Operation Alert' Termed Successful

W. J. Grossman, Civil Defense director for Zone VI which includes Chelsea area, said yesterday that his report to Gerald Miller, Michigan county Civil Defense director, stated that Tuesday's "Operation Alert" was a complete success here.

Robert Schroen, Chelsea radio officer (CD), kept him informed on messages and "emergencies" and played information about the progress of the simulated evacuation of Wayne county.

Grossman received information from the county Civil Defense director that "Wayne county evacuees" were listed as follows: Zone 2, 15,000 persons in 1,000 vehicles per hour; Zone 3, 10,000 persons in 1,000 vehicles per hour; Zone 4, 10,000 persons in 2,000 vehicles per hour; all headed west.

Wayne county supervisors called for Chelsea when they were "notified" to set up the emergency government seat in the principal building here after the first warning at 1 p.m.

Grossman said complete reports on the Civil Defense exercise were not yet available yesterday since part of the program was still in effect.

Radio Operator Schroen remained at his station in the Central Fire tower building to receive and transmit information as would have to do in case of ever failure in an actual emergency.

Supervisors and other key personnel who came to Chelsea as part of the exercise Tuesday included Robert Marsh, Howard and Viola Blackenburg, Theodore Weber and Roy Smith of Ypsilanti; Carl Johnson, John Rae, Ed Becker, Curt Will, J. P. Reynolds, Edward Frederick, Ruth Davis of Ann Arbor; William and Ethel of South Lyon.

The list continues with Sylvester and Thelma Sanford, of Clinton; Henry Leutheuser and Charles Gordon of Saline; R. C. and Clayton Parr of Manchester; Freeman Weber of Northville township; Leigh Beach, Carl and E. A. Wolter, Emory Mulholland of Dexter.

Present from the Chelsea area were Sylvia Township Supervisor Mrs. Hoffman, Lyndon Township Supervisor George Bauer, Dexter Township Supervisor Walter Eisenbeiser, Village President Donald Alber, Civil Defense Director W. J. Grossman, Dr. L. J. Paul of the Chelsea Civilian Defense Committee, and Chief Ted Palmer and George Atkinson of the Chelsea Fire Department.

Wayne County Clerk Lucille M. Smith was also among the officials who "took over" the Municipal Building here as the county government seat during the Civil Defense exercise.

Group To Discuss Possible Lions Club for Chelsea

Richard Kern, Jack Dettling and Elmer Kiel are on a committee for a men's supper meeting at Stiver's at 6:45 p.m. this evening for the purpose of hearing representatives from the Inkster Lions club explain procedures for possible formation of a Lions club here.

The supper meeting is being held, courtesy of the Inkster club, representatives to include Lions' District Governor Ball and Extension Chairman Schettler.

The meeting is open to men of the Chelsea area.

Contracts Let On Village Street Repair

T. P. Flynn Co. of Detroit, was the low bidder on the contract for street work to be done in Chelsea this summer. Extent of the work to be done is dependent on the money available.

Present plans call for reconstruction of West Middle St. from Main St. to the west edge of the Washtenaw County Road Commission yard; Park from Main to East, reconstructed; and resurfacing of Lincoln; Garfield from Summit to Lincoln; Hayes from the railroad tracks north to North St.; and East St. from the railroad tracks north.

Washington St. is to be patched as the only improvement until next year because of the proposed construction of a new water main from the corner of Main and Summit and east on Washington.

Schultz Brothers of Concord was awarded the contract for the village parking lot-masonry and for the village sidewalk, curb and gutter work to be done this year.

PROJECT WINDBREAK—Sixth grade students at North Elementary school, under leadership of their teacher, Jack Good, planted approximately 85 Norway spruce trees 12 to 16 inches tall Friday at the west edge of the school playground. The project was a special observance of Arbor Day; however, plans for the event had been processed in their science classes for some time past and as each phase of the project planning was decided upon, after thorough study, plans were posted on a bulletin board in the classroom. Preparation involved correspondence with the county agricultural agent and agricultural and conservation authorities of the state before the class decided on Norway spruce trees as best fitting their needs. They placed an order with E. C. Fisher who sold the trees to the class at cost. The class raised the $60 cost of the trees and a protective wire fence with steel posts which they had erected prior to Friday's tree planting by means of candy sales, a puppet show and contributions from various sources. Danny Salyer (top row, center) was chosen by his classmates to make formal presentation of the first tree to School Superintendent Charles Cameron. Those who appear in the photo are, upper left behind the rear row, Linda Nelson and Cynthia Hepburn. In the rear row standing from left, are Barbara Arnett, Sandra Johnson, Judy Aronson, Sandy Bauer, Penny Eisenbeiser, Peggy Dehn, Susan Ellenwood, Jack Good, Superintendent Charles Cameron, Danny Salyer, District Forester Victor Horvath who advised about proper planting procedure, Elementary Principal Arthur Schmunk, Tim Grove, Bill Marsh, David Good, Eugene Morley, Garry Scripser and Earl Brown. In the front row are Marleen Marsh, Sandra Sharp, Diane Hoover, Cheryl Hadley, Pansy Stanley, Jim Romine, Ray Weiner, Allen Willis, Tom Adams, Bruce Cluckey, Robert Brady, Ronnie Haab and Larry Sanderson.

Cancer Fund Totals $1,100 For Chelsea

Donald Bacon, who was Chelsea co-chairman with Mrs. John Chaplin, of the April campaign for funds for the American Cancer Society, gave a dinner Thursday evening for all workers who had assisted.

The dinner was held at the Congregational church. Mrs. Chaplin presided.

Because Bacon could not be present, Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman spoke on behalf of Central Fibre Products Co., announcing that the company and Bacon had contributed $500 to the Cancer fund, bringing the present, incomplete total for Chelsea to $1,100.00.

Workers who were invited to the dinner included the following: Mrs. Guy Barton, captain; Mrs. Max Kaimbach, Mrs. George Beeman, Mrs. Charles Fuhrmann, Mrs. Howard Boyce, Mrs. Thomas Masterson.

Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, captain; Mrs. Billie Robertson, Mrs. Robert Eisele, Mrs. Olin Brotherton, Mrs. Robert Adams.

Mrs. Alfred Weinmann, captain; Mrs. John Myers, Mrs. Julius Reule, Mrs. Noel Laraway.

Mrs. Richard Riemenschneider, captain; Mrs. Raymond Johnson, Mrs. Duane Boyer.

Mrs. Paul Mann, captain; Mrs. Theodore Faist, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. James Shadon, Mrs. George Knickerbocker, Mrs. George Marshall.

Mrs. J. Wilbert Smith, captain; Mrs. Norma Popovich, Mrs. Anna McDonald, Mrs. Toivo Rihimaki, Mrs. James Howe, Mrs. Frank Reed, Mrs. Tootsie Hale.

Mrs. Stephen Clark, captain; Mrs. Charles Gelman, Mrs. Donald Houle, Mrs. William Storey, Mrs. Roland White, Mrs. Edwin Dickel, Mrs. Alfred Smith.

Mrs. Julius Bleas, captain; Mrs. Jack Pfeiffer, Mrs. George Merkel, Mrs. Robert Bertke.

Mrs. James Allan, chairman, Mrs. Mary Merkel, Mrs. Eva Impola.

Individual solicitors included Mrs. Thelma Franklin, Mrs. Fred Patterson, Mrs. Orville Mock, Mrs. Henry Karner, Mrs. L. H. Klumpp, Mrs. Cecil Freeman, Mrs. Donald Baldwin, Mrs. Jay Weinberg, Mrs. Stephen Slane, Mrs. Alan Conklin, Miss Aida Juergens.

Hot-Rodders Told To Stop Highway Drag Racing

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reports that with the coming of spring weather numerous calls are coming in to report hot-rodgers and drag-racing in the county. Quite a number of these calls indicate this type of activity in the Dexter vicinity, along Zeeb in the Chelsea vicinity.

Officers warn that this is a dangerous practice both for the parties doing the racing and for anyone who incidentally happens along in their path.

Supervised racing on approved strips is recommended for those wishing to participate in drag-racing and not open highway or back road racing, as these are never closed off for this purpose and danger is always imminent.

Panel on Teen-Age Drinking Brings Out Varied Opinions

A panel meeting on teen-age drinking sponsored by the Washtenaw County Committee on Alcoholism and held April 26 at Ypsilanti High school, resulted in a general opinion that simply ordering a teen-ager not to drink is more than likely to result in his or her doing just the opposite.

Young people, teachers and parents were among the group who attended the panel.

The panel discussion also brought out a number of other opinions about the problem of teen-age drinking.

Mrs. Elizabeth Berry of Ann Arbor, secretary of the county committee and a panel member, said it was "very important" for parents to permit teen-agers to make their own decision about drinking.

"Forbidden fruit is always more tempting than those things which are readily available," Mrs. Berry, the mother of three children, said. "An iron-clad rule which forbids

Kiwanis Club Selling Flowers For Mother's Day

Instead of the customary after-dinner program at Monday's Kiwanis club meeting, a brief business session was held and then groups were assigned for the club's first rummage sale pick-up of the season.

At the business session assignments of committees were made for the Kiwanis-sponsored Mother's Day Flower Sale Friday and Saturday. The sale will take place at Hilltop Plumbing Store. Proceeds are for the club's community service projects.

Action Follows Special Board Meeting Tuesday

Following a special meeting of the Chelsea School District Board of Education Tuesday evening, it was announced that a public meeting to be held June 1 (time and place to be announced) for the purpose of explaining details of a proposal to be submitted to electors June 6 for an operational levy not to exceed two mills for a three-year period.

It was also announced that board members will be available to clubs, organizations and other groups who might be interested in an explanation of the millage issue.

CHS Baseball Team Finds Rough Going

The last week has been a rough one for the Chelsea baseball Bulldogs, as they outlasted Dexter last Wednesday to gain a 7-6 victory, only to come back the following day for a 9-2 thumping from Manchester, and a 1-0 loss to Roosevelt on Tuesday.

Wednesday's game with Dexter saw Chelsea push across four runs in the fifth inning, on three hits, two walks, an error, and a squeeze but which scored two runs that proved to be the winning margin.

