Jaycees Buy Playground Equipment

The village has ordered playground equipment for both parks—Veterans Memorial on N. Main St. and Pierce Memorial on S. Main St.—and delivery is expected before the end of the week.

The new equipment is being paid for with a donation of $800 from the Jaycees and $20 from the Chelsea Child Study club.

The Child Study club has designated that their donation be used to purchase two infants' swing seats for Veterans Park and two similar swings with a hobby horse for a swing at Pierce Park which will have a total of three of the special swings.

The Jaycees are purchasing the swing at Pierce Park and their donation also supplies an eight-foot slide; a "steam engine" climber; and three animal figures mounted on springs anchored in concrete. The "animals" will include a pony, a donkey and an elephant.

Village crews will install the equipment as soon as it arrives. The Jaycees' announcement stated: Jaycees held a clean-up bee at Pierce Park last Thursday.

They also announced that preparations are being speeded up for their annual rummage sale. While the actual date has not been set, it will be held in July.

President-Elect Alex Mesher announced that he will be scheduling meetings with officers and committees during the summer in order to set up the coming year's program.

Neil Colley, guidance counselor at Chelsea High school, was in charge of the evening's program which he opened by distributing mimeographed copies of information which he entitled "A Comprehensive Program of Guidance Services."

He spoke to the group on the subject of an ideal counseling program as it pertains to Chelsea. He pointed out "spots" which, in common with other areas, occur in the program.

SCIENCE EXHIBIT: The device being set up here by Chelsea High school science department students and an instructor, is known as a "cloud chamber." The device is used in viewing tracks of radioactive rays and, as set up, showed alpha and beta rays. It was exhibited by Carol Mayer, a member of the senior class, at the science department open house Tuesday. In the photo, clockwise from left, are Jim Hanson, Mike Scholtens, John McGill, physics instructor and chairman of the science open house, and Carol Mayer.

Library Begins Summer Hours, Activities on June 1

McKune Memorial Library will be closed all day Saturday because of the Memorial Day holiday.

The following week, beginning Monday, June 1, the summer schedule of hours goes into effect, continuing until Sept. 1.

Daytime library hours remain the same as at present; however, the library's evening hours will be curtailed under the new schedule. The library will remain open only one evening a week—on Fridays, from 7 until 9 p.m.

Announcement was made by the library this week that, in cooperation with the Washtenaw County Library, the Chelsea library will begin a children's summer reading program on June 15.

All children who read, from kindergarten through Junior High school classes, may participate. Lists of books have been prepared for the various age groups and credits will be given for each book of the recommended list that the child reads.

Special recognition will be given, as well, for reading books on the so-called "Children's Prize Books" list. These books are recommended by the American Library Association as the best books obtainable for children and include the Newberry prize children's books and the best illustrated books for children—the Caldecott Award-winning volumes.

When children register at the McKune Memorial Library Monday, June 15, they will be given a folder in which to list the books as they read them.

Volunteer workers—Girl Scouts of Troop 98, will be present each day, Monday through Friday, to assist children in making their selections of books. Girl Scouts who are participating are Penny Graham, Tina Lindauer, Judy Snyder, Sharon Suter and Barbara Watson. Their troop leader is Mrs. E. J. Sutter.

Pre-schoolers are also provided for in the summer activities at the library. Miss Stephanie Wagner, who graduates from Olivet College in June and has accepted a position as kindergarten teacher next fall at Bellevue, will be in charge of three summer story hours. Pre-school children only will be accommodated at these story hours.

Dates and other information related to the summer story hours will be announced later.

The summer reading program for children, which begins June 15, is called "I'm Reading For Fun." Children will be given a pin with the title imprinted on it signifying their participation after they have read their first book from the recommended lists.

As chairman of the Science Open House, John McGill joined the students in expressing appreciation to the many persons who have helped in making the science project a success. They particularly mention Dr. Michael Papoy, Dr. E. J. Sutter, Richard Donley who is the Chelsea High school electronics and mechanical drawing instructor; also Dr. E. B. Diethrich of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, and Kenneth McGrath of the University of Michigan engineering research laboratory.

