W. Porath, C. Farley Voted Most Valuable At Football Banquet

McCalla, Lauhon Will Be Captains For Next Year

Chelsea High school's football players were honored Tuesday at the end-of-the-season banquet which has become an annual event since it was originated several years ago by mothers of varsity members.

Traditionally, the mothers of the co-captains are co-chairmen of the banquet; those in charge this year were Mrs. Curtis McCalla and Mrs. Warren Porath.

Highlights of the evening, in addition to the general program, the introduction by Varsity Chairman James Bedford of next year's football co-captains—Dick McCalla and Dick Lauhon.

Guest speaker was Dennis Fitzgerald, freshman football coach at University of Michigan and varsity wrestling coach.

Special honors were announced at the banquet as follows: Orenman named "most improved" player; Warren Porath "most valuable" lineman; Paul Huber "most valued" back; and Curt Farley "valuable" back.

Billard, guest was master of ceremonies.

Present among the 105 persons attended the banquet were varsity players and Co-Captains Farley and Warren Porath, fathers of all Varsity men; Varsity cheerleaders, JV Varsity cheerleaders, and guests, including some faculty members.

John Stofer and Mrs. Lawrence Diette were dining room women. Table decorations included miniature figures of football players marking each place; cake appropriately decorated for the "Bulldogs"; and floral arrangements.

All decorations were set out in the school's colors blue and gold.

The program was the presentation of awards to Coaches Bedford and Stofer as "tokens of appreciation" for all Varsity football players.

The Youth of Our Town" will be the topic for a panel-type program at the next meeting of the Youth Organization.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m., in the Chelsea school cafeteria.

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake, pastor of St. Paul's United Church, has been asked to act as moderator; panel members will be the Rev. James Craig, pastor of the Methodist church, the Rev. A. J. Livingston, pastor of the Congregational church, Police Chief John Palmer and three members, James Hoffmeyer, Leon Solomon and Mrs. Jeanne Palmer.

Parents of Junior and Senior high school students are invited to be present for the special program.

Community Chest Fund At 80% of Goal

While the Chelsea Community Chest campaign officially closes today (Thursday), Co-Chairmen Thomas McClellan and Arden Musbach said yesterday that the total now stands at 80 percent of the $17,168 goal.

Canvassing is completed; they said; however, a few business places are still to be contacted and second or third calls where persons were not found at home are also scheduled in the final close-up.

Also to be included in final figures which McClellan said should be available next week, is money collected by canvassers but not yet turned in to Miss Gertrude Young.

New Youth Groups Form At St. Paul's

Two new youth groups have been organized at St. Paul's United Church of Christ—one for junior high school students in seventh and eighth grades and the other for senior high students, grades 9-12.

The senior group had held several preliminary meetings and at a meeting from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Sunday organized formally as St. Paul's Youth Fellowship and elected officers.

Those named are Jane Faist, president; Sandra Osborne, vice-president; Carol Hafley, secretary; and David Diette, treasurer.

A committee of four was in charge of arrangements for the meeting—Sandra Osborne, Jane Faist, Linda Meehan and Linda Blaess—and had asked Hartmut Hennings, German exchange student, to be the guest speaker.

He told the 25 young people present about school and family life in Germany.

The group plans to meet on alternate Sunday evenings and at the next meeting, Nov. 24, will discuss plans for decorating the church, indoors and outdoors, for the Christmas season.

The Junior High school group met Sunday afternoon from 4 until 5:30 p.m. and for the present, meetings will be held once a month.

This group has not yet decided on its official name and has not elected officers; however, plans have been made to go caroling when the December meeting is held.

Adult sponsors for the Junior High group are Mrs. George Knickerbocker, Mrs. Lloyd Schneider and Mrs. M. L. Diette.

Committees appointed to arrange for future meetings are Suzanne Knickerbocker, Susan Koch, Paul Schnake and Sue Gunther, December; Joan Diette, Kenneth Blaess, January; and Linda Hale, Gary Janson, Lance Burghardt and Jean Walters, February.

Baptists Plan Welcoming Service For New Pastor

Sunday, Nov. 17, at Chelsea Baptist church on Wilkinson St., members of the congregation will combine a welcome for the new pastor, Elmer S. Steenson, with the annual homecoming dinner at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and at 2:30 p.m. will hold a welcoming service in the church for the new pastor.

All interested persons of the community are invited to attend the service.

The welcome address to the new pastor will be given by the Rev. James C. Hall, pastor of the Grass Lake Baptist church, and the Rev. Roger Rose of Bethany Bible church, Ann Arbor, will lead the church. Mrs. Rose will serve as singing. Mrs. Rose will also be instrumental accompanist.

NEW OFFICE MACHINES FOR SCHOOL

Chelsea High school students are learning job production techniques on new equipment recently added to the commercial department—10 new typewriters which cost $1,215, and a Friden automatic calculator. To keep pace with changing conditions and to meet eventual occupational requirements of graduates as they apply for jobs, there is constant need for additional office machines and additional classroom space, according to commercial studies instructors. Two of the new typewriters appear in the photo. Seated at the one at the left is Megs Ritter, with Alyce Riemenschneider at the one in the foreground. At rear, standing beside the new automatic calculator are Douglas Sprague (left) and Gary Craven. The girls beside Miss Ritter are Barbara Worden and Beverly Bergman while those standing behind Miss Riemenschneider are Wanda Schiller (right) and Iris Spees. Their teacher is Thomas E. Morrison.

Installation Service Slated For Congregational Pastor

Sunday, night at 7 o'clock the Jackson-Arbor Association of the United Church of Christ will meet in the First Congregational church of Chelsea to formally install the Rev. F. A. J. Livingston as pastor of the church. He has been serving the church as pastor since August.

Edwin Dickelman and Mrs. William Geddes of the installation committee of the church announce that plans are definite now for the program of the evening. Participants will be the Rev. Dr. Duane Vore, superintendent and minister of the Michigan State Conference of the United Church of Christ; the Rev. Perry Haines of Jackson; the former minister of the church, the Rev. Philip Rusten; now teaching in Ann Arbor; the Rev. Nicholas Hood and the Rev. Carl Baird of Detroit; and Rev. Paul Schnake of St. Paul's church.

Installation is the demonstration of the support churches in the new denomination give one another. Nearby churches will send ministers and delegates to formally consider in the afternoon the qualifications and experience of the minister and to formally inquire about the arrangements between the church and minister. Then when these formal questions have been answered they will listen to a paper or talk by the Rev. Livingston on some topic of Christian concern and discuss it with him.

He has chosen to talk on "The Place of the Layman in the Church." The public is welcome to this latter part which is scheduled to begin about 5 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church.

After a supper provided by the church for its invited guests and members who have made reservations, the ceremonial installation service will begin at 7 p.m. The installation sermon will be given by the Rev. Hood and the service will be conducted by the Rev. Livingston's brother UCC minister in Chelsea, the Rev. Schnake. The report on the afternoon examination will be given by the Association. Chairman, The Rev. Perry Haines; the charge to the people will be by the Rev. Carl Baird; Detroit, while the charge to the minister will be given by Dr. Vore. The installation prayer will be led by the Rev. Rusten and the Right Hand of Fellowship by representative persons. The Rev. Livingston will give the benediction.

The installation committee, acting on the directions of the deacons and appointed by them, requested the Association of churches to install the Rev. Livingston. According to many members, this is the first installation of this kind anyone can remember, and many are looking forward to a new experience, the formal blessings of the churches on their new minister.

EDITH ANN PALMER graduated Nov. 1 from the McConnell Airline school at Minneapolis, Minn., and is currently taking six weeks of special training before being assigned to an airline as an airline hostess. Miss Palmer, who is the daughter of Police Chief and Mrs. John Palmer, 420 Wilkinson St., graduated from Chelsea High school in 1962 and attended Jackson Business College at Jackson before entering the airline school. She will complete the six-week special training assignment Dec. 22.

Ferd Merkel First To Return from UP with Deer

Ferd Merkel and his nephews, Henry Merkel, Jr. and Martin Merkel, apparently are candidates for the honor of being the first Chelsea hunters to return with deer this season; he and a party of friends had been hunting pheasants in South Dakota and he went directly from there to the opening of the deer season there—the Saturday before the lower peninsula date of Nov. 15. He and the two younger Merckels arrived in Chelsea on Sunday. Merkel got his deer on Sunday; the others got theirs Monday and then all three headed for home, arriving before the season opened here.

The Merckels were hunting near Republic when they bagged the three deer.

Waterloo Church Memorial Gift Record Planned

A memorial committee, appointed recently at Waterloo Village church, has announced plans for compiling a complete record of all memorial gifts to the church—past, present and future—with Mrs. Annabelle Woolley appointed as the keeper of the official memorial record. Mrs. Woolley also serves as church historian.

She is a member of the memorial committee which includes Kenneth Carthy, chairman; also Nelson Prentice, Mrs. Jessie Schulz and Mrs. Grace Davidson.

S. R. Booker Retiring As General Manager at Federal Screw Works

E. L. Klumpp Dies Suddenly Yesterday

Irwin L. Klumpp, 68, of 1475 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., husband of the former Gladys Richards, died suddenly shortly after noon yesterday in the downtown branch of the Secretary of State office where he had gone to transact some business.

He was one of the owners of the Klumpp Brothers Gravel Co.

Friends may call at the Staffan Funeral Home and funeral services are to be held there at 2 p.m. Saturday. Arrangements had not been completed late yesterday afternoon.

