JV Cagers Extend Win String to 7

Chelsea's Junior Varsity basketball team extended its season record to 10 wins and 2 losses with two victories last week.

Playing at home on Tuesday, the Little Bulldogs defeated the sophomore team from Jackson High school, 54-49. In Friday night's contest at Dexter, Chelsea avenged an early season loss to the Little Dreadnaughts as they earned a well-deserved 63-60 victory.

In the Jackson game Chelsea jumped off to a 33 - 15 half - time lead and then held on to win. Dave Clark led Chelsea with 14 points while Bob Willis was high for Jackson with 12.

A tremendous team effort by the Little Bulldogs on Friday night resulted in their seventh consecutive victory. Behind 13-12 at the end of the first quarter and 33-29 at halftime, Chelsea came on strong in the third period to take a 43-41 lead into the last stanza. Through the efforts of a half-court press Chelsea extended its lead to 60-48 with three minutes to play and a Dexter rally fell short.

Once again the JV's showed scoring balance with Dave Clark getting 13, Tom Steele, Gary Houle, Oren Wireman, and Duane Schroen each contributing 12 points. McIntyre and Miller led Dexter with 19 and 18 points, respectively.

HAROLD EDINGTON, center, has taken up his duties as manager of the former Anderson's department store here. Official announcement was made this week that the store has been sold and is now being operated as one of eight Dancer's stores in area communities. With the new manager in the photo are Charles Hurst, left, who is manager of the firm's Dexter store and, at right, Duane Ford, manager of the Stockbridge store.

Four Chelsea area girls were among those who successfully passed the first semester of training and received their caps at ceremonies held Sunday at W. A. Foote Memorial Hospital School of Nursing at Jackson. The capping ceremonies took place at the First Presbyterian church.

In the class from Chelsea were Rayma Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith of Harrison St.; Jill Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard who now live in Lansing; Patricia Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Blaess of Fletcher Rd.; and Linda Batzdorfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Batzdorfer of Bramble Brae Rd.

All four girls are 1963 graduates of Chelsea High school.

Families of the four girls attended the ceremonies; also present were Wesley Cowell and Mr. and Mrs. John McGill.

Another Chelsea girl, Lela Huber who is a member of the junior class at the school of nursing, participated in the ceremony in her capacity as president of her class and the student body.

The Rev. James P. Martin of the First Presbyterian church was the speaker at the capping ceremonies and candidates were presented by Barbara Prybyski, acting associate director of education at the school of nursing, and caps were given them by the director of nursing, Mary C. Mitchell.

Boys Saturday Basketball Classes Extended to March 14

Following action taken at the Feb. 3 meeting of the Chelsea Area Recreation Commission, boys' Saturday programs are being extended beyond the originally planned period and a second series of guitar lessons will be offered, the adult men's physical education class also has been extended for five weeks, which brings it to Thursday, March 19.

The three Saturday basketball classes for boys will continue until Saturday, March 14.

For the second 10-week series of guitar lessons, individuals interested should contact Recreation Director Alan Conklin by phone, at the Junior High school; high school students should contact Mrs. James Lagoe at the high school.

Guitar classes are to begin Feb. 26 if a satisfactory meeting date can be worked out; however, preregistration with Director Conklin or Mrs. Lagoe is required by Feb. 19.

Cost of the 10-week course of guitar lessons is $10 with an additional $5 required if it is necessary to rent a guitar.

The Recreation Commission also is studying plans for the summer swimming program to be held at a nearby lake. This would eliminate the long bus ride to and from Whitmore Lake where youngsters have been going for several years.

Postmaster Hospitalized

Chelsea Postmaster Carl Mayer who became ill suddenly a week ago, was reported to be slightly improved yesterday. He is a patient at University Hospital, Ann Arbor. In accordance with his physician's orders he is not yet permitted to have visitors.

JUMP SHOTS, like this one by Dexter's Doug Dunham, were a big factor in the Chelsea Bulldogs' defeat at the hands of the Dexter Dreadnaughts in Friday's basketball game at Dexter. Chelsea's coach Terry Pokela said the Dexter quintet is "a good team." Pokela said his own team played a good game and all were disappointed they didn't win, just as Dexter would have been if the results had been reversed. Dexter is undefeated in league play, to date. Chelsea's Jim Cameron is shown trying to block Dunham's shot. Others in this action photo are Chelsea's Mike Tarasow (45) at left, Chelsea's Jeff Flintoft (11), Chelsea's Curt Farley (13) and Dexter's Arch Bradbury (30) and Ron Mull (40).

Local Woman Injured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Carl Schwieger is hospitalized with serious injuries she sustained in a one-car accident which occurred at 10:10 p.m. Friday on Jackson Rd. (Old US-12) near the former Weber's Supper club. Her injuries were listed as five broken ribs a fractured leg, ruptured spleen and other internal injuries, a slight concussion and severe back injuries. She is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Schweiger was alone in the car when the accident occurred. She is employed at Karl's Hair Stylist in Ann Arbor and had worked until 9 p.m. Her husband said she had stopped at a laundromat to do some laundering and it is now believed that she lost control of her car when the laundry basket appeared to be slipping off the seat and she turned to steady it.

The car ran along the ditch for some distance and struck a tree throwing Mrs. Schwieger to the pavement. The driverless car then continued another 100 feet before it stopped. The car was demolished, Mr. Schwieger said.

