Three Kiwanis Club Charter Members Honored at Anniversary

PAUL "JERRY" NIEHAUS

Paul 'Jerry' Niehaus Honored for 40 Years of Perfect Attendance

Among the 160 persons present for the Chelsea Kiwanis club's 40th birthday party Monday evening were Kiwanians from Ann Arbor, Bay City, Brighton, Dexter, Jackson, Pinckney, Plymouth, Port Huron, Whitmore Lake and Ypsilanti.

A highlight of the evening's program was recognition of Paul F. Niehaus for perfect attendance for the 40 years—a total of 2,080 meetings. One of three charter members still active in the club, his attendance record is believed to be equaled by only one other Kiwanian in the United States.

Chelsea's other two charter members are M. W. McClure who served as president in 1930 and again in 1933, the only president who served two terms during the 40 years, and Paul G. Schaible, Sr., who was vice-president of the club in 1938. Schlable, who is vacationing in Florida, sent one of the several messages of congratulation read at the meeting Monday.

Among messages received were those from the Kiwanis club of Gardena, Calif.; Charles A. Swain, Kiwanis International president; and O. E. Petersen, secretary of Kiwanis International.

Niehaus, who read the messages, has been secretary of the Chelsea club for many years. He was lieutenant-governor of Division VI in 1938.

Kiwanis Legion of Honor awards for 25 years of membership were presented by Frank Staiger, secretary of the Kiwanis Michigan District, for M. J. Anderson, who was district governor in 1952; Charles Cameron, president of the Chelsea club in 1955; John P. Keusch, president in 1949; and H. T. Moore, president in 1950.

Special awards included a Key club emblem presented to Past President Robert Daniels. A Chelsea Key club for high school youths was organized while he was president. The award was presented by Immediate Past Lieutenant-Governor John Thompson.

Staiger acted as toastmaster at the birthday program which included talks by Ernest F. Fletcher of Bay City, Michigan Kiwanis District governor; Dr. D. Ford Topping, president of the Jackson Kiwanis club; President Raymond Lorichon of the Dexter club; and James Bradley, president of the Pinckney Kiwanis club.

Perfect attendance awards were presented by Division VI Kiwanis Lieutenant-Governor Walter Gemperline of Plymouth and 40-year honor certificates were presented the three charter members by Ralph Lewis, charter night member of the Jackson Kiwanis club, parent club of the Kiwanis club of Chelsea.

Chelsea club members who took part in the program include Wallace Wood, president, who welcomed the members and guests; the Rev. John Fall who gave the invocation, and Paul Niehaus who led group singing with Mrs. Niehaus as accompanist.

Program chairmen were Floyd Fowler and Don Turner.

Programs in ruby color, to signify the 40th anniversary, and matching colored geraniums added to the attractiveness of the table settings. The dinner for the birthday party and ladies' night was served in the social center of the Methodist church.

The complete list of attendance awards, as presented by Lieutenant-Governor Gemperline follows. Paul F. Niehaus, (40 years), 2,080 meetings; the Rev. E. J. Weiss, 1,150 meetings; Thomas C. Smith, 1,100; Dr. P. E. Sharrard, 950; James Daniels, Anton Nielsen and Kenneth Runciman, 850 each; Robert Foster, 800; James Liebeck, 600.

Churches Plan Extra Services For Holy Week

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

Ronald Bush, chairman in charge of the Jaycees-sponsored Easter Egg Hunt for all children of the community, said yesterday that the hunt is planned for 10 a.m. Saturday; however, if the weather is bad it will be postponed until 2 p.m. Should the weather still be too bad to stage the event at that time it will be held over until 2 p.m. Sunday.

Provisions have been made for six categories. Each category will have a first and second prize—a plastic egg containing a three-dollar gift certificate and a chocolate bunny, respectively.

The first age group is for children up to two years old.

Others are divided as follows: children three years old to kindergarten age; then kindergarteners, first graders, second graders and third graders.

The Jaycees Easter Egg Hunt will be staged at the athletic field at Chelsea High school.

All children of the community are invited.

A total of 1,800 eggs are being prepared for the hunt. Jaycees will have the assistance of members of the Jaycees Auxiliary in cooking and coloring the eggs and will be working in the kitchen at St. Paul's church.

On the committee with Bush are Robert Bertke and Ronald Branham.

Parli-Pro Team Second in State

Late yesterday afternoon word was received that the Chelsea High school FFA parliamentary procedure team placed second and received a gold award in state competition at the FFA convention at Michigan State University. They were only a point or two under the first place team, Lakeville High school.

Good Friday Service Slated at Methodist Church

The annual United Community Good Friday service will be held from 1:30 until 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Methodist church. The Rev. James A. Craig, pastor of the Methodist church, is to deliver the sermon on the topic, "The Parable of the Last Judgment."

Pastors of other participating churches will be responsible for various parts of the service and the anthem, John Stainer's "God So Loved the World," will be sung by approximately half of the members of the 52-voice Chelsea High school choir. The group will be directed by David Sanborn, vocal music director of Chelsea schools.

St. Mary's Catholic church, St. Barnabas Episcopal church and Chelsea Baptist church have planned special Good Friday services at their individual churches.

Special music at Chelsea Baptist church, where the service begins at 1 p.m., will include the duets, "Alone," sung by Norman O'Connor and Robert Schneider, and "Room at the Cross for You," sung by Mrs. Robert Schneider and Mrs. Donald Schneider. The pastor's wife, Mrs. Elmer Steenson, will serve as accompanist for the duets.

St. Mary's church, the Congregational and Methodist churches and St. Paul's United Church of Christ are also holding special Maundy Thursday services this evening. Detailed information is included in the individual notices of the various churches on the church page in this issue of The Standard.

Chelsea business places will follow their custom of former years and remain closed from noon until 3 p.m. Good Friday.

An innovation at the United Community service this year is the fact that there will be a nursery for the care of young children during the service.

Kiwanis club members will serve as ushers.

Mrs. Clara Hutzel who was a patient the past two weeks at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, left the hospital Sunday and is now staying with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Niehaus.

MRS. MARIANNE KERR, fifth grade teacher at South Elementary school was honored at a surprise birthday party held last Friday in the school's all-purpose room. Her pupils had made all the arrangements for the party before even contacting their room mothers, Mrs. Andrew Dyson and Mrs. William Willard. When the two room mothers arrived they found the tables set, the room decorated in yellow and white and similar colors included in the table setting and decorations on the cake. Room mothers said the children had done a remarkable job in planning and carrying out the arrangements for the surprise party. Only adult asked to help was another teacher, Mrs. Douglas Lange, who kept Mrs. Kerr occupied until the children were ready for her to be brought in for the party. Mrs. Kerr is shown seated at the table. Children in the photo, front row, from left, are Raylene Buckingham, Roger Roark, Suzan Frisch, Gayle Winans, Susan Blaess, Tonya Clemons, Kitty Keezer, Gordon Morgan, Eileen Bristle, Jeff Parsons, Tony Burnett and Steve Wireman. GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Announcement that General Motors Corp. will spend the bulk of its 1964-65 expansion money in Michigan is the best news this state has received in a long time.

Of the $2 billion that the company plans to spend throughout the world, a reported $700 to $750 million will be spent in Michigan.

This sum is more than the company will invest in the other 49 states combined. It is a spectacular expression of faith in the great advantages Michigan offers to industry.

The company decision will mean 25,000 new industrial jobs for Michigan, plus an undetermined additional number of jobs in associated lines.

Infusion of new industrial strength through the metal fabrication plant in Kalamazoo and the upholstery trim plant in Tecumseh will add significantly to the community strength in both of those areas.

Expansion of facilities in Flint, Detroit, Warren, Livonia, Lansing, Pontiac, Saginaw, Ypsilanti and Grand Rapids means added vigor in those areas as well.

The need for expanding facilities for the care of delinquent youth is one of the most pressing needs facing our state today.

Between 1942 and 1962 the state's population expanded 45 percent, but facilities for delinquent youth were expanded only 10 percent.

