Patron's Tickets Are Now Available For Minstrel Show

Three Projects May Benefit From Proceeds

A joint meeting of all committee members and division heads, including the executive committee, Chelsea's Old Time Minstrel Show and Vaudeville-Extravaganza, was held Tuesday night.

It was announced after the meeting that from the many worthwhile projects suggested to share the proceeds from the show, three had been selected. Repair of the new McKune Memorial Library was one to be included. It was pointed out at the meeting that such repair was needed in the funds now available in the library's Building Fund and that the annual receipts were only sufficient to operate and maintain the building and could not be expended to include such repairs.

Another chosen was the Fire Building Fund. Money received from the firemen will be added to the already accumulated in this fund. It is hoped that the community will become more aware of the need for improved fire hall facilities and that this will start a fund raising.

Improvement of Pierce Park was a third choice. It was suggested that the baseball diamond should be enlarged, that the developed area should be expanded to include all the land actually within the park's boundaries, and that additional facilities need improvement.

Each ticket purchaser will be given the opportunity to vote for the project he feels is most worthy. This voting procedure will be announced in next week's Chelsea Standard.

George Palmer said after the meeting that he is now selling patron tickets for the show. Any person buying such a ticket will be given preferred seating in the center section at the front of the auditorium, and will be included in the list of patrons on the back of the program. Of course a slight amount will be charged for these tickets, but he is confident that many people will show their support for this year's Chelsea community extravaganza and buy one of these patron tickets.

Dr. P. E. Sharrard, chairman of the show committee, has begun preparations for the contest and formation of various committees such as making scenery, music, and other. To assist him, an application book has been included in today's issue of The Standard to be filled out and mailed to Paul "Jerry" Sharrard by anyone and everyone wishing to serve on any committee or be in the cast, or just plain take part in the good times.

Fire Department Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

Chelsea firemen held their annual meeting Monday evening and re-elected Ted Balmer fire chief, subject to approval by the Village Council.

Also elected, subject to Village Council approval, was Charles Hafner as assistant fire chief.

Other officers elected are George Atkinson, captain; Paul Bollinger, first lieutenant; Richard Rogers, second lieutenant; David Longworth, secretary-treasurer; and James Gaken, member of the board of trustees for three years.

Sewer Rate Increase Being Studied

At the regular Tuesday evening meeting of the Village Council, Harold Strout, the engineer on the Chelsea sewage disposal plant improvement program, submitted to the Council several possible sewer rate schedules.

These higher rates are proposed to increase the sewer revenue to meet present and future expenses at the plant.

The cost of running the disposal plant has for some years exceeded the income from sewer rates, according to Council members. When the plant is enlarged the state will require hiring of another full time operator which will make this deficit even greater.

The Council took under advisement the proposed rate increases submitted by Strout and plans to act upon them at the next regular meeting.

At the finals, on March 24, the winner will receive the Pinewood Derby trophy. There will also be prizes for second and third place winners.

All Cub Scouts are to bring their cars to be put on display at the Pack meeting.

H. G. Gage Dies in Fall From Ladder

H. G. Gage was killed about 4 p.m. Monday when he fell from a ladder while attempting to remove ice from an eave trough at his home, 481 South Steinbach Rd.

In addition to operating his farm he was employed at the King-Seely Corp. Selo plant.

He was a member of the Chelsea Congregational church.

Known to his friends as H. G., his full name was Herman George. He was born in Sylvan township, Oct. 20, 1919, a son of Elba and Lella Fletcher Gage and attended Chelsea High school with the class of 1938.

On April 4, 1942, at Ann Arbor, he was married to Elma Desmond and that same year, on Sept. 13, he entered the Ordnance Department of the U. S. Army, serving overseas during World War II. He was honorably discharged Dec. 10, 1945.

Survivors are his widow, two sons, Edward H. and Paul E., at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage; a sister Mrs. Don Labo (Mary Ann) of Flint; one brother, Walter Gage of Tucson, Ariz.; and one nephew and three nieces, Lynn and Patricia Gage of Tucson, Ariz., and Sharon and Elleen Labo, of Flint.

Funeral services are to be held at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Muehligh Funeral Chapel in Ann Arbor with the Rev. Philip Rusten officiating. Burial will take place in Forest Hill cemetery, Ann Arbor.

Girl Scouts Praised for Open House

Approximately 300 persons attended the Girl Scout open house held last Friday night.

The Scout's pageant, "Service in Our Community" was very well presented.

Conducting and narrating of the pageant was done with admirable poise by the Mariner Scouts. Their display of self confidence and pleasant manners should be an inspiration to their younger sister Scouts.

Mrs. Oscar Hackhath, service project chairman of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, came from Ann Arbor especially to see the program and to learn of the services done by Chelsea Scouts. She was impressed by both and had many nice comments about the Scouts' efforts.

Exhibits on display were principally of arts and crafts and sewing projects. One troop displayed a "pen pal" and exchange project with a Florida troop. All were very interesting and colorful.

Mrs. Theodore Faust and Mrs. Harold O'Neil were go-directors of the open house, assisted by troop leaders and co-leaders.

In addition to the open house, special activities of Girl Scout Week here include a display in the show window at Foster's Men's Wear store. The display had been arranged by Mrs. Elmer Lindows Troop No. 149, with assistance from Robert Foster and M. J. Anderson.

Mrs. Wilber Worden's Troop 77 was responsible for publicity posters.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schrader, Sr. were their granddaughter and her family, L. and Mrs. John Xenos and daughter, Pam, of Fort Bragg, N. C. Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Xenos' mother and brothers, Mrs. Robert Strouse and sons, David and Robbie, visited them here.

Mrs. E. W. Eaton Named To Head Library Board

McKune Memorial Library Board organized and elected officers at a meeting held at the library Tuesday evening. Officers are Mrs. E. W. Eaton, president; Miss Mabel Fox, vice-president; the Rev. Philip Rusten, secretary; and Mrs. Fredrick Wagner, treasurer.

Miss Fox and Mrs. Wagner were named as the publicity committee and Mrs. David Soule and Mrs. Wagner were designated as the extension committee in charge of contacting the townships for improvement of library services.

