Rev. Schnake Home from Ecuador Trip

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake returned home Thursday from Ecuador where, accompanied by the Rev. Armin Bizer of St. James church, Saline, he had delivered a plane-load of livestock for Church World Service. The livestock, including sheep, hogs and cows, is an outgrowth of the well known "heifer project," to help farmers in other countries.

On Monday, Feb. 6, the two pastors were in Quito where they visited at the home of William Bennett who is the director of public relations at the American Embassy. A "ham" radio enthusiast, Bennett had been contacted by Robert Schroen, Chelsea "ham" radio operator, and the two arranged to have the ministers talk via radio.

Present at the Schroen home when the South American station was contacted were Mrs. Schnake and Mr. and Mrs. David Strieter. Arrangements were made to talk again the next night and Mrs. Bizer was called on the telephone so she could talk to her husband; however, atmospheric conditions that night made for a poor reception.

The Rev. Schnake said his trip to Ecuador was "a rewarding experience." He is expected to give a talk about the trip at the annual congregational get-together at St. Paul's church next Thursday.

Mission Services Are Scheduled at St. Mary's Church

A two-week mission will be conducted here by the Rev. Fr. Richard Malloy of the Paulist Fathers, according to an announcement made this week by the Rev. Fr. Francis Malczewski, interim pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church.

The mission services will be held at the church, beginning Feb. 26. Father Malloy is a veteran missionary and a former United States Army Chaplain.

Announcement of the special services states that "a mission is a course of spiritual exercises consisting principally of special sermons and instructions on the great truths of eternity and our duties as Christians, its object being to bring souls to God, to convert sinners, to help the weak, to raise the fallen, to strengthen all in virtue, and to bring down blessings on our homes and families."

Bulldogs Win From Dexter With Defense

Hold Dreadnaughts' High-Scoring Blossom To Four Field Goals

Those old timers who think that defense has left the high school basketball scene, should have seen the Chelsea Bulldogs work on the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday night. Defense was what allowed the Bulldogs to capture its second win in the three meetings of the two teams.

Daryl Keener and David McLaughlin did excellent jobs handling ever-dangerous Cliff Blossom and an array of running mates. Blossom collected 18 points, but was allowed only four field goals. The other four men who played guard at various times, were allowed just two field goals.

The picture was the same on Chelsea's defensive back line, where Mike Marsh, Alton Nixon, and Homer Nixon played fine supporting roles, and rebounded very well.

The game was outstanding from the spectators' viewpoint, in that it climaxed early and let up only as the scoreboard showed just 30 seconds left with Chelsea holding a seven-point lead.

In the first quarter Chelsea came from behind to grab a slim 13-12 lead at the end of eight minutes of play, only to have Dexter duplicate the feat in the second period and go ahead, 25-23, at half-time.

In the third period, Dexter, clinging to a two-point lead, slowed the game to a walk in an attempt to take only the very good spots.

This particular strategy backfired, however, and in less than two minutes the Bulldogs had regained the lead and held a 33-30 advantage at the end of the three-quarter mark.

Candidates Will Be Named at Village, Township Caucuses

St. Barnabas' Church Plans First Service in New Building

Sunday, Feb. 19, will mark the first official use of a new $45,000 building which is expected to serve the needs of St. Barnabas' Episcopal church for "at least a generation."

The first service to be held will include the confirmation of five young people by the Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, second suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

The suffragan (assistant) bishop will be making his first visit to the Chelsea church since his consecration as a bishop of the Episcopal Church in May, 1960, at Detroit.

While work still remains to be done on the interior of the building, the exterior is completed. Landscaping will be done as soon as weather permits.

Temporary parking facilities have been arranged at the west side of the building which is located at 20500 Ontonagon, a short distance west of South Main St.

Starting with a financial campaign just one year ago, the congregation has now acquired what is expected to be the first unit of three structures, Chelsea Associated Builders, Inc. is the general contractor in charge of construction.

The opening procession Sunday will include the acolytes, choir, lay reader, the Rev. Allan Reed who is vicar of St. Barnabas', and Bishop DeWitt.

In announcing the first service to be held in the new building, the Rev. Reed said members and friends of the Episcopal Mission "have been generous with labor and gifts" and construction has proceeded swiftly.