By the end of 1964, the state's facilities will have been increased by 44 percent, and by the end of 1965, we will have increased our capacity by 80 percent.

Recognizing the urgency of the problem, I have asked the legislature to approve an immediate expansion of the halfway house program.

The Department of Social Welfare has conducted a careful survey of the boys and girls institutionalized at the Boys' Training School and Girls' Training School to determine how many youths could be placed in halfway house programs.

Their survey indicates that 80 to 100 boys and about 10 girls could benefit from a halfway house program which helps bridge the gap between institutional care and the community.

As a result of this survey, I have recommended eight additional halfway houses be programmed: three in the Wayne county area, one each in Flint, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Marquette.

Important as these new facilities would be, it should be remembered that we are not attacking the causes of delinquency when we put youths in institutions or halfway houses.

For this reason, my 1964-65 recommended programs include preventive as well as remedial measures in the field of juvenile delinquency.

When To Vote?

Delay of the fall election primary grows as a possibility almost daily in Michigan, and the prospect for ballot-box chaos is expanding.

Still a big question mark are two major groups of offices. Both the legislative and congressional districting matters are tied up in courts in the state, with everyone apparently waiting for some word from higher authority.

The legislative apportionment matter went to the State Supreme Court in early February. Court members say they will wait for clarification of judicial policy on representative government from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Congressional guidelines drawn last year by the legislature are also being challenged.

The legislature has ready alternative plans to avoid last-minute problems in both areas of the election, but it too wants to wait.

Elections officials at the state and local levels have given more than ample warning of the effect of recurring delay. Any primary set for later than early September could mean some areas could not have the election machinery ready for the November vote.

At best, decisions will be reached to enable setting a Sept. 8 primary and the November election will be normal. Even at this, the prospective candidates and voters will have a difficult time getting acquainted to assure responsible decisions.

At worst, however, Michigan's three or four million voters could be asked to elect 148 legislators and 19 congressmen from a rotating bedsheet ballot which could provide only the assurance that the men with the best names would win.

Growing Older

Variety is the spice of life, it is said, and the Michigan Commission on Aging has run the gamut of variety within the past two years.

Within this period, the Commission has been served with the extremes. Gary D. Hansen was a very young man who specialized in studies dealing with the aged. He resigned recently as Commission director to head the Institute of Gerontology at an Oregon college.

Replacing him, the Commission went to the other end of the age scale to appoint a man who is in the age group with which the Commission is concerned.

A retiree from the industrial relations personnel field, Harry J. Kelley is 72 years old. He retired just three years ago.

Like Hansen, the new director has been working in the field. He has been chairman of the Grand Rapids-Kent County Co-ordinating Council on Aging and has also served as president of the Michigan Society of Gerontology.

Commission Chairman John B. Martin has described Kelley as "one of the best informed men in the state on the problems of aging." One thing for sure is that Kelley fulfills the Commission's strong belief that senior citizens themselves probably are well qualified to serve in their own field.

Champion Park

The state park at Holland continues to be the biggest drawing card for spending tourists in Michigan, latest reports from the Conservation Department confirm.

During 1963, the Department studies showed Holland State Park again ranked first among the 65 parks and recreation areas in both total permit receipts and in spending.

This past year, however, Grand Haven State Park was the attendance pace-setter with nearly 1.1 million visitors. Holland State Park ranked second in this popularity yardstick.

Visitors spent a total of more than $83 million in Michigan last year for gasoline, groceries and similar items outside of the revenue involved in concession sales and camping and vehicle permit purchases.

The Department reports indicate the expenditures came from nearly 13.5 million daytime park users and a record 210 camping groups.

The two Western Michigan parks drew heaviest, but the next three attendance drawers in succession indicated heavy use by state residents. The next three most popular areas were Waterloo and Island Lake Recreation Areas and Dodge No. 4 State Park, all relatively close to the Southeast Michigan metropolitan complex.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was reading a couple items in the papers this week that ought to be pasted on President Johnson's desk. He has allowed as how he was going to cut spending to the bone and here is a chanct fer him to cut bone and all.

Right now they was remodeling Old Ironsides at the Boston Naval Shipyard at a cost of $700,000. This is the fourth time in 100 year this old tub has been rebuilt, according to this item in the papers, and the taxpayers has now got more than $4 million invested in a ship that didn't cost but $65,000 when it was put in the water in 1797.

This piece said the job was give to the Navy shipyard without a bid while the Bethlehem Steel Company had to close down its shipyard next door on account of not gitting enough business to pay its taxes to help the Guvernment shipyard compete agin 'em.

The second item was a report from Washington that the Atomic Energy folks has spent $2.6 million to dig a hole fer testing near Hattiesburg, Mississippi, and has now found the hole ain't suitable fer what they had in mind. I reckon they will spend another $2.6 million covering up the hole. It makes the taxpayer wonder if them folks actual knows a atom from a hole in the ground.

They ain't no quicker way, Mister Editor, our Guvernment can git back the confidence of the American people than to knock a few heads together and throw these folks out of a job. Fer instant, I see by the papers where the Navy is still holding out fer black dress shoes when all the other service is using brown shoes. The General accounting office reports that this is costing the taxpayers $158,000 extra ever year. The piece went on to say the brass in the Pentagon has been debating this matter fer the last six year. If they can settle it in another six, it won't cost the taxpayers but another $948,000. And by that time Old Ironsides will probable be needing another rebuilt job.

Another item in the papers last week that caught my eye was the one about the U.S. Embassy in London distributing 16,000 pamphlets explaining to the British people how us Americans pick a President. I shore would like to git hold of one of them pamphlets and improve my ignorance in this matter.

And I see where the U. S. Department of Commerce is making a survey on the cost of being born and the cost of gitting buried. It will be safe to perdict that these matters will show a neat profit at both ends.

It has come to the place, Mister Editor, where all I can hope to do is keep up with yesterday. I've enjoyed a heap of rosperity in the last 20 year but I've had to mail most of it to Washington.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

An Easter Gift . . .

Each year, during the Easter season, thousands of fluffy baby chicks and tiny floppy-eared rabbits are given to small children by parents and relatives.

The delicate creatures, not yet equipped by adulthood to withstand the children's "rough-housing," are often maimed or killed—and at best face an uncertain future. Unfortunately, the yellow balls of fluff turn into gangling young chickens, and the rabbits also grow up, soon becoming too large for the cardboard shoe box.

During Easter, and throughout the year, the Christian Rural Overseas Program suggests that these traditional gifts be donated instead to the many agriculturally poor and underdeveloped countries.

According to Russell Hartzler, Director of Michigan CROP, Lansing Box 206, twenty-five cents will pay for one chick sent overseas. The United States' Aid program, working in conjunction with CROP, pays the actual shipping costs. Just how important a few chickens can be to a Congolese family was explained by Hartzler:

"In the Congo," he said, "where the Congo Protestant Relief Agency is working to place the American donated chicks with needy families, less than a dozen mature chickens will supply the clothing needs for an entire family.

"Each family gets anywhere from two to ten chicks with a ready market for the eggs which are much higher quality than those produced by the native chickens."

Last year CROP shipped over 103,000 chicks as well as other livestock to twenty-seven countries.

Now, when the spirit of Easter is with us, this people-to-people project in compassion helps put to better use the God-given abundance our nation now enjoys.

What better way to bring home to our children the real meaning of Easter than to let them share with others, less fortunate, the good life we enjoy?

Two days after Antoine Cadillac landed at Detroit in 1701, he established St. Anne's Church, Michigan's first church and next to the oldest parish that has been maintained continuously in the United States.

4-H Youth Have Opportun For Service in Peace Cor

Your 4-H club experience in agriculture and home economics may be a valuable resource in the developing nations of the world, says Norman Brown, Washtenaw county 4-H extension agent.

He says men and women, 18 years or older, are building 4-H type rural youth education programs like those in Michigan in other countries through the 4-H Peace Corps. These programs have spread to about 70 countries of the world and are credited with making substantial contributions to the improvement of farm and home methods and to community development in new and developing nations.