Memorial Day Program Set For Saturday

Curt Farley 6th in State High Jump

Eight Chelsea track team members competed in the State finals Saturday at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Only one, however, finished in the top seven in the various individual events.

Parade To Form At 10 for March To Cemetery

Herman A. Reed, commander of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion, announced this week that the customary Memorial Day services and parade will be held Saturday, May 30, following the pattern of recent years.

Curt Farley's 5-foot 10-inch jump in the high jump event earned him sixth place, accounting for the 1 1/2 points credited to Chelsea High school.

The parade will form at the Municipal parking lot on Park St. and will begin the march to the cemetery at 10 a.m., leaving the parking lot at the E. Middle St. entrance.

Tom Sharrard, Jim Ortbring, Mike Schrader and Warren Portath completed in the 880 relay and to Park St. east on Park St. to East St. north on East St. to Middle St. and east on Middle St. to the cemetery.

The line of march will follow the customary route—Middle St. to Park St.; south on Main St. to Park St.; east on Park St. to East St.; north on East St. to Middle St. and east on Middle St. to the cemetery.

Smith also competed in the half-mile run; Tom Sharrard was in the sprints events; and Terry Hudgins in the broad jump. They were accompanied by Coach Jack Curt.

George Winans has been asked by Commander Reed to serve as master of ceremonies with Alex Ersten acting as officer of the day.

The Chelsea track men were especially appreciative of an anonymous cash gift they received before leaving for the state track meet. Each of the eight contestants and the coach received $2 to pay for his lunch.

Cars will be furnished by Chrysler Corp. for members of the Woman's Relief Corps and veterans of World War I who wish to ride to the cemetery.

CHS Alumni Banquet Will Honor '39, '14

Highlights of the Chelsea High school alumni banquet this year will be recognition of the 25th and 50th anniversary classes of 1939 and 1914, respectively. The banquet is scheduled for Saturday, June 13, at the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Chelsea school bands, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and members of both the American Legion and Auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary will participate.

Reservations for the banquet should be made by June 6, it was pointed out. Tickets are available at Strieter's Men's Wear, Winans Jewelry and Chelsea Drug store.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will present colors along with the American Legion.

The 25th anniversary class is planning a reunion following the banquet. A get-together will be held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun club's clubhouse on Lingane Rd.

Commander Reed said all people of the community are invited to attend the ceremonies as a mark of respect to the memory of deceased veterans of all wars.

The 1939 class, which at the time was the largest class graduated from Chelsea High school, had a total of 39 of the 58 graduates present with their wives or husbands at a 20th anniversary five years ago and are expecting a larger representation at the 25th anniversary reunion.

Parents are especially requested to tell their children the significance of the occasion—that the parade is not a gala fun affair but a solemn event which has become a tradition in the United States.

Officers of the Class of 1939 were Betty Seltz (Mrs. Thomas Bust), president; Stuart Dingle, vice-president; Duane Rowe, secretary; and Howard Hasel-schwartz, treasurer.

Following the dinner at Monday's meeting at Cassidy Lake, a program of instrumental and vocal music was given in the basement of the chapel by the school's residents and Kenneth Shea, director of the school, gave a talk and presided at a question-and-answer period.

Trans Groups $361 from Poppy Day Sales

Fred Klink, Sr., Veterans War Poppy Day chairman, Mrs. Marie Barr, Sr., George Hafner, co-chairman of the Poppy Day project for Chelsea, said they received with the response of area citizens to the agreement by which funds are available and needy veterans for children's work.

Two Students Win Sousa Band Award

Linda Blaess and David Winans were joint winners of the John Philip Sousa Award at Chelsea High school.

The award is made annually to high school seniors throughout the country to the band member (or in this case, members) who has been selected for the honor by his fellow band members and approved by the band director and school officials.

Names of the winners were kept secret, in keeping with tradition, until the surprise presentation made at the annual spring concert at the high school.

This year's concert took place Friday evening in the Chelsea High school auditorium. Bands from sixth grade to seniors participated. Miss Blaess, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Blaess, 730 Taylor St., was given the award in recognition of her eight years of work with the school's marching band. She has served as a drum major during the entire eight years and during the past three years has been head majorette.

