Airgrounds Property Being Levelled

Being done at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds will improve the appearance of the grounds, but will prove to be an advantage in that it will remove the nuisance of water on the floor of the Merchants' building and the building is being out of the dirt being used in low ground at the south corner of the property.

FFA CORN PROJECT—In the above photo are four members of the Future Farmers of America Chapter of Chelsea High School, with Everett Van Riper (at extreme left) as they began the 4½-hour project of plowing and fitting two fields on the Gores farm, south of Chelsea, while Van Riper followed and planted corn for them. FFA members in the photo, from right, are Don Sexton, Richard Harvey, Don Laier and Richard Haist. Two other FFA members who are working on the corn project, Don Ousley and Paul Frisinger, do not appear in the photo.

Hopkins Named Spring Planting Chairman

James Hopkins was elected chairman of the Rockwell-Standard Corn Spring Division Unit of the United Local Union No. 437, at the election held June 2, at the Union.

Dates Set For Fluoride Application

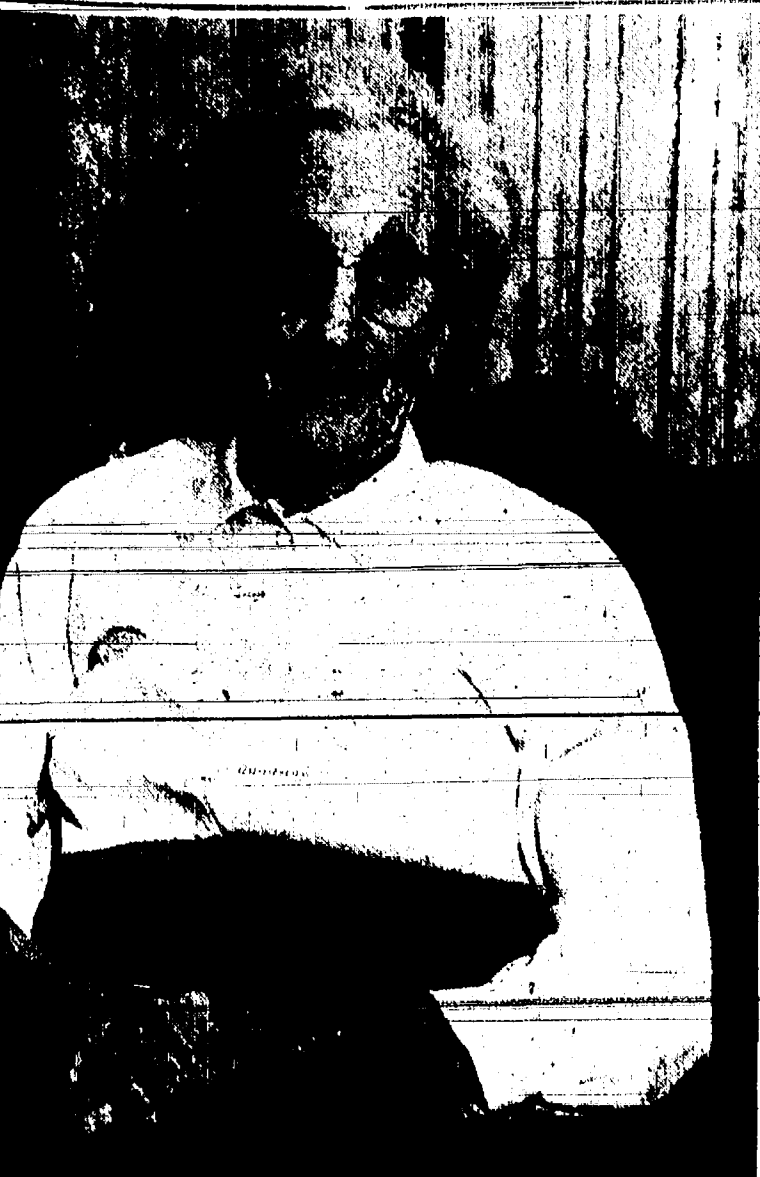

June 27 through July 7 have been set as the dates for the clinic at the Junior High school to apply a topical application of sodium fluoride. This program is sponsored jointly by the PTA and the Washtenaw County Health Department. Appointment cards will be mailed to those already registered in the next week. Children will make four visits which will include a cleaning of the teeth and four applications of sodium fluoride. These treatments reduce tooth decay as much as 40 per cent. Cost of the treatment is $3.00. Co-chairmen of the program are Mrs. John Chaplin and John Thompson. Pre-school age children and those now in the second, fifth or eighth grade are eligible to participate in this program. There are a few openings left and appointments may be made by calling John Thompson at GR 9-3424.

Gipson Sentenced to 13-25 Years for Shooting

Robert Lee Gipson, convicted of second-degree murder in the Dec. 28 shotgun shooting of Daniel Haines of Gregory, was sentenced Friday in Livingston County Circuit Court to 13 to 25 years in prison. Gipson had made his home with relatives in this vicinity prior to his arrest. The shooting took place outside a drive-in restaurant near Pinckney.

MRS. CHARLOTTE TAMLIN observed her 98th birthday Friday, June 3, at the Methodist Home where she has resided the past 20 years. Her age is not the most remarkable thing as a resident of the home—a sizeable percentage of residents are 90 years and older. She is believed to be one of the oldest twins in Michigan at the present time. Her twin brother, James Hart, could not join her for her birthday but is expected to be here for the joint birthday party for all members of the Home who have birthdays in June. The party is scheduled for June 14. Also expected at the party are her daughter, Mrs. Helen Bergin of Pontiac, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Arlene Holmes of Howell. Mrs. Tamlyn is alert and active. A year ago she took a walk around the entire Home property each morning. Born in St. Clair county, she is a daughter of Solomon Hart, who came to the United States from Scotland. Her husband, Thomas Hart, a native of New Orleans, La. Prior to coming to the Home she had lived near Howell for many years. She was a member of the Walnut Street Methodist church of Howell for 27 years.

Kiwanis Club Will Pick Up Rummage Items

Chelsea Kiwanians will hold a general rummage pick-up next Monday, June 13, following their weekly dinner meeting in the social center of the Methodist church. William Collins, general chairman of the rummage sale project, suggested that members wear work clothes to the dinner so they may start out on the pick-up immediately following the meal. At the June 6 meeting the guest speaker was J. Lee Barrett, president of the Aquarama Steamship Lines. He was introduced by John Stone, Aquarama sales representative. Barrett is honorary chairman of the Southeast Michigan Tourist Association and the Detroit Convention Bureau. He also serves as treasurer of the Automobile Club of Michigan; is associated with the Royal Yacht club of England and was formerly associated with the Gar Wood Enterprises. Prize winners in the state Kiwanis' bowling tournament at Mt. Pleasant April 16 and 17 were announced at Monday's meeting. In doubles events the Chelsea winners who received cash prizes are Robert Foster and Dr. V. R. Hanson; Charles Slocum and Wallace Wood; and Anton Nielsen and Paul Mann. In the all-events, Charles Slocum placed 10th. Other winners in single events, as announced, are James Daniels, John Keusch, Louis Abell, George Palmer, Wallace Wood and Charles Slocum.

FFA Members Carrying Out Corn Project for Summer

Six Future Farmers of America of the Chelsea High school chapter are carrying out a corn project this summer and on Tuesday, May 28, with the assistance of Everett Van Riper operating his corn planter, they got the ground plowed and fitted and the corn planted in approximately 4½ hours. The corn project is located on the Gores farm, in two fields south of Jerusalem Rd. and east of the Manchester Rd. The six FFA members working on the project are Richard Haist, Donald Laier, Richard Harvey, Donald Sexton, Donald Ousley and Paul Frisinger. In addition to the co-operation of Everett Van Riper, the six youths received contributions totaling 4½ bushels of seed corn from Robert Haist, Harold Trinkle, William Van Riper and Blaisie (Z) vator Co., and the latter also is donating the work and equipment to spray the fields with weed killer. Four of the youths—Haist, Laier, Harvey and Sexton—each operated a tractor in fitting the field. Ousley worked on the preparation of the soil and Frisinger helped with the planting. Fertilizer was applied at the rate of 150 lbs. to the acre.

Barbecue Committees Are Active

Washtenaw county chicken barbecue committees under the direction of the general chairman, Mrs. Edwin Frederick and Mrs. Simon Girsch are diligently preparing for one of Michigan's largest chicken broils June 19. Mrs. Frederick states that Mrs. Robert Mast and Mrs. Jack Bradbury both of Dexter, will direct the broiling of 4,000 chicken servings. Mrs. Walter Wolfgang is chairman of purchasing. Elmer Dible of Ann Arbor is chairman of the pits committee. He will have to build four pits each approximately 40 ft. in length. Mrs. Raymond Weber of Ann Arbor and her committee will begin early in the morning on the 19th shredding more than 1 ton of cabbage for salads. Mrs. Don Mull of Willis is in charge of the rolls committee. Their job consists of buttering more than 8,000 rolls, while Mrs. Wendel Reinhardt of Manchester serves the potato chips. The thousands of cups of coffee will be prepared and served by Mrs. Harold Guenther and her coffee committee. Washtenaw Junior 4-H leaders, Richard Haist of Chelsea, chairman, will sell soft drinks, and Washtenaw Junior Farm Bureau, Arlene Dible, Ann Arbor, chairman, will handle the ice cream. Nobody likes to wash dishes for an event this size, so Mrs. Willis Hasset of Manchester will be using paper plates, cups, etc., for the serving. Securing, hauling and setting up tables and chairs for serving 4,000 people is a major task. David Wolfgang of Chelsea, and his 4-H service club, will handle this assignment. Parking and traffic will be handled by the Washtenaw county Sheriff's posse, Ralph Coon, chairman. Throughout the afternoon special entertainment will be on hand. Raymond Girsch of Saline promises a variety of fun for all. Frank Haggard of Dexter and Armin Haussler of Manchester are in charge of financing and are urgently request all to purchase their tickets as soon as possible. Every township, village and city has ticket salesmen. Farm Council Directors are in charge of local sales. They are as follows: Raymond Girsch, Saline; Lauren Geiger, South Lyon; Edwin Frederick, Ann Arbor; George Frisinger, Chelsea; Donald Gill, Ypsilanti; Albert Armheim, Ypsilanti; Allen Alber, Manchester; Wesley Amsdill, Dexter; Willis Hasset, Manchester; and Jay Hopkins, Grass Lake. For further information call the Cooperative Extension Service Office, Ann Arbor.

New Pastor Assumes Duties at Waterloo Church

The Rev. Wilbur Silvernail has been appointed to serve as pastor of the Waterloo Village Evangelical United Brethren church and took up his duties there Sunday, May 29. He succeeds the Rev. Dale Ferris who served the Waterloo church the past two years and has now been transferred to Marcellus. The Rev. Silvernail formerly lived at Cass City and graduated from high school there before going to North Central College at Naperville, Ill. Upon graduation he enrolled at the Evangelical Theological Seminary at Naperville to complete his studies for the ministry. He was ordained in May, 1955, at Calvary EUB church in Detroit and since then has served as pastor of the Portage Prairie church just outside Niles. At present, he is working on a master's degree at Michigan State University. The Rev. Silvernail served with the U. S. Army from October, 1946, until September, 1947. He met his wife while serving in Japan. A Japanese girl, she was a citizen of Canada at the time. The Silvernails were married 10 years ago at Naperville, Ill. They have an adopted daughter, also Japanese. She is 13-year-old Dawn Silvernail, who will be attending school in Chelsea in the fall.

