Common Cold Season Seems To Start With First Day of Each School Year

"When does the cold season begin," someone asked us a few days ago?

On the first day of school—that's when it usually starts. Research scientists have now proved that the spread of colds, like other virus-caused infections, is accelerated by the mixing of populations. In fixed, stable groups which are not exposed to strangers, cold-like infections, they say, tend to die out and do not reappear until there is a contact outside the group. Surveys also show that youngsters of elementary school age have five times as many colds as grown-ups and that colds continue to be the major factor in school absences.

Thus, it should be crystal clear what happens when all the kindergartners, or all the fourth-graders or the eighth assemble from all over the school district to begin a new school year. If there's one cold in the bunch, it swiftly becomes common property. No doubt that's why they call this medical mystery the "common" cold. The kids take their new-found infections home, and pretty soon, everybody's got a runny nose.

Actually, not quite everybody. There still are people, as the comic says, who "can't even catch cold." But a recent study by the National Education Association shows that the average U.S. youngster missed 18.9 days out of the last school year. To realize the scope of this problem, just multiply 18.9 by 40, million!

It is still difficult, however, in the light of another recent survey by a drug industry publication which indicated that only one out of eight home medicine chests is fully equipped to meet ordinary family health needs. The recommended check list of 11 basic supplies included gargle, antihistamine, aspirin, cotton swabs, stomach settler, laxative, cough syrup, eye drops, decongestant, fever thermometer, bandages and an analgesic.

Another curious fact is the wide variation by states as shown in the NEA count of lost schooldays. The State of Washington is apparently our healthiest, with 10.5 days lost per student, and Utah with 11.2. At the other end of the scale, Nevada showed an average of 52 lost days per student, with Alaska next at 26.5 days. Michigan was somewhere in the average range.

Anyone who wishes to try to explain these figures may have a try at it—while we get out some warm clothing, plan a good, nourishing diet of hamburgers, coffee and cigarettes and try to avoid the fellow who has a cold before he sees us! But first, excuse me a moment while I run down town to get some nose drops, cold pills and a supply of handkerchiefs to handle the cold I picked up during those first few days of school last week!

More 'Progress' Noted in Cuba

The price of gasoline in Cuba has been increased from 34 cents to 60 cents a gallon "in the interest of the national economy," according to a news dispatch from Havana.

That 60-cent price is twice as high as the average United States gallon of gasoline, including taxes, and three times the cost of a U.S. gallon before taxes.

Castro said the price hike provides a new avenue for Cubans to make a greater contribution to progress. According to reports from newsmen who have visited Cuba recently, a little more Castro-type "progress" may put the island out of business entirely.

The gasoline Cubans can buy is low in quality, and an estimated 30 percent of the island's automobiles have had to be junked for lack of spare parts. About 40 percent of the Cuban service station operators are reported to have abandoned their stations.

Castro is not importing any new automobiles. Instead, he is trying to convince his people that private transportation and freedom of personal movement are unnecessary capitalistic frills.

In the United States, by contrast, more than 92 million drivers operate 79 million motor vehicles, enjoying unprecedented freedom of movement. More than 200,000 auto service stations—90 percent of them operated by local independent businessmen—compete with each other to supply motorists' needs and to add to their enjoyment of highway travel.

To most Cubans the high price of gasoline is a purely theoretical subject. But it is a significant indicator that progress in Cuba is going—no coming.

Equal Rights

Official state policy on civil rights is that no citizen should be denied education, employment or other opportunities because of his race, religion or creed.

This policy, a long-standing one, has been spelled out in detail a number of times in recent years. The emphasis throughout the country this year on civil rights has again brought Michigan's policy to the forefront.

Gov. George Romney reminded state agencies of this policy when he took office last month. Before that, former Gov. John B. Swainson issued a statement of policy to all agency heads. Prior to that, long-time Gov. G. Mennen Williams emphasized his support of the equal opportunities policy.

Activities in the South recently prompted the leaders of the two major political parties here to appoint new human relations coordinators to improve the civil rights picture in Michigan.

At the same time, the state Attorney General announced a plan to implement the civil rights provisions of the new Constitution, taking effect Jan. 1.

