Enroll in Classes for Guitar, Banjo

Approximately 40 people are enrolled in guitar and banjo classes sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Commission and held Wednesday evenings at the Junior High School. Included are persons of all ages through adult age. There are four separate sessions, half-hour each—for beginning, intermediate banjo and beginning and intermediate guitar.

David of Ann Arbor is the instructor. The Recreation Commission is working on the proposed auto mechanics and ham radio courses to set up a schedule as early as possible for those registered for these courses.

The men's physical fitness class is underway on schedule Thursday, Nov. 14, at the Chelsea High School gymnasium with Jack Curd supervisor. Fifteen men signed for the two-hour class—7:30-9:30 p.m.—and indications are that the number will be increased at the next session.

The seventh and eighth grade recreational basketball basketball, Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Junior High gymnasium; however, attendance was light because of the activities that day and because the time set was believed to be too early. The group will meet at 10 a.m., an hour later originally set. James Bedford is the supervisor for this age group. The fee is 50 cents for the week program.

Other groups meeting include following: High school age boys' recreation, basketball, Saturday, 1 to 3 p.m. at Junior High school gymnasium. Supervisor: Fred Mills. Fee, 50 cents for 12-week course.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade recreational basketball, Saturday, Nov. 23, 9 to 11 a.m., at Junior High school gymnasium. Supervisor: Terry Pokela. Fee 50 cents for 12-week course.

Friends of Library: All Meeting Set Sunday Afternoon. Mark Merkel, Chelsea Friends of Library president, is inviting area persons interested in the library's public library—Memorial Library—to attend a full meeting of the Friends of the Library group to be held at the library at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 24.

Friends of the Library organization in all communities are expected to be present. The group of citizens of all ages is interested in the promotion of the library. They emphasize that a library, as the one in Chelsea, is one of the most important resources in a community for the cultural enrichment, not only of its young people but of all age groups; it is a distinct asset to the community as such should have the best support of all its citizens.

The meeting was set for Sunday afternoon in order that more people would be free to attend. Refreshments will be served during a social hour at the meeting.

Christmas Club Members Receive $56,500 from Bank

Area residents received a total of $56,500 yesterday and today for their Christmas shopping. The amount was mailed out yesterday by Chelsea State Bank to the 469 members of its 1963 Christmas Savings Club.

The amount would average $120.50 per member; however, depending on the amount deposited at regular intervals during the past year, the individual checks range from $25 to $1,000.

This year's Christmas club savings showed an increase of $4,000 over last year's $51,900, distributed at the end of November, 1962.

School Board Briefs

At the November meeting of the Chelsea School District Board of Education, Robert Foster reported on a meeting of the Washtenaw School Officers Association meeting he attended. The meeting pertained to a community College study. He said a meeting for all has been set for Monday, Dec. 2, at the Ann Arbor High School's Little Theatre. Anyone interested in obtaining information about the much-discussed proposed Washtenaw County Community College project is welcome to attend.

The Athletic Board budget was reviewed at Tuesday's meeting.

Approval was given for the purchase of a Christmas tree for each school.

Mr. Clare Warren, who represented the board at a Teachers Club meeting, gave his report.

Arthur Kuhl, chairman of the board's building and grounds committee has planned an all-day tour of all Chelsea's school facilities; however, the date has not yet been announced.

A special meeting of the board's future planning and curriculum committee was announced for Tuesday evening, Nov. 26.

Announcement was made that the board is planning another Citizens Committee meeting to discuss data on future planning. The meeting will be open to the public as an informational project.

Gary Jackson, Chelsea High School agriculture teacher, presented a request that an advisory council for agricultural education be formed. The board gave its approval and details of the council's formation were assigned to the board's curriculum committee.

A proposal to add wrestling to the athletic program at the school, which failed to win approval at the October School Board meeting, was reconsidered and approved at Tuesday's meeting for implementation in the 1963-64 program on the basis of no cost this year to the Board of Education. The Athletic Board is to pay all costs of this year's wrestling program. This includes all necessary equipment and providing a coach. Costs will (Continued on page three)

FLORENCE HOWLETT MEMORIAL BUILDING is now appropriately designated for all to see as they travel Chelsea-Dexter Rd. Purchase of the building, which houses Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery, was financed with contributions to a fund started with a substantial donation by Donald Baron in honor of Mrs. Howlett, a Chelsea school teacher for 30 years before her retirement in 1932. Now 95 years old, she is a patient at Colonial Manor Nursing Home, Chelsea.

Funds Secured To Complete Purchase of Nursery School

Announcement was made this week that the drive for funds to complete payment of the $2,500 purchase price of the former Beach rural school by Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery is now completed. The past week-end a sign designating the structure as Florence Howlett Memorial Building was installed across the front.

The idea for the memorial fund honoring Mrs. Howlett in recognition of her many years as a Chelsea school teacher was suggested by Donald Baron who made the first contribution. A building for use as a nursery school was deemed most appropriate to honor Mrs. Howlett.

Mrs. Howlett, who is 95 years old, is now a patient at Colonial Manor Nursing Home in Chelsea. She retired in 1932 after 30 years of teaching in Chelsea schools.

A total of $1,470 was received from friends and former students of Mrs. Howlett and from some who are particularly interested in the nursery, itself. The balance of $1,030 was paid from the general nursery fund.

The names of all contributors to the fund are to be engraved on a plaque which is to be placed in the building.

The committees in charge of the fund drive went on record with a note of thanks to all who spent time and effort on the campaign with "special thanks to Charlie and Martha Powers for their patience and help." The building was published as contributors to the campaign fund the Chelsea group listed the following: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gaunt, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Tupper, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Burg, II, Florence Boyce, Mrs. William Steinman, Wallace J. Fisk, Miss Nina Belle Wurster, Roy Ives, Wirt Ives, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steinbach.

The list continues with Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Moroney, James C. Potts, Mrs. H. C. Schneider, Mrs. Clair Smith, Lillian Gerard Hopp, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Boehler, Gladys Feldcamp, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foreman, Leon L. Butler, Dr. and Mrs. Clare Warren and Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffmeyer.

It is particularly appropriate to have the campaign for funds concluded at this time when, in observance of National Education Week, the co-operative nurseries of the Washtenaw county area point out the advantages of Nursery schools for pre-school children. Twelve co-operative nurseries for children three and four years old are now in operation. They are non-profit organizations and tuition are on a semester basis which is usually 16 weeks long and coincides with the regular school year. Each school is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Welfare, meeting state regulations concerning teachers, health and housing.

Ann Arbor can claim to have one of the oldest co-operatives in the state. Its first nursery, the Ann Arbor Nursery, Inc., was organized in 1938. It was an outgrowth of a child study class offered by the University of Michigan Extension Service and was organized under the leadership of Marian Barclay, who is now an outstanding educator in the state. It is pointed out that Co-Operative Nursery schools are not just a baby-sitting service. They provide supervised play situations which are geared to encourage the mental, physical and social growth of the individual pre-school child. Each mother must be willing to assist the teacher at a certain number of school sessions where they observe child behavior and development in the group work. They also must attend education programs and meetings to discuss and organize the maintenance of the nursery.

Many nurseries have a fathers' work night to help make and paint equipment and furniture. They sometimes act as financial and legal advisors. They are encouraged to attend the Parent Education meetings where child development and problems of pre-schoolers are discussed.

Community Chest Board Preparing Complete Report

Thomas McClear and Arden Musbach, co-chairmen of the Chelsea Community Chest campaign, said yesterday that a complete report of the campaign was to be prepared after a board meeting scheduled to be held last night.

There was still some follow-up work to be completed before the final report could be compiled.

Kiwanis Club Will Host Farmers

Penny Eisenbeiser, who attended Interlochen Music Camp last summer on a Kiwanis scholarship, and Lynn Harvey, who attended Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State University, East Lansing, in June, were guests of the Kiwanis club at Monday's regular dinner meeting. Both gave reports, described by Kiwanians as "very fine," relating their experiences.

Two members of the Kiwanis-sponsored Key club for high school boys are guests at each Kiwanis meeting, those attending Monday being Victor Parks who was introduced by Paul K. Schaeffer, Jr., and Douglas Sprague, introduced by Louis Allen.

Robert Foster, who is chairman of the annual ladies' night Christmas party, announced that the event will take place Monday, Dec. 9, at Jackson.

Kiwanis President-Elect Wallace Wood announced that a divisional leaders' training meeting is to be held at Romulus today, beginning at 3 p.m.

Next week's Kiwanis club meeting is the annual Farmers' Night when area farmers will be guests. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be held in the social center of the Methodist church, regular meeting place of Kiwanians. Guest speaker is to be Van Coevering of Detroit, writer on conservation and nature topics.

Keep Salt Off All New Sidewalks

Any Chelsea residents who have had new sidewalk installed this past year in front of their homes are requested by the Department of Public Works NOT to put salt on it. Salt penetrates the cement and permits water to seep into it. When extreme cold weather comes the moisture freezes and cracks the top or causes pock marks.

There are many chemicals on the market which are safe for ice removal; however, sand serves the purpose.

It is important to remember that salt must not be used on cement walks until the cement has had sufficient time to cure—at least 18 months or two years.

Thanksgiving Eve Service Planned By Area Churches

Chelsea area churches are planning a community Thanksgiving Eve service which will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m., at the Methodist church. Details of the service will be announced in next week's issue of The Standard which will be distributed on Wednesday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Need Early Copy For Next Week

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, The Standard will be printed early for distribution on Wednesday of next week.

For this reason, all news copy should be in our office by 5 p.m. Monday.

Advertising copy must be submitted before 12 noon on Monday.

Co-operation in helping us meet these deadlines will be much appreciated.

Postmaster Urges Early Holiday Mail

"Mail early and often!" said Postmaster Carl Mayer as he announced his 1963 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign today.

The Postmaster urges residents to get their Christmas card and gift lists up-to-date to be sure each address includes full name, street and number, city, state and zone or zip code number. The postmaster adds, "Good preparation is half the battle. Let's all work together to get every gift and Christmas card delivered by Christmas Eve."

Postmaster Mayer says it is best to use the colorful new five-cent Christmas tree stamp on cards and letters. Sent by first class mail, the cards may carry written messages and will be returned to sender without cost, if necessary, providing the return name, address and zip code number are put on the envelopes. Also, they will enjoy priority of dispatch and delivery, plus forwarding if needed. "Use the handy 'Local' and 'Out Of Town' labels which may be secured from the Post Office or the letter carrier to separate Christmas cards into bundles that will expedite handling," the postmaster advises.

Postmaster Mayer predicts that 1963 will break all records for Christmas mail. "Early mailing is imperative," he added, if gifts and cards are to arrive before Christmas. Mail for distant points should be sent by Dec. 10 and gifts and cards for nearby addresses should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Architect Urges Community Plan At C. of C. Meet

A. James Smith of Tecumseh, who is the architect for the new St. Paul's church construction, was the guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Congregational church.

