Bulldogs May Still Have Title Chance

Friday Evening's Game With U. High Cubs Becomes Crucial Test

In just eight days, the Chelsea Bulldogs have collected three basketball victories, and have now run their winning streak to five in a row.

Last week, Tuesday, the victory came over a visiting Hudson team that seemed to be a fine-bustling ball team. They never let up, and in the fourth period with Chelsea reserves in the game, the Tigers from Hudson narrowed a 19-point Chelsea lead to just five points before the Varsity regulars returned to the floor.

At the half, it was Chelsea 25, Hudson 20. In the third period the Bulldogs scored as many points as they had scored during the entire first half, and held a 50-31 lead going into the fourth quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Hudson Tigers outscored Chelsea 20-16, with the final score, Chelsea 66, Hudson 51.

The scoring for Chelsea was as follows: Homer Nixon, 24; Alton Nixon, 12; Dallas Ferris, 11; Mike Marsh, 9; Ed Laughton, 4; David McLaughlin, Matt. Murphy, and Charles Cameron 2 points each.

Last Friday the Bulldogs traveled to Dexter where the Dreadnaughts were ready and waiting for their chance to topple the Chelsea team and seriously hinder their chances of winning the first Washtenaw Conference basketball championship.

The game started with Dexter playing fine ball and hitting well, while the Bulldogs had a hard time getting moving at all. In the first quarter Dexter spurred to a 13-4 lead, and at one time in the second quarter were leading Chelsea 21 to 4.

At this point the Bulldogs found themselves somewhat, but were able to score only nine points in the second quarter, and trailed at halftime, 24-13.

The third period saw a different Chelsea team take the floor, a determined hustling team that refused to allow themselves to be eliminated from the championship race, and in the next eight minutes of play, they came from 11 points down, to go two points up, and lead 34-32 going into the fourth quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Bulldogs continued to out-hustle and rebound the Dreadnaughts, but by less of a margin as the game wound down.

With Chelsea leading by five points and a little less than five minutes left in the game, the Bulldogs began to hold the ball, forcing Dexter out of their zone defense and into several fouls.

The fourth period ended with Chelsea outscoring Dexter 10-8, and winning a very hard earned 44-40 victory.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 86—Swiss chalet or "mystery farm" in this area? This is the 86th in the current series of photos showing farms in this area for readers to identify. If you recognize the place, please call The Standard office at once, GR 5-3581. The owner is entitled to a free mounted photo if he calls at The Standard office by Saturday.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 85—This farm photo, originally published in last week's issue of The Standard without identification, was soon recognized by a number of people as the Leslie Eisenbeiser place, 20618 Island Lake road. It was formerly known for many years as the Conlan farm.

Leslie Eisenbeisers Are Owners of Island Lake Road 'Mystery Farm'

The Leslie Eisenbeisers are the owners of "Mystery Farm No. 85," and many area residents recognized it at once when it appeared without identification in the Feb. 11 edition of The Standard. It is located at 20618 Island Lake road, not far from Eisenbeiser's boyhood home, 14215 Riker road, where his brother, Warren, and his family now reside. The two brothers operate both farms and a third farm, as well.

Leslie Eisenbeiser has owned the Island Lake road farm since 1938 but has made his home there only the past 13 years. His family includes his wife, Darlene, who is active in Girl Scout leadership, a son, Thomas, in the ninth grade at Chelsea High school, and a daughter, Penny, who is in the sixth grade.

The farm contains 120 acres and, together with the other farms in which he is interested, has as its principal crop, the raising of fine wheat.

The Eisenbeiser brothers also have 30 cows on one of their farms and raise young cattle and sheep, in addition to general farming.

The Eisenbeiser family has been identified with the North Lake area since 1914 when their father, William, bought the homestead where Warren now lives. Chelsea area residents remember going to "Eisenbeiser's Grove" on Sunday school picnics. Warren and Leslie have another brother, Lynn, who now lives in Jackson.

Leslie Eisenbeiser bought the Island Lake road place after a William Fritz had owned it.

For many years the place was known as "the Conlan farm."

The Conlan family, whose home was on the Leslie Eisenbeiser farm for more than 60 years, included four sisters and two brothers—Mrs. John Youngs, Theresa Conlan, Mrs. George Doody, Mrs. Eugene McKernan, Dr. William Conlan, a Detroit dentist, and J. A. "Bert" Conlan.

