Gas Service Interrupted Here Friday

Someone Closed Underground Valve in Line West of Dexter

Chelsea homes and industries and a hundred adjoining farm were without gas service Friday when "someone" closed a valve in the area.

Consolidated Gas Co. Aron explained yesterday that the person or persons who caused this inconvenience were unknown. It coincided with the strike which some Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. employees called against the company. Approximately 111 employees in the Ann Arbor area are on strike.

Gas supply failure occurred in the D. Hogan, general manager of the Ann Arbor District of the Consolidated Gas Co., said Chelsea area homes and industries were without gas service by 9 p.m. Saturday.

ELECTRONIC MARVEL: Mrs. Sidney Schenk (Ruth), at her desk in the office of Federal Screw Works, demonstrates the ease with which telephone calls are now handled using the newly installed desk-top console switchboard which is operated by push-button control. Buttons illuminate incoming and outgoing calls, busy line and busy "camp-ons" which automatically ring the busy line as soon as the call is completed. The same console switchboard is utilized for both interoffice communication and incoming and outgoing telephone calls at both the Chelsea and Detroit plants of Federal Screw Works. With Mrs. Schenk are Charles W. Forbes (left), Michigan Bell Telephone Co. communications consultant for this area, and Robert K. Taylor, Federal Screw Works assistant general manager. Mrs. Schenk has been employed at Federal Screw Works for 22 years and has been the switchboard operator for 15 years.

New Automatic Switchboard

Robert K. Taylor, assistant general manager of Federal Screw Works, announced this week that the firm has converted from its former switchboard system to an automatic dial telephone system with a special "4A" control console.

The new system provides fast, direct dialing, flexible service, automatic control and compact, modern push-button design.

Charles W. Forbes, Michigan Bell Telephone communications consultant for this area, says the installation at Federal Screw Works is the first of its kind in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor-Chelsea area.

The compact desk-top console permits incoming calls to be completed at the touch of a button. Incoming calls may be connected instantly with any available station—availability lamps permit the operator to tell at a glance which stations are in use before attempting to make a connection. Automatic disconnection at the conclusion of calls frees the operator from having to do anything about disconnecting any call.

Operator handling is only required on approximately 30 percent of all calls.

Direct dial lines make it possible to connect any phone at the Detroit headquarters with any phone at the Chelsea plant simply by dialing a code from any phone at either the Chelsea or Detroit plant. Inter-office connections are direct dialing operations, requiring no operator handling, day or night. Employees will not have to leave their work area to contact each other.

Outgoing calls may be placed from any phone in either the Detroit or Chelsea plant by dialing "4A" and then the number wanted.

Customers will experience fewer delays and receive faster answers Forbes pointed out. The direct station selector allows the operator of the desk-top switchboard to contact and route calls directly, merely by pressing the proper button.

In case a line wanted is busy, a busy line "camp-on" will hold the incoming call until the first call is completed and then automatically ring in the station. It also provides for automatic call routing to a second line if the called line is busy.

In addition, complete privacy is assured on all calls.

The modern, compact switchboard controls up to 10 trunk lines and 60 telephones in the 750 dial communications system.

Jaycees Need Rummage for Annual Sale

Chelsea Jaycees are busy preparing for their annual rummage sale scheduled to be held Friday and Saturday, July 10 and 11.

They are staging no general pick-up this year but are accumulating items as area residents call and request pick-up of contributions. Three Jaycees members are on the committee for the free pick-up of used merchandise of all kinds—furniture, appliances, clothing, etc.—The three are Don Bush, Bob Jacobs and Lloyd Schneider.

Anyone of the three may be called to arrange to have some one call and pick up items no longer needed or wanted but which may be just what someone else is looking for, Jaycees point out.

Part of the sale will be held in the former fire department hall in the Municipal Building and the remainder at Sylvan Town Hall.

Jaycees committees say "Let us help you clean house! We'll come and pick up whatever you have to contribute for the rummage sale."

The rummage sale is one of the fund-raising projects by means of which the Jaycees finance the various community service projects they sponsor. Most recent of these projects is the addition of a number of pieces of playground equipment at the village parks.

Dr. B. Stubbs Joins Medical Clinic Staff

Dr. Bruce Truman Stubbs, a 1963 graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, is now associated with Dr. Michael Papo and Dr. James Botsford at the Chelsea Medical Clinic, Ltd., 100 N. Main St. As of July 1, he takes the place of Dr. James Shadoan who is entering specialty training at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, in the department of anesthesiology.

Dr. Stubbs interned the past year at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

A native of Detroit, he attended school at Wallaceburg, Ontario, Canada, graduating from high school there. He received a bachelor of science degree in 1959 from Central Michigan University before entering the U. of M. Medical School.

In 1958 Dr. Stubbs was married to Mary Paul Brown of Port Huron. They have three sons, ranging in age from nine months to five years.

Dr. Stubbs and his family are making their home in the former Russell McLaughlin home at 315 S. Main St.

Dr. Shadoan has been associated with Chelsea Medical Clinic, Ltd., since 1959. He and his family will continue to make their home in Chelsea while he studies at the U. of M. The Shadoan home is at 314 Washington St.

Dr. J. B. Casey is recuperating at his home following surgery at an Ann Arbor hospital. He returned from the hospital on Saturday.

Proposed Levy of 3 Mills Will Add 10 Classrooms

Chelsea School District electors will be asked to approve a bond issue for $240,000 at an election scheduled for Monday, July 13.

By unanimous decision the Chelsea Board of Education voted to submit the issue to electors for approval—the $240,000 requested to finance the building and equipment of a 10-classroom addition to the high school.

The proposed building is to be located north of the school's administration building with the architecture harmonizing with the present buildings.

Plans call for two commercial rooms, six general classrooms for mathematics, English, social science and foreign language studies; a language laboratory; and a special education room. It was pointed out that the school district will be reimbursed $20,000 for the special education room from the Washtenaw County special education funds within the five years following completion of the building.

The additional facilities are necessitated because of increased school enrollment, needed expansion of the business education program, and general expansion of curriculum in the field of teaching foreign languages.

Enrollment has increased from 604 in 1958-59 to 625 in 1963-64. Anticipated enrollment in the 1968-69 school year is expected to exceed 600 students.

By bonding for a shorter period, as proposed, interest costs to taxpayers can be reduced. The proposed levy is three mills for three years to retire the bonds. It has been determined that the average cost per $1,000 of assessed valuation will be $2.60 per mill.

