Bulldogs Win Homecoming Game 13-0

Travel to Ypsilanti Friday To Meet Roosevelt Roughriders

Last Friday night, before a huge homecoming crowd, the Chelsea High Bulldogs dedicated their new athletic field by defeating Manchester, 13-0. The victory left the Bulldogs perched atop the Washtenaw Conference standings with a 2-0 record. The Bulldogs' first score came early in the second period as the Chelsea line smothered a punt attempt by Manchester on their 25. The Bulldogs moved goalward via a pass from Q.B. George Wilson to end Alton Nixon, good for 10 yards. Then Dave McLaughlin, Dalice Ferris and Phil McDaniels alternated carrying the ball to the one-yard line where McDaniels went over for the T.D. Tackle Dan Mayer and Guard Chuck Koengert opened the hole. The extra point attempt failed as there was a fumble in the Bulldog backfield. Following the kick-off Manchester made their only scoring threat of the night as they moved the ball to the Bulldogs 25 with 32 seconds left in the half. Linebacker Jim Maynard intercepted a pass and lateraled off to Dalice Ferris who returned the ball to midfield as the half ended. In the second half Manchester couldn't move the ball against the tough Chelsea defense spearheaded by linebackers Roger Herman and Jerry Ringe and End Gary Dault. Chelsea took over on the Manchester punt and marched in for their 2nd T.D. The T.D. came on a well-executed play as Q.B. Wilson faked to Fullback Dave McLaughlin as he hit up the middle and then pitched out to Dalice Ferris who outran the Manchester secondary to score standing up from 20 yards out. McLaughlin added the extra point on a smash over blocks by Gary Dault and Co-Capt. David Rowe. A few minutes later Matt Murphy returned a Manchester punt 25 yards to the Manchester 20. Two plays later the Bulldogs scored again on a pass from McDaniels to Ferris, only to have it nullified by a holding penalty. In the fourth period Chelsea was inside the Manchester 30 three times but couldn't push over another T.D. Dalice Ferris was the leading ball carrier as he picked up 138 yards in 11 carries for the Bulldogs. Manchester had set their defenses to stop Dave McLaughlin and Phil McDaniels up the middle and this allowed Ferris to break away repeatedly for long gains. Another bright spot offensively for the Bulldogs was the improved (Continued on page eight)

Doe Killed, Auto Severely Damaged In Crash on US-12

A 150-pound doe was struck at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 30, by a car driven by E. Williamson of Lincoln Park. The mishap occurred at the corner of Notten road and US-12 near the Jackson county line. The deer was disposed of by the county. Damage to the car was estimated at approximately $150. Conservation Officer Donley Boyer said that since last October 71 deer have been killed by cars in the county. He urged extra caution when driving in wooded areas and where deer crossings are marked along the highway, not only for the protection of the deer but also for the driver's safety as well.

Fire Dept. Will Hold Open House

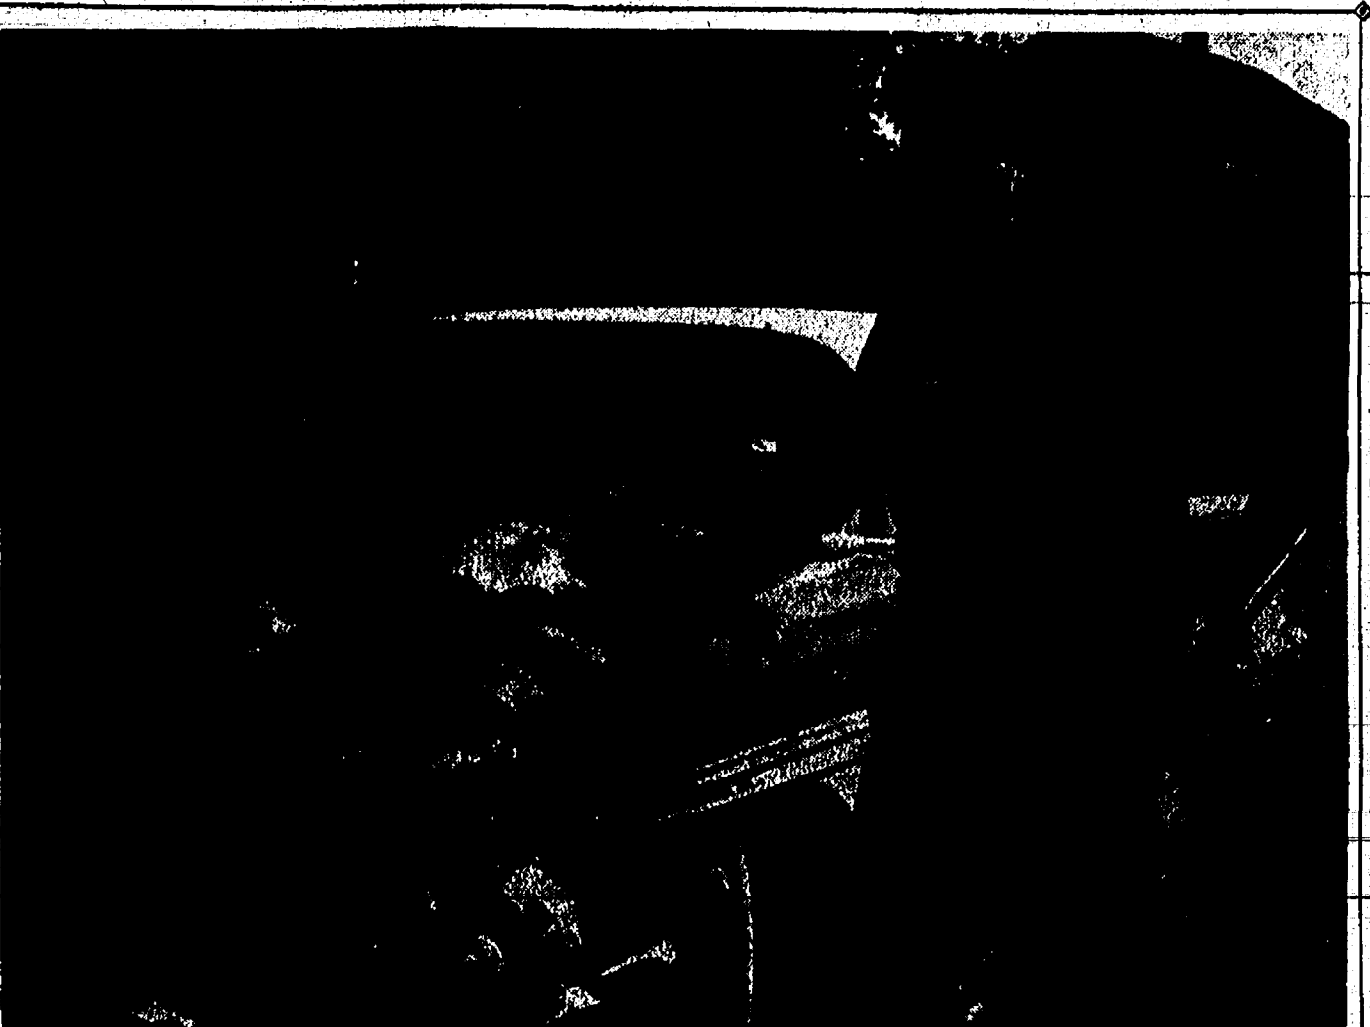

As a special observance of National Fire Prevention Week the Chelsea Fire Department will hold open house at the fire hall in the Municipal building from 8:30 until 9 o'clock tomorrow evening. Fire Prevention Week began Sunday, Oct. 4, and continues through Saturday. A feature of open house will be the Washtenaw County Civil Defense communications bus which will be parked in front of the building. Gerald Miller, Washtenaw County Civil Defense director, will be present to meet people of the community and demonstrate use of the communication system. Director Miller and Fire Chief Ted Balmer and his men will answer visitors' questions. Another highlight will be a display of drawings of the proposed new Chelsea fire station. Firemen extend a special invitation for parents to bring their children to the open house. Fire prevention pamphlets will be distributed. Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30, firemen and auxiliary firemen and their wives will hold a get-together on the third floor of the Municipal building. Principal entertainment will be the showing by Don Turner of color slide pictures taken during Chelsea's 125th anniversary celebration and parade. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darby spent Sunday at Van Wert, O., as guests of the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Darby. Mrs. Mary Clark is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor. She entered the hospital Tuesday.

