Monday Is Last Day To Register For School Election

Special Election Slated May 13 for Extra Millage

Monday, April 15, at 5 p.m., is the registration deadline for electors of the Chelsea School District who wish to vote at the May 13 special election. On that date qualified electors of the district will be asked to approve an additional operational levy of two mills for one year.

Electors of the Chelsea School District must be registered with their respective township clerks—no registrations are taken by the school board secretary.

Anyone who is not certain of his registration status should check at once with the township clerk.

The special election date—May 13—was set Feb. 12 when the school board passed a resolution to that effect.

The Chelsea School District became a registration school district Sept. 1, 1962.

At the annual school election to be held on June 10, one board member is to be elected for a four-year term in office.

Petitions for candidates who wish to run for office at that election must be filed with the secretary of the Chelsea School District Board of Education—Paul E. Mann—by 4 p.m. Monday, May 13.

A petition is already being circulated to place the name of Dr. Clare M. Warren on the ballot.

The law governing the qualifications of school board members is as follows:

"Any qualified voter in a school district who has a name appears on the assessment roll and who is the owner in his own right of the property so assessed, shall be eligible to election or appointment to office in such school district. Provided, that where a husband and wife own property jointly, regardless of the name which appears on the assessment roll, if otherwise qualified, each shall be eligible to election or appointment to school office."

School board petitions may be secured from the office of the superintendent of schools.

Methodist Laymen Attend State Conference On MSU Campus

Laymen of the First Methodist church here who attended the all state Methodist men's conference Saturday at Michigan State University, East Lansing, are Dr. Clare Warren, the church's chairman of the Commission on Education; James Hoffmeyer, chairman of the Commission on Worship; William E. Stoney, chairman of the Commission on Finance; Louis Hoffmeyer, chairman of the Commission on Discipleship; Donley Boyer, parish leader; Harold Halliburton, local usher; M.A. Bowen, David Soble and John Hanna.

Track Team Wins Season's First Meet

Chelsea High school's track team placed first with 10 points to its credit in a three-way track meet Saturday at Ypsilanti. St. John's High was next with 45 points and Dexter was third with 31½.

Chelsea's Scott Smith set a school record of 2:03.1 in winning the half-mile. Other Bulldog victors were Mike Snyder in both the high and low hurdles, Bruce Hoover in the pole vault and Vic Parks in the 440-yard dash.

St. John's Ed Snyder took first place points in the broad jump, high jump and as part of the 880-yard relay team. Den Sears won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and ran in the 880 relay. Others in the relay quartet were Tim Kripps and Rens Scheleh. Russ Green won the shot put for St. John.

FHA Girls Attend State Convention

Vickie Blacklaw and Cheryl Lehman attended the 17th annual state meeting of the Michigan Association of Future Homemakers of America as delegates of the Chelsea High chapter.

They were two of approximately 1,200 teen-agers who attended the three-day meeting in Grand Rapids, April 3-5. Theme of the State Department of Public Instruction sponsored conference was "FHA—Red, White and You."

Highlights of the meetings were addresses by Mrs. George Romney and Nancy Ann Fleming Johnson, who was Miss America 1960. Mrs. Romney's talk was centered on "Action for Citizenship" and Mrs. Johnson's was on "Education Lights Your Way."

Election of Officers for 1963-1964 and the award of State Homemaker Degrees of Achievement and scholarship were among the annual business activities.

Michigan's 526 FHA chapters, with a membership of 12,352 girls, are sponsored by the home economics departments in local schools and the Home and Family Life Education Service of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Three CHS Students Eligible for Regional Forensics Competition

In district contests held at Eastern Michigan University Tuesday, April 2, two Chelsea High school contestants placed first and one placed second in the various divisions of the Spring Forensics program sponsored by The Detroit Free Press and the U. of M. Bureau of School Services and conducted by the Michigan High Schools Forensics Association.

Drinda West placed first in declamation; Wendy Gilbert was first place in extemporaneous speaking; and Carol Mayer was second in oratory.

The three students are now eligible to compete in the regional contest to take place in May at Eastern Michigan University.

SAFE CRACKED—This is what the safe at the Stop and Shop supermarket looked like after safecrackers, believed to be professionals, forced it open and got away undiscovered with an estimated $1,500 in cash. The break-in occurred early Thursday morning. Eugene Shoemaker, the manager, is shown examining the wreckage.

Fire Damages Fred Houk Home Sunday Morning

Fire of undetermined origin caused extensive damage early Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houk, 14005 West N. Territorial Rd. Chelsea firemen were called to the scene at 4:54 a.m.

Fire Chief James Gaken said the blaze apparently started in the attic around the chimney. It burned through the ceiling and the roof. Unfinished rooms were severely damaged as well as many antiques including dishes, glassware, tables, etc., which Mrs. Houk had stored on the second floor.

The first floor of the house also suffered some damage, principally from water and smoke.

At 10 p.m. Tuesday, April 2, Chelsea firemen were called to the James F. Markle home, 17520 Cavanaugh Lake Rd. where an oil space heater had become flooded and an accumulation of oil caused a blaze to flare up. No damage resulted.

Grass fires caused runs for the Chelsea Fire Department—Friday and Saturday.

Safecrackers Loot Stop & Shop Market

An estimated $1,500 was stolen at the Stop and Shop supermarket at Old US-12 and M-52 early Thursday after thieves, believed to be professional safecrackers, had knocked off the safe-front steel plate, forced retreating rivets and pounded the combination dial until it fell off.

The safe is at the front of the store, in full view from the road on M-52.

Time of the burglary was fixed as a 50-minute period between 3:25 a.m. when a Chelsea police officer checked the store, and 4:15 when the break-in was discovered.

Entry was gained by forcing a heavy steel door at the rear of the building.

After gaining entry to the safe, the thieves removed drawers of the store's cash registers which were stored inside and carried them to the rear of the building to loot them. Checks in the safe were discarded in favor of the cash.

Investigating officers said they are convinced that only professionals, with their special tools and "know how" could have carried out the theft in the record time of less than an hour.

Paradome Best in Regional Competition

In regional competition, two Chelsea products won high honors in elimination events to determine Michigan's top products in various categories for Michigan Week, May 19-25.

Chelsea's first place winner, in Washtenaw county competition March 25—the portable structure called "Paradome"—was also judged first place winner in Region XV Saturday, April 4, at Ann Arbor.

Chelsea Milling Company's fifty cake mixes, which placed first in Washtenaw county competition March 25, placed second in the regional event in the agricultural products or processes division in new category this year.

First-place winner in the new category is the Howell Melon Commission for its Howell honey-sweet melon.

Runner-up in the manufactured product division are Nagsband coaches, mobile homes produced in Brighton.

Chelsea's first place Paradome is manufactured by Outdoor Plans Products, Inc., 320 North Main St., William J. Crim of the Saline Savings Bank who is regional products chairman for Michigan Week, says winning entries now are eligible for the final Product of the Year competition to be announced in conjunction with Michigan Week, May 19-25 this year.

Regional judges were three Ann Arbor residents: Robert C. Aloc of Midas Mufflers; Jay Bolt, University of Michigan professor of mechanical engineering; and Robert Hall, manager, Federal Land Bank.

Region XV is comprised of Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe and Lenawee counties.

Best community achievement in the region, according to the judges who met at the Ann Arbor Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. offices, is that of the city of Brighton in its water improvement program.

Seat Belt Clinic Being Sponsored By Pinckney PTA

The Pinckney PTA seat belt clinic got off to a flying start on March 9 when they installed 31 seat belts in a five-hour period.

The next sale will be conducted at the Thomas Road Sons Lumber Yard, on Saturday, April 13 from the hours of 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Seat belts are available in a half-dozen colors and installation is free and will be the same as performed in any garage, bolted firmly to brackets under the car floor, where they can't pull loose.

The Pinckney PTA project was planned as a public service to the people of the Pinckney area, but invitations were extended to motorists from all areas of Michigan to come to Pinckney and participate in this event. A fee of $6.25 has included, per seat belt, is being charged.

The next sales dates will be June 15-17 at the Village Square in Pinckney between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benson and three children, of Medina, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. James Linderman and three children, of Wayne, are arriving today (Thursday) to spend the Easter week-end with the Wilbur Hinders, parents of Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Linderman.

Good Friday Services Set By Churches

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

Chelsea Jaycees, with the assistance of the Jaycees Auxiliary members, are prepared to entertain 500 Chelsea area children at their first Easter Egg Hunt Saturday afternoon. The Auxiliary members colored 150 dozen (1800) eggs for the Jaycees at a meeting Tuesday evening in the kitchen of St. Paul's United Church of Christ. Jaycees were present to do the heavy lifting for the ladies—the whole project, on an assembly line basis, took just two hours.

The Auxiliary chairman was Mrs. Charles Popovich; her committee included Mrs. Robert Meyers and Mrs. Ronald Branhman. Other Auxiliary members assisted.

The hunt will take place at 3 p.m. on the grounds of Chelsea High school; adequate parking space is available there for all who wish to attend.

Louis "Corky" Dreyer, Jaycee chairman for the event, said prizes will be awarded in each class—pre-school age, kindergarten, first, second and third grade. Each group will be assigned a separate area for the hunt.

A special prize egg will also be secreted in each of the five areas. Dreyer said the affair was planned as a community service fun event for all area children who wish to attend.

In case of rain Saturday afternoon, the hunt will be staged at 3 p.m. Easter Sunday, Dreyer said.

This is the first time the Easter Egg Hunt has been staged in the community and Jaycees are hoping all children of the area will be their guests.

The degree of success of the project this year will determine whether it will be repeated on an annual basis.

Two Crashes on I-94 Wednesday Involve 3 Trucks

Two tank truck drivers were injured in a crash Wednesday, April 3, on I-94 near Dancer Rd., which resulted in a call for both Chelsea and Dexter fire departments at 1:50 a.m. A blaze in the cab of the truck was quickly extinguished; it had started from the truck's saddle tanks which ignited on the truck's motor beneath the cab.

