The meeting will be held in the Chelsea High school at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 28 (tonight).

She is also on the Board of Directors of the Co-ordinating Committee for the New Constitution.

Charles Cameron, superintendent of Chelsea schools will act as moderator, and David Soule, president of the PTA Council, as chairman for the evening.

Barn Burns Thursday on Sharon Farm

A large barn on the William Toms farm at 1821 Lehman Rd., in Sharon township, was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning with a specially designed garbage processing truck, a large Caterpillar tractor, complete, welding outfit and a quantity of miscellaneous tools.

According to firemen's reports, the blaze apparently was caused by defective operation of a boiler used to process the garbage in the special-truck. Damage was estimated at more than $95,000.

Terms has the contract for garbage and rubbish collection in Chelsea and the destroyed truck was one used in connection with this work.

Firemen from the Manchester department received the first call about 4:45 a.m. from workers at the Chrysler Corporation Proving Grounds who said they could see flames—flames south of their plant near M-52.

When the Manchester firemen arrived on the scene the building was engulfed in flames and an immediate call was put in for assistance from the Chelsea Fire Department.

The Chelsea and Manchester firemen battled the flames for more than two hours—but were unable to save the building. Both departments obtained additional supplies of water from the Chrysler Proving Grounds plant when their tank trucks were pumped dry.

Cagers Down Manchester Friday Night

The Bulldogs extended their conference record to 8-3 and their over-all record to 11-5 last Friday night as they turned back a very determined Manchester team, 71-59.

Bob Riemenschneider hit on 15 of 25 field goal attempts along with one free throw to score his season's high of 31 points. Riemenschneider's 31 is high for a single player in one game for at least the last seven years.

Chelsea had good scoring balance as Curt Farley collected 18 points, plus 12 by Don Joseph.

Other Chelsea players who scored were Jeff Plinkoff who had three points aside from playing an outstanding floor game, John Ashley with four points, Carl Walker, two, and Dud Holmes, one.

The Bulldogs also won the very vital "battle of the boards" by picking off 47 rebounds to Manchester's 32.

Another feature of Friday's game which deserves recognition not only here but possibly through the Washtenaw Conference itself, is the outstanding play of a fine young man from Manchester, Gary Mitchell. Gary scored 27 points to lead the Manchester attack against Chelsea, and must be the leading Dutchman scorer for the year. But more than that, he is probably the finest young player in the conference. Those of you that know Gary realize his outstanding accomplishment and can't help but have a great deal of respect for him.

The running score in the game was Chelsea, 18, Manchester, 15, at the quarter; Chelsea, 33-27, at half time; and 50-42 at the end of three. The final score was 71-59.

The last game of the regular season will be played at Chelsea tomorrow evening with much improved Salina Hornets on hand for the rubber game between these two teams.

Chelsea defeated Salina during the Holiday Tournament, 61-44, but were surprised by an aroused Hornets team who tripped the Bulldogs on their way to a tie for the Conference Championship, 63-51.

It will also be parents night for Chelsea, with all parents of Chelsea varsity players being honored guests. Introductions of players and parents will be made before the start of the varsity game.

Firemen Hold Annual Banquet

The Chelsea Fire Department's annual banquet was held Saturday evening at the Masonic Hall with approximately 40 persons attending. These included firemen and their wives, Mrs. Raye Schiller who is the Fire Department's telephone operator, and Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koch.

Members of Olive Chapter No. 108, O.E.S., prepared and served the banquet.

Village Council members and their wives had been invited to attend but because of prior commitments were unable to do so.

Don Turner provided entertainment by showing some of his colored pictures of parade scenes and of wildlife scenes taken near his home at Pierce Lake.

Games were played during a social hour which followed.

Pairings Made For District Cage Tourney

Pairings for the District Basketball tournament were assigned Tuesday in drawings at East Jackson High school where tournament games begin Tuesday, March 5.

