Jaycees Rummage Sale Slated Friday, Saturday

According to committees in charge, the annual Jaycees rummage sale scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday, will feature various items in the "physical fitness" category; they hasten to describe these items as a hand lawn mower and a treadle type sewing machine.

Furniture of all kinds, mirrors, pianos, appliances (including a freezer), bicycles, clothing, sporting goods and many household items are included in the merchandise which goes on sale at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

This year, for the convenience of customers and workers, the sale is being held in two downtown locations — at the old fire hall in the Municipal Building and in Sylvan Town Hall.

Friday (tomorrow) the sale will be held from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. and on Saturday the hours will be 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Jaycees are still accepting calls for pick-up of items which area residents may wish to contribute. The committee in charge includes Don Bush, Robert Jacobs and Lloyd Schneider. The latter may be reached at Lloyd's Dairy Bar.

Proceeds of the rummage sale are used for community service projects sponsored by the Jaycees. Their particular interests center on park improvement.

During the past week new playground equipment provided by the Jaycees (with some contributions from the Child Study club) has been installed at both Pierce Memorial and Veterans Memorial parks.

A report of the playground equipment project was given at the Jaycees dinner meeting held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Jaycees meeting room in the basement at 105 S. Main St. Jaycee Auxiliary members prepared and served the meal.

The program which followed included pictures taken by Melvin Leach while he was serving in Europe with the U. S. Army. They included scenes in Rome, Venice and the Italian Riviera; Frankfort, Germany; Switzerland; Scotland; and London, England.

Voters Asked To OK 3 Mills for 10-Room High School Addition

Nearly 50% Enrollment Increase Since '58 Requires Classroom Space

Next Monday, July 13, is the date for the Chelsea School District election on the proposed bonding of the district in the amount of $240,000 to finance the construction of a 10-classroom addition to the high school. This includes a special education room for which the county will reimburse the district $20,000 from the county's special education fund, the reimbursement to be completed within five years after completion of the building.

The election will be held in the Junior High school guynasium from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. and the question to be voted upon will be as follows:

Shall Chelsea School District, Washtenaw and Jackson Counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Two Hundred Forty Forty Thousand Dollars ($240,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping an additional high school building, and for site development and improvement?"

To be eligible to vote on the bond issue proposal, electors must be properly registered in the township in which they reside and must own property assessed for taxes within the school district or be the lawful husband or wife of such a person.

They also must be United States citizens; be over 21 years of age; a resident of Michigan for at least six months and of the school district at least 30 days.

Need for the extra classroom space is emphasized as enrollment figures are cited — 364 in 1958-59; 525 in 1963-64; and an anticipated enrollment of more than 600 by the 1966-67 school year.

When the high school was constructed, all school facilities—auditorium, cafeteria, library, gymnasium, etc. — were designed to serve many more pupils than the expected enrollment for the first five years; the need now is strictly for classrooms.

Plans call for two commercial rooms; six general classrooms for mathematics, English, social science and foreign language studies; a language laboratory; and the special education room.

The bond issue will require a levy of three mills for three years to retire the bonds and it has been pointed out that the average cost per thousand dollars of assessed valuation is $2.00 per mill. The comparatively short bonding period will reduce the interest costs to the taxpayer.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from Robert Foster, secretary of the Board of Education.

K-C Chicken Barbecue Slated Sunday

Chelsea Knights of Columbus are sponsoring the season's first Chicken Barbecue at Pierce Park, Sunday, July 12, serving from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

Eugene Martin, general chairman, stated that the dinners will be served in boxes for easy take-out service or to eat at the park or in cars. The complete dinner includes a half chicken, cole slaw, rolls and chips, coffee, milk and soft drinks also will be available.

K. of C. members said they are very fortunate to have been able to reserve the services of the "two most prominent men in the area" when it comes to chicken barbecues—"Chef Hank Ortbring and "Firemen" Duane Rowe. Ortbring and Rowe have had years of experience in their respective fields having started with the first chicken barbecue to be put on in Chelsea in 1955.

A newly-developed parking lot across from Pierce Park will greatly relieve the congestion in the park area and allow for faster service at the barbecue pits, it was pointed out.

Folk Festival Planned With Peace Caravan

The Peace Caravan, whose program is being arranged in Chelsea by the United Christian Youth Council, is scheduled for a public appearance on their last night in town, Tuesday July 14. Jane Faist is in charge of arrangements for a big, all-community popular presentation of the Peace Caravanners that the committee is calling an "International Folk Festival."

Plans call for each of the four travelers to present a folk song and a folk dance for his country along with a little description of his home. Besides this the local committee hopes to have local talent present one or two American folk songs and folk dances. The committee said they believe that the community would like to know why the Peace Caravan is visiting around Michigan and what some of their ideas are as well as hearing a few words in their home language. Jane Faist, with chairman Judy Livingston went to the Village Council meeting Tuesday to ask for the use of the parking lot for the meeting. The Junior High gymnasium is available in case of rain.

Miss Livingston announced that plans for the other days include appearances in four local churches Sunday morning, with a picnic and swim Sunday afternoon and a campfire program that night for all who would like to attend. Tina Lindauer is arranging this with Sandy White and it is planned that Half Moon Lake will be the place for it. Group singing and questions and discussions with the caravanners will be features of the evening campfire program.

Monday night the Peace Caravan will attend the Kiwanis club meeting to present the program and Monday and Tuesday there will be opportunity to learn folk songs and dances of the native lands of the visitors as an aid to presenting them to the community Tuesday night.

The committee working with Miss Livingston is composed of Tina Lindauer, Kathy Taylor, Lois Hepburn, Tom Sholtens, Grace Kushmaul, Jane Faist, Sandy White, Sandy Osborn, and Audrey Hayes. The Rev. R.A.J. Livingston is advisor to the UCYC and this committee and Mrs. Ben Donaldson is the contact person for the Chelsea Area United Church Women who are co-operating with the youth group. The headquarters for the group will be the First Congregational church on E. Middle St. where they will meet mornings for planning and devotions. The other churches will be co-operating in entertaining the visitors in homes for meals and lodging. The young people in the Peace Caravan who are arriving Saturday evening were listed yesterday as Maximo Dario Contreras from the Dominican Republic who is studying at the University of Washington in Seattle, Richard A. Gerard who is studying at Yale and calls New York City home, Roberta Joan Pollack who is from Chicago and is studying in Ann Arbor at the University of Michigan, and Joan Stuart Ross from Boston who graduated this June from the Connecticut College for Women in New London.

Kiwanis Sponsors Hole-in-1 Tourney

Chelsea Kiwanians are sponsoring what is planned to become an annual event in Chelsea — A Hole-in-1 golf tournament and general family night program which will include basketball, a children's track meet and Boy Scout Campfire program — all at the Chelsea High school baseball field.

The affair is planned for next week Friday, July 17, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and Saturday, July 18, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Proceeds of the event are designated to go toward payment of the cost of installation of the lighting system at the athletic field, a Kiwanis project of the past three years. Total cost of the lighting system is approximately $5,000.

