Square Dance Exhibition Set Friday Night

The Merry-Go-Round children's square dance group will present a public exhibition dance in downtown Chelsea, Saturday, from 8:45 p.m. until 8 p.m. Connie Elchhorn of Ann Arbor, will be the caller.

All people of the community are invited to attend. The following week, June 27, an adult square dance "Jamboree" is being held at the new high school.

With Chelsea's 125th anniversary activities stressing square dancing the next two weeks-end, it is interesting to note that Detroit will host the 1961 Square Dance clubs' convention in 1959.

Detroit's bid was accepted at the 1958 convention in Denver after a contingent of Detroiters put on a demonstration of early American quadrilles. Henry Ford revived and made popular the modern square dance.

The dancers who demonstrated at the 1958 convention rehearsed the intricate figures in Lovett Hall at Greenfield Village and their appearance in Denver was sponsored by the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

Galler, "or prompter" was Al Harde whom Ford had personally trained.

There will be few among the expected 15,000 square dancers attending the 1961 convention in Detroit who are familiar with the early American quadrilles. Most of them will be devotees of the more active "western" style dancing.

The completion of Cobo Hall next year was one of the factors that enabled Harold Erickson, president of the Council of Michigan Square and Round Dance clubs to present Detroit's bid at Denver.

The dances next year will be on the first and third Saturday evening at the South Elementary school, beginning in September. (Continued on page 12)

Library Receives $3,000 Gift From Herrick Foundation

The McKune Memorial Library Fund has received a most welcome and generous gift of $3,000 from the Herrick Foundation. It was announced this week.

Accompanying the check was a letter from the Foundation headquarters in Detroit stating that the gift was authorized by the Foundation to assist in defraying the cost of restoring the historic old McKune home for its ultimate use as a public library.

The check was sent directly to the Chelsea Village Council. Library officials, informed of the gift, were overjoyed to learn that it will now be possible to pay outstanding bills which the originally estimated $10,000 failed to cover.

Additional donations which are being contributed and others which have been promised may now be used for other restoration work which the Library Board had about decided was impossible. This includes a new cornice on the building and replacing the metal awning over the front door with a canopy of the type which originally was a part of the building. Addition of the canopy will supply the finishing touch for restoration of the building to its original outward appearance.

While the Herrick Foundation offices are in the Penobscot building in Detroit, the founder is a Tecumseh man, Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the Board of Tecumseh Products Co.

Tecumseh, itself, has been benefited greatly by contributions or gifts from the Foundation; however, Foundation gifts are not restricted to Herrick's home town since many other communities have also received assistance with civic and community enterprises which the Foundation directors deem worthy of support.

Library officials here believe the wholehearted support of the McKune Memorial Library project by the people of the Chelsea community—including donations of money, material and labor—was one of the factors which the Foundation directors took into consideration in making their decision to grant the $3,000 at this time. Historic significance of the restoration of the McKune house for community use also appears to have influenced the Foundation since the letter accompanying the $3,000 check made special mention of the restoration being accomplished.

Two weeks ago the Library Board members asked that anyone planning to make a contribution to the McKune Memorial Library Fund do so at their earliest convenience. A number of people and organizations have intimated that they expect to contribute to the fund and if these could be made at once, it would help greatly to complete plans.

The library closed June 6 and will remain closed until June 29 when it will open in the McKune house.

Boys', Girls' State Delegates Study Politics, Government

Roger Herman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Herman, representing Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, and Charles Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Cameron, representing the Kiwanis club of Chelsea, leave today to attend Wolverine Boys' State on the campus of Michigan State University at East Lansing.

For the next eight days the youths will take part in a series of programs designed to give them a practical experience in the mechanics of city, county and state government.

"Boys' State" is a major Americanism program sponsored by the Michigan Department of the American Legion and its 75,000 members. The program is designed to help the youths develop leadership qualities; learn the advantages of good citizenship; and cultivate a spirit of good sportsmanship.

Climax of the eight-day program comes on Sunday when the delegates elect the Boys' State Governor and other top officials. During the balance of the week the state senators, representatives, county supervisors, and city councilmen learn to draft bills, enact them into laws, and then administer and enforce the laws after they are passed.

The youths will also publish their own daily newspaper, and attend lectures on subjects ranging from conservation to foreign relations and juvenile delinquency. Included in the schedule of activities will be talks by Gov. G. Mennen Williams; John M. Carey, commander, Michigan Department of the American Legion; and Tom Hamilton, vice-president of Michigan State University.

Roger Herman, whose stay at Boys' State is being sponsored by the American Legion, has been active in football during his three years of high school. During his freshman year he was on the reserve team and during his sophomore and junior years he was a member of the varsity team and has been elected co-captain for the 1959 season.

He has been a Student Council representative the past two years and has been elected Student Council president for his senior year. He was a member of the Hi-Y club and the Future Teachers club during his junior year and has been named president of the Hi-Y club and vice-president of the Future Teachers club for the coming year.

54 Cars in Caravan Attending Farm Council Barbecue

A total of 54 cars were in the caravan that went to the Farm Council barbecue on Saline-Ann Arbor road Sunday afternoon.

The Chelsea anniversary group provided entertainment for the hundreds of people present with the Brothers of the Brush marching band and Danny Foytik's rock 'n' roll group.

After noting the enthusiasm of the spectators, the Farm Council group moved out tables so a dance could be held.

Saline's Mayor Henry Leuthaus and other Saline officials, having heard about the visit of Chelsea Belles and Brothers of the Brush at Manchester and impressed with their activities at Sunday's barbecue, invited the Chelsea group to visit Saline, June 26.