To be eligible to vote on the bond issue proposal, electors must be properly registered in the township in which they reside and must own property assessed for taxes within the school district or be the lawful husband or wife of such a person.

Wm. A. Thomas Co. Plant Purchased By Local Group

Announcement was made yesterday of the purchase of the William A. Thomas Co. at 1635 N. Fletcher Rd., by a corporation organized to operate the screw machine products company founded in 1947 by the late William A. Thomas. The business was purchased from his estate.

Miss Mildred Liebeck, president and general manager of the new corporation, has been business manager of the company since it was founded by Thomas in 1947 after his resignation as manager of Federal Screw Works.

Prior to her affiliation with the Thomas Co. in 1947, Miss Liebeck had been employed in the sales department at Federal Screw Works.

She is one of the principals of the new corporation.

Clifton Rowland, a resident of Ann Arbor, will be manufacturing manager. He has resigned his position as tool design engineer at Argus Corporation to accept the position with the Thomas company. He has had 17 years of screw machine experience, principally at Argus.

The 12 employees at the plant are being retained by the new company which will continue to operate under the name of William A. Thomas Co.

The company has specialized in manufacturing items for the automotive, refrigeration and appliance industries. More recently parts have been manufactured for use in scientific and aerospace application.

Charles Gelman, president of Gelman Instrument Co. of Ann Arbor, formerly located in Chelsea, is secretary and a director of the new firm; however, he will not be active in the day-to-day management of the company.

Mrs. Violet Thomas, widow of the founder of the business, indicated that the decision to sell to a local group was made to insure that the business would keep operating. It is understood other offers had been received from parties interested in liquidating the business.

"I am sure my late husband would have been pleased to know that his employees will continue working for the company under competent and experienced management."

DeVine and DeVine of Ann Arbor are corporation counsel for the firm.

600 Attend St. Mary's Picnic

More than 600 people attended St. Mary's parish picnic last Sunday at the Ann Arbor Co-Operative Family Camp at Clear Lake, the outstanding success of the project prompting committees to decide at once that the affair will be staged annually.

Although somewhat apprehensive about the weather (because of recent Sunday storms) the committee members were happy that the day turned out to be ideal for the occasion, weatherwise.

Entertainment had been planned in advance for all age groups and the children, particularly, enjoyed the supervised swimming program.

Library Will Be Closed For Saturday Holiday

McKunb Memorial Library will be closed Saturday because of the Fourth of July holiday.

The library will be open as usual Friday evening, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

INDUSTRY SOLD: The William A. Thomas Co. plant, manufacturing screw machine products, by Miss Mildred Liebeck as president and general manager. She has been with the firm since it was founded.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

This week I would like to report to you on some of the progress Michigan has made this year in our 1964 session of the legislature. In Lansing this year, the legislature considered almost 1,500 bills and, as Governor, I signed 285 new laws. I also vetoed a few, as some of you may know.

One year ago, I pointed out that the 1963 legislature had written a notable record of achievement, and I praised the 1963 session as the most productive and encouraging in many years.

At the time, that was an accurate analysis. But today, I think that the 1964 session, in light of its own unique problems, was even more productive and more encouraging.

From the moment the 1964 legislature convened, and air of uncertainty and doubt hovered over it. The question of legislative apportionment was up in the air all year, and hardly anything can disrupt legislative deliberations more than not knowing whether members can come back, who their new constituents might be, or even if there will be a legislature at all next year.

With this pervasive uncertainty, it is a credit to all members of the 1964 legislature, in both parties, that so much was accomplished.

This administration decided on a two-year approach to responsible government when it was given the public trust by the voters in 1962. Our approach was simple and sound.

During our first year, our primary concern was the return of fiscal stability and integrity to state government. And this was accomplished. Our budget was prudent, yet progressive and our general fund deficit was eliminated.

During our second year, with our course of financial integrity firmly charted, our first priority was to provide adequate statutory and financial support for the essential government services which help, people, primarily in the areas of education, mental health and young people. This week I want to report to you what we have done in the field of education.

Perhaps the most dramatic and most deserving improvements have been for education. The post-war population boom will hit our 10 state-supported colleges and universities with full effect next fall. Most of our colleges and universities have not fully recovered from the fiscal crisis austerities of the last several years. For the 1963-64 fiscal year, state support for higher education totals $110 million, and increase of $6.1 million for one fiscal year.

But for this year, this support will be increased by $21 million in a single year—a dramatic and deserved single-year increase of about 20 percent. The increase is designed to cover enrollment increases—expected to increase by 10,000 students to 128,400 this fall—allow general faculty pay

Ballot Battle

Political scientists who more or less objectively view every aspect of their field daily have risen almost in mass against the Massachusetts ballot approved by the legislature.

Prior to enactment of the law putting into effect the "office block" ballot, a group of 26 political scientists at Michigan colleges and universities advised against its use.

Since the ballot was approved, some of these same 26 and other political science instructors have banded together to fight the use of this new voting method.

Describing their opposition as nonpartisan, six of these men, faculty members at Michigan State University, have formed a committee to fight use of the ballot.

Samuel Krislov, spokesman for the Citizens Committee for a Free Choice Ballot, said the long-range effect of the Massachusetts ballot "is to really weaken both political parties."

The ballot removes the choice of voting a straight party ticket. It requires a voter to check his choice for candidates for each office open.

Discouraging voters, providing advantage to "name" candidates and certain ballot position holders, and returning the long-hated bedsheet ballot are the main objectives given to the Massachusetts plan.

Krislov said the ballot represents a step backwards and "can only confuse and complicate the task of the voters and weaken popular control of government."

The backward step, contends the Committee spokesman, comes in the fact that it reverts to a longer ballot. This is a change from the new Constitution's aim to reduce the number of ballot choices to be made.

Committee members will not participate in the petition drive.

Better Care

Treatment and rehabilitation of juvenile offenders could take a major step forward in the next few years with the increased use of halfway houses in Michigan.

Probate officials optimistically view the use of halfway houses as a means of providing adequate rehabilitation facilities for minor offenders while leaving the Boys Training School for youth who need closer supervision.

In the past, probate judges throughout the state have lamented the fact that many youths accused of relatively minor crimes, and even some major offenders, have been set free because of the lack of facilities to house them.

Lack of parental control, job training in the schools and recreational facilities have all been blamed at various times for increase in juvenile delinquency.

Regardless of the cause, the rise of delinquent cases in the courts has not to date been met by a corresponding increase in effective means of correcting the wayward youths.

The halfway houses planned for major cities throughout the state are designed to prepare youths for the return to society and useful lives.