Kiwanians are already selling tickets for the Hole-in-1 contest and tickets will also be available at the field — the "hole-in-1" tournament tickets at $1.00 include provision of four balls for adults, while the price for children is 50 cents for four balls.

First, second and third prizes of $25, $10 and $5, respectively, are being offered for "closest-to-the-hole" and additional prizes will be given in the division for non-golfers, children through the 8th grade and women who participate. Anyone will be eligible to shoot, and women who participate. Anyone will be eligible to shoot.

A $500 U. S. Savings Bond is offered to anyone who makes a "hole-in-one" on the golfers hole on the baseball field.

General chairman of the big Chelsea family program is Robert Daniels. Working with him are George Heydlauff and Robert Foster.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Last week I reported on the progress Michigan has made in the field of education in the last two years. The legislature has written an enviable record of achievement in this field but other areas have not been ignored.

One area given a great deal of much-deserved attention is the field of mental health. This week I would like to report to you what we have done in this critical area of concern.

Dramatic and necessary gains have been made in the mental health fields. Last year, the legislature provided for reorganization of our state Department of Mental Health and increasing emphasis on community co-operation and initiative in providing care for mentally ill and mentally retarded. Since then, we have been searching for the best qualified person possible to head up our state program, and Dr. Robert Kimmich who assumed duties on July 1, is certainly one of the most eminently qualified individuals in the country to tackle this assignment.

The 1964 legislature has made available another $4.2 million to expand and improve nearly all aspects of the mental health services of our state, including $1.3 million more for care of retarded children, $678,000 more for care of mentally ill, $1.5 million more to further carry out the community mental health services program, and $566,000 more for intensified training and research. These sums are in addition to the higher costs of continuing our program as it is now being conducted.

In addition to these program enrichments, we are providing during the next year 930 new beds for retarded children at Plymouth, Mt. Pleasant, Gaylord and Fort Custer. And we are underway on planning for a new facility in west-central Michigan. The shocking waiting list of 1,800 children, which was the case on January 1, 1963, will be reduced substantially by these new facilities. But in addition, we are now placing emphasis on day care centers, outpatient treatment, and foster home care. We cannot tolerate a waiting list of 1,800 children who deserve care but are not receiving it.

In both education and mental health, Michigan is taking substantial steps to help people. The record of our Michigan legislature of 1964 in these two fields is an outstanding record.

ROUGHING IT, 1964 STYLE

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Who's Watching

Replacement of the elected Auditor General by one appointed by the legislature is ordered in the new Constitution.

Implementation of this provision failed in two attempts this year. Administrative problems could result in January if no agreement is reached by then.

Gov. George Romney has indicated he would call the legislature into special session after the election to resolve this problem if he thinks agreement can result.

Current Auditor General Billie Farnum would serve in his post until a successor is appointed under the provisions of the Constitution.

That is, he would serve unless he chose to run and was elected to another office, such as Congressman. In this event, Michigan would be without an Auditor General until such time as one was appointed.

Work on the Auditor General law was done by the Legislative Audit Commission, a joint House-Senate body working since 1962. It has been labeled the "watch-dog committee" which checked and rechecked much of the work of state departments which also was reviewed by Farnum's office.

Objections to the Commission's previous recommendations for methods of appointing the Auditor General centered around the power position the Commission wrote into the law for itself.

Some legislators said the proposed measures would have placed the Commission entirely in charge of the auditing process. The appointive Auditor General would have been a glorified errand boy, said the critics.

The Constitutional provision was designed to give the legislature closer control over use of funds they appropriate to various state agencies.

Most members felt, however, that the Auditor General should continue to have basic administrative independence to carry out his job.

Teachers Learn

Every fall, thousands of Michigan school children get one or two days off while their teachers and school administrators attend regional conference sessions.

After a full summer of contending with the children day in and day out, many mothers gasp, "Oh, no, not another day off!" They loudly wonder at the purpose and effectiveness of the short refresher sessions for the teachers.

A look at the activities of a teachers conference answers these questions. Teachers hear general discussions of state, national and world problems in education and attend smaller meetings dealing with their special field.

Classroom communication, international understanding, quality education and aerospace education are typical subjects for general discussion of concern to all teachers and administrators.

In addition there might be as many as 75 to 100 smaller meetings dealing with such specialized teaching interests as beginning teacher problems, extracurricular social activities, the slow learner, team teaching, or teacher education and professional standards.

New techniques in teaching reading, under-achievers, elementary art, business, foreign languages, English, math, the sciences, and even Kindergarten also get attention at the sessions.

One theory behind the conferences is that not every teacher can or does spend the summer studying new techniques in his field.

Every teacher needs periodic reviews of the methods and aids availble, however, and conferences such as those sponsored annually by the Michigan Education Association provide exposure to these for every educator.

From the one or two-day conferences, it is up to the individual teacher to carry on with in-service continuing education.

Who Cares?

Acute examples of human indifference for the well-being of others first were noted in New York City.

More recently, however, several incidents involving needless human suffering have been reported in Michigan.

Two boys drowned because nearby fishermen did not heed a third youth's please for help in rescue. A woman died for failure of neighbors to listen to her screams of torment by assulting teens. These are the most notable examples.

It would appear some revision of moral standards would be in order. An internal Peace Corps, or domestic "CARE" program might be appropriate to instill a sense of individual responsibility for the plight of other persons in need of more than compassion.

Surely no one wants to risk the ire of a robber or assaulter by interfering where this would be the only result.

Most of the recent cases, however, indicated a simple act such as calling the police or shouting a warning could easily have made the end results less tragic. In each example there appears to be some justification for the idea that to some degree each is his brother's keeper.

Washtenaw 4-H Council Members Elected

At the County 4-H Council Convention, July 1, eleven new members were elected to the Council. Adult 4-H leaders elected are: Mrs. John Marshal, Ann Arbor; Mrs. William Thompson, Belleville; Mrs. Richard Losey, Saline; Mrs. Edward Lantis, Chelsea, and Mrs. William Guenther, Ann Arbor.

4-H members elected include: Janet Parker, Ann Arbor; Jane Kingston, Ypsilanti; Phil Gordon, Saline, and Dick McCalla and Nancy Koengeter, both of Chelsea.

The County 4-H Council serves in an advisory capacity to the county 4-H extension agents.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was making some big decisions on a number of important items.

First off, Ed Doolittle ask fer the floor to make a few remarks about the kind of mail service we was now gitting from them folks in Washington. He reported he had went to town Saturday afternoon to buy a stamp and the dadberned window was closed. Ed is mighty touchy about these matters when the Democrats was in power. Under the Republicans he would call it real economy.

Anyhow, he allowed as how any Guvernment business that would cut back the service and raise rates at the same time was in mighty pore shape. He was of the opinion that with the volume of mail gitting bigger and bigger they had ought to go on a 24-hour base instead of shutting down more and more.

Clem Webster agreed with Ed, claimed if the public couldn't make a phone call on Sundays or after midnight the Congress would meet in special session and take over the telephone business. Clem figgered if private enterprise could run the railroads and telephone business under Guvernment regulations, it could run the mail business the same way.

