District Band Meet Scheduled Saturday at New High School

1,000 Bandsmen to Participate in Annual Event

More than 1,000 members of C and D high school bands from the Detroit area will be in Chelsea for a first annual District Band Festival.

The festival, however, will be held at the same time as the annual district band meet, which is so arranged that the band knows when it is to perform.

According to programs distributed to schools this week, the high school band is scheduled to perform at 1:00 p.m. at the annual district band meet.

High school bands are scheduled as follows: Manchester, 8:25 a.m.; Saline, 8:30 a.m.; Willow Run, 8:30 a.m.; Lincoln Consolidated, 8:35 a.m.; George G. Schafer, 8:40 a.m.

Following this there will be a period for lunch and at 1:00 p.m. the high school band is scheduled to perform.

High school bands are scheduled as follows: Manchester, 8:25 a.m.; Saline, 8:30 a.m.; Willow Run, 8:30 a.m.; Lincoln Consolidated, 8:35 a.m.; George G. Schafer, 8:40 a.m.

Law Enforcement Officers Meet at Dexter Legion

Nearly 100 law enforcement officers met Tuesday evening at the Dexter American Legion Home for the first of their five meetings for 1960.

Sheriff George Petersen was on the planning committee for the meeting of the law enforcement association.

This month marked the first time this group has met in Washtenaw county in four years, Sheriff Petersen said.

Guest speaker at the dinner meeting was Laurence J. Taylor, vice-president of Hillsdale College. He spoke on "Effective Means of Dealing with Special Problems of Boys and Girls," and stressed that these boys and girls need guidance and counsel to help them solve problems, rather than someone to solve their problems for them.

Dinner was served by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Father & Son Banquets Are Well Attended

In spite of the fact that the worst snowstorm of the winter occurred last Thursday when both the Methodist and St. Paul's churches had scheduled father and son banquets, both were well attended.

St. Paul's church reported an attendance of 100 while the Methodist church listed 115.

The Rev. S. D. Kinde was in charge of the program at the Methodist church banquet and his son, Kurt, announced the program numbers as follows: "The Church in the Wilderness," sung by James Hoffmeyer, Charles Cameron, Francis Smyser, Charles Friggs and Gayle Grove; toast to sons by Albert Kleis; toast to fathers, through the efforts of David Soule and shown by Russell Gardner.

Also featured during the program were blackboard drawings by the sons present who depicted an incident describing "the most fun I ever had with my dad." Dads were then called upon to identify the incident.

At St. Paul's church an improvised program was given when the surprise program (a circus clown) was cancelled because of the weather and bad driving conditions.

Bulldogs Drop Final Game to 'Hot' Hornets

Boys Give Their Best On Night When Everything Went Sour

A very large and enthusiastic Chelsea following proved to be a fruitless effort as the Hornets from Saline stung the Bulldogs to the tune of 65-46 last Friday night, and walked off with the Washtenaw Conference basketball championship.

After winning six games in the last four weeks to move into a first-place tie with Saline, the Bulldogs ran into a red-hot Hornets team, and on their coldest night in more than a month, it seemed as though everything the Bulldogs attempted went wrong, while the Saline boys could do no wrong as they hit on nearly 50 per cent of their shots from the floor and dominated play on the boards.

Throughout the season, the big front line of John LaRue, Calvin Karr, and Jim Fuhrman has supplied nearly all the scoring punch for Saline. But this time it was different, and the little guards inflicted the damage, as they scored 35 points. With the Chelsea defense designed to stop the big men, they allowed the Big-Three only 24 points. However, the Saline guards came to life for the first time this season and supplied the winning points.

The Bulldogs at no time were lacking in desire or hustle and continued to battle to the bitter end, but with the shooting way off, the Chelsea boys continued to try harder and harder which brought about many errors which they normally don't make.

The loss moved Chelsea into a second-place finish with a 5-3 conference record, while Saline ended the season in first place with a 10-2 record.

The scoring for Chelsea was Alton Nixon, 11; Dannie Ferris, 9; David McLaughlin, 6; Homer Nixon, Mike Marsh, and Matt Murphy, 4 points each; while Jack Patrick, Charles Cameron, Ed Leach, and Danny Mayer, each had 2 points.

Kiwanians Given Preview of Spring In Rose Growing Film

Kenneth Runtman, who was program chairman for the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening gave a preview of June in a film he showed.

Color pictures of the culture of rose bushes, taken at the Mount Arbol nurseries at Shenandoah, Ia., showed acres of roses in bloom.

Mrs. George W. Hart returned Sunday from a two-week stay at Marian Hall, a residence hotel in Flint. During her stay she visited Mrs. Howard Beckwith who is a resident there.

TOOTHIN' FOR THE BULLDOGS—Chelsea's "Brothers of the Brush" Band who gained widespread fame during the 1959 125th Anniversary celebration here, had representatives present at the Saline-Chelsea championship basketball game at Saline Friday night. A caravan of more than 100 cars accompanied the Chelsea players to Saline to root for them; however, the local team lost to the Hornets, 65-46, Saline thus becoming the first Washtenaw Conference basketball trophy winner.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Girl Scouts of the United States of America have rendered continuous service to their country and communities since their founding on March 12, 1912; and

WHEREAS we, the people of Chelsea, are aware of the important contribution to community welfare being made by Girl Scout leaders through their work with the youth of the nation; and

WHEREAS the Girl Scout organization has grown to more than two and one-half million girl members and almost 800,000 adult leaders, who are each day living up to their Promise To Do Their Duty to God and Country, To Help Other People at All Times, and To Live by the Girl Scout Laws of Loyalty, Honesty, Courtesy, Cheerfulness, Usefulness, Kindness, and Helpfulness to Others;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Donald C. Alber, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Chelsea Village President, hereby proclaim March 6-12 of this year 1960 as Girl Scout Week and March 12 as the 48th Anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouting in the United States of America, I therefore call upon all citizens to give the Girl Scouts now and in the coming years the fullest co-operation and support so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from the splendid program of training in citizenship which the Girl Scout organization offers.

Signed: DONALD C. ALBER, Village President

Girl Scouts To Observe 48th Birthday

Girl Scouting in the United States is 48 years old this month and March 12 has been designated as Girl Scout Birthday Week.

To start the week here the girls will attend their respective churches in uniform on Sunday.

The theme of the week in Chelsea will be "Scouting in Our Community." Posters in store windows and a display in Foster's window show some of the services the girls have performed this year.

Mrs. Louis Ramp of the Chelsea Social Service, said they received real help from the Girl Scouts at Christmas time. Troop members donated gifts which they either had made or bought from their treasury, and Marine Troop 71 did much of the "leg work" connected with the setting up of the Christmas baskets for needy families.

