Summer Band Program Now Underway

The summer band program, in charge of David Lindsay, Chelsea band director, began July 11 and will continue until after the Chelsea Community Fair. The community band composed of students and any musician in the vicinity who wish participate, will give three concerts at the Municipal parking lot during the summer. The concerts are scheduled for July 21, Aug. 4 and Aug. 18. The band will also play at the community fair and in the Community Fair-parade. The community band practices on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Chelsea high school band room. Sixth graders who are participating in the summer band program rehearse at 10:30 a.m. Wednesdays and Fridays. On those same days, at 8:30 a.m., the seventh graders rehearse. On the eighth graders rehearse at 8:00 a.m. In addition, each student is assigned to a small section which meets once a week, making a total of 25 meetings each attending during the course of the summer. A small charge ($5) is the cost of each student.

Deadline Nears For Obtaining Absentee Ballots

Voters who will be on vacation, in hospitals, or away from their home towns on business on Tuesday, July 25 this year were urged by Secretary of State James M. Hare to write for their Con-Con delegate ballot at once. The last day to obtain such ballots is 2:00 p.m. EST on Saturday, July 22. Hare pointed out. The deadline for getting the ballot to the city or township clerk is on Primary Election Day, Tuesday, July 25, but voters are urged to get them in before that time as an extra precaution. "I believe many contests in this hot weather primary will be won by the candidate with the greatest number of absent voter ballots," Hare said. "There seems to be much apathy among citizens throughout the state. It may be that thoughtful voters on vacation in or out of Michigan who remember to apply for ballots will be those who in the end choose the nominees for the Sept. 12 Con-Con Delegate election."

Radiation Station Set For Chelsea

Civil Defense training kits for Chelsea and five other locations in Washtenaw county where stations of a nation-wide radiation detection network are to be set up, have been received at county Civil Defense headquarters, according to an announcement by Col. Gerald G. Miller, Civil Defense director. The training kits contain 108 instruments worth $3,847 on a grant basis from the federal government for the training of Civil Defense workers in radiological defense.

They will be used to train personnel who will man the stations. In Chelsea, volunteer firemen will be in charge. Miller has requested the federal government to grant enough equipment for the stations which would be located in Chelsea, Ypsilanti township, at the Ypsilanti State Hospital in York township, at Whitmore Lake, Manchester and in the County Building.

The Civil Defense director said that the communities involved must provide the men to operate the equipment but that otherwise it costs the local communities nothing. Director Miller also announced that a 200-bed emergency hospital has been placed at Dexter, giving the county two such hospitals. The other field hospital is at Ypsilanti State Hospital in York township. Delivery of the hospital to Washtenaw county for use in emergencies was the result of two years of effort on the part of Miller.

SELECTING NEW BOOKS—Mrs. Francis Wojciechowski, librarian of the McKune Memorial Library (far right) and Mrs. Edwin Eaton, president of the library board (left) are shown at the State Library in Lansing selecting new books for use here. Eight libraries in the Washtenaw area will have access to 3,000 books which are being loaned by the State Library for one year. Others in the picture are (reading left to right from Mrs. Eaton) Marion Spear, Ypsilanti librarian; Mrs. Marion Ingram, State Library consultant; and Mrs. Alice Ward, Dexter librarian.

Books from State Library Loaned for Local Readers

Nine representatives from six libraries in Washtenaw county took a major step June 27 to improve library services in the area when they visited the State Library in Lansing to select 3,000 books being loaned to the libraries for one year. Representing the McKune Memorial Library in Chelsea were Mrs. Francis Wojciechowski, librarian, and Mrs. E. W. Eaton, president of the library board.

Representing the Dexter Library was Mrs. Alice Ward, the librarian. The libraries are participating in a library program known as the Washtenaw Area Libraries Association which is designed to extend and improve library service through co-operation among the member libraries. Libraries in the association, in addition to Chelsea and Dexter, are at Ann Arbor, Manchester, Saline, South Lyon, Willow Run, and Ypsilanti.

Meeting with Mrs. Marion Ingram, State Library consultant in the Washtenaw area, the library members hand-picked a collection consisting of half adult fiction and non-fiction and half children's books. Chelsea's share of new books totaled 350. The librarians will meet each month at the Ann Arbor public library, which will serve as the book loan headquarters, to discuss progress of the book loan and to make book exchanges.

The Washtenaw area book loan is another in the accelerated public library development program of the State Library now underway throughout Michigan. Bolstered by federal funds, the state-wide program provides large book loans to qualifying libraries, such as the Washtenaw area group, for the extension and improvement of local library services. At present, almost 95,000 books are on loan to 100 public libraries in the state.

Council Briefs

On advice of engineers, the Village Council, at its July 6 meeting, decided to enclose the sewage plant facilities with a chain link fence as a safety measure. The aeration tanks, with their constant bubbling, have a fascination especially for children. Because of the force of the air, anyone who fell in would immediately sink to the bottom since it is impossible for even the strongest swimmer to keep afloat or swim in it. Parents are asked to be certain to keep children away from the area. The Council is advertising for bids on the fence installation and will have it done as soon as possible.

Approved was a request of the Knights of Columbus for permission to hold a chicken barbecue Sunday, July 23, at Pierce Park.

Hough Brothers, contractors for the addition to the sewage plant, now completed, received payment of $15,601, representing 97 percent of the total cost.

Also approved at the meeting was payment of 90 percent of the construction cost of the new sewer lift station at the southern part of the village. The station is now in operation. Amount of payment to Union Construction Co. $11,593.29.

Authorized, also, was payment of $1,470 to William Terns, the amount being $70 per week in addition to contract price, retroactive to beginning of present contract, Feb. 1, 1961, for hauling large quantities of rubbish in addition to amount called for in his contract. Reason for extra amount of hauling handled is the fact that a sanitary landfill site, originally expected to be in operation shortly after his contract was signed, could not be obtained by the Village Council. The additional $70 per week is to be paid until such time as sanitary landfill is in operation.

Village Council meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of the month in the Council Room of the Municipal Building. Citizens are welcome to attend any of the meetings which begin at 8 p.m.

Cool Weather Cuts Total in Rec. Program

Total attendance for the first week of the Chelsea Recreation Council's summer program, June 26-30, was listed by Director Alan Conklin at 2,273 for a daily average of 454; however, the second week's total attendance for the four-day Fourth of July week was only 1,283, a daily average of 320. The Fourth of July week customarily cuts down the attendance but does not account for all of the reduction this year. Unusually cool weather resulted in reduced participation, particularly in morning arts and crafts, swimming and evening programs.

The first week's participation was listed as follows: swimming, 811; arts and crafts, 625; morning baseball, 637; evening program, 200. For the four-day week, July 3-7, the total attendance in each division was: swimming, 470; arts and crafts, 360; morning baseball, 350; evening program, 103.

Lions Lead Recreation Baseball Race

Recreation baseball games played during the past week resulted as follows:

LITTLE LEAGUE
Yankees 5, Lions 7—In a well-played game the Lions remained undefeated as Tom Kern had two hits and Paul Lancaster had a home run. Lancaster and Kern also handled the pitching for the Lions. For the Yankees, Danny Allen had two hits and pitched well in a losing cause.
Fencebusters 14, Bears 6—

The Fencebusters remained tied with the Lions in the Chelsea Little League as Lydon Benjamin, Jack Risner, Phil Eckhardt, and Jack Speer each had three hits while Lave Linsay and Douglas Weatherwax had two safe blows. Bob Cantrell led the Bears with three hits.

Hawks 13, Giants 8—For the Hawks Mike McClanahan, Rodney Houle, and Tom Gardner had two hits each. Brad McGibney had two hits for the Giants.

MIDGET LEAGUE
Tigers 12, Wolverines 13—

Daniel Wenk had three hits for the winners and Ned Blackwell had two hits. Ronald Herrst had four hits including a home run for the Tigers and George Cameron had two safeties.

Pirates 11, Wolverines 7—Despite pulling off a triple play the Wolverines lost their first game as the Pirates won their first. Jack Wilson contributed three hits, including a grand slam home run for the winners, whose Art Farley also had two hits. Paul Wenk had a three-run homer for the Pirates also. For the Wolverines Keith Kusterer had three hits while Lee

Sanitary Landfill Site Now Being Prepared For Aug. 1 Opening

Jiffy Mixers Lose Softball Leadership

Sail-Inn Bar of Ann Arbor won the big game with Jiffy-Mix of Chelsea Monday night at Ann Arbor, and now leads the Ann Arbor Recreation Softball League by two full games. The Barmen defeated the Mixers, 8-6, scoring twice in the top of the seventh inning and then stopping their opponents without a run in the bottom of the seventh although two men got on base.

Monday's game had been looked forward to by the Chelsea team as a chance to head back to first place in the league—a customary spot for the Jiffy Mixers the past two years as well as this season prior to Wednesday, July 5.

At the July 5 game the Chelsea team was defeated by the Deller Builders, a team that hadn't won a single game the entire season. The score was 10-6.