It was voted unanimous, Mister Editor, to put the U. S. Post Office up for sale.

Josh Clodhopper said he was reading where a farmer in South Carolina had wrote to President Johnson asking to git put on the poverty handout, said he was $19,456 in debt and things was gitting worse all the time. The fellers was agreed that anybody with that much credit ought to git out of farming and git into the banking business.

Zeke Grubb reported he had saw by the papers where deaths on U.S. highways hit a alltime high in May. He said he could recollect back 50 year ago when horses was afraid of automobiles and folks was laughing at the horses. He allowed as how this was more proof they ain't no substitute fer horse sense.

It was agreed that just as soon as we git the Post Office sold and git poverty abolished we ought to put on a campaign agin highway slaughter. Bug Hookum, fer instant, said he saw where a feller give a talk on traffic safety and showed the crowd a bottle of pills, all of 'em looking exact alike. They was 831 pills in the bottle and all was harmless except one, and it would kill you dead. When he ask how many in the audience was willing to take a chanct and swaller one of the pills, not a hand went up. Then he said many of them was taking the same chanct in their car ever day, that one out of ever 831 attempts to beat a traffic light got somebody killed.

As Dean Rusk would say, Mister Editor, it was a very "fruitful" session.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Rep. T. Sharpe Announces Candidacy from 51st District

THOMAS G. SHARPE

State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe, Republican of Livingston county, has announced that he is a candidate for re-election to the State Representative seat created by Michigan's new districting plan ruled on by the State Supreme Court last week.

The 51st district is composed of all of Livingston county and 12 townships in southwestern Washtenaw county. The townships are the following: Lyndon, Dexter, Sylvan, Lima, Scio, Sharon, Freedom, Lodi, Pittsfield, Manchester, Bridgewater, Salino, and the township of Franklin in Lenawee county.

Sharpe is 47 years of age, married, and the father of four children. He and his family live on their farm on Argentine Rd., in Livingston county, and he is associated with his uncle in the real estate business in Howell.

Sharpe has served in various community affairs as well as being a member of the Nazarene church, a 4-H leader and former president of the Livingston County Farm Bureau, and served as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1962 from Livingston and Shiawassee counties, and was appointed to the following committees: Village Corporations, of which he served as chairman, Conservation, Judiciary, Local Taxation, and Social Aid and Welfare.

Representative Sharpe enjoyed a successful term by serving as chairman of the Joint Welfare Study Committee and thus were introduced four welfare bills endorsed by the Governor, of which the effect of these bills will transfer from county direct relief expenditures, $9,617,000 to the Federal, at no appreciable increase in cost to the State.

Free Bat Day Set Aug. 9 at Tiger Stadium

Detroit — It will be "Free Bat Day" at Tiger Stadium, Sunday, Aug. 9.

Every boy and girl, 14 or under, entering the stadium on a full paid admission to the Tigers' doubleheader with the Kansas City Athletics that afternoon will receive, without charge, an official Little League baseball bat manufactured by the Louisville Slugger firm.

It is anticipated that more than 10,000 bats will be distributed. They will be handed out at the entrance gates to every youngster holding a full paid admission ticket of any nature — box seat, reserved seat, general admission or bleacher seat.

The bats will be genuine Little League models, bearing the official Little League emblem and the label of the Hillerich & Bradsby Co., makers of Louisville Sluggers used by most major league stars.

In announcing the plan to give away the Little League bats, General Manager James A. Campbell said:

"The Tigers and their owner, John E. Fetzer, are always eager to help baseball at all levels. Our exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals June 1 put more than $80,000 into the treasuries of various amateur baseball organizations of the state.

"Now we are happy to put into the hands of the young players themselves baseball bats worth several thousands of dollars. We know they will be glad to get them and to use them."

The Free Bat Day doubleheader with the Athletics will be the last scheduled Sunday doubleheader of the season.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

The Senate passed the civil rights bill by a vote of 73-27. The passage climaxed a 15-week debate—the longest debate in Senate history. The measure going back to the House was expected to be passed and signed by President Johnson July 4, in an Independance day ceremony.

WOODWARD C. SMITH

Detroit Postmaster To Direct '65 Michigan Week Activities

Edward L. Baker, Detroit Postmaster, will be the deputy general chairman directing the 1965 Michigan Week organization in this part of the state.

Announcement was made recently by Elwin O. George, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, of appointment of Woodward C. Smith, vice-president of Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, as general chairman of the 12th annual Michigan Week and of Baker as one of four deputy general chairmen. The deputies will divide responsibility for the state's 16 Michigan Week regions. Baker will have charge of three regions in southeastern Michigan that include 12 counties and more than half the population of the state. He will shortly appoint the three regional chairmen under whom county and community Michigan Week organizations of the area will serve through the coming year.

Michigan Week always begins on the third Sunday in May, which means that the 1965 dates will be May 16-22.

George, who is vice-president of the Detroit Edison Co., said that Michigan Week chairmen at all levels—state, regional, county and community—will be expected especially:

(1.) To complete their committee organization by early in the fall;

(2) To enlist all committee members as Michigan Minutemen, with the obligation to sell Michigan aggressively in their contacts with people from other states;

(3) To plan more public events to take place during Michigan Week;

(4) To carry on intensified promotion of Michigan throughout the spring.

It may be assumed that at least 10,000 people will soon be on committees for the 1965 Michigan Week, undertaking to carry out the three objectives of building knowledge and appreciation of Michigan within the state, selling Michigan to the nation and the world, and getting Michigan people to work together for their state's advancement.

Both the new general chairman and his deputy for this area have been active in Michigan Week for several years. Smith was regional co-chairman in 1959, then was chairman of the Michigan Week organization board and for the past three years has been deputy general chairman. Baker, this year's Wayne county chairman, has been a leader of Michigan Week activity in Detroit and among the federal agencies. He is widely known for his work in many health and welfare organizations.

The three Michigan Week regions to be directed by Baker are: Region 11 — Huron, Lapeer, St. Clair, Sanilac and Tuscola counties; Region 15 — Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties; Region 16 — Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties.

Trustee Clarence Wood reported that blacktopping was completed at the parking area in front of the new Chelsea Milling Co. storage bins on Main St. at the railroad tracks, and also at the new fire station. Parking in these two areas is now permitted without restrictions.

Authorization voted for payment of $50 to the Chelsea Fire Department as the village share of advertising and expense incurred during the department's open house project.

Approval voted for advertising for full-time employee for Public Works Department and Village Landfill.

Discussion related to village parks indicated new playground equipment has been installed, the equipment having been supplied by the Chelsea Jaycees and the Child Study club.

It was also mentioned that a crosswalk and safety signs are to be installed on S. Main St. from Pierce Park to an auxiliary parking area on the west side of the street.

The Village Council has received a letter from J. D. Hogan, manager of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. at Ann Arbor, commending the entire community for the co-operation extended during the June 26-27 gas emergency. Special commendation was given the Chelsea Police Department and the Auxiliary Police for "outstanding performance" in assisting Gas Co. personnel during the emergency.