Give 'Em the Bird

If there were no important state problems left, it is obvious from a recent dispute that someone would devise minor ones.

In the midst of discussions over apportionment, budget matters, Constitutional implementation and highway accident rates, the state legislature became embroiled in a low-key argument over what should represent Michigan as the official state bird.

The robin, common to almost every state, is pictured on the official highway map as the state bird. This variety was designated as official by a legislative resolution in 1931.

Dispute over whether the robin should continue to represent the state centered primarily over the fact that it is such a common bird.

Some members felt a more unique bird should be named. The chief nominee was the Kirtland warbler, a rare bird which chooses a portion of Michigan's northern forest land as its only nesting place in the country. No legisla-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows at the country store Saturday night wasn't making no major decisions, just setting around discussing a few items here and there about the situation in general.

Ed Doonittle reported he had saved in the papers here a while back where a fellow named Turner retired at the age of 100 from running his small newspaper in Georgia. Ed said the fellow folks give him a banquet and he told them he hadn't saved nothing but he didn't owe nothing and had hundreds of good friends and he wouldn't trade being a country editor for being President. He announced he was turning the paper over to his young son that would be 74 till next month.

Clem Webster was of the opinion that a heap of folks profess the big daily papers, where the late news is items that ain't quite through happening yet, but Clem said he liked the home town paper better. The late news, he allowed, might be a couple of days old, but if you ain't heard it, it's still news, and if you've already heard it, he kits a kick out of reading what actual happened and comparing it with what his old lady had told him happened.

Josh Clodhopper announced that on account of the hot weather had wore his mule out and him deciding to give the mule a rest, he'd been setting on the front porch all week, doing some thinking. Josh says he's got it figured out that the reason most Americans was always grumbling about things they were actual knowing how big a operation they had to carry on there. He said, for instance, he was reading where the Pentagon Building had 65,000 light fixtures and they had to replace 1,000 bulbs a day to keep 'em lighted. He allowed as how we had come a long way from George Washington with a lantern in his tent at Valley Forge to the Chief of Staff in the Pentagon—and we was going to have to get used to progress. Josh left a little early, said he had to get home and tan that mule. Josh is a great booster for progress, Mister Editor.

Zeke Grubb said speaking of the Pentagon made him recollect a piece he saw in the papers where a fellow from Philadelphia had wrote to them folks saying he would like to send his wife Betty on the first one-way trip to the moon. Zeke allowed as how, for a fellow like that, it would be the proper punishment for Betty to lock her husband up in a room and make him listen to the Beatles hol-ler for a month.

And incidental, Mister Editor, if they was any teenagers reading this piece, all complaints should be sent to Zeke Grubb at the proper Zip number.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

EXTREMIST GROUPS

Their tactics may vary but their aims are the same. The extremists frequently center around small, vocal groups to whom truth is of little importance. In education they want a return to the basic three R's and elimination of what they term frills and fads—classes for the handicapped, vocational studies, health services, testing and guidance, art and music. Many extremist groups want textbooks removed that encourage creative thought and individual reasoning. They feel that any classroom instruction concerning ethnic groups and their contribution to our national culture is an attempt to undermine patriotism. If extremist groups had their way, differing opinions would be eliminated.

Gaining control of a local office by infiltration into existing organizations is but one of the many tactics they employ in trying to take over community leadership. From such vantage points they can direct bigoted, vituperative criticism which tears down and destroys American education.

You can reply to attacks from extremist groups upon your schools by being a fact finder, by being on the alert to their misguided purpose and by being vocal in your support of quality education.

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW

Attorney General FRANK J. KELLY

(This is a public service article appearing in general form as a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to obtain effect of any law upon their individual affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Michigan citizens have an excellent record for voluntarily playing with the tax laws of the State. A little known tax law which continually is the subject of inquiry of my office is the tax on intangibles—tax, which poses a tax on cash on shares of stock and bonds in making corporations, income making contracts, real estate sales, conditional sales contracts and other obligations for the payment of money. Generally, the intangibles tax is paid by the payor of the obligation. However, one should overlook cash in banks and loans and loan and other obligations on deposit outside the State of Michigan. These deposits are taxable and should be included in the computation of the tax since such outside institutions do not pay the tax on behalf of the depositor.

The law also provides for exemption from the tax of types of income producing property. Some examples of the exemptions granted are the States Government, such as bonds and income from bonds issued by the Michigan State Government, which would include bonds issued by a Michigan city for public improvement. Amounts paid by a Michigan city for public pensions under a public act such as Social Security are exempt as well as the amounts payable to a former employee of the State of Michigan.

The tax is due on or before March 31, for income received during the year. Tax returns and payments made to the Michigan Department of Revenue, 200 Tussing Building, Lansing, or by contacting the State office in your county, will advise you of the time which an intangibles tax will be available in its office. If you have overlooked this it would appear advisable to a voluntary disclosure to penalties otherwise provided law.

If you plan to out a trailer during your vacation, inspect the trailer frame, brakes and running gear before and after use.

Nature Hike Slated Next Wednesday in Recreation Program

Adult Softball Leagues Proving To Be Popular

Next week — Wednesday, July 8 — in Chelsea's summer recreation program is a nature hike for children in the second grade and older. The hike is scheduled for 9 a.m. with the bus leaving the Junior High school at 8:30 a.m. to go to the Silhouette state-owned area.

There is no extra charge for the hike but those who attend bring their regular recreation card.

Those who should wear slacks or shorts and sturdy hiking shoes — who have nature books are advised to bring them along.

James Hoffmeyer is the supervisor in charge of the hike project. Total participation in all areas of the program is impossible to tabulate; however, those programs where registration was required are tabulated, showing total of 1,082. This is with only three days of swimming — always the most popular feature of the summer recreation activities.

On Tuesday when it was unusually hot, the swimming was called off on receipt of warnings that "severe weather" would reach here before 3 p.m.; however, the storm bypassed this vicinity and by Wednesday the temperature had dropped to a chilly 60 to 68 degrees, considered too cold and windy for swimming.

Listed as participating in the various divisions where tabulation was practical are the following: swimming (three days) 342; golf lessons, 24; archery, 5; art, 8; typing, 20; wrestling, 20; basketball, 30; tennis instruction, 8; Junior League baseball, 36; High school baseball, 25; morning athletic program, 239; and morning arts and crafts program, 320 (199 at South school and 121 at North school playground).

The Adult Softball League has proved exceptionally popular and the church softball league is providing a good time for all who took part.

