Babson Predicts President Johnson Will Be Re-Elected President

ROGER W. BABSON

I am still emotionally upset as I make this forecast after the tragic assassination of President Kennedy. I, however, will try to plunge my emotions and base my forecast of 1964 on the facts as I interpret them.

GOVERNMENT, POLITICS . . .

OUR NEW PRESIDENT

has emphatically said that President Johnson may accomplish far more constructively before November than our late President would have been able to do. President Johnson understands better how to stimulate Congress, and has the confidence of businessmen. Therefore, I am reassured as to the first months of 1964.

2. ELECTION IN NOVEMBER.

If the Republican Convention in the summer of 1964, there will be a conflict between Goldwater and Rockefeller; and perhaps others. For this reason, Nixon may slip in and get the Republican nomination. Certainly President Johnson will secure the nomination of the Democratic Party; he is a far-sighted man; and knows politics thoroughly. With the Republicans nominating any one of the three leading names mentioned above, I now forecast that President Johnson will be elected President of the United States in November 1964. All of this gives me more assurance that 1964 should be a good year.

3. TAX CUT. A tax cut will be initiated sometime during the campaign of Congress; and it will likely be made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964. The tax cut should help increase buying; it may even increase general business.

4. CIVIL RIGHTS. Some sort of civil rights bill will be passed by Congress during 1964. The Administration wants to please the South and hold its Democratic votes there, but the "Civil Rights Bill" now before Congress is not for Negro people. The Negroes will continue to make progress and get more, but I predict that the gains will have to come largely through changing attitudes of the people. Otherwise, the situation will be much like the problem of the nation thought could solve itself by legislation. Such a mistake must only be made if the people are changed for the better.

5. GOVERNMENT SPENDING.

Of course, in the long run, the survival of a nation should depend upon its spending less than it takes in. Nowadays, however, it is unfashionable for consumers or government to have balanced budgets. Therefore, I predict that 1964 will see a bigger deficit than this year's.

7. DEPRESSION. Whether for better or for worse, the voters have been taught to believe they can and should get something for nothing, and only a severe depression could ultimately change this belief. I, however, look for no depression in 1964.

Agriculture Stocks . . .

8. AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK.

Although crops, prices, and farm income may be basically dependent on the weather, much of the world is short of food. Russia's and China's heavy purchases of U.S. grains will do more to bolster U.S. farm income than will government-supported prices in 1964.

9. DOW-JONES INDUSTRIALS.

I forecast that the stock market as measured by the Dow-Jones Average will make a new high in 1964, but may sell lower after the elections. However, readers must remember that the Dow-Jones Industrial list, which every one seems to think represents the market, may be very deceptive.

10. SPECULATIVE STOCKS.

Of the approximately 1,550 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, a majority have been going down while the Dow-Jones list is up, which everyone watches have been going up. This is due to the purchase of Dow-Jones issues today largely by trustees, pension funds, mutual companies, and others that prefer fairly conservative stocks.

11. GOVERNMENT SPENDING.

Of course, in the long run, the survival of a nation should de-vent further damage.

There is also the ever-present danger of deer-car collisions, Boyer says. More than 100 deer have been killed in Washtenaw county this year; average amount of damage to cars being approximately $200.

Boyer said he believes the solution to the deer problem in this area lies in thinning the deer population to the point where it can be controlled and he anticipates some action to that effect by the Conservation Department.

Conservation exhibits by 4-H Clubs and FFA chapters will be displayed. Refreshments will also be served.

Babson's Forecast . . .

Commodity Prices

(Continued from page one). Active and dividend-paying companies, I forecast that stocks not in the Dow-Jones list will do better proportionately in 1964 than they did this year.

11. SWITCHING. Based on my above forecast, and having learned that only buying can send stocks up, I predict that 1964 may prove to be a good year to switch from some of the overpriced Dow-Jones stocks into other issues that are now overlooked.

Financial

12. GOVERNMENT BONDS. The only government bonds that interest me are the long-term ones which may now be purchased at a discount to use in payment of tax for death taxes. I forecast that more governments will be issued during 1964 and that their prices may gradually sag as money becomes tighter.

13. CORPORATIONS BONDS. Those buying corporate bonds should either stick to issues of under five years' maturity or keep their money in the savings bank. I predict that long-term corporation bonds will drop in price in 1964 as interest rates rise.