LUXURY COWS

Everett, Wash. — Life is on the plush side for the cows owned by the Boushey Brothers Dairy. More than 3,000 feet of carpeting has been laid on the barn floor in which they are kept. The animals had been slipping and falling on the concrete floors slickened by water and cleaning.

LIVED IN 'POVERTY'

New York—Following the death of Jack Sasso, who lived alone, authorities searched his room and found 20 different bank books showing a savings, in 18 banks, of $202,000. Sasso lived in such apparent poverty that he burned candles instead of using electric lights.

When the spotlight of an oncoming truck flashes over your hood, slow down and look for trouble ahead.

Crime Thriving in U.S. Largely Because of Apathetic Citizenry

East Lansing — Crime in America is thriving, thanks to archaic laws, a neglectful legal profession and an apathetic public.

This is the contention of a former police administrator and investigator, Frank D. Day.

Day, professor of police administration at Michigan State University, ssays in his new book, "Criminal Law and Society," that the public must be re-educated to the concept that law enforcement "is a traditional responsibility" of all the people.

Otherwise, he warns, the outlook is dim for restoration and maintenance of law and order.

NO PLANNED ATTACK

Senator Barry Goldwater has indicated he plans no campaign attack on his newly-declared rival for the Republican Presidential nomination, Governor William W. Scranton, of Pennsylvania. Goldwater answered Scranton's criticism without naming the Pennsylvania Governor—and made a call for Republican unity the theme of his rebuttal.

HALF-PAST TEEN

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER

AFTER FATHER'S DAY

While I was pastor of a certain church in New Orleans, a bright little girl waited at the close of a service on Mother's Day and asked me why we did not have a Father's Day service. By this you will know that was quite a few years ago. I do not remember what I told her. And to this day I do not know why the Christian world had been honoring only one parent of the home. Did you remember your father last Sunday?

Now let us be glad that we have a Father's Day observance. We find warrant for the observance in both the Old and New Testaments. The long lists of genealogies in the Old Testament are familiar to all readers of the sacred pages. And these indicate the high place of Father in the ancient home.

Certainly every reader of the New Testament knows of the high place of Father in the home. Every day let us honor him as Father. Of course we should exempt a father who is unworthy of the name. But we look to the ideal father as a symbol of the One whose name is above every name. It is so sacred a name that we are to use it when we pray. When we pray we are to say, "Our Father which art in heaven."

Surely, this is glory enough for our earthly fathers and a mandate to them to strive day by day to be like God.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION .....

by M. L. Woell

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ The Food You Eat

(Guest Editorial by Paul Rivas)

"Who needs the Michigan Department of Agriculture? Sure, it's fine for farmers, but I don't live on a farm; I live in the city—and what good is the department to me?"

While this kind of statement may not be typical, it does reflect a general lack of knowledge by many of the state's citizens as to just what part the Michigan Department of Agriculture plays in protecting their health—and pocketbooks.

Of the department's six major divisions, the one having the most immediate effect on the consumer is the Division of Foods and Standards. Its many responsibilities include the enforcement of laws concerning food and beverages, and fruit, vegetable, poultry and egg grading.

Its health protection authority extends to the seizure of food products found to be unfit for human consumption, and inspectors constantly check sanitary conditions in all food-handling establishments and restaurants so that no matter where you go in the state—a hot dog stand, drive-in, or fancy restaurant, all come under the close scrutiny of the Department of Agriculture's trained personnel.

For example, during one month, Foods and Standards inspectors made 515 Special Investigations, investigated 95 Formal Complaints, inspected for sanitary conditions 2,368 food establishments, made 11 Fruit and Vegetable Inspections, and took 198 Official Samples.

More than 4,500 weighing and measuring devices were also checked during the month — 7 percent determined to be inaccurate and were rejected for repairs thus guaranteeing the consumer full purchasing power for each dollar spent.

Presently, however, there is one area in which the state's consumers are not protected by the Agriculture Department — or in some cases, by anyone else.

Almost 25 percent of the meat sold in Michigan does not receive before-and-after slaughter inspection. This situation was to have been corrected this year by the legislature, but the members of the House Ways and Means Committee killed it by "inaction"—they didn't bother to vote on it.

ON EXCISE TAX

The Senate Finance Committee has voted to apply the 10 percent tax rate on furs, cosmetics, handbags and jewelry at the manufacturer's level, rather than at the retail level, starting Oct. 1.

P. Hardy Seeks Re-Election To Register of Deeds Post

PATRICIA NEWKIRK HARDY

Mrs. Patricia Newkirk Hardy, Washtenaw County Register of Deeds, announced to day that she would seek re-nomination to her office on the Republican ticket in the Sept. 1 primary election.

Mrs. Hardy has served in the Register of Deeds office since 1946, as a clerk-typist, then as deputy register and as Register of Deeds since January, 1955.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Hardy said "I have endeavored to conduct the business of this office as prescribed by Michigan law without special favor and with determination that we shall give courteous, efficient service at the least possible cost to the taxpayer. The operation budget of this office has been kept at the minimum, and a net profit has been turned in to the county general fund each year. In 1963, this amount was more thn $24,000.

"To be a part of county government is a great honor, and it is my sincere wish to continue to serve the people of Washtenaw county as Register of Deeds," Mrs. Hardy stated.

She is a member of the VFW Auxiliary, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Republican Women's Club of Ann Arbor, the Washtenaw County Republican Committee, the Michigan Register of Deeds Association, and the National Association of County Officers.

She is a life-long resident of Washtenaw county, attended school in Dexter township, Dexter, Ann Arbor, and St. Petersburg, Fla., and now lives in Ann Arbor.

He has also been chairman of the Kiwanis International Committee on Public and Business Affairs for the United States, and of the International Committee on Resolutions.

He and Mrs. Moylan have two sons and three grandchildren.

In addition to naming Moylan president, delegates to the 49th annual Kiwanis International convention chose a president-elect, two vice-president, a treasurer and six international trustees. The latter will serve for two years, joining six holdover trustees.

New officers and trustees are: Edward C. Keefe of Oklahoma City, Okla., president-elect; Mel R. Osborne, East York, Ontario and R. Glenn Reed, Marietta, Ga., International vice-presidents; W. Clyde Glass, Louisville, Ky., treasurer; Nelson O. Fuller, Centreville, Ala., Harold M. Heimzaugh, West Hollywood, Calif., Ted R. Johnson, Capital City, Denver, Colo., Robert F. Weber, Detroit, Jack Willis, East Kildonan, Manitoba (re-elected) and Wes H. Bartlett, Algona, Ia., International trustees.

The Los Angeles convention of Kiwanis International was characterized by a near-record crowd and a slate of headline speakers and feature events. Delegates to the convention adopted resolutions upon which Kiwanis' service programs for 1964-65 will be based, recognized "the best "all-round Kiwanis clubs and districts for 1963," and developed new ideas in community service and club administration.

The 1965 convention, the Golden Anniversary Convention, will be held in New York City.