The five young people to be confirmed at this historic occasion in the life of the St. Barnabas' congregation are Thoms Bowdip, Christina Lindauer, Robert MacDougall, William McFall and Cath-

Story of Romney's Life Again Proves Power of Newspaper Advertising

As a young man, George Romney, now one of our best known industrialists, went from Utah to Washington, D. C., to seek his fortune. What happened is told in a recently published book, "The Story of George Romney," by Tom Mahoney which is being hailed by reviewers as one of the best recent business biographies.

One morning George noticed a male-help wanted advertisement in a newspaper. It simply said "stenographer" at a room in the Senate Office Building. Out of a hundred candidates he landed the job working for the late Senator David L. Wash of Massachusetts. This started a career which a few years ago made him head of American Motors Corp.

With such an incident in his background, it is natural for George Romney to be interested in newspaper advertising. In fact, he is so interested that his company spends a larger share of its advertising money in newspapers than any other automobile manufacturer. As those who follow the financial pages know, the results have been very happy for him.

"The outstanding success story—in fact the only automotive success story of 1958—was that of American Motors," noted Editor & Publisher, the trade magazine. It spent about $4,300,000, more than two-thirds of its advertising budget, in newspapers. The company was the only one with greater sales than the previous year and had profits of $26,000,000.

Last year Romney's company spent $8,507,433 in newspapers, virtually doubling the year before, and had profits of $60,000,000. In the compact car field, where it was once alone, his company now has a host of competitors. But it is still putting the bulk of its advertising in newspapers and in April had a greater share of the greatly expanded 1960 compact market than any other company!

This is not too surprising. When we seek something as vital as a job or want to make a purchase as important as an automobile, it is only natural that we turn to our newspaper where the essential information is recorded in black and white and usually with a local address at which we can do business.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: We got a new fellow in our neighborhood and I think he's going to fit right good. Me and Ed Doolittle went over to see him the other night and he was telling us he's got a sure fire trick to fetch rats. All he had to do to get 'em, he said, was to forget and leave some sacks of cement outdoors. Claimed he got about a half inch to the sack. We're mighty glad to get this fellow out here. Now if we can get somebody to furnish the cement, we got the crops practically laid by.

A whole bunch of wimmen folks was calling on this feller's wife when we was out there. Coming home, Ed allowed as how he was the only dirt farmer to ever break the sound barrier, claims he got two words in edgewise while talking to the wimmen. Me and Ed could've give this feller a heap of good advice on how to get along out here, but he talked like he's been around some himself. As in most communities, the people out here with the narrowest minds has got the widest mouths. I try to keep away from neighborhood fusses. I've found out that it's a heap easier to stay out than get out. Of course, secretly they've got a few scattered around out here that if they'd break leg I'd rather it was their neck. But I just know these tender souls wants to myself.

I was noting in the papers this week a couple of important scientific items. A history professor from the University of North Carolina, named Dr. Crittenden says the typical mountaineer has disappeared from the mountains in this country. I ain't surprised none to hear this scientific fact. Them mountaineers has been migrating for years to radio stations to sing hillbilly songs. I reckon radio finally got 'em all. If professor Crittenden will start a movement to get 'em back to the hills, I'll do all I can to help.

The second item come from a feller named Dr. Gans of London who claims the 2,400-year-old habit of doctors exposing the patient's tongue is a complete waste of time. Per most of my life the standard examination for all doctors was to take your temperature, count your pulse, thump your stomach and look at your tongue. When he got through he could tell whether you was well, bilious, or dead. And I ain't surprised none at this new discovery by Dr. Gans. As a matter of fact, Mister Editor, I ain't surprised at nothing no more. As far as I'm concerned, they can take the exclamation point out of the English language.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew

"Neither Snow, Nor Rain"

Herodotus, the Greek historian, said it in the 5th century, B. C., and you'll find it today inscribed on the main post office in New York City: "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." With the Christmas rush not far behind us, it's a good time to pay tribute to those who, day in, day out, in fair weather or foul, see that the mail gets through. Your postman deserves a pat on the back; but he'll settle for a smile. Incidentally, the motor truck plays a vital part in the distribution of the mail, serving the length and breadth of Michigan, from the most densely populated cities to the most remote rural areas.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Probably there never was a time when more Michigan people were thinking and talking more about programs to create jobs than now. This includes both community and state levels. And probably there has never been a time when people of the state were as willing to work together in such programs.

