COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

Bulldogs Trample Ypsi Roosevelt, 58-0 With Potent Attack

Will Entertain Pinckney Pirates Friday Evening

Last Friday night Chelsea High gridgers crushed Ypsi. Roosevelt, 58-0, in a game played in Ypsilanti. The victory firmly entrenched the Bulldogs in first place in Washtenaw Conference standings. All other conference teams have lost at least one conference game as a result of last Friday's action.

The lopsided game with Roosevelt took shape early as the Bulldogs struck suddenly and before the first quarter was over the score was 26-0 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Chelsea kicked off to Roosevelt and forced them to punt. On the second play Q.B. George Wilson faked back and hit R.H. Dalice Ferris who took the pass without breaking stride and went all the way to score. The play covered 50 yards. Dave McLaughlin cracked over on a dive play for the extra point.

After the kick-off Chelsea again stopped Roosevelt cold and the Bulldogs took over on Roosevelt's 42. Big hard-driving Dave McLaughlin carried four times for runs of 6, 10, 9 and 7 yards behind blocks by Center Roger Herman and Guards Chuck Koenigster and Gary Dault to place the ball on the 12. Al Schauer added five more and then Ferris swung wide to his left to score. Al Schauer punched over the extra point.

The next time the Bulldogs obtained possession they scored in three plays. On third and 14, following one of the numerous penalties they received, Dave McLaughlin took a pitch-out and behind almost perfect protection fired a 30-yard pass to Dalice Ferris who gathered the ball in and rambled all the way for a T.D. The extra point attempt was not good.

With the second team now in action, the Bulldogs added another T.D. as Q.B. Ed Lauhon scored from 16 yards out on a quarterback block play behind good blocking by Charles Walker, Charles Cameron and Jim Maynard. The extra point attempt was not good.

In the second quarter, with the second team still in action, the Bulldogs picked up six more points as Matt Murphy scored from 20 yards out on a reverse behind Dick Irwin and Richie Wood's blocking. The extra point attempt was not good and the score at half time was 32-0.

In the third quarter the regulars returned to action, took the second half kick-off and scored

Investigate Water Supply Fluoridation

At the next regular Village Council meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 20, Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw county health director, will be present to answer any questions interested citizens of the community may have regarding the proposed addition of fluorine to Chelsea's water supply.

Discussion at the meeting that evening will center on the possible addition of fluoridation equipment during the current water expansion program.

Fluoridation of water is described as a means of tooth decay prevention.

In addition to Dr. Engelke those expected to be present at the meeting include representatives of the Health Department and the Washtenaw County Dental Society.

BARBECUE EXPERTS AT WORK

Jaycees Elton Guenther and Cecil Cobb, at left, Calvin Summers, at rear, and Ron Eder and Duane Layher, at right, carefully tending the chicken halves as they were broiled over the coals in the barbecue pits set up at Pierce Park Sunday for the annual barbecue event held in connection with the Chamber of Commerce October color tour program. Henry Ortring, chairman in charge of the barbecue pits, was commended for seeing that all of the chickens were done to a turn. Jaycees President Robert Vanderkelen said the Jaycees were complimented on the tastiness of the chicken. The 1,500 chicken halves were all sold before 5 p.m. Serving began at noon.

Annual Two-Week Drive Seeks Funds To Aid 41 Charities

Eager Hunters Jump the Gun, Hauled into Court

Mrs. Robert Daniels, chairman of the 1959 Chelsea Community Chest campaign, addressed a group of 72 campaign workers and solicitors during Tuesday's kick-off luncheon, to signal the start of the two-week affair. The luncheon was held in the dining room of St. Paul's church hall.

After issuing campaign instructions and materials, Mrs. Daniels expressed the thanks of all Chelsea-area citizens to the group for their interest and generous contribution of time and effort toward the promotion of the success of this important community project.

Harold Jones, co-chairman of the Chelsea Blood Bank, spoke concerning the value of Red Cross service to Chelsea. He said that last year 120 pints of blood were dispensed in this area and that the cost of collecting, processing and storing this blood had been borne solely by the Red Cross. This expense plus the cost of the blood on the open market well exceeds the Chest's allocation to the Red Cross.

Calvin Summers, president of the Community Chest, served as chairman during the luncheon. He told the assembled workers the facts behind the increased budget and why he felt that Chelsea would support the $15,667 goal.

The Rev. Paul Schnake of St. Paul's church gave an invocation to open the meeting.

The campaign will run through Oct. 31. The $15,667.00 budget is required to provide the help requested of Chelsea by 41 separate service, health and welfare agencies. The give-once-for-all drive will eliminate a great many individual campaigns. Chest officials hope that each person will consider the vast number of agencies and people the Chest is asked to assist when deciding upon the amount of his pledge.

It has been pointed out that some communities feel one day's wages is a good guide. If each Chelsea contributor would give accordingly, the drive would go over the top—Chelsea would once again do its full, fair share.

Beardless B. of B. Band To Entertain Friday at Milan

Beardless Brothers of the Brush Band, a group that proved exceptionally popular during Chelsea's 125th Anniversary celebration as the bearded Brothers of the Brush Band, has been invited to participate in entertainment at a bargain days event in Milan tomorrow evening. Director of the band is William Blaess.

Tomorrow's appearance of the band at Milan is in the nature of a delayed anniversary engagement since a planned appearance at that community during last summer's anniversary celebration was cancelled because of conflicting dates.

The Chelsea group is expected to begin its performance at Milan at 7:15 or 7:30 p.m.

Salt Mining Described at Kiwanis Club

Methods utilized in salt mining in the Detroit area was explained in an interesting and informative talk presented at Monday's Kiwanis club meeting by Donald Ehle, a representative of International Salt Mining Co., Inc.

Ehle stated that geologists have explained that rock salt deposits in the Detroit area are found in the Salina formation of the Upper Silurian age or system, located at a depth of more than 1,100 feet below the surface. The Detroit salt mines of which Ehle was speaking include an area of about 300 acres in the southwestern part of the city of Detroit.

He said various theories have been advanced as to the origin of the salt deposits, one being that millions of years ago the major portion of the lower peninsula was a deep arid basin which was filled intermittently by inflows of water from the ocean. Alternate inflow and evaporation of the water with the consequent deposit of salt, continued over the years and resulted in the huge layer from which salt has been mined at the present location of the company since the first shaft was sunk in 1906. At that time the location was known as the village of Oakwood, now a part of the city of Detroit.

The property was taken over by the International Salt Co. of Scranton, Pa., in 1913.

Ehle showed slide pictures of scenes at the mine including the two vertical shafts—one circular reinforced concrete and brick lined, 16 feet in diameter, used for hoisting mined rock salt to the surface and the other consisting of twin tubes 42 inches in diameter which, by means of double deck skips or elevator cars, are used

The Senior Band will present an entrance involving some intricate footwork, a HI formation for Pinckney fans, a precision drill routine entitled "Over the Waves" and a GHS formation made with the combined bands. ### Solicitors Begin Calls To Fill $15,667 Quota

Finkbeiner Lumber Co. Broken Into

Finkbeiner Lumber Co. was broken into late Saturday or early Sunday and valuable papers taken from the office safe.

The break-in was discovered at 7:30 a.m. Sunday by the owner, Martin Steinbach and his son, Raymond.

Chelsea police and the Sheriff's department were notified and investigated.

Steinbach listed the theft of titles to a 1957 car; a 1955-model truck; insurance papers for the truck and for the firm's furniture and all company vehicles; a house mortgage; and a number of pens and pencils from an unlocked safe in the firm's office.

Also taken were a valuable slide rule, half a roll of postage stamps and a small amount of change.

Thieves gained entry to the lumber company's office by breaking the glass in the main front door of the building.

New Cure Found For Common Cold Go to Bed!

Lansing—Bed rest is still the best treatment for a cold, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Going to bed actually has two advantages, said Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control for the department.

"One is that it speeds the victim's recovery," he explained. "The other is that it reduces the spread of cold viruses to other people."

He said the so-called common cold is believed to be caused by about 30 viruses, some of which work alone and some in groups. Field tests are now being conducted with a vaccine that contains three of these viruses, but doctors still don't know which of the viruses must be present for the vaccine to be effective.

