Fire Destroys
Island Lake
Road Home

A log cabin type summer home at 13876 Island Lake Rd., near West Lake, was completely destroyed by fire Thursday evening. The blaze was beyond control before the fire was noticed by a passing motorist who turned in the alarm at 9:30 p.m.

As far as could be learned, no one had been in the house for some time and cause of the fire has not been determined.

Owner of the property is Mrs. Eva Vogel of Garden City.

Both the Dexter and Chelsea fire departments were called to the scene, Chelsea Fire Chief Ted Salmer reporting that his men were out on the call until 12:30.

Jaycees Members
Complete Plans for Community Survey

Chelsea Junior Chamber of Commerce members have completed plans for the community survey they announced some time ago. Approximately 30 men of the organization will be out in force on Saturday, Jan. 20, stopping at one house in four throughout the village.

In this way they expect to interview persons in approximately 400 homes to get a representative expression of the wishes of townspeople as to what is most needed, community-wise, for a service which Jaycees might undertake to provide.

George Staffan is chairman of the Jaycees survey project.

He said yesterday that workers will leave cards at places where they find no one at home, advising them where they may contact a Jaycee member to make an appointment for an interview to suit their convenience.

How Many Area
Farms Remain
For Photographer?

Is your farm one of those that has not yet appeared in the series of "mystery farm" photos published in The Standard the past three years? If so, and you would like it to be included in a possible new series being planned, please your name and the location of your farm to The Chelsea Standard office.

We have had a number of inquiries as to why photos of certain farms have not yet appeared and to help the aerial photographer locate them we need the information requested as soon as possible.

PTA Meet
Slated for Wednesday

David Soule, president of the Chelsea PTA, is extending a special invitation to all persons of the community interested in the Chelsea schools, to attend the Jan. PTA meeting.

The meeting is to be held in the Chelsea High School Cafeteria, Wednesday, Jan. 17, beginning at 8 p.m., the program feature to be a panel discussion on the various phases of the Chelsea school program.

Soule said, "A citizens responsibility is to secure factual information, to learn what is offered by his schools and why it is offered. Every citizen is an educator to a degree, therefore, it becomes his duty to better understand the school program and its relationship to the individual, the home, and the community."

To provide an opportunity for interested persons to receive this information from qualified sources panel members were selected to represent four special areas. They are: Howard Flintoft, president of the Chelsea School Board; School Superintendent Charles Cameron; High School Principal Charles Lane, Elementary School Principal Arthur Schumaker, and John Thompson, speaking as a lay citizen.

Panel moderator is to be Mrs. Charles Winans, PTA vice-president.

Questions to be answered during the program will pertain to goals of the school system, responsibilities of the administration and school board, how the school program meets the technical needs of the students, and the responsibility of the lay citizen in developing and carrying out the goals of the school.

Fire Destroys
Garage Early
Wednesday

Chelsea firemen were called out in sub-zero weather Wednesday morning of this week to subdue a fire which destroyed a frame garage at the rear of the residence of John Myers, 412 Wilkinson St.

Also destroyed in the fire were 23 rabbits, value at over $40.00, which Mr. Myers was raising to sell. The rabbits were trapped in their cages and it was impossible to free them because of the intense flames.

The below-freezing temperature froze up the Village fire siren and Mrs. Faye Schiller, fire and police department operator, was forced to call the firemen individually by phone.

The fire started when Myers was burning some papers in a stove. He said the stove-pipe became overheated and caught fire to the baseboard ceiling of the garage.

Destroyed in the fire were several items.

To Move
Says Gelman

Contrary to widespread reports that Gelman Instrument Co. is planning to leave the Chelsea area when the firm proceeds with its rapidly increasing business, Charles Gelman, president of the firm, said yesterday that "Chelsea has proved to be an ideal spot for the business" and that he "likes the Chelsea area and the people of Chelsea and hopes eventually to find a suitable location in or near Chelsea for a new building."

Gelman expressed his satisfaction with the co-operation he has received from the Chelsea Industrial Development Committee, of which Harvey Lixey is chairman. He said he has met with the committee a number of times, the most recent meeting having taken place Wednesday evening, Jan. 3, and he feels certain that with the help of the committee, he will be successful in finding a suitable Chelsea area site for the company's proposed new building.

Gelman Instrument Co. now occupies almost 15,000 square feet of space in two former Main St. store buildings and on the second floor of a nearby building at the northeast corner of Main and Middle streets.

The company now markets more than 200 scientific instruments, many of which have undergone extensive testing in laboratories at the University of Michigan. Easy access to the University from Chelsea is another advantage of being located here, Gelman pointed out.

If present business increases in the instrument field continues, Gelman said, the firm's employment within five years could reach a total of 250 or 300 persons.

Gelman said he hopes to complete arrangements within the next few months for building a new plant here this year.

New March of Dimes
Drive off to Fast Start

Mrs. Donald Baldwin, Chelsea March of Dimes chairman, said yesterday she was "delighted" with the response of the business and organization category of the campaign.

She explained that when she opened her mail Monday she found checks totaling $115 had already been sent in. This response came even before she had completed preparation of a total of 1,938 mailers to send out in the area.

Girl Scouts had prepared 1,500 of the mailers when the supply gave out and Mrs. Baldwin had to get more from county headquarters.

