

Old Lyndon Cheese Factory Burned

Howard Boyce and his wife, the former Vieve Plis, make their home on the farm at the corner of Boyce Rd. and M-52 where drastic changes are taking place because of extensive road improvement. Although the house and out-buildings at the northwest corner and the barn and other buildings on the northeast corner will remain, a building at the southwest corner, known as "the old Lyndon cheese factory" had to go to make way for widening of the road and elimination of the abrupt corner.

Road crews set the old building afire and burned it to the ground on May 1. A number of barns along the route are to be similarly eliminated; some already having been burned down.

The cheese factory building was put up in 1899, an Alex Reid being the first operator of the plant.

Howard Boyce, who was born on the homestead farm in 1893 and has lived there all his life, remembers that a man named Bob Edwards made cheese there later, closing the plant in 1914 or 1915 when he moved to Anderson, Mich. Originally putting out approximately 400 pounds of cheese per day, the day's output had increased to 5,000 and 9,000 pounds per day by 1914.

Howard Boyce's parents, Samuel and Anna Hadley Boyce, lived on the farm throughout their married life. In addition to Howard, the present owner, their family included the late Floyd Boyce and the late Callista Rose who served as Lyndon township treasurer for many years.

Howard Boyce's family of seven children who lived on the farm until they married are sons Dale of Jackson, Paul of Cincinnati, O. Bob and Harold of Dundee and Kenneth of California, and daughters Mrs. Arlene Howe of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Virginia Sunjer of North Carolina.

The present home replaces the original house which burned down some years ago.

NOW—This photo shows the appearance of the corner of M-52 and Boyce Rd. as it looks today—with the "old cheese factory" gone and the roadsides torn up for elimination of the sharp corner turn. The property across which the wide sweeping curve is being constructed is part of the former Spencer Boyce farm, now the home of Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean.

Board Urges Yes Vote on Millage

Letter-Winners Named, Special Awards Made

Stuart R. Booker, president of the Chelsea School District Board of Education, has made the following statement in urging support of the Board's request for a two-mill operational levy to be submitted to electors next Monday.

"On Monday, May 13, the electorate of the Chelsea School District will vote on the request by the Board of Education for an additional two mills to meet budgeted operational expenses for the 1963-64 school year.

"On May 14, 1962, an additional two mills received an affirmative vote, but in accordance with the commitment made by the School Board only one mill was levied because subsequent allocation of the Joint Allocation Board was sufficient to meet the approved 1962-1963 budget.

"The circumstances attending the 1963-1964 school year preclude the possibility of a renewal of such a commitment at this time as the full two mills will without doubt be needed to cover the approved budget for the coming year.

"This budget covering expenditures for the coming year exceeds the present budget by slightly more than $30,000. More than two-thirds of this amount is represented by increased costs for instruction. Accordingly, the other areas of costs have been held reasonably well in line with present year expenditures.

"Your board believes no apologies are in order for the caliber of educational opportunities offered to the youngsters of the Chelsea District. We believe it is one of the better districts in the county. These results have been achieved at an operational millage levy which is one of the lowest in the county and far less than that levied by most of the county's districts.

"After many hours of considering prospective expenditures and more hours of cutting here, paring there, eliminating some items and curtailing others by first the Finance Committee, and finally by the full board, the present budgeted total represents a soundly adequate but in no way a frivolous estimate of the total sum which will be required to properly operate your district for the 1963-1964 school year.

"Your affirmative vote for the requested two additional mills for operational expense will be greatly appreciated."

Stuart R. Booker, President, Chelsea Board of Education

Paul Schneider of Traverse City was an overnight guest Friday at the home of relatives here.

Kathy White Wins Band's Sousa Award

Kathryn White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glenn White of 200 Sharon Hollow Rd., is the recipient of the John Philip Sousa award presented annually to the outstanding senior musician in the Chelsea High school band. Her leadership, example of fine cooperation and musicianship over the years have contributed to the establishment and maintenance of the high standards for which the organization has come to be known.

Absentee Ballots Are Available Until Saturday Afternoon

Chelsea School District electors who wish to apply for absentee ballots are reminded that applications for absentee ballots for the May 13 operational millage election must be filed with the School Board secretary, Paul Mann, before 2 p.m. Saturday, May 11.

Candidates Must File Petitions by Monday

Petitions to place candidates' names on the ballot for the annual Chelsea School District election June 10 must be filed with the School Board secretary, Paul Mann, before 4 p.m. Monday, May 13. One member of the School Board is to be elected June 10.

Answers Given for Some Millage Request Questions

Questions and answers related to the May 13 special millage election of the Chelsea School District are listed herewith.

The election will be held at the Junior High school gymnasium during the hours of 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. Only electors who are registered with their respective township clerks will be eligible to vote. They must be at least 21 years old; a resident of the state six months and of the Chelsea School District 30 days.

Q. What is the question to be voted upon May 13?

A. The electors will be asked to vote 2 mills for operation of the schools for a period of one year. This is a renewal of the two mills voted last year.

Q. How many mills were available to the school district this year?

A. 11.5 mills were available—9.5 allocated by the Tax Allocation Board and 2 mills voted by the people.

Q. Were the 11.5 mills available levied by the school district?

A. No. Only one of the two voted mills was levied by the school district.

Q. How many mills will be available for operation to the school district for 1963-64 including the 2 voted mills?

A. 11.6 mills provided the Tax Allocation Board allocates 9.5 mills to the school district again this year.

Q. How many mills does the budget for 1963-64 approved by the board of education require?

A. 11.5 mills, one mill more than this year.

Q. If the Tax Allocation Board allocates 9.5 mills instead of the 9.5, the Board of Education request would be one mill short. What will the Board do in this situation?

A. The Board of Education does not believe in deficit financing. Services would be cut.

Q. Who controls the allocation to the Chelsea School District?

A. The Jackson County Tax Allocation Board. The total state equalized valuation of the school district is $31,160,500. Only $440,775 of this amount is in Jackson county. However, the allocation of millage to the Chelsea School District is governed by the Jackson County Tax Allocation Board as the Jackson board usually allocates less millage to the schools than Washtenaw county.

Q. Could you explain the answer in the above question in chart form in a hypothetical case?

A. Yes. The Tax Allocation Board has 15 mills to allocate to the county, townships and schools. This is a possible division of 15 mills in Jackson and Washtenaw county as it might relate to the Chelsea School District.

Jackson County Tax Allocation Board
To County	5.50
Townships	1.00
Schools	8.50
	15.

Washtenaw County Tax Allocation Board
To County	4.75
Township	.25
	15.

In the above chart, the Chelsea School District could only levy the 8.5 mills allocated by the Jackson County Board instead of the 10 mills allocated to schools by the Washtenaw County Board. The state equalized valuation in Jackson county is $31,160,500. The state equalized valuation in Washtenaw County is $440,775 out of the total of $31,160,500 of the school district controls the allocation to the Chelsea School District.

Q. When will the allocation to the school district be known?

A. The Tax Allocation Board must make the preliminary allocation by May 20th and the final allocation by June 3rd this year.

Q. What is the increase in the budget and for what items will it be spent?

A. Of the total increase in the 1963-64 budget of $30,717.50, $25,840 is for the cost of instruction; $70 for administration; $1,000 for operation; $1,325 for transportation; $3,820 for busses; and $3,500 for capital outlay.

Q. Have expenses in some of the budget items been reduced?

A. Yes. The following items have been reduced: $1,000 less for maintenance; $1,100 less for fixed charges; and $537.50 less for supplemental expenses.

READY TO RISE—When this picture was taken Monday the walls of the new storage bins being constructed for Chelsea Milling Co. on Main St., south of the railroad tracks, were not yet discernible above ground; however, since 8 a.m. that day, two 12-hour shifts of 46 men each have been working around the clock pouring concrete at the rate of 18 feet in height all around the 27 bins each 24 hours. By this morning the height was expected to have reached 54 feet, almost half of the eventual height of 120 feet, according to Homer Ausmus, job superintendent for the contractor, the Stout Construction Co. There are two rows of nine bins of equal size connected by nine so-called "star bins." Lights—hundreds of them—light up the construction project at night. Many sightseers have been coming in to town to watch the progress of construction and Chelsea "sidewalk superintendents" are on hand at all times. If no interruption is encountered the entire job of concrete pouring should be completed by next Monday morning.