Harold Edington Named Manager Of Chelsea Outlet

Official announcement was made this week that Dancer's Department Store chain has purchased the business operated here the past 10 years by M. J. Anderson as Anderson's Department Store. The change in ownership became effective Feb. 1.

The Dancer firm has also taken over the store Anderson operated at Saline and there are Dancer's stores at Dexter, Stockbridge, Belleville, Saline, Durand and Jonesville.

Named as manager of the Chelsea store is Harold Edington, who formerly was in the shoe store business in Lansing. His family will continue to reside in Lansing until the end of the school year in order that his children's school year need not be interrupted.

Members of the Dancer's organization who were here with the new manager the first of the week included Charles Hurst, who is manager of the Dancer's store in Dexter, and Duane Ford, buyer for the firm and manager of the Dancer's store at Stockbridge.

M. J. Anderson, the former owner, when asked about his plans for the future, said that he and Mrs. Anderson plan to "relax and enjoy life," at least for the next six months, before he becomes involved in any new business venture. He said they plan to do some traveling, also.

Before coming to Chelsea in 1954 he was executive vice-president of the Ray City Cash Dry Goods Store and was affiliated with the Diebel Co., a department store firm at Saginaw.

Anderson has been active in community affairs during the years he has been in business here. He was president of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce at the time the fall colorours were promoted eight years ago and has served several years as a director from this area on the board of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association.

He is also a member of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea and a past Kiwanis Michigan District governor.

He and Mrs. Anderson were active in the founding of St. Barnabas Episcopal church and were charter members and he served on the Bishop's committee of the church, however, they later transferred their membership to St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor.

When Anderson was asked if he had any statement as he concluded his connection with the business life of the community, he said the trouble with most messages of this nature is that they sound too matter-of-fact or too sentimental, and as a result, lack believability; but, how, without falling into that trap, do you convince people that you've enjoyed doing business with them? How do you thank them for their support, both moral and physical? How do you tell them, and sound sincere

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

No Lack of Experts on Problem of Licking Poverty

President Johnson's much-publicized "Assault on Poverty" has much to recommend it that may not have occurred to many. Clearly the President has, close at hand, qualified experts in curing poverty on whom he can call. His long-time aide and protege, Bobby Baker, licked the poverty problem very well we understand. As a matter of fact, the Senate Committee probing Baker's affairs reports that the energetic young man amassed a net worth of more than $2 million.

Then there is the case of the prospering insurance man who wrote $200,000 in life insurance on then Senator Johnson. Helpful Bobby helped him to make a $10,600 insurance broker's commission in a single transaction.

And observe Johnson's friend Matthew H. McCloskey, inventor of the $100 a plate dinner, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and, since last June, U. S. ambassador to Ireland, who is now retiring to again raise party funds. Now there is a man who can really pulverize poverty. He won the contract to build the classy new baseball stadium in Washington with a bid of about $14 million. Final cost of the project: $20 million. And now he is the prime contractor for erection of the new $83 million House Office Building in Washington.

With experts like this available to help, if needed, how can the "assault on poverty" be anything but successful!

MacArthur's Memoirs . . .

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur always said he would not write his memoirs and this always disappointed us for it would have left a link missing in our chain of military history.

However, now the old soldier's great feeling for public opinion has compelled him to sit down and record the events which shaped his life.

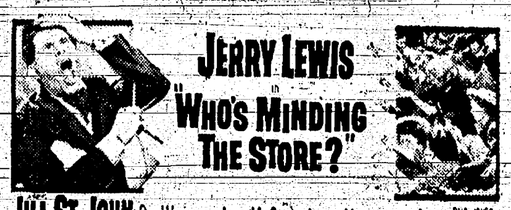

Eight months of labor have produced some 225,000 hand-written words of the intimate first-hand details of MacArthur's trials and triumphs.

MacArthur and his father have provided 100 years of proud soldiering for the United States and we can all be proud of them. His father, General Arthur MacArthur, won the Medal of Honor at age 19 during the Civil War.

Douglas MacArthur has often been a controversial figure—and certainly one who has stirred the emotions of many Americans. Now that former President Harry Truman, and others, have written their memoirs, it will be interesting to read the famous general's account of the epic events in his colorful career.

Riches in Research

Short-term research which could lead to long-term gains for the state has been proposed to the 1964 legislature.

Seven of the state's public colleges and universities would be designated to conduct the research. Each of the proposed 13 projects would be completed in less than two years and hopefully could improve or expand Michigan's business economy.

The request before the legislature is to release previously appropriated funds totaling $480,055. The ultimate goal is to turn this investment into millions of dollars in new industry.

Something for everyone is the idea behind the proposals sponsored by the Economic Expansion Department and the legislative committee on economic growth.

Studies included in the request range from the impact of tourism, to processing and utilization of freeze-dried eggs, to the demand for in-plant package manufacturing machinery, to Upper Michigan's wood resources.

In cost the proposed research varies from a six-month project with an estimated $6,500 expenditure to a 12-month $100,000 study, and a 24-month project which would cost $9,000.

Boiling down the various ideas for research projects held by various members of the university staffs took the better part of a year, said B. M. Conboy, head of the Economic Expansion Department.

The interested state institutions submitted 160 specific research proposals which would have cost $3.8 million. The projects submitted to the legislature represented those the Department and legislative committee felt could have the biggest impact on economic development and for which there is the greatest present need.

Continuation of research projects such as these appears to have tremendous possibilities for putting new ideas into practice for the benefit of Michigan's distressed and depressed areas.

