School District Is Sponsoring Citizens Meet

Designed To Give Factual Data on School Problems

The Chelsea School District Board of Education is sponsoring a citizens meeting to be held at 7:30 this evening (Thursday) in the Chelsea High School auditorium, this being the first of possibly three or four meetings during the school year for the purpose of disseminating information on all facets of the school's operation.

All people of the school district are welcome to attend the meeting; it is an effort to have a cross-section of interested people present, a number of invitations were sent out to persons representative of rural and village people—youth, people and older persons, those who have children in school and those who haven't.

School Board President Stuart R. Booker will preside at the meeting, the agenda to include such topics as pupil membership statement, program and interpretation; building and site fund; operational millage; transportation policy; comparison of millages levied in the past few years; general budget; teacher turnover; additional teachers, etc.

With people given an opportunity to ask questions at meetings such as the one planned for tonight, the School Board believes many matters pertaining to the schools may be clarified; circulation of misinformation, which often causes concern, would be less likely to occur.

The Board emphasizes that all interested people in the Chelsea School District are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Signs of Spring!

In spite of the fact the calendar showed it was Dec. 3, a pink hyacinth was in bloom Monday in the yard at the home of Mrs. Bertha Allshouse, 110 North East St. Dandelions were also in bloom and a white lilac bush was budding and ready to burst into bloom in the spring-like weather.

Community Chest Fund Nearing Goal

Chelsea Community Chest total now stands at $15,106.30 or 98.2 percent of the $15,400.00 goal! Some clubs have indicated they still plan to make a contribution and Chelsea residents' contributions through Ann Arbor, Detroit and other area United Fund drives are still to be added. Larry Chapman and Thomas McClellan, co-chairmen of the Chelsea campaign are more hopeful than ever that the entire $15,400 goal will be reached as soon as these returns are received.

Blood Bank Clinic To Be Tomorrow

Chelsea Blood Bank blood clinic will take place tomorrow—Friday, Dec. 7—in the Congregational church basement from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 59 are eligible; 14 prospective donors are between 18 and 21 and not married or in the armed services; they must have written permission from parents or guardians to be eligible.

Included in the Chelsea Blood Bank area this time is the entire Chelsea School District within Washtenaw county.

Christmas Stamps at Post Office

Yesterday, Postmaster Carl Mayer received Chelsea's supply of the new Christmas issue of four-cent stamps.

The new stamp design shows a green Christmas wreath with the inscription "Christmas, 1962." It is available only in the first-class postage rate of four cents.

Postmaster Mayer said it is advisable to send all out-of-town Christmas cards by first class mail since only first class mail may be forwarded or if people have moved without leaving a forwarding address, the cards will be returned to the sender (if he has written a return address on the back or upper left corner of the envelope). Delivery is faster, too.

Cards sent second class, using three-cent stamps, cannot be forwarded to an addressee or returned to sender; if undeliverable as addressed they are thrown away.

A limited number of the new Christmas stamps were available here the past two weeks, the supply received yesterday being the entire amount allotted to Chelsea for the season.

F & M Fine Foods Grand Opening Event Slated This Week-End

F & M Fine Foods has scheduled its grand opening for this week-end—Friday and Saturday—having recently completed remodeling and rearranging the interior.

The owners are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaff. They took over the Main St. business formerly known as Louie's Dairy Bar, on Sept. 1 after being in business in Kalamazoo for several years. They had operated a dairy bar here prior to going to Kalamazoo.

Their son, Fred, works with them in the business here.

ADDITION COMPLETED—The new Medical Facility and apartment unit at the Chelsea Methodist Home on which construction was started in October, 1961, is now completed and ready for occupancy. The $1,250,000 building will be dedicated at ceremonies scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow, Dec. 7. The new unit increases facilities for resident care of aged persons by approximately 60 percent. It is the sixth unit of the home which was founded here in 1906 and dedicated in 1907.

Third Travel Film in Series Scheduled Saturday Evening

"New York-Empire State" is the title of the next travelogue of the current series sponsored by the Kiwanis club and scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 8, at 8 p.m., in the auditorium at Chelsea High School. This is the third of the 1962-63 series.

Narrator will be Benton S. Clark of Harrison, N. Y., a graduate of the New York Law School, with a degree of bachelor of laws, and of Washington and Jefferson University (cum laude) with a bachelor of arts degree. He graduated from high school at Washington, D. C.

Clark has always been lured by travel and adventure. Although he is a Manhattan attorney, he has roamed the USA and Canada, camping, hiking, exploring the towns and cities. Very early he began to take travel motion pictures.

