Burgs Blast 'Morons' for Bulb Stealing

J. V. Burg, I, discovering Wednesday that vandals had stolen special colored bulbs for the third time this year from his outdoor Christmas display, said "This ends it! It is the last time I'll ever decorate for Christmas. It is useless when people who can only be described as 'morons' repeatedly steal the bulbs which are of no use to anyone else since they are useable only in my specially-designed lighting system."

Mrs. Burg, speaking of the theft of the bulbs said "It would seem that if it were children or young people who steal the lights, parents would investigate if they saw them with the colored bulbs. If possession of the unusual bulbs is ignored," she said, "then the parents are as much to blame as the young people who have so little respect for other people's property that they do not hesitate to steal repeatedly."

Lights were stolen from the special display last year and Burg, at some expense and trouble, had them replaced this year; however, shortly after putting up the lights two weeks ago, thieves again took a number of the bulbs, but the display was practically stripped of bulbs when vandals returned on two successive nights this week.

Shotgun Blast Kills Youth After Quarrel

Kentucky Parolee Held While Murder Warrant Being Sought

Robert Lee Gipson, 27, paroled last April 25 after serving 10 years of a sentence for armed robbery and murder, is being held in the Livingston County Jail on an attempted-murder charge following the shooting Saturday of Danny Haines, 21, of Gregory, who died Tuesday morning, and Delose Coffey, 19, of Howell. A murder warrant is now being sought.

Haines was wounded in the stomach. Coffey suffered chest wounds and was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, where the two were taken following the shooting, which took place in the parking lot of a restaurant on M-36 near Pinckney. According to reports of the shooting, Gipson said Haines had "picked on him all day" and had slapped his face. He related that he returned to Chelsea where he made his home with a brother, Claude, picked up his shotgun and 14-year-old Roger Steffans and went back to the restaurant parking lot and waited.

When Haines and Coffey approached his car, Gipson told officers he fired from a distance of about 15 feet.

With young Steffans still in the car he drove off, avoiding sheriff's road blocks, later abandoning the car and breaking into an unoccupied home outside Pinckney, undressing and going to sleep. Steffans then fled the house and notified State Police. At 6 a.m. Sunday, Gipson surrendered to State Police who had surrounded the house and ordered him to come out with his hands up.

Washtenaw county sheriff's deputies joined with other department in setting up all-night road blocks.

