Three Youths Escape Injury as Car Rolls Over

Three Chelsea youths escaped serious injury Monday evening when their car went out of control and rolled over on M-52, near Waldo Rd.

Reports of the accident state that Thomas Steele, 10, who was driving, was trapped in the overturned vehicle until a garage wrecker arrived on the scene and lifted the car.

Two passengers, William Dettling, 18, and Joel Clark, 19, were able to crawl out of the rear window of the car after the mishap.

The driver's father, John W. Steele, said yesterday that examination of the wrecked car by insurance adjusters revealed the fact that something had gone wrong with the power steering mechanism causing the car to go out of control.

THE WISEMAN SISTERS, Judy (left) and Arlys, members of the Blue Ribbon Florists 4-H club, were awarded first-place honors on displays entered in the Washtenaw County 4-H Show last week. Judy's winning exhibit was in flower arrangement for which she used three red zinnias and a tall sprig of greenery clipped from a bush in the yard at her home on Guelph Rd. Her arrangement was placed in an oblong china dish in a pleasing shade of green. Arlys displayed a single specimen of pink summer phlox for her first-place award. The girls' club leaders are their mother, Mrs. Glen Wiseman, and Mrs. William Van Riper. Monday the Wiseman sisters and other members of the club were at Ann Arbor High school to participate in the 4-H district talent contest. The club's "Hillbilly Band" which won first place at the county show, placed fourth in the district contest. The flower arrangement submitted by Judy and the single specimen entered by Arlys have been selected for entry at the State 4-H Show at Lansing the last week in August.

The Patrick home is at 181 Shoreview Drive. The young fisherman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Patrick.

Great Bargains Are Offered in Annual Event

"Sidewalk Days Are Here Again" could be the title of a theme song for Chelsea's seventh annual observance of the two days when merchants literally "take to the sidewalk" in front of their stores, offering outstanding bargains in seasonable merchandise. This year's big event is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 16 and 17.

The event takes on an air of pioneer days when all aggressive merchants displayed their wares in eye-catching view on tables in front of their stores. The sale "on the sidewalks" is also reminiscent of Chicago's famous tourist attraction—Maxwell street—where goods are piled up and in boxes for customers to "rummage through" in making their selections.

Chelsea merchants, in Maxwell street fashion, will pile up items "from soup to nuts to bathtubs" on the sidewalks. New stocks will be added throughout the two-day event so even those who can't stand in line as the sale gets underway in the morning will still be able to take advantage of the fantastic bargains being offered.

Many of the bargains being offered by merchants are listed in their ads in this issue of The Standard.

Look over these ads so you'll know the first place to head for as you start your shopping.

How Large Is Clock In Tower Building?

Telephone calls received at The Standard office regarding the size of the clock in the tower of the Central Fibre Products Co. plant on North Main St., can now be answered authoritatively. A representative of the firm said yesterday that the clock is seven feet in diameter.

The minute hand is approximately three feet long.

The clock mechanism is now operated by electricity but for many years it was the duty of the town marshal to climb the winding stairway and wind the clock at regular intervals.

David Lixey has returned to his home after being a patient for a week at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

New Students Urged to Register Soon as Possible

High School Principal Charles Lane, Junior High Principal Alan Conklin and Elementary Principal Arthur Schunk have made announcements this week regarding the opening of school. Opening date this year is Sept. 3, the day after Labor Day.

Buses will operate on last year's schedule for the opening day.

At Chelsea High school books will be sold and lockers rented on Tuesday, Aug. 20 and Wednesday, Aug. 21. New books are sold at the school and a price list is printed elsewhere in this issue of The Standard. The price list is for junior and senior high school books—grades seven through 12.

On Tuesday, Aug. 20, books for juniors and seniors will be sold and on Wednesday, Aug. 21, freshmen and sophomore students may purchase their books. The book store at the high school will be open from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. and from 1 until 4 p.m. each of the two days.

Students are assigned lockers—two students share a locker. Each student pays 75 cents for the use of the lock and locker; 50 cents is refunded at the close of the year when the lock is returned.

School insurance will be available the first day of school for pupils in all grades. Cost of the insurance for children in the elementary grades, kindergarten to sixth grade, is $1.50, while in grades 7-12, the cost is $1.75.

Students new to the district who will be in high school should pre-enroll as soon as possible. Principal Lane said; however, it is preferred that they would register either on Aug. 19 or 22.

European Jibes at Our Race Problem Not Justified by Their Own History

One cannot help growing tired of the holier-than-thou criticisms of the United States by European leaders because of the race problem in this country.

The United States is trying to accept and integrate into its life and culture more than 15 million African-Americans. None of the self-righteous Europeans who are enjoying criticizing the United States has seen his country undertake such a task.