Clark is constantly searching for novel subject matter—such as the unique construction of the Mormon Tabernacle roof in Salt Lake City; the Brazilian woman who copies famous paintings with needle and colored embroidery thread; the boys who jump into the ice-choked waters of New York harbor to retrieve a cross in a Greek religious ceremony. He has filmed in 30 below zero temperature in the Adirondack (Continued on page four)

C. of C. Party Scheduled Wednesday

It was announced last week at the Chamber of Commerce meeting that the annual Ladies' Night Christmas Dinner would be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Congregational church. This event has always been a highlight of the Christmas season.

Tickets are available from Paul G. Schauble at the bank and Vincent Burg at the Chelsea Drug store.

The Chamber of Commerce also decided to discontinue the home Christmas Decoration contest this year because of the growing lack of participation and interest—the past two years.

Yesterday, Chamber of Commerce President J. Vincent Burg, II, received confirmation that Lee Smith, special sales representative for the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., would be present at the Ladies' Night Christmas meeting as guest speaker. He calls his talk "Ramblings."

For 15 years Smith was news commentator for the Gas Co. on Radio Station WXYZ and prior to that for many years was a newspaperman, starting with a weekly newspaper published by his grandfather.

His experience includes work on large city dailies as well as extensive travel and work in lumber (Continued on page three)

Jaycees Erect, Trim Christmas Tree on Post Office Lawn

Chelsea Jaycees erected and trimmed the community Christmas tree on the lawn at the Post Office, corner South Main and South St. Saturday morning, the tree being a gift from Donald Hoffman.

Oscar Barais was Jaycees chairman of the Christmas tree project. Erecting and stringing the lights on the Christmas tree is an annual community service of the Jaycees.

Medical Facility Is Also Included In New Wing

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Friday, Dec. 7, the new Medical Facility and apartment unit at the Methodist Home will be dedicated with the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, president of the Board of Trustees, presiding.

Among officials who are to participate are the Rev. Edwin J. Weiss, administrator of the Methodist Home; Mrs. James Crippen, chairman of the Board of Managers; the Rev. Roy Johns, chairman of the building committee; and the Rev. Edwin W. Sticker, D.D., who will accept the newly completed building on behalf of the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

The dedicatory address will be given by Olin E. Oeschger, D.D., general secretary of the Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Weiss said yesterday that all interested people of the community are invited to the dedication and to an open house in the new building, which follows the service. In addition, he said, people may visit the new building at any time for the next several weeks in order to give everyone an opportunity to see it.

The dedication service will take place in the Home Chapel and a public address system will carry the entire program throughout the Home building so all residents and guests may hear it.

Funds for the construction of the new building, amounting to more than $1,250,000, have been made available through bequests, trusts, memorial and other gifts, plus income from the Home's invested funds.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new building took place Tuesday, Oct. 24, 1961. At that time it was announced that its construction would increase care facilities for aged persons by more than 60 percent. It is the sixth unit of the residence care facilities and provides room for more than 80 additional persons, bringing total capacity of Home residence to approximately 225 people.

The first unit of the Home was dedicated Oct. 31, 1907. Since then, units have been added in 1915, 1926, 1942 and 1949. Other building in the past 10 years has added a beautiful chapel, quarters for resident ministers and their wives, and a new residence for the Home's administrator.

Kiddies' Christmas Party Scheduled Saturday, Dec. 15

Mae Packard of Central Fibre Products Co., and Mitchell Picklesimer of Federal Screw Works, who are recreation chairmen for UAW-CIO Local 437, are co-chairmen of the annual community Christmas party for children for 1962. The party, which features three shows at Chelsea Theatre, will take place a week from Saturday (Dec. 15).

The party is being sponsored by Chrysler Proving Ground UAW-CIO Local 1284; five divisions of UAW-CIO Local 437; and by the Chelsea Community Chest.

Volunteers from all of the Union divisions assist with the party. An innovation this year is a rule that persons asking to pick up gifts for children who are ill or are unable to attend the party must wait until after all children at the party have received their gifts. This means that the gifts so requested will be distributed only after the final show of the afternoon.

This procedure was decided upon to prevent a recurrence of disappointment to small children such as was the case last year; approximately 80 children too young to understand the reason, failed to receive their gift because of the multiple distribution for children who were not present.

The five divisions of UAW-CIO Local 437 participating in plans and sponsorship of the party are Federal Screw, Rockwell-Standard, Central Fibre, Chelsea Products and Chelsea Manufacturing.