JCC Chicken Barbecue Set Sunday

Next Sunday, Oct. 11, is the date for the Jaycees chicken barbecue at Pierce Park, which is held annually on the second Sunday of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored October color tour project. Gene Shoemaker is general chairman of the barbecue and "Hank" Ortring will be in charge of the barbecue pits. Assisting them will be members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, many of whom have become experienced helpers because of having worked at the barbecues held here the past several years. All Junior Chamber of Commerce members are selling tickets for the event. Robert Vanderkelen, Jaycees president, said the barbecue will be held "rain or shine," with serving to begin at noon. A total of 1,500 chicken halves have been ordered for the event. The Jaycees Auxiliary will again have a refreshment stand where coffee and other beverages, ice cream, etc., may be purchased. The barbecue is planned for the second Sunday of October each year because color tour travel is usually at its peak then and the many visitors can be accommodated easily. They may eat at the park or may take their meal out and eat at one of the many picnic sites along the color tour routes.

'Kick-Off' Luncheon Tuesday Will Open Campaign for Funds

St. Paul's Church Initiates Second Worship Service

Beginning next Sunday, Oct. 11, St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church will hold two morning worship services each Sunday. The plan will be on a trial basis for the remainder of the year, through Dec. 27. The early service will take place from 8:15 a.m. until 9:15 a.m.; Sunday school will begin at 9:30 a.m. and dismiss at 10:30; and the regular service will be held from 10:45 a.m. until 11:45 a.m. The Rev. Paul M. Schnake, pastor of the church, said that members of the church council are planning arrangements carefully in order that the new program will work smoothly and to the best advantage of everyone concerned. Cooperation of members and friends of the congregation will be the principal factor in determining whether the plan for two Sunday services will continue regularly following the three-month trial period.