The girls have developed a true sense of service this way.

"Scouting in Our Community" is also the theme of the girl's program on March 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High school gym. This is to be an open house with family and friends invited. Fathers of the girls are especially urged to attend because this night will replace the Father and Daughter banquet held in former years.

The program itself will be a pageant consisting of eight episodes, each depicting an actual service done in the community by the troop enacting the episode. Exhibits by the troops will also be on display.

In this way Girl Scouts hope to acquaint more people with the usefulness of their organization, not only to themselves but to the community.

Michael Foster arrived early Tuesday from Cuba to spend a 10-day furlough with his family here. When he returns to Navy duty he will report aboard the USS Intrepid at Norfolk, Va.

Billie and Ann Marie Bury of North Lake are spending several days this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe.

Baby Sitters Course Given Instruction by Sheriff, Fire Units

The fourth session of a baby sitters' course being sponsored here by the Jaycees Auxiliary will be held after school next Wednesday.

Guest speaker for this session will be Mrs. Raymond Schairer, Chelsea's Co-Operative Nursery School teacher.

At yesterday's session a representative of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and James Gaken, representing the Chelsea Fire Department, explained about proper procedures in case it became necessary to call police or firemen.

Approximately 55 girls are participating. All sessions are held in the Junior High school study hall. Tests will be given at the end of the six-week course of study and girls who pass the tests will receive certificates.

300 Attend Beef Feeders Banquet

The annual Washtenaw county beef tour and banquet were held as scheduled, Feb. 24. Both events were well attended, there being approximately 200 people on the tour during the day and 300 at the banquet in the evening.

After an informative and interesting tour of the designated host farms—those of Victor Grossman, Ralph Haussler, Bob Bevier, and Earl Perkins—it has been stated that an excellent job was done by the Dexter Junior class, headed by their chairman, Mrs. John Milligan, in preparing the evening meal.

The program committee chairman, Warren Huff, had an interesting program arranged, including featured speaker Ed Ray and entertainment provided by the "Chelsea Brothers of the Brush Band" and the U. of M. men's singing group known as the "Puffs."

During the evening a business meeting was held and an election.

Parking Lot Bonds To Be Handled By State Bank

Chelsea State Bank is acting as the agent for the Chelsea Village $40,000 revenue bond issue for village parking lot improvement.

The bond issue bears an interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent and will be repaid by proceeds of parking lot meters.

A number of Chelsea area residents had expressed interest in purchasing some of the revenue bonds and the arrangement with Chelsea State Bank makes this possible.

Announcement of the bond sale was made following Tuesday evening's Village Council meeting.

Bulldogs Set To Meet Stockbridge Friday Evening

The Class C District tournament at Chelsea got underway Tuesday night with Chelsea defeating a very determined Dexter squad, 64-57, and Leslie nosing out Manchester 57-53.

In the 7 o'clock game between Manchester and Leslie, there was plenty of action and excitement as Manchester jumped off to a 35-19 first-half lead, only to see the Blackhawks from Leslie stage a strong second half come-back and nip the Dutchmen in the last minute of play.

The 8:30 game between Dexter and Chelsea was a very close game throughout, but lacked true tournament luster as the play was a bit ragged at times, and the boys appeared to be a little tired.

The Bulldogs jumped off to an 18-10 first quarter lead as they collected 10 points on free throws. At half time Chelsea was clinging to a scant three-point lead, 28-25, but increased their lead to 7 points at the three-quarter mark, and led, 45-38.

In the fourth period the two teams each scored 19 points, with Chelsea collecting 9 of their points from the free throw line.

The Bulldogs shot fairly well from the floor, and collected 24 of 37 free throw attempts.

Chelsea had good balance in their scoring, with Homer Nixon being high for the game with 17 points. David McLaughlin worked well on the boards and collected 14 points, while Matt Murphy had 12, and Dannie Ferris 9, as they alternated and did a fine defensive job on Dexter's high-scoring Cliff Blossom. Alton Nixon collected 7 points and Jack Patrick had 5.

The pairing for Friday will find Chelsea against Stockbridge at 7:00 o'clock, and Leslie against Pinckney at 8:30. The two winners will be matched against each other on Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Minstrel Show Will Be Produced

At a committee meeting in the Congregational church held here after the Saline-Chelsea basketball game Friday evening, it was decided to proceed with plans for a community-sponsored minstrel show to be given April 21, 22 and 23.

James Egbert who directed the 125th Anniversary pageant here last summer, will produce the minstrel show. Approximately 100 men and women of the community will take part as the cast of the show.

It is not necessary to sign the form.

The survey will seek answers to four basic questions:

1. What is your favorite form of recreation?
2. What facilities for recreation do you think should be added in the community?
3. When would you prefer to use these facilities?
4. What do you feel is the most important facility needed?

Suggestions for the first question are baseball, swimming, tennis, picnics, swings and slides, wading, etc.

The second question related to recommended addition of facilities suggests outdoor basketball or handball courts, swimming pool, wading pool, nature trail, too rink.

The third question (preference of time) lists days, nights, Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, while the fourth question will determine what the majority feel is the most important facility needed at this time.

Jaycees President Robert Vandekelen said yesterday that the committees in charge of the survey would appreciate the return of the forms as soon as possible so the survey might be completed.

Chelsea had no contestants in public speaking or demonstration.

Vacationing in Tucson

Mrs. J. L. O'Hara, who is enjoying an extended vacation visiting friends and relatives in Tucson, Ariz., left there Tuesday to spend a week or 10 days in Hollywood, Calif. She will return to Tucson and remain there for an indefinite stay before returning to Chelsea.

Public Works Crew Commended By Village Council

At Tuesday night's regular meeting of the Village Council President Donald Alber and the entire council took the opportunity to publicly commend DPW Superintendent Kellie Allen and his entire Public Works Department crew for the tremendous snow removal operation performed last Thursday and Friday. Allen and his crew worked throughout the night so that traffic could move in Chelsea after the extremely heavy snow.

"The community is certainly fortunate to have men working for it who are willing to put out a great deal of extra effort so that we are not too greatly inconvenienced by the unusual whims of Mother Nature," said President Alber.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ernest Guenther and family were in Ann Arbor Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. Guenther's mother, Mrs. Mary Bodmer, who died Monday, Feb. 22. Burial took place in Lodi cemetery.

Oratorical Contest Sponsored Locally by American Legion Post

Paula Romine, first, second, and third place winners, respectively, in an oratorical contest sponsored by Herbert J. McKune, No. 81, and held at Chelsea High school Wednesday, Feb. 24, were awarded trophies and a $500 scholarship medal on behalf of the American Legion Post, with Commander Frank Rohr making the presentation.