Jiffy-Mix had won nine straight games going into the July 5 battle and Deller Builders had lost nine. It looked like No. 10 for each team with Jiffy-Mix leading, 9-1, after six innings. But the roof fell in the seventh as the Builders pushed nine runs across the plate.

"Sail-Inn Bar is now in first place with 11 straight wins and Jiffy-Mix is second with nine wins and the two losses.

Seek Entries For JCC Golf Tournament

Chelsea Jaycees are entering Chelsea participants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Golf Tournament and are seeking entries from among Chelsea area youths between the ages of 13 and 18 years.

Regulations state that eligibility rules require that entrants' 19th birthday may not occur before Aug. 1.

The 18-hole tournament will be played at Ann Arbor, tomorrow, Friday, July 14, with trophies provided for the winners.

Winners will be eligible for state and national tournament play. Junior golf teams who are interested in participating in tomorrow's tournament should call Daniel Maroney, George Akin or any Jaycee member before tonight (Thursday).

There is no entry charge and no limit on entries. Information necessary to be given to Jaycees by prospective contestants is name, address, age and golf average.

Six Years of Searching Now Seems To Be Ended

Six years of effort on the part of village officials to provide satisfactory garbage and rubbish disposal appear to have reached final realization with work to begin on road construction and site preparation for a new Village Sanitary Landfill located on the Warren Eisenbeiser farm on Werkner Rd. in Lyndon township, just north of Waterloo Rd.

Rodney Mills, excavating contractor, and the Chelsea Public Works Department were to start work on the project this week.

It is expected the site will be open for the general public about Aug. 1.

Short Change Trio Nabbed By Police

Three Detroit men were picked up here Friday night while attempting to "short change" a service station owner.

The arrest was made by Chelsea Police Officer Carl Koch as he was making the rounds of service stations, to warn dealers to be on the lookout for the trio.

Reports had been received that the Killham service station at 14495 North Territorial Rd. had lost about $9 in a short change deal at about 4:30 p.m. and that three men had attempted the swindle at Fairbrothers' store at Waterloo a little later.

As Officer Koch approached Jack Dettling's Marathon station on South Main St., he observed the car with the driver at the wheel and one of the trio inside the station apparently arguing with Dettling about change.

As the officer approached, the driver, Robert Bowen, went into the station and attempted to smooth over the situation by advising the would-be short changer, York Russell Jr., to "come on along" if he had his right change.

The third man in the group is Webster McCauley.

The license number of their car had been given to police when reports of their activities were called in and Officer Koch took them into custody, telling them the Sheriff's Department wished to question them.

According to information given to Chelsea police Monday, the trio had been released to Jackson county authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boyer and children, of St. Louis, Mo., spent from Saturday until yesterday here as guests of the former's sister and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Packard. They are now visiting Mr. Boyer's mother, Mrs. Alpha Sanders at Charlotte.

With the beginning of the sanitary landfill, the Village Council has indicated that it will be forced to enact a "Garbage and Rubbish Collection and Disposal Assessment Ordinance" as a means of helping to defray the rising costs of refuse collection and disposal.

Through the years, these costs have been met by taxes included in the village's General Fund; however, tax revenues have not increased appreciably during the time that the collection and disposal costs have risen to a total annual amount of approximately $13,500. Collection costs have jumped from $3,500 to $8,500 and disposal costs from $500 to $5,000 over the years.

Under the new ordinance the assessment per family unit or business unit will be $1 per month with higher rates for industry. The ordinance provides that the assessment will be billed and collected monthly through the Chelsea Light and Water Department, the first charge to be made with the July billing which is sent out early in August.

The Council stressed the fact that although the beginning of the assessment coincides with the opening of the landfill, the assessment is not only for landfill operation but also to help pay for the collection costs. While everyone in the village may not be availing themselves of all the facilities the refuse collection and disposal system makes possible, the Council points out they must help support them so that they will always be available when needed, for the good of the entire community.

Residents of the village will receive an identification card in their electric bill, which will allow them to enter the landfill without additional cost. People other than village residents and residents of Sylva township, will be charged according to a schedule of fees set up for the landfill, each time they use the landfill.

The Eisenbeiser farm location for the sanitary landfill is the fourth site the Council had under consideration. The first one announced as between Old US-12 and I-94 in Lima township, east of Chelsea; the second was on the

Four Generations Present For Baptism at Zion Church

A family gathering was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wenk as a joint observance of the baptism of their grandson, Jeffrey Hause, and a family gathering for their son, Jeffrey Hause, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Hause and their son who are leaving next week for Chula Vista, Calif. near San Diego, where Jeffrey Hause will be teaching in a high school.

The baby was baptized Sunday morning at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, with the Rev. C. J. Renner officiating. The baby's sponsors are Mrs. Hause's sister and brother, Irene and Donald Wenk.

Present for the family get-together were the Carleton Burkhardt, Walter Loeffler, Harold Harrison, Norman, and Ernest Wenk families, Mr. and Mrs. Wenk, Mrs. Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schaller, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Dunkelberger and daughter Lynda of Kalamazoo, the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Renner and the baby's great-grandfather, Martin Wenk, and great-grandmother, Mrs. William Pritchard.

Friends of the Carleton Hauses called during the afternoon to see them before they are to leave for the west. Mrs. Hause is the former Martha Ellen Wenk.

There were four generations of her family present—her son, Jeffrey who is one month old; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wenk; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Pritchard; and her paternal grandfather, Martin Wenk.

SALESMAN IN ACTION—Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown of 18455 Winters Rd. received the attention of one of the Kiwanis club's star salesmen at the Community Fairground building Saturday. The "salesman," Harold Jones, otherwise known as vice-president-treasurer of Central Fibre Products, Inc., was giving the Browns a detailed demonstration of an upright style electric sweeper, evidently claiming it could be used for cleaning furniture as well as carpets and rugs. Gross receipts of the two-day rummage sale, held Friday and Saturday, amounted to approximately $1,150, according to a tentative report by the general chairman, George Palmer. Net proceeds of the sale are added to the club's community service project funds.

Any Men Wish To Transform Themselves the Way Women Do?

We've been watching those TV commercials that ask, "Is it true... blondes have more fun?" The answer, according to the commercials at least, is that indeed they do, and it could be that the motivation researchers, or whomever, have (as they often do) unwittingly stumbled upon something of value.

We all know that women live longer, have fewer coronaries, stomach ulcers and attacks of the galloping heebie jeebies than mere males. And the reason may well be that the mousy, inconspicuous, timid member of the gentler sex can take a little hair-color, a slinky new dress, a dab or two of face cream and change herself into a glamorous, exciting, desirable creature who is the answer to men's prayers. We've seen it happen.

But us poor men, if we're drab, greying, balding and rumpled, are destined to stay that way forevermore. Even if we had products which would transform us into raving beauties, chances are we wouldn't dare use 'em. The catcalls and jeers that would erupt if we slipped on a girdle, hid our wrinkles with face cream and stuffed ourselves into a skinny new continental suit are just too horrible to contemplate. So we stay looking the way we are.

Let's hope that the passage of time will give us more courage. Goodness knows men need more fun. If being blonde will do it, why don't we take the plunge? Any volunteers?

Michigan Is Natural Gas...

Michigan is natural gas! The availability and importance of this source of energy is highlighted in an advertisement which appears today in The Standard.

Natural gas is another of Michigan's advantages to industry which are being enumerated in a series of public service advertisements sponsored by the industrial promotion committee of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

As this advertising series progresses, the list of advantages of Michigan grow more imposing. Michigan has assets which few States can match. Among them is our steady, adequate supply of natural gas which is important to industry in many ways. It is used for food processing, and drying, die casting, melting of metals and many other purposes.

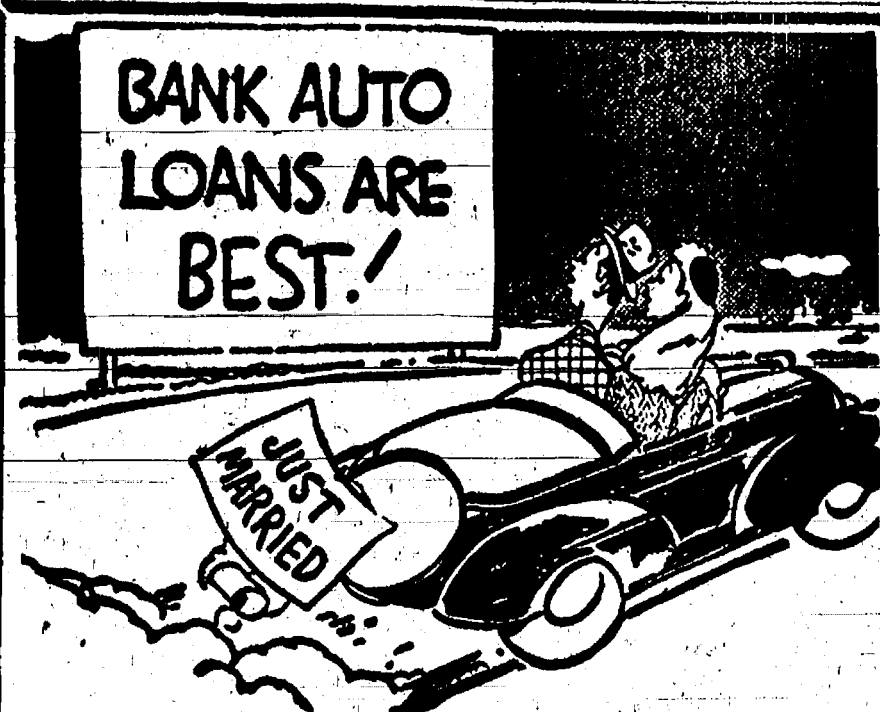

Natural gas is taken for granted by most of our people. It is available in some 500 communities in which 75 per cent of our people and many of our industries are located. Natural gas is important to all of them.