Mother's Day Custom Originated In Philadelphia, Is Now World-Wide

The annual observance of Mother's Day, next Sunday is a continuation of a custom started officially in 1907 in the United States. Miss Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia had the idea that at least once a year sons and daughters should pay tribute to their mothers. She arranged for a special Mother's service in one of the Philadelphia churches and suggested that white carnations be worn by those attending.

In 1914 Congress designated the second Sunday in May as the day on which this observance should be held. Since then the movement has spread rapidly to every part of the United States.

In later years, the custom of wearing a white carnation on Mother's Day was changed and those whose mothers were still living wore red flowers instead of the white.

Although Mother's Day originated in the United States, it has since become an international occasion and mothers in nearly every corner of the world are now honored on a special Mother's Day each year.

More than anyone else, the mother, who cares for both her home and her children, is destined to influence the character and future of our country. It is to this mother, who dedicates the best years of her life to her home, family and church, that the nation owes a debt of gratitude and this special day is just one way of acknowledging the debt.

Let us all join to make living mothers conscious of our respect and love and to reverently remember those who have gone on to their reward.

Backward Look on Anniversary of Hitler's Defeat Proves Futility of War

Yesterday, May 8, marked the 18th anniversary of the day the Germans surrendered to the Allies in World War II. That brought an end to the European fighting that had been in progress since Sept. 1, 1939 when Hitler invaded Poland and began the war.

Wars seldom achieve or accomplish what we hope they will. We enter them sometimes simply because we have been attacked as was the case in World War II. In World War I we entered in a crusading spirit—to make the world "safe for democracy."

We have since seen the result of World War I was to create the opportunity for Communism, the worst threat democracy has encountered in many generations. Another result of that first war was to assure the coming of World War II which further advanced the cause of Communism.

When we view the accomplishments of the wars realistically it proves to us the point that wars seldom accomplish anything good other than provide an actual defense of a way of life or life itself when one is threatened.

Although May 8, 1915 marked the end of Nazism in Germany, we apparently did not realize that the Communist threat was just as serious or more so.

What Industry Seeks

Officials in many Michigan communities are looking for the answer to an important question and planning specialists at Michigan State University think they have it.

The question, foremost in the minds of city planners hoping to draw new business to their economy, is this: What does the business executive look for when locating a new plant?

Site, available labor and market proximity are obviously part of the answer. MSU experts say there is much more to be considered, however. Many communities can provide these features so the competition is greatly cancelled out in these categories.

"Executives are placing more emphasis on recreation facilities, schools, shopping areas and other factors that contribute to the 'good life,'" says Louis Twardzik, parks and recreation specialist for MSU's Co-Operative Extension Service.

The theory is that the executive not only wants a nice place to live and raise his family. He also feels that good living conditions for his employees will make for higher productivity.

This executive wants the "fringe benefits" of a well planned community, according to Twardzik.

The MSU specialist contends that subsidies for new industry will not necessarily provide the drawing power the community intends. Studies suggest that subsidies tend to attract unstable businesses, while the well-established industries, the kind of all communities really want, are more likely to locate with an eye on these "fringe benefits."

Twardzik stresses the value of well-developed and managed open spaces: playgrounds, sport areas, community centers, parks, and swimming facilities.

"In all too many cases, local Industrial efforts completely miss the idea that the town should be a pleasant place in which to live," he said.

In advising local planners, Twardzik's primary recommendation is that they view their community by asking themselves the questions, "Is this the kind of town where strangers would want to invest and live?"

Be A Bellringer

Bells will ring throughout the state on July 4 if Gov. George Romney has his way.

Calling for a slight change from the traditional firecracker sounding on the anniversary of Independence Day, Romney hopes civic leaders will join in getting bells chimed in every church, government and school building simultaneously.

Working with the H-Y Clubs of the Michigan Y.M.C.A., the Governor's plan calls for the bells to ring for four minutes starting at 7 p.m. on July 4. Romney said such an observance should represent a solemn tribute to our country's founders and as a re-dedication to our national unity and our undying devotion to our country and for what it stands.

More Signs

Approach of the vacation season foretells increased traffic on Michigan's vast network of high-speed roadways.

To the State Highway Department it also means an increase in the comments about its directional sign placements. In the past two years, since motorists began to use full length east-west and north-south freeway routes, the comments about the signs have been numerous.

A legislative study of tourist industry problems last summer came forth with the general impression that motorists wanted more information from the signs. They wanted greater use of directional signs to small communities along the route, and they sought more definite data than they could gain from the "Food-Gas-Lodging" markings at freeway exits.

Standards for the freeway sign installations are set by the Federal Government, which pays for approximately 90 percent of the limited access roadways.

State highway officials are hoping they can make some improvements in the system, however, to satisfy at least some of the most frequent complaints.

"We are making a continuing study of freeway signing," says Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. "Our goal is to provide the motorist, whether he be a Michigan citizen or a visitor from another state, with signs that will help him to reach his destination quickly and safely."

More To Learn

Do your children look upon you as all-knowing? If so, a Michigan State University psychologist says this false idea should be removed as quickly as possible.

This goes also for the child's belief that his teachers and the encyclopedias have all the answers.

Dr. Milton Rokeach of MSU believes people cannot be creative if they blindly accept the word of authorities. They become close-

Deer Sometimes Have Family Problems Too

Being an orphan is no fun for a deer. In fact, it may reduce a ready, poor chances of getting enough food to survive a hard winter.

"Deer families, like humans, tend to stick together," reports John Ozoga, Michigan State University wildlife researcher who spent much of the past winter serving deer behavior near Roscommon.

To five deer group of three to five deer that included one "outsider," said Ozoga. "The outsider" was probably a distant relative of the others. They'd often join forces to keep him from getting precious food.

Just as with humans, group membership provides courage. Ozoga has often seen a deer fight another twice its size for food when other "friends" were nearby.

Demonstrations and explanations of various construction techniques were given—stitching by Pat Mepians; understitching by Cheryl Werner; zipper applications by Arlene Zahn; seam finishes by Loretta Wahl and hemming by Doni Boyer.

A Slanto-Matic machine demonstration was given by Jane Snyder; stain removal ideas were presented by Joyce Mshar and Frances Eder; appliance demonstrations were given by Patsy Hagaman, Glenda Puckard and Rosemary Beebe; a series of discussions on home economics were in charge of Vickie Blacklaw and Rose Porter; and Penny Boyer, Sherry Czarnecki, Esther Klink and Janet Rohr prepared and served refreshments utilizing milk recipes.

In the dining room flower arranging demonstrations were given by Rose Curtis, Judy Bolinger and Shirley Mosier, while furniture of various periods in history were discussed by Joyce Colvia and Cheryl Lehman.

Completing the well-rounded program on all phases of home-making and related home economics was a clever pantomime on manners by girls of Home Economics I. Named "Do's and Don'ts," the demonstration was given by the following girls: Barbara Arnett, Judy Aronson, Beverly Boyer, Judy Carpenter, Denise Foster, Pat Guest, Ann Heydlauff, Linda Kealy, Gail Kuhl, Nancy Mshar, Dawnine Osterle, Sharon Stahl, Sue Swanson, Carolyn Wilkerson, Pat Wireman, and Judy Wiseman. Parents and friends of the girls in home economics classes were invited to be present at the open house event.

GEEN W. WHITE of Dexter rolled up a score of 871 for four games to become the Chelsea Lanes champion bowler in singles events. He received the first-place trophy he is exhibiting in the photo and also received first-place prize money. In a marathon bowling event staged at Chelsea Lanes April 27 and 28 from 10 p.m. until 5:30 a.m., Carlton Haffey (tired but happy) walked off with the first-place trophy and prize money after rolling a handicap score of 2,536 for 12 games.

Girl Scouts Earn $240 In Annual Cookie Sale

Chelsea Girl Scout Neighborhood Association, at a meeting Monday evening at the Chelsea Junior High school heard reports on the coming visit of Girl Guides from India, a project which has been in the planning program for more than a year.