Winans, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Winans, 232 South St., also has been a member of the Chelsea school band for eight years. He plays the clarinet.

During his junior and senior years he has been a student director of the band and gives private lessons to sixth and seventh grade band members after school.

The award citation states that the John Philip Sousa Award is given for "outstanding achievement and interest in instrumental music" and "for singular merit and loyalty." Also mentioned were "generally high qualities of conduct" while participating in the school's instrumental music program.

Winans is planning a career in music, preferably as band director and instrumental music instructor. Miss Blaess is a member of the Chelsea High school Future Nurses club and plans to become a nurse. She attended Wolverine Girls' State last year as a representative of Harbor J. McKune Unit No. 31, American Legion Auxiliary.

NEW FIRE TRUCK: Especially-adapted for fighting grass fires, Chelsea's newest fire truck is being displayed in the above photo by Fire Chief James Gaken. This brings Chelsea's fire-fighting equipment to a total of four engines and pumps. The newest piece of equipment is mounted on a Dodge power wagon chassis with four-wheel drive making it possible to penetrate areas which cannot be reached with the heavy trucks and pumps. Equipment includes a high pressure pump and a 200-gallon tank and the department's resuscitator has been moved from one of the larger trucks to become standard equipment on the new truck which can be driven at much greater speed. Another feature of the new truck is an electronic penetrator siren which can be operated as a regular siren, a siren or a public address system, as needed. Radio equipment has been ordered for the new truck and will be installed as soon as it arrives. The new equipment has already been put to use at several small grass fires.

Library Friends Elect Officers For Coming Year

At the Friends of the Library annual meeting held Monday evening at McKune Memorial Library, the slate of officers was named for the coming year.

Jack Moxley was re-elected president; Harold Jones, vice-president; Mrs. Eldon Gorton, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. J. V. Fisher and Ben Donaldson, board members.

Mrs. E. W. Eaton, reporting on the recently completed adult education project, suggested that it be repeated in the fall since it proved exceptionally popular. She mentioned that money received as tuition for the course provided a sufficient balance for the purchase of some card tables for the library after the instructor and other expenses were paid. Mrs. Stewart McMillan of Ann Arbor was the instructor.

Also suggested for a repeat next fall was the adult reading efficiency course completed by 16 persons this year; a new course in philosophy and literature, known as a Great Books course; and a possible course in Spanish conversation. Friends of the Library sponsors the adult education programs.

Other matters discussed included types of programs suitable for next fall and the following spring. The Friends group voted to purchase a suitable reading lamp for use in the library's periodicals reading room.

Principal item of business on the agenda Monday evening was approval of an amendment to the Friends of the Library by-laws setting up a new schedule of membership dues.

The new schedule provides for individual membership at $1.00; professional and retail membership, $5.00; patron membership at $10; industrial at $25; and life membership at $50.

Six Area Students Granted Degrees At U-M Exercises

Official lists of graduates of the University of Michigan have not yet been released for publication; however, Chelsea-area persons known to have received degrees at Friday's commencement exercises include Robert Steger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Steger, who received a degree of bachelor of business administration.

Others are Barrie Fisher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Fisher, who received a bachelor of arts degree; Linda Fisher, daughter of Mr. Eugene Fisher and the late Mr. Fisher, a bachelor of science degree in nursing; and Diane Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray, who also received a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Donald Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ferguson, received a master's degree in business administration and will begin work with the Pittsburgh National Bank at Pittsburgh, Pa. on July 1.

The Fergusons' son-in-law, William M. Lawrence, received a PhD degree in electrical engineering. He is the husband of the former Thelma Ferguson. He has been an associate research engineer and pre-doctoral instructor at the University and has been promoted to an assistant professorship.

University officials, in published statements said the audience at Friday's commencement exercises in the Michigan Stadium was the largest ever to attend a U-M commencement.

Because President Lyndon B. Johnson was the commencement speaker, all schools in the county were closed, including those in Chelsea, so that students could attend and hear the president.

Chelsea school buses transported students who wished to attend to the commencement program at Ann Arbor.

Laff Of The Week

"It's our answer to the low-price imports."

