

CD Director Urges 'Prepare Now' for Fallout Protection

Col. Gerald G. Miller, Washtenaw County Civil Defense director, speaking at the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday evening, emphasized that it is entirely possible for a large percentage of people to escape death from radioactive fallout in case of nuclear explosions providing, however, that preparations for radiological defense have been made in advance. "Once a nuclear bomb explodes," Miller said, "there is longer time to take protective action. In this connection he mentioned Civil Defense training program in Chelsea which Village officials and employees and all area residents are urged to attend. It will be held each evening, Monday-Friday, the week of Oct. 9, the location to be announced.

Miller said that people in this area will need to prepare for protection from fallout coming from such distant points as Chicago and farther west, since the fallout dust would be borne in this direction by the prevailing westerly winds. If Detroit were the target of a nuclear attack, Miller said, the fallout danger here would be less than to the areas south and east of that city.

Miller pointed out that Civil Defense is not a volunteer project. Civil Defense activities are the responsibility of civil employment under an emergency and responsible people of the community should insist that their local governments institute action for fallout protection in all areas. He said Chamber of Commerce members, with their avowed interest in the business welfare of the community, are the logical body to implement the imperative "preparedness" program recommended by the Civil Defense department.

Announcements had been made at Tuesday's meeting of the October color tour sponsored in this area by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and the annual chicken barbecue held in connection with the color tour and sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Miller warned, "If you want to be here for a color tour or chicken barbecue next year, you'd better do something now!"

He predicted that, according to his personal interpretation of current world events based on his 34 years of military experience, "we can be in it (war) by December or January." Nuclear attack by either side may be expected, he said, if defeat by ordinary military action of the enemy should appear to be imminent.

Miller strongly urged that provision be made at once for a central location from which local government functions could be carried out; that a survey be conducted to learn of all existing buildings, such as churches and public buildings, where people might be sheltered; that fallout shelters be constructed at once in every home, basement or yard; and that every one learn as much as possible, as soon as possible, about survival procedures for protection from radioactive fallout.

Miller distributed pamphlets explaining in detail how inexpensive family fallout structures may be constructed. He also distributed fact sheets on radiological defense. (These materials and others all are available free from Ray Knickerbocker, Chelsea Civil Defense director.)

Miller mentioned the fact that the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors had approved, at their session Monday, an appropriation of $3,000 to build fallout shelters at six monitoring stations in the county. One of these is to be in Chelsea with Chelsea firemen to be in charge.

The others are at the County Building, Ypsilanti Township Fire Department, Ypsilanti State Hospital and at Whitmore Lake and Manchester fire departments.

To benefit from this appropriation, each community must take the responsibility of building its own shelter and must provide the bedding, cooking and food facilities necessary to stock it. It is "all voluntary," Miller pointed out, "you make your own choice, take it or leave it." He impressed those who heard him with his earnestness in trying to make them see how important it is to provide fallout shelter protection at once. He said it is noticeable that a great increase in interest in Civil Defense has occurred in the past 10 days because of the threatening world situation.

Miller repeatedly emphasized that the information materials, the free monitoring equipment, the appropriation by the County Board of Supervisors all are of no avail unless people, themselves, take the initiative in accepting responsibility for carrying out the recommended program for survival.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday was held in the dining room of the Congregational church.

Grass Lake Train-Auto Crash Kills 3

Reports of accidents over the weekend included a car-train crash Sunday just west of Grass Lake in which a Grass Lake woman and her son and daughter lost their lives. Their car had apparently stalled on the track and was struck by a New York Central express train.

The dead are Mrs. Dorothy Elsie Roberts, her daughter, Diana, and her son, Robert, 15.

The week-end accident reports also mentioned a two-car crash in Chester township Saturday night in which Mrs. Wanda Hadley, of Grass Lake area, received leg injuries and was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Hadley was in a car driven by her husband, Wilfred M. Hadley, when the accident occurred on West North Territorial Rd., near Jennings Rd.

The other car involved was driven by an Ann Arbor woman, the report stated.

Fair Board Happy with Year's Report

A final report of the 1961 Chelsea Community Fair awaits receipt of several small bills and receipts, it was announced following a Fair Board meeting Wednesday evening, Sept. 13.

Discussion at the meeting of results of this year's fair indicated that board members "are very happy because of the evident success of the project in all its phases—displays, programs, particularly the new French cafe and especially the gate receipts which are the best in the history of the fair."

The two new major improvements added this year—the French cafe and a cement slab at the end of the merchants' building—will be freed of indebtedness as receipts taken in, the Fair board noted.

Appreciation was read into the record for the co-operation of the people of the community who attended the fair in spite of two days of bad weather.

Bulldogs Drop Season Opener To Milan, 13-12

Open Conference Title Defense Saturday Night

Last Friday night before a large crowd, Chelsea High opened their 1961 football season by going down to a 13-12 defeat at the hands of Milan High school's Big Reds at Milan.

Chelsea won the toss and elected to receive.

Dave McLaughlin ran the opening kick-off back to the Milan 38 behind good blocking by Jim Maynard, Al Schauer, Warren Porath and Bob Riemenschneider. Then after successful end sweeps by McLaughlin and Maynard had moved the ball to the eight-yard line, Quarterback Curt Farley passed to left end Larry Cattell in the end zone for the touchdown. The Bulldogs were stopped on the extra point attempt as a smash up the middle failed.

Milan came right back to tie it up, as they recovered a Chelsea fumble on the Bulldogs' 33-yard line. A long pass moved the ball to the one-yard line from where Milan Right Halfback Jim Rolan went over.

The Chelsea line, led by Tim Whitesall, Don Wilson and Don Brooks stopped Milan on the extra point attempt.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 6-6.

Milan dominated the game in the second period as they scored early in the period on a 17-yard pass from Quarterback Jerry Hitchcock to End Bernie Allen. The Big Reds then tried the same combination, Hitchcock to Allen, for a successful extra point.

The Big Reds threatened again in the second period as they moved deep into Chelsea territory just before the half ended.

The second half was a different story. Midway in the third quarter

Generous Gifts Will Provide Library Furnished Addition

An addition to McKune Memorial Library to provide extended space for the adult department has been made possible by a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels, while furnishings for the new addition are being provided as a gift from Central Fibre Products, Inc.

Both gifts were accepted at a meeting of the Library Board Tuesday evening and were also approved and accepted by the Chelsea Village Council the same evening.

The addition to the library—a one-story structure 22'x34' in size—will be erected at the north side of the present building approximately 10 feet back from the front wall. There will be direct access from the present building.

Thomas Tanner, Ann Arbor architect, who supervised the remodeling of the McKune House for public library use, designed the new structure which will feature glass brick at the north and east for light and for attractive appearance, while the west side, facing Main St., will be fitted with windows matching the style of the fine old windows of the main building.

Furnishings being supplied by Central Fibre Products, Inc., will include approximately 30 cases for books, in addition to other furniture—desk, tables, chairs, etc.—the new furnishings to be of blonde birch matching other new pieces in the main part of the library which have been purchased by the Library Board, a piece at a time, as funds were available.

Construction of the new one-story, basementless wing is to begin as soon as architects' working plans are completed and it is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by Christmas.

"The space and facilities to be provided by the new addition will take care of the needs of the library for years to come," Mrs. E. W. Eaton, Library Board president, said yesterday in announcing the gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Daniels and Central Fibre Products, Inc.

In accepting the gifts and approving plans for the structure, the Library Board went on record with a vote of thanks and appreciation for "these generous gifts to McKune Memorial Library and to the people of the Chelsea community."

McKune Memorial Library, located in the historic McKune House, home of the McKune family for many years, was bequeathed to the Village for a library by Mrs. J. Edward McKune.

Volunteer work helped keep to a minimum the expense of remodeling and fitting the building for its ultimate purpose.

Chelsea's public library has been described as one of the finest in any area community of comparable size and the "do-it-yourself" aspect of preparing it for use as a library has been publicized as evidence of a remarkable community spirit on the part of Chelsea residents.

Dedication Set Sunday for New St. Louis School

Dr. Quirk Dies Wednesday After Extended Illness

Word was received here yesterday afternoon of the death of Dr. E. J. Quirk, a former Chelsea physician. He died yesterday morning at Oakwood hospital, Dearborn, following a long illness.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Quierfeld Funeral Home on Oakwood Blvd., Dearborn, where friends may call.