He discussed future community planning which he recommended for Chelsea, particularly in the downtown area and in the industrial field.

He described the 20-year plan of community development which is currently in effect in Tecumseh; he said, to be effective, the future planning for improvement should be a concerted community effort—that spotty individual efforts will not fill the need.

Smith suggested that a civic group, such as the Chamber of Commerce, for instance, should assume responsibility for promoting the plan.

Clarence Pendley, owner of the new Western Auto store, was a guest at Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fink of Rives, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beutler.

Special Bargains Being Offered Early Shoppers

Chelsea merchants are featuring a "Christmas Preview" sale this week-end and many are advertising special, outstanding bargains for the event.

The downtown area already presents a holiday appearance with overhead street decorations in place.

The "Christmas Preview" sale precedes the first Chelsea visit of Santa Claus by a week; Santa will make his first visit here the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

This week-end's sale event will give area shoppers a chance to see the many gift items already available in Chelsea stores in preparation for the Christmas shopping season.

Advertisements in this issue of The Standard list many suggestions for gift items at bargain prices and shoppers should be able to find a gift for everyone on their list in Chelsea store.

800 Buy Deer Licenses in Chelsea Area

Approximately 800 deer hunting licenses were sold in the Chelsea area for the 1963 hunting season, according to a check of five business places where they could be purchased.

At Merkel Brothers, the total sold was 280; at Gamble's, 250; at Chelsea Hardware, 130; at North Lake Store, 75; and at Cavanaugh Lake Store, 65.

It is likely that additional licenses will be sold before the close of the season, Nov. 30, according to dealers.

One dealer hazarded the guess that approximately one-quarter of the licenses went to hunters who stayed close to home to do their hunting; in fact, the only reports of hunters trying for the honor of the first to down a buck after the season opened came from the home town hunters. This was in contrast to custom a few years ago when hunters in the northern part of the state telephoned back home as soon as they were successful in getting a deer.

Donald Schneider, hunting on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider, 6600 Conway Rd., downed a 150-pound, 6-point buck at approximately 7:15 a.m. Friday.

Robert Koch, who lives on Scio Church Rd., who was hunting near Liebeck Rd. west of Chelsea, reported that he downed an 8-point buck weighing 180 pounds at 7:45 a.m. Friday and five minutes later, at 7:50 a.m., Olin Siegrist of 242 East Middle St. got a three-pointer weighing 158 pounds. Siegrist was hunting in the vicinity of Lehman Lake.

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer said yesterday that hunting pressure in this area has been very light since the season started.

Missionary Nurse from India To Speak at Congl. Church

Miss Ellen B. Lang, a missionary nurse in India for more than 30 years, will speak Friday, at 7:30 p.m., at the Congregational church. She is sponsored by the Women's Fellowship and the church Benevolence Committee and there will be a church pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m. for informal opportunity to get acquainted with her and for fellowship together.

Miss Lang, who serves in India under the United Church of Christ, is nursing superintendent of the 326-bed Christian Mission Hospital in Madurai. She supervises 40 nurses on the hospital staff and helps in the training of 60 student nurses in the hospital's nursing school.

A native of Australia, she is one of few nursing superintendents helping to operate a hospital as large as Christian Mission Hospital without the help of running hot water or a laundry.

The washing for the entire hospital is done, she explains, in large pots over fires built in the yard and is dried on trees and bushes. The rainy season complicates matters, she says, since then the laundry may not dry for days.

Another unusual feature of the hospital, according to Miss Lang, is that, in accordance with local custom, relatives and friends move right in with the patients. As a result, the wards are crowded, noisy and full of confusion.

During her present furlough in the United States, her first visit here, she is travelling extensively throughout the country in an effort to become acquainted with church life in America. She will return to India in the spring.

The United Church Board for World Ministries is the overseas agency of the United Church of Christ, a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and Congregational Christian churches.

Mrs. Laurene White is the contact person for Miss Lang and has made arrangements for her stay in Chelsea.

Miss Lang will be an overnight guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bernath.

Mrs. William Tite and Mrs. Robert Wagner are in charge of arrangements for the pot-luck supper.

Guests from St. Paul's church, the other United Church of Christ in Chelsea, are invited to attend the evening program and hear Miss Lang's presentation of "The Church at Work in India."

THANKSGIVING HELPERS—This group of 15, calling themselves "Club 15" because membership is limited to that number, visited the Chelsea Social Service center in the Municipal Building Tuesday, Nov. 12, to donate a collection of canned goods to be included in Thanksgiving meals for area needy families. All but one of the club members—Donna Reynolds—were present, together with adult leaders. In the front row, from left, are JoAnn Davis, Patty Wadsworth,

No Niche for Nitze in Post Of Defense Responsibilities

The improprieties of the recently-resigned Navy Secretary Fred Korth, whether or not they involved conflict of interest, and at whatever disadvantage to the taxpayer, appear insignificant when viewed against the background of Paul Nitze, former Assistant Secretary of Defense, who has been appointed to replace Korth as Secretary of the Navy.

The Nitze past, as resurrected by various investigators, would indicate that the Pentagon is no proper place for this former State Department official who served under Secretary Herter in the Eisenhower Administration.

Five years ago, in November 1958, Congressional sleuths discovered, Nitze was chairman of a world order study conference section of the National Council of Churches which recommended (1) Seating Red China in the UN; (2) Urging Chiang Kai-shek to give up Quemoy and Matsu, and (3) Requesting the U. S. to hand over its armed forces to the U.N.

Dr. Charles Callan Tansill, the distinguished historian, teacher and author, notes that in a seminar paper presented at Monterey, Calif., April 28, 1960, "Mr. Nitze expressed the opinion that the United States could never hope to attain a position of nuclear superiority over the Soviets. After this defeatist statement, he proposed that the American government should take a series of 'uni-lateral actions designed to produce a reciprocal action on the part of our Allies and also on the part of our enemies'. The U. S. should then go further into this suicidal program and scrap its missile and bomber bases and place its Strategic Air Command under NATO control. Finally, we should inform the U.N. that NATO will turn over ultimate power of decision on the use of these military systems to the General Assembly of the U.N.

"To many loyal Americans in the spring of 1960," continues Dr. Tansill, "these radical proposals of Nitze bespoke a strong ring of treason. Many thanked God for the coming change in the national administration... but they were naive. As soon as Mr. Kennedy assumed the office of President, he immediately placed Mr. Nitze in the position of Assistant Secretary of Defense. The man who had strongly argued for the destruction of our armed forces was the very man selected by the new President for a key position in the Defense Department. His dangerous proposals were adopted by our Chief Executive as an important part of his own disarmament program."

This program, with the Nitze ideas "rephrased a bit," was presented to the U.N. General Assembly on Sept. 26, 1961. You can read it for yourself in the infamous "State Department Publication 7277"—if you can find a copy.

Korth, whatever his misdeeds, believed that the U. S. Navy should be prepared to defend the United States and to battle with its enemies if necessary.

Farnum Is Making Progress

In this day of prolific government spending and increased budgets for the many departments, we had an interesting and unusual experience last week.

We are referring specifically to a committee conference with Michigan's Auditor General, Billie S. Farnum.

It was a refreshing change to find a public official who was well-informed on the many details of an office handling a multitude of diverse jobs. Here is an elected servant of the people who has not been content to let his office continue doing business as usual simply because it has "always been done that way." He has instituted many major reforms in accounting and auditing practices within the office which will save Michigan residents thousands of dollars each year—and provide closer control over expenditures of other state and local agencies to effect still greater economies.

It seems difficult for us to think of Farnum in terms of political affiliation. He is, in our estimation, more of an auditor general than either Democrat or Republican and we wish him well in his attempts to gain further reforms in his office. We need more elected officials who will dare to improve and streamline their office procedures such as Billie Farnum is doing.