Our supply of natural gas is a good talking point in a campaign to encourage industry to locate or expand in our State. The message of this advantage can be spread throughout the United States if each reader clips today's advertisement and sends it to a friend outside of Michigan. It's a way in which each of us can participate actively in our program of industrial development.

Don't worry about finding your station in life; somebody will be sure to tell you where to get off.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

The "budget in brief" for the fiscal year which started July 1 was just released by the Department of Administration.

The report shows that 40 cents out of every tax dollar collected by the State of Michigan goes for education; an estimated $485 million a year.

The next largest amount, 18.8 cents, goes for highways, while 14.6 cents goes for welfare; 6.5 cents goes for mental health; 2.1 cents for public health; 1.8 cents goes for general administration; 1.9 cents for conservation and agriculture; 1.6 cents for prisons; 1.1 cents goes for the State Police, Regulatory services, debt service and other miscellaneous expenditures amount to 11.6 cents.

The booklet is designed to simplify the State's complex budget so that it can be understood by the average person.

"An informed public is the best guarantee for good government," Gov. John B. Swainson said in a foreword he wrote for the booklet.

"It is to inform our people that this State Budget in brief is published," Swainson said.

"State government is the people's business" and "it is important that they know how the money they pay as taxes is spent by their elected public officials."

More than half the taxes collected by the State are returned for the use of local governmental units and that the remaining money "is being spent most efficiently by the State," said the Governor.

"In this connection, it is to be noted that a recent U.S. Bureau of the Census report indicates that Michigan requires only 4.3 employees per 1,000 population for the conduct of the state's services, compared to the national average of 5.7 for all states," Swainson concluded.

The biggest public works program in Michigan history is entering its final stages.

Four years ago, this summer, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie outlined plans for a five-year, $1.4-billion highway construction program.

It called for construction of 800 miles of freeways; modernization of more than 3,000 miles of other highways; and elimination of all gravel roads on the state highway systems.

There were a few skeptics, including some in the Highway Department, who said it "couldn't be done." Never before had a Highway Commissioner anywhere in the U. S. announced construction plans that far in advance.

There is no doubt Mackie took a gamble when he unveiled his program. Any number of things—weather, right-of-way problems, or the capacity of the road building industry to do the work—could have thrown the program off the track.

The five-year program, now in its final year, got off to a slow start but gradually picked up steam. Within two years, the number of miles of freeway had doubled, from 101 miles in 1937, to more than 200 miles. By the end of the third year, it had tripled and today, Michigan has 550 miles of freeway open to traffic, more than five times as much as it had when Mackie took office.

And the final miles of gravel highway will be paved early next year. There were more than 800 miles of gravel road on the state highway system four years ago.

By the end of this year, the Highway Department expects to open its 800th mile of freeway and will pass the 1,000-mile mark by the end of 1942.

Most of these freeways are on the 41,000-mile National Interstate System of Defense Highways and are marked with red, white and blue signs.

Michigan has been one of the leading states in building its share of the Interstate system.

Since last December, it has possessed the longest continuous stretch of toll-free Interstate highway in the nation, a 203-mile highway from Detroit to Stevensville on Lake Michigan, which is known as Interstate 94.

Michigan aims to keep its lead as the nation's number one road building state. Right now, more than 300 miles of freeway are under construction throughout the state, including 140 miles between Mt. Pleasant and Indian River.

This is the longest continuous highway construction project in Michigan history and one of the longest ever built at one time anywhere in the United States.

Historical Society Elects New Officers

Nearly 100 residents from throughout Washtenaw county gathered June 26 for the Washtenaw Historical Society's annual picnic and election of officers at "The Oaks," home of Mrs. James A. Sallade on Portage Lake Rd.

Mrs. Sallade, with the help of caterers, served a complete chicken dinner to those attending the event.

Dr. Russell Bidlack of Ann Arbor, was elected to serve as president for the year which began July 1. Leo G. Hoey of Dexter was elected to serve as one of the vice-presidents; other vice-presidents include Dr. F. Clever Bald, Ann Arbor; Dr. Joseph Fisher, Chelsea; Carl Wierthner, Manchester; William Crim, Saline; and Mrs. Elson Shaw of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. J. William Groomes was elected secretary-treasurer and Miss Lela Duff was named editor of Impressions; Harry Cole was elected custodian and Prof. Emil Lorch, director emeritus.

Filling the position of one of the new directors, whose terms expire July 1, 1964, is Mrs. Byron Soule, a Dexter area resident. Other new directors are Miss Linda Eberbach, Mrs. Walter Haller and Dr. Ekbert Isbell.

Directors with two years remaining in their terms are Miss Adelaide Rueger, Edwin Oakes and Miss Esther Kern. Directors with one year remaining are Mrs. Raymond Spokes, Mrs. Natalie Wahr Sallade and Judge James R. Breakey, Jr.

A hen-pecked husband is just an average man who gets too much of a good thing in the way of a better half.

VIOLETS EVERYWHERE—Mrs. Nettle Hall, who lives at South Lake, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuhrmann, uses approximately 10 gallons of water when she waters the 830 potted African violet plants she has grown on a glass enclosed, heated porch, 24 feet by 8 feet in size, facing to the north and east. In addition to those already potted, she has 300 ready-to-be transplanted from the growing mixture. She counts 240 different varieties in white, purple, red, pink, orchid and blue. The blooms vary from single to double, semi-double, fringed, frosted and variegated. One is white with a green edge on the petals and 32 to 14 varieties have variegated colored leaves. Mrs. Hall has raised African violets as a hobby for the past 12 years and recently started selling leaves for starting plants. One order goes to Puerto Rico this week. Mrs. Hall is shown holding two of the potted plants, one named "Spic," a double blue flower, and the other named "Span," a double pink bloom.

Milwaukee Businessman Chosen To Head Kiwanis International

Chicago, Ill.—I. R. Witthuhn, Milwaukee, Wis., businessman, has been named president of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number one Kiwanis post Wednesday, July 5, by delegates attending the 46th annual convention of Kiwanis International in Toronto, Ontario. News of Witthuhn's election was received today by officers of the local Kiwanis Club.

I. R. WITTHUHN

As head of Kiwanis International, Witthuhn will be official spokesman for 260,000 Kiwanians in more than 4,800 clubs located throughout the United States and Canada. He succeeds J. O. Tally, Jr., Fayetteville, N. C. attorney. Tally has held the Kiwanis presidency since August of 1960.

Immediately prior to his election as president of Kiwanis, Witthuhn served one year as the organization's president-elect. He has also served two years as its vice-president, and two two-year terms as a member of its International Board of Trustees. He has been a Kiwanian for 25 years. For two years, Witthuhn served as chairman of the Kiwanis International Board Committee on Permanent Home Office under whose guidance the design and construction of the new million-dollar Kiwanis International Building in Chicago was accomplished.

Witthuhn is a former president.

and is currently a director of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce. He is a trustee of the Milwaukee County Kiwanis Foundation, which he organized, a member of the Milwaukee Better Business Bureau, and a former president of the Milwaukee Civic Alliance. He is also a member of the Mayor's Civic Progress Commission. He is active in work with the Boy Scouts and the YMCA as well.

Witthuhn is a graduate of Lawrence College, and a member of the American Legion and Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. He served as a First Lieutenant of Artillery in World War I. He is executive vice-president of an Industrial Laundry Service in Milwaukee. He and Mrs. Witthuhn have one daughter and two grandchildren.

In addition to naming Witthuhn president, the delegates chose a president-elect, two vice-presidents, a treasurer, and six international trustees. The latter will serve for two years, joining six holdover trustees. The total number of trustees on the Kiwanis International Board is twelve.

New officers and trustees are: Merle H. Tucker of Santa Fe, N. M., member of the Kiwanis Club of Gallup, N. M., president-elect; J. C. Robertson, Edmonton, Alberta, and Charles A. Swain, Cape May, N. J., international vice-presidents; C. L. "Doc" Morris, Springfield, Ill., international treasurer; Martin T. Wiegand, Washington, D. C., Edward C. Koefo, Oklahoma City, Okla., Dr. R. Glenn Reed, Jr., Marietta, Ga., Marshall E. Jett, St. Marys, Pa., James M. Moley, Charles Town, W. Va., and Le Roy J. Olsen, Provo, U. S., international trustees.

Attendance at the Toronto convention of Kiwanis was more than 18,000, to make it the largest in the organization's 46-year history. In addition to selecting officers for the coming year, the delegates approved a resolution "favoring the establishment of Kiwanis clubs in other countries in addition to Canada and the United States, under due safeguards fixed by the Board of Trustees of Kiwanis International."