Unemployment figures, business reports and recently the announcement that Norge will move its Muskegon Heights plant to Arkansas made it quite clear to every one's mind that the economic climate in Michigan is in serious need of improvement—and now.

The Norge incident is dramatic evidence of a situation which has been in the news for many months. For a year the rumor had been rife that the plant would be moved. Community leaders and representatives of the state Economic Development Department worked hard, even desperately, to hold electric refrigerator production here. But it became apparent that the new, one million square foot plant near Fort Smith, Ark., could easily produce both gas and electric models. On Feb. 1, it was announced that the somewhat antiquated plant in Muskegon Heights would be closed.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus, incidentally, lost not time in claiming that the state's gain was largely the result of legislation adopted recently and designed to lure industry there. They have a law which permits municipalities to issue revenue bonds to build plants for industry. Greenwood, Ark., a suburb of Fort Smith, issued a $7.5 million bond issue to build the Norge plant.

Michigan leaders must now decide what programs this state will adopt to help in its situation. The newly-elected Governor, John B. Swainson, indicates that he will have several recommendations. One approach to receive serious consideration involves a way for the state to aid local groups financing construction of buildings for lease to industry. In the past this and similar programs have been considered too liberal by the legislature. But other states, some of them with a reputation for being conservative, have adopted such programs. To many in this state, especially the hard working staff of the Economic Development Department, some new programs are weapons urgently needed for the fight to attract industry.

Conservative Maine has a sort of industrial P.H.A. plan. So does Rhode Island. The state guarantees up to 90 per cent of a loan made by a bank in co-operation with a community industrial development group to build a plant for lease to industry. In both states the plan seems to be working well. In Maine the plan was delayed a year while it went to a vote of the people and then to the supreme court. Attorneys say that in Michigan, too, a constitutional amendment would be required and a supreme court test could be expected to follow. This would take important time.

Pennsylvania has advertised for several years that "100 per cent financing of industrial plants" is available. In fact, Pennsylvania has spent something more than half a million dollars for this advertising alone. Five years ago the Pennsylvania legislature appropriated $5 million for plant construction loans. From year to year additional sums have been appropriated, to present total of $18 million. For each plant constructed, the state guarantees the borrower a $10 million of loans.

Republican Governor Rockefeller recommended to New York legislators this winter a plan similar to the one in Pennsylvania. "I am convinced," said the Gov. Rockefeller in his opening message, "that this proposal can provide us with a more basic approach to the problems... and with an important additional means of attracting private capital."

The Trust Fund started 1961 with $219 million. Of this total $193 million is on loan from the Federal government and must be repaid before 1967.

On present Michigan unemployment tax rates—the highest in the world—employers this year will contribute about $15 million to the state fund. Unemployment last week reached 320,000 or 11.2 of the work force. Unless we jump out of the recession suddenly, the fund this year will be drained by about $550 million.

The system is costing $12 million a week now and will go higher. President Kennedy has an answer that would shock every taxpayer in Michigan if they were given the truth. You read that the President has asked Congress to increase the tax base for every employer, and to extend compensation to 30 weeks instead of 26 weeks.

Instead of taxing only the first $3,000 paid to each worker annually (a tax paid by the employer and never by the worker), Kennedy wants to raise the tax base to $4,800 per employee. This change would not mean much in low-wage states which

Unemployment Fund in Deep Trouble

The sensation created by Gov. Williams when he announced in 1959 that the state government had no funds to meet its payroll was a little rumble compared to the explosion ahead for the people of Michigan. The Unemployment Compensation Fund is plunging with some speed toward bankruptcy.

The blow, unprecedented in the history of the national system, may fall before the year ends. If it does, Michigan will be the only state in the union to be rocked by such a major catastrophe.

When shocked citizens angrily accused Williams of dirty pool in an attempt to force an income tax, Soapy very quickly "found" the necessary millions to meet the payroll. But when the Unemployment Compensation Fund goes broke, it will be as busted as the average father the day after Christmas. There will be no money secluded in the dark corners of the till.

Republican legislators have become alarmed, but are being ignored or are being accused of needlessly reasoning for a panic button. Gov. Swainson has said casually that he is asking a report from "technicians." He did not say whether they need a Harvard degree to be recognized.

