Color Tours, Barbecue Set For Week-End

Jaycees Prepare To Serve 1,350 Chicken Dinners

Forests of trees that are like a professional marching into sunset, slanting sunbeams through rainbow leaves that are shining through great central windows.

The above words, map, color and 1,350 chicken dinners are being prepared by the Chelsea Jaycees to bring visitors to this community to view autumn's colors this weekend.

In co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce color tours, the trees are having their eighth annual chicken barbecue at Pierce park, on the customary second weekend in October (Sunday, Oct. 13).

Arrangements for the barbecue have been completed. The pits for charcoal fires will be set up Saturday. Early Sunday morning fires will be started under supervision of the fireman, Bert Jacobs.

General chairman for the project is George A. Staffan; his committee includes Art Stoll, Gene Shoemaker, Robert Jacobs and Robert Kite.

All Jaycees have a part in the project and the Jaycee Auxiliary assists the Jaycees with service.

Henry Ortring, who was a former member of the Jaycees, again this year lend his assistance as chief cook. After many years of experience he is considered an expert in charcoal broiling.

In addition to being able to eat meals at the park area, the trees are also available as take-outs and may be taken to any convenient spot on the color tour.

Again this year only full portions will be served. Children's portions formerly led to considerable waste for both the Jaycees and families. Families in charge for themselves how many meals will be needed to supply for children and buy accordingly.

In each dinner the customer gets a chicken deliciously char-broiled, cole slaw, potato chips and a hot buttered roll. Coffee will be furnished this year at no extra cost. Milk and other drinks will be extra.

The Jaycees have had a major project in helping develop Pierce park as a community development project. The Jaycees plan to complete this project at the park in the proceeds from their barbecues, and with the help and cooperation of other community organizations continue with greater development of the park for the pleasure of this area and visitors to the city.

Color tour routes and picnic sites have been posted with directional signs by Chamber of Commerce committees, and everything is in readiness for a great influx of visitors next Sunday.

Mrs. Iza Carty, Chelsea Red Cross volunteer, is shown above with a Red Cross station wagon which she uses in her work in the Red Cross Motor Corps. She has been a volunteer driver for the past five years, transporting underprivileged children to and from dental clinics; taking handicapped men, women, and children to hospitals for therapy; transferring mental patients to various activities considered of therapeutic value in their treatment; picking up and transporting blood from blood banks to hospitals; and acting in various emergency situations. It is pointed out by Red Cross officials that many additional qualified drivers are needed for this necessary assistance to children and the handicapped. Volunteers willing to help should contact the Red Cross office for particulars.

All Burning Permits Are Canceled

Grass fires have plagued Chelsea firemen the past week. The prolonged dry weather has rendered grass tinder dry and any spark starts a major blaze.

Late-Sunday afternoon Chelsea and Dexter Fire Department crews fought a stubborn blaze which started along the railroad track and burned over 20 acres on the Jerald-Heydlauff farm on Chelsea-Dexter Rd., before it was brought under control.

In addition to the major blaze, numerous small fires started along the tracks from the Heydlauff farm to McKinley St. and another one near the Hayes St. crossing in the western part of the village.

At 8:48 a.m. Monday there was a grass fire along the railroad tracks just outside the eastern village limits and at 1:30 p.m. the same day another major grass fire occurred—this time in the southwest section of the village. It took firemen two hours to extinguish the blaze but firemen succeeded in keeping it away from buildings.

Threatened for a time were St. Barnabas Episcopal church, Finkbeiner Lumber Co. and South Elementary school as well as homes and garages at the south end of Taylor St.

The fire started behind the houses on Arthur St. and a strong wind from the west fanned the blaze, spreading it rapidly.

On Wednesday of last week, at 9:50 p.m., firemen were called to the Arlis Frederick residence on North St. when the front seat of the Fredericks' car was discovered to be on fire. The car was (Continued on page eight)

CHS Homecoming Game, Dance Slated For Friday Evening

Bulldogs Revive To Crush Ypsi-Roosevelt, 32-0

Last Saturday night the Chelsea Bulldogs scored a 32-0 victory over the Roosevelt Rough Riders at Ypsilanti.

Chelsea scored its only first half touchdown on a pass interception by linebacker Dick Lauhon. The interception came on the Rough Riders 35-yard line and Lauhon went the distance for the initial six points. Gary Dresch kicked the PAT and the score was 7-0 in favor of the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs threatened only once more in the first half and left the field with a slim 7-0 margin.

A much inspired Bulldog team, led by co-captains Warren Porath and Curt Farley, took control of the situation in the second half and scored four more times. The first of these came on a pass from Curt Farley to end Jim Cameron, which covered the final 40 yards of a 60-yard drive. Gary Dresch's conversion attempt was successful and Chelsea led 14-0, in the early minutes of the third quarter.

The Bulldogs scored three times in the fourth quarter. After recovering a Roosevelt fumble on the Rough Riders 35-yard line, quarterback Curt Farley threw a pass to end Mike Schraider in the end zone. The conversion attempt was not successful and Chelsea led, 20-0. Junior halfback Paul Huber scored the second Chelsea TD of the fourth quarter, on a 40-yard scamper. The PAT was wide and the Bulldogs led, 26-0. The fifth and final Chelsea tally came on a pass from Mike Kishmull to end Denny Staffer. The 25-yard pass play climaxed a 40-yard drive. The point after touchdown was not successful and the final score was Chelsea 32, Roosevelt 0.

The deepest penetration into Chelsea territory by the Rough Riders was to the Bulldogs 40-yard line.

"The most encouraging part of the entire game was the ability of the team to pick itself up by the bootstraps after a very poor display of football in the first half. This is a sign of great team effort and excellent leadership on (Continued on page eight)

Kiwanians Wrapping Up Ticket Sales

At the Oct. 14 meeting of the Kiwanis club the winning team of ticket salesmen for the 1963-64 Kiwanis-sponsored Travelogue series will dine on steak while the losers will have to content themselves with beans. The dinner meeting will take place in the usual location in the social center of the Methodist church.

The Rev. Ray Barber, former pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church, was a guest speaker at Monday's meeting. Now living in Jackson, he is officially required but keeps busy as an interim pastor. His talk at Monday's meeting pertained to his experiences in that capacity at a church in Hawaii. He served as interim pastor there for six months beginning on Oct. 7 of last year. He showed pictures taken during his stay in Hawaii.

Guests at Monday's meeting included Clarence Hanselman of Dexter, former Kiwanis lieutenant-governor; Calvin Clark and Gordon Beeman, Beeman was present at the invitation of Edwin Greenleaf, who is Kiwanis chairman in charge of organizing a Key club for high school boys here. Beeman is the first of the Key club members invited to attend a Kiwanis club meeting.

Each future Kiwanis club meeting here will have two Key club boys in attendance.

There were 56 Kiwanians and guests present at Monday's meeting.

Giant Pep Rally Tonight Starts Festivities

Everyone in Chelsea is invited to attend the big Homecoming Pep Rally to be held tonight as a prelude to tomorrow's Homecoming football game.