A caravan leaves the fairgrounds at 7 p.m. tonight (Thursday) for Stockbridge, where a street dance will be held.

Another barbecue caravan will head for Grass Lake at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, June 20. Tickets must be reserved by calling Wallace Wood at once. Deadline date for reservations is today.

Louis Ramp Named Honorary Kentucky Colonel by Gov. A. B. 'Happy' Chandler

In recognition of his avowed admiration for the state of Kentucky and his activities as a "Kentucky booster," and because of his many and varied interests for which he is known in most sections of the United States and in Canada, Louis C. Ramp has had the honorary title of "Kentucky Colonel" bestowed upon him by Kentucky's Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler.

The certificate, framed in seasoned Kentucky wild cherry wood, awarded Mr. and Mrs. Ramp on their recent return from Florida. Also included were a beautiful gold "Kentucky Colonel" pin for Ramp and a matching "Colonel's Lady" pin for Mrs. Ramp.

Approximately 500 of the honorary "Kentucky Colonel" awards have been made in the years since the project was inaugurated and 75 per cent of these were to persons other than native Kentuckians. Among the recipients are Bing Crosby, Ed Sullivan and others prominent in the entertainment field. Recipients are considered "Friends of Kentucky."

The order of Kentucky Colonels is an honorary one, although its wide publicity work has received national prominence; for instance, at a recent dinner, a total of $24,000 was contributed to Kentucky charities.

The Ramp's connection with Kentucky goes back to the time of their honeymoon 28 years ago and began when they picked up two University of Kentucky hitchhikers just outside of St. Louis, Mo. The two students rode with them as far as Los Angeles, Calif., where they were dropped off in front of the city hall.

Several years later, the Ramps and one of the students, O. A. "Cotton" Durham, renewed their acquaintance and, for the past 28 years have remained good friends. Durham has for many years been county attorney of Adair county in the south central part of Kentucky. The office he holds is similar to what is known here as prosecuting attorney. He and his wife have visited the Ramps often and the Ramps have been their guests in Kentucky. The Durhams' son, Henry Hunter Durham who is a 1958 graduate of the Columbia City, Ky., High school, left last week after visiting at the Ramp home here.

Ramp's mink ranch, while supplying an unusual occupation, is only one of the interests which brought him to the attention of the Kentucky governor. Others include mining, oil and steel.

A biographical sketch of Ramp's life states that he was born in Pennsylvania just two weeks after his parents arrived in this country from Tyrol, Austria, to make their home. A few years later the family moved to Deadwood, S. D., and Ramp lived there for 20 years before he came to this area. He has operated the Waterloo Mink ranch on Clear Lake road since 1937.

Participating in Chelsea's 125th Anniversary activities, Ramp has joined the "Brothers of the Brush" and is wearing a gaiter and mink tache until after the final anniversary week programs, scheduled for July 11-18.

He has been a Student Council representative the past two years and has been elected Student Council president for his senior year. He was a member of the Hi-Y club and the Future Teachers club during his junior year and has been named president of the Hi-Y club and vice-president of the Future Teachers club for the coming year.

Breakfast Termed
Key Meal of Day
By U-M Dietitians

Ann Arbor—Breakfast is the most important meal of the day, say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

By breakfast time, the body has gone without food for about 9 to 12 hours. The morning meal should furnish one-third to one-fourth of the daily food requirements.

Among the foods recommended for breakfast are: fruits to insure strong blood vessels and healthy gums; cereals, breads and fats for energy; milk for bones and teeth; meats or eggs for body building and repair of tissues; and fats to protect eyes and skin and to help guard against infections.

Great Lakes Fishing

Sport fishing in Michigan isn't confined to the state's thousands of lakes and streams. In fact, countless residents and tourists do all their angling in the Great Lakes. This proud fisherman

Appreciation of Industry
May Help Prevent Losing It

"We don't miss water till the well runs dry," is a saying familiar to everyone and it certainly has a lot of truth in it, whether taken literally or figuratively.

This familiar truth can be applied to the industry that keeps the economy of a community alive as well as to the water that keeps the people of the community alive.

We take water for granted. Many of us are inclined to take industry for granted, too. There often is an advertisement which appears in the Standard today. It is another in a series of industrial development advertisements sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department which appear in this and more than 800 other Michigan newspapers as a public service.

Likewise, with industry, we should appreciate its presence and make sure we don't lose it. When the well runs dry, it is too late.
After an industry leaves a community it also is too late to do anything about it.

Let's not wait until the well runs dry, but show industry we appreciate what it means to our towns and cities and the people in them. Let's help industry when it has problems and remove any danger threats to its existence and expansion.

Industry appreciation is not a crash program needed the year around for brief attention here or there. It is a 12 months operation, to protect a community's well-being.

"We don't miss water till the well runs dry" is the theme of an advertisement which appears in
The Standard today. It is another

Traffic Death Toll Jumps for Month of April

A four-month string of sharply reduced traffic deaths in Michigan was snapped in April with an equally sharp increase when 115 persons were killed compared to only 89 the same month last year, according to the State Police provisional report.

The increase of 26 deaths, or 29 per cent, brought the toll to 349 killed so far this year. This is still 19 fewer than in the same period last year, but traffic authorities fear the upturn last month may be only the beginning.
Since April 1966 through March 1968 deaths had been reduced in 31 of 36 months compared with the same months the preceding years. The exceptions were September 1966, June and December 1967, and September and November 1968.

There is concern that April may not have been an exception but rather the forerunner of increased highway deaths in the months ahead because of improved business conditions and increases in drivers, cars and miles of travel.

