Senior Class Visiting New York City

Chelsea High school seniors are due to return from their class trip at about noon tomorrow (Friday). Accompanied by Terry Pokela, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donley and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills as chaperons, they left Chelsea shortly after graduation and two Scott Smith and Victor have decided to forego track career.

Their schedule called for arrival at their headquarters in the Hotel New Yorker in time to have breakfast and lunch in the hotel's coffee house and be ready for a tour of Chinatown beginning at 1 p.m.

Tuesday afternoon's itinerary also included tours of the Bowery, Greenwich Village, the Wall Street financial district, lower East Side, Washington Square and the Statue of Liberty.

Tuesday evening they were to attend a movie premiere and stage show at Radio City Music Hall.

Yesterday the group's tour included visits to Rockefeller Center, the National Broadcasting Co., and attendance at a Broadway play.

Today the seniors are visiting the United Nations Building, uptown New York, Fifth Avenue-Millonaire's Row, the so-called Hell's Kitchen, Grant's Tomb and the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Following a visit tonight to the Empire State Building they will start the trip home.

Cancer Fund Seeks Mail Contributions

Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Chelsea chairman for the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, is reminding Chelsea area residents that April is "Cancer Month," the time of year when special contributions are solicited.

Mrs. Holmes said no house-to-house canvass is planned here this year—letters prepared with the assistance of a number of individual volunteers are being sent out requesting that contributions be mailed in.

Retail stores will not be solicited but Mrs. Paul Mann has been assigned to contact industries for their contributions.

A special fund-raising event is being staged at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Saturday evening, April 25, proceeds of ticket sales being credited to the communities in which the tickets are sold.

HUNTING EASTER EGGS—Here are some of the younger children who participated in Saturday's Jaycees-sponsored Easter Egg Hunt on the athletic field at Chelsea High school. Postponed from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. because of a substantial snowfall, the youngsters appeared to enjoy the experience of hunting eggs in the snow. In the under three age group Diane Shoemaker got the prize of a chocolate bunny for finding the most eggs.

WHO HAS THE MOST EGGS? In this photo are some of the first, second and third graders who competed in separate categories for prizes in Saturday's Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees. Jaycees members assisted the committee of Donald Bush, Ron Branham and Robert Berke at the event held Saturday afternoon on the Chelsea High school grounds. Snow which fell during the forenoon caused a postponement of the hunt originally scheduled for 10 a.m. Prize in each event was a chocolate Easter bunny for finding the most eggs and a plastic Easter egg containing a $3 gift certificate for the one who found it. First grade winners were Joanne LaFontaine who found 22 eggs and A. J. Hale, Jr., plastic egg and gift certificate; second grade, Matt Harker who gathered 29 eggs, and Steve Schantz, plastic egg; and third grade, Cynthia Boyer, with 83 eggs, and Dale Eveningred who got the plastic egg.

PART OF STATE-WIDE PROGRAM: Altar Society Sponsoring Film on Drop-Out Problems

With state-wide interest this week being focused on the Community Action Conference on the school drop-out problem, a St. Mary's Altar Society program on the topic at Chelsea High school auditorium Wednesday, April 1 should prove of special interest to everyone in the Chelsea area.

Planned as a community service of the Altar Society, everyone is invited to attend. The program begins at 8 p.m. and includes the showing of a half-hour film entitled "When I'm Old Enough, Goodbye."

The film stresses the importance of at least a high school education for young people who will be looking for jobs.

High school age young people are particularly invited to attend. At Flint tomorrow, April 3, Governor George Romney is scheduled to speak on the subject of the school drop-out problem at the Michigan Community Action Conference sponsored by the Greater Michigan Foundation.

Charles S. Mott, president of the famed Mott Foundation at Flint, will be one of the other speakers at the Flint conference.

Purposes of the conference are (1) help community and school leaders throughout the state equip their communities to deal more effectively with the problem; and (2) initiate a program for statewide action on the school drop-out problem.

Parents Hear Of Safety of Son in Alaska

William E. Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Curtis of Lansing Rd., who is employed in Alaska in electrical maintenance supervisory work on the government's aerial warning system towers, was believed in Anchorage at the time of the violent earthquake which struck there Friday night.

Although no word had been received from him early this week, his parents were hopeful he was safe. He had been living at the Eastward Hotel in Anchorage, one of the few buildings which remained standing.

His wife and six-year-old daughter, Karen, happened to be visiting in Ypsilanti, planning to join him as soon as he found a home there.

Yesterday it was learned indirectly through RCA headquarters at Camden, N. J., that the company's building in Alaska was intact and that the firm had suffered "no casualties." The son is employed by the RCA company.

His wife also received a letter from him later in the day.

Yesterday it was learned, too, that another Chelsea area family is in the earthquake area and are safe.

Ray Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Shepherd, who is employed by the state highway department and lives at Tok, a small community some distance from Anchorage, sent a telegram to his parents on Sunday saying that he (Continued on page eight)

Annual Meetings Set Saturday By Area Townships

All area townships will be holding annual meetings Saturday, April 4. Official announcements of the meetings appear in this issue of The Standard.

Four townships—Sharon, Dexter, Lima and Lyndon—have scheduled their meetings for 1 p.m. in their respective township halls.

Sylvan township will hold the annual meeting at 2 p.m. in Sylvan Town Hall and Freedom township has set 1:30 p.m. as the time for its meeting.

Annual reports will be given and budgets for the coming year will be presented for approval. In addition, any matters brought up at the meeting by township residents will receive consideration.

Among recommendations suggested as helpful toward finding a solution to the drop-out situation, which is actually a nation-wide problem, are the following:

Chelsea School Millage Still Lower Than Any Nearby District

Monday, April 6, is the date for the election on the special school millage proposal in the Chelsea School District.

The election will be held in the Junior High school gymnasium on East St. and polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Any registered elector may vote in this election providing he meets the following requirements:

Must be a citizen of the United States.
Must be at least 21 years of age.
Must have been a resident of the state for six months and a resident of the school district for 30 days preceding the election date.