More than 100 volunteers are now serving in 4-H Peace Corps projects. Among the Michigan 4-H Peace Corpsmen taking an active interest in foreign agriculture are Allaire Schlicher of Lansing, who is in the MJA program in Uruguay; Robert Harter of Carson City, and Janet Reader of Scottville, both in 4-S in Brazil; and Maurice Spencer of K who is working with gro ers in 5-V in Venezuela.

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Boy Scouts Hold Mardi Gras Event

Chelsea Cub Scout Pack 125 met Thursday evening, March 19, at the Junior High school gymnasium. The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Den IX. The den also was responsible for retiring the flags at the close of the meeting.

The program centered on the Mardi Gras theme for which Cub Scouts had been preparing during meetings of the past month—making masks, etc.

Robert Jacobs gave an outline of the meaning and history of the Mardi Gras and then Cubmaster Malcolm Novess called Den IX to the stage and crowned Jeffrey Craig king of the Mardi Gras observance. Other Cub Scouts of Den IX acted as members of his court.

Assistant Cubmaster Dan Foytik played Dixieland music during a "review" —each den of Cub Scouts being called forward to pass before the "king" and his court. All Cub Scouts were in costume and wore the masks they had made themselves.

The court of awards followed and the evening's program was concluded with a snake dance by the costumed Cub Scouts.

Awards were presented as follows:

Wolf badge to Danny Bertke and Jonathan Marzec.

Wolf badge, one gold arrow, two silver arrows to William Tite and Barton Wellnitz.

Wolf badge, one gold arrow and one silver arrow to Tim Merkel.

Bobcat pins to James Storey and Craig Coltre.

One-year pins to Ronald Sweeny and Mike Rudreau.

Bear badge, one gold arrow, five silver arrows and two-year pin to Thomas Peltes.

Bear badge, one gold and one silver arrow to Steven Flint.

Bear badge, one gold arrow and three silver arrows to Steve Fitzsimmons.

One gold arrow and one silver arrow to John Gilbert, Garry Collins, Melvin Buss, Rodney Branham.

One silver arrow to James Potts, Huston Hardy, Larry Jones.

One gold and four silver arrows to Bobbie Rudd; one gold and two silver arrows to Derrick Harris; and one gold arrow to Gerald Push.

Methodist Home Resident's Son Being Promoted In U. S. Foreign Service

In a communication from the United States Embassy at Beirut, Lebanon, announcement was made that Raymond E. Chambers, son of Mrs. Fannie Pearce Chambers who resides at the Methodist Home, is scheduled for promotion in April to the rank of Foreign Service Reserve Officer, Class 3, at the embassy.

In the Foreign Service since August 1956, Chambers previously served in Haiti and in Nice and Paris, France.

He is now assigned as Director of the Foreign Service Institute field school in Beirut.

Before entering the Foreign Service, Chambers attended the University of Michigan, Middlebury College, and the University of Pennsylvania. He is married to the former Miss Sally Pickens of Detroit, and they have two sons, Drake, two, and Duncan, one, and a daughter, Drew, four years old.

His mother, who is active in church women's groups at the Home and at the Chelsea Methodist church, has lived at the Methodist Home since Oct. 13, 1960, coming here from her former home at Grosse Pointe.

REDS AND VIETNAM

The new turmoil in South Vietnam's Government may give the Communist guerrillas an opening for an offensive that could wipe out recently reported gains by the United States-backed forces.

Reports of a new Government upheaval in Saigon suggested a return to the confused conditions on which the Red Viet Cong thrived after the ouster of the Diem regime in November.

Named Manager of Dana Corp. Plant In Auburn, Ind.

A. L. DYER

A. L. Dyer, plant superintendent of Chelsea Products plant of Dana Corp., has been appointed plant manager of the Auburn, Ind., plant of the corporation.

Announcement of Dyer's appointment was made by Frank B. Draper, vice-president and general manager of Dana's Salisbury Division.

The firm's newly created Salisbury Division, with headquarters in Fort Wayne, Ind., includes the plants in Chelsea, Fort Wayne and Auburn.

Dyer, a 1951 Princeton graduate, was with Firestone Fire & Rubber Co. at Akron, O., for a year, before joining the Dana Corp. at its Toledo Division plant in 1952. He was budget analyst there and later served on the corporate manufacturing staff.

In May, 1957, Dyer was transferred to the firm's Pottstown, Pa., plant as aircraft superintendent, remaining there until August 1958.

Named to succeed Dyer as plant manager of the Chelsea plant is J. L. Knight, according to Robert W. Wagner, general manager of Chelsea Products.

Knight joined Dana Corp. in June 1926. He was employed in the company's 'SEMA' computer program at the Auburn plant until late 1962, when he became supervisor of production planning and scheduling for the Fort Wayne, Ind., plant.

A graduate of Colorado College, Knight also holds an MBA degree from the Harvard Business School.

Chelsea Products is one of the nation's leading manufacturers of power take-off gear boxes and related products.

Herd Name Reserved For Keezer Holsteins

Edward D. Keezer, Chelsea will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Dustydale" in naming all registered Holstein animals bred in that herd from now on.

Use of this prefix name has been granted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Some 1,500 prefixes are reserved for Registered Holstein breeders each year.

Each prefix, essentially a "trademark" for the purebred Holstein breeder, is used in all published information concerning that animal. Thus, the use of this distinctive lable aids the breeder in the promotion and advertising of his stock for sale and publicity purposes.

Melvin Head, of Williamston, state FFA president and other state FFA officers conducted the business sessions. The annual banquet for about 1,000 persons featured Dr. John Furbay, lecturer, author and global air traveler as the speaker. A special luncheon for chapter advisers was provided by the Michigan Electrical Suppliers.

At Tulare, Calif., they visited Mrs. Godfrey Seitz and family and then traveled north to Oregon for a visit at Cottage Grove with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pfeiffer and at Salem with Mrs. Maude Leedy, formerly of Chelsea, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ackers.

Grass Fires Create Serious Threat in Area

Permit Required Before Starting Outdoor Burning

Victor Horvath, district forester for this area, warns that area residents should be alert to prevent any action which might lead to grass and brush fires—conditions at present are highly dangerous and fires of the past week point to the need for extreme caution.

Horvath and Conservation officials join in stressing the importance of more than customary care in burning rubbish. No bonfire or rubbish burner should be left unattended during this season of the year when a neglected spark could start a disastrous fire.

Foresters and conservation men are encouraging city fire departments to study the so-called "burning index" and continue to alert people as to the times when conditions are such that no fire should be started even to burn rubbish.

To compile the index it is necessary for technicians in the field of forestry to consider current humidity and wind veolcity, prevailing rainfall or the number of days which have passed since the last rainfall and condition of ground vegetation in the area.

The conditions of these various factors are then applied to a "Lake States Burning Index Meter" with the resultant number being the "burning index" for that day.

The numbers run from 1 to 100. Zero to one indicates a "safe" condition in which fires will not spread beyond the heat of a campfire or burning brush pile.

Two to three has a "very low" hazard condition under which fires will start from an open flame but spread slowly and tend to go out.

Four to six has a "low" reading and in this condition fires will start from a lighted match and spread rapidly in dry grass and leaves until extinguished.

Seven to 12 on the index chart is "moderate" and with this condition present fires will start readily from a match, burn briskly and tend to spread rapidly as they increase in size.

Thirteen to 24 has a "high" rating and at that point fires will start readily from a match or glowing cinders, spread rapidly and tend to "crown" in young shrubs and trees.

Fire Department Personnel Kept Busy at All Hours

Chelsea firemen and conservation officials welcomed Tuesday night's rain as a deterrant to numerous grass fires they were called upon to fight the past week.

Biggest area burned over was more than 200 acres in the area bounded by Conlin, Lima Center and Island Lake roads, northeast of Chelsea. Chelsea and Dexter firemen were called at approximately noon and were still at work late in the afternoon. As a result of this blaze, Conservation Officer Donley Boyer issued a summons to Jack Conley, 3110 Conley Rd., to appear before Justice of the Peace Chandler Rogers. The fire allegedly started from a rubbish fire started by Conley.