Much of the credit, Commander Rohr stated, goes to Mrs. Waneta Flisk who is the speech teacher at Chelsea High school, for making this contest a Chelsea first.

Marilyn Pajot may now, if she chooses, participate next in the district contest. The district winner then goes to the zone contest, then to the state, and eventually to the national finals, which will be held in New York City this summer.

The national first-place winner will be awarded a $4,000 scholarship, second place $2,500, third place $1,000, and fourth place a $500 scholarship.

Judges who participated here were Mrs. Carl Mayer, Mrs. James LaGoe and Wesley Cowell.

VA Pensioners Advised To Watch for Enclosure With Regular Check

VA pensioners had better take another look in the envelope containing their pension check this week.

The Veterans Administration says that one out of every 18 will simply extract the check and throw away the envelope.

If they do, they'll miss some important items: One, a pamphlet with information on the new pension law; and, two, the card they need to make their election as to which pension program they want to be paid under.

Streamlined Milk Inspection Program Called for by State

Lansing—A streamlined milk inspection program was called for today by the state health commissioner.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis said duplication of inspections by agriculture and local health departments "has grown expensive for taxpayers and should be corrected without delay."

The Commissioner recommended a plan worked out with local public health departments.

"This would make full use of all available resources," he said, "stop duplication and still continue to assure safe and wholesome milk for Michigan children and adults."

Several proposals to modify Michigan's milk inspection system are now before the legislature. Dr. Heustis said the health department plan could be put in operation under Senate Bills 1161 and 1162.

The Commissioner emphasized that the chief purpose of milk inspections continues to be "to protect the health of the consumer." He pointed out that there are more opportunities today than ever before for disease germs and harmful substances to get into milk.

"Diseased cows can contaminate milk with tuberculosis, undulant fever, scarlet fever, septic sore throat, diphtheria, Q fever; and other disease germs," Dr. Heustis said. "Persons who handle milk can spread dysentery, typhoid fever, and other germs."

He said serious human illness also can result from careless handling of insecticides and rodenticides in the farm or dairy. Human illness also can be caused by misuse of certain medicines in treating cows for mastitis and other diseases.

Dr. Heustis said the main objection to the present inspection system is that some farmers and dairies are visited by more than one inspector. He said unnecessary duplicate inspections could be eliminated by minimum uniform state-wide inspection standards and reciprocity of reports between inspecting agencies.

At present, each unit of local government can inspect the farms or dairies that supply milk to customers in its area. Producers who ship to more than one market are now subject to inspections by each market.

Under the state health department plan, uniform standards would be drawn up by the department with the advice and help of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, the dairy industry and milk consumers.

"This method of developing standards would assure all interested groups that the standards would be fair and equitable," Dr. Heustis said.

Copies of inspection reports would be filed with the state health department, which would serve as a clearing house for information about the sanitary quality of all fluid milk in the state. One inspection, based on uniform state-wide standards, would thus be made to serve for an unlimited number of markets.

The state health department plan also proposes that local health departments continue to make local milk inspections. About 90 per cent of the people of Michigan are now served by local health departments and most local departments already are inspecting milk.

Dr. Heustis suggests that the responsibility for inspecting milk be assigned by the legislature to the state and local health departments. Local health departments would assume complete authority for inspecting milk produced in their areas.

"Local people are in the best position to inspect local producers," Dr. Heustis pointed out. "They are also likely to make the most effective inspections at least cost to the taxpayer. Nothing would be gained by centralizing the inspection authority in a state agency."

Dr. Heustis' plan proposes that Michigan Department of Agriculture employees continue to inspect milk as they now do in areas where there are no local health departments.

The health commissioner pointed out that his plan offers these main advantages:

1—The needed improvements could be made by spending very little money.

2—The plan uses available personnel and facilities without calling for a large number of new employees.

3—Legal recognition would be given to the principle that the primary reason for inspecting milk is to protect the health of the consumer.

Ever notice? A word to the wise generally interrupts a monologue.

COMMENT on SPORTS

★ Baseball . . .

The New York Yankees will be the team more people are watching this baseball season than any other. That is because the Yankees probably have more fans than any other, for one reason.

For another reason, it is because the Yankees have won so much more than they did last year. So many will be wondering if the Yankee era is coming to an end—or whether Casey Stengel will get the heave-ho because the Yanks don't win in 1960.

One of the key men in the Yankee picture for 1960 is Steady Eddie Lopat. He's the new Yankee pitching coach, following Jim Turner. Lopat came to the Yankees late in life, as a pitcher but stayed long enough to enjoy five pennants with them. So he expects the Yankees to win.

And while many believe the New Yorkers have won pennants over the years mainly by home runs and stick power, that is not true. The Yankees have come up with the great pitching they had to have to win.

Al Lopez, the great believer in pitching as the number one thing, has said for years that he wants pitchers first, and that he can win with the best pitching. He had better pitching in 1954, with the Indians, and he had it last year, with the White Sox, and he won pennants both years.

But it has been Yankee pitching, more than hitting, which has won the big games for the New Yorkers over the recent span of years. Last season the great pitching wasn't there. Whitey Ford was less than his best. Bob Turley didn't come through. Ralph Terry didn't make quite the splash expected of him.

Ed Lopat will be trying to correct this situation in the next few months. The great lefthander, who had an assortment of junk which baffled everyone when he was right, known all the tricks and is relatively up-to-date on the hitters. His long experience should give him the tools to do the job.

Jim Turner has a great record as pitching coach with the Yanks. Lopat has a tough pair of shoes to step into. But his success or failure will probably determine whether 1960 is "back-to-normal" or not—meaning a Yankee year, in the American League.

Girls physical education classes have finished composing their modern dances with groups and are now composing dances to music, using not more than four people in a group.

When Home Ec II girls finished working with meats they began pastries. They made cherry pop-overs, tarts, and many varieties of pies. The next unit, baking cakes and cookies, will lead to the preparation of full course meals.

First-year homemaking classes are making cotton outfits. After choosing patterns and materials, Miss Doris Valk let them sew on their own. These outfits should be completed within the next two weeks.

Varsity club used the opportunity presented by the picture taking to discuss collecting admission fees at the faculty games.
They approved, and appointed different boys to collect the 25 cent fee at coming games.

Mrs. Wanetta Finch has received information about a state bowling organization. She was asked to send in the scores of the two games bowled Feb. 17 and 28. Four girls, Judy Carr, Nadine Packard, Olive Beeman, and Barbara Apel volunteered. They play at Sylvan Recreation in Chelsea.