Neighborhood children helped her prepare the final 438 mailers at her home. Those who worked with her are Joan Dietle who served as chairman; Chris Taylor, Suzanne Knickerbocker, Gail Foster and Lynn Faust.

Mrs. Baldwin said R. V. Worden, zone director for the Ann Arbor Bowling Association, is handling details of a New March of Dimes bowling tournament here. He is acting for both the Sylvan Lanes and Chelsea Lanes.

The county roll-off will be held at Chelsea Lanes, Feb. 11, from 1:30 until 4 p.m. The local tournament will be in progress from Jan. 18 until Jan. 31.

The March of Dimes bowling tournament is a handicap league tournament in compliance with regulations of the American Bowling Congress and Women's International Bowling Congress.

Boy Scouts are planning a peanut sale but the date has not yet been set, while the Mothers' March is scheduled for Jan. 30.

Mrs. Lawrence Dietle is chairman of the Mothers' March.

Mrs. Baldwin points out that the New March of Dimes proceeds are now designated for research related to birth defects and crippling arthritis in addition to polio.

Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Dietle were in Ann Arbor Thursday to attend the county "kick-off" at Moose Hall and heard a talk by George Voss, vice-president of the National Foundation.

The program also included a movie "Billy and Beethoven." The film is available for showing to Chelsea area groups by contacting Mrs. Baldwin a few days in advance.

Travel Series
Ticket Sales
Underway

Wallace Wood, ticket chairman for the Kiwanis-sponsored travel-adventure series, reported at Monday's regular dinner meeting of the club, that more than 240 of the season tickets had been sold during the past week—the first week they were on sale. He stressed that his report was incomplete and that the actual sales could amount to considerably more.

The travel-adventure series begins, Feb. 8, when Donald Cooper, television personality, presents his "Lumberjack's Alaskan Adventures," which he narrates and illustrates with colored moving pictures.

Three additional programs are included in the series—James Metcalf relating his experiences in the West Indies for a program March 17; Bathie Stewart, on Apr. 7, with colored pictures of New Zealand; and Julian Gromer, May 5, with his presentation entitled "Thrills on the Colorado."

Ticket sales will be limited to the seating capacity of the Chelsea High school auditorium where each of the programs will be given.

Guests at Monday's meeting included J. D. Clark of Belleville, lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis Division VI, who installed the previously-elected officers of the Chelsea club—also, Thomas Hopkin, Homer Morris and Wayne Pitcher of Belleville; Don Campbell, Edwin Greenleaf and Fred Anderson. Officers installed Monday are: A. S. Penhallegon, president; Robert Daniels, first vice-president; Wallace Wood, second vice-president; Loring Bates, treasurer; and Paul F. Niehaus, secretary.

Board members are Floyd Fowler, Ray Knickerbocker, Dr. Clure Warren, Louis Burghardt, Donald Baldwin, John Dettling and Thomas Smith.

It was announced that an inter-club meeting was to be held at Pinckney Tuesday evening and M. J. Anderson of the Chelsea club which sponsored the Pinckney club, was to install new 1962 officers. Anderson is a past governor of the Kiwanis Michigan District.

A group of Chelsea Kiwanians planned to accompany him to Pinckney.

Also announced Monday was the Kiwanis mid-winter meeting for officers to be held at Flint, Jan. 11 and 12.

The Jan. 8 meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Two Petitions
Presented for Annexations

Two more petitions for annexation of areas adjoining the Village of Chelsea have been submitted to the Village Council and these petitions will be discussed at the next regular Council meeting Tuesday, Jan. 16.

All interested persons may attend the meeting to express their opinions on the matter.

One of the petitions is for the Lane property just north of the village and the other is for the North Elementary school property.

After citizens have had the opportunity to state their views and discuss the matter, the Village Council must vote in approval; the question then goes to the Washenaw County Board of Supervisors for final action.

At the Jan. 2 Village Council meeting a petition for annexation of land south of the village was approved and now awaits action of the Board of Supervisors.

The Jan. 16 Village Council meeting begins at 8 p.m. and will be held in the Council room on the second floor of the Municipal building.

Interest Rate on Savings Accounts

Following a Chelsea State Bank Board of Directors meeting Tuesday afternoon, Paul Mann, executive vice-president and cashier, announced that the directors had taken action to increase the interest rate on savings deposits to 3 1/2 percent, retroactive to Jan. 1 and payable semi-annually.

Mann said the increase is made possible because of a recent Federal Reserve Board decision allowing local banks more rate leeway.

In addition, Mann said, the Chelsea bank will issue a "Time Certificate of Deposit" with 4 percent interest, written for one year and available in multiples of $500 additional after the first $1,000, with a maximum of $25,000 to any one customer. A time certificate must be held for 12 months to receive the 4 percent.

The interest rate increase here, Mann said, is the maximum allowed by Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and Federal Reserve Board regulations.

Sidewalks Put
To Good Use
By Ice Skaters

Chelsea, like many other communities in this area, was hard-hit by a snow-sleet storm over the week-end which closed schools and brought traffic to a near standstill on ice-coated streets and county roads.

