

Ray Zor Buried Saturday With Elaborate Ceremony

As announced by Anniversary Celebration committees last week, Ray Zor, a six-foot model of a safety razor, lay in state in a long black box in the front office window of the Municipal building from Friday noon until Saturday noon when "funeral" ceremonies took place.

Heading the cortege were the riflemen, Elton Guenther, Keith Boylan, Don O'Dell, Orvis Zimmerman, Duane Landwehr and Charles Spencer who acted as a firing squad; and Charles Patrick, Thomas Franklin, King Hanna, Henry Fletcher, Robert Berke and Stanley Dyer were the pallbearers. Charles Cameron Jr., played taps. The funeral march was played by a group of young people—Peter Flintoff, Charles Cameron Jr., Ron Papendorf, Don and Ted Wilson, Lenie Beach, James Fite, Judy Grove and Sharon Smysor. At the burial site (on the McKune Memorial Library lawn) a tent had been set up and Mrs. Paul F. Niehaus served as organist, playing an electric organ provided by Meabon's store.

Funeral equipment used in the Municipal building was furnished by the Burghardt Funeral Home while the burial equipment on the library lawn was furnished by the Staffan Funeral Home.

Chandler Rogers, appropriately dressed for the occasion, "eulogized" the "deceased" as follows: "Ladies and Gentlemen, we have gathered together here for these temporary last rites for our good friend and bloody brother, Ray Zor. As Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, 'We do not come to praise Caesar, but to bury him,' so we, too, have come to chuck old Ray in a box. He who in his prime has laid so many stiffs away, now is so gloriously stuffed as a stiff by our staff into a box. We pause to weep.

"As you all know, Ray Zor was a professional blood-letter. It was a profession he followed daily with a faithfulness that was frightening. In the dim, foggy hours of the morning, he worked at his job through thick and thin. And in true democratic fashion, he did not discriminate between white or black, or red or yellow—he pulled them all out by the roots!

"He has been cursed, hurled to the floor, libeled with infamous comment. He has been used on toothpicks, linoleum, package twine and even on an occasional leg or arm. (Continued on page seven)

"FUNERAL RITES" were conducted in a tent on the McKune Memorial Library lawn for "Ray Zor," with Chandler Rogers giving the funeral oration. This was another of the community events staged as part of Chelsea's 125th Anniversary Celebration.

RAY ZOR LAID TO REST—This was the scene Saturday afternoon when Chelsea "Brothers of the Brush" carried "Ray Zor" (a six-foot model of a razor made of wood and stove pipes) to his final resting place. Razors have been declared of no use until after July 18, the date for the final program of Chelsea's 125th Anniversary Celebration. Men of the community have agreed, as "Brothers of the Brush" to grow beards and/or mustaches as part of the anniversary celebration.

Celebration Headquarters Comes to Life

Russell McLaughlin, headquarters chairman, has reported that the freshly-painted log cabin housing the headquarters office is showing signs of coming to life. Bright new linoleum floor covers have been donated and installed by Merkel Brothers hardware and furniture store; a filing cabinet was sent over by the Rockwell-Standard Corp. office to be used with three desks the Chelsea Milling Co. delivered last week.

A bookkeeping system has been set up and a record of every cent received and spent is being maintained. The largest entries, so far, have been for the purchase and sale of the many fine hats and ties which our Brothers of the Brush are sporting.

These items, McLaughlin pointed out, were sold by Strieters and Peter's men's wear stores and Anderson's department store a week ago Friday. The three merchants had offered to handle the sale for absolutely no remuneration of any kind; however, it is doubted if they realized what they were "letting themselves in for." More than 500 hats and 300 ties went out in one day and it was necessary to account for each hat and tie with a sales slip. (Dave (Continued on page 12))

Scholarship Awards Told For Bands

Mrs. Thomas Harris, president of the Chelsea-Band Boosters, announced yesterday that the organization is awarding scholarships to the camp for baton twirlers and drum majors at Syracuse, Ind., as follows: Lynne Fahmer, Lynn Stusser and Judy Woolley, baton twirlers; and Jon Harris, drum major.

Peter Flintoff has been designated as an alternate for the drum major scholarship. Mrs. Harris said.

The Syracuse scholarships had not been decided upon in time for announcement at the spring band concert Tuesday evening, Mrs. Harris said.

Scholarships to Interlochen Intermediate Music Camp, as announced at the concert, were

Library Fund Inches Toward Minimum Goal

Contributors to the McKune Memorial Library Fund the past week include the following: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bust, Suburban Mothers Child Study Club, Mrs. John L. Fletcher, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Mr. and Mrs. Marie Barr, Jr., Red-Eder, Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid Impola, Mrs. Andros-Gulde, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinderer, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeFaut.

With these contributions the fund reached a total of $9,024.41. The goal set as the minimum amount needed for converting the McKune house to use as a library was $10,000.

Any amount contributed beyond that figure would be welcomed for providing desirable items which the original $10,000 does not cover. Members of the library board have stated they are gratified with the response they have received.

Cancer Fund Expected To Top Goal

Donald Bacon, cancer campaign chairman for the Chelsea area, and Mrs. Bacon entertained campaign workers at a dinner at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, 48 workers and guests being present.

Guests included Dr. Alexander Ruthven, former president of the University of Michigan, and Mrs. Ruthven, and William Crim, president of the Saline State Bank, out-county cancer campaign chairman, and his wife.

In a report of partial returns for the campaign, to date, it was stated a total of $454 had been contributed.

Mrs. John Chaplin, district deputy chairman of the Chelsea area for the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, said Bacon reported that indications are that Chelsea's goal of $1,200 will be reached when all contributions are received.

Captains who worked in the campaign are Mrs. Roland Spaulding, North Lake area; Mrs. Guy Barton and Mrs. Thomas Master-son, Lyndon; Mrs. Walter Schrader, Jr., Cavanaugh and Crooked Lake area; Mrs. Ray Franklin, Cedar Lake; Mrs. Fred (Continued on page 12)

Petitions Available for School Board

Petitions for school board candidates for the June 8 annual election are now available at the office of the school superintendent at Chelsea High school. Petitions must be filed on or before May 19, with Howard Flintoff, secretary of the Board of Education.

Terms of Howard Flintoff and Dudley Holmes expire this year. Signatures of at least 25 qualified school electors of the Chelsea School District must be obtained for each nominee and electors may sign petitions for no more than two nominees since only two new school board members are to be elected.

Qualifications for eligibility as a candidate are listed as follows: "Any qualified voter in a school district whose name appears on the assessment roll and who is the owner in his own right of the property so assessed, shall be eligible to election or appointment to office in such school district; Provided, that where a husband and wife own property jointly, regardless of the name which appears on the assessment roll, if otherwise qualified, each shall be eligible to election or appointment to school office."