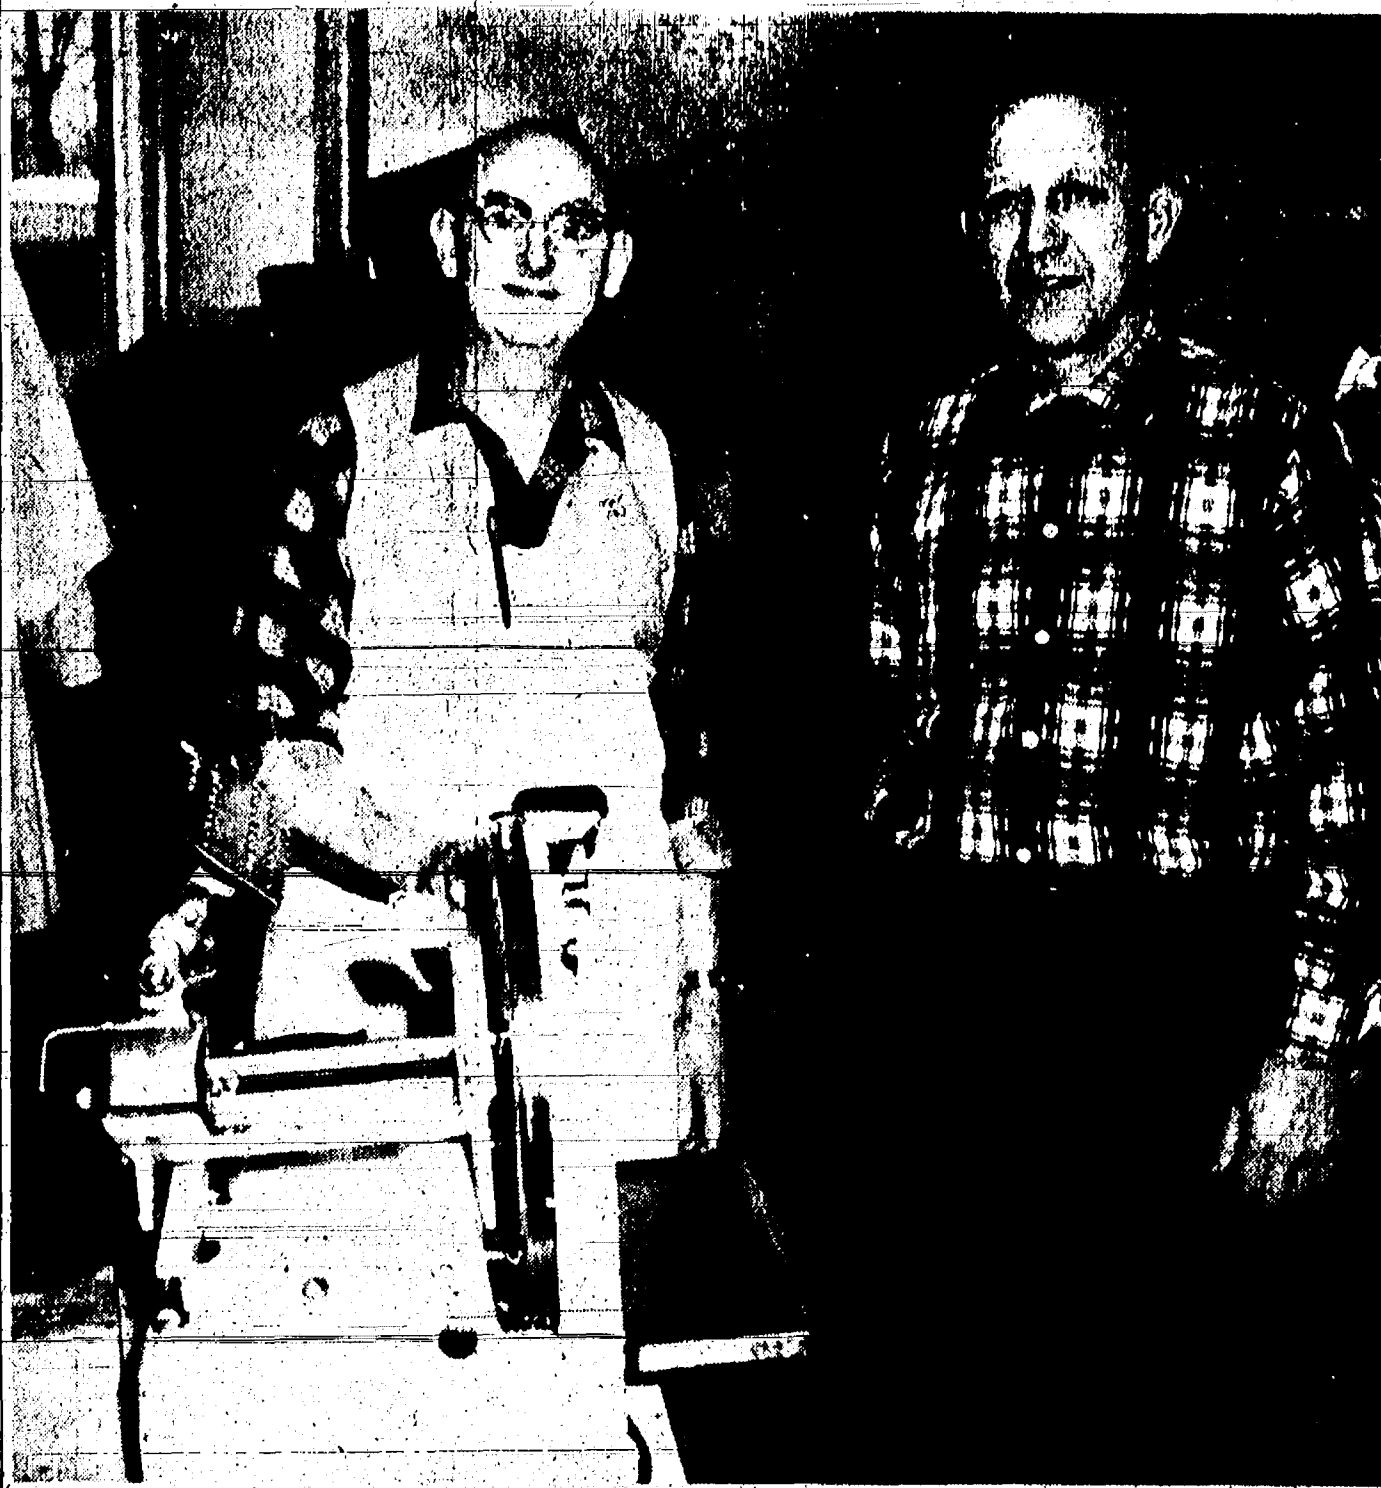

The first game, at 7 p.m. will be played by Jackson Northwest and East Jackson teams.

The same evening, at 8:30 p.m., Jackson St. John's team meets the Stockbridge players.

Thursday, March 7, at 7 p.m. Chelsea will play the winner of the Jackson Northwest-East Jackson game and at 8:30 Jackson St. Mary's will play Tuesday's winner of the Jackson St. John-Stockbridge game.

Winners of Thursday's game will meet for the championship match which is scheduled to take place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

All games will be played at the new East Jackson High school gymnasium, located across from the Jackson Drive-In Theatre on the south side of the Michigan Ave. highway.

FORMER CLASSMATES MEET AGAIN—These two men—Grove McFadden, at left, and Nelson Tucker—graduated together in 1928 from Ross High school in Fremont, O., where both were prominent in sports and it took a visit to their alma mater for a reunion at an honors banquet 35 years after their graduation to bring about the realization that both had been in Chelsea the past 12 years without knowing the other was here! It was their wives, comparing notes as they sat side by side at the Fremont high school sports reunion, who made the discovery. McFadden is employed at the meat counter in Schneider's store and Tucker is maintenance superintendent at Chelsea Manufacturing Corp. McFadden was honored at the high school banquet as one of the school's basketball team who won the 1928 league championship. Eight of the 10 team members were at the banquet to reminisce about playing in the state tournament that year—they lost at the tournament. Tucker was a member of the football team at Ross High school. The Tuckers live at 19855 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. while the McFaddens' home is at 263 Harrison St. The reunion was held Feb. 16.