On the education front, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett formed a state committee on equal educational opportunity. The committee's job is to determine where improvements might be needed, to insure that each Michigan citizen gets his full civil rights in education.

It might be observed, that these recent efforts can only serve their intended purpose if continued on a long-term basis. One-shot efforts in the field of civil rights would be of little value of their purpose was just to "win friends and influence people."

In civil service in Michigan, equal employment opportunities are a reality. Capacity for a position is the only factor taken into account.

In at least one other governmental unit, civil rights are being emphasized to contractors who deal with the state. The State Highway Department issued a letter each year at the beginning of the construction season.

Commissioner John C. Mackie informs contractors wishing to bid on state projects that they should hire on the basis of ability. A contractor who takes into consideration other factors could be disqualified from bidding on state work.

Continuing, unswerving efforts of this type appear to be those which will further the state policy in the long run.

Concentration on civil rights this year brought forth one other interesting point: a paradox of sorts. When school superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett was asked how many Negro teachers were employed in various school systems, the paradox brought about by just a few years passing came into focus.

In past years, applications for various jobs including those in most school districts contained a blank where "race" was listed. Some years back, however, a hue and cry about racial discrimination prompted school districts and many other employers to leave this off job application forms.

Thus, when Bartlett was asked about Negro teachers it became a large task to survey school districts, which in turn had to check each school.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: The fellows that writes them big headlines in the daily newspapers has long ago lost the common touch. Ever day we get a steady diet in big black type about the Reds pushing the line a few miles in Laos, or JFK and Bobby taking a stand on Civil Rights, or DeGaulle being agin this or that, and about once a week we get a headline on how things is going in the British Parliament.

Actual, this don't sell no newspapers on account of the people ain't interested. Everybody knows the Reds is always pushing the line a little here and there. In Cuba, for instance, they got it pushed just 90 mile from Florida. What do we care about a few mile in Laos? And with a election coming up next year, JFK and Bobby has got to take a stand on Civil Rights about twice a day to keep the iron hot. And ole DeGaulle has been agin everything except fresh air and sunshine since he took office. Scandals in the British Parliament is nothing to what we got in Government here at home. See what I mean, Mister Editor? They was at least a dozen items buried in the big papers last week that was big headline news and would've sold papers like hot cakes to the average American.

For instance, it was decided in North Carolina that counties would have to quit charging $3 a head tax on mules. The Governor allowed as how anybody "afflicted with a mule" shouldn't have to pay tax on the varmint. A headline across the top of the Chicago Tribune saying "N.C. Cuts Taxes would create a sensation. This is probable the first real tax cut in this country since the Pilgrims landed.

The Russians has started building a $2 million Embassy in Washington. This item was buried back with the want ads. As tight as them Russians can get with a dollar—they was no 4 year behind with their U.N. dues—this is absolute proof the Russians ain't got no idea of ever dropping a bomb on Washington. But look where the papers put this item!

Then they was this little item buried back in the papers about a Sheriff in Georgia. He run on a platform that if he was elected he'd make the county so dry you'd have to prime a feller twice afore he could spit. The bootleggers put a time bomb in his car and blowed it to heaven. But the timing was bad and the Sheriff wasn't in it. The insurance company immediately cancelled the Sheriff's policy but he bought himself two more guns and said he didn't need no insurance. Now these is the kind of items, Mister Editor, that'll sell papers. People just ain't excited no more about Laos, DeGaulle, and Bobby.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Personal Notes
 Mr. and Mrs. Don Labo and their daughters, arrived Friday night to spend the week-end at the home of Mrs. Labo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage. Captain and Mrs. Herbert D. Vogel, Jr., and their daughters, Mary Gay and Susan, were guests Thursday of Captain Vogel's grandmother, Mrs. L. Vogel, and on Thursday and Friday visited his cousins, Major Vogel, of the Air Force Reserve Corps, who makes her home while stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base, and Mrs. Clarence Vogel, Jr., and Mrs. Ralph Oesterling. Mrs. Vogel also has a daughter, Jamie. Also here for the evening was Captain Vogel's brother, Richard, a student at the M. Law School at Ann Arbor. Captain Vogel, formerly stationed at Norfolk, Va., has been transferred to duty at Colorado Springs, Colo., and he and his family are enroute there.