In the top of the sixth inning Dexter scored three runs on two hits, two walks and an error, but had the tying run cut down at the plate.

The line score was: Chelsea—6 runs on 7 hits and 4 errors; Dexter—5 runs on 6 hits with 4 errors. The winning pitcher was Homer Nixon as he fanned six men and walked just three in going the full seven innings.

On Thursday Manchester collected nine runs on eight hits and committed but one error, while Chelsea had two runs on five hits with six errors.

Donald Blalock was the starting pitcher and went 2 1/2 innings in allowing seven runs on five hits. Three runs were unearned.

Mike Marsh came on in relief of Blalock and pitched the next 3 1/2 innings. Mike allowed just three hits, but two runs scored.

Matt Murphy pitched the last inning and allowed no hits or runs.

The Chelsea pitchers struck out a combined total of nine Manchester batters, while Bob Nickerson and Tiny Ayers struck out eight Chelsea men.

No man had more than one hit for Chelsea, while Bud England had three for four and Bob Nickerson had two for two for Manchester.

Tuesday's visit to Briggs Field in Ypsilanti proved to be a fine pitcher's duel between Chelsea's Homer Nixon, and Roosevelt's Duane Betts.

Homer went 5 1/2 innings without allowing a hit, and at the end of seven innings had a nice one-hit shutout going, only to see three successive singles in the eighth, score the game's only run. Duane Betts pitched six complete innings without allowing a hit.

Scholarship Fund Tops $300 Mark

The Scholarship Fund of the Chelsea Teachers club now contains $340, Charles S. Cameron, superintendent, has announced. This will make possible the goal of the club to award a scholarship to an outstanding Chelsea graduate covering tuition and books for two semesters of college.

Individual teacher contributions to the fund totaled $180. An additional $160 came from proceeds from a matinee performance of the community Minstrel Show given before the school student body.

Plans for enlarging the scholarship fund have been made by the scholarship committee of the teacher's club. Letters have been sent to various local organizations inviting them to join with the Teachers club in creating a broader, more inclusive community scholarship fund. The purpose of the fund will be to promote and reward academic achievement among Chelsea High school students. Criteria for awarding the scholarships are to be based on scholastic achievement and personal need.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wortley and Mrs. David Mohrlock visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wortley and family at Battle Creek.

Track Team Places Fifth At Tecumseh

Last Saturday the Chelsea High track team placed fifth in the 14-team field at the second annual Tecumseh Relays. Finishing ahead of Chelsea were four other Washtenaw Conference teams: Ypsilanti, Saline, Dexter and Ypsilanti Roosevelt, while Pinckney finished ninth.

Chelsea totaled 26 points in the meet which was interrupted by heavy rainfall.

The Bulldogs' Dave McLaughlin was the only individual winner as he won his specialty, the 120-yd. high hurdle in 15.4 seconds, a new Tecumseh Relay record. McLaughlin also placed fourth in the shot put.

Dalce Ferris established a new school record as he won his morning qualifying heat of the 100-yd. dash in 10.5 seconds. Ferris placed second in the finals of the 100-yd. dash.

Don Sexton tied for fifth in the high jump and tied for third in the broad jump.

The medley relay team of Larry Cattell, Ferris, McLaughlin, and Sexton placed fifth.

The mile relay team of Don Ousley, John Ashby, Bill Coltre and Al Schauer placed fifth.

The 880 relay team of Ferris, Jim Maynard, Sexton and McLaughlin finished third.

Jim Maynard finished fourth in the 120-yd. high hurdles.

On Monday of this week the Chelsea High thin-clads trounced Brooklyn High school in a dual track meet on the latter's track. The score was 72-37. In piling up their most lop-sided score of the season Chelsea took 11 of the 18 possible first places.

Don Sexton and Dave McLaughlin were each triple winners for the Bulldogs. Sexton won the high jump, broad jump and 440-yd. dash. McLaughlin won the 120-yd. high hurdles, the 180-yd. low hurdles and the shot put.

Dal Ferris won two events, the 100- and 220-yd. dashes, and took a second in the broad jump.

Freshman half-miler Don Wilson won his event in 2:12.2.

The medley relay team of Don Ousley, Bill Coltre, Al Schauer and Larry Cattell also won, as did the

David Soule Elected PTA President

Chelsea PTA officers were elected at the April 27 meeting held in the cafeteria at Chelsea High school. David Soule was elected president.

Other officers named are Philip Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Lawton Steger, secretary; and Mrs. Calvin Clark, treasurer.

The program included a demonstration of teaching music in two fifth grade classes, under the direction of David Sanborn, vocal music director in the Chelsea schools.

The students sang several numbers interspersed with narrations by Sanborn, explaining about the origin of the songs in various countries.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Jacobs, Mrs. Ralph McCalla, Mrs. Wayne McCarty and Mrs. P. E. Sharrard.

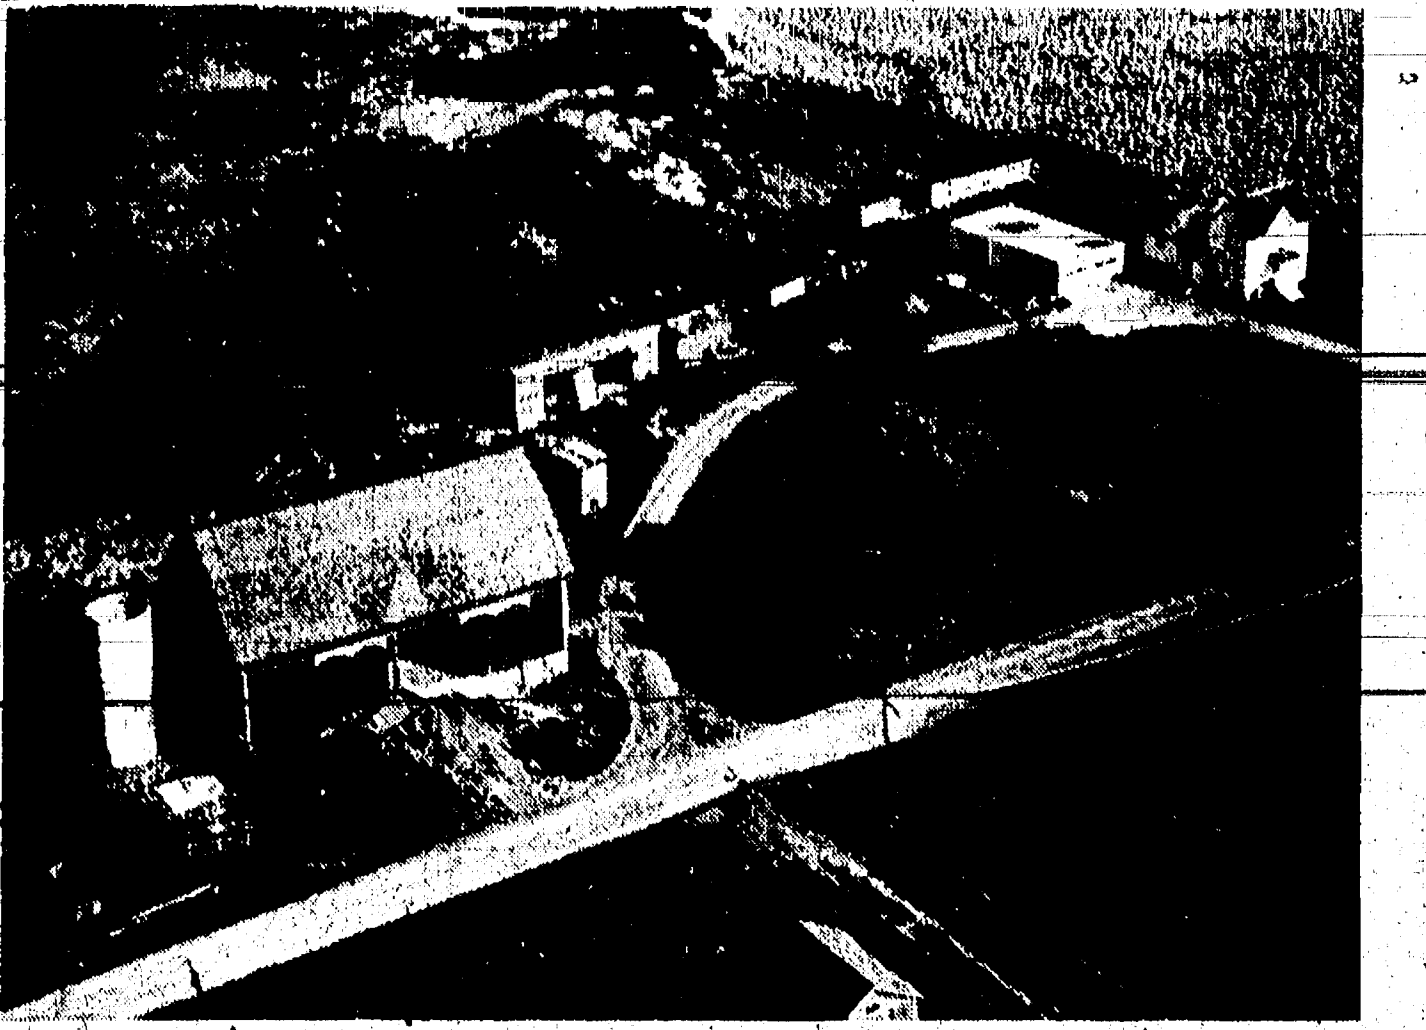

Mrs. Walter Bolanowski was responsible for decorations.

Meet To Discuss Possible Formation of Business Women's Club

A meeting to discuss the possible organization of a Business and Professional Women's club in Chelsea is to be held Wednesday, May 11, at 8 p.m., at McKune Memorial Library. The meeting is open to all employed women.

Invitations have been sent out to women of the community who are believed eligible for membership, but it is believed there are probably others interested who were not reached in this way. Any woman interested is urged to attend.

Guests expected at the meeting include Mrs. Dorothy Beecher, secretary of the Bureau of Services at the University of Michigan, and Miss Dorothy Stiefert, chairman of the state's District 8, of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 97—This is the 97th in the current series of farm photos being published in The Standard for readers' identification. If you know where it is located call The Standard office at once—GR 5-8581. The owner is entitled to a mounted photo of the farm, free, if he will call at The Standard office by Saturday.

