Annual House Tour Slated For Saturday

Co-Op Nursery Sponsoring Visit To Area Homes

Chelsea-Dexter Co-Operative Nursery's fourth annual house tour takes place Saturday, April 27, during the hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. On the itinerary are the Chelsea Methodist Home, the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Weiss on the Home grounds, Donley Boyer residence at 10 Moore Dr. in Lanewood subdivision, and the Dale Claire and Snyder residences at North Lake. The Snyder residence is at 13948 Bramble Brae Dr. and the Claires' is at 13890 Bramble Brae Dr. in the past few weeks. The tour has outlined highlights of the homes on the tour—those of Mr. and Mrs. Donley Boyer and Mrs. Donald Snyder—and mentioned some of the points of interest at the Methodist Home. The emphasis is on the home life and the Dale Claire at North Lake. It was built in 1929 and has been attractively remodeled by the Claires during the years they have lived there. Committees in charge of arguments for the tour mention the "most unusual exterior brick" used in construction of the Claire home, a feature as one approaches. Entering the large living room with 20-foot beamed ceiling, reminiscent of English type homes and also overlooking the room, an unusual and exceptionally attractive appearance. The modern kitchen and the dining room of a rustic appearance because of the inspired use of an American type copper light fixture. Another modernized feature is the bathroom where wall-to-wall has been applied to create a decorative effect in lavender white with turquoise accents. The turquoise touches are used, in the living area, appearing the antique white satin drapes, tweed carpeting and in decorative glassware. Views of the lake may be seen in the living room and an adjoining patio as well as from Mr. and Mrs. Claire's office which is a walnut-finished electrically heated room that was formerly a summer kitchen. One wall has been converted to full length storage cabinets topped by a continuous shelf which serves as additional space. Open bookshelves at the window and bookshelves. The counter-top serves as additional desk space. In the upper photo may be seen a view of the attractive living room facing toward the balcony with its wrought iron railing. The spacious room accommodates a grand piano and tastefully arranged, attractive furniture. The Claires have lived in their North Lake home, 13890 Bramble Brae Dr., the past six years.

4 Convicts Escape from State Prison

Chelsea police officers were alerted Tuesday morning that four prisoners had escaped during the night from Jackson State Prison including one whose address had been listed as Chelsea when he was sentenced in 1960.

The latter is Robert L. Gipson who was serving 13 to 25 years in prison for the second-degree murder of Danny Haines, 21, of Gregory. Haines died Dec. 29, 1959, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, about 60 hours after Gipson fired a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun at him.

The other escapees, all of whom are described as "extremely dangerous," are James J. Hall, 40, of Battle Creek; Richard Mauch, of Jackson and Elmer Crachy, 35, of Paw Paw.

The first one of the four discovered to be missing was Hall, at 2:45 a.m. All the escapees, except Hall, had used pillows and blankets to form dummies on their cell bunks and guards checking the cells may have assumed the forms they saw inside were the men.

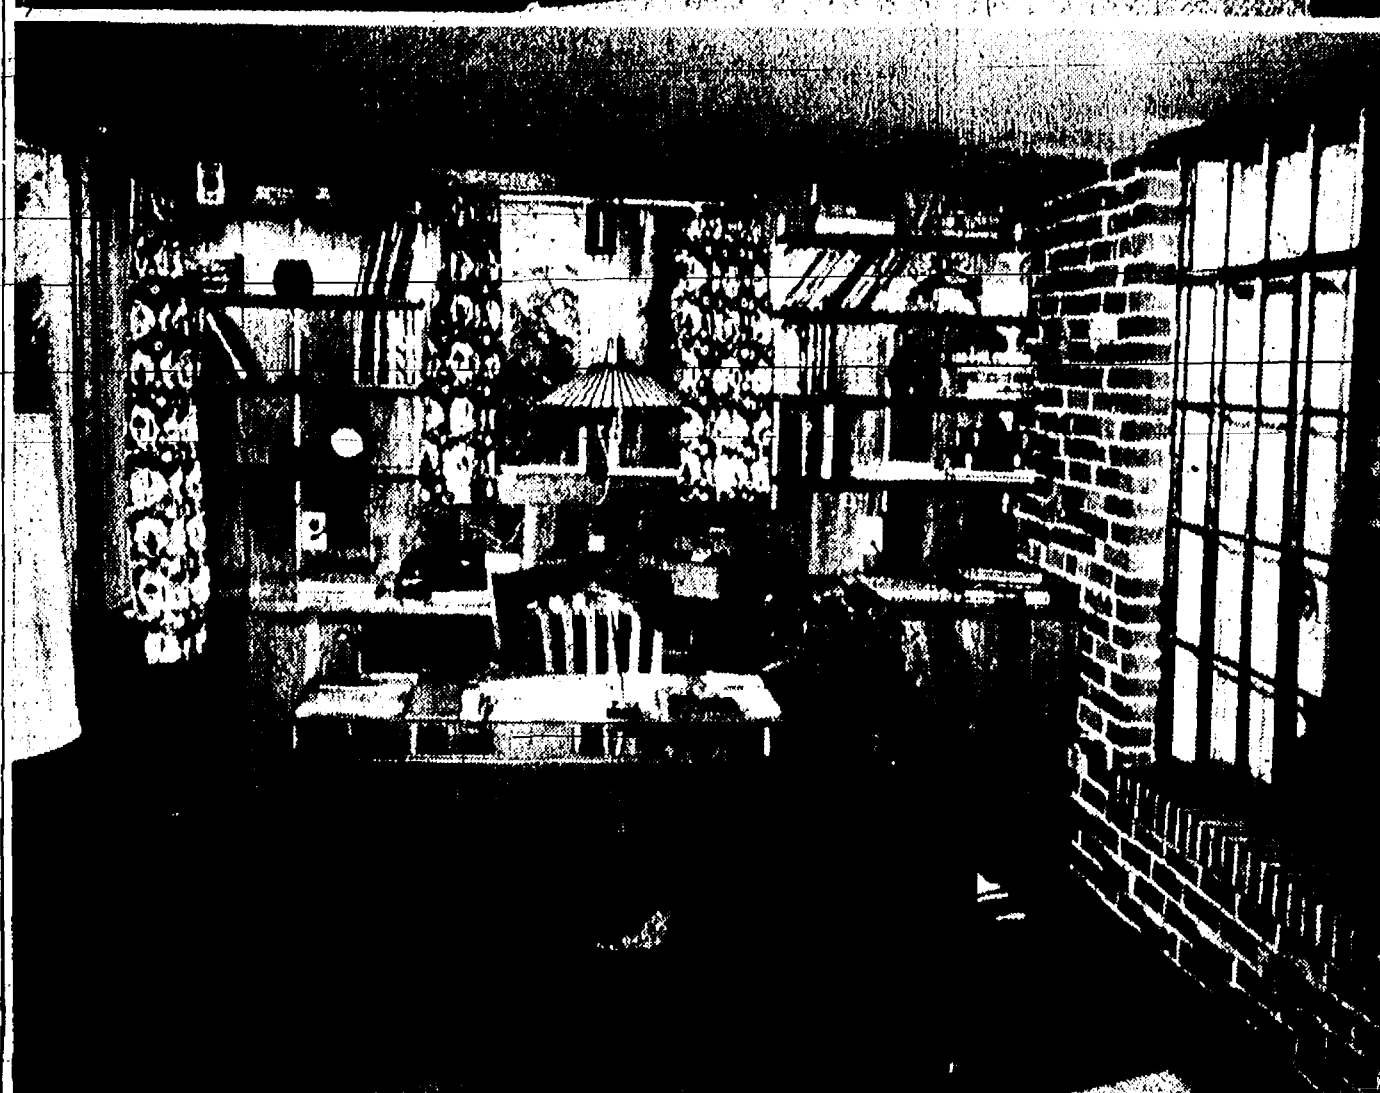

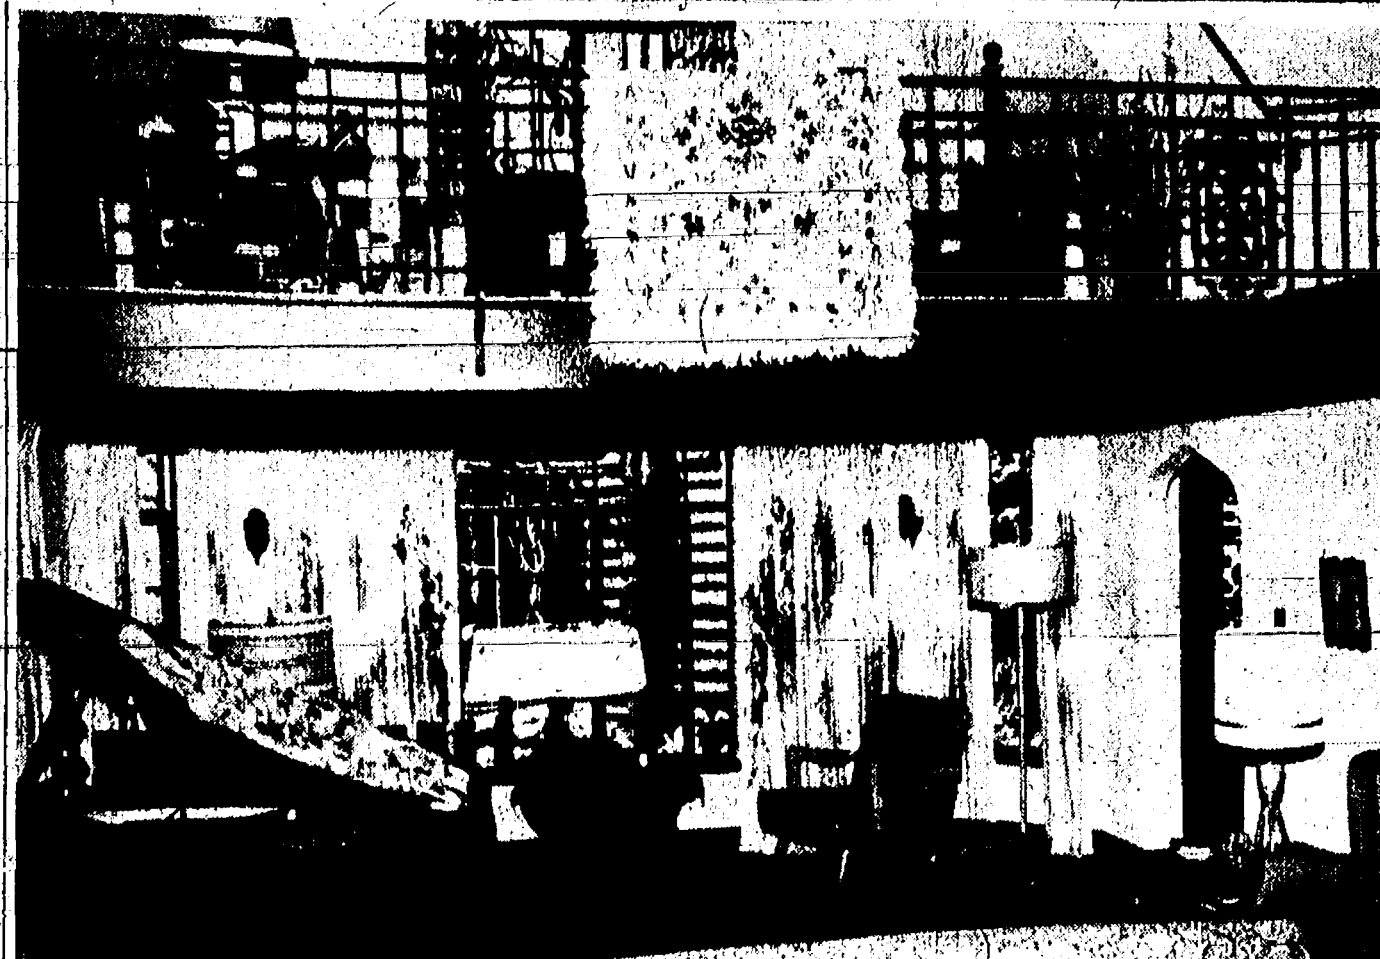

The convicts had sawed through two sets of bars in preparation for their escape and apparently ran directly under a high guard's tower and across a lighted yard.