Women Are Witty But Wise Says U-M Psychiatrist

Ann Arbor—Wittiness, in the opinion of a psychiatrist at the University of Michigan Medical Center, is strictly a masculine trait. According to Dr. Ronald E. Trunsky (M.D.), "Today's woman, if she is young and intelligent, had better not show her wit too obviously, for she will scare the contemporary male." Since we unconsciously judge the trait to be masculine, he said, women are not allowed to be witty. "Women, traditionally are supposed to be incapable of even telling a good joke. However, lady bosses—and other women successfully impersonating male roles—are as skillful in inventing and telling a joke as any man."

Baccalaureate Service Sunday Evening Starts Busy Graduation Week

Operational Millage Loses; Board Election Set Monday

The 2-mill operational levy requested by the Chelsea School District Board of Education failed to carry in Monday's special election. The vote on the question resulted as follows: 412 "yes" and 604 "no." A total of 1,105 ballots were cast. Of this number, 28 were not valid for various reasons. The School Board had announced prior to the election, that the request for the 2-mill operational levy for a period of three years was "founded upon the real needs of this school district," and that members of the board reached the decision to ask for the levy only after thorough study of the question during the past year. Approval of the additional millage, the School Board had stated, would enable the district "to carry on with an adequate educational program for the children of this community." The problem will now carry over to the new seven-member Board of Education which goes into effect here this year. Two four-year members and one three-year member will be named to the board in the annual election which is to take place next Monday, June 13. Present members who remain on the board are Dr. J. V. Fisher, Earl Beeman, Howard Flintoft and Luther Kusterer. Leon Marsh, the fifth member of the present board, is completing his three-year term in office and did not run for re-election. There are eight candidates for election to the two four-year terms and five candidates seeking election to the one three-year term at next Monday's election.

Commencement Exercises Set for Wednesday

Graduation week for Chelsea High school seniors begins with baccalaureate services in the auditorium at the high school at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The Rev. Paul M. Schnake, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church will deliver the sermon.

Bulldogs Win Doubleheader At Leslie

The Chelsea Bulldogs finished the school year on a good note, as they won both ends of a twilight doubleheader at Leslie last Friday night. With every man collecting at least one hit, the Bulldogs spotted Leslie a four-run lead, and then came back with five big runs in the fifth inning and two more in the sixth, to cap the opening game, 7-4. Mike Marsh went the distance for Chelsea, striking out 10 and walking just four. Mike allowed only five baseruns, but five Chelsea errors allowed the four runs to score. In the second game, Homer Nixon drew the starting assignment and responded excellently, allowing only four hits and no runs while walking two men. Donald Blalock pitched the last two innings and allowed one run on one hit while walking one and striking out four. Meanwhile, the Bulldogs were collecting four runs on four hits and three successful squeeze plays. Twice, Mike Marsh squeezed home Charles Cameron and once George Wilson scored Matt Murphy on a squeeze bunt. Charles Cameron led the hitting attack as he collected two of the four Chelsea hits. This was the last appearance for seniors Charles Cameron, George Wilson and Matt Murphy who have stolen some 27 bases this year, including stealing home three different times.

Bulldogs Win Doubleheader At Leslie

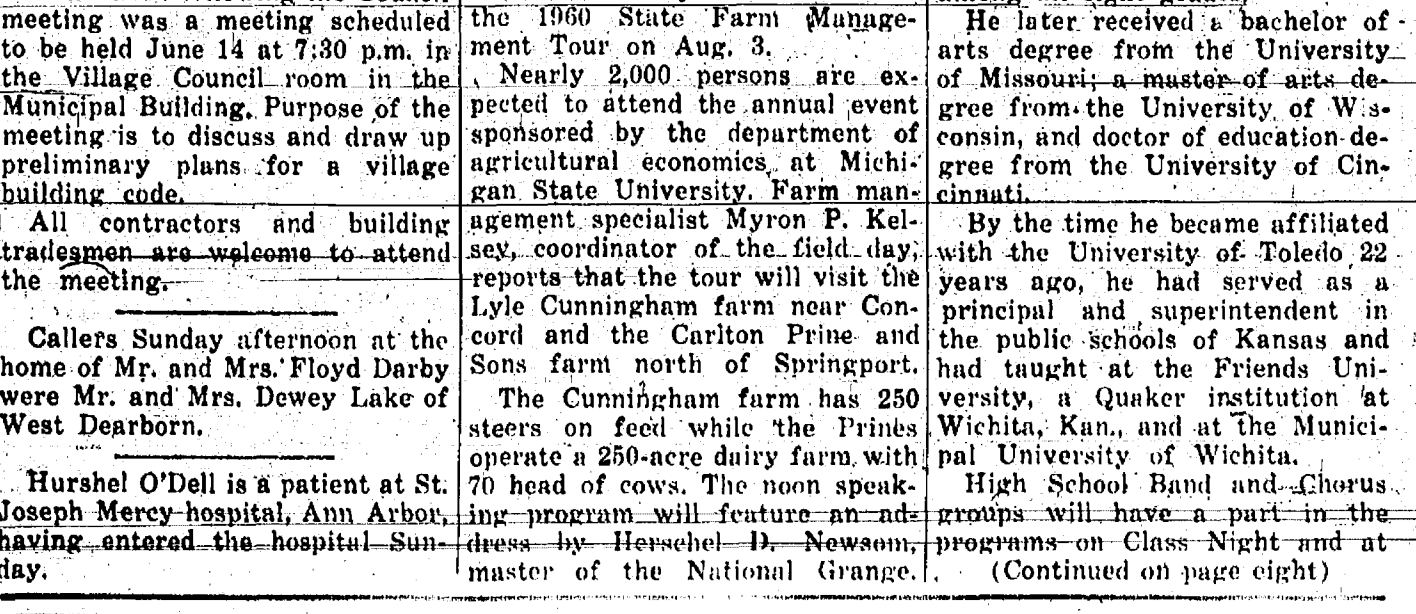

Other Chelsea area pastors who will participate are the Rev. Wilbur Silvernail of the Waterloo Village Evangelical United Brethren church; the Rev. Harry Pyscher, who serves as pastor of Salem Grove and North Lake Methodist churches; the Rev. Allan W. Reed of St. Barnabas Episcopal church; the Rev. Philip Rusten of the Congregational church; the Rev. C. J. Remer of Zion Lutheran church at Rogers Corners; and the Rev. P. H. Grawowski, pastor-emeritus of St. Paul's church. The Rev. S. D. Kinde of the Methodist church will be the presiding minister. The High School Chorus will sing two anthems and Mrs. Linda Greenwood will serve as organist for the service. Class Night will take place Tuesday, June 14, at 8 p.m., and commencement exercises will be held Wednesday, June 15 at 8 p.m. Both programs will take place in the Chelsea High school gymnasium. At the Class Night program, Sharon Smyser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smyser, will give the salutatory address and Diane Gary, and Jane McLaughlin as co-valedictorians. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gary and Mr. and Mrs. Russell McLaughlin. At the commencement exercises Wednesday evening, the speaker will be Dr. Frank R. Hickerson, professor of education and director of teacher placement at the University of Toledo. He will speak on the topic, "The High School Graduate in the Second Half of the Twentieth Century." Dr. Hickerson's experience covers a wide range of educational activities beginning with his own early education. Born on a farm in Missouri he attended a one-room rural school and started teaching in a similar school at the age of 18, following his graduation from high school. At that time he rode a horse six miles to school each day and taught 44 pupils divided among all eight grades. He later received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Missouri; a master of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin; and doctor of education degree from the University of Cincinnati. By the time he became affiliated with the University of Toledo 22 years ago, he had served as a principal and superintendent in the public schools of Kansas and had taught at the Friends University, a Quaker institution at Wichita, Kan., and at the Municipal University of Wichita. High School Band and Chorus groups will have a part in the programs on Class Night and at commencement. (Continued on page eight)

Council To Study Building Code at Tuesday Meeting

At the Village Council meeting Tuesday evening a report on the two new water wells being installed to augment the village water supply stated that work is being held up because of a delay in the receipt of necessary materials. It was pointed out that because of this delay, the new wells will not be in production before September. It had been expected that production would begin the middle of the summer. Announced following the Council meeting was a meeting scheduled to be held June 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Village Council room in the Municipal Building. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss and draw up preliminary plans for a village building code. All contractors and building tradesmen are welcome to attend the meeting. Callers Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darby were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lake of West Dearborn. Hurshel O'Dell is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, having entered the hospital Sunday.

State Farm Tour Scheduled Aug. 3 Near Jackson

Jackson County will be host for the 1960 State Farm Management Tour on Aug. 3. Nearly 2,000 persons are expected to attend the annual event sponsored by the department of agricultural economics at Michigan State University. Farm management specialist Myron F. Kelsey, coordinator of the field day, reports that the tour will visit the Lyle Cunningham farm near Concord and the Carlton Prime and Sons farm north of Springfield. The Cunningham farm has 250 steers on foot while the Primes operate a 250-acre dairy farm with 70 head of cows. The noon speaking program will feature an address by Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Farm.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 102—The modern, at once, GR 5-3581. The owner is entitled to mount a photo of the farm if he will call at The Standard office by Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Drouillard left Monday for Omaha, Neb., where they will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Drouillard, and family.

Pack 'Extra' Items To Make Family Travel Time Fun

Traveling by automobile this summer can be fun for the whole family, or it can be misery. Miss Emily Hobbs, instructor of child development at Michigan State University, has some hints to make your trip more convenient and pleasant.

A portable snack bar is fun for on-the-road picnics and indispensable when dinner comes and goes with no restaurant in sight. Such a snack bar might include cheese, raisins, fruit juice, canned meat, crackers, fruit, jelly and peanut butter. A portable ice box may be handy for cold drinks, cheese and fruit.

Remember, you will need can and bottle openers, paper napkins, paper or plastic cups and plates, and eating utensils.

A wash cloth, sponge and soap have many uses on a long trip. They can be used for washing peanut butter off little Mary's face, wiping up spills and doing other clean-up jobs. Wiping a child's face with a damp wash cloth can be very soothing.

A shoe bag fastened to the back of the front seat will hold much of the miscellany that clutters up a car.

For car sickness, ask your doctor for pills, especially if you have small children. Also, take empty ice cream containers, sponges and tissues, along with lemon drops or peppermints to suck.

A first aid kit is good to have along in case of a cut, finger, sunburns or headaches.

FAMILY STORY

Milwaukee, Oregon—When a five-year-old boy was found dead in a car, Mrs. Robt. Sylvester and her small children escaped. The woman, a widow for six months, said a telephone call woke her. It was a wrong number.

Tetanus Booster Shot Recommended

Lansing—Gardening enthusiasts may be digging more than flower beds and vegetable plots—perhaps their own graves, if they haven't been immunized against tetanus, the Michigan Department of Health warns.

