Light, Water Deposit Policy Is Changed

Effective April 1 the Chelsea Light and Water Department has instituted a new deposit policy for light and water service. The purpose of the deposit is to protect the department against bad debts. In the past the deposit has only been $10 which is now insufficient to cover the past due bill if the customer decides to leave town suddenly.

The old policy had no provision for the refund of the deposit when satisfactory credit rating had been established.

The new policy will correct this situation as well as increase the required deposit to a more realistic amount. The new policy is as follows:

All new customers after this date will pay $20 for residential deposit and $50.00 for a commercial deposit unless the Light & Water Department has had two years of previous satisfactory credit experience with the prospective new customer. This applies whether or not they are home owners or renters.

As soon as two years of satisfactory credit experience has been established, said deposit will be returned.

Current customers who have made the $10 deposit now required, will have this money refunded to them if they have had two years satisfactory credit experience with the Light and Water Department.

Current deposit customers who have not had two years satisfactory credit experience with the Light and Water Department will be refunded as follows:

Those lacking two years satisfactory experience because they are not been customers for two years, but who have been satisfactory during the time they have been customers, will be refunded their deposit upon completion of the two years experience period.

Those lacking two years satisfactory experience whether or not they have been customers for two years or more, will at the discretion of the Light and Water Department superintendent, be refunded within 60 days to increase the amount their deposit to the amount established above.

Any non-deposit customer whose satisfactory experience with the Light and Water Department becomes satisfactory will be required, at the discretion of the Superintendent. (Continued on page six)

Schools Close Friday For Spring Vacation

Chelsea schools will close for spring vacation following afternoon classes tomorrow (Friday). Classes will begin again Monday morning, April 16.

G. Winchester, Jr., Named To Head Chelsea Jaycees

George Winchester, Jr., was elected president of the Chelsea Junior Chamber of Commerce at the April meeting held at Stivers' Tuesday evening.

Others elected are Ed. Akin, first vice-president; Blaine Lyle, second vice-president; Richard Salonen, secretary; George Stiffan, treasurer; Duane Layher, member of the board of directors; Louis Dreyer, membership director; and Ray Steinbach, publicity chairman.

A guest at Tuesday's meeting was Merritt Martin of Saline, JCC district vice-president, who is a candidate for national director from this region.

Installation of Chelsea JCC officers is set for April 14.

Anderson's Will Hold Open House

Beginning at noon Friday and continuing until Saturday evening, Anderson's Department Store is holding open house to celebrate completion of its new, modern store front.

The new front includes an all glass, aluminum framed door.

The former show windows, with their closed partitions on the inside, have been remodeled giving an open-view effect, showing the entire store interior from the street and the show window platform has been shortened.

New fixtures and display counters add to the attractive appearance.

At the open house Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday children who accompany their parents will receive favors and there will be refreshments for everybody.

Complete lines of ladies, children's, girls' and boys' clothing, men's, women's, and children's shoes and general men's furnishings are stocked by the store and Fred Anderson who has been associated in the business with his father, M. J. Anderson, since September, 1960, said yesterday the store is "more than ready for Easter."

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Anderson have owned the store since March, 1954.

In addition to the Andersons, father and son, there are three full-time sales people — Mrs. Georgia Collins, Mrs. Phyllis Bush and Mrs. Margaret Brown.

Also employed at the store for general maintenance work is Ray Culhane.

Anderson's also have a department store in Saline.

The Rev. P. H. Grabowski and Roy Bertke returned Saturday from Acapulco, Mexico, where they had spent the past six weeks. They made the trip.

DRESS REVUE PRACTICE — Two "Senior Miss" and two "Young Miss" group members of the Wide Awake 4-H club are shown in the photo as they prepared to model for their mothers the clothing they had made during the winter club year. The "revue" was held Sunday afternoon at St. John's church hall at Rogers Corners. From left, they are Jacqueline Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoover, wearing a pink organza formal; Susan Grau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Grau in a yellow cotton dress she made as a second-year club project; Kathy Montange, daughter of the Stanley Montanges wearing a print apron she made as a first-year member; and Grace Kushmaul, in a red wool sheath and matching hat she made. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kushmaul. The four girls shown, as well as the remaining 33 members of the club participated in the area dress revue at Dexter Tuesday evening which was a preliminary to next Wednesday's Washenaw county revue at Ann Arbor High school.

Area 4-H Club Girls Prepare For County Dress Revue

Area 4-H club girls held individual club "dress revues" the past week, with the girls' mothers as guests. These revues were in preparation for the area revue at Dexter Tuesday evening, held for the purpose of selecting the girls who will model the clothing they have made during the past winter at a revue to be held April 11 in Ann Arbor to select the county winner.

Mrs. Walter Wolfgang, Mrs. Charles Curtis, Mrs. Virgil Hines and Mrs. Robert Schroen have been leaders of the Wide Awake 4-H club. The group of 37 girls and their leaders had planned to hold their local revue Sunday afternoon at Lima Center Community Hall but learned Saturday night that because of work being done at the hall, they would have to meet elsewhere. The revue then was held at St. John's church hall at Rogers Corners.

Jacqueline Hoover, one of the club members, will away on the county revue takes place and thus could plan to participate only in the local club revue and Tuesday's area revue at Dexter, whether or not she were chosen at Dexter.

Girls in the first-year group of the Wide Awake club are Marilyn Hinderer, Doreen Kuhl, Anita McKington, Diane Wolski, Diane Wolski, Kathy Montange and Jane Bristle.

Second-year members are Diane and Susan Grau, Linda Van Iper, Mary Jean Grissom, Cynthia Nicholas, Deborah Kuhl and Carolyn Wenk.

Third-year girls are Cheryl Grau, Christine Wolski, Colleen Haub, Pamela Kuhl, Anita Wenk, Susan Hines, Gail Kuhl, Diane Hoover, Nancy Koengeter and Phyllis Kruse.

Remaining club members are senior 4-H girls—Dorothy Montgomery, Madonna Freysinger, Rose Curtis, Marilyn Wenk, Judy Bolinger, Carol Kruse, Donna Brand, Beverly Windell, Barbara Wenk, Jacqueline Hoover, Judy Lindow, Susan Lounsbury and Grace Kushmaul.

Merry Maids 4-H club, led by Mrs. George Heydlauff, Mrs. Roland Eder and Mrs. Dan Ewald, held their club's "Dress Revue" at Chelsea Junior High school Saturday afternoon with the girls' mothers as guests.

In the "Young Miss" category of the club are Sharon Alber, Karlynn Schwiager, Barbara and Linda Merkel, Barbara Bauer, Detsy Doll, Jane Kalmbach, Mary Ellen Steele, Joyce McGibney, Denise Hafner, Carol Hepburn, Janet Miller, Rebecca Clemons, Sue Knott, Lynn Visel and Judy Sanderson.

The "Junior Miss" group of the Merry Maids club includes Mary Kay Alber, Ellen Merkel, Mary Lou Paul, Mary Ann LaRose, Pat Guest, Lois Hepburn, Nancy Mshar, Cindy Blacklaw and Kathy Faber.

Remaining members of the club are "Senior Miss" girls—Janice Wood and Joyce Mshar.

The dress revue closes the winter club work and girls will start in May on food preparation as their summer club work.

C. Winans Named Chairman For Michigan Week Activity

Charles Winans of Federal Screw Works has been appointed Chelsea chairman for the 1962 Michigan Week observance, May 20-26, according to an announcement by W. Nial MacDonald, executive engineer of Bendix Systems Division, Ann Arbor, who is county chairman.

Chairmen will be responsible for organizing local committees for the observance of each of the special days of the week.