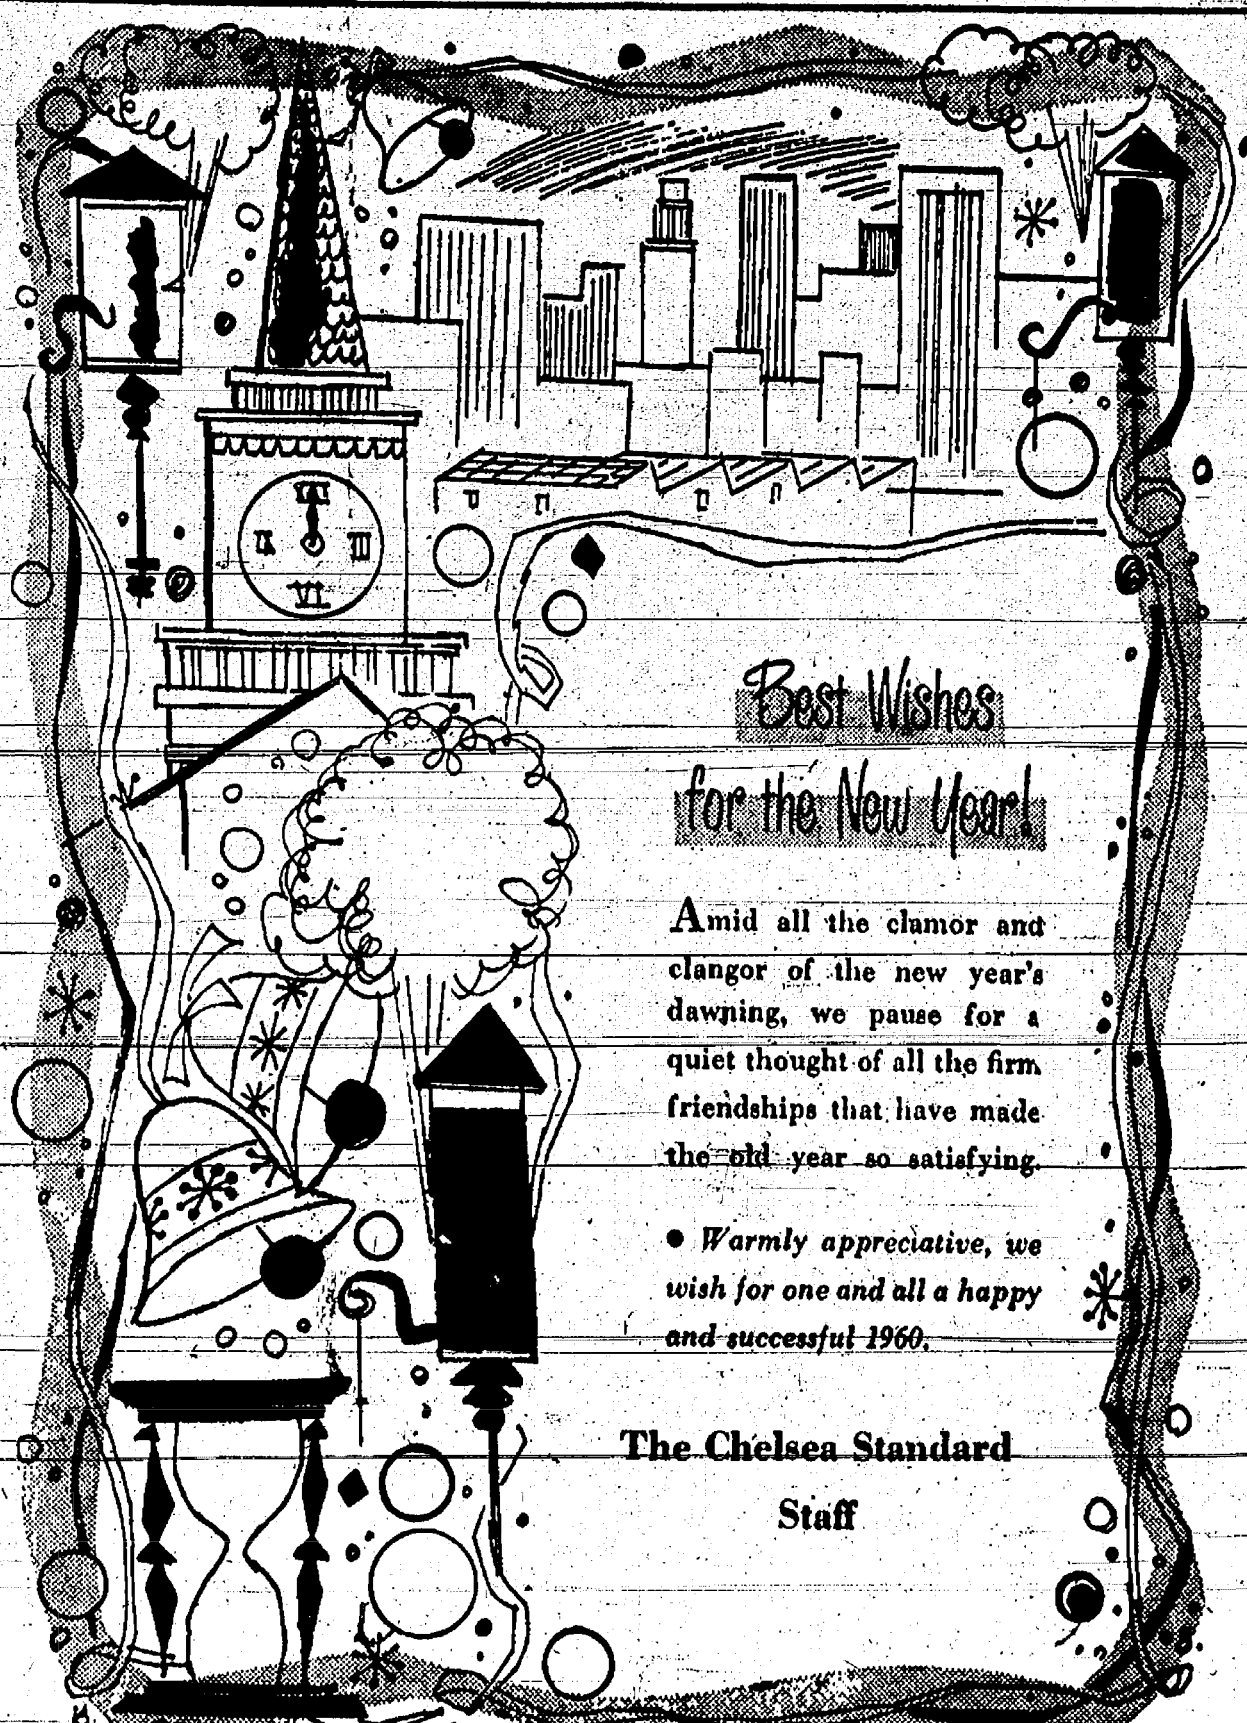

Gipson was employed at the William A. Thomas Co. factory on Fletcher road.

Chelsea Loses First Round in Overtime Play

Saline High, defeated only once this season, and undefeated Vandercook Lake were paired for last night's finals of the first Chelsea High School Holiday Basketball Tournament. The game was scheduled for 9:30 p.m.