"For the present, it looks like we'll have to continue struggling along with a certain amount of sniffles and sneezes," Dr. Leeder said. "But we can cut down on the severity and length of colds by going to bed promptly and staying there until the cold has subsided."

"And we also can avoid many colds," Dr. Leeder continued, "by eating the proper foods, dressing warmly, getting sufficient sleep and avoiding persons with colds."

He said the common cold probably causes more lost work and school time than any other illness.

The average person has two or three colds a year, Dr. Leeder estimated. The number declines as the individual becomes older.

Churches Observe Laymen's Sunday

Laymen's Sunday will be observed at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church next Sunday, Oct. 18, with men of the church conducting both the 8:15 a.m. and the 10:45 a.m. services.

George Knickerbocker, president of the Church Council, and Lawrence Dieble will serve as liturgists and Alfred Mayer, a member of the Church Council, will present the message.

All men of the church have received special invitations to be present for the service.

While Laymen's Sunday is promoted in the Evangelical and Reformed church by the national office of the Churchmen's Brotherhood as a service "by men, for men," all members of the church are expected to attend services as usual.

Men of the church have been invited to participate in a special project on this particular Sunday as they and their families attend worship services. Because of the urgent need for a building to house orphaned girls in the city of Bethlehem of Judea, men of the Evangelical and Reformed Church are being asked to support the cost of constructing such a building. In the 1,000 churches operating in the program, it is hoped that $30,000 will be raised.

Attend E & R Church Regional Conference

The Rev. Paul Schnake, the Rev. P. H. Grabowski and the Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Menzel were in Albion Monday to attend a meeting of the Ann Arbor Regional Evangelical and Reformed Ministers' Circle. Host pastor was the Rev. Paul Gerhardt.

CHS Students Qualify for College-Level Study Course

Initiated by the Washtenaw County Secondary School Superintendents, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Secondary School Principals, and endorsed by the various Washtenaw county Boards of Education, in co-operation with the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University, two college, freshman level courses began last Saturday, Oct. 3.

Charles S. Cameron, superintendent, and Charles Lane, principal of Chelsea High school, took active parts during the past school year in planning for this program.

At the present time courses in European history (U of M) and chemistry (EMU) are offered. Six students from CHS took screening tests (Differential Aptitude Tests). All were accepted. They are Barry Fisher, Linda Fisher, Diane Gary, Jane McLaughlin, Sharon Smyser, and Susan Steger. Their academic record, personality, industry, motivation, teachers' and the principal's recommendations were taken into consideration.

Diane Gary and Susan Steger are presently enrolled in the chemistry course which is held on Saturday afternoon and Wednesday nights. Other students were primarily interested in taking an English course, which is not offered this year.

Rod & Gun Club Told Pheasant Population Equals Last Year's

A regular Chelsea Rod and Gun club meeting was held Tuesday evening at the American Legion Home, Cavanaugh Lake, with 48 members present.

The lease committee reported that all lands, leased for hunting, had been posted. The building committee, investigating possibilities of a club house at Chelsea, reported that they had visited several neighboring Rod and Gun clubs that own their own club houses.

Conservation Officer Don Boyer stated that the pheasant population appeared to be about equal to last year. He also gave an interesting account of the wild dog hunt in Sharon township about a week ago in which some of the Rod and Gun club members participated.

Claude Isham, organist will play several organ selections prior to 10 o'clock as a prelude to worship.

Calvin Summers Sr., will open the service with a call to worship and will announce the hymn "This Is My Father's World" and lead in the Creed.

A prayer period will be directed by James Daniels who will also lead in the Lord's Prayer.

The Senior choir, directed by Gayle Grove, is to sing the anthem. Alan Conklin has chosen the reading, "The Path of Wisdom" to be read responsively by all and followed by his reading of the Scriptures.

"An Interpretation of Laymen's Sunday" is a thought to be shared by William Storey who will also offer the prayer of dedication of tithes and offerings.

Arthur Schmutz will bring the Laymen's Day message on the topic, "You Have Been Called." Donley Boyer, who is lay leader, will close the service with the benediction.

Mrs. F. Howlett Addresses CHS Future Teachers Club

Students sat quietly in the study hall; those at tables near the ball looked with mixed expressions of curiosity and amazement at the small women in dark clothes making her way slowly through the corridor.

Outside the afternoon autumn sun was trying to break courageously through the dark rain clouds as a 32-year-old blind retired school teacher carefully measured her steps to reach the student lounge in time to catch the sounds of school as the students went to their sixth-hour classes.

Mrs. Florence Bachman Howlett was in Chelsea high school to talk to the members of the Future Teacher's Club on Wednesday, Oct. 7.

David Sanborn, faculty adviser of the Future Teachers Club and president of the Chelsea Teachers Club, graciously announced Mrs. Howlett by informing the group that she had just recently been made an honorary member of the Chelsea Teachers Club at a joint meeting of elementary, junior high, and senior high school teachers.

Mrs. Howlett, introduced by Miss Joan Wiese, school librarian, as "our beloved teacher, graduate of the class of 1885," rose to acknowledge the warm greeting of the members and said, "It is much more important to put something into the lives of children and young people than to work on a machine. Machine-fashions products wear out; the work of education goes on endlessly. In teaching we multiply ourselves. What we do goes on and on; we do not know its limits."

"This summer during the 125th Anniversary Celebration I met many of my former students who are now in many professions and occupations: banking, law, office work, teaching, homemaking, and so on, Mrs. Howlett continued. "I saw a little of my work if only a speck, which went into the lives of boys and girls in the classroom."

"I was very pleased to meet former pupils who have gone into teaching. One woman who was a student of mine over 50 years ago is now teaching in the public schools of southern California. Mr. George Prinzing, who was in my 6th grade, is one of your teachers now."

Mrs. Howlett, as is her custom quoted these lines from a poem by Alfred Lord Tennyson.

"There is a destiny which makes us brothers None goes his way alone All that we put into the lives of others Comes back into our own."

Ruth Prentice, newly-elected president of the club, thanked Mrs. Howlett for her inspiring talk. As Mrs. Howlett was leaving the Music room, the applause mounted as the students expressed their expression for a contact with

He later married Esther Tews who survives.

In the early 1900's he was an agent for the old D.U.R. interurban railway system, and later became paymaster for the Washtenaw Light and Power Co., which was purchased by Detroit Edison.

Col. Foster served in the U. S. Navy from 1900 to 1904 and later as an officer in the Michigan National Guard he was called into Army service and served overseas in World War I.

Survivors, in addition to his wife, include three daughters, Maryon Foster of Toledo, O., Mrs. James (Alice) McNett of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Jay (Elizabeth) Dill of Ontario, N. Y.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 70, originally published without identification in the Oct. 8th issue of The Standard, proved to be the Ernest Wenk farm on Fletcher road. A number who called to identify it said the swimming pool in the foreground was the chief identifying feature of the place.

Ernest Wenk Fletcher Road Farm Is First to Feature Swimming Pool

Mystery Farm No. 70, identified after its publication last week as the Ernest Wenk farm at 2833 Fletcher road, is the only one of the current series of photos that has shown a swimming pool as one of its features. The Wenks built the pool themselves.

When they looked up the abstract this week, the Wenks realized that the farm is entitled to "centennial farm" designation since it has been in the Wenk family since the present owner's grandfather, Ignatz Wenk and his wife, Anna Maria, purchased it Dec. 9, 1857.

One of their sons, Martin, purchased it from his parents' estate in 1924 and Martin's son, Ernest, (the present owner) acquired it in 1942.

Members of the Ignatz Wenk family, in addition to Martin Wenk, included Mrs. Otto Goetz, who now lives northeast of Chelsea, and the late John and Joseph Wenk and Mrs. Katherine Lucht.

The Ernest Wenk family includes his wife, the former Edna Horning, and two sons and a daughter, Kenneth, a sophomore at Chelsea High school, Billy, who is in the seventh grade at Junior High school, and Carolyn, who is in the fourth grade at North Elementary school.

Most of the buildings on the farm are those constructed following the devastating cyclone in June 1917, which destroyed all of the original buildings.

Since then an addition has been made to the large barn and the barn was modernized to accommodate 20 cows.