Must be registered with the township clerk in the township in which the voter resides.

The electors will vote on the request of the Board of Education for 3½ mills which is an increase of 1¼ mills above the millage levied this year. It has been estimated the average increase in the townships of the district is approximately $2.23 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

A comparison of the operational millages levied in the districts of Washtenaw county showed that the Chelsea School District is one of the lowest. Information pertaining to these figures appeared in an earlier edition of The Standard.

The ballot for Monday's operational millage election is worded as follows:

"Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in the Chelsea School District, Washtenaw and Jackson Counties, Michigan, be increased by three and one-half tenths of one percent (0.35%) (3½ mills) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in said school district for the year 1964, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses?"

It is interesting to note that while most townships in the Chelsea School District are also in at least one other school district, Sharon township is the one township of the district that is a part of four school districts—three in addition to Chelsea—and levies in the three other districts for 1963-64 were all appreciably higher than that of the Chelsea District.

According to figures given The Standard, using the amount of levy per $1,000 of valuation, Chelsea's figures are $38.70 for school operating and $15.45 for school debt for a total of $54.15 for school tax. This added to the remaining levy for the county brings the total tax levy per $1,000 to $73.31 in the Chelsea School District for residents of Sharon township.

For residents of the other three districts in Sharon township—Manchester, Napoleon and Grass Lake—the rate per $1,000 ranges from $10 to $30 higher.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

There are increasing signs that the Upper Peninsula is moving steadily and dramatically toward economic recovery.

It cannot be denied that too many of the UP's people are still out of work, that too many of its young people leave for greener pastures, and that too much of its rich resources remain untapped.

Yet the condition of the Peninsula's tourist industry, the development of processes to utilize the enormous deposits of low-grade ore, the proposed construction of natural gas pipelines and other ventures justify a certain measure of optimism.

Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of the Michigan Technological University at Houghton, displayed such optimism in a recent speech in Lansing.

There even was talk of a new season and even becoming a new nation so we would be eligible for foreign aid," he said. "You don't hear that talk any more because the Upper Peninsula is coming back."

Part of the come-back can be attributed to the growing number of tourists who are flocking northward from all parts of the country to enjoy the unmatched landscape, the hunting, fishing and other attractions.

During 1963, tourists spent a record $727 million in Michigan. This represents an over-all increase of 7.10 percent over 1962, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The Upper Peninsula enjoyed its share of this increase. Of the Tourist Council, none reported a decrease. Reported increases ranged up to 25 percent over 1962. Two other recent developments constitute the most heartening news the Upper Peninsula has received in a long time.

One of these was the announcement that the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. and McLouth Steel Corp. will build a $15,000,000 pelletizing plant to process low-grade ore in the Marquette range.

This decision will increase the security of 340 jobs at the company's mine and bring an additional 400 jobs to an area that needs them badly.

The second development was the announcement of the Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb., that it is seeking Federal Power Commission permission to build 700 miles of pipeline in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

This pipeline, which will cost $50 million, will service 50 communities, 20 of them in the Upper Peninsula. The arrival of natural gas in the UP will be an important and long-awaited spur to the region's economy.

Recognizing the importance of the Upper Peninsula's economy to the entire state, I have scheduled a Governor's Conference on Upper Peninsula Development in June.

This conference will bring together those who are most knowledgeable and the most concerned about this vital region, to review recent encouraging events and to explore ways in which the momentum of recovery can be accelerated.

Planning Group Research Panel Reviews Goals

At a regular monthly meeting of the Research Panel of the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission (WCMPMC) at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, March 26, the featured speaker was Dr. William Gable, research associate with the U. of M. Institute of Public Administration and vice-chairman of the WCMPMC.

In his presentation he highlighted the history of the research panel, including projects and personalities; goals and objectives of the unique body and projects to be considered by the panel in coming months.

Dr. Gable suggested ways to attract research and development industry, methods of guiding and controlling growth, and the ties of Washtenaw county to the metropolitan area.