Junior High Rocket Club, under the direction of Mrs. Mueller and President Gregory Kuhl, was recently administered a test on the general subject of rockets. This unique event proved very effective, as each member was given a scale model of a lunar two-stage rocket.
Each member was asked to identify the different parts of the rocket and to explain their function. They were quizzed upon the procedure for mixing rocket fuel and fueling the rocket, maintenance of the rocket, and the type of lubricant used. As the test
rocket's thrust, action and reaction, defiance of gravity and lastly, the orbit, were given.

Because of a time problem, the tests will continue through following meetings. Indeed there is much to be said in praise of the Rocket Club, its members, and the advisor.

The Junior High Library club has not met recently, but the library received approximately 100 brand new books. Also, the library has been almost completely cleaned, so please be as careful as you can to use the new books properly and try to keep the library neat.

Sophomores report that Mr.
John McGill's geometry classes are studying the measurement of circles and angles; Mrs. Flora's sophomore English classes are spending their time studying grammar and writing themes. Mr. Marshall's world history classes are learning the history of Germany.

Juniors report a profit of $108 on their bake sale Feb. 20. They had a complete sell-out and many juniors made points for the trip club by working or contributing to the sale. Workers are Sue Eisenbeiser, Pat O'Neill, Carol Danforth, Kathryn Kinde, Ed Lauhon, Mary Jane Harris, Judy Summers, Charlotte Harris.

The dates on which the Juniors wish to serve dinners, March 19 and April 30, have been approved by the Student Council, so plans are being made for the menus and arrangements.

The Junior play committee of Danny Mayer, Lynn Lipphardt, Toni Hagen, Carol Reddeman, and Sue Eisenbeiser chose "The Great Big-Door Step" as their play.

According to Brenton Schultz, park superintendent, the Canadian Geese make their home at the lagoon in the park. Schultz said that this is the first time they have been spotted visiting the area.

Man Honored by Industry State's Truck Driver of the Year

LAWRENCE E. DURHAM
Truck Driver of the Year

That hackneyed old saying about "nice guys finish last" took a beating last week when the Michigan Trucking Association honored a veteran, Detroit driver as the state's Driver of the Year, at Hotel Olds.

Lawrence E. Durham, 57, of 2400 E. Redford township, was chosen by fellow employees and customers alike as "a heck of a guy" who received the coveted trophy from the Michigan Trucking Association's annual honor dinner at the Hotel Olds.

He is the driver judged to have the best record of safety, efficiency and service.

This year's top driver, Chester Durham, 55, Hallett St., Jackson, and his wife, were special guests of the association. Seated behind the wheel of a "cantankerous" solid-rubber-tired truck, for 15 of his 30 years' experience he drove between Detroit and Kalamazoo six nights a week, under every imaginable kind of weather condition.

When he's not behind the wheel of the tractor semi-trailer he drives on an incline route today, Durham is, according to his own description, "pretty much of a homebody."

He lists his favorite pastime and spends week-ends and other periods of time boating and fishing at Belleville.

Trucks and safety awards are pretty much a way of life in the Durham family. Durham's son, Reggie, has been a driver for 17 years and holds a six-year safe-driving record with Cushman Motor Delivery Co., Detroit, where he has been employed for 13 years.

Robert Osterman, personnel and safety director of White Star Trucking, indicated the high respect his firm holds for Durham.

"It'd like to have a hundred more like him. He's a conscientious man and has no complaints as a rule. If he does have one, you know it's legitimate," Osterman declared.

He noted that Durham is an excellent caretaker of company equipment and is quick to report anything that might interfere with the safe operation of his vehicle.

This award automatically qualifies Durham for consideration this fall in selection by the American Trucking Associations of the National Driver of the Year.

★ Chelsea vs. Leslie Probable in Tourney Final

Chelsea's Bulldogs, looking tired after a rough drive in the closing weeks of the season, and their battle with Saline last Friday night, still had enough to defeat a much improved Dexter quintet, 64 to 57, in the tournament opener at Chelsea, Tuesday evening.

In the first game Manchester lost to a tough Leslie quintet, which had to stage a come-from-behind rally to win on the game's last field goal, and add a little garnish with the one free throw.

The local district tournament drew excellent crowds.

By the way, should Chelsea reach the tournament final Saturday night, the game, and all following contests will be broadcast over WOIA.

At Saline, the Hornets had little trouble topping Dundee, 57 to 43. This means of course that Saline and University High will meet in a rematch of their final conference clash, that game will be played on Thursday night, and will also be broadcast.

The local tournament will find Chelsea in action at 7 Friday evening against Stockbridge, while Leslie will be favored over Pinckney in the 8:30 clash.

Bulldog fans, as well as coach Bob Taylor, are hoping that the short break will give the tired gold and blue basketballers a short rest from the trials of "big" games. As it now looks, it will be Leslie and Chelsea in the Saturday night final, that is unless Stockbridge is better than their record indicates. Of course over at Tecumseh, 8 and 12 Clinton-upset Boysville who had a 12 and 4 record, so just how do you figure the tournaments?

New York City—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has been chosen on the United Press International All-American College Basketball team for the third straight year.

Other players on the UPI first five announced today are Jerry West of West Virginia, Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Darrell Imhoff of California and Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure.

Robertson was nearly a unanimous choice of the 388 writers and radio-TV broadcasters who took part from coast to coast. He got all but two first-team ballots.

The UPI second team includes Terry Disinger of Purdue, Tony Jackson of St. John's, Jimmy Darrow of Bowling Green, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech and Chester Walker of Bradley.

Third team men are Horace Walker of Michigan State, Dave Debusschere of Detroit, Tom Sanders of New York University, Walt Bellamy of Indiana and Lee Shaffer of North Carolina.

★ Swimming ...

A new threat to the supremacy of defending champion Michigan and chief contender Indiana in the 50th annual Big Ten swimming championships which opened in Ann Arbor Thursday loomed as Ohio State, hitherto overlooked in pre-meet predictions, held the Wolverines to a hard-fought 53-51 decision last week-end.

It took a one-two punch in the 440 yard free style by Michigan's Bill Baynton and Andy Morrow and Ron Clark's win in the 200-yard breast stroke to pull the meet out of the fire. Last week Indiana broke Michigan's 33 dual meet victory string in a battle which may be repeated this week-end.

Advisory Committee Formed To Organize Workshop for Handicapped Persons

As the result of an effort by Mrs. Venita Dickerson, of 43 Luelia St., Saline township, to find part time work for herself and other handicapped persons an advisory committee was established Thursday to help organize a workshop for handicapped persons and senior citizens in Washtenaw county.