Sponsored by the Chelsea High school senior class, the big rally gets underway at the Municipal parking lot on Park St. at 7:30 p.m. when students will line up for a "snake dance."

They will proceed to the high school parking area, accompanied by a special Pep Rally Band.

A bonfire will add to the festivities at the school parking area where faculty members and coaches will speak and team members will be introduced.

All eight candidates for the title of "Homecoming Queen" (two from each grade) will also be present. They are Susie Gardner and Cathy Taylor, ninth grade; Lauralyn Johnson and Lynne Heard, 10th grade; Linda Meehan and Beverly Arnett, 11th grade; and Carolyn Smith and Rosemarie Porter, 12th grade.

The "queen" will be chosen by secret vote of the football team members and the winner will be announced and crowned during the half-time ceremony scheduled at the Chelsea-Pinckney game, Friday night.

The traditional Homecoming dance will be held at the high school Friday night following the football game.

Members of the sponsoring senior class are hoping for an extra large crowd at the pep rally tonight and also urged support of the football team at tomorrow's Homecoming game.

I salute the students and faculty, team members and coaches upon the contribution they make to the end that Chelsea's reputation as a good place to live, work, play... and go to school remains at a high level.

Robert Daniels,
Chelsea Village President.

Useful Clothing Contributed At Needlework Guild Tea

Members of the Needlework Guild of Chelsea "responded generously" at the annual ingathering held last Thursday at the Congregational church, according to preliminary reports.

It was pointed out that a number of directors (leaders of individual groups) do not have an otherwise organized group and sometimes find it more difficult to get their articles and money to the Guild on time. However, they always "come through" and their efforts are always deeply appreciated.

Chelsea children who need shoes this winter may be outfitted by means of a "shoe fund" which is to be set up by the Guild for use by the Chelsea Social Service.

Mrs. Robert Wagner, a Needlework Guild vice-president who was ingathering chairman, stated that approximately 45 members attended the ingathering tea Thursday. The Woman's Club of Chelsea assisted at the tea with Mrs. Harold Spaulding acting as chairman.

On the committee with her were Mrs. Thomas Smith and Mrs. Leon Fox and cookies were contributed by Mrs. Leigh Palmer, Mrs. Philip Futscher, Mrs. Warren Daniels, Mrs. David Colquhoun, Mrs. Leon Shutes, Mrs. LeRoy Hoffman and Mrs. Louis Ramp.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

The fiscal reform program which I outlined to the legislature last week has received widespread publicity, but I want to make a few observations here about the effect it will have on the people who pay taxes.

The proposals outlined to the lawmakers comprise a basic program of tax reform. They deal adequately and fairly with the major problems which have come to our attention. They are just and will help create jobs.

What does the program actually mean to each person in the state? It means, in the case of the businessman, that the business activities tax—an unfair and inequitable tax—will be totally repealed, and that the corporation franchise tax would not affect businesses during their first two years of existence. The businessman would pay state taxes only if he made a profit.

The family of five would have a 20 percent relief in their property tax burden. And they will save the taxes they now pay on food.

And senior citizens, those over 65 who need relief, will be given the special relief they need and deserve. Their position can be eased by deferring their property taxes up to $200 annually, and they will also save on sales tax.

A low income retired couple who now pay 9.8 percent of their income in state and local taxes will pay only 1.3 percent.

The sales tax will no longer apply to prescription drugs. More important, it will no longer apply to most food purchases. This will grant significant relief to millions of our tax-burdened citizens.

The homeowner will receive relief from the property tax, which has now gone so high in many areas that the people no longer will approve the taxes needed to support our schools.

The schools will benefit, because the state will assume a larger role in their support.

I urge all of you to give careful and serious consideration to the proposals I made to the legislature. And while you do, I urge you to keep certain facts in mind.

First, government is not something apart from you, it actually is you. It has no strength, no purpose, no support apart from you.

Second, when government imposes and collects taxes, it acts as your agent, therefore your opinion controls what is done. You must decide whether taxes should be levied through a sound, firm program based on justice, as I suggest.

Third, when government adopts a program and spends money to fulfill that program it is your money, spent to help meet your needs.

Stop and think for just a moment. Ask yourself what you want out of life. I think most of you will agree that among the things you want are a decent job, a good home, good health, some protection against emergencies, the opportunity to give your children an education and a good start in life.

And then ask yourself whether you can provide all these things yourself, or whether they depend on the community and state in which you live, the employment opportunities, the health services, the schools which the community and the state support. I think the answer is apparent.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Unemployment Pay

Michigan boosted its unemployment compensation rates by $5 this year and was one of 16 states which jacked weekly jobless pay benefits higher.

The current $60 maximum benefit in Michigan placed the state fourth highest in the nation, behind only Alaska at $70, Connecticut at $67 and Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts an unemployed man draws a maximum of $45, but $6 is allowed for each dependent child. The maximum in compensation cannot exceed the worker's average weekly wage on the job.

Of the 16 states which increased benefits to unemployed workers this year, Massachusetts and New Hampshire also added $5 to the allotments.

The 1958-state changes brought the nation's average maximum benefit rate for out-of-work employees to about $42.50 per week.

In a switch from the trend to higher benefits, two states decreased the maximum payments. Colorado rescinded a bonus previously paid to employees with stable work records, and Wyoming adjusted its escalator clause downward by 5 percent.

Although the number of weeks for which benefits are paid varies from state, Michigan ranks with the majority which limits payments to not more than 26 weeks.

Bury Policemen

If you ever had an idea that the Michigan State Police don't have their work cut out for them, take a look at the department records.

During a single recent month, when department strength was below 1,100 men, the department recorded 17,446 arrests of adults. During the same period 645 juvenile traffic offenders were arrested and 574 delinquent and wayward minors were apprehended.

This is just the beginning, however.

Troopers assisted 6,175 motorists during the month. An additional 7,824 cars were investigated; some 22,850 drivers were given oral warnings; and more than 1,000 property and liquor inspections were made.

Department vehicles traveled well over 1.5 million miles, of which 853,000 were on traffic patrol and the rest on criminal investigations and other complaints. This was the activity outside the police posts and headquarters in East Lansing.

Inside the offices of the department there was other work to be done. Some 12,208 sets of fingerprints were received for identification. Of these, 7,000 were criminal and the rest civilian. Thirty-one "wanted" persons were identified through this process. One unknown dead was identified through the same means.

Criminal records also were found on 235 of three 2,289 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons.

The department's crime lab recorded 783 examinations during the period. These included questioned documents, firearms, tool marks, microscopic and botanical examinations. Over 100 requests for lab services from other law enforcement agencies also were handled.

Meet Meat Opportunity

Observance of Michigan Meat Week from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5 was very replete with the usual attention.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where 1964 will be a busy year for the post offices in the nation. This item says they'll be 34 U.S. Senators and 435 House members running for reelection and they'll mail free approximate 25 million pieces of political mail to their constituents. They just have it toted to the post office and postmasters all over the country has to see that it goes to ever "patron" on he rural routes, city routes and to them having boxes. It will cost the taxpayers, this item says, $1,500,000 to handle this political mail. Of course, in these days and times a million and a half dollars is peanuts to the folks back home paying the bill, but they was one angle to this news item that bothers me. How come then Congressmen don't make the Washington post office come after this mail instead of taking it themselves?