Mrs. K. Thompson Named Director of Special Ed. Center
 Mrs. Kay Thompson of Ann Arbor, who taught the senior class at the Sullivan Special Education Center at 5225 Jackson Rd., has been named director of the Center to replace Mrs. Hugh Pickett, who has moved to New York City. Mrs. Thompson also formerly taught at Garden City, Long Island, N.Y. She is a graduate of Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind. She and her husband, William B. Thompson live at 3222 Parkwood St., Ann Arbor. Classes for trainable retarded children began Monday. Community Chest Benefitting Agencies
Boy Scouts of America
 This is the fifth in a series of articles explaining about the various benefitting agencies included in the Community Chest. Today's article is on the Boy Scout program. Who pays for scouting? Scouting is sort of a team game. If any member of the team falls down on his job, the play fails. There are five members of this Scouting team, each with an essential part to play. Number one is the boy himself; number two is the Cub Pack, Scout Troop or Explorer unit; third is the institution which sponsors the unit (Here in Chelsea the Cub Pack is sponsored by the Jaycees; the two troops 76 and 25, are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Explorer Post is sponsored by the American Legion Post No. 31.) Next is the Portage Trails Boy Scout Council which serves Washtenaw and Livingston counties. The fifth member of the team is the national organization, fostering Scouting all over the country. Each team member invests time, effort, interest and loyalty. Without the interest and service, not only of our boys, but of each of our more than one million volunteer leaders as well, there would be no Scouting. Each member of this team does invest money, as well. The boy pays his annual membership; buys his uniforms and equipment, etc. He also pays dues to his troop treasury. In most cases he earns this money himself. For adults to assume these obligations would be to deprive the boy of training in responsibility. The troop buys needed camping equipment, etc., through the use of the troop's budget which derives its income from the dues the boys pay. These dues are usually 10 cents a week. The sponsoring institution provides a place for the unit to meet—also heating, lighting and furnishings. Thus the institution also contributes to Scouting through its own operating budget. At this point there still are factors lacking to carry on a successful Scouting program. This is why Scout Councils came into being. The local council, through its budget, does the following for the leader and his unit. Handles registrations, Boys' Life subscriptions, charter renewals, and special requests to the National Council and other organizations; stocks a supply of literature, insignia, forms and certificates—needed by the leader to carry on his program; keeps records of training advancement, etc. necessary to unit operation; produces monthly and special council bulletins to keep leaders informed of latest local and national news and coming events; produce notices, minutes, agendas, etc., for district and council committees that are developing programs for leader and unit benefit; handles countless phone calls and visitors for information related to unit operation and Scouting procedures; provides without charge, dozens of regular and special forms, applications, scoreboards, certificates, and literature, helpful in unit program; produces district and council calendars, and schedules, programs, kits, and special aids to assist leaders and their committees; makes thousands of reservation for films, equipment, short-term camps, camporees, jamborees, training courses, meetings, Cub pow wows, Explorer activities, annual council and district meetings, junior leader and den chief events. To assist leaders, the Council employs a trained, full-time staff of workers who counsel, guide, and inspire through informal training in unit operation; do person-to-person counseling on unit relation-