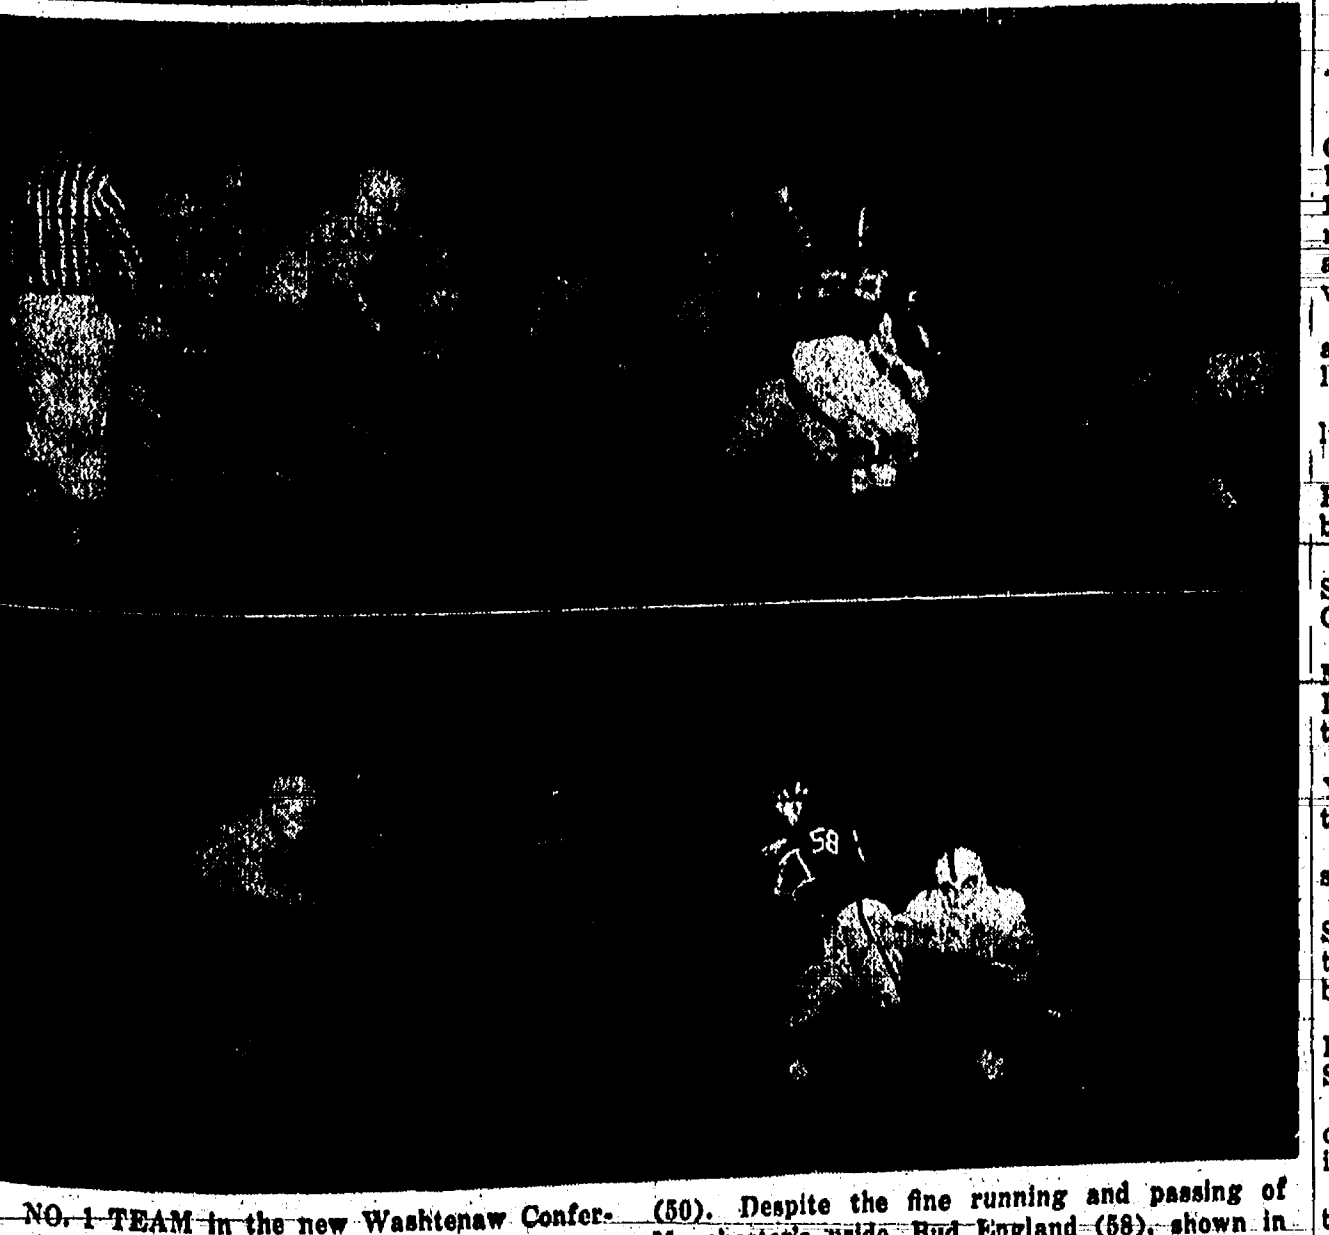

Red Feather Sign Will Report Daily Progress

The sixth annual Chelsea Community Chest fund-raising campaign, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Daniels, will get underway Tuesday, Oct. 13, immediately following a kick-off luncheon to be held at 12 noon at St. Paul's church. Miss Gertrude Young has stated that final luncheon arrangements are complete. All solicitors, campaign workers and Chest board members are reminded to be at the church by 11:45 a.m. Campaign materials and instructions will be issued following the luncheon. Chest officials report that campaign plans are nearly completed. This year's goal of $15,667 in support of some 41 local, state and national service and charitable agencies, is about 20 per cent higher than last year's figure. It is hoped that recent improvement in economic conditions will enable Chelsea to meet its full obligation through another successful Community Chest drive. Since its inception in 1954, the Chelsea Community Chest has served to bring together most of the funds-seeking agencies, which previously conducted separate campaigns in the area, into one united, once-a-year effort. It is felt that Chelsea citizens favor this plan and will continue their support of the Chelsea Community Chest "give once for all" spirit should again push the red feather thermometer over the top if each contributor will increase his pledge just 20c for each dollar donated last year.

Cassidy Lake Youths Escape, Wreck Stolen Car

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor of 17413 Roe road, were surprised at 5:30 a.m. Friday when State Police officers from the Brighton post came to their home to inform them their car had been stolen from their garage by two escapees from Cassidy Lake and that the vehicle had been severely damaged when it smashed into a tree in attempting to elude capture at a roadblock. The O'Connors would not have discovered the theft until an hour later when Mr. O'Connor was to leave for work. All police agencies had been notified when the two were discovered to be missing at 10 p.m. Thursday and they were apprehended by Brighton State Police officers at a roadblock on M-36 near Gregory at 8 a.m. Mrs. O'Connor was told. The two youths, both 17 years old, are Danny Hamrick of South Haven and Lloyd Higdon of Lansing. They waived examination Friday in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, on charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile and escaping from Cassidy Lake Training School. They are to appear for examination in Circuit Court tomorrow. The two ministers will use the same sermon topic, "Togetherness in Christ," and their text will be Acts II, verse 14. Identical hymns have also been chosen for the services at both churches. The hymns are "Jesus Shall Reign" and "At Length There Dawns the Glorious Day." Purpose of the exchange of pulpits, the pastors explained, is to foster a feeling of oneness between the two church bodies on an over-all basis by beginning at the local level.

Although the campaign is not officially open until next Tuesday, the Chest reports that the first contribution has already been received. The Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.-Employees United Giving Fund sent their 1960 contribution last week. The first funds are in. The Chest workers hope that this indicates everyone will make an early donation or pledge so the drive may be completed by Oct. 31. Each contributor is requested to sign a pledge card, even though he gives cash rather than a pledge at the time. According to Chest President Calvin C. Summers, every contribution must be accompanied by a corresponding pledge card so that an accurate accounting of all money received and disbursed may be made by the Board of Directors. NO. 1 TEAM in the new Washtenaw Conference is what the Chelsea High Bulldogs are as a result of Friday night's 13-0 victory over rival Manchester. Top photo shows a Chelsea ball carrier (or at least one of his legs) as a host of Manchester line-backers swarmed in to stop him three yards short of pay dirt in the closing minutes of the game. Players in the photo who can be identified are Co-Captain David Rowe (94), Manchester's Bud England (58), and Doug Hamilton (30). Despite the fine running and passing of Manchester's pride, Bud England (58), shown in the bottom photo on a sweep around his left end, the Dutchmen never quite managed the final push to tally a TD. The 18-0 win was a sweet victory for Coaches Al Conklin and Truman O'Doherty, as well as the team, as it left them alone at the top of the league and also was the game when the new athletic field was formally dedicated at halftime ceremonies.

Our Police Chief, Tiny Fields, started an "anti-jay-walking" drive for the kids on Monday. It ended the same day. Tiny's idea was basically good. He got a few dozen green lollipops and stood on the corner, across the street from the grade school. As the kids came out and crossed the street with the green light, he'd give each a green lollipop.

Trouble was, when the kids spotted the candy, they made a beeline for Tiny, ignoring the light... running helter-skelter across the street. Tiny quickly

'59 State Traffic Death Toll Ahead Of Last Year

The last two week-ends, with a combined death toll of 43, resulted in September becoming the fifth month this year with more traffic fatalities than in the corresponding month of 1958.

Although provisional figures compiled by the State Police show 132 killed in September, or one less than 133 fatalities in the same month a year ago, delayed deaths will raise the final total from eight to 10 more.

The September experience reversed the reduction in deaths established in August which had been preceded by four months of higher death tolls. Deaths also were sharply reduced the first quarter.

Now running 51 over the death toll of 1958 counted last year for the first nine months, the only way Michigan can end the year with a saving of lives will be with an all-out safety effort on the part of every driver and pedestrian, said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Final figures for August show 121 persons killed and 6,310 injured in 15,834 accidents. Compared with the same month last year, deaths decreased 13 or 10 per cent, but injuries and reported accidents were up nine and 16 per cent respectively, continuing an upward trend which has prevailed with one exception since last fall.

Final figures for the first eight months include 896 persons dead and 39,254 injured in 123,454 accidents, respective increases of five, 41 and 15 per cent.

Estimated travel for the first seven months, the latest information available, was 17.6 billion miles, up four per cent over the same period last year. The death rate of 4.3 per 100 million miles of vehicle travel was up five per cent.

MERKEL BROS.

THE FORD FALCON, first of America's new-size cars, represents a "breakthrough" in automotive design that may materially alter the future of the automobile industry. The Falcon Ford shown here is more than two feet shorter and three-quarters of a ton lighter than a standard 1959 Ford. Yet, the Falcon is a six-passenger car, with interior roominess approximating that of standard models.

Ford Dealers Introducing New Compact Falcon Today

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company has released official photographs of the Falcon and said it expects to build 100,000 of the new economy cars by the end of 1959.

James O. Wright, company vice-president and Ford Division general manager, said assembly of Falcons is under way at the division's Lorain, O., assembly plant, and at plants near Kansas City, Mo., and San Jose, Calif. Falcon engines are being produced at Lima, O.

Wright said the keynote of the Falcon will be economy of operation and maintenance.

"For example," he said, "the Falcon will have gasoline economy 50 per cent better than the largest of the so-called 'compact' cars of American manufacture, and 35 per cent better than the smallest domestic car made by the same producer. Compared with the latter, the Falcon has 35 per cent more luggage space, 70 per cent more windshield area, and a full foot more of rear-seat width."

