Intellectuals Do Nation Disservice by Calling Survival Plans 'Road to War'

A group of Princeton University professors, in an open letter to President John F. Kennedy, has raised a basic question concerning bomb shelters. About 100 Princeton and Institute for Advanced Study professors signed the letter.

Among other things the letter argued that Russia would not sit idly by while the United States built an underground shelter system. It also argued that by building such a system the government would condition the American people to the possibilities and acceptance of nuclear war and make it more probable.

The professors called concentration on a shelter program the channeling of the people's energy in the wrong direction, for the wrong reasons and also concluded that a nuclear war "is highly unlikely."

The letter is disturbing because it is both unrealistic and idealistic, and refuses to face the basic facts of life, and history. The United States must think about, and build shelters, since war is a possibility. We need not argue how much of a chance there is war will erupt. That does not matter. As long as there is a chance, and as long as the people are better off in shelters than without them, the shelters should be built.

In summary, the more prepared we are for war, the better our chances of survival, the least likely we are to be attacked. The history of aggressor nations teaches nothing more clearly than that the weak and the unprepared invite aggression and that weakness, unpreparedness and appeasement cause wars and encourage attacks from aggressors.

Poll Shows Strong Feeling for Second Basic Language in All Schools

The Gallup-Poll recently quizzed Americans on the question of school children in all countries learning a second, common language. An overwhelming majority (84%) said they thought the idea was a good one.

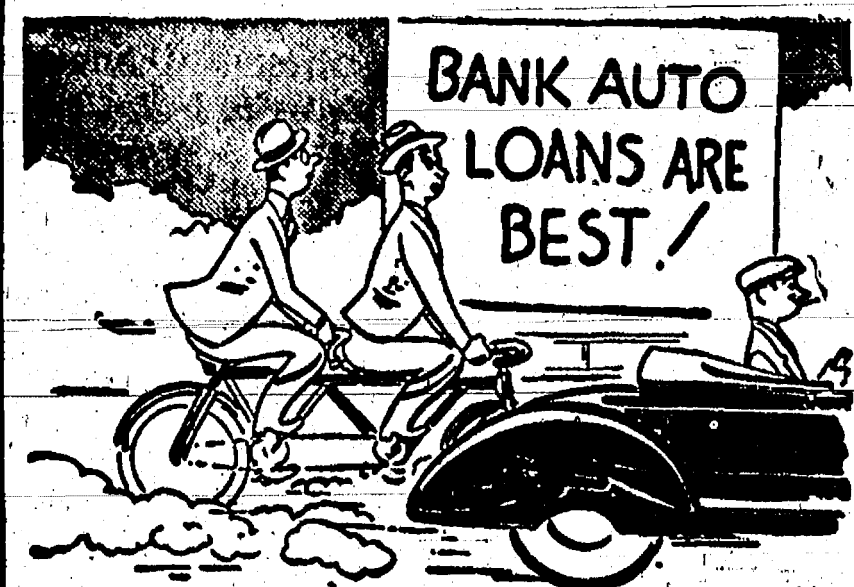

The proposal for all school children to learn a second language has been advanced as a means of increasing world understanding. Since world travel has increased tremendously and since the language barrier remains, it is hoped that a common language could be adopted by all nations, or most of them, so as to facilitate understanding, trade, travel and progress.

Those who propose the end result, however, do not always agree on what the common language should be. Some believe a new combination language should be introduced in the schools of various countries. In a generation, the people of those countries would be conversing with each other in a common tongue.

Others favor the use of English, French, German, Spanish or Russian. It would seem that English, spoken by two of today's nuclear powers, and the leading democratic power, the United States, would be the logical language. It is the language spoken in the country where the United Nations is located and it is understood in all parts of Asia and Africa by some, because of the vast colonialization of Great Britain. It is also the language of the nation which achieved real democracy first among the world's great powers, and in which roots of democratic law are strong and old.

English, then, is the logical world language. But a combination language would be preferable to no second language program at all.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

The constitutional convention gave itself a challenging March 31 adjournment date some time ago, but now faces the question of whether it can meet its self-imposed cutoff date.

A legislative appropriation last year provided enough funds to pay delegates their $500 semi-monthly salary through May, but the elected members of the convention decided they should attempt to finish their work earlier.

The decision was sharply influenced by an attorney general's opinion which stated March 31 would be the last day the convention could work if it wanted to get its proposed constitution on the November ballot, when state officers will be elected.

Now, with some months of committee work and several hours of heated debate behind them, the delegates are beginning to realize the sharp limitations of the March 31 deadline.

The validity of the Attorney General's opinion is also being challenged as it becomes apparent the cutoff date might mean a less than fully considered document could result from the short session.

Michigan's present constitution gives the 1961-62 convention the power to put its proposal before the people any time 90 days, or longer after the time it adjourns. For the November ballot, this would put the cutoff date at August.

Attendance record of the delegates is excellent. According to Lloyd Ashe, a Lansing man who has kept track of legislators for years, says Con-Con delegates have been present for a remarkable 92 percent of the time in the first 48 days during 1961. Thus far in 1962, their record is better still: 97 percent.