Legislative approval of the requests holds the key to success of these unique efforts to improve Michigan's economic position and keep it growing.

Legislators' Pay Raise

Writing laws for a state is no easy job, but it carries with it an enviable power which has been exercised twice in the past four years. This is the power to raise one's own salary.

In 1960, one of the first years when legislators were on the job nearly year-round, the House and Senate members voted themselves a $1,250 pay hike, including salary and expenses. This brought them up to $5,000 salary and $1,250 expenses.

Two years ago a legislative pay hike also was approved. This set the salary at $7,000 per year but retained the previous expense sum.

This year, if a pair of Detroit Democrats have their way the legislators who return in the 1965 session would be paid $10,000 a year in salary and be allowed $5,000 in expenses.

Rep. John Sobieski, chief sponsor of the proposal, might be the first to admit that his increases, particularly that for expenses, are high. He'll be happy with whatever raise he can get passed.

Sobieski's theory is that the job of writing Michigan's laws has become and should be full-time.

One admirable portion of Sobieski's proposal is a section to discourage chonic absenteeism. His bill would dock members $25 for each day's absence without cause.

House Speaker Allison Green has expressed the reality with regard to Sobieski's bill. Green, Kingston Republican, notes that whatever figure remains in the bill, if and when it clears the committee, would be approved in both houses.

Green and probably every other member can think of "a strong argument" for paying lawmakers more money. Of course, where would one go to find someone who believed he was overpaid?

Salaries of Michigan's school teachers have been increasing about 5 percent a year in recent surveys by the Michigan Education Association.

Last year, however, the MEA study showed a considerable jump in the annual raise. The average raise during the past school year was $210 per teacher, as compared with an average of $122 raise the previous year.

These figures cover all teachers although greater salaries and increases sometimes go to those with degrees higher than the bachelor's degree.

Annual rates of pay continued to show wide variation among the 580 districts surveyed by the Association. The district study indicated the median starting salaries ranged from $4,500 to $4,600 and the median maximum was $6,200 to $6,300.

Additional pay for advanced degree background has changed little in recent years, the study showed. The average increment is between $300 and $400 a year, as it has been for several years. Some districts, it should be noted, offer beginning teachers only an additional $100 per year for a master's degree.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where one of them big automobile companies is coming out twict a year with new cars. They aim to put some out next month and call 'em the "1964 ½ Models." The other car makers will fall in line and they ain't no telling where the thing will stop. I'm expecting it to git to three or four showings per year, all done in fractions.

It's going to be a little confusing, special to this young generation that ain't learned much arithmetic and has trouble with fractions. Johnny, that already can't read none too good, ain't going to recollect if he's driving a 1964¼ job or a 1965 ¾ model.

The fellers that designs new modles was claiming the American public needs more than one new car showing a year. I could drive a 2-horse wagon through that arguement, Mister Editor, but it wouldn't do no good. A heap of folks will be buying a 1964¾ model when they ain't got a good start yet on paying fer their 1964 ½ job.

These automobile companies is the master thinkers of our age.

I recollect a few year ago when they come out with all them rainbow colored cars. They claimed they was not only pretty but the loud colors would cut down on road accidents. They allowed as how fire trucks had always been painted red so folks could see 'em and git out the way. I ain't noticed no letup in car wrecks and it proves that wrecks ain't caused from not seeing the other feller. It proved that fire trucks had just as well be painted black, like funeral cars.

I don't know, Mister Editor, what this world is coming to. Fer instant, Ed Doolittle's daughter come by the country store Saturday night looking fer Ed, said he hadn't been home since "lunch." Ed's daughtter works in one of them city offices and now she comes home talking about "lunch."

Us rural folks, as a general rule, ain't got but three eating times a day, breakfast, dinner, and supper. Dinner comes as close to 12 noon as we can git it, and supper comes after it gits too dark to work. We ain't got no such thing as "lunch" around here and whenever I use the word dinner in my little piece you'll know I'm talking about the meal that comes about the time of day when the sun is straight up and down over the top of the house.

Me and my old lady was talking about these matters at breakfast and she allows as how, just when it looks like the country was going to the bow-wows one week it keeps coming back the next. But if we git to calling dinner "lunch" and putting out automobiles in fractions, I aint too shore we'll make it one of those weeks.

Replacement Auto License Plates Available

Lansing — Are your old license plates in bad shape from rusting or getting banged up? If they are, you can get replacement plates for only $1.00.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said that many persons are unaware of this service being offered by branch offices throughout Michigan.

"We know that some motorists have badly damaged plates, ugly ones that are rusted," Hare said.

The Secretary of State said that in order to get the new plates, however, both old plates must be turned in. "This is strictly for the protection of the motorist since he is accountable for his old plates," Hare said.

The University of Michigan was the first to be governed by a board of regents elected by the people and the first major university to admit women in 1870. It was the first university west of the Alleghenies to pioneer in professional education, opening the medical school in 1850, the engineering school in 1855, and the law school in 1859.

QUINTUPLET'S ADVICE

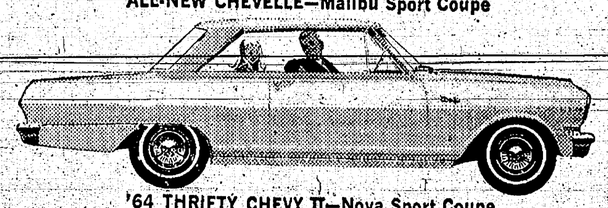

New York — The four living Dionne quintuplets, in a public letter to the Fischer quintuplets of Aberdeen, S. D., warn that "public curiosity is a tidal wave that sooner or later may threaten to swamp you."