Tetanus, or lockjaw as it is commonly called, will probably kill between 300 and 400 Americans this year.

Some 50 persons died from tetanus in Michigan between 1950 and 1958. This figure may seem small, but the important thing is, health authorities point out, not one of these 50 would have died had they been immunized against the disease.

Everyone should be immunized against tetanus and it is recommended that tetanus immunity be started at age three months along with polio, whooping cough and diphtheria shots. A booster shot should be given every five years to continue the effectiveness of the immunization.

Even though it is generally true that tetanus is more apt to strike victims suffering from deep cuts where tissue is badly damaged, there is always the possibility that the gardener working in the soil, where the tetanus germs are most commonly found, may contract the disease from a surface scratch if he isn't immunized.

Over 2,000 years ago, a Greek medic said of tetanus, "It is an inhuman calamity." A horrible sight! A spectacle painful even to the beholder! An incurable malady. These words still ring true today. Even with all the modern drugs and facilities available today, between 40 and 50 of every 100 persons contracting tetanus will die. None would die if they were immunized.

The health department says everyone owes it to himself to check on his immunization status with his doctor. If you're going to be working in the garden, or even if you're not, it would be wise to check and see whether you have had a tetanus booster shot within the last five years. If not, make arrangements to get one. It could save your life.

Warns U. S. Helium Supply Is Dwindling

East Lansing—One of our most rare and valuable natural resources—helium—is being rapidly depleted, U. S. Secretary of the Interior, Fred A. Seaton, writes in the current issue of Business Topics, published by the MSU Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

What is more, warns the cabinet member, the U. S. has the only currently known helium resources in the Free World. Should we have to look to the atmosphere for helium, our sources become extremely scarce.

Helium's unique qualities make it excellent for use in nuclear reactors, ballistic missiles and other important projects.

The moose has a very acute sense of hearing. In trusted snow it is believed that they can hear a man on snowshoes as much as half a mile away.

BOASTING-SIZE BASS—These anglers won't have to worry about this smallmouth bass making the minimum 10-inch limit. Such are the thrills of bass season which opens June 18, adding the last of Michigan's game fish to the legal catch list. Large and smallmouth bass are among the top ten species of fish taken in the state's non-trout waters. The largemouth is abundant in lakes throughout the lower peninsula, in many lakes above the Straits and in weedy bays of the Great Lakes. Its look-alike, the smallmouth, is found throughout the state and along rocky shores of the Great Lakes.

Opening of Bass Season Offers Fun for Fishermen

Lansing—Michigan's 1960 fishing season moves into full gear June 18 when black bass—the largemouth and smallmouth—join other game fish on the state's legal catch list.

These latecomers to the state's fishing scene are cinches to give anglers their share of boating-sized trophies and sporting thrills through Sept. 11 on trout lakes and streams and Dec. 31 on all other waters, including the Great Lakes. They rank among the top ten species of fish taken from Michigan's inland non-trout waters.

Much of their popularity stems from their dogged scrappiness, a true challenge for the best of fishermen. The smallmouth has been hailed as "inch for inch and pound for pound," the gamest fish that swims. The largemouth is also a plucky fighter when hooked.

The latter is abundant in lakes throughout the lower peninsula, in many lakes above the Straits and in weedy bays of the Great Lakes. It favors shallow, weedy and mud-bottom lakes and quiet rivers. Casting with artificial plugs, spinners and live bait in shallow lake waters where lily pads and other aquatic plants grow usually brings the best results in catching this fellow.

Its look-alike, the smallmouth, is found throughout the state. It is most plentiful in larger lakes with open shoals and gravel or boulder bottoms, in larger non-trout rivers with fast currents and rocky bottoms, and along rocky shores of the Great Lakes.

Fishermen generally find that casting by plugs, spinners or live bait, or trolling with a spinner and live bait in moderately deep water to be most effective for taking smallmouths. Night bass fishing is often highly rewarding later in the season.

There are several ways to tell whether you've landed a largemouth or smallmouth. Check the upper jaw of your fish. If it extends behind the eye, it's a largemouth.

The largemouth also has a deep notch between the two parts of its dorsal fin. There is also a marked difference in the color pattern of these two fish. The smallmouth is brown to greenish-brown and may have a series of dark, vertical bars along its side. The largemouth is greenish with a broad black band running the length of its body.

Washtenaw Registrations Show Sharp Drop Since 1958

The number of registered voters in Washtenaw county decreased by 5,923 since 1958. Tallies assembled by the Elections Division of the Michigan Department of State show 62,885 registrations in 1960 compared with 68,808 two years ago.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare there were 34,822 less people registered in Michigan in April of this year than in April, 1958. The total for 1960 was 3,454,804 compared with the 1958 total of 3,489,626.

Hare also reported that this year automation will bring in Michigan's election results more quickly as four out of five citizens vote for their candidates on machines instead of paper ballots.

Since the 1958 election, 168 new machine precincts have been added in Michigan while the number of paper ballot precincts have decreased by 252. There are now 9,281 voting machines in the State.

According to the law, when the voting population living in a paper ballot precinct grows to a point where more than 800 persons are registered, they must switch to machines or divide the precinct.

Hare praised the co-operation of township, city, and county clerks who helped the elections staff complete the study of the shift to machine precincts and to get an up-to-date total on the actual number of persons registered to vote.

Michigan now has 6,077 precincts, a drop of 84 below the 6,161 precincts in 1958. Paper ballot precincts decreased by 252, falling from 1,871 in 1958 to 1,619 in 1960.

Machine ballot precincts rose from 3,290 in 1958 to 3,458 in 1960, a gain of 168.

Voting in Michigan, like so many other things in modern life, is rapidly becoming automated. This, Hare believes, will result in election returns coming in more quickly and accurately in both the pri-

BOY BITES SNAKE

Jonesboro, Ark.—Returned from a recent visit to Memphis (Tenn.), to a relative, Mrs. Jim Chrisco, gave a new twist to the man-bites-dog story.

She said she put her 10-month-old son, Jeffrey, in a play pen in the yard. When she checked on him she found the tot playing with a small snake. Horrified, Mrs. Chrisco grabbed up her son, put the snake into her purse and rushed to a doctor. Jeffrey had not been harmed.

The snake, nonpoisonous, didn't fare so well. Bitten in four places by the small boy, it died.

GOLDEN BRICKS

Little Rock, Ark.—Want to build a house out of gold bricks? They're available—at the bargain price of 52 cents apiece.

A brick company, using its discount, of course, has built an office out of gold bricks. And the 2,975 brick attract quite a bit of attention, says M. Tate Roberts, an official of the firm.

Would-be prospectors will be disappointed to learn that although the glitter is the real thing, it is only about 1-1000th of a millimeter thick. An ordinary brick holds the gold leaf.

INTREPID BURGLARS

San Antonio, Tex.—Bobby Yow told police that among $160 worth of loot taken from his home was his watch-dog.

Catching Fish Is But Half the Battle

Is as important as catching (buying) it, says Gene Cope, marketing specialist with the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries regional office in Ann Arbor.

Two fundamental rules for preparing the high quality proteins and vitamins of fish in the marketing specialist on "Convection Report" radio series produced by the University of Michigan Broadsheeting Service (WUOM) and carried around the state.

1) Avoid overcooking—there is no such thing as a tough fish that requires long, slow cooking, says Cope, who reminds that when the fish flesh flakes easily with fork, it's done.

2) Handle as little as possible—careless handling and turning may bruise and break the fish and certainly won't help its appearance.

It's the Princess Phone, an exciting new telephone that we are showing right now.

Just about everybody who's seen this wonderful little telephone has fallen in love with it.

And it's small enough to fit into just about any corner in your home.

Besides that, it comes in 5 decorator colors... white, beige, pink, blue and turquoise.

So be sure to call or come in and meet our Princess real soon.

You'll love her!

IF YOU STARTED a business making "widgits" and you wanted lots of people to come to your shop, how would you advertise? Skywriting? No, it wouldn't work in rainy weather. Smoke signals? Maybe, but certainly not on windy days. The Yellow Pages? Of course! Everybody—870 to be completely truthful, 9½ people out of 10—uses the Yellow Pages. So if you're making or selling anything, just advertise in the Yellow Pages, sit back and listen to the phone and the cash register ring.

MINUTES COUNT when a doctor is treating a child who has swallowed something he shouldn't have... especially when that something is an unknown liquid or chemical. Today, your family doctor or local hospital can receive immediate information about any known poison and its antidote by calling a Poison Information Center. Located in six cities here in Michigan, these Centers are manned by qualified technicians. Thanks to the telephone, the specialized knowledge and information at these Centers are available to all doctors without delay.

PARTING SHOT: TRAFFIC: A lot of cars moving fast until your car joins them.

Always at Your Service on the Double Quick!

Looking for heads-up auto service? Look no further. That's us! Always on our toes to serve you promptly, efficiently, courteously!

Gramps Tells a "Moving" Story

Gramps Adams just got back from his first trip to the city in 40 years.

Thinking there might be a story in an oldtimer's impressions of the big city, I stopped by his place. Gramps was pretty enthusiastic about everything except the skyscrapers they have in the new department store.

"Sure, these moving 'skats are easy on the legs going up," Gramps commented. "But just try to get down on the same ones. I'll be jiggered if you can do it, not with the steps comin' up at you a mile a minute!"

Richards Files Candidacy for GOP Nominations as State Representative

Richard S. Richards of Milan, on Tuesday, June 8, formally filed petitions with the clerk of the Michigan State Capitol as a candidate of the Republican party for the office of State Representative from the Second District of Washtenaw county, Tuesday, Aug. 2.

VIVIAN RICHARDS

Richards says his election will be a vote for the voters make an informed choice, as he does not have the backing of any political party or vested interest of kind. He is in this contest on the assumption that the voters will change, and with the hope they have confidence in his ability to represent the people of his district. It is his desire that the legislature be restored to its proper respect and confidence in the minds of all; that it end its bickering and fulfill its duties and responsibilities which it is elected. We need a state government a spirit of cooperation that will promote harmony and good understanding to the end that our laws may be resolved on the basis of what is good for Michigan. With such a spirit and determination we can find satisfactory solutions for our growing and expanding economy."

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Beach and children, Eric and Elizabeth, who have been living at Lake Forest, Ill., moved this week to Gettysburg, Pa., where the former will teach at Gettysburg College in the fall. As soon as they are settled in their home at Gettysburg, the family will leave for Beaufort, N. Car., where Beach will continue a research project on which he has worked the past two summers at Duke University. They will be at Beaufort for three months. Mr. and Mrs. Beach and their daughter, en route to Gettysburg, arrived Monday night at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Beach, remaining until Tuesday afternoon. Their son, Eric, who had spent the past two weeks here with his grandparents, accompanied them when they left for Gettysburg Tuesday afternoon.

Saginaw Firm Starts Work on Freeway Project

Lansing-Piercon Contracting Co., Saginaw, this week started work on a $2,186,750 contract for 5.1 miles of US-12 freeway near Ann Arbor, the Highway Department said.

This project will extend the already completed 44-mile long, Detroit-Ann Arbor freeway westerly to Baker Rd.

It will also provide interchanges at Zeeb and Baker roads, a grade separation at Wagner Rd. and a ramp to carry freeway traffic to Jackson Ave.