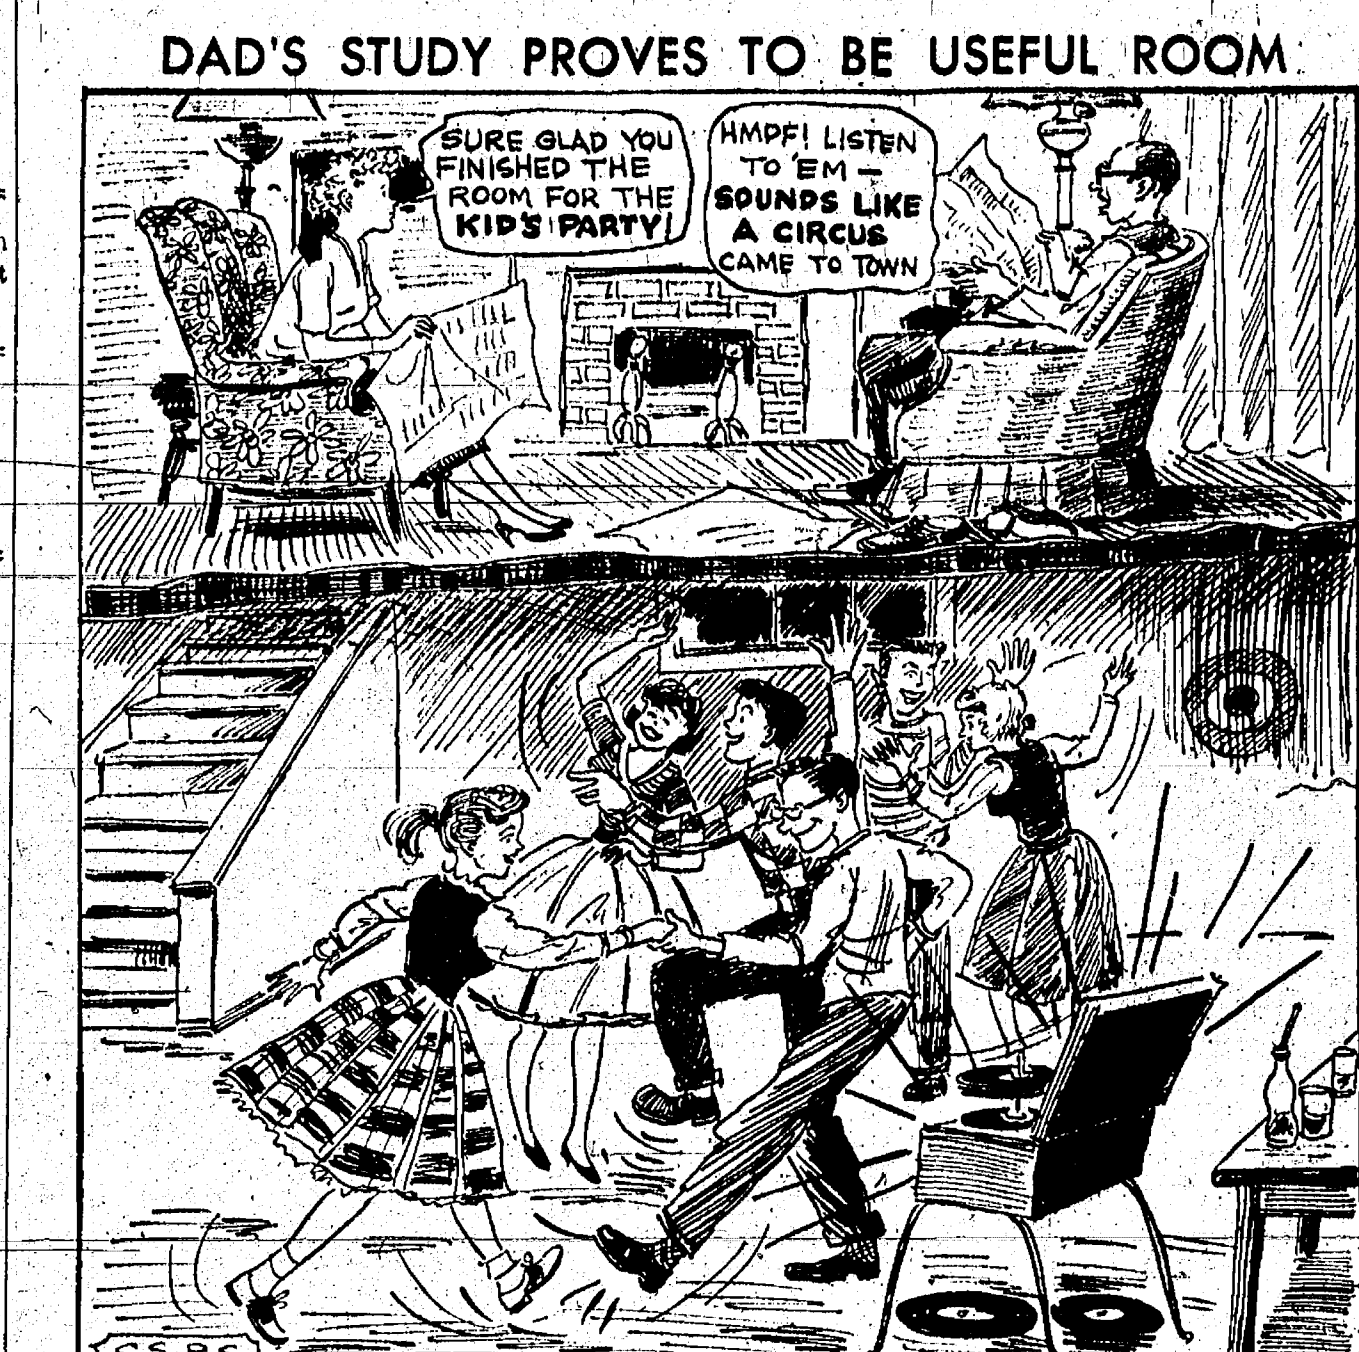

STRIKES A TIME

Pensacola, Fla. — Lightning strikes more than once in the same spot according to Mrs. Paul King and she has the proof. Lightning struck the vacuum cleaner but did no damage. A short time later the electric fan was struck and showered a few sparks. A third bolt struck a pine tree not full of bean soup, rye, a hole in the bottom of the pot and spat-tered soup all over the kitchen.

ARMLESS GIRL HAPPY

Schroon Lake, N. Y. — Losing her arms at the age of 2 when she wandered onto a railroad track in front of a freight train, Carol Woodward, 10, is happy and busy planning her future. She is able to ride a bicycle by using her plastic arms and plans to work in an office when she finishes school. She is looking forward to getting married and having a home someday.

Tax Fight Continues

A game of cat and mouse is in full swing in the legislature. Hopes of major fiscal reform being accomplished in the current special session began to slip down the drain when the Senate leaders failed to muster enough votes.

First they couldn't get the Governor's income tax bill, which was the core of his program; out of the Senate Appropriations Committee. Then they didn't come close to having enough votes on the floor to substitute the administration's income tax proposal for another which was already on the daily calendar.

These crucial votes broke ground for burial of the reform program.

Gov. George Romney is not a quitter, however, and would not admit this meant defeat.

His aides, several of whom are politically wiser than he, also advised against giving up at that point.

It would be much better if blame for failure of the program was placed on the other side, rather than having it be said in the future that the Governor was unable to get Republican legislators behind him.

Democrats, on the other hand, don't want it to look like they don't want major fiscal reform. This would be contrary to the stand they were on record with under previous administrations.

They also did not want to give Romney his program on a silver platter for future campaign reference. The only possible route for Democrats was to find several spots in the Romney program to claim the entire proposal was unacceptable.

Which party is the cat and which the mouse will not be determined until the Governor and legislators return to the campaign job ahead in 1964.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I reckon it's natural for a feller that's getting old and coming down to the sunset of his days to ponder over the future with one eye on the past and not get too excited over neither one. When a man is approaching the 3-score-and-10 marker he sorter takes over day as it comes. As a general rule, that ain't true of his old lady. She goes to bed ever night knowing tomorrow will be better. But the wimmen folks ain't very practical in these matters.

What brings this to mind was a piece I was reading yesterday from the U. S. Department of Agriculture where power vehicles has replaced 27 million horses and mules in the past 35 years. The piece went on to say this had "saved" 65 million acres of land that was needed in hay for these horses and mules.

You will recollect here awhile back that Senator Williams reported the Department of Agriculture spent $1.1 billion in tax money in 1962 to farmers for tak-

To Be Settled

Still ahead in the special session is the important implementation of the Constitution which takes effect Jan. 1.

Creation of an appellate court, just beneath the Supreme Court, and election of county officers loom as two of the more controversial areas of concern.

Much of the Constitution will not be fully implemented in the law until the regular 1974 session or thereafter. It would appear even these two controversial areas might wait until next year, but many members feel they should be taken care of now.

At issue on the appellate court legislation is the question of how justices will be elected. Some want the state broken down into three districts equal in population, with three justices to be elected at large from each district.

Others would like nine single-member districts formed to elect the justices.

Several legislators have their eyes on appellate court posts so there likely will be much in-fighting on this question.

The recommended change in the election law regarding county officials would give present officers a free two years in office.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley has said this is unconstitutional, but some members feel it was the intent of the Constitutional Convention delegates to have county officers run in a non-presidential election year.

The language in the new Constitution does not specify that four-year terms for county officers will start in 1968, as language does for the Governor and other state officials.

It would appear a simple answer would be to have county officers run in 1964 for two-year terms and then in 1966 for the first four-year terms, but this would ing 54 million acres out of farm production. And on account of this being hard on the time and fertilizer business, the Government had to pay them boys 208 million.

We pick up 65 million hay acres and spend $1.1 billion getting 54 million acres of it took out of farm production.

Now I ain't hankering, Mister Editor, to go back to the old days when my Pa took us to preaching in a 2-horse surrey over roads that was knee-deep in mud. And I ain't about to swap pushing the started on my tractor for hitching a stubborn mule to a single tree and plow. But I'm just mentioning these figures to show how a old codger like me looks both ways.

Incidental, I'd feel better about them 65 million hay acres if the feller writing that piece hadn't called 'em "saved" acres. But, in a manner of speaking, I reckon they was saved—saved for the Soil Bank.

Talking about land, Ed Doolittle said he was over in another county the other day and saw a sign where a feller had it posted this way:

No Nothin
 No Fishin
 No Huntin

Ed allowed as how that was what he'd call a very unfriendly landowner.

Well, Mister Editor, the political fundings for 1964, both in the primaries and general election, is starting to rumble. For the next 12 months, to hear them candidates talk, they would be nothing too good for "the common man."

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew

give many counties the hated "bed sheet" ballots.

First in a complete series of freeway interchange numberings will be finished on one route next summer.

Using mileage numbers the department will install figures at each interchange on Interstate 94, the 225 mile route from New Buffalo to Detroit.

The mileage numbering system will be new to many drivers, since most states use a consecutive system. In 1-94, however, the interchange numbers will coincide with the mileage route markers on the side of the highway.

If the motorist is going to exit at Interchange 50 and is at Interchange 25, he knows he has 25 miles to go before his exit point and he can gauge his progress by the mileage markers.

Highway officials decided on this system largely because new exit-entrance ramps can be added as development requires without complicating the numbering system.

Department officials are fairly well convinced this is the best system for Michigan. It could also be used if designations on maps were desired for roadside rest areas and other facilities, they note.

The final decision, however, will largely depend on motorist reaction during approximately one year before any further numbering signs are installed on other freeways.

Chelsea Has $5,631 Share in Vehicle Fund Distribution

Lansing — The State Highway Department has started distributing third quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said net receipts of the Highway Fund during July, August and September of 1968, amounted to $46,289,244, an increase of $1,798,892, or 4.4 percent, compared to the same period of 1967.

Washtenaw county's share totaled $286,098 while Chelsea received $5,631 and Dexter's share was $3,188.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provide that 47 percent go to the State Highway Department for use on state highways, 35 percent to the State's 83 counties for use on county roads and 18 percent to 515 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the State Highway Department will receive $21,755,040 as its share of the third quarter collections, while the counties will receive $16,201,235 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $8,332,064.

Get the 'Feel'

Lansing — Getting the "feel of the road" is important before you travel far on winter highways, declares the Michigan State-Highway Department.

Drive slowly and try your brakes when no other cars are near. This enables you to judge how slick the road surface is, and you will be better able to adjust your speed to compensate accordingly.

You can judge your friends by what they do rather than by what they say.

Thursday, Nov. 30, 1939—Another series of Official Agricultural School classes, which proved so popular with people of the rural districts last year, will be held at the Chelsea public school this winter, starting Dec. 7 in charge of Thomas Bust, professors from the Michigan State College Extension Department will be present at several meetings. The series will be concluded with a banquet, March 20. Miss Helen Louise Burg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Burg, became the bride of Thomas J. Guiray of Royal Oak at St. Mary's church this morning. The Rev. Fr. Lawrence Dorr read the marriage service. The bride's brother, Jerome, was one of the altar boys.

Merkel Brothers have moved a portion of their furniture stock to the building adjacent to their store, formerly occupied by the Princess Theatre. The building has been remodeled.

In the 24 Years Ago column (Dec. 2, 1915): Lyndon township was a pioneer in the organization of the Grange in Michigan, its Eureka Grange No. 2 being the second Grange formed in the state (Nov. 19, 1872). Lafayette Grange, No. 92, was organized Oct. 10, 1873.

CHEVROLET

Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?

Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear out over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheel-bases. Best riding truck, by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payload. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMPside. Nobody else makes a pickup exactly like this one with a ramp at the side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. Body and frame-floor assembly are very rigid because they are welded together. Has larger 95-hp air-cooled engine this year. Independent coil spring suspension all around.

EL CAMINO. If you want a pickup as good looking as any car on the road, this is the one! It can work hard, and look like a million dollars doing it—the only pickup in the world with Body by Fisher! You can order an El Camino as plain or as fancy as you wish: bucket seats, air conditioning, 4-speed transmission, power brakes are some of its extra-cost options.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldine Hawley of Jackson visited the former's mother, Mrs. Joseph Wright, on Sunday. Their son, Fred called on his grandmother one afternoon during the week.