SEWER PROJECT PICKETED—The unidentified picketer in the photo carries a self-explanatory sign as he walks back and forth near the sewage disposal plant where work on enlargement of facility is in progress. The picketing by representatives of the Washtenaw County Building Trades Council is aimed at the contractor on the job, Hough Brothers, Inc., of Sunfield.

Despite most executives' fears, the business would get along nicely without them.

With our Water Wonderland, we in Michigan enjoy many advantages.

Winds tempered by the Great Lakes give us a more moderate climate than any other state in the same latitude, ideally invigorating for agriculture, industry and recreation.

The Great Lakes connect us not only with seven other states and the provinces of Ontario, providing low-cost transportation routes for ships carrying vital cargoes of grain, oil, coal, machinery, limestone, wood products and other bulk materials and manufactured goods, but now are accessible to all of the world's trade lanes through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Moreover, the lakes support a great commercial fishing industry, with a total catch of more than 25 million pounds a year, biggest of any of the Great Lakes states. The Great Lakes and our 11,037 inland lakes are of basic importance to our growing tourist business, drawing millions of visitors to Michigan every year.

All but two of Michigan's 83 counties have inland lakes, and seven have more than 300. Marquette county ranks first with 835, Luce second with 871, and Iron third with 528, all in the Upper Peninsula. Oakland county ranks first in the Lower Peninsula with 500 inland lakes.

In Michigan we have long known we possess all the ingredients for year-around vacationing at its best.

We stand unchallenged as the leading recreation area of the middle west, and rank fourth in the nation in the income from our tourist, resort and travel business.

Some 9,750,000 tourists vacation in Michigan each year, about half of them being residents of our own state.

Playing host to vacation visitors brings us 5.7 per cent of the nation's tourist patronage—worth at least $650 million a year.

Accommodating our tourists also constitutes the third largest source of Michigan income, outranked only by manufacturing and agriculture.

Our elaborate system of public parks accounts for much of Michigan's greatness as a tourist state. We have 61 state parks, more than any other state, including the 58,000-acre Porcupine Mountain state park, with its jewel-like Lake of the Clouds, in the western end of the Upper Peninsula, largest state park in the country.

More than 17,000,000 guests visit our state parks annually. We have 112 roadside parks along our state trunklines, first state in the nation to provide this type of service for motor travelers.

We also have 1,800 roadside picnic sites, maintained by our state highway department.

Our state conservation department maintains 61 game wildlife and special hunting areas, covering 195,000 acres—725 public fishing sites, including 494 on lakes and 231 on streams, covering 49,000 acres with more than 200 miles of water frontage.

We have 28 state and national forests in Michigan, which together spread over more than one-sixth of our total land area . . . plus the 134,000-acre Isle Royale, in Lake Superior 48 miles off the Keweenaw Peninsula, only U. S. island national park.

Our state is also noted for the number and variety of its winter sports facilities and attractions. More than 64 organized winter sports centers, serving a $12 million a year business, serve a fast growing army of skiers and other winter sports enthusiasts in both upper and lower Michigan.

Our first tourist-travellers were the Indians who lived in lower Michigan and neighboring territory centuries ago.

Their search for better fishing sites took them to Mackinac for lake trout and to the rapids of St. Mary's river for the prized whitefish. Roving Indian tribesmen were also out for buffalo, which came to the edge of the southern Michigan hunting grounds, and for moose and wapiti, which were in the north, and for deer everywhere.

We still retain our reputation as one of the leading sportsmen's states, just as the early Indians knew the territory long ago. Michigan regularly sells more hunting and fishing licenses than any other state, running over a million a year in each category . . . 1,084,000 fishing licenses sold in 1958 . . . and 1,210,000 hunting licenses, including 500,000 deer licenses.

FOREIGN-AID DEBATE

Debate has opened on a bill setting a $4,038,500,000 limit on the foreign-aid program.

This represents a cut of $186,500,000 from President Eisenhower's recommendations. However, deeper cuts are expected when the House later takes up legislation making the actual appropriations of funds.

St. Barnabas Guild Seeks Used Clothing For World Service

Church Women of St. Barnabas Episcopal church (Guild) met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Eugene Garvey on Taylor St. The opening devotional service was presented by Mrs. Allan Reed. Reports of the convocation meeting held Thursday at St. James' church, Dexter, were given by Mrs. S. R. Booker, Mrs. Eugene Garvey and Mrs. Judson Goitra. They said the Rev. Don Bodley of Detroit was the principal speaker.

Several announcements were made at Thursday evening's meeting as follows:

Church World Service is requesting clean used clothing and bedding in a drive to be completed May 10 and 11. The clothing contributed here may be brought to the church or to the vicarage any time before May 10.

The annual spring ingathering of St. Barnabas church women is scheduled for May 8.

A meeting of United Church Women is to be held May 10 and 11 at Midland and Mrs. Judson Goitra is to be notified by women interested in attending.

May 23 is Bishop's Day at Royal Oak St. John's Episcopal church. Mrs. Goitra, president of St. Barnabas' Guild is to attend the luncheon meeting. Other women of St. Barnabas should call her for reservations.

At the close of Thursday's meeting Mrs. Garvey served refreshments.

May 26, Church Women of St. Barnabas will meet at the home of Mrs. S. R. Booker.

Cub Scout Committee Will Plan Field Day At Tonight's Meeting

A Cub Scout Committee meeting is scheduled to be held at 7 o'clock this evening at South Elementary school to make plans for the July 23 Field Day.

Announcement of tonight's meeting was made at the Pack meeting held April 28 at South Elementary school.

The Pack meeting was opened by members of Mrs. Richard Hoelzer's Den, No. 5, who were in charge of the flag ceremony.

This was followed by a moment of silent prayer.

Cub Scouts were presented with awards they had earned and then Den No. 8, in charge of Den Mother Mrs. Guy Weatherwax entertained with a special skit.

Dens No. 3, 5, 6, 9 and 10 had prepared displays for the meeting. Den Mothers of the groups, respectively, are Mrs. David Soule, Mrs. Richard Hoelzer, Mrs. Louis Burghardt, Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. Wilber Worde.

It was announced that Keith Kusterer received a Wolf badge at the last meeting.

The close of Thursday's meeting was in charge of Den No. 5, who also had opened the gathering with the flag ceremony.

Extension Clubs Exhibit Projects at Annual District Party Monday in Chelsea

Mrs. Carl Lesser of Dexter, a member of North Lake Extension club, was elected junior representative of Home Extension District No. IV at the business session of the district party held Monday evening in Chelsea.

The district party was held at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church hall beginning with a 7 o'clock luncheon. A total of 180 women from Chelsea and Dexter area Extension clubs attended.

Special guests at the affair included Mrs. Anna Brown, Home Extension club agent for Washtenaw county; Miss Mary Campbell of Ann Arbor, District II representative; Mrs. A. P. Minick of Willis, District VI representative who also is the chairman of the Washtenaw County Home Extension Council; Mrs. Elliott Lounsbury and Mrs. Raymond Jacob of the Chelsea area, representatives of District V; Mrs. Murray Fishbeck of Ann Arbor, representative of District I; and Mrs. Paul M. Schnake, wife of the pastor of St. Paul's church.

Each of the special guests was presented with a corsage made by North Lake Extension club members.

Mrs. LaVerne Coy is the second District IV representative. She remained in office to serve another year of her term and automatically became senior representative of the district.

Mrs. Walter Mast of the Webster group, who had served two years as the other District IV representative, declined to run for re-election and Mrs. Lesser was elected as the new representative.

Sylvan Extension club won first place on its exhibit pertaining to the topic "Your Dress and Accessories."

Jerusalem club won second place honors with its exhibit on "Tensions," and Webster club was awarded third place with its "Food Facts and Frauds" exhibit.

Each of the exhibits was based on a lesson which had been given at a club meeting during the past club year.

Entertainment included group singing led by Barbara Bertke and Carol Raddeman, 4-H club girls who had attended 4-H club junior leadership school; vocal selections by the Chelsea High school group known as the Chellettes; and an interesting talk by Arnold Girbach who was an International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegate to Portugal the past year.

Girbach illustrated his talk with pictures he took during his stay in Portugal.

Sylvan Extension club was in charge of registration at the district party; Webster Group was responsible for table decorations; and the attractive programs made to represent face-trimmed miniature parades were made by the Dexter Village and Jolly Arts Extension clubs.

LOW DRAFT CALL

The Army has issued its lowest monthly draft call in ten years in an attempt to reduce its total strength by June 30 to 870,000 men, the number recommended by the Eisenhower Administration.

A June draft call for 5,600 men was issued earlier this month. The May and April quotas were 6,000 men each. Army strength, however, is now about 7,000 over the manpower ceiling fixed by the Administration.

Good Samaritans Directors To Meet

The Rev. John A. Trese will speak at the May 10 Board of Directors meeting of the Good Samaritans at the Catholic Social Services headquarters, 117 North Division, Ann Arbor. This meeting will be an open meeting and all members of the Good Samaritans and all who are interested in the agency are invited to attend.

Father Trese is Assistant Director of Catholic Charities for the Archdiocese of Detroit and director of the local agency.

He will discuss Catholic social work and the importance of the volunteer to the professional social work agency. The Catholic church has always been justly proud of the contribution of volunteers to its social service projects and feels the real progress in the area of overcoming human ills is in many respects dependent upon the contribution of volunteers, according to an announcement pertaining to the meeting.

TIROS I
The United States will share the weather pictures obtained from TIROS I and future meteorological satellites with the rest of the world, according to a recent announcement by a space agency official.

The cooperation at first will be limited to distributing the cloud cover pictures taken by the TIROS satellite. Ultimately, however it is expected that detailed weather information obtained from satellites will be distributed through the world meteorological organization to assist in the preparation of global weather forecasts.

EX-OFFICER CURBS
The House Armed Services Committee, in a surprise move, has strengthened its bill aimed at halting the improper use of influence by retired military officers who work for defense contractors.

It approved, 25 to 8, a substitute for an earlier measure it had already sent to the House floor.

