Championship Hinges on Win Friday at Saline

Bulldog Win Over Dexter, 48-12, Sets Up Showdown Game for Title

fighting off injuries to several players, the Chelsea Bulldogs successfully defended the invasion of the Dexter Dreadnaughts and defeated them 48-12, and thereby ending up a showdown battle with times undefeated Hornets for May evening this week.

After receiving the opening kickoff, Chelsea fumbled and Dexter recovered on the Chelsea 35-yard line, where, on fourth down and one to go, Quarterback Davy Davis ran, rolled out and threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to End Dave Jones. The point after was blocked as Dexter was in front, 6-0.

The Bulldogs then rose to the challenge and marched to the Dexter four-yard line where Jack Howard went over to tie the score.

Howard then kicked the first of six successive PAT's to put Chelsea in front, 7-6.

Early in the second period Dud Jones went 30 yards and another Chelsea score with Howard kicking the point after to boost the Bulldogs lead to 14-6.

The Dreadnaughts, who were not known as Fullback Charles Byrnes went up the middle for 40 yards and another Dexter score. The point after was wide and Chelsea now led, 14-12.

After marching to the Dexter 57-yard line, Jack Howard broke through again and went all the way for a score, boosting the score to 21-12 plus the PAT, making it 24-12.

The half ended with Dexter on the Chelsea two-yard line but out of time on what proved to be their last scoring threat of the evening.

In the third period the Bulldogs' overall play improved and as a result they scored twice, once on a punt pass-and-run play from Pat Parkey to Mike Schrader and again on a fine 45-yard burst up the middle by Dick Lauson. Chelsea's defense improved also and prevented Dexter from getting all serious drive underway.

The Grid team then took over and continued the assault by scoring. (Continued on page three)

Chelsea Caravan
Will Leave at 6:30
To Invade Saline

Reminiscent of Chelsea's 125th Anniversary celebration, a "Chelsea Caravan" will travel to Saline tomorrow night carrying fans to the Chelsea-Saline football game.

Tomorrow's game will decide the Washtenaw Conference championship—the Saline Hornets have won all their games to date, and Chelsea Bulldogs have won all their League games—and the game is expected to provide plenty of thrills.

To facilitate getting in to see the game on arrival at Saline, arrangements have been made for advance ticket sales here. The tickets may be purchased at Chelsea High school and at Foster's and Strieter's Men's Wear stores.

The committee in charge of plans for the caravan said yesterday, "To demonstrate our team support and spirit let's all drive over to Saline in a caravan. Assemble at the High school parking lot to leave promptly at 6:30 p.m. Hope everybody will join the caravan rather than just drive over—our arrival at Saline will be much more impressive."

Arrangements have been made for official Sheriff's Department escort, if necessary.

Friends of Library Will Meet Monday

Jack Merkel, president of the Chelsea Friends of the Library, announced this week that the group's annual fall meeting is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m.

Merkel said a special effort is being made to present an interesting program, details of which are to be announced next week.

All persons interested in the library and its services to the community are invited to attend.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF CHELSEA, whose annual rummage sales have financed the club's many worthwhile projects through the years, held its fall sale Friday and Saturday at Sylvan Town Hall; the above was a familiar scene during the two-day event. Chelsea area people have learned through the years that many bargains are available at the sale and club members who assist as salesladies are kept busy displaying the wares. Standing around the table, left to right, are Phyllis Fletcher, Tony Fletcher, Susie Brown, Robert Brown and Terry Fletcher. Behind them, from left, are Dailas Fletcher, Mrs. Mae Fletcher, Mrs. Shirley Smith, Mrs. Marnie Brown, Mrs. Thomas Smith and Mrs. Ruth Wilkinson. The two Mrs. Smiths and Mrs. Wilkinson are committee members who were on duty at the time the picture was taken. When the club began its rummage sale project many years ago, the group was practically the first to use this means of raising funds; now, numerous rummage sales are held by clubs and church groups. The club customarily held a sale in the spring and in the fall but this year held only the fall sale. All proceeds are used for the club's community service projects; one of the most outstanding being the founding of Chelsea's public library in 1932. The library now is known as McKune Memorial Library. The club continues to make an annual contribution to the library. Among other important projects which originally were sponsored by the club are Chelsea Social Service and Chelsea Community Chest. General chairmen for this year's sale were Mrs. Harold Spaulding and Mrs. Paul Maroney.

Calvin Clark Named To Head Community Fair

At the annual meeting of the Chelsen Community Fire Association, Thursday, April 25, Calvin Chalk was elected president; he also re-elected were Lloyd Grant, secretary, and H. T. Moore, treasurer.

Others elected are Fred Anderson, first vice-president; Roland Spaulding, second vice-president; and the following directors for three-year terms: Everett Van Riper, Reuben Lesser, Jr., and Walter Loeffler of Chelsen and Harold Trinkle of Dexter.

Tag Day
Nets Band
Total of $700

Friday and Saturday of last week the tag sale held by the Band-Booster club and members of the Eighth Grade Band and Senior Band was exceptionally successful. A total of more than $700 was contributed by people of the area toward repayment of the $4,000 debt on the new Senior Band uniforms.

This tremendous public support of the endeavor was a hopeful beginning of the drive to repay the loan as quickly as possible.

Soon to begin is the chocolate bar and fruit cake sale by mem-

World Community Day Slated Friday By Church Women

Tommorrow (Friday) at 1 p.m., the Galesburg area church women will hold a service of religious service in the social center of the Methodist church in observance of World Community Day.

"Channels to Peace in Southeast Asia" will be the topic of an address to be given by Mrs. Wilfred Kincaid of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Kincaid is affiliated with the work of Ann Arbor Council of Churches and the Protestant Foundation for International Students at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. D. Holmes Named to Cancer Society Board

Mrs. Dudley Holmes has been named as a member of the board of the Washington County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. Ann Arbor; she now has the responsibility of distributing dressings, pads and other supplies for the Chelsea area.

Mrs. Holmes makes this distribution from her home on East Middle St. and anyone who wishes to contact her, may call GR 9-2181.

The supplies formerly were stored on the third floor of the Municipal building and Boy Scouts of Troop 25 moved them to the home of Mrs. Holmes. She said later that the assistance of the Boy Scouts "was greatly appreciated."

Chest Drive Reaches 67% Of Total Goal

After two complete weeks the 1963 Community Chest drive has reached $10,367.15 or 67.3 per cent of the $15,400 goal.

Long, Bitter Campaign Hitting Peak Activity

Next Tuesday, Nov. 9, is election day and an unusually large voter turn-out is expected since all candidates have been campaigning strenuously and will continue to do so the remainder of the week.

In addition to the election of state, congressional, legislative and county candidates, there is a referendum to be voted on—a proposed amendment to the present state constitution authorizing the legislature to provide for general revision of the statutes.

As it appears on the ballots the proposed amendment reads as follows: "Shall Section 40 of Article V of the State Constitution, be amended as follows: 'The legisla-

Sylvan Taxes 3½ Mills Less This Year /

The rate for Sylvan township taxes for 1962, which became due on April 1, will be $40.30 per $1,000 of full roll valuation; this is $3.60 less than last year's rate.

Sylvan Township Supervisor Maurice Hoffman explains that the reduction is made possible because the Chester School District Board of Education has decided operation of the schools for this year, at least, is possible for less than the amount voted by the people for such operation.

Supervisor Hoffman, in making the announcement of the 1962 tax rate said, "During recent months the county tax advisor, George Kotishak, has been working with me, as he does with all other assessors, in the county, to make an annual check on properties in each assessing district. These properties are in various categories. This year some 40 parcels of residential property in the village were checked for equalization purposes. I trust that through the study perhaps Sylvan township will gain percentage-wise and thereby have a lesser rate of taxation in 1963."

70 Children Participate in UNICEF Program

The committee in charge of the UNICEF Halloween project sponsored by United Church Women of Chelsea stated yesterday that they "wished to express deep appreciation to all people of the community who shared in this first UNICEF project in the community."

The committee's report indicated that the approximately 75 children who carried the official UNICEF container instead of the customary "trick-or-treat" bag "were rewarded by the spirit of sharing" generally displayed by the people who contributed.

So does the proposed Constitution. Representative Joseph Gillis of Detroit, who was instrumental in putting the proposal on the ballot, says the State needs a positive system of law, arranged logically according to subject matter. He wants it put in uniform terminology, proper grammatical structure and punctuation.

Edward Hutchinson, of Fennville, former state senator and Con Con delegate, a recognized constitutional authority, disagrees with Gillis.

He says if general revision is ordered it would come before the Legislature in a single bill. He says the state's last revision of its laws in 1846 and Hutchinson claims the general revision job was so unsatisfactory that the 1850 Constitutional Convention did not include provisions for revision of the statutes and the 1908 Constitution continued the prohibition.

Michigan voters will decide the question at next Tuesday's election.

State candidates on the Democratic and Republican tickets for Tuesday's election are as follows: governor, John B. Swainson (D), George Romney (R); lieutenant governor—T. John Lesinski (D), Clarence A. Reid (R); secretary of state—James M. Hare (D), Nor-

GEORGE ROMNEY, Republican candidate for governor, is shown in the above photo as he was greeted on his arrival in Chelsea at 7:30 a.m. yesterday (Wednesday) by Frederick Belser, (right) chairman of the Washtenaw County Republican Committee. District 1, Belser also serves as vice chairman of the county Republican executive committee. Romney arrived in a caravan which included a special bus and a number of automobiles. The party, which included other Republican candidates, stopped for a brief visit in front of McKim Memorial Library where approximately 60 persons had gathered. Romney spoke briefly, and shook hands with a number of the adults and children; then the party went on for a visit at the Methodist Home before leaving for a scheduled breakfast at the YM-YWCA, Ann Arbor. Belser was present for the breakfast at Ann Arbor which he said later was attended by an "overflow crowd." Romney and his party spent the remainder of the day campaigning in Ypsilanti, Milan, Dundee and Monroe.

Latest Fad - 'Jump in the Concrete,' It's Fun and the Taxpayers Will Fix It!

Until this past week we thought we had, over the years, heard of just about every low, foolish stunt anyone could perpetrate.

But now it has come to our attention that a few lame-brained, weak characters in the teen-age group—and some a little older—have hit new lows in the mutilation and destruction of public property.