Formerly Kiwanis International served only in English and French speaking North America. With the adoption of this resolution Kiwanis like Rotary International and Lions International will spread into other countries.

They voted to hold their 1962 convention in Denver, Colo.

Fund Started To Aid Ailing 'Santa' Warnhoff

Ann Arbor's "Santa Claus," Albert E. Warnhoff, 1315 Franklin Blvd., Ann Arbor, who has been hospitalized several times in recent months, has returned to St. Joseph Mercy hospital for treatment of a lung ailment.

Because his hospitalization coverage has expired, friends are making contributions to a fund to help pay the hospital expenses. The fund was started by George E. Carrothers, University of Michigan professor emeritus of education "in return for Warnhoff's untiring efforts" for the Ann Arbor area.

For many years, Warnhoff has been making toys for Christmas distribution to children.

Since the fund was established two weeks ago, contributions have been received steadily, the total now being approximately $370.

People who wish to contribute should make checks payable to "The Santa Claus Fund" and send them to Attention Herbert O. Benz, Ann Arbor Bank, Ann Arbor, Mich.

9-Year-Old Injured in Fall From Tractor

Nancy Ann Diuble, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Diuble, 7650 Waters Rd., is recovering at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, from injuries she received Saturday noon when she stumbled and fell as she jumped from a tractor her father was operating.

Diuble's quick action in halting the tractor at once, probably saved the girl's life since she fell beneath a loaded hay wagon and the rear left wheel of the wagon would have passed lengthwise over her body a moment later.

Diuble said yesterday that his daughter was standing on the tractor platform as he was bringing in the load of hay and when he slowed down to stop at the gate, the little girl jumped down, intending to open the gate for him.

When he picked her up, Diuble said, the left front wheel of the wagon had grazed the right side of her face, causing severe lacerations. Doctors at the hospital feared her eye had been damaged; however after tests on Tuesday they were of the opinion that her eyesight would not be impaired.

Other injuries were listed as severe body bruises. Her right arm was also severely bruised but no bones were broken.

Six-Year-old 'Drowning Victim' Fascinated by Search

A small boy with very blond hair, a deep suntan and wearing green shorts, became the center of attention about noon Saturday at Portage Lake after he wandered over to "watch the big boats across the road."

Greg Reeve, six-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Ventrella, had been spending a few days visiting at the Ventrella home, 8012 Riverview Dr., Pinckney.

On Saturday, close to noon, Greg had gone out in the yard while his grandmother finished baking a birthday cake for him. After telling him to stay close by, Mrs. Ventrella watched her oven for a few minutes, and then stepped to the door and called Greg. Recalling no answer, she continued to call and later stated she had about "hollered her head off." The couple became alarmed, since Greg had never before left the Ventrella property area.

Ventrella donned his swim trunks and headed for the river while his wife notified the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. The Ventrella home is located just at the point where Portage Lake empties into the Huron River, about one-half block off McGregor Rd.

Within minutes after they were notified, deputies from the Sheriff's Department had dispatched five patrol cars to the Portage Lake location, skin-divers from the Aquamarines had started from Dexter and other areas, the Sheriff's Department's boat, hauled by patrol car 15, was on its way with Deputy Trole, and a yellow pickup truck was on the way to the scene carrying the air compressor unit for the skin-divers.

After the arrival of the various units, skin-divers proceeded to their underwater equipment, while a large crowd gathered. In the midst of the spectators, a small boy watched the skin-divers particularly, asking them about their gear and what they were going to do.

As the skin-diving team checked with the grandmother on the lad's description, one of the divers remarked, "Why, there was a little guy in green shorts right here a minute ago." "What color hair did he have?" asked the anxious Mrs. Ventrella. Assured that it was very

Manchester Chicken Broil Set July 20

The eighth Annual Manchester Chicken Broil is expected to attract thousands on Thursday, July 20 at the athletic field.

This Manchester event has become a showcase for the country, a demonstration in the proper method of serving hot chicken to 5,000 or more guests in five hours or less.

Although it is sponsored by the Optimist Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce, it has become a community event, taking in the help of all businessmen and 60 willing farmers.

This event started eight years ago with 1,500 people and has grown to 5,000 last year.

In addition to the delicious eating of a slow broiled chicken, there is a sight for the diners to see the three pits, each 100 feet long, each pit accommodating 1,200 chicken halves at one time. The chicken being turned on grid racks, 20 at a time is continually being basted with butter and slowly browns without blistering. Each chicken half weighs about 18 ounces. It takes an hour and a half for slow broiled chicken to reach the point where the chef will gently turn a drumstick in its socket and pronounce the chicken done.

One of the 21 committees is a special crew converting 1,700 pounds of chilled cabbage heads into a slaw on old-fashioned Dutch cabbage slicers.

The cooking is under the supervision of Dr. Howard Zindel and his crew from the poultry department of Michigan State University. They will have on display different types of broiling and barbecue equipment. Also, the famous seven-foot Paul Bunyan skillet, large enough to cook eggs for 500 people at one time will be on display.

Two baseball games, one a hardball game between Little Leaguers and one a softball game between two outstanding league teams, will entertain spectators during and after dinner.

Tickets may be obtained in advance from any Optimist club member of Jaycee, from most

Wendy Gilbert To Play At Band Conductors Meet

Wendy Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilbert, is one of a picked group of 80 musicians chosen from the All-State Band at Interlochen Music Camp to play with the High School Wind and Percussion Ensemble at the 13th annual National Band Conductors Conference at the University of Michigan, July 17-21.

Miss Gilbert and Eric Knisely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holton Knisely, shared a Kiwanis club scholarship for their two-week stay at Interlochen from June 26 to July 9, paying the remainder of the tuition themselves.

Band directors and composers from all over the United States will be at the Ann Arbor conference and it is considered an honor for a high school band member to be chosen to play in the ensemble. The ensemble is utilized for demonstration purposes, both for directing techniques and response of players for the benefit of band directors participating in the workshop programs at the conference.

On Tuesday, July 18, at 4:15 p.m., the ensemble will be directed by Paul Yoder, a composer from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; while on Thursday, at 2 p.m., John Cacavas, New York city composer, and Howard Cable, composer and clinician, will work with the group.

Auxiliary Observes 16th Anniversary

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076, held its 16th anniversary dinner, Monday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall with 43 members and guests present.

Included were four charter members of the organization instituted here on July 8, 1945, by Mrs. Augusta White of Ann Arbor, who at that time was Department of Michigan Auxiliary president.

Mrs. White has attended all but one of the Chelsea Auxiliary's birthday parties and was present and spoke at Monday's party.

The Chelsea charter members present included Mrs. Anna Dvorak, Mrs. Clara Hutz, Miss Alda Juergens and Mrs. Mac Packard.

The guest list at the birthday dinner Monday included the following names: Mrs. Iris Clark of Howell, Sixth District VFW Auxiliary president; Mrs. Jennie Wilson of Hall, past president of District II; Mrs. Florence Mielke, Ann Arbor Auxiliary president; Mrs. Agnes DeMarais, Fowlerville Auxiliary president; and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Smith of Stuart, Fla., formerly of Chelsea. Mrs. Smith being the president of the John R. Matthews VFW Auxiliary, a newly-instituted group at Stuart, Fla.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boyer of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. Boyer being a brother of Mrs. Mac Packard and VFW Post Commander Fremont Boyer.

Commander Boyer, on behalf of VFW Post 4076, presented Mrs. Helen Harvey, the Auxiliary's popular sale chairman, with a special citation at Monday's birthday celebration.

Committee members in charge of arrangements for the pot-luck dinner were Mrs. Thelma Franklin, Mrs. Helen Harvey, Mrs. Vergilinda Stephens and Mrs. Gertrude O'Dell.

In charge of the evening's program of games were Mrs. Packard and Mrs. JoAnn Warywoda.

A three-tiered birthday cake baked by the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Geraldine Klink, was appropriately decorated by Mrs. Dale Keizer, Mrs. Klink adding 16 miniature 50-star flags in lieu of birthday candles.

Mrs. Klink also presented each person present with one of the miniature flags.

Winner of a door prize at the party was Esther Klink.

At a brief business session following the dinner and program, the Auxiliary voted a contribution of $10 to the Little League for the purchase of baseball uniforms.

U-M Produces More Than 900 Teachers Yearly

ANN ARBOR—For the third straight year the University of Michigan School of Education has recommended teachers' certificates for more than 900 students, according to Dean Willard C. Olson, of the School of Education.

Certificates recommended for the year ending June 30 number 946. A total of 314 certificates were recommended in elementary education, 423 in secondary education, and 33 in junior college education. Certificates for teaching from the U-M have approximately doubled in the last five years.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day said he intended to remove many of the high-salaried postal executives named to regional offices created by the last Administration.

He charged that the Republicans had filled the jobs "on a purely political basis" but "we are filling them with persons responsive to and a part of this Administration."