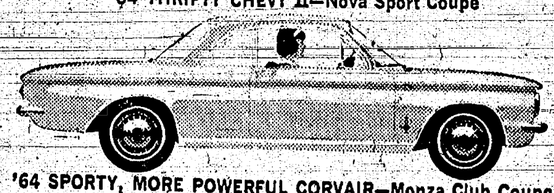

From their own experiences the Dionnes pointed out that "Canada is a magnet that lures lawyers and promoters and men with checkbooks . . ."

The girls, now 29, ended their letter on a note of a hope for a meeting with the Fischlers "on a date when the fuss dies down."

All Library Patrons Being Surveyed

This week, and continuing until next week Tuesday, all persons—adults and children—who visit McKune Memorial Library are being asked to co-operate in a survey being made simultaneously throughout the state to determine answers to the following questions—who uses Michigan public libraries? What are they looking for and to what extent do they find it?

It takes only a few minutes to make check marks beside the appropriate items which appear on the list. The cards do not require a signature. They will be used only to tabulate statistics showing the number of people who use the library facilities; for what purpose the library material is used; whether the library patron is a student, industrial or office worker, housewife, professional person or other, etc.

The tabulated information is to be used in presenting the case for planned improvement and expansion of public library service under the new federal and pending state legislation.

Librarians are to assemble and return the cards to the Michigan State Library by Thursday, Feb. 20.

It is expected that results of the survey, as tabulated by the State Library, will show dramatically the impact of public libraries throughout the state and give firm justification for increased support of all public libraries of Michigan.

Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, visits to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and New York City and a yacht trip around Staten Island.

Jerry Larson, patrol leader of Troop 25, also spoke during the program period at the meeting. He told about hikes and hiking trips and the Kensington Trail Camp and Huntington Ranch District Camp. He said, too, that plans are being made to attend the Philmont Ranch Boy Scout program in the southwestern part of the United States in 1965.

Larry Poertner, a former senior patrol leader in Troop 76, Robert Miller, another patrol leader, and William Windle, Boy Scout commissioner for the Iroquois District of Portage Trails Boy Scout Council, also spoke during the program period.

Other guests at Monday's meeting were Key club members, Barry Visel and Tom Sharrard; Howard Peebles, an Ypsilanti Kiwanian, and the following Kiwanians from the Ann Arbor Eastern club—Walter Henne, Jerry Lutz, Jim Nutt, Leonard Young, Gene Kontony, Jim Bancroft, Bill Davis and Carl Read.

Walter Zeeb, the Chelsea club's chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee, is to be in charge of next week's program. He will present members of a Chelsea High school FFA demonstration team who will give one of their demonstrations.

Milk Averages Told For Area Dairy Herds

Brattleboro, Vt. — Registered Holstein herds in this area have established new lactation averages for milk and butter fat. The official herd production averages, reported by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America are:

Leonard Burmeister, Ann Arbor, has 21 completed production records averaging 19,156 lbs. of milk and 680 lbs. of butterfat.

Elton Frey, Ann Arbor, has 25 completed production records averaging 15,337 lbs. of milk and 560 lbs. of butterfat.

To provide a uniform basis for comparison of Registered Holstein herds, lactation averages are reported on the industry standard, two-milkings-a-day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis.

Michigan State University supervised the sampling and production testing procedures in cooperation with the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein Association.

Michigan leads the nation in the production of red tart cherries, field beans, bluberries, cucumbers for pickles, gladioli bulbs and eastern white winter wheat.

Telephone Facilities Will Be Expanded

Work will begin next month on a $34,000 project to expand the capacity of the Chelsea dial telephone exchange, it was announced today by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Nicholas J. Prakken, manager here for the company, said the project will provide enough telephone switching equipment to establish 225 new telephone numbers. The expansion also will enable the company to fill orders for better grades of service.

Installation of the appurtus will be done in the present telephone building at 127 W. Middle St. by the Western Electric Co., supply and manufacturing unit of the Bell System.

Prakken said the project is scheduled for completion in May.

Wayne county, which contains Detroit, is world-known for its industries, yet it leads all of Michigan's 83 counties in production of sweet corn.

Anderson's departure from the Chelsea business community was announced at meetings of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club, both organizations going on record with a vote of thanks for his efforts on behalf of the organizations and the entire community.

The Andersons' son, Fred, who was associated in the business here for a time, is now in charge of the Pittsburgh office of the American Felt Co.

Michigan has long been recognized as the pioneer among states in public education. It had the nation's first superintendent of public instruction and was the first state to assure every child the right to a tax-paid high school education. The state's educational system has been used as a model by many states.

LEFTOVERS HELP CUT COSTS

—Yes, and keep your phone bill down, too! Here's how: We save scraps of leftover copper wire and cable, and periodically melt them down in big furnaces. The copper salvaged is then used to make new wire. It's one example of the many ways we salvage materials wherever possible, to help keep telephone costs low.

HAVE A "HEART-TO-HEART" TALK with your Valentine this February 14—even if he or she is many miles away. Just pick up the phone, and you're there! A Long Distance call gives a warm, personal touch to your Valentine greeting . . . and the cost is low. Why not treat yourself, and your favorite person, to a Long Distance visit this Valentine's Day?