Well, even those first graders who are being taught geometry instead of reading and writing can figure the outcome if given these facts: The Trust Fund started 1961 with $219 million. Of this total $193 million is on loan from the Federal government and must be repaid before 1967.

On present Michigan unemployment tax rates—the highest in the world—employers this year will contribute about $15 million to the state fund. Unemployment last week reached 320,000 or 11.2 of the work force. Unless we jump out of the recession suddenly, the fund this year will be drained by about $550 million.

The system is costing $12 million a week now and will go higher. President Kennedy has an answer that would shock every taxpayer in Michigan if they were given the truth. You read that the President has asked Congress to increase the tax base for every employer, and to extend compensation to 30 weeks instead of 26 weeks.

Instead of taxing only the first $3,000 paid to each worker annually (a tax paid by the employer and never by the worker), Kennedy wants to raise the tax base to $4,800 per employee. This change would not mean much in low-wage states which have been attracting industry. But Michigan has the highest industrial wages in the country. No one yet has told the people of Michigan that Kennedy's plan would add another $90 million a year to the staggering tax load that is helping to drive employers from the state.

More astonishing, press reports have failed to point out that the President is demanding that an additional $20 million a year from Michigan employers be kept in Washington to bolster the unemployment comp systems of other states if they start to totter.

Maybe Michigan will be able to borrow back part of its own money. If so, the debt will have to be repaid. When the Federal government loaned money for unemployment comp in 1958, only three states applied. Michigan got $113 million; Pennsylvania $90 million; Alaska $8 million.

Because only these three are indebted, there is no possibility of forgiveness which wipe the slate clean. One reason for the tang Michigan is the pro-labor policy the state government. On Michigan has it been held that payments must be made to who are out of work as a result of a strike in Michigan or another state. Only in Michigan has it been held that must be made to an unemployed for constant drunkenness. Only in Michigan has it held that compensation must be paid to an employee fired because of five successive garnishments. "Employers are obligated to help their employees to live on their income," says our government.

H. Koenn Named Vice-President for Michigan American Dairy Association

Area Residents Attend 'Freedom Conference'

Michigan Farm Bureau Sponsors Third Annual Two-Day Seminar

More than 250 farmers from all parts of Michigan, including the Upper Peninsula, gathered in Lansing for the third annual "Freedom Conference" Feb. 7-8. Called by the Michigan Farm Bureau, the two-day seminar was held in the Lansing YMCA.

The conference program was aimed specifically at County Farm Bureau Citizenship committees, county presidents, secretaries and members of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Those attending from this area were Mrs. Robert Tefft of Saline, Carl Lesser, Donald Ruhlrig, and Frank Haggard of Dexter.

A "Battle For Ideas" theme brought together an even half-dozen noted speakers including two Michigan men who have attained national prominence as authors and lecturers. They are Drs. Russell Kirk and Richard Staar. Both men are now associated with Universities; Dr. Kirk with the Long Island University at Brookville, and Staar at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

Kirk built his talk around the idea of American freedom as reflected through the church into daily living. His remarks appeared to be extensions of thinking from two of his best known books, "The American Cause" and "The Conservative Mind." Kirk indicated that Christian churches in America have been weak in effective resistance to Communism. "Those who misunderstand the nature of Christianity are prone to confuse the 'goodness' of social welfare programs, such as those offered by Communist countries, for 'Christian concern' as taught by Jesus," he said.

He compared the advance of world communism to the "Anti-Christ of the Book of Revelations in the Bible." He said that this anti-Christ gains followers by preaching doctrines that sound Christian, but are actually built around a religion that leaves out God.

A former student at Michigan State University, and more recently a member of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency staff before beginning his University duties, Dr.

"To be equal, America would have to reduce its steel output by 60 per cent, reduce its petroleum production by 66 per cent, cut electric motors back by 95 per cent, shut down two out of every three hydro-electric plants, reduce natural gas consumption by 90 per cent, tear up 14 out of every 15 miles of our roads, destroy two out of three of our main-trunk railroads, . . . sink eight out of ten of our ships, and dismantle 19 out of each 20 cars and trucks."

Petersen said that to this we would have to add removal of nine out of each ten telephones . . . sweep away 40 million television sets, and put 60 million people back on farms.