The action we are speaking of has been the systematic and almost certain damage inflicted on nearly every piece of fresh concrete work the village crews have poured this past summer and fall. Sidewalks, curb repairs, street repairs—they all receive the same treatment from this group of misdirected young people. Hand prints, foot prints, scratches with sticks, a depository for big stones—all seem to be in the repertoire of the vandal.

Unless village crews sit guard over every batch of fresh concrete until it has started to harden, they have all suffered the same discouraging and costly fate. One young girl was observed running down the walk toward a freshly-poured repair section, hurdling the barriers protecting the area, and jumping "kerplow" with both ham-sized feet into the soft concrete paid for and poured there by village taxpayers for everyone's benefit—including hers.

We feel it's about time some parents start watching their children more carefully if they can't succeed in instilling a little bit of respect for the property of others, including public property, into the irresponsible heads of these few. Certainly young people in their early 20's know better than to commit offenses such as this. If they don't let's take action to see that they learn it promptly and prevent such occurrences in the future.

We feel strongly enough about this to offer a generous cash reward for anyone bringing in name of offenders and proof of any such vandalism in the future.

Parents Should Help Teach Children Necessary Rules of Traffic Safety

With schools in full swing all over the country, it is necessary that parents teach their children habits of traffic safety. That is true in both urban and rural areas where young children have to use and cross busy streets and highways on their way to and from school.

Although schools and police departments have consolidated their efforts to protect and teach safety education to these children, their parents should not depend entirely on educators and police.

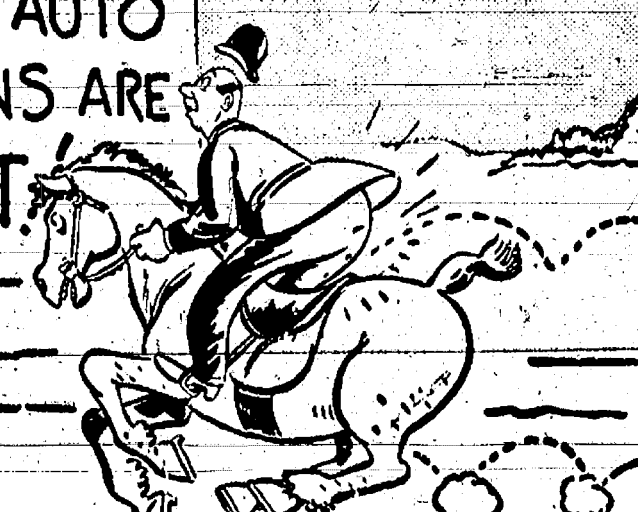

Needless to say, motorists should realize that children, by nature, are impulsive and unpredictable. Therefore, it is important for drivers of motor vehicles to be particularly watchful and careful in the vicinity of schools and during the hours when school children may be on the streets. They should keep a safe distance behind the car ahead and pass only when it is safe to do so.

Surely, every one—traffic officers, police, teachers, parents, motorists and the children themselves should co-operate to avoid the possibilities of tragedies due to motor vehicle accidents involving children.

Two milestones in bridge construction will be marked almost simultaneously this year.

A new International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie, linking Michigan and Ontario, will be opened at the end of this month. The following day marks the fifth anniversary of the opening of the Mackinac Bridge across the Straits.

The new bridge across the St. Mary's River near the Soo Locks is expected to increase the flow of traffic between Michigan and Ontario.

The international span will eliminate the fleet ferry boat service which has served the twin cities in the two countries since the late 1800's. It cost $20 million in construction.

The predicted increase in traffic flow created by the new bridge was based on records of the Mackinac Bridge. During its first five years, nearly 6.8 million vehicles have been recorded crossing the straits.

In a similar period, the last five years in which ferries operated on the Straits, about 4.3 million vehicles used the ferry service.

Michigan is now conducting two "nation-wide searches" for outstanding men to head two governmental functions.

When Don Weeks resigned as head of the Economic Development Department last year, Gov. John B. Swainson announced a widespread search would be conducted to find the "best man in the country" to head the department.

This man has not yet been found, although officials said part of the tieup on selecting a department head was linked to the hesitancy of the legislature to set a salary which would attract the right person.

Now, the Conservation Department is under orders to launch a nationwide search "for a top-flight authority to head a broad, new creation program for Michigan."

The title to be given the new department official would be Deputy Director. The position was proposed as a means of implementing a recent recreation program, formulated in a study by Louis F. Twarzaski, assistant professor in the Michigan State University Department of Resource Development.

The same hitch lies in this new position, however, as is in the search for an Economic Development director. The Civil Service Commission must first approve creation of the deputy director's post.

Then the legislature must be convinced to include funds in the Conservation Department budget to cover the salaries of the deputy director and his proposed staff.

School districts are making effective strides forward to meet the increasing demand for facilities, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Bartlett said classroom construction in the state during the first three months of the current fiscal year showed a 42 percent increase over the same period of 1951.

Department records showed that construction of 1,131 classrooms was approved during July, August and September this year as compared with 727 for the same months last year.

"The sizeable increase of the past three months can be attributed at least partially to Michigan's new school bond loan program," Bartlett said. The program removed limitations on bond ceilings and "greatly improved financial means for new construction," he said.

The state superintendent said the trend would have to continue climbing if Michigan is to meet its school needs. "We need 2,400 new classrooms this year if only the minimal requirements of increased enrollment are to be met," he said.

Estimates are that Michigan will require 20,000 new classrooms during the next five years, Bartlett said.

Home Fires Total Greatest Loss of All Burnings

Pointing out that Michigan home fires last year caused 173 deaths and $20 million in property damage, Detective Captain Glenroy M. Walker, chief of the fire marshal division of the State Police, in an appeal stressed the need for more common sense attention to fire hazards in dwellings.

The 19,245 home fires accounted for almost 30 percent of all fires and the total dollar loss was the highest of all types of buildings burned, he said.

Of the fatalities occurring in home fires, 114 were adults and 59 were children.

Captain Walker cited the seven principal fire hazards in homes as follows: Carelessness in the use of matches and in smoking; defective heating apparatus; misuse of electricity; hot ashes and coals; defective chimneys; kitchen hazards, and mishandling of flammable liquids. Most fires are a result of human neglect and carelessness, he said.

He advised home owners to plan a course of action for members of the family in event of fire, especially because most occur at night. Local fire departments can assist in these home fire prevention and emergency evacuation plans, he said.

Timing Is Important To Any Housewife In Cooking Meals

Ann Arbor—One of the culinary concerns for both bride and experienced housewife can be solved with a written schedule, according to a study by the University of Michigan Medical Center.

It is the problem of the housewife to get the entire meal prepared and ready to serve at the appointed hour. The complex meal—for parties, days or other special occasions—the more troublesome this matter of co-ordination.

Th U-M food specialists recommend using a written schedule and working "backwards" from time you wish to eat. For example, if you plan to eat at 6 p.m., the menu includes a seven hours cooking time, baked toes (1 hour), salad (20 minutes), and frozen vegetables (10 minutes), your completed meal would look something like:

3:00 p.m. Meet in kitchen
 4:00 p.m. Potatoes to bake
 5:30 p.m. Fix salad
 6:45 p.m. Prepare vegetables
 7:00 p.m. Serve.

The unfilled hours could be for other activities. But in planning, say the dietitians, forget to schedule a short period before your husband guests arrive.

Post the schedule where you see it, follow it carefully and will be able to get the meal on the table like a professional.

The meat of game birds animals tends to be drier and taste a bit stronger than market meat. Keep the meat by cooking with gravy, by using strips of bacon, or using some other approved method of cooking.

Methodists Plan Loyalty Sunday Event

Sunday, Nov. 4, will be Loyalty Sunday at the First Methodist Church and the day will open the annual Every-Member Visitation.

Sixty men from the congregation will visit more than 800 Methodist families between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. They will explain the proposed program of the church for the calendar year 1963 and will then afford each family the opportunity to indicate their share of support of this program.

All members of the congregation are urged to attend the 10 a.m. worship service as an indication of loyalty to their church.

During the worship hour the 60 visitors will be commissioned to their work and they will each turn in a pledge card indicating their commitment to, and support of, the program.

The men will meet at the church again at 1:45 p.m. and leave to make their calls at 2 p.m. Louis Allen is general chairman and is assisted by several committees: program — Harold Halliburton, George Wilkins, Daniel Ewald, Ben R. Donaldson, and Raymond Schaefer; visitation — Clare Knickerbocker, Russell Maurer and Ralph Frisch; materials, education and publicity — Loring Bates, Wesley Howes, James Daniels; congregational dinner — Mrs. J. W. Smith and Mrs. George West.

The goal for funds for the 1963 program totals $26,652.00 which covers the following areas of work: church administrative expense, music ministry, general church expense, World Missions, and the Five-Year Improvement Fund.

William F. Storey, chairman of the church's Commission on Stewardship and Finance, has issued a letter to church families urging their co-operation with this program. Visitation is a positive step initiated by the Commission on Stewardship and Finance, and approved by the Official Board, as an organized method to bring information to every family and to provide working funds to accomplish the full program of the church.

The Visitation will close with a Laymen's Victory Sunday service Nov. 11.

The Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the church, will receive 22 new adult members into the church as part of the special Loyalty Sunday service.

SCIENCE TOPICS

HURRY UP AND WAIT, the old Army game, is the lament of the commercial air-traveler, that jet-age phenomenon who bolts faster and faster from airport to airport, only to bog down in traffic trying to get back and forth to town.

And things will get worse before they get better, predicts the Federal Aviation Agency. It estimates that, even now, as much as 60 percent of the airline patron's travel time is spent on the ground, depending on the length of his journey. The solution may be a large number of low-capacity aircraft taking passengers to and from the jetport over a widely scattered pattern of origins and destinations, the FAA suggests guardedly. And it points out that any solution is far in the future. SKIM MILK drinkers are on the increase. Dairy officials report sales of the low-calorie milk are 9 percent over a year ago while whole milk sales are down 3 percent.

AUTOMATION can be carried too far, as four contending pleasure boaters can attest. They arrived at their destination, San Pedro, Calif., unaware that their automatically piloted craft was close enough to home to require a human hand at the wheel. It struck a breakwater and sank.

ing twice more in the fourth period, once on a 15-yard pass from Freshman Quarterback Mike Kushmaul to Dick Laubach and again on a four-yard run by Halfback Gordon Carpenter.

The line play was the big difference in the game as Don Brooks, playing on an injured leg, did a fine job, along with Tim Whiteside, Bob Riemenschneider, Don Wilson, Gary Dresch, Tom Eisenbeiser, Warren Porath, Mike Scharder and John Hand.