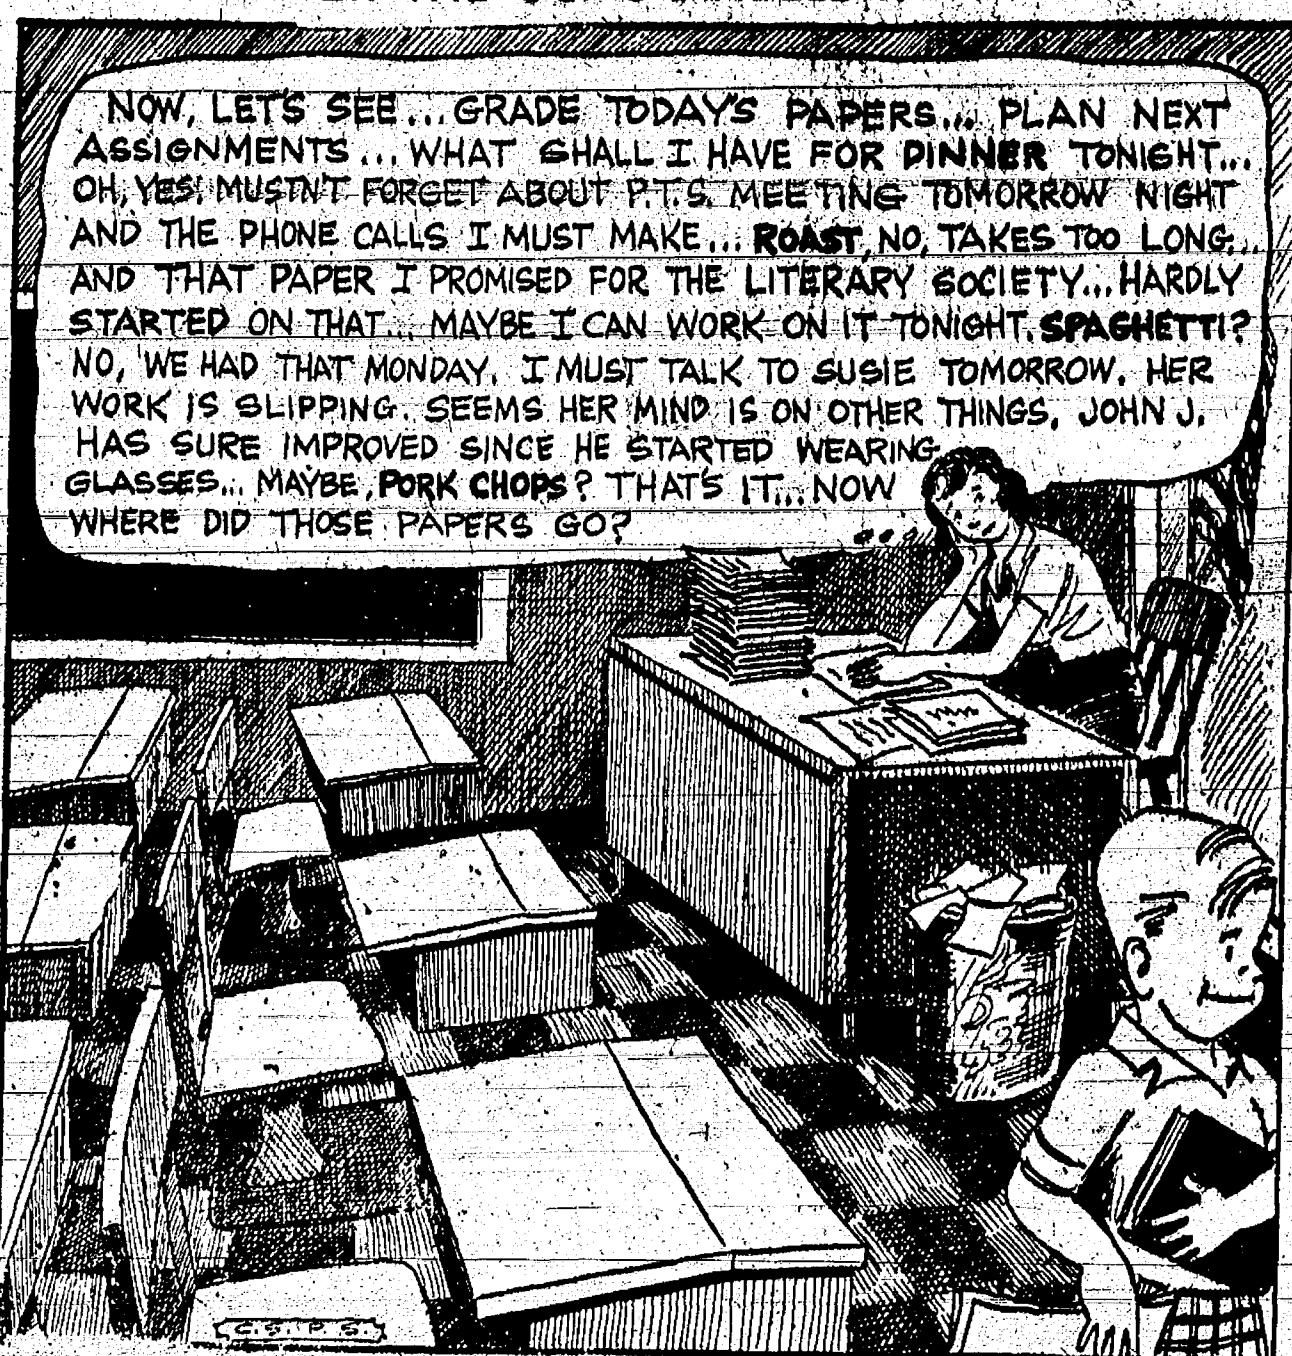

In his remarks he stressed his concern over what he described as "uncontrolled or one-sided growth of Washtenaw county." He stated, "We must always be concerned with the improvement of living, working and playing conditions of all county residents," and said that the Research Panel "cannot afford to be one-sided and become the promotion organ of interest groups."

Dr. Gable concluded his talk by expressing the hope that the majority of topics suggested can be studied by the Research Panel in conjunction with the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission, and brought to a "fruitful conclusion for the benefit of each and every citizen in this county."

Thursday's meeting was held in the County Building at Ann Arbor. Members of the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission include William Gable, chairman; David Oaker, vice-chairman; John B. Meadows, secretary-treasurer; Robert D. Carpenter, director; and John Hyde, David Deig, Carl Mast, Paul Cress, Leigh Beach, William Scheel, Donald M. Silkworth and Everett Wolfen.

AFTER THE SCHOOL BELL RINGS...

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Jobs Make Jobs

Elation of government officials over the announced expansion plans of General Motors is readily explainable.

Estimates on the new jobs involved in Michigan range around 25,000 over a period of time.

In an undelivered speech prepared for use in the Midwest Governors' Conference in Omaha last Nov. 22, Gov. George Romney spelled out what every 10,000 new jobs means in Michigan.

Every 10,000 new jobs in basic industry means an additional 13,800 jobs in derivative occupations such as barbers, dry cleaners, teachers and dentists. The 10,000 new industrial jobs makes 23,800 new positions.

For every employed person in Michigan, Romney said, there are nearly two other persons. This means that the 23,800 persons working as the result of the industrial jobs would represent a population of some 68,300.

Romney noted that the population segment involved is about equal to a city like Ann Arbor. Carrying the impact further, he said the basic new jobs would have the effect of providing new buying income of about $133 million, of which about $81 million would be in retail purchases.

Tax income resulting from the new employment would also be substantial, Romney noted.

"These 10,000 new industrial jobs in Michigan would mean more than $8 million in new state tax money and local governments would collect more than $4 million in tax revenues, all without raising tax rates or putting on new taxes."

"So 10,000 new industrial jobs would pave a lot of streets and finance a lot of health care and welfare cases and school rooms," the Governor said.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see where some professor of philosophy at Yale claims if it wasn't for the troubles we got, all of us would be so satisfied we'd be miserable. I reckon that's why I'm overtaken with bliss all the time. I tote just enough troubles around to keep me happy.