"If we as individuals ever reach the state where we no longer seek personal profit, we as a nation are doomed," Petersen told the group.

He concluded by comparing national freedom to a "freedom train" which requires a special ticket. "The ticket has two halves, he said. "The one stamped 'Freedom,' the other 'Christianity.' Neither half is good, if detached from the other," he said.

Staar told the group that the Russian-propaganda machine has not been able to "create the new Russian man"—a person he described as a completely unthinking, pliable, willing subject. Instead, he indicated that a majority of all people in communist-controlled countries are held in complete subjugation against their will.

Staar scoffed at hopes for peaceful co-existence with Russia. He quoted from the Chief of the Soviet party "Agitprop" (Agitation and Propaganda) department, as saying that there can be no such thing as "peaceful co-existence." He said that in a recent article published in the World Marxist Review, the Russian-propaganda head wrote: "While not rejecting force, Marxism-Leninism does not consider it to be the sole means of the struggle or the sole way of the triumph of Socialism or Communism."

In urging a stepped-up "truth campaign," Dr. Staar made it plain that a soft attitude toward Russia is a one-way street. "We cannot agree to stop telling the truth," he said, "if the other side agrees to stop telling their lies."

A speaker on the evening program—E. G. Petersen of the American League Against Communism—told the group that Americans are "far too willing" to compare themselves to Russia to see if we are "equal with Communists."

A film report of Red Cross operations in different parts of the world was also a part of the evening's program.

Other business included discussion of a proposed new county chapter headquarters to be built or purchased by the Red Cross on Packard Rd. at Ann Arbor. Reports on progress of the project were presented by Thor Marsh of Ypsilanti, of the building committee, and Edward Adams, Jr., president of Ann Arbor State Bank chairman of the building finance committee, who said "lots of help" will be needed to raise the funds for construction of the building. with automation of feed handling facilities, a practice which has resulted in major changes on many farms.

the Proctor farm but discovering that Proctor was also employed by Chrysler Corp.—at the Proving Ground here—they found they had much in common and upon invitation of the Proctors, spent the week-end with them.

He told the Proctors about his home and family, his own "farm" being only 2 1/2 acres in size but supporting 12 cows. He explained that mechanized farming he finds common in the United States is practically unknown in his home country. Sheep are the chief animal product, both for wool and meat. Pork, Langford said, was considered a "luxury" food.

Well versed in general information about his native Australia, he entertained his hosts and their other week-end guests, the Russell Proctors of Livonia, with interesting stories about the country and its people.

Touching on industrial subjects, he mentioned that wages for a 40-hour week are approximately one-third of those in the United States; however, to retain their trained employees, factories provide for a 13-week vacation period during the year in Australia.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Weiss have returned to Chelsea after attending the national convention of the Methodist Hospitals and Homes of the United States. The convention was held at Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 2 and before returning home, the Rev. and Mrs. Weiss visited two of their former congregations—at Smithton and Clinton, Mo., where they spent more than four years in the 1940's. They also visited the Rev. Weiss' brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Weiss, medical missionaries on furlough from Seoul, Korea, who are staying presently at Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benter of Detroit spent Sunday here as guests of the former's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe.

press which they began in the third quarter after losing their lead and kept the game within reach as a result. The Bulldogs were never able to gain more than a seven-point lead, and most of the time it was from one to three points that separated the two clubs.

With just 40 seconds showing on the clock, and Chelsea clinging to a mere three-point lead, Ed Lauhon, playing for Daryl Keezer who had fouled out mid-way through the fourth quarter, gave Chelsea the boost they needed as he calmly dropped through two free throws on a one-and-one-foul. The Bulldogs went on to score two more before the horn sounded, and won number "40" 53-46.

The Bulldogs' shooting was not good, but their ability to hit from the foul line made the difference on the scoreboard.

Ever reliable Homer Nixon again led the Chelsea scoring with 18 points, followed by Dave McLaughlin, who played a fine game, with 12 points, Mike Marsh had 9, Alton Nixon 6, Daryl Keezer 5, and Ed Lauhon 3.

For Dexter it was Cliff Blossom with 18 points, with the next closest man getting only seven points.