This same group of boys must come up with an outstanding effort tomorrow night if the Bull-Standard-Want-Ads get results!

IN 1956, Capitol released Gray's "Sounds of the Great Bands," an album of recordings of tunes made famous by some of the great swing bands of the 1940s . . . The LP was an immediate success and since then almost every major record company has duplicated the concept . . . "They All Swing the Blues" is the fifth in Gray's series of faithful and accurate reproductions of his Casa Loma orchestra bringing back some great blues tunes made famous by such bands as Lunceford, Bob Crosby, Billie Holiday, Duke Ellington, and Though perhaps better known for his tasty jazz piano work, Coleman is also an accomplished composer and made a mark on Broadway with his bright, breezy score for "Wildcat," a hit musical that starred Liza Minnelli. In his first album on Capitol, Coleman, backed by swinging rhythm section, offered program of tunes from his Broadway shows. Among the selections are "Come Rain or Come Shine" from "St. Louis Woman," "The Gentleman Is a Dope," and "Allegro," "Luck Be a Lady" from "Guys and Dolls" and Coleman's own "Tall Hope" from "Wildcat."

BEE STING A FAVOR
Miami, Fla. — Isaac Diller takes it as a favor when a bee stings him.
"As long as I get stung my arthritis stays away," the 72-year-old beekeeper said.

He was stung by ten bees when he was called to quiet a swarm of bees riled up by a youngster.

people; benefits are now payable at age 62; and less social security credit is needed to meet the eligibility requirements for benefits.

The average old-age benefit nationally for December 1961 was $74.04 for a retired worker. In the State of Michigan, the average benefit was $83.67.

The table below shows the number and amount of each type of benefit being paid in Washtenaw county, as of Dec. 31, 1961, the

About Your Social Security

Old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits are becoming increasingly important as a community resource according to Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration.

$779,564 is paid monthly in social security benefits in Washtenaw county. This is an increase of about 13 percent over last year's figures. While the benefits are intended primarily for the beneficiaries' economic security, they help business in the community generally. Most of the money is spent immediately for food, clothing, and other necessities.

"At the present time, social security benefits are being paid at a rate of more than one billion dollars a month. There are several reasons for the increase," Kehoe said. There are more aged

YOUR GREEN ACRES—Shown here by the dark areas on this map is one of the greatest assets owned by the people of Michigan —their state forest system. Managed by the Conservation Department for recreation, wildlife and industry, it covers some 3.8 million acres, about 10 percent of the state's land area. Within your state forests are about 530 miles of inland lake shoreline, 6,000 miles of streams, nearly 150 miles of Great Lakes shoreline. Added to these natural features are 100 public campgrounds where outdoor lodging is free. State forests annually draw an estimated 215,000 deer hunters and 42,000 small game hunters. An estimated 160,000 anglers fish waters in state forests each year. These lands are also important to wood-using industries; the volume of their timber sales has climbed to about 150 million board feet annually.
This is equal to 12,000 railroad carloads of wood, or a train some 100 miles long. Where feasible, special uses are allowed on state forest lands to boost the economy and provide facilities.

Michigan Has Largest State Forest System in Nation

Lansing — As a resident of Michigan, you are an owner of the largest state forest system in the nation.

Managed by the Conservation Department for recreation, wildlife, and industry, it spreads over some 3.8 million acres, about 10 percent of the land area of the state and 20 percent of Michigan's total forest area.

What are these state forests?
What do they offer the sportsman and recreationist? What kind of timber do they grow?

All but one are in the so-called "north woods country," 11 each in the upper peninsula and northwestern lower peninsula. The lone exception is Allegan state forest in southwestern Michigan.

Within your state forests are about 530 miles of inland lake frontage, 6,000 miles of streams, and nearly 150 miles of Great Lakes shoreline.

Added to these natural features are 100 campgrounds with almost 1,000 sites. Campsites are available free on a first-come, first served basis.

If you like to "get away from it all," they have your kind of camping. All campgrounds are located on lakes or streams and are generally off the beaten path, away from the rush-rush pace of daily life. In keeping with this, they provide the barest of necessities for outdoor living—tables, stoves, drinking water, and pit toilets.

A few years ago, the Department started "trail-blazing," another outdoor niche for public enjoyment at campgrounds. Foot trails were laid out and marked.
These scenic trails are tailored to satisfy as many outdoor tastes as possible, whether they be nature study, bird watching, photography or just plain exercise.

Varying in length from a half-mile to five or more, many of these hiking routes are laid out in a circular course, conveniently starting and ending at campgrounds. Some of the longer trails are "short-circuited" by alternate routes for those who don't care to make the entire trip.

Also designed to stretch the state forest user's enjoyment is a new posting program to identify various conservation programs and to show the way to wild land points of interest. Signs mark Kirkland's warbler management areas, forest plantations, blueberry areas, deer browse study areas, and other sites.

New to the state forest picture are a few specially marked scenic drives on back roads where travelers may enjoy the peace and scenic-ery and, at the same time, learn something about forest uses and management.

Picnicking is allowed practically anywhere in state forests and boating is permitted on most lakes where there is public access.

Too, state forests are popular places to hunt and fish. Forming the core of Michigan's northern "white-tail country," they drew an estimated 215,000 deer hunters each fall, including 25,000 archers.
Another 42,000 small game hunters take to these lands in pursuit of grouse, rabbits and waterfowl whose populations have fared well under the Department's timber-game-water management program.

An estimated 160,000 anglers fish waters in state forests each year.
Your state forest lands are important to wood-using industries;
the volume of their timber sales has climbed to about 150 million board feet annually. This is equal to 12,000 railroad carloads of wood, or a train some 100 miles long.

Everything from veneer logs to shingle bolts to pickets is produced from state forests. In small timber and relatively low-quality products. This will change as time and forestry programs work out a better balance of timber-size distribution.

There are a number of state forest users outside the Department's own timber producing and recreational programs which are regulated through special permits issued by the Department. Permits cover such activities as grazing; removal of sand and gravel for roads or other purposes.

SENIOR CITIZENS HONORED—Monday, Oct. 29, was "Octogenarian Night" at the Kiwanis club meeting in the social center of the Methodist church. Each year, for a fall meeting, Kiwanians invite all area men 80 years old or more to be guests at the special meeting in their honor. Of the 22 invited, those shown in the above photo were present. Seated, from left, are Ernest Hutzel, 81; Otto Goetz, 91; and Edward Whipple, 86. Standing, also from left, are Dr. A. L. Steger, 84; A. G. Hindelang, 82; Henry Orthing, 80; Albert Pielmeier, 80; and Walter Kantlehner, 80. Their combined ages total 664 years. All have lived in the Chelsea area for many years and several are life-long residents. Kantlehner still operates the jewelry store founded in 1888 by his father; Dr. Steger was a practicing dentist here for more than half a century before his retirement several years ago; Hindelang was formerly a hardware dealer here; and Goetz, the oldest of the group, farmed throughout his working years. Careers in farming were also followed by Pielmeier, Orthing and Whipple; and Hutzel was an engineer at the former cement plant at Four Mile Lake.

Kiwanis Club Honors Octogenarians

Monday, Oct. 29, was "Octogenarian Night" for the Kiwanis club of Chelsea—an annual occasion when Kiwanians invite as their special guests, all area men who are 80 years old or more. Of 22 men invited, eight attended.

The men present included Dr. A. L. Steger, retired dentist, who practiced in Chelsea for more than half a century, and Walter Kantlehner, who has been in the jewelry and watch repair business continuously since 1898 when he went to work with his father, Fred Kantlehner, founder of the business. Dr. Steger, 84, and Kantlehner, 80, are natives of Chelsea and life-long residents of the community.

Others who were present Monday are Otto Goetz, 91; Edward Whipple, 86; A. G. Hindelang, 82; Ernest Hutzel, 81; Henry Orthing, 80; and Albert Pielmeier, 80.

Each of the octogenarian guests spoke briefly when introduced by the program chairman, Don Turner.

Other area men who had been invited but did not attend Monday's meeting are E. J. Bahnmiller, the Rev. M. W. Brueckner, E. M. Eismann, William Fox, George Haist, John Haselwardt, Fred Hoffman, John Lindow, Gerhart Lesser, Dennis Tallant, Ray Thomas, Godfred Elsiele, William Wheeler and Charles Zahn.

In addition to the 80-year-olds, guests at Monday's meeting included Ed. Lewis and Robert Barlow, of Chelsea, and J. J. Waggoner, a Kiwanian from Dexter.

George Palmer announced the club's public pancake supper to be held Monday, Nov. 5, at Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Other business on the agenda was the annual election of officers which resulted in naming the following: Robert Daniels, president; Wallace Wood, first vice-president; Don Turner, second vice-president; Loring Bates, treasurer; P. F. Niehaus, secretary; and William Rich, Fred Anderson, George A. Stefan and Louis Allen, members of the board of directors for two-year terms.

In a report of last week's meeting, it was mentioned that 88 from Chelsea attended the ladies' night meeting of the Dexter Kiwanis club Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, when the Dexter club observed its 25th anniversary.

Late Raspberry Crop Nipped by Frosts

Raymond Worden, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Worden, came in from a yard chore Thursday at the family home, 118 Lincoln St., with a handful of ripe raspberries he had picked from bushes in the garden. More New Facts on Business Trend Traditionally, business picks up in the new year. All available statistics, therefore, take on a really important meaning in this fall period. Six significant items have been released in the past few days.

The total value of all goods and services produced in the nation—increased to $555.5 billion in the third quarter. This is a rise of $3.5 billion, and it is the smallest growth from one quarter to the next since the recovery started. This is a preliminary estimate by the Department of Commerce, and the final figure may well be changed.

In September the over-all unemployment situation made no improvement. As a proportion of the civilian labor force it remained at 5.8 percent, which was the same as August. There was some decline in those out of work for 26 weeks or more; but this drop was offset by an increase in those out of work for less than 26 weeks. Seasonally adjusted unemployment, as contrasted with unemployment, remained at just about the August level. There was a slight increase in the average work week. This is encouraging because there has been a consistent decline in this item since last April.

Total personal income was the same in September as in August. This is disturbing because wage and salary disbursement—which comprise about two-thirds of total personal income—were off $500 million from August. This was offset by increases in dividends, interest, and transfer payments. The transfer payments were up primarily because of greater unemployment insurance payments. The total of personal income remains, of course, at a tremendously high figure—$448 billion. This is the highest in our history, and much above anything prevailing in any other nation.