Saline Hornets won their chance to play in the finals by defeating Jackson St. Mary, 57-48, in Tuesday night's game.

In other Tuesday night games at the tournament, South Lyon, previously undefeated, lost to Vandercook Lake, 75-54; Brooklyn scored 66 points to defeat Pinckney more than two-to-one with its score of 32; and the Chelsea-Napoleon game ended in a score of 60-50 in favor of the visitors.

Opening game last night was the Chelsea-Pinckney bout at 6 p.m. Chelsea won by the decisive score of 70-14.

At 6:30 p.m. Brooklyn and Napoleon played and at 8 p.m. South Lyon and Jackson St. Mary's were to meet.

In the first night's contests, Monday, Chelsea lost to the St. Mary Celts by one point, 69-68, in overtime play.

The other three games Monday night resulted as follows: South Lyon, 75, Brooklyn, 59; Vandercook Lake, 52, Pinckney 32; and Saline, 51, Napoleon, 45.

St. Mary's defeat of Chelsea Monday night followed a thrilling overtime battle with only one Celt regular on the floor. The other four had fouled out. Chelsea lost two of its regulars with five fouls each.

Dennis O'Conner popped in a jump-shot from the foul circle with only 1:12 left in the three-minute overtime to give Jackson the 69-68 triumph.

Alton Nixon with a basket with 2:39 left, and then a successful free throw at 2:23 had given Chelsea a three-point overtime lead after the regulation game ended at 65-65. But Dick Sawicki meshed two free throws at 1:52 for St. Mary before O'Conner hit to give the Celts the victory.

The Jackson team held the lead for all but about three minutes of the second quarter. But the Bulldogs enjoyed a hot second period and added 27 points to hold a 42-29 advantage.

It melted away in the second half with Jackson's pressing tactics.

It was a parade to the foul line much of the game with Chelsea meshing 20 of 26 free throws in the first half and Jack Patrick hitting 10 for 10.

County Road Commission Concluding 8-Year Program

In reporting conclusion of their so-called "eight-year program" of highway construction and maintenance instituted in 1952 and ending today, Washtenaw County Road Commission officials included an announcement that a more concentrated "three-year program" has already been planned, beginning next year.

When the County Road Commission formed the eight-year program it was thought the expenditure would be slightly in excess of $7,000,000 with $2,135,000 being spent on construction along 125 miles of roadways and $5,000,000 going towards maintenance. Provisions were made for project changes during each two-year section of the program with the result that 15 miles were deleted and 44 miles of work on other roads were added.

Increased construction and maintenance costs were mainly responsible for the final $9,108,510 outlay, according to the report.

Howard G. Minier, Road Commission manager, and Max Royce, office engineer, who compiled the results of the eight-year program, said that $3,157,172 went for construction along 131 miles of primary roads and the remaining $5,951,338 went for maintenance on 1,377 miles of county roads.

Construction along the 131 miles of roadways during the eight-year program has included 83 miles of new blacktop projects. Another 83 miles of reconstruction blacktop work has been completed along Pontiac Trail, Austin road, Fuller road, Clinton road, Pleasant Lake road, and Chelsea-Manchester road.

Financing the work was explained as follows:

Of the $3,157,172 for new construction, $2,415,930 constituted the county's share of the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund raised through gasoline and vehicle weight taxes and distributed through a formula among state, county, and local road agencies.

Another $95,097 came from Washtenaw township boards while $433,827 was received as this county's share of the Federal Aid Secondary Road Fund. The remaining $212,369 was contributed by other sources such as industrial plants, school districts and cities interested in county road improvement in their respective areas.

Construction Divided in Zones

All construction funds were distributed among three quadrants or zones.

The northeast quadrant, or Zone A, received $278,313 for construction over 36.8 miles. The southeast quadrant, or Zone B, received $1,131,526 for work along 47.5 miles. The western quadrant, or Zone C, received $1,407,393 for construction along 52.26 miles.

The average cost of construction per mile in each zone was $27,115 for Zone A, $23,858 for Zone B, and $26,041 for Zone C.

Zone A in the northeast quadrant is bounded on the west by Zeeb road, on the south by Scio-Church road and on the north and east by the county line.

Zone B in the southeast quadrant is bounded on the west by Zeeb road, on the north by Scio-Church road and on the south and east by the county line.

The western quadrant, Zone C, includes the entire area bounded on the east by Zeeb road and on the north, south and west by the county line.

Dexter, Chelsea in West Zone

Zone C includes the Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester areas where 16 projects were completed as follows:

Sharon Hollow road, Herman road and Watkins road, 7.38 miles from Sharon Mills road south on Sharon Hollow, west on Herman and south on Watkins road, which forms the boundary of the Washtenaw-Jackson county lines, sub-base and base construction and blacktop surface for $114,856.