In addition, every one of the major European powers has a shabby record on colonialism. The Germans certainly cannot afford to speak a word in view of their racial killings and persecutions in World War II.

The French tried to hold on to their colonial empire and its advantages to them as late as a year or two ago, and only a bloody seven-year war won for Algeria tardy independence. The French tried but they couldn't maintain their special preserve and special privileges, but they didn't voluntarily give up Algeria or any of their many other colonial areas.

The Spanish, with their horrible murdering Inquisition, their present dictatorship, and their continued intolerance of any religion other than Roman Catholicism cannot do better than to look to their own house and establish some freedom and democracy there.

The Italians, who also practice religious intolerance in their government, also followed dictator Mussolini, a Fascist war maker responsible for the deaths of millions.

The British have had their empire and their "byanans" and "sahibs" for several hundred years. They still maintain much of it and only recently had to stop the flood of colonial Negroes in England.

The United States faces the most difficult task of all: it is the great melting pot, now trying to integrate 15 millions of former slave peoples into the white, predominantly European culture of the South, and elsewhere. The job is staggering and unprecedented in the history of the world. Let those who are without sin cast the first stone.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I have took note through the years that our Congressmen ain't too bad about using jaw-breaking words. One in a while one of them will swaller the dictionary but as a general rule they can keep us confused in simple tongue. I recollect when Mrs. Luce was in the Congress, she come out one day on the floor of the House with a new one, "Glo-glo-glo-glo." The Congressmen raised such a ruckus about it that she fired and fell back. But now I note where we got a Congressman from New York that has took to Greek or some-pun. In an article the other day, he ended his piece by saying "O tempora, O mores." I ask the feller that keeps the country store about this matter. He's got a brother-in-law that is a school teacher and ought to know about such things. He says he ain't shore but he thinks it means times has changed for the worse. If you can find out about this item, Mister Editor, please let me know. In the meantime, I aim to write to this feller and tell him we got enough confusion in Washington without him speaking in one of them foreign aid languages.

I see by the papers where President Kennedy says, his finance advisers has informed him 1964 will be a banner year for prosperity. I hope he is right but I ain't never had too much faith in paid advisers. I recollect reading a story when I was a boy about a king that hired a feller to advise him about the weather. He ask him one day how he figured out the weather. The feller said he just looked at the ears of his jackass. If the ears was up it would be clear, if they was flopped down, it would rain, and if they was flopped way down it was going to rain real hard. The King fired the feller and bought hisself a jackass. I know the President has got some wise paid advisers but recollecting the advice he got on Cuba, it could be that it would pay him to trade a few of them off for a couple maffins thinking jackasses.

Well, I see by the papers where the General Accounting Office of the Government has spotted another $15 million a year leak in the Pentagon. That's how much they're paying ever year in bonus and allowances to get fellers to re-enlist in the armed services that has undesirable records. They give one case where a soldier had been convicted by court-martial 8 times for getting drunk in his first enlistment, give him a bonus of $704, to re-enlist. Makes me recollect about the sloppy looking soldier that was standing in the review line when the Captain come

SHADES OF THE WRIGHT BROTHERS

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Improve Care
Attention to mental health problems at the local level brings together the many people involved in the "public interest" professions.

Under the 1953 Community Mental Health Services Act, 12-member boards are provided to administer programs in individual communities or for counties or groups of governmental units.

The most likely representatives on these boards, according to the Michigan Society for Mental Health, are members of the clergy, medical and legal professions, general hospitals, schools, public health, public welfare, and citizen organizations.

Working in concert, such individuals can design a mental health program to fit the particular needs of the community the board serves.

For example, a community mental health board might contract with the psychiatric unit of a local general hospital to provide intensive, short-term inpatient service for the acutely mentally ill.

State funds would match the community expenditures if such a program met state standards for service.

The board might also find an entirely new service is necessary to meet the community's needs. In this case also, if state standards were met, up to 60 percent of the cost would be paid for from state funds.

The best estimates available indicate that as many as 75 percent of the acutely mentally ill can be saved from long-term state mental hospitalization if intensive inpatient services are provided at the local level.

Communities already are spending money on mental health because each country is responsible for the first year cost of an individual hospitalized in a state institution.

Under the new act, officials estimate much of this money could be put into the community program down the line on inspection. He ask this feller "Who told you you're a soldier?" The feller looked him square in the eye and replied, "My draft board, Sir."

grams because of the anticipated decrease in state commitments if local facilities were available.

Individuals and groups which urged passage of the new law this year, including the Society for Mental Health, expect widespread participation by communities. They predict, on the basis of experience in other states, that Michigan might cut its mental hospital population by 50 percent in 10 years because of the new law.