The girls from India will visit the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council for two months; they arrive at Ann Arbor, Monday, May 13. Girl Scouts who wish to be on hand to greet them may go to the airport to meet the plane which is scheduled to arrive at 6:40 p.m.

Also announced was a meeting of Girl Scouts—two from each troop—to plan a program for a gathering June 12 at the Neighborhood campsite at Eisenbeiser woods when the girls from India will be guests of the Chelsea Neighborhood.

The girls will also be guests of Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser from July 14 until Aug. 4. They will spend nights at the Eisenbeiser home and attend daily activities at Cedar Lake Girl Scout camp.

Mrs. Gertrude Eddy of Ann Arbor, regional Girl Scout advisor, was present at Monday's meeting. She commended the Chelsea Neighborhood for its 25 percent increase in membership, the top increase in Region III. Mrs. Eddy said the Chelsea area also had the greatest number of adults trained for leadership.

A report given by the Neighborhood cookie sale chairman, Mrs. P. E. Sharrard, listed 4,956 boxes of cookies sold with 215 girls participating; the local troop's profit is $240.

Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser's Troop 68 won the distinction of selling the greatest number of boxes—678—and received a certificate for their efforts.

Another announcement at the meeting pertained to health examinations to be given by Dr. J. V. Fisher and the doctors at the Chelsea Medical Clinic for girls who are planning to attend camp. The Girl Scouts are to contact their leaders for the time and other arrangements for the health examinations.

The Neighborhood Association decided that all Girl Scouts should be asked to participate in the Memorial Day observance; they should meet at the Park St. park.

Dave Reid Retires from Spring Firm

Dave Reid, night superintendent at Rockwell-Standard Corp. since 1953, had completed 27 years of affiliation with the firm Tuesday, April 30, when in line with the company's retirement plan, he became a retiree.

Members of the Rockwell-Standard Division of UAW-CIO Local 937, honored him during the lunch hour Monday night by serving a big dinner at the plant and presenting him with a pair of binoculars.

Past evening, the satisfied employees and office personnel entertained in his honor at a restaurant. At that dinner William Marsh, the plant manager, commended Reid for his years of loyalty to the firm and on behalf of those present, announced that the group was presenting him with a yard light, completely installed, for his home at 714 McKinley Rd.

A "thumbnail sketch" of the life of Dave Reid, to date, had been prepared by Donald Baldwin, personnel director at Rockwell-Standard, and Marsh read this during his talk at the dinner. Included was mention of the fact that Reid joined the Scotch Cavalry, in his native Scotland at the age of 15 and during World War I served in the British Army. In World War II he served in the United States Cavalry.

Before becoming affiliated with the firm—when it was the former Falls Spring & Axle Co. at Detroit in March 1938, he had worked as a taxicab driver and later had charge of the string of polo ponies owned by John F. Ivory. His interest in horses is as great as it ever was and he owns several fine riding horses—he is a familiar figure in community parades which include horses and their riders.

When the plant moved to Chelsea from Detroit in 1939, Reid moved with it and has been with the firm ever since. He worked as a set-up man in the small coiling department before becoming night superintendent of the plant.

A total of 68 were present at Tuesday's dinner in Reid's honor.

In 1962 the state stood third in carrot production. Most of the 1,118,000 hundredweight produced went on the fresh market, but there also were a lot of Michigan carrots that went to soup manufacturers, baby food makers, and other processors.

Pledges Total $77,000 for Building Fund

With 75 percent of calls completed Sunday afternoon by canvass committee of St. Paul United Church of Christ, a total of $77,000 was contributed in cash and pledges for the church building fund. Canvass have been given this week to complete their calls and auditors be at the church hall from 7 to 8 p.m. Sunday, May 12, to accept their final reports.

Co-chairmen David Strieter Paul Schaible, Jr., said they the entire canvass committee gratified with results of the out Sunday afternoon visit to institute the campaign funds to build a new church property already acquired on US-12 on part of the former Pierce farm.

The wholehearted support of congregation in pledging or contributing the initial amount so assures that plans for the eventual construction of the new church will now go forward.

Library Friends Spring Meeting Set for Monday

Chelsea area residents interested in McKune Memorial Library invited to attend the annual spring meeting of the Friends of the Library, Monday May 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Library.

The guest speaker at the program will be Ronald Kroutet, the art department of the University of Michigan. His topic, "A special program, planned 8:30 p.m. will be open to all interested persons in the community."

Kroutel, who is currently teaching fellow in the University art department, is completing his M.F.A. degree from the University of Maryland in June. He has an pressive record of experience in the field of art and, in addition, has earned money to complete his education in such widely diverse tasks as drill machine operator, warehouse man, school custodian, and work and jazz pianist.

Friends of the Library President John Merkel extends an invitation to all area residents to attend the program Monday evening.

Friends of the Library President Jack Merkel was advised yesterday that the Wortham Gallery

Ann Arbor has agreed to permit Kroudel to select approximately 12 live paintings for showing at the library after his lecture. While his slide pictures are beautiful, it is believed the paintings themselves will prove exceptionally

The pictures will include water colors, drawings and original prints. The latter will include etchings, lithographs and woodcuts.

The addition of the pictures to the art gallery at Ann Arbor add considerably to the enjoyment of the program, Merkel believes, particularly since the gallery's tures may be purchased should anyone wish to do so. Their cost, however, is not being specifically promoted; the showing here, emphasized, is for the added enjoyment they will bring to the guest speaker's lecture program.

Michigan is 8th in the production of cabbage, with a 1962 harvest of 742,000 hundredweight which is estimated to have brought growers $1,548,000.

CHS Alumni Banquet Set For June 8

Chelsea Alumni Association is holding committee meetings at frequent intervals to complete plans for the annual alumni banquet which has been scheduled for Saturday, June 8, at the Chelsea High School cafeteria. The meal will be served at 6:45 p.m.

Letters are being processed and sent out this week and it is explained that it is of the utmost importance to send a reply. Reservations for the banquet may be made by filling out the blank form sent with the letter or by purchasing a ticket or making a reservation with the ticket chairman, Mrs.
George Winans. Reservations are due June 1.

All classes ending in the number "8" are to be honored at the banquet; several of these as well as other classes have already instituted plans for get-togethers and attendance at the banquet.

The banquet committee chairman is Mrs. Homer Kuli; invitation chairman is Mrs. Walter Bury; and decorations are in charge of Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., and Mrs. Duane Hall.

In charge of the reception committee is Audrey Harris.

Other committee chairmen are Frederick Wenk, nominations; and Mrs. Alva Forty, publicity.

Officers of the association are Charles Stanish, president; Mrs.
Charles Popovich, Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Duane Hall, secretary; and Mrs. Frederick Wagner, treasurer.

Advisors are Charles Winans and Roland Spaulding.

Weight Watchers Shouldn't Skip Meals, Say Experts

Wise weight-watchers don't skip meals, say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Meal skipping, they report, often results in an over-consumption of calories because the dieter frequently eats snacks—such as desserts, candy and chocolate—when he has hunger impulses resulting from inadequate food intake. The number of calories in the snacks generally outnumber the calories which would have been consumed in a normal meal.

According to the U-M specialists, there is only one satisfactory way to control body weight: change your eating habits by eating three well-planned meals a day.

The calorie-counter's meals should consist of smaller than average servings from a wide variety of choices. This list includes milk, lean meat, poultry, fish, eggs, cheese, fruits, vegetables, bread and butter. Rich foods such as desserts and gravies should be avoided except as an occasional treat.

Celery, cabbage, lettuce and other raw green vegetables are excellent choices for snack foods because of their low calorie content.

Unless only a few pounds are to be lost, the U-M dietitians warn that a doctor should be consulted before a weight reduction diet is undertaken.

However, developing sound eating habits based on three well-chosen meals a day remains the only satisfactory solution to maintaining weight, remind the U-M dietitians.

Michigan growers in 1962 raised a $1.6-million crop of green and wax beans, placing the state 9th in the volume raised for the fresh market and 7th in the volume going to processors. Green bean varieties, rather than wax beans, are in the majority.

JCC To Continue Seat Belt Clinic, Rummage Sale

Chelsea Jaycees, at their regular meeting Tuesday evening discussed plans for two of their big projects for the year—a repeat of last year's exceptionally successful seat belt clinic, set for May 25-26 and June 1 and 2, and the annual rummage sale, which will take place July 5 and 6.

