay for the dinner.

The banquet is scheduled for the evening of Saturday, June 13. It will be held at the new Chelsea High school.
