Bulldogs Eke Past Dexter in Lively Battle

Will Entertain Pinckney Pirates Friday Evening

Whenever Dexter and Chelsea get together for a basketball game, it can be expected to be a real close affair, and last Friday's game at Dexter was no exception. Early in the first period Chelsea pulled to a 10-2 lead, principally as a result of their pressing defense, but by the end of the period Dexter had closed the gap to 11-12. In the second quarter Dexter caught back hard and outscored the Bulldogs 15-12, which enabled them to lead at half-time, 26-24. The third quarter saw Chelsea gain more balance in their attack and some improved rebounding and thereby outscored the Bulldogs 16-10, to lead, 40-36, when the period ended. In the final period nearly everything happened as Dexter came back to tie the score only to have the Bulldogs move out in front again by as much as eight points at one time. However the Bulldogs were not through and they proved it by pulling back within two points only to have the clock run out with the Bulldogs leading, 54-50, and thus gain first place tie in the Washtenaw Conference race. Dexter hit on 44 percent of their shots while Chelsea found the mark on 38 percent of their 52 shots. For Chelsea the scoring was well balanced with Don Joseph and Bob Riemenschneider sharing game honors at 15 points each. Curt Farley collected 13 points while Dudley Holmes scored 9 and Jim Cameron 2. The Junior-Varsity game was won by Chelsea, 62-50, in an extremely well played contest featured by some fine shooting and rough rebounding. Tomorrow night's game will be played at Chelsea with Pinckney being the opponent.

DEER ME: Business Area Invaded By Deer Herd

A herd of deer—one person counted 15 and another 13—caused a sensation in Chelsea Monday noon. Entering Chelsea from the west they wandered through yards, crossed roads and continued to Main St., crossing from the Post Office to the Staffan property between Merkel's Store and McKune Memorial Library and going from there to various locations in the eastern part of the village. The Standard office was flooded with calls during the noon hour, the first one coming from Arthur Mustach on Orchard St., who said three big deer were in his back yard. In quick succession other calls came from James Hoffmeyer, a teacher at Chelsea Junior High School, Mrs. Guy Murphy at 322 Buchanan St., Mrs. Walter Trinkle, 128 Wilkenson St., and Fremont Boyer, 315 West Middle St. The Chelsea Police Department also received a number of calls. Checking later it was learned that some of the deer had jumped a four-foot fence into the yard at the Sumner-Crocker home, 504 Chandler St., and then jumped it again to get out of the yard. When Johnson saw the herd there were 13 deer headed west. Mrs. Murphy reported seeing two does. She said they headed north across the creek as she watched. Some people thought the deer were looking for food but Consey, vacation Officer DuBois Boyer said the deer are not hungry—there is (Continued on page six)

SANTA VISITS CHILDREN—Cynthia Nelson, at right, Don Allan on Santa's lap, and Mary Lou Stoll, seated on her mother's lap, visited with Santa Claus Saturday at the annual Christmas party for children at Chelsea Theatre. The children's parents are the Thomas J. Nelsons, 350 Crooked Lake, the Don Allans of Stockbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stoll of Old US-12. Approximately 1,400 children were entertained during the afternoon, and 50 Christmas stockings filled with toys, games, etc., were distributed later to children who were ill or could not be present for other reasons. Committees who worked at the party said the children were exceptionally well-behaved and had a good time at all three shows. The party is sponsored by Federal Screw, Rockwell-Standard, Central Fibre, Chelsea Products and Chelsea Manufacturing units of UAW-CIO Local 437; Chrysler Proving Grounds Local No. 1284; and the Chelsea Community Chest.