Don't Gamble On Storing Wet Grain

It doesn't pay to gamble on storing grain with a border-line or higher moisture content, says Leyton V. Nelson, farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Not only are granary insects more active in wet than in dry grain, wheat is subject to "sick" and mold damage—especially during warm weather—when it is above 14 percent moisture.

If grain on the border-line for moisture is to be farm stored, some protection from insects can be provided by using a wheat protectant chemical to keep insects away, Nelson says.

It is wise to check a current label of any chemical before it is used on grain to be sure it does not leave a residue that is not permitted by the Food and Drug Administration.

If there is a question about the legality of a material, the chemical distributor or the county agricultural agent may be asked for information on its use.

Since excessive moisture is the cause of much of the loss from either insects or mold in stored grain, it is essential that the moisture content of the grain be known before it is stored. If it is not feasible to have the local elevator check the sample, there are low-cost moisture testers available from farm implement dealers.

Moisture or insect damage can cause contaminated grain which will not pass federal inspections, Nelson warns.

ILLEGAL PETS—Conservation Officer Danley Boyer had a fawn, a raccoon and a deodorized skunk at his home Saturday, all three having been confiscated from Washtenaw County residents who were keeping them as pets, a practice which is against the law. In spite of publicity as to the illegality of keeping other than domestic animals in captivity, violations still occur at frequent intervals.

JUST GIVE US TIME: Post Article Points Out Lack of Facilities To Serve I-94 Travelers in Chelsea Area

In the July 8 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Chelsea and its facilities (or lack of facilities) for motorists traveling the I-94 expressway come in for approximately two columns of comment in a story written by a Post editor, Arthur W. Baum, on the topic "Our New Super-Road System."

The writer mentions the fact that on March 31, 1961, the longest single stretch of continuous Interstate was the 200-mile stretch of I-94 from near Detroit to a point near Benton Harbor. Baum said he was on I-94 at that time and "had to drive three quarters of a mile off the freeway at Chelsea for fuel, a round-trip travel interruption of one and one-half miles."

He quotes a Chelsea service station operator's comment about problems of survival because other oil companies were reportedly planning to build service stations closer to the exit ramps than where he is located.

Baum explained that "full services" were available "within a mile or so" at Chelsea but the "sort of satellite community that may be expected all over the national network" of freeways and expressways was not yet in evidence here.

He explained that the Chelsea examples he gave were along "a brand new stretch of I-94."

He then went on to tell about the installations—motor inns, restaurants, service stations, etc.—which already have been built on the older section of I-94 near Jackson.

Baum, who calls the nation's National System of Interstate and Defense Highways the "largest single construction project that man has ever undertaken," says the road project is bound to alter the lives of all people of the country to some degree.

During the first five years of the 16-year construction program, the 41,000-mile network of roads reaching every part of the United States is approximately one-quarter completed, according to Baum's story.

He predicts that the new interstate road system will change and enlarge recreational patterns, induce business and industrial migrations, generate new business and communities by the hundreds of dairy specialists.

Many dairy cows aren't producing as much milk as they can because they aren't getting enough productive energy from their feed, say Michigan State University specialists.

while damaging others temporarily or perhaps permanently.

California Residents Injured When Car Rolls Over on I-94

Two California residents identified as Evelyn Fritchard, 49, and Paul Snyder, 65, of Van Nuys, escaped with body bruises when a car driven by Mrs. Fritchard went out of control and rolled over, demolishing the vehicle.

Reports of the accident, which occurred Wednesday night on I-94 near Dancer Rd., stated the driver was blinded by the lights of other cars. The car went off the road and careened down the median before rolling over.

★ Recreation Areas ...

Summer is vacation-time, and most of us include in our plans a trip to the country or to the beach. We feel the need of getting to a spot where we can enjoy the outdoors.

But have you ever stopped to think how fast these unspoiled areas are disappearing? The bulldozer is on the march everywhere, toppling trees and stripping topsoil, making way for more and more houses and more and more highways.

We have some breathtakingly beautiful spots in Michigan that are not yet overrun—some of them still almost inaccessible. Will they be there, available for our children and our grandchildren to enjoy? I want to make sure that they are, and for this reason I recently introduced bills in Congress to establish National Recreation Areas at Sleeping Bear Dunes and at Pictured Rocks.

During 1957 and 1958 the National Park Service made a survey of the U. S. portion of the Great Lakes shoreline to find out what natural lakeshore areas still remained that were worthy of preservation. Let me tell you what they found:

"Long separated, as two relatively isolated regions, the Upper and Lower Peninsulas are now only ten minutes apart by automobile. The feeling of remoteness associated with Lake Superior and northern Lake Michigan and Huron will one day disappear as improved access becomes more common. When this atmosphere is gone, something else will probably have disappeared also—undeveloped shoreline. But today an opportunity still remains to set aside outstanding shore features for public benefit.

"The history of conservation has all too often been written in the tone of 'too little, too late.' Already the populated regions of southern Michigan have proven this, and it is only as we move north that the opportunities for public shoreline development, the culmination of undeveloped shoreline resources is found in the vastness of the Upper Peninsula. While undeveloped beaches and scenic shore environments remain, they should be acquired to meet today's expanding recreational needs as well as to satisfy future requirements. It is quite conceivable that recreation on this peninsula may well take its place among the principal sources of economic wealth for Upper Michigan. To meet this possibility, the region has great potential. Although some shoreline areas are already preserved, others need protection before the opportunity is gone and their inherent values lost.

"This is the challenge that faces Michigan. With Michigan's command of the largest portion of the Great Lakes shoreline, it is natural that most of the undeveloped shore opportunities also occur here. Consequently, this situation is responsible for the tremendous scope of the problem of preserving an unspoiled shoreline for public use. The challenge of the problem must be met by all citizens, for in the final analysis it is by their action and support that the public's interest in the conservation of its shoreline can serve as a model for preserving a great natural heritage."

I hope and believe we will meet this challenge.

New Homes
May Be Hit
By Termites

Beware of termites if you're building a new home. That's the advice of Ray L. Janes, a Michigan State University entomologist. The sandy soils and occasionally muck soils, of Michigan and the shore areas of the Great Lakes are ideal spots for the tiny home insects.

Buildings erected over old wood lots, vineyards, or orchards are especially vulnerable to attack by termites, according to Janes. Those areas may be infested with termites before buildings are erected. Houses built on cement slabs can present the most perplexing problems. Basements, Janes points out, do not prevent termite entry, but treatment is much simpler in the event of a termite invasion.

Where the home pests are a problem, treatment of soil should be strongly considered before building, Janes suggests. This is particularly true if the home is to be of wood construction on a concrete slab. In southern Michigan, authorities might well consider warnings in building codes against termites in areas that are known to harbor the pests.

Since the insects travel in wood, the specialist also advises that the burying of old trees, vines, wood or lumber scraps near a house wall may be a direct invitation for termites. Checking with residents in new developments to avoid a building site which is a haven for the wood termites, unless treated may also be good insurance.

Outstanding Mom
Is Being Sought
By State Fair

If you want your mother or someone else's mother to be named Mrs. Michigan State Fair, you must nominate her before the deadline, Aug. 14.

This is announced by Donald L. Swanson, State Fair general manager, who said it will be the fourth annual selection of Michigan's favorite "mom."

She must be 21 years or older, a resident of Michigan and have a fine record of community service and activity.

In past years, the mothers selected were interested in cooking, sewing, hobbies, church work, club, school, PTA and other activities with emphasis on success as a good mother and a helping-hand neighbor.

"Do It Yourself" abilities in household painting and repairs also were important.

No application blanks are necessary. Just write a letter to Mrs. Michigan State Fair Contest, Detroit 3, explaining why you think the candidate should be selected and also a recent photo of the mother along with her husband's name, her address, phone, age, etc. Snapshots or letters will not be returned.

But remember that your letter must be received before Aug. 14.

Dog Owners May Start
Field Training July 15

Come July 15, dog owners can start putting their faithful hunting companions through the paces in preparation for this fall's seasons, the Conservation Department reports.

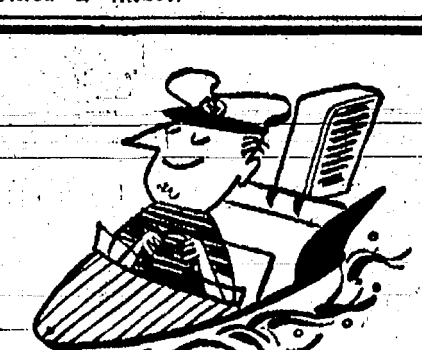

This marks the end of a three-month closed season on dog training designed to protect young game animals and nesting birds.

Starting July 15, dogs may be trained between sunrise and sunset on game which legally may be hunted with these animals. From Aug. 15 to the opening of the raccoon season, owners may train their dogs at night.

No firearms other than pistols and revolvers with blank cartridges may be used while training dogs.

Bounty System Said To Be Ineffective
In Controlling Most Predatory Animals

Lansing — During Michigan's long history of predatory animal control, bounties have cost more money, have been used longer, have received more favorable publicity, and have probably done less than any other method of control employed.