HOW TO BE IN when you're out: one way is to use a telephone answering service! You'll be in good company. Answering service customers include doctors, repairmen, salesmen who are often away from their offices—even stores that take orders after business hours. Some answering bureaus offer "wake up" services for customers, to make sure they aren't ignoring the alarm clock! There are 140 answering services in Michigan alone. They are not owned or operated by Michigan Bell, but they do play a part in giving many of our customers the fullest possible use of their phones.

Ohio Farmer-Philosopher To Speak at Livestock Event

"Cold facts and figures, seasoned with a generous dash of wit and humor, and served up in rhyme . . . refreshing, thought-provoking, informative, and entertaining." This is Henry Schriver, Ohio's Farmer-Philosopher, who speaks at the Washtenaw County Livestock Banquet on Thursday, Feb. 27. The banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Saline High school on the Saline-Ann Arbor Rd.

Schriver has been labeled by the Cleveland Plain Dealer as the busiest and most outstanding spokesman for agriculture in the entire Midwest. In his speech, titled 'cows, Kids, and Co-ops', he tells the story of the ups and downs of farm life, gained through a lifetime of farming; the joys and trials of rearing a family of 11 children; and his firm belief in a "do-it-yourself" America and the part that co-operatives must play in this system.

The material for his speech comes out of his own experiences on his Lorain county combination dairy-fruit farm and his activities in many community, civic and farm organizations. He has been active in his local school district as a member and president of the board of education; the Belden Methodist church where he served as church school superintendent, and now as a member of the board and teacher of high school age young peoples' class; 4-H dairy club which he helped to organize in 1928 for which he has acted as leader along with his wife, Dorothy, for many years; as secretary-treasurer of the steering commitee for, and two term board member of the supervisors of the Lorain Soil Conservation District; and presently as a member of the Lorain Regional Planning Commission.

A strong supporter of farm organizations, he is a member of Farmers' Production Credit of Ashland, the Federal Land Bank of Ravenna, Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland, Farm Bureau Co-op elevator, Ohio State Horticulture Society, Holstein-Friesian Association of America, and board member of the Lorain County Farm Bureau Federation.

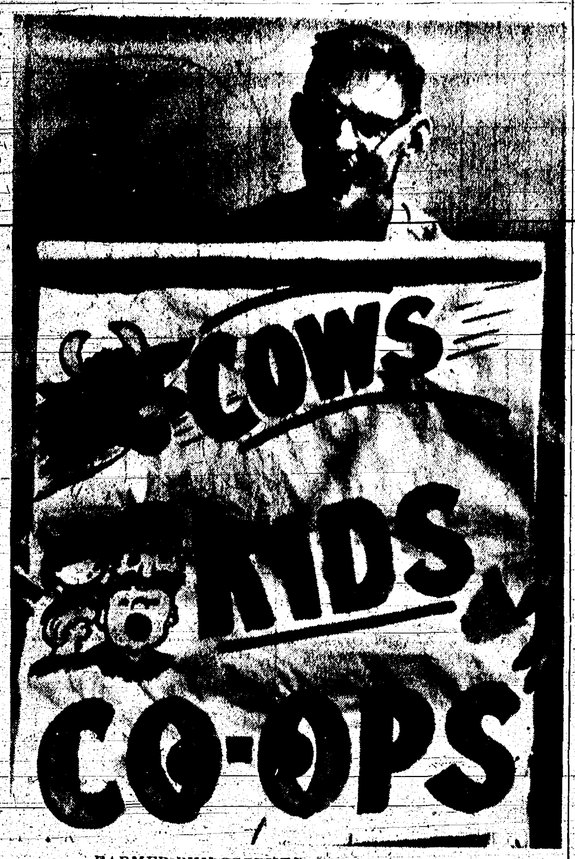

Schriver has a degree in agriculture from Ohio State University and is a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, the professional agriculture honor society.

No one is too young or too old to be delighted with the homey philosophy of this "business man in overalls."

Tickets for the banquet are available throughout the county from Livestock Council Board Members John Brooks, Leroy Heller, Loren Koengeter, Carl Heller, Lloyd Grau and Reuben Lesser, Jr., of Chelsea; Art Doletzky, Walter Mast and Harold Guenther of Dexter; Lester McCalla and Herbert Diuble of Ann Arbor and the County Extension Office in the County Building in Ann Arbor.

Signup Period Underway for 1964 Feed Grain Program

The signup for the 1964 Feed Grain Program now is under way in the ASCS county office, Carolyn Stump, office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced today. The signup period started Feb. 10 and will continue through March 27.

The 1964 program will be more attractive to many producers than the 1963 program, but basically the program will be about the same, the office manager explained. It will be available for the three feed grains corn, barley, and grain sorghum, and participation will be entirely voluntary although price-support eligibility for the three crops will depend on such grower participation.

Two major improvements in the 1964 Feed Grain Program, as compared with previous programs, are: (1) A producer may divert as much as 50 percent of his feed grain base acreage (this was 40 percent in 1963), and those who divert 40 percent or more of their base acreage will receive diversion payments at the maximum rate for all acres diverted. (The maximum diversion will continue to be 25 acres if this is more than 50 percent of the base.)