Other additions are a milkhouse and silo and a 30' x 50' barn moved to the present location early last spring from the Norman Wenk farm nearby.

The farm includes a total of 130 acres, of which 50 are located west of Rogers Corners.

Wenk engages in general farming and raises hogs, sheep and chickens. At present Wenk milks 20 cows.

The land was originally deeded by the United States to John M. Dickinson but no date was included. Portions of the land were once owned by Rueben Wellman, Jr., George Wacker, Samuel S. Peckens, Otis Clark, Cyrene Rhodes and Ebenezer Boyden who sold it to Ignatz Wenk.

Volunteers Needed To Act as Hospital 'Grey Ladies'

Mrs. Leigh Palmer, Chelsea chairman for the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this week that volunteers are being invited to act as "grey ladies" in the various hospitals of the county.

Anyone interested is asked to call Mrs. A. E. White, 2110 Dorset road, Ann Arbor, the new Red Cross grey lady chairman for the county.

Mrs. White is planning a tea at her home on Oct. 28, at which time prospective volunteers may become familiar with the work done by the "grey ladies."

At present, Mrs. Loring Bates is the only Chelsea woman serving as a volunteer in the grey lady program. Her assignment is at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

She said her work includes writing letters for patients unable to do so themselves; taking patients for walks; doing errands for patients and playing games with them. She said she takes with her odds and ends of jewelry contributed by friends and neighbors—the patients love to receive these as prizes in the games.

Mrs. Bates explained that many kinds of worthwhile volunteer hospital work are included in the grey ladies program. She said some do clerical work while others work with the children in hospital schools or serve in other ways.

Volunteers may state their choice of the hospital to which they would prefer to be assigned and whenever possible, their preference is considered when assignments are made.

COME FOR THE QUIETEST RIDE YOU'VE EVER TRIED . . . A Quadri-Balanced Ride in a '60 Rocket!

What is Quadri-Balanced Ride? It's the smoothest, steadiest and quietest ride in Oldsmobile history . . . and you owe it to yourself to try it out on the road! This dramatic advance is the result of new "iso-engineering" introduced on the '60 Olds. Vibra-Tuned body mountings of live-action rubber that are up to 50% thicker have been electronically located at the points of least vibration on Oldsmobile's Guard-Beam Frame to insulate the body from road noise and harshness. Try a '60 Rocket on the road today!

MERCURY FOR 1960 is both distinctive and functionally clean in design. The car's soft smooth ride is the result of the blending of body, frame, suspension, engine and transmission into a completely road-tuned car. Two-barrel carburetors increase economy of the low-friction V-8 engine. Two of the engines offer added economy by using regular gasoline. Mercury's spacious interiors with lowered transmission and driveshaft tunnel afford comfort for six passengers. Thirteen models in four series, all on 126-inch wheelbase, are available. Pictured is the Montclair four-door (hardtop).

CARELESS HUNTING SPELLS CALAMITY—There is no substitute for hunting safety. This statement may sound trite but statistics speak well in its behalf. Twenty-three persons were killed and 246 wounded during Michigan's deer and small game seasons last year. In 15 of the 23 fatalities, the victim was within 10 yards of the fired weapon. Careless gun handling claimed 11 lives and wounded 79. Stray bullets and hunter firing errors killed three and injured 97. Hunting is not a guessing game—be sure before you shoot!

Parents Should Tell Children Reason for Going to School

Ann Arbor—Parents often fail to give their children any understanding of the real reasons for going to school, Mrs. Billie Davis, teacher and writer who won national prominence for her article "Was a Hobo Kid" in the Saturday Evening Post, said at the University of Michigan Thursday, Oct. 8.

She was featured speaker at the opening general session of the Michigan Educational Association (MEA) Region III meeting. Region III consists of Monroe, Leelanau, Jackson and Washtenaw counties.

She stressed that children going off to school for the first time are given absolutely no reason at all for the great change in their lives.

"Mother says to her child, 'That's the schoolhouse over there. That's where you go when you are six.' Comes a day when she says, 'This is the first day of school.' Taking him by the hand, she embarrasses him by giving the teacher to understand that this is one of the most intelligent kids she is likely to have this year.

"For the child her only instructions are, 'Don't throw paper wads; don't chew gum; listen to the teacher; get good grades so mama and daddy will be proud of you.'

How can you explain educational objectives to children? Said

Caution Can Reduce State's Toll of 23 Hunters Killed

Lansing—Approximately 20 hunters who go afield this fall will not be around to enjoy Michigan's 1960 seasons. Another 200 or more hunters will be wounded by firearms.

These figures are estimates based on past hunting accident records. They need not and should not hold true. Not if hunters will take as much interest in hunter safety as they do hunter success. Even better, they should take more interest in safety.

Last year, 23 persons were killed and 246 wounded by firearm during Michigan's deer and small game seasons. Unfortunately, this appalling toll was about average.

Conservation Department officials stress that the greatest menace to hunter life and limb is the victim's own gun or that of a hunting companion. More correctly, it isn't the caliber of the weapon, the type of bullet used or the game target hunted that poses the major threat, it's the guy behind the gun.

In 15 of last year's 23 fatalities, the victim was within 10 yards of the fired weapon.

A closer look at last year's casualties reveals that poor judgment and carelessness again caused the majority of accidents.

Careless gun handling claimed 11 lives and wounded 79. Stray bullets and hunter firing errors killed three and injured 97.

Other accidents were caused by careless fence or log crossing, careless loading and unloading, tripping and falling, defective weapons and loaded weapons in cars, boats and tractors.

In an effort to avoid the pitfalls which have marred hunting in previous years, hunters should heed these rules of safety: (1) treat every gun with respect due a loaded gun; (2) be sure your barrel and action are clear of obstructions; (3) carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle if you should stumble; (4) be sure of your target before you squeeze the trigger; (5) know what is beyond your target; (6) know where your companions are located; (7) never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; (8) don't use your gun to club game; (9) point your gun toward the ground but away from your feet when loading and unloading; (10) know and respect Michigan's game laws.

Remember, there may be no next season if you are careless this year.

Insulation of Bee Hive Pays Off Says MSU Expert

The old notion that bees hibernate in winter isn't true, according to E. C. Martin, bee expert at Michigan State University.

Actually, bees cluster together on honeycombs during cold days. They are cold-blooded, but their bodies give off enough heat to bring the temperature near 90 degrees in the center of the cluster.

Honeybees, like humans, build up their winter food supply during the summer. A colony of 30 to 40 thousand bees needs 60 pounds of honey to survive the winter and start a spring brood.

"Michigan's 7,500 beekeepers raise 8- to 10-million pounds of honey each year—enough to fill a freight train two miles long," says Martin. "Most of these men keep bees as a sideline."

The expert says agriculture depends on the 3,000 species of bees. These creatures transfer pollen from the male flower to the female flower on thousands of plants. Legume hays and fruits are prime examples.

"Bees suffered last winter," Martin explains. "Ice coated around hive entrances, cutting off ventilation. Long cold spells forced many bees to go outside in zero weather."

Entrances near the top of the hive usually stay open through the hardest winters. A hole three-fourths of an inch in diameter does the trick.

Martin gives several winter tips for beekeepers:

"Feed a concentrated sugar syrup to colonies that don't have enough honey. Feed soon so bees can store the syrup in their hives before clustering time. And check the feed supply next March."

"Insulate the hive with a layer of tar paper. Many keepers have stopped insulating in recent years. But Michigan State University records show this practice can save enough bees to pay off in severe winters."

"Put colonies on the south side of a woodlot. Then north winds won't reach them with full force and they'll get some sun."

"Kill poor colonies this fall. Honey from these hives can go to better colonies next spring."

Real Fishermen Find Fall Offers Many Attractions

Lansing—Fishermen, don't spare that rod! Not unless you've had your fill of fishing thrills for 1959.

Those who stash away their tackle and gear for another season are passing up Michigan's finest fishing season. Cooler and more comfortable temperatures have arrived and pesky mosquitoes and black flies have departed to sharpen the appetites of fish.

As an added attraction autumn leaves are lending a multi-colored backdrop of splendor to the sport. Blended among the perennial green tones of pine and spruce are the red and yellow hues of hardwoods left by fall frosts.

While some fishing seasons have closed, many opportunities still await anglers during this outdoor colorama.