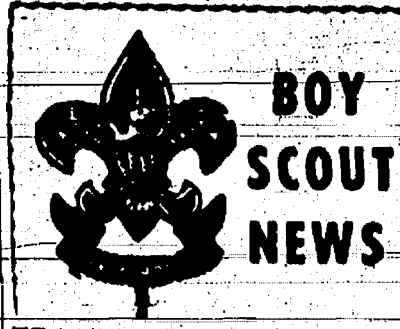

Mrs. McKernan at present is with a daughter, Theresa, who is Mrs. J. Bauer of near Clinton. She also spends part of her time with her son, Mark McKernan and family, here.

"Bert" Conlan has made his home at 315 West Middle street for many years.

Parents of the family of four daughters and two sons were John and Mary Wheeler Conlan. After his father's death in 1900, "Bert" Conlan and his sisters owned the farm for about four years. The farm originally contained 200 acres, 80 acres at the east end later becoming the property of Bert Conlan. He sold the 80 acres to Claude Burkhardt and the present Eisenbeiser place was sold to a Louis Ernst, he recalled.

Among those who called The Standard office to identify the farm were the men at Blaess Elevator; also, Charles McDaniels, Norman O'Connor, Don Otto, Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser, Gerald Welch of Dexter, who remembered the place because he had painted the barn, Judy Woolley, Bill Coltre, Sylvester Weber and Louis Fitzsimmons.

TROOP 76—A rope tying contest was held at the Feb. 11 meeting of Boy Scout Troop 76. Bill Howard announced plans for the troop's Feb. 13 scrap drive. It was also announced that detailed information about a money-making project of the troop will be given Boy Scouts this week or next, according to Gary White's report of the meeting.

TROOP 23—Boy Scouts of Troop 25 are sponsoring a sale of the new 60-star American flags as a community service project to encourage the display of flags on patriotic holidays.

Principal holidays on which the flag should be displayed are Washington's birthday, Feb. 22; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; V-E Day, May 8; Memorial Day, May 30; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4.

The list continues with V-J Day, Aug. 14; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, Sept. 17; Columbus Day, Oct. 12; United Nations Day, Oct. 24; and Veterans Day, Nov. 11. Elwyn Beach is assisting Troop 25 in the flag sale and anyone desiring information may contact him.

BOND RATE PLAN
Influential House Democrats have moved a bit nearer President Eisenhower's position on the politically explosive issue of the interest rate on Government bonds. A compromise formula under consideration, according to well-posted sources, would permit the Treasury to issue about $5,800,000,000 in new bonds without regard to the present 4 1/2 per cent interest-rate ceiling.

Art classes finished their sketches entitled "The American Way of Life" and have now started painting them with tempera paints. They will soon finish, and will be going on to something different which has not yet been announced.

First-year homemaking classes are working on color and good color combinations... second-year girls have been studying and practicing cooking with meat, fish, and fowl. They are starting a unit on pastries... Third-year girls have been working on the tailoring of wool garments—suits and coats.

The Student Council decided to surrender its cloak-check project to the seniors for the remainder of the year. They also approved the freshmen-sophomore dance to be held on March 18 from 7:30 to 11. If Chelsea goes to the tournaments at this time, the dance will be cancelled.

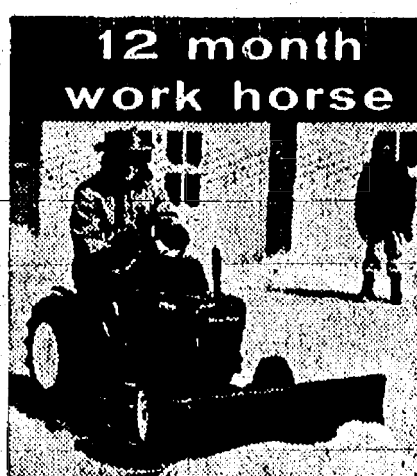

The Council will present an assembly on Feb. 26 for the student body.

Sophomores, with Richard Haist presiding, met Feb. 8 to discuss money-making projects. Mr. Rogers, a class advisor, gave possibilities and limitations of raising money. Several plans were talked over by the group. No decision was made.