STUART R. BOOKER

Lawton Steger Has Assumed Manager's Post

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Booker, Chelsea-area residents the past 20 years, are completing arrangements to leave next week for Beaufort, S.C., where they will make their home.

Booker is retiring as executive vice-president of Federal Screw Works and general manager of the Chelsea plant. He will be succeeded as general manager by Lawton Steger, one of the firm's vice-presidents.

Booker came to Chelsea in May, 1943, to assume management of the Chelsea plant. Since last July he has spent most of his time at the firm's Detroit plant; he is now at the Chelsea plant winding up his affairs in preparation for his leave-taking. Steger has already assumed his new duties.

In addition to his work at Federal Screw, Booker has given generously of his time and talents to community and church circles. He was a member of the board of the Chelsea Community Chest and served as board president for two years; was a member of the Chelsea School District Board of Education for three and one-half years and president of the board for one year; and served as chairman of the Citizens Finance Committee at the time the new Chelsea High school was planned and constructed.

Booker has been a member of the important Bishops Committee of St. Barnabas Episcopal church for nine years and has been president for one and one-half years.

He and Mrs. Booker have been active in the work of St. Barnabas Episcopal church since its founding here as a mission nine years ago. In fact, Mrs. Booker was one of the motivating forces which led to the founding of the church here. For the first two months after the congregation was founded as a mission, church services were held in the living room of the Booker home at 2450 Crooked Lake Rd. For several years the services were held in the former Red School building on the Community Fairgrounds on Old US-12 until the church was built at 20500 West Old US-12. Mr. and Mrs. Booker both took active interest in promoting construction of the new church building.

Mrs. Booker was the first president of the church's Altar Guild and the first president of the women's group originally named the Guild and now known as Episcopal Church Women of St. Barnabas Episcopal church.

She has also served as president of the Convocation Altar Guild, the convocation area including Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Brighton, Chelsea, Dexter and other communities.

Booker will remain a director of Federal Screw Works and will be in this area to attend meetings at intervals. The Bookers also plan to attend meetings at intervals.

Methodists Plan Expanded Church School Program

The Commission on Education of the First Methodist church will offer an expanded program of Christian Education beginning Sunday, Nov. 17. Under the new program church school classes for all ages will be offered at 9 a.m. All youth division and adult division classes will meet at that time. The children's division (nursery through the sixth grade) will meet for group graded classes. This means that they will meet by departments rather than by grades.

The church school will also meet at 10 a.m. Under the new schedule a wider opportunity is provided for the families of the church. As a part of the program, D. L. Gaddery, adult division superintendent, announces that there will be four special classes for the adults of the church. These will be in the areas of an introductory Bible study, Christian Home discussion group, Christian Social Concerns, and a study of Methodist Ritual and Worship.

This curriculum provides for a class for each school grade.

The Commission on Education, whose chairman is Dr. Clare Warren, is in a continuing program of study to make the church school a more effective program. The worship service will continue to be held at 10 a.m. Under the new schedule a wider opportunity is provided for the families of the church. As a part of the program, D. L. Gaddery, adult division superintendent, announces that there will be four special classes for the adults of the church. These will be in the areas of an introductory Bible study, Christian Home discussion group, Christian Social Concerns, and a study of Methodist Ritual and Worship.

Men's Physical Fitness Class Begins Tonight at CHS Gym

As announced last week by the Chelsea Recreation Commission, an adult men's physical fitness class begins tonight (Thursday) at the Chelsea High school gymnasium with Jack Carl as supervisor. The class is scheduled for 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. and a fee of $5 for the 12-week course is payable at the first session tonight.

Other classes are set up to start this week and next week and information pertaining to each is as follows:

Seventh and eighth grade boys' recreational basketball, Saturday, Nov. 16, 9 to 11 a.m., at Junior High school gymnasium. Supervisor: James Bedford. Fee: 50 cents for 12 weeks course, payable Nov. 16.

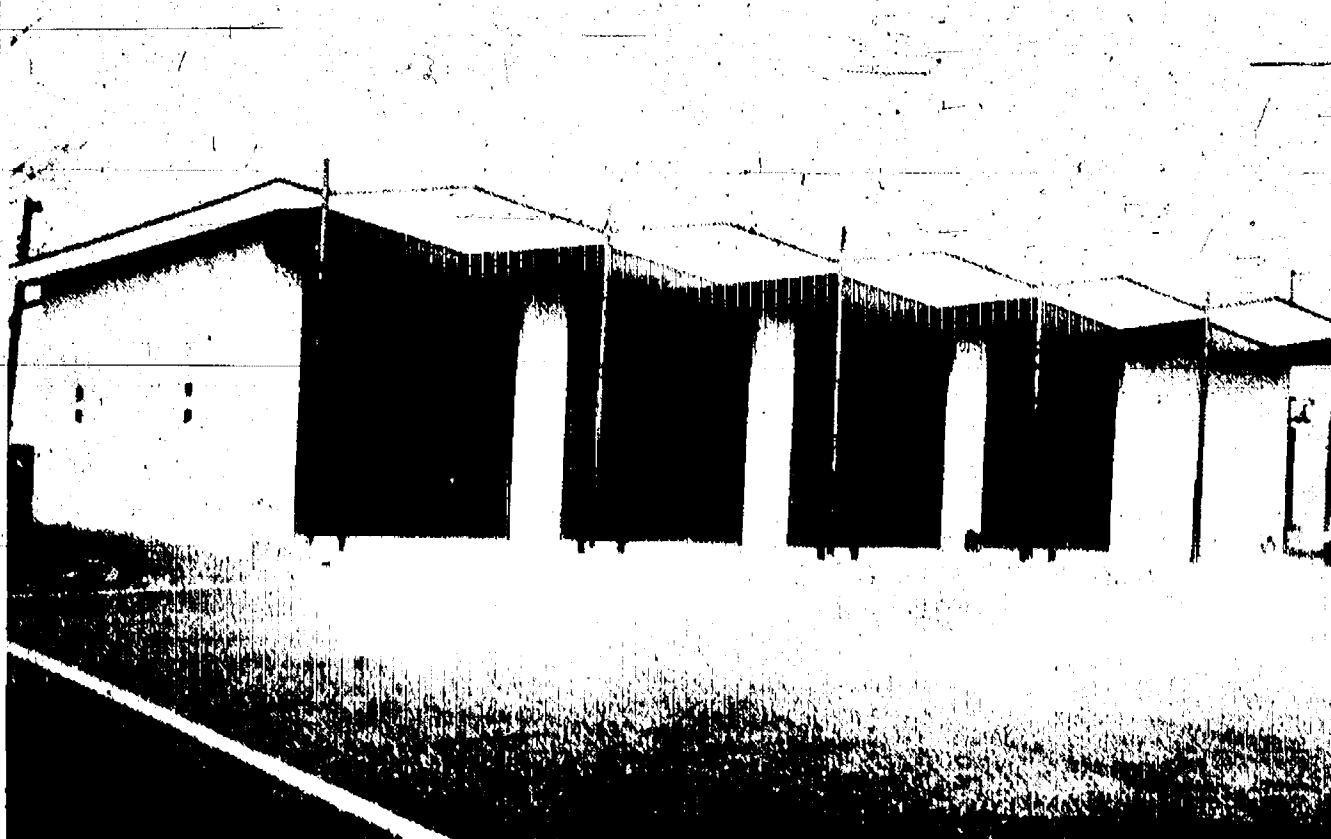

High school age boys' recreational basketball, Saturday, Nov. 16, 4 to 6 p.m., at Junior High school gymnasium. Supervisor: Fred Mills. Fee: 50 cents for 12-week course.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade boys' recreational basketball, Saturday, Nov. 23, 9 to 11 a.m., at Chelsea High school gymnasium.

Choir To Present Hootenanny Friday at School

The Chelsea High school choir will present "Hootenanny" comes to Chelsea" this Friday evening, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school gym.

Master of Ceremonies will be Herb David, Ann Arbor guitarist and instructor. Performing will be folk singers from the U of M. and the Ann Arbor area, as well as Chelsea High School's own group, "The Riders Three."

NEW FIRE HALL—Chelsea's new fire station is now occupied. The pumper, tanker and the older pumper were moved into their own "berths" at the new station on Monday of last week and there is room for a fourth truck if and when additional equipment is provided. While the contractor's work is completed, firemen themselves are continuing to add finishing touches which were not included in the contract in order to keep down the construction cost. Out of the Fire Department's own building fund set up several years ago and added to by means of several fund-raising projects, firemen have provided labor and material for painting the inside of the station; they have also added a partition between the space for fire apparatus and the meeting room; have put a ceiling in the office; and have tiled the floor in the office and meeting room. Chief James Gaken said firemen have been busy and have done "a lot of volunteer work" on the new building and as soon as all work is completed townspeople will be invited to an open house in the new station.

JOHN LEITH has been promoted to the rank of specialist, 4th class, according to word received here this week. He is presently stationed with the U.S. Army at San Francisco, Calif. He entered the Army in July, 1942, and received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He has been stationed in California since September, 1962. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Leith of 1210 Meadow Lane, Chelsea. He is currently assigned to Sp 4 John Leith, Headquarters Co. 3rd Signal Bn, 6th U.S. Army, Presidio San Francisco, Calif.

Research Proves We Can't Pick Homes for Squirrels!

Michigan State University's wildlife researcher, Leslie W. Gysel, has reported on a recent project which must, in our opinion, go down as one of the most earth-shaking disclosures of our time.

In a recent news release from the University, results of this research shows that although wildlife is present in the woods, it probably "isn't" where the casual observer thinks it is.