Chairman of the seat belt clinic is George Winchester, Jr. He said the seat belt installation project will take place at the same location as last year—the parking area at Stop & Shop supermarket, M-52 and Old US-12.

Tuesday's meeting was held in the Jaycees' rooms on Main St., with the new president, Lyle Chris-well, in charge.

Principal item of business, in addition to the seat belt and rummage sale projects, was approval of the year's calendar of extensive activities and proposed budget.

St. Mary's School Association Cites Accomplishments

The final meeting of the current year of St. Mary's School Association took place Tuesday evening, with the group's president, John Merkel, presiding.

Reports given at the meeting reflect extensive accomplishments during the first year of the group's re-activation after several years of inaction.

A resume of activities included mention of a Christmas party for children; two public euchre parties for the purpose of raising funds for the benefit of St. Mary's school (both parties declared exceptionally successful); assistance provided to the teachers through the association's playground committee; and work in the school library.

The playground committee arranged for volunteers to help at the school in supervising youngsters during the noon lunch hour, a project much appreciated by the teachers.

The library work mentioned was a really extensive project carried out by volunteers. Now completed, the library is arranged in the same order as McKim Memorial Library for the convenience of children using both libraries.

Books were repaired, as necessary, and the completed job now meets all requirements of the state for school library management.

Proceeds of the euchre parties have been designated for the purchase of three sets of encyclopedias for the school.

The association's latest public euchre party was held Saturday evening at the Chelsea High school cafeteria. A total of 112 tickets were sold, it was reported at Tuesday's meeting.

The third grade room at St.
Mary's school was awarded the traveling attendance banner for the month—an honor for having the most parents present at an association meeting.

George Merkel and Paul Maynard were appointed as a nomination committee to present a slate of officers for election when the association's meetings are resumed in the fall. The first meeting of the school year, 1968-69, is scheduled for Sept. 10.

With Kalamazoo the birthplace of America's commercial celery industry more than a century ago, Michigan has long been famous for this crop in which it stood as the nation's No. 3 producer last year. The state's yield was 1,058, 000 hundredweight, value to growers was $3,696,000.

1,100 Parcels In Delinquent Tax Sale

The annual delinquent tax sale of lands in Washtenaw county began at the County Building Tuesday morning and County Treasurer Sylvester Leonard, who conducts the sale, said it will continue until all are sold.

By the time the sale got underway, the delinquent taxes had been paid on a total of 1,500 parcels of the original 2,000 since they were declared delinquent Oct.
1, 1961 and then advertised in The Chelsea Standard during February of this year. The list was completed Oct. 1, 1962.

Owners had until 5 p.m. Monday to pay the taxes on their property and keep it from being sold;
payment of the delinquent taxes, interest and charges, by the deadline was all that was required.

Property included in the list to be sold is that with taxes in arrears for the past three years.

The tax sale, actually, is not outright sale of the properties offered but a competitive sale of the lien for the unpaid taxes and charges. The tax lien covering the properties is sold to the person who pays the accumulated taxes and charges and takes the least undivided interest in the premises.

Successful bidders receive from the county treasurer certificates indicating their purchases of the delinquent tax liens. If the sale of the tax lien is for an interest less than the entire amount and the purchaser forecloses, he becomes a tenant in common with the owner to the extent of the undivided interest he purchased.

The owner has the right to redeem at any time prior to the next annual tax sale by paying the amount of the sale plus one per cent per month. Redemption may be made at either the county treasurer's office or the office of the auditor general.

The tax deed, itself, does not at once convey absolute title to the property involved; various legal requirements must be met before the tax deed holder acquires full ownership, these formalities extending final settlement to approximately 18 months from the date of this week's delinquent tax sale.

Parking Lot Closed During Construction

Village officials are closing the municipal parking lot on West Middle St. in the area adjacent to the Chelsea Milling Company's construction site to all but emergency traffic until the remainder of the construction of the concrete bins is completed—probably within a few days. This action was taken because of the danger of falling objects and because of possible concrete splashes on vehicles parked there.

How Can Woman Explain Her Car Being Hit by Plane

Benton Harbor—"Oh dear, my husband will never believe this,"
That was the main concern of a St. Charles, Ill., woman after her car was struck by an airplane on the I-94 freeway recently.

The plane was making an emergency landing on the freeway just east of M-140 when it ran into the rear end of the car driven by Mrs. Virginia Nichols, 84.

No injuries and only minor damage resulted.

Pilot Clifford Hall, 38, of Ren-selaer, Ind., told South Haven state police that his motor locked about 15 miles southeast of Watervliet. He said that Mrs.
Nichols' car was "apparently right under me" as he came down in the westbound lane of the divided highway.

"It landed right against my rear fender," Hall said. "It's a good thing the (plane) motor wasn't running."

Hall, who was on a business flight from Rensselaer to Holland, estimated that about $200 worth of damage was done to the fuel age and landing gear of his single engine plane.

Mrs. Nichols, driving with her four young children, resumed her trip home. She only wished that one of the police officers would accompany her and explain to her husband.

A RARE REQUEST

Tucson, Ariz. — When a person demands to pay more taxes—that is a rare occasion.

A man walked into the county assessor's office and asked that his taxes be increased. He explained that he had been taxed for 37 acres of land, but a survey has shown that he owns 40 acres. Officials promised to correct the records so he would hereafter be assessed for the additional three acres.

There just doesn't seem to be any one hairstyle that is flattering to virtually all women. A coiffure must be designed individually for the shape of a woman's face and her features. It must emphasize all your good points and diminish the unflattering ones. An ingenious haircut is the first consideration for your new coif. It can defeat humidity, rain and even the steam from your bath. The set may loosen but the cut will keep it flattering.

Q. Will millage be levied for the North elementary School debt Retirement Fund?

A. No. Enough money is in that fund, without any further levy, to retire the total debt of the North Elementary School April 1, 1964.

Q. How may I figure my increase in the school taxes for the next year?

A. You multiply the valuation, in thousands, that appears on your tax statement by the figure in the township in which your property is located shown in the table below.

The total increase in school taxes for property assessed at $1,000 in each township is included in column I; in column II the increase for property assessed at $2,000; in column III the increase for property assessed at $3,000; and in column IV the increase for property assessed at $5,000.

	$1,000	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000

Co-Captains Tom Eisenbeiser and Jack Howard and their fellow seniors—Don Brooks, Dud Holmes, Bob Riemenschneider, Tim Whitesall and Don Wilson.

Other football letterwinners introduced are Juniors Gordon Carpenter, Jack Crawford, Curt Farley, Jeff Plintoff, John Hand, Warren Forath, Richard Reed and Mike Schrader. (Farley and Forath were announced as co-captains for 1963).

The football list continues with Sophomores Jim Cameron, Gary Dresch, Dick McCalla, Jeff Spaulding, Dennis Stoffey and Orin Wireman, and Freshman Mike Kishmaul and Mike Tarasow.

Mentioned as most valuable back was Jack Howard; most valuable lineman, Don Wilson; and most improved back and lineman, Gordon Carpenter and Jack Crawford, respectively.

Among basketball letterwinners Bob Riemenschneider was announced as the free throw trophy winner for his 77.9 percentage record—a new high for this award. His total of 200 points averages 16.11 points per game.

Most valuable basketball player named is Curt Farley and most improved player, Jeff Plintoff.

Farley scored a total of 200 points for a 16.11 game average and was credited with 258 rebounds—his record for designation as most valuable player.

A delight fresh, as a sauce, or as a pie filling, blackberries or dewberries are a delicious, although minor, crop. Slightly more than 600,000 quarts, worth $200,000, were sold by growers in 1961.

A discussion was held with Sharl Stoffer, Cindy Blacklaw and Bonnie Erskine, who were representatives of the Junior High students, regarding the desire of many students for a "Teen Center." Since this request is in the general theme of the Youth Committee program, it was suggested, to Trustee Burg, that his group should work with representative groups of teens when the time for actual programming of activities could be accomplished.

A discussion was held with several women representing the Mothers Club of Chelsea regarding several problems of concern to parents of small children in the southwest section of the village.