Delegates who had no previous political experience in deliberative bodies are just now beginning to see the full process unfold. The convention sessions have been long and tedious for committee members who have gone over and over the material in their report and must review the entire committee considerations for the rest of the delegates.

Some of the less experienced have expressed concern over the fact that committee reports are not summarily accepted as the best possible proposals.

Partisan squabbles, not always fully brought out during the committee hearings, have tied up and delayed several of the meaty proposals which have reached the floor.

Limitation of debate has been viewed to this point with great disdain but would appear to be one of the few ways to meet the March 31 deadline, if delegates want to meet it.

Honest appraisal of many of the speeches given by delegates on the floor leaves no doubt that the delegates are not only intelligent but also well-informed.

Time could be a great improvement. Time could be saved and process could be realized.

There is much to be said for and against setting limits on floor debate. Most deliberative bodies, however, find it imperative to take this action when faced with considerations of time.

The delegates, through their hard work to date and apparently sincere interest in presenting a thoughtfully considered document to the people, have a very good public image.

If it is to remain a good image, it would appear they must make some quick decisions on whether they want to meet this deadline and the best way to do it.

Putting off tomorrow is a habit which quickly lowers a person or group in its effectiveness. This tactic could easily present more problems to the delegates than they already face.

Drilling holes in new highways would appear to the average motorist to be an inconsistency of government, but state highway officials report this activity is a method of insuring safe roadways.

Department workers last year drilled about 3,000 holes in brand new highways.

Six-inch cores are cut from new sections of highway to determine whether contractors have met the construction specifications.

Freeway construction specifications, for example, generally call for the thickness of concrete to be nine inches. Reinforcing steel must be placed in the concrete three inches below the pavement surface.

The cores drilled are measured for thickness and subjected to a weight test at the department's laboratory at Ann Arbor. Each sample core must hold up under 100,000 pounds of pressure equivalent to more than 25 regular sized cars.

Any variations from the specifications can mean the department does not pay a contractor the full paving cost. Department officials report few shortages are found.

Red Cross Plans First Aid Course For Instructors

A Red Cross First Aid Instructor training course is scheduled to start Feb. 15 in room 205, Ypsilanti High school, at 7:30 p.m. according to the Safety Services section of the Washtenaw county chapter of the Red Cross.

The seven-week program is being offered free by Red Cross with the co-operation of the Adult Evening Programs division of the Ypsilanti public school and will be under the direction of Miss Gertrude Montgomery, volunteer instructor-trainer and faculty member of Eastern Michigan University.

The program is designed to train qualified First Aiders to teach the lifesaving skills they have mastered. The prerequisites for instructor-training are: completion of the Red Cross Advanced First Aid course since 1959; be at least 20 years of age; and be willing to teach First Aid to others.

The Red Cross office pointed out that this course is just one of several courses being offered in the public interest to help train county residents to save lives and is only possible because of the continued support given the Red Cross through community support of the United Fund appeals in the county.

Anyone interested should call the Red Cross office at 662-5546 for registration information.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

All the fellows at the country store Saturday night announced they were getting their pencils whittled for the annual hassle with the Great White Father in Washington. Farmers and ranchers has to get their income tax report in on February 15, two months afore everybody else. Ed Doolittle claims this is on account of it taking them Revenue folks a heap longer to separate the figgers from the facts in a farmer's report.

Bug Hookum was lamenting that back when he was a boy country folks didn't have nothing to worry about in February, but the ground hog. All crops was governed for the next 40 days on the ground hog situation. And some note was also took in those days that Abe Lincoln and George Washington was born in February.

But in 1902, claims Bug, the ground hog is afraid to make any move on account of the fallout and you don't hear much more about Abe and George.

I reckon, Mister Editor, Bug is about right. For the farmers nowadays, February means it's time to subtract Item 3 from Item 5 and Enter On Line 14 On Page One.

The fellows was all agreed that the world is moving along. Ed Doolittle allowed as how folks has never went faster without knowing where. He says civilized man has about give up all important business except getting prepared to shoot at each other.

Zeke Grubb claims the whole thinking machinery of Americans has been overhauled for the worse in the last 25 years. For instant, he says everybody is now a expert on international affairs and folks that can't tell you their county tax rate can tell you down to the penny how much foreign aid we sent to Cambodia in 1961. It's that big thinking, allows Zeke, that has bring on a heap of our woes.

Clem Webster claims our colleges is to blame for this sharp trend to fancy thinking. He says we got colleges all over the country teaching agriculture when anybody knows that book farming ain't no good unless it's hitched to a plow.

Ed Doolittle agreed with Clem, said he was reading a piece in the papers the other day where some college was giving a course in the "Science of Matrimony." Ed allowed as how this was trying to teach the unteachable, that Solomon himself, with all his wives, couldn't teach matrimony.