TO CHANGE LEGISLATURE

The Supreme Court has ruled that the seats in both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis. The historic 6-3 decision declared unconstitutional state apportionment along the geographic federal pattern which gives each state two United States senators, regardless of population. No adjustments will have to be made before elections on Nov. 3. This ruling will cover the majority of the states.

New Anti-Litter Film Available For Showing

A new 16-mm anti-litter film, in sound and color, is now available to clubs, schools and organizations interested in calling attention to the litter problem.

The film, entitled "Heritage of Splendor," features outstanding photography of scenic regions of the western United States. It was produced by the Richfield Oil Corp. Running time is 20 minutes.

Gordon Bonfield, chairman of Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., the state-wide public service organization for the prevention of litter, said the film is suitable for showing to garden clubs, civic groups and service organizations, as well as schools.

"This film is extremely valuable in our continuing "Campaign for Cleanliness" because it will alert people to litter and the urgent need for individual and group responsibility to reduce it," Bonfield said.

The film may be borrowed for group showings by writing to Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, 215 S. Washington Ave., Lansing.

Michigan's Water Deaths Hit New High

Emphasizing that Michigan water deaths have already hit the 100 mark, the State Police cautioned against carelessness in water sports activities now reaching peak summer volume.

The toll for the first six months exceeded by 17 the 83 drownings for the same period a year ago while the provisional total of 144 accidents was 16 higher. At least 33 have been injured compared with 45 in the first half of 1963.

Available information on drownings included 24 swimmers or waders, 12 boat passengers, nine boat operators, nine who fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers, seven who fell through ice, two who drowned attempting rescues, and one who fell into a caisson.

Lack of proper precautions for water safety was noted as Michigan experienced an upsurge of drownings during the latter part of June with thousands seeking relief from oppressive heat at lakes and streams.

Figuring in some of these deaths were:

Swimmers overestimating ability to safely span distances attempted and swimming alone or in unsupervised areas.

Losing hold of a flotation device relied on for buoyancy.

Inadequate supervision of youngsters in or near water.

Failure to wear or have at hand life jackets or preservers in case of upset when boating.

Lima Township Added to Beetle Quarantine Area

Lima township and the city of Saline were added yesterday to the list of areas quarantined for the European cereal leaf beetle by the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Washtenaw County Extension Director Donald R. Johnson reports.

Eight other Washtenaw county townships were placed under quarantine by the Agriculture Department at the end of June.

The state quarantine requires an official inspection certificate for the movement of any grains or farm machinery from quarantine areas. Many other farm products, including hay and straw, also are included in the ban.

Before any cereal grains may be shipped from the quarantined area they must be fumigated or treated with malathion at elevators to insure against spread of the leaf beetle infection.

Toxic Organic Phosphate Insecticides Can Be Lethal

Dr. Otto K. Engelke, director of the City-County Health Department, issued a warning this week about the improper or careless use of highly toxic organic phosphate insecticides.

This warning came as a result of several accidents that emphasize the extreme toxicity of organic phosphates. Recently, in South Carolina, a member of a farm supply company was lifting a sack of parathion crop insecticide onto a shelf above his head. The sack broke, spilling insecticide on his face and hands. Death resulted in a few hours. Because organic phosphate insecticides are highly toxic when absorbed into the system through the mouth, the lungs, or the skin, it is impossible to say which—if not all—of these routes caused his death.

This incident involving a broken container was reminiscent of the one in which six children were poisoned in Fresno, Calif., in 1961. This accident resulted when a shipment of blue jeans was saturated with an organic phosphate which spilled from a punctured container while in transit. This illustrates how necessary it is to handle organic phosphate insecticides with the greatest of precautions, regardless of the container being a sack, bag, can, or drum.

Past experience even with empty containers should increase our precautions. An empty burlap bag that had been saturated with parathion caused the death of two children and the serious illness of two other when children improvised the bag as a swing. Another poisoning was reported to have resulted from contact with a cup used a year before for measuring a pesticide.

The problem of destroying insecticide containers is a real one. For example, the burning of flammable containers may cause inhalation of the insecticides in the smoke. Yet, because the potential danger is so great, the containers must be destroyed properly. The health department recommends that metal drums be rinsed twice, destroyed by crushing and buried.

Dr. Engelke also urges that anyone exposed to these highly toxic insecticides should seek medical attention immediately. He says that there is now a specific antidote for certain organic phosphate poisonings.

"The following precautions are of utmost importance," he says, "when using organic phosphates (malathion and parathion): Protective clothing, including goggles and respirators should be worn at all times when handling or using the insecticide, extreme care should be taken avoid inhalation or skin contact with it. Users should avoid eating, smoking or chewing while working. Work clothing, including underclothing, should be changed completely every day and replaced with clean clothes. Operators should bathe thoroughly, immediately after each day's work, taking special care to use plenty of soap and water on the arms, hands, face, and other exposed skin areas."

Dr. Engelke urges, "if you plan to use a pesticide in the home or yard; use it only when you are sure it is needed, and then use the one best suited to your needs." The fine print on the label should be read carefully to answer these questions:

1. Is this pesticide effective against the insect or plant disease I wish to destroy?

2. During which months is it effective? (Some pesticides are only effective during short seasonal periods).

3. What concentration is effective? Never excede this level!

4. What precautions must be used in storing, handling, and disposing of the pesticide and container?

He says that most of the products on the market are safe to use, if close attention is paid to the instructions and safety warnings.

License Appeal Cases Continue Increase in May

Lansing — Michigan drivers who are appealing loss or restriction of their driving privileges seem to be moving up along with the increased activity in the driver improvement program.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that license appeal boards reported an increase of 175 cases over May of 1963 and that June "would likely be an even bigger month."

In the first five months of 1964, including May, 2,726 cases were appealed by motorists, an increase of nearly 300 over a similar period in 1963. These cases are persons who feel that the driving restrictions meted out to them should be rescinded or modified. The appeal board is composed of a representative of the Secretary of State as chairman, and representatives of local police jurisdiction and of the attorney general's office.

"A good percentage of the restrictions set are upheld by the license appeal boards although we do have cases where licenses are restored completely and others where drivers are permitted restricted driving privileges," Ha asserted.

In May, a total of 351 appeals were denied and 130 others were dismissed when errant drivers fail to show up for the hearing that they asked for in the first place. On the other hand, 90 suspensions or revocations were modified, 71 others restored with some restriction, and 50 others given back full driving privilege.

Medicine has made great progress in the past 50 years. People live longer even if it does cost more.

Lutheran Night Featured Friday at Tiger Stadium

Detroit — The ninth annual Lutheran Night and another hilarious Father-Son game will highlight the July schedule at Tiger Stadium which will find the Tigers meeting six American League foes in 22 games during the month. Three twi-night doubleheaders, five single night games and three Sunday doubleheaders are on the schedule.

Lutheran Night, a benefit for the Mel Ott boys baseball program, will be Friday, July 10, with ceremonies on the field between games of a twi-nighter matching the Tigers and the Boston Red Sox. Some 60 Lutheran churches are sponsoring the event, which helps support a baseball program embracing 2,500 youngsters.

