Octogenarians To Be Entertained Monday, Oct. 30

The annual Kiwanis Halloween party for children of the community is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 31, from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m., as announced this week.

Trick or Treat night activities are to be confined to Monday night, Oct. 30, between the hours of 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Details of the program will be announced in the Oct. 20 issue of the Standard.

Monday's Kiwanis club meeting is held in the social center of the Methodist church, with Paul Niehaus in charge of the evening's program.

Niehaus introduced Sherry Fringer who was in Germany the last summer as an exchange student sponsored by the Washtenaw County Council.

Other guests at the meeting were Mike McKillip, former Kiwanis Key Club lieutenant-governor of Gaylord, and Louis Al-

Announcements made at Monday's meeting, in addition to members of the children's Halloween party, included the information that the annual Kiwanis pancake supper is to be held at the Chelsea school cafeteria Monday, Oct. 23, also, that the annual Kiwanis "Octogenarian Night" has been set for Monday, Oct. 30.

Miss Vail entered St. Joseph's hospital for treatment Saturday morning. His family expects him to return home today tomorrow.

Pirates Spoil Bulldogs' Homecoming

The Chelsea Bulldogs Friday night lost their first Washtenaw Conference game since the conference was organized three years ago. Over that span they had won 12 consecutive conference games and tied two. Both tie games were played this year, a 7-7 tie with U. High and a 12-12 battle with Roosevelt.

The Pinckney Pirates came into town with a 4-0 record, after two previous years as the conference's doormat, but when the smoke cleared Friday night they had achieved a 59-0 victory.

The game started poorly for Chelsea as the opening kickoff was fumbled by the Bulldogs and finally recovered on the eight-yard line. However, the Bulldogs were unable to move the ball and Pinckney returned the Chelsea punt inside the Chelsea 10-yard line. Two plays later the Pirates scored the first of nine touchdowns.

Three of the Pinckney scores came on runbacks of intercepted passes as the Bulldogs tried vainly to get their offense moving with their passing game.

With the score 52-0, midway in the third quarter, Coaches Al Conklin of the Bulldogs and Wes Reader of the Pirates, turned the game over to the reserves. Chelsea's second and third units, comprised almost entirely of freshmen, were no match for the Pirates, however, as Pinckney added four more TD's.

This week the Bulldogs host South Lyon in a non-conference game. Local fans will be watching this game closely to see whether the Bulldogs, victim of bad breaks, a good solid team, and their own errors can bounce back against the Lions, a team which has only one victory in five attempts this season. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

George Hafley and his son and daughter, Carlton and Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, spent Thursday and Friday at Grand Rapids as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morford and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Drake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benson and children, Mark and Carol, of Medina, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. James Lihderman and children, Nancy and Thomas, of Wayne, spent from Wednesday until Sunday here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, parents of Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Linderman.

Enthusiasm Runs High for CD Training

Col. G. G. Miller, Washtenaw county Civil Defense director, speaking of Chelsea's Civil Defense training program said "The attendance and participation at Chelsea was the best of any of the communities—in which he had given the courses in recent weeks."

More than 200 people attended some or all of the sessions, Monday through Friday, Oct. 9-13, and village officials and employees who missed only one or two sessions plan to attend those particular portions of the course when Col. Miller repeats the training sessions in nearby communities.

Village officials and personnel receive certificates for completing the entire 10-hour course.

Governmental officials are thoroughly briefed on all phases of Civil Defense procedure by Col. Miller as he outlines what must be done in preparation for any eventuality—natural or man-made.

The next step for the community, following the training program, is the appointment of village department heads to be responsible for disaster preparedness. They, in turn, are to appoint members of their respective departments to be responsible for certain duties.

These departmental plans will be incorporated into a village plan and then a Zone VI plan will be organized for immediate activation upon receiving an alert.

Schools Close For Teachers To Catch Up

All Chelsea schools will be closed today and tomorrow. This includes Chelsea High School, Junior High, and North and South Elementary schools.

Teachers of these schools will be attending teachers' institute meetings at Ann Arbor.

Because buses are making no runs the two days, St. Mary's parochial school will also be closed.

UCIC Rally Is Held at Congl. Church

The annual fall rally of United Churchmen in Christ (UCIC) was held Sunday afternoon at the Congregational church, a total of 26 area churches being represented by the 120 men present.

Organized three years ago following merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches, it is a laymen's group interested in promoting spiritual and material welfare of the Church.

Dr. Robert Spike of the Department of Evangelism of the United Church of Christ, spoke on the topic "Churchmen Meet Grow."

He emphasized that the old concept of ministers' and laymen's responsibilities for church growth have changed through the years. The old idea that it was officially the minister's duty to study theology and then preach it to laymen has changed with the times.

Village Tax Deadline Is Saturday

In comparing notes with some area village treasurers, Chelsea Village Treasurer Wallace Wood said yesterday that Chelsea's tax payment record for this year's taxes is "very good."

Only 4.6 percent of taxes still remained unpaid and Wood said that margin is becoming smaller each day as last-minute payments are made.

Saturday of this week, Oct. 21, is the final date for payment of village taxes without penalty. This was a 30-day extension made by the Village Council from the original deadline of Sept. 20.

National Newspaper Week Observed This Week by 'Hometown America'

The year's great national promotion, Oct. 15 to 21, highlighting everybody's newspaper to everybody, will be launched under the apt banner, "Your Newspaper—Heritage of Truth, Frontier of Freedom."

Nowhere more in America, than in Hometown America, is this slogan so true. For it was the early newspapers—single sheets at first—which sprang from the grass roots of this nation, which heralded the story of Truth and became our first Frontier of Freedom.

Hometown America—what is it, where is it and who is it? Well, first of all it's those pleasant places where life is pleasant, like it used to be. It's towns where most folks know each other and most of them are friends. But it's small towns which no longer are Sleepy Hollows for they are up and doing, and they've become affluent—gracefully. And they are small communities where, after the Bible, the local paper is most read.

Let's focus the spotlight specifically on Hometown America and we'll see that it consists of those places under 25,000 population and the people who live there. They are small towns which may be rural, or urban, or suburban. They're the hub, the trading centers, of the areas which surround them. There are literally thousands of these small towns. By definition each is small but put them all together and you have more than half the population of the United States.

To be exact, there are 99,524,612 people who call these towns Home. And they really are prosperous. According to the best authorities, they have a total collective income of $157,217,000,000. That is 47 percent of the total national income.

These folks save a lot of money, but they are spenders, too. Last year they made retail purchases which amounted to the staggering figure of 86 billion, 326 million dollars. Now, that figure represents 40 percent of the total retail sales in this country.

Most of that generous spending, which helps so materially to keep this country so prosperous, is generated by the advertising which appears in Hometown newspapers.

Small town newspapers actually are the basic advertising medium for these 99 million folks. There are about 10 thousand small-town newspapers across the country, and they get into more than 27 million homes.