But everybody was agreed, Mister Editor, that America is still a great country. It was made great by country boys moving to town and town boys moving farms to get tax reductions.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Youngsters Learn to Share In Co-Op Nursery Activities

Do you wonder what goes on at the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery each Tuesday and Thursday? Each morning from 9:00 to 11:00 a group of three-year-old children arrive. Each afternoon they are replaced by an equally exuberant group of four-year-olds. "Miss Jane" knows each one well, greets each at the door and the program begins. The shy ones, the wild ones, the "talkers" and the quiet ones all meet together to enjoy each other—and learn what it means "to share," "take turns" and have a part in a group activity. Here is one child's answer to Mom's query "What did you do in nursery today?"
I was the Fire Chief today

"(past past," he said, as those he sprayed). Saved Mary Beth and Jodi, too and that other girl, you know who, the one dressed up for a trip to town in beads, high heels, and a fancy gown.
Ronnie made a great wide road. Kim piled the truck with a big high load. We rested on our rugs a bit. Then had some juice. My boots don't fit! I couldn't get them on myself! Then Merry's mom walked to the shelf and took her doll in hand. She played for us. Boy, it was grand.
Oh here's the snowman that I made—Did you ever see an egg get layed?—Those birds that we see out the window, Miss Jane told about them—OH! I almost forgot to tell our rhythm band was surely swell.
I guess that's all we did today. Mom, when's your turn to go and stay? Next Thursday! Oh hooray, hooray!
If any parent is interested in enrolling his child, now is the time to investigate the advantages of the nursery program. Mrs. Duane Crouch, GR 9-5221, membership chairman, will be pleased to provide further information.

1. Compact Mercury COMET. Lively, frisky, nimble! Comet scoots up hills, scampers through traffic. A choice of two engines. For extra power—the brilliant Mercury Comet 170 "6". For extra economy—the Mercury Comet "6". For extra resale value, too, Mercury Comet leads all the compacts!

2. New standard-size Mercury METEOR. A top performer thanks to Meteor's balance of size, weight, and power. Three great engines: gas-torching Meteor "6," 221 V-8, and hot new 260 V-8. Big-car features at compact prices—more than half of all compact models are priced above the Meteor 2-door sedan.

3. The big Mercury MONTEREY. Here's sizzler enough to warm the heart of any man. Up to 405 horsepower if you like. Your choice of five sizes: a Monterey "6," a 292 V-8, a 352 V-8, a 390 V-8, and a magnificent all-new mile-melting Mercury Marauder 406—the most advanced V-8 engine in America.

Program Traces Infection Source At Milan School

A program of interest to Wash-tenaw county residents and of special interest to Milan area residents will be seen on WXYZ-TV (Channel 7) at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 25.

At that time, Dr. Otto K. Engelke, county health officer and Dr. Horace J. Dodge, epidemiologist with the School of Public Health will be interviewed concerning the histoplasmosis study in Milan.

Dr. Engelke and Dr. Dodge will summarize the activities and findings in the Milan study which revealed that 98 percent of the senior class in the high school in 1958 reacted to injections of histoplasma.

The study included three years of study including soil sampling, skin testing, interviewing and X-ray studies of reactors.

Late in 1960, Dr. Engelke announced to the board of education in Milan that the source of the infection had been traced to the playground in the rear of the old high school.

It was found that the fungus causing histoplasmosis grew there and was fertilized by droppings of the birds roosting in the trees bordering the playground. Dr. Engelke recommended that the playground be paved and that the trees be cut down to help eliminate the infection.

"Studies to determine whether histoplasmosis has actually been eliminated or not are continuing," says Dr. Engelke.

ing houses and area bowlers will probably reach a total of $4,000.
Mrs. Donald Baldwin, Chelsea March of Dimes campaign chairman, said bowling events have accounted for more than $900 in contributions; of this amount, $38 was contributed from Sylvan Lakes and $278 from Chelsea Lanes.
The total amount listed as contributions from all sources for the 1962 campaign, as of Tuesday, Feb. 6, according to Mrs. Baldwin, was $2,485.02. She said the figure is still incomplete, however, since several club's and organizations have indicated they planned to make a contribution and individual contributions are still being received.

Mrs. Larry Chapman, chairman in charge of the canister division of the campaign, reported total canister contributions amounting to $331.01.

Mothers' March totals have changed with additional contributions, the present figure being $693.22.

St. Mary's school children voluntarily contributed a total of $37.67; industry contributed $505 and there was a $100 personal donation.

The remaining major item is the $192.05 raised by Boy Scouts of Troops 76 and 25 in a peanut sale Jan. 20 and 27.

Available figures listing rural area Mothers' March contributions include $197.50 for Lima township and $21.40 for Sylvan township.

Boy Scout Week Observed Throughout Nation Feb. 7-13

Chelsea Boy Scouts are putting their best foot forward this week as they, and countless thousands of other scouts across the nation, celebrate Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7-13.

Chelsea can be proud of its scout program which goes on every week of the year, building character within each youth and inspiring his interests through merit badge and class advancement.

Chelsea's two scout troops, 76 and 25, are planning a varied program during Scout Week seeking to acquaint local people with the scout program and its aims.

The Scout Week program got underway Monday evening when a group of scouts from Troops 25 and 76 presented an informal skit before the Kiwanis club showing how a boy advances from cub scout to boy scout.

The demonstration featured Bob Foye, scoutmaster, Fred Worden, assistant scoutmaster, the Rev. Philip Rusten, troop committee chairman, and scouts Ryan Smith, Don Dickelmann, and Mike Scholtens all of Troop 25; Alvin Reinhardt, scoutmaster, Harold Baker, assistant scoutmaster, William Howard, advancement chairman, and scouts Ken Reinhardt, Jeff Spaulding and Carl Schwieger, all of Troop 76.