Kiwanis Club Hosts Children at Christmas Party

Party-seven youngsters were guests of the Kiwanis club Monday evening at the annual Christmas party for members' children.

Christmas carols were sung and Santa Claus made his appearance to present a gift to each child present.

An adult guest at the meeting was Jerry Dorer. Announcements made at the meeting, held in the social center of the Methodist church, included (Continued on page three)

Shop Early... Or Late If You Wish, But Remember Your Hometown First

Already the Christmas decorations are up and everywhere parents are undertaking the pleasant task of inquiring of their youngsters what they want from Santa Claus.

The great majority have presents to buy and arrangements to make. Many of us will wait until the last few days before Christmas to begin preparations for the holiday season.

This is a note of advice to those who would enjoy this Christmas season to the fullest. The best way, theoretically at least, is to complete all shopping and other chores by about Dec. 15. If you manage to accomplish this you will be exhausted and need the short breather which you will have earned.

Avoid too much entertaining and too much rich food. Take some time to think about the real meaning of Christmas and make an honest effort to mold your life and ways in that spirit. You won't have time to do this unless you complete your shopping early. And if you do, you'll enjoy a fuller selection, and shopping won't become a last-minute, desperate effort.

While planning your shopping this year, don't forget your own hometown deserves your loyalty and every bit of your Christmas shopping business you can complete there. Your hometown merchant is the friend you turn to when you need special favors throughout the year—charges when you're short on cash, delivery service, special attention when you need an unusual item—and he will be more than happy and thankful if you will just remember to consider him first at this time of year. You'll be repaid dozens of times for this thoughtful consideration.

Heart Specialist Declares Humans Need Hard Work for Good Health

Dr. Paul Dudley White, famed heart specialist in Boston, said recently a 40-hour work week was "probably too little for healthy humans."

Both physical and mental stress is required if we are to live a normal life, the specialist asserted. In addition, White said what most Americans need is to learn to look upon hard work as normal and necessary.

He warned that we spend too much time trying to entertain ourselves in our leisure time and that what we should be doing is walking and reading and working, rather than sitting in front of television sets, eating too much, and riding everywhere in an automobile.

The heart expert who treated former President Eisenhower believes too many Americans "delight in the absurd belief that we must avoid strains, either physical or mental, that we must pamper ourselves."

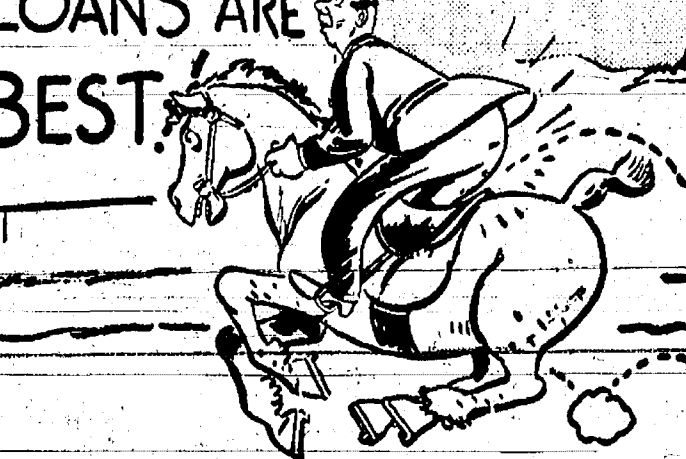

On the contrary, White asks Americans to get their children to walk to school again, as was the case years ago, and avoid overfeeding them. Entire communities, not just families, should adopt this kind of program, he asserts. Hard work should be accepted as normal and necessary in his opinion.

This expert advice contrasts with the efforts of some groups to win 30-hour and 35-hour work weeks for members.

White is saying, essentially, there is no substitute for hard work is necessary. It is morally and physically productive; excess leisure is unhealthy and morally decadent.

It will be interesting to see whether others agree with this viewpoint.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Change Election Day?

A later primary election will be proposed to the Legislature next year with the backing of Secretary of State James M. Hare, Michigan's chief elections officer.

His staff which conducts the elections, however, is not wholeheartedly behind his proposal. The elections division of Hare's office is headed by Robert M. Montgomery, former Republican member of the legislature.

Montgomery and Hare, despite their different political leanings, usually see eye-to-eye on ways to improve the election system in Michigan. Hare prides himself on this bi-partisan co-operation in the elections office, one of the most important in state government.

On the question of primary dates, however, the two administrators hold opposing views.

Hare contends Michigan should return to a September primary to cut down the length of campaign time required of a candidate. He sees it from the candidate's point of view primarily. He points out that with the exception of the war years, the primaries from 1940 through 1950 were conducted in mid-September, rather than the early August dates now set.

