Blood Donor Clinic Slated Here Oct. 30

Mrs. Dudley K. Holmes, Chelsea Community Blood Bank chairman, has been notified that the next Chelsea Blood Bank blood donor clinic is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 30.

Announcement was made at the same time that two important developments, as related to the blood donor program, have taken place in the past year.

W. de St. Aubin, American Red Cross executive director for Washtenaw county, in making the announcement, said "First, we have been able, with the co-operation of our Regional Center, to set up a file of medical history cards of recent blood donors (about 8,000) listed by type and group. Such a list is invaluable in an emergency, and has already been called upon twice by the University of Michigan Hospital, when fresh blood was needed quickly. One of our fine volunteers is keeping this file current and available to our hospitals in an emergency. You will also be interested to know that at the request of some of our hospitals, our Regional Center will use plastic bottles beginning next year. As this Chapter is a partner in United Campaigns, we consulted with those organization and they wholeheartedly supported our request for the additional funds necessary to provide the plastic bottles. It is believed that these will be more efficient and give added protection to the blood."

A report of the status of the Chelsea Community Blood Bank as compiled for the three months ending June 30, listed a total balance of 58 pints; however, since Mrs. Holmes has released blood for a number of Chelsea area patients in hospitals and as a consequence, the balance is now considerably less than that amount.

Since they began on Wednesday of last week, the following roads have received seal coat treatment—second applications of tar and fine stones:

Old US-12 from M-52 to Fletcher Rd.

Werkner Rd. from the corner of Sibley Rd. to North Territorial Rd.

Chelsea-Dexter Rd. from Chelsea to Dexter.

Other work completed includes a first coat application on Hadley Rd. from North Territorial Rd. to the county line at Unadilla.

Also included in the Chelsea District is new road work completed at Big Portage Lake north of Dexter, where Portage Ave. and a boulevard, both off McGregor Rd., were completed during the week from Aug. 14 to 21.

The call from the Dexter Fire Department was received at 9:45 p.m. Friday.

The grass fires were at 1:45 p.m. Thursday, at the former Red Arrow Park, three miles west of Chelsea on I-94, and at 1:20 p.m. Sunday, when a series of scattered grass fires occurred along the New York Central Railroad tracks east and west of Chelsea.

Council Briefs

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, gave the opening invocation at the Aug. 20 meeting of the Chelsea Village Council.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the closing of the Chelsea Theatre on Sept. 1 as announced by Glen Clark. Several councilmen expressed concern regarding adverse effects to the village, not only because of the fact that Chelsea will be without a local movie theatre but also because Clark has operated a bus station there as well.

Discussion brought out the fact that the theatre, long an institution in Chelsea, has been exceptionally well operated by the Clark family and that it has never been a cause for village concern on this score; that it has been a fine recreation facility for children, young people and adults; and that parents of young people, especially, would be expected to show some concern in trying to keep the theatre in operation. No official action on the theatre closing, was taken by the Council.

There were 30 members present for the installation meeting for the Chelsea Auxiliary.

The next regular meeting of the Auxiliary is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 3, at 8 p.m.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Wells returned Saturday from a month's vacation at Lake Louise, near Gaylord. They also spent four days of their vacation on Isle Royale.

A request was entered by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hocking, 505 Lane St., for permission to build a garage within two feet of their south property line. A letter was submitted from Wes Keene, next door, stating he had no objection and the Council approved the request.

Applications are being received for a police patrolman to replace Officer Carl Koch, who is resigning from active duty. His resignation was submitted and accepted Aug. 16.

Applications are being accepted until 12 o'clock noon, Aug. 24, 1963.

A special meeting of the Village Council is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 24, at 4 p.m. to consider applications for the position.

A motion presented by Trustees Larry Chapman and Howard Hasel-schwartz regarding authorization of expenses of Elwyn Beach, Civil Defense director for Zone VI, to attend a workshop meeting on Civil Defense to be held at Rochester, N.Y., Oct. 21-25. The motion was approved.

Discussions were held with Fire Chief James Gaken relative to the new fire hall construction; with Council members relative to the two village parks; and on the subject of future parking lot surveys. No action was taken on the three matters discussed.

Hell C. of C. On Manhunt For Experts

The Hell Chamber of Commerce is on a manhunt—that may bring the tiny hamlet $10,000 for local civic use before the year ends.