Pleasant Lake road, 5.56 miles from Zeeb road west to Alber road and from Fletcher road east to M-92 (Chelsea-Manchester road), sub-base and base construction and blacktop for $192,273.

Chelsea-Manchester road, 3.57 miles from Lehman road north to US-12, sub-base and base construction and blacktop surface for $114,058.

BELOVED INFIDEL

Shelagh Graham's account of her affair back in the Thirties with the novelist, F. Scott Fitzgerald, had a considerable degree of sincerity, honesty and worth. The movie version, however, is just another lavishly produced, Technicolor, make believe romance.

The two-hour story tells of the love affair of a beginning, ambitious, hard-driving movie gossip columnist and a has-been novelist, who is in Hollywood trying to write screenplays in order to earn enough money to keep his hopelessly ill wife in a mental asylum and his daughter in boarding school.

They are brought together at a dance, and their resulting idyll is disrupted from time to time by Fitzgerald's periodic alcoholic bouts. After one particularly violent set during which he chases, hits and tries to kill her, she leaves him. From that point matters move along to a four-handkerchief finale.

Gregory Peck appears as Fitzgerald, and Deborah Kerr is her lovely patriotic self as a woman who is called on to love and suffer greatly. The settings are glamorous, and some of the romantic scenes are played in quite a tender fashion.

Farmers Tax Guide

Booklet Now Ready

For Distribution

Farmers, another year has passed and it is just about income tax filing time again.

To find out when your income tax return is due, answer the following two questions: (1) Is at least two-thirds of your gross income from farming? (2) Does your taxable year begin on Jan. 1?

If the answer to both these questions is YES, you have two choices:

- (1) File your return and pay the tax by Feb. 15 or
- (2) File an estimate of the tax due and pay it by Jan. 15, then wait until April 15, to file the tax return itself.

So, if you file the estimate and pay the tax by Jan. 15, you have an additional three months to file your income tax return. If not, both the tax return and tax are due Feb. 15.

Read about special filing dates in the "Farmers Tax Guide" which may be obtained from your County Agricultural Agent or the local Internal Revenue Service Office.

any benefits to veterans. This is fine, but the action comes just a year too late. If the Senate had acted at once on the Trust Fund, as I requested in my message of Jan. 15, it would have been released at least 10 months ago.

Such action would have meant no payless paydays for our state employees and it would not have necessitated the costly closing down of construction projects. The House of Representatives, with bipartisan support, provided for release of the Trust Fund. But the Senate Republicans blocked its use and held it as a club to force the passage of their own nuisance taxes. Accepting these nuisance taxes was the ransom Democrats had to pay for release of the Trust Fund which had been held hostage.

The tax package falls far short of meeting the appropriations approved by the Legislature. It will be impossible to make ends meet.

U. S., Europe Trade Trees At Christmas

Ann Arbor—A Christmas tree-like the grass—is always greener in the other fellow's yard.

The Scotch pine is becoming a favorite Christmas tree in northern U. S. because of its lush, long-needed beauty and lasting qualities.

As its name implies, this tree is not native of North America, but had to be imported originally from Scotland and elsewhere in Europe.

reports G. Robinson Gregory (Ph.D.), associate professor of resource economics at the University of Michigan.

The favorite Christmas tree in Scotland, on the other hand, is the Sitka spruce. You guessed it!—this is a native North American tree, growing extensively along the northern Pacific Coast, for which seed had to be exported to Europe from British Columbia and the U. S.

Until recent years, Professor Gregory adds, almost all of England's few Christmas trees were imported from France. Post-war rise in British incomes coincided with the availability of aromatic evergreens from Britain's large plantations. As home production increased, imports declined and "just about wrecked the French Christmas tree industry."

Balsam fir, the biggest U. S. seller, is similar to the tree first used—the silver fir in Germany.

Reputedly introduced here by Hessian troops during the Revolutionary War, the Christmas tree tradition spread through northern Europe during the 19th century.

Martin Luther, inspired by moonlight on a snow-draped evergreen, is credited with first lighting a tree with candles.

Some Michigan trees move to market early in November, but the bulk of them begin to move the latter part of the month, reaching a peak during the first half of December. Many are imported from Canada.

The trees come from three main sources: (1) contractors who secure cutting rights and harvest wild trees on private, state or federal lands; (2) pulpwood harvesting operations which yield tree tops usable as Christmas trees, and (3) commercial growers, who plant nursery stock on private acreage, prune, shape and tend the trees over the six to 10 years of growth required. The latter group supplies high-quality trees, though a relatively small proportion of the total supply as yet, Professor Gregory explains.

What is the best Christmas tree to buy?

"The Scotch pine earns its growing popularity," according to Frank Murray, forest manager in the U-M School of Natural Resources. "It grows fast, maturing in six to eight years, it is attractive, holds its needles, is easiest to grow in the nursery and easiest to transplant."