There isn't much doubt about the fact that the strictly local newspaper, the Hometown newspaper, still is, and always will be, the best reading buy in town.

New Word Is Coined

A newspaper Linotype operator recently misspelled government. An i appeared in place of an o. The proof-reader failed to catch the error and the word appeared GVERNMENT and thereby the newspaper may have unwittingly coined a new word.

After all, what better word can describe our government? Uncle Sam is the greatest giver the world has ever seen. No other country can match his generosity. Uncle Sam's debt of almost $290 billion proves no deterrent. The debt limit probably will be raised to $300 billion before long so that the gifts may be enlarged and continued.

And to the growing list of taxpayers who make up the donors GVERNMENT is becoming something very real.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Michigan's public and private school teachers, roughly 90,000 in number, recently got a warning from Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett. His message was: "Keep abreast of the times in which you live."

There are three duties for teachers in order that they may fulfill their role as instructors for children and leaders of the community, Bartlett said.

Teachers must keep themselves informed in areas of rapid change. This applies to current political and economic events, technological and scientific advances and social changes.

Another goal for the teacher is to keep his teaching methods and subject matter abreast of the changes that are taking place. Not only must students be told of the changes, but they must also be made aware of the implications for them, Bartlett said.

The third responsibility of teachers is to help bring information about the developments, problems and needs in education to members of the community whose only contact with schools may be casual ones through their children.

Bartlett even hinted that he believes education and educators have fallen down slightly, at least in some areas.

He cited particularly instruction in foreign languages, which are still handled with the same emphasis as years ago; and his school teachers, roughly 90,000 in number, recently got a warning from Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett. His message was: "Keep abreast of the times in which you live."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: It's gitting so I know more folks in the funeral columns of your paper than I do in the wedding announcements. I ain't concealing the fact that I've past the three-score milepost. I ain't like the wimmen this feller was writing about the other day. He said wimmen would go to "greater lengths to conceal their age than anything else." On account of this not being a very concealing generation fer wimmen, I'm pleased to note they got a little modesty in this direction.

But what I started out to say was I been in this troubled world a long time, including two world wars, two panics and several of the first and second cousins knowed today as depressions and recessions. Even a feller like me gets a little wisdom with the years and I figger, if you dig down to the grass roots of the situation in the world today, you got to come up with just one answer. People living under Communism ain't got nothing to fight fer and we have. That has got to be the difference between us winning and them losing.

Fer instant, I was reading in the papers where Americans has kept piling up savings in Government bonds even during the unemployment. This report from the Treasury Department last week showed that at the end of June this year the holdings of these bonds was at a new high of $44 billions. Sales of these bonds fer the first half of 1961 was 6 per cent ahead of last year and cashing in was the lowest in 10 years.

U. S. Americans has not only got freedom of religion, speech, assembly, the ballot, and all them other freedoms, but we own the Government and the country, got plenty to eat and wear, and has got $44 billion stored away fer a rainy day. People living under Communism ain't got nothing, and secretly they know it, and when the chips git down people ain't going to hang together and fight very long or very hard fer something under which they ain't got no right and in which they ain't got no stock.

If we git into a nuclear war with Russia a heap of the world is going to be destroyed and you and me, Mister Editor, might not be here, but what's left of this world is going to belong to free Americans and our allies in the cause fer freedom. I'm as positive of that as I am that there'll be crabgrass in my patches next spring—atomic fallout or no atomic fallout.

And speaking of fallout and such things, I was reading in the papers the other day where this science feller from Yale claims a hole has developed in the Milky Way. I'm mighty glad to learn about it. A little ventilation in the world right now, special around Moscow, ain't going to hurt nobody.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Even with these taxes included in the price, the price of small manufactured items, apparel, and other goods, mostly raw materials produced in that country, and in which a lot of labor is involved, is 50 per cent or less than that of American goods.

But even despite this disparity, foreign goods are more attractive to the American with a great deal of money to spend. In France if payment is made in American currency, or American dollars, a substantial amount of minimum further discount of 20 per cent, and on certain items as much as 60 per cent. This discount is not given if paid in French currency.

In Britain these discounts are given at the airport or port of embarkation, or has been mailed to his home address.

Thus, thanks to the starry-eyed "goats" at least have been subjected U. S. protective tariff laws, wealthy U.S. citizens abroad can bring home any quantity of goods, pay the prevailing low duties, and still deplete American business and labor of a substantial amount of business to say nothing of further depleting U. S. gold reserves, because as already stated, these discounts apply to their purchases.

And Europeans cannot afford to buy U. S. goods, because not only do they reflect higher U.S. labor costs, but they also have backed on foreign import duties plus the purchase taxes.

It would seem there is a great deal of confusion as to who is kidding whom.

Mallard Rates Up in Popularity Among Hunters

Ann Arbor—The mallard—one of Michigan's most abundant game birds—tops on the hunter's early list, according to George W. Hunt, professor of wildlife management at the University of Michigan.

On the continent, mallards range from 50 to 60 percent of the bag, probably because this is a large, attractive and very hardy species.

The mallard is a very wide-spread species in the northern part of the continent. "In the north, it's the most abundant of the group of birds which includes ducks, geese and swans," says Hunt.

A male has a greenish-black head, a grey-brown back and a grey-white under parts. The female is mottled and streaked brown and pale buff.

The mallard is a fairly large bird, some weighing as much as 10 or 12 pounds. Average weight is from 2 1/4 to 3 1/4 pounds. Wingspread is about 30 to 35 inches. They are excellent flyers.

They are excellent flyers, able to fly up to 60 or 65 miles an hour at top speed. Average speed is around 30 mph.

Mallards nest in Michigan wherever they can find suitable water and adjacent grasslands or woods. They may even choose to nest in a tree in an abandoned nest of a hawk's nest.

Most waterfowl, mallards are gregarious, frequently being in large flocks, occasionally with thousands in one group. Usually, flocks number 10 to 20 birds.

Furniture Refinishing

by BOB WILKIN

All over the country, people are beautifying old pieces of furniture in their dens (and cellars, backyards—even on the fire escape). Comfortable in their oldest clothes, they're having the time of their life and thoroughly enjoying America's rapidly growing avocation of furniture refinishing.

Here, in question and answer form, are the steps to follow in returning some ancient attic hide-away to a life of beauty and utility.

Q. As a craftsman, sharpening a pencil is quite an accomplishment for me. Nevertheless, I'd like to take a stab at fixing up some furniture pieces. Grandma left us. Where do I start?

A. No need to feel diffident on that score at all. The place to start is by digging out some old clothes and a pair of rubber gloves.