Rainbow trout remain fair catch through Nov. 30 in a score of lakes and streams designated by the Conservation Department. Rainbows migrate upstream at this time of year and are in peak condition after feeding in the Great Lakes for many months.

Lake trout may be taken throughout the fall in non-trout inland lakes. These large, gray fish migrate into shallow water each fall to lay their eggs and before spawning they may spend several weeks cruising about in shoal areas. Lake trout are more readily available to fishermen during this spawning period than in the summer when they dwell in deep waters.

Many fishermen consider lake trout trolling on inland lakes in October as an outstanding pastime.

Others find that warm water fishing on inland non-trout waters is often better in the fall than at any other time. Largemouth bass and northern pike strike quite readily and are good scrappers during the fall months.

Some of the most rewarding perch fishing is available along the shores of the Great Lakes during the fall perch run.

Fall fishing provides sporting variety for those on hunting trips. Since the fall season for spearing whitefish and ciscoes is open on a number of designated lakes during small game and deer seasons in northern Michigan, sportsmen may stalk game in the day and spear these fish at night.

We will always cherish you in our hearts.

Beside your grave we often stand
And try in vain to understand
You didn't have a chance to bid anyone a last farewell
Or even have a chance to say goodbye.

As we sadly swoop and gather them all,
Thou absent you are very near.
We are praying we will be with you again someday.

Teachers Hear Inspiring Address at MEA Meeting

Following are excerpts from a talk by John H. Starie, Field Representative, National Education Association, Washington, D. C., who spoke on the topic of "Quality Teaching—Quality Service" at a Michigan Education Association meeting on Thursday, Oct. 8, in the auditorium of the Ann Arbor High school.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire, Starie has his master's degree from Columbia University and has been active in professional educational work for a number of years.

"Quality Teaching—Quality Service" Service is an old-fashioned word with many definitions. To some it means a form of penance, to others the servile relation of master and man. In American business it is a producer of profit, and in some social organizations it represents a way of developing community relationships that lead to profit.

As a positive force, more concerned with the abilities of man than with his failure, more with the glory of man than with his shame, the service of a teacher touches the divine.

Quality teaching rests upon the positive assurance that man can be educated. To this concept a teacher devotes his life and energies, building a spiritual relationship between himself and his pupils in which the latter may be nurtured to their full flowering as men.

Quality service springs not alone from the teacher but is jointly created by administration, school committees, and community ideals. Teachers can provide no better service than a community is willing to support.

The first object of quality service is the development of every child to his potential of ability and understanding.

Historically the teacher has unified the diversity of Americans. He has blended elements of cultures into what Schleieringer calls "that new man, the American."

In the opening of the space age, teachers will recognize new forces enlarging this traditional task.

We live in an era of expanding knowledge, in an era of spiraling techniques, in an era of exploding population; in an era when white men no longer rule the world; in a world divided by two ideas: the Hebrew-Christian concept of man, the son of God, and the Soviet concept of man the servant of the state; and in an age whose forces stimulate children beyond our control, where the ethics of society come to them from the juke box, the disc jockey, the television show, or the magazine rack at the corner drug store. Children need schools where they see these conflicts in perspective. Finally, we live on the edge of an era which is "out of this world." Earthbound, we teach the spacemen of tomorrow.

A teacher may feel that there is little he can do about these cosmic issues. Yet they have tremendous implications for quality teachers. The moral conviction of a nation cannot run clear if the streams of education are polluted or dry. Man appears in a new space and new garb, but seed-time and harvest remain and so must the values of the human spirit.

Quality service means teaching and administration framed in boldness, vision, and creative imagination to bring a child into harmony with the strength of the past, the challenge of the present, and the glory of the future. The community is the second major object of quality service.

In the next decade so great will be pupil enrollment, so great will be the demands upon the schools, that just to maintain our present level of education will call for doubling expenditures from approximately $12 billion a year to approximately $24 billion. 1,800,000 teachers share common problems, hopes, anxieties, and aspirations. Each teacher stands between thousands of teachers who went before him and thousands who will follow him.

Goals toward which our profession agrees to work:

1. We want for every child in America an opportunity to be educated to the extent of his ability.

2. We want education to be well financed.

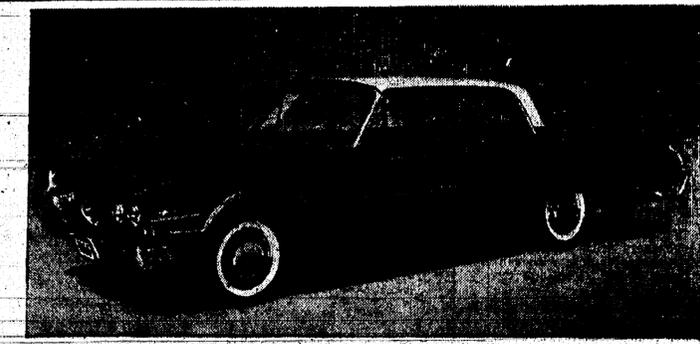

3. We want teachers professionally prepared, active and rewarded.

4. We want education adequate for all the demands of the present and the future.

5. We want teaching lifted up to the highest level of professional ethics.

The only possible machinery to achieve such goals exists within our professional associations.

To give quality service to pupils means hours of study and preparation for the teacher; to give it to his community means years of activity; to give it to his profession means the devotion of a lifetime. But at some time in the life of a quality teacher will come a vital moment. He will see a gleam of understanding in the eyes of a child. He will see a young teacher following in his footsteps yet opening new vistas. He will see a new school created; a good law pass a legislature. In some meeting like this he will feel the hands of all other teachers reaching out to touch his and sense the current of life that flows through them.

NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By RALPH ROBEY

The Problem of Foreign Competition

More and more American businesses are being hurt, many of them seriously, by foreign competition. It is not only individual firms that are feeling the pressure, but industries as a whole. And all of this adds to the broader and growing problem of our unfavorable balance of international payments.

Wage Differential Nothing New

The most commonly offered explanation of this mounting competition is that foreign wages are lower than American wages. The basic shortcoming of this explanation is that foreign wages always have been below those paid in this nation. In the past we offset lower foreign wages by better machines and more output per man-hour.

The reason it is not possible to do over the past several years we have been determined to help in the reconstruction of the economic systems of foreign nations. In carrying out this objective we have provided our competitors, either directly or indirectly, machines of the most modern type and have helped train foreign workers and management to operate these machines.

In some instances, too, we have compounded the difficulty of our own producers by selling the raw material at bargain prices. Cotton is a perfect example. As part of our farm surplus disposal program we have been selling cotton to foreign nations at appreciably below the domestic price.

Our textile mills, therefore, find themselves faced with the output of foreign producers who not only pay much lower wages, and have just as modern machinery, but get their raw material at well below the American cost.

For some time after we started this rehabilitation program, foreign competition, except in a few items, was not too aggressive because foreign nations needed everything they could produce for their own growth. However, as their recovery progressed they had more than they needed, and automatically looked for markets abroad.

In spite of the growing volume of imports we still are selling more goods abroad than we are buying. But that is only part of the total international balance. To it must be added about $3 billion of military spending abroad, some $2 1/2 billion of private investment in foreign nations. Taking all of this together, we find we have a deficit in our international balance of payments of some $4 to $4 1/2 billion.

Foreign Balances Continue Growth
Some of this over-all deficit is met by the shipment of gold and some by the accumulation of balances in this country. Up to the present there has been no evidence of a "flight from the dollar" by the holders of these balances, and there is no reason today to assume that such a flight will develop. None the less, with foreign balances of approximately $15 billion we cannot sit idle and let them continue to grow.

How can we meet the growing foreign competition and eliminate the international balance of payments deficit?

This is an extremely difficult question, but we shall attempt to answer it next week.

Lt. Gov Proclaims Oct. 15-21 To Be Newspaper Week

Newspapers are one of the most important factors in our everyday life. To them the people look for information, entertainment and suggestions for everyday living. It is to our newspapers the people look for information on the latest advances in science or the fate of their favorite athletic team. In fulfilling their role as medium of information, the newspaper has a great responsibility.