Accidents have increased in five of the six months preceding April and if this record continues as the summer arrives it is expected there will be a substantial increase in deaths, according to Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.
Michigan has succeeded in reducing traffic deaths more than 10 per cent each year since 1965, but the 1968 goal of another 10 per cent reduction is being endangered. Only increased safety efforts will meet the threat.

Final traffic figures for March showed 82 deaths and 4,927 persons injured in 14,334 reported accidents. Compared with March 1968, deaths were down 24 per cent, but injuries and accidents were up 23 and 30 per cent, respectively.

Estimated travel for the first two months of the year, the latest figures computed, was 4.4 billion miles, less than one per cent under the same period last year. The death rate of 3.2 per 100 million miles of travel was down 22 per cent.

According to the National Safety Council's final figures, Michigan's death rate of 4.6 per 100 million miles of travel in 1968 was one less than the national rate of 5.6 and was second-best among the large eight states, which include California, Illinois, Indiana, New York, Ohio and Texas. Pennsylvania's rate was 4.8.

Michigan was in last place in 1955 in this group, however, and in advancing to second place scored the biggest improvement. In 1959 only seven of the 48 mainland states, some with small populations, had a better rate than Michigan. They were Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island.

Michigan had a death toll of 2,018 in 1955 as compared to 1,876 in 1958, a decrease of 641.

Boating Tips

By Earle F. Zeigler

Acting Chairman,
Washtenaw County
Water Safety Committee

of the American Red Cross

Now that those wonderful spring and summer days are with us again, folks are scraping, painting, and readying that boat for the water again. What great fun it's going to be! We can hardly wait for the evening or the week-end to be on our way. But wait—have we thought of everything? What were some of those points made by that fellow on that Red Cross water safety program recently?

First there were some "don'ts" that seemed important. Don't overload your boat, and keep the load balanced at all times. Don't allow anyone to stand up or move about in a small boat unless absolutely necessary. Find out what size motor is best suited for your particular boat so that you don't load yourself up with too much horsepower. If you operate your boat at night, don't make the mistake of navigating without lights.
If by chance your boat is overturned, don't leave it. Join hands with the others in the water, and use the boat as a life preserver to rest on.

Now for some "do's" that will make your boating more pleasant and carefree. Do have an approved life preserver for each passenger;
put life jackets on little children

Sharp Increase
In Bogus Checks
Reported for May

An increase of more than 800 per cent in the number of bad checks processed by the State Police fraudulent check section during the last week of May resulted in a 128 per cent gain for the month compared with May last year, Det. Sgt. Fred G. Kelly reports. It was the second warning to business people within the last three weeks.

This year in May, 128 fraudulent checks were processed, against 56 in the same period a year ago.
Forty-one were processed during the last week compared with only 13 the same week the previous May.

Part of the increase is attributed to the influx of tourists, he said, but most of it is a natural phenomenon accompanying improved economic conditions.

"When business is good, bogus check writing increases," Kelly, head of the check section, said.
"Contrary to popular belief, bad checks do not increase with bad times."

"When the till is full and money is rolling in there is a tendency for business people to cash checks with less caution. Actually, that is the time when they should be more careful because they are more vulnerable."

State Police records show bogus checks rise sharply in July and August and Kelly urges business people to use more caution to protect themselves from being victimized.

Regular Session

This session was called to order by Pres. Alber at 8:00 p.m. Trustees present: Barr, Blaess, Chandler, Kohman, Lixey and Paul. The minutes of the regular session of May 5th were read and approved.

Bills and wages in the amount of $10,159.11 from the general fund and $20.73 from the parking meter fund were presented to the council. Motion by Chandler, supported by Paul, that the clerk be authorized and directed to issue checks from the general fund and the parking meter fund in payment of bills. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held before the Village Council on the rezoning request submitted by Louis and June Burghardt to change the premises known as 214 East Middle Street and 218 East Middle Street from "R-2" Two-Family to "GB" General Business. No opposition was voiced to this rezoning request.

Motion by Blaess, supported by Barr, that the aforementioned rezoning resolution be adopted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Motion by Chandler, supported by Paul, that the President and the Clerk be authorized to enter the sales agreement for the well site. Roll call: Yeas Barr, Blaess, Chandler, Paul and Kohman. Nays Lixey. Motion carried.

Motion by Barr, supported by Lixey, that effective June 1, 1959 a $25.00 fee be imposed on requests for rezoning to cover the actual costs involved. Two newspaper notices and registered letters to all persons and public utilities affected. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A request was submitted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to erect four (4) signs. One at each principal entrance to the village. Motion by Kohman, supported by Blaess, that the above mentioned request be approved. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Chandler, supported by Blaess, that expenses for Mayor's Day Exchange be approved. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held with Mr. Wallace Benzle of the State Health Dept. in regards to the inadequate facilities of the Chelsea Sewage plant. Mr. Benzle informed the Council that the State Health Dept. will no longer tolerate these inadequate facilities. Some major repairs must be accomplished at once. A new sludge return pump, a water isolation system and new laboratory equipment are the most essential pieces needed. The cost of these three items is approximately $3,250.00. No new sewer lines may be added to the present system until the Village enters into a legally-binding agreement with the Health Department to start to increase the capacity of the present sewage treatment plant. Also discussed was the need for another plant to learn the operation of the plant because Chelsea has outgrown a one-man operation.

Motion by Lixey, supported by Kohman, to adjourn. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Meeting Adjourned.

Approved: June 2, 1959.

Donald C. Alber, President.

George L. Winans, Clerk.