The Rev. Philip Rusten and Dr. P. E. Sharrard are to serve as a maintenance committee. The Rev. Rusten is also a member of the special projects committee of which Mrs. Soule is chairman. The librarian, Mrs. Frank Wojcikowski, is also a member of the special projects committee.

On the book committee, considered one of the most important committees, Dr. Sharrard was appointed chairman. All members of the board and the librarian are on this committee.

Duties of the committee include selection of books and determination of their worth and desirability as acquisitions to the library after reading the books.

The decision to purchase books read by committee members is based on six factors in the following order: readability; demand by or service to the public; entertainment; reference; replacement; and finally, development of areas where the library might be in need of additional material.

Tuesday's meeting was the first attended by the newly-elected member, Mrs. Soule. Miss Fox was re-elected in Monday's Village election.

Spelling Champs Named For Two Grade Schools

Mike Tarasow, spelling champion at South Elementary school, and Tim Grove, North Elementary school champion, are to participate in the district spelling contest scheduled to be held at Dexter on Friday, April 8.

The contests here and at Dexter are preliminaries to regional contests leading to a national contest to select the nation's champion speller.

The two school champions won the contests at their respective schools last week Tuesday.

Runners-up at South school was Roger Frisinger and at North school, Ronald Haab.

The school champions' prizes are bronze medals, Papermate automatic pencils and certificates of championship.

Union Lenten Service Held at Congl. Church

The Rev. E. J. Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home, delivered the sermon at the United Lenten service held last night at the Congregational church.

Enlarging on the topic "My Christian Faith—And Hope," the Rev. Weiss explained that the hope of man is based on man's faith; however, hope carries on beyond faith—hope is a working out of each individual's faith.

Theme of all united Lenten services this year is "My Christian Faith," each week's sermon subtopic taking up a different area of its effectiveness.

Next week's service will again be held at the Methodist Home Chapel with the pastors at the Home presiding.

The Rev. Allan Reed of St. Barnabas Episcopal church is scheduled to be at the Methodist Home topic, "My Christian Faith—And Duty."

Spring Arrives Next Sunday, Officially, at Least

Spring will arrive at 9:43 a.m. Sunday, March 20. That is the exact moment (Eastern Standard Time) when the sun crosses the equator from the south to the north and at that instant the sun will be directly overhead at the mouth of the Amazon River in South America, according to James Hoffmeyer, eighth grade science teacher at Chelsea Junior High school.

Hoffmeyer pointed out that days are now getting longer at the greatest rate of speed of any other time of the year.

The time between sunrise and sunset on March 1 was 11 hours and 30 minutes. By March 31 this will have increased a full 90 minutes to 13 hours and 40 minutes.

Elementary Schools To Close Wednesday

North and South Elementary schools, kindergarten through sixth grades, will be closed all day Wednesday, March 23, to permit teachers to score and record results of achievement tests which have just been completed; however, if, because of bad weather, schools are closed for a day before then, the teachers will do the scoring and recording on that day and classes will be held Wednesday, as usual.

Chest X-Ray Program Underway

Free chest x-rays are being made available for Chelsea area residents at a mobile x-ray unit located on East Middle street near the Municipal building today and tomorrow.

The unit will operate here from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Chest x-ray surveys are now being conducted throughout Washtenaw county, according to announcements made last week by Dr. Otto H. Engelke, Washtenaw County Health Department director. The survey is being done by four x-ray units which have been made available by the Michigan Department of Health.

Each year, more new cases of tuberculosis are discovered through chest x-ray surveys. Nearly all of these persons are unaware of the fact that they are infected. Cases found during surveys are nearly always in the early stages and, therefore, respond better to treatment, it was said.

X-ray units, such as will be in the area, can take more than 100 x-ray films per hour, eliminating waiting periods for the x-ray. Dr. Engelke reminded residents also that there is no undressing required, that reports are mailed directly to the person having the x-ray and to the family doctor named by him to receive the report of the x-ray.

X-rays will be taken at Manchester, Monday and Tuesday, March 21 and 22. On Monday the unit will operate from noon until 6 p.m. and on Tuesday it will operate from noon until 8 p.m. It will be located at the Main Street bridge.

The unit will be at Broad and Main street in Dexter from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. Thursday, March 24 and from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday, March 25.

194 Children Immunized At Clinic

Results of the Immunization Clinic held March 8 in Chelsea schools show that a total of 194 children were served, it was revealed today by Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw County Health Officer.

Totals of the clinic indicate that 142 children were given smallpox vaccinations and 146 children were immunized against diphtheria and tetanus.

The Chelsea clinic was one of more than 40 such clinics held throughout the county by the Washtenaw County Medical Society and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

The Medical Society has been sponsoring these clinics when they were held in schools for 17 years, and immunizations are given to children without charge. Practicing physicians in the community staff the clinics without pay, the schools offer the physical facilities for the clinics and numerous community citizens volunteer their services in the clinic.

Two local doctors, Dr. Fisher and Dr. Shadonn, conducted the clinic in the Chelsea school.

Friendly 'Coon Makes Residence On Front Porch

For the past two weeks a friendly 'coon has been making himself at home on the front porch of the farm residence of Mrs. Lester Stoffer, 14567 North Territory.

Mrs. Stoffer believes the 'coon was someone's pet.

She first noticed that suet put out for birds had been disappearing from the yard so she began looking it in tree-branches, but that also disappeared.