Retail trade has been showing a little less zest in recent weeks, and there have been many actual declines. This is one of the relatively stable items in the economic system—and ordinarily it climbs a little almost every month when allowance is made for seasonal factors. The recent minor drop is not necessarily important, but neither is it encouraging.

Net is a report on industrial production. This is measured by the Federal Reserve Board and is based upon physical units—which means price changes do not have any effect upon the index. The board now uses 1957 as equal to 100.

Between July and August there was no change in the index, and the September figure also shows no change. The index now stands at 119. In January, February, and March last year the index was 102. That was the bottom of the recession.

In the stability of the past three months there have been many cross-currents. It just happens that they have offset each other. It is quite possible that the index for October will show a rise of a point or two, and it is to be hoped that this does happen. Certainly the figure cannot continue for long to reveal such absolute stability.

The Federal Reserve Board reduced required reserves on time deposits by one percentage point, or from 5 percent to 4 percent. This will add some $767 million to the net reserves of commercial banks and would give them a new lending power of close to $5 billion. It is widely believed that this reduction reflects a belief on the part of our Reserve authorities that the economy needs a monetary stimulant to get it off the present sideways movement. Actually, there has been no shortage of credit over-all during the past many months. The change in these reserve requirements, however, will relieve the concentration of net free reserves in country banks, and thus give us a better distribution of lending power.

Men rarely lose their temper with those to whom they owe nothing.

Political Poster Reminder Given by Election Chief

Candidates who are running in the Nov. 6 election were warned today to keep their placards off of polling places, public buildings, and state highways or freeways.

This reminder came from James M. Hare, who as Secretary of State is also supervisor of elections in Michigan.

In the past Hare also strongly recommended that office seekers refrain from posting placards and other political propaganda on trees or other public or private lands.

Urban Development Needs Million Acres Before 1975

A million acres of land will be needed for new developments in Michigan by 1975. This includes everything from home sites to future highways.

An estimated 880,000 acres will move out of cropland on farms to make way for other uses according to a recent study of the Michigan Conservation Needs committee.

The committee, working with a host of state agencies and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State University, has made an exhaustive study of land use by 1975.

Michigan's total area is about 36 1/2 million acres. Of this amount, nearly two million acres are in urban areas, roads and highways. More than 187,000 acres are covered by water resources.

Less than a third of the state's total area is in farm, cropland and nearly half is in forest and woodland. Federal land, including forests, parks and public lands, comprise nearly three million acres. The study shows that most of the change will come from farm land into other uses. Reductions are also due in the next 15 years for forests, pasture and waste land. Increases are predicted for water areas, Federal lands and the largest jump—in urban and industrial development.

Where will the land shifts occur? Primarily south of the City-Muskegon line. In the region, estimated 70 percent of the million-acre shift will take place in southern Michigan.

YOU COULD LOSE YOUR REPRESENTATION!

Remember July 18?

Memories are short these days. So much is happening that we sometimes forget the events of only a few months ago.

But, when we vote on November 6, we'd better remember July 18.

That was the day when the Supreme Court of Michigan threw out, by a one-vote margin, the State Senate apportionment we voted for just 10 years ago. The court told us we had to take the kind of apportionment demanded by Gus Scholle, regardless of the fact that the people had overwhelmingly rejected it at the polls.

By that same one-vote margin, the Court also cancelled the primary election and told the people they might have to elect 32 Senators on an at-large basis.

This could easily have meant that all the Senators would come from one or two counties, depriving us of our voice—of any voice—in the Senate of Michigan!

Only action by the U. S. Supreme Court saved us! And the fight isn't over yet.

What does this mean to us on November 6?

Well, the present Governor has said that the Michigan Supreme Court decision, which almost cost us our representation in the Senate, was "A great victory for the people." Which people, Governor Swainson? Certainly not those of us who live here. Certainly not the 1,269,807 of us (a 294,289 majority) who voted for the present Senate plan that the Michigan Supreme Court threw out.

Fortunately, the Governor's opponent, Mr. George Romney, supports a Senate apportionment plan which provides effective representation for all the people. He also supports the right of the people to vote on the kind of legislative representation they want. Romney has called the Swainson-Scholle apportionment steamroller a "power grab." He's right.

When we vote on November 6 we ought to remember what John Swainson wants to do to our voice in the legislature. We ought to remember where George Romney stands.

We ought to remember that Governor Swainson's appointee, Attorney General Kelley, deserted the people and argued for Gus Scholle.

We ought to remember that two Justices of the Supreme Court are up for election, and that we can change the make-up of the Michigan Supreme Court by electing two new Justices.

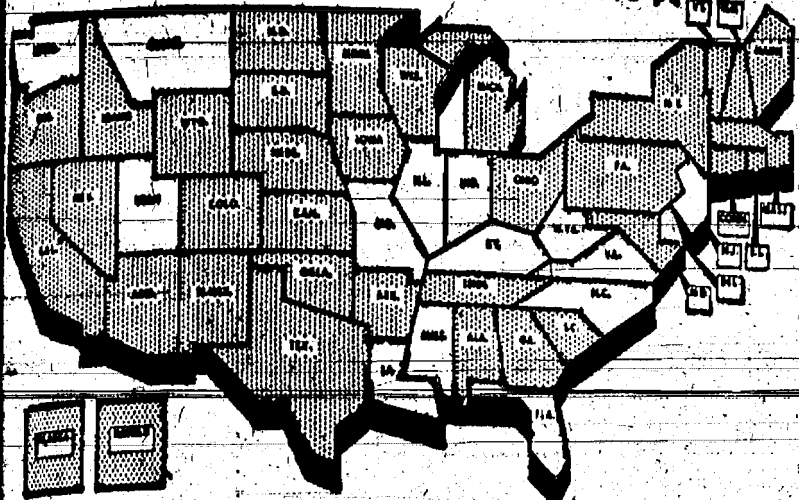

Let's remember July 18 on November 6. Let's do what we can to see that we still have a voice in the State Senate.

★ 35 GUBERNATORIAL ELECTIONS ★

BIG MONTH... In November, the important gubernatorial elections will be held in 35 states where national and state elections will be held: California, New York, Michigan, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, and Ohio.

Feed Grain, Wheat Diverted Acres Opened to Livestock

Beginning Nov. 1, most of the acreage diverted under the 1962 grain and wheat programs will be released from program restrictions on grazing. Max M. Kalmbach, chairman, Agricultural Conservation and Conservation Committee, has announced the authorization does not extend to (1) diverted acreage which was devoted to food plots, (2) diverted acreage on which in-or-outside crops have been planted in 1962, and (3) diverted acreage credited under the double-cropping provisions of the program.

The chairman explained that the grazing restrictions are being relaxed as part of the general effort to provide provisions of farm programs in line with practical farming operations. Many farmers have salvaged dropped corn and other crop residue by using livestock on harvested land in the late fall. Since the acreage on many farms is fenced separately, the program change will permit these farmers to salvage this feed grain being put to unreasonable time and expense for protective fencing.

According to Kalmbach, the main reason for the ban against livestock on diverted acres has been preventing grazing that might partially offset the corn, grain sorghum, and wheat adjustment under the diversion programs. With killing frosts likely Nov. 1 over the main grain-producing areas, the objective of the no-grazing ban would be satisfactorily met by that time. In addition, the important period for protection of the diverted acreage also will have passed in most areas, and there is small likelihood that conservation cover would be severely damaged by permitting livestock on this acreage on or after Nov. 1.

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

What Else Is New?

Why are Americans surprised when a Communist acts like a Communist? Why fence and appear startled when new evidence appears that the Reds intend to do exactly what they've always said they would do if they had half a chance?

Cuba, for instance.

One got the impression that the build-up of super-ammunition in Cuba by the Soviets was something less than what could normally be expected, that in fact, the State Department, the Defense Department, the President himself, were "shocked" because such actions were something less than fair, "unfair" and "unjust".

Since when have Godless Communists played "fair"? And while we are examining the obvious, why must farmers be first to point out the obvious? Why not the communications industry... the educators... the politicians who make great shows of protecting our interests?

For more than two years, Michigan farmers looked at what had happened to Cuban farmers and asked for action. Why a protected sugar quota to Cuba—a nation which had nationalized the farming, and sugar industry?

A full year ago, the Michigan Farm Bureau adopted a resolution asking for an arms embargo against all Communist countries, and questioned the advisability of extending further aid to any country controlled by a Communist dictator.

Michigan farmers waged a ceaseless campaign to point out what it means to have a Communist country 90 miles from our own. More than 100,000 Michigan residents have seen one or more documented film reports during the past year, showing the encirclement of America through the world-wide spread of Communist activities. The effort was spearheaded by the Michigan Farm Bureau, assisted by the American Legion and militant church and civic groups.

Yet Michigan's Governor called it "scare talk," branded it as "defeatism." He refused to allow Michigan State Police to participate in the showings.

So now suddenly, Cuba is a big

11 Washtenaw Young Men are Enrolled in MSU Short Course

Eleven young men from Washtenaw County are enrolled in the Michigan State University Short Course curriculum for 1962-63. Class began Oct. 22 and will run through March of next spring.

First year students are Dale Weismayer of Ann Arbor, Paul Frisvold of Chelsea, Robert Weismayer of Saline, Charles Smith of Milan; Charles Koenig, Clinton; Malcolm Reinhardt of Gregory and Eldean Finkbeiner of Clinton.

Second year students are William Schmidt of Ann Arbor, Charles Koenig of Chelsea, Richard Brassow of Dexter and William Lutz of Saline.

All of these young men plan to come back to Washtenaw County to operate a farm business in partnership with their fathers on the home farm or to work in the area of Agri-business.

Checking Accuracy of Scales Is Vital Service

That the checking of weighing and measuring devices used in the state is a vital part of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's foods and standards division service is shown by the last month's report on this work filed with Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre.

The report shows that of the 2,886 weighing and measuring devices checked during the month 11 percent were determined to be inaccurate and were rejected for repairs.

Of the 317 packages reweighed by inspectors, 16 percent were found to be inaccurate and were rejected, either to be brought up to the weight declared or to be re-marked with the correct contents declaration. J. L. Littlefield, chief of the division, said there were eight prosecutions during the month for violations.

Berrien County ranks 18th in the nation's 100 leading counties in fruit production. It's a $15 million annual business.

Suddenly, Cuba is part of Russia's scheme to bury us, alive or dead.