The committee formulates development plans for the workshop and present them to an organizational meeting on March 9. That meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Guild, 322 Packard, Ann Arbor.

All interested residents of the county, whether handicapped or not, may attend. It is expected that charter membership applications will be available then.

The advisory committee has suggested GAP, Inc., as the name for the workshop, according to its temporary chairman, John Walton, Washtenaw county representative of the state vocational rehabilitation service. He said the letters are derived from "handicapped" and "capable."

The workshop plan developed about the first of February when Mrs. Dickerson made a public appeal for quarters for her proposed plan to benefit people like herself, who, though handicapped, could do some work. Mrs. Dickerson is paralyzed from the waist down. She had obtained work from an Ypsilanti factory to do in her home. Later, she moved to an improvised workshop in her garage and planned to have other handicapped individuals come there to work; however, she found this could not be done because of township zoning regulations.

A photo of Mrs. Dickerson in her wheel chair and the story of her efforts to help herself and other handicapped persons was printed at the time in The Chelsea Standard.

Since then she has been looking for a building to house the workshop and for local industries to provide work.

Members of the advisory committee include: Mrs. Dickerson; Walton; Mrs. Shata Ling, founder of the Senior Citizens Guild; Ruth Montgomery, supervisor of the Jackson district of the state vocational rehabilitation service; Deane Rinck, of the vocational rehabilitation division at the University Hospital; John B. Mader, Washtenaw county director of special education; Catharine Sherick, occupational therapist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; Dr. F. B. House, director of physical medicine at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; Maryanna Bender, of the University speech clinic, Dittk Cul-lin; and Ledru Davis and Peter Batskovich, both members of the Ann Arbor chapter of the National Federation of Physically Handicapped.

steps to almost upset the Wolverines again and demonstrate that perennially strong Ohio State will have a say in the title meet again.

Ohio State took an early lead by winning the 400-yard medley relay and the 200-yard free style and then shocked the Wolverines by winning their favorite 100-yard free style from defending champion Frank Legacki and his teammate Carl Woolley.

Sam Hall, the Buckeyes' defending Big Ten diving champion in both the one and three meter dives, beat Michigan's top man, Bob Webster, to presage trouble in the events in which the Wolverines hope to pick up points on Indiana this week-end.

A host of record-breaking performances are anticipated in the meet which opens Thursday with the 1500 meter finals in the Men's Varsity Pool. Frank McKinney, NCAA and Big Ten champion in the back stroke, Mike Troy of the Hoosiers in the butterfly and the Wolverines Dave Glanders in the same event; Frank Legacki, defending champ in the 100 free style and Frank Modine of Michigan State in the breast stroke, are all record threats.

★ Wrestling

Michigan State looked as a powerful threat to defending champion Minnesota in the annual Western Conference wrestling championships at Ann Arbor Friday and Saturday by breaking Michigan's nine-meet consecutive victory string last week-end at East Lansing.

The Wolverines were rated the top threat to the Gopher's chances of successfully defending the crown they won last year from Iowa and Michigan State with the Maize and Blue in fourth place.

Spartan sophomore George Hobbs upset undefeated Mike Hoyle, runner-up last year for the 123-pound championship and Duane Wohlfert beat Jim Blaker of the Wolverines to give the State aggregation a close 14-11 win.

So tight is the championship meet rated again this year that breaks probably will play an important part in deciding the championship. Wolverine coach Cliff Keen believes. Last year only eight points separated champion Minnesota from fourth place Michigan and a single point gave Iowa second place over the Spartans.

Among some of the individual favorites, Dave Cammison of Ohio State at 130 pounds; Norm Young, Spartan 137-pounder and former Conference 130-pound king; Dom Fatta, Purdue 147-pounder; Bob Moser, Michigan State 157-pounder; Denny Fitzgerald, Michigan's undefeated 187-pounder and Bill Koehn of Minnesota at 177 are strong. Four heavyweights, John Baum of Michigan State; Fred Olin of Michigan; Ron Weber of Northwestern and Iowa's Sherwyn Thorton, will fight it out for the title.

★ Hockey ...

Young Bobby Hull is making a strong bid to become the first Chicago player to win the National Hockey League scoring title since 1949.

Hull scored two goals and two assists last week to put himself in contention for the scoring lead with Bronco Horvath of Boston. Both have 73 points. Horvath has netted 37 goals and assisted on 36 others. Hull has 35 goals and 38 assists.

In third place is Jean Beliveau of Montreal with 66 points. Gordie Howe of Detroit is fourth with 64, and Henri Richard of Montreal is next with 63.

★ Baseball ...

The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers don't need much spring training. They reported to Vero Beach, Fla., trim and fit.

About the only players in camp over their normal playing weight are Larry Sherry, the pitching hero of the 1959 World Series, and Righthander Johnny Klipp.

stain who's fully recovered from his ailing back.

Sherry isn't too much over ... about six pounds over his best pitching weight ... and Klippstein doesn't need to worry because the Dodgers are happy to have him healthy again and rid of his miseries.

On the other hand, Dodger Trainer Bill Butler had a few pleasant surprises.

Veteran outfielder Duke Snider has trimmed down to his best shape in at least four years. He checked in at around 190, which is a lot less than his heft of last spring and way under the 206 pounds listed on the Dodger roster.

Another surprise is Righthander Don Drysdale who is 10 to 15 pounds lighter than when he reported last year. He weighs around 200.

The Dodgers are young ... accounting partly for their spirit and hustle. The only players on the Los Angeles roster who really qualify as veterans are Snider, outfielder Carl Furillo and First Baseman Gil Hodges.

Furillo was among the first of the old-time Dodgers to report.

The veteran outfielder is trying to work the kinks out of a bad leg after being benched through most of last year because of his leg miseries. From the way he has been working out, the leg is far better than the Dodgers had hoped.

There have been some good brother batteries in baseball and the Dodgers might provide one this year. Righthander Larry Sherry is a fixture on the mound, and his older brother, Norm, is fighting for the second string catcher's job with Joe Mignatano.

John Roseboro is number one on the catching staff.

A young catcher that other National League clubs eventually will have to watch is Gene Conaway, up from Odessa in the sophomore league. Only 19 years old, Conaway has the type and get-away of a Major League catcher and he's been behind the plate regularly in spring practice. He's destined for A-League ball this year.

Manager Walter Alston's explanation for no winter trades is that the team has too many good youngsters coming up. It's a tough club to make for youngsters and the best guess is that only two or three will make the varsity.