Shorten your prime of life

MILK is the only practical source of calcium

It's a fact that millions of Americans do not get sufficient calcium in their diet. They risk the dangers of calcium starvation. Wrinkled, leathery skin. Early aging. Excessive irritability. Brittle bones, teeth. Improper functioning of heart muscles. Shorter "prime of life."

Other foods supply only slight amounts of calcium. You would have to eat: 7½ lbs. of carrots, 39 eggs, 27 lbs. of potatoes, 28 oranges, 15 lbs. of flour or 6¼ lbs. of cabbage to get the calcium supplied by 1 quart of milk.

In addition milk contains more of the essential nutrients than any other food. More nourishment per calorie (one reason it's recommended for reducing diets), and more nourishment per dollar. Are you sure you're drinking all the milk you need—at least 3 glasses a day.

'Crash' Program To Lick Cancer Should Be Undertaken By U. S. Now

Arthur Godfrey and Senator Richard L. Neuberger recently appealed for a "crash" program in the fight against cancer, before a Senate sub-committee. Both suggested that the crash program be inaugurated in honor of the late John Foster Dulles who was a victim of that disease.

A crash program on cancer, as suggested, we think would be in order, and it is interesting to note that the chairman of the sub-committee, Senator Lester Hill (D-Ala.) welcomed the idea when it was suggested before his committee.

Cancer, of course, is not the greatest scourge on the health scene. However, it strikes with such rapidity, and so often among those who have just attained a high degree of value and training, that it robs the nation of many highly-gifted and needed men and women. The same is true about heart disease.

Mental disease, which exacts the biggest toll of all in the United States, is certainly worthy of everyone's attention, although readjustment and cure of this widespread disease has registered more progress in recent years than efforts to control or cure cancer.

President Eisenhower has asked for some $75 million during the next fiscal year for the Cancer Institute which is operated by the National Institute of Health. The House of Representatives has increased this amount by some $8 million but probably many million more would be needed to undertake a comprehensive "crash" program on cancer.

Even considering the fact that the federal budget is tight, that there are other diseases which are equally as costly, or more so, than cancer, and admitting the fact that progress cannot always be bought by money, we think the idea of a crash program on cancer is a good one and one which this nation should adopt now.

It's nice to have both ends meet, but we would also like to have them overlap a little.

From NICK PRAKKE, Manager

Helen Lentz of the Chelsea High school graduating class has accepted employment with our company in Ann Arbor.

This pleases us and we would be happy to interview other young ladies of Chelsea. Those interested should see Miss Polzin in our Ann Arbor office, 323 East Washington, or call NORMANDY 8-9984.