Now they tell us. So what else is new?

At the meeting of Girl Scout Troop 77 on Oct. 24 the girls discussed the financial situation of the troop; then plans for the trip to Detroit Dec. 28, 29 and 30 were made, and a schedule of the places to be visited was started. Detroit hotels were discussed and it was decided to stay at the Sheraton-Cadillac.

Two Small Parcels Of Surplus Property
Sold by Highway Dept.

Two parcels of State Highway Department surplus property in Washtenaw and Jackson counties were sold at public auction near Dexter Tuesday, Oct. 23 for $9,800.

Darrel Dean of Ann Arbor was successful bidder at $9,700 for a lot and house on the I-94 Freeway at Baker Rd., about three miles south of Dexter. His bid was $700 over the minimum $9,000 price set by the Highway Department.

Frederick Sandusky of Parma was the Highway Department.

Frederick Sandusky of Parma was the only bidder at the minimum $100 for a landlocked half-acre lot and cinder block house and five-unit motel on the I-94 Freeway at Clear Lake Rd. about six miles west of Chelsea.

Only the two parcels were offered at the sale.

ORCHIDS TO PATIENTS

PITMAN, N. J. — It is not unusual to see Dr. Herman W. Wright taking orchids to his patients.

The doctor finds the hobby of raising orchids both a form of relaxation for himself and a source of pleasure for his patients.

Dr. Wright took up his wife's hobby nine years ago when she died and now has some 1,000 plants. Not only does he share the blooms with his patients but decorates the Pitman Methodist Church at Easter.

Local Pastor Reports on Board Meet

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake of St. Paul's church, was one of 27 corporate members and associate delegates of the United Church Board for World Ministries who represented Michigan at the 153rd annual meeting Oct. 23-25. The meeting was held at St. Peter's United Church of Christ at Elmhurst, Ill.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Robbins Strong of New York, secretary for program development of the United Church Board for World Ministries.

Strong unveiled a plan to reach people going overseas for business, labor, health, educational and governmental agencies to help orient them to their new posts and to train them for participation in the Christian churches abroad. Inquiries have already been made of the more than 7,000 congregations of the United Church here for names of persons employed outside the country.

"One of the first churches to respond had 62 members employed outside the United States," Strong reported to the 225 corporate members of the Board.

Strong listed five requirements which a "churchman overseas" must fulfill "to make the Christian gospel relevant" in his new environment.

He must be good at his job, making it his primary responsibility and the excellence of his work his "witness."

He must participate in community life, identifying himself with efforts to improve social conditions.

He must open his home to nationals and other Westerners, seeking the widest possible social contacts with the people of his host nation.

He must "seek to identify himself with the local Christian community, not always an easy thing because of differences in language and church practices."

He must interpret America to the country where he has gone, and that country to America by his letters home and his speaking.

Strong said American churches have more than one million potential missionaries living abroad and the United Church of Christ intends to recruit as many of them as it can to help spread the Christian gospel overseas.

The "potential missionaries," he explained are the one million baptized church members of the 1,600,000 Americans now living and working abroad.

The church, too, is concerned with Americans abroad because of the problems they face from "being plunged into a new job in a strange environment," he added.

"They need pastoral care, help in cultural adjustment and understanding that there is purpose in what they are doing," especially when their aims and beliefs are challenged by their new environment," he said.

The United Church Board for World Ministries is the oldest foreign missionary society in America. Founded in 1810 as the Congregational American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, the Board continues the work of that society and that of the Board of International Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The United Church of Christ was formed in 1957 by a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches. The denomination has more than two million members.

Mail Standardizing Program Will Go into Effect Jan. 1

Postmaster Carl J. Mayer has announced that a Mail Standardization Program by the Post Office Department will begin Jan. 1, 1968. Patrons, but most specifically, manufacturers of envelopes and mailer firms should start planning now for the changes in mailing procedures which will go into effect on Jan. 1. These changes are the first step towards mail standardization, and will eliminate a major source of delay in mail processing—the extremely small and odd kinds of mail which cause trouble in modern cancelling machines and other postal mechanization equipment. Two of the new rulings are mandatory, two are recommended.

The two mandatory standards are: (a) Pieces less than 3 inches in width (height) or 4 1/4 inches in length will not be mailable. (b) Pieces having shapes other than rectangular (right angles) will be non-mailable. The two recommended standards are: (A) Pieces having a ratio of height to length of less than 1 to 1.414 (1 to the square root of 2) are not recommended. (B) Pieces which are not sealed or secured on all four edges so that they may be handled by machines are not recommended. These new standards are being adopted so that progress may be made in the development of economical mail handling machinery. Mail processed by machines must

New Constitution Not Appearing on November Ballot

Mail and phone calls received by elections officials throughout the State indicate that many citizens are confused over the proposed constitutional amendment which will be on the ballot in the General November Election. Secretary of State James M. Hare said that a large number of voters mistake the proposed amendment for the proposed constitution written by the Constitutional Convention earlier this year. "The people of Michigan will not be voting on a new constitution this year," Hare pointed out. "They will however be voting 'yes' or 'no' on a proposal to authorize the legislature to provide for a general revision of the statutes." The present constitution prohibits a complete revision of the laws but makes it possible for a group of commissioners, appointed by the Governor, to recommend to the legislature the repeal of obsolete laws.

A subsidy never threatens the moral fibre of business men even if it wrecks that of farmers and old people.

Sightseeing Is Michigan's Number 1 Tourist Attraction

Bozette Falls—Sightseeing is the number one interest of people who vacation in Michigan, the State Highway Department reports. Nearly 50 percent of the state's travelers come from neighboring Great Lakes states and most of them stay in motels.

About 40 percent spend two to six days on vacation and 25 percent vacation for seven days or more. These facts and others about Michigan's tourist industry are contained in an "electronic report" on nearly 150,000 people who stopped for information during July and August at the Highway Department's Tourist Information Centers.

Facts about the travelers were processed by computer. During the period, visitors came to Michigan from all 50 states, Canada and other foreign countries.

Highway Department officials said one of the surprising results was the large number of Michigan residents who stopped at our Tourist Information Centers for information. Almost one-third of the persons served were Michigan residents.

Following sightseeing as a vacation interest were camping, swimming, fishing and boating.

The electronic reporting service was inaugurated July 1 in permanent Highway Department Tourist Information Centers at New Buffalo, Mackinaw City and Menominee and at a Mobile Travel Information Unit at St. Louis.

The Highway Department's travel information program will be expanded next year with the addition of permanent information centers on the Interstate 75 Freeway near Monroe and on US-2 in Gogebic county.

FUNERAL SAVINGS FOUND

Oakland, Mich.—Alexander Law saved $2,500 in the last 28 years of his life to pay for his funeral—even though he was on welfare. But he died and was buried in a plot for those unable to pay for funerals.

Later workers remodeling the county welfare department building found an envelope containing $2,500 and a note which read: "I have been saving this money since I went on Welfare. I would like it to be used to pay my funeral expenses."

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, farmers were harvesting badly needed grain for the Union armies. Michigan was one of the Union's important suppliers during the Civil War. And, after the war, the State's grain farmers found a good market with Michigan's pioneer brewers.

For even then, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for folks in Michigan and a good living for the many employees and suppliers of the Brewing Industry.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Clinic Dates Set To Test Children's Hearing

The Hearing Conservation program conducted by the Washtenaw County Health Department in co-operation with the county schools, the Washtenaw County Medical Society and the Michigan Department of Health is now in progress. This annual testing program is carried on for the purpose of identifying hearing losses that require medical follow up or have educational significance.

This year preliminary testing will be done in kindergarten and all fourth grades of public schools and in the second and fourth grades of parochial schools throughout the county. Children in speech classes and special referrals from other grades will be tested, also.

Hearing losses are more common among children than we may think. About three or four in each 100 Michigan children have some hearing loss or ear condition that needs attention. Just as a child may have a significant vision loss without being blind, he may have a significant hearing loss without being deaf. You cannot detect a slight hearing loss by talking to a child. Only a testing instrument like a tuning fork or an audiometer can pick up a hearing loss when it is beginning, the time when treatment is most helpful.

Something constructive can always be done about a hearing loss, whether the loss is slight or severe. Medical treatment is usually simple when it is started early. It may correct the loss before it becomes severe.

During the 1937-1938 school year 6,040 children were given preliminary hearing screening tests in Washtenaw county. Children who did not pass the preliminary tests and all children known to have had a hearing problem from previous tests were given a threshold hearing test. Medical referrals were made on 61 children. These children were given preliminary hearing screening tests in Washtenaw county. Children who did not pass the preliminary tests and all children known to have had a hearing problem from previous tests were given a threshold hearing test. Medical referrals were made on 251 children. These children were invited for examination by an ear specialist.

Again this year children whose hearing does not fall within the normal range will be invited to attend the Otology Clinics which are held at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. These clinics will be staffed by otologists from the University of Michigan Otology Department, a regional audiologist from the Michigan Department of Health, Hearing Conservation Section, and Department hearing technician and public health nurses.

The first Otology Clinic for this school year will be held on Nov. 9. Succeeding clinics will be held on the following dates: Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 22, March 8, March 22, and April 26.

The clinics are open only to those children who have been invited after preliminary hearing screening tests at school. Reports of all children tested are provided to the schools to be made a matter of record in their permanent school files. Parents of school age children are encouraged to take full advantage of the Hearing Conservation Program in Washtenaw county.

License Tag Applications Not Prepared by State

As 1938 white on green license tags go on sale in all 83 counties on Nov. 1, James M. Hare, Secretary of State, reminds Michigan car owners that pre-prepared weight tag application forms will not be mailed this year.