Know Your Emergency Siren Signals

Would you know how to interpret the emergency warnings given here in Chelsea by the local fire siren in case of a sudden emergency of serious nature? Chances are you wouldn't, unless you are one of the five percent or so of the area populace who are actively engaged in a volunteer or regular emergency occupation. Cards carrying the warning signals have been printed by the thousands—a few individuals carry these in their wallets, but some of them could not tell you what they read unless they dig them out and review them—others can't even find them amid the many cards and pictures they carry.

TWO VIEWS of the Dale Claires' home at North Lake, one of the five stops on the Chelsea-Dexter Co-Operative Nursery's fourth annual house tour Saturday, April 27. The lower photo shows Claire's office in the area which formerly served as a summer porch. The farther wall has built-in bookshelves at either side of the window and built-in storage counter across the entire space under the window and bookshelves. The counter-top serves as additional desk space. In the upper photo may be seen a view of the attractive living room facing toward the balcony with its wrought iron railing. The spacious room accommodates a grand piano and tastefully arranged, attractive furniture. The Claires have lived in their North Lake home, 13890 Bramble Brae Dr., the past six years.

County-Wide CD Exercise Set for Sunday

Emergency Equipment Display Available for Public Inspection

Dexter will host a communications day Civil Defense exercise Sunday afternoon with activities to begin at 1:30 p.m. in the water tower area at the eastern edge of the village.

Zone V directors, Vic Sindlinger and Frank Haggard, will supervise test activities. There will be a display of emergency equipment. Auxiliary Police from both Dexter and Chelsea will be working with Dexter police officers in setting up and testing special equipment to include communications facilities.

The equipment will be dispatched from other locations in the county under simulated emergency conditions and will travel, as if a real emergency existed, to arrive in Dexter by 1 p.m.

Local government officials from Dexter will be on hand as well as officials from other communities in the county.

Area citizens are asked to cooperate with the exercise and are invited to come and view the displays.

Dogs Must Be Confined During Nesting Season

Conservation Officer D. L. Boyer is reminding area dog owners that all dogs must be confined—either tied up or in enclosed yards or homes—from April 15 through July 15. This is in accordance with state laws for protection of small game during the nesting season. Dogs may not legally be permitted to run at large at any time during the three-month period designated.

1964 Wheat Allotments Being Mailed

Notices of 1964-crop wheat acreage allotments have been mailed to wheat farm operators, Max Kalmbach, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

For most wheat farms, the chairman explained, the allotment represents the farm's share of the 1964 national wheat allotment of 49.5 million acres. For small farms, however—those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres—the allotment represents the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 90 percent of the farm's average 1950-61 wheat acreage, but not more than 15 acres.

Kalmbach pointed out that all the wheat produced on a participating farm's wheat allotment acreage may be marketed free of penalty if marketing quotas are made effective for the 1964 wheat crop. All wheat from a farm which had no history in the three base years.

Mothers Urge Action After Molestation

Representatives of the recently-formed Mothers-Club of Chelsea attended the Village Council meeting April 16 to request some action toward possible construction of a street in the southwest area of the village leading to South Elementary school. Trustee Paul Bollinger, as chairman of the Public Works Department committee was delegated to work with the club women's group in seeking a solution to their problem, according to reports of the meeting.

The club women expressed concern for the safety of small children using a short cut through swampy and wooded area east of the subdivision.

It was in this area that an incident of child molesting was reported to Chelsea police on Dec. 28. The mother of an eight-year-old child called police that afternoon, and when an officer responded to investigate he found tracks in the snow substantiating the child's story that a man had approached her as she was sleigh riding and asked her to play with him and go for a walk.

A description of the man was obtained and his footsteps were tracked in the snow leading first south and then north before the trail was lost in the wheel tracks of automobile traffic.

The case is still open on records of the Chelsea Police Department.

Fire Dept. Kept Busy by Grass Fires

Chelsea firemen had several grass fires to combat again during the past week; however, they look for a little relief since the heavy rains of Monday night.

In addition to the grass fires they had a call at 7:04 a.m. Friday to George's Shoe Repair Shop on the second floor of the Hilltop Plumbing store, corner Main and Park St. Fire in a gas stove in the apartment adjoining the shop was extinguished by firemen.

Grass fires were listed as follows: Saturday, 3:35 p.m., along the railroad tracks at the cemeteries; Sunday, 4:06 p.m., along the railroad tracks west of Chelsea from the Hafner farm to Notten Rd.; Sunday, 7:10 p.m., on Garvey Rd. along the railroad tracks; and Monday, 9:15 p.m., on (Continued on page eight)

Mortgage Burning Will Be Feature of Special Sunday Afternoon Service

The burning of the mortgage and the dedication of the $70,000 Educational Unit of the First Methodist church will be special features of a service Sunday, April 28 at 4 p.m. in the church.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed, resident bishop of the Detroit Area, covering all of Michigan, will deliver the sermon. He is presently the presiding chairman of the Council of Bishops of the Church.

All choirs of the church will sing. The Junior choir, directed by Mrs. S. D. Kinde, and accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Weiss, will sing "How Great Thou Art." The Senior choir, directed by David Lindsay, will sing "The Lord is Gracious," and the Youth choir will sing "Glory to God," accompanied by Mrs. James Gaunt. Claude Isham has arranged special organ music.

Laymen assisting in the service will be James Hoffmeyer, chairman of the Commission on Worship; Dr. Joseph Fisher, who served as chairman of the fund raising campaign in 1959; Dr. Clare Warren, chairman of the Commission on Christian Education; and Calvin C. Summers, chairman of the Official Board.

Following the burning of the mortgage, Mrs. Russell Bernath, of the Church School Worker's Conference, will present the Educational Unit to Bishop Reed for dedication to God for the purpose of worship, fellowship, study and service. The Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor, will preside and offer the prayer of dedication.

As a memento each person attending the service will be given a six-page folder featuring the service, a church directory and pictures.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will serve at a coffee hour on the upper floor of the new unit during open house immediately following the worship service. Mrs. J. W. Smith is chairman of the refreshments committee. The public is invited to the service.

St. Paul's Church Starting Building Fund Campaign

St. Paul's United Church of Christ has announced the opening of a financial campaign to raise money for what is described as "the broadest expansion program ever undertaken" by the Chelsea church in its 95-years of existence as a congregation—the building of a new church on property already acquired on Old US-12.

Adolph J. Koch, experienced in spearheading campaigns to raise church building funds, will arrive here from St. Louis, Mo., this week-end to direct the efforts of local committees.

Meetings will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week with all committees and members of teams of visitors who will be calling on church members in a concerted effort on Sunday, May 5. St. Paul's people will be asked to remain at home from 1:30 p.m. until 6 p.m. that day to receive the campaign workers.

The Tuesday evening meeting will be for all people of the congregation who wish to hear the guest speaker explain the program. Those who need transportation may call David Strieter or P. G. Schaub, Jr. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

Co-chairmen of the financial campaign are Paul Schaub, Jr., and David Strieter.

M-52 Detoured for Construction Work

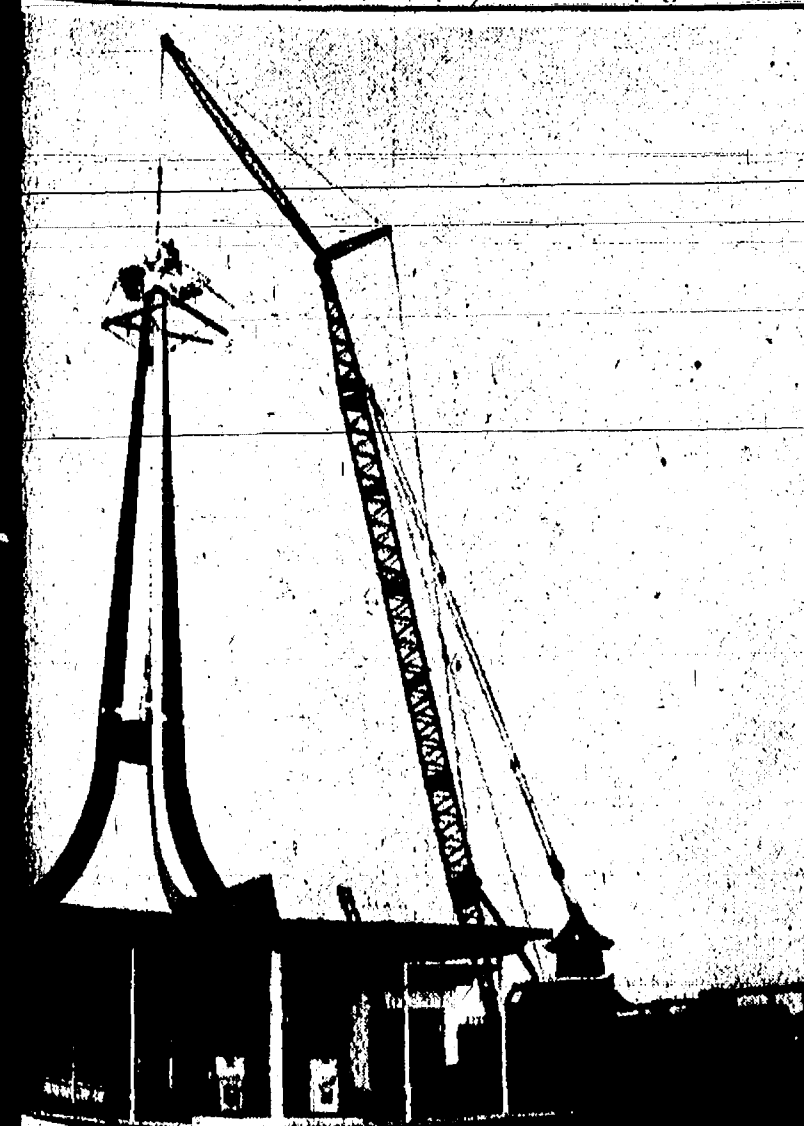

M-52 traffic north of Chelsea is being detoured by way of Waterloo Rd. as work on relocating parts of M-52 gets under way. M-52 has been closed to traffic since Sunday night.

Principally, the relocation involves straightening curves, cutting down hills and widening where necessary.

BOZO AT BIRTHDAY PARTY—Janet Louise Carpenter will always remember her sixth birthday and her sister, Teresa Lynn, her fourth birthday, both of which occur on the same day, April 18, as the day they had as a guest at their birthday party, Bozo, the Clown, in person. The party also honored their brother, Carl, Jr., whose sixth birthday occurred April 8. They have an older brother, Randy Jon, who was one year old Jan. 11. Bozo, the Clown, who appears each afternoon at 5 o'clock on Station WJIM-TV, Lansing, in the Comedy Matinee program, entertained the children at the party with stories and antics such as he uses in his daily television appearance. His appearance at the party was a gift from the Carpenter children's great-grandmother, Mrs. George Penbody of Scarborough, Me. The three children who were being honored at the birthday party are standing directly in front of Bozo. Janet Louise (left, with her finger in her mouth), Carl, Jr., in striped shirt next to her, and Teresa Lynn, at right. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter, of 458 W. North St. There were 41 children at the party.