The trucks injured are Fredrick Neitske of Alma and Robert Bigelow of Ashley. According to reports of the mishap, they were thrown through the large windshield of the truck when the vehicle, driven by Neitske, collided with the rear of a truck carrying 20,000 pounds of steel—the steel truck's driver was listed as Thomas J. Boni of Garden City. The tank truck was empty at the time of the crash.

Several hours later another truck crash occurred on I-94—a Wisconsin-bound truck loaded with empty beer bottles left the highway, went down a steep embankment and turned over. The driver, Roger Guest of Detroit, told investigating officers that the accident happened as he swerved to avoid a passenger car which had pulled out (Continued on page three)

Included in the five visits arranged for the April 27 house tour sponsored by the Chelsea-Dexter Co-Operative Nursery, are the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Donley Boyer at 10 Sycamore Drive, in Lane-wood, and the Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Weiss. The latter is the new superintendent's home added recently at the Methodist Home.

Mrs. George L. Palmer and Mrs. David Longworth, general co-chairmen for the tour, the fourth annual one sponsored by the nursery group, explain that the Boyer and Weiss homes are in the category of new homes in the area.

The Boyer home, only recently completed, is described as being especially adapted to the family's requirements for living, working and playing.

Mr. Boyer, who is conservation officer for this area, has an office on the lower level with its own private entrance and a private bath. Space under the basement stairs is utilized to advantage for storage of articles which are seldom-used but need to be kept in an easily accessible spot.

Drum tables and lamps used in the recreation room are the handiwork of Dr. A. L. Brock, former Chelsea dentist who now makes his home at Boynton Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Boyer has said that one of her favorite convenience features in the new home is a closet large enough to serve as both a broom closet and a pantry.

Lyndon Township Residents Continue Work on Zoning

Lyndon township's electorate rejected its Permanent Zoning Ordinance at the polls April 1; the township, however, is still operating under the Rural Township Zoning Act (Act 184 of 1943 as amended to Sept. 9, 1961) which had been adopted by the township.

Quoting John Reusch, township attorney, the Zoning Board pointed out that after a resolution has been passed by the township board, other voluntarily or by petition, to proceed under the provisions of the Rural Township Zoning Act and the notice of such action printed in a newspaper of general circulation in the township, the township then operates under that Act.

After the resolution to proceed under the provisions of the Rural Township Zoning Act has been adopted, the Township Board appoints a Permanent Zoning Board to serve for two- and four-year terms. The Zoning Board is authorized to recommend an interim zoning ordinance to protect the general welfare of the community while the Zoning Board prepares a permanent ordinance. After the permanent ordinance is presented to the Township Board for its approval or rejection, a petition signed by 15 percent of the qualified voters may bring the ordinance to a referendum.

Contrary to public opinion, the rejection of the ordinance does not vote out zoning. According to the Rural Township Zoning Act, the Permanent Ordinance only may be rejected in this manner, the Zoning Board points out.

The Rural Township Zoning Act provides for changes, additions or amendments to an ordinance. Recommendations are made through the Zoning Board to the Township Board for such action.

Easter Seals Provide Opportunity To Help Crippled Persons Enjoy Life

The 1963 Easter Seal campaign interests all good citizens. Helping crippled children is one of the more rewarding things we can all do in our efforts to help our fellow-man.

Voluntary organizations enthusiastically conduct the Easter Seal sale each year. Letters are sent out to citizens in all areas, seeking financial support for this independent, voluntary organization. In Chelsea the Kiwanis Club has for many years sponsored the drive locally.

We know of many instances of work done right in our home area by the Society for Crippled Children and Adults and urge each of our readers to remember the good work done by this organization when they receive the letter asking for financial help.

Baseball 'Nut' Enjoying Hopes of Pennant Winner as Season Starts

The baseball fan is a peculiar sort of nut. He loves the game for things he knows, or thinks he knows, and he has probably studied and followed the game for years, whereas the uninitiated merely thinks the game lacks the head-bonking and body contact some other sports offer. It is not spectacular all of the time, and it is probably not too enjoyable to one who does not know much about the finer points of the game. In this way, baseball is sort of like art, because to appreciate it, one must understand something about it.

A surprising number of people get really enthusiastic about their favorite baseball team about this time of year. It's the same illness that affects people who plant gardens at about this time.

The baseball fan considers his favorite team a pennant contender and every spring renewed hope springs within him that this may be the year for a big-time winner. Perhaps he should wait until later in the season before reserving his World Series ticket. But we know exactly how this kind of nut feels—for we belong to the same club.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR,

Ole Patrick Henry told some of our ancestors if he couldn't get liberty to give him death—I was just setting here reading the papers and studying my latest literature from the Department of Agriculture and wondering if ole Patrick could stand the kind of liberty we got now.

For instant, this Washington column writer says national, state and local taxes will take 34 cent of ever dollar earned by the American people in 1963. In 1929, he says these taxes was taking 11 cent.

This column writer claims taxes has got so high they have give rise to a brand new profession in this country, the "tax avoidance" experts. He allows as how a field of experts as big as the legal profession has sprung up that don't do nothing but specialize in finding legal loop holes for avoiding taxes. He told about one big manufacturer that hires six of these tax avoidance boys full time. The manufacturer explained that it pays better, after you reach a certain point, to find ways of getting out of taxes than it does to turn more income for the company.

And I ain't got much faith in this campaign they got going now to cut taxes. What they take off here they'll put on there, and by 1964 the tax take will be up another 2 cent on the dollar, I agree

100 per cent with that new bumper sticker they say is going around the country: "A Vote For Anybody Is A Vote For More Taxes."

And they was a couple disturbing items in my dosage from the Department of Agriculture this week. First off, they was a small item announcing that the price of elephants has doubled since 1952 and was climbing all the time. When that item gets in the news, papers and folks starts hoarding elephants things will get pretty crowded.

But the most serious item was about them science fellers at the University of Wisconsin hitting on a discovery in wheat culture that might produce 100 to 150 bushels to the acre. About the best you can get now is 40 to 50 bushel. We already got Government wheat stored from Alcatraz to the Statue of Liberty and if the yield gets up to 150 bushel a acre it could cause a national panic. It looks like them science fellers would spend their time working on the necessary items, somepin like gasoline that'll give 150 miles to the gallon, or a woman's hat that would last from Christmas thru through Easter. But like Franklin Roosevelt said, abundance is our biggest asset, and I reckon that includes taxes and wheat!

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

New Job Training

Michigan's continued participation in the Federal Manpower Development and Training program, is assured, but the legislature will extend the program only on a year-to-year basis.

Last year the legislature gave near unanimous approval to a one-year program of participation under the Federal law, as administered by the Area Redevelopment Administration. Putting a June 30, 1963 expiration date on the State enabling act, legislators said they wanted a year to determine whether the program would be useful.

This year the legislators were in agreement that the several courses offered under the program throughout the state were effective in solving some temporary unemployment problems, but they still didn't want to be permanently tied down under the Federal program.

Thus, the Michigan act is just being extended one more year, to June 30, 1964, when legislators will take another look at it.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett, under whose department the program is administered in the state, said the courses were fulfilling a two-fold purpose.

"Primarily they train or retrain people who are out of work to fill unmet industry or business demands for workers in specific occupations," he said.

"In addition, in many instances such as Upper Peninsula courses for cooking and baking, the courses add to the economic stability of the community by supplying the skilled labor necessary to develop or maintain the industrial or business resources of the area."

Still another benefit cited by Bartlett is the return of Federal money, which actually is Michigan's tax dollars, back into the state by paying for the programs and providing subsistence allowances to support program trainees.

Michigan has already received approval for nearly 40 programs under the act.

Within the state, the program is administered by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education. Trainees are selected by the Michigan Employment Security Commission from its unemployment rolls.

Care Needed

Child poisoning, an accident of curiosity, involves about 600,000 pre-school children each year, according to the U. S. Public Health Service.

This heedless problem, reports State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis, is usually the combination of "a curious child and a careless adult."

"Inquisitive youngsters will eat and drink just about anything," warns Dr. Heustis. "It's surprising what horrible-tasting stuff a youngster will swallow."

The most poison-prone of any age group is the toddler, Heustis says. "He has the ability to get hold of things but lacks the judgment as to what he can or should not put in his mouth."

The most frequently occurring factors in child poisoning are unsupervised toddlers, and toxic material left where inquisitive eye can spot it, exploring hands can reach it, and a curious mouth can taste it, according to the Health Commissioner.

Steps you can take to insure against accidental child poisoning are simple, Heustis says. To "poison-proof" your home, make sure any substance that could be harmful is out of reach and out of sight. If you don't know whether some substance is a potential poison in the hands of a youngster, put it away anyway. It is much better to be safe than sorry.

Honor Leaders

Something new is being added this year as Michigan citizens plan the 10th annual Michigan Week.

Ten outstanding state leaders will be cited this year for voluntary, meritorious contributions to the enrichment of Michigan during the past decade. The three areas primarily to be considered in the statewide competition are education, religion and culture.

The Citizen Leadership awards were suggested by the Michigan Week manufacturing committee as a good way to focus national attention on the state's advancement in the three fields.

The primary basis in deciding the awards will be voluntary, non-professional leadership; a contribution to a field not directly related to the occupational endeavor of the individual involved.

In spiritual life, the Michigan Week unit theorized awards might be given for significant contributions to a particular denomination or to an interfaith activity; or for the strengthening of moral and ethical concepts in public, business, or union affairs.

Cultural endeavor might be recognized for individual contributions to the arts, handicrafts, or architecture; or for the stimulation of public interest and appreciation of cultural activities.

In education, an award likely would concentrate on non-professional leadership in the field.

Sheriff's March Report Lists No Fatal Accidents

Listed in the Washtenaw county Sheriff's Department report of activities for the month of March are the following: 856 complaints answered; 134 arrests made; 114 warrants closed; and 598 civil papers served.