And all a feller has to do to keep a good stock of troubles on hand is to read the papers ever day. For instance, I was reading this piece last night by one of them Washington column writers where the new House Office Building they was putting up in Washington for $85 million would be the most costly building ever erected any place in the world.

He was giving some figures to show how fancy they was getting with this new building. It will cost $43 million more than the Pentagon, $43 million more than the Empire State Building, $50 million more than the Golden Gate, $53 million more than the world's largest commercial building, and $18 million more than the United Nations building.

axiom, "the power to tax is the power to destroy, can be found in the state than those who work in the beer industry. Brewers have felt the heavy hand of the tax man on their shoulders since 1962 when the state, faced with financial crisis, raised taxes a whopping 430 percent, from $2.50 per barrel to $6.61.

Since then they have struggled valiantly to get the tax reduced. While most legislators, and even the Governor, agreed it was a very stiff tax which might be choking the industry, there was no action. This year brought hope. Five Senators who felt strongly that the tax was not logically defensible met with the Governor with the result that Gov. Romney recommends that the beer tax be reduced to its former level. Senators involved were Clyde Geerlings, R-Hope; Emil Lackwood, R-St. Louis; Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing; Lester O. Begick, R-Bay City; Gary E. Brown, R-Schoolcraft.

A reduction would permit Michigan made beer to compete with other beverages, according to Robert A. Schiffer, president of Michigan Brewers Association. The high tax raised the price of beer to a point that buyers thought it more economical to buy stronger drinks. Schiffer pointed out that always before the sale of beer had gone up in a rising economy, then it did not increase in recent months. But stronger drinks did.

Schiffer believes that reduction of the beer tax will substantially increase beer sales, jobs in Michigan breweries and prevent the strangulation of the beer industry in this state.

Retraining Works
It's official now, Michigan held its own in taking advantage of one of the most recent Federal-state co-operative projects.

A study shows more Michigan citizens have been involved in training projects under the Area Redevelopment Act than in any other state, with the sole exception of New Jersey.

More than 1,300 jobless and unemployed persons were involved in the training projects nationally. In Michigan 14 projects included nearly 1,000 persons.

Elmer L. Babb, director for Michigan and Indiana, said 80 percent of Michigan workers who completed training courses during the past two years have obtained jobs. These individuals filled jobs as nurses aides, floral designers, clerical workers, auto repairmen and mechanics, cooks, waitresses and others.

U.P. Tourists Up?
One black mark was recorded in Michigan's tourist industry picture last year.

The Upper Peninsula's share of tourist spending remained the same as during 1962, although the entire state spending index showed a 7 percent increase, to a record $727 million.

The story in the Upper Peninsula was not as bad as it sounds, however, because in the preceding three years tourist trade in the North country was on the decline. Tourist Council officials hope to revive the U.P. in the industry this year through efforts of research now being done on the potential for growth.

Detroit Area Masons Plan Spring Event

Some 275 Blue Lodge Masons from 11 Southeastern Michigan counties will be in Detroit on two week-ends this month, April 17-18, and April 24-25, to receive the 4th through the 32nd Degrees in Scottish Rite of Freemasonry.

The occasion will be the 255th Spring Reunion of the Detroit Valley of Scottish Rite. The class has been named in honor of Orville H. Foster, a prominent Detroit lawyer and a well known 33rd Degree Mason who died last October.

The Scottish Rite Valley of Detroit, with a membership of more than 19,000 Masons, covers the counties of Wayne, Branch, Hillsdale, Monroe, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair and Washtenaw.

Knitting Classes To Be Repeated in Recreation Series

Two knitting classes sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Commission as part of its adult education program are now completed. By popular demand, the classes are to be repeated—possibly one group as an advanced class and another as a beginners group.

Registration for the new series of classes begins Monday, April 6. No registrations may be made before that date because of the current spring vacation. Registrations are to be made at the office of Alan Conklin, principal of the Junior High School. Those who wish to register must pay the set fee of $2 for adults or $4 for high school students for the eight-week course.

Classes are held Thursday evenings and the first session of the second series of classes is scheduled for April 9. The classes will be concluded May 28.

Conklin, who is Recreation Commission director, said he will accept registrations on a first-come, first-served basis beginning Monday morning, April 6.

The only other Recreation Commission class still in progress is a sketching class conducted by Jack Carl.

A men's physical fitness class and all Saturday programs for boys and girls have finished their winter schedules.

Mrs. Ronald Lentz of Ann Arbor, formerly of Chelsea, is the knitting class instructor.

Theodore D. Stanford Pledges U-M Fraternity

Theodore D. Stanford, a freshman at the University of Michigan, has been pledged to Triangles fraternity, it was announced this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Stanford, at present in Frankfurt, Germany where his father is in the diplomatic service.

The newly-pledged fraternity member is a grandson of the Rev. and Mrs. George P. Stanford. The Rev. Stanford is chaplain at the Methodist Home.

Fraternities at the University of Michigan pledged a total of 497 men following rush periods during January and February.

Pledges will attend regular meetings during the rest of the semester and will begin living in the "fraternity" houses next fall.

Next year the sorority rush days will be drastically altered, with a more informal system of open houses in the spring and a new fall rush for apprehensions.

Among fraternities, a new emphasis on academic achievement is promised.

County Hospital Auxiliary Plans Annual Meeting

Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary members are being reminded of the annual meeting and election of officers which is to be held at the hospital, 2960 Washington Rd., Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, April 15. Announcement of the annual meeting was made following the monthly executive board meeting where plans for the annual session were the principal item of business on the agenda.

Those who attend the annual meeting will be shown new chairs with detachable trays, new trays for wheel chairs, a new versatile stretcher, the newest shelf of reference books, new drapes for the basement rooms and new window closets being installed. All have been provided with the co-operation of the executive board members.

Noted at the executive board meeting was the special need for good clean clothes for men in foster homes. At present, there are 60 former hospital patients in foster homes. Trousers and shirts for men are urgently needed.