That unusual piece of news was announced today by Chamber of Commerce President Mel Reinhard, who explained that his group has been given the opportunity to represent Hell in a nation-wide search for professional talent and authorities in various subjects.

The "professionals" are needed for the new ABC-TV quiz, show "100 Grand" to face amateur experts who have to win a series of such encounters in order to qualify for a $100,000 prize. If Hell's professional stumps the amateur.

Hell will enjoy a new civic improvement worth $10,000. The professional authority will be compensated by a $500 Series E U.S. Savings Bond, as an honorarium for his appearance on the program. If he defeats his opponent, he will receive an additional $500 U.S. Bond.

Mel Reinhard stated that the search is already underway for professional authorities in such subjects as baseball, opera, the Bible, Abraham Lincoln, the Civil War, World War I, talking pictures and silent movies.

To insure maximum security for the program, results of the search will be kept in the utmost secrecy, thereby complying with one of the show's conditions. The professional authority's identity will be known only to the selection committee of the Hell Chamber of Commerce until shortly before show time.

The Hell Chamber of Commerce requests that anyone who is a professional authority on any of the subjects above named or similar subjects of broad interest, write to the Hell Chamber of Commerce at Hell, Mich.

GUEST EDITORIAL:

From One Teen-Ager to Others Not Quite So Bright

August 19, 1963

Dear Editor:

This is a challenge to the local youths who seem to have mastered the art of destruction.

I keep asking myself "Why?" Why do you steal barricades and lights put in the streets for safety? Why do you pull up raspberry bushes? Why do you damage public property in the park? Why do you start fires?

Was it fun to take safety equipment from the streets—like the little boy who trips his sister just for a laugh? Did you feel big and strong when you pulled up bushes—like the tot who gets mad at his mama and pulls up her flowers? Was making a mess in the park a thrill—kind of like the one a child gets when he dumps all his toys and games on the floor to revenge his parents for a rule or punishment? Yes, you were acting like little children, but there is a difference. You are grown-ups, who know better, acting like children, who don't. Your consequences will be more than the traditional slap on the hand.

But then, I suppose you got a real kick out of watching men risk their lives to put out the fire you started, trying to keep it from spreading to the fields and homes of others. Maybe you think you're smart to endanger the lives and property of the people in your community!

The other night I witnessed one of your pranks. It was smaller and more infantile than the rest but you thought it was tremendously funny. You cruised past our farm in your noisy car after everyone was in bed. In a few minutes I heard you come back again and I looked out just in time to see you stop and turn your lights off. Then you got out. That's when I heard you laugh. (I was surprised to hear girls as well as boys in on your little joke.) And what was your great victory this time? You took some vegetables from a table by the road. This must have made you feel real important. It's only too bad that you didn't eat them—they were good—but you didn't. We found them smashed in a ditch about half a mile away. Was it fun?

My disgust for your acts cannot be put into words. I cannot comprehend how you can have fun doing these things when there are so many more constructive and more enjoyable ways to have a good time. Why do you do it? You gain no profit. No one thinks you're big for smart or funny because of these pranks. In short, all that comes from them is trouble—trouble for the people, trouble for the taxpayers, trouble for your parents, and inevitably, trouble for you. Maybe this is what you want.

I am not an adult saying these things to you. I am a teen-ager just like you undoubtedly are and my contempt for you is actually only concern and pity. I have found so much joy in life that I feel sorry for you, who evidently have only bitterness and hate for the world around you. Life would be so much nicer to you if you would use it to help your fellow men rather than harm them.

Remember—you shape your own future. What you do—and what you become will be because of YOU. Don't disappoint yourself by following up the mistakes you make now.

With much concern for you,

A teen-age peer.

Trouble Ahead in Redistricting
 Two organizations are working to absorb several others, as long as they were maintained as the chief managers of the new division.

Under the 1960 Federal census, Michigan picked up a 19th seat in Congress. Inability of the legislature to agree on a redistricting plan forced the 1962 election of a congressman-at-large. No new division of the state has yet been accomplished.

This state is a major force in what will occur when the legislative reapportionment agency is reestablished.

Another example of the lack of progress in the reapportionment process is the fact that the State Supreme Court ordered changes in the State Senate districts.

Although the order was stayed by an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, the members of the law making body were worried. Each was hesitant to recommend any plan which would cut one of his colleagues out of a seat, but primarily was each Senator's concern for his own district.