The funeral is to take place at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Martha's Catholic church, in Dearborn.

Special Invitation Extended to All Area Residents

Sunday, at 3 p.m., the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, will officially dedicate the new St. Louis School for exceptional boys, located on the former Franklin Van Valkenburg farm on Old US-12, west of Chelsea.

The main unit of the school which will be dedicated, was built by the Archdiocese of Detroit at a cost of $700,000. It includes administration, dormitory, kitchen, gymnasium and chapel facilities. Plans for the future will allow expansion to care for a much larger enrollment.

The dedication, open to the public, will be at the school property and all Chelsea area people are especially invited to attend.

The school is staffed by four specially trained priests of the Order of Servants of Charity.

Director of the school, which opened this fall with an enrollment of 33 boys in all grades, elementary through the twelfth grade, is the Rev. Fr. Joseph Legnani, with the Rev. Fr. Secondo Sarpietti as assistant director.

The other priests at the school are the Rev. Fr. Umberto Mellare and the Rev. Fr. Germano Pegoraro.

In addition there are six nuns—two from the Order of Daughters of St. Mary of Providence and four from the Order of Sisters of the Holy Family. The former Van Valkenburg home is used by the Sisters as a convent.

MAIL BOX DESTROYED—Joseph Czaplak holds up the remains of his rural mail box which was shattered by hoodlums Sunday night, the second time in two months that the Czaplaks have had a mailbox destroyed. It is believed the vandals dropped one of the so-called "cherry bombs" into the box and then closed it. The resulting explosion blew the metal box apart. The Sheriff's Department is making an investigation, the Czaplaks said, and they are hoping to hear soon that the guilty parties have been apprehended. The Czaplaks farm is at 1817 Rank Rd., west of Chelsea. They are offering a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those guilty of the vandalism.

RETAINING WALL CONSTRUCTED—This was the scene last Thursday as Junior Chamber of Commerce members, assisted by others in the community, shored up the south side of the village parking lot on North Main St. at the New York Central Railroad tracks. This was another of the JCC community service projects. JCC members are now busy preparing for their annual chicken barbecue to be held during the Chamber of Commerce sponsored color tour season next month.

Critical World Situation Demands More Active Civil Defense Efforts

One of the questions in Washington which has been asked in high defense and government circles for years, and which is still unanswered, is how the American people can be prepared for a war—a war with nuclear weapons, which might come unexpectedly.

The President and top officials have considered various programs for civilian defense. The President is pushing a program of his own which he hopes the American people will accept and support. But there is still great apathy among many citizens on the question of defense against nuclear weapons.

In a recent survey made in New York, the results were discouraging. They were discouraging to Governor Nelson Rockefeller, who has pioneered in the field of civilian defense, and they were disappointing to all who realized how dangerous this apathy could be for the nation.

The survey revealed that most people feel that protection against a super-bomb at this time is almost hopeless. Of the people interviewed, in this survey, none had built shelters!

And this is typical of attitude in every part of the country. In every state there are those who have tried to stir the people into action. The federal civilian defense and state programs have had varying degrees of success in the various states but in no state are the people really prepared for what might overtake them.

The critical year might be 1962, as far as the Soviet Union's rocket and missiles superiority over us is concerned, and 1962 is not far away. It will be remembered that a former Secretary of Defense said years ago that late 1961 and 1962 would be critical times for the United States, since the gap existing between us and Russia in the missiles field, would be very wide at this time.

More recently, there have been predictions that the Russians were further ahead of us in the rocket engine field than we have been told. Various committee reports—dating back to Gaither Committee report—have indicated that late 1961 and 1962 are a dangerous time for the United States.

In view of this, what is the explanation of the lack of shelters and interest in building them—demonstrated by the American people?

It seems to be that too many people have adopted a fatalistic approach to the problem now facing the world. The smart answer of too many seems to be something to the effect that if nuclear war starts, everything and everyone will be lost anyhow, so why bother about a shelter?

This is a dangerous and inaccurate assumption. A nuclear war will not kill all the people of any country. It is estimated that a Soviet attack on the United States would kill millions, maybe even a third or half of the people, but not all and probably not half.

Those who are saved will be those who are prepared. And everyone should give serious consideration to preparation for such a war. It might be quite close upon us. We are faced with a sinister and deceitful antagonist in the world struggle today and the actions of the communists cannot be anticipated.

Fall-out shelters, adequate preparations in addition to shelters, and functioning, effective civilian defense are urgently needed in view of the situation confronting us. We must rid ourselves of the apathy that threatens to lull us to sleep and make us easy game for an aggressor.

The only disagreement between China and Russia is over which is the quickest way to us.—Rep. Judd (R-Minn.)

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Constitutional convention for Michigan is rapidly taking on overtones of a "city folks versus the farmers" battle.

Partisan politics are to blame for much of this. Both Democrats and Republicans have been quick to seize on slogans and catch-phrases aimed at making the other side look bad.

Thus the Democrats are calling for an end to "representation of stumps and wilderness" while the GOP wants to "keep the Senate from becoming a caucus club for Southeastern Michigan."

Both the appeals are based on sound, if totally different, government philosophies, and both reflect what the political scientists call the "rural-urban dichotomy." Put simply, this means city folks tend to think their interest oppose to a great degree those of the rural dwellers, and vice versa.

There are differences of opinion and suspicion between the farmers and city laborers. But if pure partisanship is removed from the scene, the differences are harder to find. For example, much of the Democratic party tends to favor development programs of one kind or another which are directed from the state (or federal) level in an attempt to solve major problems such as delinquency, urban renewal and the like, which are chiefly city burdens.

And the Democratic strength lies in the cities.

Republicans, on the other hand, generally tend to favor a greater extent of local control in government affairs. The GOP draws its votes from wider areas, and dissimilarity in the needs of people and places.

Party emphasis on the rural-urban question creates uneasiness among city Republicans and country Democrats.

Partisan harmony may be difficult to come by, but agreement among the good citizens of Michigan, whether they live in the cities or the villages, can, if given a chance, transcend political differences.

Especially this is true in so vital an undertaking as the writing of a new basic law for Michigan.

The chief manifestation of the rural-urban split as it applies to Constitutional Convention is in the haste over whether, or how, to reappoint the legislature, particularly the Senate. Maneuvering for simple partisan advantage could work against the best interest of all the people of Michigan, if it is pegged to a fight over whether people or people plus territory should be the most important consideration for solving the apportionment problem.

Genial Clarence W. Lock, Michigan's revenue commissioner, has compiled quite a record of national recognition in his chosen field.

Most recent achievement for the director of the state revenue department, which handles the tax collecting for Michigan, was his election as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Tax Association.

Earlier this year, Lock was named to the Advisory Council of Tax Institute, Inc., and elected secretary of the National Association of Tax Administrators.

Lock, who took over as Revenue Commissioner after serving many years as deputy to Louis Nims, now retired, has demonstrated by his activities at the national level that Michigan is still among the leading states in government organization and operation.

This, despite the desperate cash crisis of 1959 and attendant tax and financing troubles.

State officials are again looking into the wage and fringe benefit picture for Michigan's 31,000 classified employees to see if they are being short-changed in comparison with people doing comparable jobs in private industry.

This year's survey of public agencies is due for completion in November, and will be used by the Civil Service Commission to see if there should be any changes in state employment practices.

John Downes, chief of the wage and salary section of the Civil Service Department, is directing the study.

Chief items in the survey are interviews with workers in some 37 public agencies in Michigan, 22 states and the federal government and a mail survey of wages paid by 370 private employers.

It will be up to the four-member Civil Service Commission to evaluate findings of this year's study in comparison with surveys done in other years to determine whether state employees are compensated too generously, or not generously enough.

The recent 3 percent wage hike and institution of group insurance programs has grown out of similar studies in the past.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

For a spell there after the election it looked like they were going to try to run the country without any pamphlets and free advice from them Government agencies. It was gitting so the rural mail carrier out our way wasn't more'n half earning his pay.

But this is to report, Mister Editor, that the pamphlet boys in Washington has now crossed the New Frontier in force. Even the wimmen folks is now gitting advice from the various bureaus on how to keep house.

For infans, my old lady got one last week explaining how she might live five year longer if she'd take some short cuts in the household chores. Being as how she's already liable to outlive me by about 10 year, I think they was sending this stuff to the wrong party.

