North Lake Home Decorated For Realistic Hawaiian Luau

A Hawaiian luau was given Saturday evening of last week at the North Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foreman in observance of Mr. Foreman's birthday. Co-hosts for the birthday celebration were Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor of Plymouth.

The outdoor Hawaiian atmosphere for the party—a new idea in this area—was achieved by means of Hawaiian music, exotic lighting and decorations; a bird of paradise punch bowl and the leis which were presented to each guest on arrival.

Guests were costumed to suit the occasion, the ladies wearing hula skirts, sarongs, mūmū or saris and the men appearing in aloha shirts, beachcomber hats, etc.

The evening's festivities began with the lighting of torches at sundown, the torchbearer, garbed in Hawaiian costume, being Mr. Foreman's brother, Ralph.

Guests sat on the ground at the tropical luau table, in true Hawaiian fashion. The table was set with many Polynesian dishes brought by several of the guests, such as Waikiki chicken, sweet sour pork, outrigger rice, deep sea scallops, a crab sea shell salad, decorative watermelon containing a variety of fruits, relish trays and salads, spiced pineapple and rolls. The birthday cake was decorated in the form of a volcano.

Dancing under the stars was enjoyed, including "attempts" to dance the limbo and hula.

The evening's entertainment was concluded with a float boat ride on the lake.

Guests from this area who attended the party are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams, the Misses Jeanne Lauffs, Dale Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Davis, the Bill Robertsons, the Robert Eisesles, the Sam Hagopians, Chet Dombrowski and the Ronald Kleis.

From out of town those present included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrison and the Frank Kellers of Plymouth, Johnny Ottens of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Foreman of Northville.

Premium List Is Published This Week

Chelsea Community Fair officers and committees are meeting at 8 o'clock this evening for another planning session for the 1963 fair scheduled for Aug. 28-31.

George Atkinson, parade chairman, has asked for co-operation in getting a list of entries for the parade—particularly a list of floats. He said he had been notified by only one group, to date, regarding a float entry.

On the other hand, Mrs. George Ellenwood, chairman of the "queen" contest for the sponsoring Jaycees Auxiliary, reports six candidates, indicating that six floats are already being planned while Atkinson has no record of the entries except the one.

Candidates in the queen competition, to date, are Janet Rott, Junior class; Sandra Severn, Girl Scout, Troop 48; Kathy Foster, Freshman class; Gayle Schaeles, Senior class; Mary Kay Alber, Sophomore class; and Pam Davis, Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H club.

Interest in exhibiting at the fair is growing daily—inquiries about registrations have been coming in to The Standard office the past few days. In response, an announcement is made that the complete premium list, together with names of the chairman of the various departments, appears in this issue of the paper.

Thursday, Fine Wool sheep and swine will be judged at 9 a.m. at 1 p.m. fat lambs and other sheep breeds will be judged. At 6:30 p.m., the Junior Leader Club will sponsor an arena program of 4-H talent and contests between 4-H clubs. Following this program, at 7:30 p.m., the All Showmanship contest will be held where any 4-H member may display his skill in training and fitting his beef, swine, sheep or dairy animals. This evening's program will be climaxed with a "Show Hop" dance for everyone.

Fair Parade Entries Should Be Made NOW!

To date, George Atkinson, Chelsea Community Fair parade chairman, has received only one float entry, that of Girl Scout Troop 48. He urges all organizations, school classes, factories and others to "get their float entries in at once."

He said, "Let's make this year's parade better than last year."

Prizes, the same as offered last year—are first, second and third of $25, $15 and $10, respectively, in each of two categories, the first being school and youth organizations and the second civic organizations and manufacturers.

In addition to floats, Atkinson needs to know about all parade entries, whether horses, farm equipment, bands or other.

The parade is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 31, at 2 p.m.

Atkinson asks that people call his home, GR 9-4851, and leave a message pertaining to their entries at once.

LANEWOOD IS GROWING—Sycamore Drive lanewood at the north end of Chelsea is humming with activity as three new homes are being constructed. At left is the home Mr. and Mrs. Bussler are having built; at far right is a two-story and above grade level basement area house which is to be the home of the Rapaport family; and next to it is a home being constructed by Chelsea Lumber Co., developer of lanewood. The Bussler home is a four-room, two-story structure with attached two-car garage and full basement. The Rapaport home is a two-story at the left and one-story on the right over the above-level basement living area. The two-story home being constructed for Chelsea Lumber Co. is in contemporary style with outside finish in brick and tap siding. It has four bedrooms, 1½ baths and two-car garage. Local contractors are doing the construction work on these three homes and on another the Lumber Co. is having built—the basement is already finished on this. Fourteen of the 41 lots in the section have been sold, and construction on three more houses will begin soon. Sycamore Drive, on which the houses in the photo are located, circles toward Chestnut St. which intersects at the west with North Main St. Expense of all improvements in the development—street construction, curbing, utilities, sewers, sidewalks, etc.—was paid by Chelsea Lumber Co. as developers of the area. Both Sycamore Drive and Chestnut St. will be blacktopped in the spring.