14. TAX-EXEMPT BONDS.

Likewise, I predict that long-term tax-exempt bonds will decline next year. They are even more overpriced than corporation bonds, because of heavy bank buying during the past two years. I do not look for this to be repeated in 1964. Therefore, I would certainly continue buying of tax-exempts to short maturities, and I would avoid revenue bonds.

15. INTEREST RATES. I forecast that interest rates will continue at least as high as today, and will possibly rise through 1964 in order to keep gold here in this country and uphold the value of the dollar.

16. DEVALUATION OF GOLD.

I forecast that there will be no devaluation of gold during 1964. I am personally acquainted with conditions in Africa, and will say that those who wish to speculate in gold mines should consider American-South African Investment Co., Ltd. Readers should remember, however, that gold-hunting stocks will go down as well as up, in accordance with many different conditions.

17. PROFITS. I forecast that corporate profits will continue to rise in 1964, though possibly at a somewhat slower pace than recently.

18. COPPER PRICES. Commodity prices are dependent on two factors: Demand and supply. Take copper; I believe demand will continue to increase during the electrical era we're now in. And since my visit to Africa, I feel the supply of copper is almost unlimited. Hence I forecast little change in price or balance in 1964.

19. OTHER BASIC RAW MATERIALS. With some few exceptions, the above applies generally to many of the basic raw materials, including iron and steel, and especially aluminum. The present pricing in aluminum will not carry much further and could be subject to setbacks later in the year.

20. SUGAR. Sugar prices, however, will hold in a generally high range all through 1964.

Construction . . .

21. BUILDING—SUBURBIA. I forecast that new building will continue around present levels through 1964, with additional growth in "suburbia." This applies to single homes and to apartment houses, which could easily be overtaken by the hotels and motels have been.

22. PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION. Otherwise, strength in building will occur mainly in the public sector—especially roadbuilding.

Real Estate . . .

23. REAL ESTATE. I predict that farms on the "right side" of cities will constantly increase in value during 1964. I say "right side" because every city seems to have some one best direction in which to grow. This usually is toward the higher land and often to the west; but this is something subdivision developers must watch very closely.

24. RURAL AREAS. As I have said before, the way to buy real estate profitably is to drive out the main road away from the city in which you live, on the "right" side. Every few miles, stop and inquire the price of land; so long as it is quoted by the foot, get back in your car and drive until it is quoted by the acre. Everything else being equal, I forecast that the purchase of land in 1964 will show you a profit over the long term.

25. FLORIDA PROPERTY.

There is still a lot of land in Florida, and there are many retired people who are hoping to move there. I forecast that your best Florida buy-in 1964 will be waterfront property. Gold made only so much waterfront land; but there is an enormous amount of interior land which for many years will be good only for pasture. Do not buy land anywhere until you see it; don't depend on blueprints, catalogues, and super sales organizations.

26. FLORIDA HOME. I believe a small home in a small Florida city, and ownership of the vacant lot on each side thereof, will prove a safe and attractive investment in 1964 for anyone who has a check coming in regularly from the North.

Advertising . . .

27. ADVERTISING. While TV advertising will continue strong for patent medicines and some other products, I forecast that honest newspaper advertising will hold its own. Newspaper ads can be cut out and kept for reference which is impossible with radio or TV ads.

28. NEWSPAPERS. I forecast that competing newspapers will continue to consolidate and there may possibly be a return to the days when newspapers represented the opinions of some one man with courage, influence and personality rather than the decisions of a "cold" board of directors. Note that this is something television is already trying to develop in its news reports and newspapers must match.

Business, Wages . . .

29. STRIKES. I believe that 1964 will be free from large strikes. The "big show," of course will be the negotiations between the auto workers and manufacturers. However, I predict that both sides will arrive at a peaceful settlement before the deadline.

30. WAGES. While labor will not get all the pay increases it wants in 1964, it will get the equivalent in fringe benefits.

31. EMPLOYMENT. I forecast employment will rise further in 1964 due to a prosperous economy with new and expanding operations. Unemployment will rise, too, because of the influx of young job seekers and displacement of unskilled workers by automation.

32. WORK WEEK. There will be continuing agitation to cut the 40-hour week in 1964 to a 35-hour week with the same pay. I forecast this will not be accomplished. There may be a compromise to 37½ hours, though this will depend largely upon President Johnson.

33. FOREIGN TRADE. Rising automation in the U.S. in 1964 will enable us to compete more effectively with lower per-man-hour labor costs in Europe. Labor costs in Italy are already rising, and inflation is threatening Europe, particularly Italy and France.