At 6 p.m., firemen were alerted to converge on the downtown district when the fire siren was sounded for a series of five consecutive blasts. A transformer for counter lighting at Chelsea Drug Store burned out, starting a fire which was checked before serious damage resulted.

Other grass fires Chelsea firemen were called out for are as follows:

Wednesday, March 18, 1:30 p.m., at the Clyde Mosiers on Lima Center Rd. At 3:50 p.m. the same day, to St. Louis school on Old US-12 where grass, marsh and woods were burning.

Thursday, March 19 at 5 p.m. to a Sylvan Center place listed only as "Kellers."

Sunday, March 22, to the farm of Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean.

Monday, March 23, 1 p.m., to 4 p.m. at two big marsh and field fires between Notten Rd. and Francisco Rd., west of Chelsea.

While at this fire another call was received from Czapla's Orchard on Rank Rd. where pine trees were threatened as a grass fire on a neighbor's property spread to the Czapla farm.

There was also a fire at 8 p.m. Monday at the Aten farm on Waterloo-Munith Rd.

The Wolverine Shoe & Tanning Corporation of Rockford, with plants in six Michigan communities, is one of the nation's leading producers of footwear.

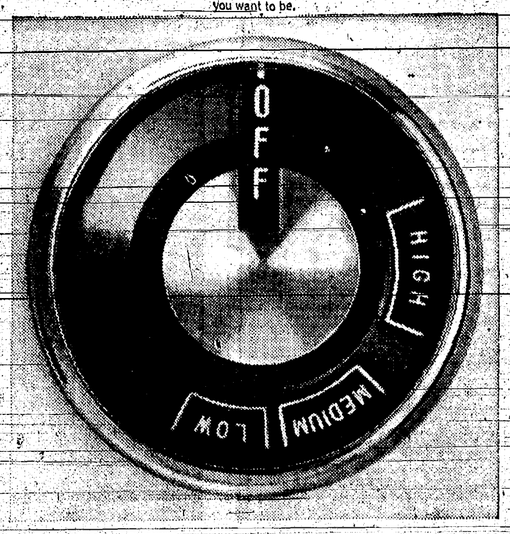
With GAS
be the cook you want to be.



Does your range tell you the truth?

When it says "off" is it really off? Or will food keep on cooking, water keep on boiling, heat keep on heating after you turn the dial off?

It won't if you're cooking with Gas.

And there's one of the many differences. On a modern Gas range, "off" means just that. Turn the dial, the flame goes out. You're not paying for "hangover heat" you can't use. Hangover heat that keeps cooking when you want it to stop.

Compared in dollars and cents to other ranges, Gas can give you up to a dollar's worth of cooking for a quarter.

See the latest Gas ranges now on display at dealer or Gas Company showrooms. Low down payment. Easy terms.

Tax Office Advises on Most Common Errors In Listing Deductions

The surest way to get special attention from the Internal Revenue Service is to file an "imperfect" return. However, this special attention has no benefits; just more delay and additional cost for everyone. This tax advice from District Director R. I. Nixon of the Internal Revenue Office is based on more than 100 years of tax collecting experience by the agency.

He pointed out six common items that delay the processing of returns. They are: (1) failure to attach W-2 forms, (2) no signatures, (3) tax information not readable, (4) failure to list dependents and exemptions, (5) failure to total deductions, and (6) failure to list Social Security number.

What happens when the taxpayer forgets one of the above? Nixon said the return must be specially processed and any refund will be delayed. If the taxpayer calls or writes about his refund, this inquiry takes clerical help away from the processing of correctly prepared returns. Thus, all returns are slowed up.

Review your return very carefully when it is completed, Nixon advised. Put it aside overnight, then review it again the next day. After you are sure it is clear, complete, and correct, mail it to District Director of Internal Revenue, Detroit 48231.

We are often mystified by television and movie dialogues which lead nowhere with a great flourish.

Laws are passed to be enforced but some people seem to have forgotten that theory—especially as it applies to them.

TOP 4-H AWARDS—Lynn Harvey, Beverly Windell and Dick McCalla (left to right) were named top 14-18-year-olds in three categories, as announced at the 4-H Spring Achievement program at Ann Arbor High school last night. Lynn was named top in project report and activities in crops; Beverly was selected as top in Junior Leader report and activities; and Dick was named top in project report and activities in swine program. Beverly will also be one of 10 to represent Washtenaw county in the 13-county district area and is one of the eight delegates for the Washington, D.C., citizenship short course trip June 20-28. The three 4-H'ers will submit their all-achievement 4-H records in competition with other counties for a chance at representing the district in state eliminations during the State Show in September.

New Weed Control Chemical Improves Alfalfa Test Yields

A newly approved chemical is looking mighty good as a control for hoary alyssum, a white-flowered weed which is a pest in many Michigan alfalfa fields.

"Preliminary research results in Mecosta and Montcalm counties show that 1½ pounds of 2, 4-DB per acre have given effective control of this weed," reports William Meggitt, Michigan State University crop scientist. "Applications should be made in early spring when the hoary alyssum is in the rosette stage."

The chemical 2-4-DB was cleared just last year by the federal government as a control for broadleaf annual weeds in forage seedings. It can be applied on growing alfalfa without harming the legume.

"We've got up to three tons of first-crop alfalfa by using 2, 4 in place of companion crops weed control," says Meggitt, "mally the companion crops used to control weeds, but compete for nutrients and cut alfalfa yields. The new c lical offers farmers a weed co program without a yield loss."

GOP RALLY

In rallies across the land, publicans have launched their palgn attack on President son.

The GOP leaders pictured son as master of a political game, as hoodwinking the and as a stunt man "riding horses going in the opposite rection."

Key speaker was former dent Eisenhower who urg party-to-people system of tables and forums to help duce a "republican people's form."

Burning Index . . .

The "very high" reading which comes from 25 through 49 indicates fires will start from a glowing cigaret butt or sparks, will spread rapidly and will create numerous "spot" fires.

The final index reading is 50 and up, listed as "extreme" in which there are "explosive conditions." Under these circumstances fires start readily from sparks, burn fiercely and tend to "crown" and "spot."

Permits must be obtained from fire chiefs or conservation officials when "burning over" grass and brush areas or starting other fires with the exception of domestic rubbish burning.

If the "burning index" shows that conditions are such that fires should not be permitted, the officials are authorized to refuse to issue a permit.

Conservationists point out that it is EVERYONE'S responsibility to do EVERYTHING they can to prevent fires, particularly when conditions are what they are at this time of the year.

Gogebic County May Become Michigan's 'Snow Champion'

Lansing—Gogebic county, in the western end of the Upper Peninsula is well on its way to being this winter's snowfall champion, the State Highway Department reported recently.

A record 222 inches of snow—almost 19 feet—has been recorded at Wakefield this winter.

The perennial champion, gets a lot of snow. Gogebic county will have the dubious honor of being the most snowed upon county in Michigan.

The 222 inches of snow has been recorded so far this winter at a U.S. Weather Bureau Station just south of Wakefield.

No single area in Michigan reported that much snowfall during the winter of last winter (1962-63). Keweenaw county had 190 inches for the state high last year.

Elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula, snowfall is about normal while most of Lower Michigan is having one of the mildest winters in recent years.

Upper Peninsula snowfall reports show Keweenaw county has had 167 inches so far this winter compared to 190 inches last winter; Houghton has had 148 inches compared to 170 last year; Marquette has had 61 inches compared to 80 last winter and Ishpeming reports 93 inches and 90 last winter.

In lower Michigan, highway maintenance engineers hope to save about $1 million in chemicals and overtime pay this winter.

Salt usage is down an estimated 35,000 tons this year compared to last winter and about 700 tons less of calcium chloride have been used to keep highways clear of ice and snow.

A good product, plus a fair price, and advertising — equals the road to success.