Could Reduce Payroll
A possible side effect of the new Community Mental Health Services Act could reflect on the State Civil Service Commission.

During 1952, the Commission reported 38.8 percent of all state employees were working in the mental health field. This was the largest single employer in 400 government, with some 10,000 workers.

The second largest employer was the combined services of health, welfare and employment security agencies, which had nearly 5,500 employees during the same period.

During the year, state employment averaged 31,407 workers.

Presumably a reduction in the case load at mental hospitals would result in a decrease in mental health employment. The employment reduction probably would not be as great, however, because currently mental health officials say the hospitals are understaffed for the work load.

Department officials could be expected to balk at any attempt to reduce the work force at the same rate as admissions are cut.

Cost of maintaining good health is increasing in nearly every direction: health insurance premiums, hospital care, convalescent care, doctors' fees, dentist's fees, drugs and prescriptions. To date, nearly 10,000 Holsteins have exceeded this outstanding production mark on official records. Many more have achieved goals in unofficial testing programs. This volume of production—representing approximately five times the lifetime total of the average dairy cow—can be attributed to the Registered Holsteins' unparalleled breeding, feeding, and management.

Food Poisoning Attack Hits Women Traveling by Bus

Approximately two-thirds of a busload of 50 women returning to Hammond, Ind., by chartered bus after attending the dedication of a Catholic shrine at Orchard Lake near Pontiac, became violently ill Sunday night as the bus neared Chelsea. The bus driver left 1:04 and headed for town to seek help.

He halted the bus at the Wolverine Tavern on Old US-12 just west of South Main St. and Dr. J. V. Fisher was summoned at 9 p.m.

Donald Siegmund, one of the owners of the tavern, and Mrs. Carl Dresch, wife of his partner, were on duty at the time and they took the women in and ministered to them until the doctor arrived.

Dr. Fisher said later that Siegmund and Mrs. Dresch were to be highly commended for their assistance, for their kindness to the women and for their co-operation in providing accommodations for the group for more than an hour while they were given medication. He said the two certainly exemplified the role of "good Samaritans" in assisting the women who were ill and permitting them to rest until they were able to continue their trip to their homes.

Three women in the group here were so violently ill that Dr. Fisher ordered them hospitalized. They were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where they remained overnight. They were discharged Monday, the doctor said.

The illness of the women was diagnosed as food poisoning. Those treated here were among approximately 200 who became ill after dining on the multiple-school campus of Orchard Lake Schools.

They were part of a group of 800 women who had attended Marian Day exercises at which Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, unveiled a replica of the Black Madonna of Czestochowa, Poland's holiest shrine.

All were from Illinois, New York, Indiana and Pennsylvania. Orchard Lake-Schools, in the Orchard Lake-Commerce area, are composed of St. Mary's High School, St. Mary's College and SS. Cyril and Methodist Seminary, which supplies Polish-speaking priests to parishes in all parts of the United States and Canada.

The Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski, pastor of St. Mary's church here, attended the seminary there during his student days and had planned to be present for Sunday's dedication; however, because of other commitments, he canceled his plans. He said, to his knowledge, no one from Chelsea attended the dedication ceremony.

In addition to the busload of women cared for here, others were hospitalized at Pontiac and at Brantford and Paris, Ontario, Canada.

The dinner, which included potato salad, baked beans and ham, was reportedly provided by a catering service. It was believed the potato salad caused the sudden illness.

Fr. Stanley E. Milewski, of the seminary staff, who was in charge of the women who made the pilgrimage to the shrine from out-state, said the women had stood for at least two hours in the sun listening to Cardinal Cushing's sermon, an equally long time at the Marian Grotto for ceremonies there, and then took part in a long procession to the chapel.

Most of the women were in their 50's or 60's, it was pointed out. Because not all who ate the food became ill, it was theorized by Father Milewski that a combination of circumstances may have contributed to cause their sudden illness—the long exposure to the sun, general excitement of the day's activities, eating too fast before boarding the buses, etc.; however, physicians definitely described the illness as food poisoning.

Mrs. Elwin Hulce and son, Jerry, of Roscommon, visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walz. Mrs. Hulce said she expected her husband to be released Tuesday from Borgess Hospital, Kalamazoo, where he had been a patient since June 29 when he was injured in a traffic accident.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Craven returned home Monday from a six-week trip through the eastern part of the country. Enroute they visited Mrs. Nancy Craven at Durham, N.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush at Elbridge, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bush and family at Weedsport, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bush at Port Byron, N.Y.; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson at Cayuga, N.Y., which is Mrs. Craven's home town.

School Registration ...

Junior High School Principal Alan Conklin said seventh graders will be able to purchase text books and rent lockers from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 20 at the main office of the Junior High school.