In its wisdom, the Constitutional Convention provided for a commission to redistrict the legislature when necessary. The commission, however, will meet the next year, as legislators have been attempting to realign the U.S. House districts.

State Agencies, Too
 Instead of having 18 Congressmen pleading for the safety of their seats, however, the four will get pressure from 144 legislators.

State agency heads will be putting on the same kind of battle for their jobs when the legislature starts work on the consolidation of state government into not more than 20 principal departments.

Among the agencies, however, there is less a spirit of closeness than exists among legislators, so the bucking is likely to be even more bitter.

Many agency spokesmen would be only too willing for their unit to absorb several others, as long as they were maintained as the chief managers of the new division.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, has already suggested, for example, that a dozen agencies which now deal with various facets of public health be merged into a single unit. Presumably Heustis would be more than willing to be director over the new division.

Undoubtedly several other present department heads will be submitting plans similar to Heustis'.

Changes ahead for Lansing Visitors to Michigan's capital in future years will see an amazing change from the 1960 development of current plans.

The proposed expenditure of $35 million will provide a group of new state office buildings and parking facilities in a six-block area immediately west of the Capitol Building.

Under consideration but held up by financial problems, the development plan started to get off the ground at the close of the regular 1963 session.

A House-Senate committee has been studying the Administration Department's plans for the project all summer and will be ready with some recommendations during the special September session, but most of the ideas will be advanced later.

Necessity for new office space in Lansing was put forth in an architectural report which showed state agencies need more than 56,000 additional square feet of working space to meet their needs through 1968.

The plans being considered by the legislative committee call for daily fee parking facilities for 4,000 employees, a new Highway Department administration building, four-story structure to house the revenue and Secretary of State departments, and a Supreme Court building.

A.N. Langus, state building director, said the plan as proposed would allow 27 state agencies to move their operations out of some 40 rented facilities in the Capital city.

Watch Furnace Frauds
 It seems as if summer just started, but the calendar will show that it is nearly over and there is much to be done to prepare for the winter.

One of the chief concerns of any family as fall and winter approach should be the safety of the home. The furnace tops the list of items to be checked, according to State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

Kelley's consumer protection division emphasizes that if a consumer has any worries about his furnace, it should be checked long before it is needed for heavy-duty service. Most important, however, the state unit notes that the furnace should be checked by a reputable heating contractor.

A consumer complaint to the consumer protection division in recent weeks has had to do with a furnace which had been replaced by a contractor. Advice to check for replacement of a furnace is given by Kelley.

By checking for replacement of a furnace, a consumer can compare estimates of cost and be more sure the work will be done properly.

Fishing Tip

In stream fishing for rainbow trout, the eggs of the fisherman and the eggs of the trout from a captured rainbow as bait. Enough of these eggs are tucked into a small piece of cheesecloth or old nylon stocking to make a sack about half an inch in diameter. This little bag is placed on the bottom, either by casting upstream, or by drifting it down to the upper end of likely looking holes.

Live-stock judging, always a popular feature, will be held in the Coliseum this year during the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 28 through Sept. 2.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows at the country store Saturday night was discussing everything from preachers to ignorance in the Congress and it wouldn't take but a couple of them sessions to get yourself a education.

Ed Doolittle was telling about a preacher they had once that always brung up the money subject at the end of every sermon. But Ed allowed as how he didn't like to stop to tell that.

Incidental, Ed said this preacher told him once he never did like that fellow (I don't know) for account of him being a shaver and he was mighty glad when his dollar watch went up to $5 and folks like Abner had to quit buying it. Furthermore, he told Ed time pieces and the birds were didn't go together. He said he had a church once where they had a clock hanging on the back wall and the congregation spent more time looking back than they did front.

Hoffmeyers Find 'Michigan Hats' In Catskill Area

Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffmeyer and their three children, who spent the summer at Oneonta, N.Y., at the foot of the Catskills, while he was attending a National Science Foundation Institute, took week-end trips in the area and were intrigued by signs advertising "Michigans", "Michigan Hats", "Michigan Land", etc. At one place they inquired what "Michigans" and "Michigan Hats" were and were told that the former is what is commonly called a "hot dog" and the latter a "hot dog" with "Michigan sauce," the sauce evidently being a form of catsup or chili sauce. The Hoffmeyers, however, were unable to get an answer to the question as to why the "Michigan" came to be used in connection with the "hot dog" or the condiment. In one place they noticed the sign "Michigan Land" and found that it was a hot dog stand.