President Dan Mayer led the junior class through a discussion of details on the bake sale and the two banquets, one for the Child Study Club, and one for the Washtenaw County Dairy Association. Mary Ann Steger and Carol Cameron are in charge of the former, and Marketta Young and Tom Dunlap are to plan for the 600 dinners for the latter.

Discussion also centered about the junior class play. The group voted to ask Mrs. Wanetta Finch to direct it, and appointed a committee of Carol Reddeman, Toni Hagen, Mary Jane Harris and George Kleis to help her select a suitable play.

Another gift of textbooks has been donated to the School Memorial Library Collection by Mrs. Florence Bachman Howlett. These books were used in the Chelsea School District between 1890-1930. This generous and noteworthy gift of books will be identified by a special bookplate in honor of Mrs. Howlett.

Several old textbooks have also been given by Mrs. Lucille Olson. Miss Lillie Wackenhut has presented two large portrait-size pictures of presidents, one of Abraham Lincoln and one of George Washington.

Numerous government documents have been received from Representative George W. Meader, local U. S. Congressman, in response to requests for information for term papers assigned in government, economics, and world history classes.

New Periodicals
In High School Library
Several periodicals have been added to the list already being received in the high school library. They are "Auxilium Latinum," "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists," "New Republic," "Modern Library Journal," "American Artist," "Portfolio," "Aviation Week," "Parents Magazine," "Farm Journal," "Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences," "Congressional Digest," "National Parent Teacher," "UNESCO Courier," and "Asian Review." With the subscription to "Auxilium Latinum," the school has a membership in the Association of Promotion of Study of Latin and an opportunity to participate in the National Competitive Latin Examinations and in the Students' Latin Honor Society.

The third group of books in the Traveling High School Science Library arrived last week from Napoleon High school. Chelsea shares the library books with Napoleon, Blissfield, and Troy.

According to Hilary J. Deason, Director of the Science Library Program, Chelsea Senior High school has been one of the schools to be selected to use the books because there was need for the program and because there was a potential for the effective use of the program. Potential was indicated by the presence of a central library collection, in charge of a full-time professionally trained librarian, provision of specialized instruction for, or attention to, gifted students—consisting of special classes or use of additional assignments and enrichment materials in regular classes; and pro-

★ Bulldogs Face High-Flying Cubs . . .

The Washtenaw Conference race could well be settled this Friday! Chelsea's fast-improving Bulldogs will travel to Ann Arbor to take on the high-flying Cubs of University High in the first of three important, and "must-win" contests for Bob Taylor's quintet.

If Chelsea wins this Friday night, they must get by Manchester next Tuesday and then meet Saline in the season's final game.

If U. High wins this Friday, chances are the race will end with U. High and Saline tied for the title. Having played all of their toughest games in the first half of the schedule, a win by the Cubs would all but assure them at least a share of the title, and they could then hope for a Chelsea win over Saline in the last game of the season to give them the outright title.

By the way, we suggest that you get to the University High gym, located on East University, early, as early as possible. Last week, they had a turnaway crowd for the battle with Saline. The game, by the way, will be rebroadcast as our WOLA "Game of the Week." Time, Saturday morning at 10 a.m.

For the Dexter fans, Al Jones, who will be helping with our broadcasting of games during the District tournaments, will be at Pinckney, to tape the highlights of that game, for rebroadcast Saturday.

So all in all, this will be the Big one for the Bulldogs. Many fans are asking, how good is U. High? Well, the Cub fans feel that this is the best team to represent the University school in many years, they are very big, and they have depth. Depth is very important to the Class C team, and may well give the Cubs an edge, particularly in tournament play. Chelsea has come along very fast since Bob Taylor has shifted around his lineup. One interesting aspect of the game Friday, is that it will match two of the league's best coaches. Both Lehnston of U. High and Chelsea's Taylor know the game, and know how to teach it. But from where we sit, the Bulldogs have the roughest road to the title, with the next week telling the story.

At Saline, the Hornets bounced back from their loss last Friday to University High, but they didn't bounce very high. Only high enough to notch a thrill-packed, double overtime victory over a fighting, battling Manchester quintet. . . . The final score was 54 to 53. . . . and Saline was paced by forward John LaRue who hit for 22 points, while Big Bud England had 17 for Manchester.