One item of special concern was an incident of child molesting which was reported to Chelsea police on Dec. 28, of last year. The Mothers Club feels that if a street could be constructed in the area between Dale Street and Maywood Street, it would eliminate the possibility of any such occurrence in the future. The path used by small children in this area runs through tall weeds and heavy brush, and at times the children are out of sight of the homes in the area.

Trustee Bollinger was instructed to work with the group in seeking a possible solution to their problem.

A request for a clarification of a letter sent to the residents bounded by Wilkinson St. and Arthur Street, stating that the property owners involved are required to allow for a 12-foot utility easement was turned over to Trustee Clark for study and recommendation.

A discussion was held regarding the fire station to be constructed on the village property located on West Middle Street.

Bids for the construction of the Village Fire Station were received by the Village Clerk from the following contractors: Robert E. Lowery, Manchester $30,096.00; Slocum Contractors, Chelsea $27,694.75; E. L. O'Harrow, Jackson, $27,588.00; Frederick Belser, Chelsea $22,763.00; Associated Builders, Chelsea, $22,390.00.

Motion by Wood, supported by Chapman, to award the contract for the construction of the fire station to Frederick Belser in the amount of $22,763.00, subject to revisions and alternates. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Wood, supported by Clark, that the tax rate be accepted as presented, and that the millage for 1963 be set as follows: A total of 17 mills, 13 mills for the general fund, 1 mill for the library, and 3 mills for payment of interest and principal on the bond issue sold for the additions

Mrs. Floyd Walz Injured by Door Falling in Storm

Mrs. Floyd Walz was painfully injured during the storm which struck this area late Saturday afternoon, the high wind loosening one of the 24"x30" doors in the silo at her farm home, 13841 Yorkum Rd. The door fell from its position approximately 12 feet above the ground and struck her face a glancing blow inflicting severe cuts on her upper lip. It required 22 stitches to close the wound. She also suffered cuts and bruises on her chin and on the thumb of her right hand.

In addition to the cuts and bruises she suffered, she lost one of her teeth and suffered injury to two others.

At the time of the mishap, Mrs. Walz was inside the silo. As the heavy, two-inch thick door struck her she was rendered unconscious. She doesn't remember how long it was before she regained a degree of consciousness but in spite of being in shock she had the presence of mind to drive her car to the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kruse, to ask for help.

The Kruses took her to Dexter and Dexter police rushed her to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. She was still a patient there yesterday.

Michigan's 7,200 tons of beets, valued at $127,000 last year, put the state in fourth place nationally in this crop which goes almost entirely to processors.

MAGIC TELEPHONE
Monette, Ark. — For six months the United Telephone Company has been trying to solve the ringing of the telephone in Mr. and Mrs. Max Cope's home.

Nobody is placing the calls, yet, both telephones ring at the same time. They have received calls from Alaska to Puerto Rico, from Hawaii to Canada and from other states in the U.S.

The thing that bothers the telephone company most is they can't bill anyone for the calls.

Michigan's cauliflower crop of about 90,000 hundredweight brought the growers an estimated $757,000 in 1962, and Michigan stood fourth.

52 Teachers Sign Contracts To Return for Next Year

Announcement was made this week by the Board of Education that a total of 52 teachers have already signed contracts to return to Chelsea schools for the 1968-69 school year, and 20 have indicated they will be leaving at the end of the present semester.

Approximately half of those who are leaving are doing so because of the fact that their husbands are graduating from the University of Michigan and are leaving this area to make their home elsewhere.

The announcement by the School Board stated that "we feel fortunate to have had these high caliber teachers to supplement our fine career teachers" during the time their husbands were studying at the University; they were hired with the full knowledge that they would be leaving at this time.

Reasons for other teacher turnover which is described as "a normal amount" include: offers of higher pay elsewhere; retirement; forsaking the teaching field for other employment; accepting teaching positions nearer their homes; expectant motherhood; and disagreement with local school policies, the Board of Education or administrators.

Teachers returning are Mrs. Frances Baldighi, Mrs. Joyce Canani, Miss Charlene Chisholm, Mrs. Ellen Curtis, Mrs. Isabel Eisale, Mrs. Janet Fuks, Mrs. Nancy Grau, Mrs. Lucille Grossman, Mrs. Florence Hakala, Mrs. Lucille Kelly, Mrs. Helen Lange, Mrs. Judith Mulholland.

The list continues with Mrs. Bernice Packard, Mrs. Olive Rogers, David Sanborn, Mrs. Jeanne Smith, Philip H. Smith, Miss Roberta Stormant, Mrs. Sharon Vonk, Miss Mary K. Weber, Mrs. Crieda Winkle, Donald Young, James Hudgins.
Others returning are James Bedford, Donald Bussler, Donald Carlenius, Neil Colley, Wesley Cowell, Jack Curl, Mrs. Nancy Eckstrom, Miss Mary Lou Fowler, Stephen A. Hayden, James Hoffmeyer, David Knisely, Thomas Kopeck, Bert Kruse, Mrs. Gwen LaDue, James LaGoo, Mrs. Doris Lehmann, David Lindsay, George Marshall, John McGill.
Also on the list of those returning are Thomas Morrison, Mrs. Iris Papadoff, Richard Pardon, George Prinzling, Alfred Smith, Harry Snider, Mrs. Barbara Straker, Jack Weiss, Leonard Solomon and Mrs. Rosemary Irving.

Elaborate Plans Made for Michigan Week Observance

The 10th anniversary of Michigan Week, a unique undertaking to stimulate awareness and promotion of Michigan's many assets, will be observed May 19-26 in Chelsea, and across the state.

George A. Staffan, 1963 Michigan Week chairman for Chelsea, expressed hopes the celebration will prompt locally further citizen alertness to needs and potentials of Michigan, and of their opportunities to serve it.

Michigan Week, he said is the peak of a year-around program to promote Michigan and unite its citizens to work for the State's greater future.

A new means of marshaling thousands of citizen-salesmen of the state will be launched this year. It is a program, announced April 15 by Governor George Romney, to enlist members of state associations in a year-around campaign to sell Michigan's advantages nation-wide.

Another new Michigan Week project will be Citizen Leadership Aways to 10 outstanding citizens for voluntary and meritorious contributions to enrichment of Michigan life during the past decade.

A further highlight of the 10th anniversary celebration will be the first Michigan Week Youth Arts Festival, honoring outstanding adults in the fine arts fields in or from Michigan and featuring young Michigan performers picked through state-wide competition. It will be held May 25 in Flint.

"Science and Research for Our Future" is the theme of the 1968 Michigan Week, sponsored by the Greater Michigan Foundation.

On the theory that "What Michigan Makes, Makes Michigan," special emphasis also has been placed this year on product promotion. A Michigan product of the year will be chosen from among county and regional winners.

This is of special interest here since two Chelsea products are in the running for honors—the Paradome "home away from home" manufactured by Outdoor Fibre Products Co. and Jiffy Mixes of Chelsea Milling Co.

Michigan Week will open Sunday, May 19, with observance of Spiritual Foundations Day, which for a decade has marked the start of the week-long celebration.

Other special days are: Monday, Government Day, featuring the annual exchange of mayors and village presidents; Tuesday, Hospitality Day, reflecting Michigan's pride as America's year-around hospitalityland; Wednesday, Our Livelihood Day, saluting the State's job producers; Thursday, Education Day, saluting the schools; Friday, Our Heritage Day, emphasizing accomplishments that herald a better future; and Saturday, Our Youth Day, which this year will give special emphasis to teamwork of adults and youth.

An attempt is made to make each of the seven special days meaningful for the future. For example, 18 regional symposiums, most of them held on Our Livelihood Day, will be staged this year to discuss funds available to finance industrial expansion and construction in Michigan communities.

Michigan Week is sponsored by the Greater Michigan Foundation, a non-profit citizen organization representing interests in the business, labor, religious, government, education and civic spheres.

"Every citizen in Michigan benefits either directly or indirectly from Michigan Week," said Michigan Week general chairman Herbert G. Daverman, partner in the J. & G. Daverman architectural firm in Grand Rapids.

He said the 10th anniversary observance "looks like the greatest 'sell-observance' this state has ever known."

Daverman said this benefits all of Michigan because:

—Business, labor and other groups work closely through the Michigan Week organization, to present the State favorably to the nation and the world, stimulating additional markets for Michigan products and additional jobs for Michigan people.

