Questions and Answers Corner

Answers to questions related to the millage election to be held in the Chelsea School District Monday, April 6.

Q. When will the special election for additional millage for operation be held?
A. Monday, April 6, 1964 from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Junior High school gymnasium.

Q. What is the question to be voted upon?
A. The electors will be asked to vote 3 1/2 mills for operation for a period of one year.

Q. How many additional mills were voted last year?
A. Two mills were approved for one year.

Q. What is the total millage required to meet the 1963-64 budget?
A. 11.27 mills including some voted millage.

Q. How many mills will be required to meet the 1964-65 budget?
A. 12.5 mills. This is an increase of 1.23 mills.

Q. How much will this cost each taxpayer?
A. The cost will depend on the location of your property in the district. The cost per thousand of assessed valuation (the valuation that appears on your tax statement) in each of the townships in the district is as follows: Dexter, $2.75; Grass Lake, $2.57; Freedom, $2.75; Lima, $3.41; Lyndon, $3.15; Sharon, $4.25; Sylvan, $3.60; Waterloo, $2.50.

Example: The cost of the 1 1/2 mills increase on property assessed at $5,000 in Sylvan Township is $10.80 ($3.41 x .0015 x $5,000).

Example: The cost of the increase on property assessed at $3,000 in Lima township is $10.23 ($3.41 x .0015 x $3,000).

Q. If increased income results from improvement in State Aid, will the full 3 1/2 mills be levied?
A. No. The Board will reduce the millage levy by the amount equal to the increase in State Aid (money received from the State of Michigan).

Q. Has the Board levied the total millage voted in the past two years?
A. No. The Board levied only the millage required to meet budget needs. In 1962-63 only one of the two voted mills was levied and in 1963-64 one-quarter mill was not levied.

Q. What will be the total school millage in 1964-65 compared to the 1963-64 millage?
A. The total millage in 1963-64 is 13.77—9.27 for operation and 4.5 for the high school debt retirement fund. The total millage for 1964-65 will be 17.0 mills including the 3 1/2 voted mills—12.5 for operation and 4.5 for the high school debt. This is a total increase of 1.23 mills.

Q. Is the North Elementary school paid for?
A. The total debt on this school will be paid in full April 1, 1964.

Q. What improvements will be made in the curriculum next year?
A. A woman counselor will be hired; a clerk-librarian for the Junior High school will be hired; an inservice program on modern math will be held; limited educational TV will be shown in the elementary schools; three additional teachers will be hired because of the increase in enrollment.

Q. Who may vote in the election April 6?
A. All registered voters of the Chelsea School District. Property ownership or children in school are not requirements to vote in this election.

Q. Will a public hearing be held on the 1964-65 budget?
A. Yes. A law passed in the special session of the legislature in 1963 requires a public hearing on the budget. The date, time and place will be announced in the Chelsea Standard. This hearing will not be held until the allocation board has made its final allocation in the latter part of May.

Q. Are absentee ballots available for this election?
A. Yes. Absentee ballots may be obtained from the secretary of the Board, Robert G. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Winans left last week to spend some time in Florida.

PREPARE FOR DRESS REVEUE: Participating in the Senior Miss group at the dress revue "Traveling in Style" at Ann Arbor High school Wednesday, March 25, will be the five girls shown in the above photo as they modeled their dresses at a dress revue for their mothers Saturday afternoon. They are members of the Learning By Doing 4-H club led by Mrs. Lewis Haselschwerdt and Mrs. Clarence Reddeman. Next Wednesday's dress revue will take place at the annual 4-H Spring Achievement Program of Washtenaw county. Saturday's dress revue for mothers was held at the home of Mrs. Haselschwerdt. In the photo, from left, are Laurie Reddeman, Evelyn Rothfuss, Arlys Wiseman, Norene Lampe and Judy Wiseman.

Thieves Steal Used Car At G. A. Sales

Theft of a used car from the lot at G. A. Sales & Service, 3231 Manchester Rd., was discovered Sunday morning when the car was found abandoned near Chelsea High school.

Investigation disclosed that the thieves had first attempted to start another car on the lot, damaging the wiring system, and then forced an entrance into the building by breaking a window.

Once inside, they shut off the electricity, took the keys to the car they decided to steal and made off with it. Shutting off the electric current stopped an electric clock at 3:40 a.m. fixing that as the time of the break-in.

A slight imperfection in the transmission system on the stolen car soon made it impossible to drive it and the car was abandoned. Had they known how to do it, they could have adjusted the trouble in a few moments; as it was, however, they left the car and fled the area.

The thieves had forced the lock on the fuel pumps and filled the tank with gasoline before leaving the car lot.

Three Charter Members Still Active in Group

The Kiwanis club of Chelsea will observe its 40th birthday at the weekly dinner meeting Monday, March 23, in the social center of the Methodist church. It will be a Sunday morning when the car was found abandoned near Chelsea High school.

Council Briefs

The Rev. James Craig, pastor of the Methodist church, gave the opening invocation at the March 17 Village Council meeting, the first meeting of the newly-elected officials headed by Howard Haselschwerdt, president.

A request was received from Edward G.owski, 570 Chandler St., for a zoning variance to permit construction of a carport. The request was granted.

Also approved was a request of Robert Daniels for a zoning code change in the number of square feet required for multiple dwellings.

Thomas Smith, village assessor, submitted the following assessment figures as approved by the Board of Review—personal property, $1,844,275; real property, $2,965,700; the total being $4,809,975, an increase of $200,000 over the 1963 figure.

Motion passed to accept the assessment valuation and set the millage levy for 1964 the same as last year—13 mills for the general fund; one mill for the library; three mills for payment of interest and principal on the bond issue sold for the addition to the sewage treatment plant.

The clerk was authorized to send a check for $5,323.65 to City National Bank of Detroit for payment of bonds and interest due on general obligation sewage disposal system bonds.

Motion approved to accept the results of the election of Fire Department officers—James Gaken, chief; George Atkinson, assistant chief; David Longworth, secretary-treasurer.

Discussion held pertaining to 1964 street program; also tree planting program. It was suggested that the varieties selected for planting should be Norway maple and London plane trees. No official action taken.

Standing committees named by President Haselschwerdt, J. Vincent Burg, II, president pro tem.

John Kousch, village attorney; Dr. Otto K. Engelke, health officer; Jeannette Winans, deputy clerk; John Palmer, police chief; James Gaken, fire chief; George Atkinson, assistant fire chief.

J. Vincent Burg, II, police committee.

Spring Vacation Starts Next Friday
Spring vacation for Chelsea schools begins Friday of next week, March 27, and students will return to classes Monday morning, April 6.

Public schools will have classes until noon on the 27th but St. Mary's school will be closed all day for Good Friday.

Easter Egg Hunt Set For March 28

Donald Bush, chairman of the committee in charge of the Jaycees-sponsored Easter Egg Hunt scheduled for Saturday morning, March 28, said this week that plans have been completed for the preparation of 1,500 dozen-colored eggs for the event—that is a total of 1,800 eggs.

The monumental job of cooking and coloring the eggs is accomplished each year with the assistance of Jaycees members and Jaycees Auxiliary members.

The hunt will be staged at the athletic field at Chelsea High school, beginning at 10 a.m. There will be several age categories—more divisions than there were last year—in order to give all children a fair chance to find as many eggs as possible and a chance to win prizes.

All children of the community are invited to take part in the egg hunt.

On the committee with Bush are Ronald Branham and Robert Bertke.

Wild Ducks Show as Another Sign of Spring
Vickie Wilkerson called. The Standard office early Tuesday to report another "sign of spring."