Freeway Night Speed Limit Will Be Raised Sept. 6

Lansing—The night-time speed limit on more than 1,000 miles of Michigan freeway will be increased 10 miles an hour Sept. 6.

The top speed on Michigan freeways is now 70 miles an hour in the daytime and 60 mph at night.

The 1963 state legislature approved a change that will make both the day and night speed 70 miles an hour after Sept. 6.

At the same time, the legislature passed a bill establishing a 45 mph minimum speed for all freeways. This law will go into effect at the same time.

The present 70-80 mph speed limits for freeways went into effect in September of 1961.

Until then, speed limits on all Michigan highways were 65 miles an hour in the daytime and 55 miles an hour at night.

The 65-55 speed limit remains on all non-freeways.

A pony pull at 8 p.m. and the annual drawing for door prizes given by merchants will conclude the activities of the 1968 fair.

The cafeteria will be in operation throughout the four days of the fair under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr., assisted by Mrs. Donovan Sweeney.

Senior Citizens Guild Director Resigns Position

Announcement has been made that Mrs. Shata Ling, founder and executive director of the Senior Citizens Guild at Ann Arbor, has resigned her post to devote more time to the Lurie Terrace senior citizens housing project, also in Ann Arbor.

The Rev. Daniel Burke, president of the guild, in announcing Mrs. Ling's resignation, said her decision was prompted by the increasing burden of administrative work involved in developing the housing project.

Lurie Terrace, located at 600 W. Huron St., will contain 142 apartments for elderly residents. Construction began last month and is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1968.

Mrs. Ling founded the Senior Citizens Guild in the spring of 1956 as a memorial to her mother, the late Mrs. Anna P. Lurie of Houston, Tex., who died in 1952.

Lurie Terrace is named after Mrs. Lurie, who was active in civic affairs in Houston until her death.

The Senior Citizens Guild now has a membership of approximately 125 persons.

Mrs. Ling's work with the Lurie Terrace project will be administrative; she will act as liaison between the Terrace corporation, the architect, the contractors and federal housing officials. Federal funds are financing the project.

Her new position is on a volunteer basis since the terrace project has no funds for administrative salaries.

Free Music Shell entertainment at the Michigan State Fair this year will include such nationally known stars as Duke Ellington, Johnny Desmond, Jimmy Wilkins, Les Elgart and Dinah Washington.

Merry-Go-Round, Ferris Wheel Still Reign Midway

Who can forget their happy childhood days when they see the lights of the ferris wheel and merry-go-round plus hearing the music from the carousel emanating from the way of a traveling amusement park?

Memories will again be brought back when the ferris wheel and merry-go-round are introduced at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, Ill., in 1897.

The original ferris wheel required a full year to assemble. Today's ferris wheel, due to man's ingenuity and imagination can be erected or dismantled in less than three hours.

German Exchange Student Will Live With Frisingers

At 8 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, the George P. Frisinger family will join families from many points throughout Michigan at Metropolitan Airport, Detroit, where a group of teen-age boys and girls will arrive from Europe to spend a year in Michigan under the Youth For Understanding student exchange program, sponsored by the Ann Arbor and Michigan Councils of Churches.

The Frisingers will be on hand to greet 16-year-old Hartmut Henning of Niedersachsen, Germany, who will be spending the coming school year with them and will attend Chelsea High school.

Especially looking forward to meeting their guest is David Frisinger who will be a junior at Chelsea High school this year; however, the entire Frisinger family is eagerly awaiting the arrival of the German youth who will become a member of the family group for a year—Roger, who will be a freshman at Chelsea High school; and Paul and Sherry who are students at Michigan State University and frequently are at home for week-ends.

The German exchange student is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Heinz Henning. Dr. Henning is headmaster of a school known as "Mittelschule," which, it is explained, is the equivalent of a technical secondary school.

In a letter received by the Frisingers, this week, the exchange student said he is the eldest of a family of four children. He has two sisters, Hilke, 11, and Dagmar, 9, and a four-year-old brother, Ulrich. He said, too, that the family home is located in the Ostfriesland and is near the Netherlands border; their village is called Westhauderfohn and the nearest town is called Eefer. The family often visits The Netherlands and he, himself, recently returned from a four-week holiday at Helgoland, an island in the North Sea.