NEW SHELL SERVICE STATION—When the above photo was taken, the 110-foot boom was lowering the holder for the 10-foot revolving illuminated sign which will top the 90-foot tower at the Shell Service Station at I-94 and M-52. The top of the tower, which is constructed of laminated beams, is 90 feet from the ground. The 10-foot revolving sign on its 24-inch holder, adds 12 feet to the height bringing it to a total of 102 feet. It can be seen for miles in either direction on I-94. Burlin Brown is the general contractor on the construction of the new style of service station—the tower is expected to become a Chelsea area landmark. Two men were working atop the 90-foot tower when the photo was taken. They were on the catwalk, now enclosed only by an open railing. When completed, the catwalk will be enclosed on the outside, and will reflect the light of the revolving sign. The service station is to be operated by Harmon and Ann Arbor and is expected to open for business shortly. The new station is adjacent to the new Schumm restaurant which is under construction in preparation for opening in approximately six weeks.

Unused Refrigerators Still Provide Source of Danger to Small Children

Last year was the worst year on record for children's deaths in refrigerators, according to the National Safety Council which keeps records on such things. The Council says it cannot give a reason why 1962 was so tragic for U. S. children in this respect.

All of us know discarded refrigerators are a danger to children who are too often tempted to get inside and close the door. Once this is done, there is no way for the trapped child inside to open the door. And if no one knows a child is inside and the door is not opened quickly, suffocation takes place quickly, for air cannot penetrate into the refrigerator box sufficiently to sustain life for more than a few minutes. It was the knowledge of this danger, learned through tragic experiences, that prompted the law a few years ago that all unused refrigerators must have the locks removed. But, obviously, this law, like many others, is not always observed.

The small refrigerator box, such as used in apartments, seems to be particularly appealing to small children, especially during the time the box is being defrosted.

While we haven't had any local deaths by refrigerator suffocation, we know the danger exists and hence are pointing it out as a reminder for all to remove locks on any unused boxes and to be alert when defrosting the refrigerator in the presence of any small children. It is a timely warning in view of the record number of children who died needlessly in refrigerators in 1962.

Late Robert Frost Will Long Be Remembered By Nation He Loved

This is not a delayed testimonial to the late Robert Frost, but a note on his personality and character which we like to remember of the famed poet.

Many editorial writers have been writing about Frost and describing him as a man who was possessed of a homely nature and a poet who spoke in warm and simple truths.

We don't think this is the complete truth about Robert Frost. It is just a nice-sounding tribute for a man now departed this world. Robert Frost was also a man with a sense of humor far above the ordinary, homely giant.

Our favorite story to illustrate the unusual approach he followed was one related by a New York newspaper man. He had interviewed Frost at Amherst College in Massachusetts where Frost was teaching English.

He quoted Frost as saying that he hated examinations for the students, though he had to give them at the end of the course because it was a rule of the college. But, he said, he made them as easy and simple as he could.

"Once for the examination I asked the question, 'What good did my course do for you?' and requested brief replies. The answer I liked best was, 'not a dam bit,'" Frost stated. The newspaper man asked whether the student had still passed the course. "I gave him 90 percent," Frost replied. The reported asked why he had not received 100 percent. "He left the 'n' off the damn," Frost answered.

That was Frost's sense of humor and his genuine quality—but he was not a slave of acceptance to every conventional practice and he was not simple because the ways of life and learning are not simple. Our nation will miss him in many ways.

More Babies?

Michigan's Birth Rate is bound to go up soon, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

The 1962 birth rate was 182.476, the lowest since 1932, and the fifth consecutive year to show a drop from the previous 12-month period. The births last year were nearly 10,000 fewer than in 1961, Heustis said.

"Whether births continue to go down or remain on a plateau for next few years is anybody's guess. One thing is certain, however, they are bound to go up later," Heustis said.

The Health Commission's prediction comes from a look at past statistics.

The majority of parents of babies born during the last few years were born during the 1930's and early 1940's, when births averaged around 90,000.

Within the coming five years most of the "War Babies," born from 1945-49 when births averaged around 150,000 per year, will be getting married and having babies of their own.

You Need It

The newspaper you are reading now is an essential part of our free society although you might at first think of it as just a "frill." J. Montgomery Curtis, director of the American Press Institute at Columbia University, recently described the newspaper as "the most intimate, personal and effective form of communication."

"Pointing to the New York newspaper strikes earlier this year, Curtis said, 'the loss of a newspaper to a community leaves a vacuum that cannot be filled by any other means of communication.'"

Radio and television also contribute to the public's right to know. But both of these are immediate and not long lasting, said Curtis.

"When it comes to news in depth, television and radio just aren't in the same league with the newspaper," he said. "The New York Times proved this point. The loss of newspapers resulted in a decrease in department store sales, as well as in food store sales, auto sales, and general stock-market activity," he said.

In addition to these advertising benefits, Curtis pointed out the loss of newspapers causes drops in attendance at many of the cultural and entertainment events; people had difficulty locating available housing; and employers and potential employees couldn't get together.

Curtis predicts that the newspaper will continue to provide the most complete coverage of any media.

Few Harm Many

Most businessmen are honest and the exceptions hurt the majority as much as they harm the consumer.

This is one of the primary observations of the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office, which has been hearing complaints about these exceptions for nearly two years.

In this short time, the Division has processed more than 600 complaints involving frauds or cheats. The Division accepts only cases where facts show a violation of state law and a continuous pattern of operation sufficient to imperil the public interest. The Division does not handle cases which can be handled exclusively by private counsel, but only those which involve a state question.

Deceptive or "bait" advertising, misrepresentations, referral sales and other deceptive buying, selling and lending practices are the primary areas brought to the attention of the Attorney General's staff.

Hopes are that both the continued existence of the Division's probing into complaints and likely legislation to tighten laws governing possible areas of fraud will discourage such practices and cut the minority in the business world which falls short of honest dealings.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Our boys in Washington have been getting deeper and deeper in debt now for about 80 years and I been wondering what would happen if we final went plum busted. I recollect in 1924 that Germany went bankrupt and was trying to spend printing press money that wouldn't buy nothing.

Well, I see where the House Committee on Government Operations, whatever that is, has come out with the figgers. This agency says the U. S. holdings, as of June 30, 1962, was worth $299.4 billion, and budgeted again our national debt of $208.2 billion, made us $1.2 billion in the black.

They give a list of our holdings and the two biggest was 772 million acres of real estate worth $86 billion, and holdings owned by the Defense Department worth $165 billion.

Furthermore, this Committee says these figgers is based on purchase price and would be way low on the market today. For instance, they say the 18 acres around the White House cost original $1,000 and is listed at that price in the holdings.

But I see in the papers next day where some Republicans in the Congress claims these figgers was worked up by the Democrats and ain't to be trusted. But any way you look at it, Mister Editor, Democrat or Republican figgers, our holdings is just one-half of one per cent ahead of what we owe. I ain't no authority on money when you get above $1 but it looks to me like we're getting the red ink and the black ink mighty close together.

I was giving these items to the fella at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle allowed as how the average taxpayer, unless he had went to Harvard or some of them fancy colleges, couldn't even add and subtract such figgers, much less understand 'em. Ed says he has quit trying to read Government finances since then Congressmen put the tally sheet in orbit.

Clem Webster said it was all he could do to keep up with the price of hogs since we crossed the New Frontier. For instance, he told the fella he sold a hog last year and went to town to test out the price on sausage. He said he sold another hog last week for the same price and went to town to test it out on sausage and it was up 2 cent a pound. What he wants them fella on the House Committee on Government Operations to tell him is who is getting that extra 2 cent.

I reckon, Mister Editor, the feelings the fella at the country store has got on this matter is a pretty good cross-section of opinion everywhere in the nation. Government spending and the public debt has got plum out of the range where a average citizen can understand it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Labor Shortage in Europe

Shortage of Europe's industrialized countries suffered in 1962 from labor shortages, the International Labor Organization, a United Nations agency, has reported. Italy, which has long had a labor shortage, was the most affected, with unemployment at 10.5 percent in 1962, up from 8.5 percent in 1961. Ireland's unemployment in 1962 was 12.5 percent, up from 10.5 percent in 1961.

1962 unemployment rate of 5 percent was an historical low. Registered totals of unemployment fell in Western Germany by 65 percent from 1959 to 1962, and continued to decline last year.

Gas Company's Budget Payment Plan Is Popular

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's offer to help customers level off their cold weather gas bills through a budget plan is proving very popular, according to the utility.

Hugh C. Daly, executive vice-president, said that more than 65,000 applications have been received in the few weeks since the plan was announced and that they are coming in at a rate of 15,000 a week.

The budget plan will permit gas heating customers to pay the same amount each month from September 1 through May so they can budget their income better and won't have to meet unexpected high bills when the weather is extremely cold, as it was last winter.

As the applications are received, electronic computers determine the individual customer's average normal use of gas for the heating season and divide the amount by nine. The customer pays for only that amount each month, regardless of his gas usage.

At the end of May, his actual consumption is compared with the estimated bill and the difference is reflected either as a credit or addition to his June bill.

Customers who wish to join the plan are urged to make application immediately. Applications may be obtained at any Gas Company office. Because of the time required for processing the applications, a deadline for joining the plan will have to be established, Daly said.

A make-up session was announced for basic training on May 1. Any other session may be made up during the fall course.

Climaxing Saturday evening's campfire ceremony, William Windle, scout executive for Iroquois District, surprised both Poye and Lambert by presenting each with a Three-year Training Program Award in recognition of three years work in this field, and of putting to use their training in helping to give boys a better program. The awards included certificates and miniature gold medals in the form of an "A" with the universal scout emblem superimposed; the medals are suspended on a narrow green and white ribbon. Windle said this is the first time these awards have been presented in the Iroquois District.

Severe Hail, Wind Damage Hits Manchester

Although other Washtenaw county areas, including Milan and Manchester suffered extensive hail and wind damage, during violent thunderstorms Wednesday night of last week, the Chelsea-Dexter area escaped serious results of the storm.

Tornado alerts were broadcast with reports that several had passed just south of the Washtenaw county line.

Airplanes were damaged at Milan Airport and homes in the affected areas were damaged when hailstones reportedly 2 1/2 inches in diameter fell during the storm.

Manchester greenhouses suffered particularly heavy damage from the oversize hailstones.

The Wurster Greenhouse at 601 Vernor St. reported more than 100 windows broken and Schebor's Greenhouse at 14345 Logan Rd. had 62 broken panes.

Extensive damage from tornado-like winds and heavy hail was reported in the city of Monroe and in rural areas of Monroe county, as well as several other Southeastern Michigan communities.

Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Mrs. Addie Pitzmier and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Satterthwaite were Mrs. Hannah Schoen and Mrs. Bertha Breitenvischer of Dexter.

Miss Marguerite Elsen of Detroit spent Saturday with her aunt, Miss Lillie Wackenhut. Accompanied by Mrs. Elba Gage, they were luncheon guests of Miss Emily Steinbach at her home in Dexter.