Those in the eighth grade are asked to purchase their books and rent lockers during the same morning and afternoon hours on the following day, Wednesday, Aug. 21, also at the main office of the Junior High school.

Students who are unable to meet the above schedule may purchase their books Sept. 3; however, if at all possible, the books should be secured next week. (See price list elsewhere in this issue of The Standard).

The Junior High school principal also asks that students who are new to the system in grades six, seven and eight, pre-enroll at the Junior High school office, preferably on Aug. 19 or 22.

All sixth, seventh and eighth graders will be asked to report to the Junior High school gymnasium at 8:30 a.m. on the opening day, Sept. 3.

Elementary Principal Arthur Schmunk said that a letter will be sent to parents this week regarding transfer of pupils between North and South Elementary schools. Transfers are necessary because of the increased number of pupils in the area of the South school. Parents are asked to call the school regarding placement prior to Aug. 22 unless it is urgent; however, it will be helpful to hear from families moving into the school district or those who plan to live elsewhere after Sept. 1.

Kindergarten children who were in North school last year will return to a first grade in the same annex this fall. Those who will transfer to North school first grade will be notified by letter. All first graders at North school will be in the front four-room annex this year and class lists will be posted on all classroom doors.

Kindergartners at South school last year should return to South school unless notified by mail. First grade rooms at South school are directly across from the kindergarten rooms and class lists will be posted.

All beginners for September, 1968, should report to kindergarten rooms at South school on Sept. 3 unless they have received notice that they should report at the North school kindergarten room.

The taxpayer doesn't have to foot any bills for the Michigan State Fair. In fact, he benefits. Last year, the State Fair made a profit of $119,502.

95th Birthday Honored

Mrs. Dora Gillette, mother of Mrs. Karl Keefer whose husband is pastor of Mt. Hope Methodist church, was honored at a belated birthday party Friday at Cedar Knoll nursing home, Grass Lake, in observance of her 95th birthday.

The Past Chiefs club of Arbor Temple No. 80, Pythian Sisters, of Ann Arbor, brought birthday cake and ice cream for refreshments and arranged games for entertainment.

The party had originally been planned for July 26, which is the date of Mrs. Gillette's birthday; however, she had been taken to the hospital at that time to have fractured pelvic bones set. She is making rapid recovery and at the conclusion of the birthday party rose and addressed the 18 guests present, thanking them for remembering her.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Kelle Allen returned home Friday after being a patient since the first of the week at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

land and water area combined Michigan is the largest state east of the Mississippi and ranks tenth in the nation. Its 90,791 square miles include 57,022 square miles of land area and nearly 40,000 miles of water surface.

Health Dept. Being Swamped With Swim Pool Applications

Lansing — They're building swimming pools faster than the Michigan Department of Health can inspect and approve them. In fact, the health department's Division of Engineering is swamped with plans for new pools.

State regulation requires that plans for public swimming pools must be approved by the health department before a construction permit may be issued, and that the completed pool be inspected to make sure it has been built according to specifications before an operation permit may be granted.

At the start of the year, there were 778 public pools in the state—208 indoor and 480 outdoor. The total included 205 school pools, 102 in hotels and motels, 91 country and swim club pools, and 74 municipal pools.

During the first six months of the year a record of 52 construction permits for new pools were issued by the health department, including 18 in May, a record for one month. The biggest group of new pools is being built for motels, clubs, and ski resorts are also increasing.

However, the number of health department engineers responsible for approving plans and inspecting new pools has not increased. In fact Paul Hodges, sanitary engineer in the Water Supply Section is the only one.

In the past, Hodges has been able to keep pace with new pool construction, but the number of new plans submitted for approval has increased so rapidly that the necessary field inspections have not been made. As a result, nearly 20 percent of the public swimming pools in the state lack operation permits.

Dr. W. L. Mallmann, Professor of Bacteriology and Public Health at Michigan State University, has demonstrated the importance of public swimming pool sanitation. By taking water samples before and five minutes after a group of swimmers enter a pool, he can show an appreciable rise in the number of bacteria present in the water. Without adequate filtration and disinfection, a public swimming pool would be a prime source of infection.

New Bear Hunting Film Available on Loan

Lansing — A new color-sound movie filled with exciting scenes of bear hunting in northern Michigan is available for free use by sportsmen's clubs and other groups through the Conservation Department's film-loan service in Lansing.

With the rugged wilderness of the Upper Peninsula as its setting, "Black Bears and Hound Music" provides 28 minutes of fast-paced action, spotlighting the thrills of a sporting chase and the close teamwork of men and their dogs.

The movie, produced by Department photographer Clyde L. Allison, may be borrowed by any Michigan group. Orders for film copies should be made two weeks in advance; organizations are urged to give their names and alternate dates for use when possible.