The program will be preceded by organ music played by Claude Isham. A candle-light processional "O Come, All Ye Faithful" will be sung as the choir enters the church. Mrs. S. D. Kinde will direct the Junior Choir singing, "The Little Lord Jesus," an arrangement by Bruce Kennedy. Mrs. Edwin Weiss is the accompanist. Guest soloist, Mrs. Donald Kraushaar, of Saline, for several years the first soprano in the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor, will sing three selections: "The Birthday" by Rowley, "I Wonder As I Wander," an Appalachian carol, and "Slumber Song of the Madonna." David A. Lindsay will direct the Youth Choir singing "O God, Thy Goodness Reacheth Far," by Beethoven and "Waits Carol" with Dr. Clare Warren singing the solo parts, and "O Jesus, So Sweet," by Bach. The Senior choir, directed by Mr. Lindsay will present, "Today There Is Ringing," by Christiansen, "Glory To God in the Highest," by Whitford, and the "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's "Messiah." The Junior choir will also sing, "Shadows So Softly Enfold Thee" by Adam Geibel. A quintet—Mrs. Clare Warren, Mrs. Thomas Slater, Dr. Clare Warren, James Hoffmeyer, and Donald Bussler—will sing "Sleep of the Holy Child" by Gevaert. Mrs. James Hoffmeyer, violin soloist, has selected "He Shall Feed His Flock," by Handel, as her number, with Claude Isham playing the accompaniment. The closing congregational hymn "Silent Night," by Guher, will be followed by the organ postlude by Mr. Isham. The Rev. S. D. Kinde will read the Christmas Story as the scripture lesson. The service is open to the public.

Few Children Misbehave at Cage Games

The Chelsea High School Athletic Board, with the approval of the school faculty, is taking action to curb the nuisance created at basketball games by children who constantly run in and out of the gymnasium during games, run in the balcony, throw paper and otherwise cause distraction to spectators; in fact, they do everything but watch the game. In addition to the nuisance aspect, there is always the possibility of a child's falling on the stairs particularly—and sustaining injuries. To curb the practice the Athletic Board has decided that, if the unruly conduct persists after this warning has been given, the first action will be to raise children's admission to 50 cents; if that fails to discourage attendance of the irresponsible children or stop the nuisance they create, they will be asked to leave the gymnasium and will be refused further admission unless they are accompanied by their parents. The Athletic Board states that the school as well as the loyal backers of the team ask the cooperation of parents; they suggest that the matter be discussed at home. It is believed that with the parents' help the problem may be solved without resorting to stricter measures.

Lyndon Board Okays Zoning Ordinance

The Lyndon Township Board, at a meeting Dec. 13, approved and adopted a permanent zoning ordinance for the township after an interim zoning ordinance had been effective the past year. The ordinance is published in its entirety in this issue of The Standard. The Lyndon Township Zoning Board, through its secretary, Mrs. Lucile D. Masterson, explained that the zoning ordinance may be amended or altered and a petition for a referendum may be submitted following its adoption by the Township Board. Following certain legal requirements set forth in the Rural Township Zoning law—Act 184 of the Public Acts of 1943 as amended—township residents may call for a vote on the question. For information regarding such procedure it is suggested Lyndon residents contact the secretary of the Township Zoning Board. Miss Flora Schieferstein and her cousin, Joseph Taylor of Chelsea-Dexter Rd., plan to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor of Ann Arbor, who are entertaining at a family dinner.

Approach of Final Weeks in Year Is Time To Review Accomplishments

The last month of 1962 is upon us, in fact, it is almost over and here it is Christmas time again. The years go faster and faster as we grow older, it seems. (Almost everybody grows older, too, except the editor.)

This has been the second year of the Kennedy sixties. In economics, there has been some improvement from the picture of a year ago, so the statisticians tell us, for which we should be thankful. And, more recently, we have, at least for the moment, avoided a threat of nuclear war. But that is not the primary consideration at this time of the year.

The foremost consideration now is whether or not we have accomplished anything, personally, during the year. What good have we been able to work during the year? Who have we been able to help? What have we learned? What have we tried to do, to broaden ourselves, and better understand others?

What have we done in 1962 to ease the plight of those less fortunate than ourselves? These are the questions we should ask ourselves as the year draws to its final days. These are things which will bring happiness and are in the true spirit of Christmas.

Right-To-Work Laws Continue To Be Hotly-Contested National Issue

One of the battles which continues on the American scene, in the labor relations field, is that over the closed shop. The closed shop is one where a worker must join the union if he is employed in a certain plant.

Some 19 states now have right-to-work laws which guarantee the freedom of every worker, assuring him the right to join a union or not to join. Hot fights have been held in many states in recent years on this issue and in some states right-to-work bills have been defeated.