SCOUT LEADER CAMP-OUT—"Hurry up and get our patrol flag," yelled one patrol leader to his group as the photographer appeared at the Iroquois District weekend training session climaxing a seven-week training schedule for Boy Scout Adult leaders. This group posed in the midst of their cook fires, right at the supper hour last Saturday at Camp Newkirk, just outside Dexter. After sleeping under canvas in Friday night's downpour and spending Saturday engaged in outdoor skills, this group was more than ready for Saturday's dinner. In the front row, from left, are Martin Gold, Hob Anderson, Bill Windle, George Chambers, Harold West, Ralph Frisch, Harold Baker, Alvin Reinhardt, Bradford Barr and John Potts. Second row, from right, are Leon Case, Jim Klapperich, Bob Zoltowski, Bob Lambert, Don Posey, Bob Poye, Wendell Young, Charles Monk, Ron McNally, Harold Hanselman, Harold Fritts and Ed Schmok.

15 Scout Leaders of District Complete Training Course

On the week-end of April 19, 22 men from the Iroquois District were at Camp Newkirk, Dexter, for a training session in camping and outdoor skills. These men (scoutmasters and troop committeemen) received instruction in all phases of the outdoor scouting program.

This outdoor training session was the climax of seven weeks of training. These men took this training to make themselves better scout leaders. The sessions have been on Wednesday nights from 7:30 to 10:00 and have included all phases of scouting. Leaders for the course were Robert Poye and Robert Lambert. Others helping present the material were: Bob Wild, Ed Dickleman, Harold West, Ron McNally, Bob Armentrout, Harold Baker, Bob Zoltowski and Martin Gold.

At the campfire Saturday night, Bob Poye announced that 15 men had completed the entire training series. These men are Ralph Frisch, Alvin Reinhardt, Robert Anderson, Robert Poye, and Harold Baker, all of Chelsea; Leon Case, Martin Gold and Robert Lambert, all of Dexter; Bob Wild and Bradford Barr of Whitmore Lake; Donald Posey and Charles Monk of Milan; and Harold Hanselman, Harold Fritts and Harold West, all of Saline.

In addition to this group who completed all of the training, the following men missed only one session: Robert Armentrout and Ron McNally, both of Manchester; Joe Scott of Chelsea, and George Chambers of Whitmore Lake.

A make-up session was announced for basic training on May 1. Any other session may be made up during the fall course.

Climaxing Saturday evening's campfire ceremony, William Windle, scout executive for Iroquois District, surprised both Poye and Lambert by presenting each with a Three-year Training Program Award in recognition of three years work in this field, and of putting to use their training in helping to give boys a better program. Three Cars in Pile-Up Saturday On Main Street

Three cars were damaged and four persons suffered various injuries in a traffic mishap which occurred in front of the Chelsea Theatre on Main St. at 9:15 p.m. Saturday just at the time theatre patrons were leaving after the first show.

According to reports of the accident, a car driven by Conrad Connelly of Old US-12 and headed north rammed the rear of a car driven by Claude Murphy of Ann Arbor and pushed it forward into the car ahead which was driven by Francis Loree of Howell, who is employed at the Stop & Shop supermarket here.

The Murphy and Loree cars were at the end of a line of cars stopped for the Park-South St. traffic light.

The Connelly and Murphy cars were so badly damaged they had to be towed from the scene but Loree's could leave under its own power.

Connelly sustained severe mouth lacerations and a passenger in his car, Ronald Howes of West Middle St., was severely cut about the face. Both were treated at the office of a physician here.

Murphy's injuries were listed as leg abrasions and Loree complained of neck pain and told officers he would see his own doctor in Howell. Police Officer Earl Willis, accompanied by Auxiliary Policemen Eugene Hageman, police the accident and directed traffic until the street was cleared.

Highest Birth Rate

"Most recent statistics assembled by the demographic division of the United Nations on population growth indicate that the Ivory Coast had the world's highest birth rate in 1961 (56.1 per 1,000 of population). Sweden had the lowest with 13 per 1,000.

House Tour . . .

Another view of the lake—showing the island and the lagoon, may be seen from the office window.

An unusual feature of the Chelsea's English style home is the floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace in the living room. Adding a decorative touch are a sunburst clock and figures of fighting cocks.

At the Methodist Home, visitors will be taken on conducted tours of as much of the entire Home facility as they may wish to see.

Visitors will be met at the main front entrance. From there they will be taken to the newly-remodeled dining room, past the kitchens and into the new building, the sixth unit of the Home. Here they will be shown the four floors of the building—the ground level which is the area used for arts and crafts and for recreation; the first floor where the 22 apartment units are located, each complete with private bath, vanity, clothes closet, compact kitchen, private balcony and living area; the second floor which is equipped for general hospital care and has a doctor's examining room, diet kitchen, dining room and lounge for residents and a nurses' lounge; and the third floor with its maximum security features for the comfort and safety of mental patients. There are elevators in the new building.

Returning through the main dining room and lounge the guests may exit past the Home's chapel to reach the Weiss residence.

Anyone who wishes to tour the original section of the Home, as well, will be conducted wherever they wish to visit. A number of hostess groups have been assigned to assist visitors.

The Home may be visited at any time from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. with the exception of the Home's dinner hour from 12 noon until 1 p.m.

For the convenience and pleasure of House Tour guests, the Chelsea Child Study Club is sponsoring a salad smorgasbord luncheon to be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at the Congregational church.

General chairman of the house tour are Mrs. George Palmer and Mrs. David Longworth; ticket chairman are Mrs. Raymond Steinbach of Chelsea and Mrs. Patrick McLeod of Dexter; and the committee in charge of assigning hostesses at the various locations includes Mrs. Jack Merkel of Chelsea and Mrs. Ned Palmer of Dexter.

CUBA—WARNED

President Kennedy was positive in his warning that United States firepower will blast any Cuban-based warship or planes that dare attack American vessels or aircraft.

Hours after the warning the Cuban Government rejected and denied categorically the charge that its jets poured rocket fire near the disabled shrimp boat Alia in the Florida straits.

Gas Pipeline Construction Progressing Rapidly

Laying of pipe for the new gas pipeline from Pleasant Lake pumping station to the Howell storage field is progressing rapidly. The new line, now being constructed, will feed stored gas from the Howell field compressor station to Panhandle's main Michigan transmission lines, located south of Chelsea. The Howell field, contributing 2.2-billion cubic feet of gas to the distribution system last winter. The new line is expected to raise its pumping capacity to 4.4 billion cubic feet by next winter.

Purpose of the storage area is to accumulate gas near at hand, during the summer, large quantities of gas from Panhandle's fields in the southwest, in preparation for the heavy winter demand in the state.

Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. has set up an office in Dexter and a crew of approximately 15 administrative and inspection personnel are making the office their headquarters during the construction of the pipeline from Pleasant Lake to Howell.

The explanation for big graft is the number of people willing to accept little graft.

AGRICULTURE in Action

by M. L. Voel

★ Farmers and Michigan Week

There will be more emphasis on agriculture in this year's Michigan Week promotion, May 19-25. Right or wrong, some farmers have been unhappy with past Michigan Week events in which they felt farmers and their "second largest" industry had been glossed over by the more glamorous attributes of the state.

True, "All-Michigan" dinners featured the state's many excellent foods, and in some areas full programs saluted local agriculture. But while business, and industry, education, health, and natural resources were spotlighted; farmers mostly stayed in the background.

Most farmers would agree that it was their own fault. When it comes to talking about themselves, what they do, and what it means to non-farmers in terms of the world's best foods at the world's lowest prices, farmers just naturally seem to be tight-lipped.

But this year, thanks to farm leadership offered by such groups as the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Michigan Farm Bureau, much greater emphasis will be placed on the role of farming.

An agricultural award will be given for "a product or process" that adds to the economic betterment of the "community, area and state." This product or process should: "advance or expand Michigan agriculture, attract favorable attention to, or investment in the community, area and state."

Most basic to the award are requirements that call for the product or process to have been originated or developed in Michigan, and that it must "fit the American concept of accomplishment through individual effort, initiative and capital."

In the words of Clarence Prentice, secretary-manager of the Michigan Farm Bureau, and a leading member of the Michigan Week Agricultural Committee: "We've got to learn to think 'big' about our state. We must get into the habit of thinking about Michigan in the same positive manner that Texans think of Texas!"

NINETY-TWO CUB SCOUTS and parents of Pack 125 were in the group who went to Ann Arbor Saturday, April 20, to visit the U. of M. ROTC and the Natural Science Museum. Captain Roger Sweeney showed the group many interesting sights around the ROTC and they viewed a Walt Disney film on space.

Wheat Allotments in Mail

The question of whether to use marketing quotas for the 1964 wheat crop will be decided by wheat growers in a referendum on May 21. "Small farm" operators will be eligible to cast ballots provided they register, by May 13, their intention to participate in the 1964 program as an allotment grower. They will do this by signing in the space provided on the back of the regular allotment notice, MQ-24, and filing the notice at the ASCS County Office before the deadline.

Under quotas, a small farm operator who does not elect to participate in the wheat program as an allotment grower would be able to stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his 1964 allotment or his three-year base (but not more than 16 acres) without being subject to marketing quota penalties. Penalties would apply to wheat in excess of this limit. Such a grower will not be eligible to vote in the referendum, however, and he would not be eligible for price support or diversion payments.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1964 wheat crop, price support will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotment at (a) $2 a bushel, national average, on certified wheat, and (b) $1.80 a bushel, national average, on non-certified wheat. Diversion payments will be made to growers on acreage diverted from wheat production into a conserving use (including the acreage reduction reflected in the farm allotment).

If more than a third of the growers voting in the referendum oppose the 1964 crop wheat quotas, price support at 50 percent of parity (about $1.25 a bushel) will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotments. Without quotas, no diversion program would be in effect. As in the past, the allotment will remain in effect, whether or not quotas are approved for the 1964 wheat crop.

Four public educational meetings on the 1964 wheat program are scheduled as follows: April 28, 8 p.m., Rooms 1 and 2, Washtenaw County Building, Ann Arbor; May 2, 8 p.m., Lima Center Community Hall, Lima Township; May 6, 8 p.m., Rooms 1 and 2, Washtenaw County Building, Ann Arbor; May 9, 8 p.m., Superior Township Hall, Superior Township.

All persons interested in the 1964 wheat program are invited to attend these public educational meetings.

Tornado Safety Rules Are Being Distributed

Tornado? This is a word not uncommon in the season between early spring and real summer—when the temperature varies a great deal in a short period. The Michigan Office of Civil Defense has prepared a single sheet containing Tornado Safety Rules, as outlined by the United States Department of Commerce, Weather Bureau, and local civil defense officials are distributing these printed sheets here in the Chelsea area.

How many of these sheets have you noticed in the local post office, or posted in conspicuous spots in the village or townships, and yet failed to read thoroughly? If you have taken the time to read one of these informative sheets, it may save your life or property during coming weeks. If you haven't, better take a minute or two right now and review this tornado information.

Tornadoes occur anywhere in the U.S. at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September. Records show that the average number of days with tornadoes varies from about 12 per year in parts of the midwest to less than one per year in the northwestern and far western states.

Usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud, a tornado sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes when close by. Hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky are tornado weather—however, many such days occur without tornadoes.

An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear, sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color.

Rain, frequently hail, precedes a tornado, with a heavy downpour after it has passed. Most frequent hours for tornadoes are between 3 and 7 p.m., although they have occurred at all hours. They moved from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest, and vary from 10 to 40 miles in path length, the average path being 16 miles long. They may move forward for 300 miles.