Tuesday, July 7, a Midget League evening game is scheduled at 6 o'clock. The game will be the Bears vs. Warriors.

The Little League Wildcats vs. Wolverines will play at 6 p.m. July 14 and the following week, July 21, also at 6 p.m., the Midget League will play again, teams competing being the Yankees and the Tigers.

Boy Scouts To Participate in National Freedom Program

Chelsea Troops 425 and 476, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, announced today that they will participate in the national-wide "Strengthen America's Heritage" program through June and July.

The purpose of the program is to make boys in Scouting and the people of Chelsea more aware of their American heritage.

The program is being co-sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. More than 136,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will participate.

On July 18, the Cub Scouts and Troops 425 and 476 of Chelsea will hold their American Heritage picnic and campfire at the Fairgrounds. The Cub Scouts will have some displays and the Boy Scouts will have a jamboree event. The campfire will start at dusk and all interested parents and children are invited to attend.

In order for boys to participate in the "Strengthen America's Heritage" program, they must meet certain requirements. These are: (1) Advance one rank in Scouting; (2) Invite another boy to join their unit; (3) Display the flag properly on appropriate holidays; (4) Learn about the Nathan Hale award from the Freedom Foundation; and (5) Write a 25- to 100-word statement on "What a boy can do to preserve his American heritage."

Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge has provided Troops 425 and 476 with a colorful facsimile of the Declaration of Independence which will be on display. The Troops also received a scroll from the Freedom Foundation signed by President Johnson when the Chelsea Scouts also signed as part of their pledge to participate in the Strengthen America's Heritage program. The scroll was presented to the troops' sponsor, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, at the regular Kiwanis meeting Monday evening in the social center of the Methodist church.

The scroll states: We pledge our loyal, patriotic participation in the program to "Strengthen America's Heritage." Whereas an active, patriotic youth and adult citizenry is essential to preserve and protect our American heritage, Troop 425 Boy Scouts of America chartered to the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, does hereby enroll the following of its members in the Strengthen America's Heritage program of the Boy Scouts of America conducted in co-operation with the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge.

On July 18, the Cub Scouts and Troops 425 and 476 of Chelsea will hold their American Heritage picnic and campfire at the Fairgrounds. The Cub Scouts will have some displays and the Boy Scouts will have a jamboree event. The campfire will start at dusk and all interested parents and children are invited to attend.

In order for boys to participate in the "Strengthen America's Heritage" program, they must meet certain requirements. These are: (1) Advance one rank in Scouting; (2) Invite another boy to join their unit; (3) Display the flag properly on appropriate holidays; (4) Learn about the Nathan Hale award from the Freedom Foundation; and (5) Write a 25- to 100-word statement on "What a boy can do to preserve his American heritage."

SCOUTS CITE KIWANIS CLUB: In recognition of participation in the nation-wide "America's Heritage" program, Scoutmaster Ralph A. Frisch and Boy Scouts of Troop 425 presented the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea with a special scroll signed by the Scoutmaster and boys of the troop. The Kiwanis club is the institutional sponsor of the Boy Scouts here. The presentation took place Monday at the regular Kiwanis club meeting in the social center of the Methodist church. In the photo, from left, are Wallace Wood, Kiwanis president, who accepted the plaque on behalf of the club, Scoutmaster Frisch, Scouts Ron Morley, Leo Dickelmann and Bruce Parks, and P. G. Schablow, Jr., who is the Kiwanis Boy Scout institutional representative.

Boy Scouts To Participate in National Freedom Program

Chelsea Troops 425 and 476, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, announced today that they will participate in the national-wide "Strengthen America's Heritage" program through June and July.

The purpose of the program is to make boys in Scouting and the people of Chelsea more aware of their American heritage.

The program is being co-sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. More than 136,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will participate.

On July 18, the Cub Scouts and Troops 425 and 476 of Chelsea will hold their American Heritage picnic and campfire at the Fairgrounds. The Cub Scouts will have some displays and the Boy Scouts will have a jamboree event. The campfire will start at dusk and all interested parents and children are invited to attend.

In order for boys to participate in the "Strengthen America's Heritage" program, they must meet certain requirements. These are: (1) Advance one rank in Scouting; (2) Invite another boy to join their unit; (3) Display the flag properly on appropriate holidays; (4) Learn about the Nathan Hale award from the Freedom Foundation; and (5) Write a 25- to 100-word statement on "What a boy can do to preserve his American heritage."

Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge has provided Troops 425 and 476 with a colorful facsimile of the Declaration of Independence which will be on display. The Troops also received a scroll from the Freedom Foundation signed by President Johnson when the Chelsea Scouts also signed as part of their pledge to participate in the Strengthen America's Heritage program. The scroll was presented to the troops' sponsor, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, at the regular Kiwanis meeting Monday evening in the social center of the Methodist church.

The scroll states: We pledge our loyal, patriotic participation in the program to "Strengthen America's Heritage." Whereas an active, patriotic youth and adult citizenry is essential to preserve and protect our American heritage, Troop 425 Boy Scouts of America chartered to the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, does hereby enroll the following of its members in the Strengthen America's Heritage program of the Boy Scouts of America conducted in co-operation with the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge.

Playground Group Plans Decorating Contest for Bikes

Activities at the North school playground for next week's summer recreation program of the Chelsea Area Recreation Council are being highlighted by a bicycle decorating contest and doll show on Wednesday, July 8.

Painting rocks to be used as paperweights is scheduled for Monday morning; weaving with plastic card on Tuesday; statue painting on Thursday and a miniature golf tournament on Friday.

At South school a talent show is scheduled for Thursday, July 9.

On Monday the arts and crafts activity will be crayon painted designs; Tuesday, the special project will be paper mosaic bottles; and Wednesday, macaroni designed boxes.

On Friday, there is no special activity other than finishing the macaroni designed boxes.

ITEM: Never use plumbing or heating pipes as a ground for electric wires — such a practice is doubly dangerous. Not only does it expose the family to severe shocks when the piping is disconnected for repairs, but the current causes corrosion in the piping and connected tanks.

ITEM: Bathroom lavatories are available in almost all colors, including pink, blue, green, tan and yellow, perfect for setting decorative themes and enhancing beauty. There are many fittings (faucets) to choose from, the most preferred being the combination type that allows mixing hot and cold water from one spot. These are available in the conventional two-handle models or the newer single control variety.