Completion date on the work is July 15, 1961.

All of the remaining 17.7 miles of US-12 freeway in Washtenaw county are now under contract. More than 12 miles are currently under construction.

The record speed for any animal is held by a bird—the frigate bird. It has a flying speed of over 100 miles an hour and has been credited with a hard-to-believe record of over twice this speed.

Red Cross To Construct New Headquarters Building

John Laird, Ann Arbor attorney, was elected chairman of the Washtenaw county chapter of the American Red Cross at the annual meeting of this organization last week. Laird is a graduate of the University of Michigan, city councilman in Ann Arbor, member of Kiwanis, and on the Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian church.

The principal speaker was Dr. Edward Moe of the Michigan State University and National Consultant for the American Red Cross, who told the 150 members and guests that all voluntary and service organizations face a serious challenge today in the changing community. "I am proud that Red Cross is taking the lead in this soul-researching project of self-appraisal in order to cope with the population explosion, and to get the best results for the charity dollar," Dr. Moe said.

After a study extending over four years, the chapter entered into an agreement to purchase land for headquarters building from Walter Anicks. "The parcel is located on Packard Rd. and adjacent to Burr Park, and three-quarters of the value of the land is being donated by Anicks," Jack L. Shipman, chapter chairman, said.

Red Cross Motor Service was given a citation by the VA hospital, the last class of Gray Ladies were capped by Miss Rhoda Reddig, dean of Nursing, University of Michigan, and the Washtenaw County Medical Society received a certificate from the chapter for outstanding co-operation in the blood program. Volunteer physicians of the Medical Society have been serving in the blood clinic for the past year.

A Red Cross volunteer family, the Lowell-Smiths, 548 Third St., Ann Arbor, was honored at the "all volunteer Red Cross family of the year."

Dr. F. A. Collier spoke on the 50th Anniversary of First Aid in the Red Cross. "More than twenty million persons have been trained in First Aid since the inception of this program," Collier said. The Red Cross still seeks to train one person in every family.

A Safety Post, easily constructed by anyone was presented to each community by the Water Safety chairman, Dr. Earle Zeigler. These "Do-It-Yourself Anti-Drowning Kits" consist of an inflated inner tube, bamboo poles, 40-foot rope, and instructions on artificial respiration. Seventy-five per cent of the drownings are within 40 feet of the shore, and a simple protective device like this could save lives.

Also elected at the annual meet-

New Type Drug To Help Control Sheep Parasites

According to Don Johnson, county extension director, you can get a new finely-ground type of phenothiazine for use this year. Phenothiazine of the phenothiazine in this new drug makes it more effective against several species of parasites than the more coarsely ground materials.

Drenching adult sheep before they go on pasture cuts down on the number of worm eggs that will be deposited on the ground during the spring and summer. This means that lambs will pick up fewer eggs as they feed, cutting chances of their becoming infected later on.

If ewes have not finished lambing before turning them out to pasture, delay the drench until all the lamb crop has arrived.

Another good practice in internal parasite control for the sheep flock is including phenothiazine in the salt mixture that is kept before the flock all the time. Mix the two ingredients at the rate of one pound of phenothiazine to each 14 pounds of trace mineralized salt.

Or you can make a more complicated but effective salt mix from 100 pounds of trace mineralized salt, 30 pounds of dicalcium phosphate, 20 pounds of soybean oil meal, one gallon of molasses and 10 pounds of phenothiazine. Mix the first four ingredients well and then add the phenothiazine for further mixing.

AGENT OF THE ADVERTISING MANAGER . . .

One of the astounding facts of life in America is that many a businessman will get up at dawn off an advertised mattress, drink advertised orange juice, drive an advertised car to his office, use advertised products such as typewriters, carbon paper, pencils, pens, and machines all day, drink advertised coffee at coffee break time, smoke advertised cigarettes, perhaps even kiss a stenographer wearing advertised lipstick that is itself a form of advertising, snook off to an advertised ball game, in fact use advertised merchandise during every minute of his twenty-four hour day—but turn down a proposal to advertise on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay!

THANK YOU
I would like to thank all my friends and relatives for their visits, cards, flowers and gifts during my stay at the hospital and since my return home. Also the Rev. Kinde. Mrs. Edna (Ma) Worden.

THANK YOU
My sincere thanks to my relatives, friends, and neighbors who visited me while I was at the hospital and since my return home, and also to those who sent cards, gifts and flowers. Sam Howard.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings and for food brought in by our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved John, son and brother. Special thanks to the Rev. Paul M. Schnake for his comforting words; the Rev. P. H. Grabowski for his calls; Staffan Funeral Home for the courtesies extended the family; the sophomore and senior classes at Chelsea High school; Federal Screw Works; Rebekah Lodge; and the pall bearers. We shall always remember these thoughtful expressions of sympathy. Ruth and Linda Meehan Julius and Lina Reule Billy Lake.

Electronic Range

Now Available for Fast Cooking

Four minutes to bake a muffin and not a minute more. Mary Coleman, foods and nutrition instructor at Michigan State University, says exact timing is important when using an electronic range. One or two extra minutes can produce a muffin that's dry or burned inside.

The cook soon learns she cannot rely on outside appearance to determine when a product is done. Short cooking periods do not develop golden brown surfaces on cakes, steaks or casseroles. Most electronic ranges have a browning timer for browning foods at the end of a short cooking period. Any food, such as a roast, that takes 15 minutes or longer to cook, will develop the usual surface browning.

The amount of food placed in the range affects the cooking time. For instance, it takes four times as long to cook six meat patties as it does to cook one.

The electronic range has found a niche in the restaurant business for short-order cooking. Individual portions of casserole dishes, vegetables and baked products can be prepared and refrigerated or frozen. At the drop of an order, the individual dish can be popped into the electronic range for 30 seconds or a minute and emerge hot and fresh for the customer.

One restaurant chain uses the range for thawing frozen foods fast. A ten-pound turkey ordinarily takes 24 to 48 hours to thaw. In the electronic range, it can be thawed in just one hour.

Electronic ranges have been on the market about six years, and most manufacturers of regular ranges also produce an electronic unit. The one drawback—and a big one—is the high price. Cost can be greatly reduced when customer demand increases and makes large scale production possible.

Miss Coleman suggests you may want to keep your conventional range even if you buy an electronic unit. See cooking chores, such as stirring cereals and white sauces, are easier to do on the regular range.

CHANCES SLIM
Governor Rockefeller's announcement that he would accept a draft for the Republican Presidential nomination drew as much surprise in Washington as a foreign conclusion.

Supporters of Vice President Nixon gave no sign of alarm and Rockefeller backers agreed with the Governor that his chances were slim under present conditions.

FARM BILL VOTED
The Senate has approved a bill appropriating $5,000,000,000 for farm programs. It was $700,000,000 more than the House had voted but $180,000,000 less than President Eisenhower had requested.

The vote was 74 to 1, with Senator Prescott Bush, Republican of Connecticut, casting the one ballot against.

THANK YOU
Many thanks to everyone in the community who so splendidly supported the Democratic Women's bake sale at Hilltop Plumbing store last Saturday—those who contributed and those who put forth an "all-out" effort for the success of the project. Chelsea Area Democratic Women.

CARD OF THANKS
Our gratitude and thanks are extended to relatives, friends and neighbors for the sympathy expressed in so many thoughtful ways during our recent bereavement. The cards, flowers and many acts of kindness are deeply appreciated. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burghardt for their many thoughtful courtesies to the family and friends. Family of Edwin W. Beutler.

Estimate County Highway Accidents

Cost $5,115,000

The estimated cost of highway accidents and fatalities in Washtenaw county in 1959 came to $5,115,000 according to averages worked out by the National Safety Council.

According to James M. Hare, Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, the estimated cost of Michigan's 1,469 fatalities and 188,771 recorded accidents came to an appalling $227,095,000, or nearly a quarter of a billion dollars in 1959.

"The annual report of the Michigan State Police shows that 3,581 accidents occurred in Washtenaw county in which 38 persons were killed and 1,448 were injured," Hare said.

"In calculating the costs of motor vehicle accidents the Safety Council takes into consideration medical expense, wage loss, cost of insurance, and property damage," Hare said.

"More difficult to calculate is the cost incurred when a wage earner is killed or permanently injured by a hit-run or uninsured motorist," Hare pointed out. "The original hospital or funeral costs can be readily ascertained, but the many long-range effects of an accident caused by an irresponsible or uninsured motorist, such as possible welfare and aid to dependent children costs, is much more difficult to estimate."

WORLD STEEL OUTPUT

World steel production advanced to a three-month high of 77,800,000 tons during the first quarter of 1960, according to a recent announcement from the Department of Commerce.

Output was 15,300,000 tons above the 62,500,000 tons produced in the first quarter of 1959.

For all of 1960, the department said, production is expected to exceed the 1959 record of 818,000,000 tons.

TAX CUT BARRED
The House Ways and Means committee has voted to stand fast against scheduled reductions in corporation and estate taxes for another year.

Its action, it becomes law, would forestall Federal revenue losses of more than $4,000,000,000 a year, of which $2,700,000,000 would occur in the fiscal year beginning July 1. President Eisenhower was counting on this income in projecting a surplus of $4,200,000,000 for the coming year.

Today's picture review:

VISIT TO A SMALL PLANET

Jerry Lewis is a "sure enough, ever-lovin', cotton-pickin' spaceman" in "Visit to a Small Planet."

The spaceman hero arrives from somewhere out there in a flying saucer to visit this "small planet" of ours. A Civil War battle he arrives in a uniform of that era, and is very disappointed to discover that he had come too late by a whole century.

The head of the family in whose yard he parks his saucer is a TV news commentator (Fred Clark) who is thrown into a complete state of confusion by the arrival of a spaceman after he has vigorously denied the existence of such a creature.

The self-invited visitor from outer space gets into a series of hilarious complications, including falling in love with the daughter of the family (Joan Blackman) who in turn is madly in love with a moronic earthling (Earl Halliman).

Lewis fans will probably enjoy this film.

GI Loan Guarantee Nearing End

Its totals practically complete, the GI loan guaranty program for World War II veterans has started its next to last month of life. The present law expires July 25, 1960, although Korean veterans have until 1965 to take advantage of their loan benefits.

A thumbnail sketch of the home loan program by Gene A. Robens, manager of VA's regional office in Detroit, indicated today that while the program has provided tremendous benefits to Michigan veterans, it is tapering off so rapidly that only slight changes will be noted by the cut-off deadline.

Fifteen years of GI home loans have enabled veterans in this state to purchase 224,779 homes with a mortgage value of $1,087,885,604. Yet, in the first four months of 1960, only 2,082 VA guaranteed mortgages have been closed in Michigan.

At one time—in 1950—home loan applications were running 8,000 a month, but in April of this year, they dropped to a low of 551. The Direct Loan program, by which VA assists veterans in areas where private financing has long been unavailable, also is closing out. There are now 625 applications and requests on hand with no funds available.