She said she saw wild ducks on the skating pond at Veterans Memorial Park at 7:20 a.m.

Girl Scouts Entertain Their Fathers

Approximately 275 persons were present Thursday evening at the Junior High school gymnasium for the Girl Scout Father-Daughter program. The number included Girls Scouts, fathers and Girl Scout leaders.

Tina Lindauer acted as mistress of ceremonies for the program which opened with a welcome to the fathers, followed by the flag ceremony in charge of Troop 84.

A large cake, baked in the form of a Girl Scout, was on display; the cake, baked by Mrs. Reatha Parker of North Lake, was to be served at the Cadette Troop No. 98 birthday party Wednesday of this week (yesterday).

The program at Thursday's event included songs by Brownie Troops 146 and 247; displays of badge work including First Aid by Troop 84, songs by Troop 47, and toy making by Troop 82; and the showing of slide pictures.

The latter included scenes of local activities, camping, the 1961 Gypsy trip and the 1962 round-up. (Continued on page six)

Confirmation Services Stated at Area Churches

Confirmation services will be held at two Chelsea-area churches on Palm Sunday.

At Bethel United Church of Christ in Freedom township a class of four girls and five boys will be confirmed by the pastor, the Rev. T. W. Menzel. In the class are Eleanor Feldkamp, Shirley Guenther, Emily Heimerdinger, Karen Luckhardt, Bruce and David Haussler, Wayne Luckhardt, Marvin Meyer and Dale Wilson.

The Rev. C. J. Renner, pastor of Zion Lutheran church at Rogers Corners has a class of five girls and three boys, including Susan Grau, Joyce Blummeier, Elaine Bassie, Carolyn Werk, Patricia McGaw, David Bristol, Donald Keegster and Thomas McGaw, Jr.

SPELLING CHAMPS: These are the school and runners-up in the spelling bees held Monday. The school winners are now eligible to the district contest scheduled for April 15. Runners-up for the district contest has not been announced. Winners at the district contest go on to the state competition enroute to possible eventual national competition.

Spelling Champs Named

These are the school and runners-up in the spelling bees held Monday. The school winners are now eligible to the district contest scheduled for April 15. Runners-up for the district contest has not been announced. Winners at the district contest go on to the state competition enroute to possible eventual national competition.

In the Junior High school, Jill Kipfmiller, North Elementary and Vickie Salyer, Jr. are the winners. At rear are Vickie Clemons, John Heppburn, Kathy Cavender and Sandra Knoll. Jill Flintoft, Jill Kipfmiller, Vickie Clemons and Kathy Cavender are winners; the others are runners-up.

In the Junior High school's sixth grade the winner is Vickie Clemons, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clemons, Jr., while the runner-up is John Heppburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Heppburn. The word that proved to be a stumbling block for the runner-up was "agast." The winner spelled it correctly and then spelled "Akron" to complete the competition.

Kathy Cavender, a seventh grader, correctly spelled "bazaar" to win the Junior High school championship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cavender. In the Junior High runner-up is Sandra Knoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knoll, who is an eighth grade student.

St. Louis School Honors Secretary's Irish Ancestry

Students at St. Louis School for Boys serenaded the office secretary, Mrs. Bill Robbins, at lunch Tuesday noon in observance of her Irish ancestry and because she arrived in the United States on St. Patrick's Day, 1948, to make her home here.

In her honor, also, as well as to co-operate with the students as they held a St. Patrick's Day party in the close of their afternoon classes, the priests and nuns at the school all wore shamrocks or other "greenery."

Mrs. Robbins, commenting on the fact, said anyone visiting the school Tuesday would have gained the impression the entire faculty originally came from Ireland. The fact is, all came from Italy to found the school here.

DRESS REHEARSAL: In preparation for next Wednesday's Spring Achievement program at Ann Arbor High school, members of the Learning By Doing club held a dress revue for their mothers Saturday afternoon at the home of one of the club's leaders, Mrs. Lewis Haselschwerdt. The four girls in the above photo participated Tuesday evening of this week in the district elimination revue at Tappan Junior High school in Ann Arbor. Only the winners in the Junior Miss district elimination go on to next Wednesday's revue at Ann Arbor High school with the Senior Girls division. The Junior Miss girls in the photo, from left, are Martha Bradbury, Sara Peck, Joan Hardin, Margaret Bateson and Kathy Lampe. (See story on page 7)

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

I know of a few subjects which are of more immediate concern to everyone than the question of their own health and the health of their families.

While health care is basically a responsibility of individual citizens, there is no question that government should be deeply concerned with the health of the public.

This governmental concern has been demonstrated for many years in our country. The most recent example of it was the federal government's study on the effects of smoking.

Here in Michigan, our State Department of Health and the state-supported universities have been working for years toward the maintenance and improvement of public health.

The recognition that health is vital to the national defense and to the happiness of our citizens has not been a matter of politics. Both parties have supported existing public health programs and initiated steps to further improve the level of physical excellence which Americans inherited from their sturdy forefathers.

In 1956, Governor Williams appointed a Governor's Study Commission on Pre-paid Hospital Care and in 1961, Governor Swainson appointed a Commission on Pre-paid Hospital and Medical Care plans.

Both of these study commissions produced outstanding reports, but unless they are acted upon, they are useless.

Our task now is to press forward with action based on the recommendations of these studies. For that reason, I appointed last week an Executive Committee of the Governor's Action Committee on Health Care.

This committee is headed by Dr. Myron E. Wezman, Dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan. The eight other members of the committee are outstanding citizens excellently equipped to promote action which will raise the level of public health.

But I also recognize the solutions to Michigan's health care problems can only be achieved by cooperation and co-ordination among governmental and voluntary interests.

Therefore, I have undertaken to organize a series of consulting committees to consider particular aspects of overall health care problems.

The consulting committees will be composed of responsible public and private leaders who can act as spokesmen for state and local agencies, voluntary citizen organizations, professional groups, hospitals and insurance plans.

I have established three goals for the Action Committee and urged that the committee accomplish these as soon as possible. They are:

1. To review progress which has already been made toward implementation of the recommendations of the Commission on Pre-paid Hospital and Medical Care plans.

2. To describe steps to be taken toward further implementation of the commission's recommendations, together with specific proposals for legislative, administrative and voluntary action.

3. To conduct further studies leading to additional action programs. The committee may retain consultants, seek foundation grants and establish subsidiary advisory committees on particular topics which require extensive further study.

FIRST DAY OF SPRING ARRIVES

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Lights No Answer

Stop-and-go traffic signals do not always hold the answer for a community which is concerned with mounting road accidents, according to State Highway Department studies.

"These signals have only one purpose and that is to assign the right-of-way at heavily traveled intersections," said Traffic Division Director Harold Cooper.

"Our experience shows a general increase in accidents may be expected after installation of a new signal," Cooper said.

Countless requests pour into the Department annually from citizens asking the installation of traffic lights at intersections where the accident rate is increasing.

More often than not, traffic engineering studies show that a light would not necessarily solve the accident problem and might even increase it. Increases are particularly prevalent in the rate of rear-end collisions, Cooper said.

As an example, Cooper cited the installation of a stop-and-go light in Ingham county at the intersection of M-78 and Abbott Rd. A yellow flasher was previously in use at the intersection.

The demand from the citizenry for a stop light was similar to that from many other communities. In this case, a television study indicated the traffic volume at the intersection was heavy enough to warrant the stop signal to assign the right-of-way to the opposing flows of traffic.

In the 12 months following the installation, however, the accidents at the East Lansing intersection increased almost fourfold. Fifteen persons were injured and one was killed in the year after the signal was installed, as compared to 10 personal injury accidents in the year before the stop-and-go light was in use.