Tornadoes travel forward at from 25 to 40 miles per hour on the average—but have varied from 5 to 139 mph. Wind speeds as high as 500 miles per hour have been recorded within a tornado. Chief cause of destruction during a tornado are the violent winds which uproot trees and destroy buildings, creating a serious hazard from objects blown through the air, and differences in air pressure which can lift automobiles and can cause buildings to collapse.

If a tornado approaches or a tornado warning is in effect, stay away from windows—avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums—with large, poorly supported roofs. Keep calm and keep off the telephone—except to report a tornado to the weather authorities—other calls may tie up lines needed to report tornadoes or to pass information of a tornado on the radio or television centers for relay to residents of an affected area.

Chances are that a tornado won't strike Chelsea during the approaching tornado season—but, if it should, won't you do your part in preventing more destruction than necessary by acquainting yourself with the facts on Tornado Safety Rules right now? Five minutes, now, could save a life or a house or harm two months or two weeks from now.

Siren Signals

If this very afternoon there should be an attack from enemy bombers to this locality or a nearby one—what would you do to protect yourself and those near and dear to you? Do you know? Even if officials gave a warning in time for you to take cover, would you recognize it as such? Do you know which of the siren signals warns you to take cover? Which signal is the "all clear?"

WHEN THE WARNING SOUNDS: A steady blast of three to five minutes means attack alert. Don't use the telephone! Turn your AM radio to a Conelrad frequency—640 or 1240—for official directions.

WAILING TONE—this is the up and down tone of the fire siren and of penetrator siren—means attack—take cover immediately in best available shelter! If you are in a building, go into a basement or to an interior first floor room. Stay in shelter until you get word you can leave. If you are outdoors or in a car, go to nearest shelter. If you cannot reach a prepared shelter, lie flat on the ground face down, or crouch on floor of car.

Your family shelter preparations should include a two-week supply of food and water, first aid kit, and battery radio.

Evacuation kit for your automobile with food, water, first aid kit, car or battery radio and blankets should be prepared for your family if you do not already have one.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Thomas Harris and Mrs. Walter Schrader, Jr., have returned home after spending two weeks with relatives in North Carolina. At Camp Lejeune they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schrader, son of Mrs. Schrader and daughter of Mrs. Harris. The Larry Schraders now have a son, Kevin Charles, born March 27. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Walter Schrader also went to Fort Bragg where the latter's brother, Master Sergeant William Schrader, is stationed and visited him and his wife and daughter Denna, at their home in Fayetteville. Among sightseeing trips they enjoyed during their stay was a visit to the azalia festival at Wilmington, N. C.

The rainbow trout has proved he can live in many of Michigan's inland lakes, both north and south. The Conservation Department has planted hundreds of these lakes in nearly every county of the state.

Carol Cameron Engaged In Social Work As Part of College Course

Carol Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cameron, is one of approximately 150 sophomores of Kalamazoo College who are engaged in what the college calls its "Career and Service Quarter."

During the spring quarter of the school year the sophomores will devote their time to job exploration and service to fellow men in a wide variety of projects.

Miss Cameron is engaged as a social work aide with Neighborhood Services in Chicago. The college president, Weimer K. Hicks, explains that the quarter is designed to augment a student's interest in his chosen field and to awaken interest in allied fields.

With service as another focal aspect of the program, students have been placed in positions as pastor's assistants, social workers' aides, and as assistants in state and city hospitals. In all, students have been placed in positions in the fields of medicine, social work, mental health, religion, education, research, business and government. They are in 21 states, a U. S. territory and in five foreign countries.

The Career and Service quarter is the final phase to be put into operation under Kalamazoo's new plan for year-around education. Other unique features of this program include study abroad in the junior year for all qualified students without extra cost and independent research during the senior year.

Second Circuit Judgeship OK'd for Washtenaw County

A second Washtenaw county circuit judge has been approved by both the Michigan State House of Representatives and the Senate and the bill becomes law immediately with the signature of Governor George Romney. The State Senate approved the bill Thursday, April 18.

Romney will appoint the judge to serve until the November, 1968, election. The new appointee is expected to be a Republican.

Mentioned as possibilities for the appointment are William F. Ager, Jr., Washtenaw prosecutor; Douglas K. Reading, former prosecutor and county GOP chairman; Jacob F. Fahrner, Jr., Ann Arbor city attorney; and Ralph C. Keyes, a prominent practicing lawyer.

The bill was given "immediate effect" so that it will become law as soon as it can reach Romney's desk and is signed. With the increasing jam up of approved bills, it is expected the measure will not reach Romney sooner than two weeks.

Washtenaw is the last remaining populous county in Michigan with only one judge.

As a result, Washtenaw Circuit Judge James Breakey, Jr., on the bench since 1946, has gradually been flooded with the largest per capita workload of the state's 81 circuit judges.

The last Supreme Court case, taken in 1961, showed Breakey with some 1650 cases commenced and disposed of in his court annually. The statewide average for the same year was about 900 cases. The bill for the second judgeship was sponsored by Reps. Gilbert E. Bursley (R), Ann Arbor, and James F. Warner (R), Ypsilanti and had bi-partisan support for passage.

St. Paul's Campaign

Bust, Lawrence Gorton, Howard Flintoft, Charles Lancaster and J. R. Seitz.

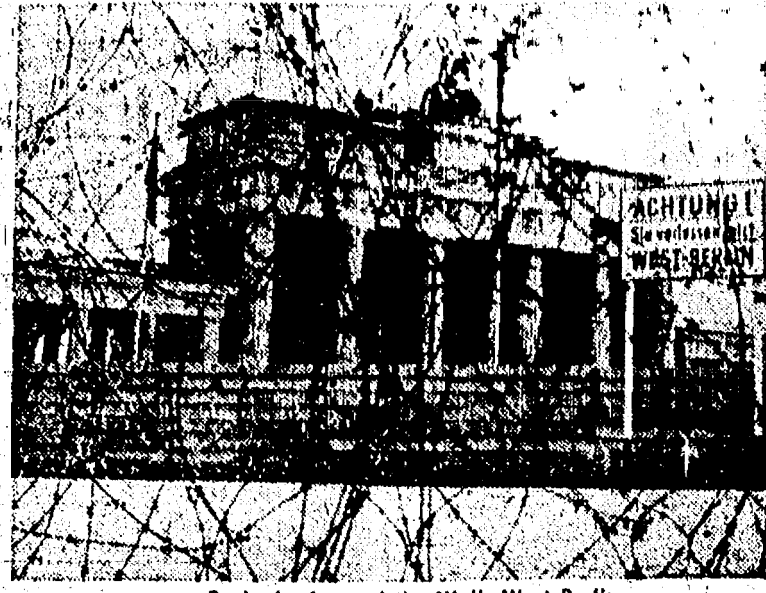

Designated as composition chairman is William K. Blaes; statistical chairman, George Knickerbocker; Mrs. Alma Meserve, office and clerical chairman; Paul Schable, Sr., chairman in charge of a special gifts committee; and Mrs. Margaret Dietle, refreshment committee chairman.

In a letter to all members of the congregation, the committee said, "It is a known fact that this area is fast growing. The Washtenaw County Planning Commission estimates that in 17 years, or by 1980, our population will be 70 percent greater than it was in 1960. This means that if St. Paul's is to grow as fast as the population of the community, we must provide the facilities for a congregation of 850 by 1980."

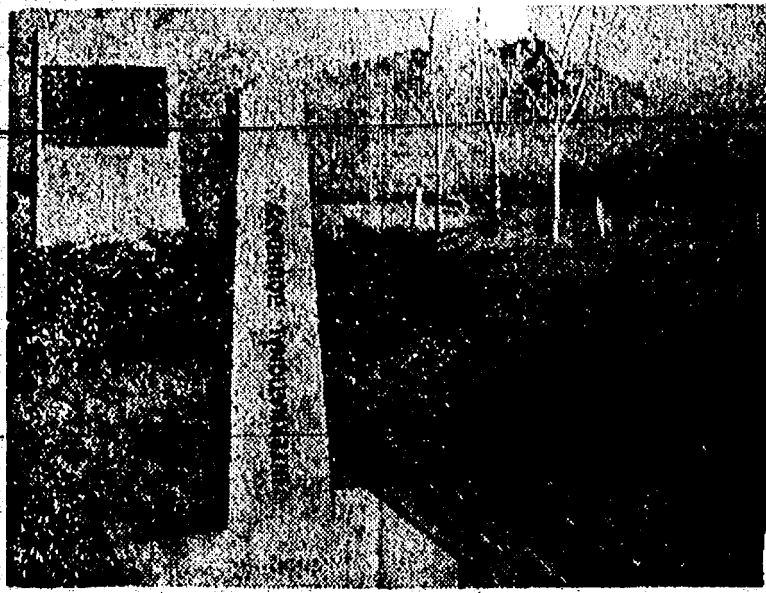

The week of April 28-May 5 is designated as "Project Week" in preparation for the Sunday afternoon visitation May 5.

All workers will be served a noon lunch at the church hall before embarking on the afternoon's program of visitation.

To improve your fishing success with brown trout, study a stream in the day, fish it at night. Drift your bait down into the upper end of likely deep holes, and move it only occasionally. Allow plenty of slack line; a brown that feels line drag will spit out the bait.

Barbed wire and the Wall, West Berlin

Canada-U.S. border near Oroville, Washington

CONTRAST AT THE BORDERS—Barbed wire and a fortified wall provide strong contrast to a lonely border sentinel on the eve of the 40th annual observance of Canada-United States Goodwill Week, April 28-May 4. Standing guard at the Canada-U.S. border three miles north of Oroville, Wash., is a Kiwanis Peace Marker, a symbol of the friendship that exists between the two great North American countries. Thirty-two other Kiwanis Peace Markers are located along the 3,000 mile border, the longest unfortified boundary in the world. Several local Kiwanis Club members will be attending the International meeting night Wednesday (May 1) in the Elmwood Casino, Windsor.

Chelsea Entry Ranks High in Science Fair

John Westman, 15-year-old ninth grade student at Dexter High school, placed fifth in the fifth annual Southeastern Michigan Science Fair held at Ann Arbor the past week-end. He is also one of eight students who are eligible to be interviewed as candidates for two $250 Southeastern Michigan Science Fair scholarships. In addition, he received a Senior Fair Honorable Mention certificate and one of the Washtenaw Audubon Society's book certificates awarded to two students.

Westman's Science Fair entry was named "Observations on Life in a Small Pond."

Others who received Honorable Mention certificates include Jack Howard of Chelsea High school, on his exhibit, "Characteristics of Liquid Wave Motion," and Jeff Bosel of Dexter High school whose entry was called "An Experimental Flying Spot Scanning System."

"Seasonal Variation in the Common Butterfly" and "Finite Geometry" were the titles of the two top prize-winning entries in the Science Fair.

Mark Bertoni, 16-year-old sophomore at Ann Arbor St. Thomas High school, won the first place senior award for boys for his project on butterflies while the top prize for girls was awarded to a 17-year-old senior at St. Joseph Academy, Adrian, Ellen Shipley, who scored for her work on finite geometry.

Bertoni traced development of two differing broods of the common butterfly, and found their environmentally-controlled difference is also limited by sex.

Diving into the intricacies of original mathematics, Mark Shipley developed a complex nine-point geometry which she demonstrated with charts and models and proved with equations.

Approximately 250 entries from 23 schools in four counties were on display.

Ralph A. Sawyer, University of Michigan vice-president for research, this year's Fair director, awarded the prizes at the Science Fair luncheon for contestants and judges at the YM-YWCA in Ann Arbor Saturday noon.