To back up this profound observation the report states that in an unmanaged woodlot there were as many as 40 holes in one acre large enough to be occupied by squirrels. But do you think there were 40 squirrels in these 40 holes? Of course, not, don't be silly. Only about 25 percent of the holes are used by wildlife, and less than six percent were called home by the squirrels. Remarkable, isn't it!

Further research showed that observers were asked to look at tree holes and predict whether or not the holes were used. When the tree was climbed and the predictions were checked, two-thirds of the "yes" responses were wrong. How has the human race managed to exist so long with such an unbelievably poor knowledge of tree holes?

Hollow logs were also looked into. And it was found that such spots were not used for anything more than temporary shelter.

What seemed like it must be the climax in all this lengthy report was the following statement: "While the survey showed that woodlots with the largest number of holes had the largest number of nesting birds, observers on the ground could not predict which holes were being used. In managed woodlots with few trees with cavities, the squirrels built leaf nests and were almost as numerous as in unmanaged lots with many holes." Amazing!

To sum up the research project the report concluded that "selection of homesites by animals is a complex process, and that what looks like a good animal home to a human, may not suit the animal at all."

We don't know how long this project took the scientist to complete, how many people were involved in working out the intricate details, or just how many taxpayer dollars were expended in accomplishing the mission, but if it took more than 15 minutes of one man's "coffee break" time we feel there should be an investigation. Economy in government can and should include little things at all levels—including states-supported educational institutions—as well as in the multiple bureaus in Washington.

"Money Talks"

An admirable effort to provide quality education to persons who most likely could not get it on their own is under way at Michigan State University.

With little fanfare, University officials found 23 young men this fall who had the scholarship ability but no monetary means to attend college.

All 23, from five Michigan high schools, are now studying and working at the East Lansing institution.

The rather unique program which got these 23 into MSU is known as "Operation Ethel." University officials said this name was selected to denote "an educational additive."

Funds for the expenses incurred in attending college were derived because a number of MSU educators decided to contribute earnings from a public speaking agency to a special fund. These monies were earmarked for use by talented youngsters who don't have the money needed to attend college.

High school officials are called upon to find deserving students for whom college attendance is financially impossible.

Each of the students must earn money for the customary advance deposits of tuition and tuition fees and be willing to borrow and work to help put himself through college.

University officials said the borrowing and earning requirements of the students was aimed at insuring that the students who receive aid are sincerely interested in earning a degree.

The fund, started just two years ago, is continuing to build up as members of the MSU faculty and staff are invited to speak at public meetings, high school commencements and other occasions.

Trees Come Back

The official state tree, the white pine, once covered much of Michigan. Historians note that this was before the coming of the white man.

Much of the forest stands were numbered off, however, in the latter part of the last century and early this century.

The State Agriculture Department now notes that the state tree appears to be staging a comeback. A recent aerial survey showed stands of more than 12 million acres of white pine concentrated in Chippewa and Mackinac counties. Other stands are sparse throughout the state but total about a quarter million acres, department officials said.

Auto Dangers

Children and windows on "fully automatic" automobiles can be a dangerous mixture, State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis warns.

Several recent incidents, one of which resulted in a death, pointed out the danger in a child using an automobile for a plaything.

"Children should never be left alone in an automobile under any conditions," Heustis said. "A car with automatic winds particularly is a booby-trap."

The power of automatic windows exerts up to 50 pounds pressure. This is enough to strangle a child easily, Heustis said.

"In standard models, the windows work only when the ignition key is on, so removing the keys eliminates the danger," he said. "In most station wagons with automatic tailgate windows, however, the ignition key is not required."

The windows can become a blunt knife for a child.

Heustis views the solution to this rapidly increasing problem as a matter of engineering.

"I am happy to say that the auto industry is actively engaged in trying to solve the problem," he said. "Today, however, the only answer is to keep kids out of the car when it is unattended."

National Symbol

Michigan now has a tiny ambassador of good will touring the country. A 14-year-old, five-year-old Mary Lou Graves, is this year's National March of Dimes child.

Regardless of one's feelings about united campaign drives or single-purpose fund campaigns, one look at the March of Dimes poster child brings a single thought: This could be my child.

Born with an open spine which was quickly corrected through surgery, Mary Lou had other problems. In 1950, she was born with brain, hydrocephalus, developed but stopped. She also required an operation to overcome a severe bladder and bowel involvement.

Health and hospitalization insurance can cover many bills, but the widest imagination cannot measure the amount involved in a case such as Mary Lou's.

Through physical therapy, Mary Lou is gaining some degree of independence. She is learning to walk and next year will attend a special school for crippled children.

As the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves, Mary Lou is her mother's helper.

She can dust, do some dishes, fold clothes and "mind" her brother and sisters.

A poster picture hardly tells the story, but Mrs. Graves, who had polio before she was two years old, puts it this way: "The March of Dimes is the greatest friend we ever had."

Deer Hunters Should Follow Safety Rules

"Watch out for your own gun is one of the Conservation Department's highest pieces of advice to Michigan deer hunters."

"Each deer season, about 25 percent of the state's firearm accidents involve hunters who shoot themselves," reports Everett Tucker, head of the Department of Conservation.

"By and large, the deer hunter is a very safety-conscious class," Tucker notes. This is borne out by Department records which show that the present accident rate is just about half what it was in the early 1940's.

Tucker adds, "There is, of course, still room for improvement. Hunters can make the sport even safer by heeding the Do's and Don'ts and other common-sense rules of gun safety."

(1) Do be alert for other hunters. Try to see them before they see you. If on a road or trail, be ready to dive for cover in case deer runs between you and another hunter.

(2) Don't think it's cute to surprise other hunters in the woods. When surprised, people sometimes react in wacky ways and nothing is very funny when deer rifle is involved.

(3) Do let your hunting partners know where you'll be and then stick to the plan.

(4) Don't ever sit on the opposite side of a well-traveled road from another hunter. If you are hunting runways, you can expect other hunters may be nearby. If they are, make sure you know exactly where you are.

(5) Do be sure before you shoot. Far better to lose a shot at deer while hesitating to make certain it is a deer than to run the risk of wounding a fellow hunter by hastily firing away at what "looks like" a whitetail.

COST COMPARISON—

Cost comparison: For "apple pie" you may want to compare costs between different kinds of pie: A start-from-scratch, nine-inch apple pie, made with fresh apples, will cost about 30-35 cents. Not counting the time you take to mix and make it... It will serve six to eight, depending on the size of servings. A frozen pie, ready only baking one hour, will cost about 45 cents. Canned apple pie filling and pastry mix for an eight-inch pie, which serves six or seven, cost about 45 cents.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER-EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was all in fine fettle and words of wisdom was flowing around the place free and easy like foreign aid in the Congo.

Bug Hookum got the session off to a fast start by announcing he had seen the Wall Street Journal where the odds was now quoted even on whether the country would be done in by bombs or by bankruptcy. Bug said he preferred bankruptcy on account of he has had considerable experience in this field.

This is the second time in a month Bug has quoted the Wall Street Journal and it could be he's trying to get himself a little status around here. Personal, I got a hunch he's been reading it at the Bank while he was waiting to pay on his note, but I wouldn't say nothing out loud to hurt a feller's status.

Anyhow, Ed Doolittle agreed with Bug on his bankruptcy decision, allowed as how they wasn't no nicer way to end the journey. Ed said it reminded him of the story about the pawlbearer that was watching his rich friend getting lowered into the ground in a brand new air conditioned Cadillac. "Man," said the pawlbearer, "that's what I call living!"

But Zeke Grubb was of the opinion that maybe things was getting a little better. Per instant, said Zeke, he was reading this piece in the papers where one of them government research agencies was working on a auto fender that was wrinkle resistant. It was agreed by all the fellers that if the Government can come up with a fender the Whimn folks can't wrinkle it will offset some of that tax money we been spending to study sunflowers in Peru.

Parthermore, reported Zeke, the boys in the Pentagon made it official last week that this country, like taxes, was here to stay. They spent $1,400 for four signs to make shore folks entering the Pentagon would know where they was. The signs was made out of solid bronze and when Senator Williams ask them how come they had to be solid bronze, he was informed they wanted signs that "would last until kingdom come."

Clem Webster said Americans was living mostly on hope these days and all the fellers agreed that hope was a wonderful thing. Per instant, one feller pointed out that the agooda had got around to fishing, he wanted to tell about the feller that went out to the river to fish one real foggy morning. He had pulled out a nice string of bass when the fog lifted real sudden and he discovered the river was a half mile away.

The meeting, Mister Editor, adjourned on that note.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan

Now how are the high-priced cars going to explain this!

Here are looks, luxury and comfort that you'd expect to get you back plenty—if they came from anybody but the people at Chevrolet.

Freshly minted styling with clean uncluttered lines that give the '64 Jet-smooth Chevrolet its feeling of new length and lowness. Rich new interiors with supple fabrics. Foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting—now standard in all models, including the modestly priced Biscaynes. And, of course, the niceties of Body by Fisher craftsmanship.

You've got a wealth of power to pick from—engines from a peppery 140-hp 6 to a 425-hp V8! And you've got the '64 Jet-smooth ride to cushion you from road noise and vibration.

Been promising yourself luxury like this someday? Your someday is here, as your dealer will gladly show you. *Optional at extra cost.

Businessman Walks 385 Mile Length of Ohio-Soo Freeway

Lansing — A 64-year-old Grand Rapids marathon walker made a 385-mile hike recently to dramatize the growth of the Mackinac Island from a footpath to a non-stop superhighway.

Buckskin-clad Marion Pearson started at the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge and walked the length of 1-75 to Sylvania, O., in 11 days.