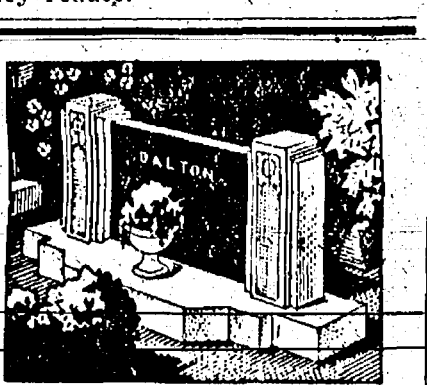

The picture was much the same nationwide, the VA report showed. Loan applications dropped 15 percent during April—from 13,601 in March, to 11,533.

Robens said that appraisal requests for new construction in Michigan dropped from 1,460 in March to 716 in April, but appraisal requests for existing homes usually reflecting pending sales, increased slightly from 237 to 246. Nation-wide, appraisals in both categories showed slight increases.

As regards direct loans, Robens pointed out that VA now is writing new applicants that there appears little hope of processing more than the 125 applications now on hand. Only funds expected to become available will be those earmarked for previous applications in which loans will not be made, he said.

Ground was broken for the final 7.8-mile stretch of the 217-mile Detroit-Chicago Freeway (Interstate 94) Tuesday, June 7.

Officials of the State Highway Department, Automobile Club of Michigan and civic leaders from a score of cities bordering the route of the new expressway gathered at a spot midway between Stevensville and Bridgman, south of St. Joseph, for the ground-breaking ceremonies.

All but four miles of the expressway will be completed by late next year. It will become the nation's longest section of the Federal Interstate Highway System complete and open to traffic. The Highway Department has postponed indefinitely construction of a four-mile section from New Buffalo south to the Indiana state line because Indiana has failed to schedule an 11-mile connection with the Indiana Toll road.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said his department is "pushing to complete the freeway at the earliest possible date for the safety and convenience of motorists."

"We are making an all-out effort to complete and open a 29-mile gap between Jackson and Ann Arbor before the end of this year, possibly even by November," Mackie added.

A total of 126 miles of the $250 million freeway have already been opened to traffic with an additional 20 miles slated to be opened by July. The longest completed stretch runs 45 miles from east of Battle Creek west to near Paw Paw, carrying traffic south of Kalamazoo.

Commissioner Mackie and Auto Club General Manager E. S. Matheson will join to break ground for the final $3,676,000 project. Matheson said the event will mean completion of Auto Club's "20-year campaign for construction of a super highway between the Midwest's two largest cities."

★ The Summit and Business Trend

It was inevitable that many persons would conclude that failure of the Summit Conference would have a direct and broad influence upon the business trend. Such a conclusion is unwarranted, because there never was any sound reason for assuming that significant results could come from the conference.

In the disarmament meeting, which has been going on for some months, the Russians have clearly shown that they are not interested in relieving world tensions. Since the same Soviet officials make the decisions for those discussions and the Summit Conference, it was to be expected that no greater concessions would be forthcoming at the summit.

A Clear Forewarning
 The "sweetness" of Khrushchev when he visited this country lasted only until he got back in his own nation. Almost immediately after he returned home Khrushchev began to talk in belligerent tones and from then on he had nothing friendly to say about the United States. Whether this was the result of internal Russian dissension, as widely thought, or merely Khrushchev changing his mind, is of no particular importance. In either event it was a clear forewarning that Russia would make no concessions of significance at the summit.

The U-2 plane incident, while unfortunate, was not the cause of the failure of the conference. It merely provided a convenient excuse for Khrushchev to blast the United States and make demands of Eisenhower which the President could not even consider meeting. That such a blast was going to be made was known the day before it was given, which is one of the reasons that Eisenhower could sit through it without losing his temper.

The Soviets had agreed to a summit conference in the hope that they could drive a wedge between the Western allies. They tried all types of means for accomplishing this, and every effort was a failure. This meant that, in the Russian mind, there was no reason for a conference.

Attitude of the Administration
 The Administration, including the military and the Budget Bureau, had never assumed that the conference would either end, or materially change, the cold war. In making up the budget, accordingly, it was deemed necessary to provide the funds essential to maintain our own deterrent power. Whether the correct amount was asked for, and whether the distribution of the total was proper, are questions which would have been asked regardless of the summit, and the answers have not been altered by the failure of the conference.

Since the Administration was correct in its basic assumption, it is standing behind its original requests. The Congress, as always, will change the distribution somewhat, but the total will probably be quite close to the original budget item.

In so far as the business trend is concerned, therefore, the only effect we shall see from failure of the Summit Conference is that some particular companies may get a few larger orders, but this will be at the expense of other companies getting smaller orders. And that, it should be added, would have happened regardless of the Summit failure because the Congress would have shifted amounts in the military budget in any event.

In brief, the outlook for business previous to the Summit was a slow, gradual rise, and that still is the outlook.

Roof Strength Is Test for Pole Building

The dollar sign is mighty, all right, but initial cost isn't the only thing to keep in mind when you construct a farm building.

A Michigan pole barn isn't considered safe unless it can hold up 25 pounds of snow and ice on every square foot of roof space," warns Philip Mieloch, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University. "Added strength may cost very little with careful planning."

Farmers in Georgia and the Carolinas learned the hard way last year. Record rain and sleet storms destroyed hundreds of lightly-constructed poultry and livestock buildings, causing millions of dollars' worth of damage.

Mieloch says most new Michigan pole buildings could meet the 25-pound-per-square-foot test. A few might not.

"Joint design is often the weak point in a pole-type structure," he explains. "Glue-nail-and-ring-and-bolt joints hold up best. Joints held together with nails alone don't take full advantage of lumber strength."

The engineer advises farmers to check on strength before purchasing a new building. The contractor should be able to give a definite indication of the "safe load."

Unequaled success in bargaining, modern marketing techniques, and outstanding membership support have won Michigan Milk Producers Association a nation wide reputation as a co-operative that gets results. Solid, economic results that dairy farmers see every month in their milk checks.

Combining the strength and resources of more than 13,000 dairy farmers into one strong, united organization, MMPA gives its members an effective voice in the marketing of their product. It is, in fact, as valuable to members in the marketing of milk as a herd of good cows is in producing milk.

Ann Arbor—Someday the University of Michigan's Purple Martins may be as famous as the swallows of Capistrano.

For 20 years the Martins have migrated from their winter homes in the South to the U-M Biological Station near Pellston. They almost always arrive in April and this year was no exception. About 100 Martins set up housekeeping in the five Martin houses on Douglas Lake.

The swallows of Capistrano (California) also return in April. Last summer the Martins took part in an experiment to show how they find their way back to their nests. A number of airline companies co-operated in releasing the birds at various airports in the Middle West. Almost 80 per cent made it back to the Biological Station. Olin Sewall Pettigill, Jr. (Ph.D.), well known ornithologist, conducted the Martin experiment.

Tentative results indicated the birds may follow learned migratory routes in returning to their nests. It is possible that the Martins home more rapidly from a southerly direction.

Pettigill will be on the Biological Station staff again this summer. He will continue the Martin study, along with student researchers.

Michigan Second In Interstate Freeway Mileage

Lansing—The latest U. S. Bureau of Public Roads report indicates Michigan now ranks second among the states in miles of interstate freeway open to traffic and built to full federal engineering requirements.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the status report showed 3,880 miles of the 41,600-mile National Interstate Freeway system were completed full or acceptable standards as of March 31 of this year. Michigan has 280 miles open to traffic.

These standards are designed to meet traffic requirements through 1975.

The report said an additional 139 miles of the system were in operation and adequate for present traffic but would require additional construction improvements to bring them up to full interstate standards.

Toll roads and bridges in operation on the system built to full standards total an additional 2,274 miles.

Mackie said the report showed Texas was first with 441 miles of interstate freeway completed to full standards and Ohio was third with 221 miles.

Other midwestern states were listed by the Bureau as follows: Iowa, 103 miles; Illinois, 98 miles; Wisconsin, 99 miles; Missouri, 48 miles; Kentucky, 19 miles; Minnesota, 16 miles; and Indiana, 11 miles.

Physical Standards Lowered for Army Specialist Enlistments

Physical qualifications for entrance into the U. S. Army Graduate Specialist Program and Vocational Training Field have been lowered. This announcement was made today by M. Sgt. Dah Colasanti, U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 228 East Ann St., Ann Arbor.

The change will primarily effect those persons wearing glasses. Up to now, persons with eye defects have been unable to qualify for guaranteed enlistment for technical school or vocational field training. A survey within recruiting facilities showed that the Army was refusing guaranteed enlistment to highly qualified individuals with minor physical defects in vision and other areas.

In addition, mental qualifications in certain special categories have also been lowered.

Persons who may have been rejected or told they could not qualify for guaranteed enlistment, and those who may have been in doubt about meeting physical or mental qualifications are urged to contact the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 228 East Ann St., Ann Arbor.

State Music Festival Has 1,060 Pianists

More than 1,000 young pianists made music together Sunday at Detroit's State Fair Coliseum, performing in the world's largest piano concert. It was the 17th Michigan Annual Music Festival, an unparalleled event in which 280 pianos and 25 organs were played simultaneously.

Dressed all in white, the players marched to their places at pianos arranged in a huge fan-shape. Largest group to play at one time was the Intermediate group, which numbered 411 children. The capacity crowd cheered their rhythmic rendition of "Swiss Waltz." The Junior High group included 328 players and the Senior High group 209. The Adult group numbered 88 of college age and above, and 26 Artist Pianists played on 26 grand pianos. The Organ Ensemble was made up of 25 adult organists.

The program, which included selections by Frederic Chopin, Jerome Kern, Edward Grieg and other composers, was directed by F. W. Smith, well-known Detroit music educator. Two performances were presented, at 2:00 and at 8:00 p.m.

An innovation this year was the solo performance of Nelita Ann True, 1960 winner of the $1,000 Grinnell piano award.

This unique musical event, which annually attracts students from within a 50-mile radius of Detroit, was sponsored by the Festival Teachers Association with Mrs. Carl Beutel as chairman. All pianos and organs were furnished by Grinnell's.

Three School Board Members To Be Elected Monday

Electors Have Choice Among Field of 13

Monday, June 13, from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m., at the Junior High school gymnasium on East St., two of eight candidates for four-year terms and one of five candidates for a three-year term will be chosen by electors of the Chelsea School District to serve on the School Board. This is the largest number of qualified candidates to run for the office of school trustee for many years.

Those who have filed for the four-year terms are Charles Powers, William Freeman, Stuart R. Booker, John Thomson, Mrs. Betty Bust, Wilber Beeman, Mrs. Nina Greening and Robert Foster.

Candidates for the three-year term are George Knickerbocker, Jeremiah MacDougall, George Frisinger, Clarence Vogel and Charles Lancaster.

Each of the candidates was asked for a statement in answer to two basic questions: (1) "What is your purpose in running for the office of school board member?" and (2) "What are the problems in the Chelsea school district as you see them and what, in your opinion, are the solutions to these problems?"

Each of the candidates co-operated, stating his or her views and the reason for running for the office.

Photographs of each candidate, together with brief biographical sketches and the candidates' statements were prepared for publication as a service to electors of the district.