Two rates of diversion payment will be offered, but the higher rate should apply to more acres under the 1964 program: The minimum rate is again based upon one-fifth of the county's total price-support rate; the maximum or higher rate is based on one-half of the support rate. If the operator signs up to divert 40 percent or more of his feed grain base, the higher rate will apply to all the acreage diverted. If less than 40 percent is diverted, the minimum rate will apply to 20 percent of the acreage diverted and the higher rate to the acreage between 20 and 40 percent.

Farmers who take part in the program will be eligible for diversions and price-support payments and for price-support loans on their entire 1964 production of the three grains. The price-support payment will be made to all participants in the program who plant the feed grains for harvest, and they will be made regardless of the use made of the grain. The producer may sell the grain or feed it if he wishes and still receive the payment.

Applications to take part in the 1964 Feed Grain Program may be filed in the Washtenaw county ASCS office from Mondays through Fridays at any time between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Civil Defense

Answer: Actual tests, especially at the underground Abe School in New Mexico, show that children perform just as well or even better in enclosed but well-lighted classrooms, whether above or below ground, as they do in classrooms with windows. Generally, the recognition and acceptance of danger has no traumatic effect upon normal children. They do not become neurotic when they learn about hospitals, fire engines, lifeboats, military aircraft, cannon and other reminders of danger and death.

Claim: "A civil defense program would help create a garrison state, promote regimentation and lead to infringement of personal liberties."

Answer: Since the civil defense program began in 1950 there has been no discernible trend in this direction. At national state and local levels the program is in the hands of civilian officials. Although it was intergrated into the Defense Department in 1961 the armed forces have not exercised or tried to exercise any military control or direction of it. A new 1963 Defense Department directive provides for increased support of civil defense by all three services but says explicitly that such support will complement the efforts of civil authorities; and that if civil control should break down during an attack, the military will take charge only until civil control can be re-established.

K. of C. Honors Older Members At Sunday Party

Old-time members were honored; a ham dinner was served; and a film on the life of Henry Ford was shown.

Entertainment during the remainder of the evening was a euchre tournament in which the high score prize was awarded to Harold Warren and the consolation prize went to N. H. Miles.

Sunday afternoon, three new members of the Chelsea Knights of Columbus were initiated as part of a class of 44 candidates from two area districts: the initiation took place at the K. of C. Hall of Ann Arbor Council No. 587.

District deputy Tom Clark of Ann Arbor presented the candidates from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Ypsilanti and Manchester and William Walsh of Albion presented the candidates form Albion, Hudson and Chelsea.

District Deputy Frank Karwacki of Detroit was the master of the Detroit degree team whose members performed the degree work for the initiation ceremonies.

It was announced that Dexter Council No. 2959, has attained its insurance quota and membership quota for the second year and will be designated as a star council.

Several Chelsea K. of C. members attended the initiation ceremonies.

SEES WITH WINGERS

London — Russion scientists say they have proved a 23-year-old girl can see with her fingertips, as reported in the Soviet news agency Tass.

Under scientific test conditions and blindfolded, she correctly identified different colors in a spectroonanaloscope by applying her fingertips to the eyepiece.

The professor said the phenomena of seeing through the fingertips remains a mystery.

Democrats Will Meet Here Feb. 20

Henry Bretton, professor at the University of Michigan, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee to be held next Thursday evening, Feb. 20, at Sylvan Town Hall in Chelsea. Peter Darrow, county Democratic chairman, will preside at the meeting. The meeting begins at 8 p.m.

Professor Bretton will speak on the topic, "Africa—Behind the Headlines with Emphasis on Current Events in Ghana." The professor was in Africa for the University of Michigan during the past year; he expects to return there soon, providing the political situation is such that he can go back.

Reports will be given at Thursday's meeting on membership enrollment and on the Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

A report will also be given by a representative of the State Central Committee.

Refreshments will be served by the Chelsea Democratic Women's club.

Visitors always most welcome.

For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul. — Mark 8:36, 37.

...Only one Life, 'twill soon be past — only what's done for Christ will last.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Thoreau probably wasn't the first to notice. He did put it in a pungent way. "The mass of men," he wrote, "lead lives of quiet desparation." He wrote it as an observer from Walden Pond.

Another observer, naturalist John Burroughs, reported what he saw in an essay. He titled it "A Life of Fear." No matter how calm and still the woods appear, its inhabitants are constantly afraid.

For us it is some sort of game. For the animals it is terror. We see it in them more than in ourselves.

Thoreau put his finger on it. So did a man who lived long before him. Seeing the anxiety in the faces of those around him, he pointed them in new directions.

They had been looking only at themselves. He would have them look elsewhere.

"And why are you anxious . . .? Do not be anxious . . . your heavenly Father knows your need. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be yours as well."

And why are you anxious?

Prayer: Father, we, whose creation is a mushroom cloud, whose faith is weak, whose life is full of fear, seek they strength. Amen.

2 Million Michigan Motorists 'Un-Tabbed' As Deadline Nears

Lansing—Two million Michigan motorists still did not have their license plate tabs as the first week in February came to a close.

It brought another reminder from Secretary of State James M. Hare, who again urged car owners to get into local branch offices as soon as possible to avoid the "last-minute rush" of February's final days.

Hare said he was "somewhat encouraged" as the total of 1-million plates sold was an increase of nearly 200,000 over 1963 totals as of the same date.

Bothered by "Roll Togetherness"?

It's a common complaint. Take an ordinary mattress. Put a 190 lb. man on one side and a 130 lb. woman on the other. What happens? You guessed it. The mattress sags towards the heavier weight. He sleeps in a hollow. She sleeps on a slope. Uncomfortable? You bet.