The last unopened section of the Ohio-Soo Freeway—a 22-mile stretch south of Sault Ste. Marie—was opened Nov. 1.

Pearson, who received special permission to make the walk along the superhighway—where pedestrians normally are not allowed—returned from Sylvania by car in time for the dedication ceremonies.

Pearson is vice-president of the International Walkers Association and has been at the hobby of long distance walking for 43 years. He has made it at least three times from Grand Rapids to the Mackinac Bridge, a distance of approximately 238 miles. On one occasion he continued from the bridge to New York City and on another to the association headquarters at Ligonier, Pa.

A pacing truck carried gifts which Pearson distributed to many of 25 communities along his freeway walk to the Ohio line.

JV's Finish Season With 65-0 Victory

Chelsea JV's ended the 1963 football season with a five-game winning streak, their record being 6-2. Their final game—with Ypsi-Roosevelt—was a glorious finale, ending with a score of 65-0 in favor of Chelsea.

Chelsea lost the toss as the game started and kicked off; after Roosevelt's second play Chelsea's Earl Hughes recovered a fumble and on the first play Bill Harvey's pass was intercepted, yet it was taken away by Gary Houle for Chelsea, and on the next play Chelsea scored on a 20-yard pass by Gary Houle and the extra point pass to Houle was good.

Chelsea's second touchdown went 46 yards by Houle and the point after was good to Houle. The third score was by Gary Hopkins for 10 yards and the point after was good to Clark. The fourth score was by center Mike Skodak on an intercepted pass for 30 yards, but the point after was not good.

The fifth touchdown was by Gary Houle for 46 yards and the point after again was not good. The final score before half time was 35-0. Chelsea won on a pass from quarterback Bill Harvey for 72 yards and the point after was good to Dan Sosnjak.

After half-time Roosevelt was still hitting hard as they did the entire game, but on the kickoff, Dave Clark of Chelsea got a lateral from Bill Harvey and scooted 85 yards for the touchdown and the point after was good to Gary Hopkins. After even more effort David Blaess scored on a touchdown pass from Bill Harvey for 70 yards; the point after was good to Gary Hopkins. Paul Lancaster then scored for Chelsea for 35 yards.

With a final burst the first unit once again came out after the terrific offense and defense of the second and third units; and Gary Houle scored again with three minutes and 50 seconds left to play.

This is how it stood, 65-0, to set a new Chelsea high school record. The former record was 59-0.

Offensive standouts were Bill Harvey (three TD passes), Dave Clark (two TD's), Gary Houle (four TD's), David Blaess (one TD), Gary Hopkins (one TD), Paul Lancaster (one TD), and the rest of the players all played a fine game.

In this game Chelsea completed 6 of 16 passes for 178 yds., ran 345 yds., for a total of 625 yards. Final record on stars and numbers is as follows: Gary Houle, 13 stars; Earl Hughes, 13 stars; David Blaess, 6 stars; Mike Dillon, 3 stars; Mike Skodak, 5 stars; Tom Adams, 6 stars; Paul Lancaster, 1 star; Gary Hopkins, 1 star; John Fullerton, 1 star; Dave McGibney, numbers; Bill Harvey, 5 stars; Dan Allen, 1 star; Joe Fisher, numbers; Barry Boone, numbers; Dave Adams, 1 star; Jim Orthing, numbers; Alonzo Taylor, numbers; Larry Wengren, numbers; Larry Porath, 1 star; Duane Schoren, 3 stars; and Dave Clark, 6 stars.

"MICHIGAN FISH FRY" AT SENATE—"These are among the finest fish filets I've ever seen," Senator Chief Ross Destito tells Michigan Senator Philip A. Hart (right). Destito then proceeded to broil 150 pounds of Lake Superior whitefish that Hart had flown in for a luncheon attended by 65 Senators. Purpose of the luncheon: to dramatize the fact that fresh and frozen Great Lakes fish are still good eating despite the recent botulism ban on smoked fish. Looking on approvingly are Senator Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) at left and Senator Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.).

State's Public Fallout Shelter Program Now 81% Complete

The public fallout shelter program in Michigan has reached 81 percent of completion covering three classifications which include marking of buildings, both marking and licensing, and refusal of use of properties by the owners or found impractical, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, state civil defense director, reports.

The program started shortly before Aug. 1, 1962, the date that the State Office of Civil Defense was merged with and became a division of the State Police department.

The survey of buildings to determine if they were suitable for shelters was made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

In all, 3,757 buildings with a capacity in excess of 2,000,000 persons were approved of which 2,425 have been marked and of these 2,087 both marked and licensed. For various reasons the use of 678 buildings has either been refused by the owners or in some instances deemed impractical.

Buildings marked or both marked and licensed will provide protection for 1,600,000 persons. Federal stocking of survival supplies, which is done in licensed shelters only, has proceeded to the point of providing for 750,000 persons. Licensing of the other marked buildings is continuing.

The army engineer corps is now planning to update its survey to determine if additional suitable buildings can be located. Local civil defense directors also will check with owners who have declined use of their properties to determine if they will change their minds.

The rural shelter program under which farmers provide for their own families to protect their families and livestock is conducted by Michigan State University which has a contract with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Federal Office of Civil Defense.

Hearing Tests Scheduled in Local Schools

The Hearing Conservation Program is being conducted this month in the Chelsea Public schools and St. Louis school.

The purpose of this program is the early recognition of any hearing problem that is of medical or educational significance.

From Nov. 13, 20 all kindergarten and fourth grade children and children from any grade who are referred by a teacher or parent will be checked for hearing problems.

If there is any reason to question a child's hearing, he will be given a more detailed test Dec. 3 to 10. At this time, if the child still appears to have a hearing problem, a letter will be sent to the parents inviting them to take their child to their family physician or to the Otology Clinic for a hearing evaluation.

At the clinic, the child is seen by an ear specialist for further tests and a medical ear, nose and throat examination. The results of these tests are sent to the child's physician.

Last year 449 children from the Chelsea Public schools participated in the Hearing Conservation Program. Of these, there were 17 medical referrals and 10 attended the Otology Clinic. At St. Louis school 48 children were tested, 5 were referred, and 5 attended the clinic.

The Hearing Conservation Program is carried out in co-operation with the schools, the Washtenaw County Health Department, and the Washtenaw County Medical Society.

Memorial Record . . .

The group held a meeting at the church Monday evening to discuss plans and it was pointed out that major memorial projects at present are an organ fund and a fund for choir pews. Several lesser projects are also under consideration.

Records will be officially entered in a memorial book which is to be purchased as a memorial to the late Iva Straub as a gift from friends.

A number of memorial gifts to the church have been made through the years and it is the aim of the committee to enter each of these in the memorial book, bringing the record to date as new gifts are made, they will be entered as a permanent record of the church.

In Michigan, it costs $15 to $18 per acre to control weeds in young orchards with a rotary hoe. Chemicals can do the job for as little as $2, a Michigan State University horticulturist has found.

Deer Hunters May Register at District Conservation Office

The Conservation Department reminds deer hunters they may register their away-from-home addresses at its field or district offices this season.

Purpose of the registration service is to enable Department field men to locate hunters as quickly as possible should there be an emergency at home. Hunters who camp on state-owned lands will again be required to post registration cards giving their names and addresses. These cards are free for the asking at the Department's district headquarters and at hunting license dealers.

Red Cross Board Will Meet in New Operations Center

The Fall meeting of the county Board of Directors of the Washtenaw County Chapter, has been called for Nov. 19th, James M.
Davis, chapter chairman, has announced. It will be a dinner meeting, the first held in the new Operations Center at 2720 Packard Rd., and will be called at 6:15 p.m., Davis said.

A special feature of the meeting will be a film presentation of the Half-Time Show by the U. of M.
Marching Band in a Salute to the International Red Cross at the Michigan-Michigan State football game. A special committee under John Walters will recommend to the Board the policies to govern use of the Red Cross Center by community organizations. Arthur Gallagher, Chairman of Home Service, will present recommendations for the expansion of the "Voices From Home" Program to include foreign students and hospitalized veterans in the Tuberculosis Ward at the VA Hospital. In addition to families of servicemen.
A discussion is scheduled on the duties and responsibilities of County Board Members, and Chairman
D. Prendergast will outline the schedule of volunteer training sessions for the winter months.

The dinner meeting is open to the public and reservations may be made by calling the Operations Center at NO. 2-5546.

Electronic Freeway Control To Be Shared By 11 States

Lansing — Eleven states have joined Michigan in the operation of the nation's first experiment in the electronic control of freeway traffic.

State Highway Commissioner
John C. Mackie said a 3.2-mile section of the John Lodge Freeway in Detroit will become a national proving ground for freeway traffic research by the 11 states.
The states, which will share the cost of operating the research center, include New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Georgia,
Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Louisiana, Washington and Missouri.

The 11 states will contribute approximately $247,000 for the first year's operation of the national proving ground.

Michigan State Highway Department, Wayne County Road Commission and City of Detroit will provide an additional $75,000.

Mackie said the State Highway Department, U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, City of Detroit and Wayne County Road Commission have borne the entire cost of the project since it was started in 1961.

"At the time this project was started, we anticipated the results would be of interest to all state highway departments," Mackie said.

"The participation of these 11 states means the project can continue to operate for at least another year and it enables these states to take advantage of extensive research facilities that would be very costly to duplicate in each state."

Michigan has 13,432 manufacturing establishments with 809,560 employees.