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smiths

Every man—well, almost every man—who has made the pursuit of fish and game his lifetime avocation has violated the law, intentionally or accidentally. A Michigan sportsman, nationally known for his militant concern with the preservation of wildlife resources, was camped with a party of old cronies on a trout stream. He got up one morning to find a big pan full of trout ready to be served for breakfast. He got into his car and went back to town because he had noted that some trout in the pan were under legal size.

This same gentleman was my guest, duck hunting, on St. Mary's River. His gun began to malfunction. He foted a spare gun out into the blind next day, just in case his gun quit cold. There we were in flagrant violation of federal law; two men with guns in the boat. Just an absent-minded slip that neither of us were aware of as we left the houseboat in the early dawn.

In this state the game warden was transformed, some years ago into a conservation officer. There is more dignity in the modern title, and it is more accurate because a game warden might not be expected to be interested in fish, which he sure is.

In Conservation News, issued by the National Wildlife Federation, Ernest Swift points out the importance of game wardens, defends them against down grading and urges better recognition for enforcement men. Says this valiant veteran of the conservation wars: "The elk and moose of the Alleghenies disappeared long before there was any extreme habitat disturbance; historians do not relate the demise of the passenger pigeon to habitat destruction; there was still plenty of buffalo grass when the last remnants of the vast prairie herds were rounded up for muskrat specimens; and the effort just 60 years ago to protect the already diminishing waterfowl came long before drainage was a major contribution to their destruction."

To sustain the game populations which are now demanded and to regulate the kill in relation to millions of hunters, there must be an intelligent emphasis on both habitat maintenance and the enforcement of game laws. Both management and enforcement must be blended and intelligently understood from the field to the main office.

"Law enforcement is still an important part of forest fire protection and always will be and the advocates of pollution abatement contend that there will be little success unless punishment is meted out of those who would make our waterways open sewers."

Swift touches upon a significant aspect of conservation when he refers to the extinction of the passenger pigeon while the habitat of the species was relatively intact.

"At the great 1878 nesting near Petoskey 500 nesters, from a score of states were busy from March 22 to Aug. 12. Two thousand others were engaged in building crates and hauling birds to the railroad and the docks. The nesting area was 40 miles long, three to 10 miles wide. Hundreds of thousands of young birds died when the females were killed."

Michigan had laws for the protection of the passenger pigeon, but no one paid any attention to laws.

The commercial pressure was just too much, as it was later on when wasteful logging and forest fires began to disturb thoughtful people, and as it is now in the endeavor to control pollution.

Before game wardens became conservation officers there was a united front in Michigan's northern counties to frustrate any efforts at law enforcement. Game wardens had to travel by railroad, horse and buggy, or on foot, and when a warden arrived in a northern community, the warning spread fast. In those days a settler did have the excuse that fresh meat was hard to come by, and there was a salt lick handy to most homesteads.

To attempt a summing up: law enforcement is highly important, to help the consciences of good sportsmen and to discourage the minority of ruthless outlaws.

Conservation officers are educators. Hauling a violator in before a justice of the peace, hitting him with a stiff fine and confiscating his gun is a necessary part of the educational procedure, human nature being what it is.

Mr. Smiths' column is presented through the courtesy of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Mr. Smiths will be pleased to answer any questions sent in.

Telephone Company Announces Rate Reductions, Service Changes

In a press release of the Michigan Public Service Commission issued at Lansing on Monday, May 18, announcement was made of rate reductions and service improvements for customers of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. which will total almost $7.5 million annually.

Peter B. Spivak, commission chairman, said the program was worked out cooperatively through the combined effort of the commission and Michigan Bell and will go into effect as soon as possible.

In addition, Michigan Bell is increasing the size of its construction program for the second time this year to keep pace with the state's booming economy, Spivak said. With a new $83 million boost, Michigan Bell's total outlay for 1964 will now amount to $90.4 million—more than $8 million over last year.

Spivak estimated that more than 400 jobs have already been created in the state this year as the result of the stepped-up spending program and increased volumes of telephone usage. He said the jobs have been added by Michigan Bell and its suppliers.