CHELSEA'S NEW FIRE STATION on West Middle St. is beginning to take shape. The three openings for the garage doors give an idea of the convenience firemen will appreciate as they leave to answer fire alarms—each truck will be in position to leave the garage area at once without the necessity of maneuvering one truck out of the way before another can leave. The bulldozer, at right, has been clearing and leveling the site for the parking area. The stone retaining wall constructed at the west end of the fire station property is visible in the front part of the photo.

French Have Apparently Forgotten How U. S. Rescued Their Nation Twice

The French Minister of Information, two days after President John Kennedy departed from Germany, attempted to dispel the effect of the American president's visit to Germany. His statements to reporters, which was a presentation or clarification, so-called, of the French government's position, was considered the French reply to Kennedy's speeches.

The most insolent of these statements was one by the Information Minister which attempted to sow doubt about the permanence of American military forces in Europe, and the continued interest of America to defend Western Europe against Communist aggression.

The Minister got in a poke at the United States, he thought, when he asked why the United States had not come into World War I in 1911, and why we didn't fight for and with the French in 1939.

The facts are, of course, that the United States did not enter World War I until April, 1917, and did not enter World War II until December, 1941. In both cases, U. S. entrance saved France. In the first case by giving the Allies in the west the added power and supplies to win a victory over the Kaiser's Germany, and in the second by taking the leading role in the invasion of France and the restoration of that nation's freedom which they had practically given away by their corrupt, inefficient government.

In view of the fact that twice in this century the United States has rescued France in an all-out war, it is nothing less than remarkable that a minister of the present government could display enough lack of appreciation that U. S. rescue began 100 years ago.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
I see by the papers where I bought $25 million in American time and took it out of the country. And while all this is going on, Congressmen are sitting in the Congress, we got a crisis of major portions going on down on the line. The Federal Aviation Agency, the General Account Office is in a death struggle. After we built that $110 million Dulles International Airport, we made the mistake of putting a big water fountain, one that sprays pretty colored water in a pool right in the main building. Fakes have been passing by the fountain and throwing coins in it like it was a wishing well. They drained it for cleaning the other day and the Federal Aviation Agency, that runs the airport, is claiming the money, while the General Account Office argues it is unclaimed property and belongs to them. It looks like it might go to the Supreme Court. The amount of money collected came to $741.08. I'm in favor of compromising it by handing it to the Emperor of Ethiopia to buy gas for his yacht.

Then Congressmen Snyder of Kentucky has a fool by their feet and has named 66 items in our foreign aid program that has cost the taxpayer billions. Among the items was one for $4.1 million to give the Emperor of Ethiopia a fancy yacht. Congressmen Snyder said the Emperor wasn't going to place, just needed a yacht for status. He also buying out the details on a stock breeding farm as well as for a couple of hundred million on school buildings.

Then Congressmen Snyder said to each bull. I can't produce cattle items, but you can make me see you a idea of the program. Congressmen Snyder give official figures showing we donated $11 million to Indonesia and then gratefully folks turned right around and took it out of the country. And while all this is going on, Congressmen are sitting in the Congress, we got a crisis of major portions going on down on the line. The Federal Aviation Agency, the General Account Office is in a death struggle. After we built that $110 million Dulles International Airport, we made the mistake of putting a big water fountain, one that sprays pretty colored water in a pool right in the main building. SIESTA TIME IN THE OLD HOME TOWN

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Murder and Suicide

What was feared early in the year is now becoming a daily nightmare to State Police officials. This year's highway death toll is very likely to be the worst in the state's history.

Traffic fatality counts seem to follow patterns of high incidence interspersed with a few low death years. This year another peak will undoubtedly be placed on the charts.

The last peak occurred in 1955 when 2,016 persons were killed. Rapid action by the legislature in bolstering safety efforts that year dropped the toll in the two succeeding years.

Since 1956, however, charts have shown relatively steady, but minor rises in the fatal accident count. This year a sharp change has occurred.

By mid-year, the traffic death toll was nearly 100 ahead of the count at the same time in 1956 and climbing steadily. Multiple death crashes have contributed greatly to the toll.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs blamed part of the current year's bad record on the fact that his department is lacking manpower. In addition to legislative refusal of the bulk of his request for additional funds, the Civil Service Commission has now put into effect a maximum 48-hour week for State Police.

48-hour week for State Police

Under the previous 56-hour work week, the troopers covered 30 percent more area.

Lack of appropriations for the traffic safety center at Michigan State University and other safety programs initiated after the 1955 crash consciousness, according to the exports.