Outfielder Tom Davis, up from Spokane, probably has the best chance. Davis, now 21, led the Pacific Coast League in hitting last season, batting .346. Davis has climbed steadily up the Dodger staircase, first in the old Pony League, then with Kokomo in the Midwest League ... next with Victoria of the Texas League ... and finally to Triple-A ball at Spokane.

Another player who possibly can make it is Frank Howard, a towering slugger whose eagerness still inspires him to reach at bad balls.

Howard played first base in the Dominican League during the winter and set a new record for runs-batted-in, clouting in 46. Since the league plays only about 60 games, it was an enviable achievement.

At Spokane in the latter half of last season, he batted .319.

Of the young pitchers, Bill Harris, last season with Montreal, is given as good a chance as anyone to make the grade.

But a Los Angeles surprise might be an old-timer, who's not even on the roster.

Ed Roebuck, who goes back to the days when the Dodgers played in Brooklyn, has seemingly lost the spark from an ailing right arm that kept him out of the big time last season and handicapped him in seasons before.

He's been showing a lot of stuff in training camp ... reflecting an 11-and-nothing record with the Escogido club of the Dominican League. Roebuck, last season with St. Paul, had a 1-4 earned run average in the Dominican circuit.

Manager Alston has the Dodgers running like they've never run before ... and that includes daily calisthenics, push-ups and Kentucky Derbys around the outfield.

The Dodgers are probably the least likely club in either Major League to do any trading. They're that good.

BUSY BEAVERS 4-H CLUB

Administrative leaders, Mr. and Mrs. George Liebeck were hosts to the regular meeting on Feb. 27. Plans were made for the club's window display for National 4-H Club Week which begins on March 5. Robert Hanneveld and Gerald Armstrong are co-chairmen.

Many helpful ideas were brought back by the sewing leaders, Lucille Schoonover and Vernita Prentice from a project leaders meeting held recently at Jackson. Much headway is being made by the sewing girls at their weekly meetings at the Schoonover home.

Special March events are being planned by the committee. Diane Reynolds is a newly appointed member of the committee.

Several members sang with the Stockbridge High School Boys' Chorus at the Munnith Methodist church, Sunday. Many handicraft projects are being assembled at the meetings, which are held each Saturday morning at member's homes.

Area Republicans Invited To Hear Guest Speakers

Ann Arbor Republicans will meet Thursday March 8 at 8 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Community Center's new building 625 North Main St., according to Gilbert E. Bursley, GOP city chairman. All-area Republicans are cordially invited to this annual meeting to adopt a city platform for 1960 and to listen to two outstanding speakers drawn from the national and state level.

Featured speaker from Washington will be Philip McCallum, Administrator of the Small Business Administration whose recent appointment to that important post by President Eisenhower was confirmed by the Senate on Jan. 26. McCallum is a native of Michigan and a graduate of the University High School in Ann Arbor and the U. of M. in 1936. He obtained his law degree from the U. of M. in 1939. He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the Federal Bar Association and the American Bar Association. A long-time resident of Washtenaw county he was a leader in local Republican activities.

Guest speaker from Grand Rapids is Judge John Letts, the first Negro in the state ever to be elected to a judgeship without previously holding an appointment to the post. Judge Letts, 48, moved to Grand Rapids a little over five years ago to become a parole officer for the Michigan State Department of Corrections. He won his Municipal Judgeship in April 1959 over his opponent by a vote of 16,000 to 10,000.

Letts was appointed an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney in Kent county three years ago, is a 1951 law graduate of Suffolk University in Boston, Mass.

After the two speakers, Bursley announced the proposed Republican 1960 City Platform will be read by Joe Edwards, platform committee co-chairman. A discussion and adoption will follow and then light refreshments. All area Republicans and interested voters are cordially invited to meet the speakers and attend this meeting, Bursley stressed.

Volunteer Library Workers Now Have New Name Badges

Members of the PTA volunteer school library committee are now wearing identification pins for the benefit of students and faculty at the schools where they do their library work. The pins were obtained by Mrs. Richard Ringe through the courtesy of Eugene Anderson, personnel manager at Chrysler Corp. The identification tabs and pins were donated by the Chrysler Corp.

Mrs. Carl Schwieger, chairman of the volunteer library committee, said the gift was greatly appreciated since there had been a need for such identification for some time.

Volunteer mothers of school children as well as other women of the community are now on duty at North and South Elementary school libraries every afternoon, Monday through Friday, from 12:30 until 3:30 p.m. Teams of two work together on days when extra large numbers of students use the library facilities.

Those now working at the North Elementary school library are Mrs. Norwood Bush, Mrs. William Rich, Mrs. Philip Vogel and Mrs. Lewis Bernath.

Workers at South Elementary school are Mrs. Curtis Farley (two full afternoons each week), Mrs. Edward Wisel, Mrs. Richard Ringe who also works at North school, Mrs. Ralph Swanson and Mrs. Franklin Gee.

Because of illness, Mrs. Ted Balm and Mrs. Basil Reilly have temporarily discontinued their volunteer work; however, they remain on the list of volunteers and members of the library committee.

Still on duty as volunteer assistants at Chelsea High school are Mrs. Wilbert Grieb, Mrs. Leo Tuttle, Mrs. Edmund Kayer and Mrs. Fred Schumm.

Mrs. Lewis Bernath and Mrs. Chester White are at the Junior High school several mornings and afternoons each week.

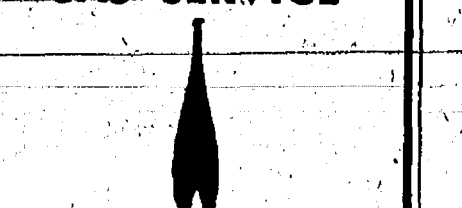

Mrs. Schwieger, commenting on the work being done by the volunteers said the women are to be commended for keeping the libraries "beautifully organized and affording the extra services to the teachers."

She said fifth and sixth grade students also deserve credit for their work of assisting the women volunteers. Approximately 120 books is now the average daily turn-over at each library, Mrs. Schwieger said.

Kiwanis International Wins National Citizenship Award

Kiwanis International has won a top award (the George Washington Medal in the Americana competition) again this year from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

The award was given for Kiwanis' eleven point program on individual citizenship responsibility headed by the organization's 1959 theme "Build Individual Responsibility." It came to Kiwanis on Washington's birthday at special ceremonies conducted at the Freedoms Foundation headquarters in Valley Forge, Pa., according to William Rich, president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. In addition, he said, Kiwanis received the Distinguished Service Award for having received at least nine awards in the eleven annual competitions sponsored by the Freedoms Foundation. The award was accepted for Kiwanis by Albert J. Tully of Mobile, Alabama, President of Kiwanis International.