Anyhow, this piece from the Home Economics Division—whatever that is—claims the average wife walks 262 feet and circles a bed 3 to 4 times making it up. They claim only 23 feet and one around the bed will do the job scientific. The piece also says wimmen should quit ironing, socks, towels, sheets and such items and just fold 'em. I ain't got no comment, Mister Editor, on such goings-on from the Government. If you've got any, I'm shore the folks would appreciate it if you'd put it on the editorial page.

And about all the folks at the country store Saturday night reported gitting a pamphlet week from the U. S. Bureau Standards on how to judge a hog. Some of them was a little riled up about tax money being used on this project.

Ed Doolittle, for instance, allowed as how most Government business was now done on television, especial the elections, the Bureau of Standards ought be working on better ways of improving a voter's bifocals. Zeke Grubb figgered maybe he was preparing the voters for the next election so they could judge the debates better. Bug Hobs sided with Ed, said in the next debates he was going strictly looks and was going to vote for the frontier man that looked the like Daniel Boone, regardless how the candidates talked. It was general agreed by all that this country needs most right now ain't a better hearing aid.

Clem Webster said he ain't got the official pamphlet on it yet but he saw in the papers where the Health Department claims a teller's mind is a little off when he's dead tired. Clem, who is known for long hours and hard work, claims a teller that'll kill him was dead tired was a little off to start with.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew

Football...

Chelsea scored again on a pass from Sophomore Quarterback Curt Farley to Left End Larry Cattell. The play covered 15 yards. Left Halfback Dave McLaughlin set up the touchdown on a 35-yard end sweep in which he ran through, around or over almost the entire Milan team. A running play for the extra point failed, however, and the Bulldogs trailed 13-12.

The fourth quarter was a quarter of frustration for the Bulldogs who had three good scoring opportunities but just couldn't cash in on them.

The first drive was stopped as a fourth down pass was incomplete. Then after Stan Hand, hard-working tackle recovered a fumble, the Bulldogs had another fine opportunity. This time a fourth down fumble stopped them.

Then with only 3 1/2 minutes left the Bulldogs moved deep again only to see another fumble stop their march. Milan took over and held the ball until the game was ended.

Even though they went down to defeat the Bulldogs showed their fans that they have the potential for a successful season. Milan fielded a team with a big veteran line and the Bulldogs' green line, without a regular back from last year, did an excellent job, particularly in the second half. The offensive line of Ends Larry Cattell and Mike Schrader, Tackles Bob Riemenschneider and Don Wilson, Guards Paul Schramm and Tom Eisenbeiser and Center Warren Forath, seemed to get stronger as the game progressed, while the defensive line of Jim Whitesall, Stan Hand, Don Brooks Cattell, Willie Riemenschneider, and Schramm was very effective in the second half. "Duke" Weiss showed promise as a line replacement.

The backfield, with Dave McLaughlin and Jim Maynard at the running backs, ran very hard, while Right Halfback Al Schauer turned in a good defensive game and had several key blocks. Sophomore Quarterback Curt Farley started his first varsity game in impressive style.

This week on Saturday the Bulldogs travel to Ann Arbor High's field to take on U. High as they open defense of the Washtenaw Conference championship. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

JV Coach Taylor Will Direct Local P.P. & K. Contest

Robert Taylor, junior varsity coach, has been named Director of Competition for the Chelsea P.P. & K. contest.

Announcement of the appointment of Taylor was made by George Palmer, of Palmer Motor Sales, local sponsor of the competition.

In the competition, boys will be judged on two distance and accuracy of their passing, punting and place-kicking. Top winners, one from each age group, will receive football uniforms and may have the opportunity to compete in the national eliminations, depending upon their scores. Warm-up jackets and footballs are prizes for the winners of second and third place, respectively.

Scores of the top winners in the Chelsea competition will be compared with scores of other winners in this area, and the best five youthful football specialists will pass; punt and kick for national honors at a home game of the Detroit Lions in November.

Chelsea boys within the age limits now may register at Palmer Motor Sales, when accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The P.P. & K. program is being sponsored nationally by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co.

St. Louis School...

Joseph Cyr, Architect and Associates of Livonia, designed the attractive modern style buildings constructed of beige tone brick.

Groundbreaking for the new school construction took place Aug. 28, 1960, and at that time it was announced that eventually the school would be equipped to handle an enrollment of more than 200 boys.

The Rev. Fr. Legnani and the Rev. Fr. Scarpieri came here from Italy for the purpose of opening the school for exceptional boys, a project which is a unique experiment in a special teaching program geared to the learning capacity of the boys accepted for enrollment.

Several years ago the Archdiocese of Detroit established Our Lady of Providence School for exceptional girls in Northville. The school, one of a very few such in the United States, is now caring for 120 girls in the six to 16 year age group. At the time of the establishment, the promise was made to establish a comparable school for boys. That promise is now realized with the opening of St. Louis school here.

Good Samaritans Start Annual Membership Drive

The Good Samaritans, auxiliary of the Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county, has announced its annual membership drive Sept. 24-30, emphasizing that anyone is eligible for membership, regardless of religious affiliation.

Membership in the Good Samaritans is open to any resident of Washtenaw county. All residents who are interested in the agency and in helping it meet the needs of individual citizens so that they can more successfully cope with the demands of daily living are cordially invited to become members.

Memberships are $1.00 and anyone donating $5.00 or more is designated as a patron. The Good Samaritans is an organization made up of citizens representative of Washtenaw county and dedicated to helping the agency carry out its works of mercy. Officially organized in September, 1958, it has more than 1,000 individual paid memberships and 12 organizations as members.

The goal of the organization is three-fold — financial assistance, help with certain phases of the work which can be done by laymen and the development of a sound public relations program. All of these areas of functioning are of the utmost importance to the agency. Without the co-operation and constant support of an interested community, the agency could not have developed as it has. It is a known fact that volunteers are "the backbone of community services."

In Dexter, the membership drive chairman is Mrs. Leo Hoey, of St. Joseph's parish.

Mrs. John Keusch, one of three newly-appointed members of the executive board from Chelsea, was named chairman of the membership drive for the Chelsea area. General membership chairman is Mrs. John Conlin of Ann Arbor. Other Chelsea members of the executive committee appointed to represent St. Mary's parish are

Mrs. Wayne Harvey and Miss Nina Greening.
Manchester St. Mary's parish membership drive chairman is Mrs. Walter Schaible.
Mrs. George Ennen of Ypsilanti, who is chairman of The Good Samaritans, said the agency can use typists and drivers and anyone who is able to give time to the agency in either capacity may contact the local representative.

John Meadows Is Area Chairman for Michigan Week

John R. Meadows of Ann Arbor, senior vice-president of the Ann Arbor Bank, will serve as the 1961 Michigan Week regional chairman for the counties of Livingston, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe. His appointment was announced today by Edwin O. George, Detroit, vice-president of the Detroit Edison Co., and general chairman for the ninth annual state observance to be held next May 20-26.

"We are getting an earlier start than ever in planning for the annual observance, so that all organizations and individuals may have ample time to plan their programs and activities," George said.

Meadows, in accepting the chairmanship, said he was pleased to have the opportunity to serve the great state of Michigan in helping to direct the promotion which has become firmly established as a state tradition. He called on all citizens and organizations within the region to actively participate in Michigan Week, to create greater pride in their state and its communities in the part of all people and to focus favorable national attention on the state's unlimited resources, advantages and opportunities.

Meadows was the first Zoning Board Chairman of Ann Arbor township which was the second township in Michigan to have a zoning ordinance. He has served on the Washtenaw County Planning Commission for the past 14 years and is a member of the Board of the Ann Arbor Metropolitan Area Planning Committee.

He has several banking association affiliations. He is presently chairman of the U. S. Savings Bond Division of the U. S. Treasury from Washtenaw county. Meadows is also a past president and member of the Ann Arbor Exchange Club, member of the Barton Hills Country Club, Ann Arbor Elks Lodge, and the Methodist church.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 25

Among activities of Boy Scout Troop 25 in the next few weeks is a public, community-wide family movie night to be held at Chelsea Theatre at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12, proceeds of the project to go toward paying for a canoe for troop use. The canoe has already been selected by the troop committee.

"Prince Valiant" and "Scoutmaster," a Clifton Webb comedy, will be shown at the family night movies and scouts are working to interest families of the community in attending.