Holiday parties at the hospital for the month of May, June and July are so far without sponsorship. Anyone interested in volunteering to sponsor a party either of those months should contact Mrs. Mildred Perry at the hospital.

Participates in Marine

Sea Assault Exercise

Jacksonville, Fla. — Marine Private First Class Gary R. Cattell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Cattell of 20150 Old Island Rd., Chelsea, Mich., recently participated in a sea assault demonstration exercise for the Canadian Navy while serving with Medium Marine Helicopter Squadron 263 aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Okinawa, operating out of Norfolk, Va.

The exercise was designed to demonstrate the capabilities of an amphibious assault ship and was observed by a group of officers from the Navy.

Helicopters from the squadron used a tactic known as "vertical envelopment" which is the lifting of combat ready Marines over and behind enemy lines.

Boy Scout Troops Hold Joint Meet

100 or so gathered in the South forward and presented before the school gym for the occasion. Included Maynard Poortner, Vern Hills, Wilbur Warden, Irving Slabe, Robert Livingston, and Roland White. Scoutmaster Alvin Reinhardt, and assistant, William Baker arranged the opening and closing ceremonies.

Scoutmaster of Troop 425, Ralph Frisken, showed slides of the boys at Bruin Lake summer camp taken during the past few years. District JSA executive, William Windle made several announcements and then introduced Robert Lambert of Dexter who showed slides of his trip to Philmont with Scouts and the fun and experiences they had hiking and camping there and cross country.

Several people mentioned that the troops had not held any activities together for some time and this combined parents' night and court of honor was a fine sign of co-operative scout-work in Chelsea. Both troops plan to try to go to Philmont next year.

Parcel Post Rate Increase Effective Beginning April 1

Postmaster Carl J. Mayer is reminding residents of Chelsea that an effective date of April 1 was set for new domestic parcel post rate increases.

The parcel post increase, approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 18 1/2 percent is expected to yield about $75.4 million annually.

Catalog rates will be increased approximately 13 percent and will produce, added revenue of about $2.4 million if 1962 volume is maintained.

The higher rates do not affect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Postmaster Mayer said he has been advised by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski that the decision of the ICC will assist the Post Office Department in carrying out its objective of reducing the drain on the Federal treasury by $100 million.

The last parcel post increase was on Feb. 1, 1960, the postmaster pointed out.

To illustrate the effect of the new rates here, Mayer noted that a six-pound parcel, which is the average weight for local area delivery will cost 37 cents instead of 32 cents.

If you want to get rich, learn how not to spend.

The volunteer instructor in charge will be Ray Cook. Enrollment may be made by contacting the Red Cross Operations Center at 662-5546. Registration is limited. As usual, there is no charge for this agency service.

Supervisors Approve Site for County Park Development
Announcement has been made that a 205-acre tract of land, on both sides of North Territorial Rd., between Embury Rd. on the east and Chelsea-Stokely Rd. on the west, will become a county park if the land transfer is approved by the State Conservation Commission early this month. The tract, part of the Pinckney Recreation Area, is all in Lyndon township.
The Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, on Thursday of last week, passed a resolution of acceptance of the state land which is required by the commission before it can approve the deed of the land to the county. Supervisor M. W. H. took the resolution to Lansing, where Conservation Department officials have assured him that they will recommend the transfer.
The deed will provide that the land reverts to the state if it ceases to be used for public purposes. The county will pay $1 to the state.
Will, chairman of the board's ways and means committee, indicated that the county could commit $5,000 from the public improvement fund for the park's development.
Miss E. Genevieve Gillette, an area resident and president of the Michigan Parks Association, made the suggestion for the proposed county park to the county supervisors.
On the north side of North Territorial Rd. there are two 40-acre parcels of rolling land with high hills. The view from the hilltops includes a portion of South Lake, but the land the county expects to obtain will not extend to the lake. This area will probably be developed with picnic sites and a warming shelter for winter sports, such as coasting.
A 120-acre parcel on the south side of the road includes Kelly Lake, which the county expects to develop for boating and fishing. This area is wooded and is also ideal for picnic sites.
In addition to the recreation facilities, the county will need to build a two-way drive, a small parking area and sanitary facilities.
No date was announced as to when the park could be expected to be ready for use of the public.

Immunization Clinics Slated In April for Junior Highs

Dr. C. J. Tupper, president of Washtenaw County Medical Society, announced today that booster immunization clinics will be held during April for all junior high school students who will be offered protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and polio.
"Immunization programs sponsored for 23 years in Washtenaw county by the Medical Society and the City-County Health Department have virtually eliminated the possibility of an outbreak of polio, diphtheria, tetanus or smallpox," says Dr. Tupper.
For more than five years there have been no reported cases of polio or smallpox. Last year one case of diphtheria was the first reported since 1955.
Over the years the most important program has been the routine immunization of pre-school children in physicians' offices or at the Well Child Clinics. This program has been so well carried out in the county that a 1960 survey indicated that 80 to 85 percent of the children entering kindergarten and new enrollees in grades one to six were immunized adequately against smallpox, polio, diphtheria, and tetanus.
Another important program has been the spring immunization clinic held annually since 1941. Periodically the public health committee of the Medical Society reviews the immunization program and recommends changes to meet the needs of the children and to utilize new advances in medical knowledge.
A review of the 23 years of the immunization program indicates that much has been achieved to meet the changing needs of the people. From 1941 to 1944 smallpox and diphtheria immunizations were offered to children of all ages, particularly pre-schoolers. By 1945, a high percentage of the pre-schoolers were protected against diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough. So emphasis was now given to the school-age child because it was this group which had an increasing number of cases of diphtheria.

HOW MUCH WATER DO YOU NEED?
The amount of water your family needs depends upon the size of your family, the number of appliances and plumbing fixtures you have and whether or not you keep livestock. When planning a water system, it is always best to over-estimate the amount of water you will be using in order to take care of emergencies and peak periods when several outlets may be used at the same time. It is well, too, to plan a system that will provide for future demands for water around your property.
The following charts will help you decide the amount of water your water system should be capable of delivering.