The Father-Son game, matching the Tiger players against their own young sons, will be played the following day, Saturday, July 11, as the Tigers conclude a series with the Red Sox. This will be the fifth Father-Son game, a popular event in which the Tigers bat and throw "wrong-handed" — and usually manage to lose to their offspring.

Horatio Alger Days In Business World Ended, Says MSU Prof

East Lansing — The days of Horatio Alger — when a lad could rise through hard work alone from sweeper to corporation president —have ended, says a Michigan State University business psychologist.

Almost 99 percent of today's corporation presidents are college graduates; 45 percent have master's degrees and about 18 percent have doctor's degrees, notes Dr. Eugene Jennings, professor of business administration in the MSU Graduate School of Business Administration.

"A bachelor's degree in a technical field, plus a master's degree in business administration, seems to be the magic formula for today's new managerial elite," according to Dr. Jennings.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

★ Business Expansion — Two Episodes . . .

We are now well into the third year of a sustained economic upswing. It is instructive to compare and contrast this period with the business rise during the years 1954 through 1957.

The 1954-57 boom was quite spectacular while it lasted, but it was followed by a series of disappointing years. The recession of 1918 was neither deep nor prolonged, but the recovery which followed was incomplete. The rise in 1959 and 1960 was cut off in the middle of the latter year, before the economy had reached its full potential. A brief mild downturn followed ending in the early part of 1961, which formed the starting point for the period of rising business which is still going on.

Prices and Profits

One important difference between the two periods of expansion has been the behavior of prices. An upward creep of prices has been evident in both periods. But this gradually accelerated as the 1954-57 rise continued, and in its last stages the general price level was rising at the rate of about 1 percent per quarter-year. There has as yet been no clear indication of such an acceleration during the current upswing.

Another difference is found in the trend of total corporate profits. Profits rose steeply during the initial recovery period after the recession of 1954. They reached a peak in the fourth quarter of 1955 and showed a gradual drop thereafter. Thus the downturn in profits began almost two years before the downturn in economic activity generally. Evidently, although prices were rising during this period, costs must have been rising even faster. By contrast, profits have continued to increase throughout the period since early 1961.

There are other differences between the two expansionary periods. The years 1955-1957 were a period of large capital expenditures — much more so, relative to the over-all rate of economic activity, than the years 1961-1963. However, capital outlays are now increasing rapidly and are expected to be one of the main supports for continued expansion in 1964.

During the 1954-57 period residential building reached a peak in the earlier stages of the rise. After 1955 there was a gradual decline in spending for new housing, while business was still rising. But in the more recent period expenditures on residential construction continued to rise throughout. Prevailing opinion, however, is that not much further rise in this form of activity is to be expected.

Labor Cost Is Key

Thus the prelude to the downturn which began toward the end of 1957, and to the disappointing years which followed, was a rapid increase in costs and prices, a deterioration of profits and a high but (as it turned out) unsustainable rate of capital formation.

There are as yet no unequivocal signs of similar developments setting the stage for an end to the current expansion. But if labor costs begin to rise steeply, and eat into profit margins, the picture may come to resemble the terminal stages of the 1954-57 boom.

U. S. Treasury Taking Steps To Double Coin Production

The Treasury today announced an intensified program to double the nation's rate of coin production within a year and raise it by 75 percent during the next six months.

By next June, the program will boost our coin production to an annual rate of over 9 billion new coins — more than double the 4.3 billion level for fiscal 1964 and triple the 3 billion level for fiscal 1961. For the last six months of this year—normally a time of peak demand for coins—the program will mean a 75 percent increase in coin production over the same period last year, a rise to 3.5 billion new coins from the 2 billion produced in the last half of 1963.

This increased production will be distributed among the present for denominations of coins in about the present ratios—roughly two-thirds pennies, one-fourth nickels and dimes, and the balance quarters and half-dollars.

The new program will augment the Treasury's already heightened efforts to expand the nation's coin production in the face of a growing need for coins.

Steps already taken to expand current production of coins include the purchase of rolled nickel strip for the making of all five-cent coins — thus freeing equipment for other production — and the inauguration of a continuous 7-day, 24-hour production schedule at the nation's two Mints, in Denver and Philadelphia.

These actions will increase production for the coming fiscal year by 600 million coins, bringing total budgeted production up to some 5 billion coins.

To augment these measures the following new steps will be taken:

1. Beginning early in July, bronze strip for pennies will be purchased (in addition to the nickel strip already being acquired for five-cent coins), thus freeing all melting, casting and rolling operations for the production of more silver coins.

2. New coin presses (used to imprint the design of the coin) are being ordered for delivery early this Fall and additional stamping machines, which may be converted for Mint use, are being acquired from the surplus stocks of the Department of Defense, the General Services Administration, and private industry.

3. In December, when current orders have been filled, the proof coin operation (the production of special sets of coins for collectors) will be suspended. Those of its presses that are suitable will be converted to allow higher speeds and will be devoted to the production of coins for circulation.

4. As additional presses become available, production of annealed blanks (round pieces of metal the actual size of the coin softened to take the die) for nickels and pennies will be temporarily shifted to the U. S. Assay Office in San Francisco, thus permitting the Mints to concentrate on the final stages of the production of all coins.

5. The Congress will be asked to continue the 1964 date on all coins indefinitely, thus eliminating any possible incentives for keeping 1964 coins out of circulation for speculative purposes.

Through these and other measures, the Treasury Department will continue to seek out ways of assuring an adequate supply of coinage with existing facilities pending the construction of the new Philadelphia Mint authorized last August. This Mint will replace the current Philadelphia Mint, and will be capable of producing coins at a higher rate than both existing Mints together. However, since funds are only now becoming available to proceed with construction of the new Mint, its construction is nine months behind the Treasury's original schedule—and it will probably begin coin production in 1967, instead of in 1966 as originally expected by the Treasury.

Homer Allen Regains Consciousness, Shows Signs of Improvement

Homer Allen, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Allen, who had been unconscious since suffering severe head injuries in a fall June 5, at LaGrange, Ky., partially regained consciousness last Thursday according to information received by telephone yesterday.

Allen said the boy will be moved, as soon as his condition permits, from Jewish Hospital at Louisville, Ky., to Taylor Memorial Hospital at LaGrange. Allen himself, plans to return home this week-end and return to his work as Chelsea Department of Public Works superintendent. Mrs. Allen and the family will remain to stay with relatives at LaGrange until such time as the boy can be moved back to Michigan.

Allen said yesterday that doctors are now hopeful for the boy's eventual recovery although they believe recovery will take at least a year.

At the time the boy was injured he and the family were vacationing at the home of Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard at LaGrange. They were preparing to return home that week-end.

Allen said he and his family appreciated the many messages received from their friends here during the weeks since the boy was injured.

New Speed Limits Set on M-14 Segment

Lansing — New speed limits have been established on M14 from downtown Ann Arbor east through Dixboro, the State Highway Department reported today.

The changes were based on radar checks made by the State Police in cooperation with the State Highway Department and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office.