That's one sleep problem we've solved many times because we know there's one mattress—the Beautyrest—that gives single bed comfort in a double bed.

Maybe you have another sleep problem. Is your mattress too hard? Too soft? Is it too small for you? Do you like a tufted mattress or one with a quilted top Whatever your problem, chances are there's a Beautyrest model that is just the answer. We have it and we just love to help people solve their sleep problems.

Housing – New Problems for Old

President's message on provides an illustration government programs, once tend to grow the prolif- In the attempt to solve one problems by government in- problem we create new problems call for new measures of ment intervention—and so ever.

low-rent public housing pro- may appear on its surface to have been a great success. The newly-constructed buildings certainly look better and more comfortable than the structures torn down to make room for them. But in the process more dwelling units were destroyed than were built. Thus on the average crowding has been intensified and many families were forced back into existing slums.

In addition, maximum-income limitations necessarily imposed on families to qualify for subsidized housing have created special problems. There is a high concentration of broken families in these projects, which increases the difficulty of dealing with juvenile delinquency and maintaining discipline in the schools.

The logical reaction would have been a pause for re-evaluation. Instead, we now have federal subsidies to middle-income housing. This year, the President suggests the development of whole communities, "complete with all public services, all the industry and commerce needed to provide jobs, and sufficient housing and cultural and ate—and low—income families as well as of the well-to-do."

There is no price tag attached to this part of the President's program. This is because it involves a variety of federal assistance techniques: grants and loans to the states and localities for planning and construction of public facilities, and of loan insurance for private developers constructing such facilities.

The rationale for this program is that urban expansion has been "unplanned and un-economic." It is hard to see the virtue—economic, social or cultural—of a deliberate attempt to create new communities. Who will decide: where specific industries and businesses locate; who will work in them; what recreational and cultural facilities people will want, or should have?

These questions have apparently been anticipated in the President's message. The answer is that federal funds will be used to train the social workers and other local employees needed for solving community problems. The President says that the "substantial Federal investment in local community efforts justifies a deep Federal interest in the quality of local employees."

In other words we will spend federal money to develop the experts who will deal with the problems we will create by federal planning of communities.

More Than 5,000 Drivers Appear Before License Appeal Boards

Lansing — More than 5,000 Michigan motorists appealed cases of suspensions or revocations of their driver licenses to License Appeal Boards during 1963.

These boards are set up by the Secretary of State to give motorists a chance to appeal cases.

Of the total, more than 3,000 appeals were denied or the driver failed to appear. A total of 830 persons had licenses restored, while 855 others had suspensions or revocations modified.

National Future Farmers of America Week Set Feb. 15-22

National Future Farmers of America Week is held Feb. 15-22.

This week is set aside so that the FFA may be recognized for the many projects and activities carried out.

First of all: What is the FFA? The FFA is the national organization of, by and for male youths studying vocational agriculture in public schools under the provisions of the National Vocational Education Acts. The FFA has become well known in recent years. No national student organization enjoys greater freedom of self-government. Organized in November of 1928, it has served to motivate and vitalize the systematic instruction offered to students of vocational agriculture.

The FFA is an intra-curricular activity having its origin and root in a definite part of school curriculum, vocational agriculture. Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in a public meeting; to speak in public; to buy and sell co-operatively; to solve their own problems; to finance themselves; and to assume civic responsibility. The foundation upon which the Future Farmers of America organization is built, includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, co-operation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship, and patriotism.

The Future Farmers of America is a non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian farm youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to take its place along with other organizations striving for the development of leadership, the building of a more permanent agriculture, and the improvement of country life.

EFFECTIVE DATE

Section 18.01

The foregoing Amendment to the Zoning Ordinance was approved and adopted by the Township Board of Sylvan Township on Feb. 4, 1964, and ordered to take effect after a lapse of thirty (30) days from its publication in The Chelsea Standard, a newspaper having general circulation within the Township of Sylvan, Washtenaw County, Michigan, as required by Act 191 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1936, as amended.

RICHARD KERN,
Sylvan Township Clerk.

Catholic Social Services Report Given at Annual Meet

Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county held their fifth annual dinner meeting at the Michigan Union ballroom Feb. 5. Approximately 360 persons were in attendance with Dexter being represented by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. James Klapperich, Mr. and Mrs. Al Kneiper Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nash, Mrs. Horace Lickly, George Steeher and Mr. and Mrs. John Boullion.

John B. Devine presided as chairman of the board. Miss Marguerite M. Parrish, executive secretary, explained the great need for the Catholic Social Services and other similar organizations due to the drastic social evolution that has been taking place in the last 25 or 50 years, such as changes from rural spacious living to city and urban close-quarter living, causing crowded and unhealthy conditions. Also the rapid changes in transportation, changes in entertainment and most of all the loss of family closeness.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Father William J. Ennen, S.J., who spoke on the "Ecumenical Movement," as it pertains to Christianity as a whole. His talk was most informative and interesting, a representative said.

The goal of Catholic Social Services is to keep families together so far as possible and the services of the organization are available to anyone living in Washtenaw county, irrespective of racial, nationality, religious, social or economic background. Clients served in this area are representative of people of all walks of life, all age groups, educational levels, occupations and income levels. Many of the families come to the agency with marital problems, economic problems, behavior problems of children and problems associated with retirement years. It was explained that the agency devotes a great portion of its time in helping the individual child and that help is most effective at an early age when behavior problems are most easily modified.