Mrs. Gertrude McGinn, wife of Jack McGinn of Dexter, is being cared for by Mrs. Lee Ulrich at her home at 207 W. Middle St. Charles Wortley has returned home after being a patient for several weeks at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

On Saturday, Dr. L. J. Paul and his wife were in Jackson to act as judges at a stamp exhibit held at the Methodist church in the downtown area.

Mr. and Mrs. Flanders Peterson of Litchfield, Minn., spent last week here as guests of Mrs. Peterson's sister, Mrs. T. G. Riemen-schneider. On Monday she accompanied them when they returned home and she will spend some time visiting there.

Elton E. Eveningred of 525 Wilkinson St., will be observing his birthday, Nov. 28, on Thanksgiving day this year. He has lived here since September of last year and was sent by his church to Light-house Harbor, formerly known as Camp Keegan. In observance of his birthday week-end guests at the Eveningred home will be Mrs. R. O. Jenks of Petrolia, Ontario, Canada and Mrs. J. T. Walters of Komco.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

DEN 4—
Cub Scouts of Den 4 met Monday at the home of Mrs. Yvonne Jones. We opened our meeting with a flag ceremony. We made Thanksgiving trays for the Methodist Home.

We played a game, and learned a rope trick.

Treats were brought by Tommy Schittenhelm. All of the boys had a good time at the football game Saturday.

Larry Jones, scribe.

DEN 1X—
Cub Scouts of Den 1X met Nov. 12 at the Methodist church and made Indian drums with the help of Mrs. John Potts. Mrs. Harold Harrison and Ralph Frisick, Jr. Jeff Craig served cupcakes.

Saturday, Nov. 16, they went to the Michigan-Iowa football game at Ann Arbor.

S. R. Booker, past president of the School Board and currently serving as trustee, tendered his resignation because he is moving to Benford, S.C. Appointed to serve as trustee for the remainder of his term which expires July 1, was Robert K. Taylor.

Board President Luther Kusterer assigned Taylor to act on three committees on which Booker had served—future planning, finance and transportation.

President Kusterer appointed Donald Albor to serve as chairman of the future planning committee, replacing Booker.

Other business at the meeting was voting approval for payment of bills of the past month amounting to $12,799.80.

ON CAPITOL HILL
By Congressman George Meader

Last week the House Judiciary Committee voted 23 to 11 to report H.R. 7152, the so-called "compromise" Civil Rights bill.

Judiciary Subcommittee No. 5 of which I am a member, held 21 days of hearings May 9 to Aug. 21 on 172 civil rights bills. The testimony of 100 witnesses is contained in three volumes of printed hearings containing 2,644 pages. In 17 executive sessions, the Subcommittee analyzed and modified the bill page by page and line by line. October 2, the bill was reported after several controversial provisions had been added.

The Judiciary Committee, consisting of 21 Democrats and 14 Republicans, then held six executive sessions on the bill, two days of which were devoted to the testimony of the Attorney General on the Subcommittee modifications. After adopting a modified version drafted outside the Committee on which no amendments were permitted, the Committee ordered the bill reported on October 29.

In a speech on the floor of the House I announced my position on this legislation as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the basic objective of civil rights legislation should be to exercise all legitimate federal power to carry out our constitutionally established national policy of non-discrimination, which Congress has failed to effectuate. It should be enacted by the 88th Congress.

"The bill should include voting, interstate travel, federal assistance programs, federal employment and contracts and, for enforcement of public policy in these fields, should employ tried and established sanctions.

"The bill should initiate the dissolution of our federal system, in proceedings against citizens by the federal government, strip them of protections against tyrannical behavior guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

"These objectives can be attained."

This legislation is by far the most difficult, explosive and far-reaching to be considered in recent years.

Let us hope the Congress will produce a workable, effective law which will contribute to progress in the civil rights field without dangerously weakening the checks and balances of our unique federal system of impairing the liberties of the American people.

You have a right to your own life if you have the courage to live it.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

The defeat of fiscal reform in the special legislative session which ended last week was a defeat for all of the people of Michigan.

My personal concern about the inadequacy and unfairness of our existing tax structure goes back at least six years, and is one fundamental reason why I became involved in politics.

Citizens for Michigan was organized back in 1958 to do something about correcting Michigan's tax structure. The Citizens for Michigan tax study is only one of a dozen or so in recent years that reached the same conclusions:

1. Michigan's tax structure must be corrected because it forces families of low income to bear a disproportionately heavy burden of the state's tax load.

2. Michigan's tax structure must be corrected because it places Michigan business at a competitive disadvantage with business in other states and thus discourages economic expansion and job creation.

3. Michigan's tax structure must be corrected because it places local government in a financial strait-jacket.

Steps taken by recent legislatures to meet immediate fiscal crises have only made these deficiencies worse.

No flood of partisan charges, no boom times and treasury surpluses, no rationalization and false justifications can make our basic tax structure better. The only way to improve it is to change it.

Several things are clear about the defeat of the tax program:

1. Tax reform failed because of bipartisan opposition. Both parties must share the blame. If all Republicans had backed tax reform, it would have been adopted. Or if Democrats had continued to vote for the principles and even the details of tax reform they have supported in the past, then we would have tax reform.

2. There was more Republican support than ever before for basic tax reform. A majority of both Republican caucuses favored the tax reform program before the Legislature.

3. More citizens and organizations than ever before responded to the call for support. There has been more general support for tax reform this year than at any time during the six years I have been actively engaged in the effort to straighten out Michigan's tax structure.

4. Legislators, citizens and organizations who have supported tax reform deserve the highest amount of credit for their stands.

I recognize fully that nothing dulls the urgency for tax change as much as a bulging treasury. I commend those who have supported tax reform with actions and not just words.

5. It is obvious that somehow all these efforts were not enough. Although the best possible time for action is now while we do not face a crisis, tax reform is not to be at this time.

Michigan's fiscal problems are not solved. They are latent, and they will rise again.

I hope with all my heart that the time for needed change will present itself again before the floodgates of crisis open up.

I predict that the people of Michigan will remember the defeat of the program and soon demand constructive action to assure the future of our state. Michigan cannot continue to ignore the necessity of a just, job-producing program of tax action.

BIBLE VERSE TO STUDY.

"All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all."

1. To whom did the above words apply?

2. Who is the author of these words?

3. Who is the sin-bearer to whom the writer refers?

4. Where may these words be found?

More Donors Needed for U-M Eye Collection Center

Ann Arbor — For each of the Michigan Eye Collection Center's 8,000 donors at least three more are needed to ensure a steady supply of eye material for the state's sight-saving operation, says Dr. John Henderson, University of Michigan ophthalmologist and medical director of the Eye Bank.

A recent law passed by the state legislature provides for a simple procedure for donating one's eyes. Donor cards may be signed, witnessed by two persons and mailed directly to the Michigan Eye Collection Center. The law applies to the donation of other parts of the anatomy as well.

Since time is extremely important in the Eye Bank operation, the former requirement that the donor's statement be processed by the probate court was impractical.

A donor's eyes must be removed within two hours after death and used in a transplant within two days.

"This bill, having been passed, now makes it possible for anyone to donate to medical science ... by merely carrying a release card in his pocket," Dr. Henderson notes.

The Michigan Eye Collection Center is a joint project between the Lions Clubs of Michigan and the University of Michigan Hospital. There are 25 sub-stations throughout the state, each supported by an individual Lions Club.

The idea for a state eye bank grew out of the need for healthy corneal material to be used by the ophthalmology department of the U-M Medical Center for transplants. In September, 1957, the Eye Bank Office was officially opened at the hospital.

Eyes from any person of any age can be used in sight-saving operations. Even those who have had cataract operations or corneal transplants. Eyes from those who wear glasses can be used as well as those with 20/20 vision.

Modern surgery has a variety of ways to restore sight. In the "corneal transplant operation," the healthy cornea from a donated eye replaces the scarred or diseased cornea of a blind person.

Surgeons are also able to repair the white of the eye by using fresh white matter, or sclera, from a donated eye.

In Michigan approximately 25 persons are now awaiting operations which cannot take place until eyes are available.

Eight Washtenaw 4-H Members Leave Nov. 28 For Week-end in Chicago

Eight Washtenaw county 4-H club members will leave Thursday morning, Nov. 28, by train for a week-end in Chicago. The trip is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis club as part of the 4-H awards program. These young people were selected for the outstanding work they have done in 4-H.

The group includes Grace Kushman and Lynn Harvey of Chelsea; Thalia Johnson and Jackie Steers of Dexter; Cheryl Henes, Elaine Schable and Elaine Dieterle, Salline; and Chuck Avis of Ann Arbor.

The group will spend four days in Chicago touring the city, visiting museums, seeing a stage show, and attending the International Livestock Exposition and Horse Show. They will return to Ann Arbor Sunday night, Dec. 1. Norman A. Brown, Washtenaw County Extension Agent, 4-H and Mrs. Brown will accompany the group.

Tourist Council Offering Free Winter Sports Map

Lansing — The booming interest in Michigan's winter sports is reflected in the increase in the number of facilities listed in the 1968-69 Ski Map and Winter Sports Guide just published by the Michigan Tourist Council.

A record 86 Michigan winter sports centers—more than any other state in the nation—are pinpointed on the green and white map. Coded symbols on the map denote what facilities individual areas offer for skiing, tobogganing or both.

References in the guide furnish information on location, types of facilities, available, meals, accommodations and other items of interest to winter sports enthusiasts.

An added feature this year is the inclusion of telephone numbers for each winter sports center for the convenience of those who wish to make advance reservations or who seek additional information.

Free copies of the 1968 Ski Map and Winter Sports Guide are available from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

Diabetes Deaths Hit All-Time High During Last Year

Lansing — Deaths from diabetes reached an all-time high of 1,908 last year in Michigan according to the Michigan Department of Health.

"Many of these deaths could have been prevented had the disease been discovered at an early stage when it is most easily controlled," said Dr. John A. Cowan, director of adult health for the state health department. "Although there is no 'cure' for diabetes at present, with proper medical supervision, diet, and insulin or drug therapy, most diabetes can live normal lives and have a life expectancy practically as long as anyone else," he said.

It is estimated that more than 50,000 people in Michigan have diabetes, but only about half of them are aware that they have the disease. The previous record of diabetes deaths was 1,884 in 1949.

In an attempt to help find diabetes in early stages, diabetes screening programs were expanded last year. With the help of the Michigan Diabetes Association and local groups the health department reports that more than 100,000 persons were tested throughout the state and at least 600 were newly diagnosed as having diabetes by private physicians to whom they were referred on the basis of positive blood tests.