For Chelsea's, some 1,700 elementary and high school students meant a "holiday" of ice skating on sidewalks and roadways made slick as glass by the sudden storm. It was impossible for school buses to travel on country roads so classes were halted for three days. Friday, Monday and Tuesday. A school official said buses normally transport more than 50 percent of the students in the Chelsea school district.

On Main street, most merchants noted a downturn of business over the week-end which is normally the peak business period. Many merchants, however, did a brisk business in selling salt which is used to road advantage in getting traction on sleet and ice.

Prize Stamps
To Be Placed On Exhibit

A personally-autographed set of stamps by the former Postmaster General of the United States, Arthur Summerfield, will be among the stamps to be displayed at the first stamp exhibit to be held in Chelsea on Saturday, Feb. 3.

The prized set of stamps is part of the stamp collection of Otis Titus. His collection, plus those of other members of the Chelsea Stamp club, are valued at many thousands of dollars and will be on display at the Chelsea High school from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on the day of the exhibit.

Stamps are to be arranged neatly in wooden frames and placed on tables so that each collection will be plainly visible to see. There is no admission charge.

The Chelsea Stamp club, sponsors of the exhibit, was started three years ago by the Rev. Philip Rusten, pastor of the Congregational church, Otis Titus, Paul C. Maroney, E. W. Eaton and Dr. Louis J. Paul.

Now, the club boasts a membership of more than 50 persons who meet the third Wednesday of each month in the Congregational church basement. These meetings usually take the form of discussions on current stamp collections and once in a while a guest lecturer appears. The members also use the meetings to buy or trade stamps with one another.

Mr. and Mrs. William Geddes returned Thursday from Dallas, Tex., where they visited the latter's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Max Schoenhals. Mr. and Mrs. Geddes had left here the day after Christmas.

Mourning Dove Appears
At Bird Feeding Station

Area people who make a practice of feeding birds during the cold weather include Mr. and Mrs. Roy Koch of 1240 North Fletcher Rd., who report that Tuesday a lone mourning dove appeared among the cardinals, blue jays, evening grosbeaks and others that have been feeding in their yard regularly.

At 4 p.m. Saturday the sleet caused a 10-second interruption of electrical power to Chelsea on the Consumers Power transmission line from Jackson. Consumers supplies power to Chelsea over the line and the interruption occurred only briefly after which the automatic control switched the power over to another line, according to Homer Nixon, Superintendent of the Light and Water Department.

In other area communities, however, there were reports of the sleet causing wires to come to (Continued on page three)

Governmental agencies can get pretty exasperating at times. If you've never been in business you don't know what you are missing. Besides collecting taxes for the state and Uncle Sam there are other requirements of businesses that add nothing but expenses and headaches for the guy with heavy investment trying to make a living for himself as well as his employees. For instance, you get to wondering if this is free enterprise when you get a long business census form to fill out containing a threat that if you don't return it by such and such a time you may find yourself sitting behind bars and paying a heavy fine.

Governmental agencies seem to have a penchant for waving those threats of fines and jail sentences if you don't comply. And don't think they don't ride hard on the employer to see that he takes care of all the benefits provided for the employees. They never worry about the employer so it's no wonder that a business friend of ours was prompted to write the following letter to the state industrial commission after he had received a rather threatening form in regard to workmen's compensation insurance. His only sin, if any, was that he had changed insurance companies and some office clerk apparently had only noticed the cancelled part of the transaction. To vent his vexed feelings he answered thusly:

"For the people that help me I furnish them work to put bread and butter on their tables, clothes, good cars for them to drive, nice houses to live in and etc. Some are on a 40-hour week, some 45 and I, myself, on a 73-hour week.

"I pay workmen's compensation on them. I pay for rocking chair money, if they so desire to rock—I pay 3 1/4% on their social security, the same as they, for old age (and if the state sees fit for extra money for social security slap it on the employer as he is loaded with taxes now—some more won't hurt anything, only put him deeper in debt).

"I pay them if they are sick a day or two. I pay them if they want a day off. I pay them for one-week vacation each year (my last vacation was in 1950). I work along with them and I have a nice group to work with.

"I work seven days a week and most of the time six nights a week. I worry about getting business and making ends meet to keep the doors open.

"I work for the state collecting taxes, also collect for the government without pay and if a mistake is made they want to penalize you to high heaven.

"Now I want to know as being an unpaid employer if you carry any insurance on me and if you don't, then who does, as I want to be at least in the same category as the help?"

Can you blame him? If there is any forgotten man in the legislative halls it's the small business man.

This Week's Chuckle...

The harassed kindergarten teacher was tugging away to get a much too small pair of overshoes on one of her moppets. Finally succeeding she remarked, "My, but these were hard to get on!"

"Yeth," said the little boy, "that's because they aren't mine."

With that the exasperated teacher pulled the overshoes off.

"Well," said the little boy, "they aren't mine, they're my brother's but I have to wear them."

How hard it is for a rich man to enter Heaven concerns us less than how hard it is for a poor trying to remain on earth.

Gala Opening - January 1962

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Money to operate state government, where and whom it will come from, still looms as the largest problem facing Michigan lawmakers.

The problem reached its peak during the year-long 1959 session of the legislature when state employees faced one payless payday and were threatened with others.

A $71.5 million deficit was on the books at the end of the fiscal year in July and there is no sign that the financial picture has improved since then.