The list continues with 245 traffic violations cited; 118 accidents investigated (78 property damage and 40 personal injury). There were no traffic fatalities.

The department's cars were driven a total of 51,984 miles during the month; the dog control division handled 266 complaints and picked up 147 dogs; and a total of 6,860 meals were served to jail inmates.

The over-all report is concluded with that of the drivers' license division which states that the division issued a total of 1,083 licenses which included 35 duplicates, 260 chauffeur renewals, 1,215 were operator renewals, and 178 originals. Fees collected amounted to $4,479.50.

Van Ramel & Gekiere, Mt. Clemens contractors who were awarded the contract for construction of Chelsea's new sewer system, have started operations and are digging on McKinley St. near the Elm St. intersection the sewer is being laid 15 feet deep.

The good news comes to the Methodist Home that thanks to an unknown friend in Ann Arbor the long looked for elevator will become a reality soon.

A POSTAL UNION RACT Postmaster General Day signed national contracts recognizing six unions as collective bargaining agents for about 500,000 postal employees.

The Post Office Department said it is one of the largest labor-management undertakings in American history.

The agreement bans strikes. They do not cover wages or other matters determined by Congress in the realm of Government-employee relations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roberts of Silver Springs, Md., Miss Judy Parynk of Birmingham, and Jerry Chalmers of Ann Arbor, were Saturday visitors at the home of Miss Lillie Wackenhut.

NEWS HOLLYWOOD

Television actor James Arness sued his wife for divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty. He sought custody of their three children.

Actor Van Johnson has been released from Cedars-of-Lebanon Hospital after successful surgery for skin cancer. He plans to return to work at an early date.

After starring as Fred MacMurray's wife in Walt Disney's new comedy, "Son of Flubber," Nancy Olson has decided to make her permanent home in Hollywood rather than New York.

Alfred Hitchcock's newest star Tippi Hedren, the nearest thing he has found to the Pinup Girl of Monaco, has completed Hitchcock's latest picture "The Birds."

During 1962 the CBS Television Network devoted 292 hours to sports coverage.

Research has improved the treatment of cancer. Today it can be treated by surgery and radiation and with a combination of drugs. The American Cancer Society urges all adults to have a health checkup once a year.

Michigan ranks near the top nationally in exporting Christmas trees to other states.

Prizes, Awards
Must Be Listed
On Tax Return

Prizes and awards are gen- erally taxable and the fair market value must be included in gross income on tax returns. R. I. Nixon, District Director of Internal Revenue for Michigan reminded tax- payers today. Prizes and awards which are reportable include, but are not limited to, amounts re- ceived from radio and television give-away shows, contests, door prizes, raffles, lotteries and sweep- stakes.

Prizes and awards such as shares of stock, building lots, merchandise, and vacation trips to luxury resort areas received by employees, salesmen, dealers, corporation officers, and others are taxable. These awards are usu- ally received in connection with sales contests and promotion pro- grams. Nixon emphasized that the fair market value of the trips, services, or merchandise received is the amount to be included as taxable income.

This is also applicable if the recipient disposes of any such item by gift, or otherwise. How- ever, Nixon stated that where a taxpayer does not accept an award the value is not required to be included in taxable income.

Although taxpayers are gen- erally aware that cash awards are taxable to the recipient, Nixon stated that Internal Revenue is becoming concerned over misun- derstanding by taxpayers who have received non-cash incentive awards and who have either omitted or understated their value for Fed- eral income tax purposes.

Rev. Fr. Richard Weber
Will Be Ordained as Priest

The Rev. Fr. Richard Vincent Weber, O.P., son of Theodore S. and the late Mrs. Laura K. Weber, 1923 Washenaw Av., Ypsilanti, will be ordained to the Catholic priesthood on Monday, April 15, in the chapel of St. Rose Priory, Dubuque, Ia. The ordaining pre- late will be the Most Reverend George J. Bishop, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Dubuque.

The Rev. Fr. Richard Weber, O.P.

The new priest's father is a native of the Chelsea area; two uncles and an aunt are residents of the Chelsea-Dexter area—Ar- thur and Sylvester Weber and Mrs. Bertilla. Eleven and two other aunts are members of religious orders. They are Mother M. Genevieve, O.P., Mother General of the Adrian Dominican Sisters, Adrian; and Sister M. Francis, O.P., who is presently assigned to Rosary High school in Detroit.

There are many other more dis- tant relatives living in the Chelsea-Dexter area.

In addition to his father, his im- mediate family includes a brother, Ted, an editor at McGraw-Hill Pub- lishing Co., New York, and a sis- ter, Mrs. Monica Gellott of Ypsi- lanti.

Father Weber, a member of the Dominican Order's Province of St. Albert the Great, will offer his first solemn Mass in St. John the Baptist church, Ypsilanti, on Sun- day, April 21, at 11:00 a.m. He will be assisted at the Mass by the Rev. Raymond M. Scul- lion, O.P., Provincial Director of the Holy Name Society, St. Pius Priory, Chicago, as deacon; and the Rev. Ambrose V. MacInnes, O.P., Professor at St. Thomas Col- lege, St. Paul, Minn., is subde- con.

The sermon at the Mass will be preached by the Rev. William J. Ennen, S. J., Professor at the University of Detroit.

Born in Ypsilanti, Feb. 10, 1920, Father Weber received his gram- mar school education at St. Thomas grade school in Ann Arbor and Roosevelt grade school in Ypsi- lanti. He graduated from St. Columban High school, Silver Creek, N. Y., in 1943. From March 1945 to December 1946, he was on active duty with the Army in the Philippines, Okinawa, and Korea. He entered the University of Michigan in 1947 and received his A.B. degree in 1951. A year later he graduated with a Master of Arts degree in history.

From 1952 to 1953, Father Weber held a Teaching Fellowship at the University and from 1955 to 1956, he was president of the Graduate History club. He was Scoutmaster of Troop 40 in Ypsi- lanti from 1951 to 1956.

He entered the novitiate of the Dominican Order in 1956 at Win- ona, Minn.

In 1962, Father Weber received the Christian Research Foundation award for an historical essay on monasticism.

Father Weber will bestow his first priestly blessing at a recep- tion to be held at 1023 Washtenaw Av., April 21, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

After a few days at home with his family, Father Weber will re- turn to St. Rose Priory in Du- buque for the completion of his studies in theology.

House Tour . . .

may be used as an extra guest room since the colonial-style couch which is part of its furnishings opens for sleeping comfort. A pole lamp used in the den was a gift from the Methodist Couples club. A family touch is imparted by confirmation pictures on the wall.

The teen-age girls in the family have rooms in pink and white and in blue and white—truly feminine in decorative details.

The front entry, with its slate floor, gives an inviting appear- ance, green plants in an attractive planter adding to the effect.

The living room's unobstructed furniture was made by Mrs. Boy- er's father and carries out the general color theme—rose, brown, turquoise and beige.

Windows throughout the house afford varied, attractive views on all sides—North school, North Main St., fields across the M-52 highway, etc.

The home of the Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Weiss, on the grounds of the Methodist Home, was built only a few years ago; it is the home for the superintendent of the Home and his family during his tenure in that position.

Among its many attractive fea- tures are some of the appoint- ments in the guest bedroom—par- ticularly an antique crocheted bed- spread made by the Rev. Weiss' mother and a globe lamp which was a wedding gift to the parents of Mrs. Weiss. Colors of the decor in the bedroom and bath area are taken from the attractive wall- paper used in the hallway.

The living room, with its pic- ture wall giving highlights of the Weisses' travels in various coun- tries, the cheery bright yellow kitchen which has a breakfast nook, magnified birch cupboards and a desk and telephone for Mrs. Weiss' use, and tiled basement, laundry and workshop are other desirable features which add to the homey atmosphere.

Excellent planning of the kitchen area places the cabinets contain- ing china and linens for the din- ing room in the cabinets near the door leading to that room.

Other residences included in the tour are one of the new apartments in the recently completed addition to the Methodist Home; also, the Dale Claire and Donald Snyder homes at North Lake.

In charge of ticket sales for the tour are Mrs. Raymond Steinbach of Chelsea, and Mrs. Patrick McLeod of Dexter. All members of the Nursery group will be given tickets to sell; tickets will also be available at Winans Jewelry store and Merkel Brothers in Chelsea and McLeod's Drug store in De- ter.

Truck Crushes . . .

in front of him. Location of the mishap is near Baker Rd. The driver reportedly suffered fractured ribs, a broken vertebrae and severe lacerations.

FFA Members Receive Corn Growing Prize Awards

Stephen A. Hayden and three FFA members attended a DeKalb corn awards banquet in Albion on Thursday, April 4. The banquet honored 100 students who had made the best record on a corn growing analysis sheet supplied by DeKalb. The FFA members in attendance were Jerry Manzel, Richard McCalla and William Wenk.

In addition to these boys, four others completed the project. They are Danny Eden, Donald Hinderer, Gregory Kuhl, and Douglas Rowe. In contrast to most corn contests which are based on yield checks on a spot basis, the DeKalb project emphasizes costs, fertilizing, population and recognition of corn enemies. The yield is computed, but project recognition is not based on top yields, but yield calculation is a factor in the top score.

Top students from Chelsea on total score were Manzel, McCalla, and Wenk with a score of 100 per cent. They received a special

Obtain Your Burning Permit Before Starting Outdoor Fire

Lansing—It's a fine spring day and you've decided to burn some leaves and rubbish left over from last fall.

Everything is going smoothly until a strong wind suddenly whips up. It scatters sparks and burning leaves into an open field still brown from winter. The wind fans the flames toward your neighbor's property. By this time, the fire is sending up a good head of smoke.

From his lofty vantage point, a Conservation Department towerman or pilot spots your fire. Quickly, he checks his map and daily log to see if a burning permit has been issued for the area. No luck—it's a wild fire.