Sunday, May 20, is designated Spiritual Foundation Day; Monday is Government Day, with special emphasis on the Mayor's exchange program; Tuesday is Hospitality Day.

Remaining days of the week are listed as Our Livelihood Day, Wednesday; Education Day, Thursday; Our Heritage Day, Friday; and Our Youth Day, Saturday.

Other community chairman named by MacDonald include Floyd Layton of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Alfred Lavalli, Dexter Pharmacy, who are co-chairmen for Dexter; and Hugh Sutton of Sutton Insurance Agency, and James Cannon, Manchester Tool & Die Co., Manchester co-chairmen.

The list continues with Jack Brooks of Westside Hardware Saline; Bernard Baldwin, Detroit Transmission Co., Ypsilanti; and Rune Evaldson, associate director for operations in the Institute of Science and Technology at the University of Michigan who is the Ann Arbor chairman.

Final United Lenten Service Set Next Wednesday Evening

The parable, "Marriage of the King's Son," will be the sermon topic for the final Wednesday evening united community Lenten service April 11. The Rev. George P. Stanford, chaplain at the Methodist Home, will be the speaker.

The service, which begins at 8 p.m., will take place at the Congregational church.

This is the fifth of the current series of united Lenten services sponsored jointly by the Methodist, Congregational, Episcopal and Evangelical and Reformed churches of Chelsea.

Last night's service was held at the Methodist church with the Rev. (Continued on page three)

Versatile Engineering Joins Tokheim Corp. In Expansion Move

Council Briefs

At the April 3 regular Village Council meeting, the Rev. Philip Ruston, pastor of the Congregational church, gave the opening invocation.

Tax rates for 1962 set as follows: general fund, 12 mills; Library, 1 mill; payment of interest and principal on sewage treatment bond issue, 3.5 mills.

A new ruling regulating deposits required by the Electric Light and Water Department from new customers was discussed and approved. (See complete story on page one)

Robert Carpenter, representing the Washtenaw County Planning Commission, was present for discussion regarding proposed zoning plans for newly annexed areas north and south of the village.

Harold Harrison and Alton Gleske present for discussion of proposed possible use of civilian band of radio equipment available in area for emergencies such as disaster, fire, Civil Defense, etc. Matter was turned over to the Council's Civil Defense committee for study.

Discussion regarding electrical service in newly-annexed north and south areas. No official action taken.

Civil Defense committee of the Council directed to study and report back at the April 17 meeting on subject of Civil Defense and Auxiliary Police and training for possible emergencies.

Motion passed to advertise for bids on lease or purchase of new village police car; also bids on 1962 street construction program.

Committee appointments for the year:

Firm Specializes in Prototype Work For Ordnance, Automotive Fields

No Fire Permits Available in Area Until Rain Comes

Wednesday morning, district Conservation officials ordered that no more fire permits be issued in the entire area because of the extreme fire hazard.

Rain was predicted for Wednesday night or Thursday and if the rain materializes in sufficient amount, fire chiefs will again be allowed to issue permits.

In Chelsea, Fire Chief Ted Balmer issues the free permits and in Dexter Fire Department Captain Al Lavalli acts for Chief Keith Houston since Lavalli may be reached at any time at Dexter Pharmacy, HA 6-3201. Chief Balmer's number is GR 5-5131.

Versatile Engineering originally located its plant here last year as a result of efforts on the part of the Economic Development Committee of Chelsea, Heavlin noted.

Location of a subsidiary plant here is "an effort on the part of the Tokheim Corp., a pump manufacturing concern, to diversify its production line," the announcement stated.

The corporation already has subsidiaries at Johannesburg, South Africa; Leiden, in the Netherlands; Lucerne, Switzerland; Toronto, Ontario, Canada; and in Shelbyville, Ind.

Prototype work for government ordnance and for the automotive field will be done at the Chelsea plant—experimental work rather than general production.

The Tokheim Corp. carries on a large volume of business in the field of pump manufacture and the diversification, expansion here represents financing amounting to a half-million dollars with every indication that the amount will be double that within a year.

Approximately 25 employees will be working at the Chelsea plant as the new operation gets underway next week. Anticipated expansion is expected to double that number in the next 12 months, according to Mammoser and Heavlin.

The Chelsea plant is the only subsidiary which will be doing experimental type work both for the government work and for the automotive field.

All other subsidiaries produce the same type of equipment as the main plant at Fort Wayne and at the Shelbyville, Ind., plant. This includes pumps for trucks; consumers' power pumps of all kind; liquid volume calculators; liquid volume meters; and many others.

Mammoser and Perry W. Williamson who is secretary of the Chelsea subsidiary plant, are also officers of the Tokheim Corporation at Fort Wayne.

Other tours on their itinerary include the UN Building, Rockefeller Center and general tours of upper and lower Manhattan.

The trip will be concluded Thursday when the group arrives in Toledo at 1:30 p.m. for the bus trip back to Chelsea.

In addition to the senior class adviser, Stephen Hayden, and Mrs. Hayden, the adults accompanying the seniors are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith and Mr. and Mrs. James Redord.

Seniors Leave Sunday for New York

Sixty-five seniors at Chelsea High, accompanied by three teachers and their wives will leave Sunday on the annual "senior trip."

The group will leave Chelsea by bus for Toledo, O., where they are to board a New York Central train at 4:20 p.m. for the trip to New York City.

Highlights of their stay in New York will be evening visits to Radio City Music Hall and the Copacabana nightclub.

Other tours on their itinerary include the UN Building, Rockefeller Center and general tours of upper and lower Manhattan.

The trip will be concluded Thursday when the group arrives in Toledo at 1:30 p.m. for the bus trip back to Chelsea.

In addition to the senior class adviser, Stephen Hayden, and Mrs. Hayden, the adults accompanying the seniors are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith and Mr. and Mrs. James Redord.

NEW AMERICAN FLAGS — Chelsea Girl Scout Neighborhood and two Brownie troops received new American flags Thursday as gifts from the Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076. The Auxiliary, through its Americanism chairman, Mrs. Mac Packard (Eulahle) has as its aim the presentation of a flag to each school, public meeting place, church and non-profit organization that does not have one of its own. Auxiliary members believe possession and display of a fresh, clean American flag is one of the chief means of "instilling patriotism in the hearts and minds of young people and adults." Girls chosen to accept the flags at Thursday's ceremony at South Elementary school are, from left, Rhonda Romine of Brownie Troop 625; Jo Ellen Tison of Girl Scout Troop 50 with the neighborhood flag; and Kathy Benjamin of Troop 608.

FHA Delegates, Officers Attending State Convention

Future Homemakers of America in over 10,348 chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands designate the week of April 1-7, as a time to recognize the contributions FHA makes to personal, family and community living.

Through their chapter and individual activities, the 500,928 members of this national organization for high school students studying home economics are currently working toward four objectives: (1) to develop their potential abilities, (2) to develop a better understanding of their family members and to contribute to their well-being, (3) to interpret the value of home economics as a basic part of their total education, (4) to promote good will through getting to know their neighbors at home and abroad. Chelsea's FHA Chapter of 23 members is pinpointing special daily recognition of FHA Week by having an announcement included each morning in the list of announcements made by a Student Council member over the school's public address system.

Major League Baseball Time Signals Return of Spring and Outdoor Sports

One of the surest signs of Spring is the Grapefruit League, in Major League baseball. The teams are now battling it out, in that league in Florida, and in the West. By this time next week 20 Major League teams will be in regular-season action and that will mean that winter sports have moved on—and that warmer weather sports are here for a long time—until the first days of cooling October, when the World Series will be played.