Legislators this year will be hauled pressed to find new sources of revenue to meet the demands for government services.

In the 1961 budget-writing process, The Democratic administration and the Republican legislature were far apart on estimates of how much was needed and the amount which would be available for operations.

It is still a matter of conjecture as to which was right, but the two sides now appear to be closer together on at least one point: that more money is needed than is available.

Recent meetings of both parties brought forth general agreement that Michigan's citizen want services not now available under the present revenue pattern.

If new money is to be forthcoming, the only unanswered question remaining is to find the most equitable means to tax Michigan citizens to provide it.

Some Republicans feel minimal opposition to the nuisance taxes which were allowed to expire last July. Indicated these might be desirable areas to impose new, permanent levies.

The beer and liquor, telephone and telegraph, and cigarette and tobacco interests, of course, contend their products and services are already taxed beyond reasonable limits. And there is some justification for their stand.

Pessimists predicted last year that if the four percent sales tax were approved, it would soon be boosted again and again and again. There were no indications from any quarters that this was being considered.

The business community now complains loudly and with agreement in both parties that its taxes are already too high.

Many Republican lawmakers have been heard in recent weeks to say an income tax might be the lesser of the several undesirable alternatives.

Gov. John B. Swainson, who proposed this method to the 1961 legislature as part of his fiscal reform program, said he welcomed this stand by some members of the opposition party.

"We haven't seen their votes on the board yet, however," he said. "Speeches sometimes are not backed up when the voting buttons are pushed."

Swainson is sticking to his position that he will not approve an income tax alone, however.

"This would not be the answer," he said. "The total picture of our tax structure must be taken into account."

Recognition by both parties could mean they are ready to sit down and seriously discuss how to put Michigan back on the black side of the ledger.

CON-CON REPORT

Lansing — The Constitutional Convention's Committee on Local Government's session into a marathon week-end session Friday determined to continue working until it has finalized the major portion of its work.

Committee Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. (R., Pleasant Ridge) said his committee voted to begin final deliberations immediately after the general convention session Friday.

"We'll meet Friday evening and all-day Saturday and Sunday, with time out for church, in an effort to identify and resolve most of our problems," Elliott said.

Elliott said he anticipates "some difficulty" in reaching agreement on constitutional provisions on county and township home rule and annexation.

"But I am confident that members will submerge their personal opinions and cooperate in writing a local government article that will stand the test of decades to come," he said.

Elliott summed up his Committee's performance to date as "excellent."

"There has been a general desire to do a good job. We have been exposed to all points of view, and, I feel, are now prepared to resolve the problems before us," he said.

Meantime, the Committee on Rights, Suffrage and Elections moved closer to the completion of its work today.

Chairman James K. Pollock (R., Ann Arbor) said he anticipates that all committee proposals will be completed within two weeks.

A revised basic Declaration of Rights, which the committee completed prior to the Christmas recess, is being worked over by other committees which have concurrent jurisdiction on certain provisions.

Pollock expressed doubt that the committee would recommend any

Mr. and Mrs. William Manes of Mt. Clemens, called Saturday afternoon at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Edna Faulkner. Earlier in the week, Mrs. Faulkner's granddaughter, Catherine Bull, was an overnight guest. She stopped here after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bull, at Luther, and was enroute to Clifton Forge, Va., where she is a student at the C & O Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laban returned home Thursday after spending four days at Schiller Park near Chicago as guests of their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and children. They were accompanied there by their son, Airman Second Class Richard Laban who had been home on furlough since Dec. 23. He spent New Year's day with the family there before continuing his trip back to Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska, where he is stationed.

Weather... Horrible...

Chelsea school students had what amounted to an extension of their Christmas vacation after the storm struck. They had returned from the holiday vacation period only Wednesday and had just two days of school before the storm forced cancelling classes. Classes were expected to resume Wednesday of this week.

Among the unusual aspects of the storm were such scenes as children ice skating on the sidewalks and adults forsaking the usual safe-walking path of the sidewalk for the rougher but much safer lawn areas.

Health Department Reports Sharp Rise in Hepatitis Cases

A sharp rise in the number of infectious hepatitis cases in Washtenaw county has been reported during 1961 to the county Health Department, it was disclosed this week.

The number of cases reported during the year was 119—more than in any previous year, the department reported. This was 39 more cases than reported to the department in 1958, a year in which the incidence of the disease was called "an explosive outbreak."

The health department reports that 27 cases of hepatitis, a disease of the liver, occurred in Sylvan township, which includes the Village of Chelsea. However, no cases of the disease were reported in the township in the last four months. The peak period, according to the department, came last January when nine cases occurred. The second peak period occurred in March when six cases were reported. Other months in which hepatitis occurred were Feb. 1, April, 1; May, 3; June, 4; July, 2; and Aug. 1.

There were 17 cases of the disease reported during 1961 in Scio, Lima, Dexter and Webster townships, which border the Village of Dexter. The highest incidence was reported in Dexter township where 13 of the 17 cases occurred. The other four cases were reported in Scio township. There were no cases reported in either Lima or Webster townships for the year.

Ten of the 13 hepatitis cases reported in Dexter township came during the first six months of the year, from January through June. Single cases occurred in September, October and December.