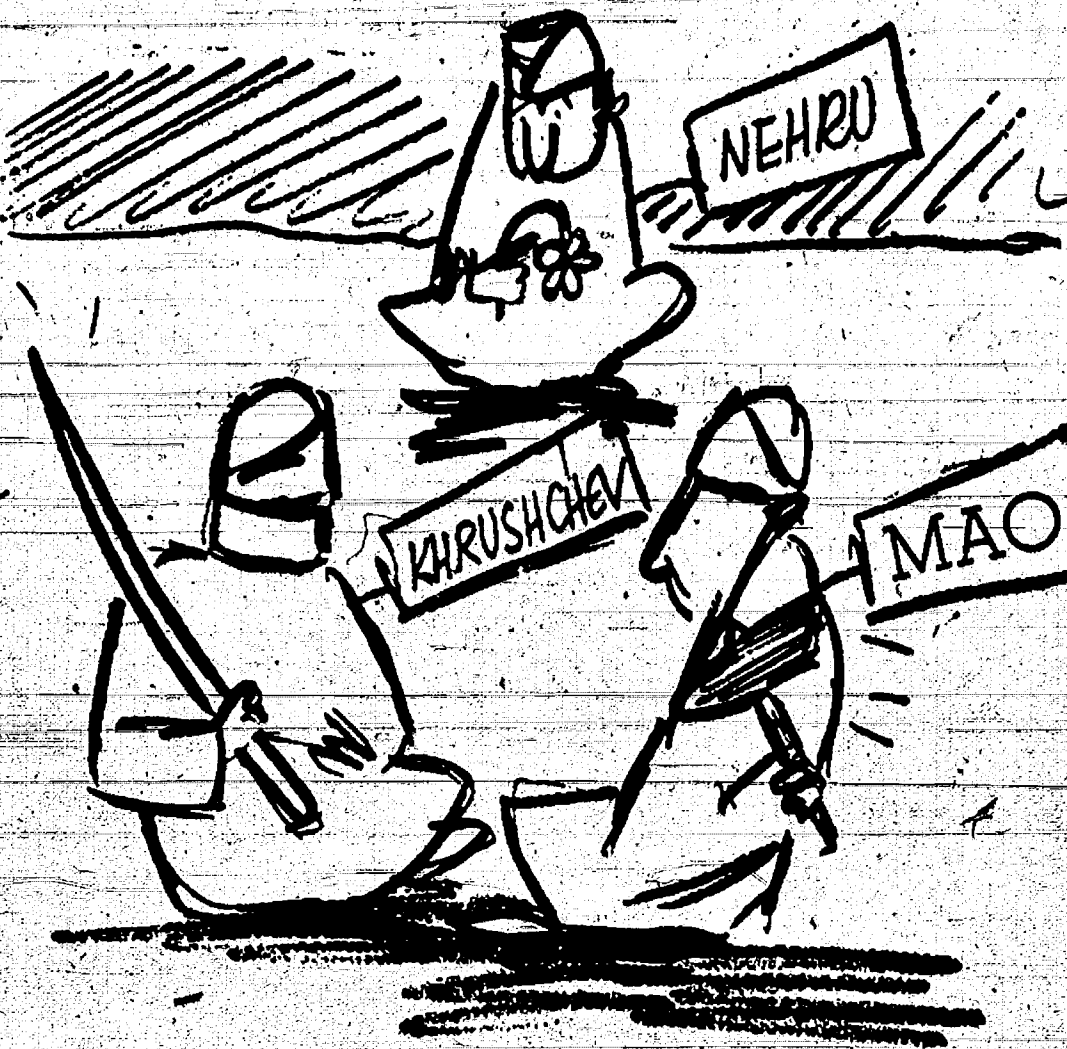

NECKTIES AND TOBACCO
 ARE PROBABLY the most popular things that will be given to Dad on Father's Day. But if he's far away and can't be with you on Sunday, you can be sure that a Long Distance phone call would be at the top of a list of things he'd like to have. The usual low Sunday rates are in effect to help you enjoy a leisurely telephone visit. It's a fine way to please Dad, and it'll make you feel pretty good, too!

BESIDES BEING FATHER'S DAY,

June 21st is also the first day of Summer-time to begin thinking about vacations. But thinking alone won't make a vacation good. Only planning and preparation will do that. That's where the Yellow Pages comes in so handy. It'll tell you where to buy the diving goggles, camera film, sports clothes, sun glasses, luggage and guide books you'll need. More than that, the Yellow Pages lists hotels, motels, restaurants, theatres and other amusements, so it's the quickest way of getting to know your way around a new town. Start with the Yellow Pages and end up with a truly great vacation.

PARTING SHOTS: Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote. . . . More good things are lost by indecision than by wrong decision.

Shippers around the world will be asked to take a look at the price of Michigan's ferry fleet, the Vacationland, now up for sale.

The vessel is the last of the five-boat fleet which linked the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan before the $100,000,000 Mackinac Bridge was opened Nov. 1, 1957.

The others have been sold at a fraction of their original cost.

The Vacationland is moored alone and lonely at the St. Ignace dock, barred by the law which authorized construction of the bridge from ever making the trip again.

To protect buyers of the bridge bonds, the law states that there can be no boat in competition with the bridge, which is being paid for by tolls.

The Vacationland now is occupied by only one waterman and a few seagulls, which used to follow the fleet between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

The trip, which formerly took 40 minutes in good weather, is now a 10-minute drive through the sky over the bridge.

The Vacationland, the largest of the fleet, can carry 675 passengers and 140 vehicles.

Philip H. Anderson, deputy director of the purchasing division of the state department of administration, sees new hope for selling the Vacationland in the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"Now that we have the seaway and can get her out of the Great Lakes Basin, we shouldn't have much trouble selling her," said Anderson.

History which helped end the war between the states a century ago will be repeated at Bull Run, Va., in 1961.

Michigan will send National Guard troops to Virginia, clad in the traditional blue, to re-enact the Battle of Bull Run as part of a historical celebration.

The request came to Michigan from Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond to take part in the celebration.

To ease the fears of families and relatives of the men going to Virginia in two years, there are assurances that none of the guns will be loaded, with live ammunition at least.

Political observers see Gov. Williams confronted with a dilemma of his own making.

His party friends and heirs apparently believe he will not be a candidate for a seventh term, but will make his stand in the national Democratic picture next year.

They have had encouragement in this belief by Williams' frequent visits to other states, his speeches on national and international problems, and other factors.

Most of his party's strategists feel that the financial plight of Michigan has wrecked his chances for a national nomination next year.

A conference of party leaders in Denver, Colo., indicated that he must succeed in overpowering the Republican controlled legislature this year, or fail for the present in the national picture.

Indications of dissent on his own party in the legislature point only to trouble for the record setting Democratic governor.

Most of Williams' program was scrapped by the legislature when the deadline for action arrived June 5.

It also marked the tenth year in which the legislature had refused to enact his "Seal of Quality" program for farm products, a program of promotion and standardization of products.

The nation knows of Idaho potatoes and Maine lobsters and the citrus fruits of Florida and California. The Williams program was an advertising device to produce a similar effect for Michigan agriculture products.

The programs rejected by the legislature this year also include a state building authority, an atomic energy commission, an old-age commission, an automation commission, an industrial park authority, and an employment safety standards bill.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 I ain't too happy about this meeting "at the summit" business. Them Russians will end up talking us out of Fort Knox. We met with old Joe Stalin three times "at the summit" and ever time he sold us Brooklyn Bridge.

At Tehran in 1943 he made us promise a second front. At Yalta in 1945 he really took us to the cleaners. He agreed to enter the war with Japan, which was already won, if we'd agree to give Russia a bunch of islands and Port Arthur for a naval base, and let 'em run the railroads in Manchuria. The reason he put that railroad item into the bargain was because he was already planning the "police action" in Korea.

Six months later Truman and our fellows met Joe at Potsdam. Harry is a real sociable feller and he thought it might ease the international situation if he'd play the piano for Joe. But Joe, it turned out, wasn't no patron of the arts, and while Harry was playing the Missouri Waltz for Joe, the Russians was prying us loose from our shirt. We agreed to cut Berlin up in zones, and Joe slipped a joker in the deck when he fixed it so nobody could get into Berlin without crossing Russian territory.

With such past successes, Mister Editor, it ain't no wonder that them Russians is strong on this meeting "at the summit" business.

Ed Doolittle's cow went dry and Ed is temporarily buying his dairy rations at the country store. He come home yesterday with a pound of colored oleomargarine, so his old lady told mine. He said he found it cheaper and to him grease was grease. The reason I mention it here, Mister Editor, is to show how people in this country has lost their pride. I can recollect when, if a farmer's wife shipped a little coloring in her butter, they kept it a house-hold secret, the same as they would keep it a secret if their daughter had a child born out of wedlock.