Baseball is called the national sport. Some say it will be replaced by football, but that is doubtful because baseball is a peculiarly democratic game, which claims followers and fans for life, once they learn to love the game. The fans die but they never lose their love of the sport.

How is the game peculiarly American and democratic? It is that every player on the team has an equal chance to be the offensive star. Any of the nine men in the lineup can hit a homerun and win the game.

The Japanese are already ardent baseball fans and it is spreading to the countries south of us. It may someday be played all over the world.

In our country, it arrives just after the turn of Spring, and it means a season of some 160 games for every Major League team. In that space of time, and play, the real stars emerge.

This year there are 20 Major League teams for the first time in history. Houston and New York are new entries in the order of the two leagues—the National League, Los Angeles and Minnesota had teams for the first time, in the American League last year (Washington's old American League team moved to Minnesota and Washington was actually a new team last year.)

The Grapefruit League line scores, or box scores, one reads today, then, contain something new. The return of baseball is an old story—but an always-welcome one to every sports fan.

South Vietnam May Soon Become Scene of U. S. Military Action

The truth seems to be that the American people had better now face the music in South Vietnam, before they are shocked and confused by what might happen there. That means that in our outright military aid of South Vietnam we could be dragged into a costly and bitter long-term war.

And if this happens, the American people and the government in Washington must decide whether tactical atomic weapons will be employed in the fight, or whether American soldiers will be asked to fight and die without the best and most potent weapons in our arsenal.

In the last month, Communist China has warned repeatedly that she considers open and direct U. S. aid in South Vietnam a violation of that country's sovereignty and an invasion of Asia.

There is, then, a chance that we will be drawn into another struggle with Chinese manpower in Asia, and the American people must prepare themselves for this sacrifice, if they favor it. We must decide now what weapons we use in such an event.

Announcement has been made that Bikini, site of recent U.S. atomic testing, is again "safe" for human life once more. How about the rest of the world?

Marriage is probably the only union which has consistently defied management.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Republican delegates to the Constitutional Convention were sharply criticized recently when reports were published about a "secret trade" being made to assure agreement on several sections of the document being prepared.

There were charges that "principles are being compromised," by naive supporters of some of the delegates.

It is a well known and hard political fact that the basis for most legislative action is compromise, although this word can be given a negative connotation by people seeking political advantage, who can find no better issue.

It now appears the only great "sin" involved in the compromise worked out by differing viewpoints within the Con-Con's GOP ranks was that the "deal" was so openly public.

At nearly the same time as the Con-Con deal was made known, another "compromise" was being worked out between Republicans and Democrats in the legislature. The single issue involved was not as important as the several constitutional provisions so it did not gain as much attention from the public or politicians.

A newspaper reporter who wrote that a "gentlemen's agreement" was being attempted, however, was severely criticized for putting the pending "deal" in print.

It appears inconsistent that all politicians freely admit, off the record, that they are willing to compromise for the public good, but they refuse to let the public know when they have reached a compromise. And it seems hypocritical for those who understand the value of compromise to rant against those who try to reconcile differences so that programs may result.

A substantial share of an $8 million Congressional appropriation for manpower training may be available to Michigan because of the state's high unemployment rate.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett reports the training program would be of special benefit to high school dropouts and graduates unable to find work.

"Both the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Department of Labor have indicated that Michigan is in the top group of states in the nation with high unemployment and will be eligible for a substantial share of the funds," Bartlett said.

The Federal act authorized a $435 million appropriation over a three-year period to help train thousands of unemployed who lost their jobs or others unable to find work because of automation.

Enabling legislation to allow Michigan to accept funds provided under the Federal law has passed in the House and is under consideration by the Senate. The bill provides for administration of the funds through the State Board of Control for Vocational Education.

No state funds would be needed to administer the program, Bartlett said, although the Department of Public Education and the Michigan Employment Security Commission would be involved.

ity Commission would participate in it also.

Under the program, benefits also would be available to "train unemployed adults and farm families with incomes of less than $1,200 a year.

Where does the money go? A study by the Michigan Citizens Research Council shows some $600 million of Michigan's money during the past eight fiscal years went to create and pay for 90 programs which did not exist prior to 1958.

Included were 27 new programs in the general field of education and 20 in general government operation. New programs were also added during the period in public health, mental hygiene, public welfare, safety and defense, regulatory services, conservation, recreation and agriculture.

An indication of how the addition of relatively small, inexpensive programs add up is seen in the Council's fact sheet on the new state services.

In the education category, for example, a $900 appropriation was made in 1958 for state historical markers. The following two years saw the money spent on this government service triple before it dropped back and evened off at below $1,000 a year.

Over the period since 1956, however, more than $51,000 has been spent for historical markers.

The new services and agencies dramatize how changing conditions

17 Counties Don't Have Stop Lights

Lansing—If traffic lights irritate you, move to northern Michigan.

The Michigan State Highway Department reports that 17 northern Michigan counties do not have a single stop-and-go signal on state highways.

Missaukee county doesn't even have a yellow flashing caution signal which is used where traffic volumes do not warrant stop-and-go signals.

The 17 counties without stop-and-go signals include Antrim, Benzie, Gladwin, Kalkaska, Lake, Leelanau, Missaukee, Montmorency, Oscoda and Otsego counties in the Lower Peninsula, and Alger, Baraga, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft counties in the Upper Peninsula.

Harold Cooper, director of the Highway Department Traffic Division, said the Highway Department has 1,530 stop-and-go signals on the state's 9,200 miles of state highway.

About 450, or 30 percent of the signals are in the Detroit area. Cooper said the 1,530 stop-and-go are augmented by about 600 yellow caution flasher signals which are primarily attention getting devices.

At present, it is possible to drive on freeways and conventional roads from M-59 at Brighton to Escanaba in the Upper Peninsula, a distance of about 350 miles, without encountering a stop-and-go signal on a state highway.

Cooper said that during the last six years, the number of new stop-and-go signals installed each year has been cut almost in half.

Forty-two new signals were installed in 1961 compared to 71 in 1956.

"Completion of new freeways will continue to eliminate the need for stop-and-go signals on state highways," Cooper said. Other long stretches of "signal-less" highways include 215 miles of Interstate 94 and 90 miles of Interstate 96 and 108.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night, announced he was plumb wore out from working on his report.

Preachers in his Church, he explained, has to fill out an annual report by the end of March every year telling all the things they done during the past year. He says if they keep adding pages to it, pitty-son the only thing he'll have to report is that he has been busy filling out reports.

But the good Parson allowed as how his report was bringing to light some mighty interesting things. For instance, he said, it showed they had 300 Committee meetings last year and he is hoping they will get a certificate for this achievement. He figured them 300 Committee meetings come to around 1,342 man-hours and the Bishop might even award the congregation a bronze plaque.

Another thing his report showed, he told the fella's, was how pore most of the folks in his community. He said the Good Book orders us to give according to how much the Lord has prospered us and, according to his church records, they had one of the worst depressions last year since Noah and the flood. Fact is, he said, he was thinking about taking food-baskets to some of his members. A bunch of families in his congregation didn't give a cent during the year, so he figured they must be in bad shape.

For instance, he said one member of his choir ain't give a note to the church in three years. Good Parson said he drove by the fella's house the other night ask if he could help him, but little till he got on his feet, but didn't stop because he saw in driveway where somebody else done been by and give him a car.