Montgomery argues that a September election, with the present number of voters and complications which could arise from a statewide recount, would present a hardship to the people. His main argument is that elections are set to suit the needs of the voting public, not the candidates.

"Candidates, who may be worthy, get overexposed in the current 90-day campaigns," says Hare. "They lose friends and fail to influence people. The campaigns are needlessly expensive too, and few candidates can really afford them."

Now the State Economic Development Department is putting forth an all-out effort to help outstate communities qualify for funds under the gigantic appropriation program.

Montgomery argues that the candidates "should have the sense"

not to campaign the full period. "If they were wise they would campaign for the primary, then take a brief rest after that before stating the campaign for the general election."

On the other side, Hare says, modern communications and mass media eliminate the problems predicted by Montgomery if the primary were pushed back to September.

Big Week

Plans are progressing rapidly for the 1969 Michigan Week observance, still some six months away, according to General Chairman Herbert G. Daverman.

The general theme "Science and Research for Our Future" will be applied to each of the participating areas: education, industry, business, and other interests. The emphasis on the future impact of science and research on our state is expected to draw considerable interest, Daverman said. This should be particularly true in light of the many demands being placed on Michigan industry to look to the future trends for survival.

Need Bigger Share

Michigan communities seem to be getting a good share of Federal funds appropriated as job-creators under the accelerated public works program, but state officials hope more effort will bring new rewards.

During the first few weeks of announcements of awards for local projects, word came from Washington that more than $15 million in grants is earmarked for Michigan communities.

Now the State Economic Development Department is putting forth an all-out effort to help outstate communities qualify for funds under the gigantic appropriation program.

Members of the WSCS of the Methodist church have voted a contribution of $10 to Kiwanis club children's Christmas fund.

The 10th anniversary of the Southwestern Council of Catholic Women was celebrated Sunday at St. Mary's Auditorium in Wayne.

Those attending from Chelsea included Mrs. Carl Lentz, Mrs. Carl Lentz, Mrs. Frances Alber, Mrs. George Hafner, Mrs. Joseph Laban, Mrs. Norbert Merkel, Mrs. Annin Schneider, Mrs. Herbert Roy and Mrs. R. J. Lonsway.

Representatives of the regional offices of the Community Facilities Administration and Area Redevelopment Administration are conducting the workshops in the outstate areas.

"Early experience under the program has indicated many local officials did not have sufficient information to prepare applications fully," said Robert J. Byers, acting director of the Michigan department. "Half or more of the early applications were returned to communities for more information."

"It is to eliminate this delay that the workshops are being held," he said. "Time is of the essence if the program is to achieve its goal and if Michigan people are to be provided jobs."

'Geri-Crafters' Plan Open House Event at Ypsi State Hospital

The Geri-Crafters are inviting area residents to attend an open house event and Christmas sale at Ypsilanti State Hospital Friday, Dec. 7, from 1 until 4 p.m. and from 6 until 8 p.m.

The affair will be held in Ward B-61 at the hospital, located at Willis Rd. and Old US-23.

The Geri-Crafters are a group involved in a geriatrics research project of the Division of Gerontology at the University of Michigan in co-operation with Ypsilanti State Hospital and the Michigan and United States Offices of Vocational Rehabilitation.

UNBREAKABLE WINDOWS

New York—The city of New York plan to make it a little harder to break out windows in the older schools, because of a new window material approved by the city.

Flake glass windows will be installed. They will reflect steel shot from the air rifles. In 1960 and 1961 the city spent $1,349,680 to replace broken window panes in the public schools.

Volunteers Shop For Patients at County Hospital

Committees of the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary are busy finding out what each patient wants or needs for Christmas and filling that need, if possible. This is a large order and takes many hours of visiting and shopping. Requests run from chests of tools to saharis.

Miss Elizabeth Robinson is shopping for patients the hospital. Mrs. Kingsley Calkins, the Auxiliary's home visitor, leads the Friendly Visitors group in taking care of patients in private homes in the county.

Organizations or individuals who wish to make a contribution to this project may send gifts or money for gifts to the hospital. If wrapped packages are sent, the Auxiliary asks that they be labeled whether they are for man or woman with the name, gift, size and the donor's name and address to facilitate the distribution of appropriate articles to the patients and to enable the committees to acknowledge donors of them.

Dec. 17 and 18 have been set aside for wrapping and volunteers are being sought for this work, for trimming the tree, and for serving refreshments at the Christmas party on Dec. 21.