The newspaper is not designed to be solely a source of information—it has the added responsibility of civic leadership. During the past year this was demonstrated when more than 800 Michigan newspapers presented, at no cost, advertisements promoting a better understanding of Michigan's economic and industrial potential.

Michigan this year observes the sesqui-centennial of the founding of the first newspaper in our state. From a few hundred readers a century and a half ago, total circulation of all Michigan newspapers has risen to 8,273,181. This figure alone illustrates the great responsibility which rests on each newspaper.

It is fitting that the readers recognize the role delegated to our newspapers.

Therefore, John B. Swainson, Lieutenant and Acting Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the period from Oct. 15, through Oct. 21, 1959, as NEWSPAPER WEEK.

In Michigan, and call upon our people to give recognition to our newspapers, their publishers and editors, reporters, photographers, newspaperboys and all the crafts and skills engaged in the production of newspapers.

LEARNING BY DOING
The members of the 4-H Learning-by-Doing Sewing club met Saturday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Haselwerdt. Election of officers: president, Carolyn Feldkamp; vice-president, Melinda Peck; secretary, Susan Peck; treasurer, Laurie Reddemann; Dexter reporter, Melinda Peck, and Chelsea reporter, Judy Wiseman.

Next meeting at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 7 at the home of Barbara and Carolyn Feldkamp. Refreshments were served.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

Cub Scout Den 6 put on a Den skit at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Wilber Worden. They made all the properties used for the skit.

Mrs. Worden checked the Cub Scouts' books to see the progress made by each.

Refreshments were served by Alan Boyce.

Den 6 met for the first time on Sept. 29. Boys returning from last year are: Alan Boyce, Kim Flintoff and Ray Worden. There are three boys who transferred from other dens: Al Merkel, Larry Poertner and Paul Schnake.

The boys formed teams and held an archery contest. Al Merkel and Alan Boyce had the highest score. Al Merkel furnished refreshments.

Needlework Guild Ingathering Tea Scheduled Next Thursday Afternoon

Next Thursday, Oct. 22, from 2 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., the Chelsea chapter of the Needlework Guild will hold its annual ingathering tea. The affair will take place at the Congregational church with Mrs. Elton Musbach in charge as chairman.

Membership in the Needlework Guild requires no dues or other formal obligation—merely the contribution of two similar articles of wearing apparel, both the same size, or two pieces of household linen. The theory is that the gifts should include one item to wear while the other is being laundered.

Money is also acceptable for the purchase of shoes, overcoats and heavy outer clothing which must be fitted to the individual.

Mrs. H. T. Moore, who heads the Chelsea branch, said "Your gift of two or more new garments to a local Guild branch will tell a child you have never seen that somebody cares about him or her."

For those who have asked for suggestions as to clothing most needed as contributions for the Needlework Guild ingathering this year, a list of items was compiled as follows:

For boys—underwear shorts, sizes 4, 6, 8 and 12; underwear shirts, sizes 4 to 12; socks, sizes 6, 8, 8 1/2 mittens and gloves, for grades one to eight; jeans, size 6 to 14; shirts, sizes 4, 8 and 10; T-shirts, sizes 3, 4 and 5.

For girls—slips, sizes 4 to 12; cotton pants, sizes 4, 6, 8 and 12; mittens and gloves, all sizes; dresses, sizes 6 to 10; skirts; blouses and sweaters.

Only items needed for infants this year are receiving blankets.

Household items are towels and sheets.

Officers of the Chelsea branch of the Needlework Guild are Mrs. H. T. Moore, president; Mrs. M. J. Baxter, secretary; Mrs. Robert Wagner, treasurer; and Mrs. D. L. Gabbery, recording secretary.

Altar Society Plans For Ham Supper Scheduled Nov. 5

St. Mary Altar Society, with 67 members and two guests present, held the regular October meeting at the school hall Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, principal business being a discussion of arrangements for the annual public ham supper to be held Nov. 5.

The customary booth project, held in connection with the supper, will be in charge of Mrs. Henry Werner.

Mrs. G. L. Staffan, program chairman, introduced Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg, I, who interestingly entertained with a story of their recent European trip. The Burgs illustrated their talk with excellent slide pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rothfus entertained Jerusalem Farm Bureau members at their home for the October meeting Thursday evening. Roll call indicated that 13 families were represented.

Dave Pastor, the group's package reporter, spoke of the advantages to the farmer of Farm Bureau insurance, and Mrs. Arthur Kuhl, discussion leader, spoke on the topic, "Dollars and Sense in Right-of-Way Problems." The discussion brought to light many points with which members were unfamiliar and it was decided to appoint several men of the group to act as an advisory committee to assist individuals in searching for loopholes in agreements before they sign right-of-way agreements. It was suggested that members of the group should feel free to bring up at Farm Bureau meetings any problems on which they might wish assistance in understanding or solving.

A collection was taken for the benefit of the 4-H training project at Camp Kett.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of coffee, cider and doughnuts by the hostess.

Nov. 12, the group is to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pastor.

They were told that 16,000 carloads of 800 bushels each were shipped from there last year, in addition to those shipped by truck.

Riemenschneiders brought two apples of the Delicious variety to The Standard office. One measured 13 1/4 inches in circumference and five inches high and was a beautiful red color. The other, while not as effectively colored, was even larger.

(Continued from page one) for handling men and materials in and out of the mine. Ehle explained that the method of mining salt is similar to coal mining. The skips or elevator cars which hoist the mined salt to the surface in the larger shaft have a capacity of nine tons. Speaking of the many uses of salt, Ehle said the most general are for manufacture of chemicals, preservation of meats and food products, curing of hides, control of snow and ice on highways and streets, refrigerator car icing, bleaching and dyeing of textiles, treatment of water softener chemicals and in the manufacture of certain plastics and synthetic rubber.

During the business session at Monday's meeting, held in the local center of the Methodist church, it was announced that the annual Kiwanis Farmers' Night program is scheduled for Oct. 26 and the Children's Halloween party will take place Saturday evening, Oct. 31.

Chelsea Girl Scout Troop 77 Enjoys First Week-End Outing at Bruin Lake Camp

A milestone in Girl Scout activities of the Chelsea area was reached this week when for the first time Troop 77 spent a Junior-Senior Girl Scout week-end at Camp Bruin Lake.

Members of Troop 77 who went to camp for the outing are Vickie Blacklaw, Beverly Boyer, Sandra Cashin, Denise Foster, Carol Hatley, Audrey Hayes, Linda Meehan, Barbara Mepfans, Jane Moore, Penny Murphy, Zoe Riemenschneider, Edith Rusten, Linda Sanders, Wanda Schiller, Cindy Schumm, Jane Scott, Joyce Sharp, Kathy Sutter, Diane Walz, Drinda West and Diane Worden.

Also with the group were Beverly Windell of Troop 49, Judy Herman of Troop 71 and Sue Eisenbeiser of the Senior Mariners.

Early Mulching May Be Harmful to Strawberry Plants

Mulching strawberries too early this fall can hurt growth next spring, according to a research horticulturist at Michigan State University.

"Some growers are tempted to put on straw before plants become dormant," says James E. Moulton. "Autumn-colored straw leaves are the best go-ahead sign. They usually come around the first or second week of November."

Wheat straw works best, he adds. Other straws or leaves may pack too tightly on top of the plants.

"Too much straw can cause plants to rot or mold," Moulton points out. "One bale can handle about 50 to 60 feet of row length."

The researcher says wheat-straw mulch pays off in three ways: 1. It protects against cold. Zero weather often hurts unmulched crowns. Soil freezing and thawing sometimes lifts young plants right out of the ground.

2. It delays the start of spring growth long enough to protect against killing spring frosts. Of course, straw should come off the plants as soon as the plants start growing.

3. It can stay between the rows next spring and summer to preserve moisture. Water often gets scarce in June.

Home gardeners can easily move straw back on top of the row when spring frosts threaten.

Straw between rows can be worse than no straw at all in case of spring frosts, the researcher warns. Warmth comes up from the ground. Mulch can keep this warm air from reaching the plants.

"Straw almost always has some weed seeds. About all one can do," warns Moulton, "is to apply the straw late enough so there won't be a strong fall weed crop."

who acted as program aide for the Chelsea group. Leaders of Troop 77 who accompanied the girls were Mrs. Wilber Worden and Mrs. Fred Schumm. They were assisted by two mothers, Mrs. Veryl Hafley and Mrs. Edwin Sutter. The four women remained for the entire week-end which began Friday, after school, and was concluded Sunday morning.