Michigan residents learn the true story of their state, and become more interested and active in promoting Michigan to outsiders.

A climate of hospitality and friendliness is fostered that attracts visitors and enhances the reputation of Michigan and her people.

—As part of the missionary effort of Michigan Week, Governor Romney will address the National Press Club in Washington, D. C. May 22. This is an important "first" for Michigan Week.

One of the long-established missionary efforts, the trip of Michigan agricultural queens, will again be a feature of the annual Michigan promotion.

The Michigan State Society, oldest state society in the nation's capital, will hold a breakfast during Michigan Week honoring Michigan's congressional delegation.

U-M Youth Band Plans Concert Sunday at Saline
The University of Michigan Youth Band, directed by Arthur Katterjohn of Saline, will present a concert at Saline on Sunday, May 12.

Dexter students who will appear with the group include Marlene Stalker, Sheryl Ernst, Carol Barr, Robert Farrell and Neil Ehlers.
The group meets on alternate Saturdays for practice sessions and presents occasional concerts such as the one set for Sunday afternoon. Those are open to the public.

Opportunities in Home Economics Now Greatest in History, Says MSU Dean

East Lansing—Opportunities for home economists are the greatest in history, indicates Dr. Thelma Porter, Dean of the College of Home Economics at Michigan State University.

"The need for persons with advanced degrees in all areas of home economics is acute," she pointed out in a report to the MSU Board of Trustees.

"With the increase in the number of early marriages, changes due to automation, the increase in population and the great need for help in the underdeveloped countries," she said, "home economics has the greatest potential it has ever had for providing young people with an education which will not only prepare them for satisfying lives themselves but also for serving others."

In particular demand, she reported, are students with masters or doctoral degrees for teaching and research in colleges and universities, for employment in industry and for high-level positions in government.

Professional opportunities in most fields of home economics exceed the number of graduates, she indicated, teaching in business and industry, in dietetics and in the mass media of television, radio and journalism.

Michigan State's College of Home Economics is the fourth largest in the nation, Dean Porter reported, adding that the college is recognized through the country as a leader among colleges and universities for the education program.

"We believe we have developed the most forward looking educational program for students in home economics in the country today," she said as she outlined recent curriculum revisions within the college.

The new approach breaks with tradition in a number of ways. Mainly, time spent on the development of manipulative skills has been reduced to a minimum and careful consideration has been given to providing a balance between professional and general education.

"With the change in our society in the last half century from an extended to a nuclear family unit," Dean Porter emphasized, "it is particularly appropriate and important for young people to understand the institution of the family from the humanistic point of view."

Research, she said, is recognized as basic to the development of both the graduate and undergraduate programs.

The MSU research program in home economics, financed largely by funds from the Agricultural Experiment Station, "is ranked among the top three in the country by the U. S. Department of Agriculture," Dean Porter reported.

Of special note, she indicated, are the research activities being conducted by academically talented undergraduate students in home economics as part of the total University Honors College program. This research includes programs ranging from technical projects in human nutrition to those with a psychological or sociological base in which aspects of family living have been studied.

Services of the College of Home Economics reach far beyond the campus at East Lansing. The family living program of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service reaches 40,000 to 50,000 homes each year. This number increases to an estimated two-thirds of Michigan families through means of mass media.

"The programs are designed to assist families to take full advantage of the human material resources within the definition of a responsible citizen," Dean Porter explained.

Still other groups within the state are served through Continuing Education Programs by providing courses which carry graduate credit in centers at various locations in the state. These courses assist graduate home economists, teachers, dietitians, extension workers and homemakers in improving their competence and updating their knowledge in the field of home economics.

The faculty of the College also participates in informal education for citizens through conferences largely held at Kellogg Center.

Much of the success of the College Dean Porter credited to the highly trained staff of some 80 people, including extension personnel and those on special assignments. No resident staff member has less than a master's degree, she said.

Enrollments in home economics continue to grow. They numbered 830 in the fall of 1961, an 8 percent increase over the previous year.

Of the 830, there were 86 graduate students. About one-third of the home economics majors enrolled this fall were preparing for teaching; 129 were preparing to go into retailing of clothing and textiles; 87 were working toward careers in interior design; and 82 majors in food, nutrition and food-service administration are meeting the requirements of the American Dietetic Association to serve in the field of hospital dietetics and institutional management.

Fall Kindergarten Pupils Will Attend Pre-School Day

Next Friday, May 17, is the annual pre-school day for children of the Chelsea School District who will be entering kindergarten for the first time in September. Children eligible to enter must be five years old before Dec. 2, 1963.

Elementary Principal Arthur Schmunk said meetings will be held in the two kindergarten rooms at South Elementary school on Pierce St. Mothers may take beginners directly to the kindergarten rooms, then go to the all-purpose room and complete the child's enrollment forms, enjoy refreshments, and participate in a short discussion on the kindergarten child.

The morning session meeting from 9:00 a.m. to approximately 10:30 a.m. will be for rural children. The afternoon session meeting from 1:00 p.m. to approximately 2:30 p.m. will be for all town children.

The day at school will give the pre-kindergartners an idea of what to expect when they actually begin classes. Their mothers meanwhile, will be completing the required records for the school files.

Parents who find it impossible to attend the preview day are asked to contact the school by telephone or make arrangement to send in the required information by mail.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Spending—Arithmetic and Common Sense

President, in his April 24 conference, stated that 15 percent of the national debt was paid off. It is now only 15 percent. He seemed to feel that the critics of his spending were either unaware of the trend or preferred to ignore it. There is nothing wrong with the President's arithmetic, if we grant him reasonable latitude in rounding off his figures. However, there is no reason why this history should encourage an attitude of complacency in regard to increasing the magnitude of federal spending, the large current and prospective deficits, and the consequent upward trend in the national debt. It is not surprising, and not particularly reassuring, that the national debt is now lower in relation to the size of the economy than it was in the years immediately following the costliest war in our history. By implication at least, the President seems to be saying that a reasonable norm for our national debt would be the 120 percent of gross national product which obtained in late 1948. To have kept the national debt at the same relative level would have necessitated a cumulative deficit of $435 billion during the intervening years—an average of $27 billion annually. One might well ask the President whether he would have considered deficits of that magnitude a desirable, or even acceptable, fiscal policy for the period. The President also fails to note that a substantial part of the reduction in the percentages he quotes is due to inflation. If our present gross national product were not inflated by the price rises which have occurred since 1948 the national debt would be 84 percent of that smaller amount—instead of 53 percent. In other words, almost half the reduction in the relative burden of our national debt is due to the fact that it is now payable in cheaper dollars. One might also ask the President whether he considers a continuation of inflation a desirable way of reducing the percentage which he seems to regard as a criterion of sound fiscal policy. In using the situation in 1948 as his basis of comparison, the President has chosen the period when the national debt, as a percentage of gross national product, was close to its all-time peak. This is like assuring a man that all is well with him by comparing his present situation with the worst day of his life. The current ratio of federal debt to gross product—53 percent—might just as well be compared with the corresponding ratio at other dates when it was much lower. For example, the national debt was only 18 percent of gross product in 1929.

Over and above all this arithmetic is the simple fact that whatever government spending absorbs in the way of productive resources is not available for other purposes—including the building of our national productive potential through capital formation. Government has essential func-

Legislature OK's New Night Speed Limit for Freeways
Lansing — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie congratulated the Michigan legislature on its approval of two freeway speed limit bills during its session that ended recently.
One bill would establish a 45 mile an hour minimum speed limit on the state's more than 1,000 miles of freeway.
The second bill would raise the maximum nighttime speed limit on freeways from 60 to 70 miles an hour, making it the same as the daytime freeway speed limit.
"The minimum speed limit for freeways is something we've needed for several years and I am pleased the Legislature has adopted this proposal," Mackie said.
"It should do much to reduce the number of rear-end collisions on freeways caused mostly by slow-moving vehicles."
Mackie said the Highway Department supported a bill to increase the nighttime freeway speed limit "because we feel motorists can safely drive 70 MPH on freeways at night as well as during the daytime."
Speed limits on other state highways — 65 MPH during the daytime and 55 MPH at night — remain unchanged.
What has become of the man who used to find employment because he wrote neatly and legibly?