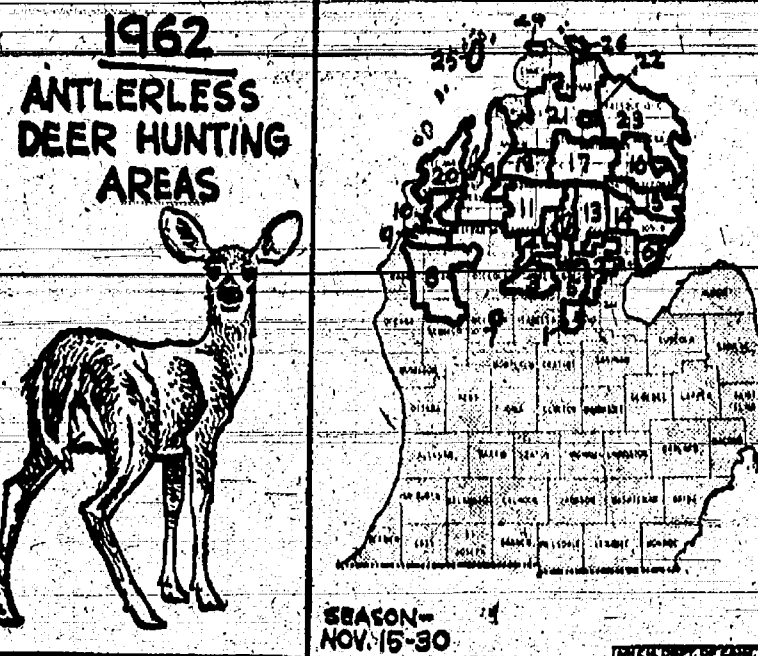

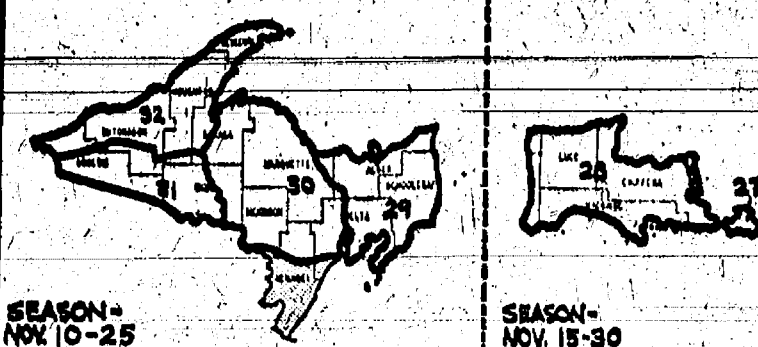

"Although we discontinued the costly practice of mailing out machine-prepared automobile license application blanks four years ago as an economy measure," Hare said, "some people still think we should resume the practice. At the time we curtailed this traditional governmental service we weathered a few strong objections. Changes in procedure are hard for some people to take, but the fact that the State of Michigan could save about $250,000 each year was welcome news to both lawmakers and citizens."

Hare pointed out that providing prepared applications to more than 8,000,000 automobile owners called for specialized machines, machine operators, stenols, envelopes, paper, addressograph plat files, storage and operation space, as well as the clerical help needed to keep constantly changing files up-to-date. "Discontinuing the service spared the Department of State these costs. With postage rates raised once and about to be increased again, the future savings in not mailing more than three million forms should be even greater.

"Michigan citizens, being mobile folks, change their residences frequently," Hare said. "We discovered that, under the old system, the addresses we had for vehicle title holders were quickly out-dated because of the migratory nature of our citizens. For this reason, we decided to save the continual cost of cutting new addressograph stencils and trying to keep this information current on these metal plates. By eliminating hundreds of thousands of out-dated addresses we saved many square feet of file space and were able to utilize the released empty files and the personnel assigned to them for other more useful purposes."

"Each year since we cut out this costly practice in 1938 we receive a few complaints," Hare said, "but we have also heard from numerous taxpayers who feel that this is one service they will gladly do without if it results in saving hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. On this point, especially when we are operating on a curtailed budget, we agree with these economy-minded citizens."

ANTLERLESS DEER HUNTING will be held concurrently with the regular firearm buck season this fall in 32 northern areas shown above where forests have been growing up and over-browsing has occurred to create serious winter food shortages for whitetails. Nearly 88,000 permits will be issued for any deer hunting with the hope that hunters will beat winter to the draw in taking some 37,000 surplus antlerless deer. If not harvested by hunters in November, this surplus will be wasted by starvation and other causes of mortality next winter.

Farmers Face Market Threat of Diet Promotions

Dairy farmers of Michigan were warned today that a growing volume of promotion for "fad and crash" diets is a serious obstacle in establishing the beneficial role of milk in human nutrition.

Andrew Jackson, Howell, president of ADA of Michigan, said, "Millions of dollars spent to promote special food products and gimmicks give these ideas far more exposure to the public than the efforts of dairy groups which have only limited funds available to tell the milk story."

He said that dairymen must increase their efforts to build a consumer picture of milk as a desirable, important and enjoyable food for all members of the family throughout life, "if the situation is not to grow worse."

He stated emphatically that the American Dairy Association along with other food groups, is making every possible effort to see that the American people know what the top medical and nutrition authorities believe about what we should eat and what we should not eat.

As an example, Jackson cited the special campaign unleashed by ADA, often called the "voice of the dairy farmers" in fighting the latest food fad of do-it-yourself diets supposed to help avoid heart disease.

On Oct. 12, the American Medical Association issued a statement which labeled medically unsupervised efforts to change diets in the hopes of avoiding heart disease "not only foolish and futile but carries some risk."

Higher quality potatoes are now reaching the family table thanks to new storage methods adopted by growers, says a Michigan State University agricultural engineer. Growers have been able to reduce spoilage through storing potatoes at 40 degrees F. and 85 to 90 percent relative humidity.

LEADERSHIP

is a quality requiring foresight, experience, judgment, lack of vacillation, and, above all, freedom from any suspicion that what is done is motivated by politics or any other consideration than devotion to duty.

Al Bentley, said in 1958: "We talk about the Monroe Doctrine, but what are we doing about Communist infiltration and colonization in Latin America?"

Al Bentley repeated this same position in 1960.

On September 18, 1962, Al Bentley wired the President to urge "a sea blockade around Cuba expressly to keep war materials from being shipped to Cuba."

His "Democrat" opponent branded Al Bentley as "foolhardy" and guilty of "shallow thinking."

Al Bentley's opponent maintained his same position almost to the hour when the President took firm action on the Cuban situation... the sea blockade Al Bentley advocated... with the statement that "the greatest danger of all would be to do nothing."

Leadership? Who showed leadership?

Al Bentley proved his leadership again. His opponent? You judge.

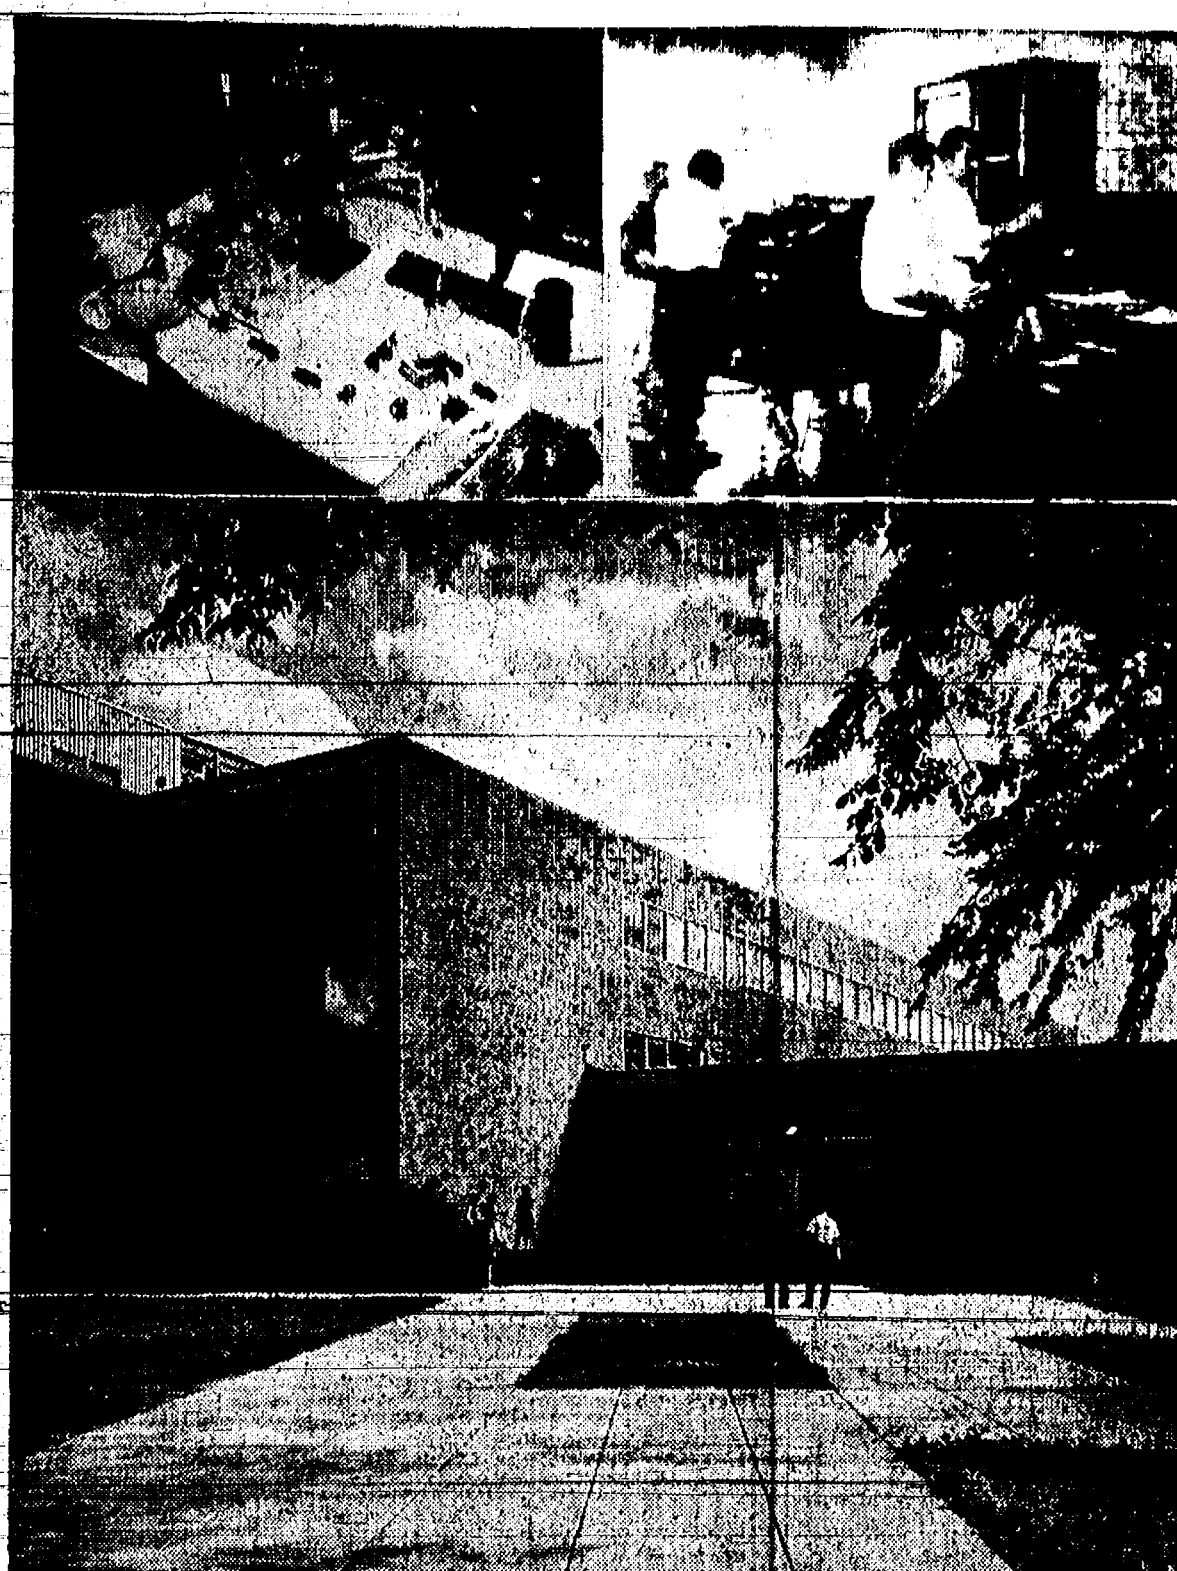

Michigan needs Al Bentley's leadership in Washington.