Facts Sell

A one-man campaign to boost Michigan's vast resources is being conducted by a Detroit man.

Using the title "A Michigan Ambassador," which was first given to a group of businessmen who bragged about our state at every opportunity as they traveled throughout the country, Lawrence A. Wright has launched his promotion.

Wright, the owner of an industrial firm, says he does not intend to make a profit on the "Ambassadors" but hopes to break $25,000 invested in the project.

"The 'Ambassadors' are stand-up cards made on Michigan paper stock and bearing one legend of the State's various advantages."

There are 200 cards in the series telling briefly about Michigan's highways, copper supply, rock salt mines, notable crops, outstanding museums, islands, water facilities, universities and industries. Each is on a different subject.

Wright's goal is to sell the series to various industries, Chambers of Commerce and other organizations which have contact with tourists. They are designed to be given away to Michigan tourists who in turn would send them to their friends back home, thus turning more visitors to Michigan.

The eye-catching series has come to the attention of the State Highway Department, Tourist Council and Economic Development Development service club, all of which are considering distribution methods.

Wright hopes widespread distribution of the cards will send the slogan from coast to coast which he has had printed on the message side of the card: "Michigan—A Great Place to Live, Work, Play and Visit."

Dynamic, Diversified, Delightful. A great place to live, work, play and visit.

State Day in East

The kickoff of Michigan Week at the New York World's Fair in May is getting bigger as the date draws nearer.

In addition to the initial plans by various universities' alumni groups for breakfasts for fairgoers who attended Michigan's higher education institutions, a unique meeting of the Detroit Economic Club will be held in the fairgrounds.

Ralph C. Swan, secretary to the committee planning the event, said officials expect the Economic Club luncheon to be the biggest of its kind during the two-year run of the Fair. Members of the New York Economic Club are being invited to participate in the luncheon.

On this special "Michigan Day" at the Fair, all state-originated displays will be designed by banners. Similar flags will be attached to the Fair's sightseeing trains and taxis, which were made

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR,

About once every 15 years I go through my private papers. I keep 'em in a shoe box under the head of my bed and they was mostly little items I have clipped from the newspapers. I was taking inventory in these matters last night and come across Tom Clark's story about the conversation the ole farmer had with his mule named Bill. It was wrote about 20 years ago and I think this same generation ought to read it. It goes like this:

"Bill, you was just a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man made in the image of God. Yet here we work hitched up to gether year after year. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. I think it is a partnership between a mule and a fool, for surely I work as hard as you, if not harder. Plowing and cultivating we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two, therefore, I do twice as much as you.

"Soon we will be preparing for a corn crop. When the corn is harvested, I give one-third to the landlord for being so kind as to let me use a small speck of God's earth. One third goes to you, the rest is mine. You eat all your part, while I divide mine among seven children, six hens, two ducks and a storekeeper. If we both need shoes, you get 'em.

"You only help to plow and cultivate the ground and I alone must cut, shock, and husk the corn, while you look over the pasture fence and heehaw at me. All fall and most of the winter the whole family from baby up picks cotton to help, raise enough money to pay taxes and buy a new set of harness and pay the mortgage on you. Not a thing, you ornery uss, do you have to do. I even have to do the worrying about the mortgage on your tough, ungrateful hide.

"Butter is the only time I am your better is on election day for I can vote and you can't. After election is overline that I was as big a jackass as your him.

"And that ain't all, Bill, when you die dead, that's supposed to be the end of you. But me? The preacher tells me that when I die I may go to hell forever. That is, Bill, if I don't do just as they say. And most of what they say keeps me from getting any fun out of life.

"Tell me, Bill, considering these things, how can you keep a straight face and still look so dumb and solemn?"

That conversation, Mister Editor, belongs to a age that is dead and gone. But when I was a boy it was a picture of life that was as real as crab grass. Sometimes when I get to complaining about everything going automatic and computer crazy, I stop and think about the farmer and ole Bill and I'm glad the good-ole-days has gone forever.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Robert Snyder Representing CHS At UN Assembly

Robert Snyder will represent Chelsea High school at a United Nations Assembly at Richmond High school Saturday, the event being held under sponsorship of the State YMCA of Michigan in co-operation with students and faculty of the Richmond school. A total of 23 high schools are sending representatives.

Snyder, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snyder, 5840 Station Rd., will act as chairman of the Political Committee, one of four committees that will be in session during part of the day's experience.

Snyder, a high school junior, is active in the school's H.E.W. club and is a member of the Kiwanis-sponsored Key club and a member of the yearbook staff. He participates in the wrestling, track and football programs at Chelsea High school.

Participants in the United Nations Assembly have been studying proposals to be discussed in the committees and presented to the assembly. Among these are: Elimination of racial discrimination between human beings, eradication of illiteracy throughout the world, freedom from hunger, freedom of travel, prohibition on use of nuclear and thermo-nuclear weapons, territorial coastal limits, and the establishing of a U.N. capital development fund.

The hunkered man of the house is now having his lawn mower repaired.

of-Batteuse Lake were Thursday dinner guests of Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bott of Danville were Saturday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bott.

Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean, were Saturday evening guests of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Bott. It was a surprise birthday party for her.

Kiwanis Club Flower Sale Set for Easter

Chelsea Kiwanians are holding their annual Easter flower sale Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28. It was announced at Monday's regular Kiwanis club meeting by the chairman of the project, Harold Jones. The sale will be held at Hiltop Plumbing store and Kiwanians will be assigned the times during the two-day project.

Jones was in charge of Monday evening's program and asked Walter Zeeb of Chelsea Greenhouse to give a talk on flowers which provided of special interest to the men. The flowers for the sale are provided by Chelsea Greenhouse.

The Rev. John Fall made announcement of two special Kiwanis programs on the topic, "Green Candles of Hope," related to problems behind the Iron Curtain in Europe.

With the Rev. M. Johnson of Ann Arbor as speaker, the program will be given at the March 30 Kiwanis club meeting here and on March 31, a program on the topic will be given for all Kiwanians of Kiwanis Division VI at the Michigan Union, Ann Arbor.

Also announced at Monday's meeting was the Kiwanis goodwill meeting at Windsor, Ontario, Canada on April 20. Robert Barlow made the announcement.

Robert Foster again made mention of the Kiwanis bowling tournament to be held at East Tawas, April 11 and 12. Chelsea Kiwanians will participate.

Next week's Kiwanis club meeting will be the 40th birthday ladies' night program with supper scheduled for 6:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Methodist church social center.

POSTER-GIRL: Five-year-old Denise Harker, formerly of Chelsea, is the 1964 poster-girl for the Easter Seal campaign of the Arizona Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Blonde, blue-eyed Denise is described as a "composite of all the sugar and spice that little girls are made of" with one exception—she is deaf to the degree that she hears only unusually loud noises. She and her sister and three brothers, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harker, moved to Tucson, Ariz., several years ago. In the photo with Denise is Dr. Capano, now head of the speech and hearing department at the University of Arizona. He was trained at the University of Michigan.

Former Chelsea Child Chosen As Easter Seal Poster Girl

Because of the current Easter Seal sale sponsored throughout the United States by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., it is of special interest to note that a former Chelsea child, Denise Harker, was chosen as the 1964 poster girl for the Arizona Society of Crippled Children and Adults for its Easter Seal campaign. The group is an affiliate of the national society as is also the Michigan Society.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harker, her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Dan Harker of Harker Rd. Her mother, Marie, is the daughter of Mrs. Edward Kelly, a Chelsea school teacher.