The commission views this two-part program as a major contribution to the state's economy and a significant benefit to telephone users, Spivak said.

Several factors have been combined to make the program possible. He pointed to the generally high level of business in Michigan which has contributed to greater telephone usage, increased operating efficiency by Michigan Bell, and the telephone company's confidence in the continued prosperity of the nation's economy. "This program fulfills the objectives of the new federal tax legislation to stimulate the economy through increased business activity," Spivak stated.

The announced rate reductions will provide a decrease of 10 cents in the monthly charge for one-party flat rate service, a substantial saving on toll calls of 20 miles or less; an expanded optional service of broad toll-free calling privileges for customers in the Detroit Metropolitan Area; and a new budget service that will offer residential service for less than 10 cents a day.

Labor Incomes on Michigan Farms Slowly Increasing

Average labor incomes from Michigan farms are slowly increasing.

"The 1955 average of $993 was the lowest in 15 years, but average labor income by 1962 had reached $1,337," says Leonard Kyle, Michigan State University agricultural economist. The 1962 figure represented an average from 809 farms participating in the Michigan Mail-in Record Project.

Labor income is the return to the farm operator for his labor and management ability. It's calculated by deducting cash operating expenses, depreciation, family labor other than the operator's and a five percent interest on total farm assets from gross income.

Yet Kyle says averages can be deceiving. For instance, even though the 809 farms averaged $1,337 of labor income in 1962, 22 percent had a negative labor income. About 10 percent of the group had labor incomes between $1 and $1,000 and only 68 percent had incomes over $1,000. Yet a few farm operators managed labor incomes exceeding $20,000.

Before game wardens became conservation officers there was a united front in Michigan's northern counties to frustrate any efforts at law enforcement. Game wardens had to travel by railroad, horse and buggy, or on foot, and when a warden arrived in a northern community, the warning spread fast. In those days a settler did have the excuse that fresh meat was hard to come by, and there was a salt lick handy to most homesteads.

To attempt a summing up: law enforcement is highly important, to help the consciences of good sportsmen and to discourage the minority of ruthless outlaws.

Conservation officers are educators. Hauling a violator in before a justice of the peace, hitting him with a stiff fine and confiscating his gun is a necessary part of the educational procedure, human nature being what it is.

The latter was especially planned to benefit older or retired people and others who seldom use the telephone but who need it for limited use and in case of emergencies.

This budget service will offer a two-party residential telephone with an allowance of 20 local calls for $2.75 per month in the Detroit area and $2.65 per month outside. In the Detroit area, subscribers will pay 84 cents for each message in excess of the basic allowance. Outstate, overcalls will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per message.

Incoming calls will not be charged against the telephone, only those made directly from the subscriber's own telephone are counted for the extra charge per message.

The same increases in the toll periods will apply to toll calls from 10-20 miles.

Known as "micro-21," the broadened metropolitan service will enable customers to call as often as they wish and to talk as long as they like to telephone friends, relatives or business contacts. The service to be available in Detroit and 79 suburban communities, will be in effect for 21 days daily, from noon to 9 a.m. day Sunday, and on three holidays, Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving.

It was announced by N.J. F. Ken, manager of Michigan Telephone Co. at Ann Arbor, that the rate reductions on "short" toll calls and the general 10-cent per month reduction on individual residence service will be in effect July 1, 1964.

Budget service with the 20 calls allowance at the $2.75 rate will not be available for at least 18 months, Ken said, because new special family must be provided for the service. Completion of these necessary facilities is expected within the 18 months.

Both agree that farmers don't appear overly concerned about the possibility of nitrate poisoning in their dairy or livestock feeding programs resulting from top-dressing or side-dressing fertilizer.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Business Downturn in 1964 Possible?

Can't grow up to the sky. Trends don't keep going. It's a safe bet that the rise that has continued for more than three years, down sooner or later, will be a pin-pointed analysis. We are neither fatalists. Besides, if it could be sure of questions like that he wouldn't have to work for a living.

As it is, all of us have to make judgments about the future in an uncertain world. One question which may be posed is whether the business rise will continue into 1965 or whether it will reach its peak some time before the end of this year.