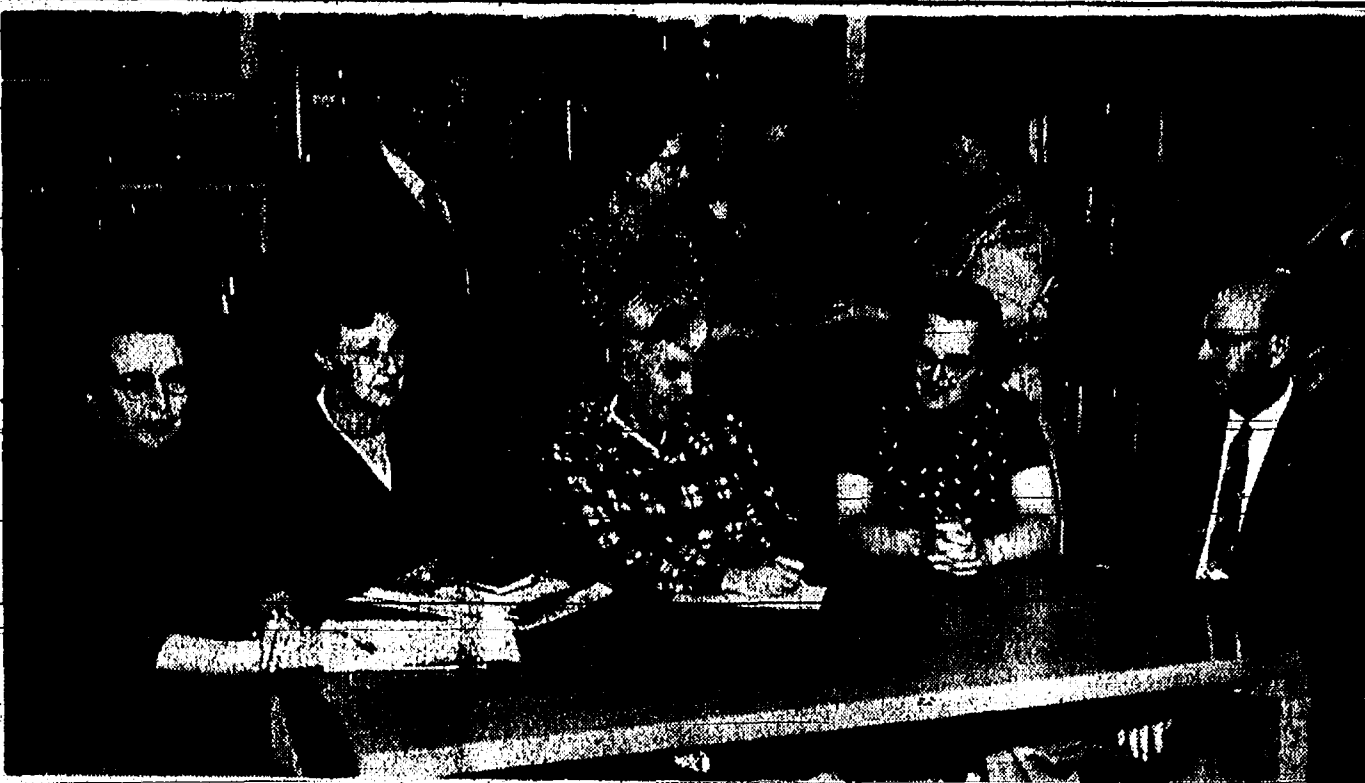

To be eligible to sign a petition for a nominee and to vote at the school election June 8, the person must be at least 21 years of age; a citizen of the United States; a resident of the state for six months and a resident of the Chelsea School District at least 30 days prior to the election date.

Child Abandonment Charged Against Lyndon Woman

Mrs. Carol Hayes who had been the object of a widespread search on a charge of abandoning her four small daughters here April 6, is to appear in Circuit Court at Ann Arbor today.

She was taken into custody Thursday night after she walked into the County Jail to surrender.

Mrs. Hayes appeared in municipal Court Friday morning for arraignment and demanded examination on the abandonment charge. Examination was set for today and she was remanded to the County Jail when she was unable to post a release bond of $3,000. (Continued on page 12)

RECORDINGS of historical events pertaining to the United States, beginning with the story of Washington and his army at Valley Forge, were presented to the Chelsea Public Library at the regular board meeting Tuesday evening, April 21. The recordings are a gift from the Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4076, and are intended for the use of the public. Those who appear in the photograph are, standing from left, the Rev. Philip Rusten, who is in charge of special projects for the Library Board; Miss Mabel Fox, board president; Mrs. Ray Franklin, VFW Auxiliary president; and Mrs. Fred Klink, Jr., community service chairman for the Auxiliary. Seated, from left, are Mrs. Frank Wojciechowski, librarian; Mrs. E. W. Eaton, library board treasurer; Mrs. Frederick Wagner, in charge of library publicity; Mrs. Thomas-Bust, secretary; and William Collins, vice-president of the library board.

Recordings of Historical Events Presented to Library

Mrs. Ray Franklin, president, and Mrs. Fred Klink, Jr., community service chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4076, on behalf of their organization, presented to the Chelsea Public Library a series of historical recordings especially appropriate for use in schools and for programs at club and organization meetings.

Miss Mabel Fox, president of the Chelsea Public Library Board, accepted on behalf of the library. The presentation was made at a regular meeting of the board in the library Tuesday evening, April 21.

The recordings are designated as chapters, the first being entitled, "The Winter of Despair," a description of the experiences of Washington and his men at Valley Forge during the Revolutionary War.

Titles of succeeding chapters are entitled "The Fight to Free the Press," "The Case of the Steamboat Monopoly," "The Fight for the Erie Canal," "The Day the Doors Opened," "The Flight from Bondage," "The Emancipation Proclamation," "The Fight at the O. K. Corral," "The Revolt in the Wilderness," "The Birth of Organized Labor," "The Search in the Hills," "The Big Stick," and "The Day He Carried the Flag." The recordings have been broadcast as special radio programs and give an effect of "on-the-spot" experiences.

W. Trinkle 'Excavates' 25-Inch Parsnip

While digging parsnips he had left in his garden during the past winter, Walter Trinkle came up with a prize specimen which measured a full 25 inches from tip to tip. The one parsnip was sufficient for a meal and, in spite of its size, proved as tender and tasty as the others that he harvested.

Mrs. Gerald Luick left by plane Friday night for Boynton Beach, Fla. Mr. Luick, who had spent the winter there, is returning home with her by automobile. They planned to leave Tuesday and expect to arrive here tomorrow or Saturday.

JAYCEES Issue Challenge for Tug of War Meet

The J.A.Y.C.E.E.S. Chapter of the Brothers of the Brush held a meeting Monday evening and made plans for a tug-of-war at Veterans Memorial Park on Sunday, May 10, at 3 p.m.

The chapter challenges any other Brothers of the Brush chapter except the D.S.T.T.C.M.C. A.S.F.S.H.O.B.S. Chapter which is composed of Chelsea Fire Department personnel.

All who wish to challenge the J.A.Y.C.E.E.S. Chapter should contact Dan Maroney, GR 9-1261 by May 4.

Local Operations Consolidated with Connecticut Plant

The Gudeman company, a subsidiary of Bowser, Inc., is closing its plant here "within the next 10 days," according to an announcement by William S. Hartman, general manager of the Chelsea plant the past four years.

Affected by the move are approximately 100 employees, mostly women, whose total payroll has been $1,000 per day. Hourly pay averages $1.40 to $1.50.

Hartman said the move "has been contemplated for some time because of a combination of circumstances which make it economically unfavorable to continue operation of the plant."

Hartman said the Gudeman company is being consolidated with a similar plant of the Bowser corporation located at Terryville, Conn., a town approximately the size of Chelsea. It is near Bristol and Hartford. The Terryville plant and the Chelsea plant manufacture identical electrolytic capacitors which are used in the radio, television, record player and electric organ industries. Hartman explained that consolidation of the two plants will eliminate duplicate overhead expenses which are part of the "combination of circumstances" which led to the decision to shut down the Chelsea plant, Hartman said.

Asked if the Union's rejection of the company's offer of a 12½-cent hourly increase in wages was the reason for the company's decision to move, Hartman said he would not say it was; stating only that it was one of a number of factors included in the "combination of circumstances" which make it economically unfavorable to operate the Chelsea plant and the Terryville plant as separate units. He said the Chelsea plant is not large enough to expand suf-

Kiwanis Club All-Sports Banquet Held

The annual all-sports banquet of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea took place Monday evening with Matt Patinelli, University of Michigan coach as the guest speaker. Charles Cameron, program chairman, asked W. J. Grossman to introduce Coach Patinelli.

Guests at the meeting included coaches and letter winners of the football, basketball, baseball and track teams of Chelsea High school.

Also a guest at the meeting was Dwight Gadbary, a member of the new Ann Arbor Western Kiwanis club. He announced that the new club will have its charter night program May 20.

Also announced was the International Good-Will meeting which was held at Windsor last night. Monday's Kiwanis club meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Football letter winners are Don Wood and Loren Keizer, co-captains for 1958; Roger Herman and David Rowe, co-captains for

School Music Department Will Present Spring Concert

The vocal music department of the Chelsea Junior and Senior High schools will present its Spring Concert this Friday evening, May 1, at 8:30 p.m. in the new high school auditorium.