Nadine Terese Lentz Becomes Bride of Larry R. Koch
 The Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski officiated at the 11 a.m. ceremony Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic church, at which Nadine Terese Lentz and Larry Raymond Koch exchanged wedding vows in the presence of approximately 200 guests. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lentz of 409 Garfield St., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Koch of Lima Center. Organist and soloist for the ceremony was Mrs. John Dettinger. She sang the Ave Maria. For her wedding the bride chose a ballroom-length gown fashioned of white lace over ice blue satin with a sprinkling of sequins on the bodice and skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was fastened to a crown of pearls and crystals and her bouquet was a crescent-shaped arrangement of white roses and Stephanotis. Bernadette Foisie of Ann Arbor, was maid of honor, wearing for the occasion a street-length dress in a royal blue shade, styled with a sabrina neckline on the fitted bodice and having a bell-shaped skirt. A headpiece fashioned of a large cabbage rose and pearls held a veil matching the color of her dress. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink roses. Barbara Stark of Temperance, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Lawrence Hafner, were bridesmaids. They were dressed like the maid of honor; their bouquets, however, were of pink carnations. The bride's mother, in a gold-colored sheath dress with brown accessories and the bridegroom's mother, wearing a beige brocade sheath and red accessories, each had a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. Two cousins of the bride, Joanne Schneider of Chelsea and Muriel Stark of Temperance, served as flower girls. Others in the wedding party were Charles Koenig who was best man, and David Grossman of Sarnia and Duane Bollinger who served as ushers. Assisting at a reception held Saturday afternoon at the Chelsea Rod and Gun clubhouse were Mrs. Irving Knickerbocker, in charge of the guest book; Mrs. David Grossman at the gift table; and Barbara Mepjans, Sharon Mepjans, Janet Bollinger, Elaine and Roberta Paul and several cousins of the bride. Both the bride and bridegroom are 1961 graduates of Chelsea High school; she is now employed at Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Ann Arbor, and he is serving in the U. S. Air Force.

Women's Guild Program Topic Is 'World's Religions'
 Mrs. Charles Winans presented the program at the Sept. 11 meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church, the topic being "The World's Great Religions." Mrs. Winans became interested in the subject while studying a history course at Eastern Michigan University. To illustrate points during her presentation Mrs. Winans used colored slide pictures. Mrs. David Strieter, as program chairman, introduced Mrs. Winans, following a group singing of the hymns, "Faith Of Our Fathers" and "In Christ There Is No East Or West." This was the first meeting of the 1963-64 season and a pot-luck dinner was served in the dining room of the church hall preceding the program and business session in the fellowship room. Mrs. Wilbert Grieb was in charge of the opening devotional service and the committee in charge of the dinner included Mrs. Norman Bauer, Mrs. Julius Reule, Mrs. Willis Heydlauff, Mrs. Joan Kipfmiller and Mrs. Clara Kuebler. At the business session, Mrs. Richard Schmidt was elected secretary for a two-year term beginning with the new year. Announcement was made of the fall regional workshop which is to be held at the Pinckney Congregational Christian church, Oct. 15. This will be a joint meeting with the Congregational women's groups, Evangelical and Reformed women's groups of this region are also invited to attend a planning meeting for the Oct. 15 workshop scheduled to be held next Monday, Sept. 23, at the Ginton Congregational church. Women of St. Paul's church are planning the fall workshop as their October monthly meeting and are urging women who have never before attended a workshop meeting to avail themselves of this opportunity to do so. Registration at the workshop is 8:30 a.m. with closing scheduled for 3 p.m. Mrs. Henry Karner is in charge of accepting reservations for the noon luncheon at the workshop—they must be made by Oct. 12—and she will also arrange transportation for those who need it.

Red Cross Slates Series of Adult Swim Classes
 The fall series of the Red Cross adult swim classes will start Wednesday, Oct. 2, at 7:15 p.m., at Ann Arbor High school, Washtenaw County Chapter officials announced today. Swimming classes will be taught by volunteer water safety instructors for the eight-week session. The series will include the special sections for non-swimmers, swimmers and a Senior Life Saving course. These co-educational classes are open to anyone at least 18 years of age in the county; however, registration will be limited. As with all Red Cross courses, there is no charge. A small locker and custodial fee is required by the Ann Arbor school system, and will be collected the first evening in Room C-100 at the high school. The first lessons will begin as soon as everyone has been accommodated. Participants should bring along their suits, towels and caps. Registration for any of the groups may be made by calling the Red Cross operations Center at 662-5546 not later than Sept. 27. Time was when we mined gold in Michigan. In a 15-year period late in the 19th century, the Ropes mine in Marquette county produced $650,000 worth of gold.

Michigan is probably the only state ever to have organized as a state before being admitted to the Union, having at the same time a duly elected state government and a federal territorial governor.

DEATHS

Mrs. B. Widmayer Dies Thursday Night At Ann Arbor Hospital

Mrs. Bernice Widmayer, widow of Benjamin Widmayer, died Thursday night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where she had been a patient since Sept. 6. Her home here was at 105 1/2 North Main St.