According to Rich, "The Freedoms Foundation Award has long enjoyed the same stature in the community service field as the 'Oscar' enjoys in the motion picture field and the 'Emmy' in the television field."

The Kiwanis International award came to the organization because of its overall program of community service work carried on by nearly 258,000 members in 4700 clubs. The work covered the fields of agriculture and conservation, boys and girls work, public and

The photo of Mystery Farm No. 87, published without identification on the Feb. 25 issue of The Standard, was recognized at once by dozens of area residents as the Samuel Guthrie Farm west of Chelsea. The place is now owned by the daughters, Miss Lida Guthrie and Mrs. Allie Floyd, both of whom were born there.

Through the exact date is not known, the house was built by a Backus and sold to James Taylor in 1872. The farm was sold to George Taylor who owned it 11 years before selling it to Samuel Guthrie, and his bride, the former Miss Newton went there to make her home when they were married Oct. 4, 1883. They spent the remainder of their lives there. Mrs. Guthrie died Dec. 23, 1929, and Mr. Guthrie died May 25, 1952, at the age of 97 years. He had moved here in 1883 from his birthplace in one-quarter mile east.

In addition to the two daughters, a granddaughter, Mrs. Horace Robson, was also born there and made her home there until her death.

Miss Lida Guthrie is well known throughout the Chelsea area having been employed at Fenn's Drug Store for 50 years. She has been a registered pharmacist for more than 20 years.

All present buildings on the farm, with the exception of the house, were built in 1913 following a fire on April 26 of that year. The house was saved but all other buildings were destroyed. The house has been modernized through the years.

The New York Central railroad was in front of the house, and for many years the old Detroit and Milwaukee electric car line ran parallel to the tracks. Because of the proximity of the two transportation lines, many accidents occurred at the crossing, known as West Guthrie crossing. Many times, injured persons were brought into the Guthrie home to be cared for until physicians could reach the scene.

Many older residents of the neighborhood recalled going into the house to warm themselves at the round oak stove while waiting for an interurban line car. Some who drove a horse and buggy for some distance to board the electric railway car would stable their horse in the Guthrie barn until they returned.

"West Guthrie Crossing" has been a familiar landmark, not only for people of the community but for railroad personnel as well. Mrs. Floyd's husband, the late Olivien Floyd, having been a New York Central railroad conductor, passing the home on his trips from Detroit to Chicago and return.

For many years a mail carrier was located at the crossing. Mail bags deposited there as the train sped by were picked up by the mail carrier and taken on foot to a post office located originally in the home of Henry Franklin at Sylvan Center.

Later, the post office was located at the James Beckwith and William Salisbury homes, respectively.

Two of the mail carriers of those early days were James Ward and John Knoll.

Also recalled by older residents was a big freight train wreck at the crossing about 60 years ago. Many carloads of wheat were spilled along the right-of-way and area farmers were given an opportunity to purchase the grain at a fraction of its cost for hauling it away to be used as feed.

Until recently, a pump was located in what is now a picnic area behind the house. Railroad crews working in the area would send their water boys there to fill the water buckets carried on a yoke across his shoulders.

At present, the 40-acre farm is titled by a neighbor, Paul Kalmbach.

Originally 80 acres in size, 40 acres of the farm was sold some years ago to William Laird. The 40 acres was later sold to Albert Forner who now owns it. One corner at Guthrie and Cavanaugh Lake road, was sold to Max Hepburn and he and his family now make their home there.

Among those who called The Standard office to identify the farm was Clarence Gilbert of Pontiac. He said that he and other boys who worked for farmers in the neighborhood when he was young always tried to get to the Guthrie farm by noon so they could eat their lunch in the shade there and get water from the well.

First to call in the correct identification of the Guthrie farm was Leigh Beeman.

Others who correctly identified it are the men at Baless Elevator, Arthur Paul, Robert Freysinger, Allan Broesamie, Anton Nielsen, Mrs. Walter Buntler, Sharon Bolinger, Mrs. Harold Wahl, Mrs. Coral Combs, Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, Mrs. Calvin Clark, Martin Slane, Miss Lida Guthrie, Mrs. Herbert Jacob.

The list continues with Mrs. Thelma Franklin, Mrs. Eber Squiers, Gerald Welch, Mrs. Inez Rank, Haskell Worden, Jr., John W. Steele, Jr., and Mrs. William Fahrner.

The ideal wife is one who knows when her husband wants to be forced to do something against his will.—Sydney J. Harris.

Red Cross Collections Total $840

Receipts in the 1959 Christmas Seal campaign in Washtenaw county have reached $28,961, John D. Renton, TB association treasurer, reported to the Board of Directors at the Feb. 23 meeting. Preliminary plans for the annual meeting include polling the membership to help select the date. Proposed evenings are April 28 and May 8.

O. Herbert Ellis, president of the association, appointed Mrs. Albert C. Johnson of Ypsilanti township as chairman of the nominating committee. Other members are William E. Bowling of Pittsfield township and Ralph V. Wright of Ypsilanti.

George Bacon Cited by Olivet College

George Bacon of Fort Wayne, Ind., formerly of Chelsea, was one of three alumni of Olivet College who received citations for illustrious careers at Founders' Day services held at the college Thursday.

Selection of citation award winners was made by an alumni committee, the presentations being made by Gorton Rietzhammer, president of Olivet College and himself a former Chelsea area resident and graduate of Chelsea High school.

The citation stated that George Bacon, following a severe illness, left the Bowser Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., and was given a rousing send-off as "Gentleman George" in the Bowser publication. Every page of the issue was covered with a send-off message.

Stressed were his kindness and understanding and his contribution in directing and acting up new sales offices across the nation.

Following his retirement, his health improved and he now takes an active part in community affairs. Among his activities are membership in the Chamber of Commerce and Plymouth Congregational church and chairmanship of the Minnie E. Keyes Foundation of Olivet College.

Relatives present for the Founders' Day service and the citation award ceremony included Mrs. Henry C. Schneider of Chelsea, Donald Bacon of Chelsea and Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Fletcher of Urbana, Ill., Mrs. Fred Dewey of Birmingham, Mrs. Norman Phelps of Coldwater, Reynolds Bacon of Farmington, and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Bacon, Jr., of Grand Rapids.

Vacancies Still Exist For Recruits Under Reserve Forces Act

Ann Arbor—Twelve young men are undergoing six months' Army training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., as a result of recruiting efforts of Washtenaw county's Army Reserve Center here. In addition, two others are awaiting orders for active duty.