Add to these factors the increased number of motorists on the road and the facts that better roads and more powerful cars lend themselves to greater speeds.

The predictable result of these factors is exactly what has happened. Motorists, with less enforcement in proportion to their numbers, have tended to become more careless. Placing more confidence than caution in the machines they drive, Michigan motorists are committing suicide and murder on the highways.

Risks on Water

Accidents are also an increasing problem on Michigan's waterways. With this in mind, the legislature last year enacted a comprehensive boating law.

With nearly 500,000 boats of various sizes registered in the state, enforcement of the law is a problem just as it is on the roadways. Enforcement of the water safety law is left largely to county sheriff patrols on the inland lakes. On the Great Lakes the U. S. Coast Guard maintains control because federal laws are in force.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Aug. 11, 1943—Leigh Luick suffered a crushed vertebra when he was thrown from his tractor on US-12 near his home early Tuesday evening.

Fire extinguishers are also required on all water vehicles of closed or semi-closed construction. The number depends on the size of the boat. Good boating dictates the presence of a fire extinguisher on open vehicles too.

The new law also spells out requirements for whistles, horns, lights and mufflers. Additional sections deal with "rules of the road," safety precautions for winter skiing and diving, and accident reporting requirements.

Spelled out in a booklet called "What Every Boater Must Know," being circulated by the Secretary of State, the new law is designed to protect lives while at the same time assuring the most pleasant and compatible use of Michigan's many lakes and streams.

Driver Education
Teacher Attending
U. of M. Institute
Frederick A. Mills, a former Stockbridge resident who will be teaching mathematics at Chelsea High school this year, is among approximately 50 state educators who were awarded scholarships from Automobile Club of Michigan to attend a Driver Education Institute at the University of Michigan which began Monday, Aug. 5.
Satisfactory completion of the two-week session, featuring both classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction, qualifies teachers as driver education instructors for state secondary schools.
Chief instructor for the Institute is A. A. Vezani, Professor of Driver Education at U-M. He is being assisted by members of Auto Club's safety and traffic department, representatives from the State Department of Public Instruction, Michigan State Police and the U-M Medical School.
Driver education is now a licensing prerequisite in Michigan for drivers under 18 years of age.

Fishing Violations Heard in Courts
Henry W. Boersma of Naperville, Ill., appeared before Dexter Township Justice of the Peace David Doig on Friday and paid fine and costs amounting to $10 on a charge of using a resident fishing license instead of the required non-resident license while fishing on North Lake, July 27.
Two other men, Willie H. Marshall, 21, and John G. Cullen, 27, both of Ann Arbor, were taken before Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien by Conservation Officer Donley Boyer on a charge of fishing without a license on North Lake.
Cullen paid fine and costs of $12.30 assessed for the offense and Marshall spent one day in jail when he failed to pay a similar amount of fine and costs.

Flag Shrine
Open Daily
The Mt. Hope Flag Shrine, a project of the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Keefe of Mt. Hope Methodist church, is open to the public every day from 2 until 5 p.m. and every Sunday following the morning church service.
Located in a former rural schoolhouse on Mt. Hope Rd. at Seymour Rd., two miles north of I-94 at the Grass Lake Rd. exit, the shrine is also available for group visits at other times if arrangements are made with Mrs. Keefe in advance.
Some very old and very rare flags have been added to the shrine's collection of flags recently. In the shrine are autographed photographs of every governor in the United States and a flag from every one of the 50 states; also the flags of the 20 republics in Central and South America. The flags of the Republics South of the United States in Central and South America are displayed every day in front of the shrine and from 2 to 5 p.m. On the bank where the flags of the Central and South American Republics are displayed are 4-foot letters which spell the word "Neighbors."
The church itself is also open daily from 2 until 5 p.m. so people may go in at will for prayer or meditation, the Rev. Keefe announced.

Gas Company
Budget Plan
Deadline Near
Gas heating customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. have until Aug. 15 to make application to take part in the utility's budget plan which eliminates high winter heating bills.
Fred H. McIntire, vice-president, said that some 125,000 customers have applied for the budget plan since it was announced last spring. The plan provides for winter heating bills to be averaged out over the nine months between Sept. 1 and the end of May. During that period customers will pay the same amount each month.
Michigan Consolidated will use its electronic computers to estimate what each participating customer's heating bill will be, based on previous average usage of gas for the nine-month period. The total amount is then divided by nine and the customer notified of his monthly payments. Applications must be made by Aug. 15 to allow Michigan Consolidated time to compute the bill, McIntire said.
At the end of May the customer's actual use of gas will be compared with the estimated bill and the difference will be reflected as a credit or addition to his June bill.
McIntire said that last winter worked a hardship on many families because of the extreme cold spells which resulted in unexpectedly high fuel bills in some months. "This budget plan will enable householders to plan their monthly expenses better, regardless of how bad a winter we have," he said.