Denise, who will be two years old April 20, and her sister, Susan, whose sixth birthday occurs April 21, both have been deaf since they were babies. Their three brothers, Kevin, Mark and Greg, have normal hearing. Their ages are seven, four and two and one-half years, respectively.

Dr. Capano, who was formerly at the University of Michigan and received his special training in speech and hearing problems there, is now head of the speech and hearing department at the University of Arizona and is shown in the Easter Seal poster photo working to identify objects and pronounce their names and do all of the things other nursery school children normally do.

Denise's sister, Susan, was given her first hearing aid by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults while the family lived in Chelsea.

Both girls are attending special classes to overcome the handicap of their hearing problem. Both girls are exceptionally intelligent and respond quickly to the teaching methods perfected by Dr. Capano and his staff.

The Easter Seal Society stresses that it serves crippled children and adults regardless of race, creed, cause of crippling or ability to pay.

The program provides equipment such as wheelchairs, crutches, braces and other appliances and provides camperships and other recreational activities for crippled children and adults; co-operates with agencies which provide voca-

WATERLOO

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Beeman and son were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beeman and family. In the afternoon the Wilber Beemans visited her mother, Mrs. Ione Moeckel at Cedar Knoll Rest Home.

ONE FOR ALL

No one has ever built the house that would "suit" everybody in town. No matter how "perfect" things really seemed to be, folks would say, "It's lovely, but it's not my house, I believe I would change this just a bit and then, I would..."

But, this is not surprising. After all, we don't all choose the same kind of automobiles, shoes, hats, or what have you. We all have our own likes and dislikes. Every good merchant is aware of this fact, regardless of what he sells. Local merchants—folks who are doing business in our community at the time—are pretty well "up" on what it takes to please folks around here.

So whatever your needs, whatever your plans, whether your aim is to build or to buy, trade, swap or sell—if you know what you want, look first to the local community. You'll be glad you did.

Trade at Home for Your own sake and community progress.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Plans Record Construction Budget

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will extend natural gas service to 55 additional communities this year at a cost of $14,800,000, and invest $28,000,000 in developing and improving underground storage fields. Michigan Consolidated will make natural gas available for the first time in the northeastern part of the lower peninsula, as far north as Alpena and Gaylord.

The utility will construct 457 miles of new distribution mains and 200 miles of transmission lines and expects to add about 17,000 new customers in 1964. In addition to these new customers, others will continue to convert to gas heat and 25,000 heating customers will be connected in 1964. In the Detroit area the utility plans to spend $10,949,000 for 50 miles of mains and other equipment. This will include completion of a new meter shop and laboratory at the company's Tremen Station, on Tremen near Livernois, at a cost of $630,000. The $1,820,000 project was started last year.

In the Grand Rapids area Michigan Consolidated will spend $1,935,000 to construct 37 miles of mains, including the extension of natural gas service to Marne.

In the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area Michigan Consolidated will invest $946,000 and construct 15 miles of mains.

The utility will spend $1,006,000 in its present service areas in northern and central Michigan on 40 miles of new mains and other work. The total is spread for work in Mt. Pleasant, Greenville, Ludington, Big Rapids, Cadillac, Traverse City, Munster, Petoskey and Sault Ste. Marie, and 60 smaller communities which make up the company's Northern District.

Joan Wahl spent the week-end with Ann Marks in Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Notten, Mrs. Floyd Clum and Mrs. Leonard Loveland called on their sister, Miss Mabelle Notten, Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Ulrich in Chelsea.

Mrs. Leonard Loveland was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rentschler. In the afternoon they all visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mollenkopf of near Parma and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Dillman Wahl.

Mrs. Floyd Clum of Hastings, who had spent some time with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leonard Loveland, spent from Friday until Sunday at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Notten. On Sunday her son, Earl Clum of near Belmont came for her and she accompanied him home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Notten and family spent Sunday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Notten.

Mrs. Philip Hoster and daughters were Saturday morning breakfast guests of Mrs. Ola Voelm.

Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hoster were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peebles of Jackson.

Mrs. Nelson Peterson was in Chelsea Sunday afternoon to call on Mrs. John Kilmer.

Mrs. Esther Waddell and her brother, George Zeeb, were Sunday afternoon visitors of the Nelson Petersons.

Mrs. Rudolph Rohde and Mrs. Nelson Peterson were in Ypsilanti one day last week to visit Mrs. Evelyn Rohde.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peterson spent the week-end as guests of the Arthur Peterses at Clayton.

Mrs. Nina Wahl spent the week-end at the home of the Loveland Hinderer family and on Saturday attended the Wide Awake 4-H club dress revue at Lima Center Community Hall. Her granddaughters, Marilyn and Jeanne Hinderer, took part in the revue.

The lesson to remember about the next war is that there will be no pushbutton victory.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

The name picked for the quail was Carol, because she can hear Christmas music from loud speakers on three sides of her winter home, which is a strip of shrubbery, five feet wide, 20 feet long, in the heart of Detroit.

I was watching sparrows feeding on red berries at the edge of a parking lot a few yards from the corner of Woodward and Jefferson when I first saw Carol.

In the car trunk was a load of scratch feed for our sparrows at home. I filled a can with feed and scattered it near the quail, then drove home wondering how Carol came to be, all by herself, then habitat of concrete. The theory that seems as good as any is that she, probably with others of a covey, took refuge in a load of Christmas trees on a parked truck and that Carol flew out in the heat of downtown Detroit.

I looked for her every day and left scratch feed, which was consumed, but whether by Carol or the sparrows I couldn't determine until the morning after a fall of snow when Carol's tracks were visible. They left the feeding place under a bush and presently came to where the quail had taken wing. My guess was that she flew just far enough to come down in a dense hedge, leaving no foot trail for an enemy to follow.

On my first encounter with her, I saw the quail keep the sparrows away from the feed, charging down on them with her head outstretched. The second time I saw her it was dusk, and the sparrows were roosting. At sight of me, she scooted into the hedge. I went to the back of the car, got a can of scratch feed, and turned to see Carol coming toward me. I started throwing out feed, and she came within six feet, the scratch feed sprinkling down on her and all around her while she gobbled her supper.

I rigged a feeder out of a garbage can cover to carry her over the week-end and each day waited for sundown to race the traffic lights across Jefferson, dodging cars leaving the parking lot and keep my date with Carol.

Hunters are familiar with the way wild things learn in a hurry to keep out of danger. There are fewer opportunities to see the process reversed; wild things coming to know when humans are harmless and helpful.

Last summer at Dick Watson's Pine Portage Camp we learned a little more about woodchucks, a species that the wild, rocky terrain around Lake Kabinakagami in the Algoma wilderness would have any woodchucks. They seem to belong in farming country. But one of the guides captured a half-grown ground hog and brought her into camp. She was called Bill, and kept that name even after a husky male began paying court to her.

Bill chose a perfect place for her living quarters under a cottage, where she dug extensive tunnels. She received the public on the steps at the front door, where one flip took her out of reach of dog, fox, owl.

Now and then, if there was too long an interval between meals, she would come to the kitchen door. Guests kept her supplied with cake, cookies and bread, but kids discovered her fondness for fresh greens. She would keep a group of youngsters busy pulling up the plants she liked and feeding them to her.

A woodchuck's chisel teeth could cut a finger to the bone but the Pine Portage Woodchuck never nipped anyone. She didn't mind being scratched around the ears, but she did object to being picked up. Now and then Jack Mills, camp bookkeeper, would trip to fondle the woodchuck while she squirmed and squallied and I expected her to bite, but she knew a friend, and protested as politely as a woodchuck could until Jack put her down.