AVERAGE QUANTITY OF WATER REQUIRED BY PEOPLE AND LIVESTOCK DAILY	APPROXIMATE FLOW OF WATER PER MINUTE THROUGH AVERAGE PLUMBING FIXTURES
Each member of family 50 gallons per day	Shower Bath 10 gallons per minute

Michigan Bell Expansion Plans Told

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has announced that it will spend a total of $83.1 million in 1964 for the expansion and improvement of its facilities.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, said the construction program is nearly $5 million in excess of the 1963 outlay.

The 1964 program was increased by the company in response to the intent of the federal tax reduction to stimulate the economy through stepped-up business activity, Day said.

Throughout the state, Day said, more than half the company's 1964 program—$49.1 million—has been earmarked for expansion to meet growth. Michigan Bell expects to add 110,000 telephones to the more than 3,200,000 now in use.

Aside from the gain in telephones, the company anticipates an increase in telephone usage, including an eight percent boost in long distance calling.

Seventeen communities will be linked to the Direct Distance Dialing network—Denville, Diamond, Eaton Rapids, Fowlerville, Hartland, Holt, Howell, Ionia, Lansing, Mason, Mendon, Pines, Port Huron, Porterville, Saginaw, Stearns, and Vermilionville.

By year's end, 84.5 percent of Michigan Bell's customers will be able to dial their own long distance calls.

Washtenaw County Official DHIA Report

Harry Cetnar who supervises testing, along with Charles Baker, for Washtenaw County's Dairy Herd Improvement Association, says, "Farmers are the most conscientious workers — they live their job."

Cetnar, in his capacity with this Michigan State University department, has contact with many farmers in this immediate area. The information he and Baker compile goes into the University at East Lansing and is computed electronically and the results returned to the farmer. This way, he explained, each farmer knows whether a particular cow is producing enough to warrant remaining in the herd or not. Tests are run on a fiscal year of October through September, Cetnar explained.

The following figures show the 10 top herds for this county for the first five months of this fiscal year:

HERD OWNER	Number of Cows	Lbs. of Milk	Lbs. of Butterfat
David Gordon	62	7,043	282
David DeJancovich	30	6,851	250
Wm. Van Riper	41	6,508	247
Don and Bob Stuart	23	6,433	243
Alvin Wahl	35	6,515	237
Norman Randall	45	6,332	236
Thomas Eamus	76	6,289	235
Paul Taylor	25	6,466	233
Horace and Gilbert Whitney	40	5,012	220
Len Burmeister	23	5,730	213

High production herds in the county for February are as follows:

HERD OWNER	Number of Cows	Avg. Lbs. of Milk	Avg. Lbs. of Butterfat
David Gordon	62	1,441	51
Specht and Currie	70	1,325	48
Wm. Van Riper	41	1,231	47
Norman Randall	45	1,160	46
Paul Taylor	25	1,028	45
Geo. Thayer	31	1,156	42
Leo Burmeister	23	1,128	42
Harold and Don Drake	43	1,202	41
Felkham and Reun	37	1,105	41
Charles Knight	58	1,005	41
David Fisher	51	1,117	40
Don and Bob Stuart	23	1,001	40
Lowell Spilke	43	1,033	40
H. Sackinger	22	717	40

Amount of production varies from month to month and the figures forthcoming for March may show that quite different farmer's herds will be in the top group.

The agricultural college in each state sponsors a similar program, Cetnar said.

Wool Payment Rates Set For 1963 Marketing Year

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, today, announced that shorn wool payments for the 1963 marketing year, to bring the average wool price of 48.5 cents per pound up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the National Wool Act, will amount to 27.8 percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the period from April through December, 1963.

This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $27.80 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the fifth year of the program. This compares to a payment of $30.00 per $100 of marketings for the 1962 marketing year.

USDA also announced a payment rate of 54 cents per hundredweight on shorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing. This payment rate compares to 57 cents per hundredweight for the 1962 marketing year.

No payments will be made on mohair sold in 1963 marketing year because average price of 88.1 cents per pound received by producers was above mohair support price of 76 cents per pound. A payment of $8.60 per $100 of marketings was made for the 1962 marketing year, but that is the only year in which producers' returns from mohair sales have been below support level.

Payments to Washtenaw county producers will be made about the third or fourth week in April.

Applications for payment had to be filed with the county office by Jan. 31.

Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1963 through Dec. 31, 1963.

This year completes the shift of the Wool Program from a marketing year to a calendar year basis. Payments on the 1964 marketings will begin in April of 1965.

they haven't fooled you," he said. Mr. Storme, a retiree, summed up the despairing frustration that I suspect grips many of the elderly. During the hearing, I jotted down some excerpts from the testimony of the older citizens who spoke out. Some typical comments: "My wife wasn't well enough to come with me today because we can't afford the drugs she needs."

"What can I do on $80 a month Social Security? I don't want to look for charity and I don't want to put someone else out of a job."

"You can't be healthy if you need medicine and don't have the money to pay for it."

"Why do the wives have to be 82½ percent citizens?" (a reference to the fact that widows of retirees get only 82½ percent of the benefits that were paid their husbands).

Despair and frustration? Certainly there seems to be reason for both. Two years ago the elderly saw the medicare bill fail in the Senate by one vote and only now is it beginning to stir in the legislative channels.

In Michigan, the average Social Security payment is $77.50 a month. Benefits have remained unchanged since 1958 although the cost of living has gone up by 6 percent and wages have risen by 20 percent.

One more statistic, if you can stand it:

Two-fifths of the state's elderly have less than $1,000 a year to spend. How can you successfully budget $1,000 for food, clothing, shelter, and medicine? I know my arithmetic couldn't cope with it.

How would the money be raised for increased benefits?—by raising the premium payments. For example, let's say that medicare were enacted along with a 6 percent boost in Social Security pensions.