Q. That's all I'll need?

A. Nope; if you decide to use anything other than the combination solvent-remover two-step system which contains all the materials necessary in one package, you will need a solvent and lots of steel-wool pads. Really to be equipped for a variety of stripping methods, it would be well to have a cuticle stick (or other small dowel-like instrument) cut on a bias. This is for getting down into recessed areas without scratching. And, unless using the packaged process mentioned above, you'd better have a putty knife at hand, preferably one with rounded edges.

If you're working on super fine surfaces, you'll be glad you took the time to whittle out a wooden scraper to work with. This should insure a no-goUGE finish job.

Q. Where's the best place to work?

A. Outdoors is best. Then comes the cellar with its concrete or stone floor. If you work in a room with wooden floors, spread several thicknesses of newspaper around.

And, oh yes—don't forget to open the windows a bit. All solvents are toxic to some degree. In the next article we'll talk about the kinds of solvents available and the sort of work they're used for.

The Michigan Credit Union Law was enacted in 1925. Since that time, 769 credit unions have been chartered under this law. They, together with the 431 credit unions chartered under federal law, make up the 1200 Michigan credit unions. With total membership over 950,000, Michigan credit unions now serve one family in three.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE—Wearing authentic costumes of the period from 1850 to 1920, Woman's Club members at their Oct. 9 meeting had a program which outlined the struggle for woman's suffrage. Seated in the front row, from left, are Mrs. Paul Maroney as Lucy Stone; Mrs. John Hale as Elizabeth Cady Stanton; Mrs. Thomas Masterson who took the part of Susan B. Anthony and was one of the narrators; Mrs. C. A. Rogers as Pauline Davis; and Mrs. D. L. Gadbary who portrayed Amelia Joslin Gage. Standing, from left, are Mrs. Loring Bates as Violet Woodhull; Mrs. Walter Plemeier who took the part of Grandma Eliza Swainson, the first woman to cast a ballot (Wyoming Territory in 1869); Mrs. William Giddes as Amelia Bloomer; Mrs. Louis Ramp, who assisted Mrs. Masterson with the narration as Carrie Chapman Catt; Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer who introduced each of the women; Mrs. H. T. Moore, portraying Esther Morris; and Mrs. E. J. Wells, as Mrs. Ward Hallowell. Mrs. Harold Spaulding who took the part of Lucretia Mott, does not appear in the photo. The program took place at McKune Memorial Library.

★ Consumer Price Index Says . . .

Changes of one-tenth of one per cent in the Consumer Price Index are not important unless they continue month after month. When there is a decline of this amount, therefore, as there was in August, it does not indicate that the general trend is changing.

This index is compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. It is the nearest thing to a cost of living index that we have, but actually it is based upon the spending habits of only urban workers and has only an accidental relationship to what it costs anyone else to live. However the figure is used in all labor contracts which contain a wage escalator clause. This means that no other figure compiled by the government, with the possible exception of that on unemployment, has such far-reaching effects within the economy.

In common with all indexes of the government, 1947-49 is used as a base, or equal to 100. The base is going to be changed for all indexes in a few months in order to have it more recent, and the Consumer Price Index is being completely revised with a view of making certain that it reflects the goods, services, and spending habits of today. Such a revision is an enormous job and it will be more than a year before it is finished.

For the past year as a whole the index has risen a little over one per cent. That is not much, but unfortunately the index has been on an upswing for the past six years. The item which has contributed most consistently to this persistent increase has been services—rent, medical expenses, electricity, gasoline, barber and beauty shop prices, and so forth. Almost every month the aggregate of these services shows a rise.

Food is the most unstable large item in the index, and necessarily it is assigned a heavy weight. It was largely responsible for the drop in August and it was the primary cause for the increase of four-tenths of one per cent in July. From the middle of 1958 until March 1960 there was a general downward trend of food prices, and since then, except for a few months at the turn of this year, there has been a gentle upswing.

All commodities other than food increased in price as a group from 1958 until the end of 1959; then declined until a few months ago, and recently have shown a slight rise. All of these changes have been most moderate, and the index for such items is no higher today than it was at the end of 1959.

All of this is history. Does it give us any indication of what to expect in coming months and the next few years?

Fortunately it does. It clearly indicates that there is no basis for expecting a sharp run-up of consumer prices in the next few months. The most rapid increase in the index we have had in recent years was from 1956 to 1958, and that amounted to less than 10 points.

But the history also gives us no warrant for assuming that we shall have appreciably lower consumer prices. The last time the index declined from one year to the next was between 1954 and 1955, and that was a period when federal government expenditures were being reduced.

Today, of course, government spending is growing by leaps and bounds, and all signs point to a continuation of this unfortunate trend. It will take some little time for such outlays to work through the economic system—at least to have a direct effect upon consumer prices—but it will be only a matter of months. Our judgment, therefore, is that the Consumer Price Index will remain substantially stable through, say, the remainder of this year, and perhaps through the first quarter of 1962, but about then we shall see the beginning of a rise of disturbing proportions.

Bright Leaf Colors Are Not Caused By Autumn Frosts

Ann Arbor — Autumn leaves don't turn yellow and brown in October—they've been that way all along.

We just don't see the underlying leaf colors in spring and summer because they are covered up by the intense green of chlorophyll, explains Stephen H. Spurr, University of Michigan professor of silviculture (forest science).

"Chlorophyll, which makes the tree grow, masks the yellows and browns until the onset of fall cold weather. Frosts cause the chlorophyll to disintegrate, allowing under colors to come to the fore so that we can see them. Only the red pigments are actually grown by the leaves in cool, bright autumnal weather.

"These colors are caused by pigments or vegetable dyes which actually play a part in the growth of trees," Professor Spurr emphasizes. "The colors are part of the growing substance in the leaves—a part which persists after early frost."

Professor Spurr, who discusses the subject on "Conservation Report," radio series produced for state-wide distribution by the University Broadcasting Service (WUOM), goes on to say "that leaves fall off the trees when cold weather arrives because of a change in the leaf anatomy.

"A breakage-layer of cells forms at the base of the leaf stem," he explains. "Then the leaf, under impact of rain, snow or wind, will break off at this point and be swept away."

On some trees—notably the white oak—the leaf structure remains more solid, and the leaves often stay on until spring. Professor Spurr concludes.

If you have any household employees—gardeners, cooks, maids, chauffeurs, baby-sitters, companions, valets, butlers—you must file a quarterly report of each employee's name and social security number who was paid $50 or more in cash wages during the calendar quarter. This report must be made to the Internal Revenue Service on Form 942. The District Director of Internal Revenue has instructions (Circular H) for filling out the forms, and can put your name on the mailing list to receive Form 942.