Among those who co-operated by furnishing transportation were Sue Eisenbeiser, Mrs. Schumm, Mrs. Worden, Mrs. Hafley, Mrs. Edward Blacklaw, Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Lambert Mepfans, Marvin Schiller and Laurance Royer.

The Chelsea Girl Scouts were in charge of the Sunday morning "Scouts Own" service of meditation for all girls at the camp; the candle service and singing for the entire camp program Friday night and for a so-called "spare bag shift" at the Friday night campfire program.

Chelsea girls who participated in the paper bag skit are Sue Eisenbeiser, Beverly Windell, Jane Moore, Sandra Cashin, Diane Worden, Linda Meehan, Drinda West and Vickie Blacklaw.

Those who took part as a committee for the candle service and singing with Sue Eisenbeiser and Beverly Windell, Diane Worden, Zoe Riemenschneider and Kathy Sutter, while the "Scouts Own" committee headed by Sue Eisenbeiser included Sandra Cashin, Drinda West, Jane Moore and Cindy Schumm.

The girls' leaders said they were proud of the Chelsea girls for the way they did the work that had been assigned to them and for the way they responded when asked to fill in, at a moment's notice, on parts of the program originally assigned to others who could not fulfill their obligation for various reasons.

The week-end camp program began with a "nosebag" program by evening, followed by the 7:30 p.m. campfire activities and the candle service.

The girls were to be in bed in the lodge by 9:30 p.m. Up at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, the girls assembled for presentation of the colors at 8 o'clock and then had breakfast. Saturday morning was set aside for individual activity until time to prepare the noon lunch at outdoor fires.

From 1 p.m. until 2 p.m. the girls of the entire camp had a rest period during which the leaders and the staff held a meeting.

From 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. all camp activities were scheduled. Planned by District III of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, activities at this time included a scavenger trail treasure hunt and a ball game. Chelsea is a part of District III.

Girls who had attended the Girl Scout Round-Up in Colorado demonstrated some of the round-up activities at a Senior Girl Scout exhibit at the week-end camp.

Approximately 25 troops of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council attended the Junior-Senior week-end.

Michigan Losing Its Battle To Reduce '59 Traffic Deaths

Michigan is losing its battle to again reduce traffic deaths this year.

If the five per cent increase in fatalities experienced in the first nine months continues the death toll for the year will be about 75 higher than in 1958 and more than 200 over the goal of another 10 per cent reduction set at the beginning of the year.

The toll for the first nine months, according to provisional figures compiled by the State Police, stood at 1,006, or 48 more than in the same period last year.

If the five per cent increase prevails throughout the last quarter, the year will end with a provisional total of 1,444 deaths, 89 more than the 1,375 killed in 1958, or about 75 more after delayed death reports have been added later. This would be more than 200 over the 10 per cent reduction goal of 1,238.

Deaths have been reduced 10 per cent each year since 1955, or from 2,916 to 1,375.

Mathematically, to attain the goal in 1959 an average of only 78 deaths could occur in each month of the last quarter. Last year there were 418 deaths in this period, an average of 139 each month. If the five per cent increase continues, the last quarter would count 439 dead, an average of 146.

Based on the experience of the last 25 years, deaths in the last quarter have accounted for between 28 and 30 per cent of the total.

Questions will be asked in the October Current Population Survey to determine how many children are enrolled in school, level of schooling, and similar facts, it was announced today by Director John Tharaldson, of the Census Bureau's regional field office at Detroit.

In addition, information will be obtained about college students on their major fields of study and how their college training is being financed. Inquiries on future plans for schooling will be made of high school seniors.

A number of families in the Current Population Survey sample panel will be asked special questions on consumer plans to purchase automobiles, television sets, washing machines, and refrigerators. This is part of a quarterly survey being made at the request of the Federal Reserve Board for use in a national study of consumer buying trends.

The questions on education and consumer buying plans are in addition to the regular inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey.

The Current Population Survey will be conducted locally and in 320 other areas of the country during the week of Oct. 12.

Football Victory . . .

Still in the third quarter, the regulars, with the 2nd team Q.B. Ed Lauhom running the team, scored again as Ferris scored on a reverse from 30 yards away. A pass from McLaughlin to Ferris was good for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, again with the second team in action, the Bulldogs added two more tallies. Phil McDaniel punched over from the one yard line behind Dan Ellenwood and Mike Marsh's blocking. Sophomore Fullback Jim Maynard smacked over tackle for the extra point.

A few plays later the Bulldogs hit pay dirt again as Sophomore H.B. Al Schauer scored from 20 yards out on a belly play that completely fooled the Roosevelt defense. The extra point attempt was not good.

The Bulldogs almost scored again as Ed Lauhom intercepted a Roosevelt pass (the fourth Chelsea interception of the night) and returned to the Roosevelt six-yard line where the game ended.

The Bulldogs showed by far their best offensive display of the season as they picked up 411 yards on the ground and completed five of seven passes for an additional 163 yards.

The defense also sparkled Friday night as the Bulldogs limited Roosevelt to only three first downs. Spearheaded by linebackers Jerry Ringe and Roger Herman, along with line-men Homer Nixon, Gary Dault, Richie Wood and Danny Mayer, and an alert secondary that picked off four Roosevelt passes, the Bulldogs didn't allow Roosevelt any scoring opportunities.

"As has been the case in all of the Bulldogs' games this year the victory was again a fine team effort.

This Friday the Bulldogs host the Pinckney Pirates in a Wash-tonaw Conference game on the Bulldog's new field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Strict Adherence to Basic Safety Rules Would Prevent Hunting Tragedies

The season for hunting has begun, and unless 1959 is an exception to previous years, the newspapers will report numerous instances involving the wounding or killing of hunters by accident.

Nearly every community in the nation has at one time or another experienced the sense of futile grief which follows a tragedy in the fields. The accident, in the absence of human error, could have been avoided in most instances.

Despite the knowledge that firearms are dangerous, human beings often take a chance, and by so doing, take the life of someone else.

We have seen several collections of safety rules designed to warn hunters of danger and we believe the following eleven are worth the time of every hunter to read and remember before taking to the fields and woods in search of game.

- (1) Never carry loaded guns in automobiles or other vehicles. (2) When afield, hunting birds, keep abreast of your companions. (3) In loading, never point a gun in the direction of anyone else anywhere in the vicinity. (4) In climbing over stone walls and fences, first break or unload your gun. (5) A bird quartering to the right in the vicinity of your companion should never be fired on by a hunter on the extreme right, or vice versa. (6) Never leave a loaded gun standing against a tree or lying on the ground where a dog may get at it. (7) Always keep your gun pointed away from your companion when you stop to talk. (8) In handing a gun to a person for inspection, be certain it is unloaded. (9) Never shoot in the direction of your companion because you consider yourself a good marksman. You will be taking a dangerous chance. (10) Carry a gun pointed down to the left. If you shoot left-handed, walk at the extreme right of your companion. (11) At all times, be careful.

This Is Learning the Hard Way . . .

We are passing into a new era of labor problems. For a period of a few decades wage demands were reconciled by increased prices and increased purchasing power; but it looks as though this course has about gone its limit. There is much evidence of labor pricing itself out of the market.

More and more U. S. firms are building factories in other parts of the world in order to compete in world trade as well as to supply U. S. demands.

When wages are shoved up arbitrarily regardless of the effect on productivity and cost, the market seeks goods elsewhere. This is just an old-time rule of economics and the biggest labor monopoly can't change it.

Old age is when you find yourself giving good advice instead of setting a bad example.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

A better Michigan is the goal of two movements headed by Paul D. Bagwell and George Romney. They are approaching the goal from different directions.

Romney, American Motors president, has organized a Citizens for Michigan movement which he said is a non-partisan alliance of individuals pledged to study and inform themselves on state problems and to provide a unifying force for effective political action.

Bagwell, the Republican candidate for governor in 1958, has laid groundwork for a strictly partisan citizens study which provides our political party with the best thinking that can be brought to bear on state and local governmental problems.