But now they make no attempt to keep their pride, just like Ed coming home with a pound of oleo, plain out in the open for everybody to see and hear about.

Well, Mister Editor, I had a birthday last week. I ain't what I used to be no more. There was a time when June meant moonlight and roses and I would rave about 'em both. Now the moonlight just makes me feel like a dog howl, and the roses give me a fever. But each birthday has its advantage. It brings me closer to drawing my old age pension. I'm looking forward to that fine day when I'll git about $40 a month for life and can retire, if not in peace, at least in prosperity—so the Government tells me.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew

Besides being a world play ground, having large manufacturing and commercial interests New Jersey's agricultural and fruit interests are large and valuable.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, June 18, 1925—

The 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoey of Dexter was drowned at Base Lake Sunday afternoon after rescuing his sister and getting her to a boat. Before assistance reached him he sank in deep water. As a result of an incident which occurred as she and her men were rushing to the scene with a pulmotor, Sheriff James Robison has issued an order banning use of sirens on private cars. The sheriff's car was not granted right-of-way in several instances because drivers failed to recognize it as an official emergency run.

Alex Griffin of Niles, has purchased the Sylvan Center store and gas station and has already taken possession. His family will join him next week.

★ Amazing Defense Of Inflation

Sumner Slichter, of Harvard University, is widely known for his defense of creeping inflation. He maintains it is necessary to assure continuous economic growth. Other persons believe inflation is inevitable, although probably a majority of these do not think it is desirable. A small investment firm recently issued a letter under the heading "The Blessing of Inflation." It statements and arguments are almost unbelievable.

History Refutes Writer's Thesis
 For example, it is said: "We know of no period in any country's history when a consistently rising level of production has not been accompanied by rising prices." Had the writer of this looked at the history of prices and production in this nation he could not in honesty have made this statement. During the eighties and up until 1895 we had a period of declining prices, yet it was fifteen years of extraordinary growth. In the 1920's we also had stable prices and growth continued. It was not until the depression of the 1930's that inflation became an official government policy, and it was not successful in bringing about prosperity.

It also is said "that the only times of real dollar stability have been hard times." This is not even approximately true. It would be more accurate to say that hard times are characterized by other rapidly rising or rapidly falling prices. We had real dollar stability from 1951 through 1955, and we had nothing justifying the term "hard times" during those years. Granted there was a recession in 1954, but it was both mild and short, and by 1955 we were at new highs in production, employment, gross national product and all other broad economic measures.

Here is another example of amazing logic: "The people who rant against inflation rationalize their position in the face of continuing reality: the success of inflation. . . . They answer normally by pointing to a hideous reckoning in the future. It has to be in the future, because there is no proof in the present that an intelligently administered inflation won't work." No description is given of an "intelligently administered inflation," but it is pointed out that Russia and France have simply turned $100 bills into $1 dollar bills whenever the currency debase-ment chased prices too high.

This, of course, is not monetary management at all; it is the reflection of a nation finding itself in an impossible position and taking drastic measures to attempt to get back to a condition which makes continuation feasible. Germany in its great inflation might also have been cited.

The letter ends with this question: "Would the retired people on fixed incomes be retired at all with any kind of income if it were not for America's mighty, inflation nourished productive power?" We have many millions of retired persons in this nation, and their retirement has not been the result of inflation and their welfare has been hurt rather than helped by inflation. Even with the many increases which have been made in social security, the real purchasing power of the pensions has not provided them with an easy life. Those who are living on their own savings have had a drastic shrinkage of purchasing power.

Now what does the record really show about inflation and growth? First, it shows that there can be growth in periods of falling prices, stable prices, and rising prices. No one likes general falling prices, but we need price flexibility, with some prices declining, and some rising. In this way we can attain at least reasonable price stability overall, and that will contribute more to sustainable growth than either rising or falling price levels.

Can't Escape Inflation Fallout?
 Second, there is no method by which the public can protect itself (Continued on page 8)

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action.

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Going into the real heart of Chevrolet advantages is where your dealer comes in. He'll show you, in feature after feature, that you can't buy more truck dependability—in any weight class—at any price.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Sanilac Girl Named Michigan Dairy Princess

Mary Sue Hodge, pretty 21-year-old brunet from Sanilac county, was selected Michigan's 1959 Dairy Princess recently at East Lansing. She was chosen from a field of 41 county princesses who had gathered with their parents and chaperons for the two-day judging festivities.

The Dairy Princess will represent Michigan this year by appearing at industry promotions, in parades, meetings and other places where the grace and charm of a pretty young lady can dramatize the importance of the dairy industry. She will also compete next year for the title of American Dairy Princess.

Miss Hodge, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward G. Hodge, Snover, like the other country princesses, is perfectly able to milk a cow. She is a home economics student at MSU, and a former member of youth farm organizations.

Two alternates, who will represent the dairy industry when Miss Hodge cannot be present, were named. They are Ruth Ann Avery, a brunet from Homer, and Joyce Ann Arnett of Otsego.

Miss Arnett, who stands 6 feet 1 1/2 inches, may be the tallest girl so honored in the history of Michigan Dairy Princesses. She is 17 and has an outstanding high school record in student activity and scholarship. She was valedictorian of her class and editor of her high school newspaper.

Deadline Set for July 1

All farmers interested in applying for a 1960 Wheat Acreage Allotment must apply in writing to the county ASC office located in Room 18, County Building, Ann Arbor, prior to the deadline date of July 1.