The troop committee also announces plans to purchase lightweight tents to encourage more camping trips where boys will carry their own equipment. Purchase of the smaller tents will be financed by proceeds from the sale of four 8'x12' tents now owned by the troop.

Boy Scouts of Troop 25 are completing plans to take part in the district fall camporee on Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1, the affair being planned to simulate a hike through the Sierra Mountains. Campsites are being named for various locations in the Sierras.

Scouts will be taken by automobile Friday night to a base camp in preparation for hiking in patrol groups to an undesignated campsite where they will spend Saturday night. They will back pack all of their equipment for the Saturday night outing.

Each Scout will be judged according to pack weight distribution, following directions, and his reaction to a simulated emergency situation during the hike. Each Scout will be required to submit a report of his observations.

Leaders for the hike will be the Rev. Philip Rusten, Robert Foye and Fred Worden.

Saturday, Sept. 23, in preparation for the district hike, a "shake-down-hike" with full pack will be held.

Troop committee meetings are held the first Thursday of the month, beginning at 7:30 p.m. and Scoutmaster Foye said anyone interested in working with them—or just visiting a meeting—is always welcome to attend.

It is comparatively easy to make decisions but it is much harder to put them into effective use.

Needlework Guild Is Chance To Help with Home Charity

Mrs. Thomas Masterson, president of the Chelsea Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, in reminding people of the community of the annual Needlework Guild Ingathering, repeated the saying, "Charity begins at home."

Mrs. Masterson said that to the Chelsea Branch this means that new articles contributed at the Oct. 5 ingathering, to be held at the Congregational church, will be distributed to Chelsea area people in need of them by Chelsea Social Service.

In answer to the question "Who will receive these articles?" Mrs. Masterson explained, "Your neighbor and mine—someone, who through unavoidable circumstances of sickness, unemployment or age, will this year need clothing, and the lift of spirit and gift of confidence that only the new articles of this unique 'garment charity' can give."

Money gifts are used to purchase shoes, boots and other needed clothing.

Mrs. Masterson states that during the Guild's national membership week, Oct. 2-7, more than 400 Guild branches in 36 states make a special appeal for new members to help them meet the ever increasing need for the warmly human community service of the Needlework Guild and its 500,000 volunteer workers.

A gift of new clothing (or money) to the local Guild Branch, Mrs. Masterson said, will not only provide a needy person with warm clothing for the coming winter, but will also give the donor a share in the warmth and personal satisfaction many Guild members know as the result of their contributions.

For membership details, Chelsea area persons and organizations may contact Mrs. E. W. Eaton, first vice-president of the Chelsea Branch of the Needlework Guild and its membership chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coldwell of Phoenix, Ariz., left Monday after spending two weeks here visiting Mrs. Coldwell's mother, Mrs. Charles Carty, and her father, Raymond Jones of East Tawas. Saturday Mrs. Carty invited relatives and friends to open house in their honor. Among those invited were relatives from Columbus, O., Jackson, Mich., Detroit, Belleville, Pa., Grass Lake, Roseville, and the Chelsea area. Approximately 50 were present. Mrs. Coldwell is the former Ruth Jones.

Mrs. Schaible Attends United Church of Christ Executive Council Sessions

Mrs. Paul G. Schaible, Sr., was in Washington, D.C., last week to attend the meetings of the Executive Council of the United Church of Christ. The sessions were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Stratford Hotel, being held in Washington because of the new executive director of the Council to have offices in Washington, since the UCC Council is directly related to the National Council of Churches office in Washington.

The newly-installed executive director, a layman, is Dr. Lewis I. Maddock, formerly associated with Western College, Wooster, O., as an assistant professor.

As a member of the staff of the mission for Christian Social Action, Dr. Maddock had been stationed in the Washington office of the National Council of Churches since July 1, 1961.

Dr. Maddock, in his position as executive director, is responsible for providing information to the churches, maintaining liaison with the interest agencies and rendering such special services as the executive director of the National Council of Churches and the Council of Christian Social Action might require.

The installation service at an honorary dinner Wednesday, Sept. 20, was attended by representatives of the U. S. Government and prominent ministers of Washington, in addition to UCC Church representatives.

At the Washington session of the Executive Council of the United Church of Christ, final action of the Commission for Christian Social Action of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Council for Social Action of the Congregational Christian churches took place.

The merger formed what is now

Plans Progressing For Study Club's Fall Fashion Show

Mrs. Robert Daniels, general chairman of the Child Study club's fashion show, "Fall in Full Fashion," reports that plans are progressing for the annual event which this year is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, at the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Scenes at the show will highlight fashions for wear at football games, in the classroom, at slumber parties, and on the playground for the younger set; also teen-age and adult styles.

Mrs. Paul G. Schaible, Jr., is to be the commentator and club members and their children will serve as models for the event.

Tickets are available from all club members and at Anderson's Department Store.

Proceeds of the Style Show are for the club's community service projects, past contributions including a flasher traffic signal for the safety of children at North Elementary school; and donations to Chelsea Social Service, Chelsea Cooperative Nursery and McKune Memorial Library.

Tourist Council Offers Fall Color Service

Lansing — There needn't be any guesswork in planning a fall color tour in Michigan, according to the state tourist council.

The Council again is offering prospective autumn travelers a personalized service to let them know, by individually addressed cards, when Michigan's fall color display is at its peak.

This unique color information plan is in its seventh year of operation. The program alerts travelers to the progress of Michigan's autumn display as it moves from the far reaches of the Upper Peninsula into lower Michigan.

Anyone wishing to be posted on fall color in Michigan should send his name and address to: Fall Color Service, Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

Church Leader Will Speak At St. Paul's Mission Festival

The Rev. Oscar C. Nussman, of Boston, Mass., secretary for Latin America on the United Church Board for World Ministries, will be the speaker at both morning services Sunday at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church. It will be the annual Mission Festival at St. Paul's.

In addition to the regular morning services, open house will be held at the church hall at 2:30 p.m. to give people of the community an opportunity to meet the Rev. Nussman and discuss his responsibilities in Central and South America.

Services at the church are held at 8:15 a.m. and 10:45 a.m., with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.

The United Church Board for World Ministries on which the Rev. Nussman serves, is the overseas agency of the United Church of Christ, a union of the Congregational Christian Churches and Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Before coming to his national post a year ago the Rev. Nussman was minister of the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church in St. Louis, Mo., for eight years.

He formerly served parishes in Rochester, N.Y., and West Burlington, Ia.

A native of Dorseyville, Pa., he has a bachelor of arts degree from Baylor University, Waco, Tex., a master's degree from Missouri University, and a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Eden Seminary, St. Louis.

He has recently returned from an administrative tour of mission stations in Mexico, Honduras, and Ecuador.

He and his wife and family— a son and two daughters— make their home at Needham Heights, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pielemeier of Freelandville, Ind., were guests of the former's sisters, Mrs. Bertha Stark and Miss Dorothea Pielemeier and brother, Albert Pielemeier, from Saturday until Tuesday.

The Rev. Herbert Schaefer, founder and director in charge of the Ethiopian mission, field of the American Lutheran Church, will be the guest speaker Sunday at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers, Corners.

The Rev. Schaefer is well known in the Rogers Corners area and has preached there on a number of occasions. He and his wife and family are in this country after a three-year tour of duty in Ethiopia and are visiting members of their families in northern Michigan and in California.

At the 10:15 a.m. service the Rev. Schaefer will deliver the sermon and at an evening service scheduled for 7:30 p.m., he plans to show pictures.

Anyone interested in hearing the Rev. Schaefer tell of his work in Africa is welcome to attend the services, according to the Rev. C. J. Renner, pastor of Zion Lutheran church.

Goodwill Industries Director Addresses Kiwanis Club

The Rev. Amos Bogart, executive director of Goodwill Industries of Jackson, the past 10 years, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening. He was introduced by the Rev. Edwin Weiss, superintendent of the Methodist Home, who was the evening's program chairman.

The meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

The Rev. Bogart explained that the Jackson branch employs 38 handicapped people in repairing useable household discards which are sold later through the Goodwill's retail store.

Goodwill Industries resulted from a movement begun in Boston, Mass., 62 years ago by a Methodist minister, the speaker said.

Announcement was made that the Sept. 25 meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. New faculty members in the Chelsea school system and Kiwanian's wives will be guests at the meeting. It will be held in the customary location at the Methodist church.