Each year the Kiwanis club, scout sponsors, invites representatives of Troop 76 and 25 to a dinner and, in turn, the troops put on some kind of a demonstration in which club members are briefed on some phase of the scouting program.

As part of Scout Week Troop 25 scheduled a family movie "Son of Robin Hood" at Chelsea Theatre Wednesday night. Proceeds from the movie were to be used for troop members to buy tents.

Sometimes during the week, a window display was to be placed in the window of Foster's Men's Wear depicting a typical scout campsite, around which scout equipment is positioned.

One of the highlights of the week will be Scout Sunday. This is a day of reverence for scouts who traditionally attend church in scout uniform, with their parents.

A special feature of Scout Sunday will be the awarding of the God and Country Award. The award this year will be given to Don Dickelmann who will receive it at the First Congregational church.

Approximately 60 scouts are enrolled in the Chelsea scout program, it is stated. There are two troops, 76 and 25, which meet weekly. Troop 25 meets from 7 to 8 p.m. on Monday nights in the Municipal Building and Troop 76 meets from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the Tower building.

Chelsea scouts belong to District IV (Portage Trails council) which comprises the western half of Washtenaw county. Elmer Kiel is troop-committee chairman of Troop 76 and the Rev. Rusten is troop-committee chairman of Troop 25.

A year-around scouting program is maintained here. In the fall a "Fall Campore" is held in which scouts put on demonstrations and compete in contests such as first aid, knot tying, etc. During the winter, campouts are held, usually once a month in which scouts work on advancement in rank and passing merit badges. A "Spring Campore" is held in the spring and is similar in nature to the "Fall Campore". In summertime scouts may attend the six-day camp at Bruin Lake.

Last year a group of scouts from Troop 76 with 3 adult leaders took a week-end canoe trip down the AuSable river.

Applications Available for Blue Cross Scholarships

George R. Bergman, counselor at Chelsea High school, has received announcement of the 12th annual competition for scholarships to nursing schools.

The program, which provides ten $300 scholarships for 10 Michigan high school graduates, is sponsored by Michigan Blue Cross insurance company.

William S. McNary, executive vice-president of Blue Cross, said February was the opening date for the competition, and March 1 is the deadline for entries.

The contest, open to all high school seniors and graduates in Michigan, is run by the Michigan League for Nursing, the official nursing recruitment and education agency.

Initial contest application blanks may be obtained by interested Chelsea young people in the counseling office at Chelsea High school.

After the League receives all the initial applications, contestants will be asked to take a standard test in their high schools, from which the finalists will be selected.

Finalists will be asked to fill out a second application and send a transcript of high school grades. The 10 winners will then be selected by the League Scholarship Judging Committee.

In the past 11 years in which this award has been made, Blue Cross has helped train 110 nurses at a cost to its members of less than one-tenth of a cent each year, according to the announcement received here.

McNary pointed out that a fall-off in nursing school enrollment when the need for nurses was increasing was the impetus for beginning the Blue Cross scholarship program in 1951.

Name Chelsea Man to High Position at Store

Ronald E. Ward, who lives at 17520 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Chelsea, has been named senior assistant manager of S. S. Kresge's new $500,000 store in Arborland Shopping Center, Ann Arbor, it is announced.

The Wards are newcomers to this area having moved here from Whitmore Lake. They have three pre-school children, ages 4, 3 and 1. Ward held a similar job at Kresge's Main St. store in Ann Arbor prior to his new assignment.

HEART EDUCATION MONTH — Governor Romney has proclaimed February Heart Education Month. The proclamation was presented to Dr. John D. Little, Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Heart Association, Lawrence Doodge, Grand Rapids, vice-president, Dr. Robert Stow, Lansing, board member, Mrs. James McEvoy, Detroit, vice-president, and Abraham Brickner, Oak Park, executive director of the Association.

Falls, Fires Top List of Causes in Home Accidents

Fire drills are common in schools but not in homes. Yet home fires kill more than 10 times as many children as do school fires.

"This is just one example of a widespread tendency to overlook home safety hazards," believes Richard Pfister, Michigan State University agricultural safety engineer. "Homemakers tend to suggest safety measures for others, but they seldom check their own boxes or anchor a rug in their own homes."

people died in Michigan home accidents as on the highway.

"This comparison is amazing when you consider that a family can control most home environment," says Pfister. "By contrast, a driver cannot control the weather, highway design, or the behavior of other drivers."

Main causes of home deaths are falls and fires. About three-fourths of the deaths from these mishaps occur to people under 14 and over 60 years of age.

"The average homemaker has a healthy respect for electricity," Pfister has found. "This is wise. Yet she takes few steps to reduce home-fall hazards, which kill 35 times as many people as electricity."

There's also evidence that hunters and gun enthusiasts drop their normal precautions when they take their firearms indoors. Gun accidents in the home have killed more than 210 Michigan people since 1952—far more than the number killed in all hunting mishaps.

Gelman To Market Plastic Produced by German Firm

Gelman Instrument Co. has announced the execution of a contract with Membranfiltergesellschaft, Goettingen, Germany. Under the terms of this contract, Gelman will be the exclusive distributor for microporous plastics produced by the German company. The agreement covers all of the Continental United States and Canada.