On the application on which the youth listed his hobbies he mentioned music, sports, handicraft, stamp collecting, and languages; his major school studies are listed as German, English, Mathematics, French and music. His activities include serving as head representative of the Student Council; speaker of his class (which he specified as "form"); editor of his school's magazine; member of a local church youth club; and member of the Red Cross organization for young people.

He gave, as his principal reason for wishing to come to the United States, a desire "to broaden my knowledge about the USA and to improve fluency in English for my later profession." The profession to which he refers is schoolteacher in technical subjects.

Young Henning's purpose in coming to this country fits in exactly with the avowed purpose of the Youth For Understanding Teen-Age Exchange program which is stated as follows: "to acquaint international teen-age students with American family and community life by having them live with American families for about one year; to enable them to gain an understanding and appreciation of the American way of life through participation in typical high school, family and other aspects of community life; to enable the students to engage in general high school studies combined whenever possible with participation in student government activities as an integral part of their academic schedule; and to acquaint the students at first hand with the philosophy and operation of American schools and community organizations and the places they hold in a democracy."

Community Chest Benefitting Agencies

Catholic Social Services

This is the first in a series of articles to appear weekly in The Standard to acquaint Chelsea area people with the benefitting agencies of the Chelsea Community Chest and how these agencies really "benefit" the people of the community.

Chosen as the first in the series is Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County, an agency whose avowed purpose is to offer its services, free of charge, to any adult or child living in Washtenaw County, irrespective of racial, national, religious, social, or economic background. The agency is a constituent agency of Catholic Charities, Inc., and is supported by the Archdiocesan Development Fund, Ann Arbor United Fund, Ypsilanti United Fund, Dexter Community Chest, Whitmore Lake Community Chest, and Chelsea Community Chest.

It is described as an agency that "belongs to all the people of the community . . . designed for the use of all citizens" and one in which all persons are encouraged to feel free to make use of the varied services it offers.

In a statistical report of Catholic Social Services for 1962, it was shown that 30 Chelsea families had been served in some way during the year.

The agency's services include assistance in cases including those listed as marital, geriatric, personality, problem children and adults, unmarried mothers, physical illness, economic problems, employment, mentally deficient children, etc.

In explanation of the work done by the agency, Catholic Social Services states, "The battle against the outward, obvious causes of human misery is often difficult to discern. We can see housing reform, 'social security,' ground deep in the interior. But would the Russians chance it when underground tests remain perfectly legal?

I don't think the choice between that risk and the risk of uncontrolled testing is hard to make. I am glad that my mail is still running two to one in favor of the ban.

Strontium 90, after all, finds its way into the milk of the Swiss cow and the American cow with equal ease. I think the test ban treaty deserves the support of all of us. It will certainly have mine.

The Michigan State Fair ranks third in the nation in attendance. Only Texas (which runs six more days) and Minnesota exceed it. Last year 1,002,681 attended the Michigan State Fair. This year even more are expected between Friday, Aug. 23, and Monday, Sept. 2.

repay a similar loan due Sept. 1. The $100,000 loan is borrowed against the School District's share of State-Aid funds which are due the district and are paid to the district as soon as they become available.

School districts, upon application, are authorized by the state to borrow against the anticipated funds due them, as allocated in the State-Aid program, to be used for operational costs, as needed before the state money is received.

Regular School Board meetings are held at Chelsea High school's administration building the third Tuesday of the month. Interested citizens are welcome to attend.

BILLBOARD BAN

The first bond payment to a state for prohibiting billboard advertising has been presented to Kentucky. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges made the presentation of the $5,488 check to Gov. Bert T. Combs. Kentucky is the first state to comply with the law that allows a bonus of one-half of 1 percent of the Federal grant on interstate highways to any state that prohibits billboards along interstate highways.

Co-Op Nursery Will Sell Baked Goods at Fair

Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery is planning to sell baked goods at the Community Fair, project-a booth where home-baked yeast goods and home-made candy is sold during the four-day fair.
The nursery will announce the items of the project that in previous years the demand has been greater than the supply, so this year the nursery will try to furnish a larger quantity of the goods. The booth will offer bread, rolls, coffee cakes, tea rings, cookies, and candy, all made at home by mothers whose children attend nursery.