At Ypsilanti's Bowen fieldhouse, the University High Cubs continued their high scoring pace, and their winning ways as they had little trouble in topping Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 66-40. And Chelsea's Bulldogs defeated Pinckney in last night's other Washtenaw Conference game, 74-52 and so, as things now stand, the title race will be narrowed to just two contenders when Chelsea travels to Ann Arbor to face the Cubs of University High this Friday. . . . and then the following Friday, Chelsea will be at Saline, in the season's ender. But sandwiched in between these two ball games, the Bulldogs will have a home contest with the always tough Manchester quintet.

In other area games last night, Whitford handed Boysville Academy their second loss of the season, when they topped the Fighting Knights, 55 to 48. Milan took a Huron league victory over their favorite rival, Ypsilanti Lincoln, 57 to 50. While still in the Huron League, Grose-Ile defeated Dundee, 85 to 77. Willow Run's Flyers just edged Inkster, 84 to 83. . . . Ypsilanti St. Johns defeated Ann Arbor St. Thomas, 52-49, and the ball game between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor has proved to be little more than a scheduling mix up. . . . In other area games Jackson defeated Monroe, 58-51. . . . Max Lee's Brooklyn Boys over Grose-Ile 49 to 32. Napoleon 55, East Jackson 51. . . . Eastern Western defeated Michigan Center 48 to 46.

Archie Moore's high-heavyweight title has been vacated by the National Boxing Association, but that doesn't apply to New York Officials at Madison Square Garden are trying to match Moore with Veron Clay of Philadelphia for a title bout June 10.

A spokesman said Moore showed interest when he was contacted by telephone at his home in San Diego. Clay already has agreed to the match.

The NBA ordered Moore's title forfeited for failure to defend, but New York doesn't belong to the NBA and won't accept the decision. It recognizes Moore as light-heavyweight champion, just as it recognizes Paul Pender as middleweight champ. Gene Fullmer is the NBA middleweight champion.

The final out for another of baseball's one-time stars.

John "Stuffy" McGinnis—a member of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield—has died at the age of 69 in Massachusetts.

McGinnis, a first baseman teamed with second baseman Eddie Collins, . . . shortstop Jack Barry, . . . and third baseman John "Home Run" Baker. They played together from 1910 to 1914 as the infield for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Mack's teams were in their glory in those days. The A's won pennants in 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914 before Mack broke up his star-studded club.

McGinnis also played with the Boston Red Sox and old Braves, Cleveland and Pittsburgh. He managed the Philadelphia Phillies in 1927 and coached at Harvard before retiring in 1954.

Veteran outfielder Gus Bell has signed his 1960 contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

Bell batted .298 last season, hit 19 home runs, and had 115 runs batted in. There was no announcement of terms but it was indicated that Bell got a raise.

The Phillies signed southpaw Chris Short who had a 12-and-9 record with Buffalo last season. He will report to the Phils at Clearwater, Fla., on March 10.

repair costs and loss of key personnel because of inadequate buildings and equipment.

The recent resignation of a nationally-known scientist at the University of Michigan has emphasized the folly of delaying our building program any longer. The physics and astronomy building which this scientist needed for his work was recommended in each of the three State Building Authority programs I have submitted to the legislature.

Responsibility for the delay in constructing this facility has become a subject of great controversy. But it is clear that, if the bonding program had been adopted in 1958, we would have this building today. Now is the time to get these scientific facilities at the universities, more beds at mental hospitals, a Supreme Court Building, as well as our other needed projects.

L. Lehman Participates In Intercollegiate Stock Judging Contest

Llewellyn Lehman, son of Mrs. Aida Lehman 14900 Harvey Rd., returned to his home at 1574 East Sparton Village, Michigan State University, Feb. 6 after spending two weeks in Texas.

He left the campus Jan. 25 as a member of the Michigan State University livestock judging team which participated in the intercollegiate livestock judging contest at the Southwestern Exhibition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Tex., on Jan. 30.

The team placed 15th overall out of 23 teams and was 5th in individual in swine judging out of 115 contestants. He was also 40th in quarter horses and 64th in beef cattle judging.

The Fort Worth contest was the first of five contests in which the MSU team will be participating. Lehman was a guest of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biederman from Feb. 1-5.