Wright said that in the area of replacement parts a Falcon fender will cost 50 per cent less, a windshield 40 per cent less and a muffler 30 per cent less.

With regard to air-cooled versus water-cooled engines, Wright said the Falcon's water-cooled, front-mounted engine will require only $1.80 worth of anti-freeze in the winter—50 per cent less than a full-size car.

Wright said the Falcon will be introduced publicly Oct. 8 today. 7,000 Ford Division dealerships across the country.

"Based on the amount of public interest in the Falcon already being reported by our dealers," he said, "we are expecting our busiest introductory period in years."

Wright said the Falcon combines economy of operation and smaller exterior dimensions with ruggedness, "big-car" roadability and passenger space comparable to that of standard cars.

Its wheelbase is 24 1/2 inches shorter than a 1959 Ford Fairlane, yet it is a full six-passenger car with interior roominess approximating that of standard models," he said.

"For example, front leg-room in the Falcon is only one-tenth of an inch less than in a 1959 Ford and front head-room is actually seven-tenths of an inch greater. Rear-seat passenger space also compares favorably."

Wright emphasized that the Falcon is "all new from the ground up." None of its parts will be interchangeable with those of standard Ford models.

The Falcon, which features unitized construction to combine maximum strength and rigidity with minimum weight for this type of vehicle, will be offered in two-door and four-door models. Optional equipment will include automatic transmission, radio, heater, safety padding, seat belts, third glass and interior and exterior deluxe trim.

Falcon styling is simple and functional, with decorative trim and chrome at a minimum. An oval grille runs the full width of the car and contains the single headlights. Both hood and fenders slope downward to meet the grille, providing the driver with better visibility. The center of the hood features a Thunderbird-type air scoop.

Running the full length of the car is a sculptured panel which adds to the car's beauty and at the same time provides greater strength for doors and side panels.

The "dogleg" entrance to the front passenger compartment has been eliminated, greatly improving ease of exit and entrance. The luggage compartment has 24 1/2 cubic feet of space—nearly twice the space of the two top imported cars combined.

The new overhead-valve, water-cooled Falcon engine has a piston displacement of 144 cubic inches and a 3 1/4-inch bore with 2 1/4-inch stroke—giving it a bore-stroke ratio greater than that of any other engine now being produced. The block is made of cast iron for durability and reliability. Aluminum is used in the flywheel housing, transmission extension and other parts where it cuts weight without sacrificing strength.

Other Falcon features include a redesigned front suspension for improved ride and handling; a new type of brake system which features nine-inch brakes—largest in the industry for this size of car—and reduced pedal effort to compare with that of power brakes; 13-inch wheels; a 12-volt electrical system, and large, parallel-operating windshield wipers.

Winner of 4-H Award Trip Describes New York Sights

This story was written by Mary Lou Payeur of Ann Arbor who was one of five Washtenaw county demonstration winners at State 4-H Show, East Lansing. This 4-H Club award trip was from Sept. 13-18. Mary Lou is a member of the Busy Belles 4-H club led by Mrs. Webb Harwood of Ann Arbor. My pleasure at being chosen to participate in a State 4-H Award Trip to New York cannot be expressed emphatically enough; however, I will attempt to convey to you what my trip meant to me.

The first impressive sight to meet my eyes was the colonial styled architecture of Philadelphia's old Independence Hall, which houses the Liberty Bell. Looking at the bell that pealed for liberty, seeing the very room where the Declaration of Independence was signed and walking on the very boards where our country's forefathers trod, made me feel proud to be a part of our great America.

Winding through the Pennsylvania hills on the great highways in our chartered bus, I was surprised to see horses and buggies on muddy roads being driven by Amish farmers. It seemed to me that here was a comparison between past and present before my very eyes.

The United Nations buildings with their modernistic design and the hustle and bustle of delegates from 82 nations going about the world's business, helped me to understand a little more about the UN organization. Our group was fortunate to be slipped into the General Assembly as it was convening.

A visit to the symbol of freedom, the Statue of Liberty, was also impressive since Miss Liberty

Home Canned Foods Can Be Dangerous

Lansing—Don't try to can non-acid fruits or vegetables at home unless you have adequate pressure canning equipment and adequate instructions, the Michigan Department of Health told housewives today.

If you can improperly, you may get a serious type of food poisoning called botulism, the department explained.

"For home canning you should use a pressure canner," said Mrs. Alice Smith, chief of the department's Section of Nutrition. "The canner should have a gauge, and the gauge should be checked each canning season to make sure it's working properly."

Instructions on which temperatures, pressure and cooking times to use are available at county agricultural extension offices.

"The germ that causes botulism," Mrs. Smith continued, "is all around us—in soil and in animals. And it is one of those germs that thrives in an absence of air."

"So inside a can of green beans or corn, the botulism germs multiply rapidly and produce a poison that makes people ill."

"Boiling will destroy the botulism poison. But it takes a pressure canner to get the temperature up to boiling all the way through a can of food, particularly if the food is packed tightly. And the temperature has to remain above boiling for a certain length of time, depending on the food."

Beans, carrots, corn and peas are the most common carriers of botulism, although any non-acid food, including meats, also can spread the disease. The botulism organism is unable to survive in tomatoes and fruit.

It is impossible to detect botulism poison by tasting or smelling foods. Just a taste is enough to cause illness.

Persons who eat food containing botulism poison usually become ill within 18 hours. Symptoms include headache, general weakness, constipation and paralysis of eye muscles. Two-thirds of the patients die in three to seven days of heart or lung paralysis.

The danger of getting botulism can be lessened by boiling home canned foods thoroughly before serving. Persons who eat food suspected of containing botulism poison can be given antitoxin to reduce the severity of the disease.

Note Changes Made in Duck Kill Quotas

Lansing—In view of this year's noticeable drop in duck numbers, hunters should make an added effort to recover all cripples.

Records from past years reveal that one out of every four ducks shot in Michigan is never recovered. Since hunters annually kill about 500,000 ducks in the state, this means that 125,000 crippled or dead ducks are wasted each year. These lost birds would provide a full day's limit for more than 31,000 hunters.

This loss which cuts drastically into the bird's breeding stock and, consequently, the hunter's harvestable crop could be even more binding this year. Drought conditions in the three major duck producing provinces of Canada have also made an estimated 15-25 per cent dent in bird populations.

The primary responsibility for reducing the staggering waste figure rests with hunters. Trigger-happy shooting, failure to use receivers, inability to judge distances and poor marksmanship rank as the major causes of these losses.

Hunters are also reminded there are noted changes in kill quotas of species during the Oct. 7-Nov. 15 season although bag limits will remain unchanged for ducks in general at four per day and eight in possession.

During the drought-abbreviated season of 40 days, hunters may have only one canvasback, one redhead, or one ruddy duck in the bag or in possession. One wood duck and one hooded merganser are included in this year's limits.

In addition to the regular duck bag-of-four-and-eight-bag limits on American and red-breasted mergansers will again be five per day and 10 in possession, singly or combined.

Goose hunters will again have a 70-day season—Oct. 7-Dec. 15—with last year's bag-and-possession limit of five. This may include not more than two Canada geese, or two white-fronted geese or one of each.

All seasons on migratory game birds, aside from those on woodcock, opened at noon, Oct. 7. After opening day, shooting hours will run from sunrise to sunset, except in Wildlife and Sebawaing bays where shooting will close at 4 p.m.