Only 15 Counties Quality for Snow Removal Funds

Lansing - Only 15 counties in the Upper Peninsula and six in the Lower Peninsula enough snow last winter to qualify for Snow Removal Funds, State Highway Department ported today. State Highway Commission John C. Mackie said it is the smallest number of counties receive money from the fund it was created 21 years ago. A year ago, a record 45 counties shared in the distribution of the fund. To qualify for Snow Removal Funds, counties must have at least 70 inches of snow the past winter. Distribution of the fund is based on a complicated formula, mileage and snowfall of four factors. Mackie said this year's payment - nearly $124,000 - will go to Houghton county which has an average snowfall of 137 inches last winter. The smallest payment - $400 - will go to Schoolcraft county which had an average of slightly more than 70 inches. Washington and Jackson counties had an average of only 60 inches last year. This year's Snow Removal Fund totals nearly $600,000 compared to $565,000 last year. The money is set off from gas taxes and license fees, helping to defray cost of removal in counties which have heavy snowfalls. All but six Michigan counties have received money from the fund in one or more years since 1937. CREDIT UNION WEEK—Nearly a million Michigan members in Michigan celebrate International Credit Union Day, Oct. 19. Governor George Romney's proclamation of the day in Michigan, and of Credit Union Week, Oct. 15-21, is received by Kenneth Marin, president of the Michigan Credit Union League. Also present for the signing were Henry Warren (left), vice-president of the league, and League director William Groat of the Lansing chapter.

Accident Risk High for Tractors On Highways

Death from tractor accidents in Michigan are decreasing but highway tractor fatalities are on the increase, says Richard Pfister, Michigan State University agricultural safety engineer. "Highway accidents with tractors are claiming a larger percentage of the death toll," Pfister says. "This is due to a combination of more accidents on the highway and fewer mishaps in the field. "Statistics show that farm children between the ages of 10 and 14 have the highest mortality rate. For every hour of a child's time on a tractor, his chances of becoming involved in an accident are 30 times as great as a person between 15 and 45. "A tractor on the highway should be operated only by a person mature enough to understand and follow the rules of the road. Tractors too should be driven preferably by a licensed driver. Last year, a third of the fatal accidents on Michigan highways involved unlicensed operators. "Parents must use a maturity of judgment factor in determining whether Junior is old enough to drive the tractor, Pfister says. If he's old enough to service and maintain it without any supervision, then he's old enough to drive it. "Tractor accidents among children will continue even though they are now back in school.

New Scout Executive Named For Portage Trails Council

The Portage Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces the employment of Frederick Leonard Sundling. Sundling will serve as District Executive for Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, and Whitmore Lake.

Frederick Leonard Sundling

The area Sundling will serve is now part of Huron Trails District. By Jan. 1 it is hoped that a new district committee will be organized to administer Scouting in these six communities where there are now 17 Scouting units and 585 registered boy members. The Portage Trails Council will then have a total of four districts with a District Executive for each. Frederick Sundling, aged 37, was born in Gladwin, attended Gladwin High school from which he graduated in 1942. He served in the armed forces from 1943 to 1948. He served in the South Pacific as Sergeant with the Combat Engineers, and as Lieutenant in the Transportation Corps in the States. He served as an Assistant Scoutmaster and in turn as an Explorer Post Advisor in Hiawathaland Council, prior to entering professional Scouting. Sundling attended the 185th National Training School for Scout Executives in the fall of 1955. In January, 1956, he entered professional Scouting as a District Scout Executive. After three years he became the Assistant Scout Executive of the Hiawathaland Council with headquarters in Marquette, which covers the entire Upper Peninsula of Michigan. He is married and his wife, Pauline, is a licensed practical nurse. They have three children: Kristine, six years old, Mark aged five, and David, who is two.

Sundling is transferring to Portage Trails Council as of Oct. 16. He and his family will live at 203 West Henry St., Saline. Safety experts who have made visibility tests on hundreds of color combinations give a preferential rating to green letters on a white background. Even under dusty road conditions the green-white offers a desirable contrast, technicians say. For complete instructions on filing an employer's quarterly tax report for social security purposes, ask your District Director of Internal Revenue for a copy of Circular E.

The show, as it was last year, will be sponsored by Altrusa International of Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor. Mrs. Gladys Koopman, president, has announced. One of the major interests of Altrusa is the field of aging.

Mrs. Samuel S. Starr of Ypsilanti heads a committee arranging the show. Serving with Mrs. Starr are Mrs. John Jokubaites of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Gladys Koopman, Mrs. Daniel S. Ling and Miss Margaret Polzin.

Hours for the show will be from 2 to 9 p.m. daily. Admission is free.

The Senior Citizens Choral Group will sing several afternoons during the show. The opening day, Nov. 12, will feature a band from one of the Boy Scout Troops of the Portage Trail Council.

All county residents, 60 years of age or over, may exhibit. Basket weaving, metal working, candle-making, ceramics, copper crafts, literature, millinery, needlework, needlepoint, novelties, weaving, rugs, and paintings will be included in the show. Articles on exhibit presently at the Detroit Historical Museum will be on display at the show. Each person may have one exhibit in each of the categories. Last year more than 100 exhibits were entered in the first show.

The second annual show is particularly interested in having exhibits from men; last year only one man entered his work; a hand-made chess set. Wood carvings, metal sculpture, stamp collections, or other hobbies of men will find a prominent exhibit spot. Exhibits must be taken or sent to the Senior Citizens' Guild by Saturday, Nov. 4 and picked up on Monday or Tuesday, Nov. 20-21, after the show. There is no entry fee.

Application forms may be obtained at the Senior Citizens' Guild, the Washtenaw County Social Security office, churches, county extension service or local chamber of commerce offices throughout the county.

Agencies again, co-operating with Altrusa International in sponsoring the show are the Ann Arbor Recreation Department, Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches, Bureau of Community Services, Committee on Aging and the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service.

MSU Offers Short Course for Practical Training

Many young people who have chosen farming as a career are coming to realize that they need additional education beyond high school, says Harold Henneman, Michigan State University director of short courses.

"This is reflected in the number of people signed up for our short course program," Henneman says. "We expect an enrollment of about 150 first farmers, the largest we've ever had."

"Our program consists largely of practical training in agriculture which the student can take back home and put to good use. There are a limited number of required courses which are important for any type of farming, and a wide range of electives for specialization."

The entire course is spread over a two-year period, with two eight-week terms each year. The first term is no longer taught in both fall and winter, but students can enroll for the second term and make up the first at a later date.

For those students lacking an opportunity to start farming at home, an effort is made to place them on farms seeking additional help, Henneman says.

"Students in the short course take part in activities designed to increase their participation in community affairs, and make many valuable contacts at the university," he concluded.

Shovels Unearth Highway Scandal Near Lansing

East Lansing—Workmen digging near here recently uncovered evidence of an old highway scandal—one that went undiscovered for 110 years.

The workers were digging a sewer trench when they uncovered some old logs six feet below the surface.

The discovery was reported to the State Historical Commission which said the logs were part of an old plank road that once connected Lansing with Detroit.

The scandalous part of it, the experts said, was that the logs were pine. According to specifications for the road the logs should have been oak.