He attended the annual cattleman's luncheon held in the Pioneer Palace on Feb. 2. This luncheon is sponsored by the "Cattleman" magazine.

In addition he attended the rodeo, and the Glynn W. Same quarter horse sale.

McGinnis, a first baseman teamed with second baseman Eddie Collins, . . . shortstop Jack Barry, . . . and third baseman John "Home Run" Baker. They played together from 1910 to 1914 as the infield for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Mack's teams were in their glory in those days. The A's won pennants in 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914 before Mack broke up his star-studded club.

McGinnis also played with the Boston Red Sox and old Braves, Cleveland and Pittsburgh. He managed the Philadelphia Phillies in 1927 and coached at Harvard before retiring in 1954.

Veteran outfielder Gus Bell has signed his 1960 contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

Bell batted .298 last season, hit 19 home runs, and had 115 runs batted in. There was no announcement of terms but it was indicated that Bell got a raise.

The Phillies signed southpaw Chris Short who had a 12-and-9 record with Buffalo last season. He will report to the Phils at Clearwater, Fla., on March 10.

repair costs and loss of key personnel because of inadequate buildings and equipment.

The recent resignation of a nationally-known scientist at the University of Michigan has emphasized the folly of delaying our building program any longer. The physics and astronomy building which this scientist needed for his work was recommended in each of the three State Building Authority programs I have submitted to the legislature.

Responsibility for the delay in constructing this facility has become a subject of great controversy. But it is clear that, if the bonding program had been adopted in 1958, we would have this building today. Now is the time to get these scientific facilities at the universities, more beds at mental hospitals, a Supreme Court Building, as well as our other needed projects.

Your money won't do much good when you are dead. Put it to work now.

At Saline, the Hornets bounced back from their loss last Friday to University High, but they didn't bounce very high. Only high enough to notch a thrill-packed, double overtime victory over a fighting, battling Manchester quintet. . . . The final score was 54 to 53. . . . and Saline was paced by forward John LaRue who hit for 22 points, while Big Bud England had 17 for Manchester.

At Ypsilanti's Bowen fieldhouse, the University High Cubs continued their high scoring pace, and their winning ways as they had little trouble in topping Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 66-40. And Chelsea's Bulldogs defeated Pinckney in last night's other Washtenaw Conference game, 74-52 and so, as things now stand, the title race will be narrowed to just two contenders when Chelsea travels to Ann Arbor to face the Cubs of University High this Friday. . . . and then the following Friday, Chelsea will be at Saline, in the season's ender. But sandwiched in between these two ball games, the Bulldogs will have a home contest with the always tough Manchester quintet.

In other area games last night, Whitford handed Boysville Academy their second loss of the season, when they topped the Fighting Knights, 55 to 48. Milan took a Huron league victory over their favorite rival, Ypsilanti Lincoln, 57 to 50. While still in the Huron League, Grose-Ile defeated Dundee, 85 to 77. Willow Run's Flyers just edged Inkster, 84 to 83. . . . Ypsilanti St. Johns defeated Ann Arbor St. Thomas, 52-49, and the ball game between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor has proved to be little more than a scheduling mix up. . . . In other area games Jackson defeated Monroe, 58-51. . . . Max Lee's Brooklyn Boys over Grose-Ile 49 to 32. Napoleon 55, East Jackson 51. . . . Eastern Western defeated Michigan Center 48 to 46.

Archie Moore's high-heavyweight title has been vacated by the National Boxing Association, but that doesn't apply to New York Officials at Madison Square Garden are trying to match Moore with Veron Clay of Philadelphia for a title bout June 10.

A spokesman said Moore showed interest when he was contacted by telephone at his home in San Diego. Clay already has agreed to the match.

The NBA ordered Moore's title forfeited for failure to defend, but New York doesn't belong to the NBA and won't accept the decision. It recognizes Moore as light-heavyweight champion, just as it recognizes Paul Pender as middleweight champ. Gene Fullmer is the NBA middleweight champion.

The final out for another of baseball's one-time stars.

John "Stuffy" McGinnis—a member of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield—has died at the age of 69 in Massachusetts.