And I was reading another interesting piece from the General Service Administration that was dealing in orbit figures. This Government agency says the United States owns around 3 billion documents that is classed as secret and confidential. It was pointed out that this means we got at least one secret document for every man, woman, and child in the world. These so-called secret documents has to be kept in special spy-proof cabinets and the General Service Administration estimated it will cost $12 million in the next few years just to make normal replacements of the cabinets.

Senator Byrd of Virginia was illustrating the other day how we got so many secret documents. For example, last year the Congress passed a law that private shipyards had to get at least 35 per cent of the repair work on Navy ships. The Navy shipyards, wanting to hog all the business, spent $197,000 of the taxpayers money to get a consulting firm to analyze the costs. The Navy was certain the figners would show they was doing the job cheaper than the private shipbuilders. But the figners showed private shipbuilders was doing the job much cheaper. Well, the Defense Department immediate classed the survey as top secret. The cat was let out of the bag when a reporter on a Baltimore paper accidental got hold of a copy and his paper printed it on the front page. Furthermore, when the thing got a little fresh air, it was discovered that the private shipbuilders had conducted the same survey for $20,000.

I reckon it would be a sight in this world how many of them 3 billion documents was put in the secret department to keep the taxpayers from knowing the truth. I always thought Government secrets was things we didn't want the enemy to know but it looks like them bureaucrats in Washington has got the taxpayers classed as Enemy Number One.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Duck Hunters Have Good Opening Day

Conservation Officer Royer, commenting on the opening of the duck season on Saturday, said hunting was heavy. Winewana Flooding area had good success on Saturday, however, proved a poor day because of the unusually weather.

Seven hunters were cited near in court at a later date charges of hunting violations. Principal violations were early late shooting in violation of regulations stating that must not be taken before or after sunset.

One pre-season violation, M. Herndon of Plymouth, pleaded guilty Sept. 30 before Judge Francis O'Brien in Ann Arbor, to shooting a duck on Winewana Flooding. He was fined $35 fine and costs.

In other reports, Royer deer continue to be hit by five-having been killed since Oct. 7.

Ray Sandors of Pinesburg killed with a deer at 7:45 Tuesday, Oct. 1, damaging front grill, hood and radiator. A doe fawn was killed in a car on Webster Church Rd. North Territorial Rd., north Dexter on Wednesday, Oct. 2, 7:25 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 2, a car at Chrysler Proving Ground struck and killed a fawn. They Friday two deer were killed.

At 2:30 a.m. Friday, the of the two—a doe—was killed on Webster-Pinesburg Rd. on Fleming Rd., and at 3:45 a.m. second one was killed.

UNICEF Halloween Project Planned by Church Women

Children of the Chelsea area will again be given the opportunity to take part in "the world's greatest" effort by children to help children—the UNICEF Halloween Project which is being planned by a community steering committee sponsored by United Church Women of Chelsea.

The committee points out that UNICEF helps children throughout the world. Of the estimated one billion children in the world approximately three-fourths of them live in economically underdeveloped areas which bring on danger, disease and ignorance. According to the announcement of this year's project, it was noted that UNICEF was established in 1946 by a resolution of the UN General Assembly primarily to give relief for children of the war-torn countries. With the end of this year's project the General Assembly directed the program toward long term benefits to children in economically underdeveloped countries. The United States committee for UNICEF was chartered in 1947 to help inform the people about this program and to provide means for soliciting funds. The Halloween project is one of these plans.

In 1950, one small American community turned Halloween into "Hallowed Evening." Pupils of church school class renounced their treats of candy and apples in favor of pennies, nickels and dimes. They sent the $36 which they received to the United Nations Children's Fund to use for the less fortunate children of the world. This example was followed by other boys and girls with more enthusiasm year after year. In 1962 more than three million children in the United States, ringing door bells and asking for pennies, nickels or dimes, gathered a total of more than two million dollars for UNICEF.

UNICEF helps governments plan programs to meet the pressing needs of their children. It provides supplies and equipment, helps train people in health services, disease control, nutrition and social service for children.

Last year the Chelsea UNICEF program resulted in an in-gathering totaling about $100. This hundred dollars would provide:

County Red Cross Chapter Dedicates Operations Center

The Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross dedicated its new Operations Center at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8. The dedication ceremonies took place just outside the Center at 2729 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

Dedication of the new building marks another milestone in the long and storied career of Red Cross work in Washtenaw county, it was pointed out.

Principal speakers for the dedication were University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher and Robert P. Shea, vice-president of the American National Red Cross. A third featured speaker scheduled was Charles A. Sink, the only living founder of the county chapter.

Shea's talk was on the topic, "The Red Cross in a Troubled World." He is responsible for Disaster Services, for the development of the ARC Civil Defense plans and for maintaining liaison with governmental agencies on all civil defense matters. He also is responsible for the Blood Program, the Office of Fund Raising and the Training Office.

A member of the Red Cross staff since 1941, he became vice-president in 1955.

Following the ceremony, which included selections by the Ann Arbor High School Band and the introduction of honored guests by Chapter Chairman James Davis, the new $180,000 building was open to the public for inspection. The dedication program was followed by refreshments and tours of the building.

One of the highlights for the new facility is the Founders Court, an open air area in the building's center. Featuring fountains and attractive plantings, it was made possible by gifts from the families of the chapter's founders.

The dedication ceremony officially moves the local Red Cross chapter into its new home, although it has been used by various community groups for several weeks. It is a far cry from the early first days of the chapter when its office was in the gas company building during World War I. Later the chapter moved to a

43,000 More Students Due at Michigan Colleges by 1965

East Lansing — Michigan's colleges and universities need places for an increase of 43,000 students, including 37,000 at public institutions, in the next two years.

The increase in enrollment by 1970 will be about 135,000, students.

This report was made to a subcommittee of Governor George Romney's Citizens Committee on Higher Education.

The subcommittee, which is headed by Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, is to advise the governor on 1964-65 budget needs by Oct. 1.

The figures came from the Michigan Co-ordinating Council for Public Higher Education during a meeting at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center.

The Council, which consists of presidents and representatives of governing boards of member institutions, reported that:

—The proportion of Michigan young people who want to go to college is increasing steadily. In 1960, less than three percent went to college; by 1970, an estimated 30 percent will seek college education. This is in keeping with demands of our society for persons with college educations.

—Michigan will need at least 24 percent more college teachers by 1965 if it is to provide education for 43,000 additional students. It currently has about 9,000.

—Michigan's colleges and universities will need at least $361,600,000 in the next five years to provide the necessary classrooms, laboratories and libraries.

—The cost of the needed buildings must be measured against the $1,769,000,000 Michigan has invested in new buildings for public elementary and secondary schools since 1945.