Loans are limited to three use-days after Sept. 1.

A free feature at the Michigan State Fair will be the Grand Ole Opry stars who will perform in the Grandstand from opening day, Friday, Aug. 23, through Saturday, Aug. 31. The Fair runs through Monday, Sept. 2.

pools is not all the health department is concerned with. Safety is equally important, if not more so, because accidents are a greater hazard than poor sanitation. Plans must be checked to be sure that proper fencing is provided for outdoor pools, that there is no danger from electric wires or power lines, that the pool has a sloping bottom, that the water will be clear enough to easily spot a swimmer in trouble, and that ladders, diving boards, and other equipment meet safety standards.

Occasionally, people who aren't aware of the state regulations pertaining to public pools have one constructed without consulting the health department. When this happens, it is sometimes necessary to make extensive alterations or to start all over again—at considerable expense, which could have been avoided had the health department been consulted in the beginning.

★ Trillion Dollar Debt

One trillion, 20-billion-dollar! That's the true size of today's national debt if we are honest in facing up to all of our commitments. According to Glenn Martz, farm writer and long-time Washington newsman, when current debts are added to committed projects and give-away programs, the trillion figure is reached for the first time in history.

Martz, former top writer for both A.P. and U.P. wire services, recently visited in Lansing and passed along his observations on the national scene. They included the feeling that in Washington, "things are happening that are not good for the future of America."

"There is no greater story to be told than the rise of our nation, now only 185 years old and already one of the greatest civilizations since the dawn of time," Martz said. He looks back to the breaking up of the prairie sod, the pioneers carving homes out of the wilderness—the huge cities, the great roads and bridges that all followed in less than two centuries.

"We have done all of this because for the first time the energies of men were unleashed, allowing them the privilege of reaching for the stars with the true hope of attaining them. This new nation put no curb on ambitions, each individual could soar as high as he pleased."

How then could this rich, lusty nation plow headlong into a trillion-dollar debt?

According to Martz, "We got there because of the multiple 'welfare' and 'give-away' programs sponsored by people trying to erase what they call 'evils of the old economic system' that amassed the wealth in the first place. They are trying to do this through costly government programs that pay farmers not to grow crops, or place able-bodied persons on relief programs and pensions."

"These tend to undermine the old spirit of free enterprise by which two-fisted men and women built this country to what it is in 185 years. Whenever we make it possible for each person to make all the economic mistakes they want—then give up their jobs and live off the country, we have killed the spark that has made this country great."

Mrs. Brooke Wellington Banbury

Mary Jo McLaughlin, Brooke W. Banbury Wed Monday in Dexter Ceremony

Close relatives gathered in the Cleland McLaughlin home Monday evening, Aug. 12, to witness the wedding of Mary Jo McLaughlin and Brooke Wellington Banbury. The Rev. Fred E. Luchs, pastor of the First Congregational church in Ann Arbor, performed the ceremony before a window overlooking the garden.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleland Otis McLaughlin of Dexter.

Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. McLaughlin of Chelsea; maternal grandparents are Mrs. Wilmet Gaylord Reeves of Stockbridge and the late Mr. Reeves.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wellington Banbury, is from Rochester, N.Y.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and peau d'ange lace seeded with pearls and styled with a deep shoulder neckline, bracelet-length sleeves, empire bodice and a princess skirt which extended into a chapel train. The dress came from family friends, the William Grammas, of Wichita, Kan. She carried a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom, and a lace handkerchief brought from Italy by her maternal grandmother.

Theodore Halaby, also of Rochester, N.Y., acted as groomsmen.

An eight o'clock dinner was served after the ceremony. Flowers throughout the house were simple ivy arrangements.

The bride attended The Daycroft School in Stamford, Conn., and graduated from the Principia Upper School in St. Louis, Mo. The couple were members of the "Principia Abroad" group, who studied and traveled in Europe in 1961. Both graduated from Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill. Their engagement was announced at an open-house at Christmastime.

Mr. Banbury and his bride are in the West Indies for a three-week holiday. They will make their home in Ithaca, N.Y., where Mr. Banbury attends Cornell University and is affiliated with Phi Delta Phi, international law fraternity.

Andrew Ruen of Detroit, husband of the former Helen McGinness who lived in Chelsea before her marriage, died Saturday, according to word received here.

Surviving, in addition to the widow, are three sons, David, Robert and John, and a sister, Mrs. Katherine Spooner.

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Annunciation Catholic church in Detroit.

Burial took place at St. Joseph cemetery, Dexter. Arrangements were in charge of the Verheyden Funeral Home, 16300 Mack Ave.