Kiwanis President James Liebeck was absent since he was at Grand Rapids attending the state Kiwanis meeting as a delegate of the Chelsea club.

Also at the state meeting were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Anderson.

Library Volunteer Helpers Needed at Junior High School

Mrs. Thelma Schwieger, volunteer school library committee chairman, said yesterday volunteers are urgently needed to assist in the Junior High school library.

She explained that no experience is required for the work and anyone willing to contribute a few hours a week may contact her or the Chelsea High school librarian, Mr. Johnson.

Volunteers also assist at both elementary schools and at the Chelsea High school library.

The man who does not attend to his duties promptly, eventually has few duties to attend to.

Bethel Church Sets Mission Festival For Next Sunday

Professor Allen G. Wehrli will be speaker at the annual Mission Festival at Bethel United Church of Christ in Freedom township on Sept. 24.

Dr. Wehrli will preach at the 10 a.m. service on "God Shows No Partiality." His topic for the evening service at 8 p.m. will be "Barnabas, the Good Man."

He has been the speaker several times in recent years at the State Pastors' Conference in Ann Arbor, where he captivated his audience by his homespun style and his thorough scholarship.

Born the son of a blacksmith in a small village south of Chicago, he attended various colleges in the Midwest and in Oregon, and did graduate work in Germany, Chicago and Johns Hopkins. For 16 years he lectured at the Western Pastors' school in Colorado, and for six years at the Danforth Foundation grounds in Michigan, as well as at Chautauque, N. Y.

Dr. Wehrli has taught Old Testament Literature at Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo., since 1922. This year marks the first of a new program of part-time teaching at the same school. For 30 years he was a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. He also served on the Advisory Board of the translators of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

Bethel church's pastor, the Rev. T. W. Menzel, was a close neighbor to Dr. Wehrli in the years when the local pastor was also teaching at Eden Seminary.

Portable Incinerator Being Tried in Burning Debris Along Highways

Lansing — An experiment designed to reduce the cost of removing trash from barrels at roadside parks and rest areas is being conducted by the State Highway Department.

A portable incinerator, developed by a Detroit manufacturer, is being used by a Highway Department maintenance crew to burn paper and other debris it collects from trash barrels placed at parks and picnic table sites in the Lansing area.

Chief Maintenance Engineer Harold J. Rathbun believes trash collection costs can be cut considerably by using the incinerator because it will allow one vehicle to operate all day before going to a dump to dispose of the ashes and other material.

Trucks now used to haul trash from parks normally make several trips each day to nearby dumps to get rid of the waste material they collect.

Michigan Spends $1 Million Daily For New Highways

Lansing—The Michigan State Highway Department made payments totaling $102.5 million to highway contractors during the first seven months of this year compared to $61.7 million during the same period last year, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reports.

Mackie said the Highway Department presently is paying more than $1 million a day and will continue to make payments at this rate for the next 60 days during the peak highway construction season.

"The dollar volume of contract payments made by the State Highway Department has played a major role in Michigan's economic recovery in recent months," Mackie said. "We estimate our construction program is providing employment for nearly 10,000 workers in all parts of the state."

Payments are made to contractors as they complete work on Highway Department projects or for material delivered to the construction site.

One trouble with the so-called human race is that it has too many would-be leaders.

Farm Loan Co-Op Declares Dividend To All Members

At a meeting held recently, the Board of Directors of the Federal Land Bank of Ann Arbor declared a 3 percent dividend to all members of record as of May 31.

Manager Robert Hall stated that the Association had a most successful year and that Washtenaw, Wayne, and Livingston county farmer or suburban home owner borrowers would be receiving their dividend checks soon at the annual stockholder's meeting.

The annual stockholder's meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, at the new Southwest School in Howell.

Hall also pointed out that the Federal Land Bank Association of Ann Arbor extended long term credit last year to 183 farmers or suburban home owners for $2,186,000.00 in 5 1/2 percent Federal Land Bank real estate loans. As of June 30, 1961, there was a total of 829 members in Livingston, Washtenaw, and Wayne counties using the services of this cooperative with outstanding loans totaling $7,086,413.

Kiwanians Plan Activities At Annual District Meeting

The Kiwanis Club of Chelsea was represented at the 1961 convention of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International at Lansing, Sept. 17-19, by Club President James Liebeck. Hosts for the convention were members of the Kiwanis Club of Lansing.

Don E. Mumford, a trustee of Kiwanis International, and New York safety consultant, was a featured speaker at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Delegates from 193 clubs, representing nearly 9,000 business and professional leaders, participated in the various sessions. Committee conferences, a discussion of plans for the coming year, consideration of successful community service work, and the election of officers highlighted the program, Liebeck said.

Presiding officer was Harold F. Plets of East Lansing, the Governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International. Plets is an East Lansing businessman.

Mumford, one of the principal speakers, and the official representative of Kiwanis International at the convention, is a 29-year veteran of Kiwanis. He is currently serving his second two-year term as a member of the organization's International Board of Trustees. During his Kiwanis career he has held most of the important offices in two different Kiwanis clubs, Gallon, O., and New York City, and in two different districts, the Ohio District and the New York District.

He has also served as a member and as chairman of several Kiwanis International committees. Mumford is active in various trade, civic, and philanthropic organizations in addition to his Kiwanis work. He is a member of the New York State Citizens Safety Council and is chairman of its community service committee. He is a member of the New York State Citizens Council. He is a past chairman of the railroad section, National Safety Council. He is also a past chairman, safety section, Association of American Railroads, and holds memberships in other related organizations. Mumford is a former director of the National Safety Council and is active in Boy Scout and Red Cross work.

Early Retirement May Save Health, Even Extend Life

Ann Arbor—Contrary to popular opinion, retirement doesn't generally result in major physical and mental decline or early death. In fact, early retirement actually may conserve health and extend life, says Wilma Donahue (Ph.D.), chairman of the University of Michigan Division of Gerontology.

In 1953, for example, when researchers interviewed older members of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union in New York, almost half (48 percent) said their health improved after retirement. One-third said it was the same. Only one-sixth reported it was worse.

Similarly, a 1958 study of more than 100 executives showed that retirement had no effect on physical or mental health, although some tensions were apparent in the transition period immediately following retirement.

In a third study, involving health and mortality data of pensioners, a large communication firm showed no evidence that retirement hastened death or led to a decline in health. Instead, the findings suggested that mortality was lower in the period following retirement, regardless of the age of the individual involved.

Donahue said that while retirement may not be a panacea for all ills, it can be a valuable tool for maintaining health and extending life.

About Your Social Security

About 37,000 workers in Washtenaw county non-farming business earned $46,800,000 in taxes during the first quarter of 1961, a recently published report shows.

The report, "County Business Series, First Quarter 1961" is a project of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance of Social Security Administration, the Bureau of the Census, its employment and payroll data for 42 million employees as reported by 2.2 million businesses and breaks the figures down county and industry.

Washtenaw county automotive industry paid $11,844,000 to 7,280 employees during the period covered by the report. About 43 business units in the county were employing more than 100 employees at that time.

The report may be examined at the offices of the Department of Social Security, district office, and a number of public college libraries throughout the county. It is the ninth in a series of reports deriving its data from Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance account-keeping, under which records of earnings are maintained for social security purposes.

In addition to its use in administering the social security program, the report is valuable to business and outside the Government in studying manpower resources in small areas, and for county-by-county comparisons of the levels. Such information can be utilized by students of business, marketing executives, managers, and advertising of- fices.

Senator Philip A. Hart's

REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ Gold Medal for the Burma Surgeon

As Congress drew to a close, the President's proposals for establishing the Peace Corps and for new approaches to foreign aid became law and added important tools to our nation's efforts to assist the underdeveloped countries.

Hundreds of millions of dollars for dams, teams of Peace Corps volunteers, and shiploads of wheat speak incessantly of America's intention to share in the responsibility for bringing new life to peoples in every corner of our world.

This past week I had occasion to call attention in the Senate to what one man's dedicated life and service has meant to many thousands of people on the 40th anniversary of Dr. Gordon Seagrave's ministry in Southeast Asia. The world renowned "Burma surgeon" has truly been the living symbol of the spirit that lies behind all of the vast foreign assistance of the 1950's.