Men who don't pay as they go have a hard time coming back.

Hardware Association Members Meet

Legislative activity and political responsibilities was the theme of the program when the Michigan Retail Hardware Association area member merchants, guests and friends met in Ypsilanti, Monday, Oct. 5.

According to John W. Merkel, of Merkel Brothers, Inc., chairman of the activities, the purpose of the gathering was to outline the individual's responsibilities as a citizen and to encourage more participation in political activity.

Guests at the meeting were the legislators representing this district in Lansing. Those attending were given the opportunity of meeting the lawmakers whose activities in Lansing during the past year have attracted unprecedented interest.

Also participating on the program was Arthur A. Merchant, of E. W. Merchant's Sons, Union

City, and Charles F. Goddeyne, Lansing; president and legislative agent respectively, of the association.

In addition to John Merkel, those who represented Merkel Brothers at the meeting are F. W. Norbert and Patrick Merkel.

The Ypsilanti meeting was one in a series of 22 fall district meetings of the Michigan Retail Hardware Association which began Sept. 8 and will be concluded Oct. 22, according to Harold W. Schumacher, Association Manager-Treasurer. The Ypsilanti meeting was held at 7 p.m. at the Huron hotel.

Slightly more than half the delegates awarded by the University of Michigan were masters, doctors, or graduate, professional degrees.

Deductions for this promotion program have been made each year since the wool incentive program began in 1955. Deductions amount to 1 cent per pound for shorn wool and 5 cents per hundredweight for unshorn lambs and may be no higher than that if the agreement is extended.

Extension of the agreement requires a favorable vote by growers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum. That figure was not reached in Washtenaw county.

National results of the referendum are not yet available at the County ASC office.

Max Kalmbach Elected To Head ASC Committee

The Washtenaw county convention held in the County Building Sept. 30 for the purpose of electing a U. S. Agricultural Department Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation County Committee resulted in naming the following:

Max M. Kalmbach, chairman; Earl Doletsky, vice-chairman; Donald Baidus, member; and Rudolph Gross and James C. Bradbury, first and second alternates.

Results of the Washtenaw county balloting in the wool-and-lamb market development referendum which was voted on by wool producers during the month of September were announced by the ASC committee as follows:

Number of producers favoring the agreement, including those for whom a co-operative association has voted, 152; number of sheep represented by producers included in this group, 18,764.

Number of producers not in favor of the agreement, including those for whom a co-operative association voted, 123; number of sheep represented by producers included among those not in favor of the agreement, 16,197.

Including one ineligible ballot the total number of voters who cast ballots in the referendum is 276, with total number of sheep represented by eligible voters being 34,951.

In the referendum, farmers who produce wool had the opportunity to vote "yes" or "no" on approval of a new agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council for the advertising and sales promotion of lamb and wool.

Approval of the agreement, nationally, would mean that deductions will be made from government wool and lamb payments for the 1959, 1960 and 1961 marketing years to finance the Council's activities.

Deductions for this promotion program have been made each year since the wool incentive program began in 1955. Deductions amount to 1 cent per pound for shorn wool and 5 cents per hundredweight for unshorn lambs and may be no higher than that if the agreement is extended.

Extension of the agreement requires a favorable vote by growers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum. That figure was not reached in Washtenaw county.

National results of the referendum are not yet available at the County ASC office.

Blueberry Is New To State's Varied Agricultural Crops

Like blueberries? You're lucky to be living in Michigan today. For it wasn't many years ago when Michigan didn't have a blueberry industry. The few berries that were around were tiny and it took nearly a day of scratching through swampy brush to find enough of them for a pie or topping for ice cream.

It's a different story today, though. Michigan's 600 blueberry growers marketed some 17,000,000 pints from 6,000 acres of cultivated plantations last year. They received $4.5 million for the berries.

Most of the credit for the development of the industry goes to new varieties and growing practices worked out by scientists at the South Haven Experiment Station. The station is a unit of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station specializing in fruit and berry production problems.

Since 1923, South Haven plant scientist Stanley Johnston has been selecting parent stock and breeding new blueberry plants that produce more and better berries. Growers have taken the new blueberry bushes and planted them on land that was once practically worthless.

Michigan's blueberry belt stretches from the northwestern corner of the state northward to Muskegon. Work is underway to develop new varieties of blueberries especially suited to the climate and soil of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

U-M Surgeons Correct Many Birth Defects

Ann Arbor—Surgeons at the University of Michigan Medical Center have successfully carried out more than 200 operations in a procedure which corrects one of nature's major mistakes.

Known as "congenital esophageal atresia," the disorder involves the abnormal formation of the esophagus (food channel) and the windpipe. It is discovered at birth and will prove fatal unless corrected by surgery.

The earliest known report of esophageal atresia was made by a physician named William Durston 300 years ago. However, the first successful operation which completely corrected the condition and saved a child was done at the U-M Medical Center.

There are several varieties of the abnormality. Most commonly, the upper portion of the esophagus ends in a blind sack, and the lower portion (leading to the stomach) grows out of the windpipe.

Since food cannot reach the stomach, the infant will die of starvation if the disorder goes uncorrected. A more immediate threat is that feedings will get into the lungs. If the baby survives strangulation, he then faces complications from pneumonia and exhaustion.

Correction of the disorder requires a three-hour operation by a team of six, including doctors, nurses and anesthetists.

If there is too great a gap in the natural esophagus to permit joining its ends together, the surgeon must form the connection by transplanting a portion of the patient's own intestine. This requires a second operation when the child is two or three years old.

Intensive nursing care of the infant is needed following the esophageal operation. He is placed in an oxygen tent and treated with antibiotics for five or six days. About a week after the operation, the infant can begin normal feeding.

Today, scores of U-M-trained surgeons have gained first hand experience with the intricate procedure, and have carried their knowledge to communities scattered throughout the state and nation.

Legion Auxiliary To Hold Coffee Hours At VA Hospital

The regular meeting of Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, American Legion Auxiliary, was held Oct. 6 at the Legion Home.

It was voted that again this year the Auxiliary will sponsor coffee hours the second Saturday of each month, starting in November and continuing through May at the VA hospital in Ann Arbor. The Unit will also have a party at the "Spokane" State hospital in April. These are two of the rehabilitation projects carried on by the Auxiliary each year.

Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., gave a report on the activities of the Junior Auxiliary members. On Sept. 17 the juniors held a meeting for the election of officers, followed by a picnic at Veterans Park. Officers for the year are Linda Blass, president; Jean Parker, vice-president; Deborah Gorton, secretary; and Sally Strieter, treasurer.

The Auxiliary voted to sponsor a Brownie Troop in Chelsea. It was announced that there will be a 2nd District meeting in Ann Arbor on Sunday, Oct. 25.

The next regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held Nov. 9 in the meeting room at the McKune Memorial Library.

The Chelsea band will leave here at 7 a.m. Saturday and members are scheduled to be assembled for rehearsal at 8:15 a.m. in the parking lot next to the stadium.

At 11:30 a.m. the march into the stadium begins. It takes approximately two hours for the 13,500 young people to take their places inside the stadium.

Other area high school bands included in the mammoth Band Day program are Dexter, directed by Hubert Bearse; Gray Lake, with Ann Gary as director; Stockbridge, Keith Saxton, director; Saline, Arthur Katterjohn, director; and Manchester, Robert Suter, director.

downfield blocking and Tack Danny Mayers' blocking on Manchester's 246-yb. tackle.