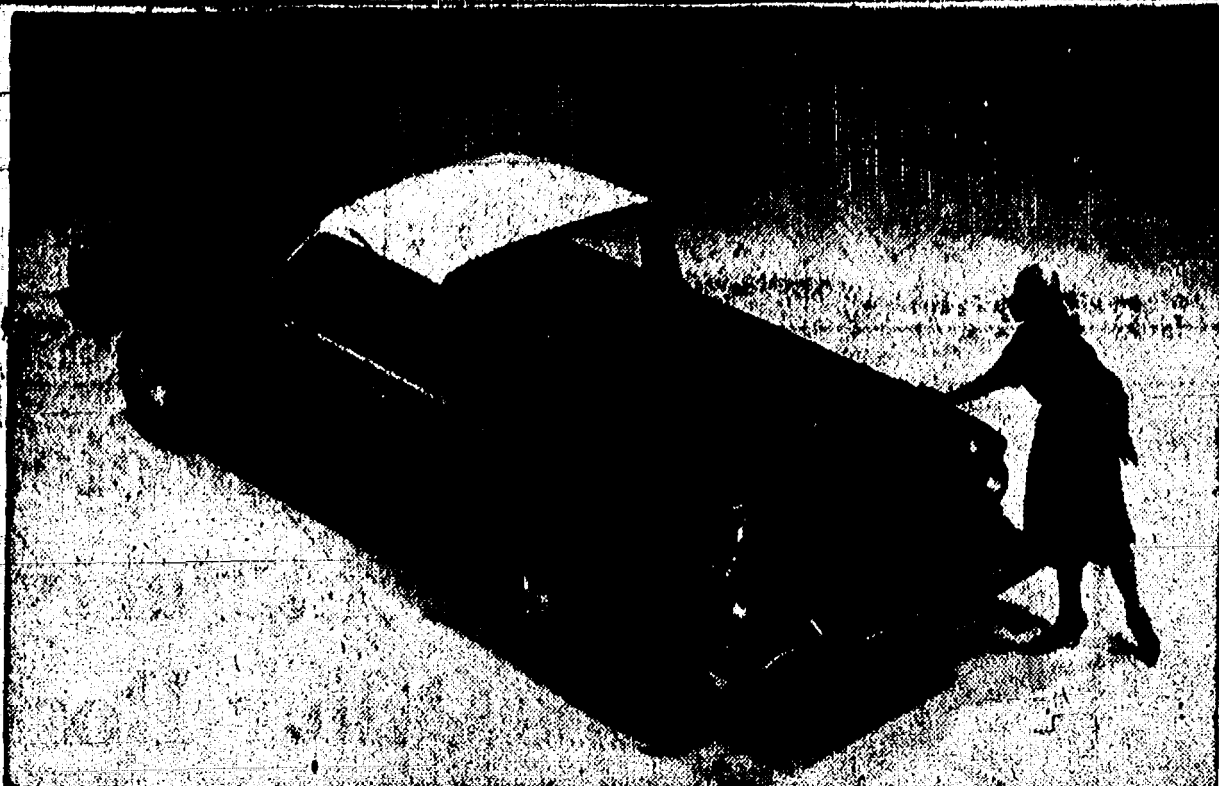

The answer to "the case of the disappearing suet" came with discovery of the raccoon.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

★ Consumer, Wholesale Price Prospects

Everyone is necessarily interested in what is going to happen over the next several months to the cost of living and prices in general. There are numerous forecasts. These range from a slight decline through a period of general stability, to a rise of up to three percent.

We have no generally recognized index of the cost of living. The nearest thing to this is the Consumers Price Index compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This carefully compiled series, as in the case of all government indexes, uses the average of 1947-49 as equal to 100. But it is not a cost of living index. It covers the prices paid by urban workers of moderate income for some 800 items, weighted by the relative importance of the article in total expenditures of these groups. The index is not corrected for seasonal variations, and this gives a certain unevenness over each year.

According to this series, consumer prices were stable during 1954 and 1955. In 1956 and 1957 prices rose moderately. In 1958 they stabilized again and this continued through the first quarter of 1959. In the second quarter of 1959, however, the index started up slightly and that has continued to the present.

The question is: what is the trend of the index going to be for the rest of this year?

The answer to this will depend upon the relative movements of various components making up the series. The cost of service will continue to rise. So will transportation and housing, which includes rent. Apparel also is likely to increase slightly in price. This leaves, among the large items, food. The cost of this should be down, not sharply but at least a little.

In my judgment the decline of food prices will not be sufficient to offset the upswing in other elements of the index. This means that the Consumer Price Index will drift slowly upward for the rest of 1960. The rise will not be sharp, and it should not show an increase every month, but by the end of the year the figure should be, say, one percent above that for December 1959.

Prices in general are measured by the Wholesale Price Index. This covers only commodities—services, interest, rent and so forth are not included. This is one of the important factors accounting for the failure of this and the Consumers Price Index to move more or less identically.

Wholesale prices were stable from the beginning of 1953 until the middle of 1955. For the next approximately three years there was a moderate upward trend, and for the past two years there has been no over-all trend. It is important to note, however, that the stability of the past two years have been caused by farm and processed food prices declining by enough to offset the upward trend in other prices. This is a precarious manner by which to get stability and it is questionable whether it can continue.

In other words, such evidence as we have, and the logic of the situation, indicate that this price index will begin to rise slightly before long. Again, it will not be a sharp advance, but by the end of 1960 the figure probably will be at least one percent above the present.

It would be much better for everyone, and for the nation, if such increases did not take place. But there is no effective manner by which they can be prevented at this late date.

County Committee Named by GOP To 'Recruit for '60'

A new "grass roots" program to bolster Republican organization in Michigan for the 1960 election campaign is rapidly taking shape under the banner of "Recruit for '60'."

Appointment of nine regional vice-chairmen in the new drive to recruit volunteer workers was announced by Gordon Getsinger, of Oakland county, state chairman.

Mrs. Inez Zimmerman of 1810 Fourth St., Jackson, has been named regional vice-chairman and will be in charge of the program in Monroe, Lenawee, Jackson, Washtenaw counties.

"Recruit for '60' is a national GOP program aimed at obtaining three new volunteer workers in each precinct for the 1960 campaign.

The state program is directed by a committee of three—Getsinger, Mrs. Burdette Mayo of Kalamazoo, and Richard V. Root of Wayne—and each county has a committee of three supervising the work of getting three-member committees for each township and city and three volunteers in each precinct.

This election is one of the most important years and we can expect the largest turnout of voters in Michigan history," Getsinger said. "The object of 'Recruit for '60' is grass roots campaigning to keep the people fully informed of the issues."

Inez Zimmerman is a housewife who has agreed to devote part time to the important job of supervising the organized effort to get volunteer workers for the Republican party. "Recruit for '60' volunteers will work with regularly established county and local GOP committees.