Some Puzzling Signs. The optimists who foresee rising activity through the current year are overwhelmingly in the majority, and they have much to support their view. The upswing has continued for 30 months and shows no clear sign of reversing itself. The tax cut is generally expected to provide strong support for consumer buying during the rest of the year. Corporate profits are estimated to be about 20 percent ahead of year-ago levels. Business expenditures for plant and equipment in 1964 are expected to exceed last year's level by 12 percent. Certainly, all of these factors provide strong support for anticipation of a broadly-based strength in the economy for the balance of 1964.

There are, however, some puzzling signs of hesitation. Since mid-summer of 1963, the index of industrial production has been rising at a rate only about a third as fast as its rise in the preceding 30 months. The tax reduction was expected to have its primary impact on retail sales, but this hasn't happened yet. Total retail sales reached a peak in February, declined in March, and fell still further in April.

There are grounds for concern over the possible impact of several other prospective developments. Organized labor seems to be in no mood to heed the President's request for restraint in their wage demands this year. If they are successful, the result could be substantial cost increases and a renewed squeeze on profit margins. The balance of payments position will probably not continue as favorable as in the first quarter of this year, and this may necessitate some tightening of credit.

Peak in 1964? In sum, although most signs indicate that the end of our present boom will be postponed until next year or beyond, there seems to be

Vehicle Registrations Continue Breaking All Past Records

Lansing — Vehicle title registrations, paralleling the smashing year by the automotive industry, continued to shatter all existing records through the month of April.

Totals for April were 182,408 in all categories, with transfers accounting for nearly 100,000. New applications numbered 83,812. It was the largest April in history. For the first third of 1964, titles for all types of vehicles were running nearly 100,000 ahead of the record pace of 1963.

at least an off-chance that the peak will occur in the last half of 1964. But even if this should happen, we won't know it until 1965. Cyclical turning points can be identified only in retrospect.

Whether the next downturn, whenever it occurs, will be more than a brief mild correction is another question. We will try to deal with it in a subsequent column.

Bowling Bugs love warm weather

BOWLING BUG (condensed from scientific sources)

General characteristics: Different sizes and shapes. Usually smart. Socially oriented. May be one of two species: League or Family type.

During the hot, uncomfortable weather the clever bowling bug will tend to stay in his own environment. That is, he can be found at his local bowling center. The species has found that he can travel for great distances and not be able to duplicate the ideal conditions found at his bowling center. The climate is refreshingly cool.

Bowling bugs will use the summer months to shed or correct bad habits that have been picked up during the winter. Lanes aren't as crowded so there's plenty of room. Under these conditions, it's a pleasure to work on improving approach, timing, or making those spares.

Bowling bugs tend to have the most fun in groups. That is why the true bug will get together with other members of the species to form summer leagues. There's nothing like competition to help the game and build the average without the regular league pressure.

Your proprietor is also interested in propagating the species by offering the free Brunswick "Learn to Bowl" program. Developed by professionals, it has helped a lot of the old ones improve their game.

Stan Musial To Appear in Detroit Sandlot Benefit Game

Detroit — Stan Musial will accompany the St. Louis Cardinals to Detroit for the exhibition game with the Tigers, Monday, June 1.

His decision to make an appearance at the sandlot benefit attraction was confirmed today by James A. Campbell, general manager of the Tigers, who said Musial will fly here especially for the game from Washington, D.C., where earlier in the day he has arranged to attend the graduation from college of his daughter.

Stan the Man, who retired at the close of the 1963 season and immediately was named vice president of the Cardinals and later appointed the nation's physical

State Police Prepare for Holiday Rush

Apprehensive over what might occur over the Memorial Day weekend in the face of the 26 percent increase in Michigan traffic deaths since the first of the year, the State Police will operate intensified patrols for the holiday period from noon Friday, May 29, to midnight Sunday, May 31.

Michigan's highest toll for this holiday was 68 deaths in the 102-hour period in 1961. The lowest was four in 30 hours in 1950. The holiday period this year is 54 hours.

To increase patrol coverage, pass days, State Police officers are cancelled for the three days. Detectives where available will take over desk assignments to relieve uniform officers for patrols.