Michigan needs Al Bentley's experience as a Congressman and a member for 8 years of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

MSU Using Nation's Newest Engineering College Plant

East Lansing—The newest College of Engineering building in the United States is going into operation at Michigan State University this fall.

The $4 million structure is unique among the larger engineering colleges in that it houses all its departments under one roof.

It is also unique in that few special provisions have been made for any of the large machinery that has characterized engineering schools.

These unusual features reflect the modern trend of teaching engineering according to lasting principles rather than current practices, reports Dr. John D. Ryder, dean of engineering.

Emphasis, he explains, is no longer on apparatus, but on fundamentals.

"We do not teach specific apparatus design," he says, "because changes take place rapidly today, often before students graduate. We can see a lot of evidence of this just in the past 20 years—the steam engine is a good example."

Instead of machinery, we are stressing more fundamental science, mathematics and the like. Engineering is becoming more and more applied science."

This new look, together with a new approach to systems design developed at MSU, cuts across mechanical, civil and other traditional engineering departments, giving them greater common interests and lowering the barriers of communication, Dean Ryder points out.

This, he notes, is why all of the departments are under one roof, contrary to the physical layout of other larger engineering colleges.

While the departments are assigned to different areas of the building, there are no formal boundaries and the layout may be readily changed, Dean Ryder observes.

Stress on basic science, he adds, also eliminates much of the need for large machinery. Students work more with pencil and paper, with the computer and with small models developed at MSU to teach principles of systems design.

Flexibility and simplicity key the whole building, Dean Ryder emphasized.

The three-story, U-shaped structure is 300 feet long across the base with legs of approximately 400 and 180 feet each.

A single corridor runs down the center of the building from one end of the "U" to the other on each of the floors.

Twenty-one classrooms, 50 laboratories, and offices for 140 staff members open off of the corridors in a manner planned for flexibility and convertibility.

All walls are non-load supporting and may be removed with minimum difficulty. Also, classrooms and laboratories are similarly built and may be converted readily.

"The main differences between classrooms and laboratories," Dean Ryder observes, "is that the classrooms have tiled floors and ceilings rather than plain cement."

The laboratories also have windows on the hallway side to enable students passing by to see various areas of research in progress.

The structure was also made to be expanded easily. A 100-foot addition to provide additional research and graduate study space is already under construction.

Eventually, there may be other additions arranged in such a way that the building will form a 300-by-500 foot rectangle, if future needs warrant that much growth.

Other features of the building include a 300-seat auditorium, a faculty room and a library.

Basic CD Course Now Underway

The Washtenaw County Civil Defense office is sponsoring a basic Civil Defense course beginning Monday, Oct. 29 and continuing through Friday, Nov. 2; it was announced this week. The meetings will take place in Room 2 in the basement of the County Building at Ann Arbor. All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Civil Defense course program is a requirement for all government officials and public service employees; however, the general public is invited and urged to participate.

Members of civil organizations, service clubs, school faculty, the clergy, industry, business, and other civic leadership, are encouraged to participate.

National, state and county policy will be discussed, supported by an interesting group of motion pictures, slides and charts.

The subject matter to be discussed at each session will be: Monday, "The Threat, Responsibility and Organization"; Tuesday, "Effects of Nuclear Weapons"; Wednesday, "Protection from Nuclear Weapons and the National Shelter Program"; Thursday, "Civil Defense in Natural Disasters"; and Friday, "Government in Operation — Practical Control Center Operations."

RADEF monitoring, reported Friday, Oct. 12, disclosed that fall out readings in the Chelsea-Dexter area were 0.02 MR/R while highest readings in the county were recorded at the County Building and at Ypsilanti State Hospital—0.04 MR R.

It was pointed out that these readings are "normal"—the average for the county being 0.028 MR/R; however, Civil Defense and governmental officials, as well as volunteers, should be prepared to go into action if the need arises and it is for such contingency that the Civil Defense courses are given.

Coin Collectors Plan Meeting Here Friday

Announcement has been made that a meeting for persons interested in coin collecting is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m., at the K. of C. Hall; all who are interested, including children, are invited to attend.

Those who attend are asked to bring coins for display or trade.

Friday's meeting was arranged at a meeting of several Chelsea coin collectors held Oct. 5, also at the K. of C. Hall.

At that meeting it was noted that there is an increasing interest in the hobby of collecting coins and the discussion centered on formation of a club and recruitment of members.

Only 39 Counties Share in State's Snow Removal Funds

Lansing—Thirty-nine counties—15 in the Upper Peninsula and 24 in the Lower Peninsula—had enough snow last winter to qualify for Snow Removal Funds, the State Highway Department announced today.

Deputy State Highway Commissioner Howard E. Hill said the amounts received by the heavy snow counties this year were considerably less than last year although the amount of money available was about the same.

This occurred, Hill said, because more than twice as many counties qualified to receive money from the fund this year compared to last year. Only 15 counties—an all-time low—qualified last year.

The average snowfall for Michigan last winter was nearly 70 inches compared to 56 inches the previous winter.

This year's Snow Removal Fund totals nearly $600,000—about the same as last year.

The money, which is set aside from gas taxes and license plate fees, helps defray cost of snow removal in counties which have heavy snowfalls.

Alcona county in the Upper Peninsula had the highest average snowfall last year—153 inches.

Luce and Keweenaw counties tied for second with 148 inches.

Otsego county had an average of 146 inches of snow last winter—highest in the Lower Peninsula—followed by Antrim county with 131 inches.

Hill said this year's largest payment—$31,077—will go to Marquette county, which had an average snowfall of 113 inches last winter.

Last year, Marquette county received $101,045, based on an average snowfall of 103 inches—the previous year.

This year's smallest payment—$637—will go to Mecosta county, which had an average of slightly more than 71 inches.

To qualify for Snow Removal Funds, counties must have at least 70 inches of snow the previous winter. Distribution of the money is based on a complicated snowfall, mileage and snow fall cost formula.

Snowfall measurements are made at one or more U. S. Weather Bureau stations in every Michigan county.

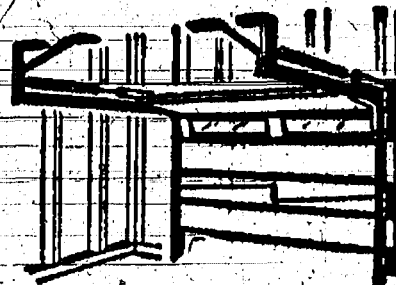

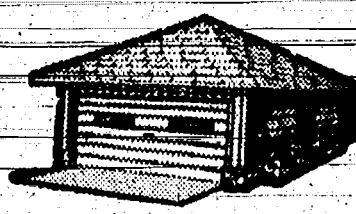

The largest snowfall recorded in Michigan last year was 205 inches—more than 17 feet—measured at a station in Keweenaw county. The smallest was 16 inches at a station northeast of Detroit in Wayne County.

The largest snowfalls in the Lower Peninsula were 185 and 148 inches at stations in Otsego and Leelanau counties, respectively.

The Highway Department's snow contour map, compiled from information was in the Upper Peninsula and the northwestern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Only three counties south of the Muskegon-Bay City line qualified for snow removal funds. They were Allegan, Muskegon and Ottawa.

Farmers Provide Big Boost to National Economy

America has about 15 million people living on the nation's 3.8 million farms. These farm families make up about eight percent of the total population.

But, economists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture point out farmers have a host of "business partners" in moving farm products from field and feedlot to the consumer. There are an estimated 16 million such partners engaged in businesses all the way from trucking to managing the local supermarket.

These allied businesses which play an important part in assuring both abundant and high quality food and farm products are also an important segment of the economy. Add these businessmen and their families to the number of farm people and the total "agricultural" population approaches 40 percent of U.S. residents.

Economists report that farmers and their families spend $42 billion dollars a year. This includes about $27 billion to run their businesses and the other $15 billion for the family items we all buy ranging from groceries to vacation trips.

The "40 acres and a mule" picture of farming is far removed in today's space age. USDA economists say that the average commercial farm has an investment of nearly $42,000.

SUNDOWN ON THE MARSH—I am a bedlam of noise. I am dumb with silence. I am life giving. I am murderous. I am home to graceful birds and to countless crawling, slithering, swimming creatures. I am cursed by men, and extolled by men. I am repulsive and I am beautiful. Among earthly things I was the beginning. There are those who say I will be the end . . . I am the marsh.

Busy as a bee! Honey production for 1962 in Michigan is estimated to be up 27 percent from a year ago. While almost eight and one-half million pounds are expected to be produced, this will still be more than one-half million pounds short of the large 1959 and 1960 crops.

Vision Screening Program Underway for Grade Pupils

The Vision Screening program, now in progress, is an important part of the Washtenaw County Health Department's direct service programs to school children. The purpose of the Vision Screening program is to discover these children who may have definite vision problems and to direct them to proper ophthalmological care.