In a summary of recruitment, Maj. Charles P. Trickett, area Reserve advisor, said that vacancies still exist in local Reserve units for other young men who wish to fulfill their military obligation under the unique provisions of the Reserve Forces Act.

Under that law, those ranging in age from 17½ to 26 may sign up with a Reserve outfit of their choice and go on active Army duty for six months for basic and specialized training, after which they attend two-hour weekly meetings of their home-town units, for a varying number of years. The Reserve service also calls for two weeks' summer duty at an Army camp.

Farm-Stored Grain Under Loan Needs Inspection

"Farmers with grain stored on the farm and under price-support loan should inspect the grain in the near future," said Max M. Kalmbach, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

With warmer weather coming, insects will become more active and any moisture from leaks in the storage structures will cause damage.

Kalmbach recommended an inspection of farm-stored grain because the loan agreement requires the owner to maintain the quality as well as the amount of grain under loan.

Inspection of farm-stored grain should include checking these items: insect infestation or activity; moisture leaks in walls and roofs; caking or accumulation of moisture in the top layer of grain; holes permitting birds or rodents to get to the grain; and any fire hazards, particularly if the building is made of wood. Drainage around grain storage structures should also be checked since ice and snow frequently interfere with natural drainage, Kalmbach added.

Birmingham Man Takes Spring Dip In Huron River

Harlan Davis of Birmingham took his spring swim early this year!

With temperatures hovering around 25 degrees above zero, Davis was tossed from a boat into the freezing waters of the channel at Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park.

After getting back to shore, he borrowed dry clothes from members of a work crew. Along when the incident happened was Charles Simmons, field engineer for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and resident of Bloomfield Hills, Broughton Schultz of Dexter is the park superintendent.

Wheat Grower Without Allotment Should Advise County ASC Office

"Any farmer who has seeded wheat for harvest as grain next summer but who does not have a wheat allotment or a feed wheat exemption should notify the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of his estimated acreage," Mrs. Carolyn Stump of the county office said today.

In this way county records can be established and steps can be taken to make such a farmer eligible for a wheat marketing card if he decides to sell any of his grain.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, any grower who produces more than 15 acres of wheat is subject to a penalty on any "excess" wheat harvested. The penalty must be paid before the wheat is eligible for market.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

Hartford, Conn.—Joseph Gonzales went on trial on a charge of escaping from the State prison. Then it developed that he had been improperly sentenced and shouldn't have been in prison that long in the first place. He was freed of the escape charge. But then he was convicted of stealing a car in the process of escaping the prison.

Pleasures may be greater in anticipation, but so are troubles.

Delores Schmitz Becomes Bride of Vincent Dault in Saturday Ceremony

The marriage of Delores Frances Schmitz and Vincent K. Dault was solemnized at a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church with the Rev. Paul M. Schmitz officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Raymond Schmitz of Jackson road, Ann Arbor, and the late Mr. Schmitz, while the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Christopher Dault of Alpena and the late Christopher Dault, Sr.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Rudolph Schmitz of Ann Arbor, chose for her wedding a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The lace fashioned the fitted bodice with its long tapered sleeves and sabrina neckline lavishly trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was of layers of tulle re-embroidered with matching lace and extending into a chapel-length train. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones.

The bride's sisters, Loretta and Nancy, as maid of honor and junior bridesmaid, respectively, were gowned alike in mint green lace and nylon organza and wore matching bow-trimmed headbands. The maid of honor carried a cascade of yellow mums while the junior bridesmaid carried yellow and white fuji mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schmitz wore royal blue nylon over flowered print, while the bridegroom's mother wore a medium blue dress. Each had a corsage of white roses.

Richard J. Dault, a nephew of the bridegroom, was best man, and Jerry Dault, another nephew, and George Mock, cousin of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 200 guests at the American Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake. Those who assisted at the reception included Mrs. Raymond Roberts who cut the wedding cake, Mrs. Delbert Boke of Manchester, who poured punch; Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, who poured coffee; and Mrs. W. G. Cook of Ann Arbor, in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride was wearing a mint green net suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses taken from her bridal bouquet.

A 1958 graduate of Chelsea High school, the bride is now employed in the bookkeeping department at Chelsea Milling Co.

The bridegroom, who attended high school at Alpena, is employed in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dault entertained the wedding party and other friends and relatives at their home at Cavanaugh Lake following the rehearsal Friday evening.

CAVANAUUGH LAKE GRANGE Cavanaugh Lake Grange, with nine members and three guests present, met for a pot-luck dinner Tuesday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Adams.

Readings given during the after-dinner program included "Tribute to the Grange," by Mrs. Walter Riemenschneider; "Chaplain's Message," by Mrs. Leonard Loveland; and "A Mother's Praise to Milk Men," by Mrs. Lyman Adams.

Legion Auxiliary Plans St. Patrick's Party

A regular meeting of Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, American Legion Auxiliary, was held Tuesday evening at McKune Memorial Library.

Mrs. Harold Spaulding, reporting for the Auxiliary's rehabilitation committee, announced that another coffee hour has been scheduled for patients at the VA hospital at Ann Arbor. It will take place Saturday, March 12.

Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., junior activities chairman, said Junior Auxiliary members are making shamrock table favors to be used at the coffee hour.

Mrs. Popovich also reported that the Junior Auxiliary girls plan to use money they earned selling Christmas items to purchase petticoats for children at the Legion Bazaar at Otter Lake.

The junior group has planned a St. Patrick's party at the home of Mrs. Popovich on March 17. The Legion Auxiliary voted to purchase Mothers' Day cards and handkerchiefs to be distributed to patients at the VA hospital free of charge so they may send them as Mothers' Day remembrances to mothers or wives.

The next regular Auxiliary meeting is scheduled for April 5. It will be held at McKune Memorial Library. Mrs. Walter Nelly, Second District Auxiliary president, and her secretary, Mrs. Lucille DeRyke of Milan, have been invited to be guests at the meeting.

The secret of happy marriage is simple: just keep on being as polite to each other as you are to your best friends.—Robert Quillen.

THE GREATEST MODERN MOVEMENT Toward Improved Health

More than one-third of our nation's people voluntarily and freely pay for medical or hospital care in advance through cooperative insurance plans. This is probably the greatest voluntary movement toward improved health and welfare in the history of the world.

Every phase of this activity is laudable. The cooperation of industry and its employees, and the foresight of breadwinners to invest money in their families' health in advance of actual need, are evidence of progress. Active participation of the medical profession is evidence of its stature.

The desire for improved health, and the newly found personal pride and dignity of the individual are universal, and you may depend upon us, as upon your physician, in the achievement of these objectives for your family.