Michigan's needs will be studied by both Bagwell and Romney. Bagwell says citizen participation in politics is the key to building Michigan. Romney says citizens must avoid blind partisanship.

But the two are closer together in thinking than either will admit publicly. Bagwell can be expected to embrace some of the recommendations of the Romney group, especially the expected push for a Constitutional Convention. And Romney, once his recommendations are in, can be expected to nod to the politicians, acknowledging that they will cast the votes.

What happens to Bagwell and Romney affects the citizens completely. Their studies, which they seek to carry out the recommendations by running for government? Both were asked.

"I don't know," said Bagwell. Romney said he wouldn't accept if nominated by either party and wouldn't run if drafted.

Safe driver bonus plans are offered by 200 auto insurance companies in Michigan. Some drivers qualify for discounts up to 30 percent.

The basic idea is that accident-free drivers should not be penalized for the carelessness of the bad risks.

There is considerable debate in insurance circles on the merits of the idea. One moving violation could wipe out the discount.

Automatic reduction does not come to the good driver. A point to remember is that the rate does not depend on who owns the car so much as who drives it. The rate is automatically lowered for teen-agers.

State Insurance Commissioner, Frank Blackford, said the plan should help make parents more concerned about the driving record of the entire family.

The big push is on for highway safety. The new insurance program is but one development that has focused attention on driving records.

Secretary of State, James M. Hare, has started a series of clinics for careless drivers. He's giving increasing emphasis to his powers to call in drivers to warn them when they get about 10 points, based on the system of charging points for violations.

And State Police Commissioner, Joseph A. Childs, warns the last three months of the year are critical ones for motorists. Hopes for bettering last year's highway safety record are fading.

The role of roads in Michigan's social, economic and business life was featured in early October. The state celebrated Michigan Highway week, the first observance of its kind held anywhere in the nation, according to its sponsors.

The Michigan Good Roads Federation and the Michigan Highway Users Conference joined in sponsorship.

"Roads are the life's breath of our economy," said J. Carl Monagle, State Highway Week Chairman.

A sobering thought about Michigan's highway program was offered by widely-quoted (by both parties) Upjohn Institute report on the state's potentials and problems.

The report said Michigan has highway needs "evident even to the casual motorist."

Good feeder lines from Michigan cities to the Indiana Toll Road are among the priority needs, the report said.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says: DEAR MISTER EDITOR: A feller in town was telling me yesterday he's got a teen age grandson that claims to be in a "shook up" condition most of the time.

This feller says he can spot the symptoms of the disease in his grandson real easy, but he ain't got no idea what causes it. This boy told him that teen agers usually get shook up following a "delightful disaster."

I don't know what's going to happen in this country with such a bunch of a-tch-talk going on amongst our youngsters. When taxes and inflation finally get 'em in the next generation, I reckon they'll call it a "splendid panic" or "comfortable starvation."

If delightful disasters can give a feller shook-up, some of the news items lately has been mostly of the shook-up variety.

For instance, I see where a New York columnist says the Army now owns 8,000 miles of rope, enough to stretch across the country twice. They bought it during the last war and now they can't use it and they can't sell it. They're paying $200,000 a year for storage space on it. If that feller will dig a little deeper he'll probably find about 80,000 miles of rde tape tied around the rope.

And he'll probably uncover a couple influential politicians that's in the rope business.

It ain't been too long ago that I saw where one Government agency bought 50 million pounds of some sort of surplus material for 87-cent a pound and sold it to the Army for 85-cent a pound. I reckon the War Department was mighty glad to get it wholesale like that. The fact that the taxpayers lost 41 million dollars on the deal don't worry them fella in Washington.

And some bureaucrat, talking on the radio last night about a new tax plan, said the "new income tax would apply the increase to what the taxpayers had left over after paying the current tax." The best I can make out of that kind of talk, Mister Editor, is that they've got your shirts and pants and now they're going after what's left, which is mostly your underwear.

But things could be worse, Mister Editor. I see where the U. S. Department of Agriculture says a good wife is worth $69,000 to a rancher or farmer. The piece didn't deduct nothing for depreciation or upkeep and I ain't starting no argument with my old lady on the subject. And a piece here says the Retail Clothiers Association is "featuring jet blues, atomic greys, rocket browns, and comic greens" for men's clothes this winter. It was mighty thoughtful of 'em not to include "calamity black."

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

A recent report from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service says that a total of 99 whooping cranes now exist in the United States.

Asks Release of Vets' Trust Fund

Michigan's Legislature will return to Lansing next week and set another record. Each day it meets this year, a new record for longevity is established.

Despite the length of this year's session—since Jan. 14, more than nine months—one of Michigan's most serious problems has not been resolved. That is our immediate cash problem.

The solution could come only minutes after the Legislature meets next Wednesday night. Senate Republicans will fulfill their promise to release the Veterans Trust Fund. This would provide the large incoming of cash that is needed by the state's general fund to meet long overdue payments.

The promise to release the Veterans Trust Fund when the Republican use tax increase was passed was accepted in good faith by those who think the use tax plan, but voted for it as the only tax program which would be accepted by the Republican majority in the Senate.

This week the first of the use tax money should be coming into the state treasury. This will be enough to keep the state on a steady basis, but will not permit catching up on old accounts. To do that, the money provided by release of the Veterans Trust Fund is necessary. In any event, there is uncertainty about the use tax constitutionality. The Supreme Court decision on that point may be handed down by the time the Legislature meets next week. At best, the use tax increase will provide enough money only to take care of budget increases provided by the Legislature in the current budget.

Senate majority leaders have promised publicly that the Veterans Trust Fund would be released when the use tax increase was passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. Those conditions have been fulfilled, even if reluctantly, but Senate Republicans thus far have not acted on their promise. Now is the time for the Senate majority to come through on this commitment.

Why is it necessary to have the Veterans Trust Fund?

Because there is a pressing need for cash now. It is estimated that revenue from sources other than the new tax package will be about $38 million short of meeting obligations coming due between now and Dec. 31. With the existing cash shortage, this will mean a total cash shortage of about $90 million at the close of this calendar year, exclusive of the use tax package.

Experience has shown that the general fund hits its low cash position in late January and March. Our cash situation can be expected to become worse during the early part of 1960, until major tax collections begin in April. Meanwhile, accumulated state obligations to vendors, contractors, cities, villages, school districts, counties, hospitals and others can be expected to exceed $100 million, despite the new tax program. This is a situation which must not be allowed to develop at a time when the State has assets which can be utilized to alleviate the financial situation.

Now, using the Veterans Trust Fund to help the state over this rough situation is like borrowing against your life insurance policy to assist yourself in time of personal financial distress. You get the money for the immediate situation, and you repay the loan when your condition improves and permits.

A Republican-sponsored amendment in the Senate would provide for repaying the Veterans Trust Fund in later years. In the meantime, there would be provisions which save the veterans from any jeopardy. Release of the Veterans Trust Fund is more than just good business. It is an action that is necessary.

Senate Republicans made their promise to release the Trust Fund as long ago as April 30. The conditions they stipulated for its release have been met by the Legislature and the Governor. Now is the time for a show of good faith. Senate Republicans can do it by acting next week to release the Veterans Trust Fund.

Professor Urges Return to Capitalism

The Russian Lunik was enroute for a left-hand turn around the moon last week when a professor from Wayne University appeared on TV and observed that America has fallen far behind the Soviet because of our socialism.

He said Russia is winning the war to conquer space because it has adopted a form of capitalism.

Here was a twist that almost caused me to drop my ginger ale. It was especially startling because it came from a staff member of Wayne, which once was regarded by legislators as a breeding ground for welfare state liberals.

So I hurried to the campus next day to find this Dr. George P. Loweke. He has been a teacher there for 19 years and is now Associate Professor of Engineering Mechanics.

He was at a cluttered desk in a dusty office in one of the old apartment buildings which have been taken over temporarily by Wayne U. His classes had ended for the day.

No suiten, dark-eyed critic of America is Dr. Loweke. Unlike many of the professors who get into-print these days (or find jobs in Lansing), he has an old-fashioned faith in the American system of free enterprise. But he fears that his beloved homeland, like England, will become a second-rate power because of the advance of socialism promoted by a labor party.