Historians had little trouble coming up with records on the plank road. Until 1851, there was a plank road from Detroit as far west as Howell. The 35 miles from Howell to the State Capitol was only a dirt road, impassible most of the time.

Lansing merchants realized that poor transportation was damaging to business and State Legislators were irked when they had to wade through miles of mud before they could go about their task of representing the people.

So, in 1851, the merchants raised the money, the Legislature granted a charter and work started on a new road to Lansing. It took only two years to build it, record speed in those days.

Oak logs were preferred to fill the soft spots in the roadway because of their weight and durability. But, as historians discovered a century later, the contractors cheated a little on the specifications.

The route of the plank road is now served by US-16, largely a three-lane highway that carries about 10,000 automobiles a day. Soon it will be served by a modern four-lane freeway, something Lansing merchants and the Legislators couldn't have dreamed of when they built the first pioneer road to the Capitol.

James Simpson Found Monday After Being Missing Since Saturday

James Simpson, who had made his home the past 11 years with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Barber, of Waterloo, was found dead Monday morning after being missing from home since Saturday afternoon.

He was last seen when he left the house late Saturday afternoon, telling his sister that he planned to cut weeds. When she called him to come in for supper and failed to locate him, she was not alarmed since he often visited friends in the area without announcing his intentions.

When he was not found Sunday after contacting neighbors and friends, the Barbers' son, Wendell, of Stockbridge came over to help look for him.

The Jackson county sheriff's office and State Police were notified early Monday and officers were sent to the scene; however, before a general search party could be organized Donald Beeman had taken his dog and started out to look for the missing man and found him almost immediately at the foot of the Barbers' property which adjoins the dried bed of the Waterloo mill pond. He was lying between two large stacks of weeds he had cut and tall weeds in the area had hidden the body from the view of searchers who had passed the spot several times.

It was ruled death had occurred shortly after his disappearance, the cause being a heart attack.

Born in Detroit, July 27, 1888, Mr. Simpson was a son of Martin and Catherine Carbury Simpson. He had never married.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Barber, are another sister, Mrs. Theron Foster of Ypsilanti; a brother, Frank Simpson of Coldwater; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Lack of County Building Permit Brings $35 Fine

Although he later completed minimum requirements for a building permit from the county and is proceeding with construction of the home in question, Walter Mohrlock was assessed a fine of $35 and costs of $15 in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, Thursday on an original charge of erecting a building without a permit.

The case began more than six months ago when the county Board of Appeals turned down Mohrlock's application for a building permit for the construction of a house on property at Cavanaugh Lake. The board said at that time that installation of a private sewer system at the site would endanger the health of the public and the occupants of the house.

County authorities cited him for continuing the building and Mohrlock's attorneys countered with a claim that the board does not have a lawful existence and actions by it are null and void.

Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien, at a session on Oct. 2, decided that proof of valid enactment of the Washtenaw County Building Code had been established and after jury trial, Mohrlock was declared guilty as charged and sentencing date was set for Oct. 12.

The verdict upholds the power of county officials to issue or deny the issuance of building permits.

Council Briefs

At Tuesday evening's Village Council meeting, a warning to parents was repeated about the danger to children playing around the old peat plant in the southern part of the village. Unsuccessful efforts have been made to contact the owners in regard to tearing down the building. It is pointed out that children who are permitted by their parents to play in the area are trespassing on private property. In view of the dangerous condition of the building, parents should be sufficiently concerned to forbid their children to go there.

Other danger areas for children at this time of the year are the piles of leaves raked into the street for pick-up. Children should not be permitted to play in the piled-up leaves since there is danger that motorists cannot see them and serious accidents could result.

"No Parking" signs authorized for 200 feet north from the south village limits on South Main St.

Authorization for the installation of 10 street lights with 16-foot extensions in the South Main St. area at the south edge of the village.

Civil Defense Director Ray Knickerbocker present for discussion. Village President Robert Daniels called the training program, Oct. 9-13, a "real success" and thanked Council members for their attendance and also commended the village employees who participated.

Knickerbocker said another series of Civil Defense classes is planned here for the first week in December.

He also said that Civil Defense literature will be left at the Electric Light & Water Department office where residents may pick it up, if desired.

Official minutes of the Oct. 17 meeting will be published in The Standard after they are approved at the next regular Council meeting on Nov. 7.

Chester residents may attend any of the Council meetings which are held the first and third Tuesday of the month in the Council room on the second floor of the Municipal building. Meetings begin at 8 p.m.

Veterans Group Honors D. Bachman

The annual honors banquet of the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans was held Monday evening at the Legion Home in Ann Arbor, honor guests from this area including Village President Robert Daniels, Sylvan Township Supervisor Maurice Hoffman, Lyndon Township Supervisor George Bauer, Chelsea Postmaster Carl Mayer, Junior Chamber of Commerce President Daniel Maroney and Elmer Mayer, former supervisor of Sharon township.

Others from Chelsea who attended are Legion Commander Charles Spencer, Donald Doll, David Strieter, Keith Boylan and Paul Maroney.

In addition to the honor guests from the Chelsea area, other guests of honor at the meeting included Congressman George Bradley, Circuit Judge James R. Brackley, Jr., Probate Judge John W. Conlin, Ann Arbor Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien, Ypsilanti Municipal Judge Edward Danke, E. A. Wolter, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, members of the Board of Supervisors, and officials of the state American Legion.

Ann Arbor Postmaster Donald Bachman, former director of the county's Veterans Affairs Office, was honored in recognition of his work in that capacity and was presented with a silver plate engraved with the names of all the veterans organizations the county. This was the ninth annual banquet of the Veterans Council and it was noted that Elmer Mayer had been present at each one. During his service as supervisor he had been appointed to serve on the Board of Supervisors veterans committee and his invitation to be an honor guest at Monday's dinner was in recognition of his efforts on behalf of veterans through the years.

More than 100 veterans and guests were present for the banquet.

Agriculture Big Business In Michigan

Agriculture is a big business in Michigan, says John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

The farmers' $4.4 billion assets are equivalent to the combined assets of Ford Motor Co., Dow Chemical and American Motors, and amount to well over half the assets of General Motors, he says.

The 112,000 farms in operation cover 15 million acres, 40 percent of Michigan's land area. These farms employ 140,000 to 180,000 persons—six percent of the state's labor force.

In 1959, Michigan farmers had a gross income of $855 million. Production expenses amounted to $605 million, leaving a net of $250 million for labor, management and return on invested capital. Farm families earned another $100 million from off-farm jobs.

Michigan farmers received $16 million in direct payments from the federal government, says Ferris. This amount included $7.5 million under the Soil Bank program, $4 million for conservation practices and a $3 million sugar beet subsidy. Indirect subsidies, transmitted to farmers through commodity price supports, are difficult to measure but would be (Continued on page eight)

Jackson County Man Wins National Plowing Contest

A Jackson county farmer has been named the nation's top 1961 plowman.