Warren M. Huff of Plymouth, a trustee of MSU and chairman of the Co-ordinating Council, stressed the need for prompt consideration of college and university needs.

"Competent faculty members are in short supply," he said, and we simply cannot compete equally with colleges and universities in other states if we are not told until months hence whether we will have money to add to our facilities, and how much."

Proof of Age Available from Census Bureau

Last year, about 6,000 residents of Michigan turned to the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, for help in proving where and when they were born. The Bureau reported today. They needed proof of age to collect social security and other retirement benefits. They needed it to obtain passports. They needed it to qualify for jobs carrying certain age or citizenship requirements. They needed it for some forms of insurance.

These persons who requested assistance from the Census Bureau last year were among an estimated 20 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birthplace. The historical records of the Census Bureau provide the only acceptable source of this information for many of these people. Since its beginning in 1790, the U.S. Census has recorded identifying data for almost 350 million persons, many of them listed several times in separate censuses. The Bureau has provided copies of these records to about three and one-half million people, as legal proof of age, place of birth, citizenship, or kinship.

Persons seeking such a record for social security purposes should go to the local Social Security Office, or for other purposes, write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburgh, Kansas, for an application form. A fee of $3.00 is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for one copy of the information found. Additional copies cost $1.00 each. An expedited search costs $4.00. Expedited searches are usually completed within a few days while the routine $3.00 search may take up to 30 days, depending upon the backlog of requests.

Stan Kenton Says Stage Band Helps Young People To Express Themselves

East Lansing — The stage, or jazz, band is one of the best ways for young people to express themselves, according to bandleader Stan Kenton.

"The jazz band can help young people to find their identity, to mature, to feel important and to find their real purpose in life," he said during one of his infrequent breaks in the week-long National Stage Band Camp at Michigan State University.

In many ways, he said the stage band helps a person to find his identity quicker than does the concert band or symphony orchestra.

"The concert band depends largely on section sounds, where more than one person may be playing the same thing," Kenton maintained.

"In stage band work, each player must contribute or the whole thing is off. Each musician must play his own part."

He pointed out, however, that good stage band work is invaluable experience for musicians interested in symphony music, adding that most of the members of his band could also do symphony work.

Kenton said he felt the future of creative music in America rests almost entirely with our universities.

"Young guys, with happy spirits and a determination to have their music heard, hold the key to the progress of jazz in this country. We're in the last days of the old classical die-hards. More and more colleges and universities are adding commercial music programs to the curriculum."

Turning to the future, Kenton revealed he is now working on a whole new approach to the band's rhythm.

Instead of strictly beating time, he said the rhythm section should function more like the percussion section in a symphony orchestra.

He is also continuing to experiment with new rhythms, many of which were tried for the first time in Kenton's newest album "Adventures in Time," arranged by Johnny Richards.

"America is far behind rhythmically than the Greeks, and Turks and the South Americans," he said. "They have been using 7, 4, 9, 8 and other time sequences, which are all foreign to us, for years."

On another vein, Kenton said the golden era of the big band is gone forever. He added that he no longer has such popular favorites as Tommy Dorsey and Glenn Miller, and probably never will again.

the Chelsea branch of the Needlework Guild; and Mrs. Paul Schable assisted at the tea table.

It was estimated that only about half of the reports from directors were turned in to the secretary, Mrs. Guy Barton. Mrs. Barton announced that Thursday, Nov. 7, the date of the annual meeting and election of officers of the Chelsea branch, has been set as the deadline when all articles for use by the Chelsea Social Service should be in and reports filed with the secretary. The items may be taken to the Social Service office in the Municipal Building any Tuesday or Thursday between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Included among contributors mentioned in the preliminary report was the Helping Hand group, under the direction of Mrs. Winifred Coffron, who is also a Guild vice-president. The group contributed quilts, flannel blankets and many needed smaller items. This group meets the year 'round and is a real sewing group.

Several card parties were held by the Lyndon Extension study group and Lyndon neighbors during the year to raise funds with which to buy shoes and other needed articles. Several church groups, too, contributed generously, including St. Paul's Mission club whose members contributed a quilt.

There was also a collection of little girls' dresses displayed. Many of these dresses are made and donated by Mrs. Mildred Hopper who sews tirelessly the year 'round, making dresses for little girls.

The preliminary report was concluded with the notation that "Chelsea women gave in the neighborly way through the Needlework Guild that all in need may receive a helping hand."

By their expanding and amazing research programs, our industries and universities together are fast making Michigan the leader in space age advancement.

For those buyers who are primarily interested in fuel economy and low price, Oldsmobile is also offering a new V-6 engine.

MSU Will Construct Center For Science, Technology

Technorama, a new center for science and technology at Michigan State University is scheduled to open in 1965 on the MSU campus. The unique center which will focus on farm progress and the agricultural industry was given final approval by the University. Funds for construction and operation of the new technological center, will be provided by agricultural and allied industries. The circular modern structure will house more than 300 exhibits—constantly changing each year to enable visitors to see the latest scientific advances in the production, processing, distribution and use of food and farm products.

Site of the new building, will be on Farm Lane, immediately south of Anthony Hall which houses the College of Agriculture's animal science departments. Dr. Arthur W. Farrall, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at MSU, heads the planning committee for Technorama. He predicts that as many as half a million people will visit the center each year upon final completion.

"Education and industry will join forces to tell a dramatic story of agriculture and agri-businesses," Dr. Farrall points out. He adds that these industries represent a $100 billion annual business. In Technorama, visitors will be able to see the workings of the industry from field to family table. Technorama was conceived during the planning of the MSU Centennial of Farm Mechanization in 1955. This was part of the 100th anniversary observance of the founding of the then Michigan Agricultural College.

"It seems fitting," Dr. Farrall explains, "that a new venture such as this should take place on the nation's pioneer agricultural campus, and during a year when land-grant institutions are commemorating the first century of the people's colleges."

The educational center for which ground will be broken this fall will have a two-fold program. First, it will include hundreds of exhibits which will relate the stories of food and health, food production and processing. Included in the displays will also be areas demonstrating the role of power, transportation, manufacturing, engineering and communications in the far-flung agricultural industry. A final section on home living will have appeal to every American family.

A second phase will consist of educational programs for visitors to the center and the MSU campus. Facilities will be provided for conferences, meetings and demonstrations for many types of groups. Such programs will feature the science and technology which has developed an industry that enjoys international envy. As a communications center facilities will also be included from which radio and television broadcasts may originate.

Developers of the ideas emphasize that the new MSU facility is not a museum. It is planned as a dynamic exhibition of science and technology designed to stimulate ideas and promote understanding for the most basic of American industries—agriculture.

Facilities of Technorama will be available to MSU departments, high school and elementary school classes, organizations and allied agricultural businesses and industries. To be operated as a division of the Department of Agricultural Engineering, it will also be closely associated with MSU's Co-operative Extension Service. The center will have a major point of interest for programs such as the annual Farmers' Week and other events which bring visitors to the East Lansing campus.