ITEM: Parents may mistakenly complain about their children's "poor appetites" because they do not understand that patterns of food intake vary from child to child. In one study, intakes of food by individual children were considered in three age intervals — 1 to 6 years, 6 to 12 years, and 12 to 18 years — and were classified as high, medium, or low in relation to intakes by other children of the same age and sex. Only one-third of the children persisted in the same classification (always high, medium or low) in all three age intervals.

ITEM: A primer, or first coat of paint will cover approximately 550 square feet per gallon. The finish coat usually covers 600 feet per gallon.

PROCLAMATION Let Freedom Ring

WHEREAS, one hundred and eighty-eight years ago on July Fourth, fifty-six freedom loving men penned democracy's greatest manifesto, The Declaration of Independence; and

WHEREAS, The Declaration of Independence embodies our proven and great American principles and represents the bedrock foundation of our nation and our people. This was a divinely inspired document voicing what our nation's founders believed would be a new order of the ages, and

WHEREAS, on July Fourth each year Chelsea citizens pause with the rest of the country to pay tribute to the founding day of our Nation and to reaffirm our deep and unwavering belief in our rich American heritage and principles, and

WHEREAS, we must, however, do more than make this a day of rest and vacation. We must let the rest of the world know that we do "hold these truths to be self-evident" that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights. To secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Howard Haselschwardt, president of the Village of Chelsea, do hereby urge every citizen in Chelsea to organize and participate in a state-wide "Ring of the Bells" for four minutes at 1 p.m. on July Fourth — as a solemn tribute to our country's founders and as a rededication to our national unity and our undying devotion to our country and for what it stands.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Village of Chelsea to be affixed this 30th day of June, A.D. 1964.

Howard Haselschwardt,
Chelsea Village President.

Albert Samborn Announces Candidacy for Legislature

By mandate of the Michigan State Supreme Court, a new political map of Michigan has been drawn. Next November, in what will be a most important election in Michigan's history, citizens will select a state legislature on the basis of the new political map.

"I am entering the Republican primary and will campaign to become the representative to Lansing from the new 51st district, which includes an area served by this newspaper."

With this statement, Albert J. Samborn, a resident of Seio township, near Dexter, announced his entry into partisan politics. Samborn is program manager and news director of WPAG, an Ann Arbor radio station.

The 51st district includes a tier of townships in western Washtenaw county and Pittsfield township at the southeast of Ann Arbor, all of Livingston county, and two townships in Lenawee county. It is formed of parts of three former representative districts. The Washtenaw area was formerly a part of Representative James Warner's district; Livingston county was a part of the Shawanee-Livingston District; and between Livingston county and townships in Washtenaw along with the Lenawee county township.

Samborn describes the district as having basic common qualities. "No matter what one might think of the redistricting about the state, there is a degree of logic to the boundaries of the 51st that gives some cause for optimism for effective representation. It has an economic base of agriculture, considerable industrial culture, considerable business development, distinguished by variety and number of small and medium-sized firms; and a famed natural beauty and extensive recreational facilities that make recreation and tourism major activities.

"The district does not have the large industrial concerns, such as the General Motors and Ford plants near Ypsilanti, but if you're not familiar with the area it's easy to underestimate the extent of industrial activity.

"I believe that this district has a number of common interests—its growing industrial activity, the number and size of its communities, the agriculture, and recreation facilities—that can be effectively maintained by an individual in Lansing committed to represent those interests.

"I see the immediate years ahead as crucial years for the people in this district. The population explosion is beginning to spill over into what is essentially a rural village area and will, by itself, present many problems. The small, or business and industrial concern, during a time when emphasis everywhere is on large size, is an issue of vital importance to this district.

For the past 17 years I have been doing business with and communicating with the people living and working in the area bounded by the new district lines. I think I have an understanding of the common interests and the common problems such that I can work with the citizens of this district as the interests and problems relate to government at the state level."

While it is not the most common route to a political career, Samborn, as a broadcaster and a journalist, is not setting a precedent. A member of Michigan's present legislature, Representative John Toepke, a Republican representing the Wexford District, is employed with a radio station in Cadillac. Also, the late Blain Moody was appointed U.S. Senator by Governor Williams, while Moody was a Detroit newspaperman.

Samborn is 41 years old. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1940 after serving nearly five years with the U.S. Navy. He was born on a farm in Isabella county. The family, including Samborn's four brothers and three sisters, later moved to Clare. He graduated from Clare High School and in 1950, after his service in the Navy and after earning a BA degree from the University of Michigan, Samborn married a former schoolmate, Margaret "Mick" McFall. They have one son and one daughter attending the Dexter Community Schools.

Samborn is a member of the Dexter Board of Education, a member of the executive committee of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Red Cross, and a member of the State Board of Directors of the Michigan United Fund. The family belongs to the Dexter Methodist church.

Rev. W. A. Johnson Is New Chaplain at Methodist Home

The Rev. William A. Johnson, pastor of the Whitmore Lake Community Methodist church and Webster Congregational church since 1959, has assumed the duties of chaplain of the Chelsea Methodist Home on Monday of last week. He and his wife are now living in the house known as the former superintendent's home on the Home property on W. Middle St.

The Rev. Johnson was granted his request for retired relationship with the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church at the annual conference session at Adrian, Mich., the week of June 20 and accepted the position as chaplain of the Methodist Home as offered by the Home superintendent-administrator, the Rev. E. J. Weiss.

A native of Michigan, the Rev. Johnson was born in Tuscola county and married Ruth E. Wells of Caro.

Before entering the ministry in 1923 he had worked as a cost accountant in industry, as a general bookkeeper at the First National Bank of Bay City, and as a construction carpenter at the Ford Motor Co.

The Rev. Johnson is well acquainted in the Chelsea-Dexter area, having served as pastor at Dexter for three years, beginning in 1924, and at Manchester for six years, 1929 to 1935.

While he was pastor at Dexter the church was rebuilt following a fire in 1925.

Other communities in which he has served as pastor all in Michigan are Auburn, Newburg, Milan, Northville and Morenci.

His first pastorate, at Auburn, was in the Saginaw Bay District of the Detroit Conference; all the others are in the Ann Arbor District.

His pastorate at Milan comprised a total of 15 years, from 1935 until 1950. Four and one-half years of that time he was acting chaplain at Federal Prison at Milan.

While at the Whitmore Lake Webster charge he served as chaplain at the Boys' Vocational School.

The Johnsons' family includes two daughters, Mrs. Maynard Bird (Whitmore Lake) and Mrs. William Burke (Marjorie) of Morenci; and two sons, Deane E. Johnson of Long Beach, Calif., and William A. Jr. of Milan. There are also nine grandchildren.