Since 1935, the state's hunters and fishermen, through their license fees, have shelled out more than $3,000,000 in payments for bountied foxes, wolves (dropped from the bounty list in 1959), bobcats and coyotes.

Figures show that these were lost dollars. Bounties have neither reduced bountied animals nor resulted in more game.

Foxes, top money-getters in total bounty payments each year, are at least as abundant now as in 1947 when a five-dollar bounty was placed on their heads. Coyote and bobcat numbers have remained pretty much stabilized. Bobcats are bountied only in the Upper Peninsula.

Why doesn't the bounty system work? There are several reasons. Hunters and trappers harvest the annual surplus of predators but they don't make much of a dent, if any, in the animals' breeding stock. This means that the population of bountied animals stays essentially status quo, except for normal ups and downs which occur—bounty or no bounty.

Bounties fail in another respect, namely that of giving poultry and livestock farmers adequate protection against predator damages. Bounty men work areas where they will reap the greatest returns with the least effort. These areas aren't necessarily where control is needed to check damage.

Even if the bounty system did work, it isn't needed.

Game population can stand considerable predation without any noticeable drop in their annual levels. They have survived thousands of years of predation. Actually, predators play a minor role in annual losses suffered by game.

Other factors, particularly food supply and habitat, are far more important.

The Conservation Department's trapper-instructor program has proven itself to be a much better tool than the bounty system in helping farmers and other landowners troubled with predator damages. It provides control at the right time in the right place and costs but one-fifth of the annual bounty bill.

The state's bountied threesome figured in only two percent of all damage complaints made by farmers and other landowners in 1960.

Punching another hole in the bounty bubble is the fact that from 50 to 75 percent of the foxes bountied each year would be killed anyway. Instead, between $130,000 and $160,000 is spent yearly for bounties on Brother Reynard.

Michigan's Conservation Department is not alone in its stand against bounties. Its 1957 poll of all state game departments revealed that only Pennsylvania supported bounties and even there considerable opposition was building up. Here is how game officials in some of the country's states feel about bounties:

Illinois: "The bounty system is considered totally ineffective in any type of predator control."

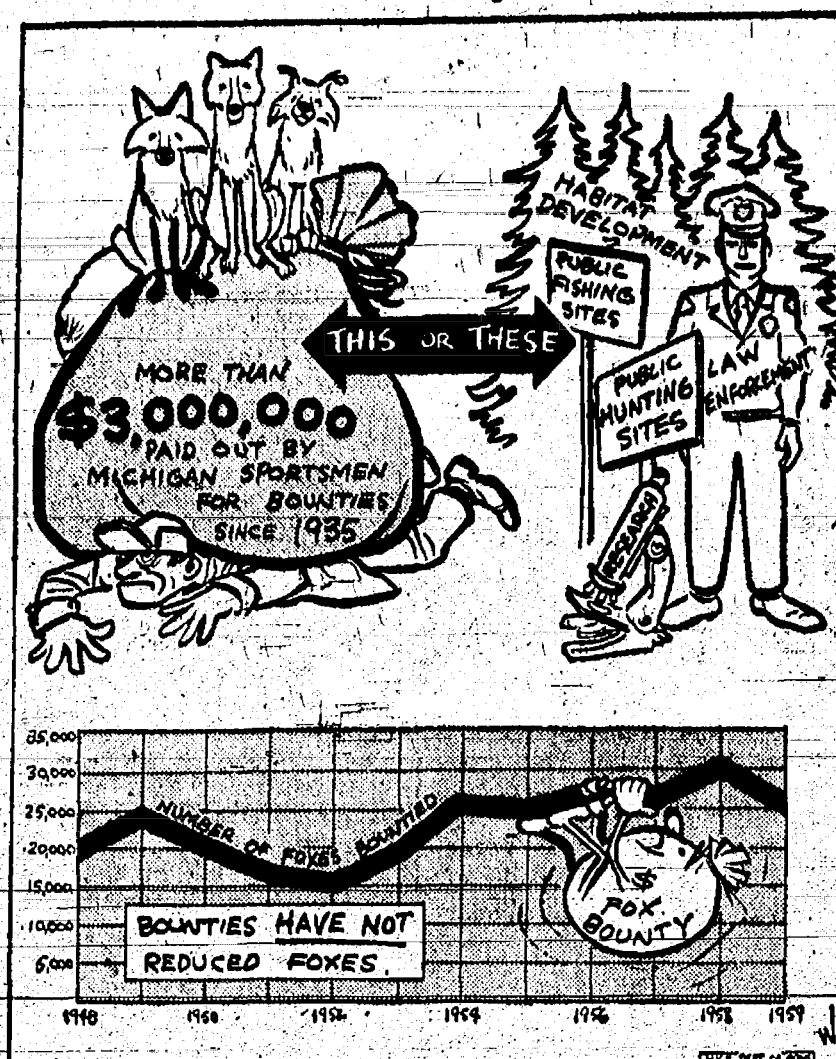

Minnesota: "We do not favor a bounty system of predator control. The bobcat has been bountied for many years yet has maintained or increased its numbers."

Nebraska: "Ridiculous. Bounty payments have never held in check our coyote populations."

Mississippi: "Inefficient—wasted money." Rhode Island: "Fox bounties have been in existence since 1893—except for an eight-year period—yet the population fluctuates from high to low every 10 years or so with no change in hunting or trapping pressure indicating that the bounty system has little effect in the long run."

Texas: "The bounty system of predator control is not effective in reducing predator populations and is a waste of the sportsman's money."

Besides not working, bounties sidetrack some $200,000 each year from such conservation programs in Michigan as game and fish management, land acquisition and development of state game areas and public fishing sites, law enforcement, information and education, and research.

This is a sizeable drain during normal times; it looms much larger now with the State's Game and Fish Protection Fund (hunting and fishing license fees) scraping the bottom of its barrel for money.

There are many ways in which bounty money could be better spent. Applying current average costs, $200,000 would:

- (1) Bring the conservation officer force to its recommended strength by more than paying for the schooling and salaries of 24 additional men for one year; or
- (2) provide for the acquisition and development of some 25 public fishing sites; or
- (3) buy 6,250 acres of hard-to-come-by public hunting lands in southern Michigan; or
- (4) pay for the predatory animal control (trapper-instructor) program for five years; or
- (5) keep two of the Department's timber-cutting tractors running in northern Michigan for 25 winters to improve deer range; or
- (6) finance a major flooding which would yield 10,000 acres of new or improved waterfowl habitat; or
- (7) ever Michigan's co-operative part in sea lamprey control for four years; or
- (8) finance the Higgins Lake conservation school for two years.

Who Is A Capitalist?

Recently a group of young farm people struggled with a series of tough questions of the kind that sometimes cause older heads to ache. The occasion was the Farm Bureau Young People's gathering at the newly opened Camp Kett leadership center near Cadillac.

The peaceful, wooded setting overlooking a nearby lake, belied the struggle going on in the minds of youngsters in group "huddles" where they were handed a series of American philosophy statements to kick around.

Almost all were stuck on the proper answer, (agree or disagree) to this one: "In America we have two classes of citizens, the capitalist and the wage earner." The leader of one group, (a teen-age boy from a nearby county) argued that we have many classes of citizens in America. When challenged to name them he came up with "the rich, the poor, laboring people—managing people." At this point he begged down for lack of words.

Outside a misty rain fell, while in the camp rooms the fireplaces sparked no more brightly than the flow of thought, as other group members took up the question. "We have capitalist and wage-earner classes for sure," spoke up a pretty farm lass. When asked to describe a capitalist, she faltered. "Somebody like the president of a large company, such as General Motors," she said.

"It seems we may have to decide just who is a capitalist," the adult discussion leader injected. "Who owns General Motors? How many of you here own a 4-H Club calf or other property?"

Under such prodding the youngsters awakened to the fact that they were all "capitalists" and had fallen into an old trap often used by those who would weaken or replace our profit-and-loss, free enterprise system, with a "new economic order."

In fairness it should be reported that for the most part the teenagers displayed a sound understanding of our complex American system. Other than the fumbling mentioned at the beginning, they agreed unanimously at the close of the session that "America's unparalleled dignity is based on the freedom and dignity of the individual, or personal initiative and equal opportunity, sustained by basic moral and ethical values, and our faith in God."

HOW'S Your P.D.Q.?

WE'VE SHOWN THE WAY—In 1958-59-60, we got better each year. We cut the annual accident total by 835 deaths, 4,500 injuries, 19,000 accidents.

NOW, WE'RE RELAXED—In the past two years, deaths have increased 215, injuries 33,000, accidents 32,000.

PROTECTIVE DRIVING PAYS!

June Shows Slight Reduction In Traffic Deaths for State

Following four successive months of traffic death increases, the June fatality toll of 110 in Michigan was 23, or 17 percent below 133 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

Despite the reduction, however, the total toll of 699 at midyear is 38, or six percent ahead of 661 for the corresponding six months in 1960. January was the only other month to show a decrease.

"The June record is encouraging, but in view of the half-year upward trend, motorists are urged to bear down on their protective driving," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "This is particularly necessary because the records show that nearly 60 percent of the deaths occur in the last six months of the year; Michigan has good drivers and the records are cited merely to alert them to the danger period ahead."