A worker making $4,000 a year could expect to pay about $125 a month more. (Those making less than that would, of course, pay less.) If he makes $5,000, he'd pay an extra $247 a month. Those making more than $6,000 could expect to pay another $550.

It strikes me that such benefit increases now—after six years—would be entirely reasonable, although I may be arousing Mr. Storme's skepticism by saying so.

Medicare and a Social Security pension increase would both be effective weapons against the pockets of poverty that many older people find themselves in.

And surely they would be a boon to the many young families who contribute to the support of elderly parents and grandparents.

And for all these reasons, Mr. Storme, I think we can be hopeful that this election year will be a time not of confusion—but of action.

Road Commission To Build Headquarters Near Dexter

Howard G. Minier, engineer-director of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, commenting on the proposed construction of a new office, garage and storage center, said yesterday that he "very much appreciated the fast action" of the Board of Supervisors in voting approval last Thursday for the new facility which will cost an estimated $500,000.

Construction will be financed by means of a bond issue backed by state motor vehicle funds, the bonds to be repayable in five years.

"We are going ahead on this immediately," Minier said, "and this is probably wishful thinking on my part; but I am hoping to see at least the garage and storage areas functioning by next winter."

Minier said the present operations center at 415 W. Washington St., Ann Arbor, has for a long time been a hindrance to efficient service, principally because of the area's dense traffic. He said the sudden snowstorm which struck the area March 10 during the morning rush hour when incoming and outgoing traffic is customarily heaviest in the vicinity of the Washington St. yards, dramatically pointed up the need for speeding up action on the long-planned move to a new location. Salt and snow plows were delayed getting out of the yards because of the heavy traffic.

The proposed complex as planned, will be situated on the west side of Zeeb Rd., just north of the I-94 interchange, with Pratt and Zeeb Rds., Minier said. The 60-acre site, purchased several years ago, is located two north of the county's geographic center.

James A. Craig There is no antibiotic that will help. No pills give relief. There are no syrups that soothe. But then there isn't much pain either. Nor is there much discomfort. Scientific skills almost daily produce new treatments of disease to improve the public's health. This illness defies an accurate diagnosis. Medical science has been able to recommend no specific treatment. The symptoms vary. The result doesn't. Usually there is no loss of appetite. It never lasts much over 24 hours. It returns regularly. A doctor isn't called since it is gone before one might be needed. The attack is sudden. Worst of all, it is highly contagious. Adults seem most likely to get it; then the children. A few rare cases are reported to start with the children, spreading to adults. The Latin name is "Morbus Cabbicus." Loosely translated, it means "Sick on Sunday." The first sign of an attack is the victim saying, "I don't feel like going to church today." When caught repeatedly it leads to suffocation of the religious life. The only known cure is exposure to the fellowship and worship of the Church. The healthy surroundings of a vital religious atmosphere insure eternal health. Prayer: Lord, keep me well. Amen. The Huron Milling Div. of Hercules Powder Co. at Harbor Beach is the world's largest producer of wheat starch and wall paper paste. ST. THOMAS EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN Freedom Township The Rev. H. Spomer, Pastor Sunday, April 5— 10:00 a.m.—Worship service. 11:00 a.m.—Sunday school. GREGORY BAPTIST CHURCH The Rev. ★ Swiss Prepare!

A willingness to defend themselves and careful planning to repel enemy attack has helped in large part to keep Switzerland out of the bloody struggles that have convulsed Europe periodically for many years.

So when the threat of thermonuclear war loomed as a modern-day threat to that mountain country, the Swiss set about bracing themselves for that eventual day, too, according to an article appearing in a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor.

A bill passed by the Swiss States Council, the article notes, calls for a $450 million concrete and steel umbrella for all communities with populations of over 1,000. A three-month waiting period was allowed following passage of the bill late last summer before it became law so that the democratic Swiss could protest if they so desired. There were no protests.

★ New Law Clarifies
Farm Tool Status

A modern riddle might be: "When is a farm implement not a farm implement?" According to the thinking of some, when it is on a highway designed primarily for motor vehicles.

Traditionally, every "implement of husbandry" has been exempt from provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code. They have not required licensing in that their only real purpose has been work done in the fields. One good example is the small trailer used for spreading unstacked commercial fertilizer. As the network of highways grew to massive proportions over the years, webs of superroads spread concrete and tar "spokes" across much of the best farmland. Many farmers find it impossible to get to their fields without using roads that cross their land.

Last fall, a new problem was added. Farmers were bewildered and upset by a Department of State ruling that these fertilizer trailers did not classify as farm tools, rather, that they came under the Motor Vehicle Code and licensing would be required.