Miss Shipley and Bertoni won expenses-paid trips to the National Science Fair in Albuquerque, N. M. May 6-11.

Mrs. Terry A. Helgren

Mary Josephine Milligan, Terry Helgren Exchange Vows in Candlelight Ceremony

Mary Josephine Milligan and Terry A. Helgren repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. Robert MacDonald, of St. James Episcopal church, Dexter, in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor.

The bride wore a floor-length princess gown of white silk organza over peau de soie with an overskirt of matching silk organza. The fitted bodice was appliqued with imported Italian embroidery, trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent, and her overskirt, held in place by a pleated bustle covered with imported flowers of white satin and organza, was appliqued around the wide hemline, applied with a decorative motif identical to that on the bodice. A pillbox hat in matching fabric secured her fingertip-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Charles Daniels served as Mr. Helgren's best man, and the guests were seated by Michael McKillen, Jeffrey McKillen and John A. Milligan and Dan Milligan, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for approximately 200 guests at the Rev. Lewis Memorial parish hall of the church. Miss Nina Dolatky was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Clyde Kessler of Crawfordville, Ind., cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Lawrence Milligan of Grand Rapids attended the punch bowl, and Mrs. Raymond Daniels, Mrs. Pat Barrett and Mrs. John Kent served tea and coffee. After a week's wedding trip through the southern states, the couple will reside at 700 N. Territorial Rd., Chelsea.

Trout Fishing Should Be Near Normal

Lansing — Trout fishermen streams at or near average levels for their season's opener April 27, according to the Conservation Department.

Throughout most areas snow made a hasty exit during the spring breakup which means that trout waters may be warmer and clearer than usual.

Upper Peninsula streams are expected to be at their seasonally high levels come opening day. In the northern lower peninsula, stream conditions are generally normal for this time of the year.

Fishermen eyeing southern Michigan trout lakes with anxious looks can count on things being pretty much to their liking. During recent weeks, approximately 31,725 rainbow, brown and brook trout have been planted in these waters by the Department.

Another 65,425 fish of take-home size were released in the northern lower peninsula's cold water lakes this spring. In the Upper Peninsula, where the majority of trout lakes were planted last fall, some 800 fish recently were added.

Trout releases in northern Michigan streams will be launched next month when Department crews have better access to planting sites.

Actually, Michigan's spring trout fishing season is already underway on a limited scale. Rainbows and browns became legal catches April 9 in some 40 Upper Peninsula streams designated by the Department and in the Great Lakes, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair, Detroit and St. Mary's rivers (not including the Soo Rapids). Action reportedly has been slow in these waters.

Fishing fees remain the same as last year: $2 each for the resident license and trout stamp, $5 for the annual non-resident license.

BECKER MEMORIALS
6033 Jackson Road

and $4 for the 15-day license which applies to out-of-state fishermen only. In addition to these licenses, non-residents also need stamps to fish trout.

The public is invited to attend Open House at Ypsilanti State Hospital, Sunday, April 28. Tours will start at 1:00 and 3:30 p.m. There will be one stage presentation at 2:30 p.m.

Thirty-two years ago the doors opened to what is now the largest mental hospital in Michigan—Ypsilanti State Hospital. At that time it housed 300 patients and employed a staff of 49.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION
Basic purpose of vocational rehabilitation is to provide every handicapped person of working age with the services and opportunities necessary to achieve, to the fullest extent possible, the satisfaction of becoming a useful and productive member of society. The effectiveness of a vocational rehabilitation program is dependent upon an organized and coordinated approach involving the state, community, and the federal government, according to the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The state contributes funds, personnel, administrative direction, and actual operation of the program; the local community, through its facilities and resources, contributes opportunities for the handicapped to utilize the various rehabilitation services; and the federal government contributes financial support on a matching basis, technical assistance, and national leadership.

Women Plan
Fellowship

The highlight of the tour, was the actual operation by the Explorers of the Sonar equipment which is used by both ships and submarines.

In conclusion, a brief talk was given by Chief Sweeney on what the U.S. Navy has to offer on advancements, skills and careers.

Manchester Blood
Donor Clinic
Scheduled Friday

Mrs. Franklin Reck, Manchester Red Cross chairman, announces that a blood donor clinic is being held at the Manchester Methodist church hall Friday, April 26. Hours are from 2 p.m. until 5:45 p.m. and from 6:45 p.m. until 8 p.m. Mrs. Rolland Grossman is chairman of the day for the clinic project.

Wages and Productivity — A Mixed Picture

Preliminary figures indicate that the two-year period 1960 to 1962 saw a sharp rise in the hourly wage rate in the American private economy as a whole. The rise was not, however, as dramatic as the increase in productivity. Since the two-year period 1960 to 1962, productivity growth has been generally agreed-upon to be the most significant factor in the rise in the wage rate. For the period 1960-62 the increase came to 4.1 percent per year. Over the same span output per man-hour (productivity) rose at 3.8 percent annually. The approximate agreement between these two figures cannot be regarded as evidence that we have finally solved the problem of keeping wages in line with productivity. First, the 3.8 percent annual gain in output per man-hour was exceptionally high and should not be relied on to continue. Spurred by the cost squeeze, industry found ways of tightening up on labor requirements but the process cannot go on indefinitely.

It seems more likely that for the long pull output per man-hour will rise at about the 3 percent rate which has prevailed for most of the post-World War II era. With wages (plus fringe) rising at 4 percent a year there would still be a 1 percent gap.

labor costs in line with productivity does not help to relieve the cost-price squeeze which is holding back the growth of the economy. The most that such a situation can do is to prevent the cost-price squeeze from getting still worse.

Finally, most ominous of all, the reduction in the growth of labor costs to a rate of about 4.0 percent annually has been accompanied by higher-than-normal unemployment. The overhang of unemployed workers apparently succeeded in dampening down the upward pressure on wages resulting from union action and other causes.

This observation raises the disturbing question of whether we may not be in a vicious circle. If we succeed, in one way or another, in reducing the level of unemployment from 6 percent to, say, 4 percent, will we not thereby eliminate the one factor which tends to keep wage increases within reasonable bounds? And do we not thus intensify the profit squeeze, slow down economic growth, raise unemployment again and bring ourselves back to where we started? The thought here is not that we should preserve unemployment as a restraint on wage increases but that we should deal with the basic causes — mainly union power — which put us in this kind of dilemma.

Two cautions in regard to the figures cited: They deal with the private economy as a whole; and they deal with the past. In the steel industry, for example, the rise in hourly employment costs has been more rapid than the general average throughout the postwar period.

St. Mary's School Association Plans Euchre Party

St. Mary's School Association members are busy planning for their second public euchre party of the current school year. The event will take place at Chelsea High school cafeteria, Saturday evening, May 4, under general chairmanship of John Alber and Harold Pennington.

Mrs. William Clark has been appointed as chairman-in-charge of refreshments.

Plans for the euchre party were among the business activities at the April meeting of the school association and reports of the project are scheduled to be given by chairmen at a meeting to be held at St. Mary's school May 7.

The first grade at St. Mary's school won the banner at the April meeting; it is given for parent attendance at meetings. They have the banner in their possession until the May 7 meeting at which time parent attendance will determine which grade has become eligible to receive it.

Mrs. Jack Merkel, playground assistance chairman of St. Mary's School Association, is seeking additional volunteers to assist the school's teachers during the noon hour when adult supervision is the problem of young labor costs.

Brook trout like deep holes, dark pockets under stream banks, or under stumps and rock ledges. Fishermen have to drift their bait down into these places with great care, changing their methods of doing this until successful.

Club and Social Activities

SENIOR MOTHERS

Senior Mothers Child Study Club members, as their special activity for the month of April, visited the hospital where Dr. J. H. Schmitt, director of laboratory medicine, conducted them on a laboratory tour.

Dr. Schmitt pointed out new and old machines which save time and stress on the patient, and also discussed the blood chemistry of the blood.

Dr. Schmitt also showed how tissue is preserved for examination in the histology laboratory.

Dr. Schmitt concluded the program by taking club members to the museum he has established during the 27 years he has been at the hospital. He showed a few items of particular interest and significance and permitted club members to go through the museum and see as they wished.

After the tour, the club members went to a restaurant for a meal.

The next club meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Ray, Steinbach with Mrs. James, and as co-hostess.

The program will include installation of officers and a discussion of the year's programs.

MEATMAKERS EXTENSION

Meatmakers Extension club had a most interesting session on the topic "Meat on the Move," as presented by Mrs. W. W. Menzel and Mrs. G. W. Menzel. They explained how meat is grown in this area and how the meat is way to markets all over the country. They were surprised to learn that the largest share of meat is shipped in the form of a surprise out of some kind.

The next meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Kuhl with Mrs. Ruth Brown assisting hostess.

CHELSEA CHILD STUDY CLUB

Mrs. Lloyd Schneider, assisted by Mrs. M. L. Dietle as co-hostess, entertained the Chelsea Child Study club at her home Tuesday evening for a regular meeting. There were 18 members and two guests present.

Principal business at the meeting was discussion related to the public salad smorgasbord luncheon the club is giving Saturday. The luncheon is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the dining room of the Congregational church. Planned particularly as an accommodation for people who will be participating in the Chelsea Dexter Co-Operative Nursery school house tour that day, the luncheon is for all others who wish to attend, as well.

Mrs. Frederick Weber was accepted as a new member of the club at Tuesday's meeting.

The program at the meeting, decorated by a club member as "informative, thought-provoking and extremely well presented," included an oration by Carol Mayer, a declamation by Drinda West, and an interpretive reading by Pamela Kushmaul. The three girls participated in the spring forensics program as Chelsea High school contestants.

The next regular club meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Joseph Marzecz with Mrs. William Tite and Mrs. Robert White as co-hostesses.

BAPTISM

Kimberly Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wacker of Manchester, was baptized Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church, Rogers Corners, with the Rev. C. J. Renner officiating. The baby's mother is the former Lois Stark.

Godparents are Kathryn Kuhl of Ann Arbor and Ronald Kuhl of Manchester.

Following the service Mr. and Mrs. Wacker entertained at a dinner at their home, guests including the godparents and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stark and Mrs. Arthur Wacker.

BAPTISM

Mark Glenn Steinaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steinaway, was baptized Sunday morning at the Methodist church. The Rev. S. D. Kinde officiated.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS

Fifteen members attended the spring dinner of the Past Noble Grands club, held at a Jackson restaurant Wednesday evening, April 17.

Following the dinner, Mrs. M. L. Dietle, president of the club, distributed material for ways and means projects.

The next club meeting is scheduled for May 22 at the home of Mrs. Clifford Wolfe. Her co-hostess is to be Mrs. Alfred Weinmann.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY FARM BUREAU

The Clifford Heydlaufts and Leon Sandersons were hosts for the April 18 meeting of the Chelsea Community Farm Bureau. The meeting took place at the Heydlaufts home and began with a potluck supper.

The wheat referendum was the topic of discussion and during the program period by Roy Kalmbach. In eulogy, which was the evening's diversion during a social hour, Leon Sanderson was awarded the traveling prize; Mrs. Reuben Lesser, Sr., and Emerson Lesser won the high score prizes and Jack Cook and J. V. Burg, I, received consolation awards.

CHELSEA SUBURBANETTES EXTENSION CLUB

Mrs. Walter Beure, Jr., and Mrs. Lloyd Gray were hostesses for a regular meeting of Chelsea Suburbanettes Extension club, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Beure. There were 14 members present.