The towerman or pilot pinpoints the location of your fire. He then radios district headquarters. His alarm is relayed over an intercommunications hookup to a fire-fighting equipment station and to officers already in the field.

Fire-fighting crews zero in on your fire. Tractor-plovers spring into action, gouging a deep furrow around the fire. Water-tankers go into operation.

The blaze is soon subdued. But not soon enough. A corner of your neighbor's woodlot won't produce any lumber for awhile. Wildlife will have to look elsewhere for a home.

Each year, debris burning accounts for nearly as much damage to private and public lands as all other causes combined. It has run up a $480,000 toll in Michigan since 1928 when the Conservation Department started keeping fire records.

During the next six or seven weeks, it will push the threat of forest and grass fires high. Thousands of landowners will be busy burning leaves and whatnot around their homes, summer cottages, or on their farms.

Pollage and grass will still be dormant, waiting to be "greened up" by warmer temperatures and spring showers. Chances are dangerously good that drying winds will prevail to make conditions more ripe for wild fires.

How can landowners beat down this seasonal threat? Michigan's burning permit system offers plenty of punch in stopping wild fires before they start.

It enables Department field men to limit burning to periods when conditions are safe, as determined by a burning index rating which weighs such things as wind-velocity, humidity, and recent rainfall. When this rating gives a "storm warning," permits are not issued.

In addition to controlling the "when" of burning, the permit system also keeps Department men posted on where they can expect burning for any particular day in their areas.

The location of every permit-approved burn is marked on maps at Department field offices and by towermen. This speeds up help to landowners if burning gets out of hand. It also saves false alarms; every fire not covered by a permit must be considered a wild one and checked out by suppression crews.

So much for the system itself. When do you need a permit and where can you get one? First off, the law spells out that landowners must get a permit (at no cost) from the Department before starting open fires. This requirement holds true on all lands and at all times when there is no snow on the ground. A $60 fine and or 90-day jail sentence stand behind it.

It does not take a lot of "red tape" to obtain a permit. When conditions are safe, getting the green light to burn can be as simple as dialing your nearest Department district or field office. Permits are frequently filled out over the phone and mailed to the applicant.

District offices are at Baraga, Escanaba, Crystal Falls, and Newberry in the Upper Peninsula; Gaylord, Mio, Traverse City, Baldwin, and Gladwin in the northern lower peninsula; and Plainwell, Jackson, and Imlay City in the southern lower peninsula. Several field offices are located in each district.

Permits may also be obtained from any conservation officer, fire officer, or towerman. Too, they are available from some of the state's 1,000 keymen (including your local fire chief) who help the Department guard 20,500,000 acres against fires.

Getting a permit is just the be-

STOP FIRES FROM STARTING—A little forethought and cooperation by smokers and debris burners can go a long way in beating down the old threat of forest and grass fires which runs especially high each spring prior to the "green-up" season. A good way to stop fires from starting is to crush out cigarettes (above). Motorists are urged to use ashtrays in their cars instead of flicking cigarettes out the window. Landowners are reminded to get burning permits from the Conservation Department before starting open fires. Permits are free, easy to obtain, and offer the best single line of defense against wild fires caused by debris burning. They are available at any Department district or field office and from all conservation officers, fire officers, and towermen.

Lyndon Township Zoning...

Charles Baize, chairman of the Zoning Board, said that those in favor of zoning are prepared to work hard to amend the former ordinance so that it will be acceptable to a majority of the residents of the township. They would like the people to better understand the real purpose of zoning, what the regulations are—and how such regulations benefit a community. A series of meetings can be held and certain questionable or objectionable sections discussed and amended.

The Rural Township Zoning Act is in force, it is pointed out; it must be decided how it can be fairly enforced.

A group of citizens who had misunderstood that the zoning ordinance and not zoning itself was being voted on at the April 1 election attended the meeting of the Lyndon Township Board Monday evening.

At the meeting, also, a petition was presented to the board by Mrs. Thomas Masterson, secretary of the Zoning Board, on behalf of approximately 100 township residents, requesting the Township Board to further proceed under the Rural Township Zoning Act and adopt interim zoning while the permanent zoning ordinance is being amended.

Mrs. Masterson further reported that a letter had been sent by the township attorney to the owner of a junk yard that had recently been developed in a residential area. The letter pointed out that this was creating a public nuisance and a traffic and health hazard, Mrs. Masterson said.

The Lyndon Township Board was unable to act on the zoning problem until assistance of the township attorney is obtained to help clarify the situation for the group who attended the meeting.

At the close of Monday's meeting, Harry Freeman, trustee on the township board tendered his resignation to Lyndon Township Supervisor George Bauer, giving personal interests as his reason.

Limaneers Plant Flowers at Pierce Park

In the Council Briefs last week mention was made of the fact that Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Paul would continue planting flowers at Veterans Memorial Park in preparation for Memorial Day, a community service for which they have assumed responsibility a number of years. It was incorrectly added, however, that they also plant flowers at Pierce Memorial Park.

The Pierce park planting has been a project of the Limaneers club since the park was founded and for two years flowers were donated by a young people's 4-H club, it was pointed out by Limaneers club members.

Grand Rapids Principal Is MEA President-Elect

Russell Jones, Grand Rapids elementary and junior high principal, has been chosen president-elect of the 63,000-member Michigan Education Association. Jones will serve one year as president-elect and then assume the presidency of the MEA. He was unanimously elected at the MEA's annual Representative Assembly held March 28-30 in Lansing.

Murmur May Be First Indication of Heart Disease

Ann Arbor—A heart murmur gives doctors important evidence for detecting congenital heart disease in children, reported pediatricians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Although some murmurs are associated with normal hearts, others reveal crucial defects, said Drs. Ruth Strang and Aaron Stern, of the pediatric heart division at the U-M.

A murmur is an "extra vibration" heard between normal heart sounds. Instead of hearing one clear sound, a silence, and then another sound in each cycle, a loud vibration interrupts the silence. This acoustical evidence may indicate heart disease.

Congenital defects in the heart, or in the major blood vessels connected directly with the heart, occur in about eight individuals per thousand births.

Handicaps associated with congenital heart defects in children may include slow growth, limitation in tolerance for exercise, appearance of blueless, and difficulty with respiratory infections.

If the defect causes a major disturbance in function of the heart and goes uncorrected, it may shorten the individual's life span.

Progress in diagnosis and treatment, including refinement in surgery, have greatly advanced the chances of congenital heart defects being corrected, the U-M doctors reported.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Emma Seitz and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seitz and sons were in Dearborn Sunday as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seitz whose son, Fred, was taken into membership of Mt. Olivet Methodist church. Also guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Howell and family of Jackson, and Mrs. Rose Edwards and Mrs. Emma Mast of Ann Arbor.

Cheryl Grau, a member of the confirmation class Sunday at Zion Lutheran church, was honored at a family dinner at noon by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Grau. There were 24 present for dinner, including her grandparents, Mrs. Ima Grau, of Fletcher Rd. and Mrs. and Mrs. D. A. Koebbe of Dearborn, and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Zahn. Open house in the afternoon was attended by approximately 60 guests.

Fish Have Their Own Languages

Ann Arbor — Some types of fish have a hearing range comparable to that of man—and a "language" of their own, according to University of Michigan authority.

Prof. John E. Bardach of the U-M department of fisheries says purposeful sounds made by fish and some other underwater creatures probably mean either: (1) Come here, I love you; or (2) Go away, I hate you.

Bardach, an expert skin-diver whose research in fisheries has taken him below the waters of such far-off countries as Trinidad and Cambodia, explains that hydrophones are used to record a wide range of sounds made by underwater creatures.

Research has established that a few reef fishes, for example, can hear sounds ranging as high as 13,000 cycles per second—a facility better than some human hi-fi addicts.

The U-M professor discusses the subject on "Conservation Report," a radio series produced and distributed by the University Broadcasting Service (WUOM).

"Sounds are extremely important in the lives of some fishes," Bardach explains. "Each species has its own 'language' so to speak. It isn't as wide in range as the communications among some other animals, certainly not as wide as in humans, but in some species serves as a system of communication by sound."

"Each sound has taken on a very specific meaning. In some darters and minnows, for instance, it is necessary for the male to emit a certain sound before courtship can go to its completion—the 'I love you' sound. On the other hand, many fishes have territories which they defend by grunts and other sounds."

Fish are not the only underwater residents to make and use sounds, Bardach adds.

Crustaceans such as shrimp and lobster have characteristic sounds, he points out. Shrimp snap their claws, sometimes in a chorus that makes them sound almost like an underwater flock of birds.

Dolphins (or porpoises) and many whales make sounds that are quite different from those of fish. These marine mammals use sound both for communication and for underwater echo-ranging, according to Bardach.

CUBAN RAIDS

The United States has stated that it is strongly opposed to hit-and-run commando raids on Cuba by anti-Castro exiles. But two exile group leaders said they will continue the raids until the final liberation of Cuba.

The State Department said that "such raids do not weaken the grip of the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba. Indeed they may strengthen it."

Laff Of The Week

Skiing Expert Debunks Reputed Danger of Sport

"Unsinning!" This explosive German phrase erupts almost unbidden from the lips of Franz Gabl, ski pro at Michigan's Caberline winter sports center, whenever someone suggests that skiing is dangerous, particularly while learning.

"It makes no sense," Gabl interprets. "A skier with a cast on his leg makes a good cartoon for the humor magazines, but the fact that skiing is less dangerous than most active sports played in our schools."

Professionals teaching at Michigan's more than 80 winter sports centers echo Gabl's sentiments. The growing army of some 200,000 skiers that visit the state's resorts add the emphasis of numbers in debunking the reputed dangers of skiing.

As in any vigorous sport there is the possibility of bumps and bruises but the danger of fractures or other serious injuries is vastly overemphasized, according to the National Ski Patrol Organization and recklessness are the major factors when injuries do occur.