October Traffic Death Toll Shows Reduction from '62

October traffic accidents killed 147 persons in Michigan, 24 or 14 percent less than 171 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

The toll was the same as the average for the month for the five years of 1958-62, and 11 less than the average of 158 in the 10 years of 1953-62.

Meanwhile, final figures for September showed 168 persons killed and 10,177 injured in 19,360 accidents. Compared with the same month a year ago, deaths were down two, or one percent, injuries increased 898, or 10 percent, and accidents were up 1,390, or eight percent.

September's slight reduction in deaths ended eight months in a row of increased compared with the same months in 1962 but injuries were up for the twenty-second consecutive month and accidents increased for the twenty-first in the last 22 months.

The accumulated record for the first nine months showed 1,303 persons killed and 87,282 injured in 179,941 accidents, increased respectively of 11, 17 and 11 percent over the same period a year ago.

Estimated mileage for the first eight months, the latest information available, totaled 23.6 billion, an increase of six percent over the corresponding 1962 period, while the death rate of 4.9 per 100 million vehicle miles was up nine percent.

Mrs. George Wallace (Coralee) of Chelsea, who is an English teacher at Grass Lake High school, is directing the high school's senior class play which is being presented at the Michigan Avenue school tomorrow evening (Friday). Title of the play is "The Diary of Anne Frank," the lead role being assigned to Sandra Nissen.

S. E. Michigan Science Fair Slated April 10-12 at U-M

The sixth annual Southeastern Michigan Science Fair has been set for April 10-12, the Fair's coordinating office has announced.

Open to high school and junior high school students in six nearby counties, the Fair will take place in the Intramural Sports Building at the University of Michigan.

The ingenuity of budding scientists in schools in Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties will be exhibited at the event, according to Prof. Kent Leach, director of the U-M Bureau of School Services.

At the fifth annual fair last year, 259 students displayed projects, nearly double the number at the first fair in 1950.

The fair is sponsored by three organizations: the Ann Arbor Exchange Club, the Ann Arbor News, and the University. It is supported entirely by contributions raised by Exchange Club members from business and industry in the area.

More than $1,000 in prizes will be awarded to the competing students. Top prize includes an expense-paid trip for the top boy and girl winner to the National Science Fair in Baltimore, Md., on May 6-9.

Other prizes include scholarships, encyclopedias, cash awards, scientific books and equipment, medals, ribbons and certificates, Prof. Leach noted.

Top winners who made the trip to the National Fair last year were Mark Bertoni, a sophomore at St. Thomas High school, Ann Arbor, and Ellen Shipley, senior at St. Joseph Academy, Adrian.

Two years ago, local winners scored highly at the National Science Fair in Seattle. Leonard Joeris of Ann Arbor High school won top prize in the physics division, and Mary Helen, Sherbourne of St. Thomas High school in Ann Arbor was fourth in her chemistry division.

Prof. Leach emphasized that only one exhibit may be entered by each student, with no group projects permitted, and that live animals cannot be exhibited.

New Lactation Average Told for Macomber Herd

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced a new lactation average for the registered Holstein herd of George Macomber & Sons, Ann Arbor, which has 26 completed production records averaging 15,087 lbs. of milk and 559 lbs. of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly-employed two-milkings a day, 206 days, mature equivalent basis. This provides a basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

Acne Treatment Tailormade For Each Patient Says Doctor

Ann Arbor — The treatment of acne is usually tailormade for each individual patient, because there is no universal cure, says a dermatologist at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

In a report to the annual Colloquium medical meeting, Dr. A. C. Curtis urges physicians not to belittle acne "as just part of the growing-up process."

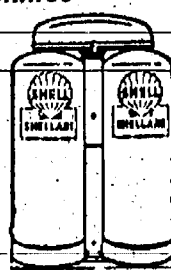

He says there are at least four major gradations of the disease, ranging from simple blackheads to widespread skin infections and scarring.

"Acne usually occurs during adolescence, an age when the individual's personal appearance is of utmost importance, and it can have a shattering effect on his efforts toward personal and social adjustment," Dr. Curtis explains. "Often he needs every medical aid we can give him."

Medical treatment for acne varies greatly among different patients, said the U-M doctor. Among the methods which may be prescribed to control certain types of the disorder are: frequent washing with soap and water; medicinally drying the skin with lotions of sulfur and other chemical agents; the use of antibiotics; hot compresses of sulfurated solutions; and physical removal of the lesions by incision and drainage.

Other methods sometimes employed involve hormone therapy, special diets, antibacterial controls and physical therapy, he reported.

Farm Fella! City Fella!
From origins unknown, these two phrases became part of the American idiom years ago. Their reason for being most likely evolved from the need in day-by-day communications to differentiate people on the basis of culture and geography.

These differences have in great part ceased to be significant, except as material for writers of modern-day comedy sketches. Particularly in the matter of culture, the urbanite from his rural cousin by speech, education, taste in dress, or manner of living.

And today many city dwellers are week-end farmers, while those who normally earn their livelihood as tillers of the soil move easily within city circles for visits, for shopping, and cultural activities.

More important, the traditionally independent farmer and the city worker do not differ in their desire to become as economically independent as possible during their later years. In fact they share—along with thousands of other groups who comprise our U.S. economy—the same goal in this respect.

And probably the most common part of each of their plans for future years is social security.

Today, nine out of ten American workers and their families, in the cities and on the farm, are covered by the social security law.

Basically, the law provides benefits to workers and their families as a partial replacement of earnings lost through the retirement, disability, or death of the breadwinner.

There is no special social security program for farm people. Nor is there a separate one for urban people.

Social security benefits are related to a working person's earnings, regardless of whether he is working in a city job or business, or on a farm. Entitlement to benefits is an earned right and does not depend on need.

The hired worker on the farm and the wage-earner in the city both earn their social security protection by working and paying tax contributions out of their wages. These earnings are reported by their employers, and entered on each employee's social security record.

The employer matches the worker's contributions with an equal amount.

By filing a report with the Internal Revenue Service each year and paying the social security tax, the self-employed businessman or farmer receives his social security credit.

When the social security law was passed in 1935, only industrial and commercial workers came under its provisions. The farmer was included later.

Regularly employed farm workers were brought under the law starting with 1951; self-employed farmers and many more farm employees started earning social security credit beginning with 1955.

Today, however, practically all people who farm for a living are building old-age, survivors, and disability insurance for themselves and their families.

When the United States was a vast frontier and the economy was predominantly agricultural, there was an early form of "social security." By making available up to 160 acres of free land to any person who wanted to become a farmer, the government encouraged Americans to provide their own security achieved from the rewards of hard work and the development of a rapidly growing nation's rich natural resources.

These rewards stemmed from earnings realized over a period of years—an earned right. And so it is today with the social security program, which relates benefits to earnings.

Although the social security benefits are designed to replace earnings which have been lost, the program does not require an older person to retire completely in order to collect benefits.

Under the law, a person who is otherwise eligible for retirement benefits gets all his benefits if his earnings for the year are $1,200 or less.

For every two dollars between $1,200 and $1,700 that he earns he gives up only one dollar in social security benefits. For every dollar over $1,700 that he earns in a year, he loses a dollar in social security benefits. But, regardless of how much he earns, he will be paid his full benefit for any month in which he neither earns wages of more than $100 nor is active in a business of his own.

And beginning with the month of his 72nd birthday, he will receive all his benefits whether or not he continues working for more than $1,200 a year. Each month approximately 19 million people receive more than one billion dollars in social security benefits—payments which are directly related to the working person's earnings.

Farm Fella! City Fella! The regular flow of month social security benefits into his area increases the purchasing power of many groups: aged retired people; disabled people, and their dependents; dependent survivors of people who have died.

The result is that social security builds a stronger economic health in the community.

Free Publication Explains Michigan Drain Laws

Are you one of those farmers who has often thought about draining that 10 acres of muckland and cashing in on some of the benefits of muck farming?

Or maybe your land is so dry, you're worried about doing any farming at all.

There is one thing two farmers in these situations have in common—water. Both involve manipulating the natural water supply so the individual would benefit.

One or both of these farmers is probably thinking of doing something about their water problem. But in either case, it is not just the problem of constructing a dam for irrigation or digging a drain to clear the muckland.

The farmer has to worry about how it will affect his neighbors, unless he doesn't have any neighbors, which is unlikely. Will damming a stream or drain down on your neighbor? Will you have to cross his land or drain his muckland to drain your own?

The Michigan Drain Code and Michigan Courts have accepted the general rule of natural flow of waters. Generally, landowners cannot artificially concentrate or increase the velocity of these waters.

This legal aspect makes draining or manning more than an individual farmer affair. Realizing both this and the complexity of the Drain Code, two Michigan State University agricultural economists have prepared a bulletin which summarizes in non-technical language various aspects of the code.

The bulletin, "Drain Law for Michigan Landowners," may be obtained free of charge from your Washtenaw County Extension Office, Room 116, County Building, or by writing the Bulletin Office, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Wayne State U. Fall Enrollment Sets New Record

A record number of 22,310 students registered at Wayne State University for the fall quarter. This total surpasses the old record of 21,894 set in the fall of 1957. It is a 3.2 percent increase over the 21,007 who registered in credit courses.

Undergraduate enrollment totals 15,795; up 7.2 percent. Of this total, 9,857 are full-time and 5,942 part-time.

Graduate student enrollment reached 6,509, up 3.2 percent including 1,583 full-time and 4,926 part-time.

The two professional areas not included in the figures are Law and Medicine. Law enrollment is now 466, up 56 students for a 13.7 percent increase, while the College of Medicine reports a student body of 436, an increase of 1.2 percent. Largest enrollment is at the College of Liberal Arts, 9,458, while the College of Education ranks second with 2,813 students.

how perfectly a Gas oven
but look what happened

When you bake with Gas, your cookies turn out just the way you planned them... and disappear almost as soon as you serve them! There's something about flame-baking that makes cookies extra tempting. Perhaps it's old-fashioned tastiness. But it's also the way they look. You never have to worry about their getting over-browned because air circulates in a Gas oven and cookies bake evenly.

Club and Social Activities

NGO CLUB
Past Noble Grands club of Royal Ledge met Wednesday evening for a business meeting and social hour at the home of Mrs. Stephen Slane.

She and her co-hostess, Mrs. Gene Coltrane, served a dessert supper prior to the business session. Two members who had been ill or hospitalized — Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer and Mrs. Thomas Harris — were reported at home again.

Mrs. Alfred Hinz was awarded the door prize at Wednesday's meeting and Mrs. Stephen Slane won two prizes in games that were played.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party and will be held the evening of Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Homer Nixon. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Donovan Sweeney.

JERUSALEM FARM BUREAU
Jerusalem Farm Bureau with 10 families present, met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Vickers.

It was announced that the next meeting date has been set for Friday, Dec. 13, with Mr. and Mrs. William Van Riper entertaining the group at Lima Center Community Hall.