Bookmobile Idle For Rebuilding Until Sept. 16

The Ann Arbor Public Library bookmobile service will be suspended from Aug. 19 to Sept. 16, to undergo rebuilding and renovation, according to Joseph G. Roberts, bookmobile librarian.

During the period of suspension bookmobile patrons may return their books to the main library either at the circulation desk or the drop-box. Patrons who are unable to return their books to the main library may keep their books until the bookmobile returns to its schedule of stops in September. No fines will be charged for bookmobile books held by patrons during the suspension period, Roberts said.

The public library bookmobile which is in its ninth year of continuous service was purchased by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis Club. This interruption in service will be the first of more than a day's duration since the library began operating the bookmobile.

A special Teen-Age Fair will be among the features at the Michigan State Fair Aug. 23 through Sept. 2.

ARCHIE BRADBURY is shown above with his two-year-old Suffolk ram which was judged grand champion of all breeds at the Washtenaw County 4-H Show at Ann Arbor last week. The ram was judged first-place winner in its class and also was the grand champion Suffolk. The medium wool fleece clipped from the champion last year was judged reserve grand champion at the county show. Bradbury also won the showmanship competition at the County 4-H Show Thursday. He goes to the State 4-H Show Aug. 26-30 with all three of these and, in addition, has a Suffolk ewe lamb that took first place in its class and was judged reserve champion, and a two-year-old ewe that placed second; both are eligible for the State Show. A pen of three fat lambs exhibited by Bradbury at the county show placed fourth and his Holstein heifer placed fifth in a group of 15, receiving an "A" rating and blue ribbon in the senior calf division. The fat lambs were sold at the fat stock sale Friday night. As if these honors were not enough, Bradbury was chosen as being eligible for the Washtenaw County Dairy Judging Team. He is a member of the Lima-Seio Livestock 4-H club led by David Wolfgang. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradbury, 9990 Easton Rd. Now 17 years old, Bradbury has been in 4-H club work for eight years. He will be a senior at Dexter High school this year.

Queen Candidates . . .

ed they had queen candidates, neither had yet registered a float with George Atkinson, he said.

Atkinson announced that a highlight of Saturday's parade will be a group known as the "Seventh Michigan Cavalry." The men in the group wear Civil War style uniforms.

After the parade the men will put their well-trained horses through their paces at a horse show in the arena at the fairgrounds.

Atkinson said that the so-called cavalry group is greeted with enthusiasm wherever they make an appearance.

The University of Michigan was the first major university to admit women (1870).

Stock Entries Due Aug. 24

Livestock exhibitors are advised that all livestock entries must be registered with the proper Chelsea Community Fair chairman by Saturday, Aug. 24. Registrations will not be accepted after that time, it was pointed out.

Another ruling made concerns tractors that will be competing in Saturday's tractor pull. They must be weighed in by 12 o'clock noon on the day of the tractor pull event — Saturday, Aug. 31.

New rules related to the two bicycles which are given away each year at the fair—a girl's and a boy's bicycle—are also to be followed this year. Tickets will be given by participating merchants only to customers making purchases at their stores. In former years large numbers of children have been going into the stores throughout the fair period to get the tickets and the practice has caused a serious problem to busy merchants and clerks. The Fair Board decided the new plan will prove more satisfactory.

The bicycle tickets are a separate project from the free gift tickets all merchants distribute during the fair. These require no purchase—people need only sign one of the gift tickets and drop it in a box the merchant provides in his store.

Firemen Make Three Calls Since Sunday

A burned-out motor on a washing machine resulted in a call for the Chelsea Fire Department at 11 p.m. Sunday. Damage was confined to the motor and smoke damage to the inside of the house at 13950 North Lake Rd., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fitzsimmons and children.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons was alone at the time with her children, including a four-day-old baby, while her husband was in Chelsea drying a batch of clothes for her at a laundromat. He returned to find the firemen at the house and a number of onlookers surrounding it.

Thursday, Aug. 8, firemen were called to put out a blaze at the old Ravlier greenhouse building on

Reception To Honor 50th Anniversary

The Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner are being honored Sunday at an open house reception for their many friends in the Chelsea area in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The actual date of their marriage was Sept. 18, 1913 but the family planned the celebration at this time because the relatives in the western part of the country would be unable to attend in September.

Sunday's open house will take place from 3 until 5 p.m. at the parish hall of Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, where the Rev. Brueckner served as pastor for 29 years before his retirement in 1955 and is now pastor-emeritus.

Sunday's celebration will begin with the entire family's attendance at the 10 a.m. worship service which will be in charge of the present pastor, the Rev. C. J. Renner.

The Rev. Theodore Bruckner will deliver the sermon. Dinner for the immediate family and invited guests will follow at noon and the open house will take place in the afternoon.