Council
At the Aug. 4 Village Council meeting approval was voted for a resolution to put up for sale on Sept. 17, at 7 p.m., the southern 20 feet of a village-owned right-of-way immediately north of Central Fibre Products building on North Main St.
During discussion regarding the new fire hall construction it was decided to widen the proposed driveway to 60 feet, curb a portion of the driveway and apply gravel base in the parking lot and driveway at the fire hall site in anticipation of proposed future blacktopping, possibly in the spring.
During discussion of Civil Defense matters, a Civil Defense display at the Chelsea Community Fair was a matter of consideration.
East Middle St. parking was discussed. It was decided to investigate the possibility of permitting parking on both sides of the recently widened roadway.
Reports of street work in the village stated that blacktopping of streets is scheduled to begin in approximately three or four weeks.
A water main connection was decided upon between McKinley St. and the Lanewood area. The connection at this point will assure that a continuous high level of water pressure will be maintained in both the McKinley St. and North Main St. areas.
Joseph Merkel attended the Council meeting and showed drawings of proposed changes in the facade of the Sylvan Hotel which he now owns.
Dr. L. J. Paul was present to discuss possible improvements at Veterans Memorial Park on North Main St. It was pointed out that a work "bee" is being planned for the purpose of making repairs to the footbridge which spans the creek inside the park area.
Trustee Clarence Wood, who represents the Village Council on the joint Council-Chamber of Commerce parking committee, reported that several sites are being investigated and considered for off-street future development for parking.
Trustee Howard Haselschwardt, who represents the Council on the Northwest Washtenaw Area planning committee, was assigned to meet with representatives of the townships included (Lyndon, Dexter, Sylvan and Lima) and discuss needed fire-fighting equipment; also review with them the present contracts regarding fire equipment. The meeting is scheduled to be held in the Council room of the Municipal Building tonight (Thursday).

Mrs. Adolph Duerr, Jr., and daughters, Christine and Barbara and Adolph Duerr, Sr., returned Tuesday night, July 30, from a seven-week visit to Mrs. Duerr's former home in Lorch, Wuertemberg, Germany, where they were guests of their mother, Mrs. Lina Alkafel. They also visited Mrs. Duerr's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fritz, at Waiblingen. Mrs. Fritz made a number of friends here during a visit four years ago.

Sheriff's Report For July Lists One Fatal Accident

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department activities report for July, 1963, lists totals as follows: 1,569 complaints answered; 1,001 arrests made; 122 warrants closed; 582 civil papers served; 172 traffic violation summons issued; 109 accidents investigated (89 property damage, 88 personal injury and one fatality).

It was pointed out that the department's cars were driven a total of 56,041 miles during July and that the dog control division picked up a total of 110 dogs and handled 15 complaints. Also listed was the fact that a total of 6,550 meals were served to inmates of the county jail during the month.

The report is concluded with a resume of the drivers' license bureau which issued a total of 1,178 licenses—82 duplicates, 208 chauffeur renewals, 1,142 operator renewals and 371 originals.

Fees collected by the license bureau amounted to $4,959.25.

Public Employment Soars to New High In Past 10 Years

East Lansing — Government in Michigan has increased by two-fifths in the past 10 years, says Dr. Daniel H. Kruger, professor of labor and industrial relations at Michigan State University.

Writing in the current issue of the "Michigan Economic Record," Dr. Kruger says that in 1952 there were 244,526 public employees in Michigan. By 1962 there were 352,412—46,587 federal, 72,970 state and 232,855 local government employees.

"During the period 1952-1962," says Dr. Kruger, "total public employment in the United States increased more than 30 percent and in Michigan more than 65 percent." He says that in the United States and 8 percent in Michigan. Employment in all state governments rose 55 percent and nearly 90 percent in Michigan.

Growth in education, state hospitals and highways account for more than half of Michigan's growth in state public employment, Dr. Kruger points out.