The buyer should try to get a fresh-cut tree and then keep it in water to preserve the "almost fireproof" quality of a fresh evergreen, Murray adds. Such care also helps keep the needles on the tree.

Business investment in plant and equipment in 1959 is going to be a little less than has been anticipated. These figures are developed by the Department of Commerce from questionnaires sent to business firms. The last survey was made in late October and November. It shows the present plans are for an investment on an annual basis, of $34 billion in the fourth quarter. The high was in 1957 and was $37 billion.

Private housing starts have been declining for several months. The latest figure is for October and was 1.2 million on a yearly basis. The total for the year will be about 1.3 to 1.35 million. Next year it is expected the total will be around 1.2 million. Over-all construction will set a new high for the year as a whole, but recently has been easing off.

Both retail and wholesale trade have been holding up well, and except for the steel strike, employment has been increasing. All things considered, we have been having a good recovery and it is certain to continue.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

BY RALPH ROSEY

Prospects for 1960

This is the time when everyone connected with business makes his prediction for the coming twelve months. The number of such forecasts is becoming genuinely prodigious, but presumably they serve a useful purpose.

As usual we shall divide the task into three parts. This week we give a brief summary of where we stand today as regards recovery.

Next week we shall discuss some of the major problems facing the nation. Finally, in the third week we shall balance the two and give conclusions for 1960.

Effects of Steel Strike

In approaching this analysis it is imperative to bear in mind that a vast number of businesses and at least a million individuals were affected by the steel strike. This led to distortions in all of our generally accepted statistics and allowance must be made for this in an appraisal of the present position. Such allowance is a matter of judgement, but it is not too difficult.

Gross National Product, which is the monetary value of all goods and services produced in the nation, hit its low point in the first quarter of 1959. From that it rose consistently until the second quarter of this year. In the third quarter there was a decline of $8 billion, which brought the total to $470 billion. This item is calculated only on a quarterly basis, and the figure for the final three months unquestionably will be up. It is quite clear, however, that it will be some time in 1960 before we cross the half-trillion dollar mark.

For over-all industrial production everyone uses the index of the Federal Reserve Board. This index is based on physical units and uses the average of 1947-49 as equal to 100. The all-time high was reached last June and was 155, which means production was 55 per cent above the 1947-49 level. Since then the index has eased off a little, but with steel back in production there will be a sharp recovery.

Inventories have shown a remarkable record. At the height of the recession they were being liquidated at a rate of $9 billion a year. In the second quarter of this year they were being accumulated at a rate of $10 billion a year. This was partly in anticipation of the steel strike. In the third quarter, and continuing to the present, we have gone back to inventory liquidation, but this is a temporary development and soon we shall be back building inventories.

Business investment in plant and equipment in 1959 is going to be a little less than has been anticipated. These figures are developed by the Department of Commerce from questionnaires sent to business firms. The last survey was made in late October and November. It shows the present plans are for an investment on an annual basis, of $34 billion in the fourth quarter. The high was in 1957 and was $37 billion.

Thanks, Sincerely!

The trouble with most messages of this nature is that they sound too matter-of-fact or too sentimental . . . and as a result lack believability.

But, how, without falling into that trap, do you convince people that you've enjoyed doing business with them?

How do you thank them for their support, both moral and physical?

How do you tell them, and sound sincere, that you are grateful for having had the opportunity to contribute to the well being of the area, to hold membership in its organizations . . . to belong to it?

It's hard to do . . . and yet . . . that's exactly how we feel.

Thank you for your kind patronage. We trust we will continue to merit your continued support.

Audit Reveals 3 of 10 Renew Drivers' License After Expiration Date

Three out of every ten people who renew their drivers license to so after the expiration date of their old license has gone by.

A special audit ordered by James M. Hare, Secretary of State, showed that 323 drivers out of 1,100 had failed to renew their license on or before the expiration date.

The audit showed that many had let their license renewal lag for a year or more and that a substantial number had been illegally driving for one or more months.

"One solution," Hare said, "to this tardy-driver problem would be for us to mail motorists a reminder that their renewal date was coming up and suggest that they apply for a re-examination. However, this would be costly and out of the question as long as we are on a bare-bones budget. Even in the best of times it would be considered by many to be an unnecessary special service."

"There is no reason why the citizen shouldn't bear this responsibility, just as he now must fill in his own application for license plates. Citizens should automatically check their license as their birthday approaches to make sure that it will not expire on their upcoming natal anniversary."

★ Baseball Trading ...

Washington, D. C.—The New York Yankees have fired that fast one again, and again with the same trading cousin, Kansas City.
The Yanks got Roger Maris, the key man, plus Joe DeMaestri and Kent Hadley, in one of those fast trading pitches the New Yorkers and Athletics are famous for.