A recent report by the ski patrol points up some interesting statistics regarding skiing safety. For example:

Instruction and experience play a major role in skiing safety. More than half of those injured had no instruction and of the remainder, most had only a few lessons. A third of those injured were on the slopes for the first time.

Teen-age boys (between 13 and 17) account for 30 percent of skiing injuries yet they comprise only 10.5 percent of the skiing population.

Large winter sports centers with good facilities and supervision have a significantly smaller percentage of injuries.

The Michigan Tourist Council has compiled a list of safe-skiing tips that are advocated by ski authorities for both beginners and experts:

- (1) Get into shape! Regular exercise such as walking or bicycling is useful as a pre-season conditioner.
- (2) Seek professional instruction. Advice from fellow skiers—while helpful—may be a primary cause of injuries.
- (3) Be sure to use safety release bindings. On your own skis have them mounted and adjusted by an expert—in the shop—and check them each day for correct adjustment. Don't let snow accumulate between your boot and the binding. It can affect the operation of the release mechanism.
- (4) Follow the lead of professional athletes by warming up before you put on your skis for that first run. If people in top physical condition feel a warmup is necessary, surely it is worthwhile for a week-end skier.
- (5) Practice controlled skiing. Don't let your exuberance get you into a situation you can't handle.
- (6) Ski with others of similar skills and avoid the temptation of trying to copy maneuvers that are beyond your ability.
- (7) Avoid fatigue by sensibly resting several times a day. Resist the tendency to take one more run down a dusky slope at the end of a strenuous day.
- (8) Ski with others, it's friendlier and avoids the possibility of being alone if an accident should happen.
- (9) If you are unfamiliar with a type of ski lift, ask for instruction in its use. Don't wear loose clothing or accessories that might tangle in the lifts.
- (10) If you feel yourself falling—FALL RELAXED. Don't tense up and increase the severity of impact. If you think you are hurt, don't try to grin and bear it, call for help and wait for ski patrol member or someone trained in first aid.

New techniques and modern facilities have made skiing a safe, exhilarating sport that is growing in popularity each year. To obtain information about Michigan's more than 80 winter sports centers, write, Ski Guide, Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

Chambers makes a plea for diversity. "It is important that certain students shall have a chance for one or two years of training in some technical specialty, coupled with some general education, in a community-junior college reasonably near their homes."

"It is important that certain other students shall be able to work in the highest ranges of graduate or professional study or creative research in one or another of Michigan's major universities."

"Others want and can profit from only four years or five years of instruction in the liberal arts, teacher-education, business administration, engineering, home economics, or some other profession for which a college degree is either a requirement or an advantage."

"It is this expanding range of needs that causes Michigan's universities and colleges to expand," Chambers states.

"The cause of the growth of college enrollments is not that college administrators are temple-builders, but that modern society demands what the colleges have to offer."

Maybe it might save us some money if the people of the U. S. would get rid of their fears about the future trend of domestic and international affairs.

AGRICULTURE In ACTION

by M. L. Woolf

Beware a 'Food Gap'

"Farm problems belong to city people, too," says peppy Orville Walker, District Extension Agent in Marketing, who is one of the nation's top salesmen for improved farm public relations.

Walker, (his friends call him "Shorty") has taken the story of the importance of agricultural understanding to all of the states in the Union, and to much of the world. Everywhere in his travels as former president of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (1940) and as a District Governor in Rotary International, Shorty has found farming to be "the biggest industry in the world." "Since it is, and since many people don't realize this to be true, I consider it my job to tell them," he says.

Walker suggests that farm public relations is a full-time job every day. A job important enough, he feels, that much more time, effort and money should be spent in this direction.

To stimulate such thinking, he points out that "he who controls the power of food, controls the world," and adds that two-thirds of the people of the world are so desperately hungry that it is not a figure of speech when they pray, "Give us this day our daily bread."

He tells of a population increase in the United States includes 8,000 additional people per day, and 100,000 new babies born each day in the world. He looks ahead to the year 2,000 when there will be 400 million people in the U.S., and worldwide about 1 1/2 acre of land per person "counting the Antarctic, the Sahara desert and Mt. Everest."

All of which, in Walker's estimation, adds up to more need for basic farm research, a sensitive spot among some who look at sky-high surpluses and suggest that the answer is less, not more. "You can't turn research on, and off like a faucet," Shorty says. "And remember, not enough food is disaster—famine. We talk about the missile gap, just think how much more serious it would be if we had a food gap!"

Such visionary thinking is the kind that keeps American agriculture out of the low-production rut into which it has fallen in much of the world. Further, such thinking has earned Shorty Walker many unsought titles, among them the award for "Distinguished Service to Agriculture" presented by the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Boy Scout Leadership Training Course Schedules Final Session

The last of a seven-session program for Boy Scout Training will be conducted at Camp Newkirk just outside Dexter, on Wednesday April 17. The course, under direction of Robert Foye of Chelsea and Robert Lambert of Dexter, is open to all interested men in the area, and has to date drawn a good number of participants from throughout Iroquois District IV, which includes many nearby communities.

Recent topics have included "Advancement in the Troop" and "Inside Training Session for Outdoor Program," scheduled for April 10. On April 17 the theme will be "Leadership and Troop Committee Organization."

Following the seven Wednesday sessions, the adults are invited to participate in a week-end of outdoor activities. They will arrive at Camp Newkirk on Friday night, April 19, and pitch tents for the week-end. Going through many of the outdoor skills which the boys in scout troops find so interesting and challenging, the men plan a full "field week-end."

This year about 815,000 Americans will be under medical care for cancer. Many of them will be saved because their cancers were detected and treated in time. The American Cancer Society urges an annual health checkup as the best safeguard against death from cancer.

TRUTH IN PACKAGING—Sen. Philip A. Hart (D. Mich.), at right, explains some misleading product labels to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Sub-committee. Sen. Hart has introduced a "Truth in Packaging" Bill which should be up for committee consideration shortly.

Easter Date Determined By Full Moon

Ann Arbor—For centuries people have checked the calendar each year for the date of Easter. Why? The reason is that this holiday which falls on Sunday, April 14, this year, fluctuates between March 22 and April 24, depending on the phases of the moon. University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh says.

To understand this fluctuation, one must recall that the church fathers, gathered in the Council of Nicaea in 325 A. D., decreed that Easter was to be kept on the Sunday following the first full moon that comes after the sun reaches the vernal equinox, Professor Losh explains.

This year the vernal equinox came on March 21. Thus the full moon of April 8 set the Easter date.

"Perhaps one good reason for choosing the full moon as the determining factor in the fixing of Easter was to afford pilgrims safe travel on the roads to the Holy City—for the festival," the U-M astronomer says.

However, "its variability causes many dislocations in social habits and relationships, in religious observances, school holidays and in certain trades," Professor Losh notes.

In 1948 Easter came on the latest possible date, April 25, and it will happen again 2038 A.D. A March 22-Easter will not come until 2265.

"It appears that March 24 is the most unusual Easter date, its occurrence in 1940 being the second time since the Gregorian calendar reform in 1582, and will not come again until 2301."

Next year Easter will come on March 20.

and grass, spreading into the Christmas Seal Camp property before it was brought under control. Later, the same day, a grass fire occurred behind the Chelsea Grinding Co. building on I-94.

Saturday, at 3:05 p.m., Chelsea firemen were called to fight a grass fire on state land on Cassidy Rd. Brush and trees were also burned.

Conservation Department fire-fighting equipment was on the scene to help bring the blaze under control.

Former Chelsea Residents Killed in Crash Near Homer

Word has been received here of the death of a former Chelsea resident, Mrs. Blanche Miller Brenner, of Homer, in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon. The accident occurred at Dearing Rd. and Old US-12 near Homer. Mrs. Brenner was 68 years old, was born in Chelsea, a daughter of Jacob and Sarah Stapish Miller. She attended school in Chelsea, graduating from high school here, and attended Ypsilanti State Normal School, now Eastern Michigan University. She taught school for seven years. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary, and the county extension clubs at Homer.

Mr. Brenner, 67, was born in Newton township, a son of Jacob and Fredericka Myers Brenner. He was a veteran of World War I; he and his wife were married in St. Mary's Catholic church in Chelsea June 25, 1919.

Both were members of St. John Catholic Church in Albion. They are survived by seven children: three sons, Lewis and Donald, both of Homer, and James of Dearing Rd.; four daughters, Mrs. Arnold (Aletha) Kleffner of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Robert (Anita Grace) Frost of Elmira, N.Y., Mrs. Earl (Wilma) Rouse of Mattawan, Mrs. Raymond (Shirley) VanKampen of Litchfield; and 25 grandchildren.

Mrs. Brenner is also survived by a sister, Miss Helen Miller of Detroit. Mr. Brenner is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John (Dorothy) Schragg and Mrs. Clarence (Christina) Bera, both of Union City. Funeral services were held yesterday.

Charles B. Blair

Dies Last Wednesday At Ann Arbor Hospital

Charles B. Blair, 68, of 4950 Loveland Rd., Sylvan township, died Wednesday, April 3 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor after a brief illness.

He was born May 12, 1884, in Harlan, Ky., the son of William and Polly Cornett Blair.

He came five years ago from Kentucky where he had been employed in the mining industry. He was employed by the Klumpp Brothers Gravel Co. here.

He is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Oliver Shephard of Grass Lake, Mrs. James Allan of Chelsea, Mrs. Bernice Bigger and Mrs. Doran Ellsworth, both of Jackson, Mrs. Frank Clowes of Troy and Miss Barbara Ball of Monroe; five sons, Hobart of Galion, O., Lonnie of Elkhorn City, Ky., Shelby of Mt. Morris, Mickey and Charles, Jr., both of Monroe; two brothers, Paris of Holmes Mill, Ky., and Frank of Harlan, Ky.; 48 grandchildren; and 18 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Burghardt Funeral Home with the Rev. David Wood officiating. Burial took place at Mt. Hope cemetery in Jackson county.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Lillian Lingane, formerly of Chelsea, is now a patient at the Northwest Convalescent Home, corner of Ganson and Lansing, in Jackson. Visiting hours there are 2-4 and 7-8 p.m. daily. Mrs. Lingane had made her home since Nov. 7, with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lingane, at 703 E. Ganson St., Jackson.