Annual World Day of Prayer Being Observed Tomorrow

The World Day of Prayer, observed on the first Friday in Lent, is sponsored by women of the major Protestant and Orthodox communions. It has a meaningful history of more than 75 years behind it.

Prayer and giving for the world-wide mission of the church have been its primary purpose. It has traditionally brought people together across denominational, racial, national, and cultural boundaries to pray for the needs of the world and to make an offering for the carrying out of the Church's mission across the world.

The World Day of Prayer offering in the United States goes to strengthen the outreach and ministry of the Church to the world. The gifts are divided between the Division of Foreign Missions and the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches, the two divisions that carry on the work for which the offering is designated. Through the Division of Foreign Missions of the N.C. of C. the prayers and gifts help prepare men and women of many nations for service in home and community—with a very special effort the next three years to help train young Arab refugee women to become self-supporting and leave the work camps.

Gifts working through the Division of Home Missions assist the church to be faithful in mission in many ministries—the migrant ministry, the church and community in transition and Indian Americans.

In Chelsea the observance is taking place at 1:30 p.m. Friday, March 1, at the Methodist church, sponsored by United Church Women of the Chelsea Area.

The United Church Women of the Chelsea area invite all church women to join with them tomorrow, March 1, at 1:30 p.m. at the Chelsea First Methodist church. Mrs. Ellsworth Smith will present the projects for this year's offerings. Mrs. Frederick Belser will be the soloist.

The program was planned by Mrs. Loring Bates, U.C.W. chairman of Christian World Missions, and her committee, Mrs. Ben Donaldson, Mrs. Wilbert Giebel, and Mrs. Clare Warren.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts Mar. 1

Chelsea Girl Scouts, in common with all Huron Valley Girl Scouts, are beginning their annual cookie sale tomorrow, March 1. The Girl Scouts take advance orders for the four different kinds of cookies offered by the Bury Biscuit Co. and delivery in this area will be shortly after April 24.

Chelsea Girl Scouts will take orders from March 1 until their troop meetings the week of March 11. Cookies being offered are four-flavored sandwich, Scotch minis, and Savannahs. Proceeds of the sales will go to support the Girl Scout program including the camp program.

The price this year is 45 cents per box—the five-cent increase in price going toward the newly-acquired campsite property.

Local troops still receive five cents for each box sold and the remainder of the profits go entirely toward the Girl Scout camp program (camp property, equipment, campships, etc.).

Mrs. P. E. Sharrard, Chelsea Girl Scout Neighborhood cookie chairman, said 220 girls in 11 Girl Scout troops are participating.

Chairmen of the individual troops are as follows: Mrs. Wilber Worden, Troop 77; Mrs. Glen Clark, Troop 48; Mrs. Brice Graham, Troop 98; Mrs. Warren Welton, Troop 51; Mrs. Paul Maynard, Troop 58.

The list continues with Mrs. Stan Weir, Troop 606; Mrs. Elton Guehner, Troop 625; Mrs. Winston Schenk, Troop 88; Mrs. Lawrence Dietz, Troop 87; Mrs. Frederick Belser, Troop 247; and Mrs. William Chandler, Troop 145.

Final Day To Register Is Monday

Monday, March 4, is the final date to register with township clerks for the April 1 biennial election.

Citizens who are not certain of their registration status should check with their township clerk.

Sylvan and Lima township voters should be particularly alert to the fact that if they are residents of Chelsea village and have registered with the village clerk they are not eligible to vote in the biennial election; they must register with the township clerk for the April 1 election unless their registration is already in good order.

-BULLETIN-

As The Standard was going to press word was received that Chelsea's FFA Parliamentary Procedure team finished in first place in the Regional contest at Jackson Northwest High school late yesterday afternoon. They are now eligible for state competition as one of eight teams who will compete at MSU on March 20.

Lenten Service Offers CROP Refugee Meal

Public Invited to Meal Preceding Lenten Service

An innovation here in connection with the annual United community Lenten services of Protestant churches is a CROP dinner to be held Wednesday, March 6, at 6:30 p.m., at the Methodist church preceding the Lenten service scheduled at the church that evening.

It was erroneously announced earlier that the dinner was to be pot-luck; the fact is that those who attend are asked to bring their own table service only and the dinner will be prepared and served by women of the participating churches.

Promoted by the churches involved in co-operation with United Church Women of the Chelsea area, it will be a meal such as is served to refugees in Hong Kong and Korea, two of the many areas where Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) functions.

Described as a tasty meal with plenty of food for everyone, it will feature plain dishes which are especially suited to large-scale mass feeding.

Women of St. Paul's United Church of Christ are to prepare baked beans. Congregational church women will prepare rice pudding; at the Methodist church corn meal muffins will be baked; and women of Salem Grove and North Lake Methodist churches and St. Barnabas Episcopal church will prepare the coffee, jellies, celery, etc., that will complete the menu.

No tickets are being sold for the dinner but there will be opportunity for a free will offering for CROP. The meal will be served cafeteria style.

The refugee-style dinner was planned here in accordance with suggestions of the sponsoring organization, the Michigan Council of churches. Plans were completed by a U.C.W. committee, of which Mrs. Ben R. Donaldson, U.C.W. president, was general chairman.

On the committee with her were Mrs. Loring Bates, Mrs. Raymond Schairer and Mrs. David Soule of the Methodist church; Mrs. Herman Ashley of North Lake Methodist church; Mrs. Austin Artz of Salem Grove Methodist church; Mrs. Carl Mayer and Mrs. Margaret Dietle of St. Paul's church; Mrs. Judson Goltra of St. Barnabas church; and Mrs. Walter Pielmeier and Mrs. Graham Sprague of the Congregational church.

At 7:30 p.m. the after-dinner program will feature as the special speaker, Russell Hartzler, Michigan director of CROP, and from 8 until 8:30 p.m. a devotional service will take place in the church sanctuary.

