E. L. Clark To Address CHS Alumni

Many of those who will be attending the alumni banquet at the High School cafeteria Saturday night will be pleased to know that E. L. Clark, former superintendent of schools here, will be the principal speaker. According to the program chairman, Dudley Holmes, Supt. Clark, who headed the Chelsea school system from 1921 to 1932, plans to tell a few stories out of school concerning the escapades of a number of today's solid citizens along with comments of special interest.

Chelsea Alumni Association President George L. Staffan has announced that the class of 1910 will be honored on this, the 50th anniversary of their graduation. He further advises any of the graduates who came under the "Clark era" to contact Toastmaster Donald Alber who is compiling a list of various incidents that occurred during that time. It is expected the list will be given to Clark before the banquet. Tickets are still available at Strieter's, Foster's, and Winans' stores.

Two Others Escape Any Serious Injury

Four accidents in this area in two and one-half days resulted in the death of two men, serious injuries to a woman, painful injuries to a third man and only superficial injuries to a fourth man, although his car was demolished. The death of the two men, Earl GoBott and James Barkley, left eight young children fatherless. The series of accidents began at 9:30 p.m. Saturday when Verne Buehler, 25, of 203 Lincoln St., lost control of his car on Cavanaugh-Lake Rd., a short distance east of Pierce Rd. Headed west, he was alone in the car when it went out of control and went off the left side of the road and rolled over.

Buehler walked away from the completely demolished car with only minor injuries, including a cut on his forehead, according to Sheriff's deputies' reports.

The second accident occurred about 10 p.m. Sunday and resulted in the death of GoBott, 37 years old, and the father of four young children. The fatal crash took place in front of GoBott's home, 7278 Werkner Rd., as he was returning from a visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cavender, nearby.

Headed south, he had begun a turn into his driveway when his small, foreign-made car was involved in a collision with a north-bound car driven by Robert Merck of Hadley Rd. A passenger in the Merck car, Robert Killham, suffered cuts and bruises. At 7:45 a.m. Monday, Ronald Satterthwaite, on his way to work at Blass Elevator at Four Mile Lake, suddenly lost control of his car near Fletcher Rd. on Chelsea-Dexter Rd. The car spun across the highway and struck a tree on the north side of the road. He sustained a severe scalp wound and a broken right heel as he was thrown through the rear window of the car.

He told relatives later that when he failed in his attempt to regain control of the car and saw that a crash into the tree was imminent, he flung himself over the back of the seat. His quick thinking is believed to have saved his life. Satterthwaite is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Satterthwaite of 14675 Jerusalem Rd.

His car is a total wreck. The fourth accident, which resulted in the death of James Barkley and serious injury to his wife, occurred early Tuesday morning. There are four small children in the Barkley family.

W. Palmer, speaking for Chelsea Police Department, has announced that Village Ordinance No. 18, prohibiting "all persons under 17 years of age from loitering or remaining upon the streets, other public places in the Village of Chelsea after certain hours of the night without any lawful business," will be strictly enforced.

The ordinance further states that parents, guardians or other persons having legal custody are held responsible for those in their charge and will be prosecuted for permitting violation of the ordinance.

Police Chief Palmer said "Every precaution will be taken to enforce this ordinance."

Penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine of "not more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment."

If parents or legal guardians or custodians are found unable to control a child who has been taken into custody, a complaint will be made to the Judge of Probate under the juvenile law of Michigan, the ordinance states.

TWO TRAPPED, ONE DIES: James H. Barkley and his wife, Helen, lay seriously injured in this wrecked car for more than an hour early Tuesday.

Portage Lake Man Dies in Auto Crash

Washtenaw county recorded its second traffic fatality within a 30-hour period Tuesday morning when a Portage Lake man died from injuries suffered in a one-car crash in Lyndon township.

James H. Barkley, 37-year-old father of four children was pronounced dead by a physician at St. Joseph Mercy hospital at 7:20 a.m. He suffered several fractures of both legs as well as head and internal injuries.

Barkley and his wife, Mrs. Helen E. Barkley, 31, were trapped in their wrecked car when the vehicle went out of control on rain-swept Hadley Rd. north of West N. T. rd. in Lyndon township.