Now Carol, the quail, faces an uncertain winter in her skimpy patch of cover while the Pine Portage woodchuck, loaded with fat, is deep in Nirvana, safely below the frost line, her quarters insulated by drifting snow. I'd like to think that the woodchuck and the quail will both raise families in 1964.

Mr. Smits' column is presented through the courtesy of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Mr. Smits will be pleased to answer any questions sent in.

She not only had the dents in the trailer but 940 golf balls she had picked up as further evidence.

TALE GET-WEIL CARD

Central Isl. N. Y.—Affectionately known as "Ma" to her senior English students, Miss Margaret Mannix put in unusual "get well" card while in the hospital.

"MA, GET WELL" was painted in gigantic letters on a 200-foot water tower. Nobody knows who painted the card and they aren't trying very hard to find out.

Taxpayer May List Deductions On Federal Return

R. I. Nixon, District Director of the Internal Revenue Office in Detroit, said today that many taxpayers ask what amount is allowed for contributions on the Federal return. He explained that the standard deduction is in lieu of all itemized deductions for contributions, interest, taxes, medical expenses and other deductions. Once the taxpayer elects to itemize those deductions, he is allowed only what he actually paid.

However, a taxpayer by an individual must actually be paid before the end of the tax year. This rule applies even to individual taxpayers who report on an accrual basis.

The value of time or services donated to a church or a charity is not deductible, Nixon said. However, out-of-pocket expenses in rendering free services to such organizations are deductible contributions. This includes amounts paid for gas, oil or bus fare, including transportation from your home to the place where you volunteer your services. It does not include depreciation or insurance on your car. The cost of uniforms which you must wear as a volunteer is deductible if the uniform is not suitable for general wear. Taxpayers who frequently donate their services should keep careful records of the expenses in order to deduct them.

Nixon said that a gift to an individual is not deductible no matter how worthy the cause.

Arbor Days Proclaimed By Governor for April 23, May

Lansing — Governor Romney's proclamation of two Arbor Days for Michigan again this year—April 23 in southern Michigan and May 7 in northern Michigan— heralds the approach of springtime.

Because Michigan is so large and so varied in climate that earliest tree-planting time comes variously in the Lower and Upper Peninsulas the Michigan Association of Nurserymen recommended two Arbor Days again this year. Governor Romney will again plant a White Pine, Michigan's official state tree, on the state house lawn, April 23. Members of the legislature as last year, will find potted blue spruce trees on their desks. Before that they will act on a concurrent resolution calling upon the people of Michigan to plant trees on Arbor Day to stimulate restoration of Michigan's forest heritage and keep green and verdant the urban as well as the rural areas.

The Michigan Education Association is co-operating with the nurserymen by urging all school superintendents to hold tree-planting programs on their school grounds. Municipalities and organizations are being urged to participate.

The five chapters of the Michigan Association of Nurserymen with area headquarters at Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids will aid groups of individuals in their areas desiring to participate. For further information they may contact their headquarters at Lansing, Mich., P.O. Box 5367, said M.A.N. Day-Committee Chairman R. L. Richter, Jr., of Lansing.

"It is fitting that Michigan should lead in observance of Arbor Day since the founder was J. S. Morton who was raised and educated in Monroe, some years ago although he moved Nebraska where the first planting or Arbor Day was served April 10, 1872," said Richter.

"Furthermore, Michigan 86 licensed tree seedling grow and produces more seedlings any state in the union."

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Another Look at the 60's...

The present decade appears to be a peculiar combination of reasonably satisfactory growth with the persistence of certain nagging problems. Between 1960 and 1963, national output increased at an annual rate of almost 4 percent. This growth has been accompanied by relatively little in the way of price inflation.

At the same time we have been plagued by unemployment at levels that, while not catastrophic, are higher than we would like to see. Our international transactions remain in deficit, creating concern as to our ability to maintain the value of the dollar.

The Administration is optimistic for the coming years, chiefly on the basis of the economic stimulation it expects from the tax cut. It believes our growth will be accelerated, but without inflation, provided business and labor behave as the Administration has advised them to. If necessary (although it is clear that the Administration says this reluctantly) money and credit policy can be tightened to restrain any new outbreak of inflation.

At this writing, practically all the economic indicators suggest good business for the next few months. How long this will last and whether it will be good enough to make inroads on the unemployment rate remains to be seen. Our balance-of-payments deficit has been substantially reduced from the alarming level it reached in the first half of 1963.

The thought naturally suggests itself that the problem for the remainder of this decade may be inflation. While the economy as a whole still operates below its potential, in some fields we are approaching bottlenecks which will drive up costs and prices.

Increases in costs and prices would impede the growth in production and employment at home. They would intensify our foreign balance-of-payments problem. Efforts abroad to restrain inflation by interest-rate rises can create further difficulties by attracting funds from this country. The deterioration in the quality of domestic credit during the current expansion is also cause for concern.

We shall surely see some new problems arise during what is left of the 1960's. But they may turn out to be additions to, rather than substitutes for, the problems we already have.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church at Tecumseh is the oldest Episcopal church west of the Allegheny Mountains. Its cornerstone was laid in 1833 and among those who contributed to the building costs were Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

McNAMARA, LEMAY DIFFER

Congress reportedly has received contradictory testimony on the reliability of missiles from Defense Secretary McNamara and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay.

Informed sources on Capitol Hill report that the two differed not only in their general estimates of reliability but in the specific figures they cited as evidence, which they gave before the House Armed Services Committee.

Paradise Exhibiting At National Boat Show

Outdoor Fibre Products, 820 N. Main, will be among the marine manufacturers displaying their Paradise portable camping house at the 1964 Chicago National Boat, Travel and Outdoors Show March 21-29 in Chicago's McCormick Place.

The show is the largest of its kind and annually attracts upwards of 800,000 people interested in enjoying boating and "woods and waters" recreation. The displays will occupy the more than 800,000 square feet of space in the mammoth exposition center.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The wicked queen in "Snow White" speaks to a mirror on the wall. She wants to know who is fairest of all.

A passage in the letter of St. James compares scripture with a mirror into which we may look. Søren Kierkegaard suggests some things we might see.

First, we don't look at the mirror to inspect it. We look to inspect ourselves. Usually there is something needing attention. Knowing what it is, we fix it.

Second, we keep in mind it is ourselves we see. The image is clear. There is no problem of recognition. Some details may not be obvious. Others are all too obvious. These we try immediately to change.

Third, we must remember how we appeared when we first looked. Each hair in place, all lint removed, we begin right away trying not to look the way we did.

Each of us looks into any mirror we pass approving or improving the reflection. Like the wicked queen we want what we hear to agree with what we think. The scripture, like the wall mirror, tells us we can be better.

Prayer. Grant us a clarity of vision. O Lord as we look into the word. Amen.

The average office-holder can tell you now when he will turn again.

Methodists Plan Family Service for Palm Sunday

A Palm Sunday service for the family is being planned this week at the Methodist church. Each of the church's three choirs will take part in the service. Lenten and Easter anthems and hymns are to be sung to express the celebration this day holds for the Christian faith.

Palms will be distributed to families at the close of the church service. By this means the congregation will reenact the crowding of the streets on the first Palm Sunday to welcome Jesus to Jerusalem. The palm fronds will be distributed by the ushers at the church doors.

No church school classes for the first through the sixth grade will be held at 10 a.m. Kindergarten and younger children will meet in their classes as usual. They will be given palms in their classrooms. The 9-10 a.m. church school will meet as usual.

For several years the Methodist church has observed the custom of distributing palms. The change in procedure this year was the recommendation of the Commission on Education.

During the service the meaning of the palms and their significance will be explained. Church school children are studying a unit concerned with the meaning of the Easter season.