The Nov. 20 Village Council meeting, the Rev. Scott Westerman, the opening invocation.

Police was given that the village tower painting and repair been completed.

The Council participated in a Defense emergency power exercise, utilizing the equipment set up in the Municipal Building. They talked with Washington County Civil Defense Director Gerald Miller at Ann Arbor.

Discussion regarding Civil Defense matters was held with Civil Defense Director Elwyn Beach who advised the Council that he has been to surplus property at Ann Arbor, such as large ropes for off areas and other items that might be needed in emergency. Beach also discussed matters pertaining to a radiological sheltering shelter and special items of Civil Defense for the area.

Eastman, village planning plant, discussed with the Council proposed village zoning map.

Discussion regarding investment in the village in small switch-plantings as compared to large-plantings to replace some of those through storm damage. It was the opinion of the Council that it would be advantageous to plant somewhat larger or more mature trees and a motion was made to authorize the expenditure of $8 for the cost of one tree—a London plane tree—to replace the one blown down at 112 East St. last summer.

Following extended discussion of a proposed lotterizing and orderly ordinance, Village Attorney John Keusch was asked to prepare such an ordinance for presentation and possible action at the next Council meeting.

Thomas Smith was appointed special assessor for curb, gutter and sidewalk assessments.

The meeting was adjourned at 12:30 a.m.

Peddlers Reported Misrepresenting Merchandise

Village officials have received several reports recently from residents who have purchased merchandise on contract from door-to-door salesmen and have found later that the merchandise is not as represented by the seller.

It is again emphasized that residents who are approached by persons selling any type of merchandise or appliance, — magazines, books, water conditioners, household equipment, etc.—should ask the salesman for his or her peddler's license which must be purchased from the Chelsea village clerk. If the salesman cannot produce such a license the resident should notify the Police Department at once.

Before a peddler's license is issued a check is made to learn if he represents a legitimate firm, but even if a salesman does have a proper peddler's license, if he is someone the resident does not know personally, the resident should check with someone, preferably an attorney, before signing a contract of any kind.

Camera Club Members See Slide Pictures Of Western Travels

Alvin Reinhardt presented the program at Monday evening's meeting of the Chelsea Camera club at McKune Memorial Library. He showed colored slide pictures which he had taken on a trip to Glacier National Park in northwestern Montana.

Accompanied by his wife, his 16-year-old son and his mother, Reinhardt took the less-traveled roads after leaving his destination and, as a result, was able to secure pictures of rugged country-side not seen by the usual traveler.

In addition, he and his son took a three-day hiking trip over marked trails to see an actual glacier. On the hike he also secured many unusual pictures of scenery and wildlife. One of the pictures shows one of the wild mountain goats licking salt held in the hand of Reinhardt's son; another shows a "snowmobile" on which the Reinhardts rode out over the Columbia Glacier ice field.

Wheat Sign-Up Deadline Date Set for Friday, Dec. 14

Dec. 14 is the last day for signing up under the 1963 Wheat Stabilization Program for farms in the winter wheat area, Max M. Kalmbach, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

"This means that only a little more than one week remains in which growers may file applications to take part in the 1963 winter Wheat Stabilization Program," the chairman said.

"Farmers who participate in the 1963 program will be eligible to receive special payments for voluntarily diverting a part of their allotment or base acreage from the production of wheat and devoting that acreage to a conservation use, and they will also qualify for extra price-support payments and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreements."

Under this voluntary wheat reduction program, farmers may divert from 20 to 60 percent of their wheat allotment or base acreage, with special diversion provisions for small farms. The diverted acreage must be devoted to an approved conservation use.

Growers are cautioned, however, to sign up for only the amount of acreage they intend to divert from 1963 production. Failure to divert the full amount of acreage signed up would result in loss of diversion and price-support payments, as well as loss of eligibility for the regular wheat price-support loan or purchase agreement.

Village Council Acts To Speed Up CD Preparations

In accordance with the President's plan for speeded up Civil Defense preparation, Chelsea's Village Council has set various area plans in motion.

Lee Curtis and Neil Celley, Chelsea High school teachers, were appointed to attend an institute on radiological monitoring at Civil Defense headquarters in Ann Arbor, principally to be trained as instructors for other personnel here.

Boy Scouts of Troops 25 and 76 have been assigned the task of distributing, within the next few weeks, various kinds of Civil Defense literature to all homes in the Chelsea area.

Another preparation is the Civil Defense emergency communication and power installation in the basement of the Municipal Building. This includes a desk, clock, light, radio and a generator for providing power in an emergency.