Electors, to be eligible to vote in the school board election, June 13, must be 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and have resided in the State of Michigan six months and in the school district 30 days next preceding the election. A voter does not have to be registered with the village clerk, the township clerk, or the clerk of any governmental unit, nor does a voter have to own property to vote in the election.

Knickerbocker is a member of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church and served on the Church Board as vice-president in 1957 and president in 1958 and 1959. He is a member of Olive Lodge No. 156, F&AM; Herbert J. Mc-

Wilber Beeman
(4-year term)

Wilber Beeman who lives at Waterloo and, until its annexation to the Chelsea District, served as treasurer of the board in the old Waterloo School District for six years, is a graduate of Chelsea High school with the class of 1939. He was employed at Federal Screw Works prior to serving three years in the Signal Corps during World War II.

For the 15 years since then he has been employed at the Farmers State Bank of Munnich, the past four years as cashier.

He is 39 years old, is married to the former Leona Moekel, and father of one son who will be a freshman at Chelsea High school in the fall.

In answer to the same two questions put to all candidates, Beeman said:

"Being a candidate for the Board of Education of the Chelsea School District I was asked to answer two questions. They were designated as 'My purpose for being a candidate' and 'What are the problems in the District as I see them and the solutions to these problems?'

"If I were a good politician, I would answer the first question by making promises and presenting some sort of platform. Not being a politician, I will not present a platform, nor make any promise other than that I will serve the people of the district diligently and make every effort to solve the problems presented to the board.

"The only problem I can honestly say exists is the present one: the expected deficit in the school budget because the increased millage was not approved. There undoubtedly are other problems in the district, but I do not feel qualified to list any. The only people qualified to do so, in my opinion, are the members of your present board."

John Thomson
(4-year term)

John R. Thomson of 834 Flanders St., has been employed at Chrysler Proving Ground since 1953. He has lived in Chelsea for six years, is married and the father of nine children.

His high school education was obtained at Newberry, in the Upper Peninsula and he has a bachelor of science degree from the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, King's Point, Long Island, N. Y. While at the academy he was active in sports.

He has traveled extensively in the eastern and southern part of the United States as well as Central and South America.

He has been active in the Chelsea PTA for two years as chairman of the health committee and for three years as co-chairman of the topical fluoride program.

He is a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and the Holy name Society.

Thomson's answer to question No. 1 reads as follows:

"I am running for office because of the life-long interest I have had in the educational field. I am interested in seeing that our money, the taxpayer's dollar, is spent wisely and efficiently. I believe that the children of this district are our biggest resource and properly developed and educated will pay large dividends to the community. As a member of the board I would see that the following items be considered in the following order:

Stuart R. Booker
(4-year term)

Stuart R. Booker, a resident of the Chelsea community the past 17 years, has been general manager of the Chelsea Division of Federal Screw Works since 1943. Presently he is executive vice-president, director and member of the executive committee of the company. He was formerly an investment banker in New York, Atlanta and Nashville, Tenn., and was also president of the Columbia Packing Co. of Columbia, Tenn. Has been active in affairs of the National Sew Machine Products Association serving on important committees and also as a member of the board of trustees.

Booker served the Chelsea School Board as chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Finance in connection with the new High school construction.

His service to the Chelsea area has included serving as president of the Chelsea Community Chest for two terms, as a director for six years and as chairman of the finance and budget committees. For the past three years he has represented the Chelsea Community Chest on the Admissions and Budget Committee of the Michigan United Fund.

An active member of St. Barnabas Episcopal church, he serves as lay reader, a member of the Bishop's Committee, chairman of the building committee and for three years as treasurer.

He is a graduate of the University of Virginia with a bachelor of science degree.

As to his purpose of running for school board election he explained his views as follows:

"The administration of the affairs of the Chelsea School District has become, in my opinion, the outstanding opportunity for public service in this community. The growth of the District from the standpoint of numbers of students, personnel employed, financial complexities, problems of curriculum, aggregate costs of operation and the significant effect these costs have on the taxes of every taxpayer in the district, make able, well-informed and business-like administration of its affairs imperative.

"Providing the best possible scholastic opportunities to every school child in the community at a cost commensurate with prudent tax policies is not a responsibility to be taken lightly.

"This opportunity of community service has been the primary factor in my asking the electorate of this School District to favorably consider my candidacy for one of the existing vacancies on the Board."

The second question, about problems facing the Chelsea District was answered by Booker as follows:

"It is perhaps presumptuous for anyone who has never actually served as a member of the School Board to speak with assured authority in respect to its principal problems and their solutions. However, I could say that the more perplexing problems of any School Board are the problems of offering a well-rounded curriculum, in adequate well-maintained facilities by the best qualified teaching and administrative staff and yet remaining within a budget provided by a sensible and prudent tax structure without so greatly leaning on State and/or Federal aid that great loss of local autonomy is suffered.

"The obvious solution to this problem is careful appraisal of every phase of the school program, wise, careful and deliberate expenditure of all school funds consistent with best business principles and eternal vigilance towards the end of eliminating waste, frivolous expenditures and keeping costs within budgeted revenues."

CONFIRMATION HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ordway entertained at a dinner at their home Sunday in honor of their son, Louis, who was confirmed at Zion Lutheran church, Ann Arbor. Forty guests were present including relatives and friends from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Lansing and Rochester. Nine additional guests called during the afternoon.

Robert Foster
(4-year term)

Robert G. Foster, owner of Foster's Men's Wear Store since 1946, is a third and fourth generation member of pioneer Chelsea area families. He was born here in 1913, attended Chelsea schools and graduated from Chelsea High school in 1931.

He attended Eastern Michigan University through 1933 and in 1935 was married to Leona Weinberg of Chelsea. They have two daughters, Denise in the seventh grade and Gail in the fourth grade.

From 1942 until 1945 he served with the U. S. Army, his overseas duty being in the European Theater.

He is a member of the Methodist church, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts here.

Foster served seven terms as Sylvan township clerk before resigning when he moved to his present home at 140 Clardale Court, that section of Chelsea being in Lima township.

He has held office in the Kiwanis club, the Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Community Chest and the Chelsea Community Fair Association.

As to his purpose in seeking election to the School Board, Foster stated:

"Education being so vital to the future of our children—and the world, one cannot help but feel concerned. If by time and effort I can be a part of aiding that education I would indeed be gratified.

"I sincerely feel that a continued effort be made not only for the future college student but even perhaps a greater effort for those average and low average students who, after all, will one day be many of the actual producers in our world economy."

Question No. 2 was answered by Foster as follows:

"First, I wish to say I have no axe to grind. I am proud of our school property, admire the job our Board of Education has done, respect our teachers and have confidence that we are getting a good return on our tax dollars.

"A paramount issue to-day obviously is the tax dollar. The weighing of any expenditure of public money is a duty to be carried out by your Board of Education. To adhere to that religiously should be inherent to all board members.

"I would only remind the electors that all board members are also taxpayers and therefore when spending your money they are also spending theirs.

"I do not feel qualified to make statements on current problems without having studied various and all phases of said issues. At that time and with an open mind I would vote my convictions and hope they would be yours."

Mrs. J. D. Wright
Receives Word of Mother-in-Law's Death

Mrs. J. D. Wright received word last week of the death of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Wright, a long-time resident of this vicinity and a frequent visitor at the Wright home before leaving in 1941 to make her home in Nebraska. She died Thursday, May 26, after being a hospital patient for 10 days. She was 89 years old.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Frank, in 1948, her son, J. D. Wright, in 1953 and by a sister and four brothers.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. C. Diediker, Mrs. H. McAdams and Mrs. N. G. Bragg, in Kansas and Nebraska.

Also surviving are eight grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services and burial took place Saturday, May 28, at Nelson, Neb.

William W. Freeman, 37 years old, has been a resident of Chelsea since 1941. He attended the University of Tennessee.

He was formerly employed by Ex-Cell-O Corp., Bower Roller Bearing Co., and Anderson Precision Grinding Co., all of Detroit, and came to Chelsea in 1953. He is the owner of Chelsea Grinding Co.

He is a member of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea, a past president of the Chelsea Rod & Gun club and a member of the Moslem Shrine of Detroit.

In answer to questions about why he decided to become a candidate for election to the School Board and what he believes are problems of the Chelsea District he said:

"I decided to run for the school board, after being urged by friends to do so. I have two children in school and one of pre-school age. I have no criticism to offer of our present school system. After being acquainted with other school districts and talking to many parents that have transferred children into the Chelsea School district I am firmly convinced that we have one of the finest school systems available; not only as far as construction of new and modern housing facilities, but in our general administration and curriculum.

"The greatest problem, as I see it, of any public official, is to look at each separate problem on a realistic basis, without prejudice of any kind and after careful appraisal of both sides of the problem, to make a definite stand.

"I feel, as most parents do, that there is nothing too good for our children. By the same token I feel that the best that we can do for them is the best that we can afford. I feel that we do ourselves and our children an injustice to give them more."

Mrs. Greening is a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and at present is assisting as a teacher in St. Mary's school.

In answer to question No. 1, Mrs. Bust said:

"My purpose in running is to offer my services to the children of this community."

Her answer to question No. 2 states "A school system always is faced with many problems. Two important problems facing the Chelsea Schools at the present are: (a) the annual loss of too many of our better teachers. I feel a salary schedule could be designed to attract and hold these teachers. The general instructional climate should be improved to lengthen teachers' tenure and develop the younger teacher; (b) the curriculum must offer a program for children of all abilities."

Jeremiah MacDougall
(3-year term)

Jeremiah MacDougall, who lives at 515 Chandler St., gave a resume of his experience and the reasons for his decision to become a candidate for election to the Chelsea School District Board of Education in the following statement to The Standard.

"I would appreciate the opportunity to serve as a member of the Chelsea School District. I have been a resident of the community for six years and would like to participate more actively in civic affairs. As a parent I am concerned that the high standards we have in our school program be permitted to continue for the benefit of the children in the Chelsea School District. My previous experience as a teacher in public schools may be utilized in helping to solve problems presented to the school district for consideration.

"The problems which confront the school district at the present time are namely: Curriculum growth, pre-planning for needs, and student population growth. To solve these problems the curriculum must be periodically reviewed and revised to offer subjects that will meet the needs of the children; advance planning will aid in visualizing the number of qualified individuals required plus the teaching aids necessary to maintain an ever-expanding program; and lastly, how to provide for the student population which continually grows as is evident in student numbers that totaled over 900 in 1954 and in 1960 will be over 1,700. To cope with these needs capable guidance must be provided.

"I am married and have two children attending schools in Chelsea—my son, Robert, attends the South Elementary school and my daughter, Ava, attends the senior high school.

"I graduated from cadet corps at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, N. Y., as well as graduating from Michigan State University.

Graduates Entering World at Time of Great Opportunity for All

All over the United States high school graduates are entering the adult stage of life at a time when their country is the foremost power in the world and when business opportunities are plentiful.

Although young graduates are not too often prone to take freely-offered advice, we will nevertheless offer a few points, as a general guide, which we believe might be helpful to those leaving school at this time.

The first thing worth mentioning is that every graduate, or even those who did not graduate, can succeed in life. We live in a country where success may be achieved as a result of sustained effort, or determination. One does not have to be a genius, or even very smart to achieve this success.