Born Aug. 24, 1879, at Olney, Ill., she was married to Mr. Widmayer at Chicago, Ill., in 1944 and had made her home here since then. He died Oct. 4, 1962.

She was a member of the Congregational church and the former Pythian Sisters Lodge.

Survivors are a stepson, Roland Widmayer of Plymouth; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Millard Harvey (Margareite) and Mrs. Paul Ellsworth (Lisetta) both of Dexter; five grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; and a cousin, LaVerne Kay of Lafayette, Ind.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Staffan Funeral Home with the Rev. Robert A. J. Livingston officiating. Burial took place at Vermont cemetery on Chelsea-Manchester Rd.

Mrs. Lucy Leighton Former Ypsilanti Resident Dies at Methodist Home

Mrs. Lucy M. Leighton, who was 80 years old on July 6, died Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Home following a long illness. She had been a resident of the Home since July 10, 1952.

She was a member of the Ypsilanti First Methodist church and the pastor of the church, the Rev. Robert Ward will officiate at the funeral service scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today (Thursday) at the Methodist Home Chapel. Also to officiate is the Rev. George P. Stafford, chaplain at the Home. Burial will follow at Highland cemetery, Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Leighton was born July 6, 1874, at Brandy Creek, Quebec, a daughter of Allen and Henrietta Snyder Crombie. She was married Dec. 25, 1893 to Herbert J. Leighton. He died March 18, 1948.

Survivors of Mrs. Leighton are a daughter, Mrs. B. D. Tupper of Redford, and a son, Herbert R. Leighton of Detroit.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Burghardt Funeral Home.

after Schultz's offer was made—affording the village a considerable saving—it was decided to accept the offer and publicly commend and express appreciation to Schultz.

Additional village parking lot facilities were the subject of discussion; lack of funds available for a possible solution to the parking problem, however, resulted in no action at present.

Discussion of Youth Committee activities; Trustee Burg reported that the first official board meeting of the committee would be held Thursday, Sept. 19.

Motion made that in order to clear the tax roll on a non-reassessable property picked up by the state for non-payment of taxes, the village clerk be authorized to issue a check to the township treasurer in the amount of $217.50. This amount will be returned to the village as back taxes on the property are collected.

Also authorized was payment of $10451.50 to the City National Bank of Detroit for village general obligation sewage disposal system bonds. The amount is to be paid from the sewage bond and interest account.

Payments authorized to Peter Kurzy—$337.80 for engineering on village fire station and $216.22 for village street engineering.

Authorization approved for payment to A. D. Mayer Insurance Agency of second-year installment on PIP insurance plan. Amount: $857. It was pointed out that $545.85 of this amount will be paid by the Chelsea Light and Water Department.

Motion approved to renew the Village comprehensive commercial insurance policy with A. D. Mayer Insurance Agency. Amount: $1,032.67.

Preceding the regular meeting a special session was held at 7 p.m. to approve the sale of property now owned by the village and ac-

Village Council meetings are held in the Council room of the Municipal Building the first and third Tuesdays of the month. Meetings begin at 8 p.m. Interested citizens are welcome to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vicary and Mrs. Annabelle Woolley spent Sunday with their son and brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vicary, Robert and Linda, of Elkhart, Ind.

Mrs. William McCallum and his two-year-old son, David, left Sunday morning by plane for New York City from where she will leave by ship for Gayman to join her husband, Captain McCallum who is stationed at Stuttgart. McCallum expect to remain in three years. Mrs. McCallum and son have spent the past few months here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Wenk.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Jobs for the Unskilled . . .

The national unemployment problem is concentrated to a high degree among the unskilled, inexperienced and untrained members of our labor force. Two recent developments in the field of federal legislation have a bearing on the prospects of these people for finding jobs.

The first is the increase in the statutory minimum wage to $1.25 an hour. This is the final step in the increases scheduled by legislation passed in 1961. It can't help but have some effect in reducing job opportunities for workers at the low end of the wage scale. You don't encourage employers to hire people by making it more expensive for them to do so. Whether the job-destroying effect will be great or small is difficult to predict in advance, and will even be difficult to assess after the fact since so many other things are always happening to affect employment.