New zones and speed limits are:

—30 miles an hour on Beakes St. from N. Main St. to Plymouth Rd.

—35 miles an hour on Plymouth Rd. from Beakes St. to a point threetenths of a mile east.

—40 miles an hour on Plymouth Rd. from that point east to the township line at Bishop St.

—50 miles an hour from the township line east to the city limits of Dixboro.

—45 miles an hour through Dixboro to the junction of M14 and Ford Rd. (M153).

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie have signed a joint order establishing the new speed zones.

The order will go into effect when speed limit signs have been erected.

J. Hanna Granted Patent on Punch Grinding Fixture

John Hanna of 230 E. Middle St., has been awarded a patent on a grinding fixture which is used in the grinding of parallel surfaces or industrial punches. Major advantage of the tool is that the punch is held on center, without relocating, during an entire grinding procedure. Another advantage is that the new tool cuts the time factor involved in the grinding process by a considerable margin.

Hanna has been a resident of Chelsea for the past 20 years. He is a journeyman tool and die maker and is at present employed by the Chelsea Spring Division of Rockwell-Standard Corp.

A graduate of Henry Ford Trade School at Dearborn, Hanna served an apprenticeship as a tool and die maker at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co.

This is his first attempt to secure a patent. Now that the tool is patented, Hanna says, the next step is that of interesting a manufacturer of grinding fixtures in producing and marketing his invention.

Eye Center At Michigan Seeks Donors

Ann Arbor — The Michigan Eye Collection Center at the University of Michigan Medical Center is approaching the midway mark in a drive to recruit 25,000 pledges, to ensure a steady supply of eye material for the sight-saving operation.

Eye Bank information forms, donor cards, and new business reply envelopes provide a simple procedure for donating one's eyes. Donor cards may be signed, witnessed by two persons and mailed directly to the Michigan Eye Collection Center.

The Center is a joint project between individual Lions Clubs of Michigan and University Hospital. There are 25 sub-stations throughout the state, each supported by an individual Lions Club.

The idea for an eye bank to serve the state grew out of the need for healthy corneal material to be used by the Ophthalmology Department of the University of Michigan Medical Center for transplantations, as well as to supply corneas to ocular surgeons throughout the state.

Eyes from any person of any age can be used in the operations. Even those who have had cataract operations or corneal transplantations. Eyes from those who wear glasses can be used as well as those with 20-20 vision.

Modern surgery has a variety of ways to restore sight. In the "corneal transplant operation," the healthy cornea from a donated eye replaces the scared or diseased cornea of a blind person.

Eyes cannot be designated for a specific person. They are neither bought nor sold and are used for the next patient on an eye surgeon's list.

A donor's eyes must be removed within two hours after death and used in a transplant within two days.

Envelopes, information and donor cards may be obtained by writing or calling the Michigan Eye Collection Center, University of Michigan Medical Center, Ann Arbor, NOrmandy 3-1531.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Two young children drowned recently. no one believel the boy who told them the two had fallen in the water.

A woman was cruelly and sadistically attacked when she was helpless from a stroke.

Reports from other cities recount similar savage stories. In each case good people felt no responsibility. After each of these reports appeared in the newspapers people in stores and on streets shook their heads in disbelief.

It has happened before. It will happen again. We may be outraged but are still not changed.

Crowds have always had some morbid satisfaction in violence not involving them.

Whether a crowd in a Detroit alley or a New York street or an ancient colosseum or arena or on a hill outside a city where a man hangs from a cross, men have chosen to watch in silence.

Looking on in silence a crowd heard, not a cry for help, but an anguished prayer. Its words might move us even today so much later.

We may still be silent, watching. Those words once heard may burn into our minds and souls. They may still be heard and it may be that we shall hear them. "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."

Prayer: Father, forgive us for what we do not do. Amen.

ENOUGH OF RUSSIA

New York — Morris and Mollie Block have returned home after five years in Russia, where they had gone to find a better life. They found loneliness, poverty and lack of freedom in Odessa, where they had gone to work. Mrs. Block said she was disillusioned in three months, but it took her husband two years. They had only $1.10 when they returned home.

Flint Municipal Judge Seeks Appeals Court Nomination

Judge Donald R. Freeman has announced his candidacy for the position of Judge of the Court of Appeals, in the second Judicial District.

Judge Freeman is well-known for his seven years of service on the bench of Flint's Municipal Court.

His public service includes membership on the board of these organizations: Council of Social Agencies; National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation; Genesee County Traffic Safety Commission; Kiwanis Club of Flint South; Flint Committee on Alcoholism.

He has also served his community in the following positions: chairman, Greater Flint Tax Study Committee; chairman, Family and Children's Division, Council of Social Agencies; chairman, Council of Social Agencies Division Study on School Drop-outs; vice-president, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

He is a member of the Court that won the American Bar Association award for Court progress.

Judge Freeman has for more than five years been actively associated with the Flint Golden Gloves; he was chairman of the first fund drive for the Genesee County Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation; he is actively associated with the senior citizens program in Genesee County.

Judge Freeman provided the key leadership in the opposition to the City of Flint Income Tax, and was instrumental in its defeat at the polls, and later led the referendum drive that was upheld in the Courts. This is the only court suit in Michigan that resulted in the defeat of a city income tax.

He has written extensively, and his writings have been published in prominent legal publications of the United States, including the Journal of the American Judicature Society, the Michigan State Bar Journal and American Law Reports.

He was largely responsible for revealing the scandal of the Flint-Lake Huron pipeline project, and the resultant loss of public moneys. His demand for a Grand Jury was an important factor that resulted in the revelation of misuse of the public trust.

With a policy that has protected Flint and Genesee County citizens from frauds and corruption, he has caused wide-spread interest in public affairs. He has appeared before hundreds of civic organizations to bring the message of citizens participation in government.

MSU Planetarium To Feature Mars

East Lansing — The story of Mars, as told by mythology and modern science, is featured in the July public program at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium.

"Mars: Fact and Fiction" will be presented each Friday at 7 and 8:30 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays at 2:30 and 4 p.m.

A highlight of the program is a view of the Martian landscape and sky as it might appear to the first astronaut to explore the planet.

Visitors also will be able to see the stars in the Martian sky appear to rotate about the pole star, Deneb, just as stars in the earth's northern hemisphere seem to rotate about Polaris, the North Star.

Tickets for the programs may be obtained in advance or at program time at the planetrarium.

To get something out of a sermon, one must take himself within the range of the speaker.

It is amazing how many jobs college graduates may choose from these days.

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW

by Attorney General FRANK J. KELLEY

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Water is one of our most valuable resources. In Michigan we have nearly one-third of all the fresh surface water area in the nation. However, we don't have enough to squander and our advantage in its abundance is worthy of careful preservation and enhancement.

Michigan law provides that it is unlawful to discharge into the waters of the State any substance which injures public health, the conduct of industrial enterprises or other lawful occupations; or, whereby fish, migratory bird life or wild animal life may be destroyed or injuriously affected.