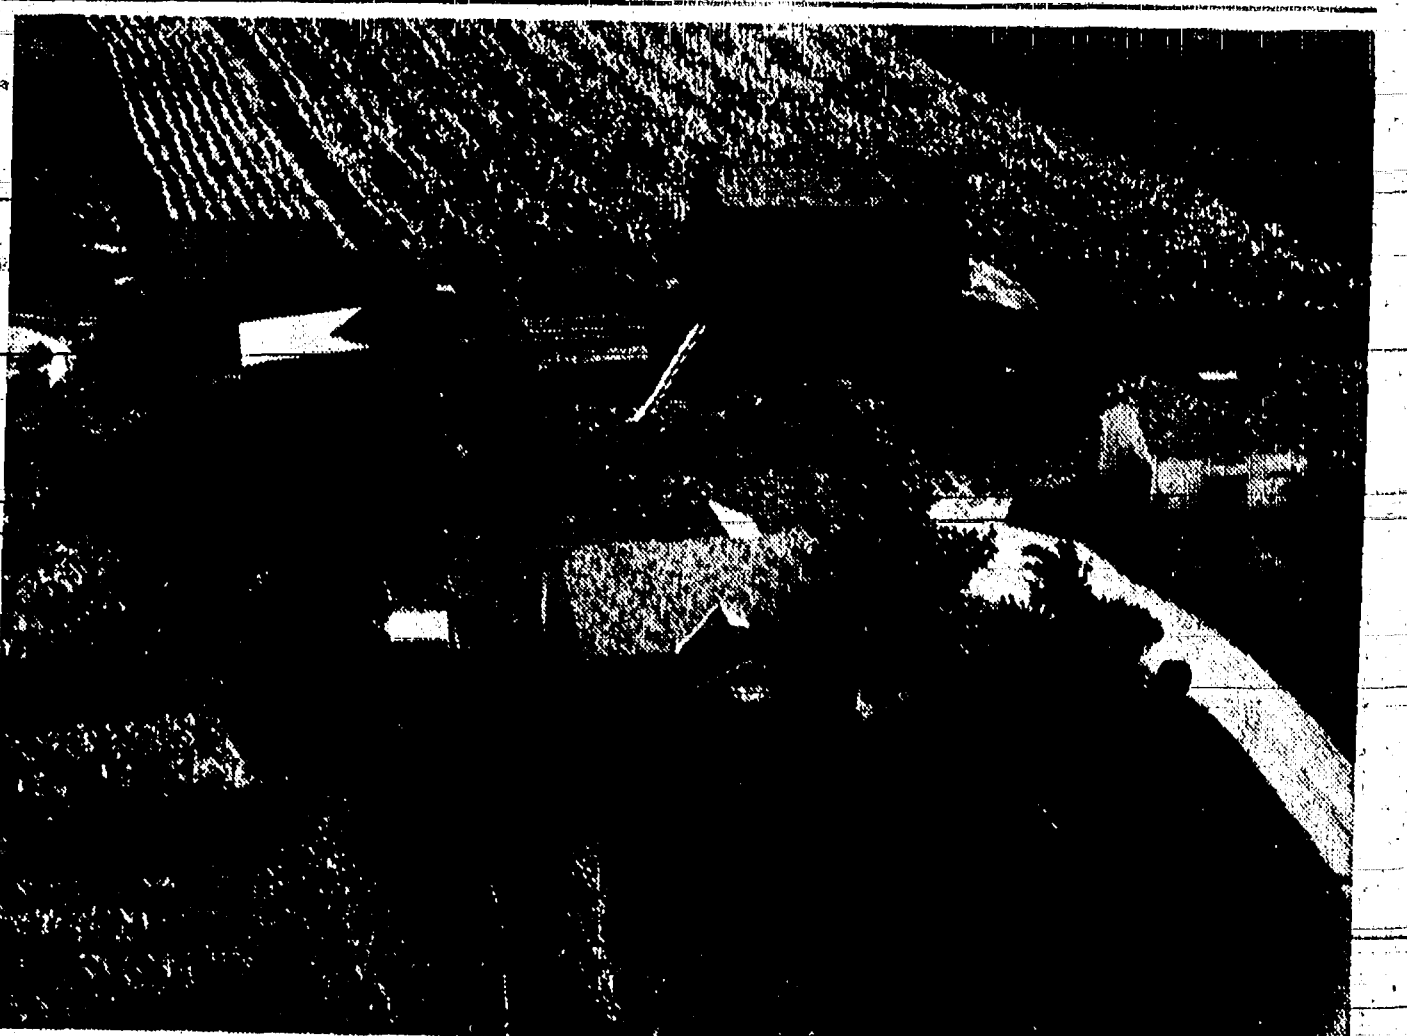

Many facilities will be in use for the first time at this performance. It will mark the first vocal music program in the auditorium and will feature the new choir risers and beautiful choir robes.

The high school choir will be performing a portion of the program presented only last week in Kalamazoo where they participated in the Southerntown, Michigan Vocal Festival with more than 1,200 high school students from this area of the state. Numbers included in this portion are the popular "Jacob's Ladder," the inspiring "Souls of the Righteous," "Almighty God of Our Fathers," in which a girl's glee club sings a beautiful setting of "The Lord's Prayer," the tender "O Eyes of My Beloved," "Madame Jeanette," a moving French tale of love's undying faith, an authentic African war song entitled "The Swazi Warrior," complete with whoops and yell, and selections from the superb Broadway hit "South Pacific."

The junior high choir will complete the program with the delightful folk songs, spirituals and ballads whose beauty and charm are surpassed only by the enthusiasm and talent of the young singers.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program. There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken to help send two choir members to Interlochen National Music Camp.

A report of the Planning Committee meeting of March 31, 1959, was read.

Present: Samuel Morgan, John Rae, Edward Frederick, Sylvester Leonard, Kenneth Heininger, Booker Williams, Robert Carpenter.

The Planning Committee of the Board of Supervisors reviewed the Proposal for amendment to Act 282, of the Public Acts of 1945, by the addition of a Section 8, which would give the County Planning Commission authority to approve plats and administer subdivision regulations after adoption by the Board of Supervisors; and after a county general plan has been prepared by the Planning Commission. This proposal was further revised by making the regulation of minimum width and area of lots to be controlling after platting.

In order to satisfy the objection raised by the Board of Supervisors that no provision was made for preventing lot splits after platting, the Committee recommended that the State Plat Act, Act 172, of the Public Acts of 1929, be amended by deleting from Definition - Sub-divide - the words "into more than 2 parts."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ACT 172 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1929, AS AMENDED THE PLAT ACT.

It is proposed that the Plat Act be amended by the deletion of the words "into more than 2 parts," from Section 2, Definitions, under sub-divide.

SUB-DIVIDE

The word, "subdivide," when used in this act, shall mean the partitioning or dividing of a lot, tract or parcel of land into 5 or more lots, tracts or parcels of land. Any lot or piece of land the boundaries of which have been fixed in a recorded plat shall not thereafter be divided unless the lot or piece of land shall have been replatted pursuant to this act. The limitations of this act shall not apply to the partitioning or dividing of lands into tracts or parcels of land 10 acres or more in area.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ACT 282 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1945 AS AMENDED COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION ACT

To add the following Section:

Section 8. Following adoption of the county plan and the certification by the commission to the county board of supervisors in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of this act the board of supervisors is hereby authorized to adopt rules and regulations governing the platting and subdivision of land in the unincorporated territory of the county which may provide for the proper arrangement of streets in relation to other existing or planned streets; provide for the allocation of adequate and convenient open spaces for traffic, utilities, access of fire-fighting apparatus, recreation, light and air; provide for the avoidance of congestion of population, including regulation of minimum width and area of lots after platting; establish general requirement relating to necessary facilities, improvements and services including such things as facilities for water supply, sewage disposal and drainage; and provide for general conformance to the provisions of the master plan of the county.

After the adoption of these rules and regulations by the board of Supervisors no plat of a subdivision of land within the unincorporated territory of the county shall be filed or recorded until it meets the standards and requirements of these rules and regulations. The board of supervisors shall designate the county planning commission as the review authority for all proposed plats in the unincorporated territory of the county and as the agency for the administration of these rules and regulations. Decisions of the county planning commission interpreting these rules and regulations shall be subject to appeal to the board of supervisors. Approval of the planning commission shall be entered in writing on the plat by the chairman, or otherwise as authorized by the planning commission, as evidence of compliance with these rules and regulations. 3-30-59.

Sup. Morgan supported by Sup. Leonard moved that the report be received. Carried.

Sup. Wolter supported by Sup. Will moved that Board of Supervisor meetings be opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Carried.

The minutes of the meeting were approved as read.

Sup. Scheel supported by Sup. Hand moved to adjourn until Wednesday April 22nd, 1959, at 10:30 a.m. Carried.

Student Council announced that a chorus assembly during seventh hour May 1 will be directed by Mr. Sanborn.

Earl Heller reported that a teacher is needed to chaperon the possible noon dances. Mr. McGill will consider chaperoning if the plans are made. Earl Heller, Dick Haist and Tom Dunlap will set up these plans.

Two other assemblies are being planned: One on May 21 and an awards assembly sometime in June.

The Student Council will be in charge of making bulletin boards for the halls so that dance announcements and other advertisements can be posted on them.

A lengthy discussion was held on the Student Council elections. As it now stands the sophomores will select one of their two candidates for each office to compete with a junior candidate.

Mrs. Bud Lawson is a new library volunteer and her help is very much appreciated.

The library is now playing background music for the students to enjoy while they work.

Short stories are being featured in the English classes and the high school library has borrowed extra stories from the state library for student use. Mr. Marshall's economics and world history classes are finding back issues of magazines such as Business Week and U. S. News, newspapers, and government documents very helpful as they work on term papers.

A car wash was approved for May 23, by the sophomore class.

Effective Cold Vaccine Promised On Market within about Two Years

Dr. Thomas G. Ward, Professor of Virology at Notre Dame University, has predicted that within two years we will have a vaccine which will prevent almost 70 per cent of the common colds. This is news of major significance.

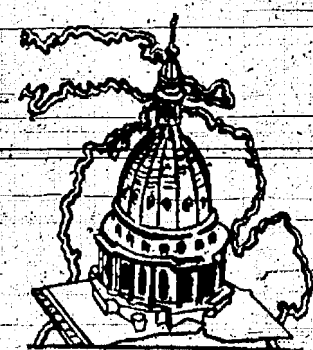

Dr. Ward says it has been learned that between 75 and 80 per cent of colds experienced are caused by a group of viruses or an ordinary bacteria of the streptococcus type. Dr. Ward believes there are probably about 20 different viruses producing most of these colds.