Robert Schroen has been named Civil Defense radio officer with Lee Satterthwaite and Marion Longworth designated as standby assistants.

The generator provides adequate power for receiving and sending messages and has been used for such transmission on a trial basis several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trinkle were in Ann Arbor Sunday to attend an open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heiber on their 41st wedding anniversary. The reception was held at the home of the Heibers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By RALPH ROBEY

Some Favorably Interpreted News . . .

By far the larger part of the business statistics collected by the federal government refers to past activities. This means that no matter how large or how efficient the compiling bureau may be, it takes a little time to get the figures together, make any necessary correction for seasonal influences, assign proper weights, and so forth. The upshot is that we are just now getting the basic data for October. Some of the reports are being given an unusually favorable interpretation.

Personal income provides a pertinent example. Between September and October this item rose by $2.1 billion, which is the largest increase since early in the year. This is most encouraging, but as one looks at the composition of the growth the rise loses some of its importance. Wage and salary disbursements were up $600 million, but one-half of this was in government. Commodity-producing industries—which include manufacturing—showed no change at all. Dividends were up $300 million. Transfer payments, which are largely social insurance benefits and veterans' payments, rose $700 million, to an amazing $35.2 billion.

Another report just issued is on housing starts. In October the number of privately owned houses started, on a seasonally adjusted annual basis, was 1.5 million—an increase of 17 percent over September. This figure is not corrected for the number of working days in a month. And it is generally agreed that the new order of President Kennedy, prohibiting segregation where federal funds or guarantees are used, will hurt the total of housing starts, but no one yet can determine what this means in actual numbers.

A third report from the Department of Commerce is on sales and orders of durable manufacturers. October sales, on a seasonally adjusted basis, were the same as in August and September. But orders rose about 3 percent. No details have yet been published as to how this rise was spread among various industries, but it is said that the increase "was widely based."

Now, taking these three reports together, here is considerable basis for optimism. Certainly they show that the economic trend has not started on the downgrade, as some analysts have been saying. But it is equally clear that the upswing is most moderate and basically too slow.

One other report needs to be briefly reviewed. This is the index of production of the Federal Reserve Board. This index now, in harmony with other government series, uses the average of 1957, 1958, and 1959 as its base of 100. The latest release indicates that over-all production continues on a plateau. In July the index was 119.3; in August, 119.6; in September, 119.8; and in October, 119.5. Some industries, of course, are doing much better than others, but on the average we are producing, and have been for four months, about 20 percent above the level of 1957-59. One has to go back many months to find comparable stability. Before long we must break out of this either up or down.

The recent behavior of the stock market also is worthy of comment. In terms of the Dow-Jones industrial average the high of the market was 736 and the low 536. As this is written, the average is some hundred points above its low or about half-way back to its all-time high. But since the Cuban crisis the market has staged a quite strong rally. Some students believe this rise reflects not only better business news but, as well, a feeling that increased government spending, and huge deficits will bring some further inflation.

We have never been convinced that the market has any particular forecasting ability. The record shows that it is wrong almost as frequently as it is correct. But it would be most unusual to have such a strong upsurge if the buyers of stock believed that a real recession is just ahead.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Nov. 20, 1962
Council Room

Regular Session

This meeting was called to order by Pres. Daniels at 8:00 p.m. Trustees present: Harn, Burg, Clark, Haselschwardt, Paul. Trustee absent: Chandler. Invocation by the Rev. Scott Western of the Chelsea Methodist Home.

A discussion was held with Mr. Elwin Beach, Civil Defense Director for Zone 6. Mr. Beach informed the Council that many surplus properties are available to the Village for use as civil defense material. This material is stored and disbursed at the old Michigan State Prison in Jackson, Mich. Mr. Beach and Col. Miller plan to visit the depot in the near future, and will submit a complete list of materials now available.

Special problems confronting the farm families in the vicinity, in connection with civil defense, and fall-out protection were discussed. Material specifically printed for the farm areas is now available through the Chelsea area Civil Defense Organization.

Further investigation of the Chelsea area radiological monitoring station shelter is being conducted.

At this point the Council meeting was temporarily adjourned. The Council assembled in the Municipal Building basement to observe the Civil Defense radio exercise, which is held each Tuesday night. This exercise is conducted by Mr. Bob Schroen. The radio was used on regular power, and on the power supplied by the emergency generator. In both cases, reception and transmission was excellent. All stations in the area reported excellent reception from the Chelsea area. Other communities participating in this exercise included: Ann Arbor, Dexter, Howell, Holt, Brighton.