The Junior Varsity avenged their only defeat of the year, by defeating the little Deadnoughts, 60-49, after being behind by 15 points at half-time. It was a well-deserved win, as the little Bulldogs hustled hard on a full court press to pull the game from the fire. Team effort and desire were the elements which allowed them to win their ninth in ten games.

Chelsea travels to Pinckney tomorrow evening to tackle the much-improved Pirates. The Bulldogs have been working on the Junior High floor this week in an effort to be ready for the confines of the Pinckney gym.

Next Tuesday the Cubs from U. High will come to Chelsea for their return match with the Bulldogs, who remember vividly the one-point loss to U. High on Jan. 13. The two teams are currently tied for second place in the conference, and the game will mean not only points toward the All-Sports trophy, but a great deal to each and every member of both teams. It will be the final appearance for four fine U. High ball players: Stu Bradley, who just recently scored 52 points in a single game; Dennis Stevens who scored 28 points in the first game at U. High; Jeff Fischer who is always dangerous; and Pete Andrews a fine defensive player and ball-handler.

Tuesday's U. High game, plus a March 3 encounter with Saline, are the only remaining home games of the season.

Its efforts in surplus labor areas would be remedial; in other areas, preventive. Its financial assistance should be made available through non-profit local development corporations composed of leading citizens concerned with the economic growth of their communities.

No opposition seems to exist to a proposal that a state-wide meat inspection program be created. Leading the fight for enactment of such legislation is the Michigan Meat Packers and Frozen Food Lockers Association. The meat industry hopes to standardize inspection routines which now take place in a number of cities and communities at the expense of local government and place authority to inspect meat products in the hands of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Most obvious benefits are economic. It is simply more efficient to deal with one set of standard inspection requirements than with numerous and differing ordinances. The consumer gets a more complete protection and standardized labeling of meat products. The producer need secure only one license instead of one for each community where he wishes to operate. The new inspection methods would permit earlier detection of obscure animal diseases, and permit the state to enforce regulations. In short, Michigan packers, most of whom need to deal in only a few communities, find themselves hampered in their efforts to ex-

VALENTINE PARTY—Kinder Klub Child Study club members entertained their children at the club's annual Valentine party Saturday morning at South Elementary school. Approximately 40 children attended. Refreshments were being served at tables in the all-purpose room when the picture was taken. Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. Arden Musbach and Mrs. George Winchester, Jr.

GIRL SCOUTS of Chelsea Troops 77 and 48 were busy decorating the all-purpose room at Chelsea's South Elementary school Friday afternoon in preparation for their "co-ed" dance that evening. Girl Scouts, unaided by adult leaders, planned and carried out the affair which was described as a "real ball." Girl Scout leaders, who served as chaperons at the dance, commended the girls for a job well done. On top of the ladder, Cindy Schmutz was preparing to fasten a red streamer to the basket, while Diane Worden, at rear of the ladder, and Kathy Sutter, at right, hold the streamer ends to which large red hearts were attached. The group of girls at the left, all members of Chelsea's Troop 77, are Sandy Eresten, Wanda Schiller, Beverly Boyer and Drinda West. Seated around the table at right were Girl Scouts of Troop 48. Beginning with Cindy Hepburn (behind the ladder) the girls include Janet Hafner, Patty Wireman, Carolyn Wilkerson, Pat Opfle, Sherry Clark, Sandy Severn and Penny Eisenbeiser. A total of 68 Girl Scouts and guests from Ann Arbor, Dexter and Chelsea attended the dance.

Area Girl Scouts Carry Out Coed Dance, Valentine Party

Girl Scouts of Troop 136 and 122 of Ann Arbor, Troop 125 of Dexter and Troops 48 and 77 of Chelsea joined forces Friday evening for a new venture—a "co-ed" dance and Valentine party. The affair was held at Chelsea's South Elementary school with a total of 66 Girl Scouts and guests present.

The girls planned and carried out the project without any adult assistance (except encouragement) and Mrs. Wilber Worden was appointed as adult leader in charge during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dahman of Dexter acted as master of ceremonies and record playing chairman, respectively. Leon Merban had provided a hi-fi set to be used for the evening.

Other adults present during the evening at the invitation of the Girl Scouts included Mrs. Burton Bucy of Dexter, Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser, Mrs. Fred Schumm, Mrs. Ray Johnson and Mrs. Max Hepburn, of Chelsea.