More complete figures for May show 136 deaths, an increase of 20, or 27 percent over May a year ago, but the 7,312 injuries were a decrease of 414, or five percent, and the 14,885 accidents were a reduction of 1,601, or 10 percent.

The accumulated record for the first five months shows 580 deaths, 32,004 injured and 76,805 accidents, representing a 12 percent increase in deaths, no change in injuries and a 10 percent decrease in accidents compared to the same period in 1960.

The estimated travel for the first four months, the latest figures available, totaled 9.7 billions of miles, a drop of two percent from the corresponding period last year, while the death rate of 4.7 per 100 million miles of travel was an increase of nine percent.

Nationally, traffic deaths and mileage were up one percent in the first four months, but there was no change in the 4.8 death rate.

FISH WHOPPERS AWAIT ANGLERS

Only occasional European or American sportsmen have ever fished the spectacularly stocked waters of Lake Abaya in Ethiopia, about 200 miles south of Addis Ababa, an export for the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization has reported to Rome headquarters of that agency on his return from a two-months mission there. He is Dr. Dietrich Riedel, a German fisheries biologist sent to investigate a possible source of additional protein food for the population in the area.

In the 1,000 square mile lake, brush to the lakeside.

Dr. Riedel found, even shark lines—the strongest gear that exists, was occasionally destroyed by the huge catfish and other species which the lake teems. The largest specimen taken by his team was a Nile perch just under six feet long and weighing 180 pounds, estimated to be about 15 years old. Catfish by thousands are apparently also available, averaging 15 to 25 pounds. One of the obstacles to prompt commercial exploitation, however, will probably be the difficulty of reaching the lake. From the nearest village, the survey team required five hours to travel through heavy brush to the lakeside.

State Fair Seeks Nominations for Veteran of Year

Michigan's 1,500 local veterans posts were invited today to submit nominations for the 1961 "Veteran of the Year" to the Michigan State Fair.

The State's outstanding veteran will be chosen from these nominations and honored on Veterans Day, Saturday, Sept. 2, the second day of the 112th annual Michigan State Fair, Sept. 1-10.

This was announced by Donald L. Swanson, State Fair general manager and the commanders of the sponsoring organizations: Helene Stockmeyer, Saginaw, of the Michigan Consolidated War Veterans Council and James L. Frenke, Detroit, of the Wayne County Allied Veterans Council.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing Harry Weberman, Veterans Day director, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3.

The winner will be chosen for his contributions to civic, community and veterans affairs during the past year. A committee of veterans and citizens, named by the sponsoring groups, will select the winner.

Because many veterans posts restrict activities during the summer months, they are urged to act immediately and submit their candidates long before the Aug. 10 deadline.

As in the past, all veterans and auxiliary members will be admitted free to the State Fair on Veterans Day.

Frost in Home Freezer Cuts Unit's Efficiency

Frost on home freezer walls or shelves cuts down on storage space and makes the freezer inconvenient to use. Anita Dean, food and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says frost may also cause storage temperature to rise several degrees.

Thin layers of frost can be scraped off as they form, and this will cut down on the number of complete defrostings necessary. Packages of frozen food can be shifted to another shelf or side of the freezer as the frost is scraped from each surface.

Complete defrosting should be done before the frost reaches a depth of one-half inch over a large area of the refrigerated surface. Another defrosting clue appears when frost begins to accumulate on packages that have been stored in the freezer only a few hours. Manufacturer's directions for defrosting should be followed.

CONSIDER COLOR

Skin tones help determine which colors look best on an individual, according to home economists. The summer color—much yellow in her skin should avoid yellow and colors that contain yellow, such as yellow-greens and yellow-oranges.

Your Social Security

Changes in the social security law signed by President Kennedy directly affect about 800 persons age 62 or older in this area, giving them social security benefits for the first time or increasing benefits already payable to them.

The new law makes the following changes:

1. Men now have an option of retiring at age 62 with lower benefits or of waiting until age 65 and collecting higher benefits.

2. Widows' benefits are increased by about 10 per cent.

3. Minimum benefits are raised.

4. The amount of work under social security needed to get benefits is lowered.

5. People who receive only part of their benefits for a year because they earn over $1500 will have a smaller amount deducted.

6. Social security taxes go up slightly beginning Jan. 1, 1962.

Under the new provisions, men can begin collecting benefits at 62 if they choose, just as women have been able to do since 1956. But workers who decide to take benefits before they are 65 will get less per month than they would if they waited until age 65, Mr. Kehoe said.

The sooner a worker takes his benefits after age 62, the greater the reduction in his benefits will be. However, the reductions are figured so that on the average people may expect to receive about the same amount if they get reduced benefits beginning before age 65, or wait until they reach 65 and collect higher monthly amounts. Dependent husbands' benefits, if taken before age 65, will also be reduced, but dependent widowers and fathers can receive full benefits at age 62, Mr. Kehoe said.

The new amendments raise the widow's benefit from the present 75 per cent of the husband's retirement benefit to 82.5 per cent, a 10 per cent increase in individual benefits, beginning with August.

The same increase will be made in the benefits of aged dependent widowers and those of aged parents if there is only one dependent surviving. An increase of up to $7 in the minimum old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits is due for the month of August. The present minimum is $30; the new minimum payment will be $40. Under the change, about 200 persons in Washtenaw County will receive increased payments.

It's a good idea to put the department's phone number in a conspicuous place near the telephone, say Michigan State University farm safety specialists.

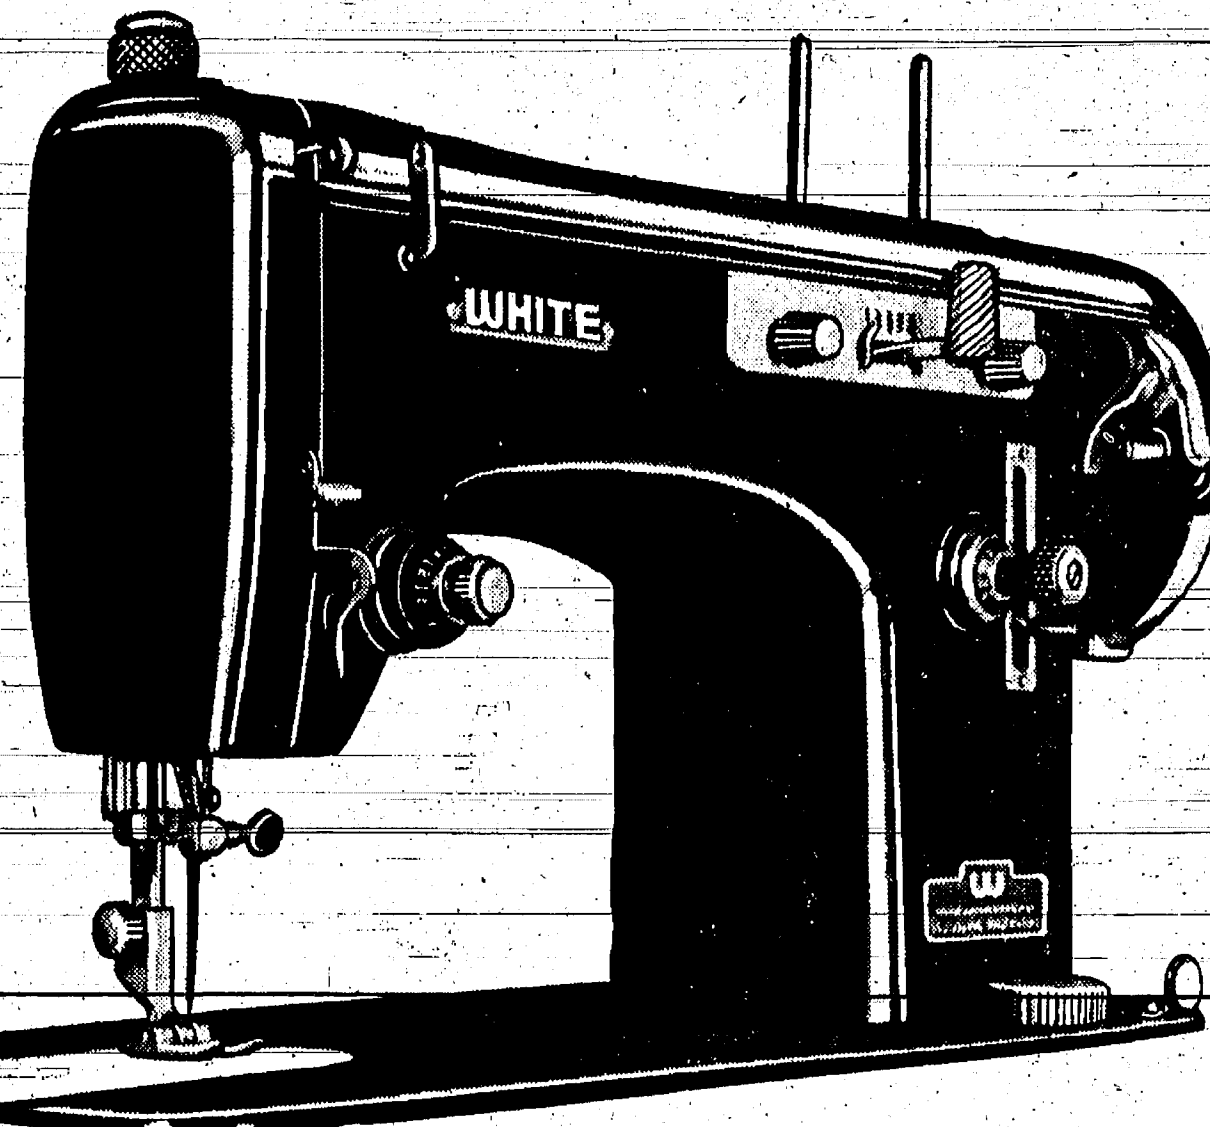

Attic inlet ventilation system for insulated poultry houses can provide extra heat during the winter, say Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

COAX AN APPETITE

Regular meals—maybe five or six small ones a day—may help the underweight person to gain weight.