Deputies said the car apparently went into a skid just after rounding a curve as it headed south on Hadley Rd. It slid sideways off the highway and then piled broadside into a large tree.

Hampered by a driving wind, whiplash, deputies and two garage wreckers worked frantically for 60 minutes before the Barkleys were freed. An ambulance stood by throughout the rescue effort and a doctor administered drugs to Barkley to ease the pain.

Deputies said it is possible the accident happened at 3:20 a.m. and that he and his wife lay in their wrecked car for more than an hour before their cries were heard. Officers noted that Hadley Rd. carries little traffic and, if a resident had not heard Barkley, it could have been daylight before a car passed the scene of the crash.

Mrs. Barkley, who suffered a broken leg and internal injuries, was reported in serious condition Tuesday noon at St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

She told officers she and her husband had arrived at a friend's house for a visit about 8 p.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Barkley was asleep in the back seat at the time of the crash and she said she did not recall her husband starting the car and woke up only when the vehicle slammed into the tree.

Adult Driver Education Classes Now Underway

The driver education program of Chelsea High school has started for the summer. Adults, 18 or over, should contact Robert M. Taylor, GR 9-1231, if they wish to enroll.

The cost to adults and children 18 or over is $50 tuition plus book rental.

All persons under 18 must have 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of behind-the-wheel training.

Adults do not qualify for a certificate and do not need all the classroom work.

Driver education, under the school's new program, will no longer be taught during the regular school year but will be offered again next summer.

In order to qualify for driver training this summer, students must be 16 years old on or before Jan. 31, 1967.

High School Principal Charles Lane, in making announcement of the driver training program, said also that it is possible there will be a change of text books in the fall and it is the advice of the school not to purchase used books until a decision is made by the Board of Education.

Announcement will be made by the school when the decision on books is reached.

There were 3,700 automobiles in Michigan when the State Highway Department was created in 1906. Today, Michigan has an estimated 3,200,000 registered motor vehicles.

Two Rose Gardens Open To Public

Two Chelsea rose gardens are open to the public this week and anyone interested is invited by the owners to visit them.

Lambert Mepians of 410 Garfield St. has invited people to visit the rose garden at his home each year for several years past but the second rose garden mentioned, that of Chester Keizer, 202 Wilkinson St., is being shown for the first time this year. Keizer became interested in growing roses through discussing Mepians' hobby with him.

Starting only a year ago, Keizer now has 171 rose bushes featuring 115 varieties. In addition, he has several tree roses and climbers.

Keizer has begun erection of a partial shelter over the rose garden to protect the blooms from too long exposure to the hot sun. When completed it will be similar to the slatted cover which Mepians has had over his garden. As the sun's rays shift from east to west, the slats provide alternating shade and sunshine on the bushes and blooms.

Mepians' rose garden now contains 200 varieties among the 470 bushes. He also has 25 tree roses, miniature tree roses and miniature climbers.

Keizer and Mepians are both members of the American Rose Society and both gardens are being included in the 1960 Jackson rose tour program.

In inviting all interested people to visit his rose garden, Mepians said visitors may come in during the day or evening as they wish. He now has the garden illuminated at night for the convenience of those who visit in the evening.

A new feature, Mepians has added this year is a memorial garden of all red roses centered with a white rose tree. The plot honors the memory of Mrs. Mepians' mother, the late Mrs. Fred Bollinger.

Cement walks through the Mepians garden are a convenience for visitors.

'Mystery Farm' Identified as Home of Leonard Reiths on North Territorial Road

Mystery Farm No. 102, which is to be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reith, is located at North Territorial Rd. The house shown in the photo was built two years ago. The older home, next door, does not appear in the photo.

Photo of Mystery Farm No. 102, originally appeared without caption in the June 9 issue of the Standard.

Those who identified the farm soon after publication of the Standard were Homer M. Mac Luick, Mrs. Karl Blass, Elevator men, William Schauler, Mrs. Curtis Ron Eder, David with and Ross Batzdorfer. List continues with Don Marianne Sorensen, Mrs.

Donald Porath, Joe Kuzenski, Mrs. Mary Clark, Chris Fitzsimmons and Keith Kleis.