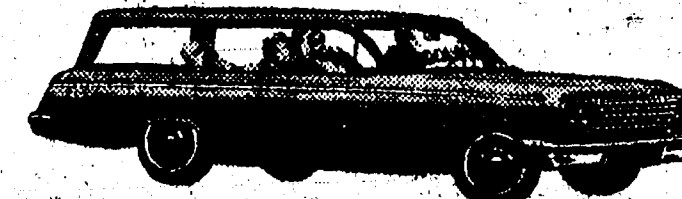

He told the fella's they were chancy the Bishop might promote him to a bigger church on count of his fine annual report. He said his report showed he not only preached 104 sermons and attended 300 Committee meetings, but he was serving as a Letic Director of the Sunday School and was head coach of the basketball and ping-pong teams.

Country preachers, he allow don't have to worry this time year about their income tax port. For that, he said, he's thankful. He claims he taken report every year, signs it at proper places, and writes a note at the top saying he's a country preacher. In case that's not enough, he puts down how much salary he was pledged, puts in under it how much he got, subtracts. He says he's showed loss for 30 year straight, since he took up preaching.

Tuesday's Revue included entries from the following clubs: Suzy Sowers, Needle and Thread, 4-H Highlights, Merry Stitches and Portage Lake Pinettes from the Dexter-Chelsea area; Wide Awake and Merry Maids from Chelsea area; Seven Simple Sowers and Graceful Misses from Ann Arbor; from Ypsilanti, the Ypsi Hi-Flyers and also Goddess Shamrocks from the area between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

"THE FOUR MUSKETEERS" is the name of the championship team in the girls' junior bowling league at Chelsea Lanes. Three members of the team appear in the above photo, along with the four individual trophies which were awarded by Olie Johnson of Chelsea Lanes, where the girls have bowled during the past season. They were honor guests at a party for all junior league bowlers—50 boys and girls—Saturday morning at Chelsea Lanes, including a noon lunch of hot dogs and pop. Seated are Denise Eresten (left) and Sandy Oinski. The third girl is Mary Jo Apel. The fourth "Musketeer," Sandy Eresten, was out of town Saturday and so was not present for the party. Her sister, Denise, accepted her trophy for her. Each of the girls also received an American Junior Bowling Congress champion's sleeve patch.

Michigan Can Compete in Broiler Chick Production

There is a place in Michigan for broiler and roaster production providing it can be competitive with marketing areas in other parts of the United States. That's the observation of poultry experts. The future of Michigan broiler production depends on integration or more co-operatively organized firms. Members of a panel made their predictions at the annual agricultural marketing clinic held recently at Michigan State University.

Panel members included: Herman Buscher, Hudsonville poultry processor, H. E. Larzelere, MSU agricultural economist, Franklin DeCook, Grand Junction poultryman, and H. C. Zindel, MSU poultry department head, who served as panel moderator.

"We must group together to raise good broilers," Buscher said. Growers "need to produce broilers and roasters for a specific market rather than simply producing and selling," he pointed out. "As soon as we learn to produce for such markets, Michigan can compete—but we can't do this without being organized," he added.

Roaster production in Michigan will "probably have to go the route of integration in the future," Dr. Larzelere said. "Freezing is a way for the roaster business to stay in Michigan and make use of facilities in the period when few turkeys and hens are being processed," he said.

Michigan is close enough to produce broilers for both the Detroit and Chicago markets, DeCook told the audience. He said that he has recently had to haul live birds from as far away as Missouri and Iowa to meet local demand. The broilers have not been available locally, he said.

Very few roasters are being grown in Michigan, Indiana or Wisconsin at this time, according to DeCook.

Buscher said we must promote poultry produced in Michigan. "We have as good if not a better poultry product than that available in the South," he said. He added that it is easy to sell Michigan produced poultry without any difficulty. This is because "we have some of the best markets in the United States right at our doorsteps."

Larzelere noted it is a great deal easier in terms of needed capital for a feed company to integrate in the broiler business than in egg production. The investment in one-sixth as much, he pointed out.

National production of young meat birds can be increased 20 per cent yearly from present levels without causing any reduction in price, Larzelere said. This increase could be expanded because of a population growth and more improved merchandising. During the past few years, broiler production has been increasing from 10 to 15 percent yearly, he added.

FROM THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR
By John B. Swainson

Michigan could launch up to $639-million worth of public works—to provide 60,000 jobs—throughout the state if federal grants and loans are made available under the capital improvement program submitted to Congress March 26 by President Kennedy.

In my testimony delivered in Washington, D. C., at the invitation of the House Committee on Public Works, I pointed out that approval of the program by Congress would enable states and their local units of government to build much-needed public facilities, and provide the unemployed with new jobs and new hopes.

President Kennedy's recommendation—that the capital improvement program become immediately effective—would provide substantial assistance to states like Michigan which have not yet shared fully in the economic gains apparent throughout the nation.

As governor of Michigan, I am a firm believer in self-help. And I know that the states must meet a growing responsibility in promotion of sound economic growth if the impact of economic downturns is to be cushioned, and if adjustments to changing industrial requirements are to be effective.

But I also believe the federal government has an important role to play. The proposals now before Congress would broaden the base for cooperative action—federal, state and local—so essential if we are to remain strong, free and dynamic.

State efforts to stimulate the economy are, of necessity, limited in scope and dimension. State developed programs—soundly conceived and administered—offer much promise over the long haul. But in states like Michigan the size and nature of the unemployment problem makes it difficult to achieve the effects as quickly as the program now being considered in Congress.

We are ready to act in Michigan as soon as the program gains congressional approval. Plans are ready for a large backlog of needed projects, in the areas of health, education, recreation, youth, safety and transportation. For instance, Michigan could start work right away on $10.4-million of urgently needed new construction at our mental hospitals, including three children's psychiatric units; $7.7-million for additional classrooms, laboratories and other essential structures at state universities and colleges; $46-million for expansion and improvement in conservation and recreational facilities; $78-million for 39 water pollution control projects by counties, municipalities and townships.

This is just a partial list of the many projects that would answer long-existent needs in communities throughout Michigan, as well as providing jobs for our unemployed.

As the governor of a state that has felt the impact of high levels of unemployment over an extended period of time, I am fully aware that efforts of significant proportion must be made if we are to get our people back to work.

The human erosion represented by the disuse of the talents and skills of our unemployed is taking a toll that cannot be measured in dollars and cents alone. But even on that scale alone, its price tag is too high.

Girl Scout Council Starts Forming New Cadet Group

Formal preparation for a change of the Girl Scout organization which will introduce a fourth category for Girl Scouts all over the United States were begun at a meeting of officers of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council held Tuesday at Ann Arbor.

According to Mrs. Casper Enkemann of Ann Arbor, president of the Council, beginning in 1963 Girl Scouts will drop the present three age-level groupings for the 2 1/2 USA, and will start four age-level groups. They will be as follows: Brownies, ages 7 and 8 years; Juniors, ages 9-11; Cadettes, ages 12-14; and Seniors, ages 15-17.

The term "Cadette" is new to Scouting. Girls who are Cadettes are the second oldest members in the Girl Scout "family" and are training themselves for the future. When they become Senior Scouts, they have the status of the high school age group and are the oldest members in the Girl Scout "family."

Mrs. Francis Jennings of Novi met in Chicago last month with other regional co-ordinators to get advance information of the proposed change-over. She has been appointed program launching co-ordinator for the entire Huron Valley Council which encompasses Washtenaw and Livingston counties and the western half of Wayne county.

Principal Schmunk Attends National, State Conventions

Arthur Schmunk, Chelsea elementary school principal, attended the annual convention of the National Department of Elementary School Principals held March 24-28 at Cobo Hall, Detroit, and next week-end-April 12 and 13--will be in Lansing for meetings of the Michigan Department of Elementary School Principals at Kellogg Center, Michigan State University.

Next week's meetings occur during the spring vacation of Chelsea schools.