The family plans to complete the day by gathering in the evening at the Brueckners' home on Fletcher Rd.

Expected among Sunday's guests are several close friends of the family from other parishes and possibly one or two members of the original wedding party.

Mrs. Brueckner is the former Martha Buehler of Toledo, O. She and the Rev. Brueckner were married at St. James Lutheran church at Toledo, where he had previously served as pastor for 12 years.

At the time of their marriage the Rev. Brueckner was pastor of the Lutheran church at Alpena where he served until coming to the Rogers Corners church in 1926.

The family circle includes two daughters and three sons—Mrs. Robert Warren (Johanna) of Temperance, Mich., and Mrs. James Hunter (Esther) of Salem, Ore., and Moritz Brueckner of Monroe, the Rev. Theodore Brueckner of Beaverton, Ore., and the Rev. Bruno Brueckner of Capac.

Another daughter, Irma Brueckner Schaefer, died in 1953 after returning to the United States from India, where she and her husband, the Rev. Herbert Schaefer, were missionaries.

The Brueckners also have 16 grandchildren.

With the exception of three of the five sons of the Rev. and Mrs. James Hunter, the grandchildren and all the surviving sons and daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. Brueckner will be present at Sunday's celebration.

Old US-12, west of St. Barnabas church, straw on a basement floor had become ignited in some unknown manner. The call came in at 12:06 noon.

A third run for firemen was at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when the high wind was blowing sparks from a rubbish fire onto the roof of a tool shed of the construction company behind the new Schumm's restaurant on M-52 at J-94.

Personal Notes

Lewis Bernath returned home Thursday from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had a foot operation. He had entered the hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. Mike Misalides and son,

Malatynos, visited relatives Grand Rapids last week. Among them were Albert Ontes of Burdett, St. S. E. From Saturday to Monday they were guests of the Misalides' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn They at Houghton Lake.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

which practically all producing countries, including the U.S., are parties. One may sympathize with the plight of the coffee-producing nations. Coffee prices have declined since 1954 as production has outpaced growth in demand. Overproduction in past years resulted in large carryover stocks at the start of the current marketing year. In addition, Brazil, which produced nearly 40 percent of world coffee exports in 1961, is faced with increasing competition from African producers who enjoy preferential treatment in their export trade with the European Common Market countries.

At the moment, however, it seems highly questionable whether the International Coffee Agreement can be expected to offer a workable and lasting solution to the coffee producer's problem. Experience has shown that the difficulties of maintaining control over current and prospective supplies, adjusting rapidly to changing demand, conditions, and avoiding the inroads of competitive and substitute products requires extremely complex and delicate adjustments. As a result, the attempt to reverse long-term price trends by means of such agreements and their mechanisms of export and import quotas has never been successful for more than very short periods. Our own experience with agricultural price support programs casts doubt on whether it is possible.

There is also a question as to whether commodity agreements actually promote the development of the producing countries. The need in these countries is to diversify their economies—to produce things that are in demand at prices that make it worthwhile to produce them. The result of international price supports may be still more production of the supported commodity and restricted development of other sectors of the economy.

Finally there is the problem of whether American consumers should be asked to subsidize the overproduction of coffee growers. No one likes to pay higher prices than necessary, especially for items of frequent use. If the supply and demand conditions in the market result in rising prices, little can be done about it other than to reduce the demand by not buying. This is vastly different, however, from a program of planned price increases in which the government encourages still higher prices by participation in the commodity agreement.

Our experience with domestic price supports has shown clearly that they result in higher prices to the consumer than a free market would establish, while the basic problem of excess production is intensified rather than solved. It hardly seems advisable to export such a system by means of international commodity agreements.

Fan Club Will Choose Most Popular Player To Be 'King Tiger'

Detroit—One of the Detroit Tigers will be crowned King Tiger, and will be recognized as the teen-agers' most popular player of the season.

The coronation will take place Aug. 24 at Tiger Stadium and the occasion is the third annual Fan Club Day.

More than 40 fan clubs, each with a minimum of 25 teen-age members, will take part in the selection of King Tiger and honor him with a pre-game presentation.

Personality, Co-operation, good looks and grooming are the basis for the player's selection in a poll of the young fans.

The poll and the ceremonies are being arranged by the Tiger Fan Club Association, of which Albert Haesebroek, 4086 Chalmers (Detroit), is president.

Any member of a bona fide fan club affiliated with the association will be admitted free to the Tigers' game with Kansas City on Fan Club Day, upon presentation of a fan club membership card at Gate No. 3 the day of the game.

Almost every Tiger has been honored by a fan club this season. Rocky Colavito is supported by the most clubs, but Hank Aguirre is pressing him for the largest number.