Your Social Security

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Washtenaw county now top $868,000, Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of social security in Ann Arbor, said today on releasing his annual county benefit date report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of ten percent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Kehoe said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Washtenaw county.

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Kehoe noted that as of December 31, 1961, some 11,907 residents were collecting about ten and one-half million dollars annually from social security, an increase of 11 percent over 1961.

Most people in Washtenaw county, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January 1962, in the nation at large, more than 18 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of $1.2 billion per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $70.15 for all States, while in the State of Michigan, the average was $84.37, Kehoe said.

Chelsea Merchants Help Manchester Fashion Show

The Tabernacle Society of Emanuel United Church of Christ at Manchester presented a fashion show Friday evening in the church parish hall featuring women's styles from Chelsea's Patty Ann Shoppe and costume jewelry from Winans Jewelry Store here.

Mrs. John Stoffer represented Winans store at the event and Mrs. Effie Morgan, proprietor of Patty Ann Shoppe, represented her store.

Narrators were Mrs. Raymond Jacob, Jr. and Mrs. Walter Vogt of the Manchester area.

Models included Mrs. Marie Scheurer, Mrs. Roland Grossman, Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Anton Schlosser, Mrs. Robert Maestri, Miss Marilyn Huber, Carol Niehaus, Gail Kuhl, Mrs. Willard Manor, Mrs. Robert Ahrens, Mrs. Ronald Jenter, Mrs. Deolores Richardson, Mrs. Irene Wurster and Carole Alexander.

Among the jewelry loaned for the show by Winans Jewelry Store was a string of cultured pearls worn by Mrs. Ahrens as she modeled a black cocktail dress, complementing her ensemble with a platinum blonde wig provided by Mrs. Dorothy Moore of Manchester.

Several antique bridal outfits were modeled; a highlight of this part of the show being an authentic going-away suit worn in 1896 by the late Mrs. Edwin Kuhl, mother of Alfred Kuhl. It was modeled by Carol Alexander.

Fashioned of dark green broad material with touches of pink in the design, the suit was worn with accessories which included a green velvet hat trimmed with ostrich plumes, white fabric slippers and pink stockings. The accessories were all part of the original costume worn almost 67 years ago.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the fashion show. Stage decorations for the show represented a garden setting which had been arranged by Mrs. Earl Alber and Mrs. Lawrence Burkhardt.

Cornelia Otis Skinner is delighted that her son and his wife will make her a grandmother late this summer.

WSCS Organizes Circles To Replace Philathea Groups

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church completed arrangements for the formation of six circles to replace the former Philathea groups and other circles at their meeting Wednesday evening, May 1.

In a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, names of members were drawn for each of the new circles which are named after Methodist women missionaries of the Detroit Conference who are now serving overseas.

New groups include the Vivian Otto Circle with Mrs. William Storey, chairman, and Marion Simon Circle, with Mrs. Albert Peterson as chairman. Both will meet mornings.

Afternoon meetings will be held by the Pearl Baxter Circle and Marion Shaw Circle, of which the respective chairmen are Mrs. Howard Walz and Mrs. G. A. Barton.

The remaining two circles—named after Grace Otto and Marion Kline—will meet evenings, chairman of the former being Mrs. Jack Pfeifle and of the latter, Mrs. Arthur Stoll.

As each new chairman completed drawing the names for her circle she lit a colored candle signifying the qualities which the women particularly strive for in their work—green for the desire to grow as Christians; orange as they seek to know the needs of the world; yellow for friendship and fellowship with all people; red, denoting love of all people; violet representing a desire to share in gifts for support of the world-wide work of the WSCS; and pink, indicating zeal to spread the gospel of Christ.

Each candle was lit from a central white candle representing the light spread throughout the world by the coming of Jesus Christ almost 2,000 years ago.

Areas mentioned in the candle-lighting ceremony pertain to the work of the women's society in the home church.

Mrs. William Storey, WSCS membership chairman, presented the names of Mrs. Bruce Billingsley, Mrs. Leon Blackburn and Mrs. Blaine Lyle for society membership. In an impressive ritual the new members pledged their prayers, service and gifts to the support of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and then Mrs. Claire Warren, WSCS president, welcomed them into membership.

Mrs. Warren also conducted the business session and announced that the next meeting, Wednesday, June 5, will be held at the church at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 5. It will be the annual meeting with all reports due to be given. Baby sitting will be available.

Wednesday's meeting was opened with a devotional service in charge of Mrs. John Potts. A special program feature was the appearance of two girls of the church—Jean Pajot and Penny Boyer—who gave an interesting account of their last summer's experiences at Friendship Camp on Lake Huron. They related not only about the fun they had but told of the inspirational impact the camp experiences had on all the young people who attended.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY MOVEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. John Thomson of 634 Flanders St. will host the May 14 meeting of the Christian Family Movement group at their home. Research on the social inquiry program of the April 23 meeting will be reported on at this meeting. Topic is "Employment, Income and the Least of My Brethren."

The Scripture discussion at the April 23 meeting, under the leadership of the Rev. Fr. Umberto of St. Louis School for Boys, was the gospel story of the Good Shepherd, John 1:11-16.

Hosts for the April 23 meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pennington.

Beach School Will Become Memorial to Mrs. F. Howlett

Negotiations are now in progress for the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery to purchase the Beach school and property at 11000 Chelsea-Dexter Rd., from Charles A. Powers, its present owner.

Announcement that the building was being acquired as a permanent facility for the nursery school was made last week at the same time that Mrs. Duane Crouch, president of the Co-Operative Nursery announced receipt of a gift of $500 from Donald Bacon toward the purchase price of $2,500. It is especially appropriate that the building should be used for school purposes and that it should be named in honor of Florence Bachman Howlett, a former Chelsea schoolteacher.

In making his generous contribution to initiate purchase of the school building, Bacon had suggested that it be given that name.

This site has been used for the purpose of teaching children since the first log cabin was erected under the tutelage of Mrs. Raymond Schairer, for three and four-year olds. The nursery holds a state license to operate and is organized as a non-profit Michigan corporation.

Parents working with the nursery are asking the people of the community to help them purchase this building thereby not placing excessive hardship on those families who will be enrolled in the nursery within the next few years. They explain that "a contribution from you will serve a worthy purpose as well as honor Mrs. Howlett."

Your contribution may be sent to one of the following: Mrs. George Winans, Mrs. George Palmer or Mrs. William Herring.

Notary Laws Vary Throughout States
Statutory provisions for notaries public differ greatly throughout the nation. Appointments to these commissions in some states are made by the Governor; in others by the Secretary of State, some by the Courts, and in others by the Chief Executive with the consent of the Senate or advice of council.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, the terms of office vary, too. They range from two to ten years.

In Louisiana a notary holds office during good behavior. Hare pointed out, "In South Carolina he serves during the pleasure of the Governor; and in Vermont, during the term of the appointing judge."

Hare listed the names of the notaries public in Washtenaw county who have been appointed since the beginning of the year as follows:

From Chelsea: Robert G. Barlow, Helen L. Betts, Irene A. Claflor, Gordon Gary, and Geraldine A. Young.

From Dexter: Kenneth E. Hones, Joan E. Robinson and John C. Robinson.

Unfortunately, Maytime is too early for cantaloupe, muskmelon, or "mushmelon," as some oldtimers call this delightful crop. In 1962 Michigan was 6th in production, with a crop of 202,000 bushels, with a crop of $1,300,000 to growers. Howell has built a festival around cantaloupe. Following Mrs. Schairer's election, Mrs. S. D. Kinde, on behalf of the Chelsea WSCS, presented her with a corsage.

covering the Book of the Year

Take 100 million words, boil them down sufficiently and you have the newly published 15th United Nations Yearbook—a blow-by-blow account of happenings in and around the world organization during a 14-month period.

The wordage represents the debates, resolutions and general proceedings from January 1961 through February 1962 in the General Assembly, Security Council, committees, councils, commissions and specialized agencies of the U.N.

About 150 correspondents at U.N. outposts from Bangkok to Chile send in contributions covering activities outside the domed General Assembly Building and the glass-walled Secretariat in New York.