THANK YOU
I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the people at Rockwell-Standard Corp. for their kindnesses while I was at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor; also,
to all my friends and relatives who remembered me with cards, flowers and calls at the hospital and at Brantford, Ontario, where I am recuperating at the home of relatives. Dave Reid.

THANK YOU
Many thanks to my friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and cards sent to me while I was in the hospital; also for the kindnesses extended to my family.
Special thanks to the Chelsea Blood Bank.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Earl Collins.

THANK YOU
I would like to express my thanks to my relatives, neighbors remembered me with cards and flowers, and visited me during my stay in the hospital, and since my return home. Also special thanks to those who helped at home in any way.

WRONG HAT

Senator Monroney (D., Okla.) recently stepped off a plane in Washington with another passenger's hat, leaving his own on the plane. The passenger, E. I. Sterns, of Broad Branch, N. J., found himself with Monroney's hat when he left the plane at the next stop.

Sterns immediately wrote Monroney, and they exchanged hats. The New Jersey man then thanked the Senator and added: "I have been worried up to this point for fear you might throw my hat into the vice presidential ring."

Sue Prakken Will Direct Cedar Lake Girl Scout Camp

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council announced this week that Sue Prakken of South Wagner Rd., is to be camp director in charge of Cedar Lake Girl Scout camp, west of Chelsea, this summer.

Cedar Lake Camp, the Huron Valley Council's established camp, will offer four two-week sessions for intermediate and senior scouts this year.

For the first time, campers age 13 through 15 will be housed together. This applies to those attending the July 10-22 session, as well as the July 24-Aug. 5 session.

Both first and second-year counselor-in-training courses will be offered this summer at the camp. Those applying for the first year of counselor-in-training must be at least 16 years of age and must have experience in scouting and camping. Those applying for the second-year counselor-in-training must have completed the first year course.

Miss Ann Rathman of Ypsilanti will be waterfront director this summer.

Miss Prakken, the new director at Cedar Lake camp is now a resident counselor in Stockwell Hall women's dormitory at the U-M. Her varied camping background includes the following: six years as a camper at Cedar Lake; counselor-in-training program at the Jackson Girl Scout Camp, and 15 years of family camping.

In 1957 Miss Prakken served as assistant camp director and unit leader for the Southeast New Mexico Girl Scout Council. Previous to this, she served as counselor for Jackson Girl Scouts in 1953, and primitive unit leader for the Jackson Girl Scouts in 1956.

As district director for two years for the Tacoma Girl Scouts, Tacoma, Wash., her camp responsibilities included the following: training leaders, leading two canoe trip camps, directing council-sponsored troop camps and co-ordinating three round-up patrols.

Miss Prakken, who received a BA degree from the University, is enrolled in graduate studies in the U-M School of Business Administration.

TV TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Ralf Hardster, Feature Editor TV Guide Magazine

THE MAJOR MOVIE STUDIOS, rather than flood the TV market with new movies, plan instead to select 10 or 12 each year and package them as specials for sale to the networks. Recent settlement of the Screen Actors Guild strike gave the studios the right to release to TV all movies made between 1948 and 1960 without residual payments to the actors. CBS, meanwhile, has once more scheduled Judy Garland's "Wizard of Oz" movie as a special for next Dec. 11. Pointing up CBS's complete de-emphasis of color TV, this showing will be black-and-white only, whereas the movie was telecast twice previously by CBS in color. NBC scheduled National Velvet for its Sunday nights at 8 period in the fall. Based on the MGM movie and produced by MGM-TV, the series stars 11-year-old Lori Martin in the role originated by Elizabeth Taylor.

JACK KELLY has now joined Jim Garner as the target of a Warner Brothers lawsuit. Both Mavericks claim their contracts are void. When Startime leaves NBC in June, the network will fill the hour with reruns of Wichita Town and Richard Diamond. Arthur Murray Party continues in the following half hour. "Home for Christmas," the 1932 Lloyd C. Douglas novel, is to be done as a TV special come Christmas, with Lowell Thomas narrating and composer-conductor Dimitri Tiomkin producing. Ralph Edwards is preparing a musical panel show, Sing Out, to be emceed by Jack (You Asked for It) Smith. Fernando Lamas has been set as Esther Williams' guest star for her August 8 special being taped in Florida in June. MGM planning a Diamond Jim Brady series, with Brady to be portrayed as a young man in his 30's.

ABC, with its new emphasis on sports, is delecting to carry Sunday afternoon games of the new American Football League. If the deal goes through, ABC will schedule the Charles Goren bridge show and Paul Winchell's Willis Conover, a Voice of America disc jockey who is possibly the most popular American in Europe except for President Eisenhower, will be the central character in a Twentieth Century show for CBS in the fall, "The Impact of Jazz." The last Desilu Playhouse of the season, airing June 19, will be "Johnny Cinderella," starring Adam West, David Brian, Myrna Hansen and Dina Merrill. The Law and Mr. Jones, a new half-hour series, set for NBC's Friday night at 10:30 period next fall. James Whitmore stars. New hour-long John Payne series, O'Connor's Ocean, now scheduled for NBC's Friday nights at 8 hour in the fall.

Apparent Cries of Child Prompts Search of Peach Mountain Area

An apparent small child's cry for help took Officer Beson of the Dexter Police Department behind the giant radar screen at Peach Mountain about 9:00 p.m. on Monday, May 2.

A report to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department by telephone from Charles Root at 1000 Stinchfield Woods Rd., indicated a noise had been heard in that region which sounded like the cry for help of a small child.

Beson searched the area and contacted Dr. Berth of the University of Michigan astronomy department to determine whether students were working in the vicinity, but nothing was scheduled for the area at that time. A further search of the area between Stinchfield Rd. and North Territorial Rd. yielded no clues to the source of the noise, which was heard several times. It was concluded that a small animal had been caught temporarily, perhaps in the fence.

Officers picked up a man trying to sell some of the stolen goods in a bar next door to the pawnshop.

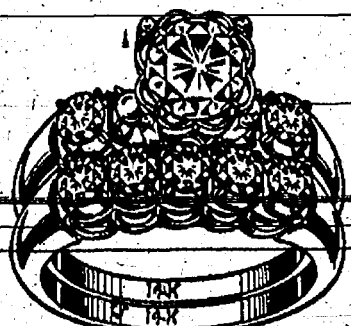

CRAIG (Peter Gunn) STEVENS joins Tab Hunter and Gisele MacKenzie on NBC's "Summer on Ice — 1960" special coming in June. ABC tentatively planning to replace Keep Talking with a panel show titled On the Line with Considine, and featuring syndicated columnist Bob Considine. Ann Southern, if renewed, will be moved to another time period.

Why Mercury is the better low-price car!

MORE VALUE. Just look at these Mercury advantages over other low-price cars:

You ride smoother because Mercury has up to 8 inches more wheelbase... and is up to 494 pounds heavier. You're more comfortable because of Mercury's extra shoulder room, leg room, and foot room. You feel safer because Mercury's brakes are bigger (up to 26%), and visibility is better (up to 21% more). Mercury has at least two dozen extra values. Why not enjoy them all, and save a little money, too?

PRICES START $63 TO $66* BELOW EVEN THE LOWEST-PRICED V-8 POWERED PLYMOUTH FURY OR CHEVROLET IMPALA.

And we're not talking about a 'stripped' Mercury. This price comparison is based on a deluxe-appointed Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and deep, soft wall-to-wall carpeting.

This amazing price story is the result of Mercury's dramatic 1960 price reductions (as much as $174 lower than last year, including extras that are now standard equipment).

Every Mercury is lower priced than last year. All Monterey's are now low-price cars. They are priced below, or within a few dollars of, the other deluxe V-8 series in the low-price field. Come in. See for yourself.

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested 1960 retail base prices for lowest-priced V-8 models.

Damage Is Often Cause of Delinquency, Speaker Tells Study Club

Child Study clubs are being organized in approximately 100 communities throughout the area, according to a speaker at the annual meeting of the Michigan Child Study Association, held at the Chelsea High school last night.

The speaker, Dr. W. W. Wattenberg, of the University of Michigan, told the guests that the child who is the cause of the delinquency is often the child who is the victim of the delinquency. He said that the child who is the victim of the delinquency is often the child who is the cause of the delinquency.

Dr. Wattenberg explained that there are many possible causes for the child's delinquency. He listed the following as some of the "signs" to watch for in children: Uncontrollable temper tantrums; abnormal cruelty, either to pets or other children; the "mean" fighter who deliberately attempts to hurt his opponent; the child who is feared by other children.

Dr. Wattenberg explained that there are many possible causes for the child's delinquency. He listed the following as some of the "signs" to watch for in children: Uncontrollable temper tantrums; abnormal cruelty, either to pets or other children; the "mean" fighter who deliberately attempts to hurt his opponent; the child who is feared by other children.

Dr. Wattenberg said that brain damage is most commonly believed to result in sub-normal I. Q. children when in reality many children with brain damage sufficient to affect behavior are actually in the higher intelligence brackets.

Signs of possible brain damage, according to the speaker, are uncontrollable outbursts; lack of concentration; and the urge to do "devilish" things because of a lack of good judgment.

In conclusion, Dr. Wattenberg said an encouraging indication of present-day handling of juvenile delinquency problems is the fact that 80 per cent of young people who are sent to courts for a solution of their problems never come back. This percentage, he said, increases in direct ratio to the degree of "healthy" attitude toward the problem on the part of parents.

Buzz sessions, in which members of the different clubs represented exchanged program ideas and presentation of the state association's syllabus completed the day's activities.

Chelsea groups who were responsible for all arrangements for the meeting here included Modern Mothers, Kinder Klub, Suburban Mothers and Chelsea Child Study clubs.

Mission Club Will Celebrate 25th Anniversary

St. Paul's Mission Club, organized by the late Mrs. Elizabeth Wackenhut, is this year observing its 25th anniversary.

To mark the occasion and honor the memory of Mrs. Wackenhut, her daughter, Mrs. Ola Hilsinger, is holding open house at St. Paul's church hall from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. next Thursday, March 12.

Present members of the Mission club are to be honor guests at the open house. Each member has been asked to bring a guest, and all women of the church as well as others in the community who might be interested are invited to attend.