We have few ways of showing a nation's appreciation to individuals such as Dr. Seagrave. President Kennedy wrote him a personal letter expressing the thanks of the nation to this ambassador of the American spirit. In the Senate I have introduced a resolution proposing that the Congress authorize the striking of a gold medal to be presented to the "Burma surgeon."

Dr. Seagrave fully recognized the dignity of the human person, ministering both to the body and the mind. For nearly 30 years he has followed the principles underlying President Kennedy's Peace Corps. An inspiration not only to our young people, but to all Americans, he is one who has spent his life "doing" for his country. It is appropriate for his country to recognize his efforts and accomplishments by providing a medal for him as a symbol of our appreciation to him and the many others like him who are so ably representing the United States to our neighbors throughout the world.

Supervisors Educational Committee Studying Proposed Library Services

Mrs. Howard Blackenburg, Ypsilanti, chairman of the Educational Committee of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors this week expressed appreciation of the action of the Ann Arbor Board of Education in approving in principle the idea of co-operation in the discussion of extension of library service.

"The Educational Committee of the Board of Supervisors is interested in studying further the possibilities of the budget and plan of operation which has been presented. We intend to examine its potentialities as a means of furnishing library materials to the people of the county in the most effective manner possible," Mrs. Blackenburg said. "We expect to discuss this plan in detail with people concerned with present library operations in the county before making a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors."

"Our discussions and studies to this point indicate that a sound system requires local support as well as county appropriations. Reports made to the Michigan State Library show that Chelsea, Milan and Dexter Villages, Manchester and Ypsilanti Townships, and the cities of Ypsilanti and Saline are now providing local tax money for libraries. There is some supplementary help from Lima, Sylvan, Livonia, Sharon, Dexter, Freedom, York, Pittsfield and Augusta Townships in amounts varying from $50 to $1,000.

"Libraries as a tool of education and a cultural influence are a recognized public responsibility," she added. "The caution of the Education committee in recommending support by the Board of Supervisors stems not from doubts of the value of the service to be provided but from our determination to find a formula which will be fair and will recognize the efforts now being made in some communities."

"Establishing a new and extensive service when some governmental units within the county have their own systems is complex. We do not intend to make a hasty recommendation without considering the effect on all operating library systems and assessing carefully the potentialities for service."

"The willingness of the Ann Arbor Board of Education to consider the plan worked out by Ann Arbor Librarian, Homer Chance and consultants from the Michigan State Library is appreciated," Mrs. Blackenburg concluded. "We will be glad of their help in continuing our studies."

Extensive Road Program Planned For North Country

Manistee—Nearly $200 million will be spent on construction of new highways and modernization of others in northern Michigan during a 10-year period ending in 1967.

Chief Engineer John E. Meyer told the annual meeting of the Northern Michigan Road Commissioners' Association recently that the Highway Department's first five-year road building program called for improvements totaling about $150 million in the 33 counties above the Muskegon-Bay City line.

"So far, we have completed projects totaling about $70 million and there still remains in all stages of construction, work totaling about $75 million," Meyer said.

Meyer said the Highway Department plans to spend an estimated $50 million in northern Michigan during its second five-year program from 1962 to 1967.

"By the end of next year, it will be possible for a motorist to get on a freeway at the Michigan-Ohio line and drive non-stop to the Mackinac Bridge," Meyer said.

"You are soon going to be taking this traffic, brought up to you on the surface and high-capacity road system known, on your local system of roads."

He urged the northern Michigan road officials to "stay out in front" in construction, maintenance and planning of county roads because you will have a critical group of tourists and truckers to satisfy on these roads" when the state's north-south freeway is completed.

Slow-Moving Vehicles Banned from Freeways

Lansing—Certain slow-moving motor vehicles are now prohibited from using Michigan freeways, the State Highway Department reports.

The restrictions are part of a new law that raised maximum speed limits on freeways to 70 miles an hour during the day and 60 at night.

The law took effect Sept. 8. Highway Department officials said the new law prohibits the following motor vehicles from using the freeways: farm tractors, self-propelled farm implements, motor bikes, and motorcycles and motor scooters with less than five horsepower.

3 Millionth Phone Installed In I-94 Safety Rest Area

Michigan Bell Telephone Co., growing at the rate of more than a million phones a decade, marked the installation of its 3,000,000th telephone last Thursday (Sept. 14).

The 3,000,000th phone was installed in the new Ann Arbor Safety Rest Area, which at the same time was opened by the State Highway Department. The Safety Rest Area, serving the east-bound lanes of Interstate 94 Freeway about one mile east of Baker Road, is the 10th such lighted safety stop opened by the state.

A ceremony marking the double event was attended by federal, state and local officials, community leaders, and tourist and highway officials.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, pointed out that it took 65 years after the installation of the first telephone in Michigan before the company had the first million in service.

"That was in 1942 but 10 years later, the company installed its two millionth in the farm home of the late Clifford Pond near Mason," Day said. "Now, just nine years later, we are installing the 3,000,000th phone in this lovely retreat along Interstate Freeway 94."

Day said 210 countries of the world have less than 3,000,000 phones. Only seven other countries outside the United States have more. He said Russia is one of them but Russia has only a little more than 4,000,000 compared with nearly 71 million in this country.

Day said the achievement of 3,000,000 telephones belies criticism that Michigan is a standstill state.

John C. Mackie, State Highway Commissioner, said about one out of 10 motorists traveling on Michigan's freeway system uses the new Safety Rest Areas.

He said eventually more than 100 Safety Rest Areas with separate car and truck parking lots, rest rooms, drinking water, telephones, picnic areas, and bulletin boards for highway information will be built on Michigan's freeway system.

Mackie credited the development of the Rest Areas to the Motorist Services Advisory Committee, a group of citizens formed to determine what facilities should be provided for motorists using the freeways, and to Edward C. Eckert, the Highway Department's chief forester.

As part of the ceremony, Mackie placed the first call over the 3,000,000th phone to Dwight H. Bray, president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, in Frankfort, Ky.

It is nice to be friendly but don't select your friends just because some stranger is nice and sociable.

Longer Hunting Season At Shooting Preserves Will Open Sept. 15

Lansing—Michigan's six-month hunting season at shooting preserves begins Sept. 15 with pheasants and ducks the principal targets for pay-to-hunt sportsmen.

By the end of August, 47 preserve operator's licenses had been issued by the Conservation Department. Five of these went to newcomers to the business.

Most of the preserves are located in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula with major concentrations in the Lapeer-Oakland and Kalamazoo-Barry county areas.

At nearly all locations hunters pay by the bird with the general price range from $5 to $10. In addition to ringnecks and mallards, a few of the preserves have exotic species such as chukars and Reeves pheasants for their customers.

The Conservation Department is the state's regulatory agency for preserve hunting and provides owners with technical assistance on request.

This is the time of the year when the busiest men find time to attend a game of baseball or football.

Exciting New 1962 Automobiles Ready for Inspection

OLDSMOBILE—With its advanced roof styling, the elegant, newly-introduced Oldsmobile 98 Holiday Sports Sedan for 1962 (top photo, above) combines the exciting look of a sports coupe with the roominess and full convenience of a four-door model. In addition to completely new front and rear styling, all Oldsmobile 88's and 98's for 1962 feature straight-top fender lines extending the full length of the car for a "straightaway" silhouette.