This microporous plastic is presently being sold by Gelman under its own trademark, Polypore. Polypore is used in a wide variety of industries and in medical research.

Gelman Instrument has developed a new procedure for detection of cancer cells in body fluids which is based on the use of Polypore. Polypore is also used widely in the missile industry for filtration of fluid and air. This microporous plastic material has holes in it which are 1/25,000 of an inch in diameter or less. Polypore is used to remove contamination particles and bacteria from air and liquid streams.

Although Gelman Instrument has been purchasing membrane filters from the German company for more than two years, this has been on a non-exclusive basis. The new contract with the German firm will give Gelman exclusive and full control over the membrane filter.

The conclusion of this contract not only is a result of past co-operation with the German firm but of personal contact between officials of Gelman with the German company. Charles Gelman visited the plant of Membranfiltergesellschaft in Germany two years ago and again visited the plant in October, 1961, together with other Gelman officials. In making an announcement of this new contract, Gelman spokesman said, "We have had very good co-operation from the German factory for the past two years and intend to work even closer with them. We view this new contract as a type of partnership agreement and under it will exchange technology and ideas in addition to apparatus and materials. The market for the membrane filter is rapidly growing and we expect that within a relatively short time we will be purchasing two or three million dollars worth of membrane a year from our German factory."

Membranfiltergesellschaft is a division of Sartorius Werke in Goettingen, Germany. The division is devoted exclusively to problems of production of filters and special bacteriological apparatus. The parent company is a manufacturer of laboratory balances and other laboratory apparatus. The plant is the largest balance plant in Europe and probably the world. Gelman Instrument Company manufactures and distributes laboratory, scientific, and medical instruments in addition to filters. Gelman Instruments has pioneered many new devices for use in dust measurement and air pollution analysis.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHTENAW IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of BILLIE
S. FARNUM, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery:

BILLIE S. FARNUM, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully sheweth unto this Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under the authority and pursuant to the provisions of the act of the Public Acts of 1923, as amended, (Act
No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1923).

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes have been assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county belonging to the State and which have been held and upon which taxes have been assessed subsequent to the tax for the year 1929 and which have remained unpaid for after they were returned as delinquent, and which are delinquent for the year 1931.

3. That the taxes, interest and charges on the lands described in said schedule A have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and which are delinquent for the year 1931.

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are now due and owing to the State of Michigan, and that the same are extended in said schedule at the next tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, charges and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein set against which the said taxes, interest, charges and expenses have been assessed, and the payment of which this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, charges and expenses are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, charges and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein described;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount so decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.
And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: December 18, 1931.

BILLIE S. FARNUM, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Rabies Certificate Needed By Dog Owner for License

All dogs in Washtenaw county must be licensed each year by the county clerk. To obtain that license, the dog owner must produce a certificate of rabies vaccination for the pet. It's the law!

Many dog owners wonder about the seemingly strict requirements of their pet.

Rabies is an extremely dangerous disease. It can be controlled through the use of rabies vaccinations. A successful vaccination program depends on the cooperation of all pet owners. There has been a "scare" in Washtenaw county there has been no major rabies threat in many years. This is due to the vaccination program. Since there is no permanent immunization yet developed against rabies, a careless year, a slackening of the co-operation could open the door to the dangers of a rabies epidemic.

What is rabies? It is a virus which attacks the central nervous system in animals and humans. It is transmitted by the bite of an infected animal into an open wound or a bite.

Once the rabies virus has entered the blood stream, it is impossible to check the disease except through the Pasteur treatment of daily injections over a 14-day period. This treatment is painful, although much preferred to risking the disease. The best protection against rabies is a vigilant community supporting strict rabies vaccination laws.

Once the symptoms of rabies become obvious the disease is almost 100 percent fatal.

A simple rabies vaccination of pets—and an effective control program for stray animals—can prevent the slow torturous death that results from this disease in both animals and humans.

An effective vaccination program, designed to completely eliminate the rabies problem, has concerned many people and many countries. England, Ireland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Australia and Hawaii have succeeded in eradicating the rabies problem through vaccination, muzzling, quarantining incoming animals, and rounding up all unlicensed strays.

The World Health Organization of the United Nations has done extensive research into this problem all over the world—and has made many recommendations. The recommendation WHO says is most important: centers around the strict use of vaccination and an effective method of seeing to it that all rabies-carrying animals receive the vaccine.

Besides the county health officials, who are conducting vaccination clinics, the Washtenaw county Veterinary Medical Association is urging all pet owners to see to it that their dogs receive this annual vaccination.

Vaccination service is available at any veterinarian's office. The injection takes only a few minutes and it can protect the pet and the community against all the dangers and horrors of rabies.

Remember—March 1 is the deadline for renewing your pet's license. You must also have a certificate showing your pet's annual rabies vaccination.

OLD CONSTITUTIONS ON DISPLAY—An attractive display case containing three Michigan Constitutions—with room for a fourth—has been installed at Constitution Hall in Lansing's Civic Center, where the Constitutional Convention is in session. The Constitutions of 1835, 1850 and 1908 are closely examined by Edmond Lesinski (D-Detroit), Miss Vera Andrus (R-Port Huron) and Cliff Perras (R-Nadeau). The delegates promise there will be a fourth and new Constitution ready for display in the near future.