In addition, 140 members of the Michigan National Guard will be assigned to assist as the second man on night patrols.

"Most motorists come through holiday periods without scratching a fender, which proves it can be done," Childs said, "but it is done by good and safe driving. In other words, don't get your fender scratched."

As of May 20, the death toll since the first of the year stood at 720 as compared to 570 in the same period last year. This is an increase of 150 deaths, or 26 percent.

fitness director by President Johnson, will appear in uniform.

He will wear the familiar No. 8, the number by which several other stars, including Al Kaline, have been identified.

"The vast personal appeal of Musial," said Campbell, "coupled with the first appearance of a National League club in Detroit in 10 years should make this an interesting and memorable occasion."

The game, scheduled to start at 7 p.m., is being sponsored by the Recreation Association of Michigan with all gate receipts going to the amateur clubs in the Michigan region and all teams sharing in the proceeds according to the number of tickets their respective organizations sell.

As a player Musial set more than 50 records of all varieties. He won seven batting championships, was chosen Most Valuable Player three times, and claimed countless awards for sportsmanship and allied qualities. He closed out his career with a lifetime batting average of .381.

In this area tickets are available from Charles Oxley in Ann Arbor or Everett Scherich in Jackson.

Motorists Urged To Get Spring Checkup For Summertime Safety

Lansing — "Older cars need more care and more frequent checkups to make sure they are in good operating order," Secretary of State James M. Hare cautioned Michigan motorists.

Hare, who is chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, urged all motorists to get a "spring checkup" for their cars before warm weather, vacation time arrives.

"A total of 54 percent of all cars in the country today are five or more years old," Hare reminded. "It seems to me that this is a good argument for periodic inspections of cars... on a voluntary basis."

Hare said he was disappointed that no type of compulsory inspection program was adopted during this fast-closing session of the Michigan legislature. He said the traffic safety proposals adopted by the lawmakers constituted a "half-a-loaf" program.

Going into the 1964 season Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers was tied with Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in lifetime batting at .300.

Proceed Carefully With New Cold Water Detergents

Cold-water detergents for your home laundry? Try them, say Michigan State University home economists, but proceed slowly and thoughtfully.

The new cold water detergents do mean less shrinkage, less fading and less ironing, according to Georgianne Baker, home management specialist with the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. And they are a boon to clothes that need warm or cold water wash.

Industry representatives also say that cold water detergents prevent stains from setting, save on heating bills, insure longer fabric life and save hot water for other uses.

But even industry home economists admit that there are times when hot water must be used to dissolve greasy soils. Miss Baker also notes that equipment manufacturers are still recommending hot water for white sturdy items that contain hard-to-remove oily soils — such as children's underwear, sheets and pillow cases.

She further points out that some of the detergents contain a large amount of brightener. This means the fabrics may look whiter, brighter and cleaner even though they are not necessarily so.

Robert Lambert, District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, is shown with a representative of the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America.

R. Lambert Named Scout Commissioner

Robert Lambert was appointed District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America at the annual business meeting of the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America Tuesday evening.

Lambert, scoutmaster in Dexter for more than two years, notified his troop and those who attended the Court of Honor last Thursday that he had unofficially been asked to accept the position. The official appointment was made at the Charles Howell Scout Reservation in Brighton, May 26.

Lambert, in radar research at the Willow Run University of Michigan laboratories, will be one of three key people who "run the district," according to William Windle, District Scout Executive. Besides Windle and Lambert, there is B. J. Ludwig, district chairman, who is assistant chief engineer at Chrysler Proving Grounds.

The commissioner's duties are in program management. Lambert will have an immediate subordinate as well as three assistant district commissioners in Club, Sea and Boy Scouting, and the neighborhood — commissioners in each of the six communities served: Chelsea, Manchester, Milan, Saline and Whitmore Lake.

Windle said Lambert has had two training-of-trainer seminars to his credit, wood badge training, and holds the scouter award for three years training program. He has been on countless hikes, campsouts and camporees, regular and roundtables. He went to Philmont last year and will be Scoutmaster of the Ambrose at Valley Forge this summer.