At the Lansing meetings, Governor John B. Swainson, along with Dr. Clifford E. Erickson, provost, Michigan State University, and Major General Ronald D. McDonald, adjutant general, Michigan National Guard, will headline the list of major speakers. They will participate in a panel discussion on the topic, "No Place to Hide--Listening In," April 12, at 8:30 p.m.

"Interest in the conference will be 'town hall meetings' on the topics of international and domestic issues, problems of survival, pressures of the times and physical and mental fitness.

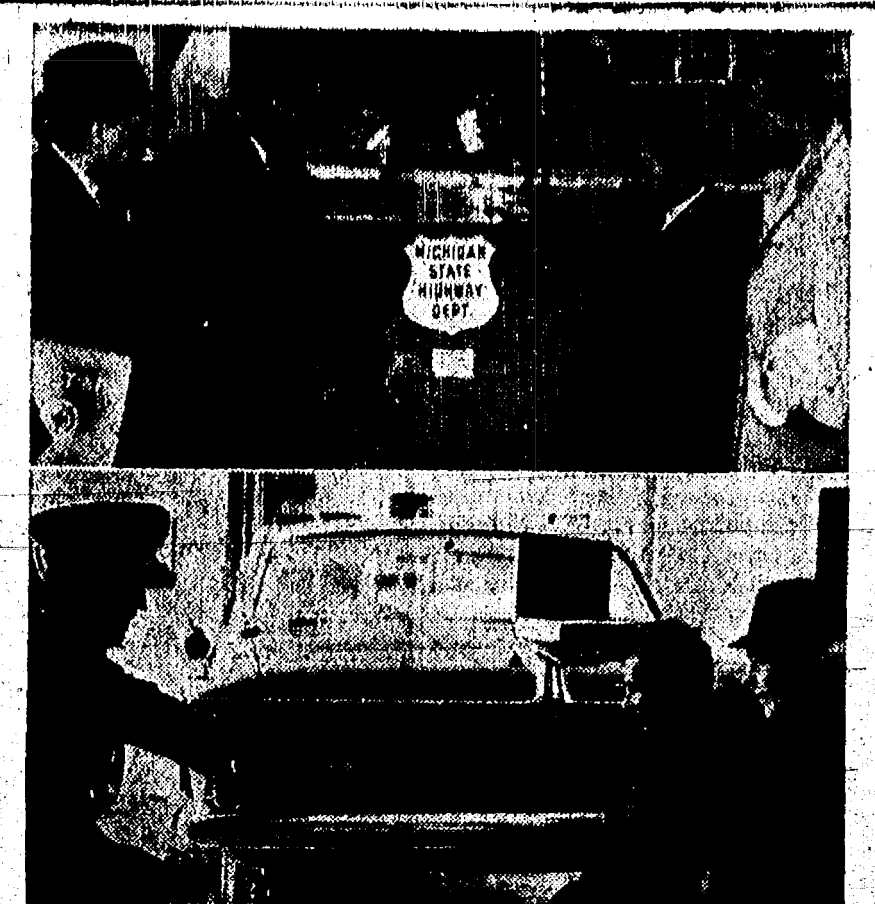

The principals will hear committee reports on legislation, membership, publicity, constitutional revision, long-range planning, and career development.

The group also will elect officers for the 1962-63 school year. More than 600 elementary school principals of the state are expected to attend. The Michigan Department of Elementary School Principals (DESP) is a department of the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

The convention Principal Schmunk attended at Cobo Hall last week, was the DESP of the National Education Association and was attended by 6,000 elementary school principals.

Extended discussions were held there on all areas of elementary school organization including relationships in school-community relations; testing and evaluation; use of teaching machines and programmed learning; trends in classroom practice; and use of educational television.

Regarding the latter subject, it was brought out that educational television broadcasts for elementary school children are already reaching this area from Michigan State University and by airborne television from Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Camera Club Meeting Devoted To Self Portraits

Walter Pielemeier, retired professor of physics at Pennsylvania State University, spoke at the April 2 meeting of the Chelsea Camera club on the subject of "Self Portraits."

He explained ways of taking self-photos by utilizing available lights and windows with a camera equipped with a self-timer; also, the method to be used in making a self portrait by reflection in a mirror and use of a flash attachment.

Miss Cora Feldkamp, a member of the club, brought to the meeting a photograph taken more than 45 years ago by Pielemeier--a photo he had taken at a family gathering at the home of his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. William Pielemeier, who at that time lived on Old US-12, east of Chelsea.

Pielemeier had even then experimented with "self-photography." He had taken the picture of himself and the family, as well as several guests, including Miss Feldkamp, by arranging the camera on its tripod, then joining the group and tripping the shutter by pulling a string he had attached to it.

Don Turner also participated in the program at Monday's meeting, demonstrating special equipment of his Heland-Pentax camera, particularly a right-angle-viewer and a bellows attachment for close-ups. Turner also showed pictures which he had made by restoring old photos and demonstrated interesting close-ups showing the many things that may be accomplished in photography, even with the simplest of cameras.

Monday's meeting was held at McKune Memorial Library.

Chelsea Special Ed Teacher Serving In State MEA Office

Lansing—Mrs. Martha Gardner, special education teacher at Chelsea Junior High school, is serving the second year of her term as treasurer of the Michigan Council for Exceptional Children, a department of the Michigan Education Association.

During that organization's annual meeting in Ann Arbor recently, the following educators were elected as 1962-63 officers: June England, Wayne County Board of Education, president; Robert St. Germaine, special education officer, Kent county, president-elect; Elaine Hawker, assistant principal, Oak Park Junior High school, secretary; and Harry Butler, Lansing Board of Education, past president. All will take office on May 1.

Newly-elected board members are Grace Millidge, Northern High school, Flint and Walter Wend, director of special education, Berrien county.

Thomas J. Northey, MEA assistant in research, is staff representative to the department.

4-H Spring Achievement Set April 10-11

Washtenaw county 4-H Club Agents Sharon Hall and Bob McCrory announced that the County-Wide Spring Achievement program will be held April 10-11 at Ann Arbor High school. "Fashion Notes" will be the theme of the dress revue which will highlight the Wednesday evening program.

More than 700 Washtenaw county 4-H club members will be exhibiting approximately 1,500 projects which they have completed this winter. Project exhibits will include clothing, knitting, wood working, leathercraft, photography, electrical, conservation, gun safety, and many others. These exhibits will be judged Tuesday evening by 4-H leaders and other resource people.

The public is cordially invited to view the exhibit area in the corridors of Ann Arbor High school from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 11.

The county Dress Revue and various awards presentations will be made Wednesday evening, starting at 8 p.m. in the large auditorium of the high school. Girls who will be modeling their garments at the county Dress Revue have been pre-selected from two area revues, held at Saline and Dexter.

The county Dress Revue will be narrated by Mrs. Anna Brown, former county extension agent, home economics in Washtenaw county.

The Ann Arbor-Kiwanis Club is sponsoring this county-wide 4-H activity. They also will provide awards for the outstanding clothing and handicraft exhibitors. Detroit Edison Co. will honor the three outstanding electrical clubs with cash awards, and the National Bank and Trust Co. will present a trophy to the highest rated 4-H club in the winter program.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Weir and daughter, Mary Alice, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Flossie Martin at Morenci. In the afternoon they called on Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Biddle of Adrian.

Mrs. Bert White returned home Sunday afternoon from Milwaukee, Wis., where she had spent the past four months at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harris. She returned home with another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Briston of Chelsea and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. David Briston of Pontiac, all of whom spent the week-end at Milwaukee. Another daughter, Mrs. George Titus of Detroit is spending this week here with Mrs. White.