It is probable that this issue will continue to be a lively one in the next decade. It is also possible that action on the legality of right-to-work laws and, or, the closed shop, will come from the Supreme Court in the near future.

In the final analysis it might be Congress which will have to legislate in this field. Citizens, therefore, should make known their views on this issue at every opportunity.

He represents a sizeable portion of the population, this fellow. You know the type. He gets occupied with this or that and puts off some necessary things, until the very last minute.

Christmas shopping is a fine example. He's thought about it, now and then, for several months. Action? He hasn't bought the first tie or bottle of perfume — until, suddenly, he takes a close look at the calendar and then he's off to the races.

He has something in his favor, however. He realizes that the best place to shop, whether in July or a couple of days before Christmas, is the local business community.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR,

I see by the papers where the U. S. Department of Labor is taking a few tips from their pentagon boys on how to unloose the taxpayers from some of their money. They come up with a rule here awhile back that Mexicans working on American farms was "prohibited" from driving tractors.

Well, this piece in the papers reports that a few Mexicans have been sneaking behind the steering wheel and the Labor folks has set up $247,000 to hire 25 more inspectors to catch 'em.

This brings up another problem. Who was going to drive the tractors? They was a big shortage, for instant, of tractor drivers in the Yazoo delta in Mississippi and crops for storage was wasting away in the fields. The Department of Labor, working on the theory that it was better for the crops to rot in storage than in the fields, appropriated $482,056 for training tractor drivers in the Yazoo delta area.

Just why workers that knows how to drive tractors can't drive em, and why the taxpayers has got to spend $783,056 on this situation is somepun I can't explain for you, Mister Editor. I reckon it's like Franklin Roosevelt, father of the New Deal and Godfather of the New Frontier, explained these matters once to the voters. "We planned it that way."

And while we're trying to nab Mexican tractor drivers here at home, we're having a little problem with television sets over in the Congo. The Congress appropriated $260,000 to distribute TV sets in parts of the Congo that ain't got no electricity.

Congressman John Dowdy of Texas was complaining about this matter to the State Department and them boys in the striped pants explained to Congressman Dowdy that the TV sets was going to be operated by batteries and that the batteries was going to be recharged with a generator run by a kid's merry-go-round. They said small animals, may be squirrels, could be used to turn the treadmill.

I don't know, Mister Editor, how the supply of squirrels is holding out in the Congo, but it looks like we're getting a over supply of squirrels in Washington.

I was reading the other day where ole Khruschev said the United States was a "nation of nuts." As usual, ole Khrushev ain't 100 per cent correct, but he ain't 100 per cent wrong neither. And furthermore, he forgot to state that we got enough squirrels along the Potomac to take care of any nut surplus that might come up.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Lightning Rod Gyppers Are Working

(NOTE: This is one in a series of articles by Frank J. Kelley, State Attorney General, concerning fraud.)

A consumer fraud which was popular in the last century is still operating in Michigan today, it was learned this week when the Attorney General of Kansas reported to his Consumer Protection Division that a couple of fast-talking lightning rod salesmen are at work in Michigan right now, and have been cheating rural customers out of substantial amounts of money.

The modus operandi is always the same: claiming to represent a well-known and thoroughly reputable company which sells and installs lightning protection systems and equipment, the two men plan and begin work on an installation. At this time they take a substantial down payment. Later, when they come to finish the job, they ask the customer to give them a check for the total price, including the down payment, explaining that the company will refund the over-payment. If the customer has doubts, they give him a note indicating that the company will refund by a certain date, and they leave their "addresses" with the customer. Then they get to the local bank, cash the check in a hurry, and depart before the customer can collect his wits and stop payment.

Michigan citizens, and particularly farmers and rural dwellers, take warning! These operators are in the state right now. If you deal with lightning rod salesmen, pay them only what you owe. If there is any doubt, check with your local banker, prosecuting attorney, chamber of commerce, Better Business Bureau. And please report any contact with the described operation to your prosecuting attorney or to my office.

November Traffic Death Toll Shows Sharp Reduction

Michigan's provisional November traffic death toll of 102 was the best peacetime mark for this month in 30 years of record-keeping, according to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Chlids.