A discussion was held with Mr. Ray Eastman, Village Zoning Consultant regarding the Village Zoning map. No official action was taken at this time.

RESOLUTION
Motion by Haselschwardt, supported by Burg, that the Village Clerk is hereby authorized to make application on behalf of the Village of Chelsea for a permit to place Christmas decorations along State Trunkline M-92 within the Village of Chelsea from Jackson Street to Orchard, and that the Village of Chelsea will indemnify and save harmless the State of Michigan, and the State Highway Commissioner from all claims of every kind arising out of said placing.

Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.
In consideration of the request by Mr. John Ford for the planting of new trees on East Street, Trustee Harn reported several quotes on trees for possible planting. Norway Maple "switches" from $4.00 to $6.50 each, and two-year-old London Plane trees at $5.50 each, plus installation. It is the opinion of the nursery people and the council that it would be advantageous for the Village to plant a somewhat more mature tree, since the initial loss ratio is small in comparison to switches.

Motion by Harn, supported by Paul, to authorize the expenditure of $8.00 toward the planting of a London Plane tree at 112 East Street. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.
A discussion was held regarding the need for a lotterizing and disorderly conduct ordinance for the Village.

Motion by Haselschwardt, supported by Burg that Village Attorney, John Kousch be instructed to submit a tentative new ordinance covering lotterizing and disorderly conduct within the Village of Chelsea. This ordinance would supercede the present Village ordinance. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A letter was received from Mr. Ed Akin, Chairman of the J. C.'s barbeque committee, expressing thanks to the Village for the use of Pierce Park for their annual barbeque.

A report on the Industrial Development meeting was given by Trustee Merle Barr.

A report on the Area Planning meeting was given by Trustee Steve Clark.

Motion by Burg, supported by Clark, to appoint Mr. Thomas Smith as special assessor for the 1962 new curb, gutter and sidewalk program. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Clark, supported by Burg, to authorize and direct the Clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. General Fund, $7,754.14; Parking Meter Fund, $38.40; Equipment Fund, $2,934.00.

Motion by Paul, supported by Harn to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 12:50 a.m. Approved: Dec. 4, 1962. Robert L. Daniels, President. George Winans, Clerk.

Installation of New Traffic Lights Cause Still More Accidents

Lansing — Traffic signals cause more accidents than they prevent, a recent State Highway Department study showed.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said a one-year before and after study of 52 locations where new "stop and go" signals were put in showed accidents increased 33 percent during the year after the signals were installed.

The study also showed rear-end collisions increased nearly 100 percent and there was a 65 percent increase in accidents involving cars making left-turn movements, Mackie said.

Fewer apples are available for canned or frozen apple slices, sauces or juices because of a 25 percent reduction in this year's crop in Michigan. Apples annually bring nearly $25 million to the state's growers each year. Prices to growers are running from one-half to three-quarter cents per pound higher than a year ago.

MACKIE ELECTED — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has been elected president of the American Association of State Highway Officials (AASHO) for 1963. As president of AASHO, Mackie will be top spokesman for Highway Department in all 50 states. He's one of the youngest men ever elected AASHO president.

State Highway Map Bid Awarded to Milwaukee Printers

Lansing — Gugler-Lithographic Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., submitted a low bid of $37,020 to print the 1963 Official Michigan Highway Map.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said Rand McNally, which has been the successful bidder for every map published by the Highway Department since 1940, was second with a bid of $38,250. Three other bids were submitted.

The specifications call for 600,000 maps to be printed and delivered to the Highway Department between March 15 and April 1.

UNUSUAL BUSINESS — New Harp, Tex. — Farmers in this community have what is called an unusual business — a skunk farm.

Operators of the farm have learned that skunks spray their offensive scent only when they are angry or excited. To make the farm safe for visitors they have deodorized the skunks.

The operators, Walter Potec and John Anderson, have been operating the business for 14 years. Most of the skunks are sold in pairs to pet stores, although there is also a demand for the animals at zoos.

RECESSION HALTED
The Cuban crisis has reduced the possibility of a business recession this winter or spring, an economic report of the United States Savings and Loan League said. Prior to President Kennedy's order for the quarantine of Cuba many economists were forecasting a recession. Even though the shooting war apparently has been avoided there remains a strong prospect of broadened "military commitments and a step-up in defense spending," the report added.

Open House Event Will Honor Couple's 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Deo Wilcox are being honored by their children who will hold open house for them at their home, 1310 M-36, Stockbridge, a week from Sunday (Dec. 16) in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Wilcox is the former Frances Boyce who will be remembered here as a teacher in former rural schools—the McIntee and Twin schools. She also taught at White Oak and vicinity before her marriage.