Guests at dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eise-man in honor of their son, Timothy, were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bareis and daughter, of Clinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eise-man. Timothy was a member of the confirmation class at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners.

A family dinner gathering Sunday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wenk honored three cousins who were confirmed at Sunday morning services at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners. The three are Anita Wenk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wenk; Gary Burkhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Burkhardt, and Charles Wenk, son of the Ernest Wenks. In addition to the immediate families of the three honored young people, those present included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hieber, grandparents of Anita Wenk, and Mrs. Nelle Pritchard, grandmother of Charles Wenk; also, the Walter Loeffler family, the Ernest Wenk family, Elmer Wenk of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barics and daughter of Dexter, Anita Wenk and Gary Burkhardt were also honored at evening dinners given by their parents at their respective homes.

Ella Mae Freysinger, who was confirmed Sunday morning at Zion Lutheran church, was honored at a family gathering later in the day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Freysinger. Among the 50 relatives present were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freysinger and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bauer.

Dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haab in honor of the confirmation of their daughter, Colleen, at Zion Lutheran church, were the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Renner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kempf and daughter of Whitmore Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haab and son Ronnie.

Daffodils Blooming
Mrs. John Myers of 412 Wilkenson St. was the first person in the area to call The Standard office last week to report daffodils in bloom in her garden.

Since then several others have reported that daffodils are blooming, as well as tulips.

NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Job Creation in Historical Perspective

There is one critical phase of the economic picture on which national opinion is especially optimistic at present. Unemployment remains at approximately six percent of the labor force. Informed observers expect it to improve much in the near future and some think it may approach seven percent by the end of 1963.

We have been adding to our labor force—the number of people able and willing to work—at the rate of about 780,000 per year, but we have been creating new jobs at a net rate of only about 670,000 per year.

What is really alarming is that we are on the threshold of a much more rapid increase in the labor force. The post-war babies will be coming on the job market in increasing numbers and the labor force will increase by about 1,400,000 persons annually during the rest of this decade.

In other words, the process of job creation has been unable to keep up with labor force growth of one percent a year, and now we are faced with a period when the rate will rise to about two percent.

Yet when the problem is put in historical perspective there is no real cause to view it as hopeless. During the latter decades of the nineteenth century, when immigration was at its height, the labor force increased at a still faster rate—about three percent annually. Although there were intermittent periods of unemployment in this era, by and large we were able to make jobs for these people.

Why then do we seem to find so much difficulty providing jobs for a one percent annual increase in the working population when we were once able to take a three percent increase in stride? There is one fact which, in this column's opinion, is central to the explanation. In the latter part of the nineteenth century we were setting aside, in the form of savings and investment, a much larger part of our national income than at present.

After all, people can't be put to work and paid wages unless their output is great enough to make the arrangement worthwhile to their employers. This means that they must be well equipped with tools, machinery, and all the other things they need to work efficiently. All these things are capital and they must be paid for out of the savings of the population.

It is a surprising but well documented fact that the rate of net saving is now much lower than it was three-quarters of a century ago. According to statistics of the National Bureau of Economic Research, in the period 1869 to 1888 the share of our national output, which was saved (and therefore, appeared as a net increase in the nation's store of capital) was 14.6 percent. In the period 1940 to 1955 the percentage had sunk to 7.0 percent.

This is astonishing, since usually as an individual's income increases he tends to save a larger percentage of it. Apparently as a nation we have been doing the reverse. Here is one important clue to the difficulties we are experiencing in making enough new jobs.

Careful Checks Are Made Constantly On Lawn Supplies

Sale of lawn supplies in the state each year amounts to millions of dollars, according to Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre, who recommends prospective purchasers to read carefully the labels before buying.

Inspectors of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's laboratory division call at sales outlets to check labeling and take samples of such products as seeds, lawn fertilizers, soil conditioners and herbicides and pesticides often found in combination with lawn fertilizers.

Inspectors also check to see if products are licensed and registered with the Department. The label on seeds is important as it relates to germination and purity of 75 percent or higher should be expected, as well as reasonably low inert matter and weed content. Date of the test should never be more than nine months old.

Tigers Open '63 Season Full of Optimistic Dreams

Detroit — The Tigers are presenting six rookies and five other new players among the 28 men on their roster opening the 1963 American League season.

All but two of those in the rookie category have been seen briefly at Tiger Stadium but pitchers Bob Dostal and Dick Egan are on display for the first time. The others are Pitcher Bill Paul, Catcher Bill Freehan, Outfielder Fernald Gofsky and Outfielder-First Baseman Frank Kostro.

Two of the veteran additions are former Tigers: Third Baseman Bubba Phillips back in Tiger uniform for the first time since 1955 and Shortstop Coot Veal returning after a two-year lapse. Pitcher Bob Anderson, Catcher Gus Triandos and Outfielder Whitey Herzog are making their debuts.

Manager Bob Scheffing calls the best the club has had since he became manager in 1961, citing the lack of any major injuries and the fact the team did not miss a day in Florida because of the weather.

He feels that the Tigers will show improvement over 1962 in at least four important departments: (1) third base, where Phillips was sensational during the exhibition games; (2) behind the plate, with Triandos and Freehan giving depth which the Tigers have lacked; (3) in the bullpen, with Egan and Dostal promising strong support to Terry Fox; and (4) on the bench.

The Tigers' biggest question mark, Scheffing agrees with the experts, is Frank Lary's arm—will the Tiger manager be convinced that the ace right-hander is "sound and ready to pitch."

While citing the Tigers' gains, Scheffing feels the rest of the American League also will show improvement. He names the New York Yankees as the team to beat, with Baltimore ("one of the most improved in the League") and Minnesota ("as good as last year") in the field of challengers. Statistically, the exhibition season was one of their most successful—on the field and at the gate.

Their 16 pre-season victories (against 12 losses) matched their recorded high, with an 8-8 mark against American League foes and 8-4 against National League opponents.

The biggest surprises of the spring, according to Scheffing were the showing of Egan as a left-handed relief pitcher, and Freehan's improvement as a catcher and hitter. In 21 innings of exhibition hurling, Egan walked only two batters and came up with a

Know Your MICHIGAN LAW

A better understanding of the law governing unemployment compensation should prevent many of the problems faced by unemployed workers who do not properly comply with the law and as a result lose their benefits.

To be eligible for benefits, you must be able, available, and seeking work. The purpose of the act is to tide workers over periods of unemployment between jobs by the payment of unemployment benefits, thus reducing economic insecurity, which is detrimental not only to the worker but to the welfare of the whole State.

Payments under the act are intended to be payable to workers who have become unemployed through no fault of their own, such as those who have been laid off because of a lack of work. In the case of a worker leaving his work voluntarily, he must establish that he left work for a "good cause attributable to the employer," i.e., that he was justified and that his employer was at fault.

A worker who is separated from his job because of alleged misconduct connected with his job is disqualified if the charge is proven.

No worker is eligible unless he has been employed for at least 14 weeks during the preceding 52-week period, providing his employer is subject to the act.

To qualify for the benefits available on a week to week basis, a worker must:

1. File a claim for unemployment benefits with the Michigan Employment Security Commission.
2. Register for employment at a State employment office.
3. Report weekly, or as otherwise instructed, at a local office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

WHERE'S ELMER?

where Chelsea bowlers always find fair weather fun.

4. Serve a one week waiting period.
5. Certify that he is able, available and seeking work with each week he seeks benefits.

The amount of money collected depends, of course, on his regular salary and the amount of time he worked previously and the number of his dependents.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Mrs. Robin Wright of Lima Center was hostess at a birthday party Saturday afternoon honoring her twin niece and nephew, Brian and Shari Wright, who were four years old yesterday. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wright of Wilkeson St. The 20 relatives and friends present were from Dexter, Ann Arbor and Chelsea.

Games were played, with all children receiving a prize. A special door prize was won by Brian Wright, one of the honor guests.

CHILD STUDY CLUB
Chelsea Child Study club members met Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Blaes, Mrs. John Blaes and Mrs. Robert K. Taylor for a regular meeting. It was held at the home of Mrs. Blaes. Plans were discussed for a salad greens and luncheon to be given by the club for the public. It will be held at the Congregational church on April 27, the day of the Chelsea-Go-Operative-Nurses annual house tour. Serving is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

At Tuesday's meeting Mrs. Russell Bernath, one of the assisting librarians at McKune Memorial Library, gave an informative talk on the subject of children's books in the library. The next regular meeting will take place April 23 at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Schneider. Her co-hostess is to be Mrs. M. L. Dietle. The program will be presented by Chelsea High school forensics students.

Delegates to attend the State Child Study Clubs spring planning meeting at Jackson April 27 were Mrs. Robert Daniels, Mrs. Paul Schille, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Robbins.

LINANEERS met Thursday, April 4, with Mrs. Alvin Pommerening; there were 12 members and one guest present. Following the noon pot-luck dinner, a business session was held during which members voted to buy plants, as usual, for a flower bed at Pierce Park. This has been a community service project of the club since the park has been in existence.

The club's next regular meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Reichert.

CHRISTENED

At Palm Sunday services at Central Methodist church in Detroit, Jon Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Riemenschneider, was christened. Officiating at the baptismal ceremony were Dr. James H. Laird, the Rev. Charles E. Sutton and the Rev. Norman E. DeWine. Godparents are John Eisenbeiser of Chelsea and Miss Bonnie Sheren of Dearborn.

Following services, dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Karl Riemenschneider at their home. Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Snider of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Riemenschneider and daughter, Alice, and John Eisenbeiser, of Chelsea, and Miss Bonnie Sheren of Dearborn.