Over the United States the disease has also showed a sharp upturn and the highest incidence since 1954 has been reported. In the year just ending 72,559 cases of hepatitis were reported in the U.S. as compared to 50,093 in 1954, a previous peak year.

A county health official attributed the large increase to inadequate sanitation facilities in fast-expanding subdivision building.

He said too many cases are occurring where the homebuilder has failed to provide for adequate sewage drainage in septic tank areas.

One of the symptoms of hepatitis, the "washed out, achy feeling," is similar in nature to the flu, although there the similarity ends, Howard Hilton, public relations director for the Washtenaw County Health Department, said. Although both hepatitis and the flu are caused by viruses the means of transmitting the disease are radically different, Hilton said.

The virus in flu is transmitted directly through the air from the respiratory tract while the virus in hepatitis is transmitted by contact through the hands, or some other means, with such things as contaminated food, etc.

He advised that the best preventative for hepatitis is "old-fashioned, no-nonsense-to-goodness" cleanliness. Such habits as washing the hands thoroughly after going to the bathroom, before eating, and general cleanliness, will go a long way towards preventing hepatitis, he said.

He said the disease is very hard to detect and laboratory tests provide about the only certain way to diagnose it. In the advanced form of the disease the person contracts a "yellowish" appearance when jaundice has set in. He advised that it is better to start treatment of the disease before it reaches this period.

Although hepatitis in itself is not usually a fatal disease there can be serious complications or after-effects if the treatment is not started early enough, he said. Therefore, persons who are suffering from symptoms of the disease are advised by the Health Department to contact their family physician.

The Japs is perfecting a wingless chicken and the Russians is at work on a barkless dog. Here in this country we're working on a plan to get square eggs, and the next step, I reckon, will be to de-hoat the owl and dewhiny the horse.

But it's them Czechs that has gone too far. In one of them pamphlets I got last week from the Agriculture Department it says the Czechs is working on a "har-mone" that'll keep hens from cackling. They claim hens that don't cackle and cluck lays more eggs.

The pore old hen, Mister Editor, don't ask nothing fer her services but a little chicken feed and the right to cackle. She don't get petted or applauded fer her daily offering, and if she don't produce, she winds up in the oven. All she's got in this wide-world is her cackle and her cluck. It's beginning to look like they ain't nothing sacred to them science fellers.

And the piece from the Agriculture Department didn't say, but I reckon the same "har-mone" that takes the cackle out of the hen will take the crow out of the rooster. Fer oldtimers like me, the barn yard is apt to be a mighty lonely place afore them science fellers git through with it.

It's al sad though fer 1962, almost as sad as them cartoons you see in all the papers showing a new-born baby with a 1962 halo around his head. The pore little feller don't know it but he's gitting it rough right from the start. They spanked him to git him breathing, then they stuck a $1,800 assessment of the national debt on his head.

Well, Mister Editor, I got to quit now and go feed my pigs. I hear some of 'em grunting and that's a shore sign they is hungry. It could be that all the grunting makes their hams tough, and them science fellers is probably already working on a "har-mone" to de-grunt 'em afore another NEW YEAR.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

oral pieces of furniture, mattresses and bedding and a trunk-full of hunting clothing.

The sub-zero temperatures brought no difficulty with the fire department's equipment but most firemen fighting the fire were covered from neck to feet with a sheeting of ice over their clothing. Only the shell of the building remained after the fire. The interior walls, ceiling, etc., were completely burned out. Myers said the loss was insured.

Forestry Programs Included In MSU Farmers' Week

The 100,000 people who work in Michigan's forestry and forest products industries will find many interesting sessions during Farmers' Week at Michigan State University, Jan. 29-Feb. 2.

More than 40,000 people from farm, town and city will attend the annual event. This year's theme, "A Century of Land Grant Progress," recognizes the centennial of the land grant system, which was born at MSU.

"Wood goes into an amazing variety of household items," points out Richard Jorgensen, Michigan State University forest products specialist. "Doodknobs, pestomats and bottlecaps all include some wood derivative."

Paul Bunyan declined in Michigan several decades ago when fire and excess cutting depleted virgin forests. But he's coming back. That fact is symbolized by a Thursday afternoon program on logging and chain saws now used by the modern Bunyans.

Tuesday's forestry session is devoted to the Christmas tree industry. About 12,000 Michigan growers plant roughly 80 million Christmas trees annually. These trees have particular value because they thrive on land not suitable for most farm crops.

On Wednesday, the maple syrup industry will hold the spotlight. A slide presentation will depict maple syrup time in Michigan.

Forester Putnam Robbins and microbiologist Ralph Costlow will discuss a germicide pellet they have developed for maple syrup tap-holes. The pellet kills microorganisms that shorten the harvest season. This could someday boost yields as much as 40 per cent.

Fallout Protection Booklet Now Available Through Post Office

Civil Defense fallout protection bulletins are available at the Chelsea Post Office for patrons of the office, according to an announcement by Postmaster Carl Mayer.

He said they are being distributed, upon request, one to a family.

The bulletins, in the form of a 5x7-inch booklet, give detailed information which has been verified by independent scientific authority which the Federal Civil Defense department recommends as giving "the American people facts they need to know about the dangers of thermonuclear attack and what they can do to protect themselves."