An adult membership class.

WELCOME Looking for a Church

A friendly church that is interested in you and your eternal welfare. Visit the Chelsea Baptist Church—located at 337 Wilkinson St.

Visitors always most welcome.

For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?—Mark 8:36, 37.

Senior Citizens' Needs Listed for JCC Auxiliary

Dr. J. V. Fisher was the guest speaker at the meeting Tuesday evening of the JCC Auxiliary. His talk was related to the problems of older people.

Emphasizing the fact that there continues to be an increase in the number of "senior citizens" in the community, he discussed their needs, particularly in the area of providing recreational activities as well as making productive use of their skills and hobbies. He suggested that Chelsea organizations include in their plans for community service some action in this respect. Several ideas were discussed as the result of the speaker's presentation.

During the business session, Mrs.
John Ait was welcomed as a new member of the Auxiliary and Mrs.
Ronald Branham announced that the Auxiliary will meet at St.
Paul's church hall Tuesday, March 24, to assist Jaycees in coloring eggs for the annual Jaycees' sponsored Easter Egg Hunt March 28.

At the conclusion of Tuesday's meeting, held at the home of Mrs.
Donald Bush, she and Mrs. Don Coppens served a green-dessert at a table appropriately decorated for St. Patrick's day.

Hostess for the April 21 meeting of the Auxiliary is to be Mrs.
Daniel Mackenzie. Election of officers is scheduled for that meeting.

CHAT 'N' SEAU
Chat 'n' Seau group of the Congregational church, with nine members present, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Martin Steinbach. A dessert supper was served as the guests arrived at 7:30 p.m.

The evening's program included a devotional service and lesson
based on the Scriptural passage,
"Be Ye Doers of the Word, not Hearers Only." The lesson was presented by Mrs. Steinbach.

Women's Guild Plans Smorgasbord For Congregation

St. Paul's Women's Guild members met in the church hall at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday for a Lenten program followed by a short business meeting and refreshments served by the Esther Circle.

The program on the topic, "The Miracle," was presented in the form of readings, including Scripture passages, related to Christian characteristics.

Those who participated in the program were Mrs. Henry Karner, Mrs. David Strieter, Mrs. LeRoy
Satterthwaite, Mrs. William Beach and Mrs. Oscar Stierle.

Announcements made during the business session included mention of a smorgasbord supper and fellowship gathering for the entire congregation scheduled for Sunday, March 22, at the church hall.
General chairman is Mrs. Louis Burghardt with Mrs. Alfred Lipphart in charge of the dining room.
Mrs. Burghardt said serving will begin at 5 p.m. and continue as long as necessary during the evening.

It was also announced that a Mother-Daughter banquet will be held May 2 and that the chairman for the event is Mrs. John Pierson.
The meal will be entirely pot-luck.
A cleaning bee at the church is scheduled for April 14 and 15.
The next regular Guild meeting will be held in June.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS
TROOP 47—
Girl Scouts of Troop 47 met
Tuesday at the Municipal Building.
One of the leaders, Mrs. Carner Slocum, was ill and could not be present.

Jackie Schiller was a guest at the meeting.
It was announced that Troop 47
sold a total of 853 boxes of Girl Scout cookies.

Four people brought their scrapbooks, cottage cheese containers for a special project and clothing for needy people.
The girls are going camping
April 24.

At the close of the meeting the girls square danced.
Terry Blacklaw brought refreshments.

VFW Auxiliary Essay Contest Judges Chosen

Appointed to act as judges for the VFW Auxiliary sponsored essay contest are Mrs. A. D. Mayer, Mrs. William Collins and David Knisely, Junior High school teacher.

The essays are being written by Chelsea High school seniors. James LaGoe, of the High School English department, is in charge of the project at the school.

Topic for the essay contest, being sponsored on a national scale, is "The Foreign Student in America—An Opportunity for Friendship."

Five members of the Ladies'
Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4070 attended the District VI meeting held at Springport Sunday—Miss Alda Juergens, Mrs. Mary Kniss, Mrs. Mac Packard, Mrs. Charles Carty and Mrs.
Henry Werner.

Mrs. Kniss, who is membership chairman for the Chelsea Auxiliary, was presented with a check and a gold chain in recognition of her record of 100 percent paid-up membership as of Dec. 31, 1983.
She was one of four membership chairmen in the district to be so honored.

Mrs. Edith Brown, of Detroit who is the Department of Michigan VFW Auxiliary senior vice-president, was at the district meeting and participated in initiation of four members of the Springport Auxiliary.

The Chelsea Auxiliary's regular business meeting of the month will be held Monday evening at the Chelsea K. of C. Hall.

MSU Band To Appear May 18 at World's Fair

East Lansing — Michigan State University's 150-man marching band has accepted an invitation to perform at the New York World's Fair, band director Leonard Falcone has announced.

The MSU unit will perform
May 18 at New York City during the Fair's Michigan Day, Falcone said.

The invitation to MSU was issued by the state committee planning Michigan Day at the Fair.
Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corp., will sponsor the band's trip.
Falcone said the band will play
Monday morning (May 18) at an MSU breakfast in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, and perform at the World's Fair that afternoon.
Complete plans for the band's appearance will be announced later.

OVER-TEASED HAIRDOS

To combat the teenage fad for extreme, over-teased hairdos, one-salon has launched a mother-daughter program to facilitate parental guidance in the choice of young girls' hairstyles. Many lenders in the beauty field have come to the conclusion that only too often disaster results when a teenager, with no supervision, gets her hair styled without any regard for what suits her age, personality or life she leads.
Your youngsters can be steered away from these "coiffure pitfalls."

Show your teenager by your own example the need for professional assistance. It's a good habit for her to follow. Magic

Foreign Car Sales Stage Comeback

Lansing — The ever-popular German Volkswagens carried foreign cars to a comeback in sales during January.

Registrations recorded by the Secretary of State reveal that Volkswagen led the foreign car field to an increase of nearly 200 vehicles over January, 1962, totals. In essence, Volkswagen virtually constitutes the foreign car field in Michigan, registering 1,116 of the total 1,560 foreign cars titled in January.

Volkswagens increased more than 200 units over a year ago with no other foreign entry running up to 100 during January. Renault was closest with 98 registrations. The January figure was the second highest month in the past two years and the highest since June of 1962.

Batting Champ To Be Guest At Capuchin Baseball Dinner

Detroit's Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's 1962 batting champion, will head a delegation of four from the Boston Red Sox to be honored at the 23rd annual Capuchin Baseball Dinner at Cobo Hall on May 7.

The rest of the Boston team was forced to decline an invitation to the dinner because of travel plans for a game the next day in Washington.

In addition to Yastrzemski, who hit .321 to win the batting title in his third major league season at the age of 24, the Red Sox will be represented at the Capuchin dinner by:

— Dick Radatz, their 235-pound bullpen ace who was born in Detroit, lived in Royal Oak and was an All-American choice at Michigan State.

— Manager Johnny Pesky, who spent more than two seasons with the Tigers as a player and five seasons in the farm system as a manager.

— Tom Dowd, colorful traveling secretary who is well-known to Capuchin audiences as a speaker at previous dinners.

It was announced earlier that Heide Manush, latest Tiger addition to baseball's Hall of Fame, will be a special honor guest at the Capuchin Dinner, which this year is expected to top 4,000 in attendance with the admission of women fans for the first time.

Tickets are on sale now. Proceeds from the event go to the support of the Capuchin Soup Kitchen on the East Side.

OVERTIME PAY PLAN

President Johnson's proposal to create more jobs in some industries by imposing double overtime pay rates won warm labor support but reaction in Congress was split.