Plans call for the information and teaching center to be open seven days per week to visitors with no admission cost. In full operation the self-financing center will have guided tours, conference facilities and food service. Architects are completing final specifications with construction for the new center scheduled to begin this fall.

WELCOME TO MICHIGAN—Contracts have been awarded for Michigan's first new Tourist Center to be built under the Michigan State Highway Department's expanded travel information program adopted by the Michigan Legislature. The rustic-looking building was designed by Sedgewick, Sellers and Associates, Flint, Mich., architects, and is located in a Roadside Park on the Michigan-Wisconsin border at Ironwood, Mich. It will be one of seven Tourist Information Centers located at major points of entry to the Wolverine State. Nearly a quarter of a million tourists received travel information from Highway Department Information Centers this summer.

Homemakers Told of Numerous Benefits Gained from Pesticides

East Lansing — In spite of criticisms leveled at them, pesticides have made numerous contributions to health, to agriculture and to the economy at large, homemakers learned recently at Michigan State University's Homemakers' Conference.

In a class called "All Sides of Pesticides," Dr. Gordon Guyer, chairman of MSU's Department of Entomology stated:

"Certainly the outstanding contribution that pesticides have made has been in the area of public health. In 1945, we had an average of over 60,000 cases of malaria in the U.S. Five years later, with the advent of DDT and the control of mosquitoes, this serious disease was reduced to less than 2,000 cases per year."

And our present 9-cent bag of apples would run us $2.

Both men agreed that the greatest hazard to human life is from the misuse of pesticides.

"Regardless of how safe or how dangerous a pesticide may be, if directions are carefully followed and the precautions suggested are observed, any pesticide may be used successfully and safely," Hoffman stated.

Another real danger comes from improper or careless storage of the pesticide so that children may accidentally get into them.

"There is no doubt that wildlife populations have been disturbed and in some cases reduced in limited areas as a result of pesticide treatment," Guyer said. "But actually, the balance of nature is being disturbed and reorganized by every conceivable cultural operation that we undertake."

Guyer's statement was echoed by Dr. J. R. Hoffman, another MSU entomologist, who reported that pesticides are also used to control the spread of such diseases as typhus, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, bubonic plague and others.

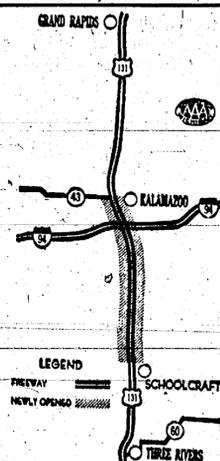

Guyer noted that pesticides have helped to increase agricultural production. Yields for such crops as potatoes and celery have increased significantly since pesticides came into use.

Without pesticides, Guyer pointed out, milk would cost us 34 cents a quart instead of our present 27 cents. Sweet corn would cost us 52 cents per dozen instead of 20 cents.

CAT FOOL-AIDS ROBBER—BIG SPRINGS, Tex. — Grocer H. C. King learned the hard way that cat food is used for more than feeding cats.

King thought the man holding two cases in his hands and asking for a larger size can was just an ordinary customer. But, when King turned his back the man struck him with the cat food, took $70 from the cash register and fled.

The painfully surprised clerk was treated at a hospital for head wounds.

FREEWAY OPENS—The 10.5-mile section of US-131 (shaded area above), opened Sept. 30, is the latest link in Michigan's growing freeway system. Completion of the $4,110,000 segment between M-43 and north of Schoolcraft lengthens the freeway to 72 miles, from Interstate 196 on Grand Rapids' north side to M-60 at Three Rivers. The new addition makes a significant contribution to the state system.

BEAVERS NORTH-SOUTH—Through traffic will be saved 15 to 20 minutes in travel time.

JETSTAR I, Oldsmobile's new medium priced sports car for 1964, features sharp, sculptured styling with roof design similar to the Starfire coupe. Powered by Oldsmobile's 345-horsepower Starfire engine, the Jetstar I is equipped with new chambered dual exhaust system, an exclusive. Bucket seats and center console standard on this new Oldsmobile model.

NEW CADILLAC—Here you see Cadillac's new front-end appearance for 1964. The horizontal bars of the grille carry around the front fender over the popular sweeping light. All Cadillac models offer the new high performance 425 cubic inch gins. The de Ville models, Fleetwood Sixty Six sedan and Eldorado convertible introduce the Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission.

There will be more careful drivers when there are more drivers paying fines for violating traffic regulations.

Jealously, like cancer, is often fatal, and never productive of good.

Meat Inspection

Approximately 75 percent of the beef produced commercially for interstate shipments is federally inspected. The purpose of inspection is to protect you by guaranteeing that the meat comes from a healthy animal that was slaughtered and processed under sanitary conditions. Look for this stamp, a small purple circle with the legend: U.S. Ins'd & P.S.D. Commercial beef that is not federally inspected in the Detroit area must be slaughtered according to the local Board of Health regulations.

Fishing solved a surprising number of problems.

Cover Meat in Storage

Cooked lamb — or any meat — should be stored in the refrigerator, covered, to prevent drying. When the amount of cooked lamb is small, it's a good idea to remove the meat from the bone before storing. This, too, helps prevent unnecessary drying and, of course, takes up less room in the refrigerator.

The Objectives of Tax Reduction . . .

The House of Representatives passed a tax reduction bill. It goes to the Senate where it will be subject to a searching examination. Let us hope that the re-examination will start from a basic analysis of the objectives of the tax cut is expected to . . .

It might seem that the fact of a tax cut is more important than the aims may be in the minds of the legislators who pass it. But their conception of what will be subject to a searching examination. Let us hope that the re-examination will start from a basic analysis of the objectives of the tax cut is expected to . . .

One view is that the objective of the tax cut should be to stimulate economic activity by raising the level of total demand. If this is accepted, it seems to follow that the very purpose of the tax cut would be defeated if there were corresponding economy on the government spending side. In a recent speech, Dr. John P. Lewis, of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said: ". . . the needed demand-boosting job cannot be done by matching tax cuts and expenditure cuts."

Clearly if the purpose of tax reform is conceived in these terms, a climate will have been created which encourages, rather than represses, increased spending and bigger deficits.

The "demand-boosting" approach, however, ignores the fact that levels of economic activity are determined not by demand alone but by the interplay of many complex forces in the marketplace. A sounder conception of the aim of tax revision is that it should remove the tax impediments to efficient performance and long-term growth of the private economy. This would involve both mitigating the incentive-depressing rise in the graduated rates, and freeing funds previously absorbed by the government for investment in private business.

When the objective of tax reform is understood from this point of view there is nothing inconsistent in advocating simultaneous reduction of government expenditures. On the contrary, tax cuts and control of government spending serve the same purpose of releasing the growth forces inherent in the private economy.

Most of our leading statesmen have declared themselves in favor of the strictest possible control of federal spending. Thus, by implication at least, they have disassociated themselves from the demand-boosting theory in its pure form.