At Thursday's meeting, David Pastor, who is the group's "minister," gave a report from the state legislative report of Oct. 31 and this was followed by a report on the CROP overseas relief program by Arthur Kuhl. He explained the various ways in which donations to the project may be made and the Jerusalem Group voted that each member make a cash donation and the lump sum will be sent in to headquarters.

A list of food donations, "How to Halt Highway Accidents," "Sandwiches, coffee and sweet cider were served at the conclusion of the meeting."

Human nature changes very slowly and almost imperceptibly; we don't expect a reformation overnight.

JERUSALEM HOMEMAKERS

Jerusalem Homemakers Extension Study group had its November lesson topic presented by means of a recording of a lecture by Dr. John Purday. Title of the lesson was "The Four Dreams of Man," the four being designated as peace, self-government, freedom from hunger and self dignity.

The meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Keizer with Mrs. Elmer Lindow as co-hostess. There were 14 members present.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Warren Hoover. Her co-hostess is to be Mrs. Roy Koch.

GRACE OTTO CIRCLE

Grace Otto Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Raymond Schairer and Mrs. Leon Blackburn at the home of Mrs. Schairer for the Nov. 19 meeting.

A committee was named to purchase a number of Christmas gifts for members of the Methodist Home "family."

The group is also planning to promote a plan of inviting foreign students of the University of Michigan to be guests in the homes of Methodist church members for the Christmas holiday.

The program at the meeting was presented by Mrs. Ben Donaldson who spoke on the topic "The Charter on Racial Policy."

Members of the Pearl Baxter Circle are being invited to be guests of the Grace Otto Circle at the January meeting.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY FARM BUREAU

A report of the annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau held Oct. 13 at Lansing was given Thursday evening at the Chelsea Community Farm Bureau meeting by John P. Cook who, with Mrs. Cook, attended the state session.

Roy Kalmbach gave a talk on the topic, "Safe Driving," and this was followed by a social hour during which pictures were shown by Allen Broesamle.

There were 20 people present for the meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kalmbach with Allen Broesamle as co-host.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg, I, with the Henry Orlings as assisting host and hostess.

Extension Service Bulletin Aids with Landscaping Plans

A man's home is his castle, but unfortunately not every man can keep up his home exterior the way a king can.

"Beautiful Home Grounds," a bulletin published by the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University is designed to help you cut the time and effort necessary for upkeep.

"Enjoy the time you spend in your garden," Donald Watson, author and professor of horticulture, says. "Your time is precious, so don't turn pleasures into pressures."

Watson covers such areas as soils and fertilizers, trees, shrubs, grass, flowers and pests. Illustrations show landscaping techniques, types of plants and planting methods. You may order this 40-page bulletin free of charge from Mrs. Alice Epple, your county agent in home economics, at the Washtenaw County Building, Ann Arbor, or by writing the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, East Lansing. When you do, ask for "Beautiful Home Grounds," E-425.

Mrs. D. Strieter Named to Head Women's Guild

A program on the topic "Stewardship" was presented at the meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church at the Nov. 13 meeting held in the church hall. In charge of the program was Mrs. Wilbert Grieb who, in the role of a dual personality, clarified two methods of giving for a women's group—direct giving or giving through money-raising projects such as church suppers, bazaars and others. Mrs. Grieb used posters made in Sunday school stewardship contests as well as appropriate Bible references, to illustrate points she made.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. LeRoy Satterthwaite, the vice-president, Mrs. David Strieter, presided at the meeting. She announced that the annual thank-offering dedication service will be held in conjunction with the regular worship services at the church on Sunday, Nov. 24, with Mrs. Grieb and Mrs. J. R. Altenberndt in charge.

Arrangements were announced for women of St. Paul's church to serve the annual Masonic banquet meal Jan. 11 and for planning to entertain college students of St. Paul's church while they are here during the Christmas holidays.

The nominating committee presented the names of Mrs. David Strieter as president and Mrs. Henry Kanner as vice president for 1964. The complete slate of officers for the year includes Mrs. Richard Schmidt, secretary, and Mrs. John Pearson, treasurer.

Guild members accepted the recommendation of the executive board to hold only five Guild meetings next year instead of the customary 10 meetings as has been the rule for a number of years.

Names have been drawn for membership in new circles for the next two-year period. Tentative plans for the future include delegating more responsibility and programming to the individual circles.

Serving as ushers at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. John Pearson and Mrs. William Osborne.

Refreshments were served during a social hour following the meeting by Mrs. Eugene Fisher, Mrs. Dean Guenther, Mrs. Adolph Duerr, Jr., and Mrs. Ella Gross.

The greatest recorded rainfall per year for any area of the world was the 1,041.74 inch record of Cherrapunji, India, from Aug. 1, 1860 to July 31, 1861. The highest recorded rainfall in continental United States was the 107.97 inches recorded at Glenora, Ore., during the calendar year of 1896.

The Chelsea Auxiliary is participating in the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary program in support of MAEDC (Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children). Dolls received by the Auxiliary in the September toy drive were distributed at the meeting to members; they are to clean the dolls and dress them and return them to the Auxiliary at the next meeting. The refurbished dolls will be part of the Auxiliary's contribution to Chelsea Social Service for Christmas distribution to area children.

Co-hostess for Tuesday's meeting was Mrs. Donald Bush. The next meeting will be the Auxiliary's Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Silas Hopkins.

TROOP 98
After refreshments were served at the meeting of Girl Scout Troop 98 on Wednesday, each patrol worked vigorously on Christmas projects in an effort to do as much as possible to make the holiday as enjoyable as possible for the entire community.

The troop has two new girls this year—Sherry Robbins and Judy Schneider—and at Wednesday's meeting girls of the entire troop said they missed Carol Poye who moved to Ohio the past week. Tina Lindauer, scribe.

SUSAN WALKER

Manchester Girl Chosen Miss Michigan Farm Bureau

"Miss Michigan Farm Bureau" of 1964 has been crowned before a crowd of 1,000 farm leaders and special guests at the 44th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Seventeen-year-old Susan Walker, a dark-haired beauty from Manchester, will represent the state at the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting scheduled later this year in Chicago.

"Miss Washtenaw" was chosen from a field of contestants previously selected by county Farm Bureaus of the state. The girls were judged on their natural beauty, personality, poise and participation in church, school and Farm Bureau activities.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walker, Farm Bureau members in Washtenaw county.

40 Counties Share in Snow Removal Funds (Not for Us!)

Lansing—Forty of Michigan's 83 counties had enough snow last winter to qualify for Snow Removal Funds, the State Highway Department announced today.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the average snowfall for Michigan last winter was 72.5 inches compared to nearly 79 inches the previous winter and 55 inches in the winter of 1960-61.

This year's Snow Removal Fund totals nearly $102,000 compared to $594,000 last year.

The money, which is set aside from gas taxes and license plate fees, helps defray cost of snow removal in counties which have heavy snowfalls.

Keweenaw county in the Upper Peninsula had the highest average snowfall last year—162 inches. Houghton county was second with 135 inches.

Benzie county had an average of 134 inches of snow last winter—highest in the Lower Peninsula—followed by Antrim county with 131 inches, the same amount it had the previous winter.

Mackie said this year's largest payment—$40,250—will go to Alcona county, which had an average snowfall of 117 inches last winter.

For the last two years, Marquette county has received the highest payment—$101,000 in 1961 and $81,677 last year.

Washtenaw county had an average snowfall of only 29 inches last year while Jackson county reported 28.

Leptospirosis is the nation's third most costly livestock disease, affecting most types of livestock, rodents and humans, report Michigan State University veterinarians.

COLOR CHANGE

So you're thinking of changing your hair color? Before you join the throng who is paling into pearl or glowing into gold, it's best to review your color consciousness. Dark hues, like dark brown and black, tend to emphasize an aging skin or less-than-perfect complexion. They are usually flattering only to young faces with the clearest of complexions. For "forty-plus" women, who are modifying their hair shades, pale beiges, light browns, and true blondes offer the prettiest play.

A change of hair color requires the services of a competent technician. Magic Mirror Beauty Salon, 6585 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor. 665-0810.

Broken Air Hose Stalls Freight Train Saturday

An air hose which blew out on a freight car approximately at the half-way mark of a 100-car New York Central train at 7:40 a.m. Saturday automatically set the brakes on the entire train and the train was stalled for three-quarters of an hour until the hose was repaired.

The Main St. crossing and crossings east as far as Freer Rd. were blocked; nothing could be done about the situation until the repairs were made.

The end of the eastbound train extended almost to Hayes St. but the crossing there was clear and many motorists used it as a detour after waiting in line for 15 minutes and longer at the Main St. crossing.

Harold N. Marsh, Sr. Killed Saturday Evening In Auto Crash Near Mason

Harold Norman Marsh, Sr., of 9810 Seymour Rd., was killed at 8:10 p.m. Saturday when the car he was driving collided with the rear end of a truck on US-127 near Mason as he was enroute home from a deer hunting trip. He was 40 years old and the father of six children.

He was an international representative of the UAW-CIO, Region 1-C, South Central Michigan; co-chairman of the Jackson county Democratic party and a veteran of World War II. He was also a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

According to reports of the mishap, Marsh's 1935 model automobile smashed into the rear of a stake truck loaded with plumbing supplies. The driver of the truck, Ulysses L. Mayville, 48, of Taylor, told deputies he had just unloaded some of the supplies, and was accelerating to highway speed when the Marsh vehicle hit his truck. Both vehicles were northbound on the highway, deputies said.

Members of the family failed to explain why the car was traveling north.

Born April 26, 1917, at Waterloo, he was a son of the late Elmer and Lula Nuoffer Marsh and had made his home in this vicinity all his life except for a short time when he resided in Chicago.

He was married Jan. 26, 1936, at Jackson to Louva Corwin. She survives along with their six children, Harold N. Jr., and Jack L. of Jackson; Ronald C. of Holland, and Jill Diane, Dennis and Mark, at home.

Also surviving are seven grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Donald Schneider of Chelsea; and three brothers, Leon Marsh of Holland, and Francis and Duane of Jackson.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Burden Funeral Home in Jackson. Burial followed at Mt. Hope cemetery, Waterloo.

Mrs. W. C. Klingler Dies Unexpectedly Monday At Home Near Munith

Mrs. Wilbur C. Klingler, 44, died unexpectedly at 7:45 a.m. Monday at her home, 9810 Territorial Rd., near Munith, in Henrietta township, Jackson county.

The former Ruth E. Lindemann, she was born in Chelsea, Dec. 30, 1918, the daughter of Elmer and Helen Mohrke Lindemann.

She was married to Mr. Klingler at the home of her parents, 513 McKinley St., Chelsea, on May 31, 1939, and they made their home on the former Klingler farm on Peckins Rd., south of Chelsea, until 1957 when they moved to Leslie. They moved to their present home in September, 1959.