It represented a reduction of 46 fatalities, or 31 percent, under 148 in the same month a year ago, and only the November tolls of 87 and 96 in the wartime years of 1942 and 1943 when gasoline was rationed were lower.

The November count ended a string of five months of increases in deaths, compared with the same months in 1961, and brought to 1,429 the provisional 11-month total, six more than 1,423 in the corresponding period a year ago. Delayed death reports will raise late the November and 11-month provisional tolls.

More complete figures for October showed 168 deaths and 10,107 injured in 19,870 accidents, representing increases of 21 percent in both deaths and injured and 17 percent in accidents compared with the same month last year.

The accumulated totals for the first 10 months this year include 1,320 deaths and 85,002 injured in 182,148 accidents. These were gains of four, 15 and 16 percent, respectively, over the corresponding 1961 period.

Estimated mileage for the first nine months, the latest information available, was 24.6 billions, a rise of four percent over the same period last year, while the death rate of 4.7 per 100 million vehicle miles was down two percent.

Beware of salesmen who threaten to give you something.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

To Tax or Not
 The year-long battle, blamed by many for causing the election loss by Gov. John B. Swainson, will be renewed in 1963 but could take on a considerably different form.

Rep. John T. Bowman, Roseville Democrat, will be a member of the State Senate next year. He promises to re-introduce his bill to prohibit cities from levying an income tax on non-residents who work in the cities.

A citizen movement, sparked by the mayors of suburban Detroit communities, is still gaining strength also in the form of petitions to the legislature.

Bowman's bill, which was vetoed by Swainson this year, would most likely pass with a good sized margin as it did in the current session. This would put it squarely on Governor-elect George Romney's desk for the same major decision which Swainson faced.

The petitions to be presented to the 1963 legislature by the Vigilance Tax Committee could seem to be a mandate to pass Bowman's bill.

On the other hand, lack of legislative action could make the petitions take on the form of a mandate to put the question of taxing non-residents on the ballot as a referendum. In this way, the people could pass the law without having it go through the Governor's hands.

Whether Romney plans to introduce a total fiscal reform program, which presumably would include a state-wide income tax, is still unanswered.

Republican strength for such a proposal, as part of a tax revision program, reportedly has gained since the 1962 session unofficially closed its doors.

As one Republican Senator from central Michigan puts it: "It's something the people are going to have to face. Either every major city is going to be passing an income tax, and then the smaller cities will follow suit until we are all paying such a levy, or the state is going to do it before the pattern becomes too complicated."

The recent months have seen constantly increasing revenues pouring in, largely because of the "nuisance tax" package passed this year.

It could well be both the new Governor and his Republican backers will decide to let the state ride for a full year on the benefits of the added revenues before tackling the tough problem of an income tax in the Senate again.

The House, of course, never reached a test on the income tax question this year. Democrats supposedly were fully behind Swainson in his fiscal reform program. All indications from Democratic "off the record" comments were there would have been some who would have been conveniently absent if such a vote were taken this year.

If a Republican governor proposed such a tax, they would be even more inclined to abstain or openly oppose the legislation.

1,000 Freeway Miles
 Michigan's freeway system, now past the 1,000-mile mark, has a relatively brief history.

The first mile of freeway was opened to traffic July 1, 1942 as the "Parker Rd. Expressway," now part of Interstate 64.

Just two years ago, the 50th mile of freeway was opened between Dexter and Chelsea near the "Parker Rd. overpass." This stretch was part of the final leg of the 1-94 between Detroit and Lake Michigan.

Now the 1,000th mile, located somewhere between Brighton and Lansing, marks the completion of the 1-96 freeway between Detroit and Muskegon.

This milestone in highway construction also gave the state its third border-to-border high speed route.

The first was the I-94 route from the southern state border. Then, just over a month ago the final link of the Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge freeway was added to the road system.

Now motorists can cut in half the time consumed in driving from Detroit to Muskegon as compared to the travel time of about five years ago.

More Jobs, More Accidents
 The improved employment picture in Michigan in the last several months brought with it almost inevitable increase in industrial accidents, according to the Michigan Insurance Information Service.