The Rev. Johnson succeeds the Rev. George Stanford in the position at the Methodist Home. The Rev. and Mrs. Stanford, following his retirement, are now traveling and spending time with relatives and friends. They plan eventually to return as Home residents.

Vandalism Spoils New Section of Village Sidewalk

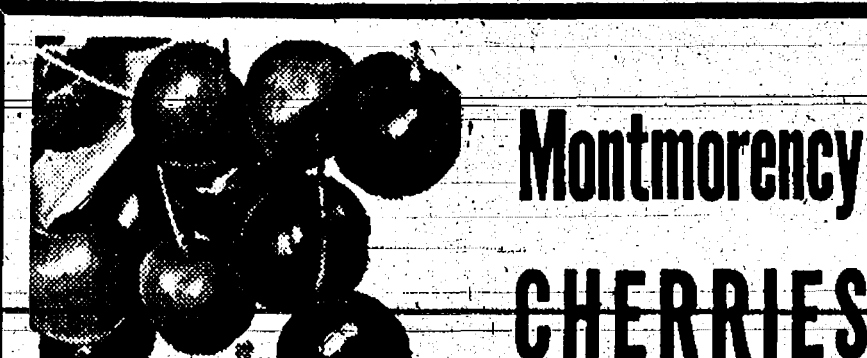

Vandalism on new sidewalks being installed in the village reached a new high this week when someone rode a bicycle around a barricade and on to a new stretch of walk on East St. at the southwest corner of E. Middle St. The cement was almost set and village public works crews were unable to obliterate the bicycle marks. As a result, the new walk is marred by the ruts extending the length of the new walk.

Village officials urge parents to see that their children do not participate in vandalism of this type. Residents, too, are urged to report it once, if they notice anyone tampering with the newly-poured walks at any time before the cement is set.

Personal Notes

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Proctor the past two weeks were the latter's sister, Mrs. Wilbert Lindwall and children, Susan and Robert, of San Diego, Calif. They left Friday to visit Mr. Lindwall who had returned from California for a visit with relatives there and the entire family will return to the Chelsea area next week for a further visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Doe entertained at a family reunion Sunday at their home, those present including Mr. and Mrs. Crawford James and family of West Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatcher (Judy Doe) and children of Garden City, Mr. and Mrs. John Lester of Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doe and family of Ypsilanti.

Dexter Jaycee Wives Plan Organization

The first meeting of wives of Dexter Jaycees, under sponsorship of the Chelsea Jaycees Auxiliary, was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bill Tuppey in Dexter. Fourteen wives of Jaycees and six guests attended the informal get-together for a social hour and for a brief explanation of "just what is a Jaycee Auxiliary?"

Another informal meeting, to which all wives of Dexter Jaycees are invited, is scheduled for Thursday, July 9, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gary Kolander.

At that meeting a report will be given by a constitution committee appointed at Tuesday's meeting. On the committee are Mrs. Norman Marquart as chairman, Mrs. Tuppey, Mrs. Don Stoll, Mrs. Jerry Forshee and Mrs. Ron Adair, all of Dexter.

Mrs. Tuppey is the temporary chairman of the Dexter group and Mrs. Stoll, temporary secretary. Both were appointed at Tuesday's meeting at the home of Mrs. Tuppey after the Dexter women had voted to form an auxiliary organization.

Mrs. Ronald Branham and Mrs. Daniel Maroney are the Chelsea Auxiliary co-chairmen who are assisting in the formation of the Dexter Auxiliary.

At Tuesday's meeting, Mrs. George Ellenwood, a past president of the Chelsea Auxiliary, told the purpose and advantages of a Jaycee Auxiliary stressing that its first and principal purpose is assistance to the Jaycees.

She explained that membership in an Auxiliary affords an opportunity for community service, leadership training and a greater understanding of the Jaycees movement by working closely with the men's organization.

Mrs. Ric Creswell of Tecumseh, Jaycees Auxiliary District III vice-president outlined the structure of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary and told of advantages to an Auxiliary-in-belonging to the state organization.

Open discussion following the talks by Mrs. Ellenwood and Mrs. Creswell led to the decision by the Dexter group to form an auxiliary and appoint temporary officers and the previously mentioned constitution committee.

Chelsea Auxiliary members served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

In addition to the Chelsea members already mentioned those who also attended the Dexter meeting are Mrs. Don Bush and Mrs. Ken Norris.

Mrs. Alice Gougeon of Ann Arbor will be conducting the clinic. In addition to judging instruction and practice in horse judging, 4-H members will receive information on horsemanship and fitting a horse for show. This event is in preparation for the County 4-H Horse Judging Contest which will be on Saturday, July 18.

Fisheries Research Program Director Addresses Kiwanians

James Schneider, in charge of research at Cassidy and Mill Lakes for the Michigan Department of Conservation, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting Monday evening.

He told of proposed plans to close both lakes to fishing for a certain period after which both lakes would be restocked with fish.

Schneider was introduced by Floyd Fowler, program chairman. Boy Scouts presented a plaque to the Kiwanis club, their institutional sponsors, as part of their American Heritage program being stressed during July.

Monday's meeting was held in the social center of the Methodist church.

Recreation Ball Team Loses Twice to Jackson

The Chelsea High school Recreation League baseball team will play a game at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) on D diamond at Sharp Park in Jackson, the opposing team being the Western Stampers Co. team of Michigan Center.

All games of the high school league are played at the Jackson park with Ray Kyte as the Chelsea coach.

Kyte said all players who wish to be included in the league must have signed their contracts with Recreation Director Alan Conklin by next Wednesday, July 8.

Chelsea played two games last week — Jackson St. Mary's on Wednesday and the Jackson Boosters on Saturday and lost both games.

The score in the St. Mary's game was 2-1 and in the Boosters game, 4-2.

Chelsea team members in the St. Mary's game were Barry Visel, Duane Schroen, Bill Harvey, Scott Foster, Dan Allen, Tom McClanahan, Dennis Kyte, Phil Eckhardt and Bill Altenberndt.

Kyte was the losing pitcher and St. Mary's Harry Best was credited with being the winning pitcher.

In the Chelsea-Boosters game the lineup for Chelsea was the same except for Phil Boham who pitched instead of Dennis Kyte and was the losing pitcher.

Steve Mondreger of the Boosters was the winning pitcher.

Just A Minute . . .
By the Rev. James A. Craig

The noise of exploding rockets; the flash of a sky suddenly lit in a brilliant color; the never-stopping movement of a crowd; the half-moment awe at a spectacular show all mark a country's celebration.