Family Reunion Held At Lyman Adams Home On Cavanaugh Lake

Sunday, Aug. 11, six of the eight living sons and daughters of the late Peter J. and Nellie Grace-Donahue of Bonner Springs, Kan., met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman L. Adams at Cavanaugh Lake. Also present were 80 other members of the family.

Unable to attend because of ill health were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Donahue and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Laizure who live in Kansas.

Present from out of the state were Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Donahue of New Delhi, India; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Donahue and two granddaughters of Bonner Springs, Kan.; Roger Donahue of Baltimore, Md.; and Dr. Dennis Donahue of Morganton, N.C.

Those who attended from Michigan included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Donahue and Steven of Port Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Elias W. Strickland of Harbor Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Merle S. Troth of Lake Orion, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Strickland, Kim and Eric, of Madison Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hagedorn, Jeff, Lisa and Byron, of Lansing, Mrs. Doris Adams of Linden, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hager, Jimmy and Teresa, of Holly, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dyson and children, Brian, Nancy, Donita and David of Chelsea.

A "memory jar," made by the family in 1908, was opened at Sunday's reunion for the first time. Inside was the first bit of cotton picked that year by the Peter Donahues, a shell from the beach at Galveston, Tex., an old straight razor handle, and a letter in the handwriting of Nellie Grace Donahue, telling of each item both inside and outside of the jar.

Among the things fastened on the outside of the jar—in putty, all in perfect condition after 55 years, were such items as a doll's head, hand carved objects, buttons and jewelry.

At the conclusion of the reunion, Dr. Roy Donahue gave each person a gift from India.

Former Lyndon Resident Honored at Birthday Party

Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean, and her sister, Mrs. Clarence Bott of Batteuse Lake, entertained Sunday at the Clark home in honor of their sister, Mrs. Devo Wilcox of Stockbridge, who observed her 70th birthday on Monday.

Mrs. Wilcox was born Aug. 12, 1893, on the Boyce homestead farm, now the home of Mrs. Clark and her son. Her parents were the late George and Mary Behm Boyce.

Mrs. Wilcox taught in area rural schools before her marriage, her first position being in the former McIntee school on Beaman Rd. She has lived near Millville since her marriage, Dec. 25, 1922.

Sunday's dinner featured a cake bearing 70 candles, the work of Mrs. LaVern Balmer and Mrs. Charles Wilcox.

In addition to her husband, the immediate family of Mrs. Wilcox includes three daughters, Mrs. Elwood Walker, Mrs. Howard Townsend, Mrs. LaVern Balmer and a son, Charles Wilcox.

Guests at Sunday's dinner were the Rev. and Mrs. Elwood Walker and children, Dennis, Sherry and Debbie, of South Whitley, Ind.; Mrs. Robert Waddell and two sons, of Housel; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Townsend of Dansville; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnson and sons, of Mason; and Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Balmer and four children and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox and four children, of Millville.

Three of the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox were unable to attend—Clifford Townsend of Jackson, Leland Townsend of Millville, and Sue Ann Townsend—who has a summer job traveling with a sales crew and is currently in Oklahoma.

Receipts from Michigan Taxpayers Hit New High for Past Year

R. I. Nixon, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue Service, reported that Internal Revenue receipts from Michigan taxpayers for fiscal year 1963, which ended June 30, were at an all-time high of $8.1 billion. This represents an increase of $1.4 billion over the last fiscal year.

By type or tax, corporation tax showed the largest increase of $790 million over fiscal year 1962 while individual income taxes increased $341 million and excise taxes were up $295 million. Miscellaneous taxes collected were up $34 million with the only downward trend shown in the estate and gift classification which was decreased $280,000.

Nixon stated that the majority of the excise increase was due to automobile manufacturing, but a portion was due to the accelerated program of the Intelligence Division of the Detroit Office. Wagering tax, which is included in the excise group and covers both the $50 occupational Tax Stamp and the 10 percent levy on wagering receipts, was up from $56,000 to $82,000 an increase of 46 percent.

GOP AND EAST

Influential Eastern Republicans appear to be making a little progress toward picking a candidate to back in the 1964 GOP Presidential nomination race.

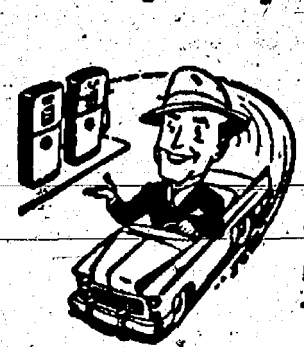

Goldwater (Ariz.) and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. This indicates a split with former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who helped the General become President.

Wayne county, which has a troit, is world-known for its dustries, yet it leads all of Michigan's 83 counties in production of sweet corn.