Also described is the national civil defense program; emergency housekeeping; individual action which may be taken to provide family shelters; and many other pertinent facts.

The University of Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project is a broad program of research in peacetime uses of atomic energy and its facilities and program are financed by private gifts which to date have exceeded $10 million.

Reports of delayed deaths will slightly increase the totals for December and the year.

Business Booms In Chelsea-Dexter Area, Says Report

Business is on the go in the Chelsea and Dexter areas, according to a news report by Dunn Bradstreet, nationally known credit agency.

The report states that over 15-year period, from Jan. 1944 to Jan. 1962, the number of requests for business financial statements increased from 87 in Chelsea and from 84 in Dexter. Each year Dunn Bradstreet requests a financial statement from each owner of a business enterprise.

When the statement is filled in, it becomes part of a credit report on his business as a factor in determining the credit rating of his business.

According to the figures released by Dunn & Bradstreet a business growth of 10.3 percent would apply to Chelsea and 56.4 percent to Dexter, based on the number of requests for financial statements.

Washnetow county, according to the report, lists a business population increase of 38 percent. Requests for financial statements were mailed to 1,487 Washnetow county businesses in 1947, and the figure increased to 2,003 for 1962.

Truth has only to change him a few times to become fiction.

Many Generous Gifts Make Successful Year for Library

McKune Memorial Library received 1961 indicate that "very generous giving" of many people helped the Library Board carry out a most successful program for the year.

Mrs. E. W. Eaton, Library Board president, commenting on the subject, said the "giving" has included money, furniture, plants, evergreens, lighting, maintenance work, a coffee urn for the club room and books for the memorial book shelf, as well as volunteer service of all kinds.

Foremost on the list of donations is additional space for the adult section of the library, now in the process of construction adjoining the north side of the library building. Cost of the new addition is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels. Furnishings for the new addition are the gift of Central Fibre Products, Inc.

In addition to these major contributions there has been an anonymous endowment fund gift of $1,000.

Among the organizations and individuals who have contributed a total amount of approximately $750 in cash; also, services and material in undetermined amount, are the Women's club, Friends of the Library, and the Community Chest, Show Boat project, A. D. Mayer Memorial Fund, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leonard, the Rev. Harvey Pearce, Chelsea Child Study club, Sylvan Flower Shop, Chelsea Camera club and William Hitchingham.

A total of 47 books, contributed during the year as memorials to friends and relatives, includes one given by Anthony Juergens in memory of his long-time friend and co-worker for 20 years at Central Fibre Products, Inc., the late Walfrid Impola. Juergens paid for the special book with the $19 prize money he received for winning second place in the 1960 Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting contest, adding an additional $10 of his own.

Mrs. Eaton, speaking for the Library Board, expressed appreciation that "the community is so concerned for the welfare of the library." The unsolicited contributions make possible the extras which receipts of the tax money do not cover.

Chelsea's library, in common with most community libraries, must operate on a minimum budget; their biggest problem being "lack of sufficient money." For this reason, Mrs. Eaton said, the generous contributions of the people and organizations here are doubly appreciated.

None of the contributions thus received are ever put into the general fund; all are used for the specific purposes for which they are given by donors.

Mrs. Eaton credits the Chelsea Friends of the Library, founded 12 years ago, with creating consciousness for the welfare of the library, prompting the many gifts of time, talent, service and money.

Farm Council Annual Meet Set Tuesday

Washtenaw County Farm Council annual meeting date has been set for Tuesday, Jan. 16; 8:00 p.m. Rooms 1 and 2 County Building, Ann Arbor.

Farm Council is the county-wide organization which owns and operates the Activities Center located on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. The council represents all the people of the county, and any adult citizen in the county may become a voting member in the association by paying annual dues of $1.00. Raymond, Girbach of Saline, president of Farm Council, urges all people in the county interested in the center and its future to attend the annual meeting and become an active supporter of the center.

The center is recognized as one of the finest facilities of its kind in the State of Michigan. It was built primarily to serve the agricultural and horticultural interests of the county.

Although plans for the future include greater flexibility of use, it has been used primarily in the past for county 4-H club show, horse, cattle, rabbit, dog shows, extension educational meetings and demonstrations, sales, and group meetings.

In August, 1961 the State Holstein-Friesian dairy cattle show was held at the center. State officials estimated more than one million dollars worth of cattle were on exhibit at this show. The center will again be the site for the 1962 State Holstein-Friesian show.

Leonard Burmeister, secretary-treasurer of Farm Council, states the board of directors will discuss plans for major improvements in the center.

A HUNTING TALE
Roseburg, Ore. — A 150-pound black bear charged Edgar Nichols after he had shot and wounded it. Nichols wrestled with the bear and finally called to his son, Harry, to cut the bear's throat. The lad of 14 became overly excited and cut his father's thigh instead. Finally the bear was killed, and Nichols had to be taken to a doctor where eight stitches were required to close the wound in his thigh.

Lasting from Sunday to Sunday the conference will be held in co-operation with six other churches in the greater Jackson area: Eaton Street Baptist, Albion; Omega Bible, Jonesville; Hanover Baptist; Vandercook Baptist; Rives Baptist; and the Springport Baptist church.

The missionaries, who serve under inter-denominational faith mission boards, come from Korea, Dutch New Guinea, Venezuela, India, Italy, France and Alaska.