Funds from the booth will be used to meet expenses of play school equipment, pay salary of a professional teacher and maintain the nursery building located on Dexter/Chelsea Rd.
Co-Operative Nursery Mothers will be at the bakery booth to sell the goods and to answer questions about the nursery school program. There are only two openings for four-year-old girls, and several openings for both boys and girls in the three-year-old group. Those desiring information prior to the Fair may call Mrs. Raymond Steinbach of Chelsea.

Hoffmeyers Home From Summer Science Institute

Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffmeyer and their three young children returned home the past week-end from Oneonta, N.Y., where Mr. Hoffmeyer was one of 42 science teachers from various parts of the country who attended a National Science Foundation (NSF) Institute on the subjects of geology and astronomy.

The NSF institutes, held each summer in many locations throughout the country are open to all science and mathematics teachers who are chosen from among the many who annually make applications.
The institute at Oneonta included a geology field trip of five days in the Adirondack mountain area, where mineral and rock samples were collected for later classroom study.
An astronomy field trip took the 42 teachers to Philadelphia, Pa., and Washington, D.C. At Philadelphia the group visited the FELS Planetarium and the Franklin Institute of Science, while at Washington the principal points of interest were the Naval Observatory and the Bureau of Standards.
Hoffmeyer was one of approximately 20 of the teachers at the institute who volunteered to go to Grand Mere, midway between Montreal and Quebec, to view the July 20 eclipse of the sun which was total at that point. He brought back a number of pictures of the eclipse as well as other pictures (star trails, etc.) which will be especially interesting for students in the junior high general science classes he teaches here.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Balance of Payments—Discipline or Punishment

Economists, at least some of them, still speak nostalgically of "discipline" imposed on national and international economic activity by the gold standard as it operated in the 19th and early 20th centuries. In recent years we have seen the language used in reference to the deficit in our international transactions. Economic bankers and public officials now speak of the discipline of the balance of payments.

This attitude has had, on the whole, a salutary effect on national policies. It has imposed a restraint without which we might have turned to inflation in an attempt to cure unemployment and to increase economic growth.

Yet many economists of the "liberal" persuasion have grown restive in this atmosphere. They seem to regard the balance-of-payments situation not as a form of discipline from which we can learn, but as a form of unjust punishment which we should seek to evade.

This attitude is reflected in the report on the "United States Balance of Payments in 1962," prepared for the government by a group at the Brookings Institution. This report advocates that a solution be sought through agreements with other countries which would provide a greater amount of international liquidity. This is viewed as desirable in itself as a means of financing an increased volume of world trade. It would also create the additional credit deficit countries could borrow to tide themselves over.

There may be some virtue in taking another look at our international monetary arrangements. However, as an approach to the balance-of-payments problem this looks like circumvention rather than acceptance of discipline.

As a second-best alternative, the report suggests that flexible exchange rates be adopted. In other words the value of the dollar and other currencies would be established, not by being pegged to gold or to each other, but by what buyers would pay for them in free markets. This system has been advocated by other economists as consistent with free markets generally. But they usually add that it would be fatal to adopt such a system unless rigid international restraints were placed on internal monetary policy.

In presenting the report to Congress, Mr. Walter S. Salant commented: "Balance-of-payments discipline . . . is desirable only as a means to ends that are desirable. It is not desirable if it requires the subordination of higher priority objectives."

This is mere toying with words. There is no discipline worthy of the name if its restraints can be rejected on the grounds that "higher priorities" so indicate.

7-Year-Old Injured In Fall from Bicycle

Donald Bollinger, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bollinger suffered head, face and body bruises and abrasions when he was thrown to the ground after losing control of the bicycle he was riding as it struck loose gravel. The mishap occurred on Ivey Rd. near the Clarence Holiday home and Mrs. Holiday went to his assistance and called his parents.

The injured boy was taken to the office of a Chelsea physician who ordered him sent at once to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, for observation and treatment. He remained at the hospital until Tuesday afternoon.

The boy was visiting his grandfather, Gottlieb Bollinger, 19480 Bush Rd., and had been playing with other boys in the neighborhood prior to the accident.