Fortunately, in the United States, we have such plentiful opportunities that a determination to succeed, and a willingness to work, will produce very gratifying results.

Perhaps the most important single piece of advice to be given graduates or those entering the business world at this time is the suggestion that they develop an individual Christian philosophy. This means that each person develop a set of principles and a philosophy by which he will try to live his life. Naturally, he will sometimes fail, but the point is that he will be attempting to live a life in harmony with certain basic guides.

Another suggestion is for youngsters today to resist the temptation to overemphasize the importance of money. The great values of life, and of time, are not dependent upon financial means.

Lastly, we would suggest that a good policy for youngsters today is to refuse to indulge in the most widespread curse of the masses—that of gossip. Careless words, mischievous comment and scandalous exaggeration are indulged in by a surprisingly large percentage of the population. It requires great will power and considerable strength of character to avoid this tempting pitfall of life.

These things—a life patterned on the Christian philosophy of Jesus, one in which hard and sustained work is respected, one in which money is not worshipped as a god, and one in which help is extended to our fellow men, and evil gossip resisted, add up to a life of good citizenship, and a contribution to one's community, city and nation.

In Memoriam?

A newspaper item recently reported that a gentleman had donated a loudspeaker to his church in fond memory of his wife.

Work faithfully eight hours a day, don't worry, and save your money. Then, in time, you will become the boss and work 12 hours a day and do all the worrying.

Entering The World's Stage

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Talk about taxes is a favorite Michigan pastime.

Action on taxes is something else again. When the State Board of Equalization and the Tax Commission combined recently to hand local officials the power to levy an additional 85-million dollars in property taxes, the decision was firm only after heated activity.

An increase in state equalized valuation of nearly two and a half billion dollars was adopted.

The impact of the equalized valuation hike will be felt in three major ways: local units of government can increase property taxes; the state's share of school aid will be lowered by nearly eight million dollars, and the share of public relief paid by the state will be lowered in many counties.

A 1954 Supreme Court case said state equalized valuation was the only value for property that could be used for tax purposes.

That figure is arrived at in this way: local assessors set a value on property; the county then equalizes assessments of their separate districts to provide equitable and uniform sharing of the property tax burden within the county. Then the State Board of Equalization balances valuations among the counties to perform the same function on a state-wide basis.

Under the Constitution, counties can assess a tax no higher than 15 mills figured on state equalized valuation.

Although it is within their power, very few counties can be expected to lower the tax rate even though it applies to the higher valuation, the tax that property owners pay may be expected to go up.

At least part of the additional money local units get this way will have to go to a bigger share of school aid, however.

Under the state school aid formula, money from Michigan's general fund is used to bring the amount spent for each pupil in school up to a level set by the legislature. Currently this level is $205 per pupil.

Local participation in school aid is determined by applying a factor called deductible millage to state equalized valuation.

Deductible millage is currently $25. The hike in equalized valuation, if other minor factors remain the same, means local units have to provide a greater share of school aid.

Some counties which had maintained a low valuation since the last general increase in state equalized valuation in 1956 were paying a very small share of school financing. This year's increase was expected to bring these counties back up to a more equitable share.

State aid for public relief works in much the same way.

State law provides that counties (and the city of Detroit) pay 70 per cent of direct relief and the state pays the other 30 per cent.

Policy of the State Social Welfare Commission permits the state to pay a share greater than 80 per cent under certain circumstances.

This can happen when the counties (and Detroit) pay more than a certain amount determined for each county by applying a millage factor to state equalized valuation.

Last year, six counties and Detroit reached a level of expenditure beyond which the state paid all their relief costs.

The effect of this was that in at least one county, the state paid 100 per cent of all direct relief for the entire year. That was in Keweenaw, where state equalized valuation was low and the relief rolls packed.

A special session of the 1960 legislature looms as a virtual certainty.

Taxes are the reason for it, and chances are it won't come until after the people vote on the question of permitting a 1 per cent hike in the sales tax at the general election Nov. 8.

The possibility of city income taxes, notably in Detroit, has complicated the picture.

The state's fiscal picture seems to demand some wholesale reductions in services or new taxes. If the people vote to permit a hike in the sales tax of up to 1 per cent, the legislature presumably ably would vote an increase at the special session.

If voters turn down the increase, some other form of revenue-producing tax would have to be found.

Michigan citizens are travelers—and a large number of out-of-state people come into the Water Wonderland each year as vacationists, visitors and just plain tourists.

Highway Commissioner John Mackie has predicted a 50 per cent increase in tourist travel by 1962.

The state's new freeway system will be in full operation for the first time that year—all-year—and there will be a super-highway from the Ohio line to Sault Ste. Marie in the Upper Peninsula.

State Income Tax Predicted Within 5 Years

Lansing—Current discussions by the Detroit Common Council have brought to the fore again the question of an income tax in Michigan. In earlier years cities have mentioned the possibility of local income taxes, but this is the first time in Michigan that such a revenue proposal has reached the point where it has been voted by a city council or commission.

It is my prediction that in five years or less, all industrial states will have both a personal and a corporate income tax. The basis of wealth no longer is land, but income.

In the legislative sessions of 1961 and 1962, undoubtedly there will be great effort devoted to solving tax problems. If a city income tax should eventually become a reality in Detroit, the state certainly will be confronted with the need for some form of a sharing program. The easiest method would be a state income tax with total governments having the option of adding a percentage, or a fraction of a percentage.

A state income tax with local government "riding piggy-back" would make for uniformity and would eliminate the duplication of forms which would be required if local government throughout the state enacted income taxes.

The income tax is a necessary source of revenue. It is equitable, adequate and is reasonably permanent. The State of Michigan will be in the field before too long. If the voters approve a sales tax increase in November, it will provide a substantial increase in state revenue and, for a period of time, alleviate the state's financial problems. But, it would not permanently rule out a state income tax. It would only postpone the date of its adoption.

Commencement time is here again and it serves to reaffirm the importance of education in this age of progress. Our educational system is the seedbed for advancement in the years ahead. Each year more and more of our high school graduates decide to continue their education in

Oops! By-Lines Were Misplaced on Article

It has just been brought to our attention that in the May 2 edition of the Standard the by-lines of the article "State Income Tax" were misplaced on articles by Gov. Williams and Jack Morris of the editorial staff.

No doubt, those who read the article were aware of the mistake in designation of the respective authors, but to put the record straight we wish to point out that the article headed "Primary Election System Not Infallible" should have been credited to Frank Morris and not Gov. Williams.

our universities and colleges. It is encouraging.

With our rapidly growing population in Michigan there is an increasing need for young men and women trained in the sciences and in political science. We must bear in mind that our schools and our institutions of higher learning must never be changed. Increasingly, we depend on our universities for research which will improve our health and our wealth for all of us a better life.

Michigan's universities have been leaders in research which has had world-wide impact. This must be encouraged. The universities must have sufficient funds to provide adequate laboratories, equipment and to enable us to retain on our faculties scientists who are leaders in their particular fields.

Constant interest and vigorous participation of all Michigan people will insure that our educational system will continue to be outstanding in the nation.

In a very real sense, education is not so much a "cost" as an "investment." And no other investment of Michigan tax dollars offers so great a return in the future as investing in the education of our youth.

Detroit Welfare Costs Double in Past Decade

The story of Michigan under expanding Democratic rule during the last 10 years is epitomized by these pointed revelations:

While Detroit lost 170,985 inhabitants during the decade, that city's welfare costs (excluding old-age pensions) practically doubled.

Michigan's total population increased by 19 per cent. Yet the state's expenditures for direct relief jumped more than 100 per cent!

The 1960 census showed Michigan grew at a faster rate than the national average since 1950, although not at the pace so proudly predicted by Gov. Williams.

But anyone who studies the census figures might conclude that maybe we have not been attracting the type of citizen who contributes very handsomely to the economy.

A casual observer could be forgiven, even by Walter Reuther, for concluding that Michigan must be a happy haven for the fumbler and the misbegotten.

Reuther gets into this report because he is confronted with a staggering problem. Of the 164,770 unemployed persons looking for government help in Michigan today, 110,112 have not been to high school.

Most of these slightly-educated residents came from the South in recent years, lured by expectations of happy times in a welfare state at the end of Williams' rainbow.

Citizens who wonder why a state or local income tax may be inevitable, even if a four-cent ad valorem tax is approved next November, will find part of the answer in these simple figures:

With a population of 6,371,000 in 1950, the total cost of direct relief in Michigan was $22,008,570. The state government's share was $12,249,578.

In 1960, with a population of 7,786,000, direct relief is costing a total of $47,114,000. The state contribution this year will be $22,500,000.

In addition, Aid to Dependent Children (the "fatherless and orphaned") has jumped in Detroit alone from $10,000,000 in 1950 to $20,500,000 in 1960.

Detroit Welfare Costs

Detroit pays no direct part of this latter bill. The entire cost of ADC in Detroit is shouldered by the state government, which collects the money from taxpayers in 83 counties. And don't forget that since last January, the taxpayers of the whole state have been supporting the cost of Detroit's welfare load. The Williams-appointed State Welfare Commission assumed the entire burden six months ago when Detroit exhausted the insufficient funds the city's Common Council had earmarked for the purpose. As a result of this connive by the Democratic administration, Detroit residents and industries will pay only $8,057,000 toward the city's welfare costs for the fiscal year which ends June 30. The balance of $14,850,000 will be sent to the city by the benevolent Lansing government. The drop in Detroit's population for the first time in the city's history was not unexpected in view of the great migration to the suburbs. Yet the census report brought walls of anguish from Mayor Miriani and the UAW-controlled Common Council. In seeking a solution, native Detroiters are recalling that if a Canadian seeks a visa to move to Michigan, the U. S. government requires the immigrant to pass a test and prove he can read and write. Families moving here from the South are asked only if they know how to vote Democratic.

Why Mercury is the better low-price car!

MORE VALUE. Just look at these Mercury advantages over other low-price cars:

You ride smoother because Mercury has up to 8 inches more wheelbase... and is up to 494 pounds heavier. You're more comfortable because of Mercury's extra shoulder room, leg room, and foot room. You feel safer because Mercury's brakes are bigger (up to 26%), and visibility is better (up to 21% more).

Mercury has at least two dozen extra values in all. Why not enjoy them all, and save a little money in the bargain?

PRICES START $63 TO $66* BELOW EVEN THE LOWEST-PRICED V-8 POWERED PLYMOUTH FURY OR CHEVROLET IMPALA.

And we're not talking about a "stripped" Mercury. This price comparison is based on a deluxe-appointed Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and deep, soft wall-to-wall carpeting. This amazing price story is the result of Mercury's dramatic 1960 price reductions (as much as $174 lower than last year, including extras that are now standard equipment).

Every Mercury is lower priced than last year. All Mercury Montereys are now low-price cars. They are priced below, or within a few dollars of, other low-price cars such as the V-8 Furies and Impalas.

No wonder Mercury is so popular this year! Many low-price-car buyers have discovered they can get far more of everything they want with Mercury. Come on in and see for yourself!

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested 1960 retail base prices for lowest-priced V-8 models.