George Prinzing, Chelsea Junior High school teacher, was in charge of setting up the public address system.

Girl Scouts and adults present were generous in praise of the Dahmans of Dexter whose music and dance calling added considerably to the "huge success" of the party.

Girl Scouts Plan Yellow Rose Project

Girl Scouts of Chelsea are joining with others throughout the world in the 1961 project of planting yellow roses to form a golden mass of color for next year's 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting. The planting of the rosebushes is part of a three-year program leading to the 50th birthday observance next year. The two years of preparation and the year of jubilee have been named the "Heritage Program."

Mrs. Leo Bishop is Heritage Program chairman for the Chelsea area and in charge of taking orders for the rosebushes.

Girl Scout and Brownie troops who have already instituted plans for planting rosebushes are as follows: Girl Scout Troop 77, at Chelsea High school; Brownie Troop 58 and Mariner Troop 71 at Veterans Memorial Park; and Girl Scout Troop 406, at Mepyan's rose garden on Garfield St.

Brownie Troop 50 has arranged to plant forsythia at the Junior High school to carry out the golden anniversary theme.

Girl Scout activities this week included a camp rally held at South School Monday evening with 65 present.

Films on Cedar Lake Camp were narrated by Sue Eisenbeiser.

Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser acted as narrator for a film on day camps.

GOD AND COUNTRY AWARD—Roy Lange and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lange, are shown in the above photo with the Rev. ### Roy Lange Receives Boy Scout Special God Country Award

Roy Lange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lange, received Boy Scouting's "God and Country" award at ceremonies held Sunday morning at the Congregational church.

The award signifies the completion of a year of preparation, including six service projects for the church; study for a year with the minister of his church; and writing a statement of his beliefs.

The award was presented in the presence of a large number of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts who attended services in uniform. Cub Scout Den Mothers Mrs. Charles Powers, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. Paul Morley, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Vernon Parks and Mrs. Richard Hoelzer.

Troop 25 Scoutmaster Robert Foye spoke during the service on the topic "Why I Am a Scoutmaster." Victor Parks, an Eagle Scout, spoke about the requirements for working toward an eventual Eagle award; and Roy Lange gave a resume of his work for the God and Country award he received.

The Rev. Phillip Rusten, pastor of the church in his sermon on the topic, "The Church Grows Up," explained that this "growing up" is within each individual person.

The special service Sunday followed another service emphasizing the activities of the young people of the community and church held Feb. 5.

Designated as Youth Sunday, young people took part in the various parts of the worship service.

Two senior high school students, Carol Reddeman and Daryl Keizer delivered the sermon. Dave Talbot opened the service with the invocation; and Nancy Luick and Velma Wiseman read the Old and New Testament lesson, respectively.

Acting as junior deacons at the Feb. 5 service were Victor Parks, David Whinn, David Bunclman and James Perry.

Rudolph Otto, 65, of 224 North St., Chelsea, died Saturday at the Veterans Hospital, Ann Arbor.

He was born Oct. 27, 1895, in Lyndon township, a son of George and Caroline Vilohn Otto, and married Nina Stoker. She died in 1944 and he married Theresa Scripser on Dec. 10, 1945, in Toledo. She survives.

Mr. Otto was a World War I veteran, and was a farmer prior to moving to Chelsea in 1944.

Besides his widow, survivors are a son, Duane of Portage Lake; two stepsons, Virgil Scripser of Ludington, and Russell Scripser of Chelsea; three daughters, Mrs. Amelwe (Evelyn) Policht of near North Lake, Mrs. Harry (Mildred) Peters of Dexter and Mrs. George (Ileen) Benhett of Brighton.

ALL-PURPOSE WEAPON

The creation of an all-purpose weapons system has been the dream of military men for a long time.

The Navy's research section, known as Operations 73, has been working on such a system since 1958.

When the system is fully installed in the fleet, it is expected to analyze any type of enemy attack and select and launch a specific missile required to defeat it.

Area Church Women Unite in World Day of Prayer Service

Beginning at 8 a.m. tomorrow, church bells of Chelsea will ring every hour until 2 p.m. in special observance of the 75th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer and to remind people of the community that the churches will be open throughout the day for individual quiet meditation and prayer.