Civil Defense

Chrysler Proving Grounds is now in receipt of a complete radiological monitoring kit furnished by the local Civil Defense office. The kit contains instruments for checking radiation in the air, on the ground, etc. These are not training instruments but are operational in all respects.

Personnel who will operate these instruments have been fully trained by the county Civil Defense office in Ann Arbor.

Purpose of these instruments is to enable the local government county and state, to advise the public regarding radiological conditions; when to enter fallout shelters and when to come out.

These instruments will be under the complete supervision of the Chief of the Plant Protection Department, Ralph Fike.

Chelsea Citizen's Band Emergency Service is a new emergency service being instituted by local CB'ers in conjunction with the local Civil Defense office.

These selected people who have 2-way citizen's band radio equipment either in their home, business or their vehicle are being contacted and informed regarding how they may be of assistance in case of any emergency that may develop in or around Chelsea.

This program is being set up as a non-profit organization that may be of help in case of fires, accidents, breakdowns, etc.

A point in case to illustrate this new program.

Last Saturday evening at 1:30 a.m. a 10-33 call was heard on the air (Emergency traffic this station). The caller identified himself as KHG-2116 a semi-truck from Kansas City to Detroit broke down on I-94 approximately 2 miles east of Fletcher Rd. on the eastbound lane of I-94 with a broken connecting rod through the bottom of the motor. The local CB'er contacted a local towing service which towed the truck off the highway and the CB'er took the driver to a local all night snack bar where he contacted his office for disposition of his vehicle.

This is one of many services that the Chelsea's citizen's band emergency service is and will be performing for the public in this area.

Faulty Tax Return Is Surest Way To Gain Attention

R. I. Nixon, District Director of the Internal Revenue Office in Detroit, has released a list of the most common errors made by taxpayers in itemizing deductions on Federal income tax returns. The list was compiled from records of the Internal Revenue Service and consists of unallowable deductions found on returns.

None of the following expenses are deductible: Funeral expenses, water taxes, dog licenses, hunting and fishing licenses, social security taxes, Federal excise taxes on jewelry, tires, gasoline, furs, cosmetics, etc., life insurance premiums, title fees, fines and penalties.

Nixon said that when a return is audited, any of the above deductions must be disallowed and the taxpayer must pay the difference in tax.

He said that the instruction booklet mailed to most taxpayers has handy check lists of which expenses may be deducted.

Children often enjoy art more than adults, a Michigan State University home furnishings specialist says. Adults are restricted by their knowledge of what has been accepted in the past while children use their imaginations.

Highway Speed Average Down From Last Year

Lansing—Despite good weather, Michigan motorists drove an average of 1.5 miles an hour slower during January than they did during the same month a year ago.

Chief Engineer John E. Meyer of the Michigan State Highway Department said the average daytime speed on rural highways in Michigan during January was 57.5 miles an hour compared to 59 miles an hour during January of 1963.

The average night-time speed, however, was up a little more than one mile an hour—57.3 miles an hour during January compared to 56.2 miles an hour during the same month a year ago.

The average daytime speed for passenger cars on freeways was 62.5 miles an hour during January, down 1.2 miles an hour from a year ago.

The night-time speed, however, was up more than two miles an hour—60.4 miles in January compared to 58.1 miles a year ago.

Major reason for the increase in the nighttime average speeds was the fact the new night-time speed limit of 70 miles an hour on freeways went into effect last September. Prior to then, the night-time speed limit on freeways was 60 miles per hour.

Needs Help at School Fair

Mrs. Harold Hinz and Mrs. Louis DeLoy, co-chairmen of the Elementary PTA committee in charge of the PTA School Fair scheduled for the evening of April 10 at the South School gymnasium, are making an appeal for volunteers willing to help with the various booths — particularly to help with the work of setting up the booths and with other work of preparation.

Anyone willing to help in any way should contact Mrs. Hinz.

On the committee with the co-chairmen are Mrs. Joan Weener and Miss Jeanne Tiedeman.

Proceeds of the fair are to be used entirely for the benefit of the elementary schools.

Principal goal is to realize enough money for the purchase of a primary typewriter. If there should be a surplus it would be used to provide additional playground equipment at the two elementary schools.

While the fair is being held at South school it is a North and South school project and parents of all elementary school children, whether active in the PTA or not, are urged to participate. Success of the fair will benefit all elementary school children—none of the proceeds will be retained by the PTA, Mrs. Hinz pointed out.

Some Facts About Manpower Utilization

Manpower Reports of the ...ent and his Secretary of La... ...ve much food for thought ...out. Within the space lim... ...this column we can examine ...wo factual items which seem ...especially significant.

...first is the startling fact ...over the past six years the ...mber of new full time jobs ...ted by profit-oriented pro... ...duction for satisfying private wants has been practically zero.

It is true that total non-farm employment increased by 4,300,000 between 1957 and 1963. But almost half of this, about 2,000,000 jobs, represented the increase in the number of government employees, mainly in the state and local governments.

This leaves about 2,400,000 as the increase in private non-agricultural employment. But a part of this—about a third—is the employment in private firms generated by expanded government procurement. Another component of the total is the increased employment in non-profit institutions—estimated at 700,000. The number of part-time jobs included in the total increase is 000,000.

When all these components are eliminated, the increase in full-time employment in profit-making activities for satisfying non-government demand figures at only 300,000, in the period 1957-63.

A second curious point brought out in these reports relates to the geographic distribution of unemployment. A sample of 12 areas in which unemployment has been relatively high in recent years showed an actual decline in the number of unemployed beteen 1957 and 1963. Meanwhile, the number of unemployed in other areas not especially regarded as centers of unemployment has increased substantially.

The explanation for this strange result is that job-seekers have been moving out of places of persistent unemployment, reducing the unemployment in the area they left and directly or indirectly adding to it is the areas where they settled. In other words, there has been a tendency, although a slow one, for unemployment to spread itself more evenly over the country. It seems reasonable to conclude that if the general economic picture had been brighter the unemployed would have left the depressed areas in larger numbers and been able to find jobs elsewhere.

All this suggests that one important aspect of our man-power-utilization problem has been the absence of an overall economic climate which would have encouraged greater expansion of private profit-making activities. "Economic climate" is of course merely a convenient term that covers practically everything affecting businessmen's decisions—taxation, labor relations, foreign competition, cost and price levels, etc.

Mechanical cherry harvesters developed by individuals and MSU researchers have slashed costs of picking from $80 to $20 per ton. A five man crew with a machine can now harvest as many cherries as 80 hand laborers.

PRUNING HELPS

Pruning branches from the lowest 17 feet of a 15-year-old pine tree may mean about $10 in added returns when the tree is harvested for lumber, a Michigan State University forester says. Pruning removes branches from a tree stem so wood added in the future years will have two knots.

Dramatic Communion Service Planned By Congregational Church

Deacons of the First Congregational church plan to celebrate the anniversary of Jesus' Last Supper by using an ancient ceremony. Since the fourth century churches have used Maundy Thursday in Holy Week to have the "Extinguishing of the Lights" ceremony. They called it Tenebrae or Darkness, and sometimes it is called "The Master Deserted," which indicates the symbolism of the increasing darkness.

The service begins withe the candlelight communion as an observance of Jesus' Last Supper. Then the Tenebrae service brings the celebration to a dramatic conclusion as the candles are extinguished as Deacons sit at the Communion Table . . . until finally the church is in darkness except for the "Christ Candle" at the table. For a few moments even it appears to be out. Afterwards, tradition says, they go home in silence.

The church celebrates open communion, which means that anyone is welcome.

The Rev. R. Livingston, pastor, says that the service begins tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock.

Distractions Cause Accidents

Accidents may be caused by little things—like lighting a cigarette, reaching for a fallen object, looking away from the roadway for a moment too long. Don't be distracted from your job.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The department store sale was intended to reduce the inventory of slow-moving items. On one table a sign announced "All Religious Articles—20 percent Off." Below the sign were piled carelessly a variety of things. People looked and left.

On the table was a small plastic cross. It glowed in the dark the label claimed.