The Mission club was organized at the home of Mrs. Wackenhut Jan. 10, 1935, the original plan being to restrict membership to women 70 years of age or over.

Charter members, in addition to Mrs. Wackenhut and Mrs. Widmayer were Mrs. William Pfelemer, Mrs. Lena Barth, Mrs. Minnie Gross, Mrs. John Koch, Mrs. Caroline Hinderer, Mrs. Kathrine Niehaus, Mrs. Christine Winter, Mrs. Barbara Jensen and Miss Sophia Schatz.

Mrs. Wackenhut conceived the idea for the women's service group after hearing a returned missionary speaker at a meeting of the former St. Paul's Ladies' Aid Society, tell of the great need for bandages in leper hospitals and other mission hospitals in India.

Mrs. Wackenhut decided that tearing used sheets into strips of specified widths and rolling them up ready for packing and shipping to the mission station was a useful service for the other women of the church.

At that time the missionary station to which they sent the bandages had its own sterilizing equipment for bandages prepared in this manner.

The group prepared as many as 90 rolls of bandages at an afternoon meeting and during the first year of the club's existence 720 large rolls of bandages were sent to India.

When the need for bandages of this type was no longer acute, the group turned to making quilts, rugs and scarves for the Evangelical Home in Detroit and for church related institutions and mission stations in various parts of the United States.

For a number of years the club has invited a certain number of younger women to become members and work done by the group now includes additional projects such as dressing dolls for Christmas giving in institutions and hospitals; sewing and collecting clothing to send where needed; and helping Chelsea area families who have suffered losses by fire.

Mrs. Wackenhut was the first president of the club and Mrs. Lizetta Widmayer was the first secretary-treasurer. Both served in those capacities for many years.

Mrs. Louis Eppler who now lives at the Evangelical Home in Detroit, served as the club's president for a number of years before going to the Home.

Present officers are Mrs. George Mayer, president, and Mrs. Fred Seitz, secretary-treasurer.

At Thursday's open house, some of the work done by present and former members of the club will be on display as well as samples of crocheting and other hand work done by Mrs. Wackenhut.

HEALTH PLAN

Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has denied that President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon had split over a health insurance plan for older persons.

A bill to expand the Social Security program to provide old-age health insurance has been introduced in the House by Representative Aime J. Forand, Democrat of Rhode Island, and is supported by leading Democrats.

Mr. Nixon, while joining with the President in opposing the Forand bill, has urged the Administration to counter with a voluntary insurance program.

Beulah Ann Kellogg, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Speak Nuptial Vows

The South, the couple will be home at 14140 Old US-12.

The bride is a graduate of Saline High school and Cleary College, Ypsilanti, and is employed at Saline Savings Bank, Saline.

Mr. Lesser, a 1956 graduate of Chelsea High school, is engaged in farming.

The bride was honored at a number of pre-nuptial showers and she and the bridegroom were guests of honor at several parties prior to the wedding.

A rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening at Weber's Supper Club, near Ann Arbor, by the bridegroom's parents.

SUBURBAN MOTHERS CLUB STUDY

Eighteen of the 20 members of Suburban Mothers Child Study Club attended the Michigan Child Study Association's spring planning meeting at Chelsea High school last Saturday. Plans to attend were made at the club's regular meeting held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Reith.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Truman O'Doherty and Mrs. William Dehn.

Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser was named historian of the club and Mrs. Milton Rabbitt was accepted as a new member.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Robert Eisele whose co-hostesses are to be Mrs. Norman Houk and Mrs. Basil Reiley.

A representative of an Ann Arbor school of cosmetology will present the evening's program.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of lace and net appliqued with Chantilly lace and trimmed with sequins. Her veil was fingertip-length and was held in place with a crown of heart shaped pearls, lace and sequins. She carried an arrangement of white roses and gardenias.

Sara Jane Kellogg, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her costume was styled with a light blue organza skirt and lace bodice and she carried pale pink roses and white carnations.

Arlene Dumble of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. James Knight, Jr., of Saline, were bridesmaids and Kay Kellogg, another sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. All wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor, their bouquets being of pink and white carnations.

The bride's mother, in a powder blue lace sheath dress, and the bridegroom's mother in aqua lace, each wore a white orchid corsage.

Max Ziegler of Dexter, a cousin of the bridegroom, assisted as best man, while Moritz Ziegler of Dexter, another cousin, and Lloyd Grau and Earl Haller were ushers.

At a reception which followed in the parish hall, Mrs. Max Ziegler of Dexter, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Minnie Hammond of Saline, poured; Mrs. Merritt Honbaum and Mrs. Carl Lesser of Dexter, both cousins of the bridegroom, cut the cake; Esther Guenther of Saline, served ice cream; and Mary Lou Weber of Ann Arbor, was in charge of the guest book.

Rebekah Members Honored at Annual District Meeting

Chelsea Rebekah Lodge was accorded several honors at the April 25 annual session of Rebekah Lodge District No. 12, held at the Home City Lodge in Jackson, according to reports given at the Chelsea lodge meeting Tuesday evening.

The reports stated that Mrs. Eulalie Packard was appointed a member of the district's auditing committee; Mrs. Lulu Sweeney and Mrs. Velma Wolfe were recognized in special ceremonies as past district presidents; and Chelsea's assignment for the district meeting, that of explaining the lodge's regalia and its meaning, was pronounced "perfectly done," by the Chelsea lodge's committee, Mrs. Doris Keeney, Mrs. Anna McDonald and Mrs. Viola Slane.

Those who attended the all-day district session included Noble Grand Mrs. Eulalie Packard, Vice-Grand Mrs. Marjorie Burnett, Mrs. Josephine Hochrein, Mrs. Anna McDonald, Mrs. Mary Adam, Mrs. Doris Keeney, Mrs. Lulu Sweeney, Mrs. Velma Wolfe, Mrs. Winifred Coffron and Mrs. Addie Fitzmaier.

Tuesday's Chelsea Rebekah Lodge meeting was held at the IOOF hall, hostesses being Mrs. Edith Nixon, Mrs. Edith White and Mrs. Gladys Braitenwischer.

During the business session, plans were completed for the annual rummage sale and a report of the lodge's Easter bake sale was read.

The Chelsea lodge received an invitation from Harmony Rebekah Lodge members of Dexter to attend their district meeting May 10.

WHAT'S NEW?

Tokyo—Helping radio claims a Red Chinese telephone maintenance man has solved the problem of pedaling a bicycle against a strong wind.

Yang Hsiu-feng attached a small rotary fan to the handlebars and linked it by chain to the axle, the broadcast explained. The stronger the wind blows, the faster Yang's bike goes. The radio said he can average 11 m.p.h. in the teeth of a gale.

When the great men of this earth are revealed in the happy hereafter, there will be many surprises.

PRESENCE OF MIND

Kansas City—An alert 7-year-old boy averted an accident recently after his father suffered a heart attack while driving a car.

Joe Baxter, 60, who has had a heart ailment several years, kept on driving after the seizure and he hoped to reach his destination in a Kansas City suburb before seeking aid. He told his son, Jerry, to guide the car and turn off the ignition if another attack occurred. A few moments later Baxter blacked out from another seizure. Jerry stopped the car.

TESSERA CORLON

When you see it, you'll agree—this new Armstrong vinyl floor, Tessera Corlon, is unique. And different. It actually has depth. You can look down into it. The soft-colored vinyl chips set in translucent vinyl form fascinating random patterns. Tessera's natural textured effect adds elegance to any interior, yet never dominates. It's available in monochromatic stylings or with accent chips of contrasting colors. And Tessera can be used in every part of your home (even in a basement hideaway).

If you can't stop in to inspect this wonderfully new vinyl flooring—write or call today for samples and information.

MEDICAL BILL PUSHED
Senator Humphrey (D. Minn.) said recently that the Democratic-controlled Congress should act promptly to provide health care for the aged under the social security system.

Humphrey, in testimony prepared for the Senate subcommittee on the aged, says that persons past 65 use twice as much hospital care as the rest of the population, although their income is much lower.

MOVING DAY—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schumm, formerly located on US-12 near Pierce Rd., was "on the move" when the above photo was taken Friday and had almost reached its new location on Freer Rd. when the Detroit householder, at right, discovered that a dolly at that corner had sunk into soft earth. After the soft area was covered with heavy planks the move to the new site was completed with many tight squeezes between trees. At left are Schumm and Charles Slocum. The house had to be moved from its former location because it was in the way of the new expressway construction.

DEATHS

William F. Hentz
Was Detroit Bookbinder Before Retiring in 1950

William F. Hentz, 80, of 114 Island Lake Rd., died Tuesday afternoon at Colonial Manor Nursing Home where he had been a patient since April 13. He had been ill for several weeks.

Born Dec. 2, 1879, in Germany, he was a son of Ferdinand and Augusta Koebnick Hentz.

He came to the United States with his parents when he was three years old, living in New York state a number of years.

He later lived at Ann Arbor and Wayne before coming to this area 12 years ago. He was employed for a number of years as a bookbinder and engraver for publishers in the Detroit area. He retired 10 years ago.

He was married March 27, 1907, at Toronto, Canada, to Julia Teed who survives.

Other survivors include four brothers and a sister, Max of Ann Arbor, Emil of Florida, Albert of Detroit, Gustave of Wyandotte and Mrs. Norman Cook (Nell) of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Hentz was a member of Nankin Lodge, IOOF at Wayne.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Burghardt Funeral Home with the Rev. Harry Pyscher officiating. Burial will take place in Forest Hill cemetery, Ann Arbor. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Earl Updike

Earl Updike, in business here in a tinsmith shop with the late H. B. Murphy more than 20 years ago, died Wednesday in Detroit and funeral services were held Saturday at the Crosby Funeral Home there.

Burial took place at Oak Grove cemetery here Saturday afternoon with graveside services in charge of Olive Lodge No. 156, F & A.M.

No Opposition on Re-Zoning Request

At the Sylvan Township Zoning Board hearing in Sylvan Town Hall Tuesday evening, no opposition to the re-zoning of two parcels of land was voiced and the Zoning Board approved the change from A-1 Agricultural to B-1, General Business.

Brown's Welding had petitioned to have part of its property rezoned to permit re-locating the company's shop, the present location being in the way of the new expressway construction.