During the past year, through Sept. 30, the total compensable work injuries reported to the State Workmen's Compensation Department was 31,292. This represented an increase of 626 over last year.

Last year, however, when employment was down compared to 1962, the injury rate showed a decrease of 2,513 from the previous 12-month period.

One bright note showed in the Department's annual report, however, in the breakdown of the injuries. The 37,332 total included 183 deaths, 2 permanent total disabilities, and 881 permanent partial disabilities.

This showed fatalities were down from 1961 by 59, total disabilities by 1, and partial disabilities by 67.

Workmen's Compensation officials credit the change in severity of industrial accidents to a "tensive concentration upon job safety."

MODERN ELECTRONIC MARVELS that help give you dependable telephone service are wonderful, but they'd be of little use without telephone people. For example, telephone engineers must plan the buildings and equipment to provide this service. Plant technicians install and maintain the equipment. When you call about your service, our Commercial personnel provides the information you need. Long Distance and Information operators help you with your calls. Accounting personnel prepare your bills and record payments. And our Marketing people keep your directories up to date and give business customers expert communications advice. All work together to make sure your telephone service meets your needs—24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

IT'S FOR YOU! IT'S CHRISTMAS! Looking for a Christmas gift idea that's personal and different? One that's sure to be appreciated every day of the year? Look no further! Surprise your family with an extension phone. Practical extension phones make life brighter and easier for Mom in the kitchen, for Dad in the den, and for everyone in the family room. Step-saving, time-saving extension phones come in a wide choice of colors and styles. Just call our Business Office and we'll help you select your extension phone in time for Christmas.

CHRISTMAS JOY

... and the best to you in the New Year from all of us at Michigan Bell.

Boyer said the cold weather alerts the instincts of the deer to "bunch up" for the winter; when, for any reason, they are startled the whole herd takes off and, if frightened, some are apt to be hurt by colliding with fences and other obstructions in their path.

Moonlight nights are also times when the entire herd moves, and Boyer repeated his warning to motorists to be on the lookout for the animals to avoid collisions with them.

A train passing through here sent back a report that a herd of deer had been struck "near Dexter" and it was believed at least two were killed. Boyer searched along the track after receiving the report but found no trace of any that were killed. The report stated the deer were struck between 4 and 5 a.m. Monday.

After-School Food Snacks May Be OK

Ann Arbor—After-school snacks for children have won a qualified nod of approval from professional dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

They say the snacks—whether food or drink—should always provide some of the calories, vitamins and minerals necessary to good all-around nutrition, yet should not spoil the child's appetite for his evening meal.

How much can manage these two requirements is a trick in itself.

The U-M food specialists turn thumbs down on such snacks as candy, soda-pop and potato chips. They recommend instead: fruit juice, vegetable juice or milk; crackers with peanut butter or cheese; a small sandwich, with meat, cheese or peanut butter; celery or even cucumber wedges for casual but nutritious, "Munching"; cereal and milk.

They even offer mom a way to circumvent demands by small fry for the outlandish soda-pop and candy. "Keep only the more nourishing kinds of snacks readily available in the kitchen," says dietitian Betsy Holli, "and let nature take its course. The whole family will benefit nutritionally."

Manchester JCC Forms Business Study Committee

The Manchester Jaycees have formed a Business Betterment Committee (BBC). Purpose of the BBC is to explore Manchester's economic needs. It is expected that the BBC will take the lead in bringing new business and industry into the Manchester area. The BBC was formed after several Jaycees had expressed dissatisfaction with Manchester's current economic opportunities. Especial areas of interest are those of employment and financing. The BBC will examine these problems and take whatever action is indicated.

The Business Betterment Committee will work closely with the Manchester Jaycees' Community Development Committee (CDC).

The CDC will conduct a survey to determine Manchester's assets and needs. The survey, which was prepared and will be conducted with the help of the University of Michigan, will be held early in 1963. It will include portions on government, schools, and youth affairs, as well as the economic portion. Following publication of the survey results, the Jaycees will select Manchester's most pressing problems as their area of action. The BBC, specifically, will examine in detail the results of the economic portion.