Deer Hide Is Worth Saving

It's the guess of Lansing taxidermist Robert Robbins that one-third to one-half of all deer hides taken in Michigan each fall end up in the trash can.

"I've seen this happen year after year and it's a foolish waste on the part of the hunter, because hides are valuable," Robbins says.
He adds, "If nothing else, most taxidermists will pay at least a dollar or two for a hide just as it comes from the deer."

Robbins points out that some butchers will agree to skin and quarter your deer, just for the hide. This is a good deal, because it saves the hunter time and money, and the butcher will certainly make use of the hide.

It costs the hunter $4 to $6 to have a hide tanned, depending on its size and the going local price.
Once tanned, the hide is worth $6 to $8 and companies who specialize in making deerhide gloves, jackets and other apparel will normally pay that much for it. Usually, these companies deal with taxidermists and other suppliers for bulk sources of deerhide, but these figures do at least indicate how much money Michigan hunters are throwing away each fall.

Actually, a hunter need do very little with the hide to save it.
In skinning a deer, a not-too-sharp knife should be used to avoid cutting the hide. Once started, the hide can normally be stripped off most parts by peeling downward with strong tugs.
After it's removed, the biggest glob of fat or flesh should be cut away. Then spread a couple of pounds of table salt or coarse salt over the flesh side, and let this draw some of the juice out of the skin. With the salt still inside, roll the hide loosely and tie it with a cord.

It's then ready to take to a taxidermist—and the sooner, the better.

The process of tanning is rather long and complicated. Some hunters may wish to try it themselves at home, although it's a tough job and will in the end cost a good deal more than having it done by a tannery.

When done commercially, this is the process as described by one tannery:

"Every skin is soaked one day,
flashed and dehaired another day, limed seven days, bated and pickled four days, (hosed up after pickling to thoroughly pickle), tanned, (and then hosed up for three days for tan to properly penetrate), and then neutralized and fat liquored another day. This makes 17 days they are in our beam house before going upstairs to be dried, remilled, stacked, split, colored, dried again, and then finally remilled, sloum slaked, measured, and baled for shipment, all of which usually takes another 10 days. The very shortest time from soak to finished leather is four weeks."

Two of these steps are of special interest to hunters. First, as taken from the deer, the hide is thick in some places and thin in others. To be useful in leather articles, the hide is "split"; in other words, scraped down to an even, workable thickness over-all.

And second, hides come out of the tanning process a sort of pearl gray in color. Usually, they are colored tan or brown or "natural," or some other color, and hunters usually have a choice here.

One hide will make about three pairs of gloves, and three to five hides are needed for a jacket. A vast requires one large deerhide, or 1 1/2 average deerhides.

Tanned deerhide may often be bought from a taxidermist if you haven't enough to make an article of clothing.

Carrying Deer Away After Auto Accident Costs Man $17.30

As an aftermath of an automobile-deer collision on I-94 west of M-52 at 10 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 3, in which two Taylor men were injured, a Chelsea man was ordered to appear in Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, Friday, Nov. 8, on a charge of possession or transferring deer without a metal tag attached.

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer had been called to the scene because of the deer that was killed and arrived at 11 p.m. just as Ernest P. Mull, of Chelsea-Manchester Rd., was loading the big buck into a van.

Mull pleaded guilty to the charge on Friday and was ordered to pay fine and costs of $17.30.

NEW LOVE TOKEN

Azusat, Calif. — There's a new ritual going around among teenagers that signifies a girl's love for a boy.

She must weave a garland as long as the boy is tall and offer it to him — if he accepts the garland and burns it — it is his sign of acceptance of the love token.

The garland must be woven from used gum wrappers. It takes 144 pieces (120 packs) for a 6-foot boy. The girl must chew all the gum herself. If the boy does not accept — she must start all over again.

Prevent Spoiled Turkey By Keeping It Hot or Cold

There are two ways to prevent spoiled turkey: keep it hot or keep it cold.

A normal temperature for 'dones' will insure killing any disease-producing bacteria. pathogenesis that cause digestive upsets, reports Larry Dawson, Michigan State University food scientist. In a recent study, he found that internal temperatures of 160 degrees in rolled turkey roasts was enough to do the job.

Furthermore, commercial turkey rolls—in order to be labeled 'cooked'—must be cooked to an internal temperature of 160 degrees, says Dawson. This U. S. Department of Agriculture regulation, Dawson says, insures that these rolls are free from disease-producing pathogens.

A minimum of 185 degrees internal temperature for whole turkeys will not only eliminate any redness of meat around the joints of the bird, but will also keep these bacteria in check.

Dawson explains that most turkey spoilage is the fault of improper handling such as allowing turkeys to stand at room temperature several hours after cooking. This gives bacteria a chance to develop.

"We often run into this kind of thing when large organizations put on a dinner," Dawson comments. "They sometimes cook the turkey one day, leave it at room temperature and don't serve it until the following day."

The MSU food scientist recommends that turkeys be refrigerated whenever there is an extended lapse of time between cooking and eating. As an added precaution, the dressing should be removed from whole birds before refrigerating in order to cool the bird quickly.

A plastic mulch under host warm season crops can speed maturity and improve yields by keeping the soil warmer, wetter and preventing packing, according to a Michigan State University horticulturist.

Club and Social Activities

WCS

The November meeting of the Woman's society of Christian Service of the Methodist church was held at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 6. Marion Simons Ciciela members were in charge of refreshments and served hot muffins and coffee in the church social center. Study topic for the meeting was "Where Does the Christian Woman Volunteer Her Time?" Mrs. Ed. Lewis was in charge of the devotional service and the topic was carried over to a panel discussion in charge of Mrs. Benjamin Bower. Panel members included Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. William Storey, Mrs. Russell Maurer and Mrs. Arthur Stoll and the discussion brought out recommendations for spare time volunteer work for Christian women in the church and community in the field of politics and the promotion of world peace.

During the business session Mrs. Calvin Summers gave a report on the WCS Conference fall meeting held Oct. 29 at Central Methodist church at Pontiac.

The next regular meeting of the Chelsea WCS is scheduled for Dec. 4, at 8 p.m., in the church social center.

MODERN MOTHERS

Modern Mothers Child Study club, at a regular meeting Tuesday evening, heard a discussion of plans for the club's Christmas community service project—providing gifts for a Chelsea family in co-operation with Chelsea Social Service—and also learned about plans for the club's Christmas party. The reports were given by Mrs. Merle Leach, program chairman.

Tuesday's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Errol Jones with Mrs. John Steele as co-hostess. There were 13 members present, roll call topic being "You may or may not need a dime." The fun project netted a number of dimes for the club treasury.

The club will hold a regular meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, at the home of Mrs. Merle Leach with all former club members invited as guests for a special program entitled "Hallmark of Entertainment."

The program will be presented by Mrs. Roger Cook, home service director of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. at Ann Arbor. Her presentation includes a series of slide pictures for the Nov. 26 meeting is to be Mrs. Paul Kalmbach.

Co-Op Nursery Teacher Explains Values of School

The regular meeting of the Chelsea Co-operative Nursery mothers was held Nov. 7 at McKune Memorial Library with 26 members present. Mrs. Raymond Steinbach, president, conducted the business meeting. It was announced that a photographer will be at the Nursery school Nov. 21 to take pictures of the children.

After the business session, the meeting was turned over to "Miss Jane," Mrs. Raymond Schairer, the nursery teacher, for a discussion on "Values of Nursery School." In the presentation, Mrs. Schairer spoke particularly about the value of free play for the children who are three and four years old. As she conducts a free activity period, "Miss Jane" watches for a shy child to join a group of other children for the first time, a child to make decisions about the "schedule" for a doll, or to work off a stress at the workbench with nail and hammer. Children also learn to take direction from an adult, develop greater muscle activity, and learn how to put things away after play, in other portions of the nursery day.

Margaret Sias was hostess for the meeting with Becky Bush and Carolyn Salts serving as co-hostesses.

LADY STEEPLJACK

El Monte, Calif. — Mrs. Billie Rutherford helps her steeplejack husband paint flagpoles.

Weighing only 112 pounds, she can climb poles too light for her 212 pound husband.

"People think I'm a nut to be in this business, but I love it and am especially good at climbing," says Mrs. Rutherford.

Altar Society Plans December Meeting At St. Louis School

Forty-five members of St. Mary's Altar Society were present for the November meeting held Wednesday evening at the church.

Entertainment, following the business session, was the showing of western vacation pictures by the society president, Mrs. Leon Chapman.

During the business session, Mrs. Chapman extended special thanks to all who helped with the dinner given by the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski for the priests who were here Sunday, Oct. 27, after the 40-Hour Devotion observance.

Mrs. Chapman also expressed appreciation for the donations of time, effort and contributions which helped make the recent public ham dinner a success.

Mrs. Joseph Hafner and Mrs. Karl Riegger were named as the November altar committee.

Announcement is to be made by the Rev. Fr. Maliszewski as to the date for the annual Bishops Clothing Drive scheduled for this month.

There was discussion at Wednesday's meeting relative to a mission project—making rosaries. It was explained that the beads would be furnished but individual members participating would be expected to purchase the chains and wires needed. Members were asked to give some thought to the matter and a decision on the project will be made at the December meeting.

Dec. 8 was announced as the date of the next regular meeting of the Washtenaw County Deaneary. The meeting is to take place at St. John's parish in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. John Thomson reported on a workshop meeting she and her husband attended in October. Workshop topic was "Recent Literature."

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting by Mrs. Arthur Paul and her committee. The Altar Society's December meeting, the first Wednesday of the month, will be the Christmas meeting and will be held at St. Louis School for Boys. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. John Steele and her committee.