The Johnson proposal was a long step toward labor's demands for double overtime and a 35-hour work week as measures to reduce chronic unemployment that now stands at 4,000,000.

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law.)

The words "special assessment" are little known or understood, but they are important to the average citizen and his pocketbook. Different units of government have the power to levy a special assessment against a particular piece of real estate. This power is usually used by local governments to finance the construction or improvement of roads, sewers, water systems, sidewalks and the like. A particular group of property or lots in an area may be charged with the cost of the improvement on the grounds that this particular area receives a special benefit or convenience greater than that of the general public in the community as a whole.

But in order for the local government to accomplish this special assessment, certain steps, including one or two public hearings, are taken. The first hearing, if held under local procedures, is known as the "necessity hearing" and is held after adequate legal notice is given. Notice of this hearing is published in a local paper and, in addition, mailed to each property owner and party in interest affected by the special assessment. The local tax assessment rolls are used as a mailing guide, so it is important that each property owner take steps to see that his name, address and property subject to tax are correctly set forth on the rolls. Thus, each piece of property in the special assessment district may be represented at the hearing. At or prior to the necessity hearing, an interested party may challenge the necessity of the project, the inclusion of his property in the special assessment district, the cost estimates and other related matters.

If the governing body decides to proceed after the hearing, a special assessment roll is prepared. This roll will carry each property in the special assessment district and the tax assessment against each property, which assessment must be figured on the basis of particular or special benefits to be enjoyed by that property. Thus, one might properly be charged with part of the cost of a roadway or sewer that services his property. On the other hand, a home owner could justifiably object to an assessment for heavy duty paving on his street which was to permit the re-routing of truck traffic through his residential neighborhood.

The second hearing is held on the assessment itself and follows the giving of legal notice as in the first instance. At this time the existence of special benefits and the amount of the assessment are open to the scrutiny of all interested parties. Thus, a special assessment project has had to stand two tests: a test as to public necessity of the project and a test as to the amount chargeable according to special benefits to a particular piece of property.

County Product of the Year Entries Due By April 10

In the product-of-the-year and related contests of the 1964 Michigan Week (May 17-23) counties have until April 10 to select their winners. Milton G. Kendrick, chairman of the state committee in charge, announced today.

The related contests are for agricultural development of the year and community economic achievement of the year.

Judging in the 16 Michigan Week regions is to take place April 15. All information on the regional winners is to be in the hands of the state committee April 24 ready for the three teams of state judges to begin their work. That is the schedule the committee announced in January and it remains firm, Kendrick said.

At the time the state committee recommended completion of county judging by the middle of March, a number of county Michigan Week chairmen have said they require more time and Kendrick's committee decided that a deadline of Friday, April 10 for county judging would leave enough time for the regions to finish their judging by April 15.

Any company manufacturing in Michigan may file an entry in the product-of-the-year contest, so long as its entry is a consumer product, new or recent, now in production and on the market and with a potential for national distribution and for economic benefit to the community. Chelsea won with its "Paradome" portable camping house last year.

In the agricultural competition an entry may be a product, process or any development of benefit to Michigan agriculture and the award could go to an individual, a company, an organization or even an individual.

In the community economic achievement competition an organization or group is eligible but it may be a governmental organization as well as a city or area association.

Auto License Sales Set All-Time Mark

Lansing — An excellent mobile-based economy was more than 3 1/2 million vehicles sold during the first 10 months of this year.

On March 9, Michigan 250,000 licenses ahead of the date in 1963.

Secretary of State James H. Harkins said he expected the state would increase total license sales to about 200,000 in 1968, barring a "complete economic reversal."

RIGHTS BILL

In an overwhelming vote, the House approved the civil rights bill. It now faces a tougher battle in the Senate, where some hope to whittle it down.

Passages came on the day of debate and vote amendments, with the civil forces turning back more than 100 attempts to weaken the 10-part measure.

Dutch Elm Disease Control Effort Started in Many Areas

Spraying of elm trees to protect them from the European elm bark beetle has already started in some Michigan communities, the initial phase in 1964 municipal programs to save stately elm trees from sure death by Dutch elm disease.

Eighty-four communities operate spray and sanitation programs to protect their elms. Once a tree has the disease there is no known cure. The tree soon dies and must be removed at considerable cost.

Dutch elm disease is spread by a small beetle which carries the infection from a diseased tree to a healthy one. Programs consist of spraying to destroy the beetle and the removal and destruction of diseased elms to prevent further spread.

Successful spray programs consist of getting the protective spray of proper strength on at the proper time, also adequate coverage which means completely covering all surfaces of the tree. The spray is usually applied before trees begin to leaf in the spring, and a second spray is applied in some communities in July.

C. A. Boyer of the Michigan Department of Agriculture says elm tree losses in communities with good spray and sanitation programs have been held to 1 percent or under. Loss of elm trees has amounted to as high as 26 percent in some communities without programs. These communities today face huge expenditures in removing dead elms.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division cooperates, as far as finances will permit, with communities having spray and sanitation programs. The Department collects and analyzes samples of the spray solution, runs tree surveys, and operates a laboratory which tests samples of elm twigs to determine presence of Dutch elm disease.

THE LETTERBOX

★ Election Lost!

These statements are not written in favor of the People's Party, or the Independent Party, nor for that matter the Republican, Democratic, or Communist Party.

They are, in fact, written against all of these parties and what has happened here, in this village, today, March 9, 1964!

Was the election won by the Independent Party? No, I say that the election was lost by the people of Chelsea! You and I!

True, I have not lived here long, nor am I a property owner, nor am I sure that we will be here for any great period of time. Nor do I know all there is to know about village politics or the village, and surely I have been guilty of not taking sufficient interest in not being sufficiently politically minded regarding elections of a greater scope. I have not made myself as well informed as I might.

But what has happened here has caused me to think: If a one-party ballot is possible in a village, why not a state? Why not a national election?

Impossible? Perhaps the Germans thought this before the single party ballots that came with the Nazi Party in the mid-thirties! I am not a candidate for any office, nor have I ever very seriously entertained such aspirations; what I am, is disturbed purely from a deep concern for our future well-being.

Not that Mr. Haselschwardt and Mr. Winans and all of the others who have had enough moral fiber to stand for election will not be a credit to Chelsea and serve us well, but rather that they were unopposed!

It is for this reason that I say, WE HAVE, ALL OF US, LOST THE ELECTION!

Michigan Highway Deaths Jump Sharply

Lansing—According to figures released by the National Safety Council, Michigan recorded a sharp increase in traffic deaths during January a hike of 63 percent over 1963's all-time high.

James M. Hare, chairman of the State Safety Commission, said Michigan was 11th in percentage increase, behind such states as Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, and Wisconsin. The dubious honor of recording the largest percentage increase went to Montana with 280 percent over 1963 totals.

Michigan was in 20th place nationally during January in the number of deaths per 10,000 population with 21.0.

REDS AND VIETNAM

The new turmoil in South Vietnam's Government may give the Communist guerrillas an opening for an offensive that could wipe out recently reported gains by the United States-backed forces.

Reports of a new Government upheaval in Saigon suggested a return to the confused conditions on which the Red Viet Cong thrived after the ouster of the Diem regime in November.

Civil Defense

CLAIM: "Even the experts disagree on civil defense measures, and the Government keeps changing its mind on civil defense. Nobody really knows what to do."

ANSWER: Broad changes have occurred in basic civil defense concepts over the years, made necessary by technological advances in the art of warfare. For example, evacuation of some areas was feasible when atomic weapons were used for nuclear war, but the advent of large, long-range missiles and information on the danger of radioactive fallout made evacuation less desirable and caused a shift of emphasis to shelters.