Paul F. Niehaus is to be in charge of the service and Mrs. Frederick Belser will be the soloist.

It was explained that Michigan CROP, sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, responds to food appeals from Church World Service. Farmers contribute to CROP and these supplies are sent overseas on the basis of need regardless of the recipients' race, creed or politics. It is distributed overseas under church supervision and with co-operation of local social welfare groups.

Members of the Saginaw Valley contribute beans; those of the central and southeastern section of Michigan give corn; fruit growers of the southwestern part of the state contribute fruit for jellies; and dairy farmers give large quantities of milk for processing into powdered milk for the CROP project.

All people of the community are invited to attend Wednesday's dinner as well as the program which follows and the 8 o'clock Lenten devotional service.

More Deer Killed by Cars Than by Guns

(Special to The Standard)

Lansing—A Conservation Department survey just completed shows that highway kill of deer in Washtenaw county resulted in one of the highest losses in the state last year.

Collisions in Washtenaw county caused a known 100 deer fatalities. Drivers in Barry county accounted for the highest loss in Michigan, 136 animals. At least 110 deer deaths occurred in Washtenaw accidents in Jackson county.

Indicative of an expanding southern deer herd, the total Michigan highway kill of whitetails even exceeded the record hunting season harvest in the southern lower peninsula last year. Verified 1962 Michigan highway losses (Continued on page three).

Wrestling Exhibition Set Tuesday

All-star wrestling matches, featuring such stars as "Leaping Larry" Chene and El Gaucho, with Joe Smith, Skull Nureberg, Ding Bravo and the Great Memphis will take place next Tuesday evening, March 5, in the Chelsea High school gymnasium.

"Leaping Larry" Chene will go against El Gaucho in the main event.

Described as one of the most popular athletes in Michigan's sporting history, Larry remains the favorite of hundreds of thousands of nut huffs from coast to coast. His sensational mat style—which wins him matches—and his warm, humble personality—which wins him friends—are an unbeatable combination. Though a headliner around the country, he prefers to campaign in Michigan, his native state.

There will be five matches—including a six-man tag team event between heavyweights and midweights. The midweights also will appear in a singles event.

The wrestling show is sponsored by the Chelsea Band Boosters and proceeds will be used toward payment of indebtedness on Chelsea High school band uniforms purchased last year.

Tax Deadline Here Again!

Today, Feb. 28, is the final day for payment of taxes in most townships; however, township treasurers of Lyndon, Lima and Sylvan townships have set Friday, March 1, as the last day they will accept payments.

Reason for the extra day is because banks were closed last Friday for Washington's birthday, a legal holiday.

Mrs. Letha Beach, Sylvan township treasurer, and Mrs. Hilda Pierce, of Lima township, will be at Chelsea State Bank from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary Clark, Lyndon township treasurer will be at her home, 11437 Boyce Rd., all day tomorrow.

All dog licenses must also be paid on or before March 1.

Opportunity Offered To Obtain Facts on Proposed New Constitution

For the many area residents who feel a lack of definite, clear-cut knowledge of the proposed new Michigan constitution, and are willing to take a little time to find answers to some of their questions before the April 1 election, we have news for you.

A panel discussion on the proposed constitution has been arranged by the Western Washtenaw Area Council of the PTA to meet at Chelsea High School auditorium tonight (Thursday, Feb. 28).

Appearing on the panel will be two well-qualified experts—William Ford, state senator from the 21st District who was a Con-Con delegate, and Mrs. Donald Tracy of Birmingham. Mrs. Tracy is vice-president of the United Church Women of Michigan and is also on the Board of Directors of the Co-ordinating Committee of the New Constitution.

These two speakers are coming prepared to explain in detail the major provisions of the new document, how it differs from the old, and whether or not they feel it is an improvement over the 1908 constitution. Questions will be encouraged from the floor during the discussion.

As we all know, this proposed constitution is the result of many months of hard labor by a bi-partisan group elected by the people to study our needs and come up with a new document.