The agency's adoption service is a legal process which is quite thorough, yet simple. During 1963, the agency provided 9,087 days of foster home care for the 74 children placed in its 31 licensed foster homes; offered service to 111 unmarried mothers; served 989 families; gave assistance to 2,118 individuals and also 456 children under age 18. Statistics show that 170 Catholics were served, 325 protestants and 85 mixed denomination. Referrals were: 427 from Ann Arbor; 45 from Chelsea; 39 from Dexter, making a total of these and from other areas in the county of 989.

Money to operate the agency comes from several sources, namely the Archdiocesan Development Fund, United Funds and Community Chest and the Good Samaritans donations.

Chairman Devine named the newly-elected officers and turned the meeting over to the new chairman, Nelson B. DeFord. Among the new Board of Directors elected was Mrs. Leo Hoey, secretary; Edward Lucy, treasurer; and Clarence Maloney, member at large from Dexter. Included on the Good Samaritans Board of Directors are Mrs. Kenneth Henes and Mrs. Alice Schnebelt.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Newman Glee Club of the U. of M. with several vocal selections.

Devine was surprised with a birthday cake at the conclusion of the meeting, in observance of his birthday. This, he said, was the largest attendance he'd had at any of his birthday parties.

Australian Guest Visits K. Proctors

Max Langsford, of Geelong in southeastern Australia, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor, Sr. The Proctors have been corresponding with Lansford and his family since he picked their farm to stop at several years ago when he was touring the area in an effort to learn about farm family living in America.

At that time he was employed by the Chrysler Corp. in Australia. He is now with the Ford Motor Co. and has recently visited in England and Germany in connection with his business.

Currently he is in Detroit and is expecting to leave there next week. He made the trip here from Detroit for the week-end visit with the Proctors.

Saturday evening's the Proctors daughter, Marjorie, and her family Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robbins and children, of Chelsea, spent the evening at their home for a visit with their Australian guest.

Other members of the family who visited there on Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer (Jayne) and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Proctor and family of this vicinity, and Mrs. Kenneth Proctor, Jr., and her three children, of Dexter.

Experiment at St. Louis School Seeks Answers to Child Behavior

Recent activities at St. Louis School for Boys include a survey made by University of Michigan psycologists—Associate Professor Harlan L. Lane, director of the Behavior Analysis Laboratory, Daryl J. Bem, graduate student, and David M. Carlson, a senior.

One of the goals of the study was an attempt to find an answer to the question of whether parents can make a child talk himself into liking a certain kind of food; another goal was to find proof, if any, that in today's society people learn early to spot and resist, even rebel against, any obvious attempt to change their behavior. Such reaction (or counter-control as behavioral scientists call it) would be, in this case, take the form of a decrease in brown bread consumption and a more than compensatory increase in eating of white bread.

The question which had been selected for the experiment was whether a child could talk himself into liking brown bread.

A group of 48 educable retarded children at St. Louis school were used in the study because they might be expected to show less sophistication than normal children in recognizing the attempted manipulation as such. There was no persuasion or communication concerning the experiment.

When the researchers designed the experiment in such a way that the children said repeatedly, "I like the brown bread," and were rewarded for having said it, the younger children ate more brown bread, but the older group ate less brown bread and more white bread.

When the researchers simply told the children repeatedly, "You like brown bread," and rewarded them for paying attention, the older group showed no increase in their brown bread consumption, whereas the younger children ate considerably more brown bread and showed a smaller increase in white bread consumption.

One implication, broadly stated, is that such types of manipulation work with young children but action among older children.

The Rev. Frs. Fausto Sarpieri, Umberto Mellare and Germano Regoraro, who operate St. Louis school, said they were very much interested in the results of the study by the U. of M. men who pointed out that the significance is this:

The relationships between what a person says and what he does have posed many unanswered questions for behavioral scientists. For instance, is it possible to manipulate a person's verbal behavior in a way that would cause him to change his beliefs concerning the merits of brown bread?

One experiment, using picture slides and tape-recorded questions, manipulated the children to say repeatedly, "I like the brown bread." Another experiment, using some of the same slides, presented repeatedly the tap-recorded statement, "You like brown bread."

Results: Both experiments produced a significant increase in brown bread consumption in the younger group with a mean age of 10.5. A significant but smaller increase in white bread consumption also appeared in the "you like brown bread" experiment.

Neither experiment affected significantly the consumption of brown bread of the older group with a mean age of 14.3. But there was a decrease of brown bread consumption in the "I like the brown bread" experiment. This, along with the significant increase in white bread consumption and the detailed examination of individual records, indicated the presence of "counter-control" in the older group.

In a summation of the experiment at St. Louis school it was pointed out by Professor Lane that some of his other studies suggest that these findings are not limited to retarded children.

SPECIAL WINTER TIME

PARKING RESTRICTION

New parking restrictions are to be enforced during the winter months in certain areas—there is to be no parking on the south side of Park St. from East St. to the Methodist church; however, the rule does not apply after 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and during church services on Sunday.

Reason for this restriction is to allow school buses more clearance on this normally congested street and also to permit snow removal, thus reducing traffic hazards and providing safer access.

The Chelsea Police Department, recognizing the fact that there is insufficient parking area at all village churches, does allow parking on both sides of the street on restricted streets during church services only; however, it is emphasized that this does not allow for parking at cross walks and driveways or at corner restricted areas.

In Michigan... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