This is encouraging. However, the House bill would have been better if it had dealt more adequately with one of the chief obstacles to business growth—the steep rise in rates through the middle brackets of income. Also, the meagerness of the cut in the corporate rate does not do the job that is needed in releasing funds for business investment.

HONEST INJUN

Maybe you wonder why we think it necessary to send out smoke signals and to beat the drums for local business?

Honest Injun, it's simple. Local business is the lifeblood of any community. Think about it for a moment and you'll realize that we have stores, shops, service stations, garages, banks, hardware stores, and individuals offering various types of services for one reason—because all these things are needed by a thriving, growing community. Doesn't it make sense that we support local business because therein lies the community's prosperity and future—through the medium of people doing business with people.

Before you take your business elsewhere, take another look at the products, prices and service offered by local merchants. You'll be glad you did.

CLUB NEWS

WIDE-AWAKE 4-H CLUB

Wide Awake 4-H club held a meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of one of the leaders, Mrs. Charles Curtis. Mrs. Curtis will be assisted this year by Mrs. Armin Kuhl as a new leader. The meeting was opened in the customary way with the flag pledges—the U.S. flag and the 4-H flag—pledges—with Beverly Windell leading.

Officers were elected as follows: Alma Bozas, president; Charlene Powers, vice-president; Holly Powers, secretary; Doreen Kuhl, treasurer; Judy Bollinger and Gail Kuhl, news reporters; Mary Kruse and Judy Bollinger, recreation chairmen; Charlene Powers, refreshment chairman.

Other business at the meeting included changing the monthly meeting date. All meetings are to begin promptly at 7 p.m. and will be held the first Tuesday of the month. The next meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. Curtis.

Refreshments at Saturday's meeting were served by Rose Curtis.

Lamb Easily Spotted

What do you look for in selecting young and tender lamb? The flesh is firm, pinkish to light red in color and the fat is clear white and brittle. Cut surfaces of the bones are porous and red. This is how you distinguish lamb from mutton—the cut surfaces of the bones in mutton are bleached white and brittle-looking.

Water Accidents Claim 222 Lives In Past 9 Months

Michigan's 508 water accidents in the first nine months this year claimed 222 lives and injured 210, according to State Police provisional figures.

The drownings included 95 swimmers or waders, 41 who fell from bridges, banks, docks, or piers, 38 boat operators, 86 boat passengers, four who were attempting to rescue others, three who fell through ice, one who fell into a tank and one skin or scuba diver. Official reports describing the type of accident in which three drowning victims died were not yet available.

In the nearly nine-months long period ending Sept. 24 last year, there were 210 persons drowned and 186 injured in 403 accidents. The full-year toll for 1962 was 236 deaths and 191 injured in 457 accidents.

This summer, like every other summer, a number of good swimmers will drown.

Time, Tenderness, Cost Help Decide Which Beef Cuts Are Best

Mrs. Marjorie Gibbs, District Extension agent, Consumer Marketing Information at Detroit, has prepared the following information relative to buying beef.

"She begins by asking, 'How do you decide which cuts of beef to buy?' and then says that, time, tenderness and money are probably three factors you consider.

When time is of the essence, she explains, choose cuts of beef that adapt to broiling and pan-broiling and require short preparation time, usually from 10 to 30 minutes. For broiling, select tender cuts of beef with little connective tissue and some marbling fat throughout the lean, as in rib, porterhouse, tenderloin and sirloin steaks.

Panbroil cuts that are sliced very thin—they will be juicier than if they were cooked on an oven broiler. Steaks that are under one inch thick, ground beef patties, liver and cube or minute steaks are well suited to pan-broiling.

When money matters most, consider cost per serving for a realistic guide to economy. Cuts vary in the amount of bone, fat or other waste which affects the number of servings to expect from a pound. Cuts such as the blade or round bone, chuck, the rump, heel of the sirloin round roasts and the bottom round steak are less tender—cuts of beef—and they usually cost less than the tender steaks and rib roasts. They make up 74 percent of the beef on the meat counter—and they do not move as rapidly as the more popular and more limited tender cuts. But they also vary in amount of waste and cost per serving.

In considering just the choice tender steaks, those yielding a greater number of servings per pound, like the top round and the cube are more economical than such steaks as the rib, sirloin and porterhouse which usually retail at equal or lower prices. In roasts, the bottom round, rump and sirloin roasts retail for more than the rib roast but they are a better buy on a cost per serving basis because they yield more servings per pound. These are fine examples of how deceiving cost per pound may be in determining the best buy.

For instance cube steak at $1.29 per pound and porterhouse steak at $1.29 per pound vary so much in price of serving per pound that the cost of porterhouse is almost twice as much as cube steak. The latter gives three to four servings per pound at 37 cents per serving while porterhouse steak gives only two servings per pound, cost per serving thus being 65 cents.

In roasts the bottom round is cheapest per serving—28 cents as compared to 45 cents for rib—although the bottom round price was 90 cents per pound while rib was only 89 cents per pound.

Mrs. Gibbs points out, in conclusion that no one need ever hesitate to buy hamburger or ground beef in Michigan. The Michigan Comminuted Meat Law is very strict—it says that hamburger shall not contain more than 30 percent fat; if the meat is labeled "ground beef" it must not contain more than 20 percent fat.

It also prohibits the addition of organ meats, water, cereal or flour, bread-crumbs, dried milk, artificial coloring, stabilizers or chemical preservatives to ground meat.

The highest grades of beef come from animals that are bred and fed for meat production; and slaughtered as yearlings or two-year-olds—Such high-grade beef has a high proportion of meat to bone; the meat is lean bright red, firm, fine-textured, and liberally marbled with fat (that is, it has narrow threads of fat throughout the cut, making it juicy and rich).

Real porous bones—a mark of the top grades—indicate that the meat comes from young animals.

Michigan rivers and streams would reach one and a half times around the world.

Troops of the 4th Michigan Cavalry captured Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

AGRICULTURE in Action

Wheat to Russia?

Financial, legal and moral, those are the implications involved in any sale of American wheat to Russia. Foremost among the questions to be asked is: should the American taxpayer be stuck with the cost of helping bail out Communism's farm failures? Should American citizens pay a subsidy to Russia so it can buy U.S. surplus wheat at world prices.

The current U.S. price support on wheat is $1.82 per bushel, and the world market price is around $1.35. Russia appears to be only interested in our wheat at the lower world price, which means that we would pay the difference of nearly 50c per bushel out of our treasury.

To subsidize wheat sales to Russia would mean a reversal of U.S. policy, including Section 2 of the Agricultural Act of 1961, which holds that Congress and the Department of Agriculture must, in no manner, either subsidize the export, sell, or make available any subsidized agricultural commodity to any nation other than "friendly nations."

Congress in the past has declared that we cannot sell to any country on credit, if that country has defaulted on previous loans. Both Canadian and Australian sales of wheat to Russia contain liberal credit provisions. Russia has repeatedly defaulted on loans made to her by the United States, and under current law could not buy wheat from us unless it was a strictly cash transaction.