If the appetite is poor, it takes time to gradually improve it so that needed calories may be eaten. Home economists say underweights often have to face themselves into building a good appetite and increasing their food intake.

The way to get business is to get-out and get it; not sit down and wait for it to come in.

Wedding of Interest To Chelsea Friends Held in Indiana

A wedding of interest to Chelsea friends of the bride's mother took place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Plymouth Congregational church, in Fort Wayne, Ind., when Judith Dunstone, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. Carter Dunstone, and Charles Allen Waldren, son of Mrs. Jay C. Waldren of Littleton, Colo., exchanged marriage vows.

The bride's gown was fashioned of ivory silk organza with a throat hugging V neckline and long tapering sleeves. The voluminous skirt swept in godets piped in satin, from the neckline waistline to a circular cathedral train. Her full-length veil was a mantilla of Belgian lace, a gift of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. E. Vogel of Chelsea. Her bouquet was an arrangement of Phalaenopsis orchids.

Three cousins of the bride, Janis Osterle of Chelsea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Osterle, and Martha and Linda Vogel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vogel, now of Grand Rapids, were in the wedding party as flower girls. They wore floor-length gowns of bonbon pink chiffon over taffeta, white modified picture hats fashioned of braid with pink velvet bows on the turned down brim at the back and carried baskets of pink and white flower petals.

All of the bride's attendants wore the same shade of pink; their gowns being of organza-over-taffeta, sheath style in street length. Each wore a modified picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink champagne roses.

The attendants were Barbara Kutzke of Toronto, Ontario, Canada; who was maid of honor; and Caroline Adair, Barbara Bolman and Margery Laycock, who served as bridesmaids.

George Rouse of Denver, Colo., served as best man and usher. David Dunstone, brother of the bride, Leo Smith, Daniel Cunningham, Neil Diver and Donald Kern.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dunstone wore a sheath of avocado satin brocade while the bridegroom's mother chose blue lace and chiffon.

Among those from this area who attended the wedding and the reception which followed at the residence of the bride and groom were Mrs. L. E. Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vogel, Mrs. Paul Maroney, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Osterle and daughter, Janis, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vogel and daughters, Martha and Linda.

Following their return from a trip to northern Michigan and Canada, the couple will reside in Aurora, Colo., where the bride is an elementary school teacher and the bridegroom is a chemist at Colorado General Hospital. Both are graduates of the University of Colorado.

Featured conference speaker is Rachel Martens, home furnishings editor of "Farm Journal" magazine, with "What Your Home Says About You." Dr. Ruth Useem, MSU sociologist will present, "Liberating Opportunities for Homemakers."

SINK OR SWIM

In any gelatin salad, fruit or vegetables may sink to the bottom or stay suspended in the mixture—it depends on when these ingredients are added. Mary Coleman, home economist at Michigan State University, suggests the gelatin mixture be prepared first and cooled to the thickness of raw egg white. Solid ingredients can then be arranged in a mold and the semi-thick mixture poured over wrap and store. When needed, rethem. With this method, fruits and vegetables will stay in a planned arrangement.

Inverness Club Holds Ladies Day

The women of Inverness Country Club held their ladies day at the club on Friday, July 7.

Winners in the blind partner-golf tournament for nine-hole play were Mrs. Curt Patterson and Mrs. Larry Lindemer.

Low putt winners for the day were Mrs. Alden Cook, Mrs. Donald Hackney and Mrs. Clarence Henseman.

Bridge winners were Mrs. Edmund Bracht and Miss Phyllis Preuss.

Wrap Frozen Foods In Smaller Portions To Thaw Quickly

Consider thawing time when you put foods in the freezer, Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says large blocks of frozen foods require extra thawing or cooking time and this eliminates them from quick meal menus.

To freeze ground meat, steaks or chops, Mrs. Dean suggests removing store wrappings and cartons. These are not moisture-vapor-proof. Shape hamburgers into patties or individual meat loaves, and separate the chops and steaks. Wrap the meat in individual packages or separate the pieces with two thicknesses of moisture-vapor-proof paper and wrap in family-size portions. Individual portions of meat may also be placed on a cookie sheet and frozen, then wrapped for storage.

Casseroles thaw more quickly when frozen in shallow layers. To save on containers, freeze the casserole unwrapped. Unmold the food like a gelatin mold, then the semi-thick mixture poured over wrap and store. When needed, rethem. With this method, fruits and vegetables will stay in a planned arrangement.

Bable-Musbach Vows Spoken at Munith Church

The Rev. Kenneth Gonser, pastor of the Munith church, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony in the presence of approximately 125 guests.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip-length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. James Cargill of Michigan Center, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Dressed in sky blue silk organza, she carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Janet Kay Musbach, sister of the bridegroom, and Sharon Kimball of Jackson, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns fashioned of shell pink organza and carried white carnations.

Mrs. Bable wore a brown street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white-rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother, in beige lace over taffeta, used matching accessories and had a corsage of yellow roses.

George Freymuth of Munith, served as best man and Joseph Taylor of Stockbridge and Michael Larocque of Jackson, were ushers. At the reception which followed in the church hall, Mrs. Arden Musbach, an aunt of the bridegroom, poured, while another aunt, Mrs. Willy Little of Leslie, served the bridegroom's cake.

The bride's cake was served by her aunts, Mrs. Ora Bostwick and Mrs. Paul Jay Miller of Brooklyn. The bride is a 1960 graduate of Jackson High school.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Stockbridge High school, is now employed as assistant manager at Polly's Supermarket in Jackson.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included showers given by Mrs. James Cargill of Michigan Center, Sharon Kimball of Jackson, and by Mrs. Arden Musbach and Mrs. Elton Musbach of Chelsea.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents assisted by his grandmother, Mrs. Elton Musbach, and two of his aunts, Mrs. Clifford Musbach and Mrs. Clare Tisch of Munith.

PLAY FOR FUN

Little children should play for fun and not be forced into competition. Home economists at Michigan State University say the idea of testing skills and enjoying others should overshadow the idea of winning or losing.

Gratiot County Expecting
2,000 for State Farm Tour

Gratiot county is making final plans to entertain several thousand visitors on Aug. 2. That's the date the State Farm Management Tour will visit three farms in the Alma-St. Louis area.

County Extension Director John Baker says the welcome mat will be out for the 13th annual tour. Each year this event provides a look at some of Michigan's top farms. Baker, a staunch booster for his county, says the three farms will give a good picture of what can be done with a combination of fertile soils and sound management.

There are lots of tour details. Committees are readying plans for traffic, parking, eating and handling, a crowd that will nearly equal the population of Ithaca, the county seat. The tour route is in the northern part of the county and may be reached from the new US-27 and from M-40.

Some of Michigan's best farm land will be seen on the Aug. 2 tour. Gratiot's 2,400 farms produce more than $16 million in agricultural products each year. The county is one of the state's top crop and beef producers. It ranks fourth in both soybean and field bean production in Michigan.

The day's events will get under way at 9:30 a.m. at the farm of Clare McLean and son, Jack, who have more than 600 cattle on feed. The father-son team is producing nearly 300 tons of beef-on-the-hoof this year on the 296 acres.

The second stop is six miles away where another father-son combination, W. M. and John Van Page, operate a cash-crop farm. The final point of interest is just across the road at Basil McKenzie's certified seed farm.

One of the tour highlights will be an address by Roswell Garst, the Iowa farmer who played host to Russian Premier Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's 1959 tour of the USA. Garst is a keen observer of the farm scene and will tell what he sees ahead for American agriculture. He will speak at 1 p.m. following the noon barbecue.

Ithaca Rotarians are making plans to serve up hundreds of helpings of some of Gratiot county's famous beef. They will be the chefs for the barbecue to be served in a grove on the Van Page farm.

Religion is a must for those who expect to make a happy landing.

President Kennedy has told leading congressional Democrats he is banking on an upturn in the economy to hold next year's budget deficit to $1,500,000,000.

Kennedy's hope of holding down next year's red ink spending is reported to be based on the belief of Administration officials that business will pick up about mid-year and provide revenues at a faster pace than they are now coming into the Treasury.