In addition, any person requiring a new or substantial increased use of the waters of the State for sewage or waste disposal purposes must file a report with the Michigan Water Resources Commission setting forth the nature of the enterprise or development contemplated, the amount of water required to be used, its source, the proposed point of discharge of wastes into the waters of the State, the estimated amount to be discharged and a fair statement of the expected bacterial, physical, chemical and other known characteristics of the wastes.

State law also prohibits the extension of muncipal sewer systems and additional connections to existing systems where such is deemed necessary to control pollution and protect public health.

Michigan's consistently effective pollution control and abatement programs evidence the readiness of state enforcement agencies to initiate whatever action is required to correct violations of state law. To prevent pollution and to abate existing pollution of Michigan's water resources, the Attorney General, on behalf of the people of the State, enforces in the courts the provisions of the pollution control statutes.

Howell) a member of the House Committee on Conservation, has called a public hearing to take place Wednesday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the court room of the Howell Court House for people who are concerned about proposed condemnation of private property for the impoundment of water to enlarge the recreational area in Livingston and Washtenaw counties.

Members of the Department of Conservation and the State Conservation Commission are to be present and the meeting is to be conducted by the Interim Study Committee with Representative Gordon Rockwell as chairman.

Representative Sharpe, in announcing the meeting, stated that the Conservation Department presently owns more than 15,000 acres in Livingston county and that new land acquisition by the department would mean more land removed from the community's tax rolls.

Particularly concerned over the proposed condemnation of property are residents of the Cunningham subdivision in the Brighton area. Homeowners of that area held a meeting with State Representative Sharpe Saturday evening, July 4. They went on record with a statement to the effect that the property owners present "feel strongly that the Conservation Department should not acquire their holdings for this purpose" (additional recreation area) and that such proposed use of the land "will be very harmful to all business and schools" in the area.

Residents of the Cunningham subdivision say that not ony their own subdivision is affected, as more property is sought to enlarge the Brighton Recreation Are but residents of Washtenaw and Livingston counties should be alerted to attend the July 15 meeting at Howell to guard against having their "rights infringed upon."

The July 4 meeting was attended by area supervisors — Francis Shehan of Hamburg township and John Selm of Genoa township.

The proposed Brighton and Pontiac Lake recreation area additions are among matters to be considered by the State Conservation Commission at its meeting in Sault Ste. Marie tomorrow and Friday.

CHELSEA Telephone Lines

By NICK PRAKKEN, Manager

$96.4 MILLIONS! That's what your telephone company plans to spend on construction this year, to keep pace with the telephone needs of Michigan businesses and families. "Construction" includes such things as laying cable, installing equipment, and putting up new buildings or building additions.

This year, and in the future, we expect to keep on building to meet Michigan's increasing needs for communications. And we'll be putting millions of dollars directly into our state's economy at the same time.

HALF THE FUN of a vacation is sharing it with the folks back home—by telephone. (Can't you just see the gang, as you describe the fish you caught, or the putt you sank?) And of course a considerate person always lets the folks know at once, when he reaches his destination safely. Make a note now to phone back often while you're away. It's almost as essential to happy vacationing—as phoning for reservations before you go!

EASY TO HOLD plus easy to talk into plus easy to listen to . . . equals your modern telephone! A lot of scientific research and engineering know-how went into making it so. Research, for instance, on the average distance between mouth and ear, the range of loudness of people's voices—even the width of their fingertips. (Those dial openings have to be big enough, you know!) It all contributed toward making your phone a pleasure to use.

Manchester Chicken Broil Scheduled Next Thursday

Thursday, July 16, the citizens of Manchester will undertake their annual task of feeding charcoal broiled chicken to nearly four times the population of the town. On this day, between the hours of 4:30 and 9:30, 200 valiant chefs (no women), servers, hosts and cashiers will serve plump Michigan broiler halves plus all the trimmings, to more than 6,500 guests from 17 states and even six foreign countries.

The Manchester Broil, the most famous event of its kind in Michigan, is conducted under the general direction of the Michigan State Poultry Department and the personal supervision of Howard Zindel, head of the department. The slow-broil method, in which the chicken is basted with butter and never burned or blistered was developed by Michigan State especially for community events. The largest committee presides over the pits, where 60 men do the broiling and basting. There are subcommittees to pre-heat a ton or more of charcoal and deliver it to the pits, deliver the chicken from truck to grid, turn and baste, test the chicken for finish, and deliver the cooked chicken to the serving lines.

There are two ticket lines and a special line for take-outs. There is a large host committee to show guests to tables seating 2,000 people at one time, and to clean up places for newcomers. There are committees for coffee making, ice cream, soft drinks, and breaking out potato chips, relishes, and buns, for cutting slaw and bringing it to the serving tables. There is an audio committee, to announce distinguished guests and advise the waiting diners of the chicken supply.

Side attractions this year are two softball or speedball games, and the famous Paul Bunyan seven-foot skillet, large enough to scramble eggs for 500 people. Visitors agree, though, that the main attraction is the broil itself, with 1,800 chicken halves at one time, slowly browning over 150 feet of charcoal pits.

There has not been a serious threat of rain in the 10 years the broil has been held. If there is rain on July 16, guests may take their dinners to nearby shelters, school rooms, and into their cars. Jaycees, and all proceeds go to the

Rucker Brothers Acquire Beer Distributorship

Following last week's announcement that Joseph H. Rucker has become the sole owner of Stop & Shop Supermarkets, Inc., after purchasing the interests of his two older brothers, John G. (Jay) Rucker, Jr., and William J. Rucker, it is interesting to note that the two older brothers are now the new owners of M. Until recently, the Rucker brothers had operated supermarkets in Plymouth and Chelsea for 15 years.

The brothers are natives of Ashland, Ky.; both have lived in Dearborn for the past 35 years and graduated from Greenfield Village Elementary school and Edison Institute High school there. Both graduated from Denison University, Granville, O.

They each have three children. Jay has two boys and a girl; William has two girls and a boy.

The Jay Ruckers reside on Golfcrest Drive; the William Ruckers on W. Outer Dr., both in Dearborn.

Merchants Ball Team Facing Ypsi

The Chelsea Merchants baseball team plays the Ypsilanti Independents at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday) at Veterans' Park at the west edge of Ann Arbor.

Games are played there Tuesdays and Thursdays, most of the games being scheduled for 6 p.m.; however, on occasion, the Chelsea team is assigned an 8 o'clock game.

There are six teams in the league — the Ann Arbor Adult League—those included, in addition to Chelsea Merchants, being Dexter Merchants, Ypsilanti Independents, Boone & Darr, Westgate and Everett's Driveln.

Members of the Chelsea team are Alvin and Alton Nixon, Richard Wood, Mike Marsh, Gary Houle, Phil Boham, Albert Schauer, Oren Wireman, Jim Knight, Charles Loenn, Jerry Ringe and Ken Larson.

Chelsea Merchants team is sponsored, appropriately, by the businessmen of Chelsea who have contributed the $130 league entrance fee and $65 for equipment which this year included 12 bats, four baseballs and three batting helmets.