It's hard to say whether the Yanks lost a lot. They gave up a tough outfielder, but Hank Bauer is 37. They gave up no-hit World Series pitcher Don Larsen, but he has been totting a sore arm for a couple of seasons now. And the Yanks parted with Marv Thornberry and North Siebern—but they weren't by Yankee stars.

Maris is thought to be the real bait in this corner and Casey Stengel evidently wanted him badly. He banged out seventeen homers last year and batted .273. If he comes on—he's young—he could give Mickey Mantle some competition.

Several teams would have paid to get Maris but the Yanks parted with what could be of great help to Kansas City. Should Larsen come around, he could even the balance of the trade alone. Hank Bauer is sure to be good if he continues to play the game. These two men are the Yankee bait—even though Siebern and Thornberry may be of help too.

Detroit, also recently in the trading mart, is gambling with Ray Semproch—for whom they didn't give up a lot to the Philles.
If Jimmy Dykes can get Semproch back on the trail, as he pitched in 1958, this could be a great help to the Tiger staff. The Phils got Ted Leppic and two minor leaguers.
The Tigers also got Chico Fernandez.

The White Sox have regained Minnie Minosh—and he was the key man in the trade between the Sox and Cleveland. Minoso, Dick
Brown, Don Ferrarese and Jake Striker came to the Sox and the Indians got Bubba Phillips, John Romano and Norm Cash. The Minoso speed and deviltry are an asset to a club like the Sox and if he comes through the Sox have gotten the better of it.

Nevertheless, Cleveland trades in recent years have often looked strange but Cleveland has come out on the long end most of the time.

The Giants in the National have added strength while Milwaukee seems to be standing rather still.
Of course, the Dodgers won the penant and the World Series—and so it's up to the others to improve. The general consensus is that the Giants have.

THANK YOU
I wish by this means to thank all my friends and former neighbors in Chelsea as well as the people of St. Paul's church for remembering me so thoughtfully during the Christmas season. The cards, messages and other remembrances are deeply appreciated.
Mrs. Maria Eppler,
6700 West Outer Drive
Detroit, 35.

THANK YOU—
Thanks, kind friends, for the visits and cards during my stay at the Morsey hospital; also the Chelsea Spring employees, North
Sharon Community Bible church, North Sharon Extension club, and Ridley, Marshall & Co., for the beautiful plants and flowers. I enjoyed them all very much. Sincerely, Amos C. Curtis.

deer did anything but pull your Holiday Tournament...

Patrick was Chelsea's high scorer with 20 while Homer Nixon and Alton Nixon produced 19 and 18, respectively with outstanding rebound play.

Clever footwork under the basket by John LaRue and a couple of dunks by Calvin Karr got Saline out of trouble in the contest with Mary Cella, Tuesday night.

With Saline leading, 48-42, and looking back a strong challenge by the Cella, LaRue dribbled under the basket and hit a tricky layup. Calvin Karr, who was a point man with 15, followed with two tip-ins and the Hornets were out of danger, 52-42, with more than a minute to play.

Jim Fuhrman had 13 for Saline and LaRue had 10. Dennis O'Conner was high for St. Mary with 14.

Saline held a 31-22 edge at the half, largely due to the efforts of Rich Malinsek who pumped in four jump shots as the Hornets had a hot second quarter with nine baskets in 17 shots.

Saline only had four of 23 in the third frame but still maintained its lead because the Cella, too, were having trouble hitting. Karr gave Saline a sizeable lead again toward the end of the third period when he hit for two buckets and three free throws.

South Lyon was outscored 19-4 in the first period by Vandercook Lake and that was just about the difference between the two clubs at the finish Tuesday night, giving Vandercook its chance at last night's championship play-off.

The Lions had used a "onesome center" who played only of-bred Brooklyn.

But on Tuesday the plan didn't work as Vandercook Lake hit on four rebound shots and three others from the floor to pile up the 49-21 first-quarter points against the Lions' four-man zone defense.

With a minute-and-a-half to play in the first period, South Lyon pulled the "onesome center" — Jack Wren — back on defense. Later, Vandercook Lake used an effective stall when the "onesome center" was again put into use.

Corky Bouldrey led Vandercook Lake scorers with 20 and Wren had 18 for South Lyon. Jim Sprague with 13 and Milan Obrenovich with 10 were other high scorers for South Lyon.

RARE COYOTE—Sheriff George Petersen examines a battle-scarred male coyote trapped recently by Arthur Feldkamp in Saline township, and presented at the sheriff's office for bounty. Common farther north, coyotes are decidedly rare in this part of Michigan. Conservation Officer Don Boyer said Feldkamp's catch was the first he had heard of during his 14 years of duty in the county. Name Changed to Federal Land Bank Association of Ann Arbor Effective Dec. 31, 1959, the Security National Farm Loan Association will become the Federal Land Bank Association of Ann Arbor.