MISSION CLUB

St. Paul's Mission club, with 10 members present, met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mina Seitz for an afternoon devoted to sewing for mission projects. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The opening devotional service was in charge of the president, Mrs. Amanda Mayer.

The program also included the following readings: "How Little It Costs," by Mrs. Paul Seitz; "What Easter Means," by Mrs. Mina Seitz; "Alone," by Mrs. Clarence Nicolai; "In Holy Week," by Mrs. Oscar Lindauer; and "Courtney," by Mrs. Emma Seitz.

Hospital Auxiliary Will Elect Officers At Annual Meet

Mrs. Roe Bennett of Ypsilanti, president of the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary, is reminding area women of the group's annual meeting and election of officers to be held Wednesday, April 17, at 1:45 p.m., at the hospital.

All interested people are invited; however, especially urged to be present at the meeting are representatives of all clubs, church groups and circles in the county; these representatives will be expected to report back to their groups and they also will have the opportunity of casting their votes for new Auxiliary officers. The speaker for the annual meeting is Dr. G. Robert Cotton, the administrator at Cedar Knoll Rest Home, Inc. His topic is to be "The Aged in a New Age."

MODERN MOTHERS

Modern Mothers Child Study club, with 13 members present, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Wade.

Announcement was made of the new slate of officers for the coming year, headed by Mrs. Donald Bussler as president.

Others are Mrs. Marie Leach, first vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Wood, second vice-president; Mrs. William Wade, secretary; Mrs. James Bedford, treasurer; and Mrs. John Steele, auditor and parliamentarian.

Delegates to the State Child Study Clubs spring planning meeting, Saturday, April 27, are Mrs. Marie Leach and Mrs. Clarence Wood with Mrs. Errol Jones as alternate.

The next meeting of the club is to be at Foote Hospital, Jackson, Tuesday, April 23, with Dr. J. H. Ahronheim, the director of laboratories. Refreshments served Tuesday evening included an exchange of desserts brought by members.

MOTHERS CLUB

Mother's Club of Chelsea, at the April 3 meeting held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Leslie heard a discussion of matters pertaining to village government, presented by Chelsea Village President Robert Daniels and Councilman Howard Haselschwardt.

The two men also answered questions put to them by the club members.

During the business session at the meeting the club voted to sponsor Girl Scout Troop 51.

Co-hostess for Tuesday's meeting was Mrs. Melvin Push.

The next meeting will be the spring dinner May 1 at Weber's Supper Club.

Series of Classes Starts Tonight for Expectant Parents

When the new series of Expectant Parents' classes begins April 11 in room 1 in the basement of the County Building, Thursday nights, those present will hear Miss Carol Elliott, public health nurse, discuss how the baby grows before birth. Miss Elliott's discussion will be designed to provide an overview of the entire program of Expectant Parents' classes as well as to help the parents to develop an understanding of how their baby grows before birth.

Included in Miss Elliott's discussion will be a film entitled "Human Reproduction" which will show diagrammatically how labor takes place. Miss Elliott will also discuss the anatomy and the physiology of pregnancy and then will open the class to discussion and

Woman's Club Reviews Michigan Logging History

The Woman's club meeting, at McKune Memorial Library Tuesday evening, featured an enjoyable program on ballads of Michigan and folk songs. Program leaders were Mrs. M. J. Baxter and Mrs. D. L. Gadberty.

They opened the program period by defining ballads as narratives of an impersonal nature and folk songs as stories in an emotional vein.

They pointed out that the early loggers and lumberjacks of Michigan are responsible for most of the ballads which have been handed down from one generation to another in the state. The loggers migrated to Michigan from Maine for the harvest of the white pines found in the area. In presenting their pictures of that period, the program leaders described the "coming of age" of the city of Saginaw when the plush Bancroft Hotel was built in 1859. The foundation of the hotel, which still is in use, was prepared by the early sawmills whose sawdust was dumped in the marshes along the river; the sawdust, 40 feet deep and hard as a rock, has proved to be adequate for the hotel four stories in height and topped by a cupola.

An old-time description of the luxurious appointments of the new hotel explained that there were cut glass chandeliers and each room had a neat box stove and brass cuspidor and that the chef was from Paris.

The program was climaxed with the appearance of two "lumberjacks" in authentic costume who were later recognized as two of the club members, Mrs. Arthur Schunk and Mrs. Charles Cameron. They sang a number of the ballads of the lumbering days of Michigan, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Walworth.

The club president, Mrs. H. F. Moore, presided at the business session when several resolutions and motions were made. These will be presented at the annual meeting scheduled for April 23. Included was a proposed slate of officers and an outline of the next year's programs, presented by Mrs. Leigh Palmer.

Hostesses who served refreshments at the close of the meeting were Mrs. Thomas Smith and her daughter, Shirley.

Questions from the group assembled at this new series of classes will meet each Thursday night in the County Building for the next seven weeks.

Registration may be accomplished at the class meeting and the registration will be open at 7 p.m. to allow ample time for registration before the class begins at 7:30 p.m. The registration fee for the entire series is $2.50 per couple. This includes seven classes. A special class is held for the fathers only.

Mrs. Clare Warren Named To Head Methodist WSCS

At the April 3 meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, officers were elected for the coming year and plans were announced for holding general meetings of the organization once each month throughout the year.

Also announced was the fact that a member of the Chelsea WSCS has been nominated for the office of Ann Arbor District WSCS president. The district meeting is scheduled to be held at Belleville, April 25.

The program following an afternoon luncheon attended by 60 members and guests was on the topic, "What To Tell Our Children About Race."

Mrs. Ben Donaldson presented the "Charter on Racial Policies" for a discussion and vote and members of Deborah Circle presented an appropriate playlet.

Elected to office are Mrs. Clare Warren, president; Mrs. Arthur Schunk, vice-president; Mrs. S. D. Kinde, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Howard Walz, treasurer; and Mrs. Arthur Stoll, recording secretary.

Secretaries of the various WSCS departments as named at the election are Mrs. Ben Donaldson, Christian Social relations; Mrs. Calvin Summers, promotion; Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, missionary education; Mrs. Louis Allen, youth work; Mrs. John Botts, children's work; Mrs. Guy Barton, spiritual life; Mrs. James Hoffmeyer, literature; Mrs. Alan Conklin, supply work.

Mrs. J. Wilbert Smith was named chairman of local church activities; Mrs. William Storey, Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, Mrs. Loren Turner and Mrs. Carl Stevens, committee on membership; Mrs. Duane Luick, chairman of nominations; Mrs. Thomas Smith, chairman of publicity; Mrs. William Storey and Mrs. Albert Peterson, morning circle chairman; Mrs. Howard Walz and Mrs. Guy Barton, afternoon circle chairman; and Mrs. Jack Pfeifle, evening circle chairman.

Birthday Party At Methodist Home Honors 14 Residents

Yesterday, during the noon dinner hour at the Methodist Home, 14 of the Home residents were honored at the April birthday party.

All residents whose birthdays occur during the month and are able to come to the dining room for their meals, are seated for the occasion at a special "birthday table" appropriately decorated and centered with a decorated birthday cake.

Candles and daffodils in crystal bowls centered the table.

Each birthday celebrant received stationery as a gift from the Chelsea Home Friends of the Methodist Church.

Ladies whose birthdays were observed are Mrs. Myrtle Rottier, Mrs. Ella Harrington, Mrs. Alice Schumaker, Mrs. Lavilla Marshall, Mrs. Alice Stanton, Mrs. Blanche Beard, Mrs. Mae Brosseau, Mrs. Lena Gregory, Mrs. Imogene Cole and the Misses Hulda Abbott and Rosa Bradley.

The three men in the group are James Varty, Charles Wilson and Fred Gauss.

Maple Syrup Time Is Here In Michigan

When trees begin to wear sap buckets spring has come and maple syrup time is with us again.

Collecting the sap from sugar maples and boiling it down into maple syrup is one of the colorful operations on farms in the state, and it also brings dollars to farm families.

Michigan has been a maple product state since before the coming of the white man. Indians obtained their sweetening from the maples prior to the arrival of the earliest explorers.

Maple products are not a major branch of the state's agricultural economy, according to Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, but last year the producer received about $405,000 for his maple syrup. Production in the state was 73,000 gallons. Michigan stands sixth among the 50 states in maple syrup production.

Maple syrup is higher priced than any other syrup because of the limited supply. Sometimes cheap imitations are marketed by unscrupulous persons. This is easy for chemists of the Michigan Department of Agriculture to detect, since color, flavor and weight are different from real maple syrup. Pure maple syrup must weigh not less than 11 pounds to a gallon.

In charge of enforcing the state's maple sugar law is the Department's foods and standards division. Chief J. L. Littlefield says the quantity and the name and address of the producer must appear on maple syrup containers. No foreign substance may be added to pure maple syrup.

Reception Honors Rush Cattells on 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Rush Cattell celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception party held at their home, 20450 Old US-12, on Sunday. The anniversary date is March 26, but the affair was postponed at that time because of Mr. Cattell's illness.

Relatives and friends were present Sunday from Jackson, Michigan Center, Belleville, Ann Arbor, Manchester, North Lake, Detroit and Chelsea.

Entertainment during the afternoon included a square dance demonstration—the Cattells are square dance enthusiasts.

Mrs. Arthur Pence of Belleville, a long-time friend of the family, acted as guest hostess; she also had baked and decorated the silver and white anniversary cake.