34. INFLATION. Like the rest of the world, we will be tempted to resort more and more to inflation; but I forecast this will not be a vital factor in 1964.

35. LIVING COSTS. There will be continued upward pressure on living costs during 1964, even though the Administration may soft-pedal any abnormal rise in the Labor Department's index to prove that costs are being held down.

36. RETAIL SALES. I forecast that 1964 will show an increase in retail sales and in installment purchases.

37. RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT. I forecast that the great increase in leisure time and the consistent gains in personal income will give manufacturers of recreational equipment a prosperous year in 1964.

38. SYNTHETIC FOODS. I forecast that many new synthetic foods—cheaper than the natural, just as healthful—will appear in supermarkets in 1964.

39. SYNTHETIC CLOTHING. I forecast that this new industry will develop notably in the United States during 1964, particularly as regards specialty work clothes.

40. AUTO PARKING. The auto companies are devoting much study to the parking problem. I forecast real progress toward mechanical parking in 1964.

41. SEAT BELTS. I predict that insurance companies will put added pressure during 1964 on all state governments to enact legislation requiring roll-up seat belts on all cars.

42. NEW INVENTIONS. I forecast that rapid strides will be made in 1964 in the direction of transferring mass through matter.

43. ELECTRONIC PRODUCTION. I forecast a great increase in electronic manufacturing in 1964, with emphasis on adaptation of space efforts to military applications.

44. AIR CONDITIONING. I predict radical changes in air conditioning in 1964 via the reduction and later elimination of moving parts in the heat-withdrawal machinery.

45. ELECTRIC HEATING. I forecast experiments in electric heating in 1964 whereby radio waves will heat only the individuals in the room, but not the air.

A daughter, Carol Lynn, Monday, Dec. 29, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hartman, 143, Lodi St.

Linda, 10 days old.

Raymond L. Sell, 25, of Ann Arbor, also paid $18 fine and costs.

The fine came with his new state hunting license to another person.

Hunting Charges Heard by Justice

Conservation Officer Donald V. Royer, notified shortly after 11 a.m. Saturday, that a wounded deer was seen in a field on Walrus Rd., near Durand-Rd., just after shots had been heard in the area, investigated and found the deer dead then tracked down the hunter who had shot it and brought him into justice court by 1:30 p.m.

The hunter, 25-year-old Marvin A. Fodor of Detroit, was ordered to pay a $10 fine, spend five days in jail and have his deer license privilege revoked for three years as of Dec. 26, 1963.

Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers permitted Fodor to serve the five-day sentence on weekends. If the $10 fine is not paid Justice Rogers decreed that an additional 10 days in jail would be the alternative.

Louis Fish, who lives on Walrus Rd., heard the shots and saw the deer staggering as if it was badly wounded; however, it disappeared before Fish could reach it. He called Royer and together they tracked the animal and found it dead.

Boyer went on tracking two men by footprints in the snow. Only Fodor was charged with killing the deer in 150-pound does out of season, since it was found that his gun was the one that fired the buckshot which killed the animal.

Frosty Robins Sighted.

Whether they were the last robins of 1963 or the first robins of the coming spring, is not determined; however, Ted Pickelsimer and Larry Williams have the honor of being the first Chelsea area persons this year to report seeing the hatching of spring.

"The NATIONAL OUTLOOK"

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Preview of 1964 Economic Outlook

At the turn of the year it is serious building up of inventories which has often in the past been the prelude to a downturn. The shock of President Kennedy's assassination has not noticeably impaired the confidence of business which the business picture will be, on the whole, bright but not startling.

The economic rise which has been going on since early 1961 does not seem to be losing momentum. There has not been any sharp drop in the statistical indicators published in recent weeks. Some of the statistical indications must be taken with an even

longer grain of salt than statistics

which are based on what has already happened.

Many economists still expect the sales were slightly lower in November than October. However, the margin for error introduced in these figures by the process of seasonal adjustment suggests that it would be unwise to pay too much attention to small movements in either direction.

The government survey of business plans for future investment in plant and equipment forecasts

a leveling off in the first quarter of 1964, and a rise thereafter. A survey of manufacturers' expectations as to their sales in the first quarter indicates a nominal drop as compared with the last quarter; but statistical compilations of future plans and expectations must be taken with an even

longer grain of salt than statistics

which are based on what has already happened.

On the whole, balancing all the forthcoming cut in federal income taxes to give the economy a large lift. But this will be partially offset by a continuation in the rise in collections of state and local taxes. Also, it may have been discounted in advance by heavy purchases of homes and automobiles on credit.