Among special subjects reviewed are the Congo disarmament, outer space, atomic radiation, U.S.-Cuba relations, colonialism and refugees. At $16, the indexed volume is a gold mine of information for scholars, journalists, teachers, historians and others concerned with today's world.

But it's no paperback pocketbook. Hard-covered, its 828 pages contain half a million words—the equivalent of a shelf-full of novels.

Parents working with the nursery are asking the people of the community to help them purchase this building thereby not placing excessive hardship on those families who will be enrolled in the nursery within the next few years. They explain that "a contribution from you will serve a worthy purpose as well as honor Mrs. Howlett."

PROVED
PERFORMANCE!!
PROVED DURABILITY!

Ford's making all the big news today in open competitive road and track events. It's all in the record. Front-running Fords are proving the kind of performance they deliver is total performance.

Performance and durability in a car make a combination that's hard to beat. And big-league competition puts performance in perspective. Mechanical failure forced some pretty hot performers to quit in the Riverside 500... the Daytona 500... Atlanta 500... and the Bristol, Tenn. 250. But the Fords kept going to win every time. The Fords were proving it takes more than speed and acceleration to win. It takes durability, too. Road and track competition is a speeded-up test program. It tests brakes... suspension... cornering... steering... roadability. It tests total performance. And Ford delivers—not only in competition, but in your kind of driving too. See your Ford Dealer and sample total performance in a '63 Ford for yourself.

Christmas Seal Campaign Yields 21% Increase Over '61

At the annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association, Dr. E. O. Coates, president, reported that the Christmas Seal campaign had yielded a 21% increase over 1961. Dr. Coates noted that the number of Americans suffering from such respiratory diseases as emphysema, bronchitis and asthma, had increased in the past few years. He pointed out that the causes of these diseases are not only dust, fumes and other pollutants in industrial areas, but also the fact that people are subject to lung disease. Physicians are discovering that some housewives who use certain types of cleaning agents are also subject to lung disease. Dr. Coates explained that the business session of the annual meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Conlin, Jr., 1932 Christmas Seal campaign chairman, reported a 21% increase over 1961. The campaign yielded $33,826.75, a 21% increase over the $27,950.00 yielded in 1961. Dr. Coates said that the campaign had been successful in raising the awareness of the community to the danger of lung disease. Jobs for Graduates Figures show that figuring pays. Salary statistics show that the best salaries are paid those who work with statistics. Any branch of engineering also remains in high demand. This report was among many of unusual interest to students and advisors who took part in the "Michigan Youth-Power Congress" sponsored by the Michigan Farm Bureau to stimulate interest in the food-service and other agricultural related industries.

A panel of experts brought by the Young People's division of Farm Bureau, included representatives of Michigan's giant cereal companies, Post and Kellogg. Although the top management of these firms might be miles apart on policy, both appear to agree about general job opportunities and what they seek in employees. Melton Yezek, laboratory manager of the Post Co., lists a "cooperative attitude," the desire to work and a good scholastic record. If a student worked part of his way through school, this is another credit for his side. Yezek also listed the ability to make decisions, "especially unpleasant ones," as important.

LIMITED SATISFACTION - 101 OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

KOMPLANT DEPT.

Satisfaction is an important word to anyone whose business is selling to the public. Equally important is the manner in which this satisfaction is guaranteed or made available. The businessman who guarantees his product or his services will be successful only if the guarantee is made in good faith, upon his own sound belief in the value of that which is offered, and a sincere desire to offer only the best.

When you trade locally, the guarantee offered by local merchants is much more than a mere gesture. It's important to the merchant who wants to do business tomorrow - next week and next year - to know that he is right in his own evaluation of his products and services. When you trade with a reputable, established merchant, his guarantee is really "insurance" on the fact you made a sound investment.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

SPECIAL CLASSES

By Marty Skodak
The eighth graders in Mr. Carlenius's typing classes are learning to center addresses on envelopes and to center letters, such as friendly letters and business letters.

Plaster of Paris statues are being made in Mr. Carl's art classes. First they have to get a piece of wood the size they want it and make a wire frame of an animal or something else. Then they stuff it with newspaper and put plaster of Paris over it. When the plaster is dry, they can either sand it down or leave it the way it is. After this is done, they paint it.

In Mrs. Lehmann's home economics classes this six weeks, the students are learning to cook various kinds of foods, such things as fudge, brownies, cakes with frosting and pizza. On April 10, they had a visitor from the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. The woman made popcorn while demonstrating how to work a gas range.

The play "Tom Sawyer" will be given by the chorus class taught by Mr. Sanborn on May 24 and 25. The seventh and eighth grade bands gave their Spring Concerts on May 5. The band director is Mr. Lindsay.

On Thursday, May 2, the Special Education students and all of the seventh graders took a field trip to the Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills. The excellent exhibits on minerals, includand the very interesting planetarium program (classroom) this year's Science topics studied.

During the remaining weeks of school, the Special Education students will be learning about the geography and the people of Taiwan (Formosa). Their teacher, Mrs. Gardner will be leaving in June to accompany her husband on a two-year assignment with the Chinese University and government in Taipei, Taiwan.

EURASIA BEING STUDIED

By Kathy Fuks

There are many interesting things happening in the classes. Eurasia is the main subject of Mr. Kruse's and Mr. Marshall's seventh grade classes. The relationship of the United States with Latin America and Canada is being studied in Mr. Kruse's and Mr. Marshall's eighth grade classes. Graphs and charts are being studied in Mr. Solomon's seventh grade Math classes. His Geography class is studying north America and Latin America.

Animal Life is being studied by Mr. Conklin's science classes. Psychology will be tried by Mr. Snider's science classes. They will test each other by means of an association test. The association test is a form of a lie detector test. The classes have been divided into squads. There are four to five in a squad. Each squad will stage robberies and something will be stolen. Each squad will pick the suspect from five other suspects. They will use the association test for a lie detector.

Volumes will be studied by his math classes. Some of the volumes they will study are cubes, pyramids, spheres, prisms and cylinders. Legends and myths will be studied by Mrs. Smith's seventh grade classes. They will be doing extra projects on Greek myths.

A poetry unit will be studied by Mr. Kipale's seventh grade class. His eighth graders will work on biographies.

Scientific research is being done in Mr. Hoffmeyer's seventh grade classes. They are doing a unit called "Ways of the Scientist" which is about scientific discoveries, proper measurements, and how to recognize a fact. His eighth graders are studying about simple machines and force and energy. Mrs. Smith's eighth graders have been writing original short stories.

CHS Pupils Win in Spring Forensics

At the regional finals in spring forensics, held Thursday at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, two Chelsea contestants placed first in their class and one was awarded second-place honors.

Wendy Gilbert received a first-place award in extemporaneous speaking; Drinda West, a first-place award in declamation; and Carol Mayer received a second-place award in oratory.

The finals Thursday were for contestants who became eligible to enter by placing first and second in district contests; the four districts represented including 20 schools.

The competition is sponsored by the Detroit Free Press and the Bureau of School Services at the University of Michigan and are conducted by the Michigan High School Forensics Association.

No longer just a Sunday or holiday treat, Michigan chicken has long ago won a prominent place in the everyday diet of citizens. Michigan produced 8,052,000 chickens in 1961 for which raises received nearly $6.1 million. Michigan stood 26th among states as a producer as this year began.

Beef Producers' Equipment Plan Book Available

Michigan State University agricultural engineers and livestock specialists have recently pooled their ideas on the design of beef cattle equipment with agricultural specialists from 12 other Midwest colleges and universities.

The result is a recently published 72-page book of "Beef Equipment Plans," developed especially for use by cattle men in the Midwest. The book provides answers for many of the commonly-asked questions on successful beef production. The 13 colleges and universities are members of a co-operating farm plan agency, the Midwest Plan Service.

The book serves as both a planning guide and a construction plan book. It contains illustrated suggestions on feedlot and feed center layouts, drainage and manure disposal systems for drylot feeding, windbreaks and arrangements for loading and sorting chutes, cable and plank fences, gates and many other features necessary in modern-day beef production.

Although the book was developed primarily for beef cattle producers, teachers and farm suppliers will also find it a hand reference.

Copies are available from local county Extension Service offices for $1.00.