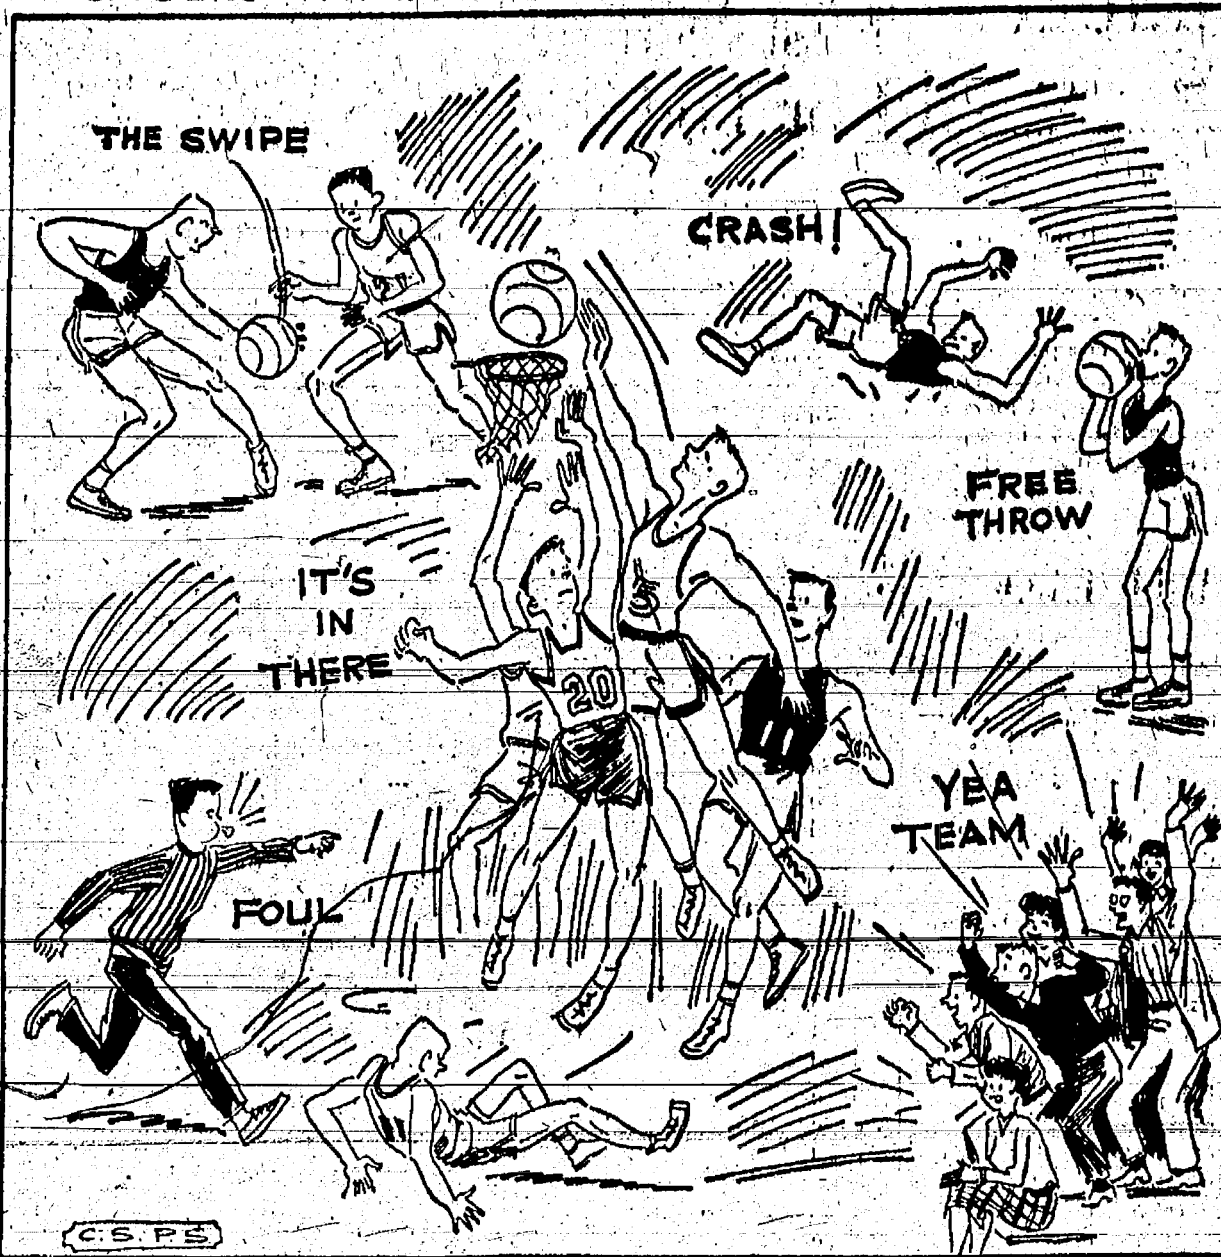

While even the delegates who framed the new constitution will admit it's not perfect, most of them do feel it is a major improvement over our old one in most respects.

In the past few weeks certain economic and pressure groups have done their utmost to confuse the issue for all of us and have at least partially succeeded in making it appear as a partisan political issue to many people. This is absolutely not true and no one should let this influence his thinking. The proposed new document is the result of bi-partisan efforts and most of the major provisions received unanimous approval of the committee members writing the particular sections.

Since the issue has become so clouded with innuendoes, questions, and outright lies from many sources, and since the choosing or rejecting of a new constitution will have such long-time, far-reaching effects on all of us, it seems to be only logical that each of us should make an honest attempt to find out facts—pro and con—before election day when we will be asked to make our decision known. Such an opportunity is offered in Chelsea tonight. Take advantage of it and learn facts with which to help explain the issue to others.

CAGERS WRAPPING UP SUCCESSFUL SEASON

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Delta Dilemma
 Saginaw Valley will have a four-year institution of higher education if a group of legislators get their way this year, but there is at least one stumbling block in the offing.

The group, headed by Sen. Lester O. Begick, Bay City Republican, serving his first term in the Senate after two years in the House, has proposed a bill under which the state would establish a junior-senior year institution in the area now served on the freshman-sophomore level by Delta College.

Begick in the Senate and Rep. Russell H. Stricker, St. Clair, in the other chamber are hoping Sen. Stanley Thayer, Ann Arbor Republican, will go along with their proposal.

Thayer, representing the home city of the University of Michigan, has something of a conflict where the bill is concerned.

University of Michigan officials have expressed an interest in supporting an upper-level two-year institution in the Delta College area. The plans have not progressed yet to the point where the University is ready to ask for state funds to establish the unit.

Residents in the Delta College area have been pushing for the creation of the full four years of higher education to be established in their area for several years now. Begick and Stricker, along with a number of others who conducted a study last summer of the possibilities for offering the service, are eager for action this year.

As majority caucus leader in the Senate, however, Thayer's voice is powerful. His ties with the U-M could pose a threat to the possibility of legislative action if the University maintains its hopes of establishing a two-year branch in the Valley area.

Some legislators, however, don't want to see U-M and other existing colleges start creating a "chain store" or "piggy bank" system of branches throughout the state. A number of these are afraid the legislature would lose what little control it has over the institutions if this were to occur.

On the other hand, there is keen competition within the universities to continue their growth and the "chain store" approach is seen as one of the few ways future growth can be assured.

Gov. George Romney has declined to express specifically his views on the U-M proposal as opposed to the legislative measure in the House.

"This is one of the policy questions in higher education which should be determined quickly," Romney said.

The Governor proposes to establish an advisory group, composed of between 40 and 50 persons, to determine what methods should be followed to best meet future needs of higher education.

He said the group, to be appointed within a month, would take into consideration the facilities available in both public and private institutions.

Not So Sunny
 Michigan teachers who seek overseas assignments with the idea they will find an ideal situation might get a surprise, according to those who know in the educational field.

It is true that assignments in the Overseas Dependence Schools operated by the Defense Department offer wonderful opportunities for teachers who want to travel in their spare time.