The Washtenaw county "Recruit for '60' committee is Mrs. Donald Baldwin, Chelsea, Mrs. Russell Dobson, Ann Arbor and Betty Wisner, Ypsilanti.

Although grayling and rheumatic, Jack still pulls a plow for his owner, J. Edward Naylor, of Marlboro.

PETRIFIED

San Francisco—When a woman telephoned police that "a kid stiff as stone" was sitting in Mission Dolores park, they went around and picked him up.

Some prankster had dressed him in blue jeans and a red jacket. He weighed 200 pounds, being a solid concrete garden statue.

Police have named him Valentine and are holding him for his rightful owner.

THAT DIRTY DOG!

Atlanta, Ga.—One of the Atlanta Police Department's new police dogs got his first man. He bit a policeman.

Patrolman Jack Scott said he and his partner answered a call recently and were sitting in their squad car when Patrolman J. F. Harrison drove up in another car with a dog named "Riff."

Harrison and "Riff" went over to the other patrol car. The dog leaped up at the window and bit officer Scott on the hand.

PIGEON V.I.P.

New York—In this teaming metropolitan city lives a pigeon who thinks he is a person. He lives in a house, sleeps in a bed, and watches television.

It all began about eight years ago when Mrs. Lillian Schmidt saw a little girl in a park trying to feed an injured baby pigeon.

Mrs. Schmidt took the pigeon home and nursed it. After two unsuccessful attempts to return the pigeon of its natural habitat, during which the pigeon personage almost met a sticky end attempting to get back to its benefactress, Mrs. Schmidt finally gave up and thereby acquired a roommate of long standing.

State Should Capitalize

On Expressway Network

East Lansing—Michigan's new network of expressways were described as a "new resource for Michigan" at a "Freeway Operations Seminar" held at Michigan State University recently.

Carl Goldschmidt, MSU rural-urban planner, said the expressways offer an unprecedented way of changing the state's economy for the better and he urged that the state capitalize on its new super highways.

"The new expressways can benefit along such varied lines as decentralization of industry and tourism," Goldschmidt said. "Expressways can be either idle ribbons or keys to expansion."

The Way the Ball Bounces

With Tom Johnston

While some of you are thinking about baseball, this reporter is just trying to catch a breath from the basketball season. Ann Arbor and Willow Run are at this writing, still in the tournaments, and we are as expected, following these last area teams to their elimination. On Saturday, we'll be in Lansing for the finals, and then we hope that we will be able to take a week's breather before the baseball season starts to shape up. A heavy schedule has even cut down on our chance to review the basketball season, but we'll make it for sure next week.

In the meantime, this has been a big week on the national sports scene, so let's take a look at some of the happenings.

The Detroit Piffleur team just wasn't good enough Tuesday night to hang onto its American Bowling Congress open teams title. But Team Captain Eddie Lubanski still has a fairly easy chance for individual honors.

The Piffleurs could score only 2,930 in team play last night. Good enough only for seventh place in the current standings of the 1960 tournament being rolled at Toledo, O. A year ago they won the title by rolling 3,243.

However, the big surprise came, when the Piffleur company announced late Tuesday afternoon that they were dropping sponsorship of the world-famous team, because we sell in only a 3-state market and the cost of a national team is too much for the good it does in our market.

The Detroit Lions have traded veteran Defensive Halfback Jim David to the Los Angeles Rams for former Michigan State All-American Sammy Williams.

The trade was announced Tuesday by the Lions' front office. David has been with the Lions since 1952 and has been one of the key men in the defensive backfield of Detroit.

During his eight years with the Lions, David intercepted 36 passes and returned them a total of 289 yards.

Williams has been in the National Football League only one year. He was drafted by the Rams before he ever played college football.

A native of Danville, Mich., Williams entered military service after his freshman year at Michigan State. His class graduated before he got back into action as a Sophomore with the Spartans. As soon as his class graduated, the Rams drafted him. He went on to play for Michigan State and won "Big Ten" and "All-American" honors there.

Williams is 29 years old and David is 33. Williams now lives and works at Marshall, Mich.

National Football League club owners... meeting in Los Angeles... have approved two extra football games.

The owners played a 1961 game in the Miami Orange Bowl between the runners-up in the Eastern and Western Conferences of the league during 1960. The game will be held eight days prior to the pro-bowl game in Los Angeles. The league commissioner will draw up a contract under which not less than 75 per cent of the profit would go to the NFL player benefit plan.

Owners also gave their blessing for contracted rookie players to participate in an East-West All-Star type game to be played in June. The game is sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association... and the players will participate on an optional basis. It is tentatively scheduled to be played at Hershey, Pa.

Dodger President Walter O'Malley says a good offer has been made for the Montreal franchise in the International League.

Backers of a Continental League franchise are expected to accept or turn down the offer within the next 48 hours. Negotiations have been going on since Sunday.

O'Malley set a price of $150,000 on the Montreal franchise, which includes 12 established Triple-A players.

O'Malley says that if they don't accept, it will clearly indicate the Continental League will not have the financial backing necessary to operate a Major League.

New Orleans will be without a baseball team for the first time in 59 years.

The New Orleans Pelicans have turned their franchise back to the Southern Association. The franchise was immediately offered to Little Rock, Ark., but officials doubt whether they can get a team ready for opening day.

The decision by the Pelicans did not come as a surprise. The club didn't have enough money to begin the season.

A spokesman for the Pelicans said: "We tried to make baseball a success in New Orleans... but no one offered us any assistance."

Detroit Manager Jimmie Dykes says that Rookie Outfielder Steve Boros and Shortstop Casey Wise have a chance to open the season for the Tigers.

Boros, who hopes to replace home-run slugger Charley Max, well, has been sensational at the plate in three exhibition games. Wise, obtained from Milwaukee, made a hit with Dykes when he doubled and singled in two appearances against New York Tuesday.

Until now, it had been taken for granted that Chico Fernandez, obtained from Philadelphia, had the Tiger shortstop job sewed up.

PERU PREPAYS PART DEBT
Peru recently joined the small groups of nations repaying in advance some of their debts to the United States.

The Export-Import Bank has announced that Peru has prepaid $10,500,000 of a $15,500,000 loan made in 1958. Payments under this loan, which had been made to help Peru over a severe pinch in her balance of payments, had not been due to begin until 1962.