Perhaps typical of the type of missionary is the Rev. Ralph E. Maynard who has served under the Unevangelized Fields Mission in Dutch New Guinea. As the name of the mission board suggests it sends its representatives to fields where there has been no knowledge of the gospel. The Rev. Maynard, with three missionary co-workers, trekked to a people who had never heard the gospel nor had they ever previously seen a white man. These were naked, stone-age natives who inhabit a large portion of the central highlands of the island. Their first task was to make a landing strip for the receiving of supplies. The missionary Aviation Fellowship, a missionary service agency that has been recently praised by Governor Rockefeller of New York for his efforts in the search for his son who was lost in this area.

The conference will include a symposium at the Vandercook Baptist church on Friday evening, Jan. 26, which will feature all the missionaries and co-operating churches. Also a part of the conference is the banquet Saturday evening at the Rives Baptist church.

Pastors David Wood of the Chelsea church and Carmen Carpenter of the North Sharon church extend a welcome to all area residents to attend.

JUST A LITTLE MORE

Many drivers will tell us to use a little more anti-freeze when we winterize their cars. This is a good idea to a point, but did you know that too much permanent anti-freeze can have the same effect as too little?

Ethylene Glycol which is the base for practically all permanent type anti-freeze, reduces its freezing point down to a certain point as you mix it with water, and then it begins to go up. For example, this chemical will freeze by itself at around zero F. That's why it's important to use the right amount for your particular car radiator and heater capacity.

Drive over to FOOR MOBIL SERVICE for accurate services in this line. We'll check your car's hoses, plugs, clamps, water pump and radiator, too. You'll drive out of 520 South Main Street ready for the coldest weather. We'll guarantee it.

What Price Potent Pills

(Note: This is one in a series of articles by Paul L. Adams, State Attorney General, concerning fraudulent activities of consumers of this State.)

One of the most frequent sources of complaint from victims of schemes is that of the wonder pills of food and drug promotion which will make its taker young, strong and irresistible. Many of the promoters of these cure-all advertise in nationally circulated family magazines in such a way that they are beyond the reach of state law enforcement officers.

If you are tempted to solve your nutritional and medical problems by a short course wonder pills ordered by mail, you will be well advised to check the nutritional claims with a doctor and with the local representative of the United States Food and Drug Administration. You are advised to check closely on the price. Michigan residents are complaining to my office not only concerning the nutritional claims of these bottle-pushers, but also concerning misrepresentation of price. For example, one "month plan" advertised at $147 per mailing resulted in a buyer receiving a bill for $5.88 plus cents mailing for a month's supply.

I suggest that you watch your health and your pocketbook in judging these nutritional "Food of Youth" plans, and that you report any misrepresentation in content or price to this office or to the United States Food and Drug Administration.

The bride's gown was the one worn by her sister, Mrs. Carl Klink, at her wedding. Fashioned of bouquet taffeta and chantilly lace, style features of the gown were a sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins and seed pearls; long tapered sleeves of the lace and a chapel train which was an extension of the lace used for the lower portion of the skirt.

The bridegroom's brother, Ronald G. Borders, assisted as best man and Robin Wright and Ronald Bramham were additional attendants of the bridegroom.

Red Cross Calls Work Meeting for County Board

County Board

Washtenaw county's Red Cross governing board will be called upon to make some far-reaching policy decisions when it convenes Thursday, Jan. 11 at the call of Chapter Chairman James M. Davis. The session will begin with a 6:30 p.m. dinner at the YM-YWCA in Ann Arbor, bringing together members of the Board of Directors from each township and city in the county.

Key leaders from among the 1500-strong corps of volunteer workers in this county-wide service organization will be special to present background information on the current service demand problems for which solutions are being sought. The anticipated operations center of the new operations center will spotlight the discussions.

Because of the urgency of the increasing service demands which will take the Board members full attention, no program or special event is scheduled for this "working session" of the governing unit.

Representing the Chelsea area on the Board of Directors of the Red Cross are Mrs. J. B. Casey, Harold A. Jones, Mrs. John Brooks —Representing the Dexter are on the Board of Directors of the Red Cross are: Albert Samborn, Mrs. Fred Wheeler, Mrs. John Yeakel, and Mrs. Virgil Walling. Local members of the County Red Cross are urged to contact their delegate to voice their suggestions.

The Internal Revenue Service today denied taxpayers another new two-page Form 1040 which combines the better features of the 1980 Form 1040 and the continued Form 1040W.

R. I. Nixon, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced that page one of the new Form 1040 provides space for listing the sources of income, computation of tax, a listing of tax payments and credits, and a computation of tax due or refund. The director added that page two provides a schedule for listing exemptions and various schedules for itemized

It was further pointed out that the schedules for reporting various types of income which previously appeared on pages 3 and 4 of the Form 1040 will be contained in a separate Schedule B for 1961. This schedule need only be completed and attached to the Form 1040 when required.

Director Nixon feels that the revised Form 1040 should make the preparation of tax returns much easier for those individuals who previously filed on Forms 1040 and 1040W.

Representative Edward J. Derwinski (R-III.) has asked for legislation to top what he termed the "flood of Red mail pouring into the homes of United States citizens."