This week the little cross has a message for us. First, the cross doesn't come at a discount. The New Testament repeatedly reminds us that the cost is never marked down.

Second, a cross that glows in the dark perhaps may serve useful purpose. Religious items have been too often turned into gimmicks. The point seems to be that something extra has to be added.

A cross that didn't glow in the dark has continued to be a symbol of a life and a way of life that has survived the ages. It was done without a gimmick. All of this seems to say we need more to be amused than amazed. This week is nothing less than amazing.

It seems to say that a bargain beats belief.

Prayer: Deliver us from bargain counter Christianity. O Lord.

Congregational Youth Plan Easter Sunrise Service at Mill Lake

The Youth of the Congregational church of Chelsea are planning a 6 a.m. Sunrise Service facing the east over Mill Lake on Easter morning and they invite anyone interested to attend.

The spot they have picked out is an easy walk from the fishing site on Mill lake. The grass is tall on the slope down to the trees by the side of the lake. They are confident that the sun will come up beautifully on the horizon of trees across the lake as the service progresses.

Some will be meeting at the Congregational church to drive in a caravan, leaving the church by 5:45. It is about six miles by either route. One can drive north out M-52 to turn left on Waterloo Rd., and follow the Area Headquarters signs on Bush and McClure roads to the Mill Lake Fishing Site. Or, one can drive west toward Cavanaugh Lake and turn right on Pierce Rd. (gravel) and again follow the Area Headquarters signs onto Bush and then McClure roads.

Hot drinks and doughnuts will be available after the service, especially to those who sign up on the bulletin board in the church.

The committee making the plans and appointed by the Pilgrim Fellowship group are Barry Visel, Hartmut Henning, and Judy Livingston.

The service is by the youth and will be brief. Those who attend should wear informal clothes and bring blankets to sit on.

Pumpkin Powder Available as New Convenience Food

Pumpkin powder is one of the newest names on the ever-growing list of powdered foods.

Made from pumpkin puree, the powder is one of the most recent convenience foods developed by the Agricultural Research Service of the USDA, according to Mrs. Alice Epple, Washtenaw county extension agent in home economics.

When commercially produced, she says, the powder may end up in pie mixes for home use. It will probably also find wide use in bakeries, restaurants and institutions.

Pies made from powdered pumpkin taste just as good as those made with fresh or canned pumpkin, according to taste panels. And the powder offers special advantages in packaging, storage and shipping. One can of powder contains more pumpkin solids than four cans of the pureed pumpkin now common on our grocery shelves.

The powder is made by drying pumpkin puree on the same type of dryer used for making potato flakes. The dehydrated pumpkin comes off the dryer as a sheet and is then ground into powder.

With boiling water added, Mrs. Epple notes, the powder is ready to be mixed with eggs, seasonings and other ingredients to make pie.

St. Louis School Nurse Observes Silver Jubilee

Sister Ulderica, nurse at St. Louis School for Boys, observed her silver jubilee at a special Mass in the school's chapel Sunday morning, with the school's director, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Lignani officiating and a choir of boys at the school singing the High Mass.

In the afternoon, open house was held in Sister Ulderica's honor and boys of the school presented an Easter program of music.

Guests were present from Ypsilanti, Flint, Jackson, Detroit and the Chelsea area.

Affording special pleasure for the honoree was the week-end visit of members of the order of Sisters of the Holy Family who are now in Windsor, Ontario, Canada, where a school similar to St. Louis school is being founded.

Sisters of the Holy Family and the priests who are in charge of the school here, all came originally as missionaries from Italy.

Especially prized among gifts and messages received by Sister Ulderica was a telegram from Pope Paul in Rome.

Before coming here in 1961 as one of four nuns at St. Louis school, Sister Ulderica had served as a missionary nurse in Africa for 15 years.

Sunday's program also included piano music by John P. Cook who is a volunteer piano and typing instructor at the school. He and Mrs. Cook were special guests at Sunday's program.

St. Louis school closed yesterday for the Easter vacation. The boys are to return Sunday, April 5.

Bonnie D. Sheren, John Eisenbeiser Wed at Dearborn

Bonnie D. Sheren and John W. Eisenbeiser exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Saturday before the Rev. Paul H. Clark at the Greenfield Congregational church in Dearborn.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sheren, 6650 Hartwell, Dearborn, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser, 14215 Riker Rd., North Lake.

Approximately 120 guests were present for the ceremony and for the reception which followed in the Mayflower room of the church parlors.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown fashioned of ivory peau de soie with a chapel style train. A matching pill box headpiece held her short veil and she carried an arrangement of cymbidium orchids and ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. W. M. Boston, Jr., of Ann Arbor, served as matron of honor and Susie Eisenbeiser, the bridegroom's sister was bridesmaid. Both were gowned alike in street-length dresses of pink silk shantung and carried bouquets of ivy and other greens.

The bride's mother appeared in olive green shantung and the bridegroom's mother wore beige lace and matching colored accessories.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was James Grau. Ushers included Karl Riemenschneider, Roger Sheren, the bride's brother, and William Eisenbeiser, the bridegroom's brother.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. James Grau, Mrs. Karl Riemenschneider, Mrs. William Eisenbeiser, Mary Lou Pattison and Judy Austin.

Following their return from a stay in northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 14215 Riker Rd.

The bride is a senior at the University of Michigan. The bridegroom graduated in June, 1963, from Michigan State University.

Cordless electrical appliances such as vacuum cleaners and mixers may soon be added to the list of television sets, radios, shavers, drills and toothbrushes we already have, a Michigan State University home management specialist says.

Four Methodist Women's Circles Meet Last Week

Four circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church held meetings on Wednesday of last week—Marion Simons and Vivian Otto groups in the morning and Marion Shaw and Pearl Baxter groups at 1 p.m.

Marion Simons Circle met at the home of Mrs. Elwyn Beach with Mrs. Bertha Koenig as assisting hostess.

Mrs. Albert Peterson led the opening devotional service and Mrs. L. E. Riemenschneider presented a program pertaining to Easter and its true meaning.

It was announced that the next meeting of the circle is to be held April 15, the location to be announced later.

Vivian Otto Circle met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson, with Mrs. Winston Schenk assisting.

Culmination of the old order and beginning of the new was the theme of the program as presented by Mrs. Lloyd Merrell. To illustrate her points she mentioned the new era of Adam and Eve; the resurrection of Jesus; Lincoln's signing of the proclamation outlawing slavery; America's Declaration of Independence and others.

Of greatest importance to mankind, Mrs. Merrell pointed out, is the resurrection ushering in the new era of hope and faith, the ever-new message of the Easter season.

Mrs. Merrell included appropriate Scripture readings and concluded with a poem selected from her husband's book "Christ In Poetry." Title of the poem is, "Reincarnation."

Henry Van Dyke's impressive Easter story, "A Handful of Clay" was read by Mrs. Benjamin Bower as the concluding program feature.

Vivian Otto Circle members will be guests of the Marion Kline Circle at that Circle's April 21 meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Donaldson. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Marion Shaw Circle had two guests present, in addition to the regular members, at the meeting at 1 p.m. in the church social center.

Mrs. Carl Schlosser, chairman of the Circle, led a planning session in preparation for Marion Shaw Circle members' responsibility for serving refreshments at the April meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Fannie Chambers presented the devotional service at the meeting and Mrs. E. J. Weiss was in charge of the program on the topic, "What A Christian Woman Should Read." She used one letter of the alphabet as an introduction to each of the 26 points she mentioned in her recommendations for reading matter.

Members present signed a birthday card sent with a gift package to Miss Marion Shaw, for whom the circle is named. Miss Shaw is a missionary in Korea.

Pearl Baxter Circle met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Harper. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Edwin Gaunt and Mrs. Harry Prudden.

Mrs. Dan Ewald and Mrs. Gaunt were in charge of the devotional service and program, respectively. The Easter theme was carried out in both.

Members concluded the meeting by signing an Easter card to be sent to Miss Pearl Baxter for whom their circle group is named. She is a Methodist missionary and is currently teaching in the Philippine Christian Colleges in Manila.