This name change, officially approved by the association's board of directors on Dec. 2, was made possible by legislation requested by the land banks and passed by the last Congress, according to the announcement by Albert Ruhlrig of Dexter, president of the Ann Arbor association.

Ruhlrig said the new name better identifies the association with the purpose for which it was chartered and for which it has operated through the years; namely, the making and servicing of Federal land bank loans.

"The legislation providing for the association name change also changes the title of the position held by Robert Hall from secretary-treasurer to manager," said Ruhlrig.

The Ann Arbor association makes and services loans for the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul in Livingston, Wayne and Washtenaw counties. During the past year, loans totaling approximately $2,400,000 were obtained for farmers in these counties. Funds from these loans were used for such purposes as buying additional land, erecting new buildings, buying new equipment, making farm and home improvements and the like.

The association is servicing nearly $6,000,000 in Federal land bank loans in its territory.

Directors, in addition to Ruhlrig, are Lee Giegler, vice-president,

From my front porch...
"I watch the world go by."

What's this about "a dog's life" being so rough? It certainly isn't these days; man's best friend never had it so good!

It's hard to believe, but U. S. dog owners last year shelled out $500,000,000 for their pets' looks, health and comfort. Whether or not the pampered pooches are any the happier for it is debatable. But they must be pleasanter to have around the house, to justify parting with all that dough.

Something like $350,000,000 was spent by dog-owning people—most of them, one imagines, city or town dwellers—for specially prepared foods for their pets, not counting the tasty tidbits that came from the family table. For doggy-shampoos, de-flea-and-deodorant medications, there was spending totaling $25,000,000 and that sum includes the outlay for such coddled canine accessories as blankets and beds.

Licensing their pets to keep them out of the clutches of predatory dog-butchers cost the owners $35,000,000 last year, and they paid around $90,000,000 to veterinarians for shots, valves and nostrums in the interest of their pets' health and welfare.

"A dog's life," indeed. At least among the household pets it is a happy life—and a long one, too. The average pup's life expectancy these days is ten years—a much longer tenure of existence than in the old days when a dog was just a dog.

Applications for Veteran Benefits Must Be Properly Executed

An appeal to veterans and their beneficiaries to properly execute required forms when applying for veterans benefits was issued by Lloyd H. Jameson of the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Detroit.

Every item on an application blank must be filled in legibly before the claim can be adjudicated, he pointed out. Failure to provide the necessary information holds up the decision on the claim until correspondence elicits a complete answer.

Such correspondence is costly to the applicant and to the government, Jameson said. It is further objectionable to all concerned because it delays action on the application.

"You are always welcome to bring your problem to the contact representatives at our office located at 310 East Jefferson, Detroit 31, he invited.

The Way the Ball Bounces

With Tom Johnston

The Chelsea Holiday basketball tournament appears to have been a success for everyone but the Bulldogs who dropped their second tournament start on Tuesday night with a 60 to 50 loss to Napoleon.

The Bulldogs had lost a real thriller the night before, and looked tired against the Napoleon club.

Bob Taylor's quintet dropped their opener in an overtime battle with Jackson St. Mary. The Bulldogs had built up a 42-20 halftime margin, only to see the Celts rally to tie the game and win on Dennis O'Connor's jump shot in the last moments of the overtime, 69-68.

At this writing, it will be a tall Saline team against Vandercreek Lake at 9:30 Wednesday evening in the finals of the event.

Chelsea was to play Pinckney Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock. I haven't talked with anyone who hasn't felt that the Holiday tournament wasn't a good idea. I know that there are many like me who hope that it can become an annual event.

The year is fast drawing to a close, and it has been one of the best in the world of sports. One which saw the Bulldogs win the first Washtenaw Conference football crown. The league, by the way, has been a great success with the fans. Michigan started a real football resurgence under Bump Elliott. Our WOIA All-Area football team was a big success, and plans are now made for the winter All-Stars.

This, like any other year has had its up and downs, by way of review on the state and national sports scene, these have been some of the bit stories.

A new heavyweight champion was crowned on a June night in Yankee Stadium, New York.

But the fireworks that followed the title bout were almost as loud as the happenings in the ring itself. Ingemar Johansson, the 26-year-old handsome Swede, knocked Floyd Patterson down seven times before he scored a third-round knockout.

Then, New York's District Attorney wanted to know more about the strange promotion of the title fight. An all-out investigation got underway, grand jury appearances by boxing officials, fighters and characters. And the repercussions are still being heard and felt. Youthful promoter Bill Rosenzohn lost his license and Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato was banned in New York State.

On the agenda now is the return bout between Johansson and the former King, but even that is a bit cloudy.

The National Boxing Association got tough with Middleweight Champion Ray Robinson, and stripped him of his title. The NBA made its decision after Robinson failed to defend his title within a required time. Then the NBA matched Former Champions Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer for its version of the crown. Fullmer won. However, New York State—not a member of the NBA—still recognizes Robinson.