The new home was built for Mrs. Reith's mother, the late Mrs. Emma Hudson, who died soon after moving there. At that time the Leonard Reiths lived in the original farm home which had been modernized. After Mrs. Hudson's death the Reiths moved into the new home and rented the other house.

Reith carries on his plumbing and heating business, as well as bottle gas distribution, from the farm. In addition, he operates the farm for pasture land and for raising corn. He has on the place two Tennessee Walker horses.

The 138 acres of his farm includes a 48-acre area at the back on which two lakes are located, known as Brook and Garner Lakes.

An interesting notation on the legal documents pertaining to ownership of the 48 acres mentions the granting of an old-time right-of-way from the 90 acres of the Reith farm to the lakes. This states that "a wagon track two rods wide" was to be assigned for the purpose for "as long as grass shall grow and water shall run."

Further provisions required that the owner of the 90-acre area, in using the right-of-way "shall close all fence gates and bars."

The Reith farm was secured from the U. S. Government in 1936 by Samuel Brannon. Other owners listed successively during the next 11 years are James Hewitt, 1837; Whitcomb Farnsworth, 1841; Olive Biggs, 1843; Jonathan Snyder, 1844; and Jeremiah Hastings, 1847.

Hastings owned the place for eight years and then sold it to Tom Duffy who owned it 11 years before selling to Sylvester Clark in 1886.

In 1880 Silas Young bought the farm and it remained in the Young family for 58 years until 1938 when Reith bought it. Following Silas Young's death, his son Herbert, became the owner in 1918, and it was from him that the present owner purchased it.

Father's Day, Sunday, Provides Chance To Show You Appreciate Him

Every dog must have his day, so Father's Day comes around once a year and the family gives the old man a friendly pat on the back. Seriously, it is good to remember father once a year, if not more often, and express a little appreciation in any way possible for the man who is the breadwinner in the family.

The man of the house, in most cases, is the fellow who must finally meet the bills at the end of the month and who must see that his family is fed, housed, clothed and that the tax collector does not put him in jail. Even so, if the tax collector puts someone in jail, it is usually papa, and so, in general, papa has the blade hanging over his head.

It might be well for wives and children to refrain from discussing the subject of money on Father's Day, since he probably hears that on most of the other days of the week. If this advice is followed, no doubt father will have a better day this June 19 than on some other days of the year.

It does not matter too much to dad whether expensive gifts are lavished upon him, since he is probably footing the bill anyhow. Therefore, the best way to observe Father's Day is not through super-commercialization, but by the little things—expressions of appreciation and other tokens of esteem, which are the important things in life after all.

In our opinion, the fathers of the United States, as a class, are probably the most deserving in the world. Certainly they give their families more freedom, a finer standard of living—although the family can always point to another family who is doing a little better—and the security and guidance every family needs.

In general, then, give Pop a pat on the back on Father's Day this year, even if you have to insert the blade on Monday, the 20th. And, even better, use a small blade on the 20th.

Drinking and Driving Do Not Mix

A man who has made it his business to gather information in connection with automobile accidents expresses his belief that possibly half of all the motor vehicle accidents on the highways of our nation are caused by drinking drivers.

If this statement is correct—and it may be that an even larger percentage of drinking drivers is involved—it indicates that more stringent supervision of those who drive automobiles is advisable. The only way to establish the incorrectness of the assertion is through a more rigorous examination of all drivers involved in accidents.

The driver of an automobile or truck, speeding on the highways at speeds the law permits today, is supposed to be in control of a vehicle that is potentially dangerous. All drivers of such vehicles, therefore, should be required to keep themselves in a condition proportionate to the public peril.

This supposition, however, is not enough to safeguard pedestrians not engaged in automobile driving. Possibly, strict enforcement of existing statutes, with severe punishment of offenders, will do the work. It should be tried in Michigan.

Father's Folly

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan tourist attraction are the product for a year-around hard-sell campaign.

The Michigan Tourist Council uses all the media of communications plus numerous general information techniques to promote the state's vacation spots both within the state and throughout the nation.

And the council gets good cooperation from commercial groups within the state.