In observing their 40th anniversary they are following family tradition started by Mrs. Wilcox's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Boyce, at the Boyce homestead, 11137 Boyce Rd.

A sister of Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Mary Clark and her son, Dr. J. H. Clark, now live on the homestead farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox were married on Christmas day, in 1922, at the Millville Methodist church, where her husband is pastor of the EUB church, Mrs. Howard Townsend of Danville, and Mrs. LaVerne Bahrner and Charles Wilcox, both of Millville. They also have 16 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

In addition to Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Wilcox has another sister, Mrs. Clarence Bott of Battle Lake. Their parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. George Boyce whose family included two other sons and a daughter, John Boyce who lost his life in 1918 during World War I, and the late Spencer Boyce and Mrs. Elsie Neu.

The open-house is scheduled from two until six o'clock Sunday, Dec. 16 (a week from next Sunday) and the couple's friends and relatives are invited to attend; however, the honored couple has made a special request that there be no presentation of gifts.

Children May Enjoy Art More Than Most Adults

Children may enjoy art more than adults do because children rely upon their imaginations. Adults, however, are "restricted" by their knowledge of what has been accepted art in the past, according to Patricia Klobe, Michigan State University home furnishings specialist.

"Adults also tend to feel a need to identify the subject matter in a painting with some object or experience with which they are familiar," she adds.

"As children, we were all natural artists living in our worlds of vivid imagination. But as we grew up and learned the facts of life, we began to rely more on reason and less on instincts and feelings," Miss Klobe explains.

"Our past experience and knowledge affect the way we regard the things we see."

New Experiences

"To thoroughly appreciate art," she continues, "we must be willing to accept new experiences and emotions which the artist is attempting to convey."

Unfortunately, adults are not always willing to accept those new experiences offered by the artist, because adults tend to connect everything with memory, the specialist says. Children, on the other hand, haven't developed the memories to restrict them and, therefore tend to be more creative. They appreciate paintings in an emotional way. They can grow up appreciating contemporary art if we let them.

To illustrate this idea, Miss Klobe points to the case of an art library for children, where the majority of youngsters independently choose brightly colored, abstract paintings dealing with fantasy instead of those dealing with realistic subject matter.

"Children," she explain, "love the colors and the feeling that abstract art gives them. They use their imaginations to make up stories about the pictures."

Nearly 40 percent of University of Michigan students are working toward graduate or advanced degrees.

Woman's Club Entertains Residents Of Methodist Home

Chelsea Woman's Club entertained the members of the Methodist Home Tuesday evening Dec. 4 at one of the first Christmas parties of the season.

The Rev. William Hainsworth, introduced by Mrs. Edwin Weiss, general chairman, gave an inspirational and humorous program. His original Christmas story, a humorous play, "The Little Angel Who Sang Off Key" delighted his audience.

The Rev. Hainsworth is well known in Congregational circles as well as having gained national prominence as a result of his "roof-top preaching" throughout the country.

The Rev. Hainsworth came to Chelsea from Brighton as a young man. He had a strong leaning toward the ministry—but was also interested in music and the stage as a career. His talents have served him both as a professional entertainer and a minister. He recently retired as pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church in Lansing. At present he is filling a temporary past in Pinckney.

As Mrs. Weiss stated, "May he live many more golden years and gladden many more hearts."

Brownie Troop, 625, led by Mrs. Wilbur Yeom and sponsored by the Woman's club, sang some Christmas carols.

The Christmas dolls dressed by members of the Home (purchased for the purpose by the Woman's club) are given each year to the Chelsea Social Service. The "expert dressmakers" were thanked for their beautiful work and the dolls given to Mrs. Louis Ramp for distribution.

Mrs. H. T. Moore, president of the Woman's club, concluded the meeting.

General chairman for the party was Mrs. Edwin Weiss, while other committees were program: Mrs. William Shutes and Mrs. Thomas Masterson, dolls: Mrs. Solt and Mrs. Louis Ramp.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served from a gaily decorated table. The hostesses, Mrs. William Geddes, Mrs. Tom Smith, and Mrs. Charles Cameron, were assisted by all the members of the Woman's Club.

REVAMPING DELAYED

The Cuban crisis has delayed the Army's revamping of its National Guard and Reserve, it was reported. But it is hoped it will begin by the end of this month.

The Army plans to break up eight guard and reserve infantry divisions and reform them into more streamlined brigades. It also intends to trim about 700 company and detachment-size units considered obsolete or unneeded.