To further emphasize the united community observance of the occasion, pertinent displays have been placed in various locations in downtown stores and at McKune Memorial Library.

The United Service in Chelsea will be held at 2 p.m. at the Congregational church with Mrs. Ben Donaldson as the guest speaker.

Participating in making arrangements for the World Day of Prayer service here were representatives of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed, St. Barnabas Episcopal and the Methodist and Congregational churches; however, women of all community churches are invited to attend the 2 p.m. service as well as a fellowship hour and tea beginning at one o'clock.

United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches, sponsors the annual observance of the World Day of Prayer.

Each year United Church Women seeks out Christian leaders in different lands to prepare the service. This year's anniversary service based on the theme, "Forward through the Ages," was prepared in the United States by Sue Waddell, former associate general secretary, Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of Churches.

As prayers rise around the world in 60 languages and more than 1,000 dialects, there will be a complete band of prayer encircling the earth. Some who pray cannot read; some will be hungry or cold; others will have all the material comforts that wealth provides. People of 145 countries participate. A total of 22,000 communities in the United States hold World Day of Prayer service.

The World Day of Prayer draws in its wake gifts that are material as well as a dedication of the spirit. The offerings are equally divided between projects of the Divisions of Home and Foreign Missions, National Council of Churches. Were it not for these World Day of Prayer offerings, the interdenominational ministries in the U. S., Alaska, and Puerto Rico would be curtailed, as would the extensive educational, medical and religious work around the world.

Two projects specified as special 75th anniversary goals are for a massive literature program in Africa and special work in Alaska.

Other area churches holding joint services include Zion Lutheran and St. John's Evangelical and Reformed churches of Rogers Corners, at Zion Lutheran church; and St. James and St. John's churches of Saline township and Bridgewater, respectively, who will join Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church in Freedom township for a special observance.

Each of the services is scheduled for 2 p.m.

MYSTERY FARM No. 137—This farm photo, published in the Feb. 9 issue of The Standard "Mystery Farm 137" proved to be difficult for readers to identify. A number of incorrect identifications were received but the only one to call in the correct identification was Mrs. L. Dean Sadt of Ashley Rd. Farm 137 is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barkley at 18594 Grass Lake Rd., southwest of Chelsea. The Barkleys have lived there almost 13 years.

Barkley Farm on Grass Lake Rd. Difficult for Readers To Identify

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barkley and family at 18594 Grass Lake Rd., was pictured in the Feb. 9 issue of The Standard as "Mystery Farm No. 137" and proved to be a true "mystery" since almost no one recognized it. The Barkleys have lived there since they bought it from Walter Burd of Ann Arbor in 1948.

The Barkley's family includes a son, Richard Greeno, who is now attending Junior College at Grand Rapids; another son, John Barkley, who is a freshman at Chelsea High school; and two daughters, Jill Barkley, a Chelsea High school senior, and Rebecca, in the second grade at North Elementary school.

The Barkleys own the house and five acres of land, the remainder of the original 160-acre farm being the property of Glen Feldkamp of Chelsea-Manchester Rd.

According to ownership records the farm was secured from the United States Government in October, 1935, by David Sprague.

It is still often called the Servis Farm since the Servis family owned it from 1896 until 1935. The family included Andrew and his wife, Mary, and George and Bert Servis.

Walter Burd was the next owner, from 1935 until the Barkleys purchased it in 1948.

In addition to the Barkleys the only person who was positive in identification of the farm was Mrs. L. Dean Sadt.

William Hoppe presented the customary "toast to fathers" and William Howard responded, toasting the sons present for the occasion.

Following instrumental numbers played by Gale Artz, Clifton Loveland and Ronald Shaw, the Rev. Wilbur Silvernail of Waterloo gave the evening's address. His topic was "Once There Was a Man."

The Rev. Harry Pyschak, pastor of the church, closed the program with appropriate prayer.

EUCHE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kuhl entertained at a progressive euchre party at their home Saturday evening with three tables in play.

Those awarded prizes are Mrs. Franklin Sweeny, traveling award and ladies' high score prize; Franklin Sweeny, men's high; and Mrs. John Schittenhelm and Earl Kuhl, consolation awards.

I see by the papers where a woman filed suit for divorce because her husband was careless about his appearance. He hadn't shown up in nearly two years.