An interesting observation Dr. Ward makes is that most colds, and all three of the cold epidemics, are definitely related to school children, who mix together in school and take germs home with them. For example, of the three epidemics annually, one occurs in late September or October, just as school is opening, another occurs in January, after the Christmas holidays, and another occurs in April, after the Easter holidays or spring holidays.

Another interesting observation is the fact that there are allergy-symptom colds. In other words, researchers have demonstrated that people can become emotionally upset and develop symptoms or signs of a common cold which a physician cannot detect from the real thing.

Dr. Ward believes that in less than 24 months a vaccine will be developed which will prevent possibly 70 per cent of all colds. But, he observes, it will probably be difficult to get many people to take this vaccine, just as it has proved difficult to get many adults to take the polio vaccine and this is certainly a vaccine which commands more urgent attention than a cold vaccine.

However, there are many of us who will be eager to try the new cold vaccine once it is marketed, and it is good to know that such a vaccine is on the way and will probably be available within two years.

LANSING Observer

By Frank G. Morris
Lansing—Sometimes a workman throws away his tools in the midst of a successful career and goes seeking new opportunity, or something vital that he has lost. Like the time the late Sherwood Anderson, before he became a writer, was running a soap factory in Indiana and one day put on his hat, strolled from his office and never was seen there again.

His parting remark was: "I have been walking too long in the water and my feet are muddy." A couple of weeks ago I quit The Detroit Times after serving 28 years happily as the political writer for that newspaper. It is 34 years since I arrived at the State Capitol press room, sent there first when 20 years old by The Detroit Free Press to be its Lansing correspondent.

My feet weren't muddy the other day when I left that press room for what I believed to be the last time. But I certainly felt that I had been wading in water too long. I was frustrated by an apparent inability to use my small talents toward any end other than the rewriting of the same futile political and legislative stories that seemed to have been written and rewritten since the first hand press brought enlightenment to pioneers.

Maybe the fallout was to blame. Or maybe Grandma was right during the first World War when she decreed that mankind never would achieve anything because of the gun powder. Or maybe it's age.

Unexpectedly, it soon was suggested to me that I might write a column for Michigan's weekly newspapers and reach maybe three million readers. The vital spark began with bright anticipation: I hadn't been dead at all.

For my city dailies said I was writing as well as a press agent for the 22 Republican Senators remaining in that chamber. That statement is not true. I intend to write about those 22 unhappy Senators and I will try to explain, as far as I conceive the reason, why they so frequently appear to be stumbling and sometimes are made to appear ridiculous.

And I intend, too, to write about the goals and the dreams of Democrats.

For these men and women in the government all are Americans, each striving for a better America and a more prosperous Michigan. The trouble at Lansing is that the two political parties have violently opposed convictions about the road that should be followed into the future. A majority of the voters do not understand that truth.

Too many voted for Gov. Williams last November because he once shook their hands, or for Paul Bagwell because he drove to the Mackinac Bridge dedication in a 1907 Oldsmobile.

Too many citizens didn't vote at all. And too few have been aware that the most violent political upheaval in the State's history is in the making.

As long as Republicans controlled the Legislature and Democrats commanded the other elective offices, Michigan swung on a merry-go-round that did not add to the right or the left or to the right.

Neither political party controls the House of Representatives today. For the first time, there is no majority party in that chamber and no minority party.

The result is a conflict never before fought on even terms. So two cherished American ideals have clashed in a deadlock. On one hand is the American determination to preserve the free enterprise that has produced opportunity for all and made this nation great.

On the other is the American ideal, defended with equal fervor, that a share of the fruits of the system is the right of everyone. Democrats in Lansing today would sacrifice free enterprise to attain their goals. Republicans believe both of these basic American ideals can be preserved through moderation.

The word "moderation" is anathema to the political family headed by Gov. Williams. It is held in such scorn, the Governor blasted Adlai Stevenson in 1956 for using it.

No newspaperman can work in Lansing for 34 years without acquiring a heavy load of prejudices. So it will not be my purpose to judge which road is right or which is wrong.

When I came here as a young reporter, no such problem existed. The late Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck was nearing the end of his third term; the Republican Party and the people were prosperous, and the two Democrats in the Legislature were self-conscious curiosities.

The depression produced the first Democratic landslide in 1932. When President Roosevelt decided not to balance the budget, as he had promised, and surrounded himself with the first brain trust, Michigan's Gov. William A. Cooch, committed political suicide by refusing to follow.

The present Michigan version of the Democratic Party was born in 1937 under the late Gov. Frank Murphy, who helped create the UAW that year. But the vision of a true labor government, with power centered in a labor union, was not seen until Republican voters elected Williams in 1948 because they Educators are holding their collective breath in hopes that HB 91 will become law this year. This is a bill which encourages the consolidation of school districts too small or too poorly financed to offer 12 full grades of school. If the encouragement does not produce consolidation, the superintendent of public instruction is empowered, after a waiting period of 2 1/2 years for local action, to take steps to improve the situation.

The bill is favored by most education authorities, who point to the many advantages of providing better education for less money. It is opposed by people who argue mostly that such a program deprives small districts of "local control." This seems to be the only argument, and those who use it seem to be unconcerned that a school district which sends its youngsters to a high school in some other district has no control there at all.

One advocate of the reorganization bill said that local control is fine so long as the people doing the controlling also raise the money; but when they use tax money collected from the entire state inefficiently, they ought to reconsider their own principles.

Schools are gradually developing an organized policy of administration in Michigan. The system, recommended for years, results in a systematic kindergarten through high school curricula in single districts. Presently, 89.8 per cent of all public school pupils attend classes in 12-grade districts.

Through annexation and consolidation, the number of school districts in the state has been reduced by almost 1958. There are now 2,360 with a total enrollment of 1,574,999 pupils.

Dr. Lynn C. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, said 545 are classified as 12-grade districts and the remaining 1,815 offer less than the 12 grades or are closed.

Significance of the report compiled by Bartlett's office is that in the 1,815 districts students must attend high school in another area. Bartlett says that the 12-grade districts represent 23.1 per cent of all districts, but enroll 89.8 per cent of all students and have 89.5 per cent of their students residing within their boundaries.

The 12-grade districts also contain 90.8 per cent of the state's total property valuation.

Seventy-seven of the 12-grade districts are centered in southeastern Michigan—in Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties. They have 44 per cent of the state's pupils and 51 per cent of the total property valuation.

Michigan's largest school district, Detroit, contains 24.8 per cent of the state's total property valuation and 18 per cent of the state's public school population.

The report shows graphically that the poorer districts are falling victim to financial shortages; that consolidations and annexations are becoming the major answers to local education.

A three-year comparison, 1956-57 to 1958-59, reveals that the total public school enrollment has increased 8.5 per cent while 12-grade districts have increased 10.9 per cent.

Meanwhile, the state equalized valuation for all districts has increased by $3,196,002,800, or 16.9 per cent during this period. In the 12-grade districts, the increase has been 19.5 per cent.

Farmers are welcome in Alaska, but dreamers without talents or money face disappointment. Agricultural officials in America's 49th state have urged that Michigan people wishing to homestead in Alaska bring with them a minimum of $5,000 in cash to cover the first year.

Alaska officials made the report to Michigan as the 50th state, a group of eager homesteaders from Detroit, neared the end of their long and hard journey over the rugged Alaskan Highway.

They warned that prices are much higher in Alaska. For instance, a supply of groceries

More than 7,000 Christmas trees were sold during the 1958 season from nine state game areas in Michigan's southern lower peninsula.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I've got a problem on my hands right now that's more or less personal and I ain't so certain that a fellow ought to be worrying over his own small private affairs when everybody is supposed to be engulfed in big international situations and world-wide movements. But once in a while it seems to me that a fellow should take time off and attend to his private worrying. Even the President takes time off occasionally from global affairs to worry about the next election.

Anyhow, I would like to get your opinion on the cattle market, as I figure your opinion on the cattle market is worth as much as your opinion on the cotton market or the United Nations or who caused the high prices.