In any case this is a step in the wrong direction. And if past history is any guide we may expect that it will be taken as a signal to begin the campaign for the next increase in the minimum wage.

Another significant event is the passage by the Senate of an amendment to the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. The Act set up a program for retraining working people so as to qualify them for available jobs. As originally conceived this was to become a joint federal-state program in 1964, with the states paying half the cost. The amendment would relieve the states of this burden and finance the program through June 1965 wholly with federal funds.

The reason such an amendment is being proposed is that the states have shown little inclination to go along with the 50-50 deal. Only 8 states out of the 50 have appropriated the necessary funds for participating in 1964. Two interpretations can be put on this development: either the states are not convinced of value of the program, or else they believe that by dragging their feet they can force the federal government to pay the whole bill. On either interpretation, there does not seem to be a good case for doubling federal expenditures on this program to keep it alive.

One of the grounds on which Senator Clark of Pennsylvania, a chief proponent of the amendment, explained away the inaction of the states is a curious one. According to the Senator the states are suffering from "limitations on their taxing power, as a result of the taxes which have been stolen or preempted by the Federal Government." By this theory, the federal government ought to assume an increased expenditure burden because its excessive fiscal needs have impaired the ability of the states to pay their proper share. It is easy to see where this kind of logic would lead.

The creation of new jobs for those presently unemployed will depend on the expansion of business enterprises. Given sufficient incentive and the necessary capital, business will expand, produce, hire people, and if necessary train them in the required skills. New government spending programs, by reducing the prospect for thoroughgoing tax-rate reform, will impede the job-creating process.

Needlework Guild Ingathering Slated At Congl. Church

The Chelsea branch of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc. is one of 400 branches in the country participating in the annual ingathering and in national membership week of the Guild, Oct. 7-12.

The Chelsea ingathering will take place Oct. 8 at the Congregational Church and Mrs. Robert Wagner, second vice-president in charge of ingathering, is planning to have tea served to all who attend between 2 and 4 p.m.

The Needlework Guild has been called "The Original Wash and Wear Charity" because of the early slogan—"One to Wash and One to Wear." Membership dues consist of the contribution of two (or more) new articles of clothing or household linens once a year.

The next regular meeting of the WRC is scheduled for Oct. 21 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Gilbert. Her co-hostess is to be Mrs. Joseph Laban.

Refreshments were served at Monday's meeting by Mrs. Coffron and her co-hostess, Mrs. T. G. Riemen Schneider.

Gelman Marketing New Metricel Membrane Filter

From the Gelman research laboratories at Ann Arbor comes new the Metricel membrane filter.

Donald Churchill, director of chemical activities for Gelman, says the products now on stream are the ultimate for microporous membrane filtration. "Metricel membrane filters have a broad pore-size range (from a millionth of an inch diameter) and, because 85 percent of each filter's pores, you get maximum flow," Churchill states. "Batch-to-batch consistency is unequalled. Exhaustive testing shows Metricel to be stronger and therefore longer-lasting than its competitor."

Hog Cholera Eradication Plan Begins

Michigan has entered a co-operative hog cholera program with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the 35th state to do so. There are about 792,000 swine in the state valued at $22,334,000.

Dr. John F. Quinn, state veterinarian in the Michigan Department of Agriculture; and Dr. Asa Winter, federal veterinarian in charge, point out that the state is in the initial phase of a program leading to eradication of hog cholera.

Hog cholera is a virus disease that affects swine only. It costs the nation's hog producers about $50 million a year, about 45 cents for each pig marketed. Eradication of the disease, never as extensive in Michigan as it has been in some states, will eliminate this cost to the industry, veterinarians believe.

Since 190 a hog cholera committee has been at work. This is made up of Dean Pridgeon, Montgomery swine breeder, chairman; William McCalla, Ann Arbor swine breeder; James Prince, of East Lansing, president of the Michigan Livestock Auction Association; John Anderson, of Muskegon, of the Michigan Meat Packers Association; Dr. George Bergman, Cassopolis veterinarian; Robert Hines, of the Michigan State University animal husbandry department; and Dr. Glenn Reed, MSU extension veterinarian.