There will be no exchange of gifts; instead, members will donate cash to be given to the Sisters at St. Louis school to use as they wish.

Special guest speaker at that meeting will be the Rev. Fr. Juniper Rapp of the Capuchin Order. His topic is to be "Christian Mothers."

Some of the nation's largest paper mills are located in Kalamazoo.

Personal Notes

Miss Esther Landwehr of Saline was a Sunday visitor of Mrs. Joseph Wright.

Mrs. John Lindow returned home Friday after being a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, for a week.

Mrs. Vassel Ledford who had been a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for almost eight weeks and underwent heart surgery there Oct. 29, was expecting to return to her home yesterday. Her son, Airman Second Class Gene Ledford who was home from Tripoli on a 30-day emergency leave because of his mother's illness, left Monday for Charleston, S.C., and was to leave Tuesday from there to return to his base in Tripoli.

Club and Social Activities

DER KLUB
The club, with 10 members, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Nelson Rooke. The opening business session was presided over by Mrs. Garry Minick. Mrs. Garry Minick was elected as a new member.
The evening's speaker was Chief James Gaken who gave a safety talk. He brought several types of fire extinguishers for homes and suggested family fire drills in order to protect the family. The exact procedure to follow in case of emergency, the close of the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Gaud and Mrs. Keith Boylan. The Dec. 12 meeting will be Mrs. George Heydlauff. There will be no other meeting that date.

LIMANEERS
Mrs. Irvin Lounsberry and Mrs. Alvin Pommerening were hostesses for the November meeting of the Limaneers. The meeting, which was preceded by a pot-luck dinner at noon, was held at the home of Mrs. Lounsberry last Thursday. There were 10 members present.
During the business session, members discussed their proposed Christmas project for patients at Ypsilanti State Hospital. Items were brought to the meeting for prizes which will be awarded in games at the hospital Christmas party.
Mrs. Hilda Pierce reported at Thursday's meeting on the club's Pierce Park Project — she said she and Mrs. Pommerening and Mrs. Lounsberry, the committee in charge had set out a large number of tulip bulbs in the flower beds at the park.
The Dec. 5 meeting of the Limaneers will be held at the home of Mrs. Pierce with Mrs. Harry Pruden as co-hostess.

CHILD STUDY CLUB
Nineteen members and 23 guests participated in a field tour to the Ann Arbor furniture store as the club's regular meeting Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Patrick Brogan, the store's interior decorator, was the speaker and guide on the tour of the store.
The next regular club meeting is to be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Bust.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CLUB
Three large boxes of material, prepared during the past year by women of the Mission club of St. Paul's church, were packed for shipment to mission stations when the club members held their November meeting in the church hall last Thursday. Included were girls' dresses, bedding, dolls and doll clothes and other gift items.
One of the boxes was sent to the Emmaus Home near St. Louis, Mo., one to an Ozark Mountains Mission station and the third to the Save-The-Children Federation.

Another box of material had been packed earlier for the Winnebago Children's Home at Neillsville, Wis., where Richard Schneider, a former St. Paul's church member, is now director of social services. The box was given to him when he was in Chelsea two weeks ago.
At Thursday's meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Amanda Mayer and Mrs. Annette Vail.
The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Mayer and an appropriate reading by Mrs. Emma Seitz.

The next meeting, Thursday, Dec. 5, will be held at the home of Mrs. Emma Seitz. It will be the annual Christmas meeting.

WOMAN'S CLUB
Miss Deane Rinck, supervisor of the rehabilitation center at University of Michigan Hospital, was the guest speaker at the Nov. 12 meeting of the Woman's club. She was introduced by Shirley Smith who is employed as Miss Rinck's secretary.
Miss Rinck discussed the work of her department which she explained is federal-state supported and is a part of the Department of Public Instruction. She emphasized that the center serves only those who because of illness, accident or disease have sustained a job handicap. It is a service to adults only.
Describing actual cases, Miss Rinck showed slide pictures illustrating training given to handicapped persons and the various problems handled in the course of her work.

Miss Rinck said Michigan was the first state to have such an agency.
Hostesses at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. George Turnbull and Mrs. William Geddes.
The club president, Mrs. E. J. Weiss presided during a brief business session when Mrs. Winston Schenk was accepted as a new member.
It was announced that a tea will be given at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 3, at the Methodist Home, a special occasion observed each year in appreciation for the work of Home members who make dresses and outfits for dolls provided by the club. The dolls are distributed at Christmastime to area children through Chelsea Social Service.

There will be no regular meeting of the club until the Christmas party scheduled to be held the evening of Dec. 10 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Schmunk.

Sullivan School Plans Open House
On Sunday, Nov. 17, from 2-5 p.m. Sullivan school, Washtenaw County's Center for the Training of Retarded Children will hold an open house for all interested citizens.
There will be a short program which will give guests an opportunity to ask questions about the program for retarded children.

Mrs. Howard W. Brown, Jr.
Shirley Howard, Howard W. Brown, Jr., Wed at St. Thomas Catholic Church

The marriage of Shirley Howard to Howard W. Brown, Jr., took place at a noon ceremony Saturday at St. Thomas Catholic church, Ann Arbor, with the Rev. Fr. Patrick Jackson officiating in the presence of approximately 150 guests.
The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Howard of 208 East Middle St., while the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alma Brown of Half Moon Lake, and the late Howard W. Brown.
The bride's all white gown was fashioned of silk organza and hand clipped Chantilly lace over taffeta. The scalloped sash and necktie were trimmed with pearls and sequins. A front panel of the lace was caught up with bows of organza and tiers of organza trimmed with lace extended into a cathedral style train. Her hair was styled in length-veil was of Swiss illusion and was held in place with a crown of pearls and Aurora Borealis crystals. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white roses and fuchsia mums centered with a removable white orchid corsage which she later wore with her going-away costume — a royal blue two-piece wool dress.

Doreen Howard, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore for the occasion a sheath dress of red-peau-de-seal with an overskirt of white silk organza embroidered in red. Her bouquet was of white fuchsia mums with red centers.
The three bridesmaids wore dresses styled like that of the maid of honor; however, the overskirts were not embroidered and were in colors matching their dresses. Mrs. David Rowe, sister of the bridegroom, was in royal blue and carried yellow fuchsia mums; Patricia Blaznek wore emerald green and her bouquet of fuchsia mums was light green; and Patricia Kaminski of Jackson, the third bridesmaid, wore gold and had a bouquet of bronze fuchsia mums.
The bride's mother wore a medium blue sheath dress of lace over taffeta, with matching accessories and a corsage of rosebuds in pale pink and deep rose.
The bridegroom's mother had a corsage of white rosebuds. Her dress was of light blue georgette fashioned with a bell-shaped skirt. She used matching colored accessories.
The bridegroom's brother, Robert Brown, was best man and ushers were Richard Dolezky of Dexter, David Rowe and Donald Umstead.
A reception was held at the clubhouse at Inverness Country club at North Lake for approximately 200 guests.
Those who assisted at the reception include Mrs. Richard Dolezky of Dexter, who cut the wedding cake; Faye Policht, a cousin of the bridegroom, who poured punch; Ruth Beuerle who cut the bridegroom's cake; and Mrs. Ted Cheiviera who poured coffee.
The couple left after the reception for a trip to St. Louis, Mo., and after Nov. 16 will be at home on Edgewater Dr., Half Moon Lake.
The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Jackson Business University and is employed in the office at Central Fibre Products Co.
The bridegroom, also a Chelsea High school graduate, served in the U. S. Army and is now employed at Gelman Instrument Co., Ann Arbor.
Pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride included two showers, one given by Mrs. Emerson Wheeler and Mrs. George Wacker and the other by Patricia and Doreen Blaznek.
The bridegroom's family entertained at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening.

Philip Bloughs' Anniversary To Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Blough will observe their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 17, at their home, 15021-Grass Lake Rd. Two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Blough and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Blough, assisted by a friend, Mr. Bill Robbins, have arranged an open house reception to be held from 2 until 5 p.m.

The Bloughs were married Nov. 21, 1943, at Holy Name church, Essex, Ontario, Canada, by the Rev. Fr. A. O'Neill, and came to the United States the same year. They lived in Detroit until 1949 when they moved to this vicinity.
Their family, in addition to the two sons who are married, include three other sons and two daughters, Frank, Bobby, Mark, Shirley and Barbara, all at home.
They are members of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. Blough are observing their anniversary a few days in advance of the actual date in order that a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Blough of Merrill, can be here for the occasion. The two couples were married at a double ceremony; however, each couple will observe an individual anniversary celebration, the Lowell couple being honored the following Sunday, Nov. 24, at their home.

Mary Margaret Patrick, Richard Costerline Wed

Mary Margaret Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patrick of 623 Taylor St., and Richard Costerline of Ypsilanti, were married at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Cavanaugh Lake home of Sylvan Township Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers, who officiated.
The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Don Wood, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.
The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leo Schurstein of Milan and Donald Costerline of Ypsilanti. He is employed at General Motors Chevrolet Division at Ypsilanti.
A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.
The new Mr. and Mrs. Costerline are making their home at 14185 Old US-12.
Constant thunder and lightning would be completely ignored, as too commonplace to deserve notice. Likewise, constant show of vanity or authority.

November Birthday Party Honors 18 At Methodist Home

Baskets of fall fruits and vegetables centering the tables were the decorations used at the November birthday party honoring Methodist Home residents whose birthdays occur during the month. Adding to the festive fall color theme were brown candles, colorful nut cups and the decorated birthday cake. The party was held Tuesday.