How long has it been since you changed your hairdo? Are you the one that you are wearing your hair in the most becoming way? It is truly amazing what a difference a hairdo can make. It's like magic. Often when you see someone for the first time in a while, you suddenly think, "What happened? He is so much better looking." When you realize that she is wearing her hair in a new way, an outdated coif just won't do. You should have one of the current hairdos arranged for you alone. Mrs. David R. Grossman

Patricia Alma Mepyans Is Bride of David Grossman

Patricia Alma Mepyans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Mepyans, and David Rodney Grossman of Ann Arbor, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening before the Rev. Paul M. Schnake at St. Paul's United Church of Christ. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. May Grossman of Ann Arbor, and Waldemar Grossman of Chelsea.

Approximately 200 guests were present for the 7 o'clock service and for the reception which followed in the church hall. Mrs. George Heydlauff, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the soloist. She sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of chantilly lace and silk organza over taffeta, featuring a fitted long-sleeved bodice of the lace. The sabrina neckline was outlined with pearls and iridescent lace. Matching lace attached at the pointed waistline formed an apron effect over the front of the skirt; the pointed outline of the waistline repeated on the apron effect lace panel at the skirt hemline. At the back, lace extended from the waist into the chapel length train. The remainder of the skirt was adorned with appliques of lace trimmed with pearls and iridescent matching the neck outline trimming.

Her bouffant, shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece formed of two large organza roses and strands of seed pearls with a teardrop pearl over the forehead. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and roses centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Irvin Knickerbocker of Steinbach Rd., a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids included two other sisters, Sharon and Barbara Mepyans; also Janet Bollinger, a cousin of the bride, and Lynn Adams.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned alike in shrimp-colored street-length sheath dresses fashioned of crepe chiffon over taffeta. Style features were a cowl neckline, cap sleeves, and a back drapery effect extending to the hemline of the skirt and held in place with two large fabric roses at the waistline. The attendants' headpieces, with brief veils in matching shrimp color, were tiny crowns trimmed at the front with leaves, all fashioned of seed pearls.

They carried cascade bouquets of roses in shrimp color bordered with white carnations. The bouquet of the matron of honor was distinguished from the others with the addition of a deeper colored rose.

The bride's mother, wearing a dusty rose colored two-piece dress with matching jacket and accessories, and the bridegroom's mother, in turquoise with turquoise and white accessories, each had a white orchid corsage.

Irvin Knickerbocker, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man while ushers were Stephen Bristle, Jerry Satterthwaite and Norman Loeffler of the Chelsea area and Robert Weiss of Ann Arbor.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall with Karen Buss, a cousin of the bride, in charge of the guest book.

Others who assisted at the reception are Mrs. Waldo Horning and Mrs. Rudolph Bollinger, aunts of the bride, who poured punch and coffee; Mrs. Harold Eschelbach, aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Henry Buss, also an aunt of the bride, who cut the wedding cake, assisted by Kay Buss, a cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Duane Bollinger who was at the gift table.

A reception also was held later at the American Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake.

Following a week's trip to northern Michigan, the couple will be at home at 208 East Michigan Ave., Saline. The bridegroom is employed at the A&M Chevrolet Co. at Saline.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride were two showers—one given by Mrs. Waldo Horning, Mrs. Henry Buss and Mrs. Rudolph Bollinger, aunts of the bride, and the other by Lynn Adams, Mrs. Carl Lentz and Mrs. Warren McGuire.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by the bridegroom's mother.

If your score is 180 or above you are, whether you know it or not, part of the Moral Re-Armament of America and the world.

If your score is between 100 and 180 you are, whether you know it or not, a security risk and liable to be used by the type of men who subvert and pervert the nation.

If your score is below 100 you are part of the decadence in this nation or America's conscious enemy.

Whatever the result of the coming election, we believe the party in power must make a main aim the re-creation of character in the home life, industrial life and political life of America. That is our urgent need and without it our energies will be drained by license and our liberty will be in danger. For that, example is better than exhortation. With Moral

Re-Armament, our energies will be redoubled, our productivity increased, our real greatness will be restored and our future will be assured. We want to see America governed by men governed by God. We want to see an America where honesty, purity, unselfishness and love are the normal for public men and the accepted standards of the whole nation.

Moral Re-Armament was not, is not and never will be pacifist. We want to see the fools who spread that lie begin to recognize the knaves who invented it, and understand their motives as betrayers and corrupters of our country.