Glen Steward, 21, Springport, took top honors at the National Plowing Contest held near Melrose, Minn., in late September. The victory brought a cash award and two trophies.

Glen and his two brothers operate a 550-acre dairy-hog-crop farm on the south edge of Springport. The young Jackson county farmer has long been active in 4-H club work.

He took top honors in the Michigan 4-H plowing contest in 1958 after finishing second in 1956. This event has since been discontinued.

The new champion also finished second in the 1960 National Plowing Contest at Sioux Falls, S. D. George Lininger, also, from the Springport area, is a former winner of the national contest.

The annual pre-hunting season get-together of the organization known as The Royal Order of Confirmed Deer Hunters and Deer Slayers of America, Amalgamated, took place Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, at the home of J. V. Burg, I. Approximately 65 members and guests were present.

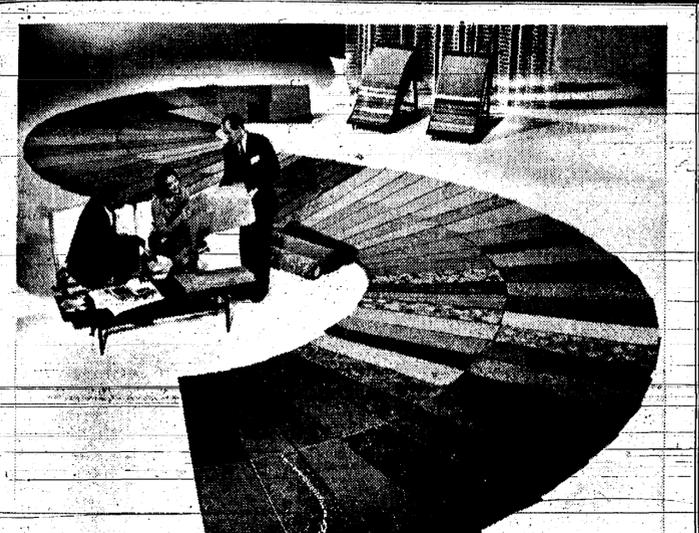

"Unusual" hunting stories were related, as part of the evening's program by "Hank" Ortring and Vic Kolsman and later Conservation Officer Donley Boyer showed a movie, "Realm of the Wild."

Business at the meeting included election of Ernest Guenther as president to succeed Richard Ringe.

Also elected was Ralph Guenther to serve "with all his brothers" as secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Carris and the customary exchange of hunting stories was the evening's concluding entertainment before lunch was served by Scott Freeman.

The world is jammed with people who do not know as much as they think they know.

MORE NUCLEAR TESTS
The United States is expected to resume underground nuclear testing in about a week.

Representative Holfied (D., Cal.) chairman of the Senate House group, said that the atomic energy and Defense Department experts are "working night and day" to get the tests under way.

The first tests are expected to be of relatively low yield.

HOUSTON SITE CHOSEN
A site, covering 1,000 acres, has been chosen at Houston, Texas, as a command center for American efforts to send a man to the moon.

Federal officers said that crews will be trained here and space craft will be designed as well as tested at this Houston site.

However, the actual shot itself will originate at Cape Canaveral.

NEW FEDERAL AGENCY
Congress has virtually completed action on the Administration's proposal to set up a new agency responsible for planning and research on disarmament.

The House has passed legislation creating a United States arms control agency along the lines recommended by the Administration. The vote in the House was 291 to 54.

F.H.A. DENIAL
The Federal Housing Administration has acted to crush reports that it was thinking of raising its ceiling on interest rates. It announced that the rates would remain unchanged for now.

The F.H.A. ceiling for mortgages is 5 1/2 per cent. However, the agency does not limit the extra charges that a lender may—and does impose.

HOUSE MEMBERSHIP
The House Judiciary Committee has voted once again to kill a long-lived effort to increase the size of the house. The committee chairman, Emanuel Celler, Democrat of Brooklyn, said after the closed meeting that he thought the movement to increase house membership "has been exterminated." He said, "Rigor mortis has now set in."

ATOM WAIVER VOTED
The Senate has approved by a voice vote and sent to President Kennedy legislation to speed the training of French troops to handle nuclear weapons.

The bill waives the requirements of law that any agreement on the exchange of information on weapons must lie before Congress sixty days before it can become effective.

State Police Warn Traffic Deaths Jump in Fall Months

The last three months of the year are the harvest season for traffic fatalities in Michigan, nearly one-third of them occurring during this period, is the warning of Sgt. Ray McConnell, commanding officer of the Jackson State Police post.

"The wise driver and pedestrian will need no further reminder of the hazards encountered in fall and winter-driving or walking and will proceed with care and alertness," he said.

State Police records for the last 25 years show that October, November and December account for an average of 30 percent of the annual toll of traffic deaths. Last year the loss in lives for the three months was 487, a frightful price to pay for disregard of the precautions and rules that mean safety.

"Many drivers and pedestrians, accustomed to good driving and walking conditions in the summer, fail to adjust themselves when these good conditions worsen with the change to unfavorable weather with its sleet, ice and snow, and the shorter days that mean many more hours of darkness," Sgt. McConnell observed. "Their failure to do so means more injuries and deaths, all of which could be avoided by using prudence and driving or walking protectively."

Sergeant McConnell offered these safety tips:

To drivers: Increase your vigilance. Take it easy in bad weather and after dark. Increase your caution at hills, curves and intersections, as there may be ice or snow. Be careful at railroad crossings, especially where banks of snow may obscure vision. Faithfully obey the traffic laws and signs and watch out for the motorist or pedestrian who may not be watching you.

To pedestrians: Walking hazards in this season multiply, so beware of them. Don't block your vision with packages or other objects. Walk only where drivers expect you, but be on guard for the driver who may not be watching you or is careless. Never cross in the middle of the block. Double your caution at night and in bad weather. Remember, if you want to be unharmed, assure your safety by always taking your best steps in traffic.

Hoodlum Hunters

A current automotive joke goes something like this: "Have you heard about the new sports-car made in Palermo, Italy?" "No! Not another one—what's it like?" "Well, it's called the Mafia, and it has the hood behind the wheel!"—end of joke.

But what about the "hood" behind the gun? The "Sportsman" hood, we mean, the hoodlum hunter who invades farm, field and forest at this time of year without as much as a "by your leave."

True, they are a very small percentage of all hunters, and their relationship to a real sportsman is as remote as Christianity for Khrushchev.

The hoodlum hunter shoots at anything that moves. He has been known to butcher pigs encountered in his rambles. Practically anyone shot of a pure morn knows the difference between a deer and a hog, so rule out the "accidental" in such cases. He runs a pack of hounds in ripe bean fields, shattering bushes of beans in the process. Tame or wild, a duck is a duck to our Mafia-man.