Elden "Dick" Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Moore has been transferred from Minneapolis, Minnesota to Seattle, Wash., by the Northwest Orient Airlines. His work with the airlines requires him to be on many of the flights out of Seattle.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eisenmann were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Eisenmann of Ann Arbor. Afternoon callers from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenmann of Ann Arbor. Waldo Eisenmann of Ann Arbor was there Tuesday.

Girl Scouts, Brownies Troops Receive New American Flags

Two new Brownie troops—625 and 606—and the Chelsea Girl Scout Neighborhood were presented 50-star American flags at a special ceremony at South Elementary school Thursday afternoon.

Rhonda Romine of Brownie Troop 625, Kathy Benjamin of Troop 606, and JoEllen Tison of Girl Scout Troop 50 were chosen to represent the three groups in accepting the flags.

Brownies and Girl Scouts were especially glad to receive the flags at this time because they will be able to use them in next month's Memorial Day parade. The flags are a gift from the Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076 of Chelsea, of which Mrs. Mac Packard (Eulabee) is Americanism chairman.

Auxiliary members who accompanied her to assist in the presentation ceremony included Mrs. Iza Carty and Miss Alda Juergens, junior and senior vice-president, respectively.

Leaders of Brownie Troop 625 are Mrs. Elaine Yocum and Mrs. Gloria Greenleaf; Brownie Troop 606—Mrs. Leola Berman and Mrs. Helen Lanaster; and Troop 50—Mrs. Birdie Chaplin.

Gorton Riethmiller Addresses Kiwanis Monday Evening

Two out-of-town Kiwanians were guests at Monday's meeting of the Chelsea Kiwanis club in the social center of the Methodist church.

One was Sylvester Leonard of Willis and the other, Gorton Riethmiller, well-known former Waterloo resident who now is president of Olivet College.

Introduced by Harold Jones, the evening's program chairman, President Riethmiller gave an informal talk in which he upheld the youth of today, saying unfavorable publicity, in reality, is about a very small percentage of the youth of today—most young people, in his estimation, being better prepared for college and more serious about their future than those of former generations.

Riethmiller is a member of Charlotte Kiwanis club.

Ray Steinbach was also a guest at the meeting.

Business at the meeting Monday included a report of the divisional meeting at Dexter last week, given by Kiwanis President A. S. Penhallow, and announcement that Paul Mann is chairman in charge of arrangements for the annual US-Canada Good Will meeting at Windsor, Ontario, Wednesday, April 25.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe entertained Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barber of North Waterloo, their daughter, Mrs. George Michael, and her three children. Mrs. Michael and the children are leaving tomorrow to join her husband who left a month ago to return to duty with the Marines at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Also guests at Saturday's party were Mr. and Mrs. David Rowe.

Road Map Idea Started by Contest with $100 Offered

Lansing—Hardly anyone gets lost traveling in Michigan any more.

Nearly 400,000 signs on state highways make it possible to drive almost anywhere in the state without a wrong turn.

And in the glove compartment of nearly every car is that silent helper, the road map.

Together, the maps and highway signs make the job of finding your way in Michigan pretty simple.

But it wasn't always this easy. In the early 1900's, when the horse and buggy and a new contraption called the automobile were sharing Michigan's roads, maps and highway signs were a novelty.

Motorists traveled at their own risk of becoming lost.

Early map makers guided travelers by means of church spires, clumps of trees and an occasional homemade mile post.

Some enterprising map makers put up their own route markers, but motorists had to buy one of the company's maps to figure out what the signs meant.

It got to the point where there were as many as 15 different signs running up one telephone pole.

A confused motorist would have to stop, get out his map and see if any of the signs on the pole looked like the ones on his map.

Back seat drivers must have been a real nuisance then.

But motorists got a break in 1916 when one map company announced a contest with a $100 prize for the employee who came up with the best idea for a new map.

A bright young map draftsman suggested road maps for motorists. He also suggested that road be identified by a distinctive symbol.

The road maps caught on but it wasn't until 1925 that uniform numbering system adopted by the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Today, about 200 million way maps are printed each year by oil companies and more given away by state way departments and other agencies. It's an $11 million business.

The Michigan State Highway Department annually prints 600,000 official highway maps. The supply is always within a few months.

The 1962 maps will be ready for distribution in May.

Michigan's highways are numbered in orderly fashion for convenience of motorists.

Even numbered Interstates, U. S. Highways run generally north and south, odd numbered highways run generally east and west.

US-2 runs east and west across the Upper Peninsula; Interstate 94 runs east and west across the southern part of Lower Peninsula.

US-25 runs north and south along the east coast of the Peninsula; US-51 follows the Michigan shoreline.

Michigan's official map highway signs are time tested. State Highway Department employees are constantly experimenting with new methods to travelers.

Proved More Reliable than other leading brands

PROOF—A recent study of 5050 TV sets under service contract, showed that General Electric TV needed 20% less service than the second best of the leading brands.

PROOF—The average of other brands required 63% more service (factory faults requiring service inside set) than General Electric.

This study covered the first 90 days' use in the home of new TV sets purchased in 1960. All sets included were under service contract to the Planet Electronics Corp., a prominent independent service company in New York City. The leading brands of television receivers were included. The results were tabulated and reported by Audits & Surveys Co., Inc., a leading research organization.

DEATHS

Mrs. J. A. Conlan Life-Long Area Resident Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. J. A. Conlan, a life-long area resident, died Thursday at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, following a long illness. She had been a patient at the hospital for a week. She was 83 years old.

Her home for many years was at 315 West Middle St. Mrs. Conlan was a life-long member of St. Mary's Catholic church and was also a member of the church's Altar Society.

Born Jan. 15, 1879, in Chelsea, she was the former Katherine E. McGuire, a daughter of Christopher and Anna Rabbitt McGuire, and was married to John A. Conlan at St. Mary's church on Oct. 18, 1904. Mr. Conlan died Nov. 15, 1960.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Paul Hoffman, Mrs. Harvey Lixey and Mrs. Armin Zinke, all of Chelsea; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A son, Paul, died in December, 1947.

Requiem High Mass, held at 9 a.m. Monday at St. Mary's church, was followed by burial at Mount Olivet cemetery. The Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski officiated.

Parish Rosary was recited at 7 p.m. Saturday and Altar Society Rosary at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Staffan Funeral Home.

Mrs. Harrison West Sylvan Center Resident Dies At Tennessee Nursing Home

Mrs. Harrison West, a Sylvan Center area resident for more than 50 years, died Friday night at the Gallatin Nursing Home, Gallatin, Tenn. She had been a patient there since Oct. 8, 1961, when she suffered a heart attack as she and Mr. West were enroute to Florida intending to spend the winter. They had spent winters in Florida the past 10 years. Mrs. West was 71 years old.

Born at Jackson, March 20, 1891, she was the former Mabel E. Dyer, a daughter of Frank and Etta Riley Dyer. She and Mr. West were married at Jackson, May 6, 1907 and they had made their home at Sylvan Center since then.

Mrs. West was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are five sons and a daughter, Nelson, L. D., J. D. and Dr. Carl Arndt (Martha) of Ypsilanti; Harold of Brighton and Donald of Pinckney; 22 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Viola Dyer of Rives Junction and Mrs. Russell Stevens of Hanover.

Two sons preceded her in death—Arthur in 1930 and Wilson in 1962.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Staffan Funeral Home with the Rev. Derrell Butler of Ypsilanti officiating. Burial took place at Maple Grove cemetery, Sylvan Center.

Travel Series Film Features New Zealand

The film, to be shown at the April 7 travel-adventure series program at Chelsea High school auditorium is described as one of extraordinary beauty showing scenes of New Zealand, "one of the most beautiful South Pacific Islands."