The next Pearl Baxter Circle meeting will be held April 15 at the home of Mrs. John Potts.

ENGAGEMENT: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahl are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joan Margaret, to Gary Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin, of Grass Lake. Both graduated from Grass Lake High school in 1963. Miss Wahl completed her studies at Cleary College and is now employed at Gene Butman Ford Sales in Ypsilanti. Mr. Baldwin is attending Eastern Michikan University.

History of Chinese Lo-Ball

Since placing the advertisements announcing Chinese Lo-Ball, our staff has been the target of numerous queries about the tournament. Where it is to hosted, how it is to be played, etc.? The hosting center will be Chelsea Lanes, in Chelsea. To answer the rest of the questions, we decided to publish the history of the game. This has required weeks of research and we hope you will study it well so that our work won't have been in vain.

The history of Chinese Lo-Ball takes us back many, many years to the glorious days of Confucius, the great Chinese philosopher and scholar. To be extremely accurate, this was B.C. (which means Before Christ), somewhere between 500 and 600 B.C. to place the time right on the button.

It seems there was a big and strong (5'8", 130 lb.) "Kegeler" (correct original selling) who lived somewhere in China, right next door to a long hair named Confucious. This Kegs name was Miz Tu and he was known far and wide as the "One Ball Don Carter of China." Miz Tu gained his nickname by the great ability he had for knocking all of the pins down with one ball while most of the other kids needed two tries.

"Kegeling" was the rage in those days in China. In fact, the great emporer, Gung Ho had his own "alleys" behind his private pool hall which was located next to his private poppy patch, which was behind his private smoking quarters.

One day Gung Ho summoned Confucius to his private smoker for a few drags as they talked over a little problem. The summons requested Confucius to use the rear entrance so Gung's old lady wouldn't see he was having a private party without her. Upon entering the private smoker, Confucius noted the nearby alley, and being a brain, he surmised that Gung Ho kegled on the sly.

The party started in great style with Gung in a rare mood of tremendous jubilation. He had just come back from a whistle stop tour of the nation and not one peasant had spit in his face in the entire trip which virtually assured him of carrying California in the next election. He was so full of good will that he even called the great scholar by his first name. "Con," he said, "I got a problem." and with this salutation, the two great men lit a pot and commenced making history between drags.

It seems, that Gung Ho's rice crop had failed and times were tough, Having 18 children was bad enough, but one of them was a girl named Fat Te Ho, and she had the appetite of a horse. The problem was to unload her on someone fast without letting the world know that good old Gung Ho was almost broke. Con really had his work as a great philosopher cut out for him that day.

On the third lighting of the pot, Con got up to go to the arrowhead water cooler to wet his tongue when he stumbled and fell. He lay on the ground getting his bearings and the whole situation came to him in a flash as he cleared his head. It was so simple it was ridiculous that he hadn't had it immediately. He remembered that his neighbor Miz Tu was hot to trot with Fat Te, he knew that Miz Tu was a great kegeler. What would be more diabolical than a kegeling contest for Fat Te Ho's hand?

Gung was delighted, he summoned the palace guards and had them raid the Russian Consulate. They returned shortly with the consul General whom he promptly placed, complete with the Krushchev mask, on the chopping block. Shortly thereafter, Con begged the emperor's leave, and shuffled back home. He had to shuffle, because he was three pots to the wind from the party.

Just as Confucius was trying to get his key in the lock of his door, Miz Tu came out of his house with his bowling ball, heading for the public alley down the street. Confucius never one for keeping secrets, promptly told Miz Tu about the forthcoming contest. To his surprise, Miz Tu began to cry something fierce. Between wails, Miz Tu blurted out the sad news. He had entered into a slump getting tapped almost every frame and had found out that he couldn't make spares. His average had slipped from 300 down to 90 and this surely wouldn't win the contest for his beloved's hand. His evening out was definitely ruined that night so Miz Tu went back into his house and his team was forced to use his average, less 10, for the night's competition.

All night, Confucius meditated. He had to come up with the solution to Miz Tu's problem. He didn't kegel, himself, so teaching Miz Tu how to make spares just wasn't in the cards. Along about dawn, approximately 3 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time), Confucius solved the problem. He would change the rules of Kegeling and would outlaw the second ball in the contest, thereby giving Miz Tu nothing but strikes to roll for. If he got a strike the score would count zero. If he got tapped, the score would be one as only the pin left standing would be counted. The Kegeler rolling the lowest score would be declared the winner.

The contest was held the following week and Miz Tu was the only kegeler who showed up for the competition because everyone else knew about the gal's appetite. In order to win, Miz Tu still had to roll 24 balls at full racks and sure enough, he got 9 pins down in every frame leaving a total score of 24. He won the match by forfeit.

The emperor Gung Ho was so pleased at getting rid of his load that he named the game "Lo-Ball" and declared it the national sport. To this day, "Chinese Lo-Ball" is played in the alleys and Saturday night is known as Miz Tu memorial night. The Chinese are known for never forgetting and everyone remembers that on Saturday night, Miz Tu was beheaded for throwing Fat Te Ho into the Yangtze River.

Minimum Tillage Will Help Save Soil

Minimum tillage saved researchers more than 33,000 lbs. of valuable soil per acre in a recent four-year experiment conducted at Michigan State University, according to P. E. Rieke, MSU soil scientist.

About 6,000 lbs. of soil per acre were lost from minimum tilled plots as compared to 40,000 lbs. from the conventionally tilled fields. Water losses were 1.5 and 3.6 inches per acre, respectively.

"This points out the advantage of minimum tillage for conserving rainfall and preventing soil erosion during the growing season," comments Rieke.

The experiements were conducted on fields with 6 to 8 percent slopes where continuous corn had been grown for the past four years.

Dairymen May Save On Feed Mixture Costs

Dairymen may save $2 to $5 per ton at present prices by substituting urea for one of the standard oil meals as a source of potential protein, according to a Michigan State University dairy scientist.

Dr. C. A. Lassiter, chairman of the MSU dairy department, says the grain mixture may be safely supplied by urea. This amounts to savings of about $400 per year for a 40-cow herd where maximum use of urea is made and about $200 per year when lesser amounts are fed.

The dairy scientist cautions farmers to leave the mixing of urea up to the feed manufacturer or the local feed dealer because proper mixing is highly important.

The beaver's lips are such that they can close behind the incisor teeth, permitting the beaver to gnaw under water.

Dwarf Apple Varieties Are Here To Stay

The apple of your eye in the future may well come from a dwarf fruit tree, says a Michigan State University horticulturist.

"Many commercial apple growers are planting these smaller trees," says Dr. Robert F. Carlson, associate professor of horticulture at MSU. "Not only do they come into production sooner, but they are easier to manage and yield more fruit at an earlier age than the standard variety of trees."

He says that with smaller trees, more units may be planted per acre. "We currently recommend 100 trees an acre," he says, "but optimum levels may go as high as 200 per acre."

By planting more trees, a grower may gain the advantages of big yields while the trees are young. After about 12 years he can cut down every other tree leaving a more desirable planting.

Costs for planting large numbers of dwarf apple trees are actually lower than the recommended seeding rate of the normal trees, he says. "Seeding 54 standard size trees per acre cost $1,117, while 90 dwarf trees per acre totaled only $1,065. This savings with the advantages of more apples early in life and above average size fruit have definite possibilities in apple production."

Dr. Carlson points out that dwarfism is not limited to apple trees. Sweet cherries, peaches, and plums are gaining a substantial foothold in the business.

He feels that dwarfed trees are on the rise with fruit growers. It may be only a matter of time before dwarf varieties replace many of the older, well-established varieties, he says.

Mrs. Crouch also assisted at the party.

Bridgette Groehnert and Brenda Hafley were invested as members of Troop 247.

Auto License Sales Top 3 Million Mark

Lansing — The license rush is over . . . and judging from the response all over the state, police probably had to give few tickets for not having 1964 licenses on vehicles by the March 1 deadline.