Four of those observing their birthdays are past 90 years of age — Mrs. Jeannette Nixon, formerly of Lincoln Park, who was 90 on Nov. 9; Mrs. Isabelle Helfrich, who formerly lived in Ypsilanti and was 88 years old Nov. 2; Mrs. E. Helen Bradley, formerly of Detroit, 82 years old on Nov. 8; and Archie McCloy, a former Akron resident, who will be 90 on Nov. 23.

Others in the group of 18 who were honored are Mrs. Millie Thurston, Mrs. Emily Smith, Mrs. Blanche Mott, Mrs. Josephine Roseman, D. Glenn Lowry, George Walter, Miss Ruth Jenkins, Mrs. Charlotte Lacey, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Philip Klatworth, Mrs. Ruth Payne, Mrs. Helen Davidson, Mrs. Lena Doty, and Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell.

Gifts for each of the ladies were presented while the men were presented with socks.
Methodist Home Friends of the Detroit Conference provided the birthday gifts.

CLUB NEWS

LEARNING BY DOING
The second meeting of the Learning By Doing 4-H club was held at 2 p.m. Nov. 2 at the home of Evelyn Rothfuss. Each member showed her material and pattern and told what two occasions she would wear it for. Before the meeting started they played a game, and had a demonstration on hair style by Laurie Reddeman.
After the meeting Laurie Reddeman read "Are you jittery in giving demonstrations?"
There will be a work meeting for the third-year girls, Saturday, Nov. 16. The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Dec. 7 at Joan Hardins. There will be demonstrations by Kathy Lampe and Judy Wiseman.

Loners seldom know true defeat. There is no defeat unless something is attempted.

Civil Defense

Prepared by Zone VI Civil Defense Director, Elwyn M. Beach on the subject of emergency sources of liquids.

Water-packed fruit and vegetables are a good source of liquids for drinking purposes in an emergency, provided the containers are undamaged. Fresh fruits that have been under cover, especially citrus fruits, are also good sources of liquids. If they have been exposed to radioactive dust or mist, however, oranges should be wiped clean before being squeezed. Other fruits such as apples or peaches should be peeled before eaten.

Another source of good drinking water should be your refrigerator. Unless the refrigerator itself were damaged by blast, it would protect the contents against radioactive dust or mist. Even if the electricity or gas by which it operates were shut off, you could drink the water from the melted ice cubes in the trays. All other liquids stored in the refrigerator would be suitable for drinking purposes, provided they had not had time to spoil.

The water in the storage tank of your hot water heater can be used for drinking purposes if you run short. Home hot water heaters usually have a capacity of 30 or 60 gallons. Keep the hot water tank free from rust and sediment by opening the drain valve at the bottom of the tank at least once every month until the water runs clean. That is a good thing to do even in peacetime. It also assures you an extra supply of water for washing and cooking purposes in an emergency. When not under pressure (i.e. when house main valve is closed) all hot water tanks require venting to the atmosphere before a free flow of water may be obtained from the drain cock. Some are harder to vent than others, depending on the piping arrangement. Most require only the opening of a faucet on the hot water line; others may require disconnecting the hot water line from the tank at the coupling (usually located at the top of the tank). Know your system and its requirements for obtaining water from the tank. Where necessary have proper tools (pipe wrenches, etc.) handy to accomplish this.

The Washtenaw County Civil Defense office will present the Basic Civil Defense course on the following dates: Unit I, Wednesday, Nov. 20; Unit II, Thursday, Nov. 21; Unit III, Friday, Nov. 22; Unit IV, Monday, Nov. 25; Unit V, Tuesday, Nov. 26.

The course will be conducted in Room 6, basement of the County Building in Ann Arbor, 10-12 a.m. and 7-9 p.m. each day.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Learn Now . . . Pay Later

When this law was being considered in 1958, some educators argued for outright gifts to college students, claiming it would be unfair to "mortgage" a youngster's future by having him go into debt for his higher education. Congress evidently found no merit in this claim and provided only a loan program. The good record of repayment on college loans from non-federal sources may have contributed to the decision that this form of debt is not too onerous. This speaks well for the good faith of students who have borrowed in order to go to college because, after all, an education cannot be re-possessed. Emphasis on the federal program may arise partly from the fact that alternative sources of educational loan funds are not widely known. There are a number of state schemes for underwriting student loans, and commercial bank credit is available for families who are willing to pay tuition if they can budget the cost on a monthly basis. There is also a "college reserve program." This last, administered by United Student Aid Funds, Inc., allows colleges to deposit their loan funds as an 8 percent reserve for loans made to their students by commercial banks. Thus $4,000 deposited becomes the reserve for $50,000 of loans, to be repaid by the students after they have completed their education. The ingenuity with which localities and private enterprise have approached the problem makes it evident that there are alternatives to federally-subsidized loans. Any college education is already subsidized because, traditionally, tuition amounts to about half the actual cost. The student who really wants the education should be willing to repay his half.

Final Leaf Pick-Up By Village Crews Slated Next Monday

Chester Public Works Department crews will make their final leaf pick-up Monday, Nov. 18, according to an announcement by the department's superintendent, Kellie Allen.

Leaves must be raked into the street next to the curb—pick-up cannot be made from lawn extensions. Leaves should be ready for pick-up early Monday and crews will complete the pick-up as quickly as possible, Allen said.

EIGHT HUSBANDS

Beirut, Lebanon — The mountain honeymoon of Gazaleh Omran, 19, was interrupted by police who charged her with eight marriages but no divorces. Gazaleh was accused of giving herself a new name for each of her eight husbands.

Modernized M-52 Between Stockbridge, Chelsea, Opens Today

Modernization of 6.7 miles of M-52 between Stockbridge and Chelsea in Ingham, Jackson and Washtenaw counties will be completed and opened to traffic today, the State Highway Department has announced.

The $480,667 project to be opened to traffic about two weeks ahead of schedule, includes installation of culverts, grading and paving.

Completion of the project will eliminate a six mile long detour. M-52 provides a Class A truck route from Stockbridge, a truck farming area, to I-94 at Chelsea.

The J. V. Burkett Construction Co. of St. Joseph is the contractor on the project.

Eleven bids were submitted on the job last January.

Edward McKeon is the State Highway Department project engineer on the job.

Kiwanis Club Members Observe Veterans' Day

Veterans' Day was observed Monday at the weekly dinner meeting of the Kiwanis club, held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Don Turner, in charge of the evening's program gave a brief outline of the history of Veterans' Day, observed until 1954 as Armistice Day in recognition of the signing of the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, at the conclusion of World War I fighting.

Turner then introduced Chandler Rogers who gave a realistic resume of the Spanish-American War. M. J. Anderson who told briefly about his service in the U.S. Navy in World War I; and Walter R. Zeeb, Jr., who told about his experiences as a World War II serviceman, mentioning Japan particularly.

Turner concluded with a brief report of service during World War II in Melbourne, Australia. Business at the meeting included a report by Jack Detting public relations officer and a report by Dr. Clara Warren, relative to the Kiwanis-sponsored travelogue series.

Robert Foster, chairman of the annual Ladies' Night Christmas party, scheduled for Dec. 9, asked members to be prepared to state a choice of location for the event when the next regular club meeting is held next Monday.

Guests at Monday's meeting included Dexter Kiwanians W. J. Parsons and Clarence C. Hanselman; Chelsea Key club members, Michael Schrader and Warren Parath, Jr.; Kiwanis Lieutenant-Governor Jack Thompson of Ann Arbor; Western Kiwanis club; and the 1954 Lieutenant-Governor-elect, Walter Gumpert of Plymouth.

Chelsea guests at the meeting were the Rev. Lloyd F. Merrell and Frederick Belser.

Harold Eiseman Appointed Freedom Township Deputy Clerk

Harold Eiseman, appointed Nov. 1 as deputy clerk of Freedom township because of the serious illness of Will Reno, Freedom township clerk for 32 years, will serve out the unexpired term of Reno who died Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Eiseman was on the township board as a trustee and resigned that office to become clerk.

Appointed to replace him as trustee was Alvin Wiedmayer.

BULLDOG SPORTLIGHT

It is common belief that although many baseball games are canceled because of rain and other various reasons, football games are played through any kind of conditions.

This, however, is not always true. In 1957 the Chelsea-Dundee tilt was canceled because of the flu epidemic. The weather has also put a halt to some CHS football games. In 1951 the Chelsea-Manchester battle was eliminated because of too much snow.

In the rainy fall of 1926 games were canceled because of muddy fields. This left the "gridders" with only a six-game schedule. The townspeople, eager to see the Bulldogs play another game, formed their own team called the "Chelsea Independents." The Independents challenged the Bulldogs to a duel but failed to put up much of a battle and consequently the school won... 38-0... and ended their season undefeated.

Li-Gen. D. Beach Is Speaker at Detroit Ordnance Assoc. Meet

Lieutenant-General Dwight Beach, commanding general of the Combat Developments Command, Washington, D.C., was guest of honor and speaker at the 20th annual dinner meeting of the American Ordnance Association, Michigan Post, held Wednesday evening at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit. The association is a membership society of American citizens dedicated to industrial preparation for the national defense of the United States.