Fullmer made one title defense and scored a unanimous decision over Spider Webb. Lightweight King Joe Brown was the most active champion, defending a number of times. And Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore got better as he got older.

The Detroit Tigers provided three of the top sports stories in Michigan this year with the early-season switch of managers voted the No. 1 sports story in a poll of United Press International newspaper, radio and television subscribers.

Bill Norman was fired as manager of the Tigers on May 2 after a dismal start in which Detroit won only two of its first 17 games. He was succeeded by Jimmie Dykes.

Sports writers and sports broadcasters tagged the collapse of the Detroit Red Wings the second biggest news in the state during 1959.

Third place went to the naming of Bill DeWitt as president of the Tigers this fall and fourth place to the loss of the Harmsworth trophy on the Detroit River.

Other top sports stories this year included the successful switch of Dean Look from half-back to quarterback at Michigan State; the fatal fall of Michigan Diving Coach Bruce Harlan from a diving platform; Harvey Kuenn's march to the American League batting crown; false reports that George Wilson and Edwin J. Anderson faced loss of their jobs as the Detroit Lions continued to swimmer; Michigan's third NCAA swimming crown in a row, and Grand Rapids Catholic Central winning the state Class A prep football championship.

Norman predicted the Tigers might finish as high as second after a successful spring training season. But he was deposed as manager of the Tigers before the season was a month old.

Dykes rallied the club and Detroit was only a half game out of first in late June. But the Tigers then slipped and wound up fourth in the standings.

The Red Wings suffered their first cellar finish in the National Hockey League since the 1926-27 season and missed the Stanley Cup playoffs for the first time since the 1937-38 campaign.

The Wings were running second in the league until the Christmas holiday season but a January collapse doomed them to last place.

DeWitt was named president of the Tigers after the close of 1959 season in a move designed to put front office control of the Tigers in the hands of baseball people. DeWitt is a former owner of the St. Louis Browns.

Canada's Miss Supertest III wrestled the coveted Harmsworth trophy—powerboat racing's biggest prize—from the United States for the first time since 1920 by defeating Maverick in a best two-of-three heat event on the Detroit River in August.

Look bounced back from an early season injury to lead Michigan State to the runner-up spot in the big ten football race. Harlan died when he fell while dismantling a diving platform after an exhibition last summer. Kuenn won the batting title with a .353 mark and teammate Al Kaline was runnerup with a .327 mark.

Reports circulated two weeks before the end of the National Football League season that

MARCH OF DIMES KICK-OFF—Holding Governor Williams' official proclamation designating January as March of Dimes month in Michigan is Jerry Van Liew, 10th grade student at Lansing's Eastern High school. Jerry, a wheel-chair victim of crippling rheumatoid arthritis, is typical of thousands whom the March of Dimes seeks to help through its expanded fight against arthritis and birth defects, as well as polio.

Adult Swimming Program Set by Red Cross Office

The second six-week Red Cross adult swim program has been scheduled to start Jan. 6 at 7 p.m. at the Ann Arbor High school pool, Dr. Earle Ziegler, Water Safety Chairman announced today.

"When we realize that more than 200 lives were lost through water accidents in Michigan in the first ten months of 1959 and that 87 percent of the deaths were adults," Dr. Ziegler explained, "the scheduling of adult swimming classes for the non-swimmers through Senior Life Saving takes on new importance."

Swimming classes will be taught by Red Cross volunteer water safety instructors each Wednesday evening for six weeks and will include special training for non-swimmers, swimmers, and those wishing to learn the skills necessary to qualify as Senior Life Savers.

Co-educational classes are open to all over 18 years of age; but registration will have to be limited to the teaching capacity of the pool. Locker assignments will be made the evening of the first meeting, so interested adults should register as soon as possible. Registration for any of the levels may be made by mail to the Red Cross office, 211 Nichols Arcade, Ann Arbor, or by phoning Normandy 2-5544.

For further information on any part of the program, call Robert Folles at the Red Cross office.

The team is currently leading the Michigan Junior College Conference with a record of three wins and no losses in conference play and an over-all record of five wins and one loss for the season.

Resolve Now To Buy Your Auto License

Secretary of State, James M. Hare, suggests that Michigan motorists who have not already should resolve to do so early in January.

"If they don't," Hare said, "they may find themselves waiting in long lines as the deadline approaches."

The sale of 1960 tabs is running more than 30 per cent behind that of a year ago. About 110,000 less people purchased tabs by Christmas day this year compared to last year's plate sales.

"People who resolve to buy tabs early in January and keep their resolution will be a lot better off than those who will stand in long lines in February," Hare reminded.

"We hope that sales will pick up extra hardships on the Lansing and field staffs and puts a burden on our employees as well as the latecoming plate customers."