The other parcel for which rezoning was requested is a six-acre area between M-92 and the old Manchester road immediately adjacent to the south village limits. According to the petition for re-zoning here, it is planned to erect a 12-lane bowling alley on the property.

John Riley

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels have received word of the sudden death of John Riley on April 28 at Los Angeles, Calif. His widow, the former Mamie Drislane, is a cousin of Mrs. Daniels. Mr. Riley was 79 years old.

The Rileys lived in Chelsea, before moving to California some years ago and he was employed at the former Vogel & Wurster store here.

Mrs. Emilie Hepfer

The body of Miss Emilie Hepfer, a former Chelsea resident, was brought here from Cadillac for burial in Oak Grove cemetery Tuesday, April 28.

Miss Hepfer was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hepfer, who were among the 16 families who founded St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church. She served as one of the first Sunday school teachers at the church.

She had lived in Cadillac for more than 40 years and for many years before her retirement was employed at the Cadillac post office.

We are now awaiting a cigarette which will not only be filtered, but have no harmful effects.

Open House Set Tuesday At Junior Hi

Alan Conklin, in charge of activities at Chelsea Junior High school, announced this week that open house for parents of Junior High students will be held at the school Tuesday evening, May 10.

The evening's program will begin in the gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. when the eighth grade English class presents a 30-minute play. The Junior High school's history club will serve refreshments during a social period following the play and then teachers will be in their rooms to receive parents.

There will be no classes during the evening; however, students are welcome to attend with their parents.

Some of the rooms are arranging displays of work done by students.

State Police Plan Michigan Week Open House Event

Michigan Week will be observed by the State Police with open house at all posts on "Hospitality Day" Tuesday, May 17, and with the flying of the State flag all week, according to Sgt. John L. Horvath, commanding officer of the Jackson post.

"Hospitality Day" is part of the Michigan Week program each year, and visiting hours at the Jackson post will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Officers will escort the visitors to explain department operations and there will be a display of equipment.

"Visitors are always welcome at the post but 'Hospitality Day' offers a special opportunity to look us over," said Sgt. Horvath. "They will see how the post functions and learn about the services we perform."

The open house programs at the posts during Michigan Week in past years have been very well received and have attracted thousands of visitors.

"Be sure to come in on Hospitality Day and get acquainted with your State Police," said Sgt. Horvath.

Ypsilanti Attorney Seeks Post in State Legislature

Stressing the necessity of safeguarding the political, social and economic freedoms of the individual, Ypsilanti attorney William F. Dannemiller today announced his candidacy for the House of Representatives in Lansing.

William F. Dannemiller is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and is now practicing law in the city of Ypsilanti with the firm of Dannemiller & Sperling. During the first two years after his graduation, Dannemiller was with the legal staff of the Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn, attached to the office of tax affairs.

In a brief statement of political philosophy Dannemiller said, "The central theme that underlies our democratic political philosophy is that each and every human being must have, as his birthright, the basis for a full realization of his dignity and individuality. This dignity of the individual suffers severely when the man in the factory could no longer sell his daily capacity for work, and the man on the farm had to unload the product of his labor and his land at distressed prices that wouldn't even meet the mortgage payment. Democratic political action, restored man's dignity in these United States by providing minimal safeguards as to primary economic need together with basic assurances of political freedom."

"We must continue to provide that political and social climate wherein each and every human being can realize to the utmost his individual capacities for happiness, self-realization, and economic accomplishment."

"This must apply to all human beings. The political struggle today is concerned not only with the more dramatic aspect of civil rights for our minority groups but involves also the daily reality of the wage-earner, the homemaker, the white-collar worker, the small businessman and the farmer, each in his own struggle for happiness and economic security."

"In each generation we have to conserve that which is best from our political and spiritual heritage. Also, we must constantly move forward in the effort to provide solutions for those problems which are presented to us by our increasingly complicated society. Law is and must be regarded as a living thing—recompensating as it does the whole of human experience. The provisions of our legal structure must constantly be reviewed; not from the standpoint of the lobbyists of the special interest groups, but rather from the standpoint of what the people who work, produce and consume require."

"I want to personally meet with and discuss issues with each and every organized and/or unorganized group throughout the county. I would desire to speak briefly before all of the church, fraternal, labor, farm, women's, businessmen's and other groups in this legislative district. I feel that a return to political expression before the open public forum would be a healthy thing for our democracy, and I welcome any and all

Mystery Farm Quickly Identified as George Sanderson Place on Notten Rd.

ALLAN BROESAMLE and Anton Nielson, at Farmers' Supply, were the first to call The Standard office with the correct identification of the mystery farm, No. 96 as the George Sanderson place at 2770 Notten Rd.

Others who called soon after were the men at Blass-Elevator, Charles Curtis, Mrs. Harold LeRoy-Bauer and John W. Blass, Jr.

Present boundaries of the farm show several parcels of land, principally what were formerly owned as the Martha Riemschneider farm and the Mensing farm.

Parts of the 296-acre farm were owned by the United States government by George Tuthill, William Havens and John Wheeler, in the years 1830, 1837 and 1842. Wheeler's land was sold to Philip and William Riemschneider in 1852 and 1853 and remained in the Riemschneider family for many years.

From 1851 until 1945 the present owner's father, the late William Sanderson, rented the farm from Miss Martha Riemschneider and Fred Mensing.

In time the farms became the property of the late Mrs. Minnie Alber and her daughter, Mrs. Letha Alber Kalmbach from whom George Sanderson purchased it in 1945.

The present owners modernized the house. The barn shown in the photo was built in 1938.

Since the picture was taken early last fall, a new 40x100-ft. pole barn has been built.

Sanderson does some grain farming and keeps about 25 milk cows. Mrs. Sanderson is the former Lucille Hoover of Chelsea.

The Sandersons have three sons and two daughters, ranging in age from two to 17 years. Roy, the oldest son, is a sophomore at Chelsea High school and helps his father with the farming. The other children are Lola, Carol, Gary and Thomas.

Conservation Violations Show Sharp Increase

Conservation Officer Donlay Boyer said there has been a distinct increase in the number of conservation violations in this area this spring. He said he has made a total of 21 arrests in slightly more than two weeks, the offenses including fishing violations of various types and violations on firearms.

LeRoy Place and Edmund Bretz, of Plymouth and Louis McLean of Northville, were cited by Boyer for carrying a loaded gun in an automobile and Tuesday morning each was assessed $17.50 fine and costs when they pleaded guilty before Sylvan Township Justice Chandler Rogers.

Robert Behnke, who was charged with fishing without a license, pleaded not guilty Tuesday morning and his trial on the charge was set for yesterday morning before Justice Rogers.

Monday morning in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, four men pleaded guilty to molesting raccoons out of season and each was assessed $17.50 fine and costs. The four are Clarence Vinyard of Wayne, Charles Besenhor of Detroit, Bobby Denmore of Dearborn and William Downs of Roseville.

Three men were assessed $12.50 each in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor Monday for spearing fish without a license. The three are Anthony Musky, Charles Bahlmann and Gary Emerson, all of Jackson.

For possession of black bass during the closed season, George Jones of Detroit was assessed fine and costs of $12.50 and using too many lines and fishing without a license were charged to George Brown of Detroit, Comer Osborn of Ypsilanti and George Ross of Royal Oak.

Carrying loaded guns in a motorboat was charged to Tommy Dixon and Robert Burns of Ypsilanti who were assessed fine and costs of $27.50 while B. L. Goldsmith of Ann Arbor was another of those who were assessed $12.50 fine and costs for fishing without a license.

Wayne Scott of Detroit is awaiting sentence on a charge of fishing without a license, and two violations included in the total number were reported last week.

Co-Op Nursery Making Plans for Fall Sessions

Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery has planned a meeting for husbands and wives this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lancaster, 607 Washington St.

Members of this year's group, as well as new members from Chelsea and Dexter, are asked to attend.

Co-hostesses are to be Mrs. James Bradbury, Mrs. Duane Crouch and Mrs. Paul Boehler.

With the closing of the school year soon approaching, attention is being directed to the membership for the fall session. Next year, the nursery will run two sessions, with the three-year-old children coming in the morning, and four-year-old children in the afternoon. Capacity enrollment is 20 children per session. To date, there are only three vacancies remaining in the three-year-old group, and eight vacancies in the four-year-old group. Those in both the Chelsea and Dexter area who may be interested in sending their children are urged to contact the membership chairman, Mrs. David Sandborn, 408 Dale St., Chelsea, for information.

A report of the first annual house tour of the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery, held in the Chelsea area last Thursday, states that the project was enthusiastically received by people of the community. Approximately 275 people toured the six homes included.

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Paul spent from Friday until Sunday at Lowell, Ind., as guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bear and son. They were accompanied by Marcia Bertke.

"I want to personally meet with and discuss issues with each and every organized and/or unorganized group throughout the county. I would desire to speak briefly before all of the church, fraternal, labor, farm, women's, businessmen's and other groups in this legislative district. I feel that a return to political expression before the open public forum would be a healthy thing for our democracy, and I welcome any and all

Mother's Day Gives Us Opportunity To Show Appreciation for Her Love

Since the year 1807, the people of the United States have been observing the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day with appropriate services in the churches where individuals are accustomed to commemorating holy things.

In 1914, Congress designated the day which is widely observed in other countries, as well as our own.

One thing every member of the human race has in common is the fact that he had a mother. And, in the United States, we are proud to say that the average mother has more help, scientific aids and comforts than any other in the world. Nevertheless, her job is usually a tiring one.

For the job of raising a family, and making a home, and being a mother, and a wife and provider, is certainly the greatest job of all the jobs performed on earth.

In our thinking, the greatest calling, and the noblest pursuit, is that of being a good mother. The fine, unselfish instincts demanded, and the long hours of care, worry and work are necessary in great measure.

So we welcome the observance of Mother's Day, once a year, and think that those fortunate enough to have a mother living, and a Christian, loving mother, have the finest blessing there is.

Survey Reveals Small Town, Rural Area Children Are Better Behaved

A survey of some 900 communities recently revealed that youngsters stand a better chance of living a crime-free life if they come from rural areas, or from small cities, than if they are reared in metropolitan areas.