On the job, however, conditions are far from ideal, according to National Education Association formation circulating to state affiliates.

"The schools attended by the children of military families are, in the 'horse-and-huggy' era, while the military establishment is geared to an age of space exploration," said NEA Executive Secretary William G. Carr on the basis of a survey of the schools.

The survey disclosed shortages of supplies and current textbooks; lack of needed specialist personnel; an excessive teacher turnover rate; inadequate facilities in many locations; unsuitable housing at some posts, and unprofessional salaries.

Money, of course, was seen as a way to solve many of the problems noted in the survey. Carr said, Michigan's Lynn M. Bartlett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, was among a group of six persons who toured the overseas systems last fall and wrote the report on which Carr based his warning to lower the teacher's dream of ideal conditions to reality.

Special Day
 Michigan Week planners have called for recognition in each community of the local residents who have contributed most to the educational programs of the community.

Oliver College President Gorton Riethmiller, as chairman of "Education Day" on May 23, suggests special community awards, citations, dinners or programs to honor these individuals.

"In every community there are individuals who have contributed their time, energy, and wealth for many years in behalf of schools," Riethmiller said. "Such valuable services are often overlooked. This is why we are suggesting that Education Day be used to recognize and honor those who have contributed most in their communities."

There were 144 delegates to the Constitutional Convention—one for every state senator and representative. They were elected in September, 1961, following the July primaries. By legislative act, delegates were elected on a partisan basis.

HILDA PIERCE
 LIMA TOWNSHIP TREASURER

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where Senator Hart is urging the Congress to pass a law again "deceptive packaging," claims the wimmen folks all over the nation is hollerin' loud on this matter. He said one of his loyal wimmen constituents reports it has got to the place where a honest housewife can't go to the grocery store no more and tell from the package what she is getting or how much.

The chances is mighty good that this same honest housewife is wearing false eyelashes, a black wig over her gray hair, a girdle to hide her bay window and a var of face paint to cover her wrinkles. I ain't agin Senator Hart's bill in the Congress, but I'd have to say, Mister Editor, that "deceptive packaging" ain't confined to the grocery business. Maybe Senator Hart had better put in two bills. On second thought, if my old lady sees this, maybe it was better I kept my big mouth shut.

Speaking of the Congress, them fellows ain't pitting the proper credit for one little item. Buck when I was a boy the nickel was a very handy coin for a feller to tote around in his pocket. It would buy a heap of things, including a cup of coffee, a good cigar, and the Saturday Evening Post. Then evil days come upon the land and a nickel went out of style. Socialism took over so fast that the Saturday Evening Post jumped to 20 cent and started coming out on Tuesday. The welfare locusts swarmed over the nation and the public debt got so high the people quit counting it up and started counting it down. And it was at this sad stage in our history that the Congress has come out with the five-cent postage plan, restoring the nickel to respectability and fixing it so it would buy a two-cent stamp. Three cheers for the Congress!

But things on the whole, Mister Editor, is looking better. President Kennedy allows as how he's going to lower taxes and reduce spending. With that magic accomplished, Russia advocating peace and capitalism, and Castro without no missiles, about the only problem pressing us at the moment is the teenage menace. And I think we can solve this problem if the fathers of America will use their belt for the same thing their ancestors used it fer to hold their pants up and their younguns down.

Of course, we'll always have a few minor problems, like fat wimmen wearing slacks and Bobby Kennedy's wife falling in the swimming pool, but these is matters that can be handled by the United Nations. And if they can't solve 'em, we can always pass a law, paint a sign, or appoint a committee. And if all these fail, the Congress can always make a appropriation.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Area Co-Operative Nursery Workshop Slated Today

The Huron Valley Council of Co-operative Nurseries will present its second annual Workshop, Thursday, Feb. 28 at 8:15 p.m. at the Triangle Nursery located at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 2145 Independence Blvd. (Ann Arbor Woods), Ann Arbor.

The Chelsea-Dexter representative, Mrs. Glenn Edger, and several members of the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery are planning to attend.

Dr. Jack Westman, Assistant Professor in the U. of M. Medical School and Director of the Out-Patient Services of the Children's Psychiatric Hospital, will discuss "Following in Our Footsteps." Dr. Westman is an able speaker on understanding the sometimes baffling behavior of young children. Since his topic is significant for fathers as well as mothers, a special invitation is extended to all parents and teachers of pre-school children.

Special committees for the workshop include: refreshments, Saline Play Center and South Lyon Co-operative Nursery; name tags, Chelsea Co-operative Nursery, Inc.; clean-up, Ypsilanti Co-operative Nursery.

The Huron Council is made up of 12 area nurseries with 337 member families participating in the co-operative program. Parents maintain and administer the nurseries on a non-profit, non-sectarian basis. While each nursery employs a qualified teacher, each child's mother assists in the nursery one or twice a month. The parents also participate in planned parent education programs, in determining policy, selection of equipment and raising funds.

The Huron Valley Council is a member of the larger organization, the Michigan Council of Co-operative Nurseries which serve more than 3,500 families.

Go-getters are mainly responsible for the business idea that the profits justify the means.

Civil Defense

Congratulates Chelsea On Civil Defense Efforts

Chelsea Civil Defense Director Elwyn Beach is in receipt of a letter from Michigan's U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart in which he expresses "strong feelings on the value of and necessity for a good civil defense program."

The senator called attention to the Congressional record entry for Sept. 19, 1962, when the Senate was considering a Civil Defense appropriation. According to statements in the record the appropriation had been cut from $93,800,000 to $10,000,000.