This is the third in the current series sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Miss Bathie Stewart, the featured narrator, who grew up in New Zealand, will show the panoramic beauty and industrial activities of Auckland, Wellington, Christchurch, Dunedin, etc.—vineyards, wheat fields, the sheep and cattle industry—New Zealand's "Yellowstone" with the geysers and steaming pools—mountains, glaciers, volcanoes, lakes, waterfalls, fjords. Her treatment of the scenic variety in her homeland is thorough and dramatic.

Miss Stewart will demonstrate too, for the sportsman with an eye on combined travel and sport that New Zealand offers varied absorbing activities: rainbow trout fishing for light sport; for those fond of brown and trout, swordfish and Mako shark are only a few of the game fish abounding in the beautiful Pacific waters.

The fourth and final program of the travel-adventure series will be held Saturday, May 5, when Julian Gromer presents his "Thrills on the Colorado."

Two Pay Fines for Using Too Many Fishing Lines

Ray A. Oesterle, 42, and Robert L. Oesterle, 33, each paid fine and costs of $12.30 Saturday morning on a charge of using more than the legal number of lines while fishing on West Lake, March 20. (Only two lines are permissible.)

Sylvan Township Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers, in imposing sentence, mentioned a ruling in the case of People vs. Horling, (137 Michigan, 406) in which it was stated that any body of water which permits migration of fish from and to public waters must be fished in accordance with rules and fishing regulations applying on public waters.

The Oesterles claimed that West Lake is private and for that reason the fishing regulations would not apply; however, Conservation officials explained that although there is a dam at the lake's inlet, the water flows around it permitting migration of fish.

Thus, while access to a lake may be private, requiring permissions from someone to reach it, the water itself must be considered public under the conditions mentioned.

Harold J. Powers, former Lt. Gov. of California as he withdrew from race for Governor.

"It is now too late to mount the type of campaign which would be necessary to win the Republican nomination."

Dawn Marie Huggins Infant Dies March 25 Shortly After Birth

Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 27, at 11 a.m., at Oak Grove cemetery for Dawn Marie Huggins who died at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, 10 hours after birth Sunday, March 25, at the family home, 435 North St. She was the daughter of Harold and Susanne Zink Huggins.

Dr. Kenneth Strand of Berrien Springs, officiated at the funeral service.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, are a brother, Michael, at home; the maternal and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zink of Chelsea and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huggins of Dansville, O.; the maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Martin Gottschling of Chelsea; the paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Huggins of Mount Vernon, O., and great-grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Berger of Martinsburg, O.

Chelsea Entry Is Awarded Ribbon At Science Fair

Patty Pastor, Chelsea High school senior, won an honorable mention award at the Fourth Southeastern Michigan Science Fair held Saturday at Ann Arbor High school.

Her entry was a physics project—a solar spectrum—which included an apparatus that divided light into colors and had a color wheel that combined colors to form white.

Included in her exhibit were three illustrative charts and a general report of her project.

She received a certificate and a ribbon in recognition of her honorable mention award.

This was Miss Pastor's third successive year at the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair—last year she placed third in biology and second in the girls' class with her project in which she featured Mill Creek.

Two years ago her biology entry won her a certificate of achievement and excellence.

This year she was the only girl in the physics department to win recognition—she said "the boys just walk away with all the high honors."

There were 162 entries in the fair.

The Science Fair is supported by contributions from business and industry in this area which are obtained by members of the Exchange club.

Miss Pastor, the only Chelsea entrant, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pastor.

Leonard S. Joeris, Jr., a junior at Ann Arbor High school, and Mary Helen Sherburne, a junior at St. Thomas High school, were awarded the first boy and girl awards for their exhibits at the fair.

E. E. Shinabery Dies Suddenly Sunday Following Heart Attack

Emmet Eugene Shinabery, 79 years old, died suddenly Sunday afternoon following a heart attack at 310 South St., where he made his home.

Born in Paulding county, O., March 24, 1884, he was a son of George and Matilda Howell Shinabery. He was married at Grover Hill, O., March 16, 1908, to Lillie Hamilton. They farmed in Ohio until 1913 when they moved to Chelsea.

Mr. Shinabery was employed by the New York Central Railroad and Chelsea Milling Co., before his retirement some years ago.

Mrs. Shinabery died June 17, 1943.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Carl Soderstrom (Elmer) of Muskegon and Mrs. Kermit Sharp (Bessie) of Chelsea; two brothers, Alvin and Albert Howell of Kalamazoo; and two sisters, Mrs. Russell Pachie and Mrs. Oscar Jones of Detroit; seven grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services, with the Rev. David Wood officiating, were held at 2 p.m. yesterday at the Staffan Funeral Home. Burial took place at Oak Grove cemetery.

World War I Vets To Hear Commander

Frank Anderson of Bay City, state commander of the Veterans of World War I, will address the Ann Arbor barracks of the organization at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 10, in the American Legion Home, South Main St., Ann Arbor.

Anderson will discuss efforts to obtain federal legislation that would provide pension aid for World War I veterans. A question and answer period will follow his talk.

All World War I veterans and their wives are invited.

Tuberculin Test Program Scheduled for Ninth Graders

Beginning April 9 the Washtenaw County Health Department, in co-operation with the schools, will offer a tuberculin and histoplasmin testing program to all ninth grade students in the county and to the school personnel of the schools involved.

The testing will be done in co-operation with the Washtenaw Tuberculosis Association and the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project.

The testing program for Chelsea and Dexter high school ninth graders is scheduled for April 23. Eligible students will be given request cards to be signed by parents and returned to the school.

The cards have a place for the parents to indicate whether or not they want their child to be tested. The Health Department is asking that all cards be signed and returned to the school.

Any ninth grade student or any of the adult school personnel who has had a previously negative test or who has never been tested, should participate in the program.

Dr. Engelke urges parents of ninth graders to encourage their children to be tested. The success of this facet of the community's tuberculosis control program depends on the full co-operation of the parents. No student will be tested without written consent of the parents.

The tests being given are simple skin tests. The tests will be read at the schools within 48 to 72 hours, and the results will be reported to parents on cards which students will take home. Parents are encouraged to mail these cards to their family physicians.

A positive tuberculin test does not necessarily mean that active tuberculosis is present. It does mean, however, that further examination is required. Parents of all children who have positive tuberculin reactions will be contacted by the public health nurse to arrange for follow-up examination.

A positive histoplasmosis reaction does not mean that active histoplasmosis is present. Histoplasmosis is a relatively harmless fungus disease contracted from the soil. It is not contagious from person to person. Only on very rare occasions does it require treatment. In most cases, histoplasmosis is interesting because it resembles tuberculosis in x-ray pictures. The Health Department does not plan x-ray follow-up of children with positive histoplasmin tests.

Dates for the testing program in other area schools is as follows: April 9, East Junior High, Willow Run High; April 10, Milan High, West Junior High, St. Johns High, West Junior High, St. Johns High, Roosevelt High; April 11, Lincoln High; April 16, Tappan Junior High, St. Thomas School, Slauson Junior High, University High; April 17, Forsythe Junior High; April 23, Whitmore Lake High; April 24, Manchester, Saline.

Judy Salyer Runner-up in Regional Spelling Contest

Diane Applegate of James Spencer Elementary school at Whitmore Lake, became the regional champion and Judy Salyer of North Elementary school, Chelsea, the runner-up in the spelling contest held at Dexter, Wednesday, April 4.

The Whitmore Lake girl correctly spelled "apostrophe" to become the regional winner.