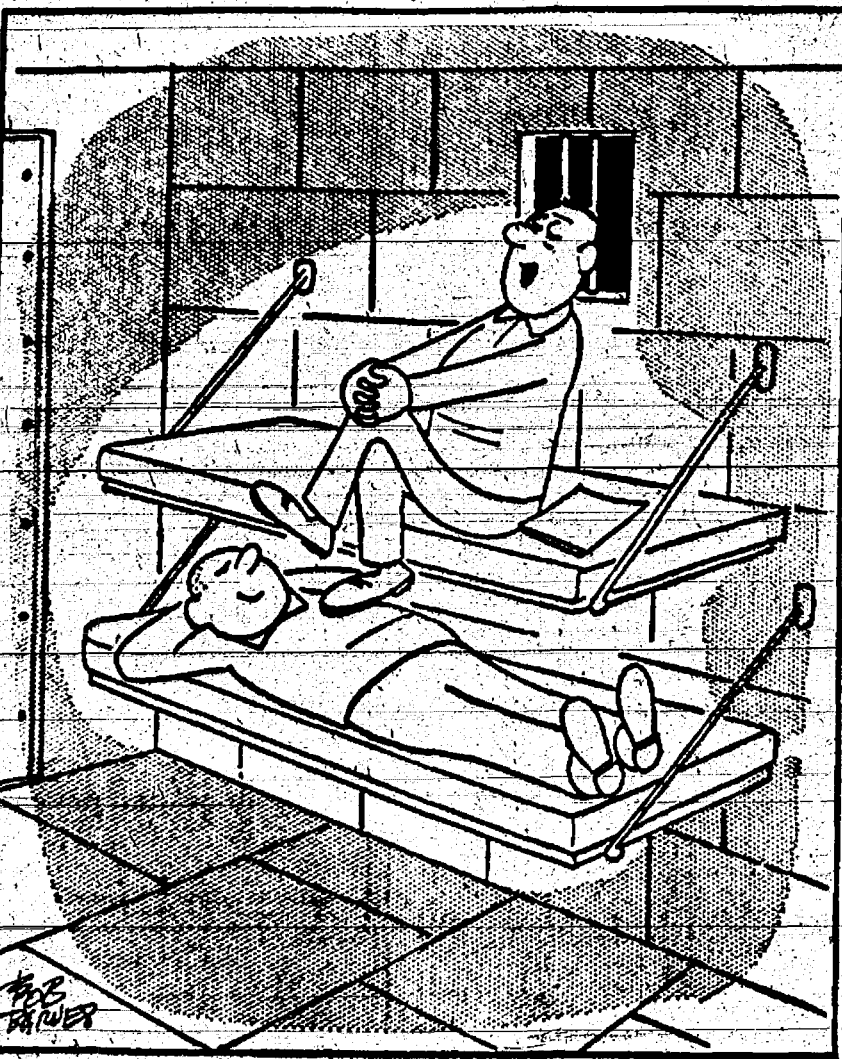

Confused farmers realized at once that far more than the cost of license plates was involved. If one type of fertilizer spreader was considered to be under the Motor Code, what then about others? Could the ruling be extended to common manure spreaders? To all mobile farm tools such as tractors, combines, hayracks?

What about the need for turn signals, for stop lights and brakes operated from the driver's seat? Small wonder that at the big annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau, voting delegates wrote: "Unless state officials revoke their present ruling requiring the licensing of these fertilizer spreaders, we recommend passage by the legislature of a clarifying amendment to the Motor Vehicle Code, specifically exempting these and similar implements of husbandry from the need for licensing."

Not receiving assurance that the ruling would be changed, these farm leaders drafted a bill to clarify these "foggy areas" of concern. It sailed through the House with a vote of 90 to 0 and through the Senate by a vote of 31 to 1. All Michigan farmers will benefit from the new law which now makes it plain that farm tools are exactly that.

Congregationalists Brave Snow for Sunrise Service

Young people in deciding to brave the elements at Mill Lake.

Barry Visel's clear trumpet led the singing as the group watched the horizon brighten by the minute. During the parts by Judy Livingston, by Hartmut Henning and by Barry Visel the worshippers appeared to be feeling they were keeping a faithful vigil. Because the service was brief, only about 20 minutes, the sun had not yet risen at its conclusion so the group piled back into the warm cars. There they waited for the sun to come up.

Despite cold feet, those who went back to the church for cocoa and sweetrolls indicated that they believed they had taken part in something important and inspiring. Easter guests of Mrs. Henry Werner were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Jenderrink and daughter, Laurie Anne, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hall Spear and son, J. Hall, all of Kalamazoo.

Perhaps the most adventurous group were the young people of the Congregational church (UCC) who gathered at the church at 8:45 a.m. The Rev. Robert Livingston announced that since there was snow on the ground out at Mill Lake where the committee had planned to hold the sunrise service, and since the enclosed place they had planned to use in case of bad weather had bust been discovered to be not available—they had to decide whether to stay in the church warmth or go out to Mill Lake where the full moon was still very bright in the west and the sun was just beginning to lighten the sky in the east. It didn't take the adults long to join the uncomfortably warmly dressed

Postmaster General Declares ZIP Code Proving Its Value

New York, N.Y.—ZIP Code is "absolutely essential" to modern postal service "and we could not possibly do without it," Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said, when he dedicated the New York World's Fair Post Office on Wednesday, March 11.

Contrary to some recent press reports that the Post Office Department intends to "scrap" the nine-month-old Zoning Improvement Plan, Gronouski said that ZIP Code "is very much alive and healthy."

"Scraping the ZIP Code program," he said, "is about as silly an idea as going back to the Pony Express."

The Postmaster General pointed to the "mail explosion" which has already pushed the number of individual pieces of mail above an annual rate of 70 billion and warned:

"If we ignored the opportunities offered by advancing technology and permitted costs to continue to rise... the 15-cent letter would be a grim reality by the year 2,000."

Speaking at a combined post office dedication and stamp unveiling ceremony at the New York World's Fair, the Postmaster General said that public acceptance of ZIP Code "far exceeds any experience we had in the early years of the zoning program."

"The simple fact is," he said, "that the more the public uses ZIP Code, the more successful we will be in moving the mails. We need the help of the public so that we can provide the best possible postal service. He added: "It has been claimed that no one is using ZIP Code, and yet of the 30,000 business firms that we have contacted to date, 87 percent have agreed to participate in the program. Business firms account for 75 percent of all first-class mail and these 30,000 firms account for a large proportion of all mail in this country."

Co-operation from the general public, he said, has been equally reassuring.

"From random checks that we have conducted throughout the country, we have found that approximately 22 percent of the mail from large cities is being ZIP Code'd—and the figure runs as high as 50 percent in the smaller communities."

Gronouski also asserted that, despite some reports to the contrary, ZIP Code is already speeding personal mail.

The New World's Fair post office, dedicated today by the Postmaster General, will have a dual function. It will process an estimated quarter-million pieces of mail daily, and will serve as a working exhibit for the public of the most advanced technologies in mail processing. President Johnson has appointed James A. Farley, who served for seven years as Postmaster General under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Honorary Postmaster. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Gronouski unveiled the embossed five-cent stamp and the embossed five-cent envelope which, he said, "will spread the word about this all over the world."

Easter dinner guests of Mrs. Lynn Kern were Mr. and Duane Hall and family, of Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Kern and family.