CON-CON REPORT

The most important product of the new Constitutional Article on Education is the concentration of control of the state's educational processes in the hands of an elective State Board of Education. This was the consensus of many of the 21 members of the committee who for four months listened to more than 100 educators and experts and read thousands of words in prepared statements by everyone from parents to university presidents.

With one exception: the new Article, a third shorter than the old, is entirely bi-partisan. It was acclaimed as an important improvement and achievement by Adelajda Hart (D-Detroit), vice-chairman and by Alvin M. Bentley (R-Owosso), the committee chairman.

The partisan disagreement was over the provision that the State Board appoint the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for an indeterminate term. Miss Hart, who fought to keep the post elective while increasing the present two-year term, said she would file a minority report.

The new board is to be made up of eight unpaid members with eight-year staggered terms; the governor is to be a ninth member. He may deputize his membership but, not his right to vote.

In a supporting report, the committee declared that Michigan was one of only three states in the nation which did not have such a board. The number of members was set at eight because experience in other states indicated this was the most "workable" size, it continued.

The new Article provides that the new board shall serve "as the general planning and coordinating body for all public education in the state and shall provide advice to the legislature and to the people as to the amount of state support required."

Bentley pointed out that this wording which gives the board considerable power over education.

tion of whether or not the five top county officials must be designated as "elective" in the Constitution, a stand favored by the three-B group, speaking as "practical, pragmatic, working politicians."

The women's group aided by Glenn S. Allen, Republican, former mayor of Kalamazoo and the committee chairman, Arthur G. Elliott Jr. (R-Pleasant Ridge), wanted to give voters, through county home rule charters, the right to decide whether any or all of the five jobs should be appointive or elective.

On mandatory elections, the "three-B's" won, 14 to 11. The total was the minimum necessary to bring the proposal out of committee and onto the floor. The women, who made no attempt to conceal their disappointment, said they planned to write a minority report and make a fight on the floor of the convention.

The county jobs include the prosecutor, sheriff, treasurer, clerk and register of deeds, with the latter two combined.

Both sides agreed that rural counties generally are not interested in county home rule and that the measure primarily is of help to the great metropolitan areas of southern Michigan.

"First, let me emphasize the permissive nature of the plan," said Mrs. Judd, spokesman for the voter-choice group. "Nothing is being forced on anybody. All we ask is that voters be given the right to choose that they be allowed to pick the type of government they think would help them most and would solve some of the new problems that are pressing in the metropolitan areas and in the counties with growing pains."

To which Drake replied, "Mrs. Judd and her group want the power to revamp the Board of Supervisors which would include its abolition and substitution of the commission form of county government, with three or five people taking the place of all the supervisors." The question on what to do about the Supervisors is yet to be decided.

Michigan residents can rest assured the question of county home rule will get sufficient airing, with much more debate expected both in committee and on the convention floor.

The average American who is sick could get well quicker if the process wasn't so expensive.

FROM THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

By John B. Swainson

In recent days of the new session of the legislature, I have offered programs for legislative action to build Michigan in every respect.

I would like to report to you in today's column on one phase of my program—economic growth.

This session of the legislature can provide the necessary start to produce the 80,000 new jobs we need each year to meet the demands of our growing population, as well as providing additional momentum to the economic comeback we have seen in our state during the last year.

Failure of the legislature to act can nullify some of our gains; failure to face up to legislative responsibility to strengthen our economy will only offer aid and comfort to those states aggressively wooing our fine Michigan industries.

Dramatic demonstrations of confidence in Michigan's future were given last year when 198 of our industries announced expansion of manufacturing facilities at a cost well over $100-million. Non-manufacturing expansion such as new office buildings and improvement of utilities represent multi-million dollar projects.

We have also welcomed back to Michigan a growing number of industries when they found so-called greener pastures to have certain blights—such as insufficient and incompetent labor forces. We know, also, that 61 new industries started in Michigan last year, the greatest number in any 12-month period in the past five years.

Michigan cannot be satisfied with what we have done, or be content to continue what we have. We must grow.

Among the 14 recommendations I have presented to the legislature are the following:

Repeal of the business activities tax to offer tax consideration for new product development. One of the many unfair aspects of the business activities tax is its adverse effect in research costs for new product development which Michigan needs to provide new jobs. Any economic growth program aimed at promoting job opportunities must include fiscal reform to eliminate unfair tax burdens on business and industry.

One of the very real hopes for diversification of Michigan business and industry to broaden job possibilities is the Institute of Science and Technology, operating in conjunction with the University of Michigan. The Institute offers research co-operation with industry, such as that provided so extensively in Massachusetts and California which has meant tremendous industrial gains for those states. To achieve extended industry-university research development for Michigan, I have recommended increased appropriations for the Institute.

In addition, I have also recommended added appropriations for ores and wood products research at Michigan College of Mining and Technology, as well as for water and agricultural research at Michigan State University.

I believe, also, that we must intensify our industrial promotion program, tourist promotion and establish a full-time Washington office so that Michigan may acquire more defense contracts.

Michigan has a reservoir of resources. We need only to transform this potential into a brilliant future for our state and its people.