The Council divides its commercial advertising program into three parts to coincide with the major vacation seasons in the state: Winter-Spring-Summer and Autumn.

Advertisements timed to exert the greatest possible sales influence just prior to the time when vacationers make their plans for each season are placed with magazines, newspapers and radio-television.

A comprehensive array of informative and attractive literature is also prepared by the Council.

The whole package is aimed at helping people pick the right spot for their vacation from among the practically numberless recreation facilities in Michigan.

In addition to the advertising that is bought and paid for, the Council prepares news-type press releases and pictures that are passed out to newspapers, magazines, radio and TV.

Underlying the whole program is a personal-contact public relations program that has two major purposes.

First, it must keep in touch with resort operators, tourist services and vacation spots so they can best take advantage of the Council program, and second, it must continually deal with potential users of Michigan's vacation spots and stimulate renewed and expanded interest.

This part of the Council's program includes a whole range of appearances at outdoor and travel shows, both in Michigan and out of state; personal service information dispensed by mail and in face-to-face meetings with vacationers and potential vacationers; contacts with transportation companies, industries, wholesale and retail firms and social and professional organizations; showing of films and giving of lectures on Michigan attractions, and preparation of public-service announcements by radio and TV.

In addition, the public relations part of the program involves participation in tourist industry improvement programs.

Distinguished-looking Paul Adams, the Michigan Attorney General, recently completed a task that a shy man might have shunned.

The staid old state of Massachusetts wanted to know whether Michigan law prohibited the wearing of "slacks, shorts or trousers" by women when appearing in public.

A legislative researcher in Boston threw the task to Adams as part of a survey program.

"We can learn of no occasion on which a woman was convicted of disorderly conduct or indecent exposure by reason of the fact that she was attired in slacks, shorts or trousers," Adams said in a letter to the Massachusetts official who asked the question.

Furthermore, Adams issued a press release outlining the entire exchange of letters.

While hardly a delicate subject, the question of women's attire could be expected to raise an eyebrow or two in some quarters. Adams handled it forthrightly—and publicly.

Citizens for Michigan, that non-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I got a printed bulletin yesterday from my Congressman saying the enclosed pamphlets from the Department of Agriculture were now ready and available. It took all day to read the list. They were 576 of 'em and my Congressman said I could get any number up to ten. In an election year it would be mighty smart to give a feller 20.

I had a heap of trouble figuring out the ten I needed most. You have to order according to the code number listed along side each pamphlet. You might be interested, Mister Editor, in my selection, in fact it might save you a heap of time if you'd just copy down my list and get it in the mail, on account of me ordering a pretty good list.

First off, I ordered G 7 "Growing Vegetables in The City." I'm thinking 'serious' of just putting all my stuff in the soil bank and moving to town.

My second choice was L 890 "The House-Fly And How To Control It." For 60 years I've been combating this problem by putting up a few screens and buying my old lady a swatter. If they got a system that don't need no screens and will save my old lady a heap of swatting, I want to get it. Then I ordered L 453 "How To Control Bad Bugs." We been handling this bug by hanging the bed clothes and mattress out to air about four or five times a year. But that's a heap of work and maybe L 453 has got a easier way. And I sorter liked L 129 "Preparation Of Horseradish." If there's anything I like prepared good it's horseradish and I can't wait to get this one. I marked down three for my old lady. I thought she'd like F 1044 "Cleaning & Adjusting A Sewing Machine," G 31 "Buying Women's Coats And Suits," and G 35 "Ways To Cook A Rabbit."

For choice number 8 I took G 45 "Turkey On The Table The Year Round." I ain't too shore I'd like turkey ever day but it wouldn't hurt to mix in a little turkey with the fat-back.

They had one, L 898 "How To Preserve Leather Bookbindings" that I thought might come in mighty good if I ever got any books.

For my last choice I took L 307 "How Much Fertilizer Shall I Use?" Up to now I been using all I could afford but maybe they got a subsidy on this item.