Manchester businessman Tom Marshall is the chairman of BBC. Virtually all the Jaycees have volunteered to serve on the committee.

The Amazing Expense Account Rules

Never has the Internal Revenue Service been subjected to as vigorous criticism from a ruling as it has been on the new proposals on expense accounts. Hundreds, and perhaps thousands, of letters have been written to the service objecting to its interpretation of the law, and so many taxpayers asked to be heard in person that instead of only one day being devoted to this purpose, the time was doubled. Still, every one was under pressure to get his analysis presented in the time allotted. And this was in the face of an opening statement by Mortimer C. Caplin, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, that certain of the suggested rules would be reconsidered and eased. No one questions that there has been abuse of expense accounts. But no one knows how widespread the abuse has been or what it amounts to in dollars. And certainly it was the intent of the Congress in the tax act passed a few months ago that an attempt should be made to bring the abuse under control. It is, however, the almost unanimous view of careful and skilled students, both lawyers and laymen, that the Internal Revenue Service has gone well beyond even the intent of the Congress.

In general terms, two main questions are involved: first, the determination of what is a legitimate business expense from the viewpoint of taxes; second, the issue of what type of records must be maintained in order for the Internal Revenue Service to allow the deduction. On the first question, the main controversy has to do with whether business management or representatives of the service are the better judges of what is a legitimate expense account item. Obviously this is a ticklish subject. If management is given the right simply to use its discretion in allowing deductions the field is wide open for abuse. But, conversely, if an Internal Revenue Agent has unlimited power to disallow an item, it means that in many instances perfectly legitimate expenses will not be deductible.

Management believes, and properly so, that it is more capable in the determination of legitimate business expenses than the Internal Revenue agent can possibly be, but even so it does not ask for, or expect, wide-open discretion. What it objects to in the proposed regulation is that it is put so definitely on the defensive that it will have to regard almost every expenditure as suspect in the eyes of the Internal Revenue Service.

The type of records which must be maintained under the proposed new regulations is an equally serious matter. A volume of detail is required that is basically impossible. Most well-managed companies from their employees and officers, and on the basis of these reports they determine whether the expenditure was fair and legitimate, or excessive and wasteful. If the decision is that the item was excessive and wasteful, it is customary for it to be disallowed or at least it is required that it be reduced to what is proper. To meet these standards it is normal for employees and officers to keep an itemized account of expenditures.

The proposed regulations go far beyond this. They require exact times; individual listing of each item with receipts for anything over $10; names; relation of the guest to the business purpose being served; how long the discussion lasted; type of entertainment; if any; other guests present; and so on. This is snooping beyond reason, and it would place a burden upon business and its employees that is without warrant.

As noted earlier, Mr. Caplin has stated that certain of the rules will be modified. It is to be hoped that the changes are really significant, not because any honorable person approves of abuse of expense accounts, but merely as a matter of reasonable operation of our tax laws.

Hunting Law Violators Appear In Municipal Court

A Whitmore Lake man who pleaded guilty Monday in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, to a charge of possession of quail, paid fine and costs of $32.80.

Lawrence R. Rousseau, 37, was stopped at 5:45 p.m. Sunday by Conservation Officer Boyer in Webster township. The officer found an uncased gun in the car and also spotted quail feathers. Proof of the quail kill was found at Rousseau's home to which Boyer had accompanied him.

Quail are protected in Michigan and thus illegal to shoot or possess at any time.

Also appearing before Judge Francis O'Brien Monday in Municipal Court was John Urban of Dearborn who pleaded not guilty to shooting a doe in Webster township. The doe was in his possession at the time of his arrest by Conservation Officer Donley Boyer but he claimed someone else had shot it. He was released on $50 cash bond to appear for trial Dec. 27.

THE LETTERBOX

Editor, Chelsea Standard
Chelsea, Michigan

Dear Mr. Editor:
On Monday evening, Dec. 17, 1962 about five hundred citizens of Chelsea witnessed one of the most inspiring events ever held in this community.

The Seventh and Eighth Grade Bands preceded the Senior Band of the Chelsea Public Schools in a Christmas Band Concert. Certainly there could not have been a single spectator that was not thrilled to see these youngsters perform. Mr. Editor, it was wonderful.