THE SAGA OF OLD NO. 9

When Confederates fired on Ft. Sumter, the original of this hand-drawn, hand-pumped fire wagon served Lansing. Twenty-eight beaming, sweating and sometimes cursing volunteers manfully hauled it to fires amid a chorus of yelling kids, barking dogs and clanging fire bells. In 1872, it was sold to Cheboygan and replaced by a horse-drawn fire wagon because people needed more protection from fire. Today, people rely on highly mechanized, full-time firemen... and the protection afforded by a Hastings Mutual fire insurance policy. And Old No. 9 is ending its days in the possession of the Michigan Historical Commission Museum, Lansing.

Freshmen have more fun! During elections of delegates to Student Council for next year, the class encountered unexpected difficulties when they got a series of tied votes. At one time there was a three-way tie between Barbara Wenk, Dud Holmes, and Paula Romine. Later this was narrowed to a tie between Dudley and Paula. A final vote gave Paula Romine the victory, along with Rayma Smith, Virginia LoVan, and Barbara Wenk.

All of the CHS students wish Mike and his family the very best of luck and a wonderful summer.

The corresponding secretary and the treasurer will be appointed by Mrs. Wanetta Finch and the newly-elected officers.

The Junior class will end this year's activities with the serving of the annual alumni banquet on June 18. Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser and Mrs. R. Ringe are co-chairmen in charge. They are planning chicken dinner for approximately 200 people.

Jefferson County, Ill.—Keeping a 12-cent delinquent tax bill on the books got to be too much for Walter Randall, treasurer of Jefferson County, Illinois.

After the county spent $2 for bookkeeping and postage, the taxpayer sent in a check for six cents, promising to pay the balance later. But the check wasn't signed. Randall said: "Enough is enough." He paid the bill himself.

believe it would be a good policy for teachers to reside in the district. The change to such a policy, however, should be gradual and it should be put into effect only after a thorough study is made.

3. The number of school drop-outs: "I would like to establish the reason for student drop-outs. I would form a board of review consisting of the principal, the guidance counselor, the class teacher and a student member of the class."

Knickerbocker . . .

Kune Post No. 31, American Legion; and the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce of which he was secretary in 1956 and is now a member of the board of directors.

In 1956 and 1957 he served as president of the Chelsea Recreation Council.

Married June 22, 1946 to Audrey Leach of Jackson, he is the father of three children: Suzanne, 10, Steven, 6, and Patricia, 4 years old. The family home is at 754 Book St.

In Knickerbocker's answers to the two questions about his candidacy he stated:

"My reason for becoming a candidate was purely a feeling of civic duty. At the time I took out a petition for circulation, there was rumor of only one other petition being circulated. This was two weeks after it was published that petitions were available. It is now apparent there are 12 others with a feeling of civic pride, or a feeling of responsibility to the people of the Chelsea School District."

"As stated by me at the public meeting held by the School Board on June 1, 'In my opinion a person seeking a position on the School Board should have an open mind, keeping in mind that they are representing the people of the entire School District, and attempt to secure the best edu-tion for our children at a reasonable cost to the taxpayers."

As to problems of the district, Knickerbocker said "I am unaware of any great problems in the school district at this time. Yes, there probably exist minor problems here and there, but don't they exist in every organization? It takes time and study to solve all problems."

MacDougall . . .

"I served in the merchant marine with the American Export Lines and the United States Navy during World War II. My military service includes duty with the 3rd and 5th Fleets in the Pacific Theatre of operations."

"My work experience includes teaching in both the Dansville and Scottville public schools. I have also worked as an experimental engineer at the Duo-Therm division of the Motor Wheel Corporation at Lansing. I am presently employed at Cassidy Lake as a teacher, having been employed in this capacity for the past six years."

The MacDougalls are affiliated with St. Barnabas Episcopal church.

"that we have sufficient rural representation. Our rural areas today include people with widely diversified interests. These interests include full and part-time farmers, farm and non-farm businesses, as well as an increasing number of rural and lake homes."

"I feel the problem of our district is to educate our children so they can be competitive in their chosen fields and do this at a cost that we can afford. Efficient operation of our school system will help to attain this goal. A check should be made to insure tax loads are carried evenly throughout the school district."

"I would like to see present trends modified and return some of the family group activities and

and a personal privilege to run for the school board."

"The major problem in our present school situation is to obtain the most from all available income—that is, stretching the tax dollar to get maximum results."

"Our school system is big business, having a large capital investment, with an annual budget of two-thirds of a million dollars. This system must be administered in accordance with sound and practical business and educational standards."

"Being conservative is not a bad idea especially during these days of loose spending and inflation. However, we cannot sacrifice our children's education in order to save a few dollars. The very backbone of the success for the future of our country lies in the way we educate our children—spiritually, morally and physically."

"I am willing to help in this matter if you want me."

right perspective: (1) Teacher quality; (2) Curriculum; (3) Discipline; (4) Extra-curricular activities, sports, band and clubs."

"I believe that my background, education, interests and family qualify me for a position on the Board of Education."

As to problems and their solutions (question No. 2) Thomson said: "I believe that these are the major problems of this school district: the first listed a maintaining an adequate school within the budget."

"With an increasing school population, over 100 pupils this year, it becomes difficult to maintain a quality school without overburdening the taxpayer. An ever-increasing tax rate is not the complete answer. The Board of Education must work diligently to put the money to work in the right places with the proper balance in regard to general curriculum, special services and proper maintenance of the physical plant. The proper compromise will ultimately reflect the desires of the citizens of the school district. There is no easy solution to these complex and ever-changing problems. An intelligent and fair-minded Board of Education is the only assurance that the right solutions will be found."

"The second problem is maintaining adequate teachers. The backbone of our schools is the teaching staff. We must have capable people in these jobs. The turnover of teachers should be kept to the absolute minimum. Good teachers should be encouraged to continue teaching here. The Board of Education should give the administration ample time to locate and employ qualified people when new teachers are needed."

"Third, a proper and good curriculum. In these changing times the curriculum must be closely checked to be sure it fills the needs of the community without any unnecessary frills. This requires studying other school districts throughout the country for ideas. To not only add but sometimes eliminate programs that are no longer necessary. We must be careful over-all to equip our children

The Way the Ball Bounces

With Tom Johnston

Last year around this time there was talk that Henry Aaron might hit over 400 for the season. But this year the talk is about Henry Aaron and his stolen bases.

With Aaron's batting average "only" around .380 even Aaron admits he'd have to get pretty hot to climb above 400 and stay there.

So without a big hitting streak going this season, the Milwaukee Braves' slugger has substituted a string of consecutive stolen bases.

It's true, as Henry says, "They don't pay big money for stealing bases like they do for hitting, but they do pay off for winning ball games. And a stolen base here and there can win you some ball games."

Aaron is one of the fastest men in the league. He stole four bases in four attempts this season, and he had eight in as many tries last year.

Aaron believes that if he and Eddie Mathews had been allowed to run more last year, the Braves might have won the pennant.

Says Aaron: "If me and Mathews could have scored a few more runs last year, we might have finished on top. If we had stolen a few more bases, it might have made the difference."

This season Manager Charlie Dressen has the club running, and Aaron says he likes the extra chance to run. Dressen's predecessor, Fred Haney, has said he did not let Aaron and Mathews run last year because he had so many other injured men. Haney said he could not afford to let either of them take a chance on getting hurt.

The secret to stealing a base is to get the jump on the pitcher, Aaron said. "You don't steal on the catchers, you steal on the pitcher."

As Aaron puts it, "Any left-hander is harder to steal on than a right-hander. He's facing you as you lead off first base. Guy like Johnny Podres and Harvey Had-dix are the tough ones."

Aaron continues: "I'd rather steal third, it's easier. Catchers never practice throwing to third, always to second. And if there's a right-handed hitter at the plate he has to throw around him. From second, the pitcher and catcher are both right in front of you. You can see what the pitcher is throwing and sometimes catch a sign for a curve or fast ball."

Aaron, of course, has not given up this season on the idea of hitting 400. Last season, after his plus 400 start, he finished at .355, good enough to top both leagues. "I'm not hitting as well as I'd like to, but these rainouts make it rough," Aaron said. The Braves have had eight postponements so far this year. "After several of them," Aaron said, "it's like starting spring training all over again."

Hitting 400 is one of Aaron's cherished goals, and another is with the proper tools to live in this increasingly complex world. Proper consideration must be given to changes in any curriculum but these changes must be made with care.

"Fourth, planning wisely for the future. Time must be set aside from the immediate needs of the school district to plan for future needs. It is important to pause and look to the future objectively to make sure that the school is what the citizens of the district want in a school. Factors to be considered include, the changing tax base; rate of growth; and sociological changes."

"These are certainly not all of the problems of the school district. These problems are such that they cannot be answered simply. Again I would like to say that the only assurance that we can have that the right solution will be found for these and new problems arising is to have a fair minded and practical Board of Education."

"Getting Into Another World Series."

Aaron doesn't get as big a kick out of stealing a base as he does out of hitting, but stolen bases help win ball games. As Aaron says, "I get just as big a kick out of winning a ball game as I do out of hitting a home run."

The man known in Canada as "Mr. Hockey" has died at the age of 76. Lester Patrick—also known as the "Silver Fox"—had been ill with cancer. He died in a hospital at Victoria, British Columbia, with his two sons—Lynn and Murray—at his bedside. Patrick had been active in hockey for 50 years. As a player and manager he took part of winning a ball game as I do out of hitting a home run."

Michigan athletic teams led the Big Ten in the number of championships won during 1959-60 with four, and finished second in an unofficial ranking of ten sports, a compilation of Conference records reveals.

The Wolverines topped their titles in swimming, indoor track, wrestling and tennis. Illinois, with the outdoor track and gymnastics crowns, was the only other institution to win more than one title, with Wisconsin taking football; Ohio State basketball, Minnesota, baseball, and Purdue golf. Based on a ten-point scoring system from first place down to tenth, the Wolverines counted 68 1/2 points in ten sports to finish 1 1/2 points behind Michigan State's 70 for the year.

Fencing, crosscountry and hockey were not included in the accounting since Michigan does not compete in the first two, and only two other Big Ten teams have hockey squads.

Minnesota, which won its third straight Conference baseball crown last week-end, ranked third in the unofficial total with 64 1/2 points, with Illinois finishing in fourth spot. Ohio State ranked fifth in the rankings.

A total of 120,000 season ticket application blanks for the University of Michigan's 1960 home football schedule were to be mailed from the Wolverine ticket department Friday, according to Athletic Director H. O. Crisler.

The mailing will be directed to Wolverine alumni and to purchasers of season tickets last year in seven states covering the Big Ten area, Crisler said.

Ticket orders will be accepted at the Michigan football ticket office starting June 15, and the season ticket priority will be observed on all orders received by Aug. 10. Season tickets are priced at $27 for the six home games.

Michigan's complete schedule for next fall includes: Sept. 24—University of Oregon Oct. 1—Michigan State Oct. 8—Duke at Ann Arbor Oct. 29—Wisconsin at Ann Arbor Oct. 15—Northwestern at Ann Arbor Nov. 5—Illinois at Ann Arbor Nov. 12—Indiana at Ann Arbor Oct. 22—Minnesota at Ann Arbor Nov. 19—Ohio State at Columbus