Mrs. Klingler was a member of the Congregational church at Leslie, the Leslie Grange and Leslie Chapter No. 155, Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors are her husband; two sons, Lacerne of Onondaga, and Royal, at home; twin daughters, Dorothy who is a student at St. Lawrence School of Nursing at Lansing, and Mrs. Henry Kellenberger (Caroline) of Munith; one grandson, Randall Lee Klingler of Onondaga; and a number of aunts, uncles, cousins and nieces and nephews.

A son, Clair Elmer, preceded her in death on Sept. 1, 1946.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Burghard Funeral Home in Chelsea with the Rev. R.A.J. Livingston officiating. Burial will follow at Oak Grove cemetery, Chelsea.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Rose Chase entered St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Monday evening after suffering a slight stroke. Her room number is 5019.

Irwin L. Klumpp Dies Suddenly Nov. 13 Following Heart Attack

Funeral services for Irwin L. Klumpp, who died suddenly Wednesday, Nov. 13, following a heart attack, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Staffan Funeral Home with the Rev. James Craig officiating. Burial followed at East cemetery, Grass Lake.

Born in Washtenaw county, Oct. 27, 1895, he was a son of George and Ida Higgins Klumpp. He married Gladys Richards on Aug. 25, 1920, in Sylvan township. She survives.

At the time of his death he and his brother, Raymond of Grass Lake, had owned and operated the Klumpp Brothers Gravel Co. since 1942.

For a number of years he had been employed by Chelsea Lumber Co. He later operated the Chelsea Tavern, and was former part-owner of the Twentieth Century Lanes bowling alley in Ann Arbor for a number of years.

Mr. Klumpp was a veteran of World War I. He was a member of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion; the Chelsea Rod and Gun club; and the First Methodist church.

Surviving in addition to his widow are two brothers, Elmer of Whitmore Lake and Raymond of Grass Lake, and three sisters, Mrs. Albert (Mamie) Bahnmiller of Grass Lake; Mrs. John (Florence) Bacon of Empire, and Mrs. Willis (Ruth) Moeckel of Grass Lake. One sister preceded him in death.

Mrs. Anna Andrews Detroit Resident Dies at Ann Arbor Nursing Home

Mrs. Anna Andrews of 12638 Griggs Blvd., Detroit, aunt of Mrs. Donald Bacon, died Saturday at Whitehall Convalescent Home, Ann Arbor. She was the widow of Frank Andrews.

Born April 12, 1875, at Sawyerville, Mich., she was a daughter of James H. and Laura Fuller Bradley.

Several nieces and nephews survive, in addition to Mrs. Bacon. Also surviving is a brother, Guy H. Bradley of Ypsilanti.

Funeral services were held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the McCabe Funeral Home in Detroit and burial took place at Evergreen cemetery, Detroit.

Seat Belt Saves Man from Injury As Car Is Demolished

In a report of accidents which occurred Monday was one involving a Chelsea man—George W. Isha, 26—whose car was demolished, however, because he was wearing a seat belt which kept him from being thrown out of his car when it turned over. He apparently escaped with minor injuries.

The report stated that Walter Isha, 26, was driving west on Old US-10 west of I-94 intersection when another car forced his 1944 model foreign compact car off the road.

The car was demolished but Isha was released from a doctor's office after treatment for bruising the report stated.

Income . . . Taxable and Non-Taxable

Little knowledge is a danger—especially in public affairs. This is illustrated by assumptions which seem to underlie demand for overhaul of our individual income tax system. There are two such underlying assumptions: first, the notion that a large part of the income of the American people escapes taxation (which is true); and second, the belief that this is due to special provisions for privileged groups of high income taxpayers (which is false).

A recent study by the U. S. Department of Commerce analyzed the relationship in 1960 between total income and total taxable income and total taxable income of individuals. It turns out that out of a total personal income of $401 billion only $172 billion was taxable.

able. Thus it is true that almost 60 percent of the income of the American people is not subject to the federal income tax.

But the same study goes on to break down the $229 billion of untaxed income into its component parts. The biggest item is the personal exemptions for taxable individuals which amounted to $81 billion. This is the total of the $3000 exemptions that every taxpayer, rich or poor, gets for himself and each of his dependents.

Thus more than a third of the difference between taxable and total income is accounted for by the personal exemptions that every taxpayer is entitled to deduct. Those who cry "loophole" are not complaining, presumably, about this item.

Now, another third, approximately, is explained by provisions in the law which exclude certain kinds of income which accrue mainly to lower income citizens. Social security benefits, unemployment insurance payments and veterans' pensions do not have to be reported for tax purposes. Fringe benefits of employees—for example their employers' contributions to pension funds—are also not taxed. Various forms of non-cash income (for instance, the room and board of an employee who "lives in" for his employer's convenience) are another element in this category. Anybody want to call these things "loopholes"?

The remainder of the discrepancy between total and taxable income, aside from a number of small miscellaneous items, consists of the income of nontaxable individuals—18 billion dollars—and the personal deductions of taxable individuals—45 billion dollars. Of the latter, $12 billion was taken in the form of the standard deduction—in no case more than $1,000 per taxpayer. We might expect to find the alleged loopholes of high-bracket taxpayers in their itemized deductions, but the total of all such deductions for individuals with more than $25,000 of income turns out to be only $4 billion.

There are of course many deductible features in the tax code. But the notion that we could substantially broaden the tax base by eliminating special so-called loopholes available only to the rich is pure myth.

SHORT VISIT
Altadena, Calif.—It is not every family who can boast of a deer visiting them during their evening dinner.

The family of Harold J. Blissfield was surprised when a deer jumped through the plate glass window of their living room and leaped out of a smaller window.

BIG LIFT SUCCESS

The U. S. Army and Air Force accomplished a miracle of mobility in less than time was allotted. The entire U. S. 2nd Armored Division from Texas to Europe was completed in 69 hours and 35 minutes. The allotted time was 72 hours.

Using jets and propeller craft, the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) delivered 15,278 troops and 493.3 tons of cargo well within the target deadline.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Nov. 5, 1961
Council Room

Regular Session.

This meeting was called to order by Pres. Daniels at 8:00 p.m. Invocation by the Rev. Scott Westerman of the Chelsea Methodist Home. Trustees present: Bollinger, Burg, Chapman, Clark, Haselschwardt, and Wood. The minutes of the Regular Session of Oct. 15, 1961 and the Special Meeting of October 30, 1961 were read and approved.

A discussion was held with Police Chief John Palmer, regarding the need for a number of "no parking" areas. During the winter months parking should be banned on the south side of Park Street from the Methodist parsonage entrance east to the East St. intersection. Signs stating "No Parking Here to Corner" for approximately 50 feet on both Grant and Pierce from the intersecting corners. These parking restrictions were requested to improve the flow of school bus traffic.

Since no curb has been installed on the south side of Railroad Street, Chief Palmer also requested a change of "No Parking" signs from the north to the south side of Railroad St. from East St. to McKinley St. The reason for this change is to eliminate possible breakage of the black-top area.

Motion by Chapman, supported by Wood, that the Village Clerk is hereby authorized to make application on behalf of the Village of Chelsea for a permit to place Christmas decorations along State Truckline M-52 within the Village of Chelsea from Jackson Street to Orchard, and that the Village of Chelsea will indemnify and save harmless the State of Michigan, and the State Highway Commissioner from all claims of every kind arising out of said placing of decorations. Decorations to be placed Nov. 18 and to be removed January 2nd, 1962. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Haselschwardt, supported by Bollinger, to appoint Thomas Smith special assessor for the 1963 new curb, gutter, and sidewalk program. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held regarding the anticipated cost involved in the proposed transfer of the present Consumers Power equipment and material to the Village electrical system. No official action was taken at this time.

Zone 6 Civil Defense Director Elwyn Beach stated that the Village has been notified that a complete 250-bed hospital unit is now available, and will be shipped here in the near future. The basement of the Municipal Bldg. has been prepared as a storage area for the unit.

Mr. Beach reported on the Civil Defense Conference recently held in Rochester, New York. Many excellent ideas were derived from this conference, and some may be implemented at the local level.

The importance of the need for a strong auxiliary police force, and fire department was stressed.

A discussion was held regarding the proposed new fire contracts to be submitted to the following townships for their consideration and approval: Sylvan, Linna, Lyndon, Dexter, Freedom, Sharon, and Waterloo. No official action was taken at this time.

Motion by Wood, supported by Chapman, to authorize payment to Frederick Beiser in the amount of $3,208.05 as final payment, less 5 percent, for the new fire hall construction. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

The Fire Department trucks and equipment were moved into the new Fire Hall Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1963 by the firemen.

Parking lots at the Fire station and the east side of the Chelsea Milling Company storage building are now available for public parking.

Motion by Burg, supported by Clark, to authorize and direct the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. General fund: $8,582.18.

Motion by Chapman, supported by Wood, to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Approved: Nov. 19, 1963.

Robert L. Daniels, President. George Winans, Clerk.

TOO MUCH WORK

Turneridge Wells, England - Anthony Mark, a mailman, was accused of failing to deliver 107 letters and packages as well as not covering whole streets on his routes.

When accused of this, Mark remarked, "I had too much work to do." He was fined $57.

Freeway Markers

Lansing — Interstate 75 route markers have been put up on the Mackinac Bridge, the only toll facility on Michigan's Interstate Highway System.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said two I-75 route markers were given to the Mackinac Bridge Authority by the State Highway Department for erection on the $100 million span that links Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Former U.S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown, Chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, asked Mackie for the route markers during a talk at the Ohio-Soo Free-way dedication.

"The Mackinac Bridge is part of I-75 and I think we should have at least one Interstate sign on the bridge," Brown told Mackie.

Just A Minute...

The other day a bird hit my window with a startling thump. It took me a minute or so to figure out what had happened. I got to the window just in time to see the last flutter of its wings.

A very familiar Bible story is that of the sparrow's falling to the ground. This story has been set to music and sung with spirit. Ethel Waters chose the title of her autobiography, "His Eye Is on the Sparrow," from the spiritual. The line continues "and I know He watches me."

It sometimes takes a tragedy like the sudden unexpected death of a bird to stop us short. The bird flies where it wants. We envy it and want to be as free as it is. But, like my unfortunate visitor, we, too, hit the unexpected. We are no strangers to the startling thump that stops us short.

Then we find we don't fly free, more important, we learn we don't fly alone. "His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me."

You, too.
"Two sparrows sell for a penny, don't they? Yet not a single sparrow falls to the ground without your Father's knowledge." (Matthew 10:29, J.B. Phillips translation).

Prayer: O Thou who watches over us, watch over us still. Amen.

The only way to get your work done is to start doing it.

Pumping Brakes Helps
In Stopping on Snow, Ice

One of the principal rules for safe winter driving is—PUMP YOUR BRAKES.
On snow and ice, a rapid up-and-down pumping action is far more effective than jamming on the brakes.

Pumping the brakes helps maintain steering control while stopping on ice or snow. Even with the help provided by tire chains, which cuts stopping distances by 60 per cent on ice, expert winter drivers know that it's wise to start slowing down sooner than usual and it's important to operate at reduced speeds whenever pavements are slippery.