Farmers who raised wheat in 1958 and/or 1959 without a wheat acreage allotment do not automatically qualify for a wheat acreage allotment. MQ-95—New Farm Application forms are available at the Washington County ASC office for use in filing requests for wheat acreage allotments.

to Switzerland with her ankle bound—the last day on the "Unforgotten" set she threw her, and turned her ankle. Two stunt men were badly injured by horses in the picture too.

Today's picture review: GIDGET

"Gidget" isn't really a comedy; what it is, is a teen-age confession that adults are apt to find either uproariously funny or completely appalling. But it is a sure bet that teenagers, themselves, will find it a diverting film.

The definition of "gidget" is a girl-midget, a word coined to describe the heroine, who is no midget, but a normal-enough, if pint-sized cutie.

As the picture opens she is pushing seventeen, and, since she has not yet found a man of her own, is facing the possibility of being an old maid. Her friends, greatly concerned with this dreadful prospect, analyze the situation, coming to the conclusion that her trouble is that she is an honor student. To rectify this state of affairs, she spends her summer as a mascot to a group of surf-riding boys, who think of themselves as "free spirits." Her romantic target is a young fellow who wants no entanglements of any kind, and how our heroine shows him the error of his ways constitutes the rest of this offering.

Sandra Dee, as our heroine, turns in a delightful performance, ably supported by James Darren and Cliff Robertson.

One Minute SPORTS QUIZ

1. What pitcher recently pitched a perfect twelve-inning game?
2. In what game must the "pitcher" refrain from bending his arm?
3. With what sport is "pom-pom" associated?
4. Who brought the game of handball to the United States?
5. In what water sport did Bob Cozzens set a world record in 1952?

(Answers on page two)

Skin, Scuba Diving Require Following Strict Safety Rules

The rapid growth in popularity of skin and "scuba" diving prompted the American Red Cross today to issue suggestions for safe enjoyment of these water sports.

Robert E. Foiles, Director of Educational Services of the Washenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, defined skin diving as underwater swimming without the use of anything to extend the swimmer's depth or time limitations.

"Scuba" (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) diving, he explained, "is underwater swimming which utilizes a self-contained air unit to extend depth and time limitations."

Foiles listed the following "commandments" of skin diving:

1. Always dive with a buddy.
2. Be in good physical condition.
3. Be a better than average swimmer.
4. Always have a flotation device with or near you.
5. Know and respect your limitations.
6. Know and respect the conditions of the area in which you are diving.
7. Avoid the combination of surf and rocks.
8. Think—and don't take chances.

Corresponding rules for safe "scuba" diving are:

1. Always dive with a buddy.
2. Be a better than average swimmer.
3. Be in good physical and mental condition. Never dive with a cold or sinus condition.
4. Use good equipment in good condition. Examine it before every dive. Your life depends on it.
5. Always use good air and full tanks.
6. Ascend slowly. Continue to exhale while ascending.
7. Never cover weights. Use a quick release for weights.
8. Know and respect your limitations.
9. In an emergency, think and remain calm. Don't panic.
10. Don't take a novice into deep water.

Arnold Girbach Leaves for Portugal On Farm Youth Exchange Visit

Arnold Girbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Girbach, left the Michigan State University campus last week, June 10, to travel to Portugal as a "grass-roots ambassador."

He will sell America as a representative to the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

The International Farm Youth Exchange is a family-to-family exchange of sons and daughters between "neighbors of the world."

He will be abroad for approximately six months to live with farm families in Portugal.

A personal exchange such as this is designed to help young people understand and appreciate the problems of people in other countries of the world as they learn each other's culture and customs.

He will not only represent American youth, but also the American state, and nation. A big responsibility awaits the Washenaw county youth, as he will be the only American that many of the Portuguese people will have seen or will see.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Congressman George Meader

I cast one of the most important committee votes in my entire career in Congress this week. The House Judiciary Committee, by a close margin, voted out H. R. 3, a far-reaching bill in the field of federal-state relations. The bill should be of special interest because it involves the powers and authority of state and local governments.

The Constitution declares laws passed by the Congress to be supreme over state laws. From this provision the courts have developed a so-called "preemption doctrine" which holds that where Congress has taken action in a field of legislation, even though states may have authority to pass laws relating to the same subject matter, the federal law has "preempted" or "occupied" the entire field of legislation, and any state laws in that field are invalid.

H. R. 3 states simply that the courts shall not read the mind of the Congress; that unless Congress expressly says it intends to preempt an entire field, or unless there is a direct and positive conflict between the federal statute and the state law, the courts shall not declare state laws invalid.

Miller and Swanson declare "Specialization on the job has entered the home. Parents, as equal partners have been able to see that differences in talent, interest, and function, so long as they are complementary, do not threaten equality."

"One direction in which this trend toward specialization has led is that of the professionalization of the wife's functions. She can no longer learn them satisfactorily from her mother's tutelage and example. They must be institutionalized. Their intuitive processes must give way to formal rules and specialized knowledge."

"The women's service magazines provide a kind of in-service training, supplemented with the post-graduate work of mother's study clubs, the meetings with the specialists at the nursery school, the cooking classes, and the growing number of handbooks for preparing unfamiliar or exotic foods."

"We believe there has been a general strengthening of some of the traditional family patterns along revised lines. We should guess that the requirements for personal stability made by large, specialized organizations, together with the economic security they provide, will begin to slow and then lower the rate of divorce and separation in the population. The criteria of competence and the gifts of homemaking will rise again to renewed importance in the choice of a marriage partner."