However, the most impressive part of the game was the fine defensive job turned in by the Bulldogs. The tackling was sharp as the defensive unit of line-men, Gary Dault, Dave Rowe, Chuck Loegeer, Danny Ellsworth, Homer Hapton, Jerry Ringe and Co-captain Roger Herman, plus backs, Jim Maynard, Matt Murphy, De Laughlin and Dulica Parry turned in a fine performance.

Additionally, the pass defense picked off three Manchester passes. Jim Maynard's interception killed a Manchester drive in the first half as did Chuck Koengeter's and Ed Lauhon's in the second half.

Coaches Al Conklin and Truman O'Doherty were also able to substitute freely in the fourth quarter and the reserves turned in a fine job.

Linemen Dick Irwin, Charles Waller, Mike Marsh, Rich Wood, Charles Cameron and backs Ed Louhon and Al Schauer all showed plenty of promise.

This week the Bulldogs travel to Ypsilanti to meet Roosevelt in a Washtenaw Conference game at Briggs Field. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Oct. 8-9—Chelsea schools are closed to allow teachers to attend meeting at Ann Arbor.

Oct. 9—Football game at Roosevelt.

Oct. 18—Football here: Pinckney.

The Student Council ordered several assemblies for the 1960-61 school year. They feature ping-pong, glass making, an artists' group of acrobats. The Council presented its first assembly last Tuesday. Ruth Prentiss distributed tickets to each Student Council member for sale to the student body.

Individual pictures were taken Monday, under direction of the Student Council. Richard Halst reported that he and Polly Willis have cleaned the popcorn machine for future use. Dave Rowe, Roger Herman, Tom Dunlap reported on the Student Council conference.

which they attended Sept. 28 at Ann Arbor.

Today Paul Frisinger, Polly Willis, Paula Romine, and Patty Postor are attending another Student Council conference at Roosevelt High school at Ypsilanti.

The Latin club's Wednesday, Sept. 22 meeting under the leadership of Mr. Alfred Smith discussed the purchase and sale of taffy. Club members voted to sell water taffy. The club also discussed having a slave sale, in which the services of the members of the Latin club would be auctioned. The students of CHS could bid, and the highest bidder would get a "slave" for the week. No decision on this crucial action was taken.

The manual arts shop has this summer acquired five deisel motors from government surplus. Mr. Jack Musser says they are intended for use by the power shop boys, who will dismantle, reassemble, and study them to learn about structure and operation.

The French club, with Miss Riedel presiding, has been playing French "bingo" or "Allex" on. They are planning evening meetings, but have not completed the plans.

Chelsea High School Bulldog Marching Band is readying for another season of marching by diligent daily practice. They presented a half-time show full of tricky maneuvers and clever ideas at the Homecoming Manchester game, will go to Dexter next week, and will present what is planned as the top show of the season at the Pinckney game, Oct. 16. They will also participate in the annual University of Michigan Band Day (along with 190 other high schools) on Oct. 10.

This is a heavy schedule for such a small band, but each member pledges to do his best. Each member of each section is trying for first chair in that section. The band includes 11 freshmen, 9 sophomores, 8 juniors and 6 seniors, making a total of 34 members.

Officers are president, Edward Lauhan; vice-president, John Harris; secretary, Carol Dancer; treasurer, Judy Woolley; drum major, John Harris; drum majorette, Lynn Slusser; Mr. Gayle Grove, director. Ed Lauhan has formed a pep band, which plans to play at assemblies, perhaps at other away games, and wherever they may be helpful or needed.

Athletic Board members voted to increase the price of adult tickets for football games from the previous 75c to $1.00 to cover the costs at the new field. Student tickets remain at the former 50c. Carol Cameron and Marketa Young were appointed to re-mark all prices on the old tickets. Ed Lauhan was appointed to contact the local police and fire departments about rendering their services for parking cars and patrolling the fences.

Hi-Y president Roger Herman appointed Jack Patrick, Dalice Ferris, Matt Murphy, and Dick Irwin to get the food for the football players after the homecoming game.

Plans for a swimming trip were discussed, and Roger Herman was appointed to find an available date.

Junior High girls work in the office one period a day, answering telephone and taking messages, running errands, preparing announcements, collecting and recording attendance slips, and being generally helpful. They are in the order of the hour of their service, Judy Wright, Alice Riemenschneider, Carol Mayer, Madeline Fletcher, Beverly Arnett, Carolyn Smith, and Penny Boyer.

Junior High Band has been practicing Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays to prepare for the Oct. 16 game. They played "Chelsea High" and "Military Escort." The new majorettes are Linda Blass, Lynda Schiller, and Marilyn Wenk.

Fifty Junior High boys signed for football, enough to form three teams with plenty of reserves. Unfortunately, uniforms could be issued only to the first and second teams, with a few for the third team, but most of the third team will remain unequipped.

Coach John McGill told the boys some games with Saline and Jackson would be scheduled for the near future.

Seventh grade has been having fun with homework, activities, and school rules, as well as the noon dances (at which boys seem somewhat scarce, it seems). They find the review of grade arithmetic rather simple, though the tests over it are less so. Map work and study techniques take up their time in history. Science seems to emphasize tests, reviews, and more tests, though the youngsters claim science is highly interesting. English is devoted to grammar and sentence structure at present.

A SCHOOL FULL
Lewiston, Maine—There's a Dulac for every grade at Holy Family Parochial School.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Dulac, Jr., hold the distinction of having one child in each of the school's eight grades.
And there are three more to come. One of them was born only eight months ago. Two other Dulac children have graduated from high school.

The Way the Ball Bounces

With Tom Johnston

Bulldogs Rate No. 1 Spot . . .

The number one team! That's what the Bulldogs are after last week's league victory over Manchester. Chelsea, with two wins, is in first place in the Washtenaw Conference, while Saline with only one league win to its credit is in second place. A rugged Manchester defense which held most of the evening, finally gave way as Phil McDaniels went one yard for the Bulldogs' first score, and Dallas Ferris romped 34 for the other. Manchester coach Bill Baker commented to me Friday night, "boy, they're tough, they've got a good line, and some really tough backs."

It appears that Saline will be the biggest threat to a league title for Al Conklin's crew. The Hornets have been improving each week, and don't let the fact that they were walloped by class-B South Lyon make you laugh them off. They can play ball when necessary. Dexter has been a big disappointment to both its coach and its followers, and the Dreadnaughts will have plenty of work to do if they expect to salvage any of the season.

Pinckney won its first game of the year over Ypsilanti Roosevelt on Friday night. It was that tough Pirate defense which came through for them. Roosevelt appears to be having the same type of problems that its senior institution Eastern Michigan University is having when it comes to sports.

Eastern has what they choose to call a "simon pure attitude," which all but accuses any boys who are athletes of being hired bodies to perform in exhibition each weekend before the students interested in sports. I thought that the article which appeared in the Free Press last week about EMU failed to make or give any logical point concerning the reasons for the school's attitude. The only individual who had anything to say was a vice-president. There was no comment from the president, from the athletic director, from the football coach, or even the water boy. Eastern is a campus at which you will find little or no school spirit for the activities.

to at least show some spirit.