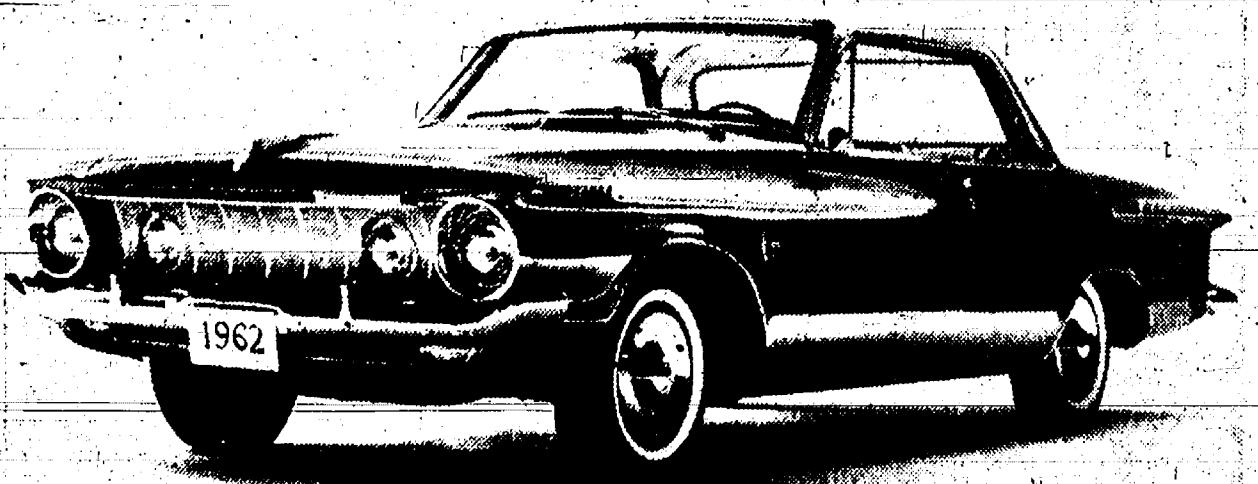

The sporty new Dynamic 88 Holiday Coupe for 1962 is shown in the lower photo. Performance and economy have both been improved in all models of this year's exciting new Oldsmobile. The 98 and Super 88 models are powered by a 330-horsepower Skyrocket engine and the Dynamic 88's Rocket engine is now rated at 280 horsepower. Oldsmobiles go on display Sept. 22.

FALCON—This Falcon four-door sedan highlights the compact car's new styling for 1962. While still "distinctively Falcon" the top-selling Ford compact features a new grille, new front fenders and hood and larger taillights, but still retains the inside-outside dimensions of its predecessors.

PONTIAC TEMPEST—A attractive addition to Pontiac's new Tempest series for 1962 is the superbly styled convertible pictured above with the LeMans option, which includes front bucket seats in beautiful shades of expanded Jeweltone Morrokide and rich floor carpeting. The Tempest sports coupe with its own distinctive styling is also available with the LeMans interior. The 1962 Tempest has an entirely new grille and new rear-end styling. Pontiac Tempest models are on display in dealer showrooms beginning Sept. 21.

PLYMOUTH—The Fury 2-door hardtop is one of 23 new models which Plymouth introduces to the low-priced field for 1962. All Plymouth models have a new look which sets them apart among standard size cars. There is a completely new feel in ride, handling and performance, with valuable savings in fuel economy. There are three series, Savoy, Belvedere and Fury. The engine line-up includes the 225 cu. in. 30-1 Economy Six, the 318 cu. in. Fury V-800, both Mobilgas Economy Run champions, and the 361 cu. in. high-performance Golden Commando V-8. 1962 Plymouths will be on display Sept. 28.

OLDSMOBILE F-85—Here's the exciting, fun-to-drive Cutlass Convertible (top photo, above), newest member of Oldsmobile's line of nine F-85 models for 1962. Standard on the Cutlass Convertible are comfort-contoured bucket-front seats and the Cutlass 185 ultra high-compression aluminum engine, which provides exceptional performance and outstanding operating economy. Also available is a lower-priced F-85 Sports Convertible (lower photo) equipped with the highly popular 155-horsepower Rockette aluminum V-8 engine, and featuring remarkably attractive interior designs. Oldsmobile F-85 models go on display Friday, Sept. 22.

PONTIAC—Luxurious styling of Pontiac's 1962 sports coupe models is graphically illustrated by these views of the sparkling new Bonneville. A smaller rear window and a lower roof design give this two-door hardtop the rakish look of a softtop convertible. A divided V-shaped grille of horizontal bars exemplifies the smooth flowing lines and the Bonneville's generous full-length side moulding accentuates the car's long, low and sleek appearance. This same new look in hardtops is found in the Catalina sports coupe. Pontiacs go on public display Sept. 21.

BUICK—The clean, uncluttered styling of Buick for 1962 is exemplified in the Electra 225 series with its sporty new roofline and its tailored rear decklid with the wind-split down the center. The long, sweeping lines of the front and rear fenders make the car look bigger without increasing its size. The new roofline with its wide, sloping rear pillars identifies the Electra 225 series, one of the most luxurious cars in the fine car field. Passenger comfort has been improved for 1962 by the almost complete elimination of the transmission hump in the floor of the front passenger compartment. The Electra 225 is powered by a 401 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor, coupled with Buick's smooth Turbine Drive transmission. Buick for 1962 will be on display Sept. 27.

MERCURY—Introduction of a new Custom series and extensive styling improvements distinguish the Mercury Monterey for 1962. The crisp roof is four inches longer and there are major styling changes in the rear of the car. The Monterey and the Monterey Custom series offer a total of 12 models, including the Custom four-door hardtop shown here. Nine engine-transmission combinations are available. Cost of ownership for the Monterey is reduced by extending normal servicing intervals to twice-a-year for the average driver. Mercury models for 1962 will be displayed in dealer's showrooms beginning Sept. 29.

ance and outstanding operating economy. Also available is a lower-priced F-85 Sports Convertible (lower photo) equipped with the highly popular 155-horsepower Rockette aluminum V-8 engine, and featuring remarkably attractive interior designs. Oldsmobile F-85 models go on display Friday, Sept. 22.

CHEVROLET TRUCK—Diesel power for the first time, addition of two higher powered V8's, and lower hood lines for better road visibility highlight Chevrolet's 1962 truck line. New to most of the 198 models are directional signals as standard equipment, single headlamps and longer life mufflers. New optional equipment includes alternating current generators, tinted glass and sliding rear cab window for better ventilation. Proved independent front suspension is retained with improvements. Chevrolet trucks go on display Sept. 21.

New Army Reserve Center To Be Named for War Hero

The new Ann Arbor Army Reserve Center will be named for Donald Clark Schorling, decorated World War II sergeant who was killed in action in Germany.

Army authorities today announced Mrs. Raleigh Schorling of Ann Arbor will attend dedication ceremonies Oct. 7 at which time a plaque bearing her son's name will be unveiled at the center located at 1980 South Industrial Highway.

A name selection committee headed by Joseph Mundus, Ann Arbor businessman and World War I Veteran, screened names of county men whose military service dated as far back as the Civil War in accordance with Army regulations.

Sgt. Schorling was awarded the Silver Star, Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart, American Campaign Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with one Bronze Service Star for the Central Europe Campaign; World War II Victory Medal; Combat Infantryman Badge, Expert Infantryman Badge, and Expert Badge with Rifle Bar.

The Silver Star, a high Army honor, was conferred upon him posthumously with this citation: "For gallantry in action near Oberberg, Germany, on April 1945. As the leading squad of an attacking rifle company approach, he received heavy machinegun fire from the village. Sgt. Schorling, the assistant squad leader, aided in deploying the squad and instructing the men to fire at gun flashes. With his squad leader he then moved into the town and circled to the rear of the enemy location. Opening surprise fire they wounded one enemy soldier and captured 15 others, allowing the squad to quickly secure the town. Sergeant Schorling's gallantry on this and similar occasions in which he gave his life a few days later, reflects high credit upon himself and the armed forces."

He was 22 years old when he died and was serving with 97th Infantry Division.

He enlisted on Oct. 19, 1942, while a student at the University of Michigan. After training at various Army camps, he was selected for a specialized educational program at the University of Utah and the University of Santa Clara. In January, 1944, he became an Air Corps cadet at the University of Denver, which was then serving as an Air Force academy, but was recalled with thousands of other infantry trained servicemen.

DONALD CLARK SCHORLING

for Army duty in the European theater. He was then assigned to the 97th Division's 388th Infantry Regiment and went overseas with that unit.

While at the University of Michigan he received his football letter. He also won a football letter the previous year at Oberlin College.

At University High School a scholarship won him a senior award.

His father, who died in 1950, was a nationally known educator who was organizer and first principal of University High School, principal of education and supervisor of directed teaching in the University of Michigan School of Education. A sister, Mrs. Howard Webster, lives in LaCrosse, Calif., and a brother, Dr. Olin Schorling, in Rochester, Mich.

The training structure that Sgt. Schorling's name will grace was completed in August of a cost of about $325,000. It houses the activities of eight Army Reserve units, one of which has been called to active duty, as of Oct. 1. The others are under alert status.

Details of dedication ceremony will be announced later.

WHEAT QUOTAS

The Agriculture Department said that when farmers apparently have given their approval to market quotas on the 1962 crop.

Votes have been tallied from thirty-nine commercial wheat states and 76 per cent of the growers voting were in favor of the Government program.