The next step is the Metropolitan spelling bee in the Detroit News auditorium at Detroit on May 9.

As regional champion, Dianne Applegate received a championship certificate and a Webster's geographical dictionary.

Judges were Mrs. Malcolm Blakely, Mrs. Burton Bucy and Mrs. Bruce Waggoner, all of Dexter. The latter is elementary principal at Whitmore Lake.

Those who pronounced the words for the contestants are Mrs. Frank (Judy) Brosnan, speech correctionist at Dexter schools; Mrs. Milford (Bertha) Boutain, Latin teacher, and Miss Ellen Kay Walsh, physical education teacher at Dexter.

Contestants, all local school winners, were Dianne Applegate of Whitmore Lake elementary school; Sharon Schaefer, Dexter elementary; Karl Koch, Dexter high; Judy Salyer and Sandra Knoll, Chelsea elementary; Janice Koenig, Chelsea junior high; and Janet Livingston of Saline elementary school.

Wrestling Card Set For April 19

Four outstanding matches will headline the big professional wrestling card at Dexter High school Thursday night, April 19 at 8:00 o'clock. Sponsored by the Dexter Kiwanis Club, the program will bring to Dexter eight members of modern matdorm's elite. Leaping Larry Chene will battle his arch-nemesis, La Bestia, "The Beast," in the main event. Tens of thousands of television viewers saw the first epic encounter between Chene and The Beast on a TV wrestling program last fall. The match ended with Chene being rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery on a torn abdominal wall; he had fallen victim to La Bestia's crushing Bearhug. Since that time, Chene has made a near-miraculous recovery, and he has come back to see the day when he again faces The Beast in the ring. Although a tireless competitor in any match, Chene can be counted on to spare no risk or peril in order to defeat the man who injured him so cruelly. La Bestia's celebrated victory over "The People's Choice" made the primitive Sicilian shepherd the top target of leading matmen from all over the world. Possessed of tremendous strength and seemingly endless stamina, The Beast has thus far conquered all challengers. Percival E. Pringle, who will meet Joe Smith in another bout, prides himself on being a man of refinement and taste. Says he of his favorite leisure-time activities, "On any night when I am not engaged in the ring, I may be found at the theater, or the opera, or the symphony—or perhaps the cinema." Martino Angelo, La Bestia's manager, will become Angelo, the wrestler, when he clashes with Tony Parisi. A mighty midjet battle between two diminutive bundles of dynamite will pit Pee Wee James against Pancho Lopez.

Retarded Children's Association To Meet
Next Monday at School
A regular monthly meeting of the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children is scheduled for Monday, April 9, at the Washtenaw County Day School for Retarded Children, 2030 Dhu Varren Rd., north of Ann Arbor. The meeting is designated "Spring Evaluation Night" with those present meeting in small groups to discuss the topic, "How can the WARC be more helpful to my child?" Three of these small groups will meet with the teachers of the three age groups served by the day center (i.e. nursery, 6 to 14 years, and the over-14 year group). Each teacher will start the discussion by describing a typical day in her classroom. A fourth group will center its interest around children in institutions or on a waiting list for an institution. Interested persons, other than parents of retarded children may sit with any group or may form a separate discussion group. The chapter president, Glenn Olson, will summarize the thinking of each of the groups as brought out in the separate discussions. The meeting is open to anyone who may wish to attend, according to an announcement by association officers.

Minimum tillage is important in sugar beet production, according to Michigan State University soil scientists. An average of two or more tons per acre in the final yield may be lost by working the soil more than twice before planting. Nothing is gained by sacrificing principles for the sake of peace.

IDEAL COMMUNITY SIZE

There is an ideal community size for learning. A town of 20,000 to 50,000 population is the ideal size for a public education program. This is the view of a Columbia University educator, Dr. Austin D. Swanson. Swanson says communities in the 20,000 to 50,000 population group offer better educations, on the average, because they are both large enough to provide the educational services needed and small enough to respond swiftly to changing educational needs.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Physical Science class just finished a chapter on light. The anatomy of the eye and how light enters the eye was studied. The classes are studying electricity now. They are studying the different kinds of currents and electric cells. Also electric generators and transformers are being studied.

JUNIOR ENGLISH

The Juniors in English class have been having 10 new spelling words each day from "Learning to Write." They will be required to spell correctly all of the words in order to receive a passing grade. They have also been reading the essays and poems of Ralph Waldo Emerson, and a selection from Henry David Thoreau's book, "Walden."

Later this year they will read several writings of the Cambridge poets: Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, James Russell Lowell and Oliver Wendell Holmes.

WORLD HISTORY

Mr. Prinzing's World History class is now studying Germany. They will study the history of Germany from its beginning up to the present time. The class is also studying about three philosophers and their works, and the philosophies thought today as compared to the past. Student reaction to the philosophies will be noted.

FRESHMAN, SOPHOMORE ENGLISH

Mrs. Eckstrom's ninth grade English classes have just completed fiction book reviews. These book reviews were written in class without the use of notes. The classes have just completed fiction book reviews. These book reviews were written in class without the use of notes. The classes were given an outline several weeks in advance so that they cover and carefully organize the material they planned to cover. These classes are now beginning a unit on poetry covering both classic and contemporary works.

Mrs. LaGoe's freshman English classes are studying mythology. They have been stressing the origin of myths, their scientific, religious, and literature basis. "The Iliad" and "The Odyssey" have been read during the study.

important part of religion. The religion of a people will likely set the standards of morality. Religious beliefs become institutionalized. This means that they develop into patterns of behavior, religious symbols, and practices, that are passed on from one generation to another. Churches, cathedrals, and synagogues become the embodiments or symbols of the institutionalized religions.

MRS. CLAIRE

Mrs. Claire keeps very busy with many activities. Besides being Mr. Cameron's secretary, which is a full-time job in itself, Mrs. Claire also sponsors the central treasurer and does the bookkeeping for the school lunch program. Mrs. Claire took a secretarial course at the International Business College at Port Wayne, Ind. before coming to Chelsea, she was a secretary for five years in Toledo.

Mrs. Claire said that she enjoys her work very much, and although she seldom sees the students, she thinks that the student body is very fine. She also said that she especially enjoys listening to the high school band and thinks that the band is exceptionally good.

LATIN CLUB

President Tom Eisenbeler, presided over the meeting of the Latin club on March 28. The Roman Banquet was discussed, and the club decided to have the banquet on Wednesday, April 26. Committees were organized for the planning of entertainment, food, decorations, and invitations. It was also decided, as has been done in the past, that the club would invite Lanes, Camarons, and Smiths. A demonstration on the proper attire for the Roman Banquet will be given by Carol Meyer and Dru Pickelsimer. They will show how to make a Roman Toga out of a sheet.

GIRL'S PHYS. ED.

Girl's Physical Education classes have just finished a unit in volleyball. Each lass was divided into several teams for tournament play. During the volleyball unit, the girls learned various techniques used in playing volleyball. In the tournament both games were played to give the girls experience in both types of volleyball. Physical Education classes are now having health classes twice a week. Each student to make two reports on topics from a given lists.

On the other three days of the week, the classes are studying modern dance. They will act out "Westside Story" by the use of pantomime and modern dance steps. The students will create various dance steps by themselves.

Freshmen admitted to the University of Michigan last fall were among the first U-M students to pay fees on the installment plan which permits them to pay all fees at one or in two installments.

In research conducted at the Michigan State University Agricultural Experiment Station over a four-year period, deep plowing to a depth of 22 inches increased the yield of corn 15.4 bushels per acre.

Some 8,800 of the 28,470 students at the University of Michigan are involved in "costly" programs; reports Marvin N. U-M executive vice-president.