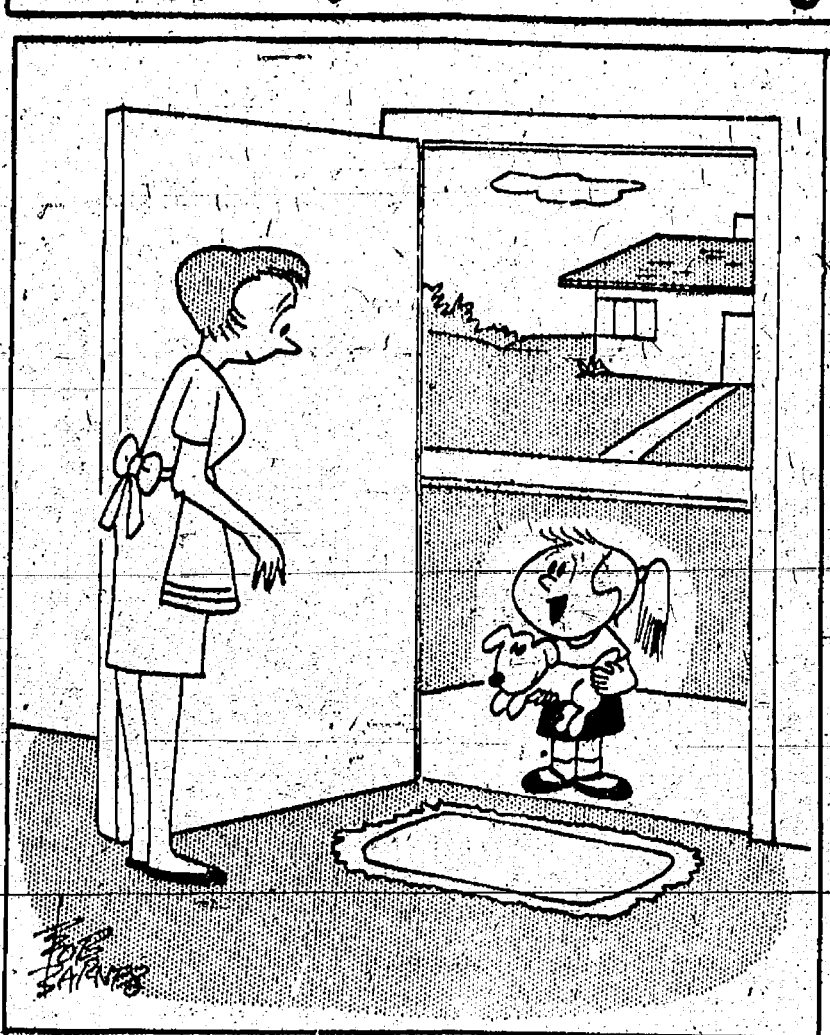

"Local government employment in the United States," he says, "increased three-fifths as compared with two-fifths for Michigan. Public education accounts for a significant proportion of this increase."

Gov. Romney Reports

"I have always believed that an essential step in arriving at a sound decision is to obtain as many facts as possible about the problem."

Facts are the most precious tools of the decision-making process. Wisely used, they can cut through the layers of rumor, misinformation, prejudice and emotion which overlie the heart of any issue.

In recent years, it seems to me that the fact-finding process has been subjected to a good deal of unwarranted abuse.

We've all heard a lot of criticism about the committee system, and certainly there are many situations in which a committee becomes nothing more than an excuse for inaction.

While the committee approach can be tedious, time-consuming and frustrating, it is very often the best way of guaranteeing that decision-makers will approach the problem without crippling gaps in their knowledge.

This month a committee of the legislature is holding hearings in 12 Michigan cities in a conscientious attempt to gather pertinent facts about a state minimum wage.

I supported a minimum wage bill in the last session of the legislature, believing that all workers in the state have a right to a decent level of earnings.

I believe the most important reason for the bill's defeat was the feeling of some legislators that they did not possess the information they needed to make an intelligent decision on this vital problem.

The issue is full of complexity. What about waiters and waitresses who receive tips? What about part-time workers? Which employees should be covered and which should be exempt? What about employees who receive non-monetary compensation?

To get the answers to these questions, the committee took to the road, hoping that those who had an interest in all-in-the problem would appear at the hearings.

These hearings will be a success only to the extent that those concerned about a minimum wage make themselves heard.

If only one side of the question is heard—the voice of the large employer, or the voice of the small

Fire Calls To Date Exceed Total for All of Last Year

Chelsea firemen have answered a total of 92 fire alarms, to date, this year, Fire Chief James Gaken said yesterday. This is eight more than the 84 fires for the entire year of 1962.

Most of the calls, Gaken said, are for grass fires and some of these could have been handled without calling the department, providing prompt action was taken. In fact, two calls during the past week were to locations where grass fires had been extinguished before firemen reached the scene. The cost of these unnecessary runs adds appreciably to the year's expenses for the department, Gaken said.

Two alarms Tuesday were for grass fires—one along the railroad track on Chelsea-Dexter Rd. and one on M-52.

Another grass fire occurred at Half Moon Lake Monday. The call was received at 9:06 p.m.

At about 3:30 p.m. Monday firemen had been called to the William Walker farm at 2401 Fletcher Rd. where a combine accidentally overturned and gas spilling from the tank ignited in an oat field. The combine was extensively damaged and part of the standing grain was burned.