To top it all, he's gregarious, and tends toward travelling in groups. When one farmer wheeled a tractor towards a pothole in one of his fields, three of these trespassers—assured that they would not be told to leave by the simple procedure of keeping their guns centered on the tractor driver. Needless to say the farmer veered away, and the hunters continued their duck-pond activities undisturbed.

But all of this is negative. What about the good side of farmer-sportsmen relationships? Tremendous strides have been made by such conscientious groups as the Wayne County Sportsman's Club, now distributing "Ask the Farmer First" bumper stickers. Some 60,000 Michigan sportsmen in 350 local clubs belong to such groups, according to James Goudreau, Detroit businessman and president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

One of the best ways to rate a sportsman is to know that he is a member of a Sportsman's Club, according to Goudreau. A member of the MUCC adds this provoking thought—"Farmers should ask for a sportsman's current membership card as soon as hunting permission is requested." In many cases it might be a good idea, one that ties in well with the Hunter's Code of Ethics to which such clubs subscribe. The first item in the code reads: "I will consider myself an invited guest of the landowner, seeking his permission and so conducting myself that I may be welcome in the future."

Highway Fatality Ratios Listed for States in Great Lakes Area

Highway fatality statistics released by Safety Commission Chairman James M. Hare show that, among Great Lakes states, Michigan has a lower death rate than Wisconsin or Indiana but has a higher rate than Ohio and Illinois.

Based on each billion miles of travel Ohio shows 36 fatalities for each 1,000,000 miles traveled; Illinois, 40; Michigan, 45; Indiana, 46; and Wisconsin, 52 fatalities.

"The billion mile yardstick is a fairer measure of relative highway safety than total deaths within a state," Hare pointed out. "Michigan, during the past several years, has pretty much held to this ratio and the difference in total fatalities is largely one of increased or decreased travel by Michigan residents and visitors."

LIKE THE housewife who shops for all sorts of things to keep her home running smoothly, your phone company buys many "housekeeping" items of its own. Last year, for example, Michigan Bell and Western Electric Company, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply division, bought about $62 million worth of supplies—ranging from trucks to work gloves—from about 1,400 Michigan suppliers. Add to that the wages and salaries of our employees, our construction expenditures and state and local taxes, and the total benefit to Michigan's economy was one-quarter billion dollars.

YOU'RE GOING to be hearing more and more about Bell Telephone scientists' work with a revolutionary device called the Optical Maser. It transmits the narrowest light beam ever achieved, along which can be sent enormous numbers of messages—many, many times more than by wire, cable, or radio. Light may become a whole new medium for telephone talk, TV images and data communication. It's constant research like this that makes possible the latest telephone service improvements for our customers at the earliest possible time and at the lowest possible cost.

GOOD IDEAS are valuable and at Michigan Bell our Employee Suggestion Plan is providing lots of good ideas on how we can serve you better, faster and even more economically. Last year, for instance, Michigan Bell employees came up with over 2,500 suggestions on how to do things better. For each one accepted the employee gets a cash award. So good ideas pay off in three ways: to the employee, to Michigan Bell which gains better methods of operation, and to you who enjoy the benefit of even more efficient service.

Diane Hardiman, Douglas Stark Repeat Nuptial Vows Saturday

At the West Side Methodist church in Ann Arbor, Diane Carol Hardiman became the bride of Douglas H. Stark in a ceremony performed at 7:30 p.m. Saturday by Dr. H. Vaughn Whited, pastor of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hardiman of 1931 Sunrise Ave., Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stark now of 1885 Miller Rd., Ann Arbor, formerly of Rentz Rd.

Soloist for the ceremony was the bridegroom's brother, Leonard K. Stark of Ypsilanti, who sang "I Love You Truly," "The Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of silk peau de sole fashioned with a princess bodice having a bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. Accents of re-embroidered Alencon lace were used on the bodice. The Renaissance style hair, was draped to form a chapel train. A queen's crown of pearls held her veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white pompon chrysanthemums and stephanotis centered with a white moth orchid corsage.

Lois Stark, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor, her gown for the occasion being fashioned of peau de sole in antique gold color. The fitted bodice featured a bateau neckline while the skirt was semi-bell style. Her matching hat was accented with pearls and her ensemble was completed with a cascade bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Susan Hardiman, sister of the bride, and Mary Anne Sorensen of Ann Arbor, were bridesmaids. Their ensembles were identical to that of the maid of honor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hardiman wore a peacock blue sheath dress of silk chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories while the bridegroom's mother, in an emerald green satin sheath dress with accents of blue, used white accessories. Their corsages were of ivory tinted roses.

Mrs. Frank Hardiman of Brighton, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Harvey Proctor of Manchester, grandmother of the bridegroom, had corsages of ivory tinted carnations.

Richard Stark of Ann Arbor, a brother of the bridegroom, George Wacker of Manchester, and James Grau and David Pastor served as ushers and William H. Sorensen of Ann Arbor, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

At the reception in the church social hall following the ceremony, Mrs. Miley of Ann Arbor was in charge of the guest book and Margaret Hardiman of Brighton, an aunt of the bride, assisted with the gifts.

Others who assisted included Florence Plots of Detroit, and Mrs. Kenneth Stark of Trenton who cut the wedding cake; Lucille Plots of Detroit and Mrs. Irwin Pidd of Dexter who poured coffee; and Carol Meyer and Nancy Dean of Ann Arbor, who poured punch.

Approximately 250 guests attended the wedding and reception. When the couple left later for a week's trip to the Smoky Mountains, Virginia seacoast and Washington and Williamsburg, the bride was wearing a brown and black silk suit accented with a pearl bib. Her accessories were in black and white and included the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Ann Arbor High school while the bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High school and Hamilton Business College and is now engaged in farming.

On their return from their wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Stark will be at home, after Oct. 23, at 3663, Rentz Rd.

Women's Guild Program Features Study of Missions

"International Missions" was the topic of the program presented at the meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church, Wednesday evening, Oct. 11. Those participating included Mrs. Emma Seitz, Mrs. Willbert Grieb and Mrs. Louis Burghardt.

The program brought out the fact that the Evangelical and Reformed Church supports seven missions—Africa, Hong Kong, Honduras, India, Iraq, Japan and Ecuador.

It was also explained where and how the Guild challenge money and thank offering funds are allocated to these missions.

In conclusion it was stated that there is an ever-increasing tendency toward unity of missionary groups with merging of efforts going forward more rapidly than merger of denominations in this country.

The Rev. Paul M. Schnaka presented the Guild library with two books on missionary work sent by the Schneider twins, Douglas and Richard, both of whom are in missionary work, the former and his wife in India and the latter at the Winnebago Indian Mission in Wisconsin.

The slate of officers for the coming year was presented and all were named as follows: Mrs. Lowell Davison, president; Mrs. E. C. Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Eugene Fisher, secretary; Mrs. John Pierson, treasurer.