They were remembered with many gifts.

NEWS HOLLYWOOD

Ida Lupino, directing her fifth show for Boone's "Have Gun, Will Travel," always wears around her neck a gold medal, inscribed: "I love you today as I loved you the day we were married." From Howard Duff, match.

Today's picture review: SEVEN THIEVES
Here is a crime melodrama from which violence, mayhem, blood and gore are agreeably absent. Its excitement and suspense of which there is a good deal, derive from the unfolding of an ingenious, seemingly foolproof scheme to rob a plush Monte Carlo gambling casino of a vast haul of legal tender.

Edward G. Robinson turns in a brilliant and gentle performance as a professor whose talents have led him into crime. He masterminds this daring plot down to its last scientific detail, supremely confident that it will be the triumph and climax of his career.

Six accomplices are required to pull the deal off. They range from a shapely cabaret dancer (Joan Collins) to a burly, quick-witted, resourceful American character (Rod Taylor), who joins the group reluctantly, even though he has had some previous experience along these lines.

Eli Wallach figures prominently and effectively in the cast as one of the accomplices. Suspenseful.

Salt Lake City—A love letter arrived in the mail recently from Los Angeles for Mrs. Frank Siciliano, Jr. She was thrilled, and her husband did not mind. The letter was written by him.

He wrote it 12 years ago, several years before they were married. No one could figure out just where the letter has been in the time since it was postmarked in 1947.

School Librarians To Meet at U-M for Spring Conference

The 10th annual Spring Conference of the Michigan Association of School Librarians will be held at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor on Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19. The theme of the conference is "School Libraries: Windows on the World." Miss Johanna M. Wiese, Chelsea school librarian, will represent the local schools.

The high point of the conference will be the presentation of "The New Standards for School Librarians" by Esther Burin, president, American Association of School Librarians.

The standards have been prepared by the American Association of School Librarians, a division of the American Library Association, in co-operation with 20 professional organizations.

The 1960 Standards, a revision of the 1945 Standards, are designed to recognize the many new developments which have occurred that have affected the use of library resources and services in the education of youth. It has been pointed out by educators that the school library stands as a symbol for the truthful expression of man's knowledge and experiences. The extent to which many children and young people of today will be creative, informed, knowledgeable, and within their own years, wise, will be shaped by the boundaries of the content of the library resources available within their schools.

According to the United States Office of Education, in 1958-59, about 47 per cent of the schools in the United States received service from classroom collections only; about 37 per cent received service from centralized libraries; and 11 per cent of the schools in the United States received service designated as 'any other type of library service.' Only 5 per cent of all schools reported no library service.

There is an organized library in each of the four schools in the Chelsea School District: Senior High school, Junior High school, South Elementary school and North Elementary school.

$30,000 Goal Set for County Cancer Fund

A goal of $30,000 has been set for the 1960 Cancer Crusade, it was announced today by Thomas L. Dickinson, chairman for the Washtenaw County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