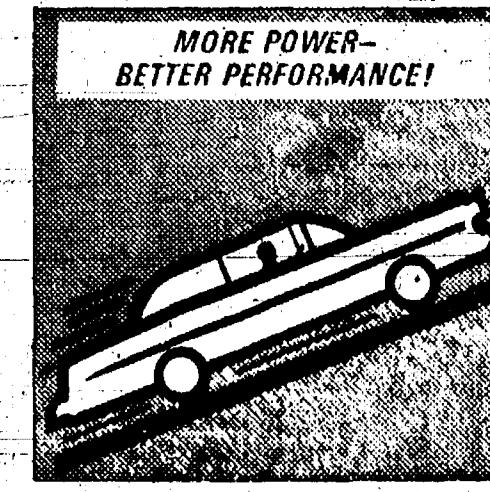

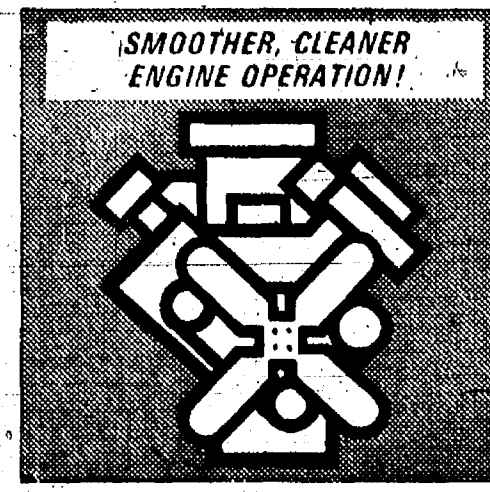

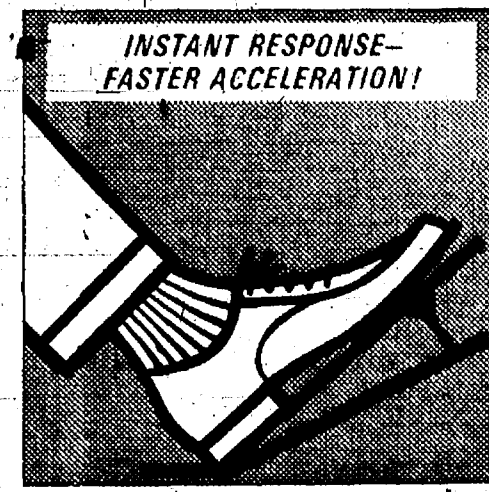

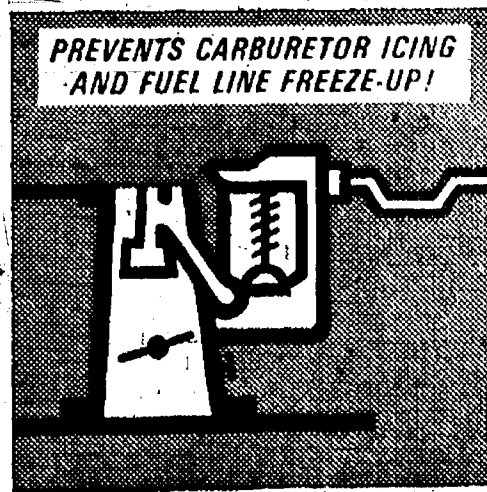

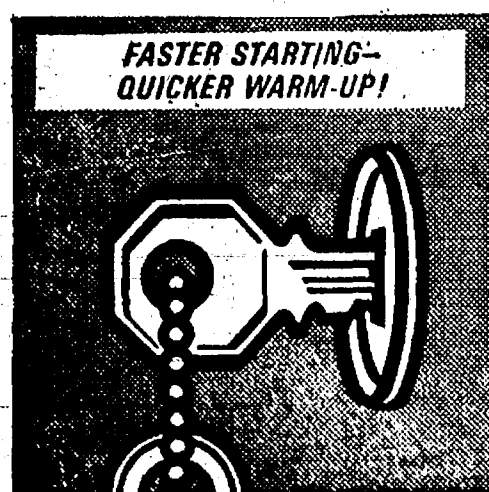

General Beach's talk was a resume of the purpose and activities of his command and he illustrated his presentation with movies. The general was an overnight guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Beach, at their Cavanaugh Lake home and on Thursday made an inspection tour of Project Michigan at the University of Michigan before returning to Washington.

David Beach and Howard Holmes attended Wednesday's dinner meeting as guests of the association. NITZE SUCCEEDS KORTH Paul H. Nitze became the new Secretary of the Navy November 1. He succeeded Fred Korth, a central figure in the TFX warplane contract debate and advocate of nuclear-powered carriers, who has resigned. 'Voices from Home' Project Offers Recorded Messages for Servicemen

The "Voices from Home" project, started by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross last year will be repeated during the coming holiday season, Red Cross officials announced today.

Offered as a public service, the project enables families of servicemen to send 15-minute recordings of greetings to men in service at bases in this country or overseas. The records are "cut" at the Red Cross Operations Center on Packard Rd. and sent out at no cost to the servicemen's families.

Last year records were sent to servicemen in Germany, Korea, the Philippines, Cuba, Turkey and at various bases in this country.

GREGORY BAPTIST CHURCH

11:00 a.m.—Morning worship

Families from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline and Whitmore Lake were among those participating. Red Cross officials announced this procedure for making a recording:

A member of the serviceman's family calls the Red Cross for an appointment, some of which are made in the evening hours because of the difficulty in getting a family together during the day. The family is advised to prepare notes on what is to appear on the record ahead of time. Each side of the record runs for seven and a half minutes. Some families read messages or letters and other greetings; there are personal greetings, and often when there are small children in the family they recite something learned in school. Many families accustomed to singing in the home sing for the recording.

Red Cross officials point out that record cutting sessions are private, so that families need feel no embarrassment over the personal nature of the message. A Red Cross worker prepares the recording machine before leaving the room and sets up a "playback" of the first side of the record before the second is made. Records are completely prepared for mailing while the family is present. A card is enclosed for the serviceman to give his reaction to the project and make any suggestions. Cards returned to the Red Cross last year were high in praise of the plan, Red Cross officials said.

The new Red Cross operations center near Buhr Park on Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, telephone 682-5546, will begin accepting appointments for the project this week.

Students Urged To Register For Merit Scholarship Tests

Charles Lane, Chelsea High school principal, has announced that all high school students who expect to graduate in 1965 and who wish to enter the 1964-65 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the high school office.

The National Merit Scholarship qualifying test will be given at Chelsea High school at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 10, 1964.

Students who will complete secondary school in 1965 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1964-65 Merit Program.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee on the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult the principal.

Awards in the Merit Program are granted on the basis of intellectual ability, but student financial needs determine the amount of individual stipends. The stipends are renewable each year without further testing.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college. It is pointed out.

After the test, each participating student receives a "Handbook for Merit Program Participants," prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency. The handbook is designed to help students understand their individual test results, to make comparisons with scores of high school students across the country, and to use this information in making educational and vocational plans. Mrs. Principal Lane said, students can learn more about their educational strengths and weaknesses, whether or not they plan to attend college.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corp., approximately 175 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program. A considerable number of other scholarship agencies utilize the services of NMSC in awarding their scholarships.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corp. of New York. An additional Ford Foundation grant to extend the Merit Program through 1970 was announced in 1962.

In the period 1956-63, about 7,500 students have received Merit

Scholarship awards and thousands of other, high-scoring students have been assisted in obtaining financial aid from other sources.

4-H Club Enrollments Due By Friday, Nov. 15

Mrs. Lora Wise and Norman Brown, Washtenaw county 4-H agents, have announced that clubs throughout the county are to have their club enrollments in the office at Ann Arbor by Friday, Nov. 15, tomorrow.

For those who have never been in 4-H work, it is explained that 4-H serves youth—boys and girls—between the ages of 10 and 18, with a wide range in program available to any young person interested.

Those who wish further information may contact Mrs. Wise or Norman Brown at the Co-Operative Extension Service office at Ann Arbor or by calling NG 3-7511, Extension 227.

MENTAL HEALTH BILL

Congress has passed a bill authorizing use of federal funds to assist in the fight against mental illness and retardation.

The key-section of the bill allows use of $150,000,000 in federal funds to assist in the construction of community treatment centers. Other appropriations include $120,000,000 for research and $50,000,000 for training teachers who will instruct mentally retarded and other handicapped youngsters in special schools.

St. Paul's Pastor Attending Meet of United Church Board

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, is in Miami, Fla., this week attending the 154th annual meeting of the United Church Board for World Ministries. He is one of five pastors in Michigan who are at the meeting as delegates or associate delegates. The Rev. Schnake is one of the official delegates.

There are also five lay delegates from Michigan among the 275 officially named from throughout the United States.

The meeting, being held at the Plymouth Congregational church at Miami, opened Tuesday afternoon and closes at noon today (Thursday).

The Board for World Ministries is the overseas arm of the United Church of Christ, a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and Congregational Christian Churches. Its corporate members comprise a corporation organized in 1810 as the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, the first foreign missionary society in America.

Following the union of the Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed churches in 1957, the overseas mission and service agencies of the two denominations became a part of the new Board for World Ministries. The two mission boards were the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches, and the Board of International Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Major addresses were given at the opening session Tuesday by the Rev. Dr. Ben Mohr Herberst, president of the 2,000,000-member

Sheriff's October Report Shows 187 Arrests Made

As released this week by Washtenaw County Sheriff George A. Petersen, the sheriff's Department official report of activities during the month of October shows that a total of 1,054 complaints were answered during the month and that a total of 181 arrests were made, 101 warrants closed and 504 civil papers served during that period.

The traffic division report showed that a total of 128 accidents were investigated and of this number, 80 were property damage, 46 were personal injury with 53 persons injured. There were no fatal accidents in the month of October—among those investigated by the Sheriff's Department in the county area outside of the cities and villages—local police are in charge of the investigations and reports of accidents occurring within the city and village limits.