Announced was the 20th anniversary of the annual November thanksgiving program; World Community Day to be observed Nov. 3, at which time school bags for children will be made; and the Women's Guild Workshop at St. Paul's, Saline, on Oct. 25 with Mrs. Robert B. Miller of Gary, Ind., National Guild social action chairman, as speaker.

Devotions at Wednesday's meeting were conducted by Mrs. Robert Burgett.

Ushers for the meeting were Mrs. Floyd Walz and Miss Ruth Loeffler.

Hostesses who served refreshments included Mrs. Lynn Kern, Mrs. George Erke, Miss Amanda Koch and Mrs. Roy Guenther.

WOLVERINE FARM BUREAU
 Wolverine Farm Bureau members met Sept. 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ottoman. Election of officers was held and those who will serve for the coming year are: chairman, Clarence Ottoman; vice-chairman, Norwin Lesser; secretary, Mrs. John Bezzeg, Jr.; discussion leader, Donald Ruhlig; minuteman, Warren Eisenbuiser; package reporter, Walter Ottoman; women's committee, Mrs. Clarence Ottoman and Mrs. Albert Ruhlig; recreation leader, Mrs. E. Jay Hopkins; and news reporter, Mrs. Carl J. Lesser.

Fourteen members and two guests were present. The discussion topic was included in the evening's program and refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ottoman, Tuesday, Oct. 24. Members are asked to come in "hard times" costumes.

ALLERGIC TO BOYS
 Loughton, England—Jane Reeve has a rare disease—or at least it would be a serious one for most girls. She is allergic to boys.

Jane had finished her studies at her present school and was transferred to a coed high school to finish her education.

She would become nervous every time she got around boys and as a result would break out in a rash.

Authorities finally agreed that in view of her health, she should be allowed to attend an all-girl school.

LIMA CENTER EXTENSION
 Twenty-one members were present for the October meeting of Lima Center Extension club on Wednesday of last week. The meeting was held at Lima Center Community Hall with Mrs. Clarence Raddeman as hostess.

Members demonstrated crafts which had been learned at the recent Christmas Workshop of the Washtenaw County Extension Service.

During the club's business session, members voted to "adopt" an entire teen-age ward at Ypsilanti State Hospital and to provide the young people with Christmas gifts.

The next regular club meeting will be held Nov. 8 with Mrs. Paul Seitz as hostess.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Room
October 3, 1961

Regular Session.
This meeting was called to order by Pres. Daniels at 8:00 p.m. Trustees present: Baldwin, Barr, Chandler, Clark, Lixey and Paul; Invocation by the Rev. S. D. Kinde of the Chelsea Methodist Church. The minutes of the Regular Session of Sept. 19, 1961 were read and approved.
Motion by Chandler, supported by Clark, to authorize the placing of two stop signs on the Grant Street extension. Said signs to be located at the Lincoln and Summit Street corners. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Councilman Lixey reported on an industrial development meeting. Representatives of the Chelsea Industries were present to be brought up to date as to the actual function of the Industrial Development Committee. The most critical needs at the present time are desirable sites and buildings. A discussion was held regarding the possibility of the installation of three phase current for the Flanders St. ejector station. The savings to be realized by this installation would be negligible, and would be far outweighed by the installation charge. Councilman Clark recommended that three phase current should not be installed. Council concurred.

Police Chief John Palmer recommended the installation of iridescent arrows, pointing north and south, at the east end of Washington Street.
Motion by Clark, supported by Chandler, to approve the aforementioned recommendation as requested by Police Chief John Palmer. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Lixey, supported by Barr, to appoint Thomas Smith as Special Assessor for the 1961 curb, gutter, and sidewalk program. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Chandler, supported by Clark, to authorize the payment of $30.00 to T. F. Flynn for oil purchased for the Public Works Department. Roll call: Yeas, Clark, Baldwin, Barr, and Chandler. Nays, Paul. Motion carried.

Motion by Barr, supported by Baldwin, to authorize and direct the Clerk to issue checks in payment of the bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. General Fund: $5,156.18.
Motion by Paul, supported by Barr to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.
Approved: Oct. 17, 1961.

Great Lakes, Ill.—Undergoing recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., is Theodore C. Kayser, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kayser of 4701 Kaimbach Rd., Chelsea, Mich.

The nine-week training program is designed to provide a smooth transition from civilian to experienced bluejacket ready for duty with one of the fleets guarding our nation.

Instruction ranges over topics from cold weather training to naval history, and includes military drill, physical fitness and swimming. Career counseling will go on throughout training to help determine each man's naval job specialty from among the 87 choices available.

Rye Makes Good Cover Crop To Follow Corn

Corn growers can plant a cover crop of rye to good advantage immediately after the corn harvest, says Leyton Nelson, Michigan State University farm crops specialist.

"If rye follows corn or other row crops, twice-over disking should be sufficient preparation for planting," Nelson says. "This is especially true where silage has been taken off cornfields."

"Rye should be seeded at a rate of 1 1/2 to 2 bushels per acre. The rate and analysis of fertilizer to use is best determined by a soil test. Generally this is about the same as for winter wheat."

The Balbo variety is preferred for winter cover, green manure, and pasture purposes. It makes quicker growth in the fall and starts earlier in the spring than other varieties tested, Nelson says.

"Planting a cover crop is an excellent soil conservation practice," he concludes.

Credit unions are chartered by either state or federal government and operate under law and government supervision. Any group with a common bond of association such as club, church or employment can form a credit union. There should be 100 or more in the group.

Traffic Deaths Climb Through Autumn Months

As the hours of daylight grow shorter in October, November and December the brutal toll of traffic deaths and injuries rises.

James M. Hare, chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, urged drivers to take extra care to stem the rising tide of fatalities and traffic accidents in the closing months of the year.

"Despite the fact that there are hundreds of thousands fewer visitors and travelers in Michigan during these months," Hare said, "and that those that are here drive millions less miles than they do in the height of the vacation season, our highway safety problems increase as winter approaches."

Hare pointed out that in October last year traffic deaths jumped by 30 in Michigan, from 125 in 1959 to 155 in 1960.

Accidents resulting in disabling injuries also jumped at the close of the year. "In 1960 we had 7,640 November accidents, a sharp increase above the 1959 total of 5,600," Hare revealed. "In December, the worst accident month of the year, urban and rural injuries jumped from 7,535 in 1959 to 9,040 in 1960."

"If we all take it easy and drive with caution as the days get shorter," Hare says, "more Michigan citizens will be with their families when Christmas comes and not dead or in hospitals with painful injuries."

HOPES FOR B-52

There are strong possibilities that the Pentagon may reverse itself to recommend buying more B-52 bombers and push development of the 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70 bomber.

Final decision will be up to President Kennedy, acting on any recommendation Defense Secretary McNamara might make.

Air Force officials are optimistic that McNamara would change his stated opposition to spending added millions for these purposes.