The great problem looming over all is the question of whether the Federal Reserve system will be able to stay on the tightrope it has been walking. Will it be able to maintain high short term interest rates to protect our balance of payments, and at the same time provide the abundant credit needed to keep the domestic economy rising? This is a long-term problem, but probably we will be able to evade it for at least most of 1964.

On the whole, balancing all the considerations, we are inclined to believe that economic activity, as measured by the gross national product, will total about $10 billion dollars in 1964. This anticipates a rise of about 4 percent over 1963, considerably less than the increase between 1962 and 1963. It will not be enough to reduce unemployment much below its current level.

Happy New Year!

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig
A man recently reported to his bank that he had $80,000 silver coins in a vault at his office. He was keeping them with the hope that their value would increase over the years. They were to take his children to college.

Standing at a parking meter a lady rummaged frantically through her purse, looking for a nickel. The coin already had a value of more than five cents and never meant freedom from fear or a parking ticket.

Parking meters, vending machines, supermarkets, collectors, pay telephones all tie up coins which should be in circulation. The shortage is causing banks and government trouble.

Another thing in short supply causes us trouble—not because it is saved but because it is spent. Tomorrow we start a new calendar. One at a time—365 days are gone. They can't be added up, saved for emergency use. There is no surplus and no fixed value.

A long time ago, perhaps at this season, one man thought about turning the calendar's page. He turned it with these words:

"So touch us to number our days that we may apply our hearts to wisdom." (Psalm 90:12, KJV.)

COIN SHORTAGE

The Treasury expressed concern over the coin shortage which has become steadily worse during the Christmas shopping rush.

The shortage was obvious long before the Christmas season. A Treasury spokesman believes the shortage is due to good business in retail sales and increased use of vending machines, parking meters and other such devices.

LOW TO START, THE WASHINGTON HUSKIES UNDER HEAD COACH JIM OWENS HAVE DEVELOPED INTO THE WEST'S TOP COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER AND THE BIG SIX ROSE BOWL ENTRY...

State Parks Need Additional Personnel To Explain Facilities to Millions of Visitors

Lansing — At Hartwick Pines state park north of Grayling, a Lumberman's Museum is tucked back among the towering pines, housing many tools and mementos of Michigan's early lumbering days. There is, however, no one to explain how and why these tools and buildings were made and used.

Also, people wander the foot trails of this park wondering just what kind of pine is a "Hartwick Pine," as distinguished from a White Pine? How come these pines weren't cut when the rest of the northwoods pines were harvested? Why isn't there anything growing under these big trees? How come we feel a mist of rain in our face even when the sun is shining?

At Ludington state park, so many questions come from visitors each year that rangers have developed a "colored-slide" program to show at gatherings in the park. However, this slide-lecture program often can't be shown because the rangers are too busy with the day's garbage collection and park maintenance.

At Pictured Rocks, Port Wilkins and Bay City state parks, plus a few others, Conservation Department employees have developed similar programs for park visitors, as their leisure time and ability permits. These park workers know how the public turns into a huge question-making machine when summer comes, geared to turn out bales of questions on wildlife and other natural resources found in the state park system.

Frequently, the park employee has to face the hard question? Is there time to help and teach park visitors about natural resources and outdoor beauty, or is there only time to clean up trash scattered by that same inattentive park user?

Looking back through the years, one notes that the state park system has most of all been preoccupied with the task of acquiring land, developing it, and maintaining facilities for use of the public. Frequently, the park employee has few opportunities to learn values in the changes of seasons, in the habits of birds and animals, in the benefits of rain and sunshine, and in the fact that all these things are dependent upon each other.

In the early years, the visitor was left to his own devices when he arrived at a park. And in those times of few motels, rugged roads, and northern wilderness, most people knew how to camp, how to fish, how to live off the land. Today, the picture is quite different and we are poles removed from the old days of the self-sufficient park user.

Consider, for example, that the 250,000 persons who visited state parks back in 1922 when the state park system was just getting underway have now increased to an annual average of 18 million. Also, the Conservation Department expects this total to increase to 20 million annually in the next decade.

These people, who haven't had the opportunity to participate in these programs? For them, much needs to be done to present a wealth of outdoor information through illustrated talks, organized hikes, posted nature trails, self-guided trails, nature museums, exhibits, forestry and wildlife demonstrations.

Foremost among these tools is the personal contact by trained personnel. Such naturalists would fill the void evidenced by the question so often asked by the park visitor: "What is there to do here and what is there to see?"