Mr. David A. Lindsay, Band Director, should have his salary doubled and presented with a "red hot" gold medal. We must not let this man leave our schools. Highlight him, sit on him. Do something. May the Babe of Bethlehem Bless everyone of these Children and the Band Director.

A member of the Chelsea Village Council.

A mansard roof is one with two slopes on each of the four sides; the lower steeper than the upper. Francois Mansard, 1598-1666 revived the use of the roofs.

Cites New Tourist Market for Michigan

East Lansing — The 20 million Europeans vacationing outside their own countries offer a potential tourist market for Michigan, says Frederick G. Brownell, a Detroit public relations specialist.

An article by Brownell appears in the latest issue of the Michigan Economic Record, published by the Michigan State University Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

Already, says Brownell, Detroit ranks sixth in popularity as a destination for Europeans visiting this country.

Spagnoli used his teeth to clinch caps on the charges. A dentist matched the toothprints on one of the caps with Spagnoli's teeth-making the arrest official.

SECTION 11.19 - HEARING ON NOTICE

When a notice of appeal has been filed in proper form with the Board of Appeals, the Secretary shall immediately place the said request for appeal upon the calendar for hearing, and cause notices, stating the time, place and object of the hearing to be served personally or by mail, at least five (5) days prior to the date of such hearing, upon the parties making the request for appeal. All notices by mail shall be deemed to have been given when deposited in the United States Post Office addressed to the respective property owners of record to the address shown on the last assessment roll of the Township.

SECTION 11.20 - DECISIONS OF BOARD

The Board shall decide upon all matters appealed from within a reasonable time and may reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision or determination appealed from and shall make such determination as in its opinion ought to be made in the premises and to that end shall have all the powers of the Zoning Inspector from whom the appeal is taken. The final decision of such appeals shall be in the form of a resolution containing a full record of the findings and determination of the Board in each particular case.

ARTICLE XII - AMENDMENTS

SECTION 12.01 - INITIATING AMENDMENTS

This Ordinance may be amended by changing the boundaries of districts or by changing or supplementing any other provisions hereof whenever the public necessity and convenience and the general welfare require such amendment. Said amendment may be initiated by resolution of the Township Board, the Zoning Board or by petition of one or more owners of property to be affected by the proposed amendment, which petition, in the case of one or more owners of property, shall be filed with the Township Board and shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty (50) dollars, no part of which shall be returnable to the petitioner.

SECTION 12.02 - PROCEDURE

The procedure for making amendments to this Ordinance shall be as follows:

A. Each petition for amendment by one or more owners of property shall be submitted to the Township Board who shall refer it for recommended action to the Zoning Board.

B. After consideration by the Zoning Board, the petition for amendment, including any changes thereto which the Zoning Board deems desirable, shall be submitted to at least one (1) public hearing, notice of which shall be given by two (2) publications in a newspaper of general circulation in the Township, the first to be printed not more than thirty (30) days nor less than twenty (20) days and the second not more than eight (8) days before the date of such hearing.

C. Notice of public hearings on any petition for amendment of this Ordinance which proposes to change land use districts as shown on the Zoning map within five hundred (500) feet of the boundary of adjacent township or municipalities shall be sent to the Zoning Boards or other zoning agencies representing such townships or municipalities in order that coordination with adjacent zoning ordinances may be promoted.

D. The petition, if approved by the Zoning Board, shall be submitted to the Washtenaw County Coordinating Zoning Committee for review.

E. The petition shall then be submitted to the Township Board by the Zoning Board and acted upon in accordance with the provisions of Section 11 of Act 184 of the Public Acts of 1943.

ARTICLE XIII - ADMINISTRATION

SECTION 13.01 - ZONING ADMINISTRATOR

The provisions of this Ordinance shall be administered by the Zoning Inspector, who shall be appointed by the Township Board for such term and subject to such conditions and at such rate of compensation as said Board shall determine. The Zoning Inspector shall for the purposes of his Ordinance have the power of police officers.