The Fourth of July brings parades through the memory of a nation born in conflict and built on freedom. The Fourth of July. We celebrate then a gift we hardly understand and usually take for granted. Many years before another nation sought a freedom they could not obtain. A man came among them speaking of a freedom about which they had never dreamed.

The people thought their captivity was only physical. He told them a far worse captivity. He spoke to them of a spiritual bondage into which they had sold themselves. Know the truth and the truth will make you free he told them. He opened for them an independence under God which we too have been given. Prayer: For our freedom which comes from Thee we give thanks, O Lord. Amen.

United States Senator Philip A. Hart of Michigan (right) raises his State flag over the national headquarters of the American Trucking Associations in Washington, D. C. while John V. The Michigan flag was displayed at the ATA building one week this month as part of a continuing program designed to recognize the fact that ATA is a federation of 50 affiliated state trucking associations.

WILPF Delegates Hear Plea for World Disarmament

Mrs. Ben Donaldson of Cavanaugh Lake, immediate past president of the Ann Arbor branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) was a delegate to the organization's annual meeting in Indianapolis, Ind. The sessions were concluded yesterday.

Peace, Freedom and Election Issues was the theme of this year's annual meeting. Considerable discussion centered around the vital issues in the country—issues which the League indicated it would like to see covered in the platforms of both political parties at their conventions.

One session Mrs. Donaldson attended was devoted to a discussion of foreign economic aid. Dr. Otto Nathan, an economics professor and the only male member of the National Board of the League, emphasized the many complicated problems connected with the issue of Economic Aid, the limitations of available resources, the difficulties of introducing modern technology into countries which are in no way prepared to absorb it, the lack of education and skills in many of the countries concerned and the need of a modernized system of political organization and public administration.

Dr. Nathan pointed out that according to official information, a large part of America's foreign economic aid is military aid or aid given in support of military objectives. He was very doubtful whether that will be changed as long as the arms race has not come to an end. He urged that increased efforts be made to achieve general and universal disarmament, which, he said, is the prerequisite to real foreign economic aid as well as to many other needed developments in society.

Two CHS Students Attending Summer CMU Music Camp

Two Chelsea High school students, Doris Zeeh and Wes Stinehelfer, are in Mt. Pleasant attending the third annual high school music camp conducted by the Central Michigan University music department.

This year's enrollment of 284 high school musicians necessitated enlarging the staff to 14 from last year's 9. The increase also brought about a need to have two camp bands instead of the one that has previously been formed. The camp gives high school instrumentalists and vocalists an opportunity to participate in band, chorus, orchestra, sectional rehearsals, swimming and other recreational, concerts, recitals and special camp programs. They are also introduced to music theory and literature, and may attend several musical events which will be presented during the time the camp is in session.

Dr. Eugene F. Grove, head of CMU's music department, says the camp was initiated in response to many demands from high school music directors for the establishment of such a camp at CMU. The increasing enrollment, we feel, reflects the increased interest in CMU and the music department.

The camp opened June 21 and will end July 4.

Mrs. Smith Tells Candidacy For County Clerk Nomination

Mrs. Luella M. Smith, who has been county clerk in Washtenaw county the past 25 years, has announced that she is a candidate for renomination by the Republican party at the Sept. 1 primary.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Smith said, "Assuming office in 1939, just before the county began its rapid industrialization and urbanization period, I have seen the volume of traffic, both human and paper, flowing through the office of the county clerk grow steadily. The clerk's office has taken on more duties, developed new techniques and installed new processes to keep in step with the increase in business.

"The confidence and support of Washtenaw county citizens have encouraged me in carrying out the numerous and complex duties of this office which touches the life of every person in the county."

Mrs. Smith has been the only woman to hold the clerk's office in Washtenaw and statewide has been recognized as the only woman president of the Michigan Association of County Clerks in its 58-year history.

She was a deputy county clerk and a deputy city clerk prior to her appointment as county clerk in 1939. She had served as wartime price and rationing administrator for Washtenaw county and was in charge of the first draft registration for World War I.

Mrs. Smith has served on government panels for Michigan State University courses and has been an instructor for courses for county officials at MSU. Mrs. Smith is a member of Zonta International, the Business and Professional and West Side Women's Clubs, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliaries, and is secretary of Boys and Girls County Government Day.

She is a member of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors educational division, the National Association of County Officials, the Washtenaw County Infirmary Auxiliary, and is active in the work of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, George P. Smith who is county sealer of weights and measures, live at 221 Buena Vista, Ann Arbor.

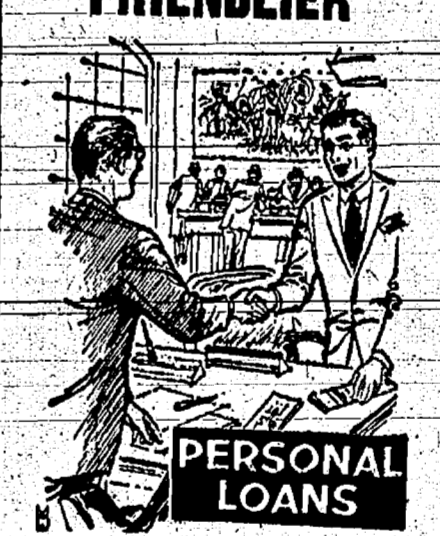

The Dexter Fire Department and called at 2:15 p.m. but resuscitation proved useless. Dr. Wallace Kemp, medical examiner, pronounced Gary dead at 3:00 p.m.

Meat-Like Foods Possible Without Meat

"Filet mignon" made out of soy beans? Well, not quite. But meat-like dishes without meat are now possible because of a new process that produces "spun protein fibers."

This is one of the most exciting advances in the food industry in many years, according to a Michigan State University foods authority.

Some companies are already distributing chicken-like and ham-like products, reports Dr. Theodore F. Imliter, associate professor of foods and nutrition at MSU, in a recent issue of "Nutrition Reviews."

This new development means that some 50 million Americans who abstain from meat all or part of the time because of religious or other reasons will have a ready source of good-quality protein that will be quite tasty, he says.

He feels that the new product may also help ease the protein food shortages that exist in many parts of the world.

While Americans may never give up their preference for real meat, the meat-like products do have advantages. They are free from the gelatin, bones, skin and shrinkage usually associated with meat. They are also free from animal fat—a point of considerable importance to persons on certain types of restricted diets, Imliter says.