Michigan has an established disease reporting system and a system for investigation of all hog cholera outbreaks. In addition all garbage feeding premises are regularly inspected to make sure garbage is properly cooked before being fed to hogs as state law requires.

 - Friday, Sept. 27—Macaroni and cheese, egg salad sandwich, tossed salad, plums.
- All menus include some form of bread and milk.

THE LETTERBOX

Dear Editor: This is a call to arms, directed to all alumni-lettersmen of Chelsea High school, particularly recent graduates and their employers, and based on a recent visit to the practice field. The statement in a recent issue of The Standard, "Chelsea... has a very small squad this year, heavily laden with sophomores... can ill-afford any injuries because of the lack of depth," is exactly right. Coaches Bedford and Mills are doing a great job out there and they don't need any gripes, or Monday-morning quarterbacking. What they do need is all the help they can get in teaching their boys to block and tackle. There is where the alumni lettersmen can do a great job if they will. It's like this: have you ever seen a young retriever, maybe not a puppy, but still inexperienced, jump in the water in front of an older dog. He has the important thing—heart—but his legs go sideways as well as back and forth and he makes some ineffective splashes. Then the older dog jumps in, swims steadily in front, and shows by example. Thus it should be with the Chelsea Bulldogs; if the older dogs (not too old, maybe like Richardson, Steger, Wagner, Merkel and others around here with some bounce) will get out to the practice field in old clothes some of these pleasant fall afternoons, and show, by example, blocking and tackling, they will not only save the younger dogs some injuries, but also Chelsea will have a good season. How about it? Fred Appleby.

AFTER SCHOOL

"Mom, I'm hungry!" When you hear those familiar words, delicious milk is the best answer. It's a satisfying, healthful treat, and the youngsters love it. Be sure to keep plenty of milk on hand.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Dinner for Gold Star Mothers

In observance of the national Veterans of Foreign Wars Gold Star Mothers' Day Sept. 17, a public dinner is being given Tuesday, Sept. 24 at 8 p.m. by Graf-O'Hara Post 428 and its Ladies' Auxiliary. Reservations for the dinner, to be held at the VFW Memorial Home, 314 East Liberty St., Ann Arbor, must be made with Mrs. Reuben Haavisto (Mary) of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Nelson Otto (Ruth), president of Graf-O'Hara Auxiliary, in announcing the dinner in honor of all Gold Star mothers, quoted from the letter written by Abraham Lincoln to Mrs. Bixbee in 1864, "consoling her for the loss of her five sons during the Civil War... Lincoln's letter reads, in part, as follows, Mrs. Otto explained:

"I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming... but I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic which (your sons) died to save. Yours must be the solemn pride to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Mrs. Otto said that tribute paid to a "Gold Star Mother" almost 100 years ago, is as appropriate today as it was then and applies to every Gold Star Mother. She said, too, that honoring the Gold Star Mothers follows an admonition given in Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—that the living should "be dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that the honored dead shall not have died in vain."

Heading this admonition, Mrs. Otto explained, the VFW long ago adopted an appropriate slogan "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living."

The special honor extended to the Gold Star Mothers at the Sept. 24 dinner is part of this program, as well as the services to widows and orphans provided at the VFW National Home at Fenton Rapids; and many other services on a national and local level which the VFW posts and their auxiliaries carry out.

Mrs. Otto said she extends Chelsea-Dexter area Gold Star mothers and their friends a special invitation to make reservations and attend Tuesday's dinner in honor of all Gold Star Mothers.

OUTGUESSING A GROUND OF YOUNGSTERS on their way to or from school requires special alertness, special skill, on the part of every driver. That's why Michigan Bell's safe driver training program education is a year-round program with us, required of every employee whose job includes driving a company car or truck. It's one of the most important ways in which we try to be good citizens and good neighbors.

IN A STEW about lots of errands to do—when you have to stay home and cook a meal, too? If so, you need a handy kitchen extension phone! With a kitchen phone you can order groceries, call a TV repairman, check up on the youngsters at a neighbor's house, ask if that dress in the ad comes in blue... and still keep your eye on what's cooking. Besides, an extension phone adds just the right spot of color to your kitchen wall. Costs just pennies a day, after a small, one-time installation charge. Call us now and order yours.