I was mighty tempted to sneak in No. 11 on 'em, F 1961 "Getting Started In Farming," but I figured I was getting too old to start over in this field. Anyhow, when these 10 get here I'll have enough reading to last all summer.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Michigan Ranks Second in Freeway Miles

Lansing—As Michigan expands its industrial base and increases its tourist business, which is expected to reach an annual volume of $1 billion by 1970, good highways, becoming increasingly important.

This gives added significance to an announcement last week by the United States Bureau of Public Roads that Michigan ranks second among all states in number of miles of interstate freeways open to traffic and built to full federal engineering requirements.

We all are justly proud of Michigan's fine force of highly skilled workers, our industrial know-how, our wealth of natural resources, and our expanding research facilities. Our location in the heart of the Great Lakes market gives us access to an immense concentration of consumer and industrial customers.

But, without transportation, advantages could not be nearly as effective as they are. The Bureau of Public Roads reports that Michigan has 260 miles of completed interstate freeways.

To demonstrate the progress Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has made in construction of highways let me quote the mileage for some of the other mid-western states. Ohio has 221 miles of interstate freeways open; Iowa has 104 miles; Illinois, 98 miles; Wisconsin, 90 miles; and Indiana, 11 miles.

The report does not include further evidence of our progress—the number of miles now under construction, or for which contracts have been let. Just last week ground was broken for the final 7.8 mile stretch of the 217-mile Detroit-Chicago freeway. All but four miles of this highway from downtown Detroit to the Indiana line will be completed by late 1961.

This is a great service to manufacturers in all parts of Michigan. It brings markets closer to points of manufacture everywhere in our state.

Not only is our expanding highway system an increasingly important advantage to industry, it is a great boon to our tourist business. The time is long past when Michigan was a recreation center only in the summer months. We are known far and wide as an all-season recreation state. Our freeways are making Michigan more accessible in all kinds of weather to visitors from other states.

Interesting facts about Michigan are contained in the recent Census of the United States Bureau of State Government.

Among the 49 states (Hawaii was not included) Michigan ranks 47th in terms of percentage of increase in revenue and general expenditures from 1938 to 1953, the same time position we have held for last decade.

In terms of per capita expenditures for 1953, Michigan ranks 19th. In expenditures for education, Michigan was 19th. In expenditures for health and hospitals Michigan was 20th. In welfare we were 20th. Michigan is the second state in the number of interstate freeways open to traffic. We were 31st last year in states in per capita expenditures for highways.

We stood 14th in overall revenue, including taxes, fees and income from miscellaneous sources, and 22nd in tax revenue on a per capita basis.

These figures are particularly interesting because they show again distortions which presented Michigan in an able light.

Reuther 'Shocked' at Williams' Ok of Kennedy

Two big newspapers stories out of the Michigan AFL-CIO convention in Grand Rapids last week were delightful examples of how union magicians set the stage for fake illusions.

The first was related in headlines informing state and nation that Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, was "shocked" by Gov. Williams' endorsement of Senator Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The second was a pious decision to give Gus Scholle $108,000 for political activity on behalf of the Democratic party. Scholle is the veteran president of the Michigan AFL-CIO Council, a one-man operation. The implication was that poor Gus has been struggling for the last 15 years on penury.

Michigan has witnessed many political shams in the last decade. But these are prize-winners that should earn for Democratic State Chairman a special award—such as a solid gold crocodile tear.

Let's first consider Scholle and his special fund of $108,000 to be stacked on his desk each year by assessing every AFL-CIO member one and a half cents a month. That's only 18 cents a year—per unionist, but the convention delegates argued for more than an hour before voting to grant Gus request.

When an organization like the union has 600,000 members in Michigan, however, this 18 cents a year can produce a splendid harvest.

Not one newspaper writer covering the convention mentioned that Scholle has been receiving $492,000 annually for political purposes, on the basis of the present shrinking membership, and now will have $540,000.

Not one reporter mentioned that Gus spends nearly all of this money to help the Democratic party and to lobby for the CIO in Lansing.

The masterful stage craft in Grand Rapids made it appear that starting Gus needs $108,000 this year to get Democrats to the polls because the Republican Party is struggling to raise $120,000 in Michigan's 20th, the national and local candidates.

The one purpose of Gus' office is to aid the Democratic party and get pro-labor legislation on the books. He does not negotiate contracts. He has nothing to do with strikes. He is the union's political arm, and nothing else.