The Chicago Republican, a member of the House Post Office Committee, said the post office continues to deliver Communist propaganda free, while Iron Curtain countries frequently reject properly stamped personal mail from the United States.

LOAN TO BRAZIL

The new Agency for International Development has made its first loan a credit of $50,000,000 to Brazil to help correct a serious foreign trade deficit.

The AID had agreed last May to grant a total of $338,000,000 to Brazil. This is the first installment.

The Brazilian government is drafting a master plan for long-term development of resources, expansion of trade, and tax and land reforms.

Gelman To Handle British-Made Line Of Flowmeters

Gelman Instrument Company today announced the signing of a distribution agreement with Platon Ltd., of Croydon, Surrey, England. Gelman has been appointed exclusive United States distributor for industrial gas and liquid flowmeters manufactured by Platon.

These flowmeter devices are widely used for measurement of flow of all types of fluids. It is reliably estimated that the total usage of this type of meter in the United States is presently in excess of 18,000,000. The sales presently are almost completely dominated by three companies.

In making the announcement, Charles Gelman, president of Gelman Instrument, stated: "The almost unbelievably high quality of the Platon flowmeter will place us in a position to offer a better unit at prices comparable to domestic prices. Platon has developed special equipment to make these meters in large volume without sacrificing of high quality. We are aiming to capture a modest 10 percent of the present market in a period of three years. We believe we will also open up new uses for these flowmeters in devices as widely varied as anesthesia equipment, vending machines and commercial air conditioners."

Gelman manufactures a wide line of scientific laboratory apparatus, radiation measuring devices, bio-medical equipment and testing instruments. The firm presently sells selected apparatus for four other European manufacturers in addition to its own manufactured line.

DELEGATES GO BACK TO SCHOOL—Confronted with an overwhelming amount of reading material daily, delegates to the Constitutional Convention requested assistance from Michigan State University. Through the cooperation of Delegate John A. Hannah, president of M.S.U., a five-week course in Rapid and Efficient Reading is being

Evangelical Parishes Hold Annual Meets

St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church held its annual congregational meeting Sunday.

Principal business was the election of Theodore Faust and Eldine Eisele as members of the church council to succeed Duane Hall and Paul G. Schaible, Jr., whose terms had expired.

Other business at the meeting included acceptance and approval by the congregation of a church board recommendation that the council be increased by two members, beginning with the January, 1963 term. This provides for an eight-member board instead of the present six-member board.

The congregation also voted to hold the annual church get-together Thursday, Feb. 8.

Following the congregational meeting the church council met to organize for the year and re-elected David Strieter, president, and Mrs. Ellsworth Smith, treasurer.

Other officers named at the organizational meeting are Paul Seitz, vice-president; Lawrence Gorton, secretary; Eldine Eisele, financial secretary; and Theodore Faust, chief usher.

Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church also held its annual congregational meeting Sunday.

Officers of the church council for the coming year are Louis Vogel, president; Earl Mann, vice-president; Leon Heimerdinger, secretary; Willard Kuebler, treasurer; Roy Bihlmeyer, financial secretary; Louell Boehm, altar chairman; and Arthur Braun, cemetery committee representative.

It was also decided at Sunday's meeting to make a change in the church's constitution relative to the voting age of members. Voting age is to be lowered from 21 to 18 years.

New officers already named at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners will be installed at the worship service Sunday, Jan. 14. They are George Prizing, Ernest Wenk and Melbourne Moore, church council members, and Edwin Hornung, member of the cemetery board.

The annual business meeting of the congregation was scheduled for last night (Wednesday) at Zion Lutheran church. The congregational church has scheduled its annual meeting of the congregation for Sunday, Jan. 14, following a noon pot-luck dinner.

Witnesses Will Attend Convention in Jackson

The 34 members of the Chelsea congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have made final arrangements to attend three days of special training in the ministry at Jackson, Jan. 12-14. Raymond P. Tyskiewicz said that the conclave would give practical suggestions for improving Bible understanding and methods of public preaching. He is to assist in the First Aid department at the three-day convention.

Adequate Freeway Signs Should Help Motel Business

Washington—How will motels be affected by controlled-access highways?

Federal Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton told the American Motor Hotel Association recently that on the basis of present experience the number of roadside businessmen adversely affected is small.

He said these businesses suffer less than anticipated and only for a short while.

"The important fact to keep in mind is that total travel will increase and the federal-aid highway program will accelerate that increase," Whitton said.

"Highway travel is the life blood of businesses catering to the needs of motorists, providing fuel, food and shelter."

"These services will be sold to the motorists... regardless of whether they are provided directly alongside the through-traffic lanes of the freeway or elsewhere."

"There is another factor to allay any possible fears of motel owners. Not only will there be an increase in total travel, but the existing arterial routes on which motor hotels are located are not allowed to deteriorate."

Whitton said that adequate signing on new freeways is a problem and suggested that a committee of AMHA work on this with the American Association of State Highway Officials.

"As more and more miles of controlled access highways are opened to traffic," Whitton said, "more experience will be gained regarding the habits of drivers, the effectiveness of signing and the effects on business along existing highways."

"Motor hotel owners as well as highway officials will be carefully watching the results."

The University of Michigan admitted its first class of students in 1841.