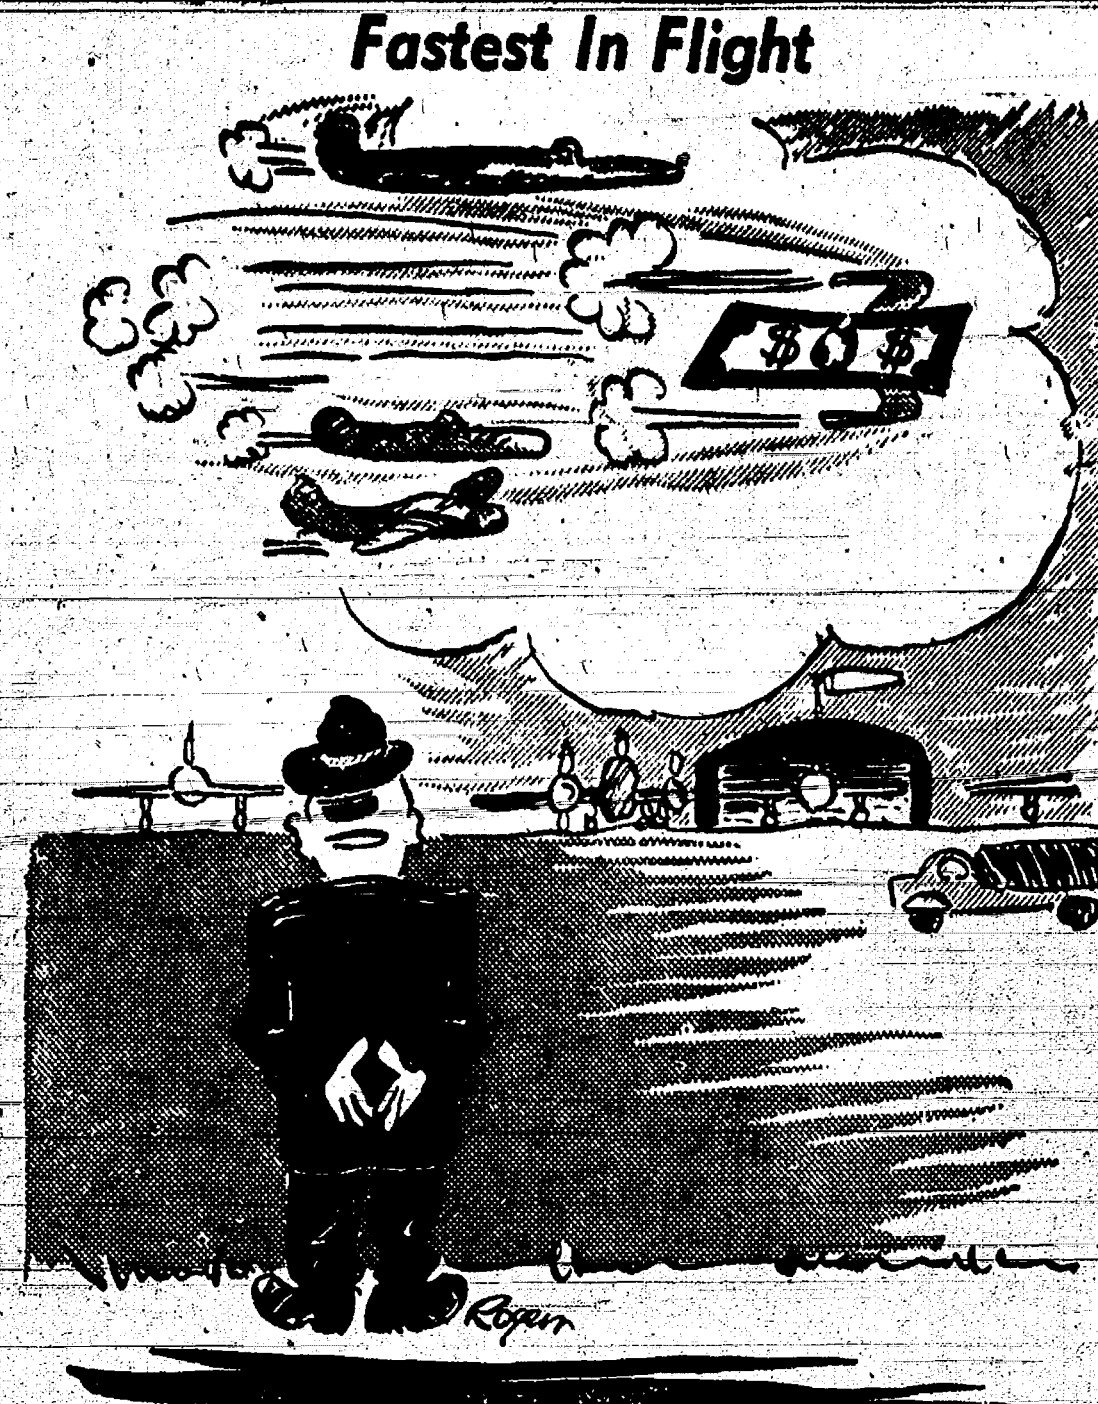

I got a Jersey cow out here which I reckon I ought to sell, at least she's quit giving milk and don't seem to get the same nourishment she used to get out of the Johnson grass hay I been giving her all these years. But I can't make up my mind if it would be economical to sound to do it. Should I sell her now while prices is high, or depend on Russia to get serious and hold on to her until the next war when things will go even higher?

As I see it, every farm ought to have at least one cow, but changing cows is a serious undertaking, the same as changing wives or churches. You take my cow, for instance, she has sort of got used to the place in the last ten years, knows my fences as well as I do, in fact, it ain't really a fence in some places, just a piece of baling wire, but my cow has sorter give up ambition and greener pastures don't appeal to her much no more. And while I don't get much use out of her it's a big satisfaction to know I can depend on her to stay at home. A new cow wouldn't stay at home and by the time I got through paying for new fences and damages she had done to my neighbor's crop I might come out the little end of the horn.

If you was me, would you sell it or better to have more milk and more worry, or less milk and no worry? You newspaper folks take a typewriter and solve the world's problems over twenty-four hours, and I'm sure you can solve this little private affair for me.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

★ Written in Fire

With "The Ten Commandments" heading for a new high at the box office, I suppose the late Mr. DeMille's associates won't pay much attention if I grumble a little about his extravaganzas.

The most unrealistic scene, I thought, aside from the crossing of the Red Sea, was the fiery finger that burned the commandments, letter by letter, into the rocky mountainside.

Nobody knows how these commandments were recorded. Their durability and comprehensiveness indicate that they were indeed transmitted from the all-knowing mind of God to the mind of his prophet Moses. But as for the manner of their writing, we have no explicit record.

The commandments themselves are recorded in Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5. In Exodus 20:1 we read: "And God spoke all these words: This sounds to me as if Moses 'heard' the message and wrote down the commandments.

But in Deuteronomy 5:22, Moses is represented as saying these words: "And he wrote them upon two tables of stone, and gave them to me." According to a third account, "he gave to Moses, when he had made an end of speaking with him upon Mount Sinai, the two tables of the testimony, tables of stone written with the finger of God." (Exodus 31:18).

Jewish and Christian teachers alike tell us that God is a spirit, and that he would not have a physical finger like my finger, or yours. So "the finger of God" is a figure of speech. I can well imagine that people kept pestering Moses with such questions as "Are you sure that God really wrote the commandments?" until in desperation he retorted, "Yes, God wrote them down with his own finger!"

The general experience of mankind is that God speaks in any way that will reach the man for whom he has a message.

If he is speaking to a Hebrew prophet like Isaiah, he uses Hebrew language; when revealing a new truth to a scientist like Newton, he uses mathematical language; when inspiring an artist like Michelangelo, he reveals the sublime in terms of form and color.

When a man receives a revelation, he may record it in any kind of writing that he customarily uses. Isaiah must have written on a parchment scroll; Paul dictated his messages to a secretary who wrote on papyrus; modern truths from God might be typed.

A common way of writing in Moses' day was to put a handful of clay into a little pillow-shaped tablet about four inches long, and then press the letters into it with the end of a pointed stick. Tablets like this could be baked until they were hard as stone, and they became one of the most durable records mankind has ever known. You can find samples in any museum of antiquity.

My own guess is that the commandments were written in fire, the heart of Moses, and that he turned recorded them on clay, which he baked to make "tablets of stone."

Thursday, May 2, 1935—Chelsea Twilight Ball League has secured for a playing field about four acres of ground in the southeast part of the village south of Washington street, belonging to A. W. Wilkinson. The public school Board of Education has made arrangements to share the expense of putting the playing field in shape so the high school will have the use of the field for baseball and football. Six teams are in the league—Congressional Sea Scouts, Trojans, St. Paul's, Mayer Electric and Spaulding Chevrolet.

Tim Doffittle and his Pine Center Gang who broadcast over Detroit radio station, will appear in Chelsea in person Friday night.

St. John's church at Frankenmuth will observe its 50th anniversary Sunday, the Rev. Boehm has announced. Before the church was built in 1880, services of the congregation took place in the Methodist church and in the schoolhouse. Among the ministers who have served the church are the Rev. Jacob Graber, the Rev. J. Scott, the Rev. A. A. Schoen, and the Rev. Oscar Laubengayer.

Chelsea Odd Fellows and DeMolays observed their 100th and 75th anniversaries, respectively, by attending services Sunday at the Methodist church in a body. The senior class at Chelsea High school will present the class play "Cheer Up, Chad" at Sylvan Town Hall, May 8. Jerry Weinberg and Luella Cox have leading parts. For the first time in 40 years the J. F. Waltrous march has not been fitted for unions because of the lack of demand for unions.