SECTION 13.02 - ZONING PERMIT REQUIRED

Except for agricultural uses of land and accessory buildings specifically used for agricultural operations as permitted in the A-1 Agricultural District, which are hereby exempted from the requirements of this Article, (and therefore need no permit), no land shall be occupied or used and no buildings or structure shall hereafter be erected or altered (above 30% of the present value of said structure) until a zoning permit has been obtained from the Zoning Inspector. Such permit shall be non-transferable and shall be obtained before any new use is established or work of excavation or construction is begun.

SECTION 13.03 - CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

Except as otherwise provided, no land shall be occupied or used and no building hereafter erected or altered, shall be occupied or used in whole or in part for any purposes, until a certificate of compliance has been issued by the Zoning Inspector stating that the proposed use or building complies with all the provisions of this Ordinance. A certificate of compliance shall be applied for at the same time that the zoning permit is applied for and if approved by the Zoning Inspector shall be issued within ten (10) days after notification from the permittee that the premises are ready for occupancy.

ARTICLE XIV - VALIDITY AND PENALTIES

SECTION 14.01 - VALIDITY

This Ordinance and the various parts, sections, subsections, phrases and clauses thereof are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section, subsection, phrase or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid, it is hereby provided that the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby. The Township Board hereby declares that it would have passed this Ordinance, and each section, subsection, phrase, sentence, and clause thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, phrases, sentences or clauses be declared invalid.

SECTION 14.02 - PENALTIES

Any building or structure which is erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted, maintained or used or any home occupation or any use of land or premise which is begun, maintained, or changed in violation of any provision of this Ordinance, are hereby declared to be a nuisance per se. Any person, firm, or corporation, or the agent in charge of such building or land who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects or refuses to comply with, or resists the enforcement of any provision of the Ordinance or any amendment thereof, shall be fined upon conviction not less than one hundred (100) dollars, together with the costs of prosecution, or shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one (1) day or more than ninety (90) days for each offense, or may be fined and imprisoned as provided herein. Report

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Four year terms for four principal state elective officers are provided by the proposed new Michigan constitution which voters will be asked to pass judgement upon at the April 1, 1968, election.

The longer terms would become effective for those elected in 1968 as governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. These officers presently serve two-year terms.

In acting to increase the terms of these officials, the Constitutional Convention followed the advice of former state executives and conformed to policies which have been adopted by many U. S. state governments.

Advocates of the longer term pointed out that the present two-year incumbency provides too short a time for an administrator to become properly acquainted with his job. They felt, too, that an official's efficiency is impaired when he is obliged to campaign for re-election as often as every two years.

Terms for members of the state senate are also increased to four years by the new constitution, but members of the house of representatives continue to serve only two years.

Those elected for four-year terms in state office would be chosen in balloting in alternate even-numbered years beginning in 1968, so as not to conflict with national presidential elections.

Although the new constitution does not specifically so require, it is presumed that the legislature will continue party primaries for the nomination of candidates for governor. Candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general would be nominated at party conventions.

The new document provides that the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor of each party run as a team, with votes for the governor to be also cast for the lieutenant governor in the same manner as with the president and vice president of the U. S. This would eliminate divisive situations in state government when the governor and lieutenant governor are opposing political parties.

The line of succession to the governorship in the new constitution is lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. The matter of further succession, after the three elective officers, is left to legislative determination.

A clear distinction is made for the first time between temporary succession to the governorship, such as during his absence from the state, permanent succession due to his inability to perform his duties. A method of using the supreme court to determine when such inability exists, and when it ends, is also provided for the first time.

Another new provision of the proposed document meets a long-felt need. The governor is provided with a furnished residence and receives an allowance for its maintenance. This conforms to the practice in 41 other states.

LOOKING AHEAD

Malvern, Ark.—Having heard a lot of talk about overcrowded conditions in colleges, Mrs. Dale Arthur McCoy made a reservation for a college room 18-years ahead of time.

Her daughter, Donna Lynn, was born in 1944; and Mrs. McCoy wrote to Ouchita Baptist College in Arkadelphia, asking that a room be reserved for her daughter in 1962.

The reservation was confirmed and Donna Lynn entered her mother's alma mater when the school opened for the fall session.