Back on the high school front, Ann Arbor is back near the top of the state high school football circles. Jay Stielstra who was the head coach at University High the past few years has been doing a great job. Ann Arbor is now rated second. Too bad the Bulldogs lost to Milan, they might well have been up in the state ratings. Area coaches generally feel that Chelsea has a real winner this year. Of course if they claim the league football crown, they'll be the first champions of the new Washtenaw Conference. The Bulldogs will have very little trouble at Ypsilanti Roosevelt this Friday night. Chelsea by 15 points over Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

Ike grinned.

NEWS & HOLLYWOOD

Carol Lynley and Harold Mirisch's son, Bobby, have discovered each other, and it's a daily meeting.

Martha Raye lost her policeman husband to one of the chorus girls while touring in "Bells Are Ringing." She paid his wife $20,000 to marry him.

Aldo Ray is going to London to play in a picture titled "The Day the Bank of England Was Robbed."

They're rushing the finish of "The Fugitive Kind," with Anna Magnani, Joanne Woodward and Marlon Brando, for an early December release. No release date has been set, though, for the Western done by Brando.

Today's picture review:

IT STARTED WITH A KISS
The heroine of this film is a calculating little gold digger who finds herself married one day to an Air Force sergeant instead of a millionaire, as a result of the former's prowess in the art of seduction.

Thereafter, somewhat regretting her impulsive action, she decides that physical attraction is not the best basis on which to build a happy marriage, and insists that they put their marriage to the test by living together for a month in strictly platonic fashion.

Transferred to Spain shortly after plunging into matrimony, the sergeant also finds complications in his life because of a fabulously

Minier Blasts Inadequate Financing for County Roads

County Road Commission Yards Open Friday for Public Inspection

Michigan Highway Week is intended to give our people a better knowledge of the program for which their taxes are paying and better understanding of the role good highways play in their lives. As part of Michigan Highway Week the Washtenaw County Road Commission yard at 415 West Washington street, Ann Arbor, will be open to the public for inspection between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 9.

"On this, the 50th anniversary of the enactment of the county road law, Michigan's county road system has virtually become an orphan in the roaring campaign for expressways and slick superhighways," Howard G. Minier, county highway superintendent declared today. "Year by year, the backbone of our transportation system is falling farther behind because of inadequate funds," he said. "There are funds available for a minimum construction program on the primary system, but scarcely enough for maintenance on the local roads. New construction, badly needed replacement of old roads and bridges are only distant hopes instead of realities."

Within the bounds of the 83 counties, there is a system of 86,000 miles of roads and 6,200 bridges. Approximately 50,000 miles of roads and 3,200 bridges are inadequate for present traffic conditions and demands. Under present financing the total program within the county road system will require at least 30 years to place the system in an adequate condition to meet present and future traffic demands. The time necessary to produce an adequate system will increase if labor, materials and equipment costs continue to rise and county road revenues are not increased.

In Washtenaw county there is a need to replace 34 bridges and to build 460 miles of road. The 1960-1961 program provides for the strengthening of two bridges and construction of 18 miles of road. To produce an efficient system in 20 years requires a program of construction of two bridges and 28 miles of road each year. "It isn't necessary for taxpayers to be mathematical experts to see where we are going," Minier said. "Highways of Michigan have been inadequately financed since their inception and this has been particularly true of the county road system."

"A hodge podge annual method of financing, until 1951, eliminated the possibility of long range planning and programming," he said. The Michigan Good Roads Federation study and subsequent legislative changes in the gasoline and weight tax increases and distribution formula improved the county system. But the revised formula and the revenue increases didn't cover the needs as established by the Good Roads Federation study. The revenue increases in 1955 were earmarked for construction purposes. This was of much assistance to the county in establishing long range planning and programming on the primary system. However, no provisions were made available for local road and subdivision street construction. Even with provisions for improving the primary system, the counties were so far behind in previous construction that it wasn't possible to catch up with the back-log of unimproved roads and bridges. In the meantime, costs of servicing and maintaining old roads increased to such an extent that construction lagged. "The fact is that without special assessments, township millage and township surplus funds there would have been no local road construction during the past eight years. Obviously with the volunteer type of financing for local roads long range planning and programming is not feasible," said Minier.

"Under the present highway revenues, we have reached the maximum in highway construction at the county level. "Under the legislative direction, highway needs are again being analyzed," Minier said. The study will be completed by Jan. 1, 1960, but it is expected that the gap between needs and revenues will be greater than that shown by the Good Road Federation Study more than 10 years ago.

"At that time the study indicated the need for $125,000,000 to produce an adequate county road system in 20 years. Under the 1951 and 1955 highway acts there was produced about 55 per cent of the revenues necessary to meet the indicated needs. Federal aid funds and volunteer contributions increased this percentage somewhat. However, such amounts are neither of a permanent nature or are they mandatory. So there is little dependability of such financing for long-range planning and programming at the local road level.

"With present available funds, the counties in 1959 built some 2,700 miles of roads and 60 bridges. The average construction program since 1951 has been considerably less. Even if we are able to maintain this program, it represents an improvement factor of but 8 1/2 per cent of our total system.

"Under the jurisdiction of the county road commissions are approximately 80 per cent of all the highways in Michigan. If the challenges of the future are to be met, there is need for a 'stepped up' construction program at the county level. This can be accomplished only through a 'stepped up' financing program," Minier concluded.

State Police Show New Mobile Safety Exhibit Bus

The Michigan State Police Safetyliner, a mobile exhibit bus, provided by contributors as a public service, was introduced for public viewing.

The bus, presented to the department by General Motors Corp., is 33 feet in length and with both side panels open and guide ropes in place has a width of 19 feet. Overhead lights extend upward to a height of 18 feet.

The exhibit equipment has been provided by the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents and Road Aid, Inc. One side of the display demonstrates traffic safety, with accompanying narrations, and includes a continuous moving picture projector, an illuminated series of still pictures and the mounted battered remains of an automobile in which six persons died.

The other side, also with public speaker narrations, has a series of slides and colored photographs of other activities of the State Police in the general field of police protection, criminal investigation, mercy missions and rescue, and additional services. A large map with lights shows the location of State Police posts.

Schedulings of the Safetyliner are made through State Police posts, the public information office at headquarters in East Lansing.

PRESENTING FOR 1960... BUICK'S ALL-TIME BEST

THE TURBINE DRIVE BUICK '60

A car with major advances in transmission, suspension, brakes, and engines which are Buick's alone today
 A solid, substantial car • A car of superb comfort, quiet, reliability • A car you should drive soon

New comfort, quietness, and quality
 Doors that open wider—easier to get in and out. Family-size interior. Seats that are higher, more deeply cushioned, and repositioned to provide more room for feet and legs. Perhaps the quietest running car in America due to Buick's high use of insulation and torque-tube drive. Buick's quality control program comes to a peak in the Turbine Drive Buick '60.

New interior decor and convenience
 An entirely new "Mirromagic" instrument panel. It lets the driver see speed, gas gauge, and other necessary readings at a glance in a mirror he tilts to suit his own eye level. And a new exclusive safety option—the Twilight Sentinel®—that turns headlights on automatically at sunset... off automatically at sunrise. All-new colors and fabrics. Richer appointments. *At slight extra cost.

Outstanding performance with economy
 1. Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive Transmission is jet-smooth, responds faster, more economically than ever. No gears ever shift while the car is in motion.
 2. Buick's Exclusive Air-Flow Aluminum Drum Brakes—found on no other American car. Fin-cooled drums front and rear for faster cooling. Fast-cooling means safer stopping, longer brake life.