More than 3-million, an all-time record for the rush period, were sold in Secretary of State branch offices throughout Michigan most branches reported a brisk business and only a few offices reported lines on the afternoon of Feb. 28, the final day of the rush.

In Michigan, each beaver cuts an average of 200-800 trees per year.

Beagle on Rabbit Hunt Needs 40 Stitches To Close His Wounds

What was to have been a happy rabbit hunt turned into a sad skirmish with two toughies for a beagle owned by Stan Thompson of Brutus.

Hunting east of Brutus near Devil's Elbow on the Crooked River late last month, the dog was hot on the trail of a snowshoe hare when Thompson suddenly heard a bone-chilling commotion.

Immediately, Thompson set out for the sounds but before he could reach the scene, he was met by his dog which had been badly clawed. The beagle was rushed to a nearby veterinarian's office where 40 stitches were required to close the wounds.

Later, in pucktracking his dog's trail, Thompson learned his animal had run into a pair of bobcats which were jealously guarding a snowshoe hare they had killed. Tracks revealed that the bobcats were large — much too big for the likes of a beagle.

THE LETTERBOX

Editor, Chelsea Standard
Chelsea, Michigan

Dear Mr. Editor:

As a former Councilman I was very much pleased to read the letter in the last issue of the Standard written by Mr. J. F. Beaumont.

Mr. Beaumont is correct in writing that there should not be a one-party ballot, however, he is wrong in saying that the Village LOST the election. As long as the Independent Party has the caliber of men they had for the past five years, the Village has WON, I say the past five years because in that time I have been personally acquainted with each one. Not one of them had a personal axe to grind. They are on the Council because of their interest in the welfare of Chelsea. If any citizen of Chelsea doubts this they should attend a few Council meetings. Better bring a lunch because about 2 a.m. a little nourishment will be welcome. They won't find a Councilman taking a "coffee break." They will be discussing problems every minute of their four to six hour session. In addition to the regular bi-monthly sessions there are many committee meetings which consume many hours for which they receive no remuneration whatever.

There is one item that needs consideration and that is unless much more interest is shown in Village government the time may come when there may be no ballot at all. It is getting increasingly difficult to get qualified men to participate in Village affairs. It is time consuming, so much so that few men are willing to re-arrange their affairs so they can participate. Former councilmen of ten years ago or more have no idea how much the work load has increased.

If any citizen is dissatisfied with any decision made by the Council all he has to do is to present himself at a regular Council meeting and he will receive complete and courteous treatment.

Mr. Editor we have a fine group of men on our Village Council. Chelsea did not LOSE the last election. Chelsea WON.

Ladies and Gentlemen, let us all stand, with glass held high and drink a toast to our beloved Chelsea, and to those men who have guided her fate, in the past, in the present and in the future.

Dr. L. J. Paul.

Farm Bureau Groups Meet With School Board

Members of the Freedom, Sylvan and Lima Farm Bureau met last week Thursday with two school Board members at Lima Community Hall to discuss the coming millage elections and school problems.

Luther Kusterer and Robert Foster represented the School Board, giving a resume of new and additional programs authorized by the Board to take effect during the coming year, such as TV education, hiring a woman counselor, possible elementary hot lunch program, new buses, etc.

Questions regarding the number of students participating in the track program, cost of the track and the reasons for increasing salaries of bus supervisors and teachers were also answered. Considerable discussion about the transportation system and its cost followed.

Birdhouse Plans Available from MSU

Many youngsters may want to build birdhouses for attracting "red robin and his friends" to the yard with spring fast approaching.

If so, plans for building these houses are available free of charge by writing to: Bulletin Office, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Just specify whether you plan to build a birdhouse for wrens, bluebirds or martins.

BEAVER "PERFUME"

The beaver yields a peculiar product called castoreum from its musk sacs or "castors." This oily, heavily scented substance was formerly used in medicine but now is used in the making of certain perfumes. Its chief use is in baiting traps since beavers themselves and many other animals are strongly attracted by its odor.

Septic Tank Care Will Save Money, Protect Health

The Washtenaw County Health Department is bracing itself for the springtime reports of septic tank failures. Symptoms of serious trouble are soggy soil or human wastes on the ground surface. It is often the reason that waste water fails to drain from the house and plumbing fixtures overflow.

Sewage on the ground is a serious health hazard to people since germs producing diseases such as typhoid fever, infectious hepatitis and dysentery are found in human wastes. Sewage becomes contaminated with disease producing germs from people who carry these germs in their system. Other people then contract the diseases from the germs which can contaminate the ground, drinking water, or lakes.

This health hazard can be avoided only if there is suitable soil and drainage which will permit a properly installed septic tank system to work. These systems do not work properly in heavy clay soils or wet areas.

Last year 312 septic tank permits were issued by the Washtenaw County Health Department. Soil and location conditions were carefully checked and approved to ensure that these systems would serve the owners present and future needs as well as protect health.

There are an estimated 11,500 private disposal systems in the county. These septic tank systems need periodic care—cleaning of the tank and repair or relocation of the disposal tile systems.

A private disposal system usually consists of a septic tank and some type of disposal field. The septic tank removes one-half to three-fourths of the solids from the waste water before discharging it into the disposal field. The tank provides storage space for the settled solids which undergo decomposition. However, because a septic tank does not completely decompose the settled solids this material (sludge) gradually accumulates and it is necessary to have the tank cleaned every two or three years. The frequency with which a septic tank must be cleaned will vary with the size of the tank and the number of people it serves. When a household garbage grinder is used, more frequent cleaning will be required.

The function of the disposal field is to receive the liquid waste from the septic tank and allow it to seep into the ground. To do this the field must be installed in a dry and porous soil. Soils with a high percentage of clay or silt will not permit the rapid, downward drainage of water and the field will not function. Because a septic tank does not remove all of the solids, those remaining solids carried over to the disposal field will eventually clog the soil and cause a failure of the system.

Some disposal fields may function properly for as long as 20 years, but many others fail in less than five years. The most frequent cause of disposal field failure is neglect in cleaning the septic tank. When the tank is not cleaned, the soil becomes overloaded and clogged with waste solids. The expensive and elaborate tile system then must be expanded or replaced. This is a costly undertaking and emphasizes the need for periodic inspection and cleaning of the tank.

Michigan law requires that persons in the business of cleaning septic tanks be licensed. Homeowners should be sure that only a licensed septic tank cleaner is employed and they should understand the terms of any service contract. Paying for the sewage pumped by the gallon should be avoided.

The septic tank does not need the addition of yeast, sour milk, or other so-called starters. There are no chemicals or "digesting yeasts" which are capable of reducing the solids in a septic tank. Some so-called chemical "septic tank cleaners" can actually do much harm to the system requiring early and expensive replacement of the disposal field.

Extensive test done by the U.S. Public Health Service have shown that moderate use of soaps, detergents, bleaches and drain cleaners do not harm the action of the septic tank.

If you would like help in determining soil conditions on your lot or if you have questions about maintenance of your disposal system, contact the County Health Department, sanitation office, 663-7511.

Prompt solution of any problems will save you needless expense and protect your health.

Glenn Rentschlers Attend Marathon Sales Meeting in Lansing

Glenn Rentschler, Marathon dealer in Waterloo was among more than 1,300 dealers and their wives attending the 1964 Dealer Sales Spectacular in Lansing.

The dealers heard Marathon Oil Company's marketing plans for the coming year, presented in song and skit, as a cast of professional singers, dancers and actors acted out the story in a miniature Broadway musical.

The production was the company's way of informing its dealers of sales and merchandising plans for 1964, this year's advertising program and other selling aids which the company will provide.

Following the hour-long stage show, the dealers and their wives were guests of the company for lunch.

Mrs. Rentschler participated in the meeting with her husband.

Mink coats and stoles pick up much of their expensiveness because of the viciousness of minks. Tranquilizers are being used by Michigan State University researchers to tame the minks so they will not have to be raised in separate cages and may be put together without damage to pelts from bites.