Senator Hart's statement in the Congressional record reads as follows:

"I agree fully with all that has been said with respect to the item of Civil Defense. We get down basically to the question of how many days during any one session we have an opportunity to vote with confidence on a program that would improve materially the survival opportunity of 80 million American people. We spend a great deal more money than we are discussing now for certain aircraft or rockets. On balance we think we need it. But there is less certainty with respect to the ultimate utilization of those things, if there is a war, than with respect to the utilization of shelters. To stop when we are three-quarters of the way along—to pull the rug out of present operations as has been said here—when, for the first time, we have a program that has excited the imagination and encouraged the active participation of local communities in Civil Defense, makes no sense at all. I had hoped the House would be given a further opportunity to consider the measure. We are not talking about raising the excellence of education and training of men. We are talking about whether we shall put food and water aside in order that mankind may survive in the event of a catastrophe."

Senator Hart, in his letter to Civil Defense Director Beach, said he had "not changed his mind" since making the above statement.

Director Beach spoke at last week's Parent-Teacher meeting on the matter of what has been done toward Civil Defense in the Chelsea area.

He stressed the setting up of organizational procedure for maintaining governmental functions in time of disaster and hoped for provisions for community shelters and for adequate communications. The latter has already been functioning.

Club and Social Happenings

CHRISTIAN FAMILY MOVEMENT

On Feb. 12 the group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merkel. Eight couples and Father Umberto were present.

The scripture text for the evening was taken from St. Paul to the Colossians, Chap. III, verses 12-17. The passage dwells on the virtue of charity; the group discussed the true meaning of this virtue and how it can be practiced in everyday life.

The liturgy portion of the meeting was devoted to a study and discussion of the Mass.

On Feb. 21 the Holy Family CFM group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith for a social evening. The group discussed plans for the forthcoming retreat—they plan to sponsor for St. Mary's high school boys.

The next meeting will be held on the evening of March 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zimner.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Woman's club members were entertained for their Feb. 20 meeting at Merkel's Store, the program being in charge of Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer.

Jack Merkel gave a short talk on the history of rug making and this was followed by a film on rug making shown by Robert Merkel and narrated to music. The film gave pointers on the topic "Choosing a Rug for Your Home."

Guest speaker on the subject of carpeting was Charles Moore, formerly of the J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit, and now Michigan representative for Wunder-Weave rugs.

and carpeting. He also answered questions of club members following his talk.

Mrs. H. T. Moore, Woman's club president, conducted a short business session preceding the program; members approved paying the annual dues and an additional donation for the Washtenaw County Infirmary Women's Auxiliary.

Also approved was the acceptance of Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman as a new member of the club. Her membership was sponsored by Mrs. Thomas Smith and her daughter, Shirley.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. O. W. Wilkinson and Mrs. David Colquhoun.

Mrs. Charles Cameron will be in charge of the program at the March 12 meeting at the McKune Memorial Library; Girl Scout week will be observed.

One of the world's best known centers for basic research on high frequency sound waves is found at Michigan State University.

DEATHS

Mrs. Charlotte Tamlyn
Oldest Methodist Home
Resident Dies Thursday

Mrs. Charlotte Tamlyn, who observed her 100th birthday June 3, 1962, died Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Home where she had been a resident since Nov. 13, 1953. She was the oldest member of the Home family. Her death occurred following a long illness.

Born June 3, 1862, in St. Clair county, she was a daughter of Solomon and Pauline Townsend Hart. She had a twin brother, James Hart, who died at Howell a year ago, in December, 1961. She was married to Samuel E. Tamlyn on June 25, 1884. He died on April 4, 1935.

Mrs. Tamlyn had been a member of the Parshallville Methodist Church since childhood.

In 1950 she moved from Parshallville to Howell where she became a member of the Walnut Street Methodist church and three years later she entered the Methodist Home here.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Bergin of Pontiac; 12 grandchildren; 44 great-grandchildren; 16 great-great-grandchildren. Two children preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the chapel of the Methodist Home with the Rev. Allan Gray of Howell and the Rev. Edwin J. Weiss, superintendent of the Home, officiating. Burial took place in Parshallville cemetery.

Arrangements were in charge of the Burghardt Funeral Home.

Dead Tree
Removal
Moves Slowly

Although a total of 2,798 dead trees and trees in hazardous condition were removed in Washtenaw county in 1962, Howard J. Miner, in a report to Washtenaw County supervisors, says the county is a full two years behind on the program.

The report, as submitted to the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, is called a progress report to the supervisors' road committee on Dutch Elm disease control and dead tree removal.

Miner's report states that a survey as of July 15, 1962, along right-of-ways in all townships of the county showed a total of 6,632 dead trees of which 5,091, or 77 percent, were dead elms.

During the year 1962, 2,798 dead and hazardous trees were removed at a total cost of $62,870—an average cost of $22.40 per tree. This expense was paid by an appropriation of $35,000 from the Board of Supervisors and $27,870 from Motor Vehicle Fund money.

Since the survey was completed in July, 1962, Road Commission forces have removed 1,381 trees leaving a balance of 5,215 trees to be removed as of Jan. 1, 1963.

It is on the basis of the Road Commission's 1962 experience with tree removal that the estimate of being two years behind was made in the report to the supervisors.

Study Clubs
Meet at St.
Louis School

A total of 82 members and guests attended a joint meeting of four Chelsea Child Study clubs Tuesday evening at St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys, west of Chelsea on Old US-12.

Kinder Klub was the hostess group for Suburban Mothers, Modern Mothers and Chelsea Child Study clubs.

The women toured the schools facilities at 7:30 p.m. in two groups with the Rev. Fr. Faust Sarpiere and Thomas Nelson, an early teacher at the school, as guides. They were taken through the dormitories, chapel, classrooms, TV room, faculty lounge, clinic, kitchen and gymnasium. Many of the visitors said they were impressed with the facilities and with the scope of the work being done at the school.

Following the tour, the group returned to the cafeteria to hear a talk by the Rev. Fr. Sarpiere. In response to questions following his talk, Father Sarpiere explained that personnel at the schools includes four priests, four nuns, and three lay teachers, two women and one man. Academic subjects are taught by the three lay teachers and by Father Sarpiere himself.

Approximately 50 boys are already enrolled at the school and the school stresses the importance of having the boys retain close contact with their families in order that there be no effect of institutionalism such as is the case with many state-operated facilities.