The survey showed that in 900 communities, each with less than 25,000 population, the number of arrests of adolescents in recent years was about one-third the number of arrests in metropolitan areas, over the same period.

The result of the survey showed that not only were total arrests less in the rural areas, but that the number of arrests per 1,000 youngsters was far lower in the rural areas and in smaller cities. Even though this is a better record than is found in the cities, the survey revealed that the number of arrests in rural and town areas, per 1,000 youngsters, was nevertheless increasing steadily.

Some have charged that the increased crime and juvenile delinquency in rural and small-town areas is the result of television, Hollywood, new highways, automobiles, etc. Youngsters in these areas, it is said, are now being subjected to many of the "unhealthy" influences which are so prevalent in metropolitan areas.

Whatever the cause, the fact is that the recent survey showed that youngsters in rural and small-town areas were still less of a problem than metropolitan youth. All of which adds emphasis to our already grateful thanks for living in our nice community, away from the noise and temptations of the "big city." It shows once again, that the strength of America lies in rural areas and in small towns, where close family ties, an orderly and supervised life, and the basic, traditional values of society are still more keenly appreciated.

Still Ahead

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan's 30,000 state employees can look forward to a gradual—but not radical—change in operation of the state's civil service merit system.

The changes, some long overdue, will be made by Franklin K. DeWald, who recently succeeded Arthur G. Rasch as state personnel director.

Although DeWald is expected to do some overhauling and modernizing of civil service operations, he will not be the "strong" Director that Rasch was prior to his retirement.

In that respect, Rasch's retirement marked the end of an era that began Jan. 1, 1931, when civil service became a constitutional agency following approval of a constitutional amendment by the voters.

Thomas J. Wilson was the first director under constitutional civil service, and he named Rasch his top assistant a year later.

Both men had been auto dealers in Grand Rapids and were good friends. Together, they safely guided civil service through its early years when many politicians tried to subvert the system and replace it with the "spoils system."

Rasch stepped into the No. 1 spot in 1948 following Wilson's death and continued most of the policies he and Wilson had developed together.

DeWald, who came to Michigan from a top government personnel post in Washington, brings with him many new ideas which he is expected to initiate in an effort to streamline the agency's operations.

"However, the basic philosophy of civil service will be the same as it was during the nearly 20 years that Wilson and Rasch were at the helm."

One big difference from now on will be that the four-member civil service commission will exercise.

Although the number of traffic fatalities increased in Michigan last year, a report shows traffic deaths per vehicle have been steadily declining in Detroit during the last 30 years.

The Traffic Safety Association of Detroit reported that during the 1920's, an average of 310 persons were killed each year on Detroit streets and highways when an average of only 978,000 cars were operating.

During the 1930's, the traffic death rate dropped to 302 per year and the average number of cars rose to 501,000.

Traffic deaths plunged to an average of 208 in the 1940's and a number of cars averaged 659,000. During the 1950's, an average of 201 persons lost their lives every year in Detroit traffic mishaps although auto registrations rose to an average of 1,094,000.

The report said there was an average of one traffic death for every 1,100 motor vehicles on the road during the 1920's.

"If this ratio had been maintained through subsequent decades, Detroit would have recorded nearly 1,000 traffic deaths last year instead of 184," the report said.

Detroit's experience disproves the theory that the number of motor vehicle deaths in a community is directly related to the number of cars. But it does prove that a determined and co-ordinated attack on traffic accidents, such as Detroit launched 20 years ago, does pay off.

any of the malpractices of political bossism.

The flaws became obvious in 1932 when Democrats won a smashing victory. The voters in Wayne county that year were confronted at the primary by a bed-sheet ballot listing hundreds of candidates.

They nominated for the legislature a group of candidates with the surnames of Murphy, Kelly, O'Brien and Sumneracki (including Joseph C. Roosevelt—not knowing or caring whether their laws would be written by bricklayers, pipefitters or unemployed bartenders) then on the dole.

Former Gov. William A. Cavanaugh, a Democrat of stature and Wilsonian principles, tried to restore party responsibility by calling pre-primary conventions to pick qualified candidates for all elective offices. He failed.

But when the UAW took over the Democratic party 10 years ago, smart leaders at Solidarity House gradually acquired enough power to remedy their perplexing problem. They revived a boss system. Today, no candidate can be nominated on the Democratic ballot in the Wayne county primary without the support of the UAW bosses.

From the union's point of view, the flaws have been remedied. This history comes to mind because of the contest for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor between State Senator Edward N. Hutchinson, of Pennville, and Rep. George Wahr, of Ann Arbor.

No legislator has been more important to Michigan than has Hutchinson in the last 14 years.

power in the Senate, always with discretion and for the common good, has been immense. He has been the legislature's authority on the Constitution and processes of democratic government. He has been the guardian of minority rights.

Senator Hutchinson has sought personal glory. He has flamboyant headline seekers. Consequently, Senator Hutchinson is not well known outside his district in the southwest corner of the state.

Salade, on the other hand, is brash and noisy. Although he is on the Republican ticket, he is with the Democrats. He is the joy of the Democratic Party and a pain in the neck to Republicans.

From a party standpoint, would be as logical for Republicans to nominate one of Walter Wahr's brothers for Lieutenant-Governor.

So it's time GOP leaders start boasting about the fact that Senator Hutchinson has consented to run for Lieutenant-Governor. He is qualified for higher office.

ALERT FUND ASKED

The Chief of the Strategic Command has appealed to Congress for $571,000,000, nearly seven times what President Eisenhower proposed, as a down payment on continuous airborne alert.

General Thomas S. Power outlined his proposals before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee earlier this month.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Spring of the year ain't too far off and the sap rises in politics just like trees, especially when it's a election year. The Democrats and Republicans is getting started to warm up pretty good. Both sides is advocating everything for the pore man at wholesale prices while he's here on earth and a free tombstone for him when he is departed.

When I was a boy the candidates rode around the country inventing lies about their opponents. Now they just set tight at the television station and get a detective to dig up the truth on 'em.

Most of the candidates has two main planks in their platform. They talk about lower taxes in a election year but as soon as they get elected they start raising 'em. They handle the tax situation like the fellow that bobbed off his dog's tail and says "the dog is doing fine."

When the election is over, Mister Editor, you can get set for the Congress to bob off another inch or two, regardless of which side wins.

The second plank advocates a spending program calling for Federal aid to everything from crosscut saws for farmers to baby sitters for factory workers. Folks has been getting this Federal aid in habit-forming doses, until it looks like they is on the stuff for keeps.

It's too early yet to tell which side is getting the most bounce to the ounce. The Republican is calling the Democrats "radical eggheads," and the Democrats is calling the Republicans "Wall Street blockheads." Some of the voters is going to need a dictionary to find out what brand they prefer.

I note both parties is predicting a slide in business if the other side wins. I'll never happen. We solved that problem when we come up with the dollar down plan. All a store has got to do these days is put a five elephant in the window and offer him for a dollar down and a dollar a week. He'll sell.

Speaking of Spring, there was one piece of real disturbing news in the papers last week. In my day a bad case of Spring fever was always cured by a dose of sulphur and molasses and a couple of fishing trips. Now this scientist comes out last week and diagnoses Spring fever as "Vernal Hyperprolexia." There ain't much cure, I reckon, for a thing with a name like that. The treatment, I'd guess, will be a few of them expensive "shots" and advice from the doctor to work hard or else forget about fishing. The state of thinking, Mister Editor, sits worse in direct proportion to the increase in scientists—and political candidates.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lews.

May Designated as Senior Citizens Month

Lansing—May has been designated as Senior Citizens Month. It is appropriate if we turn our attention to a national problem which deals with our older people, those who are entitled to the joys and comfort, the security of their Golden Years.

The great fear among most of our retired people is the threat of illness with its attendant doctor's bills and hospital costs. Only a small minority of those who are retired can afford such costs. Most of our older people are of modest means, men and women who were able to lay aside only small amounts from their regular paychecks. They need our attention.

On many occasions in the past, I have expressed support of the Forand bill which is before the Congress. To my mind, it offers the kind of service our older people deserve and the type of program all of us should be proud to offer. This program would provide hospital and surgical insurance as part of the Social Security program. It would extend these additional benefits to all those drawing old-age and survivors' benefits under Social Security.

It thoughtfully provides reasonable hospital care, additional nursing home care and surgery, drugs and the usual services for hospital patients.

Other plans have been advanced since the Forand bill was introduced. Some Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee have presented a so-called compromise plan. That program would allow a choice of medical care or an increase in cash benefits.

The Javits bill has been introduced by eight Republican Senators. To me, this bill is inadequate because it does not specify a definite set of benefits to which all of our senior citizens would be entitled. It is difficult to see how some of our low income states, already facing financial problems, could afford any significant participation in this program without impeding developments in other areas of their services. It sets eligibility and benefits on a need basis, giving it a "public dole" or "charity" approach to this humanitarian problem. It appears the total cost of this program would be no less than the cost of the Forand bill.

When Senator Javits asked my opinion of the bill, I set forth my objections as I have done here.

Although I expressed disappointment in the Javits bill, the fact that it was introduced was heartening. There is no doubt in my mind that care for the aged is coming and we will relieve many of the older people of many of their worries. The fact that the Republicans presented a bill, even though it is less than desirable, is gratifying. It shows they realize there is a need for such legislation.

Why is Congressional action in this direction so important to Michigan?

In our State we have at present about 600,000 persons of 65 years of age or older. That is an increase of 150,000 since 1930. Estimates show that by 1970, Michigan will have 800,000 senior citizens. They are our attention.

During this year's session of the legislature, a Commission on Aging was authorized. This is a commission which I have recommended each of the last 10 years. The commission can assist local communities in providing for our older people. If the federal government will provide important hospital and surgical care, considerable progress will have been made in brightening the lives of Michigan people 65 years of age and older.

By GOV. G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

Primary Election System Not Infallible

When the Democratic Party started its climb to power in Michigan, Detroit voters elected a State Senator who was under the impression he had been nominated for a job in Washington, D. C. He ran for office under the name of Joseph C. Roosevelt.

"No," the new Senator informed newspaper reporters. "Franklin Roosevelt and I are not related. We are from different branches of the family."