The vision program consists of six major areas. They are: (1) The Vision Education program; (2) Initial screening procedures; (3) Re-screening of those children who failed to pass either of the initial screening tests; (4) Referral of children who have symptoms of eye difficulties; (5) Follow-up; (6) Evaluation.

The nursing staff of the Washtenaw County Health Department initiates vision education programs for teachers, school children and parents. Resource materials are made available from the health department. A vision technician, teachers or lay persons may perform vision screening tests under the supervision of the school nurse. Re-screening of those children who fail to pass either of the initial screening tests is conducted by the school nurse. Referrals are made on all children who fail re-screening tests and on other children who may have passed but who are exhibiting unusual symptoms of eye difficulties. Follow-up of the children referred may be effected through the nurse or the teacher. The nurse exercises leadership in organizing and in implementing the vision screening program.

Grades considered essential in a case-finding program are kindergarten, first grade, third grade, seventh grade, and tenth grade.

Grade selection is based on certain stress periods related to growth and development. At these selected grade levels there are increased demands for keen vision. These demands are usually directly related to the student's academic program.

Parents receive a report regarding the findings of the screening tests. Parents of those children who have exhibited unusual symptoms of eye difficulties are encouraged to take their child to an eye specialist for further testing and proper care.

WOLVERINE FARM BUREAU

Wolverine Farm Bureau met Oct. 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lindemann with 10 members present.

Chairman Norwin Lesser called the meeting to order with the Flag Pledge. The secretary's report was accepted. Carl Lesser, Robert Kaercher and Dorothy Ottomann gave their respective committee reports. Warren Eisenbeiser is the local delegate to the state convention in Lansing in November with John Bezeg as alternate.

Our topic on "Voting" was led by the assistant discussion leader, Dale Lindemann. The group feels all should know the voting issues and candidates better and encourage all to vote and offer transportation or baby sitting service to all who request.

The November meeting will be at Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ottomann's with a speaker from the Civil Defense unit.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

During the past week the officers have been in the process of drawing up a constitution. Also the club members have been selling illuminated stickers which say "Chelsea Bulldogs" to raise money.

HI-Y

Newly-elected officers of the HI-Y are president, John Ashley; vice-president, Paul Huber; secretary, Don Joseph; treasurer, Tom Eisenbeiser; and Curt Farley as chaplain. The advisors are Mr. McGill, Mr. Curl, and Mr. Mitchell.

The purpose of the HI-Y is to provide young men with Christian entertainment. The HI-Y sponsors the dances after home football and basketball games and feed the players from both teams. Any young man may belong to the HI-Y and the club is mainly a service club.

FFA

The Future Farmers of America have had one meeting this year.

At this meeting they elected officers. The president is Dave Young; vice-president, Lynn Harvey; secretary, Jerry Brister; and treasurer, Tom Penhallegon. The sentinel is Gary Koch and the reporter is Ed Keener. The advisor is Mr. Hayden.

The club is planning to take a trip to Chicago over Thanksgiving holidays. In Chicago they will visit the stockyards, a meat-packing plant, and an annual rodeo festival. In order to raise money for the trip the FFA boys have been selling "Spray-Aid."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council has been involved in many activities this year. The president and vice-president who were elected last spring are Warren Porath and Carol Mayner. The secretary is Grace Kuschmaul; treasurer, Dave Runciman; and corresponding secretary, Susan Schroen.

The first Washtenaw Conference Student council meeting was held at Chelsea and sponsored by our Student Council.

The Student Council also sponsored the Student Forum, where the students had a chance to give their views on different subjects and school problems without any teachers.

The Student Council is also making plans for an annual Christmas Dance to be held in December.

Cafeteria Menu

Chelsea High school cafeteria noon lunch menus for the coming week have been announced as follows:

Monday, Nov. 5—Varsity burger, green beans, apple sauce.
Tuesday, Nov. 6—Chili and crackers, fruit and cookies.
Wednesday, Nov. 7—Pork and gravy on biscuits, caramelized carrots or spinach, applesauce.
Thursday, Nov. 8—Vegetable beef soup, peanut butter sandwich, cherry cobbler.
Friday, Nov. 9—Macaroni and cheese, peas, apple crisp.
Menus may be changed without notice due to conditions beyond cafeteria director's control.

All menus include some form of bread; also butter and half-pint of milk, plain or flavored.

SENIORS

The Senior's main project right now is the Senior play, "The Curious Savage," which will be held Nov. 17 and 18. The play is a three-act comedy about people in an asylum which they believe is home rather than an asylum. The director of this play is Mrs. David Knisley and the student director is Dianne Edwards. The business manager who arranges for the tickets and patrons is Chris Fisher. Program design will be done by Jean Taylor.

Kathy White will be in charge of publicity for the play.

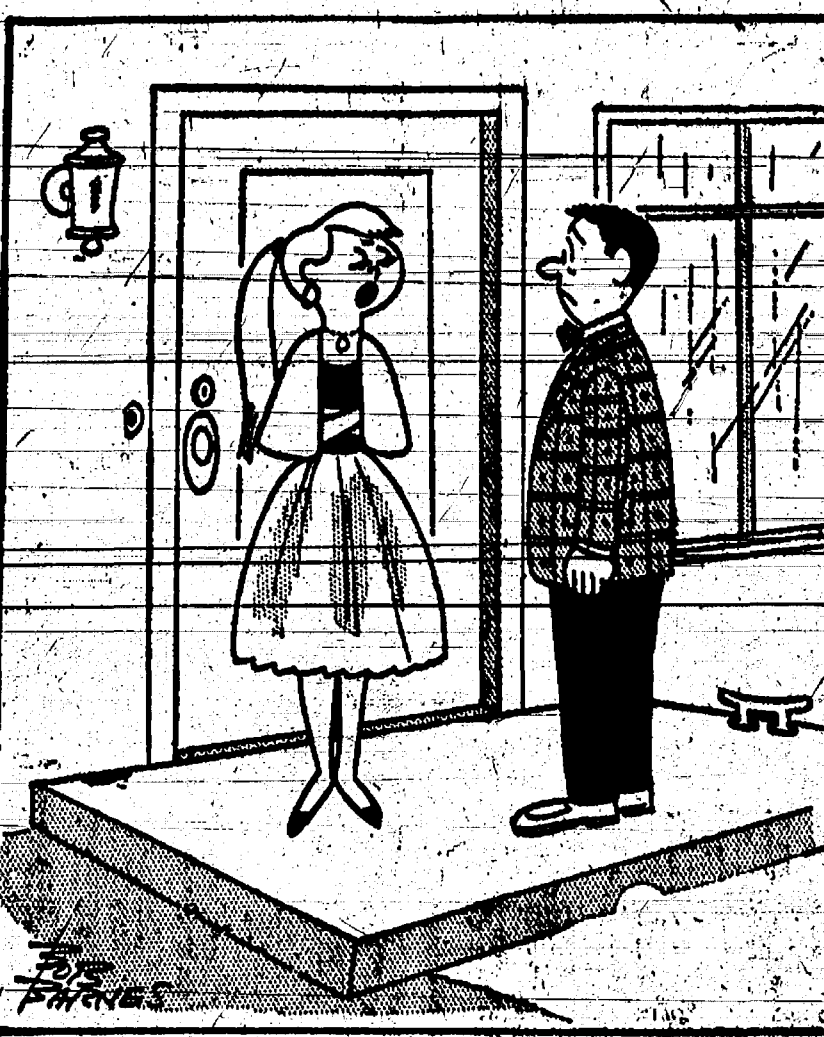

The Seniors first big project of the year, the magazine sale has been completed. The seniors were able to exceed their goal in the sale. High salesmen were Dave Young and Tom Roder. Drawing for prizes will be held in the near future for all those students who sold more than $40 worth of magazines.

The Seniors were also in charge of the senior stand at all home football games. There were four student managers in charge. They are Virginia Levan, Carol McCalla, Bill Howard, and Nancy Fairbrother. The last home game was Dexter, so now it is time to figure out the amount of profit made in the stand and to distribute the points to those students who worked.

Election Law Book Available In Revised Edition

A new and revised edition of "Laws Relating to Elections" is now available for $1.00; it was announced today by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

The 1962 edition contains acts passed in 1962 which will not become effective until 1963, due to the fact that this year's legislature has not yet adjourned.

"In these few instances the un-amended sections of certain laws are still in effect," Hare said. "Where this happens, a notation is included in the text."

"We will send a copy by return mail to anyone sending $1.00 for this 1962 edition," Hare added.

Keehns Sell Funeral Home To D. Hosmer

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keehn this week announced the sale of the Keehn Funeral Home and Furniture Store in Dexter to Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hosmer of Kalamazoo.

The Keehns now own and operate a funeral home in Brighton. Mrs. Keehn, who has been staying at the Keehn Funeral Home in Dexter for some time, returned to Brighton, Saturday, Oct. 20, the day the transaction became effective.

Mr. and Mrs. Hosmer are already in residence here in Dexter.

In Dexter Tuesday, Mrs. Keehn said that she and her husband will long remember the consideration shown them by the people of Dexter.

New Constitution Provisions Listed In Free Pamphlet

Off the press and ready for public distribution this week are two pamphlets outlining the provisions in Michigan's proposed new constitution.

Available in limited quantity to those who desire a complete explanation of all changes in the new document is an 110-page booklet which contains the full text of the new constitution plus explanatory notes. It is attractively printed in two colors to distinguish the text of the document from the interpretative material.

For distribution in great quantity is a 48-page pamphlet which describes briefly the work of the Constitutional Convention and summarizes what its delegates have agreed upon. It is the most significant document provided in the new constitution.

The larger booklet has been sent to all public libraries in Michigan and to newspaper, radio and television stations and to representatives of the various labor unions. Michigan residents who wish a copy of the general distribution pamphlet should contact their local representative or write to the Office of the Secretary of State, Lansing.

IVAN JOHNSON, 60, a widower, living alone for the past 10 years, was told by his lawyer that he was no longer dependent on her children.

Mrs. Mary Johnson does all of her work, even chops firewood and walks a mile to church every Sunday.

As a supplement to her $68-a-month widow's pension, she makes jewelry, boxes, candles and other souvenirs.

James Joseph Morrison, with the 25th Division at Schofield Barracks, finishes a twenty-year military career in March and has planned to retire from the service.

Morrison visited his godmother, Mother Superior Julia Agnes, recently, and was told she checked his family history while on a trip to Ireland and found that he was heir to the Morrison property in Killaloe. His father had come to this country from Ireland.