Dr. Loweke is 57. He was born in Detroit; earned his engineering degrees at U. of M., and his doctorate at the University of Berlin. His father, a Detroit printer, died when Dr. Loweke was a child. He had to struggle to earn his degrees, helped sometimes by a few bucks from an older brother.

Although Dr. Loweke has the high forehead of a professor, and his white hair billows, he has the enthusiasm for American traditions of a happy and successful American father, which he is. (John is 17 and Lowell is 15).

In brief, Dr. Loweke's conclusion is that the United States has stifled its geniuses by progressive socialism, that attempts to level all citizens through income taxes.

On the other hand, Premier Khrushchev during his tour of the United States declared that his government rewards its scientists and leaders on their ability to produce—thus providing the incentive that capitalism once provided in America and Britain.

Here's what this free-wheeling professor wrote for the Lansing Observer-column:

"It is a basic instinct of human nature to work for a reward. Remove incentive and you kill ambition.

"The race of men like Thomas Edison, Charles Kettering, Charles Steinmetz, Lee DeForrest and others is becoming extinct. These men became wealthy. But they were worth hundreds of billions more to their country than they received.

"Much as our idealism forces us to deny it, give men a chance to make greater rewards and we'll have genius cropping up like mushrooms all over the country.

"Russia understands this basic truth about humans. So it offers high rewards under the guise of socialism on a grandiose scale—and is winning. This country, under the guise of capitalism, is practicing socialism—and is losing.

"If Russia were to stop paying higher rewards to their scientists, and pay them no more than a tradesman receives—as in the United States—the Soviet's science would come to a screeching halt.

"By trying to provide security for everyone we are losing opportunity for all.

"Under our muddled system we are leveling off all incomes, raising those of the worker and reducing the earnings of the higher qualified.

"We are practicing the thing the Bolsheviks undertook a generation ago, which is to tax the rich out of existence. We squander billions for materials and stimp with funds for men, our most valuable resource.

"A high standard of living is poor consolation for a nation that becomes a second or third rate power."

It was refreshing to hear a college professor who wasn't scolding at the system which made America great. His ideas should be discussed in the lawmaking chambers throughout the land.

Production of milk would satisfy a long-since thirst—$ billion. 857 million pounds of milk was Michigan's production last year. Milk checks totaled $198 million. We are seventh in milk production. The Michigan Department of Agriculture enforces the state's dairy laws among which is the nation's first milk pasteurization law. About half of the production goes into bottled milk. The rest into other dairy products.

Letter of Transmittal To the Honorable The Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors

Your Ways and Means Committee submits herewith its recommended County budget for the year 1960. The budget was prepared after study of requests for appropriations made by County boards and departments, recommendations made by departmental committees who reviewed proposed budgets of certain departments, and recommendations of the County Administrator.

The gross budget recommended for 1960 is $288,054 higher than that adopted for 1959, and the portion of the budget to be raised by property taxes is $168,759 higher than that for 1959. Major areas of increase are in Legislative and Administrative Services, Public Works, Social Welfare Hospitalization Services, and Capital Outlay. Because the total budget increase is sizeable, an increase also has been made in the Reserve Appropriations, which must cover emergency needs.

Explanations of significant changes in individual items of the budget are made on the pages facing detailed schedules of appropriations. Your attention is invited to this information.

We recommend that County employees be allowed merit increases for which they are eligible periodically under provisions of the salary plan. We recommend that salaries of employees in exempt positions be adjusted approximately 2 per cent, and the salary of the Circuit Judge be increased from $7500 to $8500 at the beginning of his new term of office on January 1, 1960.

In addition, we recommend installation of a "longevity pay plan", which will provide for salary increases based on extended length of service by individual employees. Beginning in 1960 we recommend that provision be made

In adopting this budget your committee recommends continuance of the policy that disbursements from appropriations for the Building Fund, Equipment Fund, Bonds and Insurance, Temporary Salaries, and Board of Supervisors be subject to prior approval of the County Administrator. In addition, we recommend that the Administrator be authorized to approve disbursement of appropriated funds for non-county agencies according to a reasonable allotment schedule, except for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Pursuant to recommendations of the County Treasurer we recommend that 0.5 mill tax be levied for retirement of County Building Fund bonds.

Respectfully submitted, WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE Robert H. Marsh, Chairman Samuel A. Morgan Freeman Weber William I. Scheel E. A. Wolter

The Way the Ball Bounces

With Tom Johnston

★ Look Out, Pinckney.

The Bulldogs, who had put on a great defensive show against U. High at Ann Arbor the week before, put on an even greater offensive show against a hapless Ypsilanti Roosevelt team this week in winning by a 58-0 margin. Dalice Ferris scored five times for Conkila's crew in the lopsided win which we had predicted in this column a week ago. It was an evening when Chelsea could do no wrong and the Roughriders could do no right. Chelsea may wish they had some of those points this week against a Pinckney team which ran up a total of 58 themselves against Ypsilanti St. Johns. Pinckney has been regarded as a strong defensive ball club all season long, and now that they know they can score, they may like the taste of it and want more this Friday night against the Bulldogs.

COMMENT on SPORTS

★ World Series Hash

Washington, D. C.—The Angelinos of Walter Alton contended the baseball world with their performance in the 1959 World Series. True to all the zany traditions of the erstwhile Brooklyn Dodgers, the Los Angeles variety came up with all sorts of weird stuff and brilliant play to dazzle friend and foe alike.

In the first game, in Chicago, for example, the Dodgers looked awful. Even in the second, which they won 4-3, they looked horrible in that first inning. Fumbles, nerves, and jitters seemed destined—at this point—to make it a lousy one-sided series. But then the Bums recovered.

200 games and over: L. Apel, 218; R. Tarasow, 216; V. Hafley, 210; Wuster, 209; H. Fletcher, 205; C. Koengeter, 201; H. Grossman, 200.

And it was a goof by the Sox in that second game which turned the tide. Instead of hauling bunt in the fine style of the go-go lads, Sherm Lollar hesitated at second when the batter doubled with two on and the Sox two runs behind. That hesitation, and Lollar's lack of speed, resulted in Lollar being out down at the plate.

Men, 200 games and over: J. Dault, 247.

Men, 500 series and over: J. Dault, 539; N. Fahrner, 535.

Women, 175 games and over: D. Kinsey, 184; D. Keezer, 178.

Women, 400 series and over: D. Kinsey, 484; R. Pierce, 424; J. Fletcher, 422; J. Apel, 428.

This lapse cost the Sox the ball game, quite probably, for if Lollar had made it, the score would have been four-four, with a runner on second (or maybe third) and plenty of outs left—three. Chances would have been fair to good that the fifth run would have scored, especially if the batter had taken the plate in the effort to nip Lollar.

Well, the Wolverines won one for Bump Elliott on Saturday afternoon against Oregon State. I was impressed by the eagerness and the desire of the defensive unit composed mainly of sophomores and juniors, by the running of sophomore fullback Ken Turad (pronounced Tur-o), and with the running of Tony Rio and Fred Julian. All of these boys will see plenty of action this week when the nation's number two ranked football team, the Northwestern Wildcats, come to town. In practice earlier this week, the Wolverines showed plenty of spirit and drive, and while no one is even dreaming of an upset Saturday afternoon, they will be looking for a top effort by the Wolverines.

Over at Ypsilanti Saturday afternoon the Eastern Michigan Hurons will face traditional rival Central Michigan in the Hurons' homecoming game. This will be small college football at its best, so if you prefer your football small college style, don't miss this one.

That's about it for this week. The prep games Friday night should end up with the Bulldogs still leading the loop. In the other key Washtenaw Conference contest, we'll take Saline over Manchester by 6 in the Hornets' homecoming battle. And on Saturday afternoon Northwestern over Michigan by 18 points. By the way, I hope that you're enjoying the column, and that you'll tune in to the Tom Johnston Sports Show over WOLA each morning at 7:30. Until next week remember that on the field or in the classroom. Be a winner.

As to this Friday's game with the Pirates, look for this. A slight Chelsea letdown after last week's big rampage. A fairly good football game in which Chelsea will have about a 6- to 8-point lead going into the third quarter, but then near the end of that period, the Bulldogs' depth and punning power will prove too much for a Pinckney team which will just wear out.