I have given the legislature the opportunity again this year to provide this framework for prosperity and progress—I trust it will take this necessary action.

MIAMI SNOW

Miami, Fla.—Residents of this resort town deluged the Weather Bureau forecasters with calls reporting snow in several areas. Temperature was in the mid-50's but two weather-men went out to check.

"It was just large clouds of fine ash from dumps, blown by brisk winds through cold, moisture-filled air," the bureau said. "The ash absorbed water and melted on contact, but it wasn't snow."

LATIN CLUB—
Latin club held a meeting Wednesday, Jan. 24 during activity period. The meeting was brought to order by the vice-president Janice Wood, in the absence of the president, Tom Eisenbeiser. The Roman banquet was discussed and it was decided to hold it later on in the spring. Activities for the rest of the school year were discussed. It was decided to look into the possibility of going swimming either at the YMCA in Ann Arbor or at Ann Arbor High, and of going skating at the Coliseum in Ann Arbor. It was also decided to go bowling at the Chelsea Lanes on Sunday, Feb. 4 at 2:00 p.m. The club voted to take half of the money out of the treasury and let the members pay the other half.
Treasurer Linda Killham announced that there is $124 in the treasury.

SHOP Land II—
Mr. Taylor's Shop I classes are in wood working. The boys are learning refinishing, wood turning, and how to work with plastics. They are also on a salvage unit. Soon the boys will go into metal shop. This will probably be in the second six-weeks of this semester.
Mr. Musser's Shop II classes have been having lectures on motion pictures, electronics. This also covered motors and generators. The classes are now having lectures on metal machines. Later on, the class will study and have demonstrations on metal casting.

Future Nurses of America—
Future Nurses of America at Chelsea High held a special meeting after school Monday Jan. 23. At this meeting the girls discussed the Valentine dance which will be held Feb. 11. Committees were picked and the party plan was submitted to the Student Council for ratification. The members are hoping to have a disc jockey. The dance will be called the "Snowflake Swirl."

FNA will sell refreshments for the Kiwanis Travelogue. The girls have also discussed going on field trips to Fiske Memorial and St. Joseph's hospitals for tours and talks with the dean of nurses at each place. This won't be undertaken until better weather.

BOOKKEEPING—
Mr. Morrison's bookkeeping classes have been working on work sets which deal with keeping the books of a wholesale grocery. Most of the students are nearly finished. The students also have the opportunity to use adding machines and comptometers.

ELECTRONICS—
The electronics class has finished a unit on capacitance. This covered the review of electrostatic principals unit of capacitance, the theory and effects of capacitance in D-C circuits, capacitance in combination, and its uses and applications. The class is now studying inductance. The unit covers self-inductance, effects of inductance in D-C circuits, mutual inductance, inductors connected in series and parallel and types of inductor construction. Next the class will study the basic principals of alternating current.

DRAMATICS CLUB—
A new club was recently formed at Chelsea High. This is the dramatics club. Mrs. LaGoe is the advisor. The first meeting was held Jan. 23. At this meeting officers were picked. Bob Riemenschneider was elected president, Dot Martin, vice-president; Chris Fisher, secretary; and Leslie Baxter, treasurer. Also at this meeting the Dramatics club constitution was passed out. This provided for a Dramatics club play, and two one-act skits or plays which would be put on by the club during the school year. The meeting went into casting for the first play, "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder. Casting for the production was completed after school Jan. 30-31. New talent was discovered and hopes are high for a promising new organization.

STUDENT COUNCIL—
At the present time Student Council is trying to get an American flag for the gym. The cheerleaders have been asked to hold the flag before the games while the National Anthem is being played. The Council is also trying to get a school flag.

They've discussed the different types of assemblies that they have planned for the year. One is the Blue Jays, which is a group of singers. At the next assembly they will mark five tickets with certain numbers, and the student with the numbers will go to the rest of the assemblies free.

The WCSG dance is Feb. 17 at Manchester. On Feb. 6, at Roosevelt, there will be a WCSG meeting. They're trying to get a sportsmanship trophy and they're trying to decide who they want to judge for it.

They are also deciding what they should do about the dissatisfaction of the classes about the new trip club rules.

SCIENCE CLUB—
This club is a very active and interesting club. Recently the club has been taking Saturday trips to Island Lake concerning Symnology, which is the study and testing of lakes and certain plants around and within these lakes. They are hoping to make a map or chart of Island Lake.

Science club is also doing projects dealing with biology and chemistry. This is a required activity for members wishing to stay in the club.

BAND—
The senior band is currently practicing for the upcoming festival in March. The required number is "Pearl Fishers" rated highest over "Pageant" and one other in the directors' conference, which Mr. Lindsay attended Jan. 12 and 13. Other numbers to be included in the performance are "Siegfried" and the "Westchester Overture." We can note the appearance of three new instruments in this expanding organization. Scott Smith new compans a shiny sousaphone and Nancy Alexander along with Diane Worden each sport new French horns.

Challenges, being unfinished in the first semester, will continue to help stop the siege of short-bitten fingernails caused by worry. Several students are entering the annual solo and ensemble contest. Cheryl Lehman is preparing a solo. Wendy Gilbert and Jean Pajot are tackling a French horn duet. A brass octet will also try their luck. The group is made up of Wendy Gilbert, Linda Blaess, Eric Knisely, David Frisinger, and Gordon Beeman.