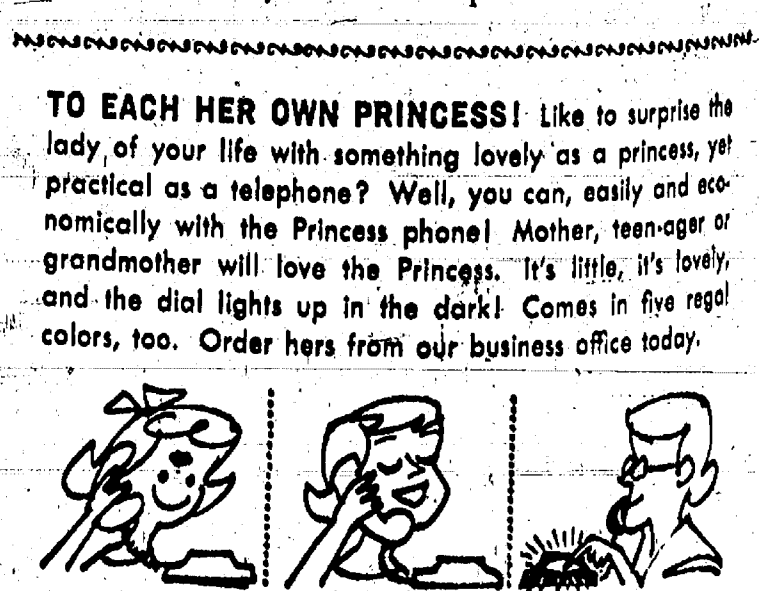

The program includes a mandatory 10 per cent cut in acreage and diversion of wheat land to conservation practices as well as a $2-a-bushel price support.

CHELSEA

By NICK PRAKKEN, Manager
FIFTY YEARS AGO about 250 people met in Boston—birthplace of the telephone—to form the Telephone Pioneers of America. It's an organization dedicated to promoting ideals in the telephone business, and serving communities where Pioneers live. This fall nearly a quarter of a million active and retired members of this international organization—all having at least 21 years of telephone service—will celebrate the Pioneers' 50th Anniversary across the United States and Canada. The 6,000-member Michigan Wolverine Chapter will mark the occasion in special observances at nine state points. We salute the Pioneers on 50 years of accomplishment.

TO EACH HER OWN PRINCESS! Like to surprise the lady of your life with something lovely as a princess, yet practical as a telephone? Well, you can, easily and economically with the Princess phone! Mother, teen-ager or grandmother will love the Princess. It's little, it's lovely, and the dial lights up in the dark! Comes in five regal colors, too. Order hers from our business office today.

MICHIGAN REACHED A MILESTONE in its communications history on September 14. Michigan Bell installed its 3,000,000th telephone—an outdoor public phone—at a safety rest area on Interstate Highway 94, seven miles west of Ann Arbor. It took 65 years to reach our first 1,000,000th telephone, back in 1942. In 1952 we put in the 2,000,000th. Only seven countries outside the United States have more telephones than the 3,000,000 we serve here in Michigan. We're proud indeed to contribute to the progress of our State by serving its growing communications needs.

American Women Face Retirement Several Times
Ann Arbor—In America, a woman's normal life cycle provides her with two or three retirement experiences before her husband faces this problem the first time.

Wilma Donahue (PhD), chairman of the University of Michigan Division of Gerontology describes the contrast as follows:

"In our society many women have left employment for child-rearing. Thus, they have become familiar with essential elements of the retirement experience in early adulthood. They have given up earning an income and have 'retired' to other activities.

"When their children grow up and leave the parental home, women experience another retirement from an essential function and have to make adjustments to the cessation of the maternal role."

"For this they are likely to be prepared by the staggered experience of temporary but increasing separations from their children, which our methods of child-rearing have forced upon American mothers."

"And, in the physiological sphere, the menopause has taught them the inevitability of retirement from the meaningful experiences of child-rearing."

"The husband who has to make an adjustment to retirement, therefore, should find in his spouse a person who has experienced, in varied and, to him, partly inaccessible ways, the problem of retirement which he faces for the first time. But the extent to which the retirement-experienced wife is inclined to add her husband in his adjustment has not been researched."

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the table decorations by means of flowers, candles and a miniature umbrella. The honor guest received many beautiful gifts.

Christian Symbols Explained to Guild By Guest Speaker
Miss Anne Hellor, a graduate student who majored in ancient history at the University of Michigan, was the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church and the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church Wednesday evening, Sept. 13. The meeting was held at St. Paul's church.

Miss Hellor presented a program based on the many Christian symbols used through the ages. She explained that many are pagan symbols taken over by Christianity and adapted to its own use.

To illustrate her story, she displayed a tapestry scroll she had embroidered herself with more than 200 symbols in a variety of colors and stitches.

Miss Hellor explained that the tapestry scroll represents a total of 600 hours of research and another 800 hours of actual work applying the designs for the symbols of birds, fruit, flowers, music, water, etc., and the Christ.

Miss Hellor, who was a migrant missionary worker at Benton Harbor the past summer, is a native of Canada but has lived in Michigan most of her life. She is preparing for a teaching career in a community college of the state and to do vocational counseling.

Mrs. Charles Lancaster, as program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Ellsworth Smith, Guild vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. P. G. Schaible, who was in Washington, D.C., for a meeting of the Executive Council of the United Church of Christ.

Business at the meeting included the nominating committee's presentation of the names of candidates for president and secretary to be elected at the November meeting. Named as candidate for president is Mrs. Lowell Davison with Mrs. Eugene Fisher as secretary.

Ushers at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Norman Schmidt and Mrs. LaRue Shaver.

Mrs. Richard Schmidt presented the opening devotional service, stressing the theme of "Unity," since this was the first meeting of the two church women's groups following merger of the Congregational Christian Church and the Evangelical and Reformed Church bodies which became finalized the past summer.

The theme was also used in the table decorations in the church dining room where refreshments were served. The letters "CC" and "ER," a world globe with clasped hands representing the two denominations now as one, and yellow gladioli formed an effective arrangement.

The refreshment committee included Mrs. Theodore Faist, Miss Cora Feldkamp, Mrs. Ernest Guenther, Mrs. Earl Guenther, Mrs. Elton Guenther and Mrs. Dean Guenther.

You can tell the end of a friendship when a man, telling another how much he thinks of him, suddenly switches to a business matter.

Catherine Mester, Pfc. R. Kielwasser Exchange Vows

Catherine Mester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mester, 8750 Mester Rd., and Pfc. Robert Kielwasser, son of Mrs. Dorothy Kielwasser of Dexter and George Kielwasser of Ann Arbor, exchanged wedding vows Saturday during a ceremony performed by the Rev. Richard Cockrell of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Ann Arbor. The ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. at St. Barnabas Episcopal church, Chelsea, in the presence of more than 100 guests.

The bride's wedding gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace with a ballerina length skirt and fitted, long-sleeved bodice with a round neckline edged with scallops of the lace. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with a headpiece of artificial off-white leaves and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white rosebuds centered with a small orchid.

Barbara Maynard of North Lake, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of pink lace and a matching headband trimmed with veiling. Her flowers were white carnations.

Edward Swidriksi of Howell, assisted his brother-in-law as best man.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Sept. 5, 1961
Council Room

Regular Session.

This meeting was called to order by Pres. Daniels at 8:00 p.m. Trustees present: Baldwin, Barr, Cannonier, Clark, Lixey and Paul. Invocation by Mr. David Wood, pastor of the Chelsea Baptist Church. The minutes of the Regular Session of August 10, 1961 were read and approved.

Mr. Lovitt and Mr. Kincaid from the Mich. Dept. of Agriculture met with the Council regarding the control of Dutch Elm Disease.

A film was shown pertaining to the steps to be taken to control the disease as much as possible. Disposal of the diseased trees and possible breeding pieces for the beetle is of prime importance.

Mr. Lovitt stated that the tree program should be carefully studied, and a decision made as to whether the Village wishes to enter into a tree conservation program, or to stand the expenses necessary to remove the dead trees after the disease has run its course. The Village now has approximately 140 elm trees with many more located on private property. Ten trees have been or will be removed from the Village property this year. Without some control, this is very likely to increase from year to year until all the elm trees will be gone.

Mr. Lovitt made the observation that on a quick look through town before this meeting, he noticed what