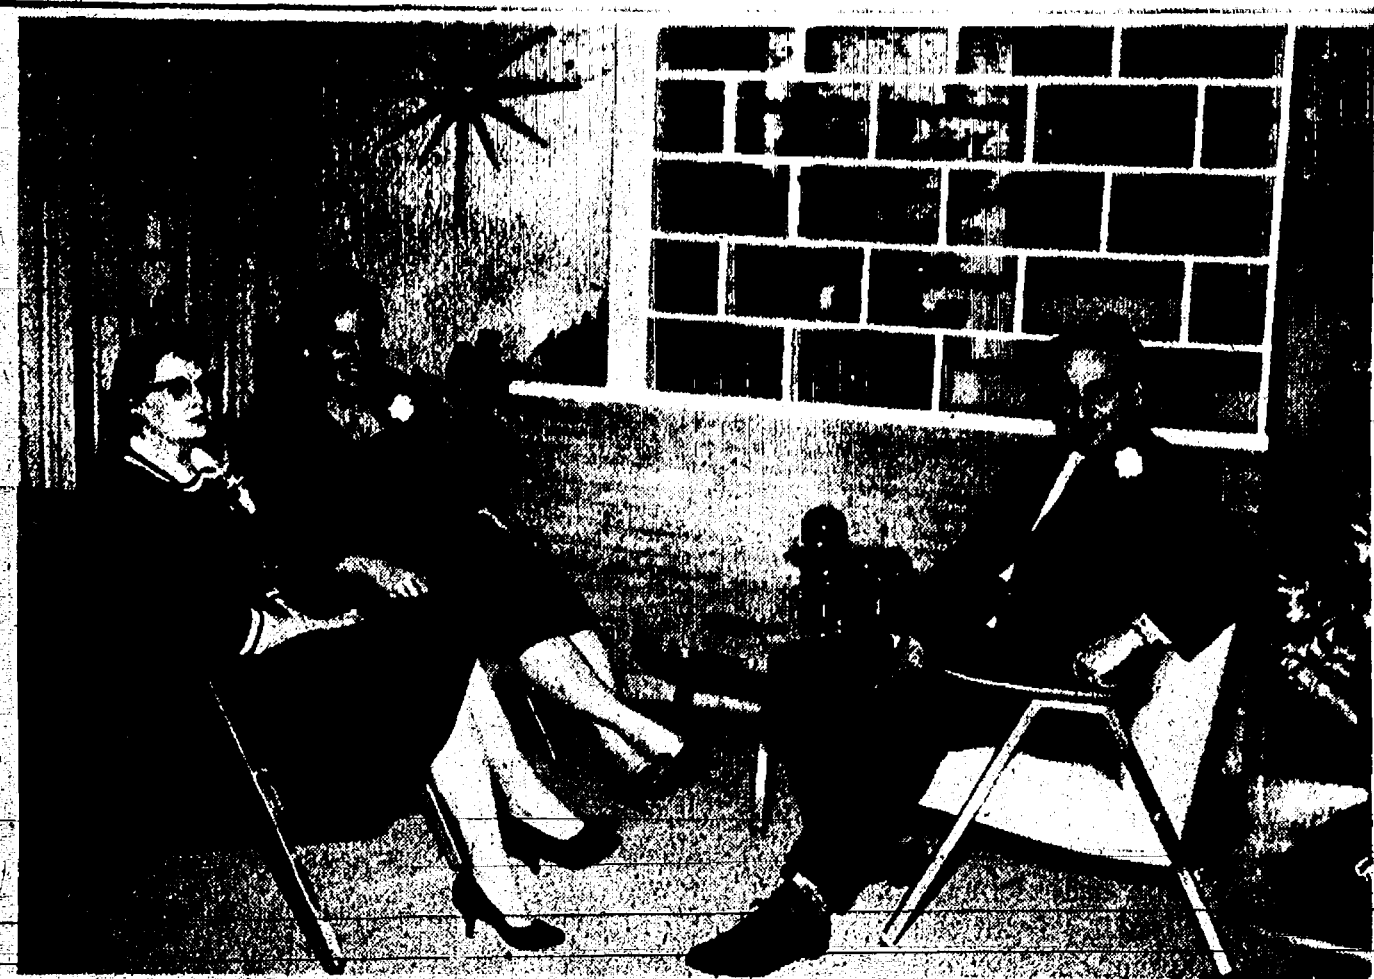

The annual fund appeal will officially open April 1 and continue through the month of April.

With the slogan "Guard Your Family—Fight Cancer With a Check-up and a Check," the cancer crusade committee will explain the purposes, projects, objectives and needs of the American Cancer Society in a mailing to be issued next week in certain areas of the county. No mailing is planned for Chelsea.

Donald Bacon is Chelsea chairman for the Cancer Society and Mrs. John Chaplin will assist him by heading a house-to-house educational campaign and fund solicitation the latter part of April. Dickinson explained that half of the contributions received in the county-wide appeal are retained by the Washtenaw County Unit, with the balance allocated between the national and state programs of the American Cancer Society.

"In addition to the local program of education and service," he added, "the University of Michigan receives extensive support from the American Cancer Society for a wide range of cancer related investigations."

The Washtenaw County Unit sponsors the Cancer information Center, 343 Municipal Bldg., Ann Arbor, which is staffed by 45 volunteer workers who provide cancer education—filing, revolving loan fund without interest for needy cancer victims in the area, a loan closet of equipment, and nursing care.

NEW OFFICE OPENED—Mrs. Donald Dancer, left, doctor's assistant, and Mrs. Russell Abdon, receptionist, with Dr. V. R. Hanson, are seen here, seated at the mobile conversational grouping which is one of the features of the doctor's newly-opened office on Old US-12. The grouping of chairs on a round wool carpet is centered with a roiloid coffee

table centered with a decorative arrangement planned by Mrs. Hanson and utilizing imported blown glass balls on a tiered glass tray, the colors of the glass picking up and blending with the color scheme of charcoal and white, with russet and cerulean-blue accents. Approximately 800 people attended the open house Sunday.

Scio Church Road Mystery Farm Now Owned by Arthur Koengeters

Mystery Farm No. 89 is another of the area farms that have been owned by the same family for many years. Now owned by Arthur Koengeters of 308 Linda Ave., Ann Arbor, the farm has been owned by Koengeters since his grandfather, Christian Koengeter, purchased it in 1864. In four years it will be eligible for designation as a centennial farm.

The farm was secured from the U. S. Government in 1935 by George Page.

The Christian Koengeter family included two sons and two daughters, all well known in the area throughout their lives, but all now deceased. They were Mrs. Dan Kauter, Mrs. John Eschelbach, and Mrs. Koengeter and George Koengeter.

The latter and his wife, Ricka, became the owners in 1910 and lived there until they retired and moved to Chelsea in 1927. Their sons, Clarence, and the present owner, Arthur Koengeter, as well as three daughters, Esther, Elsie and the late Hilda, all were born here.

Now Mrs. Reuben Leaser of Chelsea-Manchester road and Elsie is Mrs. Max Ziegler of Chelsea. Arthur Koengeter lived on the farm until 1942 when he and his wife and daughter, Joann, moved to Ann Arbor. He has been employed for some time at Steeb Brothers Market.

The daughter, Joan, is now Mrs. Rolland Frey, of 321 Eighth St., Ann Arbor.

Since the Koengeters have lived in Ann Arbor the farm has been operated by tenants. Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Horning and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bauer.

Band Boosters Club Defines Their Goals

Mary Ann Hanson and David Winans, Jr., represented the senior and junior bands, respectively, at the March meeting of the Chelsea Band Boosters Monday evening.

The meeting was held in the band room at Chelsea High school.

The two band representatives brought up the question of an overnight trip for their respective bands and the Band Boosters went on record as being in favor of such a trip for the senior band only.

It was suggested that the junior band would think of an overnight trip project as a reward for them when they reach the status of senior band members.

It was recommended by the ways and means committee that the variety letters for band members be paid for out of the band fund.

Band Boosters voted to purchase sweater and certain other band awards.

It was also voted to hold a bake sale to raise funds.

A request for volunteers to act as ushers at the May 4 festival met with sufficient response to fill the quota needed.

Volunteer chaperons will be recruited later for the proposed senior band trip.

Goals of the Band Boosters were listed, giving first priority to scholarships; second to sweater and blanket awards; and third priority to instruments.

Mrs. Lucille Olson, director of the high school cafeteria, was commended for her assistance with the lunch program at the March 5 district band festival held here.

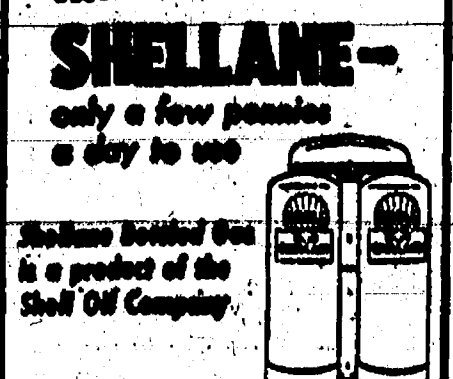

It was announced that the next Band-Booster meeting will be held April 11.