Election of officers took place, the new officers, to be installed in September, including Mrs. Earl Peterson, president; Mrs. Darrel Satterthwaite, vice-president; Mrs. James Gaken, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Paul, publicity chairman; Mrs. John Schittenhelm and Mrs. Arthur Stoll, leaders; and Mrs. Lloyd Gray and Mrs. Bruce Bycraft, recreation leaders.

The next regular meeting of the club is scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Melvin Leach. Co-hostesses are to be Mrs. John Laraway and Mrs. John Schittenhelm.

Mrs. Donald Bauer is to give a report at that meeting on an Extension club meat tour in which she is to participate.

Future club activities discussed at Thursday's meeting are the annual spring dinner May 28 and two summer events—a family picnic and a husbands' night. Dates for the latter two events are to be announced later.

JERUSALEM FARM BUREAU

Nine families were present Thursday evening for a meeting of the Jerusalem Farm Bureau group, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Weiss. Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powers.

The secretary read a letter from the county Farm Bureau office pertaining to the county rummage sale scheduled for May 9 at the Farm Bureau building on Saline Ann Arbor Rd. It was requested in the letter that anyone who wished to donate something for the sale would take it to the sale location.

The minuteman report was given by David Pastor and the package report by Walter Wolfgang.

Wolfgang stressed two points—the baler twine situation (its scarcity) and a warning about fueling farm tractors and other equipment. He said that it is suggested that operators of farm machinery wait for it to cool before attempting to add the fuel.

David Pastor led the evening's discussion, opening with the questions, "How accurate is your property assessment?" and "Do farmers need tax reforms?"

It was decided to ask Lima Township Supervisor Leigh Beach to attend the May meeting to discuss the tax questions. The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Erke.

Going to church may not be a sure cure for your sins but it will help.

Older Adult Group Honors Fortmans on Golden Wedding

The Older Adult Group of the Methodist church, with 35 present, met in the church social center Saturday for the monthly potluck dinner and party.

Hostesses were Mrs. Byron Fortman, Mrs. Loring Bates and Mrs. Winifred Coffron.

In spite of the fact that Mrs. Fortman was a member of the committee, the group was successful in staging a surprise observance of the Fortmans' golden wedding.

Mrs. D. L. Gadsberry had baked a gold-decorated cake and Mrs. S. D. Kinde presented Mrs. Fortman with a corsage. Mr. Fortman, who was ill and could not attend, was remembered with a boutonniere.

Yellow forsythia and gold-colored napkins carried out the gold color theme.

The Rev. S. D. Kinde gave a talk, congratulating the Fortmans and Mrs. Fortman responded relating where they were married, the wedding trip they took and incidents of their 50 years together.

Mrs. Jennie Hinchey, Mrs. Mabel Collins, Mrs. Myrtle Price, Walter Harper and Walter Vicary were honored in observance of their birthdays, a special birthday cake having been prepared by Mrs. Coffron.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Merrill were guests at the meeting and the Rev. Merrill was asked to give the table prayer.

The afternoon's program was a much-enjoyed sound film which had been made in India featuring Douglas and Karen Schneider who are missionaries there. Mrs. Lewis Schneider, Douglas' mother, showed the pictures and mentioned that his twin brother, Richard is working with the Winnebago Indians in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Mabel K. Foster presented the afternoon's devotional service and also reported on the group's cards and letters to patients at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

She also mentioned that Mrs. Martha Wagner was among the shut-ins visited during the past month.

Mrs. E. J. Weiss Named To Head Woman's Club

Woman's Club of Chelsea, at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the club room at McKune Memorial Library, held election of officers for the 1968-69 club year.

Elected were Mrs. E. J. Weiss, president; Mrs. Thomas Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Sott, secretary; Mrs. David Soule, treasurer; and Mrs. Thomas Masterson, parliamentarian.

The annual meeting of the club also was held. This included voting the club's annual contribution of a gift of $100 to the McKune Memorial Library; approval of next year's programs as presented by Mrs. Leigh Palmer; and voting on a motion pertaining to meeting dates.

The motion, as presented, was to set meetings to be held only once a month; this was voted down and meetings will continue, as at present, to be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month during the club year.

Mrs. Lee Ferguson announced that the club's fellowship and fun night will be a dinner to be held at the new Schuler's at Jackson, May 14 at 7 p.m.

Hostesses for Tuesday night's meeting were Mrs. George Frisinger, Mrs. Philip Futscher and Mrs. Thomas Masterson.

Family Celebration Helps F. Reeds Mark 45th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reed were surprised Saturday evening of last week with a family celebration of their 45th wedding anniversary. The party was held at the home of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Schill, 11150 Island Lake Rd.

A tiered anniversary cake appropriately decorated, was baked by a friend of the family, Mario Schulz of Dexter, who was one of the guests.

Others present included Mr. and Mrs. Schill and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed and children and Frances and Richard Reed.

VFW Auxiliary Elects Officers For Coming Year

Officers for the coming year were elected Monday evening at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076.

Elected are Miss Alda Juergens, president; Mrs. Geraldine Klink, senior vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Lentz, junior vice-president; Mrs. Anna Werner, secretary; Mrs. Mary Kniss, treasurer; Mrs. JoAnn Warywada, chaplain; Mrs. Eulalie Packard, conductress; Mrs. Florence Merkel, guard; and Mrs. Margaret Gilbert, three-year trustee.

It was voted, also, to donate money toward a fund being accumulated to purchase a gift for the VFW Auxiliary District VI president, Mrs. Naomi Pahl of Jackson.

Mrs. Warywada, who is the Auxiliary's hospital chairman, announced that she is planning a party at Ypsilanti State Hospital for May 21. She said donations of money and used clothing by members would be welcomed; useable clothing, especially, being desperately needed at the hospital, both by men and women patients.

In the presence of their immediate families, Cheryl Ann Glock and James G. Van Riper of Lincoln, Neb., were united in marriage by the Rev. John Jolley, at North Lake Methodist church at 2 p.m. Thursday, April 18.

Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sweeney.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Van Riper of Lincoln, Neb., and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Glock of San Antonio, Tex.

Some 4,700 children will die of cancer in 1968 if present rates continue, according to the American Cancer Society. Many of these deaths will be unnecessary because cancer was detected too late for effective treatment. Parents should be aware that cancer strikes children as well as adults.

CUB-SCOUT NEWS

PACK 125

The April meeting of Cub Scout Pack 125 was held Thursday evening in the Junior High school gymnasium.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony by Den 4 of which Mrs. Yvonne Jones is the den mother. Attendance ribbons were given to Dens 2, 4, 6, and 13 for 100-percent attendance.

Skits on the theme, "Up High and Down Under" were given by Dens 3, 4, and 10 of which the following are the den mothers: Mrs. Janice Hardy, Mrs. Yvonne Jones, and Mrs. Alice Bergman.

Cub Pack Committeeman Robert Foye had charge of the meeting and gave a review of the book, "Water Fun." It was pointed out that the book is an excellent one for a boy and his dad. It was announced that accident insurance was available for Cub Scouts at the cost to parents of $1.00 a year. The protection would cover one-half hour before and one-half hour after meetings and on all Cub Scout trips.

Foye announced that new den flags are being made to go with the new American flags that was presented to the pack in March. Bob Cat pins were awarded to James Potts, Daniel Bertke, Wilson Lawson, Steven Warden, Derrick Harris, John Gilbert, William Harrison, and Jon Schenk.

Mike Grob, Den Chief for Den 4, was presented with a Den Chief award.

Daniel Foytik was appointed as assistant Cubmaster and Mrs. Grace Gillet as publicity chairman.

The following new den mothers were announced: Mrs. Nancy Sweeney, Mrs. Helen Morgan, Mrs. Duanna Bertke, and Mrs. Joyce Harris. They will be the den mothers and assistant den mothers for Dens 9 and 11.

The "Law of the Pack" was led by Donald Nutt and the Cub Scout Promise by Tom Tirl, both of Den 10.

Cubmaster Malcolm Novess announced that a drill would be held at the High school May 6 and May 20 at 7:00 p.m. for all Cub Scouts who plan on marching in the Memorial Day parade.

The meeting closed with Den 4 retiring the flags. Dens 13 and 5 had interesting displays of some of the work by the boys.

Foye announced at the close of the meeting that there will be a Den Chief training course to be held on Saturday, May 11.

ALCATRAZ VACANT

San Francisco — Alcatraz, the grim maximum security institution located on a rocky island in San Francisco is empty.

The prison that has housed the nation's toughest criminals has been abandoned because it is obsolete and modernization would be too expensive. The last 27 of its inmates were sent to other federal prisons.

Fruit Bonus Noted from Weed Killer

Scientists are reporting bonus benefits from a weed killer.

Simazine not only controls the weeds around fruit trees, but it also causes an increase in tree growth, according to Michigan State University horticulturists. S. K. Ries, R. P. Larsen and A. L. Kenworthy report that peach trees treated with a herbicide mixture of simazine and amitrole-T had more nitrogen in their leaves and more branches than those trees where the weeds were controlled by hand hoeing or a black plastic mulch.

Benefits from simazine were also noted on apple trees in each orchard in which it was tested. The researchers say that compounds similar to simazine may also boost growth on blueberry bushes and other fruit trees. Further tests are planned in this area of research.

The MSU horticulturists used four pounds of simazine and two pounds of amitrole-T per acre to get the increased tree growth. This same herbicide treatment was used on more than 10,000 acres of cherries, apples and other young fruit trees in 1962.

The researchers can give no final explanation for the increased tree growth observed in their tests. But they do know that the simazine, at least in 1962, acted as a substitute for higher nitrogen applications. Thus, they predict growers will reduce nitrogen applications on fruit orchards where simazine has been used successfully.

Growth increases from the use of herbicides are usually attributed to a reduction in weed competition for nutrients and water, or a lack of mechanical damage from cultivation. The MSU horticulturists are certain that the growth increases in their studies were not caused by these factors. Simazine alone was responsible for the increased growth of the fruit trees—a phenomenon never before reported with a herbicide on fruit. In all of the researchers' tests, simazine-treated trees showed an increased level of nitrogen in the leaves. This indicates that the chemical, in some way increased the amount of nitrogen available to the trees.

Now Is Time To Enroll in 4-H Garden Project

Fresh asparagus, tomatoes from the vine and sweet crisp carrots are visions dancing around in the heads of 4-H club members enrolled in the vegetable gardening project.

If you have a "green thumb" and are looking through seed catalogs and getting your gardening tools ready for use, why not enroll in the vegetable gardening project? Now is the time to be planting as well as enrolling in the project.

Practical information and bulletins provided by your 4-H Extension Office will help you to produce healthy, hardy vegetables which will be tasty and may take honors at the County Show in August.

How plants grow, what fertilizers are best, the proper way to water plants and the control of insects and diseases are just some of the things that are emphasized in this gardening program. Last year 95 4-H club members ranging in age from 10-21 enrolled in this program. To find out how you may enroll contact, Lora Bonine, county extension agent, 4-H club work at the Washtenaw County Building.

The Great and the Small

The "Mona Lisa" isn't the only masterpiece being dusted off and put into circulation.

About the time that Da Vinci's smiling lady was visiting the United States on loan from France, interest was being revived in the works of Rubens, Murillo and Michelangelo—as postage stamps!

The first two masters were responsible for pictures borrowed to illustrate four Vatican stamps, commemorating the Freedom from Hunger Campaign sponsored by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

The Murillo, depicting the Miracle of the Loaves and Fishes, appears on the Vatican's 15- and 100-lira commemoratives. The 40- and 200-lira stamps bear Rubens' painting of Christ teaching the Apostles to fish.