Sky Diving Team Plans Regular Sunday Jumps

Sunday, April 19, the Al Eresten family were at Wixom airport to watch the Michigan Sky Diving team in action. The team is composed of former parachutists who attempt to land on a designated target after jumping from a plane. The first required additional skill that day because of the cold weather and high winds.

Four jumps were made while the Erestens watched and they were told that there will be sky diving each Sunday, weather permitting, and people of the community are invited as spectators.

A thrilling experience of the afternoon for the Erestens was when Leon Carroll took Denise, Sandy, Stevie, Annette and Mrs. Eresten up for an airplane ride. Those who made jumps Sunday are Pat Haner, Pat Woodruff, Bill Mullins and Hal Young. The parachutes were re-packed by John Mooneyham.

Recreation Council Plans Program

Chelsea Recreation Council held a meeting Monday, April 20, in the Council room of the Municipal building. All of the officers and trustees for 1959 were present as well as Alvin Conklin who will again be director of the summer recreation program.

The Recreation Council is supported by the Chelsea Community Chest.

The summer program provided by the Recreation Council has been enlarged and improved each year since its initiation in 1950 and those in charge of planning and carrying out the program are working toward the goal of providing the best program possible for the greatest number of participants, according to reports of Monday's planning meeting.

Tentative plans discussed Monday included possible use of the new high school grounds as the location for a fourth site of recreation activities, specifically for a morning sports program. Three other recreation sites are at North and South Elementary schools and at the junior high school.

Discussion of a girls' softball league was also on the agenda Monday evening and a survey is to be made before school closes to determine the number and ages of girls who might be interested.

In order to complete plans for the summer recreation program it was decided to check with the 125th anniversary committee on anniversary program activities for the week of July 11-18 to avoid conflict of dates.

Officers of the Chelsea Recreation Council for 1959 are George Heydlauff, chairman; Charles Winans, vice-chairman; Mrs. Stephen Slane, secretary; and Mrs. Geno Colitz, treasurer.

Louie Birch was elected as a trustee for three years.

Trustees remaining in office are Eugene Fisher and Mrs. J. V. Fisher.

It was announced that Mrs. Edmund Kayser will be assisting with the summer program.

The next Recreation Council meeting is to be held May 18.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 51
Girl scout Troop No. 51 went to the Elmer Lindow farm Tuesday, April 21. They saw farm animals including a new-born calf and kittens. During spring vacation the girls went to the animal shelter in Ann Arbor. These trips have helped them with their animal badge work.

Mayor Exchange Plans Now Pair Chelsea with Mancelona

Mancelona, located in Antrim county, about 85 miles northeast of Traverse City, has been paired with Chelsea for exchange of mayors, May 18, it was announced this week.

Chelsea, originally had been scheduled to exchange with Muskegon Heights but that city decided not to participate in the traditional Michigan Week exchange of mayors this year. The state committee then assigned Mancelona as Chelsea's exchange partner.

Chelsea's committee in charge of arrangements for the entertainment of the Mancelona mayor and his party is headed by Councilman Harvey Lixey, as chairman. On the committee with him are Councilman William Chandler and Victor Robinson; also Anton Nilsen and M. J. Anderson who jointly represent the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club.

According to information received by Chairman Lixey from the Mancelona chairman, Charles Avery, the Mancelona party will include the mayor and one or two other city officials, all accompanied by their wives. Special entertainment will be planned for the ladies in the party.

Plans are not yet completed for the mayors' exchange-day program here, however, Committee chairman Lixey said the Chamber of Commerce has planned a noon luncheon to entertain the visitors and the Kiwanis club will have the party as guests at the regular Monday evening dinner meeting.

Chelsea School Qualifies for Traveling Science Library

Miss Johanna Wiese, Chelsea school librarian, has announced that the Chelsea school has been accepted as one of those qualified and eligible for the traveling high school science library of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The traveling library program will begin next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Betts spent Sunday in Birmingham with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Betts and Patricia Anne.

'Displaced' Wheat Farmers Reminded Of May 1 Deadline

May 1 of this year is an important deadline for certain owners of wheat farms which have been acquired by an agency having the right of eminent domain, according to Max Kalmbach, chairman, Washtenaw county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The May 1 deadline applies to those owners who were so displaced from wheat-allotment farms during the period Jan. 1, 1954 to Aug. 28, 1958.

The chairman explains that such an owner may file a notice of his displacement and a request that the allotment be pooled and used to the extent necessary to establish an "equitable" allotment for other land owned or purchased by him.

Tenants on such land are eligible to file such requests and in order that the transferred wheat allotment may be effective for the 1960 wheat crop on the other farm, however, the owner must file the required notices in the local ASC county office not later than May 1, 1959.

Kalmbach points out that only two days remain before this May 1 deadline for requesting such action. He urges, therefore, that wheat farm owners who believe they are eligible to request pooling and transfer of "displaced" wheat allotments get in touch with the county office immediately if they want the allotments to be effective on the new land in 1960.

Track Team Wins from Dexter, 59-50

Last Friday night Chelsea High's track team gained their second meet victory of the season, defeating Dexter, 59-50, in an exciting meet that wasn't decided until the final event, the half-mile relay.

Going into this final event the Bulldogs held a slim 54-50 edge. In a relay the winner receives five points while the loser receives none. Thus, if Dexter could win the final relay they would have won, 55-54. However, the real team of Larry Schramm, Loren Keezer, Robin Wright and Dalice Ferris came through in the final time of 1:39.5 to clinch the meet for Chelsea.

The Bulldogs took seven first places in the 13-event meet, five second places and nine third places.

First-place winners in addition to the half mile relay team, are Don Sexton, Loren Keezer and Bob Maynard (three-way tie in high jump); Fritz Wagner (shot put); Dave McLaughlin (high hurdles); Ron Doering (100-yd. dash); Dalice Ferris (200-yd. dash); and the medley relay team of Schramm, Keezer, Wright and Bob Weiss.

Second-place winners went to Dalice Ferris (broad jump); Larry Cattell (half mile); Dave McLaughlin (low hurdles); and Pete Flintoft (mile).

Third-place finishers for the Bulldogs include Don Sexton (broad jump and 440); Larry Cattell (pole vault); Loren Keezer (shot put); Gary Dault (high hurdles); Dalice Ferris (100-yd. dash); David Fraser (half mile); and George Kleis (mile).

On Saturday of this week the Bulldogs will compete in the Tecumseh High School Invitational Relays along with nine or ten other class "C" schools in this area.

SHIPPING DEPARTMENT OFFICE—Lyle Haselwerdt, standing, is office manager at Chelsea Milling Co. Calvin Summers, Jr., seated at the desk at left, is in charge of personnel. The girls at right are Mrs. V. Matthews, who is in charge of the accounting department, and Mrs. Joyce Harris, office receptionist. All four were in the shipping department office when the picture was taken. Through the doorway at left center, is the sound-proof machine records room. Mrs. Lorena Doyle is shown seated before one of the National Cash Register machines used in the accounting department. Office personnel moved into the newly-completed office building a week ago. One of the office girls said it seemed "almost too good to be true" to be located in the roomy new office building.

Teachers Club Re-Elects Mabel Fox

Miss Mabel Fox, social science teacher at Chelsea High school, was re-elected Saturday to a third successive term as president of the Michigan State Teachers' club. The election took place at the annual meeting of the state group at Saginaw.

The newly re-elected president is chairman of the public relations commission for the Michigan Education Association (MEA) and a delegate from the Washtenaw county group to the representative assembly, which is the governing body of the MEA.

Miss Fox also serves as regional director of the National Education Association (NEA), for four southeastern counties in Michigan—Washtenaw, Jackson, Monroe and Lenawee.

In Chelsea, Miss Fox is chairman of the Official Board of the Methodist church and is president of the Chelsea Public Library Board.

Others officers elected at the state meeting Saturday are Lorraine Gay of Saginaw, MEA vice-president; and Mary Nell of Port Huron; Ruth Hettray of Royal Oak; Francis Beeson of Muskegon; and Mildred Kunz of Bay City, directors.

Alvin M. Bentley, representative in Congress from the Eighth District, was a guest speaker at Saturday's meeting on the subject of financial support of education.

Mrs. Charlotte Richards of Farmdale, MEA president, was also one of the principal speakers.

Chelsea teachers who attended the Saginaw meeting Saturday are Miss Fox and Mrs. Barbara Smith, high school commercial teacher.

Frank Koselkas Now Raising Beef Cattle On Their 160-Acre Former Dairy Farm

The farm photo published in the April 23 edition of The Standard as "Mystery Farm No. 53," was quickly identified as the 160-acre farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koselkas, located at 1741 North Lima Center road.

The Koselkas first moved here in 1938. From 1942 until 1948, however, they made their home in Milford-while Koselkas was in charge of war-production work at an airplane shop.

The family came back to the farm in 1948. Included in the family is one daughter, Anne, now married and the mother of one child. She is Mrs. John Furgason of Ypsilanti.