All qualified experts now agree that if a nuclear attack should occur tens of millions of Americans would be exposed only to fallout radiation and not to blast and fire, and that tens of millions of lives would be saved by a nationwide fallout shelter system. This lifesaving potential of a shelter system could determine the survival of the United States.

Pruning Demonstration Scheduled Saturday

By request of several growers, the Co-operative Extension Service will hold a pruning demonstration Saturday, March 23, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The demonstration is held on Saturday to make it convenient for those who could not make it Monday through Friday.

Wayne's district horticulture agent, E. J. Schindler, will conduct the demonstration and discussion. Location of the demonstration site is Don-Darling's orchard, 3840 Garfield Rd., about 1,500 feet south of North Territorial Rd., west side of the road. This is five miles west of Plymouth.

Darling has a wide variety of apples, plums, pears, sweet and sour cherries, apricots and peaches.

Anyone interested is urged to attend the demonstration.

An intelligent person is rarely fooled by what people say about him, or her.

Olivet Students Discuss Major Education Issues

Stephanie Wagner, a student at Olivet College, was in attendance at the first of a series of seven conferences on the topic, "Major Issues in Education." The conference was held at the Collegiate Center on the Olivet College campus on Saturday, March 16.

Sub-topics for the first session was "Tentative" with Dr. P. M. Stinnett, assistant executive secretary for the National Education Association (NEA) commenting on the positive point and Mrs. H. W. Hackett supporting the opposing view. Mrs. Hackett is a member of the Dearborn Board of Education and recipient of the state PTA Distinguished service award for 1962.

Mrs. Hackett, in presenting her views, enlarged on her statement that "what's good for the teachers is not necessarily good for education."

Other leaders who participated in the conference included Dan E. Reed, legislative director of the Michigan Farm Bureau and Donald W. Giese, regional representative for the Michigan Education Association and chairman of the MEA Tentative committee.

The second conference of the series is scheduled for April 4 on the topic, "Automation in the Classroom."

The program will be open to the public. Miss Wagner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wagner, 319 Congdon St.

Comedy Basketball Team To Meet High School Faculty

The Harlem Ambassadors, who bring their great basketball show to the Chelsea High school gym on Tuesday night, March 24, against the High School Faculty, are unveiling a new comedy star this year. He is James (Goose) Edwards, a 6-foot-5 Detroit product who at the tender age of 19 is showing tremendous ability in the art of making people laugh.

Edwards, a rugged rebounder and a capable defensive player, was with the Ambassadors much of last season, when the team completed another undefeated campaign against top independent and All-Star clubs across the country. Dribbling wizard Leon Hillard and former Globetrotter Donald (Ducky) Morris, who coached the Ambassadors, believe they have a truly outstanding performer in Edwards, who is anxious about the possibility of becoming one of the greats of comedy ball.

Edwards has plenty of company in the star department with Dick Crenshaw, Bill (Red) Turner, Hillard and others on hand as the Ambassadors campaign for the fifth year, with only one defeat on the ledger.

The fun-loving Ambassadors will be appearing here under the sponsorship of Teachers Club-Scholarship Fund and the High School Choir. Tickets are available at the door. Game time Tuesday is 8:00 p.m. On the team opposing the hardwood magicians are members of the Chelsea High School faculty.

First Pre-Roundup Session Slated Sunday for Parents, Girl Scouts

Ann Arbor—Mrs. Sam Sekaros, Ann Arbor Roundup chairman for the 1963 National Girl Scout Roundup at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, has announced the first pre-roundup meeting of parents and girls to be held in the conference rooms in the Concourse at Arborland, Ann Arbor, Sunday, March 22.

The meeting will be from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Miss Louise Taylor, a staff member of the Huron Valley Council, and past Roundup attendees, will explain the meaning of Roundup. About 300 people are expected to attend this meeting.

All girls and their parents interested in the 1963 Roundup are being invited to participate. The girls will be choosing which session of "Little Roundup" training they will attend this summer. The training will be held at Linden Site, near Ponton, from June 21, 26, and June 26-July 3.

At the training session the girls learn to lash their own furniture, cook, and prepare themselves for Roundup living.

The meeting at Arborland will speak of time involved in Roundup preparation, personal equipment, eligibility of girls going, and financial arrangements to be made. Maps and directions for arriving at the correct destination will be given.

Only girls who attend the "Little Roundup" camp at Linden Site are eligible to attend the National Roundup as part of a patrol sent by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Solve Storage Problems with These Guides

"A place for everything and everything in its place" is the time-honored basic principle of good storage. And in no place in the home is the use of this principle more important than in the kitchen.

Those are the words of Alice Apple, Extension Home Economist, with the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service.

She firmly believes that following good storage principles help a homemaker to make the best use of each storage area. And these principles or guides, she says, may be used when you're building a new house, remodeling your present house, or thinking of buying a new home and want to check for adequate storage.

For the kitchen, Mrs. Apple offers these guides to better storage:

(1) Store supplies and utensils at the point of use and within easy reach.

(2) Arrange cabinets so that all articles are easy to see, easy to reach and easy to grasp. One row deep on a shelf or one stack deep in a drawer provides for this.

(3) Avoid clutter on shelves and in drawers by getting rid of unused utensils.

(4) Store heavy articles, heavy pans or stacks of dinner plates on shelves that are easiest to reach—generally 25-32 inches from the floor. This cuts down on lifting or stooping when you move articles in and out of cupboards. Pull-out shelves in base cabinets, adjustable shelves in upper cabinets and vertical storage spaces in high and low areas are efficient.

(5) Adequate counter space usually provides enough storage above and below the counter for the supplies and equipment to be used in a particular work-center. Be sure not to reduce too much of the upper cabinet space with windows or other openings over work surfaces.

(6) Be safety conscious. Large cabinet doors may cause accidents. Doors that fold in half, center out, are much safer.

"Work at one storage area until improvements make it effective, then tackle another area and its problems," Mrs. Apple advises. "It takes time and thought, but the results are worth the effort."

PEACE PARLEY HALTED

Negotiations aimed at a peaceful solution of the United States-Panama dispute collapsed and an emergency meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers was suggested.

Agreement by 14 of the 21 American nations would be required to call such a meeting as Panama requested. Indications are that the United States would not oppose such a meeting.

The first bishop of Marquette, Bishop Baraga, who ranks as one of the foremost writers in American Indian literature, was the author of the first Chippewa grammar and dictionary.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Trevor Smith of Morenci spent from Friday until Sunday here as the guest of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Weir and daughter. On Saturday, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Weir went to Belleville to visit their sister, Mrs. George Wheelock of Ypsilanti, who is ill and is being cared for at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wheelock. On Sunday, Mrs. Smith was present for a birthday dinner at the Weir home in honor of Weir's grandson, Richard E. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Egelor and daughter, Mrs. Douglas Egelor and daughter, Mrs. Wilson of Morenci, son-in-law daughter of Mrs. Smith. TRAVELALL

Can Give You Big Payload Capacity, Big Volume, Big Power and Big Traction

The new TRAVELALL is a fleet, agile and well-designed station wagon. Unlike other vehicles of the type which have been so modified by modern stylists and engineers that they are little more than low ground-hugging automobiles with elongated bodies, the TRAVELALL retains the original concept of a station wagon as a dual-purpose passenger and load carrier. It is an easily-handled, smooth-riding and comfortable carrier of up to nine riders. The TRAVELALL body has 124 cu. ft. of load space behind the front seat. Available in wide variety of chassis, motors and suspensions, 2- or 4-wheel drives. Stop in and see for yourself the many advantages of the new TRAVELALL.