PHYSICS—
Well the students are buckling down and getting into details about the Kinetic Theory, which means a study of matter which assumes that the molecules of matter are constantly in motion. Along with this, the students are starting to make projects individually for the "Science Fair" which will be at the end of the year (there is no known date). The three judges for the fair will be Mr. Cowell, Mr. McGill, and Mr. Hunter. All the chemistry, physics, and biology classes will be making projects and then the teachers will pick out the best ones and they will be displayed for the show. Some of the projects the students are working on now are, radioactivity, gravitation, and color consisting of combining colors to produce white light, the primary colors, mixing pigments, the four-color printing process. These are just some of the things that are being done.

Girls Athletic Association—
The girls' athletic association has been very busy making signs for the basketball games. Monday was fun-night for the GAA girls. Fun-night consists of basketball, tramp, and also dancing if they wanted and refreshments of cakes, 7-up and cookies were served.

Tuesday nights may be used for intramural basketball.

HI-Y—
Hi-Y club is very excited about going swimming Monday in Ann Arbor. Most of the boys are waiting very impatiently.
The club plays an active part in the basketball games. After the games they feed all the players, lunch usually consists of cheese or ham sandwiches, milk, and cookies or cake.
They also sponsor the dances that are held after the games. They charge 15 cents single or 25 cents double. The dances are always well attended.
Hi-Y has accepted a new constitution.

CHEMISTRY—
Chemistry students are studying about acids and bases. Acids are an important group of substances, compounds whose water solutions contain ions are traditionally placed in three general classes, acids, bases, and salts. Also the students were given a project to do for Mr. Cowell. Some of them have to base a solution to neutralize and find out the right measures and add and when you find out the answer it should be the base which was in the water by solution. This is all under titration which means a determination of the concentration of a solution by comparing it with a standard operation. This is all done in the chemistry lab.

DEBATE TEAM—
Should there be federal aid to education? This is the all-important question to the 1961-62 high school debaters. Chelsea high is no different from other schools—and we have a debate team, too.

Of course, in order for there to be a debate, we need a conflict of opinions, and that is exactly what we have.

It seems Donna Snyder, Nancy Carter, and Carol Meyer agree that federal aid to education would be a pretty good idea and they want it. But we also have Mary Ann Hanson, Ellen Fisher, Rose Hiltz, and Wendy Gilbert who look at the other side of the question and come up with the decision that they don't want it.

Future Teachers of America—
Students are trying to make teaching a soft job. Members of the FTA club are offering to help the high school teachers. They are willing to grade papers or tests, run errands, or whatever they can do to help. They are trying to get an idea of what it will be like when they reach their goal. If any teacher at all would like some help they are to feel free to get in touch with Mary Ann Hanson, the president, and make plans for a member of the club to get out of study hall and make themselves useful. The club is hoping that their services will be put to use and that they will get some needed practice. The club will also see if it would be possible for the entire club to visit a faculty meeting after school some night to see what goes on.

PROUD OF C.H.S. STUDENTS—
Have you ever wondered why out of between 300 and 400 students only 78 manage to get on the honor roll.

There are several reasons for it. And if you ever considered the ones that miss it by a point or less, it would boost the number well past the hundreds. But you never get anything for being close. We hate to admit it, but we do have some lazy students at Chelsea High school. We are glad though that the number is small and way out of proportion to the number of studious ones.

If you could just spend a few minutes in any one of the seven study halls someday you could easily spot the minutes that are being wasted. Wasting time is one of the world's greatest faults today and I guess Chelsea High students certainly contribute to the cause. Starting out the new year and new semester, almost everyone has pledged to do better. Good luck students and study hard.

Latin I classes have just finished studying the infitive objective, the perfect participle, and the perfect passive tense. In order to put these things to practice, the students did the exercises in their books dealing with these things. They have also been studying the difference between Latin and English word formation and translation. They translate interesting stories dealing with the Roman way of life. The students are learning about some of the customs of the early Romans and the way they lived, what type of food they ate, and how they ate it.

Latin II students have just finished learning 10 more basic sentences. They are now making up questions to ask each other and answering them. Mr. Smith dictates paragraphs based on these sentences. In all, the students taking Latin II have learned 100 basic sentences from which thousands of other sentences may be derived. Questions from these sentences are asked and the student is expected to answer them. In this way, the student is able to learn a greater amount of words in a shorter amount of time. This method also helps the student to translate sentences faster and clearer.

Geometry classes, under the direction of Mr. McGill have just finished studying the proof of the Pythagorean theorem developed by Euclid. This theorem derives its name from Pythagoras, a Greek mathematician who first formulated it. The classes are now working problems that are based on the Pythagorean theorem. They are also proving other theorems based on the Pythagorean theorem, to prove the area of polygons. Later this six weeks circles, angles and arcs will be studied.

During the second and third six weeks of the second semester, research will be done on various mathematical concepts used in geometry. The history of geometry will be the subject for each student who is expected to write an essay on the concepts and meaning of geometry, the history, and when and where it was originated. This material will be useful to each math student in understanding each concept.