Spun protein fibers are made from edible proteins isolated from different types of raw materials, such as soy beans, peanuts or casein.

Colors and flavor may be added to make the fiber product resemble pork chops, ham, chicken or even filet mignon! Such foods may be made to suit almost any purpose. They may have a fat content as low as a fraction of one percent and a protein content of almost any desired level. They may be tender or chewy as desired.

So far, spun-protein fibers have no price advantage over natural meat products. One company's products sell at $1.25 to $1.50 per pound. At present, sales have been limited to the "health food" market.

Tooth Decay One Price of Civilization

Ann Arbor — Civilized people are more prone to tooth decay than a primitive New Guinea native for example.

This is the conclusion of the director of dental service for New Guinea, who is on sabbatical leave for a year's study at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

"Dental decay is one of the joys of civilization," says Dr. David Barnes, a member of the World Health Organization panel of experts on dental health.

In a study of the primitive islanders of the South Pacific, Dr. Barnes found that even the natives most affected by dental disease still had less decay than the average American.

The main cause of decay, he explains, seems to be oral debris, the remains of food in the mouth after the meal.

Primitive peoples eat large quantities of unrefined carbohydrates, such as fresh fruits, while civilized groups take in a lot of refined carbohydrates, such as baked goods, Dr. Barnes notes. "The debris of refined carbohydrates ferments more easily to cause decay."

The highest incidence of dental decay in the natives was among children brought to central schools and exposed to Western diets, he discovered.

Dr. Barnes' findings were reported by U-M journalism student Cecile Richter in The Michigan Journalist, a departmental publication of the U-M Journalism Department.

Draft Boards Begin Early Exam Policy

Michigan local boards will begin the physical examination of 18-year-old registrants in July, but such examinations will not mark a speed-up of the draft. It has been announced by Colonel Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service.

A total of 768 registrants who have registered at the age of 18 since January 1964 will be delivered by Wayne county local boards for examination in July. Similar calls will be assigned to all other Michigan local boards starting in August. These examinations will be conducted in addition to the regular physical examination of some 2,500 older registrants who are approaching the age of induction.

Purpose of the early examinations for 18-year-olds is to enable those who are found qualified for military service to make definite plans for their future careers. The early examinations will also enable those who are found not qualified to seek promptly such education, training or health services which can be of benefit to them. Selective Service has initiated a program for referral of disqualified registrants to community rehabilitation agencies.

Only 18-year-olds who are not deferred will be ordered for early examination. This will eliminate students, married men and registrants who have enlisted in regular or reserve units of the armed forces.

Early examination of 18-year-olds will have no effect on the time when young men will actually be called for induction. The present order of induction under which all eligible older registrants under age 26 are called first has not been changed. Current average age of men ordered for induction is 22 to 23.

Also made honorary members were Marianne Staskievtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clements Staskievtz of Ypsilanti, and Chuck Avis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Avis, of Ann Arbor. They were Washtenaw county delegates to the Older Youth Conference at Michigan State University last week.

Ypsilanti Girl Rescued Sunday In Near-Tragedy

Cynthia Moore, a 12-year-old Ypsilanti township girl, was rescued and revived Sunday afternoon after she had tripped and fallen in four feet of water at Half Moon Lake in the state park area in Dexter township.

According to reports of the mishap, the girl was pulled from the water by Richard Dayton of Garden City, who saw her struggling.

The Chelsea Fire Department's rescuer crew responded to the call received from Cecil Herman who operates Herman's Resort nearby; he and others at the scene said the Chelsea Fire Department surely deserves commendation for reaching the scene so fast.

Herman continued by saying those boys surely know their business. The rescuer crew administered oxygen to the girl and later she was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for further treatment.

Garden City Girl Killed in Ann Arbor Rd. Accident

Durwood E. Space, 31, was released after investigation by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. of the collision which killed Barbara C. Murray, 18, of Garden City last Tuesday night.

Detective Lt. Vincent J. Snell said, "It was found to be an unavoidable accident."

Miss Murray died at University Hospital about two hours after she was struck while running across Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd., southeast of Dan Hoy Rd., just after midnight. Officers said she died of a skull fracture and internal injuries.

They said she had been a passenger in a car with three girls friends from the Garden City area shortly before the accident. The car, which was driven by 18-year-old John L. Mayne of Lakeland, stopped running when it reached the Ann Arbor-Dexter Rd.

Mayne parked the car, which was headed east, at the edge of the road and left the headlights on. Deputies said Miss Murray got out of the car and started across the road to seek help and apparently did not see the approaching vehicle.

Space told deputies when his westbound car came over the crest of a hill a short distance from the stalled vehicle, he was temporarily blinded by the headlights from Mayne's car. He said when he did see Miss Murray in the middle of the road she was "only feet" from his car, officers reported.

The right front of Space's car struck Miss Murray and hurled her 66 feet, deputies reported. Sheriff's Detective Lt. Vincent J. Snell said it is not believed Space was exceeding the posted speed limit at the time of the accident.

Snell said Miss Murray, her three companions and Mayne had recently graduated from high school and were "out for a ride" when the tragedy occurred. He said the girls were staying at a summer cottage near Lakeland.

Miss Murray was the 21st person to die in traffic accidents in Washtenaw county this year. Last year when 30 fatalities were recorded in the county the 21st death was registered on Aug. 24.

Area Scouts Need Flags For Project

Chelsea area Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are co-operating in a project of making 50-star flags in preparation for the American Heritage project scheduled to be observed during July. Purpose of the project is to promote awareness of Scouts and area residents of America's heritage of freedom.

Needed for the project of making the new flags are 48-star flags (no other) and 50-star flags. Anyone having such a flag to donate to the Scouts may take it to the home of Mrs. Wilbur Worden, 118 Lincoln St., or call her if arrangements for pick-up are necessary.

It is important that the flags be of the proper size (3x5 feet); however it does not matter if the flag needs cleaning since it can be cleaned and used anyway.

Grass Fires Back Again

Thursday evening, Chelsea firefighters were called out to extinguish a grass fire on M-52 just south of the Stop & Shop Supermarket. The fire had been set by two young boys who were apprehended by Chelsea police, according to Fire Department records.

Firemen were called out three times on Saturday — at 11:35 a.m. because of a garage fire at the Charles Salyer home, 18498 M-52 (the fire had been extinguished by the time firemen arrived on the scene); at 1 p.m., because of seven small grass fires along the New York Central track on Garvey Rd., and at 7:30 p.m., because of a car fire on Hayes St. The car was owned by Emerson Marshall of 18505 Old US-12 West.