There are two sons, Harvey who will graduate in June from the Marquette University Law School at Milwaukee, Wis., and Al, stationed in Hawaii. Frank Koselkas is married and has two children. All three graduated from Chelsea High school.

The Koselkas are members of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Koselkas formerly operated the place as a dairy farm and his herd of registered Holsteins was listed as one of the finest in the area. He was seriously injured in a traffic accident five years ago and disposed of the dairy herd.

He now has beef cattle and at present, the land is in the government's soil conservation program.

The upright action of the farm home is believed to be the original house built on the property shortly after it was procured from the U. S. Government in 1927. Heavy logs used as floor joists are still as solid as when they were installed. Oak planks were used for the walls of the original construction. This was discovered during remodeling work which has been done through the years.

Since he recovered from injuries received in the accident five years ago, Koselkas has kept busy remodeling and renewing the interior of the 10-room house which is now completely modernized.

New floors have been installed in the original section of the house and additions have been built, enlarging the home to its present size. Since the picture of the farm was taken, a new enclosed porch was added at the south side.

Koselkas' parents, Joseph and Augusta Koselkas, purchased the farm in 1929 and the Joseph Walkoves lived there for a number of years. The senior Koselkas did not live there.

Although the Frank Koselkas lived there from 1938 until 1942, they did not purchase the property until 1943.

The white painted house, barns and other farm buildings give an attractive, neat appearance to the farm. The barn was built while Archie Coe owned the farm, probably in 1918.

The Koselkas farm is another of those listing separate sets of owners for parts originally secured from the government by different owners.

According to official records, Dutes Aldrich secured a land patent in 1927 and William Lemmon secured one in 1931 from the U. S. Government. Both 80-acre sections are now included in the Koselkas property.

Other names listed as owners are Selah Mathews, 1830; Jeremiah Morrill, 1832; Charles Brundage, 1835; Abraham Sinn, 1837; William Morse, Michael McMurray and Elias Westfall, 1839; Nehemiah Muscott, 1846; Hannah Muscott to Harvey Muscott, 1853;

Club and Social Activities

CHILD STUDY CLUB

Twenty-eight members were present for the Child Study Club meeting Tuesday evening. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. Paul G. Schable, Jr.

Mrs. Dana Cederquist of the Home Economics department at Michigan State University, spoke as previously announced on the subject of food fads and fallacies. Co-hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Michael Papp and Mrs. Lawrence Dietz.

The next meeting will be held May 12 at the home of Mrs. Fredrick Belser.

AFTERNOON PHILATHEA CIRCLE

Nineteen members were present for a business meeting of the Afternoon Philathea Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church. The meeting was held in the social center of the church at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, April 21.

Mrs. E. J. Weiss of the nominating committee, reported the new slate of Circle officers who will be installed in May. They are Mrs. George Stanford, chairman; Mrs. Harry Prudden, vice-chairman; Mrs. Carl Schlosser, secretary; Mrs. Loring Bates, treasurer; and Mrs. Douglas Hoppe, sunshine chairman.

Plans were discussed for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet to be held at the church, May 13, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

After the business session the Afternoon Circle members were entertained by Mary-Martha Cline members who presented an interesting program and served refreshments.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. Laurence Noah on April 19. She was presented a lovely birthday cake. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Widmayer and daughter Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Hogan and daughter, Kathy, all of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Widmayer of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Will, Oscar of Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Widmayer, and children Kathryn and John. Mrs. Eva Stoffer and Lynne Freeman.

Debra Noah also spent the week-end with her parents.

University of Michigan botanists have found radioactive tracers an invaluable tool in their basic study of the ways plants select and absorb nutrients in the soil.

KINDER KLUB

Miss Mabel Fox, Chelsea High school teacher, was the guest speaker at the Kinder Klub Child Study club meeting Tuesday evening. She stressed the value of higher education and pointed out that education was increasing in importance as a factor in securing and holding jobs.

Tuesday's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Nelson Rooke with Mrs. Henry Merkel, Jr., and Mrs. Edwin Lantis as co-hostesses. Several guests were present.

Reports of the April 18 Child Study club's spring planning meeting at Marshall were given by the delegates, Mrs. Donald Cook and Mrs. Dan Ewald.

The May 12 meeting of the club will be a games night at the home of Mrs. William Storey.

PAJAMA PARTY

Doni Jo Boyer entertained friends at a pajama party April 25. Those attending were Jean Anne Pajo, Sharon Maurer, Christine Tarasow, Nancy Huelberg, and Dorothy DeFanti. Refreshments were served and various games were played.

SUBURBAN MOTHERS CHILD STUDY CLUB

Suburban Mothers Child Study club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Norman Houk with 13 members and one guest present.

After a short business session Mrs. William Robertson presented the guest speaker, Lt. George Simmons of the Juvenile Division of the Ann Arbor Police Department, who gave an interesting talk on "how to make delinquents out of your children."

He passed out among the members a printed sheet published by the Ann Arbor Police Bureau, containing 25 instructions to follow as do's and don'ts for "making delinquents."

Some of these are: Do belittle your home, school, businesses, churches, friends, him or her; don't give him religion, love or devotion; do tell children you have no time to listen to their small problems and watch them grow; do give them money and send them on their way—you're busy; don't find out the causes of their troubles, lies or otherwise (you may be the cause of it, as parents see their children perfect). The last and most important instruction, Lt. Simmons quoted, "be a poor example of a parent and your children naturally follow suit."

Lt. Simmons answered many

Mrs. Ralph Oesterle Named President of Modern Mothers

Modern Mothers Child Study club members voted a contribution of $40 to the McKune Memorial Library Fund at the regular club meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Geddes, mother of one of the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Kalmbach. She was assisted by Mrs. George West as co-hostess. There were 14 members present.

The $40 contribution to the library fund represented proceeds of a bake sale held by the club for the purpose of raising money for the project.

Plans were made for the club's annual spring dinner at Jackson, May 28, and announcement was made that a regular meeting will be held May 12 at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Werner. Discussion of next year's program will take place at that meeting.

Other business at Tuesday's meeting included a report of the spring program planning meeting at Marshall, April 18, given by the delegates, Mrs. Duane Weiss, Mrs. Wilbur Werner, and election of officers for the coming year.

New officers are Mrs. Ralph Oesterle, president; Mrs. Wilbur Werner, first vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Steinbach, second vice-president; Mrs. David Strieter, secretary; Mrs. Duane Weiss, treasurer; and Mrs. William Adams, auditor and parliamentarian.

questions the members asked and cited several cases where children have gone to him for aid as their parents were busy to listen.

He said that there are as many delinquents from good families as there are families with broken homes.

Refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Warren Elsenbeier and Mrs. Robert Elsenbeier.

The next meeting of the club will be held May 7 and will include a field trip to Hawthorne Center near Northville, Hawthorne Center being a rehabilitation center for the young. Members will return to the home of Mrs. William Robertson of North Lake for refreshments served by the co-hostesses Mrs. Jack Gilbert and Mrs. Walter French.

AGRICULTURAL ENTREPRENEURS

Twelve families were present for the April meeting of Agricultural Entrepreneurs Farm Bureau, held Thursday, April 16, at the community hall at Lima Center. Host and hostess for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Heydlauff.

It was decided, during the business session, to purchase a table for the Farm Bureau office building with proceeds of a recent card party, and another card party was planned for Saturday, April 25, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The party is to be held at the community hall with Mrs. LeRoy Feldkamp, Mrs. Lewis Haselswerdt, and Mrs. Lloyd Boyce as the committee in charge, was a guest night affair.

Raymond Schairer, the group's minuteman, reported at the April 16 meeting that the Farm Bureau is vigorously protesting proposals to raise the 15-mill property tax limitation in the state constitution to 20 mills. Schairer also reported on action being considered in the legislature to eliminate sales tax exemptions on industrial and farm equipment.

Mrs. Lloyd Boyce, reporting on the Farm Bureau Women's Committee meeting, said the group made hospital tray favors during the morning session and following a noon luncheon heard a talk on foreign affairs by Bill Dexter of the Agricultural Extension office at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Boyce also stated in her report that Mrs. Robert Tefft of Saline will be representing Michigan at the 1960 White House Youth Conference and presented questions Mrs. Tefft had asked her to submit to the local Farm Bureau group. The answers she receives to these questions will be used to formulate Mrs. Tefft's action at the conference.

Other action at Thursday's meeting included voting a donation of $5 for Arnold Gishbach, IFYE delegate to Spain this year.