Present too, is the administrative policy established in 1954 when the United States government decided it would not sell butter to Russia at prices below those the American consumer had to pay. How do Michigan farmers feel about the issue? There is general agreement that "hungry people should be fed," but little confidence that Communist Countries won't use our wheat to shape any kind of club they feel might be effective in "burying" us. "We question the advisability of extending further aid to any country controlled by a Communist dictator," farmers wrote last Fall in official policy resolutions at the annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Still unanswered is the big question, "considering the declared goal of communism to control the world, do such sales constitute an eventual threat to our security?" Michigan has the greatest variety of minerals—metallic and non-metallic—to be found in any similar-sized area in the world. Of national importance is Michigan's output of maple syrup, honey, spearmint, peppermint, red clover seed, strawberries, asparagus, rhubarb and sweet corn.

Final Ohio-to-Soo Freeway Section Will Be Open Nov. 1

Lasting — The final section of the Ohio-to-Soo Freeway will be open to traffic on Nov. 1, the State Highway Department has announced.

It is Michigan's third cross-state superhighway. The other two are I-94 from Detroit to the Michigan-Indiana line and I-96 from Detroit to Muskegon.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said opening of a 22-mile stretch of I-75 between St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie will complete the 380-mile Ohio-Soo Freeway.

The Ohio-Soo Freeway is a combination of four freeways—US-23, I-75, US-10 and US-27.

It starts at the Michigan-Ohio line west of Toledo and extends north to Bay City on US-23 and I-75, then follows US-10 to Clare where it heads up the center of the state on US-27 and I-75 to the $100 million Mackinac Bridge.

In the Upper Peninsula, it parallels US-2 from St. Ignace to Sault Ste. Marie.

An estimated five million persons—60 percent of Michigan's population—live within 30 miles of the Ohio-Soo Freeway.

The section from the state line to the Mackinac Bridge—a distance of 330 miles—is the nation's longest toll-free superhighway.

The freeway passes through 16 Michigan counties between the Ohio line and Sault Ste. Marie. The counties include Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston, Genesee, Saginaw, Bay, Midland, Isabella, Clare, Roscommon, Crawford, Otsego, Cheboygan, Emmet, Mackinac and Chippewa.

Major cities bypassed include Ann Arbor, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Midland.

North of Clare, the freeway is one of the most scenic highways in America.

Between Clare and the Mackinac Bridge, the freeway's median—the area between the north and southbound roadways—is an average of 120 feet wide compared to 70-foot-wide medians on most freeways. There are many sections where the median is up to 800 feet wide.

Millions of trees were left between the roadways north of Clare and they eliminate the problem of headlight glare for the entire distance.

The section of freeway to be open Nov. 1 extends from M-123, about eight miles north of St. Ignace, north to Rudyard.

In addition to completing the Ohio-Soo Freeway, this section also forms the final link of superhighway between two of Michigan's most famous bridges—the new $20 million International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie and the Mackinac Bridge.

The final section of Michigan's first cross-state freeway—1-94—was opened to traffic in December of 1960. The 225-mile superhighway is the nation's longest toll-free interstate highway.

The last stretch of the 170-mile Detroit-Muskegon Freeway (I-94) was opened to traffic last December and it marked completion of Michigan's 1,000th mile of freeway.

CD Director Cites Four Areas of Major Importance

Col. Gerald G. Miller, Washtenaw county Civil Defense director, announcing Washtenaw county Civil Defense programs for 1964, outlined four areas of major importance—shelter, continuity of government, communications and radiological defense.

He also recommended various supporting programs which should be developed in each community as fast as time will permit; however, he emphasizes that the four areas mentioned are of major priority.

Listed as program number one is shelter—public, emergency government, family and industrial and business.

He repeated, as he has stated in the past, that "reasonable protection" from fallout could save 30 to 60 percent of the population of Washtenaw county; that studies have indicated that recuperation would take place among this number of people if proper shelter were made available.

The big effort in Civil Defense for 1964 is expected to result from the "Incentive Shelter Program," a project which consists of federal assistance at the rate of $2.50 per square foot to help communities in building shelter into each school building, hospital and public welfare institution.

Program No. II (continuity of government) directs that each public official appoint at least three successors to his office, with a copy of the list filed with the county clerk.

Program No. III (communications) calls communication the nerve center of any and all operations and Col. Miller points out that two-way emergency communication between each city, village and county seat must be readily available should a disaster strike.

Under Program IV, pertaining to radiological defense, Col. Miller said there is no way other than by use of instruments, by which fallout may be identified. This requires men trained to read the instruments and report correctly the resulting information; thus the objective for 1964 is to begin recruitment of men for training for this important work. It is hoped that there will be 900 men trained by 1967.

Col. Miller lists the recommended "supporting programs" as follows: Civil Defense legislation; community organization for Civil Defense; emergency assignment of personnel; rural Civil Defense for the farmer; and training in six areas—basic Civil Defense, radiological defense instrument reading, medical self-help, rescue teams, auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen.

Traffic Toll Drops for September

September traffic deaths in Michigan numbered 146, which was 24, or 14 percent, less than 170 in the same month a year ago according to State Police provisional figures.

If the decrease holds despite delayed death reports, it will be the first month in the last nine to record a reduction.

The nine-month provisional toll is 1,281, which is 109, or 10 percent, more than 1,172 in the same period in 1962.

The final report for August showed 178 killed and 11,284 injured in 19,793 accidents. Compared with the same month a year ago, there was one more death while injuries increased 1,785, or 19 percent, and accidents were up by 2,182, or 12 percent.

In addition to August being the eighth month in a row to show a fatality increase compared with the same months a year earlier, injuries were up for the 21st consecutive month and accidents for the 20th in the last 21 months.

The report also disclosed that traffic deaths averaged nearly six a day in June, July and August to give Michigan its worst summer record since 1955. The summer toll was 537, compared with 490 last year and 570 in 1955.

The accumulated record for the first eight months included 1,136 killed and 76,943 injured in 140,355 accidents, respective increases of 13, 17 and 11 percent over the same period last year.

Estimated mileage for the first seven months, the latest information available, totaled 20.3 billion, a rise of 1.2 billion, or 6.5 percent, over the same period in 1962 while the death rate per 100 million vehicle miles was 4.8, an increase of 12 percent.

the great limp

Five years ago, Communist China announced the mobilization of 600 million people for "The Great Leap Forward." Decades of industrial progress, party leaders proclaimed, was to be "concentrated in a single day." Frenzied slogans urged everyone to work "harder and harder, faster and faster" to achieve an industrial revolution overnight.

Today, the slogans are silent, the delirious dreams dead. The grandiose plan has been abandoned, a complete failure.

What happened?

Blind concentration on industrial progress resulted in almost total neglect of agriculture. Farm productivity dropped to near disastrous levels. Critical food shortages developed. To avoid widespread starvation, millions of workers were forced to remain on the land, crippling the build-up of an industrial workforce.

"The Great Leap" became "The Great Limp."