It soon developed that their relationship was very distant, indeed. Records revealed that the Senator's right name was Joseph Cappola. A friendly Probate Judge had permitted him to adopt legally the name of the man in the White House.

Senator Roosevelt spent 10 years in the legislature after locating Lansing on a borrowed road map. He might still have been serving had he not been invited against his will by the late Kim Sigler to sit down for a chat.

Former Governor Sigler was then special prosecutor for the Lansing Grand Jury. Roosevelt accepted immunity and became a witness for the state.

Since that rather distant era, the Senator has disappeared from the political scene. It is presumed in Lansing that he changed his name back to Cappola.

The point of this little tale is that the primary election system is not as infallible as its perpetrators would have you believe. Michigan has learned from experience that the system can have shameful consequences as ugly as any of the malpractices of political bossism.

The flaws became obvious in 1932 when Democrats won a smashing victory. The voters in Wayne county that year were confronted at the primary by a bed-sheet ballot listing hundreds of candidates.

They nominated for the legislature a group of candidates with the surnames of Murphy, Kelly, O'Brien and Sumneracki (including Joseph C. Roosevelt—not knowing or caring whether their laws would be written by bricklayers, pipefitters or unemployed bartenders) then on the dole.

BEN-HUR
This is undoubtedly one of the best spectaculars ever made! Charlton Heston plays Ben-Hur, while Haya Harareet, the Israeli actress, plays the part of Esther, the lovely slave girl with whom Ben-Hur falls in love. The part of Messala, the Roman ruler of Jerusalem whose friendship for Ben-Hur turns to enmity when Ben-Hur refused to betray his people, is ably portrayed by Stephen Boyd.

How Ben-Hur eventually destroys Messala in a fiery chariot race is one of the many highlights of this magnificent spectacle.

This whole picture is a deeply moving story of men's passions and man's ability to withstand torture when love gives strength. We urge you on no account to miss this one!

Community Chest Officials Attend United Fund Meet

Stuart R. Booker represented the Chelsea Community Chest at a two-day meeting at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, where financial needs of the Michigan United Fund were determined by the budget committee.

Last year a total of 38 health and welfare agencies were included in the Michigan United Fund.

The meeting at Lansing was held Tuesday and yesterday. These state-wide budgeting sessions of the Michigan United Fund have gained a national reputation and are looked on by United Fund leaders throughout the nation as a shining example of citizen determination to meet health and welfare needs of an entire state on a voluntary basis.

After the total allocation for the 38 member-agencies is approved by the Admissions and Budget Executive Committee, each participating community in Michigan is asked to accept its fair share of the total as a part of their local united campaign next fall.

Walter C. Laidlaw, executive vice-president of Detroit's United Fund was the speaker at Tuesday evening's dinner session. His topic was "Integration Today and a Look at Tomorrow." Laidlaw was the organizer of the United Foundation in Detroit, whose Torch Drive has an unprecedented record of raising over 137-million dollars in ten campaigns. His efforts in helping other communities establish United Funds throughout the nation have earned him the reputation of being the number one authority in the field of financing health and welfare services.

Others from this area who attended the Lansing meeting are Robert McFarland and Albert J. Sanborn of Dexter, and Stanley White of Manchester.

The other day we ran into a person who agreed with what we wrote, which makes us wonder.

After a lunch in the McKenny directed to various discussion groups concerning elementary and

The girls' physical education classes have finished a unit on volleyball and have now started badminton. After learning the rules and scoring, they are now playing the game. The next unit will probably be tennis.

The Junior class is organizing committees for the annual dinner before the "Mystery trip." Chairmen of the committees are Carol

Chelsea high was very honored and pleased to have the winners of the Indiana State Band Contest from Hobart, Ind., present an assembly on April 28. The band provided Chelsea students with some very clever arrangements of marches, solos, trios, and selections from the Broadway production "Porgy and Bess."

Students very much enjoyed the program, and felt it was a privilege to hear it.

The World History class has studied Russia and China and will begin Japan next week. Recently a two-part film was shown, "War Comes to America." It explained more of what Mr. George Marshall had just taught in the past few weeks.

English 10, under Mrs. Flora, has just finished tests on George Elliot's "Silas Marner." They are comparing the various characters in the novel.

Mrs. LaGoe has taught a series of shorter stories, as well as the "Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner."
This seemed very difficult to the students, but in the end it proved interesting.

Geometry classes have finished a very interesting but hard chapter on loci. At the beginning of the final six weeks they started a new chapter called "Proportional Line Segments."

Art classes I and II are completing the unit on ceramics and sculpture. Many structures of animals and humans as well as pottery are displayed around the room.

DOLL DISPLAY — Chelsea High school and the South Elementary schools are very pleased to have on display some very beautiful Japanese dolls that were loaned to the schools by Diane Holmes. The dolls were given Diane by her grandmother, Mrs. H. S. Holmes, who collected them on her trips to Europe and Japan. The dolls are made to represent many different characters in Japanese life. Many different costumes, styles, and hair styles for various occasions are also represented. Some are "ceremonial" dolls showing dress and hair styles for particular events. Diane has had the dolls about nine years. People in picture holding the dolls are left to right, Oveda Willett, Sherry Frisinger, Carol Dancer, Roseann Hills, Janet Pichea.

R. Cutler Seeks Democratic Nomination as State Senator

Richard L. Cutler of Ann Arbor announced this week that he will run for the State Senate on the Democratic party ticket. Cutler, who has lived in Ann Arbor for the past 12 years, obtained permission from the University Regents last Friday to seek the Senate post. He is employed as Associate Professor of Psychology at the University of Michigan.

RICHARD L. CUTLER

In making his announcement, Cutler issued the following statement: "Over the past few years, I have watched with growing alarm the antics of a small group of old-guard members of the state Senate, who have blocked every effort at progress and reform in our state government. Their behavior came to a climax in 1959 and 1960 when, based upon what seemed to be political expediency and sheer bull-headedness, they deeply hurt the reputation of our state and made us a laughing stock in other areas of the country."

"As a life-long resident of Michigan, I believe that our state has a great future. I want it to be a proud and prosperous member of the national community, and a good place for my children to grow up.
I have faith that it can be these things, but that it will not be unless we rid ourselves of the backward thinking and political negativism which now dominates the Senate. If nominated and elected,
I pledge myself to devote my full energies to restoring Michigan government to a level of which we can all be proud. I will work toward tax reform, toward living within our resources, and for whatever revision of the state Constitution is necessary to make state government an efficient servant

of all the people."

"Even though I am not a professional politician," Cutler continued, "I believe that my background and experience enables me to understand the needs of people in all walks of life. I grew up in a rural area, have worked in factories and as a construction worker, and am part owner of a small business. As a psychologist, I come into daily contact with the personal concerns of many, and have continuing contact with industry as a psychological consultant. As a scientist and teacher, I have been trained to approach problems with an open mind and to resist the temptation to let emotions interfere with their solution. Finally, I believe that I have the energy and imagination to provide a new approach to the situation in Lansing."

Cutler grew up in rural southwestern Michigan, attended one-room country school through the eighth grade, and graduated from Three Rivers High school. He served as a Navy radio technician in World War II, and attended Western Michigan University from 1946 to 1949. After his graduation there, he came to Ann Arbor, where he took his Ph.D. in Psychology in 1953. After a year in California, he returned to the University of Michigan, where he has been employed since 1954.

Cutler has been active in community affairs; was president of the Dicken School PTO, vice-chairman of the city PTO legislative committee, and a member of the Democratic city committee. He has been treasurer of the Michigan Psychological Association and a member of its state-wide legislative committee. He is consultant to the Michigan Society for Mental Health, to the Veteran's Administration, and to several industries.
Cutler, who lives at 1420 Las Vegas Drive in Ann Arbor, is married and the father of two children, both of who attend Dicken school.

NATIONAL OUTLOOK

The Problem of Consumer Credit

There are two aspects to the problem of consumer credit. First is the question of volume; second is the issue of whether borrowers know how much they are paying.
The first is a matter of economics;
the second is something which may be handled by legislation. In this column we discuss the volume; the next column will be devoted to the proposed legislation to inform borrowers of the cost.

Consumer credit includes both installment and noninstallment loans. The total now is at a new high record, just about $52 billion.
Of this total about $40 billion is installment credit and $12 billion noninstallment credit. Automobile paper is the largest category, approximately $17 billion. During 1959 consumer credit as a whole increased almost $6.5 billion, of which $5.4 billion was installment credit. The total is still growing and promises to continue to grow.
Is this total too high? To answer that question one must have some base of comparison. Any number of items may be used as a base—gross national product, national income, volume of bank credit, and so forth. But the item which generally is considered best is personal income after taxes, or what is known as disposable personal income.

If we take disposable personal income as a benchmark by which to judge the present volume of consumer credit, we must conclude that the total is not too high. This conclusion is necessitated by the fact that the total is a smaller percentage of disposable personal income than it has been at various times in the past, although the difference is small.

Another test of the goodness of consumer credit is the behavior of delinquencies. Here the record is not so cheerful. Recently loans in the consumer credit category which were more than 30 days over-due have shown a slight increase. The percentage still is extremely low and the increase is nothing to get excited or frightened about. But one does not like to see an upward trend in this figure, and it is to be hoped that the next report will show a decline of delinquencies.

What is the relation of consumer credit to the business trend? It obviously enables persons to buy many things that they otherwise could not purchase. This means we have a larger total of business than we could have without such credit. It also means that this larger volume to a considerable extent is the result of stealing from future sales. But that is true of all credit, and just as the total of credit must keep on increasing year by year, so must consumer credit.

The only danger of consumer credit is that individuals over extend themselves. This can happen, but history shows that even in periods of economic recession the payments on consumer credit are well maintained. For example, in the recessions of 1949, 1953-54, and 1957-58, more consumer credit was repaid in each case than in the preceding year.

Whether this record will be continued will depend primarily upon the care with which consumer credit is extended. This is a matter of lender's judgement, and there is no reason for assuming that this judgement is going to become seriously impaired.

In a word, consumer credit today is not a threat to our business trend, and there is no evidence that it will develop into a threat.

The sweet young things are now preparing for the hunting season.