McGinnis, a first baseman teamed with second baseman Eddie Collins, . . . shortstop Jack Barry, . . . and third baseman John "Home Run" Baker. They played together from 1910 to 1914 as the infield for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Mack's teams were in their glory in those days. The A's won pennants in 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914 before Mack broke up his star-studded club.

Bob Wagner's next picture will no doubt be the Garson Kanin story "Live Wire."

Shirley Temple calls her dress company "Cinderella, Inc." The former child star is coming more money from her merchandise.

Jack Oakie is a millionaire from the 200-acre Northridge ranch he bought years ago from Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor. "I sold all but 20 acres," says the happy Oakie. "The best thing I ever did." He kept the huge swimming pool.

Stewart Granger promised first wife Elspeth March that, come the summer, she can have their two children to visit with her in England. Elspeth, a top English actress, recently visited with the children and Jean Simmons at the Granger ranch in Arizona.

Nunnally Johnson plans a remake of "Bedtime Story," which he did with Maurice Chevalier and Baby Le Roy in 1933 for Paramount. He's buying back the property and will rewrite the story for Chevalier, who'll play the playboy who adopts a baby.

Today's picture review:

CASH McCALL

Cash McCall is an individual who not only has a great deal of cash, he has just about everything else: Youth, looks, gray matter, penthouses, private planes, companies and corporations by the legion.

The picture at the outset is quite frank as to his character—he is an underhanded double-dealing individual in big business, who buys companies cheaply, thereby throwing hundreds out of work, and then sells the same companies at a huge profit to Cash. Regardless, he seems to delight in making and losing fortunes just for the heck of it.

This is real escapism—moving, living, and pure entertainment. James Garner handles the part of Cash with ease, and Natalie Wood is her usual attractive self as the girl in his life.

Others involved are Nina Foch as a woman scorned; Dean Jagger as Miss Wood's father; E. G. Marshall as a very precise lawyer; Henry Jones as an eager corporation consultant.

January Traffic Death Toll Jumps Startling 63%

A rash of traffic deaths during the New Year's holidays, 29 in the first three days of January, got Michigan off to a bad start in the new year and the month ended with 48 more fatalities than the same month a year ago, according to a provisional report issued by the State Police.

There were 124 persons killed compared to 76 in January of the previous year, a 63 per cent increase. It was the highest toll for that month in three years.

Michigan led the nation in highway deaths over New Year's, with 29 of the 36 fatalities occurring after the new year had begun.

January continued a rising death trend which started last April and found every succeeding month, with the exception of August, and November, exceeding the death toll of the corresponding month of the previous year. Accidents and injuries likewise have increased almost consistently each month for more than a year.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs is urging motorists to put on the brakes and put an end to the rising death trend. "If drivers don't slow down and increase their caution in the months ahead," he said, "1960 will be another year of increased fatalities like 1959 was, and we don't want that."

Final figures for December, showed 147 persons killed and 7,353 injured in 21,540 accidents. Injuries were the highest ever recorded for this month.

Religious Fervor Not Due to Age, U-M Study Finds

Ann Arbor—Contrary to popular opinion, religious activity does not increase with age. This is the principal finding of a study of church attendance in the Detroit metropolitan area by Harold L. Orbach of the University of Michigan Department of Gerontology. His report will be published in Geriatrics Magazine this spring.

Orbach's study is based on information covering nearly 7,000 adults age 21 and over residing in Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland counties obtained in interviews by the U-M Detroit Area Study in 1952-1954, 1955-1956, and 1957-1958. When frequency of church attendance was tabulated according to age, he reports, the results "failed to show any general trend in attendance with age or indication of an increase in religiosity in the later years."

The proportion which attended church once a week ranged from 43 to 49 per cent, but showed no steady increase with age. Women in all age groups attended church more often than men, with those between 40 and 45 attending most frequently. Taking social features into account, he reports:

1. Among Protestants, only Negro men show a persistent increase in church attendance with advancing age.
2. Among Catholics, men show a clear decline in attendance with age, while women show a steady level of attendance, with some suggestion of an increase in old age.
3. The only group which exhibits a trend toward increased religious attendance with age for both men and women are the Jews.

"It would seem quite evident that this difference is more readily explainable as a consequence of the historical decline of orthodoxy within Judaism in the U.S., directly reflected in our age groupings, than as a function of age, the U-M researcher explains."