Entertainment at Monday's meeting was furnished by David Winans, Jr., who played a saxophone solo, and Barbara Barnath who played a bass clarinet solo. They were accompanied on the piano by Gayle Grove, the school's instrumental music director.

Word of Caution Regarding Drivers in Relationship to School Buses
We have some advice for readers which we have given before, but which we offer again with no apologies for the repetition.
Under the law in the State of Michigan, and many other states as well, drivers are required to stop when school buses are approaching or taking on passengers. This means that if you approach or take on passengers, either from the front or the rear, you must come to a halt and remain halted until the school bus again is on its way and any youngsters alighting from the bus are off the highway.
In hilly areas, on days of poor visibility, or on curves, cars traveling at today's high speeds are often hard-pressed to stop if they do not see a standing bus a good distance ahead. Although school buses are supposed to show blinking lights and a stop signal in the form of a raised sign, these signals are sometimes flashed dangerously late by the bus driver and the oncoming car is given very little time to stop.
In an effort to avoid any possible accident involving school buses or children, we ask again that you take extra special precautions whenever approaching a bus.

Dignity of Senatorial Position Demands An End to Filibustering
The one now going on in Washington will draw particular attention throughout the world because of its subject—civil rights—and its probable duration.
Such actions on the part of men elected as our top government officials, do little to enhance our position as a world leader in the eyes of our friendly foreign nations, and most certainly it gives those unfriendly to our system of government a tremendous propaganda weapon.
There is little question that the issue in dispute is a very serious one—one that must somehow, in some way, be recognized as a part of the nation's life.
The United States Senate is our highest elected government unit. With it supposedly goes character and prestige, fairness and clear, intelligent thinking.
We elect these men to face up to each and every problem that confronts them and to resolve these problems intelligently and in the best interests of the nation as a whole. The act of filibustering is contrary to all these standards and is no less distasteful than mob reaction. It is certainly not the job for which we elect our public officials. Neither we, nor the U. S. Senate can close our eyes to the fact that the filibuster is a mob reaction.

PENTAGON STUDY

The Pentagon is preparing a report intended to allay fears that the Soviet Union's lead in intercontinental ballistic missiles assures that country of the capability of destroying the United States with a sudden attack.

The report is being prepared for use by President Eisenhower and high defense officials to answer attacks upon the Administration's defense policies—notably attacks on the "missile gap."

CAMPAIGN SPENDING

A major revision of the outdated law controlling election campaign spending and reporting has passed the Senate with a vote of 59 to 22.

The bill goes far beyond what its most enthusiastic Senate backers had expected in tightening reporting requirement and closing loopholes that have made the old Corrupt Practices Act of 1925 virtually ineffective for controlling modern campaign financing.

Club of CHS, under the direction of Mr. Alfred, has planned a swimming meet at the Ann Arbor High School on March 19. They have in the French club, directed by Mrs. W. Grieb and Mrs. Edward Kayser who decorated the library showcase window in a display of seashells. Along with the seashells were placed many books to help the students understand the different kinds of shells and their formations. Mrs. W. Grieb and Mrs. Kayser suggested that any student having a collection of things, which would help the pupils of this school to better understand nature, may loan those collections to the library for display. Such showcase displays are changed every two weeks.

High School Student Council members attended the Junior High School Student Council meeting on March 10 to observe the type of meeting they conduct. During the meeting three musicians from Detroit were interviewed as possibilities for assembly material, but after some discussion, both councils turned down the idea. Student Council members Victor scientific magazines for their six-week report.

Miss Joan Weiss is very pleased with the new books that have come in for the Elementary schools. In the new stock are such books as Fene du Bois' "Otto in Texas," Andrews' "In the Days of the Dinosaurs," Flora's "Charlie Yip and his Snap-Snap Boys," Telford's "Ken of Centennial Farm," and Herbert's "Mr. Wizard's Experiments for Young Scientists." The library owes a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Wilbur Grieb and Mrs. Edward Kayser who decorated the library showcase window in a display of seashells. Along with the seashells were placed many books to help the students understand the different kinds of shells and their formations. Mrs. W. Grieb and Mrs. Kayser suggested that any student having a collection of things, which would help the pupils of this school to better understand nature, may loan those collections to the library for display. High School Student Council members attended the Junior High School Student Council meeting on March 10 to observe the type of meeting they conduct. During the meeting three musicians from Detroit were interviewed as possibilities for assembly material, but after some discussion, both councils turned down the idea. Student Council members Victor

Blechazzyk and Paul Frisinger attended the newly-formed League of Student Councils last Thursday, at U. High school, Ann Arbor. When "bread baking" was a unit in second year homemaking, the girls learned many new recipes. Most of the efforts turned out well. The girls unanimously say "We'll improve with practice."

Because most of the third-year homemaking students are seniors, Miss Doris Valk says the girls will continue sewing on their woolen outfits until their trip. Some girls are making two-piece suits, but most of them are making vests and skirts. They hope to have them completed so they may wear them in New York.

In first year work, the switch from winter to spring clothing is coming up. These girls are trying to meet this deadline and finish their cotton blouses. A few more advanced girls are making skirts to go with their blouses.

The Future Teachers, at their 1st meeting, March 8, discussed the experiences of upperclassmen as cadet teachers. Seniors are George Wilson, Barb Bertke, and Charles Cameron. Juniors are Lynn Lippert, Judy Speer, Judy Summers, Jill Barkley, Mary Jane Harris, Tassy Cavadas, Sue Eisenbeiser, Kathryn Kinde, Pat O'Neill, Susan Grossman, Carol Danforth, Dave Lixey, Carolyn Miller, Joan Weinkauf, Markella Young, Linda Burghardt, Lane Cantelli, Nadine Lemtz, Stan Dyer, and Ruth Prentice, FTA president.

The point system for FTA pins was also discussed.

The Girls Athletic Association will be having a pot-luck supper with the GAA girls from Manchester on March 22 with basketball for recreation afterwards. Acting toward making the party a success are committees on food, Judy Carr, Nancy Carter, Judy Weinkauf, Judy Miller, Linda Koenigster, on greeting, Ellen Fisher, Judy Welch, Joanne Brown, Barbara Irwin, and Linda Batsdorfer; clean-up, all freshmen.