Personal Notes

Miss Marguerite Eisen of Detroit, who returned the past weekend from a trip to Hawaii, spent Monday here with her aunt, Miss Lillie Wackenhut.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eisenmann over the weekend to extend congratulations to Mrs. Eisenmann in observance of her birthday Sunday included her brother, Nathan Pierce, of Grass Lake on Friday; Mr. and Mrs. Waide Eisenmann and Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenmann of Ann Arbor on Saturday; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hanselmann and family, of Milan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hanselmann and family, of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Eisenmann of Ann Arbor, and Chelsea relatives and friends on Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter two days last week were her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gurney and Gordon Gurney of Redwood City, Calif. It was the first time in the 14 years since the Gurneys moved to California that Mrs. Carpenter had seen them and was the first time the parents had met her husband and children.

J. Edward Weber

Former Area Businessman Dies at Ann Arbor Home

Joseph Edward Weber, known to his many friends here as "Ed," died Wednesday, July 31, at his home, 116 1/2 West Washington St., Ann Arbor, following a long illness. He was 90 years old.

A life-long area resident except for a three-year period, 1930-32, when he was in California, he was connected with business and civic circles of Chelsea for many years before moving to Ann Arbor to accept a position as court officer for the Washtenaw County Circuit Court in 1943. He served in that position from July 26, 1943 until September, 1955.

From 1935 until 1940, he was a member of the Chelsea Village Council.

Born in Sylvan township, Feb.

4, 1873, he was a son of Joseph and Elizabeth Hindelang Weber. He left his father's farm in 1893 to work in Chelsea and was employed first at the former Glaxier Stove Co.; then as a grocery clerk and later owned and operated a tavern known as "Weber's," until prohibition forced him out of business in 1918.

For two years he was employed as a guard for Southern Michigan Prison and in 1920 bought a half-interest in the "Princess" theatre, located on the east side of Main St. in a building which is now a part of Merkel Brothers store.

Mr. Weber was a life-long member of St. Mary's Catholic church here. He was married there Jan. 7, 1895, to Margaret Wade. She died July 28, 1909, and in May, 1913, he was married to Edith Boyd Cavanaugh. Their home for many years was at 208 East Middle St. Mrs. Weber died in 1941.

Mrs. Grabowski's Sister Dies Suddenly at St. Louis, Mo., Hospital

The Rev. P. H. Grabowski was called to St. Louis, Mo., last week because of the unexpected death of Mrs. Grabowski's sister, Mrs. Douglas Schluter, on Tuesday, July 30. Mrs. Schluter, the former Helen Kraft, visited here frequently before her marriage and had made many friends here.

Her death occurred at a hospital where she was rushed when she could not be awakened Tuesday morning. She had apparently been in her usual good health when she retired.

Funeral services and burial took place Friday.

Clergyman Who Furnished Intoxicants To Youths Flees State, Avoids Arrest

A clergyman who reportedly orally admitted to Sheriff's Department deputies that he had provided two Chelsea boys with beer and whiskey three weeks ago left the state before formalities for a warrant for his arrest could be completed. He no longer faces prosecution on the charge since he is out of the state and cannot be extradited on the misdemeanor.

The two boys involved were found on the night of July 12 in what officers called "a state of extreme intoxication." The boys were found by a Chelsea police officer wandering along Old US-12 west of the village. Officers said one of the boys had fallen into an excavation ditch.

The boys told sheriff's detectives the clergyman had picked them up while they were hitchhiking near Chelsea. They said he provided them with whiskey which they drank. Later he bought beer which he also gave to them and after it was consumed, the clergyman let them out of his car near where they were found by police.

Chelsea police had responded when a report was received that someone was in a field in the area and it was feared escaped prisoners were hiding there. The out-of-state clergyman was visiting in the Manchester area at the time the incident occurred.

Youth Injured In Truck-Motor Scooter Accident

At 3:45 p.m. Monday Chelsea police investigated a truck-motor scooter collision which occurred at the intersection of S. Main St. and Old US-12.

The motor scooter, headed north on M-52, driven by Toby Johnson, 15, was struck by a truck driven by Rudolph Sebree, 30, of Detroit. The truck, headed south on Main St. was making a left turn onto Old US-12 when it collided with the oncoming motor scooter, according to reports of the mishap. The motor scooter was damaged and its rider suffered bruises and abrasions which were treated at the Chelsea Medical Clinic, the report states.

Restored Rogers House Rising at Site of Old Fort Michilimackinac

Visitors to Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City this summer are suddenly whisked 200 years into the past as history unfolds before their eyes.

As they enter the palisaded compound, the visitors come upon a building project which, this year, is one of the most unusual in America, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Working at an unhurried pace, carpenters are meticulously putting together a building. But these are no ordinary workmen, nor is this an ordinary building.

The carpenters are attired in 18th century clothing—from their silver-buckled shoes to their black-tri-corner cocked hats. With 18th century tools they are reconstructing the former home of Major Robert Rogers, commanding officer of the Fort in the early 1700's. Their dress is completed by white, puffed-sleeve shirts, fawn-weskits, white leggings stockings and dove-grey knee breeches.