He notes that his study tends to confirm findings of a national survey conducted by the Catholic Digest in 1952, which found a similar over-all relationship between age and religious behavior.

Jaycees Auxiliary Sponsoring Course For Baby Sitters

Jaycees Auxiliary members, at their regular meeting Tuesday evening heard a report of final plans for a baby sitters' training course being sponsored by the Auxiliary as a community service project. The report was given by Mrs. Merle Leach, chairman of the project.

The first in a series of six weekly classes was held from 4 p.m. until 5 p.m. yesterday in the Junior High school study hall. Fifty-five seventh and eighth graders from the Junior High school and St. Mary's school attended the first meeting at which a mother explained what parents expect of a babysitter. Following the talk there was a question and answer period.

Purpose of the training course is to give girls an idea of what is expected of them as babysitters, as well as inform them about meeting emergencies which might occur.

During the coming weeks the Jaycees Auxiliary plans to have as speakers at the meetings a policeman, fireman, nurse, school teacher, doctor and public health nurse.

Those who pass a final examination at the end of the course will be awarded a certificate of graduation.

It was pointed out by Mrs. Leach in giving her report that any girl or parent of a girl interested in the project who would like additional information may call her at her home on Freer road.

At Tuesday's Auxiliary meeting, held at the home of Mrs. George Ellenwood, four new members were accepted: Mrs. Robert Meyers, Mrs. Robert Bassett, Mrs. Charles Gelman and Mrs. Ronald Branham.

The following committee was appointed to arrange for an Easter party for children of members: Mrs. Daniel Maroney, chairman; Mrs. Merle Leach, Mrs. Charles Gelman and Mrs. Robert Bassett.

Other business included presentation by the nominating committee, of the slate of candidates for the annual election of officers to be held at the March meeting of the Auxiliary.

Installation of officers is scheduled for the April meeting.

Following the business session, games were played and refreshments were served.

A DOG NAMED BUTCH
Sydney, Australia—A dog named Butch has paid with his life for being a five-star hero. The bull terrier challenged a poisonous snake to defend five young children in danger of being bitten. As the children stood terrified two feet from the viper, Butch attacked.

The snake bit the 9-year-old dog on the throat and fled from the battle arena—a suburban back garden. A veterinary surgeon, summoned by the children, fought several hours in vain to save the canine hero's life.

Evergreens Need Attention To Prevent Winter Damage

Snow and ice of winter can pick off shrubs in your yard and garden. Joe Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University, says damage often comes from the weight of the snow and ice. Branches are forced to droop, deforming them or causing them to split or break.

Cox suggests you tend to your shrubs immediately after a snow storm if you haven't given them advance protection. Gently shake the snow from the branches with a broom.

Low spreading evergreen shrubs may be protected by giving the branches some support—ahead of the storm. Lay boughs under the branches to buoy them up. Cox suggests that snow can be used for this purpose also. As you shovel the walk, pile some of the snow under spreading branches to prevent them from bending to the ground.

Another method often seen in northern Michigan is the use of light, supporting crates, built from lath or other light-weight boards. These structures may be painted dark green to blend with the shrubs, and they may be used year after year.

Upright plants may be protected by tying the spreading branches to the main stem with a soft cloth. It may help to add the support of a stake in the center of such plants before tying the branches.

Bumps and bruises from children and dogs romping through the yard are not kind to shrubs, so try to protect the plantings from this rough treatment. When branches are brittle, they break easily.

once game, in which the Bulldogs won 74-62.

Chelsea's Junior Varsity also won from Pinckney, 46-37.

Tomorrow evening the Bulldogs travel to U. High to take on the high flying U. High Cubs in their home den. The Cubs have run up a string of eight consecutive wins, with the most recent being a very impressive 86-62 victory over Saline.

In the first meeting between U. High and Chelsea, U. High edged the Bulldogs, 49-46, as the Bulldogs missed 15 of 27 free throws.

This is another "must" game for the Chelsea crew if they hope to stay in the running for the championship.

Next week Tuesday will find the Dutchmen from Manchester visiting Chelsea for their return match with the Bulldogs.

Contestants Being Sought For 'Mrs. America' Contest

The next "Mrs. Michigan" will call Ann Arbor her home town if the local women's groups have their way.