So anyone taking a clear look at the resources of the Democratic party will find that the UAW has $6,600,000 to spend on politics (it's called the "Citizenship Fund") and Scholle has an additional $540,000.

No wonder some Republican legislators have discovered that their Democratic opponents this year will have newspaper advertising and posters, television and radio time, sound trucks and professional campaign directors—all worth as much as $30,000 or more in a legislative district.

Congressman Alvin M. Baer, candidate for the GOP nomination for U. S. Senator, charged the UAW long ago promised to Michigan's delegation to the National Convention.

Senator Kennedy, in return, McClellan committee laid out union.

Williams' replied, indicating that he had not talked to support Reuther.

The Governor is a truthful politician.

Scholle, whose office is in the capitol in Lansing, the negotiator between Reuther and Reuther. Only on insurance day, and not always on the Reuther seen in Lansing.

Because Gov. Williams' deal with the UAW will handicap campaign for the nomination Vice-President, Reuther is another effort to impress the Governor is dependent.

But in Los Angeles next to Reuther and all of his debt will be solidly back of the Reuther-Massachusetts.

Where they used to deliver 2,300 gallons of liquefied petroleum gas in other trucks, Petroleum Gas Service of Long Beach, California, can now deliver 3,500 gallons a day. That's 7 days a week usually, over back trails and up into high rock country with maximum GVW loads. And with Chevy's Torsion Spring Ride paving every foot of the way! "You don't get any more jolting on washboard roads than you do in a passenger car, or any sideways on curves," says driver Bernie Stone. "I used to take some rough roads at from 5 to 8 miles an hour. Now I can go 30 over them." Petroleum has over 200 Chevrolets hauling for them.

If you think we're excited about Chevy's independent front suspension, you ought to talk to the truck owners who are profiting by it. They'll tell you Chevy's torsion-spring design is the hottest thing to hit the industry since trucks began. Drive one—that's the proof, short and sweet.

SCHOOL FUND BILL
The House of Representatives opened debate recently on a $975,000,000 school construction bill with the Administration apparently dangle a compromise before supporters of the bill.

There was no word from President Eisenhower, but Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, hinted at a veto of the measure in its original form. He suggested amendments to "improve" it.

Why Mercury is the better low-price car!

MORE VALUE. Just look at these Mercury advantages over other low-price cars:

You ride smoother because Mercury has up to 8 inches more wheelbase... and is up to 494 pounds heavier. You're more comfortable because Mercury's extra shoulder room, leg room, and foot room. You feel safer because Mercury's brakes are bigger (up to 26%), and visibility is better (up to 21% more).

Mercury has at least two more extra values. Why not enjoy them all, and save a little money, too!

PRICES START $63 TO $66 BELOW EVEN THE LOWEST-PRICED V-8 POWERED PLYMOUTH FURY OR CHEVROLET IMPALA.

And we're not talking about a "stripped" Mercury. This price comparison is based on a deluxe appointed Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and deep, soft wall-to-wall carpeting.

This amazing price story is the result of Mercury's dramatic 1960 price reductions of as much as $174 lower than last year, including items that are now standard equipment.

Every Mercury is lower priced than last year. All Monterey's are now low-price cars. They are priced below, or within a few dollars of, the other deluxe V-8 series in the low-price field. Come in. See for yourself!

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' 1960 retail base prices for lowest-priced V-8 models.

Fathers Officiate At Menzel-Helm Wedding Friday

The bride was given in marriage by her father who then joined the Rev. Helm at the altar for the remainder of the wedding service.

The soloist, Donna Pith of Batavia, Ill., sang Brahms' "Thou with Tongues of Men and Holy Angels." She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Kenneth Ziebell of Elmhurst, Ill.

White silk organza and shantilly lace fashioned the bride's gown in princess style, the skirt extending into a short train. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

ADD AND SUBTRACT

When a new finish is added to a fabric, the process may take something away in return. A wrinkle-resistant finish, for example, may result in a less durable fabric, or a fabric that is warmer to wear. Home economists say you may be willing to accept some disadvantage in return for the more desirable qualities given by the finish.