Remarkable one of the carpenters, Arnold Morse of Mackinaw City, "I don't know how those fellows ever managed to bend over. These breeches are pretty tight in the knees."

The carpenters who originally constructed the building back in 1760 were no amateurs, either. Records indicate that the men—professionals in their trade—were transported from New York state to the Straits area especially for this purpose.

Dr. Eugene T. Petersen, Director of Historic Projects for the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, pointed out that the building now under way will be as an exact replica of the original as existing records allow.

Morse's co-worker, Herbert Plaunt, also of Mackinaw City, explaining the construction, commented, "They sure don't make 'em the way they used to."

A glance at the construction in progress gives good testimony to his statement.

The architecture is French. Outside beams running vertically as supports consist of hewn 10"x10" pine timbers spaced about one foot apart. At the corners of the structure the timbers are reinforced with a timber running obliquely between two supporting posts for additional strength. During early excavation, the foundations for two huge fireplaces were uncovered which prompted the construction of two handsome, back-to-back double fireplaces. The stone-limestone is common to the area and was undoubtedly obtained from the same native beds as the original rock.

The huge timbers are held in place by pegging and spiking. To add to the authenticity—so important to all restoration at the fort 8 square-headed, square-cut nails are used.

Dr. Petersen explained that, contrary to popular opinion, metal nails were very much in use during this period. He said the excavation program in the area has already uncovered at least 25,000 nail artifacts of every size, shape and description.

Floor planking throughout the building is of random width and length—the same pattern used in the original dwelling.

Completion of the Rogers House is expected late this fall, but the carpenters will be working in costume through late September. Even with the structure half-finished, plans are already in progress for furnishing the house next spring.

Several historical accounts refer to billiard games played at the Commander's home, so the house will be fitted with an 18th century "re-room" complete with a billiard table of the period. Other rooms will be fitted accordingly.

Dr. Petersen estimates that, when finished, the Commander's quarters alone will cost about $30,000 to be recovered from admissions fees.

The Rogers house will not be the last building reconstructed at the fort. Plans call for beginning the restoration of the Fort Michilimackinac church next year.

What happens beyond that will be determined by what is found through additional digging and excavation. Present indications are that the area is rich in artifacts.

Mrs. Donald Ferguson

Maie Eisemann, Donald Ferguson

Wed Saturday at Congregational Church

A Congregational church was setting for the marriage ceremony of Maie Eisemann and Donald Lee Ferguson at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Philip Rusten officiated in presence of approximately 150 guests.

Maie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eisemann, McKinley St., while parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ferguson, 409 S. Main.

At her wedding the bride chose a long gown fashioned of a silk-faced peau. The bodice styled with a sabrina neckline and kabuki sleeves edged with venise lace. The controlled sheath skirt was finished with a wide border of matching venise lace and a flat self-fabric bow at the center back secured a detachable chapel-train. A forward headpiece of tiny leaves fashioned of material matching her gown held her veil of imported silk illusion in place. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Sandra Fraser of Ann Arbor, for her role as maid of honor, wore an aqua silk organza sheath dress in street length. Style features were a sabrina neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a detachable overskirt fastened at the front with a bow of matching material. Her accessories including a brief veil held in place with a fabric rose, white of matching aqua color. Her cascade bouquet was of white Fugi mums centered with rose colored sweetheart roses.

Sherry Eisemann, a sister of the bride, and Wanda Scott of Garden City, were bridesmaids. They were crowned like the maid of honor but their bouquets featured pale pink sweetheart roses with the Fugi mums.

The bride's mother, in a deep blue-sheath with matching jacket, used white accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a bright blue crepe sheath dress and white accessories. Her corsage, as well as that of Mrs. Eisemann, was of white roses.

Jay R. Ferguson assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Robert H. Smith of Chelsea, Brian Nettelman of Eaton Rapids, and Gary Chaplin of Detroit.

At the reception, held at the church immediately following the ceremony, Susan Steger was in charge of the guest book; Sandra Karner poured coffee; Elizabeth Cox of Ann Arbor, poured punch; and Mrs. Jay Ferguson and Lynne McMannis cut the wedding cake.

Following a 10-day stay in Canada, the couple will be at home at 801 W. Madison, Ann Arbor.

For traveling the bride wore an aqua sleeveless sheath with a jacket, white patent leather accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride graduated from Chelsea High school in 1950 and from Cleary College, Ypsilanti in 1953. She is employed at Eastern Michigan University.

The bridegroom, also a 1950 graduate of Chelsea High school, graduated from the University of Michigan in June. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. He will attend the University of Michigan graduate school of business administration in the fall.

Showers honoring the bride were given by Sherry Eisemann and Mrs. Carl Straub; Wanda Scott of Garden City, Mrs. Walter Tubbs of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Kay Atkins, also of Ypsilanti; and Mrs. Brent Glazier of Ypsilanti and Sandra Fraser of Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner at their home Friday evening.