Year-Round Physical Conditioning Urged by Surgeons for Young Athletes

Ann Arbor — Three surgeons at the University of Michigan Medical Center urge year-round physical conditioning for athletes to reduce the "calculated risk" of injury in contact sports.

Modern rules, supervision and equipment have been of great aid to safety, but "year-round conditioning is really essential and should be a major part of the preparation for these vigorous sports."

The three physicians—Richard Schneider, neurosurgeon, George Zaidema, general surgeon and Thomas Peterson, orthopedic surgeon—gave their views in a panel discussion co-sponsored by the University of Michigan and the State Medical Society.

Dr. Peterson, himself a former U-M football player, decried attempts to eliminate those sports considered dangerous. "You'll have as much difficulty eliminating sports to prevent injuries as you would have eliminating automobiles, which cause a lot more injuries."

However, he added, "We have a tendency to participate in most of these sports at too early an age. Youngsters are being pushed ahead of their time, and I don't see any necessity for it."

Dr. Schneider declared, "Any boy who enters any type of athletics—football, diving, lacrosse, skiing or other—assumes a certain risk. No matter how good the equipment is, he is still apt to get injured, perhaps severely injured."

"Short of a coat of mail," said Dr. Zaidema, "complete protection is impossible and impractical."

"Even adults taking up skiing often get involved too rapidly without a sound knowledge of basic principles. Inexperience and lack of physical conditioning leaves people unprepared for vigorous sports."

FREE RENT — A wealthy landlord

Patrick J. Burns had never met any of his tenants but always was interested in their welfare and had not increased rents since the 1940's.

The 80-year-old bachelor left an estate of $1,000,000.

Urge Hunter Help in Study Of Deer Kill

The Conservation Department is asking Michigan deer hunters to do themselves and their sport a good turn by co-operating in its surveys during the November firearms seasons.

One way they can do this is by pulling into the Department's roadside biological checking stations for a few minutes to have their deer examined. During their brief stop-overs on the way home, each hunter's deer will be aged and studied for various factors, including antler development, to aid in forming a general picture of the herd's physical conditions this year.

These checks will also reflect range conditions and pinpoint trouble areas where whitetails are short of food. The Department's roadside stations will be located at the Straits of Mackinac and near Standish on US-23, Birch Run on I-75, Alma on US-27, Howard City on US-131, and White Cloud on M-37.

The Straits station will be open for checking Nov. 12-17, and Nov. 23-24; the others will be operating Nov. 16-19 and Nov. 23-24.

In another call for co-operation, hunters are urged to contact the Department if they kill any collar-marked deer. During recent winters, several hundred whitetails have been tagged with different colored necklaces by self-marking devices set out in deer yards.

Department game men would like to know the band number attached to the collar of each deer taken, the place where each whitetail is shot, and the animal's sex.

From this information, they will get a better idea of where deer in browsed-out yards spent their summer and fall, how far they travel, precisely where they winter, and whether their movements follow a consistent pattern each year.

Birth Rate Continues Declining

Lansing—Unless there is a sudden upturn in the number of births in Michigan during the last three months of the year, 1963 will be the sixth year in a row in which births have declined.

At the three-quarter mark, a total of 130,062 births was reported to the Michigan Department of Health—2,363 less than the number reported through September a year ago, and more than 10,000 less than were reported at the same time in 1961.

In order to equal last year's total of 181,754 new babies, births will have to average more than 17,000 a month in October, November and December. So far this year, births have averaged around 14,500 a month, ranging from a low of 11,451 in January to a high of 15,641 in September.

The "population explosion" reached a peak of 208,488 in Michigan in 1957, but has been declining steadily since then. If the number of births this year falls below the 180,000 mark, it will be the lowest number since 1952.

TO REDUCE TROOPS

President Kennedy said, at a recent news conference, some reduction is planned in non-combat personnel, in Germany which would probably be in the supply forces.

The President added that as long as the need exists American fighting forces in Germany will be kept at their present strength. It is the U. S. policy to keep six combat divisions in Germany as long as they are required.

Now A Revolutionary New Magnavox Astro-Sonic Stereo High Fidelity

This fabulous space-age development with solid state circuitry uses no tubes—is ten times more efficient than conventional radio-phonographs—and surpasses all achievements in the re-creation of sound!

The sound of music without distortion! Now, music can be re-created with such incredible fidelity that it truly fulfills the claim of "concert hall realism!"

Magnavox true Stereo High Fidelity at its best, from Stereo FM Radio as well as records, brings you the spectacular depth and breadth of sound; enabling you to "see" every orchestral instrument. Here is all the thrilling "dimension" and movement that makes the world's greatest music come alive, with full musical expression to the composer's score—be it a classical masterpiece, ballads or music to dance to.

Now, revolutionary Magnavox Astro-Sonic eliminates the source of distortions that have made high fidelity less than "high," and exactly duplicates the unblemished tonal beauty achieved by the foremost instrumentalists.

In tube sets, 90% of the electric current drain only generates component-damaging heat. Astro-Sonic equipment is so very efficient, that virtually all of the current taken from your power lines is converted into music power—and the current required is almost directly related to the setting on your volume control.

Vacuum tubes are high impedance (resistance) devices, and require high impedance circuitry highly susceptible to picking up noise and other interference. The tubes themselves have a tendency to generate noise, which is "masked" by the music. Yet, this is a source of distortion as disturbing as audience noises in a concert hall.

Now, the power transistors used in the final stages of amplification are low impedance—as is every modern loudspeaker. Because their characteristics "match," this permits elimination of inefficient, distortion-producing "output transformers." The result is more beautiful music—a difference instantly apparent once you hear the Magnavox Astro-Sonic.

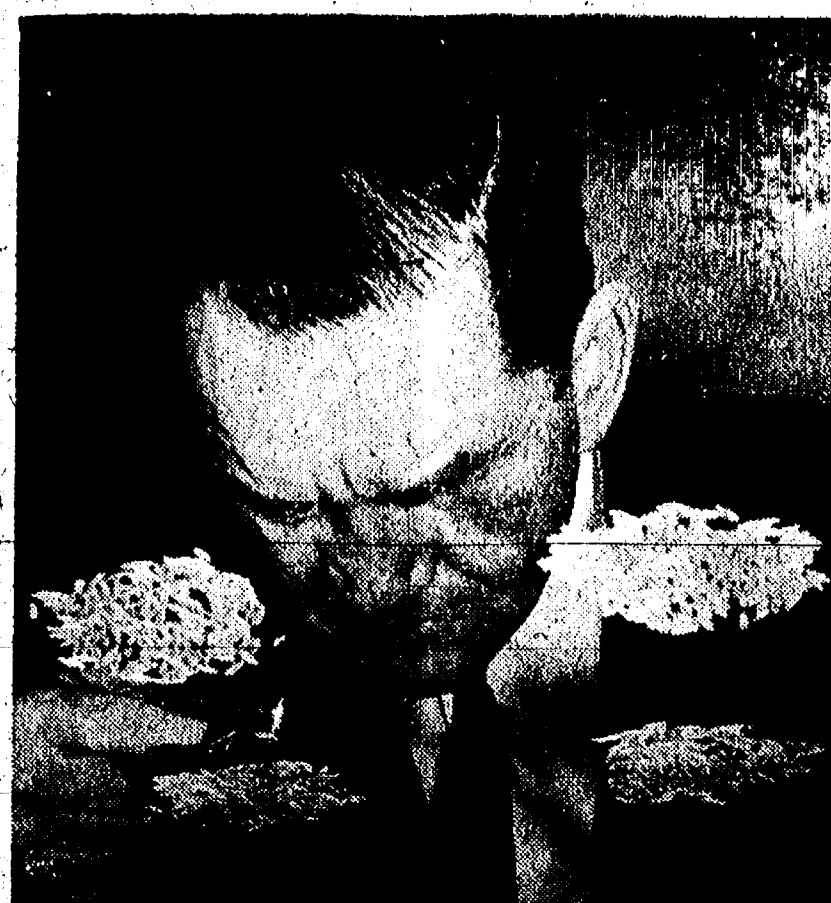

The advanced reliability of this new development is startling. The usual industry guarantee for parts and tubes is only 90 days (as compared to the one year Magnavox Gold Seal Warranty). Now, Magnavox guarantees the Astro-Sonic solid state components for FIVE YEARS—twenty times as long as the standard industry guarantee.

OATS UNDER GLASS—This unusual camera angle offers a worm's eye view of Dr. John Grafius, Michigan State University crop scientist, comparing two new varieties he developed with those they may replace. The new oat varieties, Coachman (top left) and Ausable (top right), are plumper and higher-yielding substitutes for Clintland 60, which Grafius is examining, and Rodney. The MSU developed oats are being made available to Michigan certified seed growers who will multiply the seed for sale to all farmers for their 1965 crop. (By the way, the above photo was taken by a ground-level camera—and a ground-level cameraman—"shooting" upward through a pane of glass.)

MSU Freshmen View Difficult Chemistry Experiments on Film

East Lansing — Some 1,100 Michigan State University freshmen are learning about experiments usually reserved for seniors and graduate students, thanks to the movies.

The experiments are ones which freshmen can readily understand but require intricate manipulation, involve expensive equipment, or are dangerous in inexperienced hands.

MSU put the experiments on film this summer for students in basic chemistry who need only a general chemistry background. Students see one of the films every other week in lieu of their three-hour laboratory period.

Many people get a terrific shock when they see what the camera does to their "beauty."

I-94 Freeway Interchanges Will Be Numbered Next Year

Lansing — Interchanges on Interstate 94 will be numbered next year, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced recently.

The numbering will be done on the mileage system. It will cost an estimated $20,000 to number the interchanges on the 225-mile freeway between New Buffalo and Detroit.

Mackie said the numbering of interchanges would be confined initially to one Interstate route for two reasons:

"First, we want time-to-test motorist reaction to the numbering plan before we go ahead with other freeways. Any numbering plan is going to last as long as the freeway and we want to make haste slowly in this area," Mackie said.

"Secondly, there is the practical fact that only one freeway can be signed in time for next year's peak summer traffic."

Numbering according to mileage means that the number of the interchange will fall into the sequence of mileage markers along the side of the road.

If the motorist is going to exit at Interchange 50 and is at Interchange 25, he knows he has 25 miles to go before his exit point. The motorist who forgets the last interchange number has the mileage markers to remind him of his location in relation to his exit, Mackie explained.

"The same mileage numbering system also can be used to number auxiliary points along the freeway if desired at some future time—rest areas, for example, and non-interchange structures," Mackie pointed out.

It is also possible to add interchanges later without disturbing the number pattern. The mileage system of numbering is one of two systems in use the route location is final. Highway Department traffic engineers have been studying interchange numbering for months, Mackie said.

"Either system—the consecutive mileage or the consecutive interchange system—has some pros and cons attached to it," Mackie said. "But the mileage system seems to offer the least problems and the most advantages."