The groups were tea guests of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, which annually sponsors the "Mrs. Michigan" contest, on Tuesday, Feb. 18, and heard details of the event which could bring a local woman fame and fortune as "Mrs. America."

Herman A. Deal, Ann Arbor district sales manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas, pointed out that the contest seeks to find the state's most outstanding homemaker to represent Michigan in the "Mrs. America" contest which offers $50,000 in prizes.

"Judges will be much more interested in the figure women cut in the kitchen than the ones displayed on the beach," he said. Deal explained that the competition is aimed at honoring the homemaker and calling national attention to the role she plays in the community which far transcends the over-all contributions of more publicized women.

All levels of the competition will be judged on the basis of the contestant's accomplishments and skills as a homemaker and mother, civic and church activities; poise, personality, and good grooming. A film produced by Michigan Consolidated showing the current "Mrs. Michigan," Mrs. Elizabeth Stokes of Traverse City, at home and competing in the state and national finals was shown. Mrs. Stokes placed second in the "Mrs. America" contest and has traveled all over the state this year making public appearances.

Mrs. Betty Jane Smith, current "Mrs. Ann Arbor" gave a brief resume of her experience in the "Mrs. Michigan" contest.

Women's groups were invited to sponsor a candidate in the local competition to select an outstanding homemaker to represent this area in the "Mrs. Michigan" finals in Detroit, May 4 and 5. If the local finalist is sponsored by one of the women's groups its treasury will receive $50.

The lucky woman named "Mrs. Michigan" will win a 13-day all-expense paid trip with her husband to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where she will compete with representatives of the other 49 states and the District of Columbia for the title of "Mrs. America." The national finals will be held June 2-14. "Mrs. Michigan" and her husband will stay at the fabulous Yankee Clipper hotel on the ocean. She will also receive a new Whirlpool gas refrigerator, and a host of other prizes. She will be amply paid for all the public appearances she may be called upon to make during her reign.

Should she be selected "Mrs. America," she'll win a brand new $80,000 four-bedroom home in Fort Lauderdale, complete with swimming pool and equipped with the latest Whirlpool gas appliances, a year-around wardrobe and an additional two-weeks vacation for her entire family in Fort Lauderdale. Any married woman over 21 years old is eligible to enter. Entry blanks may be obtained from any Michigan Consolidated Gas Company office. As soon as the company receives the entry blank it will forward the official questionnaire to the candidate who must answer all questions and return it with a recent full-length photo, not later than April 8.

The local finals will be held in the Home Service Auditorium of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company in Ann Arbor April 18. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Van Riper, returned home Monday night from an automobile trip to the west coast. They had left here Jan. 12. Enroute they visited their son, Gordon Van Riper and his family at Lincoln, Neb.; a nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bardwell, at Oklahoma City; and another niece, Mrs. LaVerne Laubach and her family at Bloomington, Ill. At Oxnard, Calif., they spent some time with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dore Peterson, and children.

W. Collins Quits Library Board Post

At the regular McKune Memorial Library board meeting Tuesday evening the resignation of William Collins was accepted "with regret." Collins gave as his reason for resigning the pressure of business and other activities.

Dr. P. E. Sharrard was appointed to serve on the board for the remainder of Collins' unexpired term.

Discussed at the meeting was a list of the donors of money, labor, discounts, materials, etc., toward the restoration of the McKune house for use as a public library.

It was explained that Harold Jones of the Friends of the Library, is responsible for arranging the list in book form, the list having been typed by Mrs. Edith Hoffman.

As soon as a decorative frontispiece being prepared by Dwight Gadsby is completed, the book will be placed on display at the library.

Other action at the board meeting included acceptance of a gift of a book entitled "In the Service of the Farmer—My Life in the Michigan Farm Bureau."

The volume is described as an autobiography of the author, Clark L. Brody, and a history of the Michigan Farm Bureau in which he has been active for many years.

Announcement was received by the board of the 10th annual planning and zoning conference of the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission to be held March 24 and 25 in the Veterans Memorial Building, 151 West Jefferson Ave., Detroit.

Among subjects to be discussed at the conference are matters pertaining to schools, recreation, business and residential planning and of particular interest to the library here, the topic, "The Library as a Community Facility."