Mrs. Safety Says:

By BETTY MALTBY,
Michigan's
"Mrs. Safety, 1963"

Note: This is one in a series of safety tips written by Mrs. Betty Maltby, Michigan's Mrs. Safety, 1963. The tips are being published in the Chelsea Standard for the safety of all.

Let's review some water safety tips even though there are only a few weeks of vacation ahead.

First, can you well be one of the dangerous times of the year as we tend to forget some of the safety practices easily thought of in the water season.

All your equipment—including life preservers, ropes and diving equipment—in good repair.

Life preservers available for use in your boat? If you have any questions, you better recheck the Michigan law regarding life preservers on motor boats.

Are your skin divers in good physical condition? Do they use only safe equipment and swim only with a buddy? Better make sure that they have had proper instruction before letting them try their luck at this sport.

Have your children been taught to swim correctly by a qualified instructor? Make sure that they know the rules for safe swimming and don't be afraid to remind them. Small children in the water require close watching at all times.

Are boats and life buoys available in case of an emergency? Swimming should be used only as a last resort in a rescue.

Do you know the mouth-to-mouth method of resuscitation? If you don't, you should. It might well save the life of some member of your family.

Join us next week when we will be talking about late summer driving.

The University of Michigan was the first in America to sponsor a project designed to study and develop the uses of atomic energy for other than wartime purposes, the Phoenix Project, in 1948.

1963 Legislative Summary Ready For Distribution

Lansing—Senate Majority

Leader Stanley G. Thayer (R-Ann Arbor) announced today that his office has begun public distribution of the 34-page 1963 Legislative Summary.

Advance copies have been released to the news media of the state, Senator Thayer said. Individuals who wish copies of the Summary are urged to contact their State Senator or State Representative who can provide limited numbers.

The summary tells the story of the 1963 session of the Michigan State Legislature. It contains an introduction by Senator Thayer and sections on the state budget, capital outlay expenditures, a summary of significant legislation, appropriations table and a detailed summary of the 240 Public Acts passed by the 1963 legislature.

Michigan legislators introduced 1,200 bills during the short, session-packed 74 days of the session. There were 839 bills introduced in the House of Representatives and 383 in the State Senate, of which 20.4 percent were enacted into law.

"The 1963 session was a very fruitful and productive one," Senator Thayer said.

"The actions of this session demonstrated to the nation that Michigan has put aside partisan bickering and has developed a cooperative spirit that can, and did, result in meaningful legislation."

"We were able to pull together as a team to produce bi-partisan support for responsible, progressive legislation," Senator Thayer said.

"It appears that during the special Fall session on fiscal reform, we will have reasonable bi-partisan support for implementation of the new Constitution and for passage of an adequate, responsible and meaningful fiscal reform program," he said.

The Summary is divided into four sections and is produced in an attractive booklet form. It is carefully indexed and designed to provide "instant answers" to any question of specific subject matter of legislation and to questions about funds appropriated by the Legislature for the fiscal year 1963-1964.

Copies of the 1963 Legislative Summary for the press may be obtained by writing Senator Thayer in Lansing at the State Capitol Building. Copies for distribution to the general public should be obtained through local members of the Legislature, Senator Thayer announced.

MSU Graduates Find Jobs, Higher Pay Scale

East Lansing — The job opportunity picture was bright indeed for June graduates of Michigan State University, reports Jack Shingleton, director of the MSU Placement Bureau.

With few exceptions, he notes, all employable June graduates have found jobs.

A report of 1962-1963 activities of the MSU Bureau also notes that salaries for new graduates continued to rise.

This year, Shingleton pointed out, average starting salaries ran 3 to 5 percent higher than last year. Most new graduates with a bachelor's degree averaged $4,800 to $5,000 per year.

Technical graduates are at the top of the range with electrical engineers, for example, averaging $7,800 per year.

During the 1962-63 school year, 12,541 job interviews were conducted at the MSU Placement Bureau. In addition, 776 alumni were placed through the Bureau.

Carol Mayer Cited for Journalism Proficiency At MSU Institute

Carol Ann Mayer, Chelsea High school senior has been awarded high honors for proficiency in journalism at the 1963 Communication Arts Institute at Michigan State University.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mayer, 888 Washington St.

Miss Mayer's attendance at the institute—July 15-20—was sponsored by the CHS Annual staff in preparation for her work as editor of the school's year book for 1963-64, known as "The Barker."

A total of 204 students participated in the third session, July 15-20, bringing the total enrollment for the three summer sessions to nearly 500.

Providing the instruction at the Institute were MSU faculty and other authorities in journalism and speech.

The Institute, now in its fifth year, is sponsored by the MSU College of Communication Arts. It is an outgrowth of separate high school journalism and speech institutes which began 10 years ago.