Kinder Klub hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Martin Tobin and Mrs. Keith Boylan.

On the hostess committee from the other three clubs were Mrs. John Steele, Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mrs. Donald Bussler, Mrs. William Stahlbaum and Mrs. William Wade of Modern Mothers club; Mrs. Ruth Cattell and Mrs. Walter Bury of Suburban Mothers club; and Mrs. Charles Lane and Mrs. William McNulty of Chelsea Child Study club.

It was announced that the next Chelsea Child Study club meeting will be held March 12 at the home of Mrs. William Rademacher and will feature a demonstration of Ukrainian Easter egg coloring techniques by Mrs. Cecilia Reenece.

The next meeting of Modern Mothers club, March 12, will be at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hartman, according to an announcement at Tuesday's meeting.

Next is failure to look in both directions at intersections with no traffic signals. Also common: failure to signal before changing lanes.

Restrictions on Itemized Tax Deductions

One of the really controversial features of President Kennedy's new tax program is the proposal to limit itemized deductions from personal income to the extent that they exceed 3 percent of adjusted gross income. The change is expected to yield $2.3 billion of revenue out of the total of $3 billion from all the suggested structural changes and so-called present about 80 percent of all individual income tax payers use this standard deduction. These are, of course, primarily those in the lower brackets of income. For these persons the President does not propose to make a change in their present method of making deductions. For the other 40 percent of individual income tax payers it is to their advantage to itemize the deductions. This means that these persons are paying interest, state and local taxes, and medical expenses, suffering casualty losses, and making contributions to educational or charitable institutions in an amount above the standard deduction. The President said in his tax message that such itemized deductions in 1962 were $40 billion. To limit such deductions in the aggregate to above 5 percent of adjusted gross income will have most serious ramifications. Again, bear in mind that for those who can take the standard deduction no change is to be made, and this covers almost two-thirds of all individual income tax payers. For everyone else it is bad news. The payment of interest, whether on a mortgage or for borrowed funds is not something upon which one may successfully negotiate. If this change goes through it will, in effect, simply increase the rate of interest. State and local taxes, in effect, also will be increased to the individual income tax payer. Casualty losses may be minor or of major importance. There is no conceivable justification for requiring a taxpayer to bear any portion of such losses.

In the case of medical expenses we long have had a provision that only that amount above a designated complicated percentage of income could be deducted. The proposed simplification of these limits is all to the good. Contributions to educational and charitable institutions can only be hurt by the proposed changes. These individuals in the extremely high income brackets who make extraordinarily large gifts may not be too much affected, but most educational and charitable institutions depend upon a multitude of small contributions from those of moderate income. And many of these moderate income persons make these contributions at least partly because they may be deducted from their income taxes. If the proposed change is enacted, there will be a tendency for this multitude of gifts to diminish. The argument of the Administration for this modification, as stated by Secretary of the Treasury Dillon before the Ways and Means Committee, is that the reduction in the individual income tax rates will more than offset the $2.3 billion additional revenue, and hence will not cause the taxpayers to be less generous. That certainly is a far-fetched line of reasoning. The simple truth is that this proposal is contrary to the interest of the taxpayer and against the welfare of the nation. It should be discarded in its entirety by the Congress.

Michigan State University offers the nation's only four-year degree program in packaging, a $20-billion-a-year industry.

No Reworking Needed Of Boat Trailers for Vehicle License Tabs
Secretary of State James M. Hare said today that boat trailers weighing less than 1,000 pounds need not be reweighed for the 1963 vehicle license year. Watercraft enthusiasts owning trailers may submit as proof of weight a previous year's registration, a manufacturer's statement of origin, or a copy of a bill of sale from a dealer wherein the weight of the unit is stated. All trucks and commercial vehicles, with the exception of trailers weighing less than 1,000 pounds, municipally franchised buses, and mobile homes, must be reweighed before 1963 tabs or plates can be issued.

Mrs. Lester E. Esch

Carol Gaddis, Lester Esch Repeat Vows At Waterloo Village Church

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Esch are now at home at 21520 Waterloo Rd., following their marriage Saturday, Feb. 16, at the Waterloo Village church.

Mrs. Esch is the former Carol Gaddis.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Gaddis of 16800 Waterloo Rd. The bridegroom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Esch.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wilber Silver in the presence of approximately 150 guests.

Soloist for the occasion was Wilber Beeman. Accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Annabelle Woolley, he sang "O, Promise Me." Mrs. Woolley also played the traditional wedding march.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white nylon net and re-embroidered lace over taffeta. The lace was used for the long-sleeved, fitted bodice and for five full-length panels on the hooped skirt. A tiara of pearls held her waist-length tulle veil and her bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white roses encircling a removable corsage of matching roses. Her ensemble was completed with a single strand pearl necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard Hadley, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her waltz-length gown was fashioned of pink satin. Matching satin was used for a headband to which a shoulder-length veil was attached. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gaddis wore a beige lace dress with green accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

William Gaddis, the bride's brother, was best man; ushers were Richard Hadley, brother-in-law, and Ronald Esch, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception, immediately following the ceremony, at the Chelsea Knights of Columbus Hall. Guests present were from Detroit, Livonia, Pinckney, Howell, Chelsea, Dexter, Pontiac, Flint, Jackson, Oxford, Grass Lake and Ann Arbor.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Clifford Chambers who poured coffee, Mrs. George Beeman who served punch, and Mrs. Shirley Lenoke and Mrs. Willard Morgan, Jr., of Pinckney who served ice-cream and sandwiches.

Others are Mrs. John Highland of Livonia, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Rex Guinan of Dexter, sister of the bridegroom. They cut and served the bride's cake and the bridegroom's cake, respectively.

Miss Rosemary Beeman was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Alvin Brasso of Dexter, sister of the bridegroom, was at the gift table.

The bride attended high school at Chelsea while the bridegroom attended Pinckney High school. He is employed at Chelsea Milling Co. Pre-nuptial entertaining for the bride included a miscellaneous shower given by the Women's Society of World Service of the Waterloo Village church.