Slotted wheels pass a current of air from under the car constantly over the brakes for added cooling efficiency. (Wheels are 15" size which gives you up to 1/3 more tire life.)
 3. Buick's exclusive Wildcat Engines give high efficiency with high economy. (An optional new LeSabre Engine is designed to give Buick performance on regular grade fuel.)
 *Optional at extra cost on LeSabre, standard on Invicta and Electra.

Michigan Shrine Features World's Largest Crucifix

A simple, yet awe-inspiring shrine in the woods at Indian River is one of the leading points of interest for travelers of all faiths in Michigan.

Dominating the shrine is a massive bronze figure of Christ, nailed to a wooden cross that towers 77 feet above ground level near Burt Lake in Cheboygan county, 25 miles south of the Mackinac Bridge.

The crucifix, largest in the world, was completed recently when the four-ton Corpus was hoisted into position on the mammoth redwood cross. The cross itself was erected in 1954 and has been visited by some 30,000 travelers each year since.

The 31-foot figure of Christ is the work of sculptor Marshall Fredericks of Royal Oak. It was cast in Normay and shipped to Michigan this summer.

Fredericks has called the bronze figure his "greatest challenge" and said religious art critics may consider the Corpus controversial. It has neither the customary crown of thorns nor the spear wound in Christ's side. Fredericks said commissions were intended "to eliminate the suffering and agony for the observer, and give the face an expression of great peace and strength."

The hollow-cast Corpus was raised onto the 55-foot cross July 31 and dedication ceremonies took place Aug. 16. The cross stands on a 22-foot bluff—representing Calvary Hill—overlooking the waters of Burt Lake.

The cross was donated by an Indianapolis businessman as a memorial to his deceased wife, and thousands of visitors have contributed toward expansion of the shrine during recent years.

Home parish for 150 Catholics, the church in the woods is the site of four masses to accommodate the 1,200-1,500 Sunday visitors to the shrine during the summer.

The huge crucifix is part of what is now known simply as "The Catholic Shrine." However, the shrine eventually may be dedicated to an Indian girl, Kateri Tekakwitha, who died almost 300 years ago and likely will become the first North American to reach Catholic sainthood.

DEFINITELY UNSPORTING.

Talladega, Ala.—Town officials plan to put more glass and better lighting in phone booths—to reduce necking.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

★ Who Won the "Budget Battle?"

Who won the battle of the budget? In Washington there still is extensive and, frequently, heated discussion as to whether President Eisenhower won his battle to balance the budget. It would appear that this should be an easy question to answer, but it is not.

The controversy started last January when the new Congress convened. An extraordinarily large proportion of the members had been elected with the aid of labor union support. It was their clear intention to enact large spending bills as an aid to recovery—and an almost endless list of increased welfare proposals.

The President immediately made it clear that he was not going to travel down that path—that to the best of his ability he was going to hold appropriations down to the point where spending would be below receipts taken in by the Treasury.

The fireworks, of course, were not slow in starting and they continued until the Congress adjourned.

To carry out his determination the President vetoed one spending bill after another. In some instances the veto was based upon the amount being larger than the President thought necessary. In other instances it was because the bill provided for a type of spending which was believed unwise. Perhaps the most surprising veto was that of the public works bill. This is known as "pork-barrel" legislation and, according to reports, no president since Cleveland has had the courage to veto it. The first veto of this measure was sustained, but Congress quickly passed another bill providing for all the same projects, but at an aggregate cost of 2 1/2 per cent less. The President also vetoed this, but in this instance the President was over-riden, for the first time since he took office.

Why, then, should there continue to be a controversy over whether the President won his battle? There are two principal reasons. First, the Democratic leaders insist that they held appropriations about $1.5 billion below the President's budget requests, and especially that is correct. The reply of the Administration and its spokesmen is that this does not take into account programs being started which will cost much more in future years.

Second, the total of appropriations does not determine or control the actual volume of spending. This is because of unspent balances from previous appropriations. Even if one grants the Democratic leadership claim of holding down appropriations, it does not follow that the budget will be balanced. That will depend upon how much the Administration is willing to release for actual spending. The Administration's mid-year budget review, released a few days ago, forecast a surplus of $95 million.

It is my personal opinion that for the fiscal year ending next June 30 we shall have not more than a billion dollar surplus, or more than a billion dollar deficit. Many careful students are of the opinion that the deficit will be two or three times this large, and it still is too early to attempt to prove that they are wrong. We may be sure, however, that if President Eisenhower had not entered this battle, we would be anticipating really significant deficits.

A SLOW BURN?

State's Forty Crops Fill Food Baskets

The next time you walk into the super market and start to fill your shopping cart, chances are there are few food products you'll buy that aren't produced somewhere in Michigan.

The particular package or brand you pick up may not contain Michigan-produced products. But nearly anything you might want in the way of food is produced in some quantity in the state.

Actually more than 40 different crops are grown in Michigan. They range all the way from corn and wheat to asparagus, beans, lettuce and sparsmint.

In addition to crops, there are beef cattle for steaks, hogs for hams and bacon, poultry for eggs and fryers and dairy cattle for milk and butter and cheese.

Total up the farm value of these products and you wind up with a figure topping $700,000,000 a year. The retail value of Michigan's farm products exceeds $1,600,000,000.

A special report points out that few states produce the wide variety of products that Michigan does. Michigan is blessed with many types of soil and climatic conditions making the production of the different crops possible.

DIGESTING THE NEWS?

Fukukos, Japan—For Yoshihiko Hayashi, a pound of paper a day keeps the doctor away. Hayashi, a 68-year-old ragpicker, has been eating paper since he was a boy. "I need about a pound a day to satisfy my appetite," he said. "But I never eat on the job. If I do, I get a terrible stomach ache."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I come by Clem Webster's house this morning and he was setting out in the front yard counting the shingles on the roof, said he was trying to get his nerves settled after reading the papers.

I give him all the encouragement I could, Mister Editor. I told him I've saw this country go from hitching posts to parking meters, can recollect way back when a feller didn't need a lawyer unless he was in jail and Jimmy Hoffa didn't have a union to his name and I still got faith in America, God bless her! I told Clem we got the only country on earth where a rich man's got his Cadillac and a poor man's got his catalogue, where a couple can give on their unemployment pay and hold the marriage together with a cook book and a can opener, where the air is still free—if you don't try to condition it—and where a feller running after a woman can have a head-on collision if he ain't careful. I think I left Clem feeling a heap better.

We do a heap of complaining, Mister Editor, but actually I think the world is getting a little better all the time. For instance, we used to depend on fire and the wheel for existence and now we got pills and the soil bank. And my old lady used to stand and talk on that wall telephone till her legs give out and now she can set down and talk all day. And it was only last week when I saw that wimmen was taking up one-third less space since the discovery of elastic.

Now if they would just imagine they was squeezing into a girle when they was parking the car, we'd have the national parking problem solved. I tried to point out all these things to Clem.

Well, I see by the papers where the 1960 model cars is beginning to come out. Some of them I reckon will have only two gear fly. And they say they'll be smaller and have louder horns. That makes sense. Smaller cars and now that half the country is suffering from chronic ear ache, and year from fright.

I reckon they got the idea from hearing a jackass bray. Well, for some time now the car manufacturers and the jackass has been acting alike. I don't see why some company don't come out with a model called the "Jackass Super Eight." It'd sell.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew