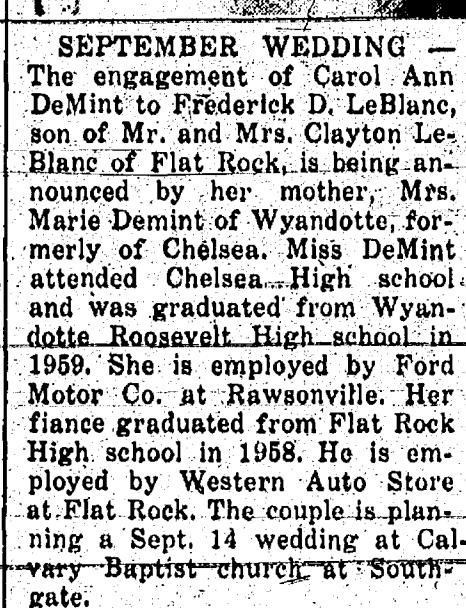

The Cattells' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jack Cattell, also assisted as hostess.

The Cattells were married March 26, 1938, at Angola, Ind. Mrs. Cattell is the former Imogene Barnes of Jackson and Mr. Cattell was an Ann Arbor resident at the time of their marriage. They have lived in the Chelsea area the past 14 years.

Mr. Cattell is factory superintendent at Tokheim Engineering Co. Their family includes three sons, Marvin, Eric, Gary Cattell, now stationed at Memphis, Tenn., for special training at the Electronic Aviation School; Larry Cattell, a freshman at Eastern Michigan University; and Jack, of Chelsea.

They also have an eight-month-old granddaughter, Tracy Lynn; daughter of the Jack Cattells.

At Sunday's anniversary observance, the Cattells received many attractive and useful gifts.

Salem Grove WSCS Names Mrs. Artz To Be President

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Salem Grove church met at the home of the president, Mrs. Austin Artz, Wednesday morning April 3, at 9 a.m.

Following the breakfast, the vice-president, Mrs. Paul Peltes, took charge of devotions. Mrs. Leon Sanderson and Mrs. Harold Wahl assisted her. Mrs. Peltes gave the lesson on the topic of "Prayer" and Mrs. Albert Schweinfurth read a prayer to close the devotional service.

Roll call by the secretary reported 20 members, three visitors and two children present.

The following slate of officers for the ensuing year was presented and elected: president, Mrs. Austin Artz; vice-president, Mrs. Paul Peltes; recording secretary, Mrs. Glenn Rentschler; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Wahl; and the following departmental secretaries: Mrs. John Jolley, spiritual life; Mrs. Edna Loveland, missions; Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. Clifford Wolfe and Mrs. Martha Broesamie, Christian social relations and local church activities; Mrs. Rudolph Bohde, promotion; Mrs. Albert Schweinfurth, secretary of literature and publications; Mrs. Leon Sanderson, youth and children's work; Mrs. Oscar Kalmbach, supplies; and Mrs. Nina Wahl, membership and publicity.

The nominating committee for the year 1963-64 includes Mrs. Paul Peltes, chairman, and Mrs. Clifford Wolfe and Mrs. Rudolph Rohde.

Announcement was made of the WSCS annual district meeting at Belleville; the next regular meeting of the Salem Grove WSCS, May 1 at the home of Mrs. Albert Schweinfurth; the meeting of the United Church Women's group at Salem Grove church on May 3; and the Salem Grove WSCS rummage sale April 19 and 20 at Sylvan Town Hall.

Michigan '63 Road Map Available

Lansing — The colorful 1963 Michigan highway map is off the press.

The State Highway Department put top priority on mailing maps to more than 50,000 persons who have requested a copy of the map by letter or post card in recent weeks.

More than 250,000 maps were shipped to chambers of commerce, state and regional tourist associations, county and city offices, newspapers, and other organizations.

Eventually, all 600,000 maps will find their way into the glove compartments of cars in Michigan and throughout the U.S.

"Purpose of the map is to stimulate travel in Michigan by both Michigan residents and visitors and to make it easier for motorists to get from place to place," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said.

All of Michigan's 9,200 miles of state highways—including more than 1,000 miles of freeway—and several thousand miles of major county roads are shown on the map. In addition, major routes in the state's 15 largest cities are shown on inset maps.

Sixty-three state parks, 26 freeway rest areas and more than 100 roadside parks also are shown as well as major airports and airfields.

Free copies of the map may be obtained by writing—on a post card to: Maps, State Highway Department, Lansing 26.

Advertising Role Featured at Consumers Marketing Meet

It's been said that doing business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark—you know what you're doing, but no one else does. This story points out the role of advertising in food marketing—say the Consumer Marketing-Information Agents. Advertising is to inform people about a product, a store or a service.

The important role of advertising was stressed at the ninth annual meeting of the Advisory Council of the Detroit Marketing Information for Consumers, held Thursday evening in Ford auditorium, Detroit Speakers at the meeting included:

Herrell DeGrass, executive vice-president of American Meat Institute; Harry Mathis, vice-president and general manager of Libby, Eastern Division; and Winston Schuler, president of Win Schuler's Restaurants, Inc.

For food manufacturers and retailers the main purpose of advertising is to increase company or store sales it was pointed out, or it may be a matter of trying to maintain sales volume in competition with other sellers of similar food products.

Food advertising may be of value to the shopper. It informs the homemaker that certain products are available, and helps one make tentative buying decisions before going to the store. Food advertising often includes factual information about products such as brands, grades, sizes, prices and product characteristics that are different from substitute items.

Advertising of food products by food processors, wholesalers and retailers has increased greatly in recent years. In 1961, advertising amounted to about 3.5 percent of the total cost of marketing farm produced foods. Food processors accounted for three-fourths of the total spent for food advertising, and have doubled their outlay in the past ten years.

The biggest percentage gain in food advertising has been by food retailers. They have increased their spending for advertising more than four-fold since 1950.

Some people carry grudges throughout life and, in time, retain the grudge without being able to explain it, even to themselves.

Who says times have changed? We know a man who is looking forward to summer picnics.

Birth Rate Declines for Fifth Year

Lansing—The number of babies born in Michigan is still declining, but an upturn is in sight.

According to the Michigan Department of Health's Statistical Methods Section, there were 182,475 resident births in the state last year, nearly 10,000 fewer than the year before, as the birth rate dropped for the fifth straight year. In 1961, there were 24.4 babies born for each 1,000 sets of parents. Last year the rate dropped to 22.8.

The figures are provisional pending receipt of late reports, but will remain essentially unchanged.

The records also show that 7,998 of the babies born last year were illegitimate, a rate of 43.8 per 1,000 live births. Although this is less than the national illegitimacy rate (52.7 in 1960), it is the highest ever reported in Michigan.

The number of babies is the lowest since 1952, when 177,835 were born. Births climbed steadily from there, reaching a peak of 208,488 in 1957 before declining.

Whether births continue to go down or remain on a plateau in the next few years is anybody's guess, but one thing is certain—they are bound to go up soon. A glance at past birth statistics tells why.

The majority of parents of babies born during the last few years were born during the 1930's and early 1940's, when births averaged around 90,000 a year. With in the next five years, most of the babies born from 1945 through 1949—when the births averaged around 150,000 per year—will be getting married and having babies of their own.

Michigan's Traffic Accidents Set New High in Injuries

While Michigan's 1,571 road deaths in 1962 were only four, or three-tenths of one percent, more than the final mark of 1,567 for 1961, new all-time high records of 108,143 injured and 231,851 accidents were registered, according to State Police final annual figures.

Injuries were up by 14,193, or 15.8 percent, over 93,350 in 1961, the previous record.

Accidents increased by 31,878 or 15.9 percent, over 199,973 in 1961 and by 22,127, or 10 percent, over the former high of 209,724 in 1960.

Fatal accidents for the year numbered 1,552 and were 19, or one percent, less than 1,571 in 1961.

There was no change in the $280 million estimated cost of traffic accidents based on 1961 cost factors.

The death rate of 4.7 per 100 million vehicle miles tied the previous all-time low set in 1958 and was a four percent reduction from 4.9 in 1961.

New all-time highs of 4,207,446 licensed drivers, 3,498,758 motor vehicles, and 33.2 billion miles of travel contributed to greater accident exposure which in turn figured in the increased accidents. The figures included gains of two percent in drivers, three percent in vehicles, and four percent in mileage compared with 1961.

Who says times have changed? We know a man who is looking forward to summer picnics.

Local Dairy Queen Opening Saturday

Among "signs of spring" is the opening for the season of the Chelsea Dairy Queen stand at M-52 and Old US-12, scheduled for Saturday, April 10.

Duane Luick and his wife, Joan, who owned the Dexter Dairy Queen from 1953 until 1960 and have been associated with the company for 10 years, will be operating the Chelsea stand.

For the past two years David and Martha Luick, a brother and sister-in-law operated the Chelsea stand.

Life would be more sensible if people were more sensible.

Cafeteria Menu

Chelsea High school cafeteria menus for the three days school will be in session next week, following spring vacation, are as follows:

Wednesday, April 17—Sloppy joes, cheese, wax beans, fruit.

Thursday, April 18—Chili, tossed salad, cherry cobbler, orange juice.

Friday, April 19—Macaroni and cheese, egg salad sandwiches, peas, fruit cocktail.

Some form of bread and milk is included in each day's menu.

Area Scout Leaders Attending Series of Training Conferences

The Iroquois District of Boy Scouts Council is holding a Boy Scout Leader Training Conference at Camp Newkirk near Dexter. The complete course includes several indoor sessions held each Wednesday night and will be climaxed a week-end camping trip.

Several men were honored with certificates at last Wednesday's meeting in recognition of work completed in the first three training sessions. These men were: Hanselman, H. Pritts and H. W. of Saline; J. Scott, R. Frisch, Reinhardt, H. Baker, and R. Anderson of Chelsea; R. Armentrout of Manchester; B. Wild and B. from Whitmore Lake; from M. were R. Zoltowski, D. Posey, C. Monk; M. Gold and L. C. from Dexter.

In addition to the above there are 16 others who are attending. The topic of the Wednesday meeting was "How to Train Your Junior Leaders" and the April session was spent discussing "Vacationing and How to Make It Work."

The training conference is being conducted by R. Foye and R. L. bert and other area scout leaders.

Superstitions are opinions others.