Moral Re-Armament is the greatest battle of all time whereby men have sweated in peace and bled in war, and are ready to do the same again if necessary, to see God restored to leadership in this and every country.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Economic expansion is a major goal of our nation and of all the states. In Michigan we have taken a new approach to this program, an attitude which, hopefully, will mean more industry, more business, more services and with that, more jobs.

One of Michigan's greatest assets for progress is its strong industrial community. It is on this asset which we seek to expand from which we look for increasing investment in Michigan's future.

As we pursue our program of economic expansion, we recognize that a task which must be shared by every community, government agency and every resident of Michigan. No single person, group or agency can accomplish the job alone, but from each we draw direction, advice and personal service.

In the policy of "playing to strength" which this Department has adopted, here are some of the programs we have designated for our emphasis:

Research on Expansion, Opportunities

International Trade

Financing Community Development to help local industry as well as attract new companies.

In outlining and implementing these programs, we consider industrial leverage. This means that for every effort put forth, there should be a corresponding and expanded result.

Research has contributed to our present standard of living and it will continue to be a source of progress. The State's responsibility in this area and the Department's interest in research was demonstrated by the Michigan Legislature, which this year appropriated $100,000 for economic expansion research by our colleges and universities.

From this research we anticipate new ideas, new products and new markets which will benefit Michigan economy measurably over the next three to five years. The program is unique because administration of the funds is charged to the Department of Economic Expansion. Research projects are subject to review by scientists in each field. Proposals are approved by the legislature.

Michigan is bordered by four of the Great Lakes, making an inland seacoast. Linked to the Atlantic Ocean by the St. Lawrence Seaway. Foreign markets offer a significant opportunity to increase the sale of Michigan products. The "NO VACANCY" signs at motels—and long waiting lines at restaurants, theaters or recreation areas—need not spoil your holiday fun this summer. Just telephone ahead and make sure there's a friendly welcome waiting for you, all along the way. Takes just a minute, makes such a difference.

QUICK QUIZ. Can you guess which room is the favorite spot for telephones—in homes all across the nation? Here's a partial list of possibilities to help you answer:

☐ BEDROOM ☐ KITCHEN ☐ DEN
☐ LIVING ROOM ☐ ENTRANCE HALL ☐ BASEMENT

Did you think first of Mom's busy day—and guess the phone in the kitchen? You're right! Next comes the bedroom, for privacy and protection. Hall and living room locations tie for third place. Actually, more and more families are finding telephones indispensable in a number of locations. To get an extension phone for any room in your home, just call our Business Office—or ask the man on the telephone truck.

BURNED UP?

Why is it that a building burns down, and folks "burn up?"

Heard funnier? Sure you have. There's nothing funny about any kind of a burn—particularly the type that befalls the unfortunate soul who falls asleep on the beach in the hot sun.

Pretty bad, too, is the "slow burn." This is something to which housekeepers and homeowners are often exposed. It comes about when things go wrong with household appliances or services; or with the discovery that yesterday's "bargain" purchase is today's headache.

Water puts out fire. Lotion helps a sunburn. The best we can say about a "slow burn" is that you get a good ounce of prevention by trading locally, with merchants who have earned the confidence of the community.

4,794 New Cars Registered in Washtenaw During First Five Months

With the automobile industry establishing an all-time high sales year, automobile dealers in Michigan communities are finding a brisk demand for passenger cars and trucks.

This, in turn, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, keeps his 285 branch offices throughout the state busy processing titles and levying weight taxes.

An analysis of new vehicle registrations in the first five months of 1963 shows that 4,794 passenger cars and 1,474 trucks were titled in Washtenaw county.

In the period studied, 201,695 new passenger cars and 19,497 new trucks were registered in Michigan's 83 counties.

Hare cited industry figures showing that more than 5,000,000 motor vehicles have been produced in the United States since the first of the year and that more than 7,000,000 cars and trucks had been manufactured during the 1963 model year.

"National car sales have done much to improve Michigan's prosperity," Hare said.

"As these vehicles are sold and used, they not only bring jobs and tax dollars to our Great Lakes State but they also move tourists in and manufactured materials out of Michigan. Peak vehicle registrations are something which should please everybody: workers, manufacturers, stockholders, tax collectors, restaurant owners, motel operators, and many others. Car sales and a better way of life are synonymous, especially in Michigan."

Everyone, whether they spend any time studying the issues of the day or not, is an expert on current events.