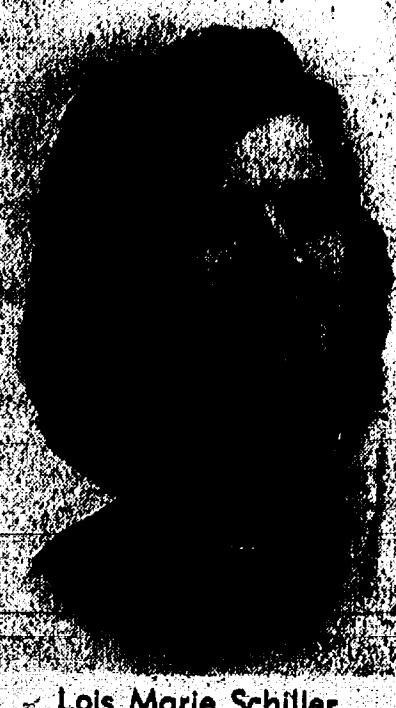

The evening's discussion topic, "Uses of Poisons as Insecticides," was presented by Charles Powers, discussion leader. The group's opinion was given that government agencies should investigate what effect, if any, such insecticides have on the human body, either from inhalation or eating vegetables, fruit or other food so treated.

The next Farm Bureau group meeting is scheduled for May 21, at 8:30 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradbury.

MAYTAG AUTOMATIC WASHERS

with the FIRST LINT-FILTER AGITATOR

★ EXCLUSIVE UNDERWATER LINT FILTER

Works under water, where the lint is. Filters during wash and rinse cycle. Gets rid of more lint than ever before possible. And you NEVER have to remove filter to load or unload the washer.

★ NEW AUTOMATIC DETERGENT DISPENSER

Just pour in the detergent, dispenser does the rest automatically! Sprays fully dissolved detergent into wash water. No half-dissolved detergent on clothes. 2-cup capacity lets you add softener if water is hard.

★ THREE-WAY LINT-FILTER AGITATOR THREE-WAY DIRT REMOVAL

Only Maytag offers positive lint removal with exclusive Lint-Filter Agitator, Lint Remover Tub and Swirl-Away draining action. Swirling water currents force unwanted lint into filter... dirt and detergent residue spins out sides of tub and away from the freshly washed clothes... bottom draining assures positive removal of heavy sediment. This increased water action gives you a cleaner, brighter, more lint-free wash.

NEW AUTOMATIC BLEACH DISPENSER

Now you can bleach without worry, mess or mistake. To get perfect results, just pour proper amount of full-strength bleach into Maytag's new Automatic Bleach Dispenser. Bleach is automatically diluted to just the right strength and added to the wash water after your detergent has had a chance to do its best work. And, because your Maytag Automatic Bleach Dispenser waits till the time is right, you get whiter washes... safely and automatically.

DEATHS

James G. Young Lyndon Township Native Dies Thursday at Rest Home

James G. Young, who had made his home with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McClear, at 17641 Boyce road in Lyndon township, died Thursday at Colonial Manor Nursing Home. He had been a patient at the hospital since April 17. He was 71 years old.

Born May 10, 1887, in Lyndon township, he was a son of Thomas and Margaret McGuinness Young. He was employed at farming until 1942 when he went to work for Federal Screw Works, remaining there as an employee until 1945. He later was employed at Central Fibre Products, beginning his work there in September, 1945.

Mr. Young was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and the Holy Name Society.

Survivors are a brother, Vincent Young of Gregory; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Daniels of Howell; Mrs. Mark McClear of Boyce road, and Mrs. Raymond Brazell of Washington state; and several nieces and nephews.

The Rosary was recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Staffan Funeral Home and funeral services were held at St. Mary's church at 9:30 a.m. Monday, with the Rev. Fr. Lee Laige officiating. Interment took place in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Charles Hartman
Former Chelsea Resident
Dies at Bradenton, Fla.

Word was received here Monday of the sudden death of Charles Hartman following a heart attack at Bradenton, Fla., where he and his wife had spent the winter. Mr. Hartman, who was a brother of the late Mrs. George Seitz, made his home in Chelsea some years ago and was employed in local industry. He was 72 years old.

The Hartmans had also spent their home for some time in Ypsilanti but at present their home is in Ann Arbor.

Survivors of Mr. Hartman are his widow, Nina; and a sister, Mrs. Marie Smith of Bradenton, Fla.

Arrangements are being made by the Stevens & Bush Funeral Home, Ypsilanti, where funeral services are to be held Friday.

Peter Kinsey, Sr. left Monday by plane to visit relatives at Blackpool, England, and in Scotland. Among those he plans to visit is his brother, Frank Kinsey.

BIRTHS

A son, Lawrence Eric, Saturday, April 25, at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Dietle.

A daughter, Denise Marie, Tuesday, April 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hankard.

A son, Daniel Louis, Friday, April 24, to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Detrick.

ness places are selling the decals at 40 cents each. Cost of each decal is approximately 9.2 cents so obviously they are designed for use as an advertising medium rather than a money-making project.

At a meeting of the Anniversary Novelty committee at the home of chairman Burg Tuesday evening, final plans were made for the celebration. It is planned to put into circulation three separate issues of the nickels, spaced at intervals during the anniversary celebration.

Chelsea Boy Scouts will be in charge of selling the plates. Plans were also completed Tuesday evening for the printing and distribution of wooden nickels which are to be in use throughout the celebration. It is planned to put into circulation three separate issues of the nickels, spaced at intervals during the anniversary celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Craven returned Tuesday after spending the past four months at Leesburg, Fla.

Join the Brothers of the Brush now!

If you have not been officially invited to join, we apologize. We have tried to reach all local men through various groups but we know we have missed many of our fertile faced local men folks. For this we are sorry and ask your help.

We have not had the available manpower for house-to-house canvassing so we have to rely upon your dropping in at Foster's Men's Wear to join. Please do so at once as we want all the men in our community to take part in our celebration fun activities.

George Winchester, Ron Eder, CoChairmen, Brothers of the Brush.

Gudeman Closing ...

Efficiently to assimilate the Connecticut plant but that the Connecticut plant does have the space to assimilate the Chelsea plant.

The Gudeman company has been located here the past six years, beginning operation in March, 1953.

Employment has reached a high of 150 and at times, a low of 60 workers, predominantly women.

Hartman said key people had been offered the chance to move east with the company but most of them, for various reasons, did not wish to leave the area.

Only one man, in addition to Hartman, will move with the company. He is Albert Bennett, who came to the Chelsea plant from Great Britain a year ago. Bennett, an engineer, left the local plant a month ago to begin his work at the Terryville plant.

Schumm, Sylvan and South Sylvan; Miss Alda Juergens, East Lima; Mrs. Eugene Fisher, Freer road; Mrs. Dan Foytik and Mrs. Irwin Klumpp, Old US-12; and Mrs. Alfred Weinmann, Mrs. Richard Foytik, Mrs. Edwin Diekelman, Mrs. Mary Kniss and Mrs. K. R. McMann in Chelsea.

Dr. Ruthven spoke during the after-dinner program, mentioning the vast strides made in research of all kinds, including cancer and arthritis.

Child Abandonment ...

Friday afternoon Mrs. Hayes again appeared in Municipal Court and waived examination and she was then ordered to appear in Circuit Court today.

Mrs. Hayes, with her 10-year-old son, Patrick, and Douglas A. Hamilton, an unemployed salesman, left their Lyndon township home together leaving behind Mrs. Hayes' four daughters, Sharon, Pamela, Cynthia, and Sheryl Ann, 1.

Two days later Sharon was seen hitchhiking toward Chelsea. The motorist who picked her up said she told him she was on her way to Chelsea "because my sisters don't have anything to eat."

The four children were made temporary wards of the Washtenaw Probate Court and Mrs. Hayes' divorced husband, Patrick J. Hayes of Detroit, signed a criminal complaint charging his ex-wife with child abandonment. He also signed a complaint against Hamilton charging him with aiding and abetting child abandonment.

Mrs. Hayes returned to Ann Arbor after Hamilton was arrested on a bad check charge at North Bay, Ont., where they were staying at a motel.

Band Scholarships ...

awarded to Carol Dancer, Jean Pajot, Lenis Beach and David Talbot.

Senior Interlochen scholarship winners are Mary Jane Harris and Eddie Lathrop, while Marvin Fisher received the Interlochen scholarship awarded by the Kiwanis club. Ronald Papadopoulos received the John-Philip Sousa award.

Headquarters ...

Strieter feels that the grocery stores should handle the next shipment of hats—then his neighbor, Carl Schneider won't think it such a joke!

For the information of "Brothers of the Brush" who were unable to purchase hats from this first supply, it is pointed out that there will be another shipment in soon.

Because Anniversary Headquarters wants everyone to know what is being done with the money taken in, a planned budget is being set up and will be published within the next two or three weeks.

Miss Marian Allan has returned home after a week's stay at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Lt. Fred Anderson

Graduates from Course At Marine Basic School

Fred Anderson, second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps, graduated April 25 from a 30-week program of training at the Marine basic school at Quantico, Va. He is now spending some time at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Anderson and from May 4 until May 12 he has been assigned to temporary recruiting duty for the NROTC at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

May 22 he will leave for Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he has been assigned for further duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Layher and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Layher.