The lesson is clear. An industrial economy is only as sound as its agricultural foundation. Neglect the foundation and the whole structure crumbles.

That's why Michigan Milk Producers Association reminds you that each of us has a stake in a sound and prosperous agriculture.

Community Chest Benefitting Agencies

American Red Cross

This is the eighth in a series of articles explaining about the various benefiting agencies included in the Chelsea Community Chest. Today's article is on the American Red Cross and the facilities and services provided, particularly in the Chelsea area.

"Is this the Red Cross?" Mrs. Dudley Holmes, chairman of the Chelsea Community Chest Blood Bank asked recently. "Kindly release six pints of blood for Mrs. George Ellenwood at St. Joseph Mercy hospital. Thank you."

With this simple statement, blood critically needed by a Chelsea family was quickly made available. There were 47 similar calls since July, 1962, requiring 164 pints, the heaviest use in recent years.

A Red Cross service which protects Chelsea residents and workers by providing their blood needs - this is truly a community operation with local donors, local volunteers working in the blood clinic, the administrative costs paid by contributions through the Chelsea Community Chest, and the nation-wide organization of the Red Cross providing the needs throughout the country.

Less well known, but a critical mandatory Red Cross service, is provided in assisting families of servicemen and women. A typical case involved emergency leave for a WAC whose father had passed away. Others involved case work with families whose sons are out of the country or co-operation in obtaining medical and other reports to submit to the military in connection with emergency leave. Chelsea's own trained social service contacts, such as Miss Gertrude Young, assist Red Cross staff and volunteers in making these important critical calls.

In burnouts where help is needed, clothing, bedding, etc. are provided; and Red Cross helps, too, to "waterproof" the young people by swimming instruction in the summer. A trained Red Cross instructor taught the beginners how to enjoy water safety and learn to swim. And there are always the participation of Chelsea community residents in the adult swim program carried on in fall and winter at the Ann Arbor High school. These free classes continue until spring.

The support given by Chelsea people to the national organization of the Red Cross helped the magnificent project of bringing back Cuban prisoners of war and refugees and delivering the medicines. There was a special touch of humanity, too, in the aid given the thousands of disaster victims throughout the U.S. as well as the helping hand given the servicemen throughout the world by Red Cross field directors and recreation personnel. The hand of Chelsea people was extended through the Red Cross to all these victims and defenders of democracy.

This is the 100th anniversary of the International Red Cross; 46 years ago Chelsea residents became part of the Washtenaw County Chapter and service has been continuous ever since "with the hand of mercy open."

Chelsea can be proud of the contributions of its citizens in doing voluntary service and in giving financial support to the many Red Cross programs. Today, many Chelsea citizens have taken Red Cross training that they may serve in hospitals, blood clinics, as motor service drivers, distributing blood to hospitals, taking handicapped children to clinics and disabled veterans to sporting events. Chelsea citizens gave as well as received.

The new Operations Center at 2729 Packard Rd., between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, will better serve citizens of the entire county. It was financed by contributions to a capital fund (not by Community Chest funds) and combines the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti offices. The dedication took place at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8.

A brief resume of what Washtenaw county, through the Red Cross, has done in the 1962-63 year is listed as follows:

Volunteered last year alone the equivalent number of hours equal to one volunteer working full time for 268 years.

Supplied 3,922 pints of whole blood through the voluntary blood donor program.

Assisted 16 families who suffered severe loss in private disasters, such as fire.

Qualified 180 new First Aid and Water Safety instructors so they might teach others to be safer or

Leaders Guide to 4-H Projects' Book Now Available

The new "Leaders Guide to 4-H Projects" is now available at the Extension Office Room 118, County Building, Ann Arbor. This guide, revised during the summer, gives new emphasis and direction to 4-H club work.

Washtenaw county 4-H leaders are invited to participate in interpreting the new guide to the county program. Going to Camp Kett at Cadillac, to receive training in Home Design are Mrs. William Guenther and Mrs. Elton Heiber, of Saline. They will be at Camp Kett Oct. 9-10, and will make recommendations to the committee at the County Home Design meeting Oct. 22.

Nothing will be the topic for discussion at the Camp Kett Workshop Oct. 16-17, and Washtenaw's leaders, Mrs. Simon Girbach, Mrs. Michael Lucas, Saline; and Mrs. Robert Guenther, Saline, will be representing Washtenaw. They too, will disseminate information on clothing at the Home Economics leaders meeting on Oct. 22, 8 p.m., County Building.

National Hot Lunch Week Being Observed Oct. 13-19

National Hot Lunch Week is being observed Oct. 13-19 in schools throughout Michigan where approximately 2,100 schools serve daily well-balanced lunches to 450,000 students.

In observance of the national week, interested people of the community are invited to visit the cafeteria and eat lunch with the students as guests of the cafeteria staff. The food market for these school lunches amounts to millions of dollars in the over-all program which helps improve the health of school children through providing nutritionally balanced meals.

Each individual meal provides two ounces of cooked protein (meat, cheese, dried beans, butter) in a maximum of two dishes; three-fourths cup of vegetable and/or fruit in at least two dishes; one slice of bread; two teaspoons of fat (part may be included in cooking) and one-half pint of milk.

Spaghetti, macaroni, rice, pickles, etc., are extras and cannot be counted in the above requirements—they are used merely to make a more filling and appetizing lunch.

Tests have been made to verify the benefits of adequate lunches. In one instance two brothers were used as examples; the one who ate a nutritionally balanced lunch was scholastically aggressive and led his class while the one who had a restricted diet, because of food likes and dislikes was listless, had difficulty in school and failed to reach his full capabilities.

Mrs. Lucile Olson who is in charge of the cafeteria at Chelsea High school, said the cafeteria was open 170 days last year and received, from the federal government, supplies provided for school lunch programs as follows: chicken for five days; turkey for five days; ground beef for eight days; vegetables for 22 days; fruit for 25 days; and flour, rice, butter, cheese, powdered milk, dried eggs and peanut butter; also some lard, other shortening, pinto beans and cranberries.

Mrs. Olson said the entire school system used a total of 187,407 half-pints of milk the past year.

The Federal Government reimburses the school cafeteria at the rate of 5.5 cents per meal in cash and 8.5 cents per meal in donated foods. The figures fluctuate at times because of various conditions affecting supply and demand.

Three Chelsea women are employed regularly in the cafeteria as cooks and helpers. In addition 16 students serve as dishwashers, servers, etc.

There are also cafeteria helpers who receive their lunch but no cash for their work during the short time their assistance is required.

Mrs. Olson, explaining further

Cafeteria Menu

Wednesday, Oct. 16—From the ratiño miale; Sweden; Norway; Denmark; aert; Poland; dessert; Spain; pan macteo; Iran; halub.

about the school lunch program said the price of lunch is 5 cents and an additional 3 cents may be purchased for extra bread. There is no limit on the large a serving as they require. Extra bread is also given with 50-cent lunch.

In conclusion, Mrs. Olson extended an invitation to interested Chelsea residents to visit the cafeteria at any time, particularly during National Lunch Week.