The latest move in the right direction was made earlier this year when a full-time naturalist was named to co-ordinate interpretive service programs of Upper Peninsula state parks. The Department hopes the day is not far distant when it will have the facilities and staff to provide every park with an interpretative program of superior value to the public.

SCIENCE TOPICS

A COMPUTER has shown that Saint Paul could have written no more than five of the 14 epistles attributed to him, claims the Rev. Angus Q. Morton of the Church of Scotland. He used the computer to test the original Greek of the epistles by sentence length, word pattern and occurrence of common words of Greek prose to establish authorship. His tests show that Paul wrote only Romans, first and second Corinthians, Galatians and Philippians. The remaining nine came "from at least five other hands," he maintains.

CAMPANOLOGY, the science of bells, may be offered as a course at the University of North Dakota, says President George W. Starcher. The school has a 305-bell carillon, one of the six largest in the U.S. The bells are not of the traditional cast-bronze, but tiny ones weighing only a few ounces. Their ringing is amplified electronically... THE PILGRIT GIDGET is a spring device which is pressed between thumb and forefinger. This, says the Boston firm marketing it, relieves nervous tension.

THE MANX CAT, with a tail so short it is often thought of as tailless, faces extinction because it is interbreeding with ordinary cats imported to the Isle of Man from England. Now kittens with tails are often seen. The island government has established an experimental cat farm to try to restore the true breed... THE CARIBBEAN SEA, famous for resorts, is growing industrially. To meet the demand for industrial gases, a company, Antilles Industrial Gases, N.Y., has been established on the island of Aruba, 18 miles off the Venezuelan coast. The company, a joint venture of NOG International, C.A. and the Aruba Gas Supply Company, supplies oxygen, nitrogen and argon to oil industries which produce one of the largest oil refineries in the world.

DOCTORING OYSTERS with an antibiotic called "Pearl-Up" increases yield of perfect pearls by 30 percent, the Japanese have discovered. Culturing pearls has been going on in Japan for 500 years, but up till now only 60 percent of the oysters have yielded pearls and only 5 percent of these have been considered perfect.

120 FEET IN 6½ DAYS—This series of photos is in sequence of a progress report of the Chelsea Milling Co. construction project on Main St. at the New York Central railroad tracks. At the top of the photo grouping is a view of the platform attached to the moveable wood forms used for the job of pouring concrete for the walls of the 27 storage bins to their present height of 120 feet. The entire platform and surrounding forms were raised simultaneously as the concrete walls took shape. This first photo showed how the project looked as pouring of concrete was ready to begin at 8 a.m. Monday, May 6. The second photo shows how the walls began to take shape by Tuesday noon about 28 hours after concrete pouring started. The work continued on a round-the-clock basis until all walls were completed at about 2 a.m. Sunday. The men employed on the project worked through several thunderstorms which occurred during the week. At bottom is a view of the completed walls which now are ready for the superstructures which are to be added. At bottom right is a photo of Chelsea's photographer, Ralph Gruenier, as he "rode the rope" to be hoisted to the top of the structure Saturday afternoon to take bird's eye view pictures of the surrounding area. The construction project has drawn many sightseers to Chelsea during the past week.

Peace Corps Placement Test Will Be Offered Jan. 11

The next Peace Corps placement immediately after the testing. No applicants may take the test more than once without special permission from the Peace Corps.

Applicants should allow themselves about one and one-half hours for the placement test. If they claim proficiency in Spanish or French, they should plan an additional hour for the language achievement test—designed to test mastery of grammar, vocabulary and reading comprehension.

The placement test itself is composed of a 90-minute general aptitude test (made up of verbal, mathematical and spatial problems) and a 30-minute modern Training will begin this summer to help fill requests for more than 6,000 volunteers to serve in 46 countries around the globe—in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Hundreds of different skills are needed in the major fields of education, agriculture, health, construction, engineering and community development.

To take the placement test applicants must be American citizens at least 18 years of age. There is no upper age limit. Married couples may apply if they have no dependents under 18. A college education is not a requirement if an applicant can offer a certain skill or experience. Liberal arts college graduates with no special "skills" are often used as teachers and community development workers.

The placement test as well as submit a Peace Corps questionnaire. Those who have not completed a questionnaire will be asked to do so as soon as possible.

All applicants for Peace Corps service are required to take the placement test as well as submit a Peace Corps questionnaire. Those who have not completed a questionnaire will be asked to do so as soon as possible.