It was stated that after a member misses three meetings they're automatically out of the club. Girls are reminded to report their points to Nancy McCalla, the point secretary. Girls will receive two points per basketball game they play in. They decided to have the club pay the $1.00 fee for those girls entering the bowling tournament.

The sophomore candy sale still shows good results—it is so successful that they have had to reorder. In fact, the candy is so good they have trouble keeping the candy on hand.

Juniors met March 4 to discuss the play and name committees. Mrs. W. Finch, play director, named Kay Runciman as student director.

President Danny Mayer and Mrs. W. Finch named the committees to work on the play, as well as the set-up and workers for the banquet they will serve March 10.

Chelsea Implement Co. Has Franchise for New Comet

Chelsea Implement Co., Inc., 3231 Manchester, Chelsea, has a franchise to sell the Comet when this new sized car is offered to the public March 17, E. F. Coll, Detroit district sales manager for Lincoln-Mercury Division, announced today.

Coll said the car has a 114-inch wheelbase for the best combination of maneuverability and riding comfort and is powered by an economical engine of the most modern design.

Stanley Beal, president of Chelsea Implement Co., predicts the highly-styled economy car will have great public appeal. He reported that his dealership operations are being re-aligned to prepare for the anticipated high volume of Comet sales.

"We believe that the Comet is an excellent addition to our product line and will find many proud owners in our area," Beal said.

The new car, with a longer wheelbase and smoother ride than other smaller cars, still is two to three feet shorter than standard cars.

It has the clean styling of more expensive cars and features a horizontal aluminum grille flanked by dual headlights.

The Comet series is one of the widest in the new economy field. It includes a two-door sedan, a four-door sedan, a two-door station wagon and a four-door station wagon. Each body type can be purchased as a standard model or with optional trim which includes bright window moldings, contour seats, more luxurious upholstery, carpeting (in passenger cars) and bright trim door moldings.

The suggested retail price of the Comet two-door sedan is $1,999, exclusive of state and local taxes or delivery charges. This is less than 10 models of the other American-made six-passenger compact cars in this field. The station wagon prices begin at $2,310.

The new car features a welded unitized body. The only bolt-on members are the front fenders which were designed this way for quick, cheaper replacement.

Because of weight savings of more than 1,250 pounds, compared to a typical standard-sized car, the Comet gives excellent performance as well as fuel economy. A Comet driver can expect to get up to 28 miles to the gallon.

Comet passenger cars can seat a family of six and have 20.6 cu. ft. of storage space in the trunk compartment. Cargo space in the station wagon is 76.2 cu. ft., equivalent to a closet eight by five by nearly two feet deep.

Although powered by an economical 90 h.p. engine, the Comet achieves excellent performance because of weight reduction and design simplification. Buyers of the new car have the choice of either a specially-designed three-speed synchromesh transmission or a two-speed automatic transmission.

Greater Number Of Top Students Enroll at U. of M.

Ann Arbor—The percentage of freshmen enrolled at the University of Michigan who were in the top 10 per cent of their high school classes has risen from 40 to 51 per cent since 1955.

Figures compiled by Byron L. Groesbeck, U-M assistant director of admissions, also reveal that 78 per cent of freshmen admitted in September 1959 were in the upper 20 per cent of their high school classes.

"All U-M freshmen students are admitted on a selective basis," says Gayle C. Wilson, associate director of admissions. "To the limits of its facilities, the University admits all qualified Michigan applicants likely to succeed in their chosen programs of study."

Out-of-state applicants are admitted to fill the remaining places in the new student quota. For many years about one-third of the entering freshmen have come from out-of-state, Wilson reports.

In September 1959, 7,570 students applied for admission to the U-M as freshmen. Of this number 5,215 were admitted, and 3,226 enrolled. Wilson explains that about 50 per cent of out-of-state applicants and 75 per cent of Michigan applicants admitted actually enroll.

He says the high number of qualified applicants is due in part to the fact that "high" school principals and counselors have come to know which students are likely to succeed at the U-M and make college recommendations accordingly."

Groesbeck adds that selectivity affects freshman drop-out rates. About nine per cent of 1958 U-M freshmen were ineligible for further studies at the end of their freshman year—a low dropout rate compared to the national average.

SHIPBUILDING SUBSIDY

The Department of Commerce opposes any increase in the subsidies paid by the Government to build ships.

At present the Government pays up to 50 per cent of the cost of building a new cargo or passenger ship. A bill before the Senate would eliminate the 50 per cent limitation.

But, in recent testimony, Under Secretary John J. Allen, Jr., said the Commerce Department opposed the bill.

Debut of the Comet

Today, at your Mercury-Comet dealer's, first compact car with fine-car styling—priced with or below other compacts.

You're looking at the exciting new value-packed compact—Comet. NOTE ITS BEAUTIFUL STYLING. No sawed-off, cut-down look, here. The Comet is proportioned like a fine car—long flowing lines, outstanding good looks. LOOK CLOSELY AT THE EXTRA FEATURES. You pay nothing more for dual headlights, front and rear arm rests, door-operated dome light, foam padded front seat. And the trunk holds enough for the whole family on a long trip. YOU'LL MARVEL AT THE ECONOMY. Comet's new simplified "six" engine delivers up to 28 miles per gallon of regular gas. YOU'LL REVEL IN THE RIDE. No choppy steering, no bumpy traveling in Comet. The longer wheelbase (114" instead of 107" in average compacts) gives Comet a smoother ride, yet it turns on a dime. NOW, CHECK THE PRICE. Comet is priced with or below other compacts like Rambler, Corvair, Lark, Valiant and Falcon. COMPARE ALL THE COMPACT CARS—and you'll come away with a Comet. It's now at your Mercury-Comet dealer's.

FINEST COMPACT WAGONS ON THE MARKET. The new Comet wagons go far beyond what you might expect in a compact station wagon of this size. There is over 76 cubic feet for storage—as much room as in some wagons costing hundreds of dollars more; a retractable rear window takes the place of the old-fashioned liftgate. And, there is ample room for six adults with plenty of space left over for baggage. Along with the Comet two- and four-door sedans, there are two- and four-door wagons as well.