Michelangelo furnished the design for two recent Belgian stamps. The central figure was adapted from his Sistine Chapel painting which represents the Creation of Man. The Belgian stamps commemorate the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, U.N. General Assembly pronouncement.

Canvases of more recent vintage furnished the theme for two other famous artist series of commemoratives. France drew on the works of Cezanne, Braque and others for its series. The U.S. Post Office so far has featured seascapist Winslow Homer and Frederic Remington, chronicler of the Old West.

Even reduced to postage stamp size, it's still great art.

Anywhere performance gets an open test...

RIVERSIDE, CALIF. A '63 Super Torque Ford crossed the finish line first in a field of 40 cars.

DAYTONA, FLA. In the toughest 500-mile event of the season, Fords ran 1-2-3-4-5.

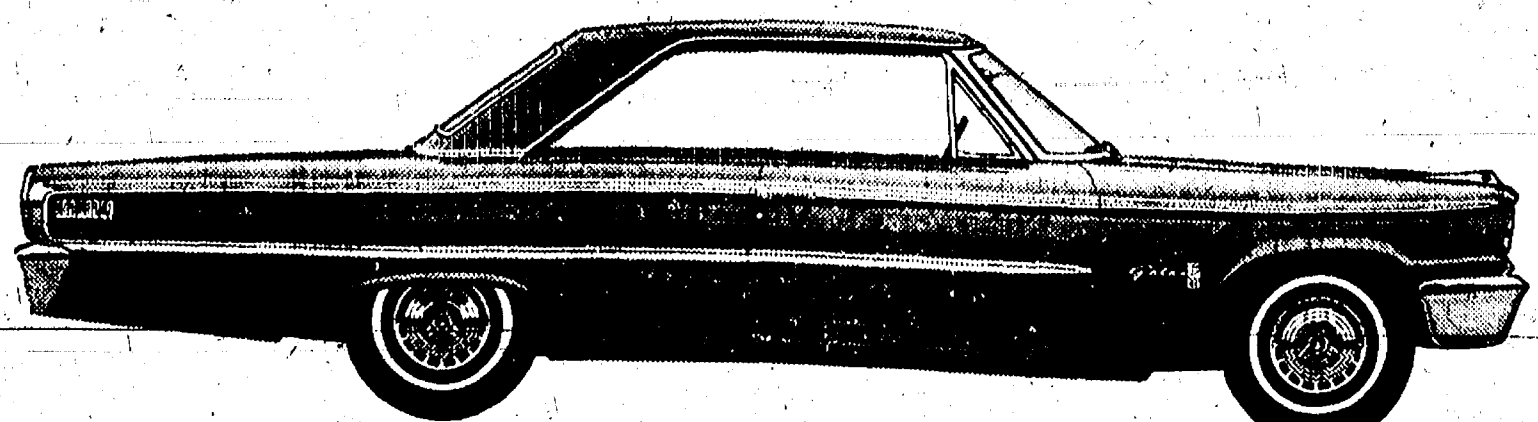

ATLANTA, GA. Score another big win for Ford in open competition—the Atlanta "500."

FORD'S THE TOTAL PERFORMANCE CHAMP!

Ford's the one to watch this year! The record proves today's great Super Torque Ford is certain to be a better car for the kind of driving you do every day! A car's weaknesses show up fast in open, competitive road and track events. At Daytona, more than half the 50 cars starting never finished. Mechanical failure forced them to quit. But Ford proved it takes more than speed and acceleration to win at Daytona—or anywhere else. It takes durability, too. It takes a steering system that can stand the steady forces of almost continuous left turns. Dependable brakes. A suspension system designed to keep all four wheels firmly on the road. Dependable ignition. It takes total performance. And Ford delivers. See your Ford Dealer for proof.

Laugh Of The Week

4-H Clubs Need More Adult Leaders

"Wanted! Responsible adults who like boys and girls. Job as 4-H leader. No salary. Must take pay in smiles and satisfaction of job well done. Apply at Cooperative Extension Service Office, 116 County Building, Ann Arbor. No experience necessary. We train you on the job."

Will you answer the want-ad? 270 men and women in Washtenaw county have applied and been accepted, reports Lora Bonine, 4-H club agent. But there are still vacancies. There are still many boys and girls between ages 10-18 in the county, towns and cities of Washtenaw county who can't belong to a 4-H club this summer because there is no adult leader to work with them. They can't enroll in project work and get help in such areas as vegetable and flower gardening, photography, clothing, food preparation and preservation, home improvement, safety, or caring for an animal.

Whoever does apply for the job of leader must be willing to give time, energy and know-how. On-the-job leaders declare the "pay" is high. It comes in watching boys and girls grow in knowledge, skill and self-confidence. That's better than money, and it's something money can't buy.

Will you answer this want-ad for 4-H leaders? Now, through June 1, new club leaders and members are being enrolled. Get an early start in setting up a club. For further information, please contact the 4-H office, Lora Bonine, 4-H agent. The phone number is Normandy 3-7511, Ext. 227 or 228.

Nightcrawlers, worms, and minnows are good natural baits for fishing brown trout. They may be used alone or with small spinners. The usual wet and dry flies, bass bugs, and small hardware lures are good artificials.

Brownies...

TROOP 145—Brownies of Troop 145, at their regular meeting Tuesday at North school, opened with a Brownie Promise and then repeated the Brownie Promise and said grace before having their refreshments. The treats were brought by Marie Houle.

Some of the girls then worked on pasting pictures in scrapbooks and others played with their "lenti" sticks.

The meeting closed with the "Goodnight" song.

Greta Graham, scribe.

TROOP 625—At the regular meeting Thursday at South school, Brownies of Troop 625 spent some time on discussion of a cook-out to be held at a secret location this week.

Debbie Paul served refreshments after the group played some games.

Joan Schmidt, scribe.

TROOP 87—Brownies of Troop 87, led by Mrs. Imogene Slovic, assisted by Mrs. Edward Blacklaw, held a meeting April 17 at South school, opening with the customary roll call and taking of dues.

This was followed by a hike to Pierce Park using the "buddy" system to and from the park.

At the park, the group made use of the seat pads they had made called "sit-upons" while they had refreshments which had been brought by Donna Walz.

Patty Elise, scribe.

TROOP 606—Brownie Troop 606 met Thursday, April 18 and election of officers. In Mrs. Lancaster's patrol Pam Boyle is treasurer, Jane Mann is attendance taker, Alfretta Harrison is troop scribe. In Mrs. Brennan's patrol Lynn Jacobs is treasurer, Eileen Bristle is attendance taker, Carol Weir is troop president. Monday, April 15, they went to Gilbert's candy factory in Jackson, then went to the Jackson airport.

Health Dept. Participating In Mental Retardation Study

The Washtenaw County Health Department in co-operation with the county schools and the Washtenaw County Medical Society, is planning to participate in a study of one form of mental retardation.

According to Dr. Otto K. Engke, this is a co-ordinated program to help determine the number of children in special education classes whose retardation may have been caused by a disease called phenylketonuria.

Phenylketonuria, commonly referred to as "PKU," is an inherited defect which affects the development of the brain. If not found promptly, it may cause permanent mental retardation in the affected child. However, if the condition is found in early infancy, mental retardation can be prevented or modified by means of a special diet. The disease can be detected by testing the urine of the children.

Although the school-age child will not benefit from the findings of this study, his younger brothers and sisters and unborn children in the family may benefit substantially. Since the disease is hereditary, the family and physician can take appropriate steps soon after the birth of any other children in the family.

Several similar studies have already been conducted. Dr. Richard Allen, Director of the Mental Study Unit, University of Michigan, directed a screening program in each of the state home and training schools to identify those patients whose retardation was caused by PKU. Seventy-seven PKU cases were discovered in the institutional survey, and another 24 cases were found among other children tested during follow-up

Veterans of WW I Sponsor Bill for Higher Pensions

Good news may be in store for World War I veterans before the end of 1963 according to Edward Neron, national commander of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. The organization is sponsoring a new and separate pension bill for World War I veterans. HR 2332 if passed would grant an increase in pensions to World War I veterans and make many more of them eligible for pensions.

Neron is optimistic over chances of the bill's passage as it was written after consulting many Congressmen and winning their approval.

Neron fears that many of the aged World War I veterans who have little or no Social Security may be in for a rough time during their declining years unless Congress separates them from the younger veterans.

A copy of HR 2332 along with other information will be mailed to all World War I veterans who send their name and address to: Veterans of World War I, 40 G Street NE, Washington 2, D.C.

The 1963 national convention will be held in Detroit, Sept. 22-25.

4-H Clubs

Need More

Adult Leaders

"Wanted! Responsible adults who like boys and girls. Job as 4-H leader. No salary. Must take pay in smiles and satisfaction of job well done. Apply at Cooperative Extension Service Office, 116 County Building, Ann Arbor. No experience necessary. We train you on the job."

Will you answer the want-ad? 270 men and women in Washtenaw county have applied and been accepted, reports Lora Bonine, 4-H club agent. But there are still vacancies. There are still many boys and girls between ages 10-18 in the county, towns and cities of Washtenaw county who can't belong to a 4-H club this summer because there is no adult leader to work with them. They can't enroll in project work and get help in such areas as vegetable and flower gardening, photography, clothing, food preparation and preservation, home improvement, safety, or caring for an animal.

Whoever does apply for the job of leader must be willing to give time, energy and know-how. On-the-job leaders declare the "pay" is high. It comes in watching boys and girls grow in knowledge, skill and self-confidence. That's better than money, and it's something money can't buy.

Will you answer this want-ad for 4-H leaders? Now, through June 1, new club leaders and members are being enrolled. Get an early start in setting up a club. For further information, please contact the 4-H office, Lora Bonine, 4-H agent. The phone number is Normandy 3-7511, Ext. 227 or 228.

Nightcrawlers, worms, and minnows are good natural baits for fishing brown trout. They may be used alone or with small spinners. The usual wet and dry flies, bass bugs, and small hardware lures are good artificials.

A TAX PLEA

President Kennedy, said the economy will face "downturn and disaster" if Congress rejects proposed tax cuts, slashes the budget and puts a tight lid on the national debt.

Kennedy argued that tax cuts alone cannot insure the success of his ideas for bolstering the economy. He said it also is important to avoid "an unrealistic debt ceiling or budget cut."

EASY WITH THE BUG-BOMB—Too often, the use of pesticides has produced damaging side-effects at the expense of wildlife. Property owners using bug sprays, weed killers, and other chemical poisons to get rid of pests, frequently deliver a knockout punch to wildlife in the process. In some cases, songbirds are poisoned by feeding on insects killed by pesticides, or die after coming into direct contact with chemical sprays. The property owner has every right to spray his shrubs, garden or grass to protect them. However, before he does, he should consider whether his spraying efforts will be successful without sacrificing other values. He also should be certain that spraying with chemicals is the best control method available. This is no small order. Much too little is known about the total effects of pesticides; research is far behind the stampeding pace of pesticide production. Until it catches up, everyone should take an extra hard look at the fine print on containers, and go easy with bug killers. In the words of this year's National Wildlife Week theme, "Chemical Pesticides Are Poisons—Handle With Care."

Land judging has grown rapidly in recent years as a 4-H and PFA activity, according to James Porter, extension soil science specialist and resident MSU agent for the team. The activity seeks to develop appreciation for and skill in evaluating agricultural land. The Michigan Agricultural Limestone Association is sponsoring