MYSTERY FARM NO. 59—Since 1948 the farm shown in this photo, originally published for readers' identification in the June 11 issue of The Standard, has been the home of Roland Heim and his mother, Mrs. Louis Heim. He and his parents bought the farm after their former home in Sylvan township was purchased by the Chrysler Corp. as part of the present Proving Ground.

Roland Heim, His Mother Are Owners of Mystery Farm

Roland Heim and his mother, Mrs. Louis Heim, are the owners of the farm on North Lima Center road shown in a photo published in the June 11 issue of The Standard as Mystery Farm No. 59. It is the 59th in the series of farm photos currently appearing in this paper each week.

The Heims formerly lived on Heim road in what is now the south end of the Chrysler Proving Ground. That place had been the family home for many years. When it was sold to the Chrysler Corp. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heim and their son, Roland, bought the present farm, moving there in 1948. Louis Heim died in September, 1957.

When the Heims purchased the farm they remodeled and modernized the home and four years ago, after a roof fire, they remodeled the second floor, removing partitions to form four large rooms.

Roland Heim said that the farm was known for many years as the Westfall farm and a Westfall built the present home. Large beams used in the construction are nailed with old-style square nails, it was discovered when the upstairs remodeling was being done.

After the Westfalls, a Detroit family, named Hutchinson, owned the farm a year or two. The late John Kalmbach was the farm's owner for a long time after that and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Eschelbach lived there from 1928 until 1943. Just before the Heim family bought the place George Macomber and his family had lived there a short time.

In addition to the son, Roland, there is another son, Vincent. He lives at Coldwater where he is employed as superintendent of mills at the U. S. Post Office. He is married and has two children, Lynne and Craig.

Roland Heim specializes in dairy farming and keeps approximately 50 head of grade Holstein cows. He has modernized the barn and installed an automatic gutter cleaner. The addition for this installation is shown at the front of the large barn. Heim has also added a silo and tool shed since he has lived there. People who recognized the farm include Mrs. H. G. Gage, Mrs. Ella Gross, Mrs. William Quigley, Larry Quigley and Ron Carlson.

Seven Vice presidents have become Presidents by reason of presidential deaths. They are Tyler, Fillmore, Johnson, Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt, Coolidge and Truman.

The five brothers are Arthur Kuhl's father and four uncles and their sister is his aunt.

These of the brothers went west in 1909 and 1910 and the other two and their sister remained in this vicinity. The three brothers had returned for visits during the years but had never happened to be here at the same time until last Sunday.

The sister is Mrs. Alma Frey of Jackson, whose husband, Fred, is deceased.

The Clarence Kuhls and the Lawrence Kuhls visited here five years ago but the Walter Kuhls last visited here 23 years ago.

The six visitors spent as much time as possible together during their stay here, visiting at the home of Mrs. Frey and at the homes of the two Manchester area brothers. The party left Tuesday by train, traveling together as far as Chicago, Ill., where they separated for the remainder of the journey to their homes.

Among the 62 members of the family present for Sunday's reunion were all of the nieces and nephews who came from Milford, Jackson, and Chelsea and vicinity. The only niece who was absent was the Arthur Kuhl's daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hoopingarner and daughter, Lynn Marie, of Madison, Wis. They had visited here only three weeks ago while Mr. Hoopingarner was on a business trip and could not get away at this time.

Among the 48 states Michigan last year stood sixth in ice cream production with manufacture of about 32 million gallons. There is a reason. Michigan's strict dairy laws, particularly as they forbid actual fruit and nuts in cases where fruit or nut-ice creams are made, assure the ice cream consumer a superior product for his money.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

A garage need not be a cluttered, unattractive place filled with garden tools and sporting an oil stained floor. The garden tools can be stored in an orderly fashion in closets along the back side walls. It is usually the disorder with which we store our garden tools that takes up the room.

If you are building a new home, you should give thought and planning to your garage. Windows are well placed high, planned for light and ventilation. An attractive rack beside the house entrance from the garage can be designed to accommodate garden shoes and rain attire. Another important cabinet should be built to lock and can be used to store such items as lawnmower, equipment and sports equipment.

Plants can be used to create a garden atmosphere. Since true flower beds will usually be out of the question, the effect can be achieved through massing together plants and shrubs in assorted tubs and containers.

Some plants can be selected for color and some for size, and others for their shape and luxuriant growth.

The high cost of building has made people take advantage of every inch of house space and in many modern homes the garage doubles as a den. A built-in fireplace can be used for heating, but its main function is to provide a weather-proof cockpit. With fold-down furniture, that can be easily stored when not in use, in a matter of minutes an attractive garage can become a den.

Any family with children in their teens had better give the garage some thought. The garage is usually removed from the living quarters of a home and the noise of a teenage party will cause little concern.

The problem of oil drippings on the floor of a garage can be a major one. The garage is a place to solve this bugaboo. Perhaps the best and least expensive is to provide sand pans for the cars to drip in when they are in the garage. If your floor is already stained there are several products on the market designed to remove all stains from concrete floors.

A prime requisite of good living is good eating to most of us. A freezer will keep foods fresh for months and will enable you to eat better without the labor of preserving, canning and pickling. What is more, a freezer will save foods that can be preserved in no other way.

With a freezer you are able to buy a year's supply of fruits and vegetables when they are in season and at low prices. Buy frozen foods in case lots at a drive-in. Left-overs need not be thrown away. Simply wrap and store in the freezer.

When cooking, don't bake just one pie—bake four or five. Make double portions of rolls, cookies, casseroles, soups, etc. Buy frozen foods in case lots at a drive-in. Left-overs need not be thrown away. Simply wrap and store in the freezer.
